The Holy Bible – Geneva Edition
1st Printing, 1st Edition in 1560

Given back to the people so all may understand

The Geneva Bible was first printed in Geneva, Switzerland, by refugees from England, fleeing the persecution of Protestants by Roman Catholic Queen “Bloody” Mary. Many copies were smuggled back into England at great personal risk. In later years, when Protestant-friendly Queen Elizabeth took the throne, printing of the Geneva Bible moved back to England. The Geneva Bible was produced by John Calvin, John Knox, Myles Coverdale, John Foxe, and other Reformers. It is the version that William Shakespeare quotes from hundreds of times in his plays, and the first English Bible to offer plain roman-style type in some of its early printings.

The Geneva Bible was the first Bible taken to America, brought over on the Mayflower... it is the Bible upon which early America and its government was founded (certainly not the King’s of England’s Bible!) The Geneva Bible was also the first English Bible to break the chapters of scripture into numbered verses, and it was the first true “Study Bible” offering extensive commentary notes in the margins. It was so accurate and popular, that a half-century later, when the King James Bible came out... it retained more than 90% of the exact wording of the Geneva Bible.

OW hard a thing it is, and what great impedimentes let, to enterprise any worthie act, not only daile experience sufficiently sheweth (moste noble and vertuous Quene) but also that notable prouerbe doeth cōfirme the same, which admonisheth vs, that all thīgs are hard which are faire and excellēt. the other, as to present vnto your Maiestie the holy Scriptures faithfully and playnely translated according to the langages wherein they were first written by the holy Ghost. For the worde of God is an euident token of Gods loue and our assurance of his defence, wheresoeuer it is obediently receyued: it is the trial of the spirits: and as the Prophet saith, It is as a fyre and hammer to breake the stonie heartes of them that resist Gods mercies offred by the preaching of the same. Yea it is sharper then any two edged sworde to examine the very thoghtes and to iudge the affections of the heart, and to discouer whatsoeuer lyeth hid vnder hypocrisie and wolde be secret from the face of God and his Church. So that this must be the first fundacion and groundworke, according whereunto the good stones of this building must be framed, and the euil tried out and reiected.

Now as he that goeth about to lay a fundacion surely, first taketh away suche impedimentes, as might iustely ether hurt, let or difforme the worke: so is it necessarie that your graces zeale appeare herein, that nether the craftie persuasion of man, nether worldly policie, or natural feare dissuade you to roote out, cut downe and destroy these wedes and impedimentes which do not only deface your building, but vtterly indeuour, yea & threaten the ruine thereof. For when the noble Iosias entreprised the like kinde of worke, among other notable and many things he destroyed, not only with vtter confusion the idoles with their appertinances, but also burnt (in signe of detestatiō) the idolatrous priests bones vpon their altars, and put to death the false prophetes and sozcerers, to performe the wordes of the Lawe of God: and therefore the Lord gaue him good successe & blessed him wonderfully, so long as he made Gods worde his line and rule to followe, and enterprised nothing before he had inquired at the mouth of the Lord.

And if these zealous begynnings seme dangerous and to brede disquietnes in your dominions, yet by the storie of King Ais is manifest, that the quietnes and peace of kingdomes standeth in the vtter abolishing of idolatrie, and in aduancing of true religion: for in his dayes Iudah lyued in rest and quietnes for the space of fyue and thirtie yere, til at length he began to be colde in the zeale of the Lord, feared the power of man, imprisoned the Prophet of God, and oppressed the people: then the Lord sent him warres, & at length roke him away by death.

Wherefore great wisdom, not worldelie, but heauenly is here required, which you grace must earnestly craue of the Lord, as did Salomon, to whome God gaue an vnderstanding heart to iudge his people aright, and to discern betwene good and bad. For if God for the furnishing of the olde temple gaue the Spirit of wisdom & vnderstanding to them that shulde be the workemen thereof, as to Bezaleel, Aholiab, and Hiram: how much more wil he indewe your grace and other godly princes and chiefe gouernours with a principal Spirit, that you may procure and commande things necessarie for this moste holy Temple, forese and take hede of things that might hinder it, and abolish and destroy whatsoeuer might impere and ouerthrowe the same?

Moreouer the maruelous diligence and zeale of Iehoshaphat, Iosiah, and Hezekiah are by the singuler prouidence of God left as an example to all godly rulers to reforme their countreys and to establish the worde of God with all spede, lest the wrath of the Lord fall vpon them for the neglecting thereof. For these excellent Kings did not onely imbrace the worde promptly and ioyfully, but also procured earnestly and commanded the same to be taught, preached and maynteyned through all their countreys and dominions, bynding them and all their subiectes bothe great and smale with solemne protestations and couenantes before God to obey the worde, and to walke after the waies of the Lord. Yea and in the daies

seruyng ¶ As it was enacted that whosoever wolde not leke the Lord God of Israel, shulde be slayne, whether he were smale or great, man or woman. And for the establishing hereof and performance of this solemne othe, as well ¶ Priests as Iudges were appointed and placed through all the cities of Iudah to instruct the people in the true knollage and feare of God, and to minister iustice according to the worde, knowing that, except God by his worde dyd reigne in ¶ the heartes and soules, all mans diligence and indeuors were of none effect: for without this worde we can not discern betwene iustice, and iniurie, protection and oppression, wisdom and foolishnes, knollage and ignorance, good and euil. Therefore the Lord, who is the chefe gouernour of his Church, willeth that nothing be attempted before we haue inquired thereof at his mouth. For seing he is our God, of duetie we must giue him this preeminence, that of our selues we entrepryse nothing, but that which he hath appointed, who only knoweth all things, and gouerneth them as may best serue to his glorie and our saluation. We ought not therefore to preuent him, or do any thing without his worde, ¶ but assone as he hath reueled his wil, immediately to put it in execution.

Now as concerning the manner of this building, it is not according to man, nor after the wisdom of the flesh, but of the Spirit, & according to the worde of God, whose ¶ wais are diuers from mans wais. For if it was not lawfull for Moses to build the materiai Tabernacle after any other sorte then God had shewed him by a ¶ patern, nether to prescribe any other ¶ ceremonies & lawes then suche as the Lord had expressely commāded; how can it be lawfull to procede in this spiritual building any other wais, then Iesus Christ the Sonne of God, who is bothe the fundacion, head and chief corner stone thereof, hath commanded by his worde? And for as-muche as he hath established and left an order in his Church for the building vp of his body, ¶ appointing some to be Apostles, some Prophetes, others Euangelistes, some pastors, and teachers, he signifieth that euery one according as he is placed in this body which is the Church, ought to inquire of his ministres concerning the wil of the Lord, which is reueled in his worde. For they are, saith ¶ Ieremiah, as the mouth of the Lord: yea he ¶ promisseth to be with their mouth, & that their ¶ lippes shal kepe knollage, & that the trueth & the law shal be in their mouth: For it is their office chiefly to vnderstand the Scriptures & teache them. For this cause the people of Israel in matters of difficultie vsed to ¶ aske the Lord ether by the ¶ Prophetes, or by the meanes of the hie ¶ Priest, who bare Vrim & Thummim, which were tokens of light & knollage, of holines & perfectiō which shulde be in the hie Priest. Therefore when Iehoshaphat toke this order in the Church of Israel, he appointed Amariah to be the chief concerning the worde of God, because he was moste expert in the law of the Lord, and colde gyue counsel and gouerne according vnto the same. Els there is no degre or office which may haue that autoritie and priuiledge to decide concerning Gods worde, except withall he hath the Spirit of God, and sufficient knollage and iudgement to define according thereunto. And as euery one is indued of God with greater giftes, so ought he to be herein chiefly heard, or at least that without the expresse worde none be heard: for he that hathe not the worde, ¶ speaketh not by the mouthe of the Lord. Agayne, what danger it is to do any thing, seme it neuer so godly or necessarie, without consulting with Gods mouth, the examples of the Israelites, ¶ deceiued hereby through the Gibeonites: and of ¶ Saul, whose intention semed good and necessarie: and of ¶ Iosiah also, who for great considerations was moued for the defence of true religion & his people, to fight against Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, may sufficiently admonish vs.

Last of all (moste gracious Quene) for the aduancement of this building vp of the

and rearing vp of the worke, two things are necessarie, First, that we haue a iu& stedfast faith in Christ Iesus, who must dwell in our heartes, as the only mean-and assurance of our saluation: for he is the ladder that reacheth from the earth to heauen: he lifteth vp his Church and setteth it in the heauenly places: he maketh vs liuely stones and buildeth vs vpon him selfe: he ioyneth vs to him selfe as the me-bres and body to the head: yea he maketh him selfe and his Church one Christ.
 The next is, that our faith bring forth the good fruites, so that our godly conuersa-tion may serue vs as a witnes to confirme our election, and be an example to all others to waike as apperteyneth to the vocation whereunto they are called: lest the worde of God be euil spoken of, and this building be stayed to growe vp to a iust height, which can not be without the great prouocation of Gods iuste vengeance and discouraging of many thousandes through all the worlde, if they shulde se that our life were not holy and agreable to our profession. For the eyes of all that feare God in all places beholde your countreyes as an example to all that beleue, and the prayers of all the godly at all tymes are directed to God for the preseruatiō of your maiestie. For considering Gods wonderful mercies toward you at all seasons, who hath pulled you out of the mouthe of the Lyons, and how that from your youth you haue bene broght vp in the holy Scriptures, the hope of all men is so increased, that they can not but looke that God shulde bring to passe some wonderful worke by your grace to the vniuersal comfort of his Church. Therefore euen aboue strength, you must shewe your selfe strong and bolde in Gods matters: and thogh Satan lay all his power and craft together to hurt and hinder the Lorders building: yet be you assured that God wil fight from heauen against this great dragon, the ancient serpent, which is called the deuil and Satan. til he haue accomplished the whole worke and made his Church glorious to him selfe, without spot or wrinkle. For albeit all other kingdomes and monarchies, as the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians & Romans haue fallen & taken end: yet the Church of Christ euen vnder the Crosse hath from the begynning of the worlde bene victorious, and shalbe euerlastingly. Trueth it is, that some tyme it semeth to be shadowed with a cloude, or diuen with a stormie perfection, yet suddenly the beames of Christ the sunne of iustice shine and bring it to light and libertie. If for a tyme it lie couered with ashes, yet it is quickly kindeled agayne by the wynde of Gods Spirit: thogh it seme drowned in the sea, or parched and pyned in the wildernes, yet God giueth euer good successe. for he punisheth the enemies, and deliuereth his, nourisheth them and stil preserueth the vnder his wyngs. This Lord of lodes & King of kings who hath euer defended his, strengthen, confort and preserue your maiestie, that you may be able to builde vp the ruines of Gods house to his glorie, the discharge of your conscience, and to the comfort of all them that loue the conuening of Christ Iesus our Lord.

THE FIRST BOKE OF Mofés, called * Genesis.

THE ARGUMENT.

MOSÉS in effect declareth the things, which are here chiefly to be considered: First, that the worlde & all things therein were created by God, & that man being placed in this great tabernacle of the worlde to behold Gods wonderfull workes, & to praise his Name for the infinite graces, wherewith he had endued him, fell willingly from God through disobedience: who yet for his owne mercies sake restored him to life, & confirmed him in the same by his promises of Christ to come, by whom he shulde overcome Satan, death and hel. Secondly, that the wicked, unmindeful of Gods moste excellent benefites, remained still in their wickednes, & so falling moste horribly from sinne to sinne, provoked God (who by his preachers called them continually to repentance) at length to destroye the whole world. Thirdly, he assureth vs by the example of Abraham, Isaac, Iacob & the rest of the Patriarkes, that his mercies neuer faile them, whome he chuseth to be his Church, and to professe his Name in earth, but in all their afflictions and persecutions he euer assisteth them, sendeth comforte, & deliuereth them. And because the beginning, increase, preservation and success thereof might be onely attributed to God, Mosés sheweth by the examples of Cain, Ishmael, Esau and others, which were noble in mans iudgement, that this Church dependeth not on the estimation and nobilitie of the worlde: and also by the fewenes of them, which haue at all times worshipped him purely according to his worde, that it standeth not in the multitude, but in the poore and despised in the finite flock: and like number, that man in his wisdom might be confounded, & the Name of God euer more praised.

a First of all, & before that any creature was, God made heauen and earth of nothing. Psal 33.6. & 136.5 eccles. 18.1. CHAP. I.

1 God created the heauen & the earth, 2 The light & the darkenes, 3 The firmament. 4 He separateth the water from the earth 16 He createth the sunne, the moone, & the starres: 21 He createth the fish, birdes, beastes. 26 He createth man and giveth him rule ouer all creatures, 29 And prouideth nouriture for man and beast.

IN THE beginning * God created & heauen and the earth. And the earth was without forme & voyde, and darkenes was vpon the depe, & the Spirit of God moued

vpon the waters. 1 Then God said, * Let there be light: and there was light. 2 And God sawe & light that it was good, and God separatd. the light from the darkenes. 3 And God called the light, Day, and the darkenes, he called Night. || So the euenig and the morning were the first day. 4 ¶ Againe God said, * Let there be a firmament in the middes of the waters: and let it separate the waters from the waters. 5 Then God made the firmament, & parted the waters, which were vnder the firmament, from the waters which were aboue the firmament, and it was so. 6 And God called the firmament, s Heauen. || So the euenig and the morning were the seconde day. 7 ¶ God said againe, * Let the waters vnder the heauē be gathered into one place, & let the drye land appeare. and it was so. 8 And God called the drye land, Earth, & he called & gathering together of the waters, Seas: & God sawe that it was good. 9 Then God said, h Let the earth budde forthe the budde of the herbe, that sedeth se de, the fructifull tre, w beareth frute according to his kinde, which mate haue his sede in it self vpon the earth. & it was so. 10 And the earth broght forth the budde of the herbe, that sedeth se de accordig to his kinde, also the tre that yeldeth frute, w hathe his sede in it selfe according to his kinde: & God sawe that it was good. 11 ¶ So the euenig and the morning were the third daie. 12 ¶ And God said, * Let there be lightes in the firmament of the heauen, to separate the daie from the night, & let them be for signes, and for seasons, and for daies and yeres. 13 And let them be for lightes in the firmament of the heauen to giue light vpon the earth, and it was so. 14 God then made two great lightes: the greater light to rule the daie, & the lesse light to rule & night: he made also & starres. 15 And God set them in the firmament of the heauen, to shine vpon the earth; 16 And to rule in the daie, & in the night, and to separate the light from the darkenes: and God sawe that it was good. 17 ¶ So the euenig and the morning were the fourth daie. 18 Afterwarde God said, Let the waters bring forth the in abundace euerie creeping thing that hathe life: & let the foule flie vpon the earth in the open firmament of the heauen. 19 Then God created the great whales, & euerie thing liuing & moving, w the waters broght forth in the abundance, accordig to their kinde, & euerie feathered foule according to his kinde: & God sawe that it was good.

* This worde significth the beginning and generation of the creatures. i This sentence is so oft repeated, to signifye: God made all his creatures to serue to his glorie, & to the profit of man: but for time they were created, yet to & end, by Christ they are restored & serue to their welth. The 1. day. Psal 136.7. deut. 4.19. k By & lightes he meaneth the sunne, the moone and the starres. l Which is & artificiall day, fro the sunne rising to the going downe. m Of things appertaining to natural and political ordres and seasons. n To wit, the sunne and the moone: & here he speaketh as man inugeth by his eye: for els the moone is lesse the the planet Saturnus. o To giue sufficient light, as instruments appointed for & time, to let us to mas vfe. Or, the original & beginning.

22 Then God blessed them, saying, Bring forth the frute and multiplie, and fill the waters in the seas & let the foule multiplie in the earth.

23 So the euening & the morning were the fift day.

24 Moreouer God said, Let the earth bring forth the liuing thing according to his kinde, cattel, & that which crepeth, & the beast of the earth, according to his kinde, and it was so.

25 And God made y beast of the earth according to his kinde, and the cattel according to his kinde, & euerie creeping thing of y earth according to his kinde: & God sawe that it was good.

26 Furthermore God said, Let vs make man in our image according to our likenes, and let them rule ouer the fish of the sea, and ouer the foule of the heauen, and ouer the beastes, & ouer all the earth, and ouer euerie thing that crepeth & moueth on the earth.

27 Thus God created the man in his image: in the image of God created he him: he created them male and female.

28 And God blessed them, and God said to them, Bring forth the frute and multiplie, and fill the earth, and subdue it, and rule ouer the fish of the sea and ouer the foule of the heauen, & ouer euerie beast that moueth vpon the earth.

29 And God said, Beholde, I haue giuen vnto you euerie herbe bearing seede, which is vpon all the earth, & euerie tre, wherein is the frute of a tre bearing seede: that shalbe to you for meat.

30 Likewise to euerie beast of the earth, and to euerie foule of the heauen, & to euerie thing that moueth vpon the earth, which hath life in it selfe, euerie grene herbe shalbe for meat. and it was so.

31 And God sawe all that he had made, & lo, it was very good. So the euening and the morning were the sixth day.

CHAP. II

1 God resteth the seventh day, and sanctifieth it. 11 He setteth man in the garden. 22 He createth the woman. 29 Marriage is ordained.

1 Thus the heauens and the earth were finished, & all the holte of them.

2 For in the seventh day God ended his worke which he had made, so the seventh daye he rested from all his worke, which he had made.

3 So God blessed the seventh day, & sanctified it, because that in it he had rested from all his worke, which God had created and made.

4 These are the generacions of the heauens & of the earth, when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heauens,

5 And euerie plant of the field, before it was in the earth, and euerie herbe of the field, before it grew: for the Lord God had not caused it to raine vpon the earth, nether was there a man to til the grounde, 6 But a myst went vp from the earth, and watered all the earth.

7 The Lord God also made the man of the dust of the grounde, and breathed in his face breath of life, and the man was a liuing soule.

8 And the Lord God plated a garden Eastwarde in Eden, and there he put the man whome he had made.

9 For out of the grounde made the Lord God to growe euerie tre pleasant to the sight, and good for meat: the tre of life also in the middes of the garden, and the tre of knowledge of good and of euil.

10 And out of Eden went a riuer to water the garden, and from thence it was deuided, and became into foure heades.

11 The name of one is Pison: the same compasseth the whole land of Hauilah, where is golde.

12 And the golde of that land is good: there is also bdelium, and the onix stonc.

13 And the name of the secōde riuer is Gihon: the same compasseth the whoie land of Cush.

14 The name also of y third riuer is Hiddekel: this goeth towarde the Eastside of Asshur: and the fourth riuer is Perath.

15 Then the Lord God toke the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, that he might dresse it and kepe it.

16 And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Thou shalt eat frey of euerie tre of the garden, 17 But as touching the tre of knowledge of good and euil, thou shalt not eat of it: for whensoever thou eatest thereof, thou shalt dye the death.

18 Also the Lord God said, It is not good that the man shulde be him selfe alone. I wil make him an helpe mete for him.

19 So the Lord God formed of the earth euerie beast of the field, and euerie foule of the heauen, & brought them vnto the man to se how he wolde call the: for howsoever the man named the liuing creature, so was the name thereof.

20 The man therefore gaue names vnto all cattel, and to the foule of the heauen, and to euerie beast of the field: but for Adam founde he not an helpe mete for him.

21 Therefore the Lord God caused an heaue slepe to fall vpon the man, & whiles he slept, he toke one of his rybbes and closed vp the flesh in steade thereof.

22 And the rybbe which the Lord God had taken from the man, made he a woman, and brought her to the man.

THE SITUACION OF THE GARDEN OF EDEN.

Because mention is made in the tenth verse of this seconde chapter of the river that watered the garden, we muste note that the Euphrates and Tigris called in ebrew, Perath and Hiddekel, were called but one river when they joynd together, els they had foure heades: that is, two at their springs, & two where they fell into the Persian sea. In this country and mooste plentiful land Adam dwelt, and this was called Paradise: that is, a garden of pleasure, because of the frutesfulness and abundance thereof. And whereas it is said that Pishon compasseth the land of Haulah, it is meant of Tigris, which in some place, as it passed by divers places, was called by sondry names, as some time Diglitre, in other places Pasitigris, & of some Pshon. Likewise Euphrates toward the country of Cush or Ethiopia, or Arabia was called Gibon. So that Tigris and Euphrates (which were but two rivers and some time when they joynd together, were called after one name) were according to divers places called by these foure names, so that they might seme to have bene foure divers rivers.

 c In doubting of Gods threatning she yielded to Satan.

Now the serpent was more a subtil then any beast of the field, which the Lord God had made: and he said to the woman, Yea, hath the God in dede said, Ye shall not eat of euery tree of the garden?
 And the woman said vnto the serpent, We eat of the frute of the trees of the garden, But of the frute of the tree, which is in the middes of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, nether shall ye touche it, lest ye dye.

4 Then the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not dye at all,
 5 But God doeth knowe, that when ye shall eat thereof, your eyes shall be opened, & ye shall be as gods, knowing good and euil.
 6 So the woman (seeing that the tree was good for meat, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, & a tree to be desired to get knowledge) toke of the frute thereof, and did eat, and gaue also to her husband with her, and he did eat.

 12 Then the man said, The woman which thou gauest to be with me, she gaue me of the tree, and I did eat.
 13 And the Lord God said to the woman, Why hast thou done this? And the woman said, The serpent beguyled me, and I did eat.
 14 Then the Lord God said to the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed about all cattel, and about euerie beast of the field: vpon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the dayes of thy life.
 15 I wil also put enimitie betwene thee and the woman, & betwene thy sede & her sede. He shall breake thine head, & thou shalt bruise his heele.
 16 Vnto the woman he said, I wil greatly increase thy sorowes, & thy conception. In sorowe shalt thou bring forth the childre, and thy desire shall be subiect to thine husband, and he shall rule ouer thee.
 17 Also to Adám he said, Because thou hast obeyed the voyce of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree (whereof I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it) cursed is the earth for thy sake: in sorowe shalt thou eat of it all the dayes of thy life.

 Afterwarde the man knewe Hcuáh his wife, which conceiued & bare Káin, & said, I haue obtained a man by the Lord.
 And againe she brought forth his brother Hábel, and Hábel was a keeper of shepe, & Káin was a tiller of the grounde.
 And in proccesse of time it came to passe, that Káin brought an oblation vnto the Lord of the frate of the grounde.
 And Hábel also him selfe brought of the first frutes of his shepe, and of the fat of them, and the Lord had respect vnto Hábel, and to his offering,
 But vnto Káin and to his offering he had no regard: wherefore Káin was exceeding wroth, & his countenance fell downe.
 Then the Lord said vnto Káin, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance cast downe?
 If thou do wel, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not wel, sinne lieth at the dore: also vnto thee his desire shall be subiect, and thou shalt rule ouer him.
 Then Káin spake to Hábel his brother. And when they were in the field, Káin rose vp against Hábel his brother, and slewe him.
 Then the Lord said vnto Káin, Where is Hábel thy brother? Who answered, I can not tel. Am I my brothers keeper?
 Againe he said, What hast thou done? the voyce of thy brothers blood cryeth vnto me from the grounde.
 Now therefore thou art cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receiue thy brothers blood from thine hand.
 When thou shalt til the grounde, it shall not henceforth yelde vnto thee her strength: a vagabonde and a renegate shalt thou be in the earth.
 Then Káin said to the Lord, My punishment is greater, then I can beare.
 Beholde, thou hast cast me out this day from the earth, and from thy face shall I be hid, and shall be a vagabonde and a renegate in the earth, & whosoever findeth me, shall slaye me.
 Then the Lord said vnto him, Douteles whosoever slayeth Káin, he shall be punished seven folde. And the Lord set a marke vpon Káin, lest any man finding him shulde kil him.
 Then Káin went out from the presence of the Lord and dwelt in the land of Nod toward the Eastside of Eden.

The genealogie, Age and death of Adám, & His succession vnto Nóah and his children.

This is the booke of the generacions of Adám. In the day that God created Adám, in the likenes of God made he him,

2 Male and female created he the, & blessed them, and called their name Adám in the day that they were created.

3 ¶ Now Adám liued an hūdreth and thirtie yeres and begate a childe in his owne likenes after his image, and called his name Sheth.

4 ¶ And the dayes of Adám, after he had begotten Sheth, were eight hundreth yeres, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

5 So all the dayes that Adám liued, were nine hundreth and thirtie yeres: and he dyed.

6 And Sheth liued an hundreth, and fyue yeres, and begate Enósh.

7 And Sheth liued, after he begate Enósh, eight hundreth and seuen yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

8 So all the dayes of Sheth were nine hundreth and twelue yeres: & he dyed.

9 ¶ Also Enósh liued ninety yeres & begate Kenán.

10 And Enósh liued, after he begate Kenán, eight hundreth and fiftene yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

11 So all the dayes of Enósh were nine hundreth and fyue yeres: and he dyed.

12 ¶ Likewise Kenán liued seuentie yeres, and begate Mahalaleél.

13 And Kenán liued, after he begate Mahalaleél, eight hundreth and forty yeres, & begate sonnes and daughters.

14 So all the dayes of Kenán were nine hundreth and ten yeres: and he dyed.

15 ¶ Mahalaleél also liued sixty & fyue yeres and begate Iéred.

16 Also Mahalaleél liued, after he begate Iéred, eight hundreth and thirty yeres, & begate sonnes and daughters.

17 So all the dayes of Mahalaleél were eight hundreth ninety and fyue yeres: and he dyed.

18 ¶ And Iéred liued an hundreth sixty and two yeres, and begate Henóch.

19 Then Iéred liued, after he begate Henóch, eight hundreth yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

20 So all the dayes of Iéred were nine hundreth sixty and two yeres: & he dyed.

21 ¶ Also Henóch liued sixty and fyue yeres, and begate Methushélah.

22 And Henóch walked with God, after he begate Methushélah, thre hundreth yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

23 So all the dayes of Henóch were thre hundreth sixty and fyue yeres.

24 And Henóch walked with God, and he was no more seue: for God toke him away.

25 Methushélah also liued an hundreth eighty and seuen yeres, and begate Lámech.

26 And Methushélah liued, after he begate Lámech, seuen hundreth eighty and two yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

27 So all the dayes of Methushélah were nine hundreth sixty and nine yeres: and he dyed.

28 ¶ Then Lámech liued an hundreth eighty and two yeres, and begate a sonne, 29 And called his name Nóah, saying, This same shal comfote vs concerning our worke and sorowe of our hands, as touching the earth, which the Lord hath cursed.

30 And Lámech liued, after he begate Nóah, fyue hundreth ninety and fyue yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

31 So all the dayes of Lámech were seue hundreth seuentie and seuen yeres: and he dyed.

for the earth was filled with crueltie. Then God looked vpo the earth, and beholde, it was corrupt: for all flesh had corrupt his way vpon the earth.

And God said vnto Noah, An end of all flesh is come before me: for the earth is filled with crueltie through them: and beholde, I wil destroye them with the earth.

Make thee an Arke of pine trees: thou shalt make cabins in the Arke, and shalt pytch it within and without with pytch.

And thus shalt thou make it: The length of the Arke shalbe thre hundredth cubites, the breadth of it fiftie cubites, and the height of it thirtie cubites.

A windowe shalt thou make in the Arke, and in a cubite shalt thou finish it aboue, and the dore of the Arke shalt thou set in the side thereof: thou shalt make it with the lowe, seconde and third roume.

And I, beholde, I wil bring a flood of waters vpon the earth to destroye all flesh, wherein is breath of life vnder the heauen: all that is in the earth shal perish.

But with thee wil I establish my covenant, & thou shalt go into the Arke, thou, and thy sonnes, and thy wife, and thy sonnes wiues with thee.

And of euerie liuing thing, of all flesh two of euerie sorte shalt thou cause to come into the Arke, to kepe them aliuie with thee: they shalbe male and female.

6 *Noáh therefore did according vnto all that the Lord commanded him.

7 And Noáh was six hundreth yeres olde, when the flood of waters was vpon the earth.

8 ¶ So Noáh entred and his sonnes, & his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him into the Arke, because of the waters of the flood.

beastes, and of the foules, & of all that

Chap. 2, 19.

10 There^c came two & two vnto Noáh into the Arke, male & female, as God had commanded Noáh.

11 And so after seuen dayes the waters of the flood were vpon the earth.

12 ¶ In the six hundreth yere of Noahs life in the^d seconde moneth, the seuententh day of the moneth, in the same day were all the^e fountaines of the great depe broken vp, and the windowes of heauen were opened, gunning of all things did moſte flourish.

^e Bothe y waters in y earth did ouerflowe,

13 And the raine was vpon the earth four-ty dayes and fourty nights.

14 In the selfe same day entred Noáh with Shem, & Ham and Iapheth, the sonnes of Noáh, and Noahs wife, and the thre wiues of his sonnes with thē into the Arke.

15 They and euerie beast after his kinde, & all cattel after their kinde, & euerie thing that crepeth and moueth vpon the earth after his kinde, & euerie foule after his kinde, euen euerie birde of euerie fether.

to Noáh.
^g So y Gods

detended him against the rage of y mightie waters.

16 For they came to Noáh into the Arke, two and two, ^f of all flesh wherein is the breath of life.

17 And they entring in, came male & female of all flesh, as God had cōmanded him:
and the Lord shut him in.

18 Then the flood was fourty dayes vpon the earth, and the waters were increased, & bare vp y Arke, which was lifte vp aboue the earth.

19 The waters also waxed strong, and were increased exceedingly vpon the earth, and the Arke went vpon the waters.

20 The waters^g preuailed so exceedingly vpon the earth, that all the high mountai-nes, that are vnder the whole heauen, were couered.

21 Fiftene cubites vpwarde did the waters preuaile, when the mountaines were coue-red.

22 ¶ Then all flesh perished that moued vp-on the earth, bothe foule and cattel and beast, & euerie thing that crepeth & mouueth vpon the earth, and euerie man.

23 Euerie thing in whose nostrils the spirit of life did breathe, whatsoeuer they were in the drve land, they dyed.

24 So^h he destroyed euerie thing that was vpon the earth, from man to beast, to the creping thing, and to the foule of the heauen: they were euen destroyed from the earth, and Noáh onelyⁱ remained, & they that were with him in the Arke.

1 The flood ceaseth. 16 Noáh is commanded to come for-the of the Arke with his. 20 He sacrificeth to the Lord.
22 God promiseth that all things shal continue in their first ordre.

1 Now God^a remembered Noáh & e-uerie beast, & all the cattel that was with him in the Arke: therefore God made a winde to passe vpon the earth, and the waters ceased.

^a Not that

2 The fountaines also of the depe & the windowes of heauen were stopped & the raine from heauen was restrained,

3 And the waters returned from aboue the earth, going and returning: and after the end of the hundreth and fiftieth day the waters abated.

4 And in the^c seuenth moneth, in the seuententh day of the moneth, the Arke^d rested vpon the mountaines of Ararat.

made,

of fourty dayes.

7 And sent forthe a^g rauen, which went out going forthe and returning, vntil the waters were dried vp vpon the earth.

^g The rauen is sent forthe & returneth.

8 Againe he sent a^h doue from him, that he might se if the waters were diminished from of the earth.

^h He sendeth
the doue.

9 But the doue founde no rest for the sole of her foote: therefore she returned vnto him into the Arke (for the waters were vp-on the whole earth) & heⁱ put forthe his hand, & toke her, and pulled her to him into the Arke.

ⁱ It is like, y
the rauen did flic to and fro, resting on the Arke, but came not in to it, as the doue that was taken in.

10 And he abode yet other seven dayes, and againe he sent forth the doue out of the Arke.

11 And the doue came to him in the euenig, & lo, in her' mouthe was an oliue leafe that she had pluckt: whereby Noah knewe that y' waters were abated from of y' earth.

12 Notwithstanding he waited yet other seven dayes, & sent forth the doue, which returned not againe vnto him any more.

13 ¶ And in the six hundredth and one yere, in the first daie of the first moneth the waters were d'ied vp from of the earth: & Noah remoued the couering of the Arke & looked, & beholde, the vpper parte of the grounde was drye.

14 And in the seconde moneth, in the seuen and twentieth day of the moneth was the earth drye.

15 ¶ Then God spake to Noah, saying,

16 Go forth of y' Arke, thou & thy wife, & thy sonnes & thy sonnes wiues w' thee.

17 Bring forth the with thee euerie beast that is with thee, of all flesh, bothe soule and cattel, & euerie thing that creepeth & moueth vpon the earth, that thei maie brede abundantly in the earth, * & bring forth the frute and increase vpon the earth.

18 So Noah came forth, and his sonnes, & his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him.

19 Euerie beast, euerie creeping thing, & euerie soule, all that moueth vpon the earth after their kindes went out of the Arke.

20 ¶ Then Noah buylt an altar to y' Lord and toke of euerie cleane beast, & of euerie cleane soule, and offered burnt offerings vpon the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a' fauour of rest, & y' Lord said in his heart, I wil henceforth curse the ground no more for mans cause: for the imaginacion of mans heart is euil, euen fr' his youth: nether wil I smite aintie more all things liuing, as I haue done.

22 Hereafter I se'de time & haruest, & colde & heate, & sommer and winter, & daie & night shal not cease, so long as the earth remaineth.

And God blessed Noah & his sonnes, and said to them, Bring forth the frute, and multiplie, and replenish the earth,

Also the feare of you, and the dread of you shalbe vpon euerie beast of the earth, and vpon euerie soule of the heauen, vpon all that moueth on the earth, & vpon all the fishes of the sea: into your hand are thei deliuered.

Euerie thing that moueth & liueth, shalbe meat for you: as y' greene herbe, haue I giuen you all things.

4 *d But flesh with the life thereof, I meane, with the blood thereof, shal ye not eat.

5 e For surely I wil require your blood, wherein your liues are: at the hand of euerie beast wil I require it: and at the hand of man, euen at the hand of a mans brother wil I require the life of man.

6 Whoso sheddeth mans blood, by man shal his blood be shed: for in the image of God hath he made man.

7 But bring ye forth the frute and multiplie: growe plentifully in the earth, and increase therein.

8 ¶ God spake also to Noah & to his sonnes with him, saying,

9 Beholde, I, euen I establish my couenat with you, and with your seed: after you,

10 And with euerie liuing creature that is with you, with the soule, with the cattel, & with euerie beast of the earth with you, from all that go out of the Arke, vnto euerie beast of the earth.

11 * And my couenat wil I establish with you, that from henceforth the all flesh shal not be rooted out by the waters of the flood, nether shal there be a flood to destoye the earth any more.

12 Then God said, This is the token of the couenat which I make betwene me and you, & betwene euerie liuing thing, that is with you vnto perpetual generations.

13 I haue set my bowe in the cloude, and it shalbe for a signe of the couenat betwene me and the earth.

14 And when I shal couer the earth with a cloude, and the bowe shal be seene in the cloude, 15 Then wil I remember my couenat, which is betwene me and you, & betwene euerie liuing thing in all flesh, & there shalbe no more waters of a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 Therefore y' bowe shalbe in the cloude, y' I may se it, & remember the euerlasting couenat betwene God, and euerie liuing thing in all flesh that is vpon the earth.

17 God said yet to Noah, This is the signe of the couenat, which I haue established betwene me and all flesh that is vpon the earth.

18 ¶ Now the sonnes of Noah going forth of the Arke, were Shem & Ham & Iapheth. And Ham is the father of Canaan.

19 These are the thre sonnes of Noah, and of them was the whole earth ouerspred.

20 Noah also began to be an housband man and planted a vineyard.

CHAP. X.

1 The increase of mankinde by Noah and his sonnes
10 The beginning of cities, countreys and nations.

Now these are the generacions of y^e sonnes of Noah, Shem, Ham & Iapheth: vnto whome sonnes were borne after the flood.

2 The sonnes of Iapheth were Gomer and Magog, and b Madai, and Iauan, and Tubal and Meshech, and Tiras.

3 And the sonnes of Gomer, Ashkenaz, and Riphath and Togarmah.

4 Also y^e sonnes of Iauan, Eliphaz and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim.

5 Of these were the cyles of the Gentiles deuided in their landes, euery man after his tongue, and after their families in their nacions.

6 ¶ Moreover y^e sonnes of Ham were d Cush, and Mizraim, and Put, and Canaan.

7 And the sonnes of Cush, Seba and Hauilah, and Sabtah, and Raamah, and Sabtechah: also the sonnes of Raamah were Seba and Dedan.

8 And Cush begate Nimrod, who began to be c mighty in the earth.

9 He was a mighty hunter before the Lord. wherefore it is said, f As Nimrod y^e mighty hunter before the Lord.

10 And the beginning of his kingdome was Babel, and Erech, and Accad, and Calneh, in the land s of Shinar.

11 Out of that land came Asshur, & buylded Ninueh, and the^o citie Rehoboth, and Calah:

12 Refen also betwene Ninueh and Calah: this is a great citie.

13 And Mizraim begate h Ludim, and Anamim, and Lehabim, and Naphtuhim.

14 Pathrusim also, and Casluhim (out of whome came the Philistims) and^o Caphtorims.

15 ¶ Also Canaan begate Zidon his first borne, and Heth,

16 And Iebusi, and Emori, and Girgashi,

17 And Hiuu, and Atki, and Sinu,

18 And Aruadi, and Zemarai, & Hamathi: & afterwarde were the families of y^e Canaanites spred abroad.

19 Then the border of the Canaanites was from Zidon, as thou comest to Gerar vntil Azzah, & as thou goest vnto Sodom, and Gomorah, and Admah, & Zeboim, euen vnto Lasha.

20 These are y^e sonnes of Ham according to their families, according to their tongues in their countreys and in their nacions.

21 ¶ Vnto¹ Shem also the father of all the sonnes^k of Eber, and elder brother of Iapheth were e children borne.

22* The sonnes of Shem were Elam and Ashur, and Arpachshad, and Lud, and Aram.

23 And the sonnes of Aram, Vz & Hul, and Gether and Mash.

24 Also Arpachshad begate Shelah, and Shelah begate Eber.

25 Vnto Eber also were borne two sonnes: the name of the one was Peleg: for in his dayes was the earth^l diuided: & his brothers name was Joktan.

26 Then Joktan begate Almodad and Sheleph, & Hazarmaueth, and Ierah, 27 And Hadoram, & Vzai, and Dicklah,

28 And Obal, & Abimeel, and Sheba,

29 And Ophir, and Hauilah, and Jobab. all these were the sonnes of Joktan.

30 And their dwelling was from Meshah, as thou goest vnto Sephar a mount of the East.

31 These are y^e sonnes of Shem according to their families, according to their tongues, in their countreys and nacions.

32 These are the families of the sonnes of Noah, after their generacions among their people: and^o out of these were the nacions diuided in the earth after the flood.

4 Also they said, Go to, let vs^e buylde vs a citie and a tower, whose toppes may reach vnto the heauen, that we may get vs a name, lest we be scard vpon y^e whole earth.

5 But the Lord^f came downe, to se the citie & tower, which y^e sonnes of men buylded.

12 Also Arpachshád liued siue and thirty yeres, and begate Shélah.

13 And Arpachshád liued, after he begate Shélah, foure hundreth and thre yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

14 And Shélah liued thirty yeres, and begate Eber.

15 So Shélah liued, after he begate Eber, foure hundreth and thre yeres, and begate
sonnes and daughters.

16 Likewise Eber liued foure and thirty ye-

17 So Eber liued, after he begate Péleg, fousonnes and daughters.

18 And Péleg liued thirty yeres, and begate Reú.

19 ¶ And Péleg liued, after he begate Reú, two hundreth and nine yeres, and begate
sonnes and daughters.

20 Also Reú liued two and thirty yeres, & begate Serúg.

21 So Reú liued, after he begate Serúg, two hundreth and seuen yeres, and begate son-nes and daughters.

22 Moreouer Serúg liued thirty yeres, and begate Nahór.

23 And Serúg liued, after he begate Nahór, two hundreth yeres, and begate sonnes & daughters.

24 And Nahór liued nine & twenty yeres, and begate Térá.

25 So Nahór liued, after he begate Térá, an hūdreth and ninetene yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

26 ¶ So Térá liued seuentie yeres, & begate Abrám, Nahór, and Harán.

27 ¶ Now these are y^e generaciõs of Térá: Térá begate^l Abrám, Nahór, & Harán: and Harán begate Lot.

28 Then Harán dyed before Térá his father in the land of his natiuitie, in Vr of the Caldees.

29 So Abrám and Nahór toke them wiues.
the name of Abráms wife was Sarái, and the name of Nahors wife Milcán, the daughter of Harán, the father of Milcán, and the father of^m Iscáh.

30 But Sarái was barren, and had no childe.

31 Thenⁿ Térá toke Abrám his sonne, & Lot the sonne of Harán, his sonnes sonne, and Sarái his daughter in lawe, his sonne Abráms wife: and they departed together from Vr of the Caldees, to^{*} go into the land of Canáan, and they came to^o Harrán, and dwelt there.

32 So the dayes of Térá were two hun-

Harán.

and wil blesse thee, and make thy name

3 I wil also blesse them that blesse thee, &

- 11 And when he drewe nere to entre into Egypt, he said to Sarái his wife, Beholde now, I knowe that thou art a faire woman to loke vpon:

- 13 Say, I pray thee, y^e thou art my^e sister, that I may fare wel for thy sake, and that my^e life may be preferred by thee.
- 14 ¶ Now, when Abrám was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman: for she was very faire.
- 15 And the princes of Pharaóh sawe her, and commended her vnto Pharaóh: so the woman was^e taken into Pharaohs house:

- 16 Who intreated Abrám wel for her sake, and he had sheepe, and beues, and he asses, and men seruantes and maide seruantes, and she asses, and camelles.
- 17 But the Lord^e plagued Pharaóh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarái Abrams wife.
- 18 Then Pharaóh called Abrám and said, Why hast y^e done this vnto me? Wherefore didest thou not tel me, that she was thy wife?
- 19 Why saidest thou, She is my sister, that I shulde take her to be my wife? Now therefore beholde thy wife, take her and go thy way.

- 20 And Pharaóh gaue men^e & commended him concerning him: and they conueied him forthe, and his wife, and all y^e he had.

- 21 ¶ The Lord^e said vnto Abrám, (after that Lot was departed from him) Lift vp thine eyes now, and loke from the place, where y^e art, Northward, and Southward, and Eastward, and Westward:
- 22 For all^e the land, which thou seest, wil I giue vnto thee and to thy sede for^e euer,
- 23 And I wil make thy sede, as the dust of y^e earth: so that if a man can number y^e dust of the earth, then shal thy sede be nombred.
- 24 Arise, walke through the land, in the length thereof, and bredth thereof: for I wil giue it vnto thee.
- 25 Then Abrám remoued his tent, and came and dwelled in the plaine of Mamré, which is in Hebrón, & buylded there an altar vnto the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Abrám departeth out of Egypt. 2 Lot departeth from him. 3 The wickednes of the Sodomites. 4 The promes made to Abrám is renewed. 5 Abram buyldeth an altar to the Lord.

Then^e Abrám went vp from Egypt, he, and his wife, and all that he had, & Lot with him towarde the South.

2 And Abrám^e was very riche in cattel, in siluer and in golde.

3 And he wēt on his iourney frō the South toward^e Beth-él, to the place where his tent had bene at the beginning, betwene Beth-él and Haái,

5 ¶ Lot also, who wēt with Abrám, had sheepe cattel and entes,

6 So that the lana coldē not^e beare them, that they might ewel together: for their^e substance was great, so that they coldē not dwell together.

7 Also there was debate betwene the herdmen of Abrams cattel, & the herdmen of Lots cattel. (and the^e Canaanites & the Perizzites dwelled at that time in y^e lād)

- 8 Then said Ab^e ám vnto Lot, Let there be no^e strife, I pray thee, betwene thee & me, nether betwene mine herdmen and thine herdmen: for we be brethren.
- 9 Is not the whole lād before thee? departe I pray thee frō me: if thou wilt^e take y^e left hand, then I wil go to the right: or if thou go to the right hand, then I wil take the left.
- 10 So when Lot lifted vp his eyes, he sawe y^e all the plaine of Iordén was watered euerie where: (for before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorái, it was as the^e garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, as thou goest vnto Zóar)
- 11 The Lot chose vnto him all y^e plaine of Iordén and toke his iourney frō the East: & they departed the^e one from y^e other.
- 12 Abrám dwelled in the land of Canáan, and Lot abode in the cities of the plaine, and pitched his tent euen to Sodom.
- 13 Now the men of Sodom were wicked & exceeding^e sinners against the Lord.
- 14 ¶ The^e Lord said vnto^e Abrám, (after that Lot was departed from him) Lift vp thine eyes now, and loke from the place, where y^e art, Northward, and Southward, and Eastward, and Westward:
- 15 For all^e the land, which thou seest, wil I giue vnto thee and to thy sede for^e euer, ¶ 3 Lot receiueth two Angels into his house. 4 The filthy lustes of the Sodomites 16 Lot is deliuered 24 Sodóu destroyed 26. Lots wife is made a pillar of salt 33. Lots daughters lye with their father, of whome come Moab and Ammón.

And in y^e evening their came two^a Angels to Sodóm: and Lot sat at the gate of Sodóm, & Lot sawe them, & rose vp to mete them, and he bowed him selfe with his face to the grownd:

2 And he said, Se my Lords, I praie you tuine in now into your seruants house, & tarie all night, and ^{*} wash your fete, and ye shal rise vp eariy and go your wates. Who said, Naie, but we wil abide in the strete all night.

3 Then^b he preased vpon them earnestly, and thei turned into him, and came to his house, and he made them a feast, and did bake vnleauened bread, and thei^c did eat.

4 But before thei went to bed, the men of the citie, euen the men of Sodóm compassed the house round about from the yong to the olde, ^d all the people from all quarters.

5 Who cryig vnto Lot said to him, Where are y^e men, which came to thee this night? bring them out vnto vs that we maie knowe them.

6 Then Lot went out at y^e dore vnto them, and shut the dore after him,

7 And said, I praie you, my brethren, do not so wickedly.

8 Beholde now, I haue two^e daughters, w^h haue not knowen man: the wil I bring out now vnto you, and do to them as semeth you good: onely vnto these men do nothing. ^f for therfore are thei come vnder the shadowe of my rose.

9 Then thei said, Awaie hence. and thei said, He is come alone as a stranger, & shal he iudge and rule: we wil now deale worfe with thee then with them. So thei preased fore vpon Lot^h him selfe, & came to breake y^e dore.

10 But the men put for the their hand & pulled Lot into the house to them and shut to the dore.

11 ^{*} Then thei smote the men that were at the dore of y^e house with blindenes bothe smale and great, so that thei were wearie in ^g seeking the dore.

12 ¶ Then the men said vnto Lot, Whome hast thou yet here? ether sonne in lawe or thy sonnes, or thy daughters, or whatsoever thou hast in the citie, bring it out of this place.

13 For we^s wil destroie this place, because the^{*} crie of them is great before y^e Lord, and the Lord hath sent vs to destroie it.

14 Then Lot went out and spake vnto his sonnes in lawe, whichⁱ married his daughters, & said, Arise, get you out of this place: for the Lord wil destroie the citie: but he semed to his sonnes in lawe as thogh he had mocked.

15 ¶ And when y^e morning arose, the Angels hasted Lot, saying, Arise, take thy wife and thy two daughters^j which are here, lest y^e be destroyed in the punishment of the citie.

18 And Lot said vnto them, Not so, I praie thee, my Lord.

28 Beholde, he sawe the smoke of the land mounting vp as the smoke of a fornace.

29 ¶ But yet when God destroied the cities of the plaine, God thought vpon Abrahā, and sent Lot out from the middes of the destructiō, whē he ouerthrewe the cities, wherein Lot dwelled.

30 ¶ Then Lot went vp frō Zóar, and dwelt in the mountaine with his two daughters: for he^o feared to tairie in Zóar, but dwelt in a caue, he, and his two daughters.

32 Come, we wil make our father q drinke wine, and lye with him, that we maie preferue sede of our father.

33 So thei made their father drinke wine y^r night, and the elder went and laie with her father: but he perceiued not, nether when she laie downe, nether when she rose vp.

34 And on the morow the elder said to the yonger, Beholde, yester night laie I with my father: let vs make him drinke wine this night also, and go thou and lye with him, y^r we maie p preferue sede of o^r father.

1 Abraham dwelleth as a stranger in the land of Gerár.

2 Abimélech taketh awaie his wife. 3 God repproueth the King. 9 And the King, Abrahā. 11 Sarah is restored with great giftes. 17 Abraham praieth, and the King and his are healed.

1 A fterward Abrahā departed thence toward the South countrie and dwelled betwē Cadésh & Shur, and sojourned in Gerár.

2 And Abrahā said of Sarah his wife, b She is my sister. The Abimélech King of Gerár sent and toke Sarah.

3 But God came to Abimélech in a dreame by night and said to him, Beholde, c thou art but dead, because of the womā, which thou hast taken: for she is a mans wife.

4 (Notwithstanding Abimélech had not yet come nere her) And he said, Lord, wilt thou slaie euen d the righteous naciō?

5 Said not he vnto me, She is my sister? yea, and she het selfe said, He is my brother: wth an vpright e minde, and f innocēt hāds haue I done this.

6 And God said vnto him by a dreame, I knowe y^r thou didest this euen with an vpright minde, & I k kept thee also that thou shuldest not sinne against me: therefore suffred I thee not to touche her.

7 Now then deliuer y^r man his wife againe: for he is a h Prophet, & he i shal praie for thee y^r thou mayest liue: but if thou deliuer her not againe, be sure y^r thou shalt die the death, thou, & all that thou hast.

8 Then Abimélech rising vp early in the morning called all his seruātes, and tolde all these things vnto them, and the men were sore afraide.

9 Afterward Abimélech called Abrahā, and said vnto him, What hast thou done vnto vs? and what haue I offended thee, that thou hast broght on me and on my k kingdome this great sinne? thou hast done things vnto me that oght not to be done.

1 Izhák is borne. 9 Ishmael mocketh Izhák. 14 Hagár is cast out with her sonne. 17 The Angel comforteth Hagár. 22 The couenants betwene Abimélech & Abrahám.

1 Now y Lord visited Sarah, as he had said, and did vnto her * according as he had promised.

2 For * Sarah conceived, & bare Abrahám a sonne in his a olde age, at the same season that God tolde him.

3 And Abrahám called his sonnes name that was borne vnto him, which Sarah bare him, Izhák.

4 Then Abrahám circumcised Izhák his sonne, when he was eight daies olde, * as God had commanded him.

5 So Abrahám was an hundreth yere olde, whē his sonne Izhák was borne vnto him.

6 ¶ Thē Sarah said, God hath made me to reioyce: all that heare wil reioyce w me.

7 Againe she said, b Who wolde haue said to Abrahám, that Sarah shulde haue giuen children sucke? for I haue borne him a sonne in his olde age.

8 Then the childe grewe & was weaned: & Abrahám made a great feast the same day that Izhák was weaned.

9 ¶ And Sarah sawe y sonne of Hagár the Egyptiā (which she had borne vnto Abrahám) c mocking.

10 Wherefore she said vnto Abrahám, Cast out this bond woman and her sonne: for the sonne of this bond woman shal not be heire with my sonne Izhák.

11 And this thing was very grieuous in Abrahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 ¶ But God said vnto Abrahám, Let it not be grieuous in thy sight for the childe, and for thy bond womā: in all that Sarah shal saie vnto thee, heare her voice: for in Izhák shal thy sede be d called.

13 As for y sonne of y bond womā, I wil make hi e a naciō also, because he is thy sede.

14 So Abrahám arose vp early in the morning, and toke bread, and a bottel of water, and gaue it vnto Hagár, putting it on her shulder and the childe also, and f sent her away: who departing wandred in the wildernesses of Beer-sheba.

15 And when the water of the bottel was spent, she cast y childe vnder a certeine tre.

16 Then she went and sate her ouer against him a farre of about a bowe shote: for she said, I wil not se the death of the childe. and she sate downe ouer against him, and lift vp her voyce and wept.

17 Then God heard the voyce of the childe, and the Angel of God called to Hagár from heauen, and said vnto her, What aileth thee, Hagár? feare not, for God hath heard y voyce of the childe where he is.

18 Arise, take vp y childe, and holde him in thine hand: for I wil make of him a great people.

19 And God h opened her eies, & she sawe a well of water: so she went and filled the bottel with water, & gaue y boye drinke.

20 So God was i with the childe & he grewe and dwelt in the wildernesses, and was an archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wildernesses of Parān, and his mother toke him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 ¶ And at that same time Abimélech and Phichól his chief captaine spake vnto Abrahám, saying, God is with thee in all y thou doest.

And there was a famine in the land besides the first famine that was in the dayes of Abraham. wherefore Izhák went to Abimelech King of the Philistims vnto Gerár.

2 For the Lord appeared vnto him, & said, Go not downe into Egypt, but abide in the land which I shal shewe vnto thee.

3 Dwell in this land, & I wil be with thee, and wil blesse thee: for to thee, and to thy sede I wil giue all these countreis: and I wil performe the othe which I sware vnto Abraham thy father.

19 Izhaks seruants then digged in the valley, & found there a well of liuing water.

21 Afterward they digged another well, and stroue for that also, and he called the name of it Sitnáh.

26 Afterwarde his father Izhák said vnto him, Come nere now, and kisse me, my sonne.

27 And he came nere and kissed him. Then he smelled the sauour of his garments, & blessed him, and said, Beholde, the smel of my sonne is as the smel of a field, which y Lord hathe blessed.

30 ¶ And when Izhák had made an end of blessing Iakób, and Iakób was scace gone out from the presence of Izhák his father, then came Esáu his brother from his hunting, 31 And he also prepared sauourie meat and broght it to his father, and said vnto his father, Let my father arise, and eat of his sonnés venison, that thy soule may blesse me.

33 Then Izhák was f stricken with a meruelous great feare, & said, Who and where is he that hunted venison, and broght it me, and I haue eat of all before thou camest? and I haue blessed him, therefore he shal be blessed.

34 When Esáu heard the wordes of his father, he cryed out with a great crye and bitter, and cryed of measure, and said vnto his father, Blesse me, euen me also, my father.

35 Who answered, Thy brother came with subtiltie, and hathe taken away thy blessing.

g In the chap. 25. he was so called because he helde his brother by y hele, as though he wolde ouerthrowe him: & therefore he is here called anouerthrower, or deceiver. h For Izhák did this as he was the minister and Prophet of God.

36 Then he said, Was he not iustly called Iakób? for he hathe deceued me these two times: he toke my birthright, and lo, now hathe he taken my blessing. Also he said, Hast thou not reserued a blessing for me?

37 Then Izhák answered, and said vnto Esau, Beholde, I haue made him thy lord, and all his brethren haue I made his seruantes: also with wheat and wine haue I furnished him, and vnto thee now what shal I do, my sonne?

38 Thē Esáu said vnto his father, Hast thou but one blessing my father? blesse me, euen me also, my father: and Esáu lifted vp his voyce, and * wept.

 Or, I am alij (thy sonne) Ebr. 12, 16.*

39 Then Izhák his father answered, and said vnto him, Beholde, the farnes of the earth shaibe thy dwelling place, and thou shalt haue of the dewe of heauen from aboue.

40 And by thy sworde shalt thou liue, and shalt be thy brothers seruant. But it shal come to passe, whē thou shalt get the mastery, that thou shalt breake his yoke from thy necke.

41 ¶ Therefore Esáu hated Iakób, because of y blessing, wherewith his father blessed him. And Esáu thought in his minde, * The dayes of mourning for my father wil come shortly, then I wil slay my brother Iakób.

42 And it was tolde to Rebekáh of y wordes of Esáu her elder sonne, and she sent called Iakób her yonger sonne, and said vnto him, Beholde, thy brother Esau is comforted against thee, meaning to kill thee:

m He harbe good hope to recover his birthright by killing thee.

43 Now therefore my sōne, heare my voyce: arise, and flee thou to Harán to my brother Labán,

44 And tary with him a while vntil thy brothers fearenes be swaged, 45 And til thy brothers wrath turne away from thee, and he forget the things, which thou hast done to him: then wil I send and take thee from thence: why shulde I be deprived of you bothe in one day?

46 Also Rebekáh said to Izhák, * I am weary of my life, for the daughters of Heth. If Iakób take a wife of the daughters of Heth like these of the daughters of the land, what auaieth it me to liue?

1 Then Izhák called Iakób and a blessed him, and charged him, and said vnto him, Take not a wife of the daughters of Canaan.

a This secōde blessing was to cōfirme Iakobs faith, lest he shuld thinke y his father had giuen it without Gods motion. Or. 12, 12.

Thus

5 Thus Izhák sent for the Iaakób, and he went to Padán Arám vnto Labán sonne of Bethuél the Aramite, brother to Rebekáh, Iaakobs and Esaus mother.

6 ¶ Whē Esau sawe that Izhák had blessed Iaakób, and sent him to Padán Arám, to fet him a wife thence, and giuen him a charge when he blessed him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan,

10 ¶ Now Iaakób departed frō Beer-sheba, and went to Harán, 15 And lo, I am with thee, & wil kepe thee whither soeuer thou goest, and wil bring thee againe into this land: for I wil not forsake thee vntil I haue performed that, that I haue promised thee.

16 ¶ Then Iaakób awoke out of his slepe, and said, Surely the Lord is in this place, and I was not aware.

g To be a remembrance onely of y^e visitō shewed vnto him

17 And he was afraid and said, How fearful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heauen.

h Or, house of God

18 Then Iaakób rose vp early in the morning, and toke the stone that he had laied vnder his head, and set it vp as a pillar, and powred oyle vpon the top of it.

19 And he called the name of that place Beth-él: notwithstaing the name of the cite was at the first cailed Luz.

20 Then Iaakób vowed a vowe, saying, If God wil be with me, and wil kepe me in this journey which I go, and wil giue me bread to eat, and clothes to put on:

21 So that I come againe vnto my fathers house in safety, then shall the Lord be my God.

2 And as he looked about, beholde there was a well in the field, and lo, the flockes of shepe lay thereby (for at that well were y^e flockes watered) and there was a great stone vpon the welles mouthe.

3 And thither were all y^e flockes gathered, and they rolled the stone from the welles mouthe, and watered the shepe, and put the stone againe vpon the welles mouthe in his place.

e It seemeth y^e in those daies y^e custome was to call euē brothers brethren.

4 And Iaakób said vnto them, My brethren, whence be ye? And they answered, We are of Harán.

5 Then he said vnto them, Knowe ye Labán the sonne of Nahór? Who said, We knowe him.

d Or, is he in peace? by the y^e worde the Ebrewes signifieth all prosperitie

6 Againe he said vnto them, Is he i good helth? And they answered, He is in good helth, and beholde, his daughter Rahél commeth with the shepe.

7 Thē he said, Lo, it is yet hie day, nether is it time y^e the cattel shulde be gathered together: watter ye the shepe & go fede thē.

8 But they said, We may not vntil all the flockes be broght together, & til that men rolle the stone frō the welles mouth, that we may watter the shepe.

9 ¶ While he talked with them, Rahél also came w^h her fathers shepe, for she kept thē.

10 And as sone as Iaakób sawe Rahél the daughter of Labán his mothers brother, and the shepe of Labán his mothers brother, thē came Iaakób nere, and rolled the stone from the welles mouth, and watered the stocke of Labán his mothers brother.

11 And Iaakób kissed Rahél, and lift vp his voyce and wept.

i Or, wept.

12 (For Iaakób tolde Rahél, that he was her fathers brother, & that he was Rebekahs sonne) then she ran and tolde her father.

13 And whē Laban heard tel of Iaakób his sisters sonne, he ran to mete him, and embraced him and kissed him, & broght him to his house: and he tolde Labán all these things.

e That is, the cause why he departed from his fathers house, & what he sawe in y^e way.

14 To whome Labán said, Wel, thou art my bone and my flesh, and he abode with him the space of a moneth.

f That is, of my blood and kindred.

15 ¶ For Labán said vnto Iaakób, Though thou be my brother, shuldest thou therefore serue me for nocht: tel me, what shal be thy wages?

16 Now Labán had two daughters, the elder called Leáh, & y^e younger called Rahél.

Or, bleasced

17 And Leáh was tender eyed, but Rahél was beautiful and faire.

18 And Iaakób loued Rahél, and said, I wil serue thee seuen yeres for Rahél thy younger daughter.

19 Then Labán answered, It is better that I giue hei thee, then that I shulde giue her to another man: abide with me.

20 And Iaakób serued seuen yeres for Rahél, and they serued vnto him but a fewe daies, because he loued her.

g Meaning, after that the yeres were accomplished.

21 ¶ Then Iaakób said to Labán, Giue me my wife that I maie go in to her: for my teime is ended.

Hebr my daies are fulfilled

22 Wherefore Labán gathered together all the men of the place, and made a feast.

h The cause why Iaakób was deceiued was, that in olde time the wife was couered with a vail, when she was brought to her housband in signe of chastite & shamefastnes.

23 But whé the euening was come, he toke Leáh his daughter and broght her to him, and he went in vnto her.

24 And Labán gaue his maide Zilpáh to his daughter Leáh, to be her seruant.

25 But when the morning was come, beholde, it was Leah. Then said he to Labán, Wherefore hast thou done thus to me: did not I serue thee for Rahél? wherefore then hast thou beguiled me?

i He esteemed more the profit that he had of Iaakobs seruice the rather his promes or the maner of the counterie, though he alledged custome for his excuse

26 And Labán answered, It is not the manner of this place, to giue the younger before the elder.

27 Fulfil seuen yeres for her, and we wil also giue thee this for the seruice, which thou shalt serue me yet seuen yeres more.

28 Thē Iaakób did so, & fulfilled her seuen yeres, so he gaue him Rahél his daughter to be his wife.

29 Labán also gaue to Rahél his daughter Bilháh his maide to be her seruant.

30 So entred he in to Rahél also, and loued also Rahél more then Leah, and serued him yet seuen yeres mo.

31 ¶ When y^e Lord sawe that Leah was despised, he made her fruitful: but Rahél was barren.

Hebr opened her wombe

k This declareth, that oft times they, who are despised of men, are fauored of God. I Hereby appeareth, that she had recoures to God in her affliction. m For children are a great cause of mutual loue betwene man and wife.

32 And Leah conceived and bare a sonne, and she called his name Reubén: for she said, Because the Lord hath looked vpon my tribulacion, now therefore mine housband wil loue me.

33 And she conceived againe and bare a sonne, and said, Because the Lord heard that I was hated, he hath therefore giuen me this sonne also, and she called his name Simeón.

34 And she conceived againe and bare a sonne, and said, Now at this time wil my housbād kepe me companie, because I haue boine him thre sonnes: therefore was his name called Leui.

35 Moreouer she conceived againe and bare a sonne, saying, Now wil I praise the Lord: * therefore she called his name Iudáh, and left bearing.

2 Thē Iaakobs angre was kindeled against Rahél, and he said, Am I in Gods stede, which hath withholden frō thee the frute of the wombe?

a It is onely God that maketh barē and fruteful, and therfore I am not in faulte.

3 And she said, Beholde my maide Bilháh, go in to hei, and she shal beare vpon my knees, & I shal haue childre also by her.

9 And when Leah sawe that she had left bearing, she toke Zilpáh hei maide, and gaue her Iaakób to wife.

12 Againe Zilpáh Leahs maide bare Iaakób another sonne.

13 Then said Leah, Ah, blessed am I, for the daughters wil blesse me. and she called his name, Ashér.

warded her therefore.

18 The said Leah, God hath giuen me my rewarde, because I gaue my maide to my houfband, & she called his name Iflachár.

19 After, Leah conceived againe, and bare Iaakób the fixt sonne.

20 The Leah said, God hath endued me wth a good dow. ie: now wil mine houfband dwell with me, because I haue borne him fixt sónes: & she called his name Zebulún.

21 After that, she bare a daughter, and she called her name Dináh.

22 ¶ And God remembred Rahél, and God heard hei, and opened hei wombe.

23 So she conceived and bare a sonne, and said, God hath taken away my rebuke.

24 And she called his name Ioséph, saying,
The Lord wil giue me yet another sonne.

25 ¶ And as Rahél had borne Ioséph, Iaakób said to Labán, Séd me away that I may go vnto my place and to my countray.

26 Giue me my wiues and my children, for whome I haue serued thee, and let me go:
for thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee.

27 To whome Labán answered, If I haue now founde fauour in thy sight, tari: I haue perceued: that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.

28 Also he said, Appoint vnto me thy wages, and I wil giue it thee.

29 But he said vnto hi, Thou knowest, what seruice I haue done thee, and in what taking thy cattel hath bene vnder me.

30 For the litle, that thou haddest before I came, is increased into a multitude: and the Lord hath blessed thee by my com-ming: but now whé shal I triaue for mine owne house also?

31 Then he said, What shal I giue thee? And Iaakób answered, Thou shalt giue me nothing at all: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I wil returne, fede, and kepe thy shepe.

32 I wil passe through all thy flockes this day, and separat from them all the shepe with litle spotted and great spotted, & all "blacke lambes among the shepe, and the great spotted, and litle spotted among the goates: and it shal be my wages.

33 So shal my righteousnes answere for me hereafter, when it shal come for my rewarde before thy face, & euery one that hath not litle or great spotted among the goates, and blacke among the shepe, the same shal be theft with me.

34 Then Labán said, Go to, wolde God it might be according to thy saying.

35 Therefore he toke out the same day the he goates that were party coloured and with great spotted, and all the she goates with litle and great spotted, and all y^e had 37 ¶ Then Iaakób toke rodde of grene made the white appeare in the rodde.

38 Then he put y^e rodde, which he had pilled, in the gutters and watering troughes, when the shepe came to drinke, before y^e shepe: (for they were in heate, when they came to drinke)

39 And the shepe were in heate before the rodde, & after ward brought forth the yong of spottes.

40 And Iaakób parted these lambes, and turned the faces of the flocke towards these lambes party coloured and all maner of blacke, among the shepe of Labán: so he put his owne flockes by them selues, & put them not with Labans flocke.

41 And in euery ramming tyme of the stronger shepe, Iaakób laied the rodde

42 But when the shepe were feble, he put them not in: and so y^e febler were Labans, and the stronger Iaakobs.

43 So the man encreased exceedingly, and had manie flockes, and made seruants, and men seruants, and camels and asses.

in times past:

3 And the Lord had said vnto Iaakób, Tur-to thy kinred, and I wil be with thee.

4 Therefore Iaakób sent and called Rahél and Leah to the field vnto his flocke.

5 The said he vnto them, I fe your fathers it was wonte, and the God of my father hath bene with me.

6 And ye knowe that I haue serued your 9 Thus hathe God taken awaie your fathers substance, and giuen it me.

10 ¶ For in ramming time I lifted vp mine eies and sawe in a dreame, and beholde, the he goates leaped vpon the she goates, that were partie coloured with litle and great spottes spotted.

11 And the Angel of God said to me in a dreame, Iaakób. And I answered, Lo, I am here.

12 And he said, lift vp now thine eies, and se all the he goates leaping vpon the she goates that are partie coloured, spotted with litle & great spottes: for I haue sene all that Labán doeth vnto thee.

d This Angel was Christ who appeared to Iaakób in Beth-el: & hereby appeareth he had taught his wifes & feare of God: for he talketh as though they knewe this thing.
Chap 22. 18.
e For they were giuen to Iaakób in recompence of his seruice: & was a kinde of sale.

13 d I am the God of Beth-él, where thou anointedst y^e pillar, where thou vowedst a vowe vnto me. Now arise, get thee out of this countrei & returne vnto the land where thou wast borne.

14 Then answered Rahél and Leah, and said vnto him, Hauē we anie more porcion and enheritance in our fathers house?

15 Doeth not he count vs as strangers for he hathe solde vs, and hathe eaten vp & consumed our monie.

16 Therefore all y^e riches, which God hathe taken from our father, is ours and our childrés: now then whatsoeuer God hathe said vnto thee do it.

17 ¶ Thē Iaakób rose vp, and set his sonnes and his wifes vpon camels.

18 And he caried awaie all his flockes, and all his substance which he had gotten, to wit, his riches, which he had gotten in Padán Arám, for to go to Izhák his father vnto the land of Canáan.

19 When Labán was gone to there his shepe, then Rahél stole her fathers idoles.

f For so the worde here signifieth, because Labán callethe the gods, ver of 30.
Or, went a way privately from Laban Or, Ephraim.

20 Thus Iaakób stole awaie the heart of Labán the Aramite: for he tolde him not that he fled.

21 So fled he with all that he had, & he rose vp, and passed the iuer, and set his face toward mount Gileád.

22 The third day after was it tolde Labán, that Iaakób fled.

Or, himselfe & friends.

23 Then he toke his brethren with him, & followed after him seuen dayes journey, and ouertoke him at mount Gileád.

Or, ioynd with him.

24 And God came to Labán the Aramite in a dreame by night, and said vnto him, Take hede that thou speake not to Iaakób ought saue good.

Or, from good to euil.

25 ¶ Then Labán ouertoke Iaakób, & Iaakób had pitched his tent in the mount: & Labán also with his brethren pitched vpon mount Gileád.

Or, conuincid thy selfe away quietly.

26 Then Labán said to Iaakób, What hast thou done? thou hast euen stollen away mine heart & caried away my daughters as though they had bene taken captiues wth the sworde.

27 Wherefore diddest thou flee so secretly & steale away from me, & diddest not tel me, that I might haue sent thee forthe with mirth & with songs, with timbrel & with harpe?

28 But thou hast not suffered me to kisse my sonnes and my daughters: now thou hast done foolishly in doing so.

29 I am able to do you euil: but the God of your father spake vnto me yester night, saying, Take hede that thou speake not to Iaakób ought saue good.

His power is in mee hand.
g He was an idolater, and therefore wold not acknollage the God of Iaakób for his God 30 Now though thou wentest thy way, because thou greatly longedst after thy fathers house: yet wherefore hast thou stollē my gods?

31 Thē Iaakób answered, & said to Labán, Because I was afraid, & thought that thou woldest haue taken thy daughters from me.

32 But with whome thou findest thy gods, let him not liue. Serche thou before our brethren what I haue of thine, and take it to thee (but Iaakób wist not that Rahél had stollen them)

Or, he him thy.

33 Then came Labán into Iaakobs tent, & into Leahs tent, and into the two maides tentes, but founde them not. so he wēt out of Leahs tent, & entred into Rahels tent.

34 (Now Ranel had takē the idoles & put them in the camels litter & fate downe vpon them) & Labán serched all the tent, but founde them not.

Or, Rane, the saddle.

35 Then said she to her father, My lord, be not angry that I cannot rise vp before thee: for the custome of womē is vpon me: so he serched, but found not the idoles.

Ebr let xoo dige he in the eye of my lord.

36 ¶ Thē Iaakób was wroth, & chode with Labán: Iaakób also answered and said to Labán, What haue I trespased? what haue I offended, that thou hast pursued after me?

37 Seing thou hast serched all my stuffe, what hast y^e founde of all thine housholde stuffe? put it here before my brethren and thy brethren, that they may iudge betwene vs bothe.

38 This twēty yere I haue bene with thee: thine ewes and thy goates haue not cast their yong, & the rams of thy flocke haue I not eaten.

Or, bene barren.

39 Whatsoeuer was torne of beastes, I broght it not vnto thee, but made it good my selfe: of mine hāde diddest thou require it, were it stollen by day or stollen by night.

Ebr the women are cast by pray.
Ecod. 22. 28.

40 I was in the day consumed with heat, and with frost in the night, and my slepe departed from mine eies.

Or, I slept not.

41 Thus haue I bene twenty yere in thine house, and serued thee fourtē yeres for thy two daughters, and six yeres for thy shepe, and thou hast changed my wages ten times.

^h That is, the God whome Izhák did feare & reuerence

42 Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, & the ^h feare of Izhák had bene with me, surely thou haddest sent me away now empty; but God behelde my tribulation, & the labour of mine handes, & rebuked thee yester night.

43 Then Labán answered, & said vnto Iaakób, These daughters are my daughters, and these sonnes are my sonnes, and these shepe are my shepe, and all that thou seest, is mine, and what can I do this day vnto these my daughters, or to their sonnes which they haue borne?

ⁱ His conscience reprocured him of his misbehaviour toward Iaakób and therefore moued him to seke peace

44 Now therefore come and let vs make a couenant, I and thou, which may be a witness betwene me and thee.

45 Then toke Iaakób a stone, and set it vp as a pillar:

46 And Iaakób said vnto his brethren, Gather stones: who brought stones, and made an heape, and they did eat there vpon the heape.

52 This heape shalbe witness, and the pillar shalbe witness, ^y I wil not come ouer this heape to thee, and that ^y shalt not passe ouer this heape & this pillar vnto me for euil.

CHAP. XXXII.

¹ God comforteth Iaakób by his Angels. ² He praileth vnto God confessing his Unworthines. ³ He sendeth presentes vnto Esáu. ⁴ He wrestled with the Angel who nameth him Israel.

^a He acknowledgeth Gods benefits: who for the preservation of his seedeth hostes of Angels.

² And when Iaakób sawe them, he said, ^a This is Gods host, & called the name of the same place ^q Mahanáim.

³ Then Iaakób sent messengers before him to Esáu his brother, vnto the land of Seír into the countrey of Edóm:

⁴⁰ Or, rmal

⁴ To whome he gaue commandemēt, saying, Thus shal ye speake to my ^b lord Esáu: Thy seruant Iaakób saith thus, I haue bene a stranger with Labán & taried vnto this time.

^b He reuerenced his brother in worldlie things, because he chafely looked to be preferred to ^y spiritual promise.

⁵ I haue beues also & asses, shepe, & men seruantes, and women seruantes, and haue sent to shewe my lord, that I may finde grace in thy sight.

⁷ Then Iaakób was ^c greatly afraid, and was soie troubled, & deuided the people that was with him, and the shepe, and the beues, and the camels into two cōpanies.

⁸ For he said, if Esáu come to the one companie and smite it, the other companie shal escape.

¶ Moreouer Iaakób said, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Izhák: Lord, which saidest vnto me, Returne vnto thy countrei & to thy kinred, and I wil do thee good, ¹⁰ I am not ^r worthe of the least of all the mercies & all the truth, which thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant: For ^w my ^d staffe came I ouer this Iordén, and now haue I gotten two bandes.

¹¹ Or, I am lesse then all thy mercies.

¹¹ I pray thee, Deliuer me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esáu: for I feare him, lest he wil come and smite me, & the ^e mother vpon the children.

^d That is, poore, & without all provision.

¹² For ^y saidest, I wil surely do thee good, and make thy fede as the sand of the sea, which can not be nombred for multitude.

¹³ ¶ And he taried there the same night, & toke of that which came to hand, a ^f presente for Esáu his brother:

^e Meaning, he wil put all to death: thus procure cometh of them which kille the herde together with her young ones
^f Not distrusting Gods assistance, but vnting such means as God had giue him.

¹⁵ Thirty milche camels with their coltes, fourtie kine, & ten bullockes, twētie she asses and ten soles.

¹⁸ Then thou shalt say, they be thy seruant Iaakób: it is a present sent vnto my lord Esáu: and beholde, he him selfe also is behinde vs.

19 So likewise commanded he the seconde & the third, & all that followed the droues, saying, After this maner, ye shal speake vnto Esáu, when ye finde him.

20 And ye shal say moreouer, Beholde, thy seruant Iaakób commeth after vs (for he thought, I wil appeare his wrath with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I wil see his face: it may be that he wil accept me)

21 So went the present before him: but he taried that night with the companie.

22 And he rose vp the same night, and toke his two wiues, and his two maides, and his eleue children, & went ouer the forde Iabbók.

23 And he toke them, & sent them ouer the riuer, & sent ouer that he had.

24 ¶ Whē Iaakób was left him selfe alone, there wrestled a man with him vnto the breaking of the day.

25 And he sawe that he colde not preuaile against him: therefore he touched the hollow of his thigh, & the hollow of Iaakobs thigh was loosed, as he wrestled with him.

26 And he said, Let me go, for y morning appeareth. Who answered, *I wil not let thee go except thou blesse me.

27 Then said he vnto him, What is thy name? And he said, Iaakób.

28 Then said he, Thy name shal be called Iaakób no more, but Israél: because thou hast had power with God, thou shalt also preuaile with men.

29 Then Iaakób demaded, saying, Tel me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, Wherefore now dost thou aske my name? And he blessed him there.

30 And Iaakób called the name of the place, Peniél: for, said he, I haue sene God face to face, and my life is preserued.

31 And the sunne rose to him as he passed Peniél, and he halted vpon his thigh.

32 Therefore the children of Israél eat not of the sinew that shanke in the holow of the thigh, vnto this day: because he touched the sinew that shanke in the holow of Iaakobs thigh.

6 Then came y maides nere, they, and their children, and bowed them selues.

7 Leah also with her children came nere and made obeisance. and after Ioseph & Rahél drewe nere and did reuerence.

8 Then he said, What meanest thou by all this droue, which I met? Who answered, I haue sene it, that I maie finde fauour in y sight of my lord.

9 And Esáu said, I haue ynough, my brother: kepe that thou halt to thy selfe.

10 But Iaakób answered, Nay, I pray thee: if I haue founde grace now in thy sight, then receiue my present at mine hand: for

I haue sene thy face, as though I had sene the face of God, because thou hast accepted me.

11 I praie thee take my blessing, that is brought thee: for God hath had mercie on me, & therefore I haue all things: so he compelled him, and he toke it.

12 And he said, Let vs take our iourney & go, and I wil go before thee.

13 Then he answered him, My lord knoweth, that the children are tendre, and the ewes & kine with yong vnder mine had: & if they shulde ouerdrue them one day, all the flocke wolde dye.

14 Let now my lord go before his seruāt, and I wil driue softly, according to the passe of the cattel, which is before me, and as the children be able to endure, vntil I come to my lord vnto Seir.

15 Then Esáu said, I wil leaue thé some of my folke with thee. And he answered, What needeth this? let me finde grace in the sight of my lord.

16 ¶ So Esáu returned, and went his way that same day vnto Seir.

17 And Iaakób went forwarde towarde Succóth, & buyt him an house, and made boothes for his cattel: ther efore he called the name of the place Succóth.

18 ¶ Afterwarde, Iaakób came safe to Shechem a citie, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from Padan Arám, and pitched before the citie.

19 And there he boght a parcel of groude, where he pitched his tent, at the hand of the sonnès of Hamór Shichems father, for an hundred pieces of money.

g As God is said to defend, when he sheweth some signe of his presence: so he is said to ascend, when his vision is ended.

h The Ebrewes worde signifieth as much ground as one may go for bytte to buyte, & is takē for halfe a days journey.

1 Then God said to Jaakób, Arise, go up to Beth-él & dwel there, & make there an altar vnto God, that appeared vnto thee, whē thou fleddest from Esáu thy brother.

2 Then said Jaakób vnto his housholde & to all that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, & cleane your selues, and change your garments:

3 For we wil rise and go vp to Beth-él, and I wil make an altar there vnto God, which heard me in the day of my tribulacion, & was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gaue vnto Jaakób all the strange gods, which were in their hands, and all their eearings which were in their eares, and Jaakób hid them vnder an oke, which was by Shechem.

5 Then they went on their journey, and the feare of God was vpon the cities, that were round about them: so that they did not followe after the sonnes of Jaakób.

6 So came Jaakób to Luz, which is in the land of Canaan: (the same is Beth-él) he and all the people that was with him.

7 And he buyld there an altar, & had called the place, The God of Beth-él, because that God appeared vnto him there, whē he fled from his brother.

8 Then Deborah Rebekahs nurse dyed, and was buried beneth Beth-él vnder an oke: and he called the name of it Allón bachúth.

9 Againe God appeared vnto Jaakób, after he came out of Padán Arám, and blessed him.

10 Moreouer God said vnto him, Thy name is Jaakób: thy name shal be no more called Jaakób, but Israel shal be thy name: and he called his name Israel.

11 Againe God said vnto him, I am God all sufficiēt. growe, & multiplie: a nation & a multitude of natiōs shal sprig of thee, and Kings shal come out of thy loynes.

12 Also I wil giue y land, which I gaue to Abraham and Izhák, vnto thee: & vnto thy fede after thee wil I giue that land.

13 So God ascended from him in the place where he had talked with him.

14 And Jaakób set vp a pillar in the place where he talked with him, a pillar of stone, and powred drinke offering thereon: also he powred oyle thereon.

15 And Jaakób called the name of the place, where God spake with him, Beth-él.

16 Then they departed from Beth-él, & whē there was about halfe a daies journey of grounde to come to Ephrath, Rahel trauailed, and in trausiling she was in perill.

17 And when she was in peines of her labour, the midwife said vnto her, Feare not: for thou shalt haue this sonne also.

18 Then as she was about to yelde vp the goste (for she dyed) she called his name Ben-oni, but his father called him Benjamin.

19 Thus dyed Rahel, & was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Beth-léhem.

20 And Jaakób set a pillar vpon her graue: This is the pillar of Rahels graue vnto this day.

21 The Israel went forward, & pitched his tent beyonde Migdal-éder.

22 Now, when Israel dwelt in that land, Reuben went, and laye with Bilhah his fathers concubine, and it came to Isaacs eare. And Jaakób had twelue sonnes.

23 The sonnes of Leah: Reuben Jaakobs eldest sonne, and Simeon, & Leui, & Iudáh, & Issachar, & Zebulun.

24 The sonnes of Rahel: Ioseph and Benjamin.

25 And y sonnes of Bilhah Rahels maide: Dan and Naphtali.

26 And the sonnes of Zilpah Leahs maide: Gad and Asher. these are the sonnes of Jaakób, which were borne him in Padán Arám.

27 Then Jaakób came vnto Izhák his father to Mamré a cite of Arbáh: this is Hebrón, where Abraham and Izhák were strangers.

28 And the dayes of Izhák were an hundredth and foure score yeres.

29 And Izhák gaue vp the goste and dyed, and was gathered vnto his people, being olde and ful of daies: & his sonnes Esáu and Jaakób buried him.

1 Now these are the generations of Esáu, which is Edóm.

2 Esáu toke his wiues of the daughters of Canaan: Adáh the daughter of Elón an Hittite, and Aholibamah the daughter of Anáh, the daughter of Zibeón an Hiuite.

3 And toke Basemath Ishmaels daughter, sister of Nebaióth.

4 And Adáh bare vnto Esáu, Elipház: & Basemath bare Reuel.

5 Also Aholibamah bare Ieúsh, & Iaalám, and Kórah: these are the sonnes of Esáu which were borne to him in the land of Canaan.

6 So Esáu toke his wiues and his sonnes, & his daughters, & all the soules of his housse, and his flockes, and all his cattel, and all his substance, which he had gotten in the land of Canaan, & went into an other countrei from his brother Jaakób.

7 For their riches were so great that they colde not dwel together, & the land, wherein they were strangers, colde not receiue them because of their flockes.

 5 ¶ And Ioséph dreamed a dreame, and tolde his brethren, who hated him so muché the more.
 6 For he said vnto thē, Heare, I pray you, this dreame which I haue dreamed.
 7 Beholde now, we were binding sheues in y middes of the field: & lo, my shefe arose and also stode vpright, & beholde, your sheues compassed rounde about, and did reuerence to my shefe.
 8 Then his brethren said to him, What, shalt thou reigne ouer vs, and rule vs? or shalt thou haue altogether dominio ouer vs? And thei^d hated him so muche the more, for his dreames, & for his wordes.
 9 ¶ Againe he dreamed an other dreame, & tolde it his brethren, & said, Beholde, I haue had one dreame more, and beholde, the sunne and the moone and eleuen starrs did reuerence to me.
 10 Then he tolde it vnto his father & to his brethren, and his father rebuked him, & said vnto him, What is this dreame, which thou hast dreamed? shal I, & thy mother, and thy brethren come in dede and fall on the grounde before thee?
 11 And his brethren enuied him, but his father^e noted the saying.
 12 ¶ Then his brethren went to kepe their fathers shepe in Shechem.
 13 And Israél said vnto Ioséph, Do not thy brethren kepe in Shechem? come & I will send thee to them.
 14 And he answered him, I am here. Then he said vnto him, Go now, se whether it be wel with thy brethren, and how the flockes prosper, and bring me worde againe. so he sent him from the vale of Hebión, and he came to Shechem.
 15 ¶ Then a man founde him: for lo, he was wandring in the field, and the man asked him, saying, What sekest thou?
 16 And he answered, I seke my brethren: tel me, I pray thee, where they kepe sheps.

 23 ¶ Now when Ioséph was come vnto his brethré, thei stript Ioséph out of his coat, his particoloured coate y was vpon him.
 24 And thei toke him, & cast hī into a pit, & the pit was empty, without water in it.
 25 Then thei sat them downe to eat bread: and thei lift vp their eies and loked, and beholde, there came a company of Ishmeelites from Gileád, and their camels ladē with spicerie, and rosen, and myrrhe, and were going to carie it downe into Egypt.

2 And Iudáh sawe there the daughter of a man called * Shuáh a b Canaanite: and he toke her to wife, and went in vnto her.

3 So she conceived and bare a sonne, & he called his name Er.

4 * And she conceived againe, and bare a sonne, and she called his name Onán.

5 Moreouer she bare yet a sonne, whome she called Sheláh: and Iudáh was at Chezib when she bare him.

6 The Iudáh toke a wife to Er his first borne sonne whose name was Tamár.

7 * Now Er y first borne of Iudáh was wicked in the sight of the Lord. therefore the Lord slewe him.

8 Then Iudáh said to Onán, Go in vnto thy brothers wife, and do the office of a kinsman vnto her, & raise vp sede vnto thy brother.

9 And Onán knewe y the sede shulde not be his: therefore when he wēt in vnto his brothers wife, he spilled it on the groude, lest he shulde giue sede vnto his brother.

10 And it was wicked in the eyes of y Lord, which he did: wherfore he slewe hi also.

11 Then said Iudáh to Tamár his daughter in lawe, d Remaine a widowe in thy fathers house, til Sheláh my sonne growe vp (for he thought thus, Lest he die aswel as his biethren) So Tamár went & dwelt in her fathers house.

12 ¶ And in proesse of time also the daughter of Shuáh Iudáhs wife dyed. Then Iudáh, when he had left mourning, went vp to his shepe shepers to Timnáh, he, and his neighbour Hiráh the Adullamite.

13 And it was tolde Tamár, saying, Beholde, thy father in lawe goeth vp to Timnáh, to there his shepe.

14 Then she put her widowes garments of from her, & covered her with a vaille, and wrapped her selfe, & fate downe in ¶ Perháh-enáim, w̄ is by the way to Timnáh, because she sawe y Sheláh was grownen, & she was not giue vnto him to wife.

15 When Iudáh sawe her, he iudged her an whore: for she had couered her face.

16 And he turned to the way, towards her, & said, Come, I pray thee, let me lye with thee. (for he e knewe not that she was his daughter in lawe) And she answered, What wilt thou giue me for to lie w̄ me?

17 Then said he, I wil send thee a kid of y goates from the flocke. & she said, Wel, if thou wilt giue me a pledge, til y send it.

18 Then he said, What is the pledge that I shal giue thee? And she answered, Thy signet, & thy cloke, and thy staffe that is in thine hand. So he gaue it her, and lay by her, and she was with childe by him.

19 Then she rose, and went & put her vaille fro her & put on her widowes raymēt.

20 Afterward Iudáh sent a kid of the goates by the hād of his f neighbour y Adullamite, for to receive his pledge from the womans hand: but he founde her not.

21 Then asked he the mē of that place, saying, Where is y whore, that fate in Enáim by y way side? And they answered, There was no whore here.

22 He came therefore to Iudáh againe, & said, I cā not finde her, & also the mē of y place said, There was no whoie there.

23 Then Iudáh said, Let her take it to her, lest we be shamed: beholde, I sent this kid, and thou hast not founde her.

24 ¶ Now after thre moneths, one tolde Iudáh, saying, Tamár thy daughter in lawe hath playd the whore, and lo, with playing the whore, she is great with childe. Then Iudáh said, Bring ye her forth and let her be burnt.

25 When she was brought forth, she sent to her father in law, saying, By the man, vnto whom these thigs p̄tenc, am I with childe: & said also, Loke. I praye thee, whose the se are, the seate, & y cloke, and y staffe.

26 Then Iudáh knewe them, and said, She is more righteous the I: for she hath done it because I gaue her not to Sheláh my sonne. So he laye with her kno more.

27 ¶ Now whē the time was come that she shulde be deliuered, beholde, there were twinnes in her wombe.

28 And when she was in trauel, the one put out his hand: & the midwife toke and bounde a red threde about his hand, saying, This is come out first.

29 But when he plucked his hād backe againe, lo, his brother came out, & the midwife said, How hast thou broken the breache vpō thee? & his name was called * Phárez.

d The wicked are blessed by the companie of the godlie.

5 And fro that time that he had made him ruler ouer his house & ouer all that he had, the Lord d blessed the Egyptias house for Iosephs sake : & the blessing of the Lord was vpon all that he had in y house, and in the field.

e For he was assured y all things shulde prosper well: therefore he ate and dranke & toke no care

6 Therefore he left all y he had in Iosephs had, e & toke accompte of nothig, that was w him, saue onely of the bread, which he did eat. And Ioseph was a faire personne, and wel faouored.

g The feare of God preferred him against her continual detractions.

9 Therè is no man greater in this house then I: nether hath he kept any thing fro me, but only thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickednes & so sinne againsts God?

10 And albeit she spake to Ioseph day by day, yet he hearkened not vnto her, to lye with her, or to be in her companie.

11 Then on a certeine day Ioseph entred into the house, to do his busines: & there was no man of the householde in the house:

12 Therefore she caught him by his garment, sayig, Slepe w me: but he left his garment in her hand and fled, & got him out.

13 Now when she sawe that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled out, 14 She called vnto the men of her house, and tolde them, saying, Beholde, he hath brought i an Ebrewe vnto vs to mocke vs: who came into me for to haue slept with me: but I h cryed with a loude voyce.

16 So she layed vp his garment by her, vntil her lord came home.

Or, after this manner.

17 Then she tolde him according to these wordes, saying, The Ebrewe seruant, w thou hast brogt vnto vs, came into me to mocke me.

18 But asone as I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment w me, & fled out.

19 Then when his master heard the wordes of his wife, which she tolde him, saying, After this maner did thy seruāt to me, his angre was kindled.

20 And Iosephs master toke him and put him in i prison, in the place, where the Kings prisoners lay bounde: and there he was in prison

Or, in the prison house

i His euil in-treatment in the prison may be gathered of the psal 105 18.

Or, inclined mercie vnto him.

21 ¶ But y Lord was with Ioseph, & shewed him mercie, and got him fauour in the sight of the o master of the prison.

22 And the keper of the prison committed to Iosephs had all the prisoners that were in the prison, and k whatsoeuer they did there, that did he.

k That is, nothing was done without his commandment.

23 And the keper of the prison looked vnto nothing that was vnder his hand, seing that the Lord was with him: for whatsoeuer he did, the Lord made it to prosper.

CHAP. XL.

The interpretation of dreames is of God. 12. 19. Ioseph expoundeth the dreames of the two prisoners. 23 The ingratitude of the butler.

1 And after these thigs, the butler of y King of Egypt and his baker offended their lord the king of Egypt.

2 And Pharaoh was angry against his two officers, against the chief butler, and against the chief baker.

Or, eunuchs, the worde signifieth them that were in high estate, or, them that were gelded

3 Therefore he put them in ward in his chief stuardes house, in the prison and place where a Ioseph was bounde.

a God worked many wonderfull meanes to deliuer his.

4 And the chief stuarde gaue Ioseph charge ouer them, & he serued them; and they continued a season in ward:

5 ¶ And they bothe dreamed a dreame, ether of the his dreame in one night, b eche one according to y interpretation of his dreame, lo the y butler & the baker of the King of Egypt, w were bounde in the prison.

b That is, euerie dreame had his interpretation, as the thing afterward declared.

6 And when Ioseph came in vnto them in the morning, and looked vpon them, beholde, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaohs officers, that were with him in his masters ward, saying, Where fore loke ye so sadly to day?

Or, why are your faces euil?

8 Who answered him, We haue dreamed, eche one a dreame, & there is none to interpret the same. Then Ioseph said vnto the, c Are not interpretations of God? tel them me now.

c Can not God raise vp such as shal interpret such things?

9 So the chief butler tolde his dreame to Ioseph, and said vnto him, In my dreame, beholde, a vine was before me,

10 And in the vine were thre branches, and as it budded, her floure came forth: & the clusters of grapes waxed ripe.

11 And I had Pharaohs cup in mine hand, & I toke the grapes, and wrong them into Pharaohs cup, and I gaue the cup into Pharaohs hand.

12 Then Ioseph said vnto him, This d is the interpretation of it: The thre branches are thre dayes.

d He was assured by the Spirit of God y his interpretation was true.

13 Within thre dayes shal Pharaoh lift vp thine head, & restore thee vnto thine office, and thou shalt giue Pharaohs cup into his hand after the olde maner, when y wast his butler.

Or, place.

14 But haue me in remembrance with thee, when thou art in good case, & shewe mercie, I pray thee, vnto me, and e make mention of me to Pharaoh, that thou maiest bring me out of this house.

e He refused not the meanes to be deliuered, which he thought God had appointed.

15 For I was stollen away by theft out of y land of the Ebrewes, & here also haue I done done nothing, wherefore they shulde put me in the dungeon.

Ebr. in the pit.

16 And when the chief baker sawe that the interpretaciō was good, he said vnto Ioséph, Also me thoght in my dreame that I had thre white baskets on mine head.

f That is, made of white twiggess, or, as some read, baskets ful of hoies.

17 And in the vppermost basket there was of all maner bakē meates for Pharaóh: & the birdes did eat them out of the basket vpon mine head.

g He sheweth that the ministers of God ought not to conceale that, wch God reueileth vnto them

18 Then Ioséph answered, & said, This is the interpretacion thereof: The thre baskets are thre dayes:

19 Within thre daies shal Pharaóh take thine head from thee, & shal hang thee on a tre, and the birdes shal eat thy flesh from of thee.

h Which was an occasion to appoint his officers and so to examine the that were in prison

20 ¶ And so the third day, which was Pharaóhs birth day, he made a feast vnto all his seruantes: and he lifted vp the head of the chief butler, and the head of the chief baker among his seruantes.

21 And he restored the chief butler vnto his butlership, who gaue the cup in to Pharaóhs hand, 22 But he hanged the chief baker, as Ioséph had interpreted vnto them.

23 Yet the chief butler did not remembre Ioséph, but forgat him.

CHAP. XLII.

26 Pharaóhs dreames are expounded by Ioséph. 40 He is made ruler ouer all Egypt: 51 He hath two sonnes: Manasséh and Ephraím. 54 The famine beginneth throughout the worlde.

i Ebr. at the end of two yeres of dates a This dreame was not so muche for Pharaóh, as to be a meane to deliuer Ioséph, and to prouide for his Church o Or, flaggy place.

1 And two yeres after, Pharaóh also dreamed, and beholde, he stode by a riuer,

2 And lo, there came out of the riuer seuen goodlie kine and fatfleshed, and they fed in a medow:

3 And lo, seuen other kine came vp after them out of the riuer, euilfaoured and leane fleshed, and stode by the other kine vpon the brinke of the riuer.

4 And the euilfaoured and leane fleshed kine did eat vp the seuen welfaoured & fat kine: so Pharaóh awoke.

b All these meanes God vsed to deliuer his seruant, & to bring him in to fauour and autoritie

5 Again he slept, and dreamed the seconde time: and beholde, seuen eares of corne grewe vpon one stalke, ranke and goodlie.

6 And lo, seue thinne eares, & blasted with the East winde, sprang vp after them:

c This feare was ynough to teache him, that this vision was sent of God

7 And the thinne eares deuoured the seue ranke and ful eares. then Pharaóh awaked, and lo, it was a dreame.

d The wife of the worlde vn derstand not Gods secrets, but to his seruantes his wil is reuiled.

8 Now when the morning came, his spirite was troubled: therefore he sent and called all the sothesaiers of Egypt, & ail the wise men thereof, and Pharaóh tolde them his dreames: but none colde interpret them to Pharaóh.

e He confesseth his faure against y King, before he speake of Ioséph.

9 Then spake the chief butler vnto Pharaóh, saying, I call to minde my fautes this day.

10 Pharaóh being angry with his seruantes, put me in waide in the chief stuardes house, bothe me and the chief baker.

11 The we dreamed a dreame in one night, bothe I, and he: we dreamed eche man according to the interpretacion of his dreame.

12 And there was with vs a yong man, an Ebrewe, seruant vnto the chief stuarde, whome when we tolde, he declared our dreames to vs, to euerie one he declared according to his dreame.

Read Chapter 40, 5.

13 And as he declared vnto vs, so it came to passe: for he restored me to mine office, and hanged him.

14 ¶ Then sent Pharaóh, and called Ioséph, and they brought him hastily out of prison, and he shaued him, and changed his raiment, and came to Pharaóh.

f The wicked seke to y Prophets of God in their necessitie, whome in their perierie they abhorre.

15 Then Pharaóh said to Ioséph, I haue dreamed a dreame, and no man can interpret it, and I haue heard say of thee, that when thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interpret it.

16 And Ioséph answered Pharaóh, saying, Without me God shal answer for the welth of Pharaóh.

g As though he wolde say, If I interpret thy dreame, it cometh of God & not of me.
Ebr. answer peace.

17 And Pharaóh said vnto Ioséph, In my dreame, beholde, I stode by the banke of the riuer:

18 And lo, there came vp out of y riuer seue fatfleshed, and welfaoured kine, and they fed in the medow.

19 Also lo, seuen other kine came vp after them, poore and very euilfaoured, and leane fleshed: I neuer sawe the like in all the land of Egypt, for euilfaoured.

Ebr. nanghes.

20 And the leane and euilfaoured kine did eat vp the first seuen fat kine.

21 And when they had eaten them vp, it colde not be knowne that they had eaten them, but they were stil as euilfaoured, as they were at the beginning: so did I awake.

Ebr. were gone into their inward partes.

22 Moreouer I sawe in my dreame, and beholde, seuen eares sprang out of one stalke, ful and faire.

23 And lo, seuen eares, withered, thinne, and blasted with the East winde, sprang vp after them.

24 And the thinne eares deuoured the seuen good eares. Now I haue tolde the sothesaiers, and none can declare it vnto me.

25 ¶ Then Ioséph answered Pharaóh, Bothe Pharaóhs dreames are one. God hath shewed Pharaóh, what he is about to do.

h Bothe his dreames tend to one end.

26 The seuen good kine are seuen yeres, & the seuen good eares are seuen yeres: this is one dreame.

27 Likewise the seuen thinne and euilfaoured kine, that came out after them, are seuen yeres: and the seuen emptie eares blasted with the East winde are seuen yeres of famine.

28 This is the thing, which I haue said vnto Pharaoh, that God hath shewed vnto Pharaoh, what he is aboute to do.

29 Beholde, there come seuen yeres of great plentie in all the land of Egypt.

Or, abundance and fruitful.

30 Againe, there shal arise after them seuen yeres of famine, so that all the plentie shalbe forgotten in the land of Egypt, and the famine shal consume the land:

Or, they shal remember as were the plentie.

31 Nether shal the plentie be knowe in the land, by reason of this famine that shal come after: for it shalbe exceeding great.

32 And therefore the dreame was doubled vnto Pharaoh the second time, because the thing is established by God, & God hateth to performe it.

The office of a true Prophet is not onely to shewe what is to come, but also the remedies for the same.

33 Now therefore let Pharaoh prouide for a man of vnderstanding and wisdom, & set him ouer the land of Egypt.

34 Let Pharaoh make and appoint officers ouer the land, and take vp the fift part of the land of Egypt in the seuen plenteous yeres.

35 Also let them gather all the fode of the se good yeres that come, and lay vp corne vnder the hand of Pharaoh for fode, in the cities, and let them kepe it.

36 So the fode shalbe for the prouision of the land, against the seuen yeres of famine, which shalbe in the land of Egypt, that the land perish not by famine.

37 And saying pleased Pharaoh and all his seruantes.

38 Then said Pharaoh vnto his seruantes, Can we finde such a man as this, in whome is the Spirit of God?

None should be preferred to honour, haue not gifts of God mere for the same.

39 The Pharaoh said to Ioséph, For as muche as God hath shewed thee all this, there is no man of vnderstanding, or of wisdom like vnto thee.

Psal 105, 21. 1. mac 2, 53. Act. 7, 10. Or, month. I Some read, The people shal kisse thy mouth: that is, shal obey thee in all things. Or, he figures.

40 Thou shalt be ouer mine house, & at thy worde shal all my people be armed, onely in Kings thine wil I be aboute thee.

41 Moreouer Pharaoh said to Ioséph, Beholde, I haue set thee ouer all the land of Egypt.

42 And Pharaoh toke of his ring from his hand, and put it vpon Iosephs hand, and araid him in garments of fine linen and put a golden chaine about his necke.

43 So he set him vpon the best charet that he had, saue one: & they cryed before him, m Abrech, and placed him ouer all the land of Egypt.

Or, he figures. In signe of honour: which worde some expound, tender father, or father of the King, or haue downe.

44 Againe Pharaoh said vnto Ioséph, I am Pharaoh; & without thee shal no man lift vp his hand or his foote in all the land of Egypt.

Or, the expounder of secret.

45 And Pharaoh called Iosephs name Zaphnath-paaneah: and he gaue him to wife Asenath the daughter of Poti-pherah prince of On. then went Ioséph abroad in the land of Egypt.

46 And Ioséph was a thirty yere olde when he stode before Pharaoh King of Egypt: and Ioséph departing from the presence of Pharaoh, went through out all the land of Egypt.

His age is mentioned both to shewe that his aurore came of God, and also that he suffred imprisonment & exile twelue yeres and mo. Or made for gathering.

47 And in the seuen plenteous yeres the earth was broght for the store.

48 And he gathered vp all the fode of the seuen plenteous yeres, which were in the land of Egypt, and layed vp fode in the cities: the fode of the field, that was round about every cite, layed he vp in the same.

49 So Ioséph gathered wheat, like vnto the sand of the sea in multitude out of measure, vntil he left nombing: for it was without nombre.

50 Now vnto Ioséph were borne two sonnes (before the yeres of famine came) the first was Asenath the daughter of Poti-pherah prince of On bare vnto him.

Chap. 48, 20. Or 48, 5.

51 And Ioséph called the name of the first borne Manasséh: for God said he, hath made me forget all my labour & all my fathers householde.

52 Also he called the name of the seconde Ephraim: for God said he, hath made me fruteful in the land of mine affliction.

Notwithstanding that his fathers house was the true Church of God, yet the compaignie of the wicked & prophanitie caused him to forget it. Psal 105, 16.

53 So the seuen yeres of the plentie that was in the land of Egypt were ended.

54 The seuen yeres of famine began to come, according as Ioséph had said: & the famine was in all landes, but in all the land of Egypt was bread.

55 At the length all the land of Egypt was affamished and the people cryed to Pharaoh for bread. And Pharaoh said vnto all the Egyptians, Go to Ioséph: what he saith to you, do ye.

56 When the famine was vpon all the land, Ioséph opened all the store, where in the store was and solde vnto the Egyptians: for the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt.

57 And all countreies came to Egypt to buy corne of Ioséph, because the famine was sore in all landes.

Or, came to buy. Or, came to Ioséph.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Iosephs brethren come into Egypt to buy corne. 7 He knoweth them, and tryeth them. 24. 25 Simeon is put in prison 26 The other returne to their father to see Benjamin.

1 Then Laakób sawe that there was fode in Egypt, & Laakób said vnto his sonnes, Why gaze ye one vpon another?

This storie sheweth plainly that all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence for the profite of his Church. As men destitute of counsell.

2 And he said, Beholde, I haue heard that there is fode in Egypt: Get you downe thither & buy vs fode thence, that we may liue, and not die.

3 So went Iosephs ten brethren downe to buy corne of the Egyptians.

Act. 7, 22.

4 But Béiamin Iosephs brother wolde not buy corne with his brethren. for he said, Lest death shulde befall him.

Or, shalde meete him.

5 And the sonnes of Israël came to bye fode amôg them that came: for there was famine in the land of Canáan.

6 Now Ioséph was gouernor of the land who solde to all the people of the lād:thē Ioséphs brethien came, and bowed their face to the grounde before him.

7 And whē Ioséph sawe his brethiē, he knewe them, and ^e made him selfe strange toward them, and spake to them roughly, & said vnto them, Whēce come ye? Who answered, Out of the land of Canáan, to bye vitaille.

14 Againe Ioséph said vnto thē, This is it that I spake vnto you, sayig, Ye are spies.

25 ¶ So Ioséph commanded that thei shulde fille their sackes with wheat, and put euerie mans money againe in his sacke, & giue them vitaille for the iourney: and thus did he vnto them.

26 And they laied their vitaille vpon their asses, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his sacke for to giue his asse prouandre in the ynne, he espied his money: for lo, it was in his sackes mouthē.

28 Then he said vnto his brethren, My money is restored: for lo, it is euen in my sacke. And their heart ^{''}failed them, & they were ^{''}astonnished, and said one to another, What is this, ^{''}that God hath done vnto vs?

35 ¶ And as they emptied their sackes, beholde, euerie mans bundel of money was in his sacke: and when they and their father sawe the bûdels of their money, they were afraied.

36 Then Iaakób their father said to them, Ye haue robbed me of my childrē: Ioséph is not, and Simeón is not, and ye wil take Bēiamin: all these thigs ^{''}are against ^{''}me.

NOW great a famine was in the land. And when they had eaten vp the vitaille, which they had broght from Egypt, their father said vnto them, Turne againe, and bye vs a litle fode.

3 And Iudáh answered him, saying, The man charged vs by an othe, saying, * Neuer se my face, except your brother be with you.

4 If thou wilt send out brother with vs, we wil go downe, and by thee fode:

5 But if thou wilt not send him, we wil not go downe: for the man said vnto vs, * Loke me not in the face, except your brother be with you.

6 And Israél said, Wherefore delt ye so euil with me, as to tel the man, whether ye had yet a brother or no?

7 And they answered, The man asked straitly of our selues and of our kinned, sayig, Is your father yet aliue? haue ye any brother? And we tolde him according to these wordes: colde we knowe certainly y he wolde say, Bring your brother downe?

8 Then said Iudáh to Israél his father, Séd the boye with me, that we may rise & go, and that we may liue and not dye, bothe we, and thou, and our children.

9 I wil be suretie for him: of mine hand shalt thou require him. * If I bring him not to thee, & set him before thee, then let me beare the blame for euer.

10 For except we had made this tarying, doutles by this we had returned the seconde time.

11 Then their father Israél said vnto them, If it must needs be so nowe, do this: take of the best frutes of the land in your vessels, and bring the man a present, a litle rosen, and a litle homie, spices and myrre, nuttes, and almondes:

12 And take double money in your hand, and the money, that was broght againe in your sackes mouthes: carie it againe in your hand, lest it were some ouer sight.

13 Take also your brother and arise, and go againe to the man.

14 And God almightie giue you mercie in the sight of the man, that he maie deliuer you your other brother, and Beniamín: but I shalbe robbed of my childe, as I haue bene.

15 ¶ Thus y men toke this present, and toke twise so muche money in their hand with Beniamín, and rose vp, and went downe to Egypt and stode before Ioseph.

16 And when Ioseph sawe Beniamín wthé, he said to his stuard, Bing these men home and kil meat and make readie: for the men shal eat with me at noone.

17 And y man did as Ioseph bad, & broght the men vnto Iosephs house.

18 Now when the me were broght into Io-sephs house, they were afraied, and said, Because of the money, that came in our sackes mouthes at the first time, are we broght, that he maie pike a quarel agaisst vs, and laie some thing to our charge, and bring vs in bondage and our asses.

19 Therefore came they to Iosephs stuard, and communed with him at the dore of the house.

20 And said, Oh syr, we came i dede downe hether at the first time to bye fode, 21 And as we came to an ynne and opened our sackes, behold, euerie mans money was in his sackes mouth, euen our money in ful weight, but we haue broght it againe in our hands.

22 Also other money haue we broght in o handes to bye fode, but we cá not tel, who put our money in our sackes.

23 And he said, Peace be vnto you, feare not: your God and the God of your father hathe giuen you that treasure in your sackes, I had your money: and he broght for the Simeón to them.

24 So the man led the in to Iosephs house, and gaue them water to wash their fete, and gaue their asses prouander.

25 And they made redy their present against Ioseph came at none, (for they heard saie, that they shulde eat bread there)

26 When Ioseph came home, they broght the present into the house to him, which was in their hands, and bowed downe to the grounde before him.

27 And he asked them of their prosperitie, and said, Is your father the olde man, of whome ye tolde me, in good health? is he yet aliue?

28 Who answered, Thy seruāt our father is in good helth, he is yet aliue: and they bowed downe, and made obeisance.

29 And he lifting vp his eies, behelde his brother Beniamín his mothers sonne, & said, Is this your yonger brother, of whome ye tolde me? And he said, God be merciful vnto thee, my sonne.

30 And Ioseph made haste (for his affection was inflamed toward his brother, and soght where to wepe) and entred into his chambte, and wept there.

31 Afterward he washed his face, and came out, and refrained him selfe, and said, Set on meat.

32 And they prepared for him by him selfe, and for them by them selues, and for y Egyptians, which did eat with him, by them selues, because the Egyptians might not eat bread with y Ebrewes: for that was an abominacion vnto the Egyptians.

CHAP. XLIIII.

15 Ioseph accuseth his brother of theft. 33 Iudáh offereth him selfe to be seruant for Beniamin.

1 Afterwarde he comanded his stuard, saying, Fil the mens sakes with fode, as muche as thei can cary, and put euerie mans money in his sakes mouthe.

2 And put my cup, I meane the siluer cup, in the sakes mouthe of the yongest, and his corne money. And he did according to the commandement that Ioseph gaue him.

3 And in the morning the men were sent away, thei, and their asses.

4 And when thei went out of the citie not faire of, Ioseph said to his stuard, Vp, followe after the men: & whē thou doest ouertake them, say vnto them, Wherefore haue ye rewarded euil for good?

5 Is that not the cup, wherein my lord drinketh, and in the which he doeth deuine and prophecie? ye haue done euil in so doing.

6 And whē he ouertoke the, he said those wordes vnto them.

7 And thei answered him, Wherefore saiest my lord suche wordes? God forbid that thy seruants shulde do suche a thing.

8 Beholde, the money which we found in our sakes mouches, we broght againe to thee out of the land of Canaan: how then shulde we steale out of thy lordes house siluer, or golde?

9 With whome soeuer of thy seruants it be founde, let him dye, and we also wil be my lords bondmen.

10 And he said, Now then let it be according vnto your wordes: he with whome it is founde, shalbe my seruant, & ye shal be blameles.

11 Then at once euerie mā toke downe his sacke to the grounde, and euerie one opened his sacke.

12 And he searched, and began at the eldest and left at the yongest: and the cup was founde in Beniamins sacke.

13 Then thei rent their clothes, and laded euerie man his asse, and went againe into the citie.

14 So Iudáh & his brethren came to Iosephs house (so he was yet there) and thei sel before him on the grounde.

15 The Ioseph said vnto the, What acte is this, which ye haue done? Knowe ye not that suche a man as I, can deuine & prophecie?

16 Then said Iudáh, What shal we say vnto my lord? what shal we speake? & how can we iustifie our selues? God hath founde out the wickednes of thy seruantes: beholde we are seruants to my lord, bothe we, and he, with whome the cup is founde.

17 But he answered, God forbid, y I shulde do so, but the man, with whome the cup is founde, he shalbe my seruant, & go ye in peace vnto your father.

18 The Iudáh drewe nere vnto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy seruant now speake a worde in my lords eares, and let not thy wrath be kindled against thy seruant: for thou art euen as Pharaoh.

19 My lord asked his seruants, saying, Have ye a father, or a brother?

20 And we answered my lord, We haue a father that is olde, and a yong childe, which he begate in his age: and his brother is dead, & he alone is left of his mother, and his father loueth him.

21 Now y saidest vnto thy seruants, Bring him vnto me, that I may set mine eie vpon him.

22 And we answered my lord, The childe can not departe from his father: for if he leaue his father, his father wolde dye.

23 Then saidest thou vnto thy seruants, Except your yonger brother come downe with you, loke in my face no more.

24 So when we came vnto thy seruant our father, and shewed him what my lord had said,

25 And our father said vnto vs, Go againe, bye vs a litle fode,

26 The we answered, We can not go downe: but if our yongest brother go with vs, then wil we go downe: for we may not see the mā face, except our yongest brother be with vs.

27 Then thy seruant my father said vnto vs, Ye knowe that my wife bate me two sonnes, 28 And the one went out from me, and I said, Of a surety he is toine in pieces, and I sawe him not since.

29 Now y take this also away from me: if death take him, then ye shal bring my gray head in sorowe to the graue.

30 Now therefore, whē I come to thy seruant my father, and the childe be not with vs (seing that his life dependeth on the chilles life)

31 Then when he shal see that the childe is not come, he wil dye: so shal thy seruants bring the gray head of thy seruant our father with sorowe to the graue.

32 Doubtes thy seruant became suretie for the childe to my father, and said, If I bring him not vnto thee againe, the I wil beate the blame vnto my father for euer.

33 Now therefore, I pray thee, let me thy seruant bide for the childe, as a seruant to s. i.

10 And Iaakób toke leaue of Pharaoh, & departed from y presence of Pharaoh.

11 ¶ And Ioséph placed his father, and his brethren, and gaue them possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, euen in the land of Ramefés, as Pharaoh had commanded.

d Some read, that he fed the as litle babes, because they colde not provide for them felues against that famine.

13 ¶ Now there was no bread in all the lād: for the famine was exceeding fore: so that the land of Egypt & the land of Canaan were famished by the reason of y famine.

14 And Ioséph gathered all the money, that was foude in the lād of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corne which they boght, & Ioséph laied vp the money in Pharaohs house.

16 Then said Ioséph, Bring your cattel, & I wil giue you for your cattel, if your money be spent.

17 So they boght their cattel vnto Ioséph, & Ioséph gaue them bread for the horses, and for the flockes of shepe, and for the herdes of cattel, and for the asses: so he fed them with bread for all their cattel that yere.

18 But when the yere was ended, they came vnto him the next yere, & said vnto him, We wil not hide from my lord, that since our money is spent, & my lord hathe the herdes of the cattel; there is nothing left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies & our grounde.

f For except the groude be tilled & sowed, it perisheth & is, as it were dead.

19 Why shal we perish in thy sight, bothe we, and our land: bye vs and our lād for bread, and we and our land wil be bonde to Pharaoh: therefore giue vs fede, y we may liue and not dye, and that the land go not to waffe.

20 So Ioséph boght all the lād of Egypt for Pharaoh: for y Egyptians folde euerie mā his grounde because the famine was fore vpon them: so the land became Pharaohs.

21 And he removed the people vnto the cities, from one side of Egypt euen to the other.

22 Onely the land of the Priestes boght he not: for the Priestes had an ordinarie of Pharaoh, and they did eat their ordinarie, which Pharaoh gaue the: wherefore they folde not their grounde.

23 Then Ioséph said vnto the people, Beholde, I haue boght you this day and your land for Pharaoh: lo, here is fede for you: sowe therefore the grounde.

24 And of the encrease ye shal giue the fift parte vnto Pharaoh, and foure partes shal be yours for the fede of the field, and for your meat, and for them of your housholdes, and for your children to eat.

25 Then they answered, Thou hast saued our liues: let vs finde grace in the sight of my lord, & we wil be Pharaohs seruāts.

26 Then Ioséph made it a lawe ouer the land of Egypt vnto this day, that Pharaoh shulde haue the fift parte, except the land of the Priestes onely, w was not Pharaohs.

27 ¶ And Isi aél dwelt in the lād of Egypt, in the countrey of Góshen: and they had their possessions therein, and grewe and multiplied exceedingly.

28 Moreouer, Iaakób liued in the land of Egypt seuentene yeres, so that the whole age of Iaakób was an hundreth fourtie & seuen yere.

29 Now when the time diewe nere y Isi aél must dye, he called his sonne Ioséph, and said vnto him, If I haue now foude grace in thy sight, put thine hād now vnder my thigh, and deale mercifully and truely w me: buy me not, I pray thee, in Egypt, 30 But when I shal slepe with my fathers, thou shalt carry me out of Egypt, and bury me in their burial. And he answered, I wil do as thou hast said.

14 ¶ Then Ioseph returned into Egypt, he and his brethren, & all that went vp with him to bury his father, after that he had buried his father.

15 And whē Iosephs brethrē sawe that their father was dead, they said, ^d It may be y Ioseph wil hate vs, and wil paye vs againe all the euil, which we did vnto him.

16 Therefore they sent vnto Ioseph, sayiḡ, Thy father commanded before his death, saying,

THE SECONDE BOKE of Moſés, called Exodus.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that Iaakób by Gods commandemēt Gen. 46, 3. had broght his familie into Egypt, where they remained for the ſpace of foure hundredreth yeres, and of ſeuenty perſones grew to an infinite nombre, ſo that the King and the countrey grudged and endeoured both by tyrannie and cruel ſlauey to ſuppreſſe them: the Lord according to his promes Gen. 15, 14. had compaſſion of his Church & deliuered them, but plagued their ennemies in moſte ſtrāge and ſondry ſortes. And the more that the tyrānie of the wicked enraged againſt his Church, the more did his heauy iudgements increaſe againſt them, til Pharaāh & his armie were drowned in the ſame Sea, which gaue an entrie and paſſage to the childrē of God. But as the ingratitude of man is great ſo did they immediatly forget Gods wōderful benefites: & albeit he had giuen them the Paſſ. ouer to be a ſigne & memorial of the ſame, yet they fel to diſtruſt, & tempted God with ſondry murmuring and grudging againſt him and his miniſters: ſometime moued with ambition, ſometime for lacke of drinke or meate to cōtēt their luſtes, ſometime by idolatrie, or ſuche like. Wherefore God viſited them with ſharpe rodde and plagues that by his corrections they might ſeke to him for remedy againſt his ſcourges & earnestly repēt them for their rebellioſ & wickednes. And becauſe God loueth thē to the end, whome he hathe once begōne to loue, he puniſhed thē not according to their deſertes, but dealt with them in great mercies, and euer with newe benefites labored to ouercome their malice: for he ſtil gouerned them and gaue thē his worde & Law, bothe cōcerning the maner of ſeruing him, & alſo the forme of iudgements and ciuil policie: to the intent that thei ſhulde not ſerue God after their owne inuention, but according to that ordre, which his heauenlie wiſdome had appointed.

11 Therefore did they set taskmasters ouer them, to kepe them vnder with burdens: and they buylt the cities Pithom & Raamses for the treasures of Pharaoh.

12 But the more they vexed them, the more they multiplied and grewe: therefore they were more grieued against the children of Israël.

13 Wherefore the Egyptians by crueltie caused the children of Israël to serue.

14 Thus they made them weary of their liues by soile labour in claye and in bricke, and in all worke in the field, with all manner of bondage, which they laied vpon them moste cruelly.

15 Moreover the King of Egypt commanded the midwiues of the Ebrewe women, (of which the ones name was Simphah, and the name of the other Puah)

16 And said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the women of the Ebrewes & se them on their stollles, if it be a sonne, tué ye shal kil him: but if it be a daughter, then let her liue.

17 Notwithstanding the midwiues feared God, & did not as the King of Egypt commanded them, but preserued aliuie the mé children.

18 Then the King of Egypt called for the midwiues, & said vnto the, Why haue ye done thus, and haue preserued aliuie the men children?

19 And the midwiues answered Pharaoh, Because the Ebrewe women are not as the women of Egypt: for they are liuelie, and are deliuered yet if midwife come at the.

20 God therefore prospered the midwiues, and the people multiplied & were very mightie.

21 And because the midwiues feared God, therefore he made them houses.

22 Then Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, Euerie man childe that is borne, cast ye into the riuer, but reserue euerie maidchilde aliuie.

CHAP. II.

2 Moses is borne and cast into the flagges. He is taken up of Pharaohs daughter & kept. He killeth the Egyptian. He fleeth and marieth a wife. The Israelites crye vnto the Lord.

1 Then there went a man of the house of Leui, & toke to wife a daughter of Leui,

2 And the woman conceiued & bare a sonne: & when she sawe that he was faire, she hid him thre moneths.

3 But when she colde no longer hide him, she toke for him an arke made of reede, and daubed it with slime & with pitch, & laied the childe therein, & put it among the bulrushes by the riuer brinke.

4 Now his sister stode a far of, to wit what wolde come of him.

5 Then the daughter of Pharaoh came downe to wash her in the riuer, and her maidens walked by the riuers side: & when she sawe the arke among the bulrushes, she sent her maid to fet it.

7 Then she opened it, and sawe it was a childe: and beholde, the babe wept: so she had compassion on it, and said, This is one of the Ebrewes children.

7 The said his sister vnto Pharaohs daughter, Shal I go & call vnto thee a nurce of the Ebrewe womé to nurce thee this childe?

8 And Pharaohs daughter said to her, Go. So the maid went and called the childe her mother.

9 To whome Pharaohs daughter said, Take this childe away, and nurce it for me, & I wil rewarde thee. The woman toke the childe and nurced him

10 Now the childe grewe, and she brought him vnto Pharaohs daughter, & he was as her sonne, and she called his name Moses, because, said she, I drewe him out of the water.

11 And in those dayes, when Moses was growen, he went forthe vnto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: also he sawe an Egyptiā smiting an Ebrewe one of his brethren.

12 And he looked rounde about, & when he sawe no man, he slew the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand.

13 Againe he came forthe the seconde day, and beholde, two Ebrewes stroue: and he said vnto him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy felowe?

14 And he answered, Who made thee a magistrate & a iudge ouer vs? Thinkest thou to kil me, as thou killest the Egyptian? Then Moses feared and said, Certenly this thing is knowen.

15 Now Pharaoh heard this matter, and sought to slay Moses: therefore Moses fled from Pharaoh, & dwelt in the land of Midian, and he sat downe by a well.

16 And the Priest of Midian had seue daughters, which came and drewe water, and filled the troughes, for to water their fathes sheepe.

17 Then the shepherdes came and droue them away: but Moses rose vp & defended them, and watered their sheepe.

n The God & haue ever bene, am & shall be: & God almighty, by whome all things haue their being, & & God of mercie maker of my promises, Reuel 1.4.

15 And God spake further vnto Mofés, Thus shalt thou say vnto the children of Israél, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abrahám, the God of Izhák, and the God of Iaakób hathe sent me vnto you: this is my Name for euer, & this is my memorial vnto all ages.

o Because E gypt was full of idolatrie, God wolde as point th in a place where they shulde sēue him truly 17 Therefore I did say, I wil bring you out of the affliction of Egypt vnto the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, & the Hiuites, and the Iebusites, vnto a land that floweth with milke and hony.

18 Then shal they obere thy voyce, & thou and the Elders of Israél shal go vnto the King of Egypt, and saie vnto him, The Lord God of the Ebrewes hathe ^o met vs: we pray thee now therefore, let vs go the daies iourney in the wilde:nes, that we may ^o sacrifice vnto ^o Lord our God.

20 Therefore wil I stretch out mine hād and smite Egypt with all my wonders, & I wil do in the middes thereof: and after that shal he let you go.

CHAP. IIII.

Mofés rod is turned into a serpent. 6 His hand is leprous. 9 The water of the riuer is turned into blood. 14 Aaron is giuen to helpe Mofés. 21 God hardeneth Pharaoh. 25 His wife circūciseth her sonne. 29 Aaron meeteth with Mofés, and thei come to the Israelites and are beleued.

a God beareth 1 with Mofés doutig, because he was not al together without faugh.

Then Mofés answered, and said, a But lo, thei wil not beleue me, nor hearken vnto my voyce: for thei wil say, The Lord hath not appeared vnto thee.

2 And the Lord said vnto him, What is y in thine had? And he answered, A rod. 3 Then said he, Cast it on the grounde. So he cast it on the grounde, and it was turned into a serpent: and Mofés fled from it.

4 Againe the Lord said vnto Mofés, Put forth the thine had, and take it by the tail. Then he put forth his hand and caught it, and it was turned into a rod in his hand.

b This power 5 to worke miracles was to confirme his doctrine, & to assure him of his vocaion.

Do this b that thei may beleue, that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Izhák, & the God of Iaakób hath appeared vnto thee.

6 ¶ And the Lord said furthermore vnto him, Thrust now thine hand into thy bosome. And he thrust his hand into his bosome, and when he toke it out againe, beholde, his hand was leprous as snowe.

Or, white as snowe.

7 Moreouer he said, Put thine hand into thy bosome againe. So he put his had into his bosome againe, & pluckt it out of his bosome, and beholde, it was turned againe as his other flesh.

Or like wordes confirmed by the first signe.

8 So shal it be, if thei wil not beleue thee, nether obey the voyce of the first signe, yet that thei beleue for the voyce of the seconde signe.

9 But if thei wil not yet beleue these two signes, nether obey vnto thy voyce, then shalt thou take of the c water of the riuer, and powie it vpon the drye land: so the water which thou shalt take out of the riuer, shalbe turned to blood vpon the drye land.

e Because these three signes shoulde be sufficient witness to proue y Mofés shoulde deliuer Gods people 10 ¶ But Mofés said vnto the Lord, Oh my Lord, I am not eloquent, nether at any time haue bene, nor yet since thou halte spoken vnto thy seruant: but I am slow of speache and slow of tongue.

Or, from yesterday.

11 Then the Lord said vnto him, Who hath the giuen the mouth to man? or who hath made the dōme, or the deafe, or him y seeth, or the blinde? haue not I the Lord?

Or, he made of man.

12 Therefore go now, and I wil be with thy mouth, & wil teache thee what thou shalt say.

Mat. 10, 19. & 12, 13.

13 But he said, Oh my Lord, send, I pray thee, by the hand of him, whome y d shuldest send.

14 Then the Lord was e very angry with Mofés, and said, Do not I knowe Aaron thy brother the Leuite, that he him selfe shal speake for lo, he cometh also forth to mete thee, and when he seeth thee, he wilbe glad in his heart.

Or, miserie d That is, of the Messias: or some other, that is more meete then I e Though we prouoke God iustly, yet he wil neuer reuē& his f Thou shalt instruct him what to say.

16 And he shalbe thy spokesman vnto the people: he shalbe, euen he shalbe as thy mouth, & thou shalt be to him as g God.

g Meaning as a wife counsellor and ful of Gods Spirit.

17 Moreouer y shal take this rod in thine hand, wherewith thou shalt do miracles.

18 ¶ Therefore Mofés went and returned to Iethró his father in lawe, & said vnto him, I pray thee, let me go, and returne to my h brethren, which are in Egypt, and se whethe: thei be yet aliue. Then Iethró said to Mofés, Go in peace.

Or, his father, & language

19 (For the Lord had said vnto Mofés in Midian, Go, returne to Egypt: for thei are all dead which went about to kil thee)

20 Then Mofés toke his wife, and his sonnnes, and i put them on an asse, and returned towarde the land of Egypt, & Mofés toke the h rod of God in his hand.

Or, caused them to ride.

21 And the Lord said vnto Mofés, When thou art entred and come into Egypt againe, se that thou do all the wonders before Pharaoh, which I haue put in thine hand: but I wil k harden his heart, and he shal not let the people go.

h Whereby he wrought the miracles.

22 Then thou shalt say to Pharaoh, Thus saith the Lord, Israel is my sonne, euen my l first borne.

23 Wherefore I say to thee, Let my sonne go, that he may serue me: if thou refuse to let him go, beholde, I wil slay thy sonne, euen thy first borne.

k Meaning, moste depre vnto him.

24 ¶ And as he was by the way in the ynne, the Lord met him, and l wolde haue killed him.

l God punished with sickness for neglecting his Sacrament.

25 Then Zipporáh toke a sharpe knife, and m cut away the fore skinne of her sonne, and cast it at his fete, and said, Thou art in dede a bloodie housband vnto me.

m This acte was extraordinarie: for Mofés was sore sicke, and God euen the required it.

26 So he departed fró him. Then she said, O bloodie housband (because of the circumcision)

Or, his Angel.

27 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Aaron, Go mete Mofés in the wildernes. And he wēt and met him in the n Mount of God, and kissed him.

Or, Mount.

28 Then Mofés tolde Aaron all the wordes of the Lord, who had sent him, and all the signes wherewith he had charged him.

29 ¶ So went Mofés and Aaron, & gathered all the Elders of the children of Israel.

30 And Aaron tolde all the wordes, which the the Lord had spoken vnto Mofés, and he did the miracles in the sight of the people, n So that Mofés had now experience of Gods promes that he shulde haue good successe.

37 And the people beleued, and when they heard that the Lord had visited y^e children of Israël, and had looked vpon their tribulaciõ, they bowed downe, & worshipped.

CHAP. V.

1 Mofés and Aarõn do their message to Pharaõh, who letteth not the people of Israël departe but oppresseth them more and more 20 They crye out vpon Mofés & Aarõn therefore, and Mofés complaineth to God.

1 Then afterward Mofés & Aarõn went & said to a Pharaõh, Thus saith the Lord God of Israël, Let my people go, that they maie b celebrate a feast vnto me in the wilderness.

c Or, God haire me y

2 And Pharaõh said, Who is the Lord, y I shulde heare his voyce, & let Israël go? I knowe not the Lord, nether wil I let Israël go.

3 And they said, We worship the God of y Ebiewes: we pray thee, suffre vs to go thre daies iournei in the desert and to sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, lest he bring vpon vs the pestilence or sworde.

e As though ye wolde rebel.

4 The King of Egypt vnto them, Mofés and Aarõn, why cause ye the people to cease from their workes: get you to your burdens.

f Which were of the Israe lites and had charge to se them do their worke.

5 Pharaõh said furthermore, Beholde, muche people is now in the land, & ye c make them leaue their burdens.

6 Therefore Pharaõh gaue commãdemēt the same day vnto the taskemasters of the people, and to their d officers, saying,

g The more cruelly that tyrants rage, y neuer is Gods helpe f Of Mofés & Aarõn

7 Ye shal giue the people no more strawe, to make bricke (as in time past) but let them go and gather them straw them selues:

8 Notwithstanding lay vpon them the nõbre of bricke, which they made in time past, diminish nothing thereof: for they be idle, therefore thei crie, saying, Let vs go to offre sacrifice vnto our God.

9 Lay more worke vpon the men, and cause them to do it, and let them not regard e vaine wordes.

10 Then went the taskemasters of y people & their officers out, and tolde the people, saying, Thus saith Pharaõh, I wil giue you no more straw.

11 Go your selues, get you straw where ye can finde it, yet shal nothing of your labour be diminished.

h Ebr the worke of a day is his day

12 Then were the people scatered abroad throughout all the land of Egypt, for to gather stubble in stede of straw.

13 And the taskemasters hastid the, saying, Finish your daues worke euerie dayes taske, as ye did when ye had straw.

14 And the officers of the children of Israël, which Pharaõhs taskemasters had set ouer them, were beaten, and demanded, Wherefore haue ye not fulfilled your taske in making bricke yesterday and to day, as in times past?

15 The officers of the childre of Israël came, & cryed vnto Pharaõh, saying, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy seruants?

i Or, thy people the Egyptians are in the fault. j Ebr idle, ye are idle 16 There is no straw giuen to thy seruants, and they say vnto vs, Make bricke: and lo, thy seruants are beaten, and thy people is blamed.

17 But he said, Ye are to muche idle: therefore ye say, Let vs go to offre sacrifice to the Lord.

18 Go therefore now & worke: for there shal no straw be giuen you, yet shal ye deliuer the whole tale of bricke.

k Or, Israhel said to them, wherof said.

19 Then the officers of the children of Israël sawe the selues in an euil case, because it was said, Ye shal diminish nothing of your bricke, nor of euerie daies taske,

20 And they met Mofés & Aarõn, which stode in their way as they came out from Pharaõh, l Read. Gen. 34.30. m It is a grieuous thing to the seruants of God to be accused of euil, specially of their brethren, when they do as their due requireth.

21 To whome they said, The Lord loke vpon you and iudge: for ye haue made our sauour to s^tincke before Pharaõh & before his seruants, in that ye haue put a sworde in their hand to slay vs.

22 Wherefore Mofés returned to y Lord, and said, Lord, why hast thou afflicted this people? wherefoie hast thou thus sent me?

23 For since I came to Pharaõh to speake in thy Name, he hathe vexed this people, and yet thou hast not deliuered thy people.

CHAP. VI.

3 God renueth his promes of the deliuerance of the Israe lites 9 Mofés speaketh to the Israelites, but they beleue him not. 10 Mofés and Aarõn are sent againe to Pharaõh 14 The genealogie of Reuben, Simeõn, and Lewis, of whome came Mofés and Aarõn.

1 The Lord said vnto Mofés, Now shalt thou se, what I wil do vnto Pharaõh: for by a strong hand shal he let them go, and euen be constrained to driue the out of his land.

n Ebr in a strong hand.

2 Moreouer God spake vnto Mofés, and said vnto him, I am the Lord,

3 And I appeaed vnto Abraham, to Izhák, and to Iaakób by the Name of Almighty God: but by my Name a Iehouáh was I not knowen vnto them.

o Or, all suffice c a Whereby he signifyeth that he wil performe me in dode y, which he promised to their fathers: for this Name declareth y he is constant & wil performe his promes

4 Furthermore as I made my couenãt with them to giue them the land of Canaan, the lãd of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers:

5 So I haue also heard the groning of the children of Israël, whome the Egyptians kepe in bondage, & haue remembered my couenant.

6 Wherefore say thou vnto the childre of Israél, I am the Lord, and I wil bring you out from the burdens of the Egyptians, and wil deliuer you out of their bondage, and wil redeme you in a stretched out arme, and in great iudgements.

Or, p/Agnes.

7 Also I wil take you for my people, and wil be your God: then ye shal knowe y I the Lord your God bring you out from y burdens of the Egyptians.

8 And I wil bring you into the land which I sware that I wolde giue to Abraham, to Izhák and to Iaakób, and I wil giue it vnto you for a possession: I am the Lord.

9 ¶ So Mofés tolde the children of Israél thus: but thei hearkened not vnto Mofés, for anguish of spirit & for cruel bódage.

10 Then the Lord spake vnto Mofés, saying,

11 Go speake to Pharaóh King of Egypt, that he let the children of Israél go out of his land.

12 But Mofés spake before y Lord, saying, Beholde, the children of Israél hearken not vnto me, how then shal Pharaóh heare me, which am of vncircumcised lippes?

13 Then the Lord spake vnto Mofés and vnto Aaron, & charged them to go to the children of Israél and to Pharaóh King of Egypt, to bring the children of Israél out of the land of Egypt.

14 ¶ These be the heades of their fathers houses: the sonnes of Reubén the first borne of Israél are Hanóh and Pallú, Hezróh and Carmí: these are the families of Reubén.

15 Also the sonnes of Simeón: Iemuél & Iamín, & Ohád, and Iachín, & Zóar, and Shaúl the sonne of a Canaanitish womã: these are the families of Simeón.

16 ¶ These also are the names of the sonnes of LeuÍ in their generacions: Gersón & Koháth and Merarí (and the yeres of the life of LeuÍ were an hundreth thirty and seuen yere)

17 The sonnes of Gersón were Libní & Shimí by their families.

18 And the sonnes of Koháth, Amráh and Izhár, & Hebrón and Vzziel. (& Koháth liued an hundreth thirtie and thre yere)

19 Also the sonnes of Merarí were Mahalí and Mushí: these are the families of LeuÍ by their kinreds.

20 And Amráh toke Iochébed his sisters sister to his wife, and she bare him Aaron and Mofés (and Amráh liued an hundreth thirtie and seuen yere)

21 ¶ Also the sonnes of Izhár: Kórah, & Népheg, and Zichrí.

27 These are y Mofés & Aaron, w spake to Pharaóh King of Egypt, that they might bring the childre of Israél out of Egypt.

28 ¶ And at that time when the Lord spake vnto Mofés in the land of Egypt,

29 When the Lord, I say, spake vnto Mofés, saying, I am the Lord, speake thou vnto Pharaóh the King of Egypt all that I say vnto thee,

CHAP. VII.

3 God hardeneth Pharaohs heart. 10 Mofés and Aaron do the miracles of the serpent, and the blood: and Pharaohs sorcerers do the like.

1 THE Lord laid to Mofés, Beholde, I haue made thee Pharaohs God, & Aaron thy brother shal be thy Prophet. 2 Thou shalt speake all that I commanded thee: and Aaron thy brother shal speake vnto Pharaóh, that he suffre the children of Israél to go out of his land.

a I haue giue thee power & autoritie to speake in my name and to execute my iudgements vpon him. Or shal speake for thee (before Pharaoh)

3 But I wil harden Pharaohs heart, and multiplie my miracles and my wondres in the land of Egypt.

4 And Pharaóh shal not hearké vnto you, that I may lay mine hand vpon Egypt, & bring out mine armies, out my people, the childre of Israél out of the land of Egypt, by great iudgements.

b To strenghe Mofés faith. God promisseth againe to punishe mofto tharpely the oppression of his Church.

5 Then the Egyptians shal know that I am y Lord, when I stretch forth mine hand vpon Egypt, and bring out the children of Israél from among them.

6 So Mofés and Aaron did as the Lord commanded them, euen so did they.

7 (Now Mofés was foure score yere olde, & Aaron foure score and thre, when thei spake vnto Pharaóh)

c Mofés liued in affliction & banishment 40 yere before he enioyed his office to deliuer Gods people.

8 ¶ And the Lord had spoken vnto Mofés and Aaron, saying,

9 If Pharaóh speake vnto you, saying, Shewe a miracle for you, then y shalt say vnto Aaron, Take thy rod & cast it before Pharaóh, and it shal be turned into a serpét.

also of Egypt did in like maner with their saying, Let my people go, that they may 19 ¶ The Lord then spake to Moses, Say vntheir st. eames, ouer their riuers, and ouer their poudes, and ouer all pooles of their waters, and they shalbe blood, and there shalbe blood through out all y land of E-

20 So Moses and Aaron did euē as the Lord commanded: * and he lift vp the rod, and smote the water that was in the riuer in y and there was blood through out all the land of Egypt.

which shal go vp and come into thine house: and into thy chambie, where thou

5 ¶ Also the Lord said vnto Moses, Say thou vnto Aaron, Stretch thine hand with thy rod vpon the streames, vpon the riuers, and vpon the podes, and cause frogges to come vp vpon the land of Egypt.

6 Then Aaron stretched his had vpon the waters of Egypt, and the frogges came vp, and couered the land of Egypt.

7 And y forcerers did likewise with their land of Egypt.

he may take away the frogges from me, and from my people, & I wil let the people go, that they may do sacrifice vnto the Lord.

*c Not Ioue, but

9 And Moses said vnto Pharaoh, As concerning me, euē commande when I shal frō thee and from thine houses, that they may remaine in the riuer onely.

11 So the frogges shal departe frō thee, &

mayne in the riuer.

12 Then Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh: and Moses cried vnto the Lord concerning the frogges, which he had sent vnto Pharaoh.

¶ Or, laid vpon.

13 And the Lord did according to the saying of Moses: so the frogges dyed in the houses, in the townes, & in the fields.

16 ¶ Againe the Lord said vnto Mosés, Say vnto Aarón, Stretche out thy rod, & smite the dust of the earth, that it may be turned to llyce throughout all the land of Egypt.

¶ The third plague.

17 And they did so: for Aarón stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth: and llyce came vpon man & vpon beast: all the dust of the earth was llyce throughout all the land of Egypt.

18 Now y^e enchañters assaied likewise with their enchantments to bring forth the llyce, but they^e colde not. so the llyce were vpon man and vpon beast.

e God confounded their wylsome & aueritie in a thing moſte vile f They acknowledged y^e this was done by Gods power and not by force 19 Then said y^e enchañters vnto Pharaóh, Thus is^t the finger of God. But Pharaóhs heart remained obstinat, and he hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

20 ¶ Moreouer the Lord said to Mosés, Rise vp early in y^e morning, and stand before Pharaóh (so, he wil come forth vnto the water) & say vnto him, Thus saith y^e Lord, Let my people go, that they may serue me.

21 Els, if y^e wilt not let my people go, beholde, I wil send^o swarmes of flies bothe vpon thee, & vpon thy seruants, and vpon thy people, & into thine houses: and the houses of the Egyptiás shalbe ful of swarmes of flies, and the grounde also whereon they are.

Or, Amplitude of venomous beasts, as serpents, &c.

22 But the land of Góshen, where my people are, wil I cause to be^o wonderful in that day, so that no swarmes of flies shal be there, y^e thou maiest knowe that I am the Lord in the middes of the earth.

Or, I will separate.

24 And the Lord did so: for there came great swarmes of flies into the house of Pharaóh, and into his seruants houses, so that through all the land of Egypt the earth was corrupt by the swarmes of flies.

25 Then Pharaóh called for Mosés and Aarón, & said, Go, do sacrifice vnto your God in this land.

26 But Mosés answered, It is not mete to do so: for then we shulde offre vnto the Lord our God that, which is an abominacion vnto the Egyptians. Lo, can we sacrifice the abominacion of the Egyptians before their eyes, and they not stone vs?

g For the Egyptians worshipped diuers beasts, as the ox, the shepe & suche like, & the Israelites offered in sacrifice

27 Let vs go thre daies journey in the desert, & sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, as he hath commanded vs.

28 And Pharaóh said, I wil let you go, y^e ye may sacrifice vnto the Lord your God in the wilderness: but^h go not farre away, pray for me.

h So y^e wicked prescribe vnto Gods messengers how farre they shal go 29 And Mosés said, Beholde, I wil go out from thee, and pray vnto the Lord, that y^e swarmes of flies may departe fró Pharaóh, from his seruants, and from his people tomorowe: but let Pharaóh sið henceforthⁱ deceiue no more, in not suffring y^e people to sacrifice vnto the Lord.

i He colde not iudge his heart, but yet he charged hi to do this vnfaignedly 30 So Mosés went out from Pharaóh and prayed vnto the Lord.

31 And the Lord did according to y^e saying of Mosés, and the swarmes of flies departed from Pharaóh, from his seruants, and fró his people, & there remained not one.

32 Yet Pharaóh^k hardened his heart euen then also, & did not let the people go.

2 But if thou refuse to let them go, & wilt yet holde them still, a He shal declare his beaue iudgement agaim^t his enemies, & his fauour toward his children.

3 Beholde, the hand of the Lord is vpon thy flocke which is in the field: for vpon y^e horses, vpon the asses, vpon the camels, vpon the cattel, & vpon the shepe shalbe a mighty great moraine.

5 And the Lord appointed a time, saying, Tomorowe the Lord shal finish this thing in this land.

6 So the Lord did it on the morowe, & all the cattel of Egypt dyed: but of the cattel of the children of Israél dyed not one.

7 Then Pharaóh^b sent, and beholde, there was not one of the cattel of the Israelites dead: and the heart of Pharaóh was obstinat, and he did not let the people go.

Or, imbrata.

9 And they shalbe turned to dust in all the land of Egypt: & it shalbe as a scab breaking out into blisters vpon man and vpon beast throughout all the land of Egypt.

10 Then they toke ashes of the fornace, and stode before Pharaóh: and Mosés sprinkled them toward the heauen, and there came a scab breaking out into blisters vpon man, and vpon beast.

11 And the sorcerers colde not stand before Mosés, because of y^e scab: for the scab was vpon the enchañters, & vpon all the Ec So that thir be oune conscience shal condemne thee of ingratitude & malice

14 For I wil at this time send all my plagues vpon e thine heart, and vpon thy seruants, & vpon thy people, that thou maiest know that there is none like me in all the earth.

18 Beholde, tomorowe this time I wil cause to raine a mightie great haile, suche as was not in Egypt since the fundatio the-roof was laid vnto this time.

19 Send therefore now, and gather thy cattel, and all that thou hast in the field: for vpon all the men, & the beastes, which are founde in the field, and not broght home, the haile shal fall vpon them and they shal dye.

20 Suche then as feared the worde of the Lord among the seruantes of Pharaoh, made his seruants & his cattel flee into the houses:

Heb set nec hie hears to f The worde of the minister is called the worde of God

21 But suche as regarded not the woide of the Lord, left his seruants, and his cattel in the field.

22 ¶ And the Lord said to Moses, Stretche forth the thine had toward heauen, that there may be haile in all the land of Egypt, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon all y herbes of the field in the land of Egypt.

The seventh plague For pre wal and 23 Then Moses stretched out his rod toward heauen, and the Lord sent thundie & haile, and lightning vpon the ground: and the Lord caused haile to raine vpon the land of Egypt.

24 So there was haile, & fire mingled with the haile, so grievous, as there was none throughout all the land of Egypt, since it was a nation.

Or, since it was established

25 And the haile smote throughout all the lad of Egypt all that was in y field, bothe man and beast: also the haile smote all y herbes of the field, and brake to pieces all the trees of the field.

26 Onely in the land of Goshen (where the children of Isiael were) was no haile.

27 Then Pharaoh sent and called for Moses and Aarón, and said vnto them, I s haue now sinned: the Lord is righteous, but I and my people are wicked.

g The wicked confesse their sinnes to their condemnation, but they can not beleeue to obtaine remission Heb. voices of God.

28 Pray ye vnto y Lord (for it is ynough) that there be no more mightie thunders & haile, and I wil let you go, and ye shaltary no longer.

29 Then Moses said vnto him, Assone as I am out of y cite, I wil spreacle mine handes vnto the Lord, and the thunder shal cease, nether shal there be any more haile, that thou maiest know that the earth is the Lords.

30 Now I knowe that thou, and thy seruantes feare the Lord God, before I pray.

33 Then Moses went out of the cite from Pharaoh & spied his hands to the Lord, and the thundre and the haile ceased, nether rained it vpon the earth.

34 And when Pharaoh saw that the raine and the haile and the thundre were ceased, he sinned againe, and hardened his heart bothe he, and his seruants.

35 So the heart of Pharaoh was hardened: nether wolde he let the children of Isiael go, as the Lord had said by Moses.

3 Then Moses and Aarón came vnto Pharaoh, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Ebrewes, How long wilt thou refuse to humble thy selfe before me? Let my people go, that they may serue me.

b The end of afflictions is, to humble our selves & true repentance vnder the hand of God Or, seruantes.

4 But if thou refuse to let my people go, beholde, tomorowe wil I bring greshoppers into thy coastes.

5 And they shal couer the face of the earth, that a man can not se the earth: and they shal eat the residue which remaineth vnto you, and haue escaped from the haile: & they shal eat all your trees that bud in the field.

6 And they shal fill thine houses, & all thy seruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, as nether thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers haue sene, since the time they were vpon the earth vnto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

7 Then Pharaohs seruants said vnto him, How long shal he be an offence vnto vs? let the men go, that they may serue the Lord their God: wilt thou first knowe y Egypt is destroyed?

8 So Moses and Aaron were brought againe vnto Pharaoh, & he said to them, Go, serue the Lord your God, but who are they that shal go?

9 And Moses answered, We wil go with our yong and with our olde, with our sonnes and with our daughters, with our shepe and with our cattel wil we go: for we must celebrate a feast vnto the Lord.

10 And he said vnto them, Let the Lord so be with you, as I wil let you go and your children: beholde, for euil is before your face.

11 It shal not be so: now go ye that are men, and serue the Lord: for that was your desire. Then they were thrust out from Pharaohs presence.

12 ¶ After y Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand vpon the land of Egypt for the gresnoppers, that they may come vpon the land of Egypt, and eat all the herbes of the land, euen all that the haile hath left.

13 Then Moses stretched forth his rod vpon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought an East winde vpon the land all that day, and all that night: and in the morning y East winde brought the gresnoppers.

14 So the gresnoppers went vp vpon all the land of Egypt, and remained in all quarters of Egypt: so greuous gresnoppers, like to these were neuer before, nether after them shal be suche.

15 For they couered all the face of y earth, so that the land was darcke: and they did eat all the herbes of the land, and all the frutes of the trees, which y haile had left, so y there was no grene thing left vpon the trees, nor among y herbes of the field throughout all the land of Egypt.

16 Therefoe Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron in haste, and said, I haue sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

17 And nowe forgie me my sinne onely this once, and pray vnto the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death onely.

18 Moses then went out from Pharaoh, and prayed vnto the Lord.

19 And the Lord turned a mightie strong West winde, and toke away the gresnoppers, and violently cast the into the Red Sea, so that there remained not one gresnopper in all the coast of Egypt.

20 But the Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he did not let the children of Israel go.

21 ¶ Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand toward heauen: y there may be vpon y land of Egypt darcknes, euen darcknes that may be felt.

22 Then Moses stretched forth his hand toward heauen, and there was a blacke darcknes in all the land of Egypt three dayes.

23 No man saw an other, nether rose vp fro the place where he was for three dayes: but all the children of Israel had light where they dwelt.

24 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and said, Go, serue the Lord: onely your shepe and your cattel shal abide, and your children shal go with you.

25 And Moses said, Thou must giue vs also sacrifices, and burnt offerings that we may do sacrifice vnto the Lord our God.

26 Therefoe our cattel also shal go with vs: there shal not an hoefe be left, for the reof must we take to serue the Lord our God: nether do we knowe how we shal serue the Lord, vntil we come thither.

27 (But y Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he wolde not let them go)

28 And Pharaoh said vnto him, Get thee fro me: loke thou se my face no more: for whensoever thou comest in my sight, thou shalt dye.

29 Then Moses said, Thou hast said well: from hencefoe the wil I se thy face no more.

out of Egypt, out of the house of a bondage: for by a mightie hand the Lord broght you out from thence: therefore no leauened bread shalbe eaten.

4 This day come ye out in the moneth of Abib.

5 ¶ Now whē the Lord hath broght thee into the land of the Canaanites, and Hittites, and Amorites, and Hiuites, and Iebusites (which he sware vnto thy fathers, that he wolde giue thee, a land flowing with milke and hony) thē thou shalt kepe this seruice in this moneth.

6 Seuen daies shalt thou eat vnleauened bread, & the seuenth day shalbe the feast of the Lord.

7 Vnleauened bread shalbe eaten seuen daies, & there shal no leauened bread be sene with thee, nor yet leauē be sene with thee in all thy quarters.

8 ¶ And thou shalt shewe thy sonne in y day, saying, This is done, because of that which the Lord did vnto me, whē I came out of Egypt.

9 And it shal be a signe vnto thee vpon thine hand, & for a remēbrance betwene thine eyes, that the Lawe of the Lord may be in thy mouth: for by a strong hand the Lord broght thee out of Egypt.

10 Kepe therefore this ordinance in his season appointed from yere to yere.

11 ¶ And when the Lord shal bring thee into the land of the Canaanites, as he swaie vnto thee and to thy fathers, & shal giue it thee, 12 *Then y shalt set a parte vnto the Lord all that first openeth the wombe: also euerie thing that first doeth open the wombe, & commeth forth of thy beast: the males shalbe the Lords.

13 But euerie first sole of an asse, y shalt redeme with a lambe: and if thou redeme him not, then thou shalt breake his necke: likewise all the first borne of man among thy sonnes shalt thou bye out.

14 ¶ And when thy sonne shal aske thee tomorrow, saying, What is this? thou shalt then say vnto him, With a mightie hand the Lord broght vs out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

15 For when Pharaoh was hard hearted against our departing, the Lord thē slewe all the firstborne in the land of Egypt: fro the firstborne of man eue to the firstborne of beast: therefore I sacrifice vnto y Lord all the males that first open the wombe, but all the firstborne of my sonnes I redeme.

16 And it shalbe as a token vpon thine hand, & as frouetelets betwene thine eyes, that the Lord broght vs out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

17 ¶ Now whē Pharaoh had let the people go, God caried thē not by the way of the Philistims countrey, though it were nerer: (for God said, Lest y people repent whē they se warre, & turne againe to Egypt)

18 But God made the people to go about by y way of the wildernes of the red Sea: and the children of Israēl went vp armed out of the land of Egypt.

19 (And Moses toke the bones of Ioseph with him: for he had made the childre of Israēl sweare, saying, *God wil surely visite you, and ye shal take my bones away hence with you)

20 ¶ So they toke their iourney from Succoth, and camped in Etham in the edge of the wildernes.

21 *And the Lord went before thē by day in a pillar of a cloude to leade them the way, & by night in a pillar of fyre to giue them light, that they might go bothe by day and by night.

22 *He toke not away the pillar of the cloude by day, nor the pillar of fyre by night from before the people.

3 For Pharaoh wil say of the children of Israēl, They are tangled in the land: the wildernes hath shut them in.

4 And I wil harden Pharaohs heart that he shal follow after you: so I wil get me honour vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his hoste: the Egyptians also shal knowe that I am the Lord: and they did so.

5 ¶ Then it was tolde the King of Egypt, that the people fled: & the heart of Pharaoh & of his seruants was turned against the people, and they said, Why haue we this done, & haue let Israēl go out of our seruice?

6 And he made ready his charets, & toke his people with him,

7 And toke six hundred chosē charets, & all the charets of Egypt, and captaines ouer euerie one of them.

In this figure foure chief points are to be considered. first that the Church of God is euer subiect in this worlde to the Crosse & to be afflicted after one sort or other. The second, that the ministers of God following their vocation shalbe euil spoken of, and murmured against. euen of them that pretend the same cause and religion that they do. The third, that God deliuereth not his Church incontinently out of dangers, but to exercise their faith and patience continueth their troubles. yea and often tymes augmēteth them as the Israelites were now in lesse hope of their liues than when they were in Egypt. The fourth point is, that when the dangers are moste great, then Gods helpe is moste ready to succour: for the Israelites had an ether side the huge rockes & mountaines, behind them the Sea, behinde them moste cruel enemies: so that there was no way left to escape to mans iudgement.

1 The Israelites come to the desert of Sin, and murmur against Moſes and Aarón 13 The Lord ſendeth quails and Manna 27 The ſeuēth day Manna coulde not be founde. 32 It is kept for a remembrance to the poſteritie

Afterward all the Cōgregation of ſ children of Iſraél departed from E- lim, and came to the wildernes of ^a Sin, (which is betwene Elim and Sinai) the fifth day of the ſeconde moneth after their departing out of the land of Egypt. 2 And the whole Cōgregaciō of the children of Iſraél murmured againſt Moſes and againſt Aaron in the wildernes.

3 For the children of Iſraél ſaid to them, Oh ſ we had dyed by the hand of ſ Lord in the land of Egypt, when we ſate by ſ fleſh ^b pottes, when we ate bread our bellies full: for ye haue broght vs out into this wildernes, to kil this whole companie with famine.

4 ¶ Then ſaid the Lord vnto Moſes, Beholde, I wil cauſe bread to raine ſiō heauen to you, and the people ſhal go out, & gather that ſ is ſufficient for euerie ^c day, that I may proue them, whether they wil walke in my Lawe or no.

5 But the ſixt day they ſhal prepare that, which they ſhal bring home, and it ſhal be twiſe as muche as they gather dailey.

6 Then Moſes and Aaron ſaid vnto all the children of Iſraél, At euen ye ſhal knowe, that the Lord broght you out of the land of Egypt:

7 And in the morning ye ſhal ſee the glorie of ſ Lord. ^d for he hathe heard your grudging againſt the Lord: and what are we ſ. ye haue murmured againſt vs?

8 Againe Moſes ſaid, At eue ſhal the Lord giue you fleſh to eat, and in the morning your fil of bread: for ſ Lord hathe heard your murmurings, which ye murmure againſt him: for what are we? your murmurings are not againſt vs, but againſt the ^e Lord.

9 ¶ And Moſes ſaid to Aarón, Say vnto all the Cōgregation of the childre of Iſraél, Drawe nere before ſ Lord: for he hathe heard your murmurings.

10 Now as Aarón ſpake vnto the whole Cōgregation of the children of Iſraél, they looked toward the wildernes, and beholde, ſ glorie of the Lord appeared ^f i a cloude.

11 (For the Lord had ſpoken vnto Moſes, ſaying, 12 * I haue heard ſ murmurings of the children of Iſraél: tel them therefore, & ſay, At euen ye ſhal eat fleſh, and in the morning ye ſhal be filled with bread, and ye ſhal knowe that I am the Lord your God)

13 And ſo at eue the ^g quails came & couered the campe: & in the morning ſ dewe laye rounde about the hoſte.

15 And when the children of Iſraél ſawe it, they ſaid one to another, It is ^h M A N, for they wiſt not what it was. And Moſes ſaid vnto them, * This is the bread which the Lord hathe giuen you to eat 16 ¶ This is the thing which ſ Lord hathe commanded: gather of it euerie man according to his eating ⁱ an Omer for ^j a mā according to the nombre of your perſones: euerie man ſhal take for the ^k which are in his tent.

17 And the children of Iſraél did ſo, & gathered, ſome more, ſome leſſe.

18 And when they did meaſure it with an Omer, ^l he that had gathered muche, had nothing ouer, & he that had gathered little, had no ^m lacke: ſo euerie man gathered according to his eating.

19 Moſes then ſaid vnto them, Let no man reſerue thereof til morning.

20 Notwithſtāding they obeyd not Moſes: but ſome of them reſerued of it til morning, and it was full of wormes, & ⁿ ſtanke: ^o therefore Moſes was angty with them.

21 And they gathered it euerie morning, euerie mā accordig to his eating: for when the heat of the ſune came, it was melted.

22 ¶ And the ſixt day they gathered ^p twiſe ſo muche bread, two Omers for one man: then all the rulers of the Congregation came and tolde Moſes.

23 And he answered the, This is that, which ſ Lord hathe ſaid, To morowe is the reſt of the holy Sabbath vnto the Lord: bake that ^q to daie which ye wil bake, and ſethe ſ which ye wil ſethe, and all that remaineth, lay it vp to be kept til ſ mornig for you.

24 And they laied it vp til the morning, as Moſes bade, and it ſtanke not, nether was there any worme therein.

25 Then Moſes ſaid, Eat that to day: for to day is the Sabbath vnto the Lord: to day ye ſhal not ^r finde it in the field.

26 Six dayes ſhal ye gather it, but in ſ ſeuēth day is the Sabbath: in it the ſ ſhal be none.

27 ¶ Notwithſtāding, there ^s went out ſome of the people in the ſeuēth day for to gather, and they founde none.

28 And the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, How long will ye reſuſe ye to kepe my commandements, & my lawes?

29 Beholde, how the Lord hathe giue you the Sabbath: therefore he giueth you the ſixt day bread for two dayes: tary ^t therefore euerie man in his place: let no man go out of his place the ſeuēth day.

8 Then Mosés tolde his father in law all that the Lord had done vnto Pharaóh, & to the Egyptians for Israels sake, and all the trauaile that had come vnto them by the way, and how the Lord deliuered thé.

9 And Iethró reioyced at all the goodnes, which the Lord had shewed to Israël, and because he had deliuered them out of the hand of the Egyptians.

10 Therefore Iethró said, Blessed be the Lord who hath deliuered you out of the hád of y Egyptians, and out of y hand of Pharaóh: who hath also deliuered the people from vnder the hand of the Egyptiás.

11 Now I knowe that the Lord is greater then all the gods: for as they haue dealt proudly with them, so are they recompenſed.

12 Then Iethró Mosés father in law roke burnt offerings and sacrifices to offre vnto God. And Aarón and all the Elders of Israël came to eat bread with Mosés father in law before God.

13 ¶ Now on the morowe, when Mosés sate to iudge the people, the people stode aboute Mosés from morning vnto euen.

14 And when Mosés father in lawe sawe all that he did to the people, he said, What is this that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thy selfe alone, and all the people stand about thee from morning vnto euen?

15 And Mosés said vnto his father in lawe, Because the people come vnto me to seke God.

16 Whé they haue a matter, they come vnto me, and I iudge betwene one and another, and declare the ordinances of God, and his lawes.

17 But Mosés father in law said vnto him, The thing, which thou doest, is not wel.

18 Thou bothe weariest thy selfe greatly, & this people that is wth thee: for the thing is to heauie for thee; thou art not able to do it thy selfe alone.

19 * Heare now my voyce, (I wil giue thee counſel, and God shalbe with thee) be thou for the people to Godwarde, & reporte thou the causes vnto God, 20 And admonish them of the ordinances, and of the lawes, & shewe them the way, wherein they must walke, & the worke y they must do.

21 Moreouer prouide thou among all the people men of courage, fearing God, men dealing truely, hating couetousnes: and appoint suche ouer them to be rulers ouer thousandes, rulers ouer hundreths, rulers ouer fifties, and rulers ouer tens.

22 And let them iudge the people at all seasons: but euerie great matter let thé bring vnto thee, & let them iudge all smale causes: so shal it be easier for thee, when they shal beare the burden with thee.

23 If thou do this thing, (and God so commaúde thee) bothe thou shalt be able to endure, & all this people shal also go quietly to their place.

24 So Mosés obeied y voyce of his father in lawe, and did all that he had said:

25 And Mosés chose men of courage out of all Israël, and made them heades ouer the people, rulers ouer thousandes, rulers ouer hundreths, rulers ouer fifties, and rulers ouer tens.

26 And they iudged the people at all seasons, but they broght the hard causes vnto Mosés: for they iudged all smale matters them selues.

27 Afterward Mosés let his father in lawe departe, and he went into his contrey.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The Israelites come to Sinái. 5 Israël is chosen from among all other nations. 8 The people promes to obey God. 12 He that toucheth the hill dyeth. 16 God appeareth vnto Mosés vpon the mount in thunder and lightning.

1 IN the third moneth, after the childré of Israël were gone out of the land of Egypt, the same day came they into the wildernes of Sinái.

2 For they departed from Rephidím, and came to y desert of Sinái, & cáped in the wildernes: euen there Israël camped before the mount.

3 * Bur Mosés wét vp vnto God, for y Lord had called out of the mount vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Iaakób, and tel the children of Israël, 4 * Ye haue sene what I did vnto the Egyptians, and how I caryed you vpon eagles wings, and haue broght you vnto me.

5 Now therefore if ye wil heare my voyce in dede, & kepe my couenát, thé ye shalbe my chief treasure aboute all people, though all the earth be mine.

6 Ye shalbe vnto me also a kingdome of Priestes, and an holy nation. These are the wordes which thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israël.

7 ¶ Mosés then came & called for the Elders of the people, and proposed vnto thé all theſe things, which the Lord commaúded him.

8 And the people answered altogether, & said, * All that the Lord hath commaúded, we wil do. And Mosés reported the wordes of the people vnto the Lord.

9 And y Lord said vnto Mosés, Lo, I come vnto thee in a thicke cloude, that the people may heare, whiles I talke with thee, & that they may also beleue thee for euen. (for Mosés had tolde the wordes of the people vnto the Lord)

13 No hand shall touche it, but he shall be stoned to death, or stricken through with dartes: whether it be beast or man, he shall not liue: when the home bloweth long, then shall come vp into the mountaine.

14 ¶ Then Moses went downe from the mount vnto the people, & sanctified the people, and they washed their clothes.

15 And he said vnto the people, Be ready on the third daie, and come not at your wives.

16 And the third daie, when it was morning, there was thunders & lightnings, & a thicke cloude vpon the mount, & the sound of the trumpet exceeding loude, so that all the people, that was in the campe, was afraid.

17 Then Moses brought the people out of the tents to mete with God, & they stode in the nether part of the mount.

18 * And mount Sinái was a fire, because the Lord came downe vpon it in fire, and the smoke thereof ascended, as the smoke of a fornace, and all the mount trembled exceedingly.

19 And when the sound of the trumpet blew long, and waxed louder and louder, Moses spake, and God answered him by his voyce.

20 (For the Lord came downe vpon mount Sinái on the top of the mount) and when the Lord called Moses vp into the top of the mount, Moses went vp.

21 Then the Lord said vnto Moses, Go downe, charge the people, that they breake not their boundes, to go vp to the Lord to gaze, lest manie of them perish.

22 And let the Priests also which come to the Lord be sanctified, lest the Lord destroy them.

23 And Moses said vnto the Lord, The people can not come vp into the mount Sinái: for thou hast charged vs, saying, Set markes on the mountaine, & sanctifie it.

24 And the Lord said vnto him, Go, get thee downe, and come vp, thou, & Aaron with thee: but let not the Priests & the people breake their boundes to come vp vnto the Lord, lest he destroy them.

25 So Moses went downe vnto the people, and tolde them.

22 But if thou hearken vnto his voyce, and do all that I speake, then I wil be an enemy vnto thine enemies, and wil afflict them that afflict thee.

23 Formine Angel shall go before thee, and bring thee vnto the Amorites, & the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, the Hiuites, and the Iebusites, and I wil destroye them.

24 Thou shalt not bowe downe to their gods, nether serue them, nor do after the workes of the: but vtterly ouerthrowe them, and breake in peces their images.

The Lord calleth Aaron & his sonnes to the Priesthode 4 Their garmets 12 29 Aaron entreteth in to the Sanctuary in the name of the children of Israhel 30 Urims and Thummim 38 Aaron beareth the iniquitie of the Israelites offrings.

1 And thou shalt cause thy brother Aaron to come vnto thee and his sonnes w him, from among the children of Israhel, that he may serue me in the Priests office: I meane Aaron, Nadab, and Abihū, Eleazar, and Ithamar: Aarons sonnes.

2 Also y shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, glorious & beautiful.

3 Therefore thou shalt speake vnto all y cōning mē, whome I haue filled with the spirite of wisdome, that they make Aarons garments to b consecrate him, that he may serue me in the Priestes office.

THE GARMENTS OF THE HIGH PRIEST.

A The Ephod, or vpmost coate, which was like cloth of golde and was girded vnto him, wherein was the breast plate with the twelue stones, which was tied about with two cheines to two onix stones and beneth with two laces.

a broyded coat, a mitre, & a girdle. so the se holy garmets shal they make for Aarón thy brother, & for his sonnes, that he may serue me in the Priests office.

5 Therefore they shal take golde, & blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, & fine linen,

6 ¶ And they shal make the Ephod of golde, blewe silke, and purple, skarlet, & fine twined linen of broyded worke.

7 The two shulders thereof shalbe ioyned together by their two edges: so shal it be closed.

d Which wēt

8 And y^d embroyded garde of the same Ephod, which shalbe vpō him, shalbe of y^e selfe same worke and stufte, euē of golde, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 And thou shalt take two onix stones, and grauē vpon them the names of the children of Israēl:

10 Six names of thē vpon the one stone, & the six names that remaine, vpō the secō-de stone, according to e their generaciōs.

e As they we-

11 Thou shalt cause to grauē y^e two stones accordig to the names of y^e childrē of Is-raēl by a grauer of signets, y^e worketh and graueth in stone, and shalt make them to be set and embossed in golde.

f That Aarōn might remembre the Israēl-ites to God warde.

12 And thou shalt put the two stones vpon the shulders of the Ephod, as stones of rē-mēbrance of y^e children of Israēl: for Aarōn shal beare their names before y^e Lord vpō his two shulders for a remēbrance.

13 So thou shalt make bosses of golde, g Of the bos-iudgemēt with broyded worke: like the worke of the Ephod shalt thou make it:

let, & fine twined linen shalt y^e make it.

16 Foure square it shalbe and double, an hand bred long and an hand bred broad.

17 Then thou shalt set it ful of places for stones, euē foure rowes of stones: y^e ordre

18 And in the seconde rowe thou shalt set an o Or, saphir.

19 And in y^e third rowe a turkeis, an achafe, and an hematite.

o Or, chrysolite.

20 And in the fourte rowe a^r chrysolite, an onix, and a iasper: and they shalbe set in golde in their embossments.

21 And the stones shalbe according to the names of the childrē of Israēl, twelue, according to their names, grauen as signets, euerie one after his name, & they shalbe for the twelue tribes.

22 ¶ Then thou shalt make vpon the breast plate two cheines at the endes of wrethen

23 Thou shalt make also vpō the breast plate on^k the two endes of the breast plate.

24 And thou shalt put the two wrethē chei-of the breast plate.

25 And the other two endes of the two wre-then cheines, thou shalt fasten in the two embossments, and shalt put them vpō the shulders of the Ephod on y^e fore side of it.

26 ¶ Also thou shalt make two rings of golde, which thou shalt put in the two other endes of the breast plate, vpon the border thereof, toward y^e inside of y^e Ephod.

27 And two other rings of golde thou shalt make, & put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneth in the fore parte of it ouer against the coupling of it vpon the broy-ded garde of the Ephod.

28 Thus they shal binde the breast plate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, w^h a lace of blewe silke, that it may be fast vpon the broyded garde of the Ephod, & y^e the breast plate be not losed frō y^e Ephod.

29 So Aarōn shal^m beare the names of the childrē of Israēl in the breast plate of iudto the holy place, for a remembrance continually before the Lord.

40 Also thou shalt make for Aarons sonnes coates, & thou shalt make the girdels, & bonets shalt thou make them for glorie and comelines.

41 And thou shalt put them vpon Aarón thy brother, & on his sonnes with him, & shalt anoynt them, and fill their hands, and sanctifie them, y they may ministre vnto me in the Priestes office.

42 Thou shalt also make them linen breeches to couer their priuities: fro the loynes vnto the thighs shal they reache.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The manner of consecrating the Priests 38 The continual sacrifice. 45 The Lord promiseth to dwell among the children of Israél.

1 THis thing also shalt thou do vnto the when thou cōsecratest them to be my Priestes. * Take a yong calf, and two rams without blemish,

2 And vnleauened bread & cakes vnleauened tempered with oyle, & wafers vnleauened anointed with oyle: (of fine wheat flower shalt thou make them)

3 The y shalt put the in one basket, & present them in the basket with the calf and the two rams,

4 And shalt bring Aarón and his sonnes vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of y Cōgregation, and wash them with water.

5 Also thou shalt take the garments, & put vpon Aarón the tunicle, and the robe of the Ephod, and the Ephod, and the brest plate, and shalt close them to him with the broyded garde of the Ephod.

6 Then thou shalt put the mitre vpon his head, and shalt put the holy crowne vpon the mitre.

7 And thou shalt take the anointing oyle, and shalt powre vpon his head, and anoint him.

8 And thou shalt bring his sonnes, and put coates vpon them,

9 And shalt girde them with girdels, bothe Aarón & his sonnes: and shalt put the bonets on them, and the Priestes office shalbe theirs for a perpetual lawe: thou shalt also fill the hands of Aarón, and the hāds of his sonnes.

10 After, thou shalt present the calf before the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation, * and Aarón and his sonnes shal put their hāds vpon the head of the calf.

11 So thou shalt kil the calf before y Lord, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation.

12 Then thou shalt take of y blood of the calf, and put it vpon the hornes of the altar with thy finger, and shalt powre all the rest of the blood at the fote of the altar.

13 * Also thou shalt take all the fat that couereth the inwardes, and the kall, that is on the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon the, and shalt burne them vpon the altar.

14 But the flesh of the calf, and his skin, and his doig shalt thou burne with fire with out the hoste: it is a sinne offering.

15 ¶ Thou shalt also take one ram, and Aarón and his sonnes shal put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

16 Then thou shalt kil the ram, and take his blood, and sprinkle it round about vpon the altar, 17 And thou shalt cut the ram in pieces, and wash y inwardes of him and his legges, & shalt put them vpon the pieces thereof, and vpon his head.

18 So thou shalt burne the whole ram vpon the altar. for it is a burnt offering vnto the Lord for a swete sauour: it is an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

19 ¶ And thou shalt take the other ram, and Aarón and his sonnes shal put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

20 Then shalt thou kil the ram, and take of his blood & put it vpon the lap of Aaróns eare, and vpon the lap of the right eare of his sonnes, and vpon the thumbe of their right hand, & vpon the great toe of their right fote, and shalt sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is vpon the altar, and of the anointing oyle, and shalt sprinkle it vpon Aarón, and vpon his garments, and vpon his sonnes, and vpon the garments of his sonnes with him: so he shalbe halowed, and his clothes, and his sonnes, and the garments of his sonnes with him.

22 Also thou shalt take of the rams y fat & the rompe, euen the fat that couereth the inwardes, and the kall of the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, and the right shulder, (for it is the ram of consecration)

23 And one loaf of bread, and one cake of bread tempered with oyle, & one wafer, out of y basket of the vnleauened bread that is before the Lord.

24 And thou shalt put all this in the hāds of Aarón, and in the hāds of his sonnes, and 28 And Aaron and his sonnes shal haue it by a statute for euer, of the children of Israel: for it is an heaue offering, and it shalbe an heaue offering of the children of Israel, of their ^k peace offerings, euen their heaue offering to the Lord.

34 Now if ought of γ flesh of the cōsecraciō, or of γ bread remaine vnto the morning, then thou shalt burne the rest with fire: it shal not be eatē, because it is an holy thig.

35 Therefore shalt thou do thus vnto Aaron and vnto his sonnes, according to all things, which I haue commanded thee: seuen daies shalt thou ^m consecrat them, 36 And shalt offer euerie day a calf or a sinne offering, for ⁿ reconciliation: and thou shalt cleanse γ altar, when thou hast offered vpon it for reconciliation, & shalt anoint it, to sanctifie it.

37 Seuen daies shalt thou cleanse the altar, and sanctifie it, so the altar shalbe moste holy: and whatsoeuer toucheth the altar, shalbe holy.

38 ¶ *Now this is γ which thou shalt present vpon the altar: euen two lābes of one yere olde, day by day continually.

40 And with γ one lābe, a ⁿ tenth parte of fine floure mingled wth the fourte parte of an ^o Hin of beaten oile, and the fourte parte of an Hin of wine, for a drinke offering.

41 And the other lambe γ shalt present at euen: thou shalt do thereto according to the offering of the morning, & according to the drinke offering ther eof, to be a burnt offering for a swete sauoure vnto the Lord.

42 This shal be a continual burnt offering in your generatiōs at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation before γ Lord, where I wil ^o make appointment with you, to speake there vnto thee.

43 There I wil appoint with the children of Israel, and the place shalbe sanctified by my ^p glorie.

1 And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying, Beholde, I haue called by name, Bezaleel, the ſonne of Uri, the ſonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudáh,

3 Whome I haue filled with the Spirit of God, in wiſdome, & in vnderſtanding & in knowledge & in all workemanſhip:

5 Also in the art to ſet ſtones, and to carue in timber, and to worke in all maner of workemanſhip.

6 And beholde, I haue ioyned with hi Ahiliab the ſonne of Ahifamah of the tribe of 12 ¶ Afterward the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

13 Speake thou also vnto the children of Iſraél, & ſay, Notwithſtanding kepe ye my Sabbaths: for it is a ſigne betwene me and you in your generacions, that ye may knowe that I the Lord do ſanctifie you.

CHAP. XXXII.

4 The Iſraelites impute their deliuerance to the calf. 5 God is appeaſed by Moſes prayer 19 Moſes breakeſh the Tables 27 He ſlayeth the idolaters. 32 Moſes zeale for the people.

1 But when the people ſawe, that Moſes taried long or he came downe from the mountaine, the people gathered the felues together againſt Aaron, & ſaid vnto him, Vp, make vs gods to go before vs: for of this Moſes (the man that broght vs out of the land of Egypt) we knowe not what is become of him.

a The rote of idolatrie is, whene thinke God is not a hand, except they ſee him carnally

b Thinking they wolde rather forgo idolatrie, the to reſigne their moſte precious things.

2 And Aaron ſaid vnto them, Plucke of the the golden earrings, which are in the eares of your wiues, of your sonnes, and of your daughters, and bring them vnto me.

3 Then all the people pluckte from the e felues the golden earrings, which were in their eares, and they brought them vnto Aarón.

4 * Who receiued them at their hands, and facioned it with the grauing tole, & made of it a molten calf: then they said, * These be thy gods, ó Israél, w brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

5 When Aarón sawe that, he made an altar before it: and Aarón proclaimed, saying, To morowe shall be the holy day of the Lord.

6 So they rose vp the next day in the morning, and offered burnt offerings, & brought peace offerings: also the people sate them downe to eat and drinke, and iose vp to playe.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Mosés, * Go, get the downe: for thy people which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, hath corrupted their waies.

8 They are sone turned out of the way, which I commanded them for they haue made them a molten calf, & haue worshipped it, & haue offered theeto, saying, * These be thy gods, ó Israél, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 Againe the Lord said vnto Mosés, * I haue sene this people, and beholde, it is a stiffnecked people.

10 Nowe therefore let me alone, that my wrath may waxe hote against them, for I wil consume them: but I wil make of thee a mightie people.

11 * But Mosés prayed vnto y Lord his God, and said, O Lord, why doest thy wrath waxe hote against thy people, which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, with great power, and with a mightie hand?

12 * Wherefore shall the Egyptians speake, and say, He hath brought them out maliciously for to slay them in the mountaines, and to consume them from the earth: turne from thy fierce wrath, and change thy minde from this euil toward thy people.

13 Remembre s Abraham, Izhák, & Israél thy seruants, to whome thou swarest by thine owne selfe, and saidest vnto them, * I wil multiplie your seds, as the starres of the heauen, and all this land, that I haue spoken of, wil I giue vnto your seds, and they shall inhe: it for euer.

14 Then the Lord changed his minde from the euil, which he threatened to do vnto his people.

15 So Mosés returned and went downe from the mountaine with the two Tables of the Testimonie in his had: the Tables were writté on bothe their sides, euen on y one side & on the other were they written. 16 And these Tables were the worke of God, and this writing was the writing of God grauen in the Tables.

17 And whē Ioshúa heard the noise of the people, as they showed, he said vnto Mosés, There is a noise of warre in the hoste.

18 Who answered, It is not the noise of thē that haue the victorie, nor the noise of thē that are overcome: but I do heare the noise of singing.

19 Nowe, as sone as he came nere vnto the hoste, he sawe the calf and the dancing: so Mosés wrath waxed hote, and he cast the Tables out of his hands, and brake them in peces beneth the mountaine.

20 * After, he toke the calf, which they had made, & burnt it in the fire, and ground it vnto powder, and strowed it vpon the water, & made the childē of Israél drinke of it.

21 Also Mosés said vnto Aarón, What didst thou do vnto this people, which thou hast brought so great a sinne vpon them?

22 Thē Aarón answered, Let not the wrath of my lord waxe feare: thou knowest this people, that they are euen set on mischief.

23 And they said vnto me, Make vs gods to go before vs: for we knowe not what is become of this Mosés (the man y brought vs out of the land of Egypt.)

24 Thē I said to them, Ye that haue golde, plucke it of: and they brought it me, and I did cast it into the fire, and thereof came this calf.

25 Mosés therefore sawe that the people were naked (for Aarón had made them naked vnto their shame among their enemies)

26 And Mosés stode in the gate of the cāp, and said, Who pertaineth to the Lord? let him come to me. And all the sonnes of Leui gathered them selues vnto him.

27 Then he said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, Put euerie man his sworde by his side: go to and fro, fro gate to gate, through the hoste, and slay euerie man his brother, and euerie man his neighbour.

28 So the children of Leui did as Mosés had commanded: and there fel of the people the same day about thre thousand me.

29 (For Mosés had said, Consecrat your hands vnto the Lord this day, euen euerie man vpon his sonne, and vpon his brother, that there may be giuen you a blessing this day)

30 And whē the morning came, Mosés said vnto the people, Ye haue committed a grievous crime: but now I wil go vp to the Lord, if I may pacifie him for your sinne.

31 Mosés therefore went againe vnto the Lord, and said, Oh, this people haue sinned.

p This declarereth how grieuous a sinne idolatry is, seeing that at Moses prayer God wolde not fully remitte it.

33 Then the Lord said to Moses, Whosoever hath sinned against me, I will put him out of my boke.

34 Go now therefore, bring the people vnto the place which I commanded thee: behold, mine Angel shall go before thee, but yet in the day of my visitacion I will visit their sinne vpon them.

35 So the Lord plagued the people, because they caused Aaron to make the calf which he made.

2 And I will send an Angel before thee & will cast out the Canaanites, y Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, the Hiuites, and the Iebusites:

3 To a land, I say, that floweth with milke & hony: for I wil not go vp with thee, because thou art a stiffnecked people, lest I consume thee in the way.

4 And when the people heard this euil tidings, they sorrowed, & no man put on his best rayment.

5 (For the Lord had said to Moses, Say vnto the children of Israel, Ye are a stiffnecked people, I wil come suddenly vpon thee, and consume thee: therefore now put thy costly rayment fro thee, that I may knowe what to do vnto thee.)

b That either may shewe mercie, if thou repent, or els punish thy rebellion, 6 So the childen of Israel laied their good rayment from them, after Moses came downe from the mount Horib.

8 And when Moses went out vnto the Tabernacle, all the people rose vp, and stood euery man at his tent dore, and looked after Moses, vntil he was gone into the Tabernacle.

9 And as soon as Moses was entred into the Tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended and stode at the dore of the Tabernacle, and the Lord talked with Moses.

10 Now when all the people sawe the cloudy pillar stand at the Tabernacle dore, all the people rose vp, & worshipped euery man in his tent dore.

^a The Sabbath ^s The fre gifts are required. ²¹ The readines of the people to offer ³⁰ Bezaleel & Aholiab are praised of Moses.

23 Euerie man also, which had blewes silke, and purple, & skarlet, and fine linen, and goats ^{heere}, and rams skins died red, and badgers skins, broght ^{them}.

24 All that offred an oblatiō of siluer & of brasse, broght ^y offering vnto the Lord: & euerie one, ^y ^{had} Shittim wood for ^{anie} maner worke of ^y ministraciō, broght ^{it}.

25 And all the womē that were ^e wise hearted, did spin with their hâdes, and broght the spun worke, ^{ene} the blewes silkes, and the purple, the skarlet, and the fine linen.

26 Likewise all the women, ^f whose heartes were moued with knowledge, spun goat-^{es} ^{heere}.

27 And the rulers broght onix stones, and stones to be set in the Ephod, and in the best plate:

28 Also spice, and oyle for light, and for the *anointing oyle, and for the swete perfume.

29 Euerie man and woman of the childre of Israel, whose heartes moued the willingly to bring for all the worke which the Lord had commaded the to make ^g by the had of Moses, broght a fre offering to ^y Lord.

30 ¶ Then Moses said vnto the childre of Israel. Beholde, * ^y Lord hath called by name Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudán, ^e Or, with the spirit of God.

31 And hath filled him with an excellent spirit of wisdom, of vnderstanding, and of knowledge, and in all maner worke,

32 To finde out curious workes, to worke in golde, and in siluer, and in brasse, 33 And in grauing stones to set the, and in karuing of wood, euen to make anie maner of fine worke.

34 And he hath put in his heart that he may teache oher: bothe he, and Aholiab y sonne of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan:

35 Them hath he filled with wisdom of heart to worke all maner ^h of conning * & broydrd, & needle worke: in blew silke, and in purple, in skarlet, and in fine linen & weauing, euen to do all maner of worke and subtil inuentions.

CHAP. XXXVI.

³ The great readines of the people, in somuche that he comanded the to cease. ⁸ The curtaynes made ¹⁹ The couerings. ²⁰ The boardes. ³¹ The barres, ³⁵ And the waile.

^e Ebr. wife is heart

1 Then wrought Bezaleel, and Aholiab, and all conning men, to whome the Lord gaue wisdom, and vnderstanding, to knowe how to worke all maner worke for the seruice of the ^a Sanctuarie, according to all that the Lord had comanded.

^a By the Sanctuarie he meaneth here all y Tabernacle.

2 For Mofés had called Bezaleel, & Aholiab, and all the wise hearted men, in whose hearts the Lord had giue wisdom, euen as manie as their hartes encouraged to come vnto that worke to worke it.

3 And they receued of Mofés all y offering which the children of Israél had brought for the worke of the seruice of the Sanctuarie, to make it: also ^b they brought stil vnto him fre gifts euerie morning.

^b Meaning y Israélites.

4 So all the wise men, that wrought all the holy worke, came euerie man fro his worke which they wrought,

5 And spake to Mofés, saying, The people bring to ^c muche, and more then ynough for the vse of the worke, which the Lord hath comanded to be made.

^c A rare example & notable to se the people so ready to serue God with their goods

6 Then Mofés gaue a commandemēt, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the hoste, saying, Let nether man nor woman prepare anie more worke for the oblation of the Sanctuarie. So the people were stayed from offering.

7 For the stuffe they had, was sufficient for all the worke to make it, and to muche.

Chap 26. 4.

8 *All the conning men therefore among the workemen, made for the Tabernacle ten curtaynes of fine twined linen, and of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet:

^d Cherubims of broydrd worke made they vpon them.

^d Which were like pictures with winges in the forme of children.

9 The length of one curtaine was twenty and eight cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubitis: and the curtaynes were all of one cise.

10 And he coupled five curtaynes together, and other five coupled he together.

11 And he made strings of blew silke by y edge of one curtaine, in the seluedge of y coupling: likewise he made on the side of the oher curtaine in the seluedge in the seconde coupling.

12 *Fiftie strings made he in the one curtaine, and fiftie strings made he in the edge of the oher curtaine, which was in the seconde coupling: the strings were set one against an other. Chap. 26. 10.

13 After, he made fiftie taches of golde, & coupled the curtaynes one to an other w the taches: so was it one Tabernacle. ^e Or, hooks.

14 ¶ Also he made curtaynes of goates heere for the ^e couering vpon the Tabernacle: he made them to the number of eleuen curtaynes. ^e Or, panellis.

15 The length of one curtaine had thirty cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaynes were of one cise.

16 And he coupled five curtaynes by them selues, and six curtaynes by them selues:

17 Also he made fiftie strings vpon the edge of one curtaine in y seluedge in the coupling, and fiftie strings made he vpon the edge of the oher curtaine in the seconde coupling.

18 He made also fiftie taches of brasse to couple the couering that it might be one.

19 And he made a ^e couering vpon the paullion of rams skins died red, & a couering of badgers skins aboue. ^e These two were about y couering of goates heere.

20 ¶ Likewise he made the boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim ^f wood to stand vp.

21 The length of a boarde was ten cubites, & the breadth of one boarde was a cubite, and an halfe. ^f And to beare vp the curtaynes of the Tabernacle.

22 One boarde had two tenons, set in ordre as the fete of a ladder, one against an other: thus made he for all the boardes of y Tabernacle.

23 So he made twētie boardes for y Southside of the Tabernacle, euen ful South.

24 And fourtie sockets of siluer made he vnder the twētie boardes, two sockets vnder one boarde for his two tenons, & two sockets vnder another boarde for his two tenons.

25 Also for the other side of the Tabernacle towarde the North, he made twētie boardes, 26 And their fourtie sockets of siluer, two sockets vnder one boarde, & two sockets vnder another boarde.

27 Likewise towarde the Westside of the Tabernacle he made six boardes.

28 And two boardes made he in the corners of the Tabernacle, for ether side, 29 And they were ^g ioyned beneth, and likewise were made sure aboue with a ring: Chap 26. 24.

^g Or towarde the sea y was the sea called mediterranean westward fro Ierusalem thus he did to bothe in bothe corners.

30 So there were eight boardes and their sixtene sockets of siluer, vnder euerie boarde two sockets.

Chap. 25, 27.

31 ¶ After he made *barres of Shittim wood, siue for the boardes in the one side of the Tabernacle, 32 And siue barres for the boardes in the other side of the Tabernacle, and siue barres for the boardes of the Tabernacle on the side towarde the West.

33 And he made the middelt barre to shote through the boardes, from the one end to the other.

34 He ouerlaied also the boardes with golde, and made their rings of golde for places for the barres, and couered the barres with golde.

h Which was betwene y^e Sanctuary and y^e Holiest of all.

35 ¶ Moreouer he made a^h vaile of blewe silke, and purple, and of skarlet, and of fine twined linen: with Cherubims of broyred worke made he it:

*Or, brader.

36 And made thereunto foure pillers of Shittim, and ouerlaied them with golde: whose^h hokes were also of golde, and he cast for them foure sockets of siluer.

h Which was betwene the court and the Sanctuarie.

37 And he made an hanging for the Tabernacle dore, of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen, and nedle worke,

Or, granes borders.

38 And the siue pillers of it with their hokes, and ouerlaied their chapiters & their fillets with golde, but their siue sockets were of brasse.

Chap. 25, 28

1 AFTER this, Bezaleel made the *Arke of Shittim wood, two cubites and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broad, and a cubite and an halfe hie:

a Like battlements.

2 And ouerlaied it with fine golde within and without, and made a^a crowne of golde to it round about,

3 And cast for it foure rings of golde for y^e foure corners of it: that is, two rings for y^e one side of it, and two rings for the other side thereof.

4 Also he made barres of Shittim wood, & couered them with golde,

5 And put the barres in the rings by the sides of the Arke, to beare the Arke.

Chap. 25, 27.

6 ¶ And he made the * Merciseat of pure golde: two cubites and an halfe was the length thereof, and one cubite and an halfe the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two Cherubims of golde, vpon the two ends of the Merciseat: euen of worke beaten with the hammer made he them.

b Of the self same matter y^e the Merciseat was.

8 One Cherub on y^e one end, and an other Cherub on the other end: ^b of the Merciseat made he the Cherubims, at the two ends thereof.

9 And y^e Cherubims spred out their wings on hie, and couered the Merciseat wth their wings, and their faces were one towardes an other: toward the Merciseat were the faces of the Cherubims.

10 ¶ Also he made the Table of Shittim wood: two cubites was the legth thereof, and a cubite the breadth thereof, and a cubite and an halfe the height of it.

11 And he ouerlaied it with fine golde, and made thereto a crowne of golde round about.

12 Also he made thereto a border of an^h had^{10r. foure siue} breadth round about, and made vpon^{8172.} y^e border a crowne of golde round about.

13 And he cast for it foure rings of golde, and put the rings in the foure corners that were in the foure sete thereof.

14 Against the border were the rings, as places for the barres to beare the Table.

15 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with golde to beare the Table.

Chap. 25, 29.

16 * Also he made the instruments for the Table of pure golde: dishes for it, & incens cups for it, and goblets for it, & coverings for it, wherewith it shulde be couered.

17 ¶ Likewise he made the Candellsticke of pure golde: of worke beaten out with the hammer made he the Candesticke: and his shaft, & his branche, his bolles, his knops, and his floures were of one piece.

18 And six branches came out of the sides thereof: thre branches of the Candesticke out of the one side of it, and thre branches of the Candesticke out of the other side of it.

19 In one branche thre bolles made like almondes, a knop and a floure: and in an other branche thre bolles made like almondes, a knop & a floure: and so throughout the six branches that proceded out of the Candesticke.

20 And vpon the Candesticke were foure bolles after the facion of almondes, the knops thereof and the floures thereof:

21 That is, vnder euerie two branches a knop made thereof, and a knop vnder the secode branche thereof, and a knop vnder the third branche thereof, according to the six branches comming out of it.

22 Their knops and their branches were of the same: it was all one^{*} beaten worke of pure golde. Chap. 25, 30

23 And he made for it seuen lampes with y^e snuffers, & snuffdishes thereof of pure gold.

24 Of a^c talent of pure golde made he it, with all the instruments thereof. e Read chap. 25, 39.

25 Furthermore he made the * perfume altar of Shittim wood: the length of it was a cubite, and the breadth of it a cubite (it was square) and two cubites hie, and the Chap. 30, 340 horne thereof was of the same.

- 26 And he couered it with pure golde, bothe the top and the sides thereof round about, and the hornes of it, and made vnto it a crowne of golde round about.
- 27 And he made two rings of golde for it, vnder the crowne thereof in the two corners of the two sides thereof, to put barres in for to beare it therewith.
- 28 Also he made the barres of Shittim wood, and ouerlaied them with golde.
- 29 And he made the holy * anointing oyle, & the swete pure incense after the apotecaries arte.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

6 The Altar of burnt offrings & The brasen Lauer.
9 The Courte & The summe of that the people offered.

Chap 27. 1.

1 Also he made the altar of the burnt offering * of Shittim wood: five cubites was the length thereof, and five cubites the breadth thereof: it was square and three cubites high.

Chap 27. 3.
* Or, fine part

2 And he made vnto it hornes in the foure corners thereof: the hornes thereof were of the same, & he ouerlaied it with brasse.

3 Also he made all the instruments of the Altar: y^e * ashpans, & the besomes, and the basins, y^e fleshokes, & the censers: all the instruments thereof made he of brasse.

a So y^e the grid from or grate was halfe so high as y^e altar, & stood within it.

4 Moreouer he made a brasé grate wrought like a net to the Altar, vnder the compass of it beneath in the middes of it,

5 And cast foure rings of brasse for y^e foure ends of the grate to put barres in.

6 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with brasse.

7 The which barres he put into the rings on the sides of the altar to beate it withall, and made it holowe within y^e boardes.

8 ¶ Also he made the Lauer of brasse, and the fote of it of brasse of the b^e glasses of y^e women that did assemble and came together at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

b R. Kimhi saith, that the women brought their looking glasses, which were of brasse or fine metal and offred them freely vnto the vie of the Tabernacle: y^e was a height thing & of great matter.

9 ¶ Finally he made y^e courte on the Southside ful Southe: the hangings of the courte were of fine twined linen, hauing an hundred cubites.

10 Their pillers were twentie, & their brasen sockets twentie: the hokes of the pillers, and their filets were of siluer.

11 And on the Northside the hangings were an hundred cubites: their pillers twentie, & their sockets of brasse twentie, y^e hokes of y^e pillers & their filets of siluer.

12 On the Westside also were hangings of fiftie cubites, their ten pillers with their ten sockets: y^e hokes of the pillers and their filets of siluer.

13 And toward the Eastside, ful East, were hangings of fiftie cubites.

14 The hangings of the one side were fiftie cubites, their three pillers, and their three sockets:

15 * And of the other side of the courte gate on bothe sides were hangings of fiftie cubites, with their three pillers and their three sockets.

Chap 27. 16.

16 All the hangings of the courte round about were of fine twined linen:

17 But the sockets of the pillers were of brasse: the hokes of the pillers and their filets of siluer, and the couering of their chapiters of siluer: and all the pillers of the courte were hooped about with siluer.

18 He made also the hanging of the gate of the courte of needle worke, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen euen twentie cubites long, and five cubites in height & breadth, like the hangings of the courte.

* Or, ouer as gait.

19 And their pillers were foure with their foure sockets of brasse: their hokes of siluer, and the couering of their chapiters, and their filets of siluer.

20 But all the * pins of the Tabernacle and of the courte round about were of brasse.

Chap 27. 19.

21 ¶ These are the partes of the Tabernacle, I meane, of the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, which was appointed by the commandement of Moses for the office of y^e Leuites by the hand of Ithamar sonne to Aaron the Priest.

c That the Leuites might haue the charge thereof, and minister in the same, as did Eleazar and Ithamar, Nob.

22 So Bezaleel the sonne of Vií the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudáh, made all y^e the Lord commanded Moses.

23 And with him Aholiab sonne of Ahimách of the tribe of Dan, a d^e cunning workeman and an embroyderer and a worker of needle worke in blewe silke, and in purple, and in skarlet, and in fine linen.

d As a grauer or carpenter, chap 31. 4.

24 All the golde that was occupied in all y^e worke wrought for the holy place (which was the golde of the offering) was nine & twentie talents, and seuen hundred and thirtie shekels, according to the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

25 But the siluer of them that were nombred in the Congregation, was an hundred and thirtie talents, and a thousand seuen hundred and thirtie shekels, after the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

26 Aⁿ portion for a man, that is, halfe a shekel after the shekel of the Sanctuarie, for all them that were nombred from twentie yere olde and aboue, among six hundred thousand, and three thousand, & five hundred and fiftie men.

* Or, halfe a shekel

27 Moreouer there were an hundred talents of siluer, to cast the sockets of the Sanctuarie, and the sockets of the vaile: an hundred sockets of an hundred talents, a talent for a socket.

28 But he made the hokes for the pillers of a thousand seuen hundred and seutie & five shekels, and ouerlaied their chapiters, and made filets about them.

29 Also the braſſe of the offering was ſeventie e talents, and two thouſand, and four hundredth ſhekels.

30 Whereof he made ſix ſockets to the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the braſen Altar, & the braſen grate which was for it, with all the inſtruments of the Altar,

31 And the ſockets of the courte round about, and the ſockets for the couite gate, & all the * pins of the Tabernacle, and all the pins of the courte round about.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The apparel of Aaron and his ſonnes 32 All that the Lord commanded, was made, and finiſhed 43 Moſes blesseth the people.

a As coverings for the ARKE, & Cadelſticke, the Altars & ſuche like Chap. 31, 10.
& 35, 19.

Moreouer they made a garments of ministration to miniſtie in the Sanctuarie of blewe ſilke, and purple, & ſkarlet: thei * made alſo the holy garments for Aaron, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

2 So he made the Ephod of golde, blewe ſilke, and purple, and ſkarlet, and fine twined linen.

3 And they did beate the golde into thin plates, and cut it into wies, to worke it in the blewe ſilke & in the purple, and in the ſkarlet, & in the fine linen, with broyded worke.

4 For the which thei made ſhoulders to couple together: for it was cloſed by the two edges thereof.

5 And the broyded garde of his Ephod that was vpon him, was of the ſame ſtuſſe, and of like worke: euen of golde, of blewe
ſilke, and purple, and ſkarlet, and fine twined linen, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

Chap. 28, 9.

b That is, of very fine and curious workmanſhip

¶ And they wrought two onix ſtones cloſed in ouches of golde, and graued, as ſignets are grauen, with the names of the children of Iſrael,

7 And put the on the ſhoulders of ſix Ephod, as ſtones for a * remembrance of the children of Iſrael, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

Chap. 28, 12.

¶ Alſo he made the breſt plate of broy-ded worke like the worke of the Ephod:
to wit, of golde, blewe ſilke, and purple, & ſkarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 They made the breſt plate double, and it was ſquare, an hand breadth long, and an hand breadth broad: it was alſo double.

10 And they filled it with foure rowes of ſtones. The ordre was thus, a ruby, a topaze, and a carbuncle in the fiſt rowe.

c Or a figure, which ſtone antors write that it commeth of the vine of the beaſt called ſina.

11 And in the ſeconde rowe, an emeraude, a ſaphir, and a diamond:

12 Alſo in the third rowe, e a turkeis, an achate, and an hematite:

13 Likewise in the fourte rowe, a chryſolite, an onix, and a iaſper: cloſed and ſet in ou-ches of golde.

14 So the ſtones were according to the names of the children of Iſrael, euen twelue after their names, grauen like ſignets e-uie one after his name according to the twelue tribes.

d That is, eue-rie tribe had his name writ ten in a ſtone.

15 After, they made vpon the breſt plate cheines at the endes, of wrethen worke & pure golde.

16 They made alſo two boſſes of golde, & two golde rings, and put the two rings in the two corners of the breſt plate.

17 And they put the two wrethen cheines of golde in the two rings, in the corners of the breſt plate.

18 Alſo the two other endes of the two wre-then cheines they faſtened in the two boſſes, and put them on the ſhoulders of the Ephod vpon the ſote fronte of it.

19 Likewise thei made two rings of golde, and put them in the two other corners of the breſt plate vpon the edge of it, which was on the inſide of the Ephod.

20 They made alſo two other golden rings, and put them on the two ſides of the Ephod, beneth on the foreſide of it and ou-er againſt his coupling about the broy-ded garde of the Ephod.

21 Then they faſtened the breſt plate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blewe ſilke, that it might be faſt vpon the broyded garde of the Ephod, and that the breſt plate ſhulde not be lo-ſed from the Ephod, as the Lord had com-mande Moſes.

¶ Moreouer he made the robe of the Ephod of wouen worke, altogether of blewe ſilke.

e Which was next vnder the Ephod
f Where he ſhulde put through his head.

23 And the hole of the robe was in the middles of it, as ſix colter of an habergeon, with an edge about the collar, that it ſhul-de not rent.

24 And they made vpon the ſkirtes of the robe pomegranates, of blewe ſilke, & purple, and ſkarlet, and fine linen twined.

25 They made alſo belles of pure golde, & put the belles betwene the pomegrates vpon the ſkirtes of the robe round about betwene the pomegranates.

Chap. 28, 33.

26 A bel & a pomegranate, a bel & a pomegranate round about the ſkirtes of the robe to miniſter in, as the Lord had comanded Moſes.

27 ¶ After, they made coates of fine liné, of woué worke for Aaron & for his ſonnes.

28 And the mitre of fine linen, and goodlie bonnets of fine linen, and linen breches of fine twined linen,

Chap. 28, 42.

29 ¶ And the girdel of fine twined linen, & of blewe ſilke, & purple, & ſkarlet, euen of needle worke, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

30 ¶ Finally thei made the plate for the holy crowne of fine golde, and wrote vpon it a superſcription like to the grauing of a ſignet, * H O L I N E S T O T H E L O R D .

Chap. 28. 36.

31 And thei tied vnto it a lace of blewe ſilke to faſten it on hye vpon the mitre, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

Chap 27. 21.

32 ¶ Thus was all the worke of the Tabernacle, even of the * Tabernacle of the Congregation finiſhed: & the children of Iſrael did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moſes: ſo did thei.

33 ¶ Afterwarde thei broght the Tabernacle vnto Moſes, the Tabernacle & all his instruments, his taches, his boardes, his barres, and his pillers, and his ſockets, 34 And the couering of rames ſkins died red, & the couerings of badgers ſkinnes, and the s couering vaile.

CHAP. XL.

The Tabernacle with the appertinances is reared vp.

THEN the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

In the a *fi*ſt day of the fiſt moneth in the very fiſt of the ſame moneth ſhalt thou ſet vp the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

6 Moreouer thou ſhalt ſet the burnt offering Altar before the dore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

7 And thou ſhalt ſet the Lauer betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation & the Altar, and put water therein.

8 Then thou ſhalt appoint the courte roude about, and hang vp the hanging at the courte gate.

9 After, thou ſhalt take the anointing oyle, and anoint the Tabernacle, and all that is therein, and halowe it with all the instruments thereof, that it may be holye.

10 And thou ſhalt anoint the Altar of the burnt offering, and all his instruments, and ſhalt ſanctifie the Altar, that it may be an altar moſte holy.

11 Alſo thou ſhalt anoint the Lauer and his fote, and ſhalt ſanctifie it.

12 Then thou ſhalt bring Aaron and his ſonnes vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & waſh them with water.

13 And thou ſhalt put vpon Aaron the holy garments, and ſhalt anoint him, & ſanctifie him that he may miniſter vnto me in the Prieſts office.

14 Thou ſhalt alſo bring his ſonnes, and clothe them with garments,

15 And ſhalt anoint them as thou diddeſt anoint their father, that thei may miniſter vnto me in the Prieſts office: for their anointing ſhal be a ſigne, that y prieſthode ſhal be euerlaſting vnto the throughout their generations.

16 So Moſes did according to all that the Lord had commanded him: ſo did he.

17 ¶ Thus was the Tabernacle reared vp the fiſt day of the fiſt moneth in e the ſeconde yere.

e After thei came out of Egypt, Nomb. 7. 1.

18 Then Moſes reared vp the Tabernacle and faſtened his ſockets, and ſet vp the boardes thereof, and put in the barres of it, and reared vp his pillers.

19 And he ſpred the couering ouer the Tabernacle, and put the couering of that couering on hie about it, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

and couered the Arke of the Testimonic, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

21 ¶ Furthermore he put the Table in the Tabernacle of the Congregation in the Northside of the Tabernacle, without the vaile, 25 And he lighted the lampes before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

26 ¶ Moreouer he set the golden Altar in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the vaile, 27 And burnt swete incense thereon, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

g Between the Sanctuarie and the court.

28 ¶ Also he haged vp the vaile at the dore of the Tabernacle.

29 After he set the burnt offering Altar without the dore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & offered the burnt offering and the sacrifice thereon, as the Lord had comaded Mosés.

30 ¶ Likewise he set the Lauer betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation & the Altar, and powred water therein to wash with.

31 So Mosés, and Aarón, and his sonnes, washed their hands & their fete thereat.

32 When thei went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and when thei approached to the Altar, thei washed, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

33 Finally he reared vp the courte round about the Tabernacle and the Altar, and hanged vp the vaile at the courte gate: so Mosés finished the worke.

34 ¶ Then the cloude couered the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle. Nomb. 9.17. 1. King. 8.10.

35 So Mosés colde not entre into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, because the cloude abode thereon, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle.

36 Now when the cloude ascended vp from the Tabernacle, the children of Israél went forwarde in all their iourneys.

37 But if the cloude ascended not, then thei iourneied not til the day that it ascended.

38 For the cloude of the Lord was vpon the Tabernacle by day, and fire was in it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israél, throughout all their iourneys.

h Thus the presence of God preserued & guided the night and day til thei came to the land promised.

THE THIRD BOKE OF Mosés, called * Leuiticus.

* Because in this boke is chiefly increased of the Leuities, and of things pertaining to their office.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS God daily by moste singular benefites declared him selfe to be mindeful of his Church: so he wolde not that thei shoulde haue anie occasion to trust ether in them selues, or to depend vpon others for lacke of temporal things, or ought that belonged to his diuine seruice and religion. Therefore he ordeined diuers kindes of oblations and sacrifices, to assure them of forgiveness of their offenses. (if thei offered them in true faith and obedience) Also he appointed their Priests and Leuites, their apparel, offices, conuersation and portion: he shewed what feastes thei shoulde obserue, and in what times. Moreouer he declared by these sacrifices & ceremonies that the reward of sinne is death, and that without the blood of Christ the innocent Lambe there can be no forgiveness of sinnes. And because thei shoulde giue no place to their owne inuentions (which thing God moste detesteth as appeareth by the terrible example of Nadab and Abihú) he prescribed euen to the least things, what thei shoulde do, as what beastes thei shoulde offre and eat: what diseases were contagious and to be auoyded: what ordre thei shoulde take for all maner of filthines and pollution: whose companie thei shoulde flee: what marriages were lausful: and what politike lawes were profitable. Which things declared, he promised fauour and blessing to them that kept his Lawes, and threatened his curse to them that transgressed them.

d The burnt offering was wholly consumed, and of y offering made by fire onely the inwardes &c. were burnt: y shoulder & breast with the two clawes and y mawe were y Priests, & the rest his that offered

1 The offering for finnes done of ignorance, 3 For the Priest, 13 The Congregation, 22 The ruler, 27 And the private man.

h Hereby confessing that he desired the same punishment which y beaſt suffered.

5 And the Priest that is anointed shal take of the bullocks blood, and bring it into y Tabernacle of the Congregation.

6 Then the Priest shal dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seuen times before the Lord, before the vaile of the Sanctuarie.

i Which was betwene the Holiest of all & y Sanctuarie.

7 The Priest also shal put some of the blood before the Lord, vpon the hornes of y altar of swete incens, which is in y Tabernacle of the Congregation, then shal he poure * all the rest of the blood of the bullocke at the fore of y altar of burnt offering, which is at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

1 Meaning of punishment of his sinne shulde be laid vpon that beate, or, that he had receiued all things of God, and offered thus willingly.

34 Then the Priest shal take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, & shal powre all the rest of the blood thereof at the fote of the altar.

35 And he shal take away all y fat thereof, as the fat of the lambe of y peace offerings is taken away: then the Priest shal burne it vpon the altar with the oblatiōs of the Lord made by fire, & the Priest shal make an atonement for him concerning his sinne that he hathe committed, and it shalbe forgiven him.

29 Likewise Moses toke the breast of the ram of consecracions and shoke it to and fro before the Lord: for it was Moses' portion, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

30 Also Moses toke of the anointing oyle, and of the blood which was vpon the Altar, and sprinkled it vpon Aarón, vpon his garments, and vpon his sonnes, and on his sonnes garmets with him: so he sanctified Aarón, his garments, and his sonnes, and his sonnes garments with him.

14 Also* the shaken breast and the beaue shulder: shal ye eat in a cleane place: thou, and thy sonnes, and thy daughters with thee: for they are giuen as thy duetic and thy sonnes duetic, of the peace offerings of the children of Israél.

15 The heaue shulder, and the shaké breast shal they bring with the offerings made by fire of the fat, to shake it to and fro before the Lord, and it shalbe thine and thy sonnes with thee by a lawe for euer, as the Lord hath commanded.

16 ¶ And Moisés soght y goat that was offered for sinne, and lo, it was burnt: therefore he was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar the sonnes of Aaron, which were left alive, saying,

17 Wherefore haue ye not eaten the sin offering in the holy place, seing it is moste holy, and God hath giuen it you, to beare the iniquite of the Cōgregaciō, to make an atonement for them before the Lord.

18 Behoide, the blood of it was not broght within the holy place: ye shulde haue eaten it in the holy place, * as I commāded.

19 And Aaron said vnto Moisés, Beholde, this day s haue they offered their sin offering and their burnt offering before the Lord, and suche things as thou knowest are come vnto me: if I had eaten the sin offering to day, shulde it haue bene accepted in the sight of the Lord?

20 So when Moisés heard it, he was content.

CHAP. XI.

1 Of beastes, fishes and birdes, which be cleane, and which be vnclane.

1 After, the Lord spake vnto Moisés & Ato Aaron, saying vnto them,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israél, and say, * These are the beastes which ye shall eat, among all the beastes that are on the earth.

3 Whatsoeuer parteth the hoofe, and is clouen footed, and chaweth the cud among the beastes, that shal ye eat:

4 But of them that chewe the cud, or deuide the hoofe onely, of them ye shal not eat: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, and deuideth not the hoofe, he shalbe vnclane vnto you.

5 Likewise the conie, because he cheweth the cud & deuideth not y hoofe, he shalbe vnclane to you.

6 Also the hare, because he cheweth the cud, & deuideth not the hoofe, he shalbe vnclane to you.

7 * And the swine, because he parteth the hoofe and is clouen footed, but cheweth not the cud, he shalbe vnclane to you.

8 Of their flesh shal ye not eat, and their carkeis shal ye not touche: for they shalbe vnclane to you.

9 ¶ These shal ye eat, of all that are in the waters: whatsoeuer hath the finnes & skales in the waters, in the seas, or in the riuers, them shal ye eat.

10 But all that haue not fins nor skales in the seas, or in y riuers, of all that moueth in the waters & of all e liuing things that are in the waters, they shalbe an abominacion vnto you.

11 These, I say, shalbe an abominacion to you: ye shal not eat of their flesh, but shal abhoire their carkeis.

12 Whatsoeuer hath not fins nor skales in the waters, that shalbe abominacion vnto you.

13 ¶ These shal ye haue also in abominaciō among the foules, they shal not be eaten: for they are an abominacion, the egle, and the gosshauke, and the osprey:

14 Also the vultur, and the kite after his kinde,

15 And all rauens after their kinde:

16 The ostriche also, and the night crowe, and the seamcawe, and the hauke after his kinde:

17 The litle owle also, and the cormorant, and the great owle.

18 Also the redshāke and the pelicane, and the swanne:

19 The stoike also, the heron after his kinde, and the lapwing, and the backe:

20 Also euerie foule that creepeth and goeth vpon all foure, suche shalbe an abominacion vnto you.

21 Yet these shal ye eat: of euerie foule that creepeth, and goeth vpon all foure which haue their fete and leggs all of one to leape withall vpon the earth, 22 Of them ye shal eat these, the grasshoper after his kinde, and the solcan after his kinde, the hargol after his kinde, and the hagab after his kinde.

23 But all other foules y crepe & haue foure fete, they shalbe abominacion vnto you.

24 For by suche ye shalbe polluted. who-soeuer toucheth their carkeis, shalbe vnclane vnto the euenig.

25 Who-soeuer also beareth of their carkeis, shal wash his clothes, and be vnclane vntil euen.

26 Euerie beast that hath claws deuided, and is not clouen footed, nor cheweth the cud, suche shalbe vnclane vnto you: euerie one y toucheth the, shalbe vnclane.

27 And whatsoeuer goeth vpon his pawes among all maner beastes that goeth on all foure, suche shalbe vnclane vnto you: who-so doeth touche their carkeis shalbe vnclane vntil the euen.

28 And he that beareth their carkeis, shal wash his clothes, and be vnclane vntil the euen: for suche shalbe vnclane vnto you.

h The greene frog that sitteth on the bushes: Or, crocodile.

30 Also the rat, and the lizard, and the chameleon, and the stellion, and the molle.

31 These shalbe vncleane to you among all y' crepe: whosoever doeth touche the when they be dead, shalbe vncleane vntil the eue.

32 Also whatsoever anie of the dead carkeises of them doeth fall vpon, shalbe vncleane, whether it be vessel of wood, or raiment, or skin, or sacke: whatsoever vessel it be that is occupied, it shalbe put in the water as vncleane vntil the euen, and so be purified.

i As a bottle or bag

33 But euerie earthe vessel, whereinto anie of them falleth, whatsoever is with in it shal be vncleane, and ye shal breake it.

34 All meate also that shalbe eaten, if anie such water come vpon it, shalbe vncleane: and all drinke that shalbe dronke in all such vessels shalbe vncleane.

35 And euerie thing that their carkeises fall vpon, shalbe vncleane: the founais or the pot shalbe broken: for they are vncleane, and shalbe vncleane vnto you.

36 Yet the fountaines & welles where there is plentie of water shal be cleane: but that which toucheth their carkeises shal be vncleane.

k So muche of the water as toucheth it

37 And if there fall of their dead carkeises vpon anie sedge, which vseth to be sowed, it shal be cleane.

38 But if anie water be powred vpon the sedge, and there fall of their dead carkeises thereon, it shalbe vncleane vnto you.

39 If also anie beate, whereof ye may eat, dye, he that toucheth the carkeises thereof shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

40 And he that eateth of the carkeises of it, shal wash his clothes and be vncleane vntil the euen: he also that beareth the carkeis of it, shal wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil the euen.

41 Euerie creeping thing therefore that creepeth vpon the earth shalbe an abomination, and not be eaten.

42 Whatsoeuer goeth vpon the breast, and whatsoever goeth vpon all foure, or that hath manie fete among all creeping things that creepe vpon the earth, ye shal not eat of them, for they shalbe abomination.

43 Ye shal not pollute your selues with anie thing y' creepeth, nether make your selues vncleane w' them, nether defile your selues thereby: ye shal not, I say, be defiled by the.

44 For I am the Lord your God: be sanctified therefore, and be holy, for I am holy, and defile not your selues with anie creeping thing, that creepeth vpon the earth.

m He sheweth why God did chuse them to be his people, 1 Pet 1 15

45 For I am the Lord that brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God, and that you shulde be holy, for I am holy.

46 This is the lawe of beastes, & of foules, and of euerie liuing thing that moueth in the waters, and of euerie thing that creepeth vpon the earth:

47 That there may be a difference betwene the vncleane and cleane, and betwene the beast that may be eaten, & the beast that ought not to be eaten.

1 A lawe how women shulde be purged after their deliuerance.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, When a woman hath brought forth the sedge, and borne a manchild, she shal be vncleane a seuen daies, like as she is vncleane when she is put a parte for her disease.

2 So e. at the husband's for that time called her out to her Or 3. ver.

3 (* And in the eighth day the foreskin of the child's flesh shalbe circumcised)

Chap 15, 29

4 And she shal continue in the blood of her purifying thre and thirtie daies: she shal touche no halowed thing, nor come in to the Sanctuary, vntil the time of her purifying be out.

Luk 2, 21. Job 7, 22 b Besides the first seuen daies

5 But if she beare a maide child, then she shalbe vncleane two weekes, as when she hath her disease: and she shal continue in the blood of her purifying thre score and six daies.

c As sacrifice or such like d That is, into the court gate, till after fourth daies. e Twice so long as if she bare a man child.

6 Now when the daies of her purifying are out, (whether it be for a sonne or for a daughter) she shal bring to the Priest a lambe of one yere olde for a burnt offering, and a yong pigeon or a turtle douc for a sin offering, vnto y' dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, f Where the burnt offerings were wont to be offered.

7 Who shal offer it before the Lord, and make an atonement for her: so she shalbe purged of the issue of her blood this is y' lawe for her y' hath borne a male or female.

8 But if she be not able to bring a labe, she shal bring two turtles, or two yong pigeons: the one for a burnt offering, and the other for a sin offering: and the Priest shal make an atonement for her: so she shalbe cleane.

g But if her husband be not able to write of a labe Luk 2, 24.

CHAP. XIII.

1 What considerations the Priest ought to obserue in iudging the leprosie, 29 The blacke spot or skab, 47 and the leprosie of the garment.

1 Moreover the Lord spake vnto Moses, and to Aaron, saying,

2 The man that shal haue in the skin of his flesh a swelling or a skab, or a white spot, so that in the skin of his flesh it be like y' plague of leprosie, then he shalbe brought vnto Aaron the Priest, or vnto one of his sonnes the Priests,

a That it may be suspected to be the leprosie

3 And the Priest shal loke on the sore in the skin of his flesh: if the heere in the sore be turned into white, and the sore seb That is, shronke in, & be lower then the rest of the skin.

"Ebr. shal pounce him.

me to be b lower thē the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosie: therefore the Priest shal loke on him, and pronouce him vnclane.

4 But if the white spot be in y skin of his flesh, and seme not to be lower then the skin, nor the heere thereof be turned vnto white, then the Priest shal shut vp him that hath the plague, seuen daies.

"Ebr. shal hite

5 After, the Priest shal loke vpon him the seuenth day: & if the plague seme to him to abide stil, and the plague growe not in the skin, the Priest shal shut him vp yet seuen daies more.

c As hauing y skin drawen together, or b: achill.
"Ebr. shal denef him.

6 Then the Priest shal loke on him againe the seuenth day, and if the plague be darcke, and the sore growe not in the skin, then the Priest shal pronouce him cleane, for it is a skab: therefore he shal wash his clothes, and be cleane.

7 But if the skab growe more in the skin, after that he is sene of the Priest, for to be purged, he shalbe sene of the Priest yet againe.

"Or, be spread abroad.
d. as touching his bodely disease for his disease was not impured to him for sin before God, though it were the punishment of sinne.

8 Then the Priest shal consider, and if the skab growe in the skin, then the Priest shal pronouce him vnclane: for it is leprosie.

9 ¶ When the plague of leprosie is in a man, he shalbe broght vnto the Priest,

10 And the Priest shal se him: & if the swelling be white in the skin, & haue made y heere white, & there be rawe flesh in the swelling, 11 It is an olde leprosie in the skin of his flesh: and the Priest shal pronouce him vnclane, and shal not shut him vp, for he is vnclane.

"Or, bnd.

12 Also if the leprosie breake out in the skin, and the leprosie couer all the skin of the plague, from his head euen to his fete, wheresoeuer the Priest loketh, e For it is not chat contagious as the rest of the skin, but a kinde of scirfe, which hath the not y flesh rawe as the leprosie.

13 Then the Priest shal consider: and if the leprosie couer all his flesh, he shal pronouce y plague to be cleane, because it is all turned into whitens: so he shalbe cleane.

14 But if there be rawe flesh on him when he is sene, he shalbe vnclane.

15 For the Priest shal se the rawe flesh, and declare him to be vnclane: for the rawe flesh is vnclane, therefore it is the leprosie.

f That is, declareth that y flesh is not sounde, but is in danger to be leprous.

16 Or if the rawe flesh change and be turned into white, then he shal come to the Priest, 17 And the Priest shal beholde him: and if the sore be changed into white, then the Priest shal pronouce the plague cleane, for it is cleane.

"Or, impurum.

18 ¶ The flesh also in whose skin there is a bile and is healed,

19 And in the place of the bile there be a white swelling, or a white spot some what reddish, it shalbe sene of the Priest.

20 And whē the Priest seeth it, if it appeare lower then the skin, and the heere thereof be changed into white, the Priest thē shal pronouce him vnclane: for it is a plague of leprosie, broken out in the bile.

21 But if the Priest loke on it and there be no white heeres therein, & if it be not lower then the skin, but be darcker, then the Priest shal shut him vp seuen daies.

22 And if it spread abroad in the flesh, the Priest shal pronouce him vnclane, for it is a sore.

23 But if the spot continue in his place, & growe not, it is a burning bile: therefore the Priest shal declare him to be cleane.

24 ¶ If there be anie flesh, in whose skin there is an hote burning, and the quicke flesh of the burning haue a white spot, somewhat reddish or pale, g None were exempted, but if the Priest pronoced him vnclane, he was put out from among y people: as appeareth by Marie the prophete, Nōb. 12, 14, and by King Ozias. 2. Chro. 26, 20.

25 Then the Priest shal loke vpon it: and if the heere in that spot be chāged into white, and it appeare lower then the skin, it is a leprosie brokē out in the burning: therefore the Priest shal pronouce him vnclane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

h If he haue a white spot in that place, where the burning was, and was after healed.

26 But if the Priest loke on it, and there be no white heere in the spot, and be no lower thē the other skin, but be darcker, then the Priest shal shut him vp seuen daies.

27 After, the Priest shal loke on him the seuenth day: if it be grown abroad in the skinne, then the Priest shal pronouce him vnclane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spot abide in his place, not growing in the skin, but is darcke, it is a^r swelling of the burning: the Priest shal therefore declare him cleane, for it is the drying vp of the burning.

"Or, swelling.

29 ¶ If also a man, or woman hath a sore on the head or in the beard,

30 Then the Priest shal se the sore: and if it appeare lower then the skin, and there be in it a smale yelowe heere, then the Priest shal pronouce him vnclane: for it is a blacke spot, and leprosie of the head or of the beard.

i Which was not wont to be there, or els smaller then in any other part of the body.

31 And if the Priest loke on the sore of the blacke spot, and if it seme not lower then y skin nor haue anie blacke heere in it, thē the Priest shal shut vp him, that hath the sore of the blacke spot, seuen daies.

32 After, in the seuenth day the Priest shal loke on the sore: and if y blacke spot growe not, & there be in it no yelowe heere, and the blacke spot seme not lower then the skin, 33 Then he shalbe shauen, but the place of y blacke spot shal he not shauē: but y Priest shal shut vp him, that hath the blacke spot, seuen daies more.

34 And the seuenth day the Priest shal loke on the blacke spot: and if the blacke spot growe not in the skin, nor seme lower the the other skin, then y^e Priest shal clese him, & he shal wash his clothes, and be cleane.

35 But if the blacke spot growe abroad in the flesh after his clensing, 36 Then the Priest shal loke on it: and if the blacke spot growe in the skin, y^e Priest shal not ^k seke for the yelowe heere: for he is vncleane.
37 But if the blacke spot seme to him to abide, and that blacke heere growe therein, the blacke spot is heald, he is cleane, and the Priest shal declare him to be cleane.
38 ¶ Furthermore if there be manie white spots in y^e skin of y^e flesh of man or woma, 39 Then the Priest shal consider: and if the spots in the skin of their flesh be somewhat darcke and white withall, it is but a white spot broken out in the skin: therefore he is cleane.
40 And the man whose heere is fallen of his head and is balde, is cleane.
41 And if his head close the ^l heere on the fore parte, & be balde before, he is cleane.
42 But if there be in the balde head, or in the balde fore heade a white reddish fore, it is a leprosie springig in his balde head, or in his balde forehead.
43 Therefore the Priest shal loke vpon it, and if the rising of the fore be white reddish in his balde head, or in his balde fore head, appearing like leprosie in the skin of the flesh,
44 He is a leper and vncleane: therefore the Priest shal pronounce him altogether vncleane: for the sore is in his head.
45 The leper also in whome the plague is, shal haue his clothes ^m rent, and his head bare, and shal put a covering vpon his ⁿ lippes, and shal crye, I am vncleane, I am vn- cleane.
46 As long as the disease shalbe vpon him, he shalbe polluted, for he is vncleane: he shal dwell alone, * without the campe shal his habitacion be.
47 ¶ Also the garmēt that the plague of leprosie is in, whether it be a wollen garment or a linen garment, 48 Whether it be in the warpe or in the woofe of linen or of wollen, ether in a skin or in anie thing made of skin, 49 And if the sore be grene or somewhat reddish in the garment or in the skin, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thig that is made of skin, it is a plague of leprosie & shalbe shewed vnto the Priest.
50 Then the Priest shal se the plague, and shut vp it that hath the plague, seuen daies, 51 And shal loke on the plague the seuenth day: if the plague growe in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in the skin or in anie thing that is made of skin, that plague is a freating leprosie and vn-

cleane.
52 And he shal burne the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, whether it be wollen or linen, or anie thing that is made of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a freating leprosie, therefore it shalbe burnt in the fire.
53 If the Priest yet se that the plague growe not in the garment, or in the woofe, or in whatfoeuer thing of skin it be, 54 Then the Priest shal commade them to wash the thing wherein the plague is, & he shal shut it vp seuen dayes more.
55 Againe the Priest shal loke on the plague, after it is washed: and if the plague haue not changed his colour, thogh the plague spred no further, it is vncleane:
thou shalt burne it in y^e fire, for it is a freat inwarde, whether the spot be in the bare place of the whole, or in parte thereof.
56 And if the Priest se that the plague be darcker, after that it is washed, he shal cut it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.
57 And if it appeare stil in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thing made of skin, it is a spreading leprosie:
thou shalt burne the thing wherein the plague is, in the fire.
58 If thou hast washed the garment or the warpe, or y^e woofe, or whatfoeuer thing of skin it be, if the plague be departed therefrom, then shal it be washed the seconde time, and be cleane.
59 This is the lawe of the plague of leprosie in a garment of wollen or linen, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thing of skin, to make it cleane or vncleane.

CHAP. XIII.

³ The clensing of the leper. ³⁴ And of the house that he is in.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
2 * This is the lawe of the leper in the day of his clensing: that is, he shalbe broght vnto the Priest,
3 And the Priest shal go out of the campe, and the Priest shal consider him: and if the plague of leprosie be heald in the leper, 4 Then shal the Priest commande to take for him that is clensed, two sparowes aliue and ^b cleane, and ceder wood and a skarlet lace, and hyssope.
5 And the Priest shal commande to kil one of the birdes ouer ^c pure water in an earthen vessel.
6 After, he shal take the liue sparowe with the cedar wood, and the skarlet lace, and the hyssope, and shal dip them and the liuing sparowe in the blood of the sparowe slaine, ouer the pure water, 7 And he shal sprinkle vpon him, that must be clensed of his leprosie, seuen times, and

9 Then he that shalbe clenfed, shal wash his clothes, and shaue of all his heere, and wash him selfe in water, so he shalbe cleane: after that shal he come into the hoiste, but shal tarie without his tent seuē dayes.

10 So in the seuenth day he shal shaue of all his heere, bothe his head, and his beard, & his eye browes: euen all his heere shal he shaue, & shal wash his clothes & shal wash his flesh in water. so he shalbe cleane.

11 Then in the eight day he shal take two he lambe without^e blemish, and an ewe lambe of an yere olde without blemish, and thre tenth deales of fine floure for a meat offering, mingled with oyle, and a pinte of oyle.

12 And the Priest that maketh him cleane shal bring the man which is to be made cleane, and those things, before the Lord, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

13 Then the Priest shal take one lambe, & offer him for a trespass offering, and the pinte of oyle, and^{*} shake them to and fro before the Lord.

14 And he shal kil the lambe in the place where the sinne offering and the burnt offering are slaine, euen in the holy place: for as the^{*} sin offering is the Priests, so is the trespass offering: for it is moste holy.

15 So the Priest shal take of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it vpon the lap of the right eare of him that shalbe clenfed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote.

16 The Priest shal also take of the pinte of oyle, and powre it into the palme of his left hand, 17 And the Priest shal dip his^{} right finger in the oyle that is in his left had, & sprinkle of the oyle with his finger seuen times before the Lord.

18 And of the rest of the oyle that is in his hand, shal the Priest put vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be clenfed, & vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote, where the blood of the trespass offering was put.

19 But the remnant of the oyle that is in the Priestes hand, he shal powre vpon the head of him that is to be clenfed: so the Priest shal make an atonemēt for him before the Lord.

20 And the Priest shal offer the sin offering and make an atonement for him that is to be clenfed of his vncleennes: the after shal he kil the burnt offering.

21 So the Priest shal offer the burnt offering & the meat offering vpon the altar: and the Priest shal make an atonement for him: so he shalbe cleane.

22 But if he be poore, & not able, then he shal bring one labe for a trespas offering to be shakē, for his recōciliation, & a tenth deale of fine floure mingled with oyle, for a meat offering, with a pinte of oyle.

23 Also two turtle doues, or two yong pigeons, as he is able, whereof the one shalbe a sin offering, and the other a burnt offering,

24 And he shal bring them the eight day for his clenfing vnto the Priest at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord.

25 Then the Priest shal take the lambe of the trespas offering, and the pinte of oyle, and the Priest shal^h shake them to and fro before the Lord.

26 And he shal kil the lambe of the trespas offering, & the Priest shal take of y^e blood of the trespas offering, and put it vpon the lap of his right eare that is to be clenfed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, & vpon the great toe of his right fote.

27 Also the Priest shal powre of the oyle into the palme of his owne^{} left hand.

28 So the Priest shal with his right finger sprinkle of the oyle that is in his left hand, seuen times before the Lord.

29 Then the Priest shal put of the oyle that is in his hand, vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be clenfed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote: vpon the place^o of the blood of the trespas offering.

30 But y^e rest of the oyle that is in y^e Priests had, he shal put vpon the head of him that is to be clenfed, to make an atonement for him before the Lord.

31 Also he shal present one of the turtle doues, or of the yong pigeons, as he is able:

32 Suche, I say, as he is able, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering with the meat offering: so the Priest shal make an atonement for him that is to be clenfed before the Lord.

33 This is the^k lawe of him which hathe y^e plague of leprosie, who is not able in his clenfing to offer^l the whole.

37 And he shal marke the plague: and if the plague be in the walles of the house, and that there be depe spots, grenish or reddish, which seme to be lower the wall, 38 Then the Priest shal go out of the house to the dore of the house, and shal cause to shut vp the house seuen daies.

39 So y Priest shal come againe the seueth day: and if he se that the plague be increased in the walles of the house, 48 But if the Priest shal come and se, that the plague hath spread no further in the house, after the house be plaistred, the Priest shal pronounce that house cleane, for the plague is healed.

49 Then shal he take to purifie the house, two sparowes, and cedar wood, & skarlet lace, and hyssope.

52 So shal he cleanse the house w the blood of the sparowe and with the pure water, and with the liue sparowe, & with the cedar wood, and with the hyssope, and with the skarlet lace.

53 Afterwarde he shal let go y liue sparowe out of the towne into y broade fieldes: so shal he make atonement for the house, and it shalbe cleane.

5 And he shal take of the Congregation of the children of Israēl, two he goates for a sinne offering, and a ram for a burnt offring.

6 Then Aarōn shal offer the bullocke for his sinne offering, * & make an atonement for him selfe, and for his house.

Ebr 9, 7.

7 And he shal take the two he goates, and present them before the Lord at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congrega-cion.

8 Then Aarōn shal cast lots ouer the two he goates: one lot for the Lord, and the other for the Scape goat.

9 And Aarón shal offer the goat, vpon which the Lords lot shal fall, and make him a sinne offering.

10 But the goat, on which the lot shal fall to be the Scape goat, shalbe presented alive before the Lord, to make reconciliacion by him, & to let him go (as a Scape goat) into the wildernes.

11 Thus Aarón shal offer the bullocke for his sinne offering, & make a reconciliacion for himselfe, and for his house, and shal kill the bullocke for his sinne offering.

12 And he shal take a censer full of burning coles from of the Altar before the Lord, & his handfull of swete incens beaté small, and bring it within the vaile;

13 And shal put the incens vpon the fire before the Lord, that the cloude of the incens may couer the Merciseat that is vpon the Testimonie: so he shal not dye.

14 And he shal take of the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it with his finger vpon the Merciseat Eastward: and before the Merciseat shal he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seuen times.

15 ¶ Then shal he kill the goat that is the peoples sinne offering, & bring his blood within the vaile, and do with that blood, as he did with the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it vpon the Merciseat, and before the Merciseat.

16 So he shal purge the Holy place from the vncleennes of the children of Israël, & from their trespasses of all their sinnes: so shal he do also for the Tabernacle of the Congregation placed with them, in the middes of their vncleennes.

17 ¶ And these shal be no man in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, when he goeth in to make an atonement in the Holy place, vntil he come out, & haue made an atonement for himselfe, & for his house, and for all the Congregation of Israël.

18 After, he shal go out vnto the Altar that is before the Lord, & make a reconciliacion vpon it, & shal take of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goat, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar round about:

19 So shal he sprinkle of the blood vpon it with his finger seuen times, and cleanse it, and halowe it from the vncleennes of the children of Israël.

20 ¶ Whē he hath made an end of purging the Holy place, & the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the altar, then he shal bring the liue goat:

21 And Aarón shal put bothe his hands vpon the head of the liue goat, and confesse ouer him all the iniquities of the childre of Israël, & all their trespasses, in all their sinnes, putting the vpon the head of the goat, and shal send him away (by the hand of a man appointed) into the wildernes.

22 So the goat shal beare vpon him all their iniquities into the land that is not inhabited, and he shal let the goat go into the wildernes.

23 After, Aarón shal come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and put of the linen clothes, which he put on whē he went into the Holy place, & leaue thē there.

24 He shal wash also his flesh with water in the Holy place, and put on his owne raiment, and come out, and make his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for him self, and for the people.

25 Also the fat of the sinne offering shal he burne vpon the Altar.

26 And he that carryed forthe the goat, called the Scape goat, shal wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and after that shal come into the hoste.

27 Also the bullocke for the sinne offering, and the goat for the sinne offering (whose blood was brought to make a reconciliacion in the Holy place) shal one carry out with him out the hoste to be burnt in the fire, with their skins, and with their flesh, and with their dung.

28 And he that burneth them shal wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and afterwarde come into the hoste.

29 ¶ So this shalbe an ordinance for euer vnto you: the tenth day of the seuenth moneth, ye shal humble your soules, and do no worke at all, whether it be one of your same countrey, or a stranger that sojourneth among you.

30 For the day shal the Priest make an atonement for you to cleanse you: ye shal be cleane from all your sinnes before the Lord.

31 This shalbe a Sabbath of rest vnto you, and ye shal humble your soules, by an ordinance for euer.

32 And the Priest whom he shal anoint, and whome he shal consecrate (to minister in his fathers stede) shal make the atonement, and shal put on the linen clothes & holy vestments; beracle 7 To devils may they not offer 10 They may not eat blood.

33 And shal purge the holy Sanctuary and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & shal cleanse the Altar, & make an atonement for the Priests, and for all the people of the Congregation.

34 And this shalbe an euerlasting ordinance vnto you, to make an atonement for the childre of Israël for all their sinnes once a yeere; and as the Lord commanded Moyses, he did.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto Aaron, and to his sonnes, & to all the children of Israel, and say vnto them, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded, saying,

3 Whosoever he be of the house of Israel that killeth a bullocke, or labe, or goat in his hoste, or that killeth it out of the hoste,

4 And bringeth it not vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer an offering vnto the Lord before the Tabernacle of the Lord, blood shall be imputed vnto that man: he hath shed blood, wherefore that man shall be cut of from among his people.

5 Therefore the children of Israel shall bring their offerings, which they wolde offer abroad in the field, and present them vnto the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation by the Priest, & offer the same for peace offerings vnto the Lord.

6 Then the Priest shall sprinkle the blood vpon the altar of the Lord before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and burne the fat for a swete savour vnto the Lord.

7 And they shall no more offer their offerings vnto devils, after whom they haue gone a whoring: this shall be an ordinance for ever vnto them in their generations.

8 ¶ Also thou shalt say vnto them, Whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which sojourn among them, that offereth a burnt offering or sacrifice,

9 And bringeth it not vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer it vnto the Lord, such that man shall be cut of from his people.

10 ¶ Likewise whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among them, that eateth any blood, I will even set my face against that person that eateth blood, & will cut him of from among his people:

11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood, & I haue giuen it vnto you to offer vpon the altar, to make an atonement for your soules: for this blood shall make an atonement for the soule.

12 Therefore I said vnto the children of Israel, None of you shall eat blood: neither the stranger that sojourneth among you, shall eat blood.

13 Moreover whosoever he be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among them, which by hunting taketh any beast or foule that may be eaten, he shall pour out his blood thereof, and couer it with dust:

14 For the life of all flesh is his blood, it is ioyned with his life: therefore I said vnto the children of Israel, Ye shall eat the blood of no flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it, shall be cut of.

15 And euery person that eateth it which dyeth alone, or that which is to me with beasts, whether it be one of the same countrey or a stranger, he shall bothe wash his clothes, & walke in water, & be vncleane vnto you: after he shall be cleane. 16 But if he wash them not, nor wash his flesh, then he shall beare his iniquitie.

3 Without the vaile of the Testimonie, in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, shal Aaron dresse them, bothe euen and morning before the Lord alwaies: this shalbe a lawe for euer through your generacions.

4 He shal dresse the lampes vpon the pure Candellticke before the Lord perpetually.

5 ¶ Also thou shalt take fine floure, & bake twelue cakes thereof: two tenth deales shal be in one cake.

6 And thou shalt set them in two rowes, six in a rowe vpon the pure table before the Lord.

7 Thou shalt also put pure incense vpon the rowes, that in stede of the bread it may be for a remembrance, and an offering made by fire to the Lord.

8 Euerie Sabbath he shal put the in rowes before the Lord euermore, receauing them of the childre of Israēl for an euerlasting couenant.

9 ¶ And the bread shalbe Aarons & his sonnes, and they shal eat it in the holy place: for it is moste holy vnto him of the offerings of the Lord made by fire by a perpetual ordinance.

10 ¶ And there went out among the children of Israēl the sonne of an Israelitish woman, whose father was an Egyptian: & this sonne of the Israelitish woman, and a man of Israēl stroue together in the hoste.

11 So the Israelitish womans sonne blasphemed the Name of the Lord, and cursed, and they broght him vnto Mosēs (his mothers name also was Shelomith, y daughter of Dibī, of the tribe of Dan)

2 The Sabbath of the seuenth yere. 3 The Iubile in the fiftieth yere 14 Not to oppresse their brethren 23 The sale, and redeming of lands, houses and persons.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses in mount Sinai, saying,

6 And the d rest of the lād shalbe meat for you, euen for thee, & for thy seruant, & for thy maid, & for thy hyred seruant, and for the stranger that sojourneth with thee:

7 And for thy cattel, and for the beastes that are in thy land shal all the increase thereof be meat.

10 And ye shal halowe that yere, euen the fiftieth yere, and proclaime libertie in the land to all the f inhabitants thereof: it shal be the Iubile vnto you, and ye shal returne euerie man vnto his s possession, and euerie man shal returne vnto his familie.

g Because the tribes shulde nether haue their possessions, or families diminished nor cōfoided

11 This fiftieth yere shalbe a yere of Iubile vnto you: ye shal not sowe, nether reape that which groweth of it selfe, nether gather the grapes thereof, that are left vnlaboured.

12 For it is the Iubile, it shal be holy vnto you: ye shal eat of the increase thereof out of the field.

13 In the yere of this Iubile, ye shal returne euerie man vnto his possession.

14 And whē thou sellest oght to thy neighbour, or byest at thy neighbours hand, ye shal h not oppresse one another:

h By deceit or otherwise. i If the Iubile to come be nere, thou shalt sel better cheape: if it be farre of, dearer l O, boldly without feare.

19 And the land shal giue her frute, and ye shal eat your fil, and dwel therein in sactie.

THE ARGUMENT.

FOrasmuche as God hath appointed that his Church in this worlde shalbe vnder the crosse, bothe because they shoulde learne not to put their trust in worldly things, and also seke his comfote, when all other helpe faileth: he did not straight way bring his peopl, after their departure out of Egypt, into the land which he promised them: but led them to and fro for the space of fourtie yeres, and kept them in continual exercises before they enioyed it, to trye their faith, and to teache the to forget the worlde and to depend on him. Which tryal did greatly profit to discerne the wicked and the hypocrites from the faithful and true seruants of God, who serued him with pure heart, where as the other preferring their carnal affections to Gods glorie, and making religion to serue their purpose, murmured when they lacked to content their lustes, and despised them whome God had appointed rulers ouer them. By reason whereof they prouoked Gods terrible iudgements against them, and are set forthe as a moste notable example for all ages to beware how they abuse Gods worde, preferre their owne lustes to his wil, or despise his ministers. Notwithstanding God is euer true in his promes, and gouerneth his, by his holy Spirit, that ether they fall not to suche inconueniences, or els returne to him quickly by true repentance: and therefore he continueth his graces toward them, he giueth them ordinances and instructions, as wel for religion as outward pollice: he preferueth them against all craft and conspiracie, and giueth them manifolde victories against their enemies. And to auoyd all controuersies that might arise, he taketh away the occasiōs, by diuiding among all the tribes, bothe the land, which they had wonne, & that also which he had promised, as semed best to his godlie wisdom.

Exod. 30. 23.*

17 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Mosés and to Aarón, saying,

*l Committing by your negligence that the holy things be not wel wrapped, and so they by touching thereof perill.
m Shewing what part euerie man shal beare.*

18 Ye shal not cut of the tribe of y families of y Kohathites from among y Leuites:

19 But thus do vnto them, that they may liue & not dye, when they come nere to the moste holy things: let Aarón and his sonnes come and appoint m them, euerie one to his office, and to his charge.

20 But let them not go in, to se when the Sanctuarie is folden vp, lest they dye.

21 ¶ And y Lord spake vnto Mosés, saying,

22 Take also the summe of the sonnes of Gershón, euerie one by y houses of their fathers throughout their families:

23 From thirtie yere olde and about, vntil fiftie yere olde shalt thou nõbre them, all that n entre into y assemblie for to do seruice in y Tabernacle of y Congregation, n Which were receiued into the companie of them that ministered in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

24 This shalbe the seruice of the families of the Gershonites, to serue and to beare.

25 They shal beare y curtaines of the Tabernacle, & the Tabernacle of the Cõgregation, his couering, and the couering of badgers skins, that is on hie vpon it, and y vaile of the o dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

o Which vaile haged betwene y Sãtuarie and the court.

26 The curtaines also of the court, and the vaile of the entring in of the gate of the court, p which is nere the Tabernacle & nere the altar round about, with their cordes, and all the instrumentes for their seruice, and all that is made for them: so shal they serue.

p Which court compassed bothe the Tabernacle of the Cõgregation & y altar of burnt offering.

27 At the commandement of Aarón and his sonnes shal all the seruice of the sonnes of y Gershonites be done, in all their charges and in all their seruice, & ye shal appoint them to kepe all their charges.

28 This is the seruice of the families of y sonnes of the Gershonites in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & their watch shalbe vnder the q hand of Ithamár the sonne of Aarón the Priest.

29 ¶ Thou shalt number the sonnes of Merarí by their families, & by the houses of their fathers:

30 From thirtie yere olde & about, euen vnto fiftie yere olde shalt thou nõbre them, all that entre into the assemblie, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Cõgregation.

31 And this is their office & charge according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: the * boardes of the Tabernacle with the baies thereof, and his pillers, and his sockets.

Exod. 26. 11.

32 And the pillers round about the court, with their sockets and their pins, and their cordes, w all their instrumentes, euen for all their seruice, & by r name ye shal rekē the instrumentes of their office & charge.

r Ye shal make an inventorye of all the things, w ye comit to their charge.

33 This is the seruice of the families of the sonnes of Merarí, according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation vnder the hãd of Ithamár the sonne of Aarón the Priest.

34 ¶ Then Mosés and Aarón and the princes of the Congregation nombred the sonnes of y Kohathites, by their families and by the houses of their fathers, 35 Frõ thirtie yere olde & about, euen vnto fiftie yere olde, all that entre into the assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

36 So the " number of them throughout their families were two thousand, seuen hundred and fiftie.

"26. The number of them.

37 These are the numbers of the families of the Kohathites, all that serue in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, which Mosés and Aarón did number according to the commandemēt of the Lord by the t hand of Mosés.

t God appointing Mosés to be y minister & excecutor thereof.

38 Also the numbers of the sonnes of Gershon throughout their families and houses of their fathers, 39 From thirtie yere olde and vppward, euen vnto fiftie yere olde: all that entre into the assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

40 So the numbers of them by their families, & by the houses of their fathers were two thousand six hundred & thirtie.

2 Which were of competent age to serue therein, that is, betwene 30. and 50.

41 These are the numbers of the families of the sonnes of Gershon: of all that did seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, whome Moses & Aaron did number according to the commandement of the Lord.

42 ¶ The numbers also of the families of the sonnes of Merari by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, 43 From thirtie yere olde & vppward, eue vnto fiftie yere olde: all that entre into the assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

44 So the numbers of them by their families were thie thousand, & two hundred.

45 These are the summes of the families of the sonnes of Merari, whome Moses & Aaron nombred according to the commandement of the Lord, by the hand of Moses.

46 So all the numbers of the Leuites, which Moses, & Aaron, & the princes of Israel nombred, by their families & by the houses of their fathers,

2 Whofoeuer of the Leuites that had any mager of charge in the Tabernacle

3 So that Moses neither added nor diminished from that which the Lord commanded him.

48 So the numbers of them were eight thousand five hundred and foure score.

49 According to the commandement of the Lord by the hand of Moses did Aaron number the, euerie one according to his seruice, & according to his charge. Thus were they of that tribe nombred, as the Lord commanded Moses.

25 That place was called the ^h riuér Eshcól because of the cluître of grapes, which the children of Israél cut downe thence.

^h Parán, to Kadésh, and brought to them, and to all the Congregation tidings, and shewed them the frute of the land.

28 And they tolde ⁱ him, and said, We came vnto the land whether thou hast sente vs, & surely it floweth with ^k milke & honie: and here is of the frute of it.

29 Neuertheles the people be ^l strong that dwel in the land, and the cities ^{are} walled and exceding great: and moreover, we sawe the ^k sonnes of Anák there.

30 The Amalekites dwel in ^l the Southcōuntry, and the Hittites, and the Iebusites, and the Amorites dwel in the mountaines, and the Canaanites dwel by the Sea and by the coste of Iorden.

31 Then Caléb killed the people ^o before Mosés, & said, Let vs go vp at once, and possesse it: for vndoubtedly we shal ouercome it.

32 But the men, that went vp with him, said, We be not able to go vp against the people: for they are stronger then we.

33 So they brought vp an euil reporte of the lād which they had searched for the children of Israél, saying, The land which we haue gone through to searche it out, is a land that ^l eateth vp the inhabitants thereof: for all the people that we sawe in it, are men of great stature.

34 For there we sawe gyātes, the sonnes of Anák, which come of the gyantes, so that we seemed in our sight like greshoppers: and so we were in their fight.

ⁱ The gyantes were so cruel that they spoiled & killed one another, and those that came to them.

9 But rebel not ye against the Lord, neither feare ye the people of the land: for they are but bread for vs: their shield is departed from them, and the Lord is with vs, feare them not.

10 And all the multitude said, Stone the with stones: but the glorie of the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, before all the children of Israél.

11 And the Lord said vnto Mosés, How long wil this people prouoke me, and how long wil it be, yer they beleue me, for all the signes which I haue shewed among them?

12 I wil smite them with the pestilence and destroy them, and wil make thee a gnatertacion and migatier then they.

13 But Mosés said vnto the Lord, * When the Egyptians shal heare it, (for thou brightest this people by thy power from among them)

16 Because the Lord was not able to bring this people into the land, which he swaere vnto them, therefore hathe he flaine them in the wilderness.

17 And now, I beseeche thee, let the power of my Lord be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying, 19 Be merciful, I beseeche thee, vnto the iniquitie of this people, according to thy great mercy, and as thou hast forgiven this people, from Egypt, euen vntil now.

20 And the Lord said, I haue forgiven it, according to thy request.

21 Notwithstanding, as I liue, all the earth shalbe filled with the glorie of the 25 Now the Amalekites and the Canaanites remaine in the valley: wherefore turne backe tomorowe, and get you into the wilderness, by the way of the red Sea.

26 ¶ After, the Lord spake vnto Mosés and to Aarón, saying, 27 * How long shal I suffre this wicked multitude to murmure against me? I haue heard the murmurings of the children of Israél, which they murmure against me.

28 Tell them, As I liue (saith the Lord) I wil surely do vnto you, euen as ye haue spoken in mine eares.

But when we cryed vnto the Lord, he heard our voyce, and sent an Angel, & hathe broght vs out of Egypt, & beholde, we are in y citie Kadésht, in thine vtmost border. I pray thee that we may passe through thy countrey: we wil not go through the fieldes nor the vineyardes, nether wil we drinke of the water of the welles: we wil go by the kings way, and nether tume vnto the right hand nor to the left, vntil we be past thy borders. And Edóm answered him, Thou shalt not passe by me, lest I come out against thee with the sworde. Then the children of Israél said vnto him, We wil go vp by the hie way: & if I and my cattel drinke of thy water, I wil then paye for it: I wil onely (without anye harme) go through on my fete. He answered againe, Thou shalt not go through. The Edóm came out against him with muche people, and with a mighty power. Thus Edóm denied to giue Israél passage through his coutrie: wherefore Israél turned away from him. ¶ And when the children of Israél with all the Congregacion departed from Kadésht, they came vnto the mount Hor. Take Aarón and Eleazár his sonne, & bring them vp into the mount Hor, And cause Aarón to put of his garmets & put them vpon Eleazár his sonne: for Aarón shal be gathered to his fathers, and shal dye there. And Mosés did as the Lord had commanded: & they went vp into the mount Hor, in the sight of all the Congregacion. And Mosés put of Aarons clothes, and put them vpon Eleazár his sonne: so Aarón dyed there in the top of the mount: and Mosés and Eleazár came downe from of the mount. ¶ When King Arád the Canaanite, which dwelt toward the South, heard tel that Israél came by the waie of the spies, then foght he against Israél, and toke of them prisoners. So Israél vowed a vowe vnto the Lord, and said, If thou wilt deliuer and giue this people into mine hand, then I wil vtterly destroye their cities. And the Lord heard the voyce of Israél, and deliuered them the Canaanites: & they vtterly destroyed them and their cities, & called the name of the place Hormáh. ¶ After, they departed from the mount Hor by the way of the red Sea, to compass the land of Edóm: and the people were sore grieued because of the way. And the people spake against God and against Mosés, saying, Wherefore haue ye broght vs out of Egypt, to dye in the wilderness? for here is nether bread nor water, and our soule lotheth this light bread. ¶ Wherefore the Lord sent a fiery serpentes among the people which stog the people: so that manie of the people of Israél dyed. Therefore the people came to Mosés and said, We haue sinned: for we haue spoken against the Lord, and against thee: praye to the Lord, that he take away the serpents from vs: and Mosés prayed for the people. And the Lord said vnto Mosés, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it vp for a signe, that as manie as are bitten, may loke vpon it, and liue. So Mosés made a serpent of brasse, and set it vp for a signe: and when a serpent had bitten a man, then he looked to the serpent of brasse, and liued. ¶ And the children of Israél departed thence, and pitched in Obóth. ¶ And they departed from Obóth, and pitched in Iie-abarím, in the wilderness, which is before Moáb on the Eastside. ¶ They remoued thence, and pitched vpon the riuier of Záred. ¶ Thence they departed, and pitched on the other side of Arnón, which is in the wilderness, and commeth out of the costes of the Amorites: (for Arnón is the border of Moáb, betwene the Moabites and the Amorites) ¶ Wherefore it shalbe spoken in the boke of the battels of the Lord, what thing he did in the red Sea, and in the riuers of Arnón, And at the streame of y riuers that goeth downe to y dwelling of Ar, and lieth vpon the

CHAP. XXX.

3 Concerning vowes. 4 The Vowe of the maid, 7 Of the wife, 10 Of the widow, or deuorced.

1 Then Moses spake vnto the childre of Israel according to all that the Lord had commanded him,

2 Moses also spake vnto the heades of the tribes concerning the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded,

3 Whosoever voweth a vow vnto y^e Lord, or sweareth an othe to bide him selfe by a bonde, he shal not breake his promises, but shal do accordig to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.

4 If a woman also vowe a vowe vnto the Lord, & bide her selfe by a bōde, being in her fathers house, in y^e time of her youth, and her father heare her vowe & bōde, wherewith she hath bounde her selfe, and her father holde his peace concerning her, then all her vowes shal stand & euery bonde, wherewith she hath bounde her selfe, shall stand.

5 And her father heare her vowe & bōde, wherewith she hath bounde her selfe, and her father holde his peace concerning her, then all her vowes shal stand & euery bonde, wherewith she hath bounde her selfe, shall stand.

6 But if her father disallowe her the same daye that he heareth all her vowes & bondes, wherewith she hath bounde her selfe, they shal not be of value, and the Lord wil forgie her, because her father disallowed her.

7 And if she haue an ho^d sbād whē she voweth or ^d pronounceth o^{gh} w^h her lippes, whē with she bindeth her selfe, 8 If her housband heard it and holdeth his peace cōcerning her, the same day he heareth it, then her vowe shal stand, and her bondes wherewith she bindeth her selfe shal stand in effect.
9 But if her housband disalowe her the same day that he heareth it, then shal he make her vowe which she hathe made, & that that she hathe pronouced with her lippes, wherewith she bonde her selfe, of none effect. and the Lord wil forgieue her.
10 But euerie vowe of a widowe, and of her that is deuorced (wherewith she hathe bode her selfe) shal stand in effect with her.
11 And if she vowed in her housbandes house, or bo^de her selfe strictly with an othe,
12 And her housband hathe heard it, & helde his peace concerning her, not disalowing her, then all her vowes shal stand, & euerie bonde, wherewith she bo^d her selfe,
shal stand in effect.
13 But if her housband disanulled them, the same day that he heard them, nothing that proceded out of her lippes concerning her vowes or concerning her bo^des, shal stand in effect: for her housband hathe disanulled them. and the Lord wil forgieue her.
14 So euerie vowe, and euerie othe or bon-de, made to ^h humble the soule, her housband may stablish it, or her housband may breake it.
15 But if her housband holde his peace cōcerning her f. 6^t day to day, thē he stabisheth all her vowes and all her bondes which she hathe made: he hathe cōfirmed them because he held his peace concerning her the same day that he heard them.
16 But if he ^k breake them after that he ha-the heard them, then shal he beare her inquitie.
17 These are the ordināces which the Lord commanded Mosēs, betwene a man & his wife, & betwene the father and his daughter, being yong in her fathers house.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Mosēs, saying,
2 *Reuenge the children of Israēl of the Midianites, & afterward shalt thou be gathered vnto thy people.
3 And Mosēs spake to the people, saying, Harnes some of you vnto warre, and let them go against Midian, to execute the vengeance of the Lord * against Midian.
4 A thousand of euerie tribe through out all the tribes of Israēl, shal ye send to the warre.

5 So there were taken out of the thousands of Israēl, twelue thousand prepared vnto warre, of euerie tribe a thousand.
6 And Mosēs sent them to the warre, ^{even} a thousand of euerie tribe, and sent them with Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest to the warre & the holy instruments:
that is, the trumpets to blowe ⁱⁿ his hand.
7 And they warred against Midian, as the Lord had commanded Mosēs, & slue all the males.
8 They slue also 5 Kings of Midian among them that were ilane. *Eui and Kékem, & Zur, & Hur & Réba siue kings of Midian, and they slue * Balaam the sonne of Be^o:
with the sword:
9 But the children of Israēl toke the womē of Midian prisoners, and their children & spoyled all their cattel, & all their flockes, and all their goods.
10 And they burnt all their cities, wherein they dwelt, and all their villages with fire.
11 And they toke all the spoyle & all the praye bothe of men & beastes.
12 And they broght the ^d captiues and that which they had taken, and the spoyle vnto Mosēs and to Eleazar the Priest, and vnto the Congregation of the children of Is-raēl, into the cāpe in the plaine of Moab, which was by Iordén toward Ierichō.
13 ¶ Then Mosēs and Eleazar the Priest, & all the princes of the Congregation went out of the campe to meete them.
14 And Mosēs was angry with the captai-nes of the hoste, with the captaines ouer thousands, & captaines ouer hundreds, which came from the warre and bartel.
15 And Mosēs said vnto them, What haue ye sauēd all the ^w women?

Israēl through the * counsel of Balaam, to commit a trespas against the Lord, f as cō-

21 ¶ And Eleazár the Priest said vnto the men of warre, which went to the battel, This is the ordinance of the lawe which the Lord commanded Mosés,

22 As for golde, and siluer, brasse, yron, tynne, and lead:

23 Euen all that may abyde the fire, ye shal make it go through the fire, and it shalbe cleane: yet, it shalbe purified with the water of purification: and all that suffreth not the fire, ye shal cause to passe by the water.

24 Ye shal wash also your clothes the seuen day, and ye shalbe cleane: and afterward ye shal come into the Hoste.

25 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Mosés, saying,

26 Take the summe of the prae that was taken, bothe of persones and of cattel, thou and Eleazár the Priest, & the chief fathers of the Congregation.

27 And deuide the prae betwene the soldiers that went to the warre, and all the Congregation.

28 And thou shalt take a tribute vnto the Lord of the men of warre, which went out to battel: one persone of five hundred, bothe of the persones, and of the beues, & of the asses, and of the shepe.

29 Ye shal take it of their halfe and giue it vnto Eleazár the Priest, as an heaue offering of the Lord.

30 But of the halfe of the children of Israél thou shalt take one, taken out of fiftie, bothe of the persones, of the beues, of the asses, and of the shepe, euen of all the cattel: and thou shalt giue them vnto the Leuites, which haue the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord.

31 And Mosés and Eleazár the Priest did as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

32 And the bootie, to wit, the rest of the prae which the men of warre had spoiled, was six hundred seuentie and five thousand shepe,

33 And thre hundred and two thousand beues,

34 And thre score and one thousand asses,

35 And two and thirtie thousand persones, in all of women that had lynced by no man.

36 And the halfe, to wit, the parte of them that went out to warre touching the number of shepe, was thre hundred seuen and thirtie thousand, and five hundred.

37 And the Lords tribute of the shepe was six hundred and seuentie and five.

38 And the beues were six and thirtie thousand, whereof the Lords tribute was seuentie and two.

39 And the asses were thirtie thousand and five hundred, whereof the Lords tribute was thre score and one:

40 And of persones sixtene thousand, whereof the Lords tribute was two & thirtie persones.

41 And Mosés gaue the tribute of the Lords offering vnto Eleazár the Priest, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

42 And of the halfe of the children of Israél, which Mosés deuicd from the men of warre;

43 (For the halfe that pertained vnto the Congregation) was thre hundred thirtie and seuen thousand shepe and five hundred,

44 And six and thirtie thousand beues,

45 And thirtie thousand asses, and five hundred,

46 And sixtene thousand persones.

47 Mosés, I say, toke of the halfe that pertained vnto the children of Israél, one taken out of fiftie, bothe of the persones & of the cattel, and gaue them vnto the Leuites, which haue the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

48 ¶ Then the captaines which were ouer thousands of the hoste, the captaines ouer the hundreds, and the captaines ouer the hundreds came vnto Mosés:

49 And said to Mosés, Thy seruants haue taken the summe of the men of warre which are vnder our autoritie, and there lacketh not one man of vs.

50 ¶ We haue therefore brought a present vnto the Lord, what euerie man founde of iewels of golde, bracelets, and chemes, rings, eare rings, and ornaments of the legs, to make an atonement for our soules before the Lord.

51 And Mosés and Eleazár the Priest toke the golde of them, and all weight iewels.

52 And all the golde of the offering that they offered vp to the Lord, (of the captaines ouer thousands and hundreds) was sixtene thousand seuen hundred & fiftie shekels,

53 (For the men of warre had spoiled, euerie man for him self)

54 And Mosés and Eleazár the Priest toke the golde of the captaines out the thousands, and ouer the hundreds, and brought it into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, for a memorial of the children of Israél before the Lord.

Of that prae which was deuicd vnto them, in deuicding the spoile.

1 Now the children of Reubén and the children of Gád had an exceeding great multitude of cattel: and they sawe the land of Iazér, and the land of Gileád, that it was an apt place for cattel.

2 Then the children of Gád, and the children of Reubén came, & spake vnto Moses and to Eleazar the Priest, and vnto the princes of the Congregation, saying,

3 The land of Ataróth, and Dibón, and Iaz-

4 Which countrey the Lord smote before for cattel, and thy seruants haue cattel:

5 Wherefore, said thei, If we haue founde grace in thy sight, let this land be giuen vnto thy seruants for a possession, & bring vs not ouer Iordén.

6 And Moses said vnto the childre of Gad, and to the children of Reubén, shal your brethren go to warre, and ye tary here?

7 Wherefore now? discouraige ye y heart of the children of Israél, to go ouer into the land, which the Lord hath giuen the?

8 Thus did your fathers when I sent them from Kadésh-barnéa to se the land.

9 For when they went vp euen vnto the ryuer of Eschol, and sawe the land: they discouraged the heart of the children of Israél, that thei wolde not go into the lād, which the Lord had giuen them.

10 And the Lords wrath was kindled the sa-

15 For if ye turne away fró following him, he wil yet againe leaue the people in y wil-

17 But we our selues wil be ready armed to 24 Builde you then cities for your children

Unto the Leuites are giuen cities and suburbs. 11 The cities of refuge 16 The lawe of murder. 30 For one mans finnes shal no man be condemned.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Mosés in ý plaine of Moáb by Iordén, toward Ierichó, saying,

2 *Commande the children of Israél, that they giue vnto the Leuites of the inher- itance of their possession, b cities to dwell in: ye shal giue also vnto the Leuites the suburbs of the cities round about them.

3 So they shal haue the cities to dwell in, & then suburbs shalbe for their cattel, and for their substance, & for all their beastes.

4 And the suburbs of the cities, which ye shal giue vnto the Leuites, from the wall of the citie outwarde, shalbe a thousand cubites round about.

5 And ye shal meafure without the citie of the Eastside, c two thousand cubites: and of the Southside, two thousand cubites: & of the Westside, two thousand cubites: & of the Northside, two thousand cubites: & the citie shalbe in the middes. this shalbe the meafure of the suburbs of their cities.

6 And of the cities which ye shal giue vnto the Leuites, there shalbe lix cities for refuge, which ye shal appoint, that he which killeth, may flee thither: & to them ye shal adde two and fourty cities mo.

7 All the cities which ye shal giue to ý Leuites, shalbe eight and fourtie cities: them shal ye giue with their suburbs.

8 And concerning the cities which ye shal giue, of the possession of the children of Israél: of many ye shal take mo, and of fewe ye shal take lesse: euerie one shal giue of his cities vnto the Leuites, according to his inheritance, which he inheri- teth.

9 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Mosés, saying, 10 Speake vnto the children of Israél, and say vnto them, * When ye be come ouer Iordén into the land of Canáan, 11 Ye shal appoint you cities, to be cities of refuge for you, that the slayer, which slayeth anie persone vnwares, may flee thither.

18 Or if he smite him with an hád weapon of wood, wherewith he may be slaine, if he dye, he is a murderere, and the murderere shal dye the death.

6 An ordre for the marriage of the daughters of Zelophehad 7 The inheritances colde not be giuen from one tribe to another.

Then^a the chief fathers of the familie of the sonnes of Gilead, the sonne of Machir the sonne of Manasséh, of the families of the sonnes of Ioséph, came, and spake before Mosés, and before the princes, the chief fathers of the children of Israél,

2 And said, *The Lord commanded^b my lord to giue the land to inherite by lot to the children of Israél: and my lord was commanded by the Lord, to giue the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother vnto his daughters.

3 If they be married to anie of the sonnes of the ^{ether} tribes of the childre of Israél then shal their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of our fathers, & shal be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shalbe. so shal it be taken away from the lot of our inheritance.

4 Also when the Iubile of the children of Israél commeth, then shal their inheritance be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shalbe for shal their inheritance be takē away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

5 Then Mosés commanded the children of Israél, according to the worde of the Lord, saying, The tribe of the sonnes of Ioséph haue sayd ^d wel.

6 This is the thing that the Lord hath commanded, concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, They shal be wyues, to whome they thinke best, oney to the familie of the tribe of their father shal they mary:

7 So shal not the inheritance of the children of Israél remoue from tribe to tribe, for euerie one of the children of Israél shal ioyne him selfe to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

8 And euerie daughter that possesseth anie inheritance of the tribes of the children of Israél, shal be wife vnto one of the familie of the tribe of her father: that the children of Israél may enioye euerie man the inheritance of their fathers.

9 Nether shal the inheritance go about from tribe to tribe: but euerie one of the tribes of the children of Israél shal sticke to his owne inheritance.

10 As the Lord commanded Mosés, so did the daughters of Zelophehad.

11 For *Mahláh, Tirzáh, and Higláh, and Milcáh, and Noáh the daughters of Zelophehad were married vnto their fathers brothers sonnes, 12 They were wyues to ^{certaine} of the families of the sonnes of Manasséh the sonne of Ioséph: so their inheritance remained in the tribe of the familie of their father.

13 These are the ^f commandements and lawes which the Lord commanded by the hand of Mosés, vnto the children of Israél in the plaine of Moáb, by Iordén toward Ierichó.

THE FIFTH BOKE OF

Mofés, called* Deuteronomie.

THE ARGUMENT.

The wonderful loue of God toward his Church is liuely set forth in this boke. For albeit through their ingratitude and sundry rebellions against God, for the space of forty yeres, Deu. 9, 7, they had deserued to haue bene cut of from the nuber of his people, and for euer to haue bene deprived of the vse of his holy worde, & sacraments: yet he did euer preserue his Church euen for his owne mercies sake, and wolde stil haue his Name called vpon among them. Wherefore he bringeth them into the land of Canaan, destroyeth their enemies, giueth them their countrey, townes, and goodes, and exhorteth them by the example of their fathers (whose infidelitie, idolatrie, adulteries, murmurings and rebellion, he had moste sharply punished) to feare and obey the Lord, to embrace and kepe his lawe without adding ther vnto or diminishing there from. For by his worde he wolde be knowen to be their God, and they his people: by his worde he wolde gouerne his Church, and by the same they shulde learne to obey him. by his worde he wolde discerne the false Prophet from the true, light from darknes, error from knowledge, and his owne people from all other nations and infidels: teaching them thereby to refuse and detest, destroy and abolish whatsoeuer is not agreable to his holy wil, seme it otherwise neuer so good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cause God promised to raise vp Kings and gouernours, for the setting forth of this worde and preseruacion of his Church: giuing vnto them an especial charge for the executing thereof: whome therefore he willett to exercise them selues diligently in the continuall studie and meditation of the same: that they might learne to feare the Lord, loue their subiects, abhorre covetousnes and vice, and whatsoeuer offendeth the maiestie of God. And as he had to fore instructed their fathers in all things appertaining, bothe to his spiritual seruice, and also for the maintenance of that societie which is betwene men: so he prescribeth here anewe, all suche lawes and ordinances, which ether concerne his Diuine seruice, or els are necessarie for a comon weale: appointing vnto euerie estate and degree their charge and duetie: as wel, how to rule and lue in the feare of God, as to nourish friendship toward their neighbours, and to preserue that ordre which God hath established among men: threatening with all, moste horrible plagues to them that transgress his commandements, and promising all blessings & felicitie to suche as obserue and obey them.

* That is, a seconde lawe: so called, because the Lawe w^{ch} God gaue in mount Siná, is here repeated, as though it were a newe Law and this boke is a commentarie or exposition of the 10^e commandments.

30 The Lord your God, ^t who goeth before you, he shal fight for you, according to all that he did vnto you in Egypt before your eyes,

31 And in the wildernes, where thou hast sene how the Lord thy God bare thee, as a man doeth beare his sonne, in all the way which ye haue gone, vntil ye came vnto this place.

34 Then the Lord heard the voyce of your wordes, and was wroth, and sware, saying, 37 *Also the Lord was angry with me for your sakes, saying, * Thou also shalt not go in thither, Nomb. 20. 12. & 27. 14.

38 But Ioshua the sonne of Nun which stādeth before thee, he shal go in thither: encourage him: for he shal cause Israēl to inherit it. Chap. 3. 26. & 4. 21. & 34. 4.

39 Moreouer, your ^u children, which ye said shulde be a pray, and your sonnes, which in that day had no knowledge betwene good and euil, they shal go in thither, and vnto them wil I giue it, and they shal possesse it. t Which misseeth vnto thee. u Which were vnder twenty yere olde, 36 Nomb. 14. 31.

40 But as for you, turne backe, & take your iourney into the wildernes by the way of the red Sea.

42 But the Lord said vnto me, Say vnto thē, Go not vp, nether fight, (for I am ^y not amōg you) lest ye fall before your enemies.

43 And whē I tolde you, ye wolde not heare, but rebelled against the commandemēt of the Lord, and were presumptuous, and went vp into the mounteine. y Signifying, that man hath no strength, but when God is at hand to helpe him.

44 Then the Amorites which dwelt in that mounteine came out against you, & chased you (as bees vse to do) and destroyed you in Scir, euē vnto Hormah.

45 And when ye came againe, ye wept before the Lord, but the Lord wolde not ^z heare your voyce, nor incline his cares vnto you. z Because ye rather shewed your hypocrisie, then true repentance: rather lamētting: y^e losse of your brethren, thē repenting for your finnes.

46 So ye abode in Kadēsh a long time, according to the time that ye had remained before.

3 Ye haue compassed this mountaine long ynough: turne you Northwarde.

4 And warne thou the people, saying, Ye shal go through the coast of your brethren the children of Esau, which dwel in Seir, and they shal be afraid of you: take ye good hede therefore.

8 And when we were departed fro our brethren the children of Esau which dwelt in Seir, through the way of the plaine, from Elath, & from Ezion-gaber, we turned and went by the way of the wilderness of Moab.

9 Then the Lord said vnto me, Thou shalt not vex Moab, nether prouoke them to battel: for I wil not giue thee of their land for a possession, because I haue giuen Ar vnto the children of Lot for a possession.

10 The Emims dwelt therein in times past, a people great, & many, and tall, as the Anakims.

11 They also were taken for gyantes as the Anakims: whome the Moabites call Emims.

12 The Horims also dwelt in Seir before time, whome the children of Esau chased out and destroyed them befoie them, and dwelt in their stede: as Isi ael shal do vnto the land of his possession, which the Lord hath giuen them.

13 Now rise vp, said I, and get you ouer the riuier Zeréd: and we went ouer the riuier Zeréd.

14 The space also wherein we came from Kadesh-barnea vntil we were come ouer the riuier Zeréd, was eight and thirtie yeres, vntil all the generacion of the men of warre were wasted out from among the hoste, as the Lord sware vnto them.

15 For in dede the hand of the Lord was against them, to destroye them fro among the hoste, til they were consumed.

16 ¶ So when all the men of warre were consumed and dead from among the people:

17 Then the Lord spake vnto me, saying, Thou shalt go through Ar the coast of Moab this day:

19 And thou shalt come nere ouer against the children of Ammon: but shalt not lay siege vnto them, nor moue warre against them: for I wil not giue thee of the land of the children of Ammon a possession: for I haue giuen it vnto the children of Lot for a possession.

20 That also was taken for a land of gyants: for gyants dwelt therein a foie time, whome the Ammonites called Zamzumims:

21 A people that was great, & many, & tall, as the Anakims: but the Lord destroyed them before them, & they succeded them in their inheritance, and dwelt in their stede:

22 As he did to the children of Esau which dwel in Seir, when he destroyed the Horims before them, & they possessed them, and dwelt in their stede vnto this day.

23 And the Auims which dwelt in Hazerim euen vnto Azzah, the Capthorims which came out of Capthor destroyed them, and dwelt in their stede.

24 ¶ Rise vp therefore, said the Lord: take your iourney, and passe ouer the riuier Arnon: beholde, I haue giuen into thy hand Sihon: the Amorite, King of Heshbon, and his land: begin to possesse it and prouoke him to battel.

25 This day wil I begin to send thy feare & thy dread, vpon all people vnder the heauens, which shal heare thy fame & shal tremble and quake befoie thee.

26 Then I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kedemoth vnto Sihon King of Heshbon, with wordes of peace, saying, 27 ¶ Let me passe through thy land: I wil go by the hie way: I wil nether turne vnto the right hand nor to the left.

28 Thou shalt sel me meat for money, for to eat, and shalt giue me water for money for to drinke: onely I wil go through on my fote, 30 But Sihon the King of Heshbon wolde not let vs passe by him: for the Lord thy God had hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinat, because he wolde deliuer him into thine hand, as appeareth this day.

1 Now therefore hearken, o Israél, vnto the ordinances and to the lawes w I teache you to a do, that ye may liue and go in, & possesse the land, which the Lord God of your fathers giueth you.

2 Ye shal b put nothing vnto the worde which I commande you, neither shal ye take ought there from, that ye may kepe the commandements of the Lord your God which I commande you.

7 For what nacion is so great, vnto whome the gods come so neie vnto them, as the Lord our God is e nere vnto vs, in all that we call vnto him for?

8 And what nacion is so great, that hathe ordinances and lawes so righteous, as all this Lawe, which I set before you this day?

daies of thy life: but teache the thy sonnes, and thy sonnes sonnes:

10 Forget not the day that thou stodest before the Lord thy God in Horéb, when y Lord said vnto me, Gather me the people together, and I wil caufe them heare my wordes, that they may learne to feare me all the dayes that they shal liue vpon the earth, and that they may teache their children:

11 Then came you nere & stode vnder the mountaine & the mountaine burnt with fire vnto the middes of heauen, and there was darcknes, cloudes and mist.

12 And the Lord spake vnto you out of the middes of the fire, and ye heard the voyce of the wordes, but sawe no similitude, saue a voyce.

14 ¶ And the Lord commanded me that same time, that I shulde teache you ordinances and lawes, which ye shulde obserue in the land, whither ye go, to possesse it.

15 Take therefore good hede vnto your selues: for ye sawe no l image in the day that the Lord spake vnto you in Horéb out of the middes of the fire:

19 And lest thou lift vp thine eyes vnto heauen, and when thou seest the sunne and the moone and the starres with all the hoste of heauen, shuldest be driuen to worshipping them and serue them, which the Lord thy God hathe m distributed to all people vnder the whole heauen.

20 But the Lord hathe také you and brought you out of the n yron fornace: out of Egypt to be vnto him a people and inheritance, as appeareth this day.

21 And the Lord was angry with me for your wordes, and sware that I shulde not go ouer Iordén, & that I shulde not go in vnto that good land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for an inheritance.

22 For I must dye in this land, and shal not go ouer Iordén: but o ye shal go ouer, and possesse that good land.

the Lord thy God hath charged thee.

24 For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, and a ielous God.

25 ¶ When thou shalt beget children and childrens children, and shalt haue remained long in the land, if ye conuict your selues, and make anie grauen image, or likenes of anie thing, and worke euil in the sight of the Lord thy God, to prouoke him to anger,

26 I call heauen and earth to recorde against you this day, that ye shal shortly perish from the land, whereunto ye go ouer Iordén to possesse it: ye shal not prolong your daies therein, but shal vtterly be destroyed.

27 And the Lord shal scatter you among the people, & ye shalbe left fewe in number among the nacions, whether the Lord shalbring you:

28 And there ye shal serue gods, euen the worke of mans hand, wood, & stone, which nether see, nor heare, nor eat, nor smel.

29 But if from thence thou shalt seke the Lord thy God, thou shalt finde him, if thou seke him with all thine heart, and with all thy soule.

30 When thou art in tribulacion, and all these things are come vpon thee, at the length, if thou returne to the Lord thy God, and be obedient vnto his voyce, 31 (For the Lord thy God is a merciful God) he wil not forsake thee, nether destroye thee nor forget the couenant of thy fathers, which he swaie vnto them.

32 For inquite now of the daies y are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man vpon the earth, and aske from the one end of heauē vnto the other, if there came to passe suche a great thing as this, or whether anie suche like thing hath bene heard.

33 Did euer people heare y voyce of God speaking out of the middes of a fire, as thou hast heard, and liued?

34 Or hath God assayed to go & take him a nacion from among nacions, by tentacions, by signes, and by wonders, and by warre, and by a mighty hand, & by a stretched out arme, and by great feare, according vnto all that the Lord your God did vnto you in Egypt before your eyes?

35 Vnto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest knowe, that the Lord he is God, and that there is none but he alone.

36 Out of heauē he made thee heare his voyce to instruct thee, & vpon earth he shewed thee his great fire, and thou heardest his voyce out of the middes of the fire.

37 And because he loued thy fathers, therefore he chose their sēde after them, and hath brought thee out of Egypt in his sight, by his mighty power, 38 To thrust out nacions greater and mightier the thou, before thee, to bring thee in, and to giue thee their land for inheritance: as appeareth this day.

39 Vnderstand therefore this day, and consider in thine heart, that y Lord, he is God in heauen aboue, and vpon the earth beneath: there is none other.

40 Thou shalt kepe therefore his ordinances, and his commandements which I commaunde thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy childre after thee, and that thou maiest prolong thy dayes vpon the earth, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for euer.

41 ¶ Then Moses separated thre cities on this side of Iordén toward the sonne rising:

42 That the slayer shulde flee thither, which had killed his neighbour at vnwares, and hated him not in time past, might flee, I say, vnto one of those cities, and liue:

43 That is, * Bézer in the wildernes, in the plaine cuntry of the Reubenites: and Ramóth in Gileád among the Gadites: & Golán in Bashán among them of Manasséh.

44 ¶ So this, is the lawe which Moses set before the children of Israél.

45 These are the witnesses, and the ordinances, and the lawes which Moses declared to the children of Israél after they came out of Egypt,

46 On this side Iordén, in the valey ouer against Beth-peór, in the land of Sihón King of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbón, whome Moses and the children of Israél smote, after they were come out of Egypt:

47 And they possessed his land, and the lād of * Og King of Bashán, two Kings of the Amorites, which were on this side Iordén toward the sonne rising: *

48 From Aioér, which is by the banke of the riuer Arnón, euen vnto mount Sión, which is Hermón, a Some read, } God made not this couenant, that is, in such ample sort & with such signes and wonders b So plainly that you neede not to doute thereof.

The Lord a made not this couenāt with our fathers, onely, but with vs, men with vs all here alieue this day.

Exod. 20. 2. leu. 16. 1. psal 96. 7. Or, seruants. c God bindeth vs to serue him onely, without superstition and idolatrie

The Lord talked with you b face to face in the mount, out of the middes of the fire.

Exod 34. 7. ier 32. 18. d That is, of his honour, not permitting it to be giuen to other.

(At that time I stode betwene the Lord and you, to declare vnto you the worde of the Lord: for ye were afraide at the sight of the fire, & went not vp into the mount) and he said, e The first degree to kepe & comādements is, to loue God

I am the Lord thy God, which haue broght thee out of the land of Egypt, frō the house of bondage.

f Meaning, since God putteth six daies to our labours, that we ought willingly to dedicate the seuenth to serue him wholly.

Thou shalt haue none c other gods before my face.

Thou shalt make thee no grauen image, or anie likenes of that y is in heauen aboue, or which is in the earth beneth, or that is in the waters vnder the earth.

Thou shalt nether bowe thy self vnto them, nor serue them: for I the Lord thy God am a d ielous God, visiting the iniquitie of the fathers vpon the children, euen vnto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me:

And shewing mercie vnto thousands of them that e loue me, and kepe my commandements.

Thou shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vaine: for the Lord wil not hoide him giltles, that taketh his Name in vaine.

Kepe the Sabbath day, to sanctifie it, as the Lord thy God hathe comāded thee.

Six daies f thou shalt labour, and shalt do all thy worke:

But the seuenth day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: y shalt not do anie worke therein, thou, nor thy sonne, nor thy daughter, nor thy man seruante, nor thy maide, nor thine oxe, nor thine asse, nether anie of thy cattel, nor the stranger that is within thy gates: that thy man seruāt and thy maide may rest aswel as thou.

g Not for a shewe, but v true obedience, and due reverence.

For, remember that thou wast a seruant in the lād of Egypt, and that the Lord the God broght thee out thence by a mighty hand and a stretched out arme: therefore the Lord thy God commāded thee to obserue the Sabbath day.

Matth 5. 21. Luk. 18. 20. Rom 13. 9. Rom 7. 7 h He speaketh not onely of y resolucio v il, but that there be no motion or affection

Thou shalt honour thy father & thy mother, as the Lord thy God hathe commāded thee: that thy daies may be prolonged, and that it may go wel with thee vpon the land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

Thou shalt not kil.

Nether shalt thou commit adulteric.

Nether shalt thou steale.

Nether shalt thou beare false witness against thy neighbour.

Nether shalt thou desire thy neighbours wife, nether shalt thou desire thy neighbours house, his field, nor his man seruant, nor his maide, his oxe, nor his asse, nor ought that thy neighbour hathe.

These wordes the Lord spake vnto all your multitude in the mount out of the middes of the fire, the cloude & the darkenes, with a great voyce, and added no more thereto: and wrote them vpon two tables of stone, and deliuered them vnto me.

i Teaching vs by his exāple to be content w his worde & adde nothing thereto.

And when ye heard the voyce out of the middes of the darkenes, (for y mountaine did burne with fire,) then ye came to me, all the chief of your tribes, and your Elders:

And ye said, Beholde, the Lord our God hath shewed vs his glorie & his greatnes, & we haue heard his voyce out of y middes of the fire: we haue sene this day that God doeth talke with man, and he liueth.

Exod. 19. 19. Chap. 4. 8.

Now therefore, why shulde we dye: for this great fire wil consume vs: if we heare the voyce of the Lord our God anie more, we shal dye.

For what flesh was there euer, that heard the voyce of the liuing God speaking out of the middes of the fire as we haue, & liued?

10. man

Go thou nere and heare all that y Lord our God saith: and declare thou vnto vs all that the Lord our God sayeth vnto thee: and we wil heare it, and do it.

Exod 20. 29.

Then the Lord heard the voyce of your wordes, when ye spake vnto me: and the Lord said vnto me, I haue heard the voyce of the wordes of this people, which they haue spoken vnto thee: they haue wel said, all that they haue spoken.

Oh that there were such an heart in them to feare me, and to kepe all my commandements alway: that it might go wel with them, and with their children for euer.

k He requireth of vs nothing but obediēce, shewing alfof of our selues we are vnwilling thereto:

Go, say vnto them, Returne you into your tentes.

But stand thou here with me, & I wil tel thee all the commandements, and the ordinances, and the lawes, which thou shalt teache them: that they may do them in the land which I giue them to possesse it.

Take hede therefore, that ye do as the Lord your God hathe commanded you: I turne not aside to the right hand nor to the left,

l Ye shal nether adoe nor diminish

As ye walke in all the wayes which the Lord your God hath commanded you, that ye may liue, and that it may go wel with you: & that ye may prolong your dayes in the land which ye shal possesse.

m As by obediēce, God giueth vs all felicitie: soof disobedieyng God pcedeth all our miseries.

same must be taught to the posteritie. 16 Not to tempt God. 25 Righteousnes is contained in the Lawe.

Or, iudgements.

A reuerent feare and loue of God, is the first beginning to keepe Gods commandements.

Which hath the abundance of all things appertaining to mans life.

Some read, y their wher them vpon thy children: to wit, that they may printe the more depely in memorie.

Or, signes of remembrance.

That when y erreth in, thou maiest remember them.

Let not well the and ease cause thee for get Gods mercies, wherby thou wast deliuered out of miserie f We must feare God, serue him onely, and confesse his Name, which is done by swearing lawfully.

By doubting of his power 16 refusing laudal meanes, & abusing his gra- 17.

1 These now are the comandements, or dinances, and lawes, which the Lord your God commanded me to teache you, that ye might do them in the land whether ye go to possesse it:

2 That thou mightest feare the Lord thy God, and kepe all his ordinances, and his commandements which I commade thee, thou, and thy sonne, and thy sonnes sonne all the dayes of thy life, euen that thy dayes may be prolonged.

3 Heare therefore, O Israél, and take hede to do it, that it may go wel with thee, and that ye may increase mightly in the land that floweth with milke and hony, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee.

4 Heare, O Israél, The Lord our God is Lord onely,

5 And thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy might.

6 And these wordes which I commande thee this day, shalbe in thine heart.

7 And thou shalt rehearse them continually vnto thy children, and shalt talke of them when thou tariest in thine house, and as thou walkest by the way, and when thou lyeest downe, and when thou risest vp:

8 And thou shalt binde them for a signe vpon thine hand, and they shalbe as frontlets betwene thine eyes.

9 Also thou shalt write them vpon the postes of thyne house, and vpon thy gates.

10 And when the Lord thy God hath brought thee into the land, which he swa- re vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhák, and Iakób, to giue to thee, with great and goodly cities which thou buyldedst not,

11 And houses ful of all maner of goods which thou filledst not, and wels digged which thou diggedst not, vineyardes and oliue trees which thou plantedst not, and when thou hast eaten and art ful, 12 Beware lest thou forget the Lord, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, fro the house of bondage.

13 Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God, and serue him, & shalt sweare by his Name.

14 Ye shal not walke after other gods, after anie of the gods of the people which are round about you, 15 (For the Lord thy God is a ielous God among you:) lest the wrathe of the Lord thy God be kindeled against thee, and destroy thee from the face of the earth.

16 Ye shal not tempt the Lord your God, as ye did tempt him in Massáh:

17 But ye shal keepe diligently the comman-demets of the Lord your God, and his testimo- nies, and his ordinances which he hath commanded thee,

18 And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord: that thou maiest prosper, and that thou maiest go in, and possesse that good land which the Lord swa- re vnto thy fathers, 19 To cast out all thine enemies before thee, as the Lord hath said.

20 When thy sonne shal aske thee in time to come, saying, What meane these testi- monies, and ordinances, and lawes, which the Lord our God hath commanded you?

21 Then thou shalt say vnto thy sonne, We were Pharaohs bondmen in Egypt: but the Lord brought vs out of Egypt with a mighty hand.

22 And the Lord shewed signes and won- ders great & euil vpon Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his housholde, before our eyes, 23 And brought vs out from thence, to bring vs in, and to giue vs the land which he swa- re vnto our fathers.

24 Therefore the Lord hath commanded vs, to do all these ordinances, & to feare the Lord our God, that it may go euer wel with vs, & that he may preserue vs a li- ue as at this present.

25 Moreouer, this shal be our righteous- nes before the Lord our God, if we take hede to keepe all the se commandements, as he hath commanded vs.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Israelites may make no couenant with the Gen- tiles. 5 They must destroy the idoles 8 The electio depen- deth on the fre loue of God. 19 The experience of the power of God ought to confirme vs. 25 To auoida all occasion of idolatrie.

1 When the Lord thy God shal bring thee into the land whither thou goest to possesse it, & shal roote out manie nacions before thee: the Hittites, and the Girgashites, & the Amorites, & the Canaanites, & the Perizzites, & the Hi- uites, and the Iebusites, seuen naciós greater and mightier then thou,

2 And the Lord thy God shal giue them before thee, then thou shalt smite them: thou shalt vtterly destroy the: thou shalt make no couenant with them, nor haue compas- sion on them,

3 Nether shalt thou make mariages with them, nether giue thy daughter vnto his sonne nor take his daughter vnto thy sonne.

4 For they wil cause thy sonne to turne away from me, & to serue other gods: then wil the wrath of the Lord waxe hote against you and destroy thee sodenly.

5 But thus ye shal deale with them, Ye shal.

Here he ex- demneth all mans good in- tentions.

c Frely, hadig no cause in you more thē in others so no do.

8 But because y Lord eloued you, & because he wolde kepe the othe which he had sworne vnto your fathers, the Lord hath brought you out by a mighty hand and deliuered you out of the house of bondage from the hand of Pharaoh King of Egypt,

11 Kepe thou therefore the commandements, and the ordinances, and the lawes, which I commande thee this day to do them.

12 ¶ For if ye hearken vnto these lawes, and obserue and do them, then the Lord thy God shal kepe with thee the couenant, & the fmercy which he swaie vnto thy fathers.

f This couenāt is grounded vpon his fre graces: h. i. f. for in recouering thir vnde d. i. he hath the respect to his mercie & not to their merites.

13 And he wil loue thee, and blesse thee, & multiplie thee: he wil also blesse the frute of thy wombe, and the frute of thy land: thy corne and thy wine, and thine oyle & the increase of thy kine, and the flockes of thy shepe in the land, which he swaie vnto thy fathers to giue thee.

14 Thou shalt be blessed about all people: *there shalbe nether male nor female barē among you, nor among your catel.

Exod. 23. 26.

i So y it is your comoditie y God accomplish not his promise so sone as you wolde wish.

23 But the Lord thy God shal giue them before thee, and shal destroy them with a mighty destruction, vntil they be brought to nocht.

24 And he shal deliuer their Kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name from vnder heauen: there shal no man be able to stand before thee, vntil thou hast destroyed them.

2 God humbleth the Israelites to trie what they haue in their heart. 3 God chasticeth them as his childre 14 The heart ought not to be proude for Gods benefites 19 The forgetfulness of Gods benefites causeth destruction.

1 Y E shal kepe all the commandements which I comande thee this day, for to do the: that ye may liue, & be multiplied, and go in, and possesse the land which the Lord swaie vnto your fathers.

a Shewing y it is not ynough to heare y worde, except we expresse it by exā. ple of life.

2 And thou shalt remember all the way which y Lord thy God led thee this forty yere in the wildeines, for to humble thee and to broue thee, to knowe what was in thine heart, whether thou woldest kepe his commandements or no.

b Which is declared in afflicōs, ether by paciece, or by giudging against Gods visitation.

3 Therefore he humbled thee, and made thee hungry, & fed thee with man which thou knewest not, nether did thy fathers knowe it, that he might teache thee that man liueth not by bread onely, but by euerie worde that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doeth a man liue.

c Man liueth not by meat, but by y power of God, & strength to nourish vs d As they y go bare foild.

CHAP. IX.

5 Knowe therefore in thine heart, that as a man nouitereth his sonne, so the Lord thy God nouritereth thee.

e So y his affli- cions are signes of his fatherly loue towardes vs

6 Therefore shalt thou kepe the commandements of the Lord thy God, that thou maicst walke in his wayes, and feare him.

Or, meriti.

7 For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a lād in the which are riuers of water and fountaines, & depths that spring out of vales and mountaines:

8 A land of wheat and barley, and of vineyardes, and figtrees, & pomgranates: a lād of oyle oliue and honey:

f Where there are mines of metall

9 A lād wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarcetie, nether shalt thou lacke anie thing therein: a lād whose stones are y^l o^l, & out of whose mountains thou shalt digge brasle.

g For to receiue Gods benefices, & not to be thankfull, is to cōfēse God as thēm.

10 And when thou hast eaten and filled thy self, thou shalt blesse the Lord thy God for the good land, which he hath giuen thee.

11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, not keping his commandemēts, and his lawes, and his ordinances, which I commande thee this day:

12 Lest when thou hast eaten and filled thy selfe, & hast buyt goodly houses & dwelt therein,

13 And thy beastes, and thy shepe are increased, and thy siluer and golde is multiplied, & all that thou hast is encreased, 17 Beware lest thou say in thine heart, My power, and the strength of mine owne hād hath prepared me this abundance.

i If things concerning this life procede onely of Gods mercie: muche more spiri- tual gifts & life eu- erlasting

18 But remember the Lord thy God: for it is he which giueth thee power to get substance to establish his couenāt which he sware vnto thy fathers, as appeareth this day.

19 And if thou forget the Lord thy God, and walke after other gods, & serue them, and worship them, I^k testifie vnto you this day that ye shal surely perish.

3 Vnde stand therefore that this day the Lord thy God is he which goeth out before thee as a consuming fire: he shal destroy them, and he shal bring them downe before thy face: so thou shalt cast thē out and destroy them sodenly, as y^l Lord hath said vnto thee.

c To guide thee & gouerne thee

4 Speake not thou in thine heart (after that the Lord thy God hath cast them out before thee) saying, For my righteousnes y^l Lord hath brought me in, to possesse this land: but for y^l wickednes of these naciōs the Lord hath cast them out before thee.

d Man of him selfe can deserue nothing but Gods angre, & if God spare anie it cometh of his great mercie.

5 For thou entrest not to inherit their land for thy righteousnes, or for thy vpright heart, but for the wickednes of those naciōs, the Lord thy God doeth cast thē out before thee, and that he might perfourme the worde which the Lord thy God sware vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhāk, and Iakōb.

6 Vnderstand therefore, that the Lord thy God giueth thee not this good land to possesse it for thy righteousnes: for thou art a stiffnecked people.

e Like stubborne oxen w^l wil not endure their masters yoke f He proueth by y^l length of time, y^l their rebellion was more great, & more tolerable.

7 Remember, & forget not, how y^l prouokedst the Lord thy God to angre in the wildernes: since the day that thou didest depart out of the land of Egypt, vntil ye came vnto this place ye haue rebelled against the Lord.

8 Also in Horēb ye prouoked the Lord to angre so that y^l Lord was wroth with you, even to destroy you.

9 When I was gone vp in to the mount, to receiue the tables of stone, the tables, I say, of y^l couenāt, which the Lord made with you: and I abode in the moūt forty dayes and fortie nightes, & I nether ate bread nor yet dranke water:

13 Furthermore, the Lord spake vnto me, saying, I haue sene this people, and beholde, it is a stiffnecked people.

14 Let me alone, that I may destroye the, and put out their name from vnder heauē, and I wil make of thee a mightie nacion, and greater then they be.

15 So I returned, and came downe from the Mount (& the Mount burnt with fire, and the two Tables of the couenāt were in my two hands)

16 Then I looked, & beholde, ye had sinned against the Lord your God: for ye had made you a moltē calf, and had turned quickly out of the ^k way which the Lord had commanded you.

17 Therefore I toke the two Tables, & cast them out of my two hands, and brake the before your eyes.

18 And I fel downe before the Lord, fortie daies, and fortie nights, as before: I nether ate bread nor dranke water, because of all your sinnes, which ye had committed, in doing wickedly in the sight of y Lord, in that ye prouoked him vnto wrath.

19 (For I was afraid of the wrath and indignacion, wherewith the Lord was moued against you, euen to destroye you) yet the Lord heard me at that time also.

20 Likewise the Lord was verie angry with Aarón, euen to ^l destroye him: but at that time I prayed also for Aarón.

21 And I toke your sinne, I meane the calfe which ye had made, and burnt him with fire, & stamped him and grounde him finale, euen vnto verie dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the riuer, that descended out of the ^m Mount.

22 Also ⁿ in Taberáh, and in ^{} Massáh ^{} and in Kibrothhattaauáh ye prouoked y Lord to angre.

23 Likewise when the Lord sent you from Kadesh-barnéa, saying, Go vp, and possesse the land which I haue giuen you, the ye ^o rebelled against the commandemēt of the Lord your God, and belkued him not, nor hearkened vnto his voyce.

24 Ye haue bene rebellious vnto the Lord, since the daie that I knewe you.

25 Then I fel downe before the Lord ^o fortie daies and fortie nights, as I fel downe before, because the Lord had said, that he wolde destroye you.

26 And I prayed vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, destroye not thy people & thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatnes whome y hast brought out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

27 Remember thy seruants Abraham, Ishák, and Iaakób: loke not to the stuburnes of this people, nor to their wickednes, nor to their sinne, 28 Lest the countrey, whence thou broughtest them, say, * Because the Lord was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, or because he hated them, he caried them out, to slaye them in the wilderness.

29 Yet they are thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broghest out by thy mightie power, and by thy stretched out arme.

3 And I made an Arke of ^a shittim wood, and hewed two Tables of stone like vnto the first, and went vp into the Mountaine, and the two Tables in mine hand.

2. And consider this day (for I speake not to your children, which haue nether knowne nor sene) the chastisemēt of the Lord your God, his greatnes, his mightie hand,

4. And what he did vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, vnto their horses and to their charets, when he caused the waters of the red Sea to ouerfloe them, as they pursued after you, and the Lord destroyed them vnto this day:

5. And what he did vnto you in the wilderness, vntil ye came vnto this place:

r Because ye haue felt both his chastisements and his benefices.

9. Also that ye may prolong your daies in the land, which the Lord swaie vnto your fathers, to giue vnto them and to their sede, euē a land that floweth with milke and honie.

10. ¶ For the land whether thou goest to possesse it, is not as the land of Egypt, from whence ye came, where thou sowedst thy sede, and wateredst it with thy^d fete as a garden of herbes:

17 But he shall acknowledge the sonne of the hated for the first borne, & giue him double porcion of all that he hathe: for he is the first of his strength, and to him belongeth the right of the first borne.

18 If anie man haue a sonne that is stubborne and disobedient, which wil not hearken vnto the voyce of his father, nor the voyce of his mother, and they haue chastened him, and he wold not obey them,

19 Then shall his father and his mother take him, and bring him out vnto the Elders of his citie, and vnto the gate of the place where he dwelleth,

20 And shall say vnto the Elders of his citie, This our sonne is stubborne and disobedient, and he wil not obey our admonition, he is a riotous, and a drunkard.

21 Then all the men of his citie shall stone him with stones vnto death: so thou shalt take away euil from among you, that all Israel may feare it and feare.

22 ¶ If a man also haue committed a trespass worthy of death, and is put to death, & thou hankest him on a tree,

23 His body shall not remaine all night vpon the tree, but thou shalt bury him the same day: for the curse of God is on him that is hanged: defile not therefore thy land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee to inherit.

2 And if thy brother be not nere vnto thee, or if thou knowe him not, then shalt thou bring it into thine house, and it shall remaine with thee, vntil thy brother seke after it: then shalt thou deliuer it to him againe.

3 In like maner shalt thou do with his asse, and so shalt thou do with his raiment, and shalt so do with all losse things of thy brother, which he hathe loste: if thou hast found them, thou shalt not withdrawe thy selfe from them.

4 ¶ Thou shalt not see thy brothers asse nor his ox fall downe by the way, and thou shalt drawe thy selfe from them, but shalt lifte them vp with him.

5 ¶ The woman shall not weare that which pertaineth vnto the man, neither shall a man put on womans raiment: for all that do so, are abomination vnto the Lord thy God.

6 ¶ If thou finde a birdes nest in the way, in anie tree, or on the ground, whether they be yong or egges, and the dam sitting vpon the yong, or vpon the egges, thou shalt not take the dam with the yong,

7 But shalt in anie wise let the dam go, and take the yong to thee, which thou shalt prosper and prolong thy dayes.

8 ¶ When thou buydest a newe house, thou shalt make a batelment on thy roof, that thou lay not blood vpon thine house, if anie man fall thence.

20 ¶ But if this thing be true, that the maide be not found a virgin, 58 ¶ If thou wilt not kepe and do all the wordes of this Lawe (that are written in this booke) & feare this glorious & feareful Name THE LORD THY GOD, Then the Lord wil make thy plagues wonderful, & the plagues of thy sede, euen great plagues and of long continuance, & sore diseases, and of long durance.

60 Moreover, he wil bring vpon thee all the diseases of Egypt, wherof thou wast afraid, and they shall cleaue vnto thee.

64 And the Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the worlde vnto the other, and there thou shalt serue other gods, which thou hast not knowen nor thy fathers, euen wood and stone.

65 Also among these nations thou shalt finde no rest, nether shall the sole of thy fote haue rest: for the Lord shall giue thee there a trembling heart, and looking to returne til thine eyes fall out, & a sorowful minde.

CHAP. XXIX.

The people are exhorted to obserue the commandements. 10 The whole people from the best to the worst are comprehended vnder Gods couenant. 19 The punishment of him that flattereth him selfe in his wickednes. 24 The cause of Gods wrath against his people.

1 These are the wordes of the couenant which the Lord commanded Moses to make with the children of Israél in the land of Moab beside the couenant which he had made with them in Horé.

2 ¶ And Moses called all Israél, & said vnto them, Ye haue sene all that the Lord did before your eyes in the land of Egypt vnto Pharaoh and vnto all his seruants, & vnto all his land,

3 The great tentacions which thine eyes haue sene, those great miracles and wonders:

4 Yet the Lord hath not giuen you an heart to perceiue, and eyes to see, and cares to heare, vnto this day.

5 And I haue led you fourtie yere in the wilderness: your clothes are not waxed olde vpon you, nether is thy shoe waxed olde vpon thy fote.

6 Ye haue eaten no bread, nether dronke wine, nor strong drinke, that ye might knowe, how that I am your Lord your God.

7 After ye came vnto this place, and Sihon King of Heshbon, and Og King of Bashan came out against vs vnto battel, and we slewe them,

8 And toke their land, and gaue it for an inheritance vnto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, & to the half tribe of Manasse.

9 ¶ Kepe therefore the wordes of this couenant & do them, that ye may prosper in all that ye shall do.

10 Ye stand this day euerie one of you before the Lord your God: your heades of your tribes, your Elders and your officers, euen all the men of Israél:

11 Your children, your wiues, & thy stranger that is in thy campe from the hewer of thy wood, vnto the drawer of thy water,

12 That thou shuldest passe into the couenant of the Lord thy God, and into his othe which the Lord thy God maketh with thee this day, 13 For to establish thee this day a people vnto him selfe, & that he may be vnto thee a God, as he hath said vnto thee, and as he hath sworne vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob.

14 Nether make I this couenant, and this othe with you onely, 15 But as well with him that standeth here with vs this day before the Lord our God, as with him that is not here with vs this day.

15 Beholde, I haue set before thee this day life & good, death and euil.

He addeth these promises to signifie that it is for our profit y we loue him & not for his.

16 In that I commande thee this day, ^m to loue the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, & to kepe his commandments, & his ordinances, & his lawes y thou maifest ⁿ liue & be multiplied, and that the Lord thy God may bleise thee in the land, whether thou goest to possesse it.

17 But if thine heart turne away, so that y wilt not obey, but shalt be seduced & worship other gods, and serue them, 18 I pronounce vnto you this day that ye shal surely perish, ye shal not prolong your dayes in the lād whether thou passest ouer Iordén to possesse it.

7 ¶ And Mosés called Ioshua, and said vnto him in the sight of all Israél; Be ^e of a good courage and strong: for ^e you shalt go with this people vnto the land which the Lord hathe sworne vnto their fathers, to giue them, and thou shalt giue it them to inherit.

For he that must gouerne y people, hath the neede to be valiant to resist vice, & constant to maintaine vertue

9 ¶ And Mosés wrote this Lawe, and deliuered it vnto the Priests y sonnes of Leui, (which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord) and vnto all the Elders of Israél,

12 Gather the people together: men, & women, and children, and thy stranger: that is within thy gates, that they may heare, and that they may learne, and feare the Lord your God, and kepe, and obserue all y wordes of this Lawe, 14 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Mosés, Beholde, thy dayes are come, that thou must dye: Call Ioshua, & itād ye in the Tabernacle of the Congregation that I may giue him a charge. so Mosés & Ioshua wēt, and stode in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

Or, commanded were.

15 And the Lord appeared in y Tabernacle, in the pillar of a cloude: & the pillar of the cloude stode ouer the dore of the Tabernacle.

In a cloude that was factored like a pillar.

16 ¶ And y Lord said vnto Mosés, Beholde, thou shalt slepe with thy fathers, and this people wil rise vp. and go a whoring after the gods of a strange land (whether they go) to dwel therein, & wil forsake me. and breake my coucnant which I haue made with them.

17 Wherefore my wrath wil waxe hote against them at y day, & I wil forsake them, & wil ^h hide my face from them: then they shall be consumed, and many aduersities & tribulacions shal come vpon them: so then they wil say, Are not these troubles come vpon me, because God is not with me?

That is, I will take my fauour from them, as to turne his face toward vs, as to shewe vs his fauour.

18 But I wil surely hide my face in y day, because of all the euil, which they shal commit, in y they are turned vnto other gods.

o By idolatrie, worshipping images, & so are the worke of your hands.

19 Now therefore write ye this song for you, and teache it the children of Israhel: put it in their mouthes, that this song may be my witness against the children of Israhel.

20 For I will bring them into the land (which I swaue vnto their fathers) that floweth with milke and hony, and they shall eat, and fill them selues, and waxe fat: then shall they turne vnto other gods, and serue them, and contemne me, & breake my couenant.

21 And then when manie aduersities and tribulations shall come vpon them, this song shall answer them to their face as a witness: for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouthes of their posteritie: for I knowe their imaginacion, which they go about euen now, before I haue brought them into the land which I swaue.

22 ¶ Moses therefore wrote this song the same day and taught it the children of Israhel.

23 And God gaue Ioshua the sonne of Nun a charge, and said, Be strong, and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Israhel into the land, which I swaue vnto them, and I will be with thee.

24 ¶ And when Moses had made an end of writing the wordes of this Lawe in a booke vntill he had finished them,

25 Then Moses commanded the Leuites, which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, saying,

26 Take the booke of this Law, and put ye it in the side of the Arke of the couenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee.

27 For I knowe thy rebellion and thy stiffe necke: beholde, I being yet aliue with you this day, ye are rebellious against the Lord: how muche more then after my death?

28 Gather vnto me all the Elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speake these wordes in their audience, and call heauen and earth to recorde against them.

29 For I am sure that after my death ye will vtterly be corrupt and turne from the way, which I haue commanded you: therefore euil wil come vpon you at the length, because ye wil commit euil in the sight of the Lord, by prouoking him to anger through the worke of your hands.

30 Thus Moses spake in the audience of all the Congregation of Israhel the wordes of this song, vntill he had ended them.

7 Remember the dayes of olde: consider the yeeres of so manie generacions: aske thy father, and he will shewe thee: thine Elders, and they will tel thee.

8 Whē the most high God deuided to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sonnes of Adam, he appointed the borders of the people according to the number of the children of Israhel.

9 For the Lords porcion is his people: Iacob is the lot of his inheritance.

13 He carried him vp to the high places of the earth, that he might eat the frutes of the fields, and he caused him to sucke hony out of the stone and oyle out of the hard rocke:

14 Butter of kine, and milke of shepe with fat of the lambs, and rams fed in Bashan, and goates, with the fat of the graines of wheat, and the red licour of the grape hast thou dronke.

15 ¶ But he that should haue bene vpright, when he waxed fat, spurned with his heele: thou art fat, thou art grosse, thou art laden with fumes: therefore he forsoke God that made him, and regarded not the strong God of his saluacion.

THE BOKE OF IOSHVA.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this boke the holy Ghost setteih moste liuely before our eyes the accomplishment of Gods promes, who as he promised by the mouthe of Mofés, that a Prophet shulde be raised vp vnto the people like vnto him, whome he willed to obey, Deut. 18. 15: so he sheweth him selfe here true in his promes, as at all other times, and after the deathe of Mofés his faithful seruant, he raiseth vp Ioshúa to be ruler and gouernour ouer his people, that nether they shulde be discouraged for lacke of a captaine; nor haue occasion to distrust Gods promises hereafter. And because that Ioshúa might be confirmed in his vocation, and the people also might haue none occasion to grudge, as though he were not approued of God: he is adorned with moste excellent giftes and graces of God, bothe to gouerne the people with couns. and to defend them with strength, that he lacked nothing which either belonged to a valiant captaine or a faithful minister. So he overcometh all difficultes and bringeth them in to the land of Canaan: the which according to Gods ordinance he deuideth among the people & appointeth their borders: he establisheth lawes and ordinances, and putteth them in remembraunce of Gods manifolde benefites, assuring them of his grace and fauour, if they obey God, and contrariwise of his plagues and vengeance, if they disobey him. This historie doeth represente Iesus Christ the true Ioshúa, who leadeth vs into eternal felicitie, which is signified vnto vs by this land of Canaan. From the beginning of the Genesis to the end of this boke are contained 2597 yeres. For from Adam vnto the flood are 1656. from the flood vnto the departure of Abraham out of Caldea, 363. and from thence to the death of Ioseph 290. So that the Genesis containeth 2390. Exodus 140. the other thre bokes of Mofés 40. Ioshúa 27. So the whole maketh 2597 yeres.

^a The beginning of this boke dependeth on the last chap. of Deut, which was written by Ioshúa as a preparació to his historie.

Now after y ^a death of Mofés the seruāt of the Lord, y Lord spake vnto Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, Mofés minister, saying, returne, and circumcise the sonnes of Israel the second time.

3 Then Ioshua made him sharpe knives & circumcised the sonnes of Israel in the hill of the foreskinnes.

e Gilgal was so called, because they were there circumcised.

4 And this is the cause why Ioshua circumcised all the people, even the males that came out of Egypt, because all the men of warre were dead in the wilderness by the way after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that were borne in the wilderness by the way after they came out of Egypt, were not circumcised.

d For they looked daily to remoue the Lords commandement which thing they were newe circumcised, could not do without great danger

6 For the children of Israel walked fourty yeres in the wilderness, til all the people of the men of warre that came out of Egypt were consumed, because they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: vnto whome the Lord sware, that he wolde not shewe the land, which the Lord had sworn vnto their fathers, that he wolde giue vs, even a land that floweth with milke and honie.

Nomb. 14. 33.

7 So their sonnes whome he raised vp in their steade, Ioshua circumcised: for they were vncircumcised, because they circumcised them not by the way.

8 And when they had made an end of circumcising all the people, they abode in the places in the cape til they were whole.

e For their sore was so grievous, that they were not able to remoue By bringing you into this promised land contrary to the wicked opinion of the Egyptians or the foreskin, whereby you were like to the Egyptians.

9 After, the Lord said vnto Ioshua, This day I haue taken away the shame of Egypt from you: wherefore he called the name of that place Gilgal, vnto this day.

10 ¶ So the childre of Israel abode in Gilgal, and kept the feast of the Passouer the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen in the plaines of Iericho.

11 And they did eat of the corne of the land, on the morow after the Passouer, vnleavened bread, and parched corne in the same day.

7 But he said vnto the people, Go and compass the citie: and let him that is armed, go forthe before the Arke of the Lord.

11 So the Arke of the Lord compassed the citie, and went aboute it once: then they returned into the hoste, and lodged in the campe.

h For that day

12 And Ioshua rose early in the morning, & the Priests bare the Arke of the Lord:

after the Aike of the Lord, as they went and blew the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the citie once, and returned into the hoste: thus they did six dayes.

k Besides euerie day once for the space of six dayes

15 And when the seuēth day came, they rose early, euē with the dawning of the day, and compassed the citie after the same maner ^k seuēn times. onely that day they compassed the citie seuēn times.

21 And they vterly destroyed all that was in the citie, bothe man and woman, yong, and olde, and ox, and shepe, and asse, with the edge of the sworde.

22 But Ioshúa had said vnto the two men that had spied out the countrey, Go into the harlots house, and bring out thence the woman, and all that she hathe, ^{*} as ye sware to her.

23 So the yong men that were spies, ^{*} went in, and brought out Raháb, and her father and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had: also they brought out all her familie, and put them ^a without the hoste of Iisraél.

24 After they burnt the citie with fire, and all that was therein. onely the siluer and the golde, and the vessels of brasse and yron, they put vnto the treasure of the ^o house of the Lord.

25 So Ioshúa sauēd Raháb the harlot, and her fathers household, & all that she had, & she ^p dwelt in Iisraél euē vnto this day, because she had hid the messengers, which Ioshúa sent to spie out Ierichó.

26 ¶ And Ioshúa sware at ^y time, saying, Cursed be the man before the Lord, that riseth vp, and buydeth this citie Ierichó:

he shal lay the fundacion thereof in his eldest sonne, & in his yōgest sonne shal he set vp the gates of it.

27 So the Lord was with Ioshúa, and he was famous through all the worlde.

CHAP. VII.

The Lord is angry with Achán. 4 They of Aí put the Israelites to flight. 6 Ioshúa prayeth to the Lord. 16 Ioshúa inquireth out him that sinned, and stoneth him & all his.

q He shal build it to the destruction of all his stocke, & thing was fulfilled in Hiēl of Beth él, 1 King 16, 34.

BVt the children of Iisraél committed a trespasse in the ^a excommunicate thing: for ^a Achán the sonne of Cairí, the sonne of Zabdí, the sonne of Zerah of ^y tribe of Iudáh toke of the excommunicate thing: wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against the children of Iisraél.

r In taking of which was commanded to be destroyed Chap 22, 20. 1 chro 2, 7.

2 And Ioshúa sent men from Ierichó to ^b Aí, which is beside Bethaúcm, on the East side of Beth-él, and spake vnto them, saying, Go vp, and vewe the countrey. And the men went vp, and vewed Aí, s This was a citie of the Amorites for there was another so called among the Ammonites, Iere 49, 3. The first Aí is called Aiatb, Iere 10, 28

3 And returned to Ioshúa, and said vnto hī, Let not all ^y people go vp, but let as it were two or thre thousand mé go vp, & smite Aí, and make not all the people to labour thether, for they are fewe.

4 So they went vp thether of the people about thre thousand men, & they fled before the men of Aí.

5 And the ^c men of Aí smote of them vpon a thirtie and six men: for they chased them from before the gate vnto Shebarim, and smote them in the going downe: wherefore the heartes of the people melted away like water.

t God wolde by this ouerthrowe make the more earnest to search out and punish the sinne committed.

6 ¶ Then Ioshúa rent his clothes, and fel to the earth vpon his face before the Arke of the Lord, vntil the euentide, he, and the Elders of Iisraél, and put dust vpon their heades.

7 And Ioshúa said, Alas, ^o Lord God, wherefore hast thou brought this people ouer Iordén, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, and to destroy vs? wolde God we had bene contēt to dwell on the ^d other side Iordén.

u This infirmity of his faith sheweth how we are inclined of nature to distrust

8 Oh Lord, what shal I say, whē Iisraél turne their backs before their enemies?

9 For the Canaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land shal heare of it, and shal compass vs, and destroy our name out of the earth: and what wilt thou do vnto thy mightie ^e Name?

v Whentime enemies shal blaspheme thee, & say, thou wast not able to defend vs from them.

10 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, Get thee vp. wherefore liest thou thus vpon thy face?

11 Iisraél hath sinned, and they haue transgressed my couenant, which I commāded them. for they haue euē taken of the excommunicate thing, and haue also stollen, and dissembled also, & haue put it euen with their owne stufte.

12 Therefore the childr² of Israël can not stande before their enemies, but haue turned their backs befoie their enemies, because they be execrable: nether wil I be with you anie more, except ye ^f destroy the excommunicate from among you.

f Then, to suffer wickednes unpunished is, to refuse God willingly 13 Vp therefore, sanctifie the people, and say, Sanctifie your selues against tomorowe. for thus saith the Lord God of Israël, There is an execrable thing among you, ô Israël, therefore ye can not stand against your enemies, vntil ye haue put the ^g execrable thing from among you.

g Meaning the man that toke of the thing forbidden.

15 And he that is ^h taken with the excommunicate thing, shal be burnt with fire, he, & all that he hathe, because he hathe transgressed the couenant of the Lord, and because he hathe wrought folly in Israel.

16 ¶ So Ioshúa rose vp early in ⁱ morning & brought Israël by their tribes: & the tribe of Iudah was taken.

17 And he brought the families of Iudáh, & toke the familie of the Zarhutes, and he brought the familie of the Zahites, man by man, and Zabdí was taken.

18 And he brought his household, man by man, and Achán the sonne of Carmí, the sonne of Zabdí, the sonne of Zérah of the tribe of Iudáh was taken.

19 Then Ioshúa said vnto Achán, My sonne I beseech thee, giue glorie to the Lord God of Israël, and ⁱ make confission vnto him, and shew me now what thou hast done: hide it not from me.

i By declaring the truth for God to glorifie him when the truth is confessed

20 And Achán answered Ioshúa, and said, In dede, I haue sinned against the Lord God of Israël, and thus, and thus haue I done.

26 And they cast vpon him a great heape of stones vnto this day: and ^o the Lord turned from his fierce wrath: therefore he called the name of that place, The valley of Achór, vnto this day.

3 ¶ Then Ioshúa arose, and all the men of waire to go vp against Ai: and Ioshúa chose out thirtie thousand strong men, and valiant, and sent them away by night.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Beholde, ye ^b shal lye in wait against the citie on the backside of the citie: go not very far fró the citie, but be ye all in readiness.

b God wolde not destroy Ai by miracle, as Iericho, so the intent that other nations might feare ^y power & policie of his people.

5 And I and all the people that are with me, wil appoche vnto the citie: and when they shal come out against vs, as they did at the first time, then wil we flee before them.

6 For they wil come out after vs, til we haue brought them out of the citie: for they wil say, They flee before vs as at the first time: so we wil flee before them.

7 Then you shal rise vp from lying in wait and ^o destroy the citie: for the Lord your God wil deliuer it into your hand.

Or, do not see (the inhabitants) of the citie.

8 And when ye haue taken the citie, ye shal set it on fire: according to the commandement of the Lord shal ye do: beholde, I haue charged you.

9 ¶ Ioshúa then sent them forth, and they went to lie in wait, and abode betwene Beth-él and Ai, on the Westside of Ai: but Ioshúa lodged that night among the people.

10 And Ioshúa rose vp early in y morning, and nombred the people : and he and the Elders of Israél went vp before the people against Aí.

d That is, view ed them & let them in a ray.

11 Also all the men of warre that were with him wēt vp & due nere, and came against the cite, & pitched on the Northside of Aí, and there was a valley betwene them and Aí.

e He sent these few, that the other & lay in aduante, might not be discouered

12 And he toke about siue thousand men, & set them to lie in wayt betwene Beth-él & Aí, on the Westside of the cite.

f To the intēt that the cite might be burnt & discouered his aduante.

13 And the people set all the hoste that was on the Northside against the cite, & the lieis in wayte on the West, against the cite: & Ioshúa went the same night into y middes of the valley.

g As it is sayed in the booke of Ioshúa.

14 ¶ And whe the King of Aí sawe it, then the men of the cite halted & rose vp early, and went out against Israél to battel, he & all his people at the time appointed, before the plaine: for he knewe not that amē lay in waite against him on the backside of the cite.

15 Then Ioshúa and all Israél were beaten before thē, fled by the way of the wildernes.

16 And all the people of the cite were called together, to pursue after them: & they pursued after Ioshúa, and were drawn away out of the cite, h Or, lift vp y speare, to signifye that Ioshúa made y cite.

17 So that there was not a man left in Aí, nor in Beth-él, that went not out after Israél: and they left the cite open, & pursued after Israél.

18 Thē the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, Stretch out the speare that is in thine hand towards Aí: for I wil giue it into thine hand: and Ioshúa stretched out the speare that he had in his hand, towards the cite.

i Or, sonde the hande of the Lord.

19 And thei that lay in waite, arose quickly out of their place, & ran asone as he had stretched out his hand, and they entred into the cite, and toke it, and halted, and set the cite on fire.

20 And the men of Aí looked behinde thē, & sawe it: for lo, the smoke of the cite ascended vp to heauen, and they had no power to flee this way or that way: for y people that fled to the wildernes, turned backe vpon the pursuers.

21 When Ioshúa and all Israél sawe that they that lay in waite, had takē the cite, & that the smoke of the cite mounted vp, then they turned againe and slewe the mē of Aí.

j Which came out of the ambuſhe.

22 Also the other issued out of the cite against thē: so were they in the middes of Israél, thei being on y one side, & y rest on y other side. & they slewe thē, so that they let none of them remaine not escape.

Deut 7.2.

24 And when Israél had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Aí in y field, that is, in y wildernes, where they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, vntil they were consumed, all the Israelites returned vnto Aí, & smote with the edge of the sword.

k For the fire, & they had before lye in the cite, was not to consume it, but to signifye vnto Ioshúa y they were entred

25 And all that fel that day, bothe of men and women, were twelue thousand, euen all the men of Aí.

26 For Ioshúa drewe not his hand backe againe which he had stretched out with the speare, vntil he had vtteily destroyed all y inhabitants of Aí.

29 And y King of Aí he hanged on a tre, vnto the eucning. And asone as y sunne was downe, Ioshúa commanded that they shulde take his carkeis downe frō the tre, and cast it at the entring of the gate of the cite, and lay thei on a great heape of stones, that remaineth vnto this day.

30 ¶ Then Ioshúa buylt an altar vnto the Lord God of Israél, in mount Ebál, Exod. 20. 25. Deut. 27. 5.

32 Also he wrote there vpon the stones, a rehearsal of the Lawe of Mosēs, which he wrote in the presence of the children of Israél.

n Meaning the ten commande mētts, & are the summe of y whole Law.

Deut. 11. 29. 27. 12.

34 Then afterwaid he red all the wordes of the Lawe, the blesings and cursings, according to all that is written in the boke of the Lawe.

35 There was not a worde of all that Mosēs had commanded, which Ioshúa red not before all the Congregation of Israél, aswel before the women and the children, as the stranger that was conuersant among them.

And when all the Kings y^a were beyond Iordén, in the mountaines & in the vales, and by all the coastes of the great Sea ouer against Lebanón (as the Hittites, & y^b Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hittites, & the Jebusites) heard thereof,

They gathered them selves together, to fight against Ioshua, & against Israél with one accord.

But the inhabitants of Gibeón heard what Ioshua had done vnto Ierichó, and to Ai.

And therefore they wrought craftely: for they went, and fained them selves embassadours and toke olde sakes vpon their asses, and olde bottels for wine, bothe rent & bounde vp,

And olde shooes and clouted vpon their fete: also the raiment vpon them was olde, & all their prouision of bread was dried, & moulded.

So they came vnto Ioshua into the hoste to Gilgál, & said vnto him, and vnto the men of Israél, We be come from a farre countrey: now therefore make a league with vs.

Then the men of Israél said vnto the Hittites, It may be that thou dwellest among vs, how then can I make a league with thee?

And they said vnto Ioshua, We are thy seruants. Then Ioshua said vnto the, Who are ye? & whence come ye?

And they answered him, From a very far countrey thy seruants are come for the Name of the Lord thy God: for we haue heard his fame & all that he hath done in Egypt,

And all that he hath done to the two Kings of the Amorites that were beyond Iordén, to Sihón King of Heshbón, & to Og King of Bashán, which were at Ashtaróth.

Wherefore our Elders, and all the inhabitants of our countrey spake to vs, saying, Take vitales with you for the iourney, & go to mete them, & say vnto them, We are your seruants: now therefore make ye a league with vs.

This our bread we toke it hot with vs for vitales out of our houses, the day we departed to come vnto you: but now behold, it is dried, and it is moulded.

Also these bottels of wine which we filled, were new, and lo, they be rent, and these our garments and our shooes are olde, by reason of the exceeding great iourney.

14 And the same accepted their tale concerning their vitales, & counsiled not with the mouth of the Lord.

15 So Ioshua made peace with them, & made a league with the, that he wolde suffer them to liue: also the Princes of the Congregation sware vnto them.

16 But at the end of thre daies, after they had made a league with them, they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

17 And the children of Israél toke their iourney, and came vnto their cities the third day, and their cities were Gibeón, & Chephutáh, & Beeróth & Kiriatíearím.

18 And the children of Israél sware them not, because the Princes of the Congregation had sworne vnto them by the Lord God of Israél: wherefore all the Congregation murmured against the Princes.

19 Then all the princes said vnto all the Congregation We haue sworne vnto the by the Lord God of Israél: now therefore we may not touche them.

20 But this we wil do to them, & let them liue, lest the wrath be vpon vs because of the othe which we sware vnto them.

21 And the Princes said vnto them againe, Let them liue, but they shal hewe wood, & drawe water vnto all the Congregation, as the Princes appoint them.

22 Ioshua then called them, and talked wth them, and said, Wherefore haue ye beguiled vs, saying, We are verie farre from you, when ye dwel among vs?

23 Now therefore ye are cursed, and there shal none of you be freed fró being bondmen, and hewers of wood, and drawers of water for the house of my God.

24 And they answered Ioshua and said, Because it was tolde thy seruants, that the Lord thy God had commanded his seruant Moses to giue you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land out of your sight, therefore we were exceeding sore afraid for our liues at the presence of you, & haue done this thing:

25 And beholde now we are in thine hand: do as it seemeth good & right in thine eyes to do vnto vs.

26 Furthermore did he vnto them, and deliuered them out of the hand of the children of Israél, that they slewe them not.

27 And Ioshua appointed them that same daie to be hewers of wood, & drawers of water for the Congregation, & for the altar of the Lord vnto this day, in y^e place which he shulde chuse.

1 NOW whē Adoni-zédék King of Ierusalém had heard how Ioshúa had taken Aí and had destroyed it, (* for as he had done to Ierichó and to the King thereof, so he had done to * Aí and to the King thereof) and how the inhabitants of Gibeón had made peace with Israél, and were among them,

Exod. 6.11.

Exod. 8.3.

2 Then thei feared exceedingly for Gibeón was a great cite, as one of the royal cities: for it was greater then Aí, and all the men thereof were mightie.

a This is, Lord of iustice & so tyra: is take to the felues glorious names, when to deue this be verie enemies agaisst God and all iustice.

Wherefore ^a Adoni-zédék King of Ierusalém sent vnto Hohám King of Hebrón, and vnto Pirám King of Iarmúth, and vnto Iapía King of Lachísh, and vnto Debír King of Eglón, saying,

4 Come vp vnto me, and helpe me, that we may smite Gibeón: for thei haue made peace with Ioshúa and with the children of Israél.

5 Therefore the fiue Kings of the Amorites, the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachísh, and the King of Eglón gathered them selues together, & went vp, thei with all their hostes, & besieged Gibeón, and made ^b warre agaisst it.

b So enuolous & wicked are, when any departe fro their haue.

6 And the mé of Gibeón sent vnto Ioshúa, enē to the hoste to Gilgál, saying, Withdrawe not thine hand frō thy seruants: come vp to vs quickly, and saue vs, and helpe vs: for all the Kings of the Amorites which dwel in the mountaines, are gathered together agaisst vs.

7 So Ioshúa ascended from Gilgál, he, and all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

c Left Ioshúa shulde haue thoght y God had sent this great power agaisst him for his valaful league with y Gibeonites, y Lord here strengtheneth him.

8 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, ^c Feare them not: for I haue giuen them into thine hand: none of them shal stand agaisst thee.

9 Ioshúa therefore came vnto them sodenly: for he went vp from Gilgál all y night.

10 And the Lord discomfited them before Israél, & slewe them with a great slaughter at Gibeón, and chased them along the way that goeth vp to Beth-horón, and smote them to Azekáh and to Makkedáh.

11 And as thei fled frō before Israél, & were in the going downe to Beth-horón, y Lord cast downe great stones from heauē vpō them, vntil Azekáh, & thei dyed: thei were more that dyed with the ^d haylestones, then they whome the children of Israél slewe with the sworde.

d So we se y all things let-ue to execute Gods vengeance agaisst the wicked.

12 ¶ Then spake Ioshúa to the Lord, in the day when the Lord gaue the Amorites before the children of Israél, and he said in the sight of Israél, * Sunne, stae thou in Gibeón, and thou moone, in the valley of Aialón.

13 And the sunne abode, & the moone stode

14 And there was no day like that before it, nor after it, that the Lord heard the voyce of a man: for the Lord ^f fought for Israél.

15 ¶ After, Ioshúa returned, and all Israél with him vnto the campe to Gilgál:

16 But the fiue Kings fled and were hid in a caue at Makkedáh.

17 And it was tolde Ioshúa, saying, The fiue Kings are foude hyd in a caue at Makkedáh.

18 Then Ioshúa said, Roule great stones vpon the mouthe of the caue, and set men by it for to kepe them.

- 61 ¶ In the wildernes were Beth-arabáh, Middín, and Secacáh,
- 62 And Nibshán, and the ¹ citie of salt, and Engedí six cities with their villages.
- 63 Neuertheles, the Iebusites that were the inhabitants of Ierusalém, colde not the children of Iudáh cast ^m out, but the Iebusites dwel with the children of Iudáh at Ierusalém vnto this day.

CHAP. XVI.

The lot or parte of Ephráim. 10 The Canaanites dwelled among them.

- 1 And the lot fel to the ^a children of Ioséph fró Iordén by Ierichó vnto the water of Ierichó Eastwarde, & to the wildernes that goeth vp from Ierichó by the mount Beth-él.
- 2 And goeth out from Beth-él to ^{*} Luz, and runneth alóg vnto the borders of Architaroth,
- 3 And goeth downe Westward to the colde of Iaphletí, vnto the coast of Beth-horón the nether, and to Gézer: and the ends ^b thereof are at the Sea.
- 4 So the children of Ioséph, Manasséh and Ephráim ^c toke their inheritance.
- 5 ¶ Also the borders of the children of Ephráim according to their families, upon the borders of their inheritance on y^e Eastside were. At óth addá, vnto Beth-horón the upper.
- 6 And this border goeth out to the Sea vnto Michmethah on the Northside, & this border returneth Eastwarde vnto Taanánth shuló, and passeth it on the Eastside vnto Ianothah,
- 7 And goeth downe from Ianothah to Atáoth, and Naa áth. and cometh to Ierichó, ^d and goeth out at Iordén.
- 8 And this border goeth from Tappúah Westward vnto the riuer Kanáh, and the ends thereof are at the Sea: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephráim by their families.

CHAP. XVII.

The porcion of the halfe tribe of Manasséh. 3 The daughters of Zelophehad 13 The Canaanites are become tributaries 14 Manasséh and Ephráim require a greater porcion of heritage.

- 1 THIS was also the lot of the tribe of Manasséh: for he was the ^{*} first borne of Ioséph, to wit, of Machir y^e first borne of Manasséh, and the father of Gileád: now because he was a man of warre, he had Gileád and Bashán.

- 2 And also ^a of the ^a rest of the sonnes of Manasséh by their families, ^{even} of the sonnes of Abiézer, and of the sonnes of Hélek, and of the sonnes of Azriél, and of the sonnes of Shéchem, and of the sonnes of Hépher, and of the sonnes of Shemidá: these were the males of Manasséh, the sonne of Ioséph according to their families.
- 3 ¶ But Zelophehad the sonne of Hépher, the sonne of Gileád, the sonne of Machír, the sonne of Manasséh, had no sonnes, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Malhá, and Noáh, Hógláh, Milchá, and Tirzáh:
- 4 Which came before Eleazár the Priest, and before Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, and before the princes, saying, The Lord commanded Moisés to giue vs an inheritance among our ^b brethren: therefore according to the comandement of the Lord he gaue them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.
- 5 And there fel ten porcions to ^c Manasséh, beside the land of Gileád and Bashán, which is on the other side Iordén,
- 6 Because the daughters of Manasséh did inherit among his sonnes: and Manasséhs other sonnes had the land of Gileád.
- 7 ¶ So the borders of Manasséh were from Ashér to Michmetháh y^e north before Shechem, & this border goeth on y^e right hád, euen vnto the inhabitants of En-tappúah.
- 8 The land of Tappúah belonged to Manasséh, but ^d Tappúah beside the border of Manasséh belongeth to the sonnes of Ephráim.
- 9 Also this border goeth downe vnto the riuer Kanáh Southward to the riuer. the cities of Ephráim are among the cities of Manasséh: and the border of Manasséh ^e on the Northside of the riuer, and the ends of it are at the ^e Sea,
- 10 The South pertaineth to Ephráim, and the North to Manasséh, and the Sea is his border: and they met together in Ashér Northward, and in Issachár Eastward.
- 11 And Manasséh had in Issachar and in Ashér, Beth-shean & her townes, & Ibleám, & her townes, & the inhabitants of Dor with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of Endó: with the townes thereof, & the inhabitants of Thaanách with her townes, & the inhabitants of Megiddó wth the townes of the same, ^{eu} n thre countreies.
- 12 Yet the childre of Manasséh could not destroy those cities, but the Canaanites dwelled ^f in that land.
- 13 Neuertheles, when the children of Israél were first ong, they put the Canaanites vnder tribute, but cast them not out wholly.

14 Then the children of Ioseph spake vnto Ioshua, saying, Why hast thou giuen me but one lot, and one porcion to inherit, seeing I am a great people, for as muche as the Lord hathe ^b blessed me hetherto ⁱ If this mou't be not large ynough, why doest not thou get more by dividing Gods chertes, as he hath commanded?

^h According to my father Iacob's prophesie, Genes. 48. 19.

15 Ioshua then answered them, If thou be muche people, get thee vp to the wood, & cut trees for thy selfe there in the land of the Perizzites, and of the gyats, ⁱ if mou't Ephraim be tonarowe for thee.

16 Then the children of Ioseph said, The mountaine wil not be ynough for vs: and all the Canaanites that dwel in the lowe countrey haue charrets of yron, aswel they in Beth-shean, and in the townes of the same, as they in the valley of Izreel.

17 And Ioshua spake vnto the house of Ioseph, to Ephraim, & to Manasseh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power, and shalt not haue one lot.

^k So that thou shalt enlarge thy porcion thereby.

18 Therefore the mountaine shalbe thine: for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it downe: and the ends of it shalbe thine, & thou shalt cast out the Canaanites, though they haue yron charrets, and though they be strong.

CHAP. XVIII.

^l The Tabernacle set in Shiloh ⁴ Certaine are sent to deuide the land to the other seuen tribes. ¹¹ The lot of the children of Benjamin.

1 And the whole Congregation of the children of Israel came together at Shiloh: for they set vp the ^a Tabernacle of the Congregation there, after the land was subiect vnto them.

^o For they had now removed it from Gilgal and set it in vp in Shiloh.

2 Now there remained among the childre of Israel seuen tribes, to whom ^b they had not deuided their inheritance.

^b As Eleazar, Ioshua & the heedes of the tribes had done to Iudah, Ephraim and halfe of Manasseh.

3 Therefore Ioshua said vnto the children of Israel, How long are ye so slacke to entre and possesse the land which the Lord God of your fathers hathe giuen you?

4 Giue from among you for euery tribe thre men, that I may send them, and that they may rise, and walke through the lad, and distribute it according to ^c their inheritance, and returne to me.

^e That is, in so seuen porcions, to euery tribe one.

5 And that they may deuide it vnto them into seuen partes, (Iudah shal abide in his coast at the South, and the house of Ioseph shal ^d stand in their coastes at the North)

^d For these had their inheritance already appointed.

6 Ye shal describe the land therefore into seuen partes, & shal bring them hether to me, & I wil cast lottes for you here before the ^e Lord our God.

^e Before the Arke of the Lord.

7 But the Leuites shal haue no part among you: for the ^f Priesthode of the Lord is their inheritance: also Gad and Reuben & halfe the tribe of Manasseh haue receiued their inheritace bey ^o de Iordén Eastward, which Moses the seruāt of the Lord gaue them.

^f That is, the sacrifices and offerings, Chap. 18. 14.

8 ¶ Then the men arose, and went their way: and Ioshua charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Departe, and go through the land, and ^g describe it, and returne to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the Lord in Shiloh.

^g By writing the num.s of euery countrey and cite.

9 So the men departed, and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seuen partes in a booke, and returned to Ioshua into the campe at Shiloh.

10 ¶ Then Ioshua ^h cast lots for them in Shiloh before the Lord, and there Ioshua deuided the lad vnto the children of Israel, according to their porcions:

^h That euery one shalld be content w Gods appointment.

11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the childre of Benjamin came forthe according to their families, and the coast of their lot lay ⁱ betwene the children of Iudah, and the children of Ioseph.

ⁱ Their inheritance bordered vpon Iudah and Ioseph.

12 And their coast on the Northside was from Iordan, and the border went vp to the side of Iericho on the Northparte, & went vp through the mountaines Westward, and the ends thereof are in the wildernesses of Beth-auen:

13 And this border goeth along from thece to Luz, ^{en} to the Southside of Luz (the same is ^k Beth-el) and this border descendeth to Atroth-addar, nere the mou't, that lieth on the Southside of Beth-horon the nether.

^k Which was in the tribe of Ephraim another Beth-el was in the tribe of Benjamin.

14 So the border turneth, and compasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, from the mou't that lieth before Beth-horon Southward: and the ends thereof are at Kirjath-baal (which is Kirjath-earim) a cite of the children of Iudah: this is the Westquarter.

15 And the Southquarter ^{is} from the end of Kirjath-earim, and this border goeth out ^{Westward}, and cometh to the founteine of waters of Nephtoh.

^l Or is the str.

16 And this border descendeth at the end of the mountaine, that lieth before the valley of Be-hinnom, which is in the valley of the ^{gyantes} Northward, & descendeth into the valley of Hinnom by the side of ^{the Jebusi} Southward, and goeth downe to En-rogel, ^o Or, Rephaim.

^o Or, Jerusalem.

17 And compasseth from the North, and goeth forthe to ^{En-shemesh}, & stretcheth to Gelliloth, which is toward the going vp vnto Adummim, and goeth downe to the ^{stone} of Bohan the sonne of Reuben.

¹ Which is in the tribe of Ephraim.

Chap. 15. 6.

18 So it goeth along to the side ouer against the plaine Northward, and goeth downe into the plaine.

19 After, this border goeth along to the side of Beth-hoglah Northward: & the ends thereof, ^{that is}, of the border, reache to the point of the salt Sea Northward, and to the ^m end of Iordan Southward: this is the Southcoast.

^m To the very streit, where the river runneth into the salt Sea.

20 Also

20 Also Iordén is the border of it on the Eastside : this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamín by the coastes thereof round about according to their families.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Beniamín according to their families, are Ierichó, and Beth-hoglah, and the valley of Keziz,

22 And Beth-arabah, and Zemarím, and Beth-él,

23 And Auím, and Paráh, and Ophráh,

24 And Chephái, Ammonái, and Ophni, & Gabá:twelue cities with their villages.

25 Gib-ón, and Ramáh, and Beeróth,

26 And Mizpéh, and Chephiráh, and Mozáh,

27 And Rékem, and Irpeél, and Taraláh,

28 And Zelá, Eléph, and Icbusi, (which is Ierusalém) Gibéáth, and Kiríáth:fourtene cities with their villages : this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamín according to their families.

^a Which was not wholly in the trib. of Beniamin, but part of it was also in y^e tribe of Iudáa.

CHAP. XIX.

¹ The porcion of Simeón, ¹⁰ Of Zebulun, ¹⁷ Of Issachár, ²⁴ Of Asher. ³² Of Naphtali, ⁴⁰ Of Dan ⁴⁹ The possession of Ioshua.

1 And the seconde lot came out to Simeón, euen for the tribe of the children of Simeón according to their families:and their inheritace was in the ^a middes of the inheritance of the children of Iudáh.

^a According to Iacob's promise, that he shulde be scateered among y^e other tribes, Gen 49.7.

2 Now they had in their inheritance, Beer-sheba, & Sheba, and Moladáh,

3 And Hazar-shuál, and Baláh, and Azem,

4 And E'tolád, and Bethúil, and Hoimáh,

5 And Ziklág, and Beth-ma'cabóth, and Hazar sushán,

6 And Beth-lebaóth, and Sharuhén : thurtene cities with their villages.

7 Ain, Remmón, and Ether, & Ashán:fourte cities with their villages.

8 And all the villages that were round about these cities, vnto Baalathbeer, and ^a Ráma'h Southwarde. this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeón according to their families.

^b Remmón.

9 Out of the porcion of the children of Iudáh came the inheritance of the childre of Simeón: for the parte of the children of Iudáh was to ^b muche for them: therefore the children of Simeón had their inheritance within their inheritance.

^b But this large porcion was given them by Gods providence, to declare their increase in time to come.

10 ¶ Also the third lot arose for the children of Zebulún according to their families:and the coastes of their inheritace came to Saríd, ^c Meaning, to the great Sea.

11 And their border goeth vp ^c Westwarde, euen to Maraláh, and reacheth to Dabbásheth, & meeteth with the riuier that lyeth before Iokneám,

12 And turneth from Saríd Eastwarde

towarde the sunne rising vnto the border of Chislóth tabór, & goeth out to Dabaráth, and ascendeth to Iaphía, 13 And from thence goeth along Eastwarde towarde the sunne rising to Gittáh hépher to Ittáh kazín, and goeth forth to Rimmón, and turneth to Neáh.

14 And this border compasseth it on the Northside to Hannathón, and the ends thereof are in the valley of Iiphtah-él, 15 And Karráth, and Nahallál, and Shimlón, and Idaláh, and ^d Beth-léhem:twelue cities with their villages.

^d There was another Beth-lehem in the tribe of Iudáh

16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulún according to their families: that is, these cities and their villages.

20 And Harabbíth, & Kirshión, and Abez,

21 And Reméth, and ^e Enganním, and En haddáh, and Beth-pazzéz.

^e There was another cite of this name in the tribe of Iudáh for vnder diuers tribes certeine cities had all one name, and were distinguished by the tribe onely.

22 And this coast reacheth to Tabór, and Shahazimáth, and Beth-shémesh, and the ends of their coast reache to Iordén: sixtene cities with their villages.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the childre of Issachár according to their families: that is, the cities, and their villages.

24 ¶ Also the fifté lot came out for the tribe of the children of Ashér according to their families.

25 And their coast was Helcáth, and Halí, and Beren, and Achsháph, 26 And Alammélech, and Amád, & Misheál, and came to Carmél Westwarde, and to Shihóli libnáth, 27 And turneth towarde the sunne rising to Beta-dagón, and commeth to ^f Zebulún, and to the vailey of Iiphtah él, towarde the Northside of Beth-emók, and Neiel, and goeth out on the left side of Cabúl,

^f Iosherh to y^e tribe of Zebulun, wher en lay more Eastward

28 And to Ebrón, and Rehób, and Hamón, and Kanáh vnto great Zidón.

29 Then the coast tuineth to Ramáh & to the strong cite of ^g Zor, and this border tuineth to Hofáh, and the endes thereof are at the Sea from Hebél to Achzib, ^g Which was Iosherh a strong cite in y^e Sea.

30 Vmmáh' also and Aphék, and Rehób: two and twentie cities with their villages.

31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ashér according to their families: that is, these cities and their villages.

32 ¶ The sixt lot came out to the childre of D. I.

Naphtali, euen to the children of Naphtali according to their families.

b These cities were in the country of Zaanannim.

33 And their coast was from b Héleph, and from Allón in Zaanannim, and Adami nékeb, and Iabneél, euen to Lakúm, & the ends thereof are at Iordén.

Or, euen vnto Iorden.

34 So this coast turneth Westwarde to Aznoth tabór, and goeth out from thence to Hukkók, and reacheth to Zebulún on the Southside, & goeth to Ashér on the Westside, and to Iudáh b by Iordén toward the sunne rising.

Of these which is like of Genezareth had his name.

35 And the strong cities are Ziddím, Zer, & Hammáth, Rakkáth, and c Cinnéreth, 40 ¶ The seuéth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families.

41 And the coast of their inheritance was, Zoráh, and Eshtaól, and Ir-shémesh.

42 And Shaalabbín, and Aualón, & Ithláh, & Called Iep-ec.

46 And Me-iarkón, and Rakkón, with the border that lyeth before k Iápho.

47 But the coastes of the children of Dan fel out to lile for them: therefore the childré of Dan went vp to l fight against Léshem, and toke it, and smote it with the edge of the sworde, and possessed it, and dwelt therein, and called Léshem,  Dan*, after the name of Dan their father.

4 And he that doeth flee vnto one of these cities, shal stand at the entring of the gate of the citie, and shal shewe his cause b to the Elders of the citie: and thei shal receiue him into the citie vnto them, and giue him a place, y he may dwel w them.

Deut. 4, 43. chap. 10, 8.

9 These were the cities appointed for all the children of Israël, and for the stranger that sojourned among them, that whosoever killed any persone ignorantly, might flee thither, & not dye by the hand of the auenger of blood, vntil he stode before the e Congregacion.

41 The cities giuen to the Leuites, in nōber eight & fouertie. 44 The Lord according to his promise gaue the children of Israël rest.

The came the principal fathers of the Leuites vnto Eleazár the Priest, and vnto Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, and vnto the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israël, 3 So the children of Israël gaue vnto the Leuites, out of their inheritace at the comādemment of the Lord these cities with their suburbes.

by lot, out of the tribe of Iudáh, and out of the tribe of Simeón, and out of the tribe of Beniamin c thirtene cities.

5 And the rest of the children of Koháth had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ephráim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasséh, ten cities.

6 Also the children of Gershón had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Issachár, and out of the tribe of Ashér, and out of the tribe of Naphtalí, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasséh in Bashán, thirte- ne cities.

7 The children of Merarí according to their families had out of the tribe of Reu- bén, and out of the tube of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulún, twelue cities.

8 So the childré of Israél gaue by lot vnto the Leuites these cities with their subur- bes, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses.

9 ¶ And they gaue out of ý tribe of ý childré of Iudáh, & out of the tribe of the childré of Simeón, the se cities w a e here named.

d For Aaron came of Koháth, and therefore the Priests office remained in ý familie.

10 And they were the childrens of Aaron being of the families of the Kohathites, & of the sonnes of Leuí, (for theirs was the first lot)

11 So they gaue the Kiriath-arbá of the fa- thei of Anók (which is Heb. ón) in the mountaine of Iudáh, with the suburbes of the same round about it.

13 ¶ Thus they gaue to the childré of Aa- rón the Priest, a citie of refuge for the slayer, euen Hebrón with her suburbes, & Libnáh with her suburbes,

14 And Iattir with her suburbes, and E- shtemóa and her suburbes, 16 And Aín with her suburbes, and Iuttáh w her suburbes, Beth-shémesh w her sub- urbes: nine cities out of those two tribes.

f The subur- bes were a thousand cubites from the wall of ý citie rounde about, Num. 35, 4.

17 And out of the tribe of Beniamín they gaue Gibeón with her suburbes, Géba with her suburbes, g That were nor Priests.

19 All the cities of the children of Aaron Priests, were thirtene cities with their sub- urbes.

20 ¶ But to the families of the children of Koháth of the Leuites, g which were the rest of the children of Koháth (for the ci- ties of their lot were out of the tribe of Ephráim)

h Hebrón and Shechem were the two cities of refuge vnder the Koha- thites

21 They gaue them the citie of refuge for the slayer, h Shechem with her suburbes in mounte Ephráim, and Gézer with her suburbes,

22 And Kibzáim with her suburbes, & Beth- horón with her suburbes: foure cities.

23 And out of ý tribe of Dan, Eltekéh with her suburbes, Gibethón w her suburbes, i Which dwelt in Ga- nán.

25 And out of the halfe tribe of Manasséh, i Tanách with her suburbes, & Gath-rim- món with her suburbes: two cities.

26 All the cities for the other families of the children of Koháth were ten with their suburbes.

27 ¶ Also vnto the children of Gershón of the families of the Leuites, they gaue out of ý halfe tribe of Manasséh, the citie of re- fuge for ý slayer, k Golán in Bashán with her suburbes, & Beeshteráh with her sub- urbes: two cities.

k Golán and Kédesht were the cities of refuge vnder the Gersho- nites.

28 And out of the tribe of Issachár, Kishón with her suburbes, Daberch with her sub- urbes, 29 Iarmúth with her suburbes, En-gannim with her suburbes: foure cities.

30 And out of the tribe of Ashér, Mishál w her suburbes, Abdón with her suburbes, 31 Helkáh with her suburbes, and Rehób with her suburbes: foure cities.

32 And out of ý tribe of Naphtalí, the citie of refuge for the slayer, Kédesht in Galil with her suburbes, & Hammoth-dór with her suburbes, and Kartán with her subur- bes: thre cities.

33 All the cities of the Gershonites accord- ing to their families, were thirtene ci- ties with their suburbes.

34 ¶ Also vnto the families of the children of Merarí the rest of the Leuites, they gaue out of ý tribe of Zebulún, Iokneam with her suburbes, and Kartáh with her suburbes, l They are here called the rest, because they are left no abred, and Merari was ý younger brother, Genes. 46, 11

36 And out of ý tribe of Reubén, m Bézer w her suburbes, and Iahazáh w her suburbes, m Bézer and Pamóh were the cities of refuge vnder the Merarites and beyond the Iordan, Chaps. 20, 8.

37 Kedemóth with her suburbes, and Me- pháath with her suburbes: foure cities.

38 And out of the tribe of Gad they gaue for a citie of refuge for the slayer, Ramóth in Gileád with her suburbes, and Mahanáim with her suburbes, 39 Heshbón with her suburbes, and Iazér with her suburbes: foure cities in all.

40 So all the cities of the children of Me- rarí according to their families (which were the rest of the families of the Leui- tes) were by their lot, twelue cities.

n Thus accord- ing to Iakobs prophe- cies, they were scattered throug hout ý countrey which God vsed to this end, that his people might be in- strued in the true religion

9 ¶ So the children of Reubén, & the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh returned, and departed from the children of Israél from Shiloh (which is in the land of Canaan) to go vnto the countrey of Gileád to the land of their possession, which they had obtained, according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Mosés.

10 ¶ And when they came vnto the borders of Iordén (w are in the land of Canaa) then the children of Reubén, and the children of Gad, & the halfe tribe of Manasseh, buylt e there an altar by Iordén, a great altar to se to.

THE BOKE OF IVDGES.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit there is nothing that more prouoketh Gods wrath, then mans ingratitude, yet is there nothing so displeasent and heinous that can turne backe Gods loue from his Church. For now when the Israelites were entred into the land of Candan, and sawe the trueth of Gods promes performed, in stead of acknowledging his great benefites and giuing thanks for the same, they fell to moste horrible obliuion of Gods graces, contrarie to their solimne promes made vnto Ioshúa, and so prouoked his vengeance (as muche as in them stode) to their viter destruction. Whereof as they had moste euidēt signes by the mutabilitie of their state: for he suffered them to be moste cruelly vexed and torment: d by tyrants: he pulled them from libertie, and cast them into slauerie, to the intent they might fele their owne miseries and so call vnto him and be deliuered. Yet to shewe that his mercies indure for euer, he raised vp from time to time suche as shoulde deliuer them and assure them of his fauour and grace, if they wolde turne to him by true repentance. And these deliuerers the Scripture calleth Iudges, because they were executers of Gods iudgements, not chosen of the people nor by succession, but raised vp, as it semed best to God, for the gouernance of his people. They were twelue in number besides Ioshúa, and gouerned from Ioshúa vnto Saül the first King of Israel. Ioshúa and these vnto the tyme of Saül ruled 336 yeres. In this boke are manie notable points declared, but two especially: first, the battel that the Church of God hath for the maintenance of true religion against idolatrie and superstition: next, what great danger that commune wealth is in, when as God giueth not a magistrate to reteine his people in the purenes of religion and in true seruce.

CHAP. I.

1 After Ioshua was dead, Judah was constitute captain. 6 Adoni-bézek is takē. 14 The request of Achish. 16 The children of Keni. 19 The Canaanites are made tributaries, but not destroyed.

a By the judgement of Vrim: read Exo. 28, 30. nom. 27, 21. 1 Sam. 28, 6. b Who shall be our Captain?

1 After y Ioshua was dead, y childre of Israël asked the Lord, saying: Who shal go vp for vs against the Canaanites, to fight against them?

c For the tribe of Simeon had their inheritance within y tribe of Iudáh, 1oth. 19, 21.

2 And the Lord said, Iudáh shal go vp: beholde, I haue giuen the land into his hand.

o Or, the lord of Bézek.

3 And Iudáh said vnto Simeón his brother, Come vp with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Canaanites: and I likewise wil go with thee into thy lot: so Simeón went with him.

d This was Gods first iudgement, as the tyrant him self confesseth, y as he had done, so did he receive, Luc. 24, 19.

4 Then Iudáh went vp, and the Lord deliuered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hands, and they slawe of them in Bézek ten thousand men.

5 And they founde Adoni-bézek in Bézek: and they fought against him, and slew the Canaanites, and the Perizzites.

6 But Adoni-bézek fled, and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut of the thumbs of his hands and of his fete.

e Which was after ward buyt againe, & possesse d by y Iebusites, 2. Sam. 5, 6.

7 And Adoni-bézek said, Seuentie Kings hauing the thumbs of their hands and of their fete cut of, gathered bread vnder my table: as I haue done, so God hath rewarded me. so they brought him to Ierusalém, and there he dyed.

f These three were gyats, & the children of Anák.

8 (Now the children of Iudáh had fought against Ierusalém, and had takē it & smitten it with the edge of the sword, and had set the citie on fire)

9 Afterwarde also the children of Iudáh went downe to fight against the Canaanites, that dwelt in y mountaine, and toward the South, and in the lowe countrey.

10 And Iudáh wēt against the Canaanites, that dwelt in Hebrón, which Hebrón beforetime was called Kiríath-arbá: and they slawe Sheshái, and Ahimán & Talmái.

11 And from thence he went to the inhabitants of Debír, and the name of Debír in olde time was Kiríath-sépher.

12 And Caléb said, He y smiteth Kiríath-sépher, & taketh it, euen to him wil I giue Achsháh my daughter to wife.

13 And Othniél the sonne of Kenáz Calébs yonger brother toke it, to whome he gaue Achsháh his daughter to wife.

g Read Iosh. 25, 18.

14 And whē she came to him, she moued him to aske of her father a field, & she lighted of her asse, and Caléb said vnto her, What wilt thou?

15 And she answered him, Giue me a blessing: for thou hast giuen me a South contrei, giue me also springs of water: and Caléb gaue her the springs aboue and the springs beneath.

h This was one of the names of Moses father in law, read Nom. 19, 29.

16 ¶ And the children of Keni Moses father in lawe went vp out of the citie of the palmetrees with the children of Iudáh, into the wilderness of Iudáh, that lieth in the South of Arád, and went and dwelt among the people.

17 But Iudáh went with Simeón his brother, and they slewe the Canaanites that inhabited Zepháh, and vterly destroyed it, and called the name of the citie Hor-máh.

Nom. 21, 2.

18 Also Iudáh toke Azzáh with the coastes thereof, & Askelón with the coastes thereof, and Ekron with the coastes thereof.

i These cities & others were afterward possessed of the Philistines, 1. Sam. 6, 17.

19 And the Lord was with Iudáh, and he possessed the mountaines: for he coulde not driue out the inhabitants of the valleys, because they had charrets of yron.

20 And they gaue Hebrón vnto Caléb, as Moses had said, and he expelled thence the thre sonnes of Anák.

Nom. 14, 24. Iosh. 14, 13. Ex. 15, 14.

21 But the children of Beniamín did not cast out the Iebusites, that inhabited Ierusalém: therefore the Iebusites dwel with the children of Beniamín in Ierusalém vnto this day.

k For after y the tribe of Iudáh had burnt it, they build it againe.

22 ¶ They also that were of the house of Ioséph, went vp to Beth-él, and the Lord was with them,

23 And the house of Ioséph caused to veue Beth-él (and the name of the citie beforetime was Luz)

Gen. 28, 19.

24 And the spies sawe a man come out of the citie, & they said vnto him, Shewe vs, we pray thee, the way into the citie, * and we wil shewe thee mercie.

Iosh. 2, 14.

25 And when he had shewed them the way into the citie, they smote the citie with y edge of the sword, but they let the man & all his household departe.

26 Then the man went into the land of the Hittites, and buyt a citie, and called the name thereof Luz, which is the name thereof vnto this day.

27 ¶ Nether did Manasséh destroy Bethsheán with her townes, nor Taanách with her townes, nor the inhabitants of Dor with her townes, nor the inhabitants of Lbleám with her townes, nether the inhabitants of Megiddó with her townes: but the Canaanites dwelled still in that land.

Iosh. 17, 10.

28 Neuertheless when Israël was strong, they put the Canaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

l Wherefore God permitted the Canaanites to dwell still in y land, read Chap. 3, 4.

29 ¶ Likewise Ephraím expelled not the Canaanites that dwelt in Gézer, but the Canaanites dwelt in Gézer among them.

Iosh. 16, 10.

30 ¶ Nether did Zebulún expel the inhabitants of Kitrón, nor the inhabitants m That is the tribe of Zebulun, as is also to be vnderstand of y rest.

The rebellion of Judges. the people. 109 of Naháól, but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

31 ¶ Nether did Ashér cast out the inhabitants of Acchó, nor the inhabitants of Zidón, nor of Abláb, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbáh, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehób, 32 But the Asherites dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them out.

3 But made them pay tribute as y others do.

¶ Nether did Naphtalí drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shémesh, nor the inhabitants of the Canaanites the inhabitants of the láid: neuertheless the inhabitants of Beth-shémesh, and of Beth-anáth became tributaries vnto them.

Or, afflicted him.

34 And the Amorites droue the children of Dan into the mountaine: so that they suffred them not to come downe to the valley.

Or, wilde dnel

35 And the Amorites dwelt stil in mount Héies in Analón, and in Shaalbm, and when the hand of Iosephs familie preuailed, they became tributaries:

Meaning, when he was stronger than they.

36 And the coast of the Amorites was from Maaleh-akrabbím, euen from Sélah and vpwarde.

Which was a citie in Arabia, or, as some read, from the rocks.

CHAP. I.

The Angel rebuketh the people, because they had made peace with the Canaanites. 11 The Israelites set to idolatrie after Ioshuas death. 14 They are deliuered into the enemies hands. 16 God deliuereth them by Iudges 22 Why God suffred idolaters to remaine among them.

a That is, messenger, or Prophet, as some think, Phináchas.

And an Angel of the Lord came vp from Gilgál to Bochím, & said, I made you to go vp out of Egypt, & haue brought you vnto the land which I had swoine vnto your fathers, and said, I wil neuer breake my couenant with you.

Deut 7, 2. Deut. 12, 3.

2 *Ye also shal make no couenant with the inhabitants of this land, * but shal breake downe their altars: but ye haue not obeyed my voyce. Why haue ye done this?

Iosh. 23, 13.

3 Wherefore, I said also, I wil not cast thē out before you, but they shalbe * as thornes vnto your sides, and their gods shalbe your destruction.

Or, sware.

4 And when the Angel of the Lord spake these wordes vnto all the children of Israél, the people list vp their voyce, and wept.

40, 1, 11, 12, 13

5 Therefore they called the name of that place, Bochím, and offred sacrifices there vnto the Lord.

b After that he had deuised to euery man his portion by lot, Iosh 14, 18.

6 ¶ Now when Ioshúa had sent the people away, the children of Israél went euerie má into his inheritance to possesse the land.

7 And the people had serued the Lord all the daies of Ioshúa, and all the daies of the Elders that outlyued Ioshúa, which had sene all the great workes of the Lord that he did for Israél.

c Meaning, the wonders & miracles.

8 But Ioshúa the sonne of Nun the scrúat of the Lord dyed, when he was an húdreth and ten yeres olde:

9 And they buried him in the coastes of his inheritance, in Timnath-héies in mount Ephráim, on the Northside of mount Gáash.

d Héies by turning the letters backward is Seréh, as Iosh. 14, 18.

10 And so all that generacion was gathered vnto their fathers, and another generacion arose after them, which nether knewe the Lord, nor yet the workes, which he had done for Israél.

11 ¶ Thē the children of Israél did wickedly in the fight of the Lord, and serued Baalím, e That is, a manner of idols.

12 And forsoke the Lord God of their fathers, which broght them out of the land of Egypt, & followed other gods, eue the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed vnto them, & prouoked the Lord to angr.

13 So they forsoke the Lord, & serued Baal and Ashtaróth.

f These were idols, which had the forme of an ewe of shepe among the Sidonians. P'sal 44, 13.

14 And the wrath of the Lord was hot against Israél, and he deliuered them into the hánds of spoilers, that spoiled them, & he solde them into the hands of their enemies round about thē, so that they colde no longer stand before their enemies.

15 ¶ Whether soeuer they went out, the had of the Lord was fore against them, as the Lord had said, & as the Lord had sborne vnto them: so he punished them fore.

g In all their enterprises h The vengeance.

16 ¶ Notwithstanding, the Lord raised vp Iudges, which deliuered them out of the hands of their oppreßers.

i Or, Delig' Israél. Ebr' saved.

17 But yet they woide not obey their Iudges: for they went whoring after other gods, and worshipped them, & turned quickly out of the way, wherein their fathers walked, obeying the commandements of the Lord: they did not so.

j Meaning, from true religion.

18 And when the Lord had raised them vp Iudges, the Lord was with the Iudge, and deliuered them out of the hand of their enemies all the daies of the Iudge (for the Lord had compassion of their groanings, because of them that oppreßed them & remented them)

k Ebr' reprim'd k Seeing their crueltie.

19 Yet whē the Iudge was dead, they returned, and did worse then their fathers, in following other gods to serue them and worship them: they ceased not from their owne inuencions, nor from their rebellious way.

l Chap 3, 12. m Ebr' corrupt. the wayes.

20 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israél, & he said, Because this people hatne transgressed my couenant, which I commanded their fathers, & hathe not obeyed my voyce,

21 Therefore wil I no more cast out before them any of the nations, which Ioshúa left when he dyed, n As the Hittites, Libuities, Amorrhites, &c.

^m So ^h boche ²² outwaide enemies and false Prophets are but a tryal to proue ^o tain, ^{R. III. 12.}

That through them I may ^m proue Israél, whether they wil kepe the way of the Lord, to walke therein, as their fathers kept it, or nor.
23 So the Lord left those nacions, & droue them not out immediatly, nether deliuered them into the hand of Ioshúa.

CHAP. III.

¹ These now are the nacions which the Lord left, that he might proue Israél by them (euen as many of Israél as had not knowne all the ^a warres of Canaan, ² Onely to make the generacions of the children of Israél to knowe, and to teache them warre, which douteles their predecessors knewe ^b not)
³ Fiue princes of the Philistims, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hiuites that dwelt in mount Lebanón, from mount Báal hermón vnto one come to Hamath.

^a Which were schaged by ^h hand of God, ² and not by the power of man.

^b For the trusted in God & he fought for them.

⁴ And these remained to proue Israél by them, to wit, whether they wolde obey the commandements of the Lord, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

⁵ And the children of Israél dwelt among the Canaanites, the Hittites, & the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites,

^a Contrary to Gods commandement, Deut. 7.3.

⁶ And they toke ^c their daughters to be their wiues, and gaue their daughters to their sonnes, and serued their gods.

⁷ ¶ So ^h children of Israél did wickedly in the sight of the Lord, & forgate the Lord their God, & serued Baalim, and ^a Asheróth.

^d Trees or woods erected for idolatrye.

⁸ Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israél, and he solde them into the hád of Chushán rishatháim King of ^a Arám-naharáim, & the childre of Israél serued Chushán rishatháim eight yeres.

^o Or, Mesopotamia.

⁹ ¶ And when the children of Israél cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred vp a fauour to the children of Israél, and he sauéd them, euen Othniel the sonne of Kenáz, Calebs yonger brother.

^e He was raised vp by the Spirit of the Lord.

^o Or, Syria.

¹⁰ And the ^c Spirit of the Lord came vpó him, and he iudged Israél, and went out to warre: & the Lord deliuered Chushán rishatháim King of ^a Aram into his hand, and his hand preuailed against Chushán rishatháim.

^f That is, 32. vnder Ioshua, & 8. vnder Othniel.

¹¹ So the land had rest ^f fourtie yeres, and Othniel the sonne of Kenáz dyed.

^g So ^h the enemies of Gods people haue no power ouer them, but by Gods appointment.

¹² ¶ The children of Israél againe committed wickednes in ^h sight of the Lord: & the Lord ^h strengthened Eglón King of Moáb against Israél, because they had committed wickednes before the Lord.

¹³ And he gathered vnto him the children of Ammón, and Amalék, and went and smote Israél, and they possessed the cite of palmertrees.

¹⁴ So the child:en of Israél serued Eglón King of Moáb eightene yeres.

¹⁵ But when the children of Israél cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred them vp a sauour, Ehúd the sonne of Gerá the sonne of Lemini, a man ^a lame of his right hand: and the children of Israél sent a present by him vnto Eglón King of Moáb.

^o Or, Benjamin.

¹⁶ And Ehúd made him a dagger with two edges of a cubite length, and he did gird it vnder his raymēt vpon his right thigh, ^o Or, caused a dagger to be made.

¹⁷ And he presented the gift vnto Eglón King of Moáb (and Eglón was a very fat man)

¹⁸ And whē he had now presented the present, he sent away the people that bare the present, ¹⁹ But he turned againe from the ^b quarris, that were by Gilgál, and said, I haue a secret errand vnto thee, ^o King. Who said, Kepe ^c silence: and all that stode about him, went out from him.

^h Or, at some place, from the places of idoles.

ⁱ Til all be departed.

²⁰ Then Ehúd came vnto him, (& he sat alone in a somer parler, which he had) & Ehúd said, I haue a message vnto thee fró God. Then he arose out of his throne,

²¹ And Ehúd put forthe his left hand, and toke the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly, ²² So that the hafte went in after the blade: and the fat closed about the blade, so that he colde not drawe the dagger out of his belly, but the dirt came out.

²³ Then Ehúd gate him out ^a into the porch, and shut the dores of the parler vpon him, and locked them.

^o Or, banke.

²⁴ And when he was gone out, his seruants came: who seing that ^h dores of the parler were locked, they said, Surely he doeth his easment in his somer chambre.

^o Or, he commeth his ease.

²⁵ And they tarved til they were ashamed: and seing he opened not the dores of the parler, they toke the key, and opened the, and beholde, their lord was fallen dead on the earth.

²⁶ So Ehúd escaped (while they tarved) and was passed the quarris, and escaped vnto Seirath.

^o Or, caused the trumpet to be blown, & 20. 2.

²⁸ Then said he vnto them, Followe me: for the Lord hathe deliuered your enemies, euen Moáb into your hand. So they went downe after him, and toke the passages fages of Iordén toward Moáb, and sufficed not a man to passe ouer.

Or, it is g. And big bodied

29 And they slew of the Moabites the same time about ten thousand men, all fed men, and all were warriors, and there escaped not a man.

Ebr humbled

30 So Moáb was subdued that day, vnder the hand of Israél: and the land had rest foure score yeres.

k Meaning, the tranquillity

31 ¶ And after him was Shamgár the sonne of Anath, which stwe of the Philistims fixe hundreth men with an oxen goade, & he also deliuered Israél.

So that it is not the nobler, nor y mannes y God regardeth, when he will get the victorie.

CHAP. IIII.

Israél sinned and are giuen into the hands of Iabin. 4 Deborah iudgeth Israél and exhorteth Barák to deliuer the people of Sifera sleeth, 17 And is killed by Iael Ebr added, or I continued to do euil.

And the children of Israél began againe to do wickedly in the sight of the Lord when Ehúd was dead.

a There was another Iabin, whom Ioshua killed & burnt his citie Hazór, Iosh 11. 13. b I hat is, in a wood, or strong place.

2 And the Lord solde them into the hand of a Iabin King of Canaan, that reigned in Hazór, whose chief captaine was called Sifera, which dwelt in Harosheth of the Gentiles.

Then the children of Israél cryed vnto the Lord: (for he had nine hundreth charrets of yron, and twentie yeres he had vexed the children of Israél very sore)

c By y Spirit of prophetic, resolving of controuersies, & declaring y will of God.

4 ¶ And at that time Deborah a Prophetesse the wife of Lapidóth iudgeth Israél.

5 And this Deborah dwelt vnder a palmtree, betwene Ramáh and Beth-el in mount Ephraím, & the children of Israél came vp to her for iudgement.

6 Then she sent and called Barák the sonne of Abinóam out of Kédesh of Naphtali, and said vnto him, Hathe not y Lord God of Israél commanded, saying, Go, and drawe toward mount Tabór, & take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphtali and of the children of Zebulun d And reuelled vnto me by y Spirit of prophetic.

7 And I wil drawe vnto thee to the riuer Kishón Sifera, the captaine of Iabins arme with his charrets, and his multitude, & wil deliuer him into thine hand.

Psal, 33, 10. Or, vnto y

8 And Barák said vnto her, If thou wilt go with me, I wil go: but if thou wilt not go with me, I wil not go.

e Fearing his owne weaknes & his enemies power; he desired y Prophetesse to go with him to assure him of Gods will from time to time

9 Then she answered, I wil surely go with thee, but this iourney that thou takest, shal not be for thine honour: for y Lord shal sel Sifera into y had of a womán. And Deborah arose and went w Bar ik to Kédesh.

Or, he led af- ter him 10000 men.

10 ¶ And Barák called Zebulun and Naphtali to Kédesh, & he went vp on his feet with ten thousand men, and Deborah wét vp with him.

Or, he led af- ter him 10,000 men.

11 ¶ Now Heber the Kenite, which was of the children of Hobáb the father in law of Moíses, was departed from the Kenites, and pitched his tent vntil the plaine of Zaanaím, which is by Kédesh

f Meaning, y he possessed a greit parte of that countrey.

12 The they shewed Sifera, y Bar ik y sonne of Abinóá was gone vp to mount Tabór.

13 And Sifera called for all his charrets, enen nine hundreth charrets of yron, & all the people that were with him to Harosheth of the Gentiles, vnto the riuer Kishón.

14 Then Deborah said vnto Barák, s Vp: for this is y day that the Lord hath deliuered Sifera into thine hand. Is not the Lord gone out before thee? so Barák went downe from mount Tabór, and ten thousand men after him.

g She fill en courage hie to this enterprise by assuring him of Gods fauour & aide.

15 And the Lord destroyed Sifera and all his charrets, & all his hoste with the edge of the sworde, before Barák, so that Sifera lighted downe of his charret, and fled away on his feet.

16 But Barák pursued after the charrets, & after the hoste vnto Harosheth of the Gentiles: & all y host of Sifera fel vpon y edge of y sworde: there was not a má left.

Psal 33, 20.

17 Howbeit, Sifera fled away on his feet to the tent of Iael the wife of Heber the Kenite: (for peace was betwene Iabin the King of Hazór, and betwene the house of Heber the Kenite) h Whose ancters were strangers, but worshiped y true God, & therefore were rayned w Israél.

18 And Iael wét out to meete Sifera, & said vnto him, Turne in, my Lord, turne into me: feare not. And when he had turned in vnto her into her tent, she couered him with a mantel.

Or, she covered.

19 And he said vnto her, Giue me, I pray thee, a litle water to drinke: for I am thursty. And she opened a bottle of milke & gaue him drinke, and couered him.

Chap 3, 25.

20 Againe he said vnto her, Stande in the doore of the tent, and when anye man doeth come and enquire of thee, saying, Is anye man here? thou shalt say, Nay.

To wit, Sifera

21 Then Iael Hebers wife took a nayle of the tent, and toke an hammer in her hand, and went softly vnto him, and smote the naile into his temples, and fastened it into the grounde, (for he was fast a slepe, and wearie) and so he dyed.

k That is, the pinne of the stake, whereby it was fastened to the ground.

22 And beholde, as Barák pursued after Sifera, Iael came out to meete him, and said vnto him, Come, and I wil shewe thee the má, whome thou seekest: and whé he came into her tent, beholde, Sifera lay dead, and the naile in his temples.

l So he sawe y a woman had the honour, as Deborah pronounced 23 So God broght downe Iabin the King of Canaan that day before the children of Israél.

24 And the hand of the children of Israél preuailed, and preuailed against Iabin the King of Canaan, vntil they had destroyed Iabin King of Canaan.

Or, he was dead

CHAP. V.

The song and thanksgiving of Deborah and Barák after the victorie

1 Then sang Deborah, and Barak the sonne of Abinóam the same day, saying,

CHAP. VI.

1 Israël is oppressed of the Midianites for their wickednes. 14 Gideon is sent to be their deliuerer. 37 He is keth a signe.

1 A fterward the children of Israël committed wickeanes in the sight of the Lord, and the Lord gaue the into the handes of Midian seu: nye es.

y For feare of y Midianites they fled into y denes of the mountaines

2 And the hand of Midian preuailed against Israël, & because of the Midianites the children of Israël made them de-dennes in the mountaines, and canes, and strong holdes.

3 When Israël had sown, then came vp the Midianites, the Amalekites, and they of the East, and came vpon them,

Or, of kedem

4 And camped by them, and destroyed the frute of the earth, euen til thou come vnto Azzáh, & left no foode for Israël, nether shepe, nor oxe, nor asse.

b Euen almost of whole country

5 For they wét vp, and their cattel, and came with their tentes as gresfhoppers in multitude: so that they and their camels were without number: and they came into the land to destroye it.

6 So was Israël exceedingly impouertished by the Midianites: therefore the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord.

c This is the end of Gods punishemets, to call his to repentance if they may see for helpe of him.

7 ¶ And when the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord because of the Midianites,

8 The Lord sent vnto the children of Israël a Prophet, who said vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israël, I haue brought you vp frõ Egypt & haue brought you out of the house of bondage,

9 And I haue deliuered you out of the hãd of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all that oppressed you, and haue cast them out before you, and giuen you their land.

10 And I said vnto you, I am the Lord your God: * for a not the gods of the Amoiters in whose land you dwel: but you haue not obeyed my voyce.

d King. 17. 38 1st. 10. 2.

11 ¶ And the Angel of the Lord came, and sat vnder the oke which was in Ophrah, that pertained vnto Ioãsh the father of the Ezrites, and his sonne Gideón threatened wheat by the winepresse, ^e to hide it from the Midianites.

Or, to prepare his sight

12 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him, and said vnto him, The Lord is with thee, thou valiant man.

13 To whome Gideón answered, ^e Ah my Lord, if the Lord be with vs, why then is all this come vpon vs? and where be all his miracles which our fathers tolde vs of, and said, Did not the Lord bring vs out of Egypt? but now the Lord hathe forsaken vs, and deliuered vs into the hand of the Midianites.

f This came not of distrust, but of weaknes of faith, & is in y more perfect: for no man in this life can haue a perfect faith, but the children of God haue a true faith, whereby they be iustified 14 And the Lord looked vpon him, and said, Go in this thy ^f might, & thou shalt sau. Israël out of the hands of the Midianites: haue not I sent thee?

g That is, Christ appearing in visible forme h Which I haue giuen thee.

15 And he answered him, Ah my Lord, whereby shal I sau. Israël? beholde, my father is poore in Manasséh, and I am the least in my fathers house.

Or, familie.

16 Then the Lord said vnto him, I wil therefore be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Midianites, as one man.

17 And he answered him, I pray thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, then shewe me a signe, that thou talkest with me.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, vntil I come vnto thee, and bring mine offering, & lay it before thee. And he said, I wil tary vntil thou come againe.

i So that we see how the flesh is enemie vnto Gods vocatiõ, which can not be persuaded without signes

19 ¶ Then Gideón went in, & made ready a kid, & vnleauened bread of an ^h Epháh of floure, and put the flesh in a basket, and put the broth in a pot, and brought it out vnto him vnder the oke, and presented it.

h Of Epháh read Exod. 16. 36.

20 And the Angel of God said vnto him, Take the flesh and the vnleauened bread, and lay them vpon this stone, and powre out the broth: and he did so.

21 ¶ The Angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staffe that he held in his hand, and touched the flesh & the vnleauened bread: and there arose vp fire out of the stone, and consumed the flesh & the vnleauened bread: so the Angel of the Lord departed out of his sight.

i By y power of God onely, as in y sacrifice of Helias, 1 King 18. 38.

22 And when Gideón perceiued that it was an Angel of the Lord, Gideón then said, Alas, my Lord God: * for because I haue sene an Angel of the Lord face to face, I shall dye.

Exod. 33. 20. chap. 13. 20.

23 And the Lord said vnto him, Peace be vnto thee: feare not, thou shalt not dye.

24 Then Gideón made an altar there vnto the Lord, and called it, Iehouáh shalom: vnto this day it is in Ophrah, of the fathers of the Ezrites.

Or, the Lord of peace.

25 ¶ And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Take thy fathers yong bullocke, & another bullocke ^k of seuen yeres olde, and destroy the altar of Baal that thy fathers haue, and cut downe the groue that is by it, k That is, as the Chaldee text writeth, six seuen yeres.

26 And buylde an altar vnto the Lord thy God vpon the top of this rocke, in a plaine place: and take the seconde bullocke, and offer a burnt offering with the wood of the groue, which thou shalt cut downe.

l Which grew about Baals altar

27 Then Gideón toke ten men of his seruants, and did as the Lord bade him: but because he feared to do it by day for his fathers housholde and the men of the citie, he did it by night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the citie arose early in the morning, beholde, the altar of Baal was broken, and the groue cut downe that was by it, and the seconde bullocke offered vpon the altar that was made.

m Meaning y fat bul, which was kept to be offered vnto Baal.

29 Therefore they said one to another, Who hathe done this thing? & when they inquired and asked, they said, Gideón the sonne of Ioãsh hathe done this thing.

30 Then the men of the citie said vnto Ioãsh, Bring out thy sonne, that he may dye: for he hathe destroyed the altar of Baal, & hathe also cut downe the groue that was by it.

31 And Ioãsh said vnto all that stode by 32 And in that day was Gideon called Ieruboaal, y^e is, Let Baal plead for him selfe because he hathe broken downe his altar.

38 And so it was: for he rose vp early on y^e morowe, & thrust the fleece together, and winged the dewe out of the fleece, and filled a bowle of water.

Gen. 28, 20.

39 Againe Gideon said vnto God, Be not angry with me, that I may speake once more: let me proue once againe, I pray thee, with the fleece: let it now be drye onely vpon the fleece, and let dewe be vpon all the grounde.

3 Now therefore proclayme in the audience of the people, & say, Who so is timorous or feareful, let him returne, and departe early from mount Gilcad. And there returned of the people which were at mount Gilead, two and twentie thousand. So ten thousand remained.

4 And the Lord said vnto Gideon, The people are yet to manie bring the downe vnto the water, and I wil trye them for thee there: and of whome I say vnto thee, This man shal go with thee, the same shal go with thee. and of whome soeuer I say vnto thee, This man shal not go with thee, the same shal not go.

12 And the Midianites, and the Amalekites and all they of the East, lay in the valley like grasshoppers in multitude, & their camels were without nombre, as the sand which is by the seaside for multitude.

- 16 Now therefore, if ye do truely and vncorruptly to make Abimélech King, & if ye haue dealt wel with Ierubbáal & with his house, & haue done vnto him according to the deseruing of his hands,
- 17 ^{Ebr. he cast his life farre from him.} (For my father fought for you, and^{ad} uentured his life, & deliuered you out of the hands of Midíán.
- 18 And ye are risen vp against my fathers house this day, and haue slayne his children, ^{about} seuentie persones vpon one stone, & haue made Abimélech the sonne of his maideseruant, King ouer the men of Shechém, because he is your brother)
- 19 If ye then haue delt truely and purely with Ierubbáal, and with his house this day, then ^s reioyce ye with Abimélech, and let him reioyce with you.
- 20 But if not, let a fire come out from Abimélech, and consume the men of Shechém and the house of Milló: also let a fire come for the frō the men of Shechém, & from the house of Milló, and consume Abimélech.
- 21 And Iothám ranne away, and fled, & wēt to Beér and dwelt there for feare of Abimélech his brother.
- 22 So Abimélech reigned thre yere ouer Israél.
- 23 ^{Because the people consented with the King in shedig innocent blood: therefore God destroyeth bothe the one & the other.} But God ^h sent an euil spirit betwene Abimélech, and the men of Shechém: and the mé of Shechém brake their promes to Abimélech,
- 24 That the crueltie towards the seuentie sonnes of Ierubbáal & their blood might come and be laide vpon Abimélech their brother, which had slayne them, and vpon ^y men of Shechém, which had aided him to kil his biethren.
- 25 So ^y men of Shechém set men in waite for him in the tops of the mountaines: who robbed all that passed that way by them: and it was tolde Abimélech.
- 26 Then Gáal the sonne of Ebéd came with his brethren, and they went to Shechém: and the men of Shechém put their confidence in him.
- 27 ^{Before they were afrayed of Abimelechs power, & durst not go out of the citie.} Therefore they ⁱ went out into the field, & gathered in their grapes & troade them, and made mery, and went into the - house of their gods, and did eat & drinke, and cursed Abimélech.
- 28 Thē Gáal the sonne of Ebéd said, Who is Abimélech? and who is Shechém, that we shulde serue him? Is he not the sonne of Ierubbáal? & Zebúl is his officer? Serue rather the men of Hamór the father of Shechém: for why shuld we serue him?
- 29 Now wolde God this people were vnder mine hád: then wolde I put away Abimélech. And he said to ^k Abimélech, Increate thine armie, and come out.
- 30 ¶ And when Zebúl the ruler of the citie heard the wordes of Gáal the sonne of Ebéd, his wrath was kindled.
- 31 Therefore he sent messengers vnto Abimélech ^{pruely}, saying, Beholde, Gáal the sonne of Ebéd and his brethren be come to Shechém, and beholde, they fortifie the citie against thee.
- 32 Now therefore arise by night, thou and ^y people that is with thee, & lie in wayte in the field.
- 33 And rise early in the morning as soone as the sunne is vp, and assalt the citie: and when he and the people that is with him, shal come out against thee, do to him ^{what thou canst}.
- 34 ¶ So Abimélech rose vp, & all the people that were with him by night: and they laie in waite against Shechém in foure bandes.
- 35 Then Gáal the sonne of Ebéd went out and stode in the entring of the gate of the citie: and Abimélech rose vp, and the folke that were with him, frō lying in waite.
- 36 And when Gáal sawe the people, he said to Zebúl, Beholde, there come people downe from the tops of the mountaines: and Zebúl said vnto him, The ^l shadowe of the mountaines seme men vnto thee.
- 37 And Gáal spake againe, & said, Se, these come folke downe ^{by the middle of the land, & an other band cometh by the way of the plaine of Meonenim.}
- 38 Then said Zebúl vnto him, Where is now thy mouth, that said, Who is Abimélech, that we shulde serue him? Is not this the people that thou hast despised? Go out now, I pray thee, and fight with them.
- 39 And Gáal ^m went out before the men of Shechém, and fought with Abimélech.
- 40 But Abimélech pursued him, & he fled before him, and many were ouerthrowen and wounded, euen vnto the entring of the gate.
- 41 And Abimélech dwelt at Arumáh: and Zebúl thrust out Gáal and his brethren that they shulde not dwel in Shechém.
- 42 ¶ And on the morowe, the people went out into the field: which was tolde Abimélech.
- 43 And he toke the ⁿ people, and deuided them into thre bandes, and laid waite in the fields, and looked, & beholde, the people were come out of the citie, & he rose vp against them, and smote them.

44 And Abimélech, and the bandes that were with him, rushed forward, & stode in the entring of the gate of y^e citie: and y^e two other bades ranne vpon all the people that were in the field and slewe them.
45 And whē Abimélech had fought against the citie all that day, he toke the citie, and slewe the people that was therein, & destroyed the citie and sowed salt in it.

^b That it shuld be vnfruitful and neuer serue to any v^e.
^p That is, of Baal-berith, as Chap. 34.

46 ¶ And when all the men of the towre of Shechém heard it, thei entred into an holde of the house of the god ^p Berith.

47 And it was tolde Abimélech, that all the men of the towre of Shechém were gathered together.

48 And Abimélech gate him vp to mount Zalmón, he and all the people that were with him: and Abimélech toke axes with him and cut downe boughes of trees and toke them, and bare them on his shulder, and said vnto the folke that were with him, What ye haue sene me do, make haste, and do like me.

49 Thē all the people also cut downe euery man his bough, and followed Abimélech, & put them to the holde, and set the holde on fire wth them: so all the men of the towre of Shechém dyed also, about a thousand men and women.

^q Meaning y^e all were destroyed, as well thei in y^e towre as the other.

50 ¶ Then went Abimélech to Tebéz, and besieged Tebéz, and toke it.

51 But there was a strong towre within the citie, and thether fled all the men and women, and all the chief of the citie, and shut it to them, and went vp to the top of the towre.

52 And Abimélech came vnto the towre & fought against it, and went hard vnto the dore of the towre to set it on fire.

^{v. Sam. 11. 21.}

53 But a certaine woman * cast a piece of a millstone vpon Abimelechs head, & brake his braine pan.

54 Thē Abimélech called hastily his page that bare his harnes, and said vnto him, Drawe thy sworde & slay me, that mē say not of me, A woman slewe him. And his page thrust him through, and he dyed.

^r Thus God by suche miserable death taketh vengeance on tyrants euen in this life.

55 And when the men of Israël sawe that Abimélech was dead, thei departed euery man vnto his owne place.

56 Thus God rendred the wickednes of Abimélech, which he did vnto his father, in slaying his seuenti brethren.

57 Also all the wickednes of the mé of Shechém did God bring vpon their heads. So vpon thē came the curse of Iothám the sonne of Itrubbáal.

^f For making a tyrant their king.

CHAP. X.

^s Tolá dyeth. 5 Iair also dyeth. 17 The Israelites are punished for their sinnes: 10 They crye vnto God, 16 And he heareth praye on them.

1 A Fter Abimélech there arose to defend Israël, Tolá, the sonne of Puháh, the sonne of ^a Dodó, a man of Isfachár which dwelt in Shamír in mount Ephráim.

^{Or, his name.}

2 And he ^a iudged Israël thre and twentie yere and dyed, & was buryed in Shamír.

^{Or, gouerned.}

3 ¶ And after him arose Iair a Gileadite, & iudged Israël two and twentie yere.

4 And he had thirtie sonnes that rode on thirty assecoltes, & thei had thirty cities, which are called ^a Hauoth- Iair vnto this day, and are in the land of Gilead.

^a Signifying, thei were men of autoritie.

^{Or, the towne of Iair, as Deu. 34.}

5 And Iair dyed, & was buryed in Kamón.

6 ¶ And the childrē of Israël wrought wickednes againe in the sight of the Lord, & serued Baalím and * Ashtaróth, and the gods of ^a Arám, and the gods of Zidón, and the gods of Moáb, and the gods of the children of Ammón, and the gods of the Philistims, and forsoke the Lord and serued not him.

^{Chap. 2. 21. & 3. 7. & 4. 1. & 6. 1. & 13. 5. Chap. 2. 13. Or, 5. 11.}

7 Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israël, and ^a he solde them into the hands of the Philistims, and into the hands of the children of Ammón:

^{Or, deliuered.}

8 Who from that yere vexed and oppressed the children of Israël eightene yeres, ^b euen all the children of Israël that were beyonde Iordén, in the land of the Amorites, which is in Gileád.

^b As the Reubenites, Gadites, & half the tribe of Manasséh.

9 Moreover the children of Ammón went ouer Iordén to fight against Iudáh, and against Beniamín, and against the house of Ephráim: so y^e Israël was sore tormented.

10 Then the children of Israël ^c cryed vnto the Lord, saying, We haue sinned against thee, euē because we haue forsaken our owne God, and haue serued Baalím.

^c They prayed to the Lord & confessed their sinnes.

11 And the Lord ^d said vnto the children of Israël, did not I deliuer you from the Egyptiás & fró the Amorites, fró the children of Ammón & from the Philistims?

^d By stirring them vp some Prophet, as Chap. 6. 8.

12 The Zidonians also, and the Amalekites, and the Maobites did oppresse you, & ye cryed to me and I saued you out of their hands.

13 Yet ye * haue forsaken me, and serued other gods: wherefore I wil deliuer you nomore.

^{Deut. 32. 15. 107. 2. 13.}

14 Go, and crye vnto the gods which ye haue chosen. let them saue you in the time of your tribulacion.

15 And the children of Israël said vnto the Lord, We haue sinned: do thou vnto vs what soeuer please thee: onely we pray thee to deliuer vs ^e this day.

^e That is, fró this preiour danger.

16 Then they put away y^e strange gods fró among thē & ^f serued y^e Lord. & his soule was grieued for the miserie of Israël.

^f This is true repentance to put away the cuil, & to serue God aright.

17 Then the childrē of Ammón gathered thē selues together, & pitched in Gileád: and the children of Israël assembled thē selues, felues, and pitched in Mizpéh.

18 And the people and princes of Gileád said one to an other, Whosoever wil begin the bartel against the childrē of Ammón, the same shal be * head ouer all the inhabitants of Gileád.

Chap. 11, 6.

CHAP. XI.

2 Iphtáh being chased away by his brethren, was after made captaine ouer Israél. 30 He maketh a rashe wome. 32 He vanquisheth the Ammonites, 39 And sacrificeth his daughter according to his vowe.

Ebr. a man of mightie force. Or, valiant.

1 Then Gileád begate Iphtáh, & Iphtáh the Gileadite was a valiant man, but the sonne of an harlot.

a That is, of an harlot, as ver. 1

2 And Gileads wife bare him sonnes, and when y womás childrē were come to age, they thrust out Iphtáh, and said vnto him, Thou shalt not inherit in our fathers house: for thou art y sonne of a stráge womán.

b Where the gouernour of the countrey was called Tob.

3 Then Iphtáh fled from his brethren, and dwelt in the land of b Tob: and there gathered ydle fellowes to Iphtáh, and c went out with him.

c Ioyned with him, as some thinke, against his brethren.

4 ¶ And in proceffe of time the children of Ammón made warre with Israél.

d Or, ambassadors, sent for that purpose.

5 And whē the children of Ammón fought with Israél, d the Elders of Gileád went to fet Iphtáh out of the land of Tob.

e Men oft times are constrained to desire helpe of them, whome before they haue refused.

6 And they said vnto Iphtáh, e Come and be our captaine, that we may fight with the children of Ammón.

f Oft tymes those things, w^{ch} mére vnto God chooseth to do great enterprises by.

7 Iphtáh then answered the Elders of Gileád, Did not ye hate me, and f expel me out of my fathers house: how then come you vnto me now in time of your tribulacion?

8 Then the Elders of Gileád said vnto Iphtáh, Therefore we turne againe to thee now, that thou maiest go with vs, & fight against the children of Ammón, & be our head ouer all the inhabitants of Gileád.

9 And Iphtáh said vnto the Elders of Gileád, If ye bring me home againe to fight against y children of Ammón, if the Lord giue them before me, shal I be your head?

g Ebr. be the hearer.

10 And y Elders of Gileád said to Iphtáh, The Lord g be witnes betwene vs, if we do not according to thy wordes.

11 Then Iphtáh went with the Elders of Gileád, and the people made him head and captaine ouer them: and Iphtáh rehearsed all his wordes before the Lord in Mizpéh.

12 ¶ Then Iphtáh sent messengers vnto the King of the children of Ammón, saying, What hast thou to do with me, that thou art come against me; to fight in my land?

h Nomb. 21, 13.

13 And the King of the children of Ammón answered vnto the messengers of Iphtáh, * Because Israél toke my lād, whē they came vp frō Egypt, from Arnón vnto Iabbók, and vnto Iordén: now therefore restore those lands, quietly.

i Ebr. in peace.

14 Yet Iphtáh sent messengers againe vnto the King of the children of Ammón, 15 And said vnto him, Thus saith Iphtáh, * Israél toke not the land of Moáb, nor the land of the children of Ammón.

Deut. 2, 9.

16 But when Israél came vp from Egypt, and walked through the wildernes vnto the red Sea, then they came to Kadésh.

17 * And Israél sent messengers vnto the King of Edóm, saying, Let me, I pray thee, go through thy lād: but the King of Edóm wold not consent: and also they sent vnto the King of Moáb, but he wolde not: therefore Israél abode in Kadésh.

Nomb. 20, 23.

18 Then they went through the wildernes, and compassed the land of Edóm, and the land of Moáb, and came by the Eastside of y lād Moáb, and pitched on the other side of Arnón, * and came not within y coast of Moáb: for Arnón was y border of Moáb.

Nomb. 21, 13. & 22, 24.

19 Also Israél sent messengers vnto Sihón, King of the Amorites, the King of Heshbón, & Israél said vnto him, Let vs passe, we pray thee, by thy lād vnto our place.

Or, our stry,

20 But Sihón s consented not to Israél, that he shulde go through his coast: but Sihón gathered all his people together, and pitched in Iaház, and fought with Israél.

He raised the but to go through his countrey.

21 And the Lord God of Israél gaue Sihón and all his folke into the hands of Israél, and they smote thé: so Israél possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that countrey:

22 And they possessed * all the coast of the Amorites, from Arnón vnto Iabbók, and from the wildernes euen vnto Iordén.

Deut. 2, 26.

23 Now therefore the Lord God of Israél hath cast out the Amorites before his people Israél, & shuldest thou possesse it?

24 Woldest not thou possesse that which Chemósh thy god gueth thee to possesse? So whome soeuer the Lord our God driueth out before vs, them wil we possesse.

h For we ought more to beleue and obey God, the thinge idoles.

25 * And art thou now farre better then Balaák the sonne of Zippor King of Moáb: did he not strue with Israél and fight against them, Nomb. 22, 2. deut. 23, 4. 1st 24, 9.

26 When Israél dwelt in Heshbón and in her townes, and in Aroér & in her townes, and in all the cities that are by the coasts of Arnón, thre hundreth yeres: why did ye not then recouer i them in that space?

i Meaning their townes.

27 Wherefore, I haue not offēded thee: but thou doest me wróg to warre against me. The Lord the Iudge k be iudge this day betweene the children of Israél, and the children of Ammón.

k To punish the offender.

28 Howebeit the King of the children of Ammón hearkened not vnto the wordes of Iphtáh, which he had sent him.

29 ¶ Then the Spirit of the Lord came vpon Iphtáh, & he passed ouer to Gileád and to Manasséh, and came to Mizpéh in l That is, the spirit of strength and 2nd 6.

of Ammón, and when I called you, ye deliuered me not out of their hands.

m As the A postle commēdeth Iphtáh for his worthy enepreife in deliuering the people, Ebr. 11. 32: so by his rash vowe & wicked performance of the same, his victorie was defaced: and here we see that the finnes of the godly do not vterly extinguish their faith.

30 And Iphtáh m vowed a vowe vnto the Lord, and said, If thou shalt deliuer the children of Ammón in to mine hands,

So when I sawe y ye deliuered me not, I put my life in mine háds, & went vpon the children of Ammón: so y Lord deliuered them into mine hands. Wherefore the are ye come vpō me now to fight against me?

c That is, I ventured my life, and when māshepe sayled, I put my trust onely in God.

Thé that thing that commeth out of the dores of mine house to mete me, when I come home in peace from the children of Ammón, shal be the Lords, and I wil offer it for a burnt offering.

4 Then Iphtáh gathered all the men of Gileád, and fought with Ephráim: & the men of Gileád smote Ephráim, because they said, Ye Giliadites are runagates of Ephráim among the Ephraimites, and among the Manassites.

d Ye ran frō vs. and chpfe Gileád, & now in respect of vs, ye are nothing.

And so Iphtáh went vnto the children of Ammón to fight against them, and the Lord deliuered them into his hands.

5 Also the Giliadites toke the passages of Iordén before the Ephraimites, and when the Ephraimites that were escaped, said, Let me passe, then the men of Gileád said vnto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If he said, Nay,

And he smote them from Aroér euē tilly come to Minnith, twentie cities, and so forthe to Abél of the vineyardes, with an exceeding great slaughter. Thus the childre of Ammón were humbled before the children of Israél.

6 Thé said they vnto him, Say now e Shibboleth: and he said, Sibboleth: for he coulde not so pronounce: then they toke him, and slewe him at the passages of Iordén: and there fel at that time of the Ephraimites two and forty thousand.

e Which signifieth, the fall of waters, of an care of conec.

34 ¶ Now whē Iphtáh came to Mizpéh vnto his house, beholde, his daughter came out to mete him with timbrels and dances, which was his onely childe: he had none other sonne, nor daughter.

7 And Iphtáh iudged Israél six yere: then dyed Iphtáh the Giliadite, and was buryed in one of the cities of Gileád.

35 And when he sawe her, he rent his clothes, and said, Alas my daughter, thou hast brought me low, & art of thé that trouble me: for I haue opened my mouthe vnto the Lord, and can not go backe.

8 ¶ After him f Ibzán of Beth-léhem iudged Israél, f Some thinke that this was Boáz y husband of Ruth.

36 And she said vnto him, My father, if thou haste opened thy mouthe vnto the Lord, do with me as thou hast promised, seing that the Lord hathe auenged thee of thine enemies the children of Ammón.

9 Who had thirtie sonnes and thirtie daughters, which he sent out, and toke in thirtie daughters from abroad for his sonnes, and he iudged Israél seuen yere.

37 Also she said vnto her father, Do thus muche for me: suffre me two monethes, that I may go to the mountaines, and bewaile my virginittie, I and my fellowes.

10 Then Ibzán dyed, and was buryed at Beth-léhem.

38 And he said, Go: and he sent her away two monethes: so she went with her companions, and lamented her virginittie vpō the mountaines.

11 ¶ And after him iudged Israél Elón, a Zebulonite, and he iudged Israél ten yere.

39 And after the end of two monethes, she turned againe vnto her father, who did with her according to his vowe which he had vowed, and she had knowen no man, and it was a custome in Israél.

12 Then Elón the Zebulonite dyed, & was buryed in Aiialón in the countrey of Zebulún.

40 The daughters of Israél went yere by yere to lament the daughter of Iphtáh the Gileadite, foure dayes in a yere.

13 ¶ And after him Abdón y sonne of Hillél the Pirathonite iudged Israél.

CHAP. XII.

6 Iphtáh killeth two & fortie thousand Ephraimites. 8 After Iphtáh succedeth Ibzán, 11 Elón, 13 And Abdón.

14 And he had fortie sonnes & thirtie newewes that rode on seuentie affecoltes: and he iudged Israél eight yeres.

11 Ebr. sonnes sonnes. Or, bisfecoltes.

1 And the men of Ephráim gathered thé selues together, and went northward and said vnto Iphtáh, Wherefore wentest thou to fight against the children of Ammón, and didest not call vs to go with thee? we wil therefore burne thine house vpon thee with fire.

1 Samſón deſireth to haue a wife of the Philiftims. 6 He killeth a lyon. 12 He propoundeth a riddle. 19 He killeth thirtie. 20 His wife forſaketh him and taketh another.

1 NOW Samſón went downe to Timnath, and ſawe a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philiftims, 8 ¶ And within a few dayes, whē he returned to receiue her, he went aside to se the carkeis of the lyon: and beholde, there was a swarme of bees, and hony in the body of the lyon.

10 So his father went downe vnto the woman, and Samson made there a d^d feast: for so vsed the yong men to do.

11 And when e they sawe him, they brought thirtie companions to be with him.

12 Then Samson said vnto them, I wil now put forthe a ridle vnto you: & if you can declare it me within seven dayes of the feast, and finde it out, I wil giue you thirtie shetes, and thirtie f change of garmets.

f To weare at feastes, or some dayes.

13 But if you cannot declare it me, then shal ye giue me thirtie shetes and thirtie change of garments. And they answered him, Put forthe thy ridle, that we may heare it.

14 And he said vnto them, Out of the carter came meat, and out of the strong came swetenes: & they colde not in thre dayes expounde the ridle.

Or, drewe nere, or it was y^e fourth day

Or, is impou-riste vs.

16 And Samsons wife wept before him, and said, Surely thou hatest me and louest me not: for thou hast put forthe a ridle vnto the h children of my people, and hast not tolde it me. And he said vnto her, Beholde, I haue not tolde it my father, nor my mother, and shal I tel it thee?

a That is, wil vs her as my wite.

2 And her father said, I thought that thou haddest hated her: therefore gaue I her to thy companion. Is not her yonger sister fairer then she? take her, I pray thee, in stead of the other.

3 The Samson said vnto them, Now am I more b blameles the the Philistims: therefore wil I do them displeasure.

b For through his fathers in laws occasion, he was moued againe to take vengeance of y^e Philistims.

4 ¶ And Samson went out, & toke thre hundred foxes, and toke firebrands, & turned them taile to taile, and put a firebrand in the middes betwene two railes.

5 And when he had set the brandes on fire, he sent them out into the standing corne of the Philistims, and burnt vp bothe the c riekcs & the standing corne with the vineyardes & oliues.

c Or, that was reaped & gathered.

6 Then the Philistims said, Who hathe done this? And they answered, Samson the sonne in lawe of the d Timnite, because he had taken his wife, & giuen her to his companio. Then the Philistims came vp and e burnt her and her father with fire.

9 ¶ Then y^e Philistims came vp, & pitched in Iudah, & were spred abroad in Lehi.

Or, camped.

10 And the men of Iudah said, Why are ye come vp vnto vs? And they answered, To f binde Samson are we come vp, and to do to him as he hathe done to vs.

f And so being our prisoner, to punish the him.

11 Then thre thousand men of Iudah wet to the toppe of the rocke Etam, and said to Salsn, Knowest thou not that y^e Philistims are rulers ouer vs? Wherefore then hast y^e done thus vnto vs? And he answered the, As they did vnto me, so haue I done vnto the.

12 Againe they said vnto hi, We are come to binde thee, and to deliuer thee into the hand of the Philistims. And Samson said vnto them, Swear vnto me, that ye wil not fall vpon me your selues.

h Thus they had rather betray their brother, then vsa y^e means that God had giue: for their deliurance.

i That is, of an asse lately slaine.

15 And he found a newe iawebone of an asse, and put forth his hand, and caught it, and slewe a thousand men therewith.

16 Then Samson said, With the iawe of an asse are heapes vpon heapes: wth the iawe of an asse haue I slayne a thousand men.

17 And when he had left speaking, he cast away the iawebone out of his hand, & called that place, Ramath-Léhi.

19 Then God brake the cheeke tothe, that was in the iawe, and water came thereout: and when he had dronke, his Spirit came againe, and he was reuiued: wherefore the name thereof is called, En-hakkore, w^{ch} is in Léhi vnto this day.

Or, visiter. b That is, he lodged w her.

1 Then went Samson to Azzah, & sawe there an harlot, & went in vnto her.

2 And it was tolde to the Azzathites, Samson is come hether. And they went about, & layed wait for him all night in the gate of the citie, and were quiet all the night, saying, A bide til the morning earely, and we shal kil him.

Or, so the light of the morning.

3 And Samson slept til midnight, & arose at midnight, and toke the dores of the gates of the citie, and the two postes and list them away with the barres, and put them vpon his sholders, and caried them vp to the top of the mountaine that is before Hebron.

Or, plasur.

4 ¶ And after this he loued a woman by y riuier of Sorék, whose name was Delilah:

5 Vnto whome came the princes of y Philistims, and said vnto her, Entise him, and se wherein his great strength lieth, and by what meane we may ouercome him, that we may binde him, and punishe him, and euerie one of vs shal giue thee eleuen hundredreth shekels of siluer.

6 ¶ And Delilah said to Samson, Tel me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength lieth, and wherewith thou mightest be bounde, to do the hurt.

7 Samson then answered vnto her, If they binde me with seuen greene cordes that were neuer dryed, thē shal I be weake, and be as an other man.

Or, newe wisbe.

8 And the princes of y Philistims broght her seuē greene cordes that were not drye, and she bound him therewith.

9 (And she had men lying in wayte w her in y chāber) Then she said vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson. And he brake the cordes, as a thread of towē is broken, when it feleth fire: so his strēgth was not known.

d Certaine Philistims in a secret chamber.

e Whē fire cometh nere it.

10 ¶ After Delilah said vnto Samson, Se, y hast mocked me and tolde me lies. I pray thee now, tel me wherewith y mightest be bound.

f Though her falschood tended to make him, lose his life, yet his affection so blinded him y he colde not be aware.

11 Then he answered her, If they binde me with newe ropes y neuer were occupied, then shal I be weake, and be as another man.

12 Delilah therefore toke newe ropes, and bound him therewith, and said vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson: (& men lay in wait in the chāber) & he brake them from his armes, as a threade.

13 ¶ Afterward Delilah said to Samson, Hetherto thou hast beguiled me, and tolde me lies: tel me how thou mightest be bound. s And he said vnto her, If thou plattest seuen lockes of mine head with the threades of the woufe.

g It is impossible, if we giue place to our wicked affections, but at length we shal be destroyed.

14 And she fastened it with a pinne, & said vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his slepe, and went away with the pinne of y webbe and the woufe.

Or, became.

15 Againe she said vnto him, How canst thou say, h I loue thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou hast mocked me these thre times, and hast not tolde me wherem thy great strength lieth.

h For this Samson vsed to saye, I loue thee.

16 And because she was importunate vpon him with her wordes continually, and vexed him, his soule was peined vnto y death.

17 Therefore he tolde her all his heart, & said vnto her, There neuer came rasor vpon mine head: for I am a Nazarite vnto God frō my mothers wombe: therefore if I be shauen, my strength wil go from me, & I shal be weake, & be like all other men.

i Thus his immoderate affections towarde a wicked woman caused him to lose Gods excellent gifts, & become slauē vnto the, whom he thide haue ruled.

18 And whē Delilah sawe that he had tolde her all his heart, she sent, & called for the Princes of y Philistims, saying, Come vp once againe: for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the princes of the Philistims came vp vnto her, and broght the money in their hands.

19 And she made him slepe vpon her knees, & she called a man, & made him to shauē of y seuen lockes of his head, & she begā to vexē hī, & his strength was gone frō hī.

k Not for the losse of his heere, but for y contempt of y ordinance of God, w was y cause y God departed from him.

20 Then she said, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his slepe, and thought, I wil go out now as at other times, & shake my selfe, but he knewe not that the Lord was departed from him.

21 Therefore the Philistims toke him, and put out his eyes, and broght him downe to Azzáh, and bound him with fetters: and he did grunde in the prison house.

22 And the heere of his head begā to growe againe after that it was shauen.

23 Then the princes of the Philistims gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice vnto Dagón their god, and to reioyce: for they said, Our god hath deliuered Samsón our enemy into our háds.

24 Also when the people saw him, they praised their god: for they said, Our god hath deliuered into our hands our enemy and destroyer of our countrey, which hath slaine manie of vs.

25 And when their heartes were mery, they said, Call Samsón, that he may make vs pastime. So they called Samsón out of the prison house, and he was a laughing stocke vnto them, and they set him betwene the pillers.

26 Then Samsón said vnto the seruant that led him by the hand, Lead me, that I may touche the pillers that the house standeth vpon, and that I may leane to them.

27 (Now the house was ful of men & women, and there were all the princes of the Philistims: also vpon the rooffe were about three thousand men & women that behelde while Samsón played)

28 Then Samsón called vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, I pray thee, thinke vpon me: O God, I beseeche thee, strengthen me at this time onely, that I may be at once auenged of the Philistims for my two eyes.

29 And Samsón layed holde on the two middle pillers whereupō the house stode, and on which it was borne vp: on the one with his right hand, and on the other with his left.

30 Then said Samsón, Let me lose my life with the Philistims: and he bowed him with all his might, and the house fel vpon the princes, and vpon all the people that were therein. so the dead which he slue at his death were mo then they which he had slayne in his life.

31 Then his brethren, and all the house of his father came downe and toke him, and broght him vp & buried him betwene Zoráh and Eshtaól, in the sepulchre of Manóah his father: now he had iudged Israël twentie yeres.

Michahs mother according to her vowe made her sonne two idoles. 5 He made his sonne a Priest for his idole, 10 And after he hired a Leuite.

1 There was a man of mount Ephráim, whose name was Michah,

2 And he said vnto his mother, The eleuen hundred shekels of siluer that were taken from thee, for the which thou cursedst, & spakedst it, euē in mine hearing, behold, the siluer is with me, I toke it. Then his mother said, Blessed be my sonne of the Lord.

3 And when he had restored the eleuen hundred shekels of siluer to his mother, his mother said, I had dedicate y siluer to y Lord of mine hand for my sonne, to make a grauen and molten image. Now therefore I wil giue it thee againe.

4 And whē he had restored the money vnto his mother, his mother toke two hundred shekels of siluer, and gaue them to the founder, which made thereof a graue and molten image, and it was in the house of Michah.

5 And this man Michah had an house of gods, & made an Ephód, & Teraphim, and consecrated one of his sonnes, who was his Priest.

6 In those daies there was no King in Israël, but euerie man did that, which was good in his owne eyes.

7 There was also a yong mā out of Bethléhem Iudáh, of the familie of Iudáh: who was a Leuite, and sojourned there.

8 And the man departed out of the cite, out of Bethléhem Iudáh, to dwel where he colde finde a place: and as he iourneied, he came to mount Ephráim to the house of Michah.

9 And Michah said vnto him, Whence comest thou? And the Leuite answered him, I come from Bethléhem Iudáh, and go to dwel where I may finde a place.

10 Then Michah said vnto him, Dwel with me, and be vnto me a father and a Priest, and I wil giue thee ten shekels of siluer by yere, and a sute of apparel, & thy meat and drinke. So the Leuite went in.

11 And the Leuite was content to dwel with the man, and the yong man was vnto him as one of his owne sonnes.

12 And Michah consecrated the Leuite, & the yong man was his Priest, and was in the house of Michah.

13 Then said Michah, Now I knowe that y Lord wil be good vnto me, seing I haue a Leuite to my Priest.

8 And he arose vp early the fiftē day to departe, & the yong womans father said, Comforte thine heart, I pray thee: and they taryed vntil after midday, and they bothe did eat.

9 Afterwarde when the man arose to departe with his concubine and his seruant, his father in lawe, the yong womans father said vnto him, Beholde now, the day draweth toward euen: I pray you, tary all night: beholde the sunne goeth to rest: lodge here, that thine heart may be mery, & tomorowe get you early vpon your way, and go to thy tent.

*Ebr. u. weake.
Or, the day lodgeth.*

c To wit, to the towne or citie where he dwelt.

10 But the man wolde not tary, but arose and departed, & came ouer against Iebús, (which is Ierusalém) and his two asses laden, and his concubine were with him.

11 When thei were nere to Iebús, the day was fore spent, and the seruant said vnto his master, Come, I pray thee, & let vs turne into this citie of the Iebusites, & lodge all night the e.

Or, wth downe.

12 And his master answered him, We wil not turne into the citie of strangers that are not of the children of Israël, but we wil go forth to Gibeah.

d Though in these daies, there were most horrible corrupcions, yet very necessitie coulde not compell the to haue to do with them that professed not the true God.

13 And he said vnto his seruant, Come, and let vs drawe nere to one of these places, that we may lodge in Gibeah or in Ramáh.

14 So they went forwarde vpon their way, and the sunne went downe vpo them nere to Gibeah, which is in Beniamin.

15 ¶ Then thei turned thether to go in and lodge in Gibeah: and when he came, he sate him downe in a strete of the citie: for there was no man that toke them into his house to lodging.

Or, gathered them.

16 And beholde, there came an olde man from his worke out of the field at euen, and the man was of mount Ephráim, but dwelt in Gibeah: and the men of the place were the children of Iemini.

e That is, of the tribe of Beniamin.

17 And when he had lift vp his eyes, he sawe a wayfaring mā in the stretes of the citie: then this olde man said, Whether goest thou, and whence camest thou?

Or, a man walking.

18 And he answered him, We came from Beth-léhem Iudah, vnto the side of mount Ephráim: from thence am I: and I went to Beth-léhem Iudah, and go now to the house of the Lord: and no man receiueth me to house, f To Shilóh or Mizpib, where the Arke was.

19 Although we haue strawe and prouandre for our asses, and also bread and wine for me and thine handmayd, and for the boy that is with thy seruant: we lacke nothing.

Or, be of good comfort.

20 And the olde man said, Peace be with thee: as for all that thou lackest, shalt thou finde with me: onely abide not in the strete all night.

21 ¶ So he broght him into his house, and gaue foddre vnto the asses: & thei washed their feete, & did eat and drinke.

22 And the people, the men of Israél plucked vp their hearts, and set their battel againe in array in the place where they put them in array the first day.

23 (For the children of Israél had gone vp and wept before the Lord vnto ¹ evening, and had asked of the Lord, saying, Shal I go againe to battel against the children of Beniamín my brethren? & the Lord said, Go vp against them)

24 ¶ Then the children of Israél came nere against the children of Beniamín the seconde day.

25 Also the seconde day Beniamín came forth to mete the out of Gibeáh, & slewe downe to the groude of the childré of Israél againe eightene thousand men: " all they colde handle the sworde.

26 Then all the children of Israél went vp & all the people came also vnto the house of God, & wept and faste there before the Lord & fasted that day vnto the euening, and offred burnt offrings & peace offrings before the Lord.

27 And the children of Israél asked the Lord (for ^m there was the Aike of the couenant of God in those dayes, 28 And Phinehás the sonne of Eleazár, the sonne of Aarón ⁿ stode before it at that time) saying, Shal I yet go anie more to battel against the childré of Beniamín my brethren, or shal I cease? And the Lord said, Go vp: for tomorowe I wil deliuer them into your hand.

29 And Israél set men to lye in wait round about Gibeáh.

30 And the children of Israél went vp against the children of Beniamín the third day, and put them selues in array against Gibeáh, as at other times.

31 Then the children of Beniamín coming out against the people, were ^o drawē from the citie: and they began to smite of the people and kil as at other times, euē by the wayes in the field (whereof one goeth vp to the house of God, & the other to Gibeáh) vpon a thirtie men of Israél.

32 (For the childré of Beniamín said, They are fallen before vs, as at the first. But the children of Israél said, Let vs flee & plucke them away from the citie vnto the hie ^p wayes)

33 And all the men of Israél rose vp out of their place, & put them selues in array at Baál tamár: and the men that lay in waite of the Israelites came forth of their place, euē out of the medowes of Gibeáh, 34 And they came ouer against Gibeáh, ten thousand chosen men of all Israél, & the battel was sore: for they knewe not that the ^q euil was nere them.

35 ¶ And ¹ Lord smote Beniamín before Israél, and the children of Israél destroyed of the Beniamites the same day fise and twentie thousand and an hundreth men: all they colde handle the sworde.

36 So the childré of Beniamín sawe that they were striken downe: for the men of Israél ^r gaue place to the Beniamites, because they trusted to the men that lay in wait, which they had laid beside Gibeáh.

37 And they that lay in waite halted, and brake forth towarde Gibeáh, and the embushment ^r drewe them selues along, and smote all the citie with the edge of the sworde.

38 Also the men of Israél had appointed a certaine time with the embushmets, that they shulde make a great flame, and smoke rise vp out of the citie.

39 And whē the men of Israél retired in the battel, Beniamín began to ^f smite and kil of the men of Israél about thirtie persons: for they said, Surely they are striken downe before vs, as in the first battel.

40 But when the flame began to arise out of the citie, as a pillar of smoke, the Beniamites looked backe, and beholde, the flame of the citie began to ascende vp to heauen.

41 Then ^t men of Israél turned againe, and the men of Beniamín were attonied: for they saw that euil was nere vnto the.

42 Therefore they fled befoie the men of Israél vnto the way of the wildernes, but the battel ouertoke them: also they which came out of the cities, slewe them ^u among them.

43 Thus they compassed the Beniamites about, and chased them ^v at ease, and ouerran them, euen ouer against Gibeáh on the Eastside.

44 And there were slaine of Beniamín eightene thousand men, which were all men of warre.

45 And they turned and fled to the wildernes vnto the rocke of Rimmón: and the Israelites ^x glained of them by the way fise thousand mé, & pursued after the vnto Gidóm, & slewe two thousand mé of the,

THE BOKE OF RUTH.

THE ARGUMENT.

This boke is intitled after the name of Ruth: which is the principall persone spoken of in this treatise. Wherein also figuratively is set forth the state of the Church which is subiect to manifold afflictions, and yet at length God giveth good and joyfull issue: teaching vs to abide with patience til God deliver vs out of troubles. Herein also is ascribed howe Iesus Christ, who according to the flesh ought to come of David, proceeded of Ruth, of whome the Lord Iesus did vouchesane to come, notwithstanding she was a Moabite of base condition, and a stranger from the people of God: declaring vnto vs thereby that the Gentiles shoulde be sanctified by him and ioyned with his people, and that there shoulde be but one shepfold, and one shepherde. And it semeth that this historie apperteineth to the time of the Iudges.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimélech goeth with his wife and childrē into the lād of Moab. 2 He and his sonnes dye. 3 Naomi and Ruth come to Beth-léhem.

^a Ebr. iudged.

^a In the land of Canaan. ^b In the tribe of Iudáh, which was also called Beth-léhem Ephratbah, because there was another cite so called in the tribe of Zebulun.

IN the time that the iudges^a ruled, there was a dearth in the^a land, and a mā of Beth-léhem^b Iudáh went for to sojourne in the cōntrei of Moáb, he, and his wife, and his two sonnes.

2 And the name of the mā was Elimélech, and the name of his wife, Naomi: and the names of his two sonnes, Mahlón, & Chilión, Ephrathtes of Beth-léhem Iudáh: and when they came into the land of Moáb, they continued there.

3 Then Elimélech the housbād of Naomi dyed, & she remained with her two sonnes, 4 Which toke them wiues of the^c Moabites: the ones name was Orpáh, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeres.

5 And Mahlón and Chilión dyed also bothe twaine: so the woman was left despitue of her two sonnes, & of her housbād.

6 ¶ Then she arose with her daughters in lawe, and returned from the countrey of Moáb: for she had heard say in the countrei of Moáb, that the Lord had^d visited his people, and gūen them bread.

7 Wherefore she departed out of the place where she was, and her two daughters in lawe with her, and they wēt on their way to returne vnto the land of Iudáh.

8 Thē Naomi said vnto her two daughters in lawe, Go, returne eche of you vnto her owne mothers house: y^e Lord shewe fauour vnto you, as ye haue done with the dead, and with me.

9 The Lord grante you, that you may finde rest, ether of you in the house of her housbād. And when she kissed them, they list vp their voyce and wept.

10 And they said vnto her, Surely we wil returne with thee vnto thy people.

11 But Naomi said, Turne againe, my daughters: for what cause wil you go with me: are there anie mo sonnes in my wombe, that they may be your housbands?

12 Turne againe, my daughters: go your way: for I am to olde to haue an housbād. if I shulde saie, I haue hope, & if I had an housbād this night: yea, if I had borne sonnes, 13 Wolde ye tary for them, til they were of age: wolde ye be differred for them from taking of housbands? nay my daughters: for it grieueth me^e muche for your sakes y^e the hād of y^e Lord is gone out against me.

14 Then they list vp their voyce, and wept againe, and Orpáh^f kissed her mother in lawe, but Ruth abode stil with her.

15 And Naomi said, Beholde, thy sifter in lawe is gone backe vnto her people & vnto her gods: returne y^e after thy sifter in lawe.

16 And Ruth answered, Intreat me not to leaue thee, nor to departe from thee: for whither thou goest, I wil go: and where thou dwellest, I wil dwell: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.

17 Where y^e dyest, wil I dye, and there wil I be buried. the Lord do so to me & more also, if^g ought but death departe thee & me.

18 ¶ When she sawe that she was stedfastly minded to go with her, she left speaking vnto her.

19 So they went bothe vntil they came to Beth-léhé: & whē they were come to Beth-léhem, it was^h noised of them through all the cite, and they said, Is not this Naomi?

20 And she answered thē, Call me not Naomi, but call meⁱ Mará: for the Almighty hathe giuen me muche bitternes.

21 I wēt out ful, & y^e Lord hathe caused me to returne empty: why call ye me Naomi, seing the Lord hath hūbled me, & the Almighty hathe broght me vnto aduersitie.

22 So Naomi returned and Ruth y^e Moabite her daughter in law with her, when she came out of the countrei of Moáb: & they came to Beth-léhem in the beginning of^j barley haruest.

THEN Naomis housband had a kinsman, one of great^k power of the familie of Elimélech, & his name was Boaz.

And

^e By this wonderful prouidence of God Ruth became one of Gods household, of whome Christ came.

^d By sending them pence againe.

^e Hereby it appeareth that Naomi by dwelling among idolaters was waxen colde in y^e true seale of God, & rather hath respect to the ease of y^e body then to y^e comfort of y^e soule.

^f Or, more then you.

^f When she take leaue & departed.

Bóaz, who was of y familie of Elimélech.

4 And beholde, Bóaz came from Beth-lé-hem, and ſaid vnto the reapers, The Lord be with you: & thei answered him, The Lord bleſſe thee.

5 The ſaid Bóaz vnto his ſeruāt y was appointed ouer y reapers, Whoſe maid is this?

6 And the ſeruāt that was appointed ouer the reapers, answered, and ſaid, It is the Moabitith mayd, that came with Naomi out of the countrey of Móab:

7 And ſhe ſaid vnto vs, I pray you, let me gleane and gather after the reapers amōg the ſheaves: ſo ſhe came, and hathe continued from that time in the moynng vnto now, ſaue y ſhe taried a litle in the houſe.

8 ¶ Then ſaid Bóaz vnto Ruth, Hereſt thou, my daughter: go to none other field to gather, nethe: go from hence: but abide here by my maidens.

9 ¶ Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reape, and go thou after the maidēs. Haue I not charged the ſeruants, that they touche thee not? Moreouer when thou ait a thirſt, go vnto the veſſels and binke of that which the ſeruants haue diawen.

10 Then ſhe fel on her face, and bowed her ſe lf to the ground, & ſaid vnto im, How haue I found fauour in thine eyes, that y ſhuldeſt knowe me, ſeing I am ^d a ſtrāger?

11 And Bóaz answered, and ſaid vnto her,
All is tolde and ſhewed me that y haſt done vnto thy mother in law, ſince y death of thine houſe bād, and how thou haſt left thy father and thy mother, and the land where thou waſt borne, and art come vnto a people w thou kneweſt not in time paſt.

12 The Lord recompence thy worke and a ful reward be giuen thee of the Lord God of Iſraél, vnder whoſe wings thou art come to truſt.

13 Then ſhe ſaid, Let me finde fauour in thy ſight, my lord: for y haſt cōſorted me, and ſpoken comfortably vnto thy maid,
thogh I be not like to one of thy maidens.

14 And Bóaz ſaid vnto her, At y meale time come thou hither, and eat of the bread, & dip thy morſel in y vinegre. And ſhe ſate beſide the reapers, and he reached her parched corne: and ſhe did eat, and was ſuffi-ſed, and left thereof.

15 ¶ And when the aroſ: to gleane, Bóaz cōmāded his ſeruants, ſaying, Lether gather among y ſheaves, and do not rebuke her.

16 Also let fall ſome of the ſheaves for her,

& let it lie, that ſhe may gather it vp, and rebuke her not.

17 So ſhe gleaned in the field vntil euenng, and ſhe threſhed that ſhe had gathered,
and it was about an ^e Ephāh of barley.

18 ¶ And ſhe toke it vp, & went into the ci-tie, and her mother in lawe ſawe what ſhe had gathered: alſo ſhe ³ toke forthe, and gaue to her that which ſhe had reſerued, when ſhe was ſuffiſed.

19 Then her mother in lawe ſaid vnto her, Where haſt thou gleaned to day? & where wroughteſt thou? bleſſed be he, that knewe thee. And ſhe ſhewed her mother in lawe, with whome ſhe had wrought, & ſaid, The mans name with whome I wrought to day, is Bóaz.

20 And Naomi ſaid vnto her daughter in lawe, Bleſſed be he of the Lord: for he cea-ſeth not to do good to the liuing and to the ^b dead. Againe Naomi ſaid vnto her,
The mā is nere vnto vs, & of our affinitie.

21 And Ruth the Moabiteſſe ſaid, He ſaid alſo certainly vnto me, Thou ſhalt be w my ſeruāts, vntil they haue ended all mine harueſt.

22 ¶ And Naomi answered vnto Ruth her daughter in lawe, It is beſt, my daughter, that thou go out with his maids, that thei mete thee not in another field.

23 The ſhe kept her by the maids of Bóaz, to gather vnto the end of bailey harueſt, & of wheat harueſt, and dwelt with her mother in lawe.

1 Then went Bóaz vp to the^a gate, and sate there, and beholde, the kinsman, of whome Bóaz had spoken, came by: and he said, b Ho, suche one, come, sit downe here. And he turned, and sate downe.

b The Ebrews here vse two wordes which haue no propre signification, but serue to note a certaine person: as we say, ho, syrray, or ho, suche one.

2 Then he toke ten men of the Elders of y^e cite, & said, Sit ye downe here. And they sate downe.

3 And he said vnto y^e kinsman, Naomé, that is come againe out of y^e cōtrey of Moáb, wil sel a parcel of lād, which was our brother Elimélechs.

4 And I thoght to aduertise thee, saying, Bye it before the^c assitants, and before the Elders of my people. If thou wilt redeme it, redeme it: but if thou wilt not redeme it, tel me: for I knowe that there is none besides thee to redeme it, & I am after thee. Then he answered, I wil redeme it.

c For thou art the next of y^e kinne.

5 Then said Bóaz, What day thou byest y^e field of the hand of Naomé, thou must also bye it of Ruth y^e Moabiteffe the wife of the dead, to sterre vp the name of the dead, vpon his^d inheritance.

d That his inheritance might beare his name that is dead.

6 And the kinsman answered, I can not redeme it, lest I destroy mine owne inheritance: redeme my right to thee, for I cā not redeme it.

7 Now this was the maner beforetime in Israél, concerning redeming and chāging, for to stablish all things: a man did plucke of his shooe, and gaue it his neighbour, and this was a sure^e witnes in Israél.

e That he had resigned his right, Deut. 19, 9.

8 Therefore the kinsman said to Bóaz, Bye it for thee: and he drue of his shooe.

9 And Bóaz said vnto the Elders and vnto all the people, Ye are witnesses this day, that I haue bought all y^e was Elimélechs, and all that was Chilion & Mahlóns, of the hand of Naomé.

10 And moreover, Ruth the Moabiteffe the wife of Mahlón, haue I bought to be my wife, to sterre vp the name of y^e dead vpon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead be not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his^f place: ye are witnesses this day.

THE FIRST BOKE OF Samuél.

THE ARGUMENT.

According as God had ordeined Deut. 17, 14. that when the Israelites shoulde be in the land of Canaan, he wolde appoint them a King: so here in this first boke of Samuel is declared the state of this people vnder their first King Saúl, who not content with that ordre, which God had for a time appointed for the gouernement of his Church, demanded a King, to the intent that might be as other nacions & in a greater assurance as they thought: not because they might the better thereby serue God, as being vnder the safegarde of him, which did repr: sent Iesus Christ the true deliuerer: therefore he gaue them a tyrant and an hypocrite to rule ouer them, that they might learne, that the persone of a King is not sufficient to d. fend them, except God by his power preferue and kepe them. And therefore he punisheth the ingratitude of his people & sendeth the continual warres bothe at home and abroad. And because Saúl, whome of nothing God had preferred to the honour of a King, did not acknowledge Gods mercie to warde him, but rather disobeyed the worde of God and was not zealous of his glorie, he was by the voice of God put downe from his state, and Daud the true figure of Mesiáh placed in his steade, whose patience, modestie, constancie, perfecucion by open enemies, fained friends, and dissembling flatterers are left to the Church and to euery member of the same, as a paterne and example to beholde their state ad vocation.

- 1 The genealogie of Elkanáh father of Samuél
- 2 His two wiues.
- 3 Hannáh was baren and prayed to the Lord.
- 15 Her answer to Eli.
- 20 Samuél is borne.
- 24 She doeth dedicate him to the Lord.

Here was a man of one of the two ^a Ramatháim Zophím, of mouñt Ephráim, whose name was Elkanáh the sonne of Ierohám, the sonne of Elihú, the sonne of Tóhu, the sonne of Zuph, an Ephíathite:

2 And he had two wiues: the name of one was Hannáh, and the name of the other Peninnáh: and Peninnáh had childré, but Hannáh had no children.

Deut. 16, 16. 3 * And this man went vp out of his citie euery yere, to worship & to sacrifice vnto the Lord of hostes in ^b Shilóh, where were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophní and Phinehás Priests of the Lord.

For the Arke was there at that time.

4 And on a day, whē Elkanáh sacrificed, he gaue to Peninnáh his wife and to all her sonnes and daughters porcions,

a. Some read, a porcion with an heauy cheere.

5 But vnto Hânáh he gaue a worthy ^c porcion: for he loued Hannáh, and the Lord had made her baren.

6 ¶ And her aduersarie vexed her sore, for asmuche as she vpbraided her, because the Lord had made her baren.

7 (And so did he yere by yere) & as oft as she wēt vp to the house of ^y Lord, thus she vexed her, that she wept and did not eat.

8 Then said Elkanáh her housbād to her, Hannáh, why wepest thou? and why eatest thou not? & why is thine heart troubled? am not I better to thee then ten ^d sonnes?

d Let this suffice thee, that I loue thee no lesse, then if ^y hadest many children.

9 So Hannáh rose vp after that they had eaten and dronke in Shilóh (and Eli the Priest sate vp ^o a stole by one of ^y postes of the ^e Temple of the Lord) e That is, of ^y house, where the Arke was.

10 And she was troubled in her minde, and prayed vnto the Lord, and wept sore:

11 Also she vowed a vowe, & said, O Lord of hostes, if thou wilt loke on the trouble of thine handmayd, and remember me, and not forget thine handmayd, but giue vnto thine handmayd a manchilde, then I wil giue him vnto the Lord all the daies of his life, * and there shal no raser come vpon his head.

Nomb 6, 1. iudg 13, 5.

12 And as she cōtinued praying before the Lord, Eli marked her mouth.

13 For Hânáh spake in her heart: her lippes did moue onely, but her voyce was not heard: therefore Eli thought she had bene drunken:

14 And Eli said vnto her, How long wilt thou be dronké? Put away ^{thy} dronkēnes from thee.

16 Count not thine handmaid for a wicked woman: for of the abundance of my complaint and my grief haue I spoken hitherto.

17 Then Elí answered, and said, Go in peace, and the God of Israël grant thy petition that thou hast asked of him.

18 She said againe, Let thine handmaid finde grace in thy sight: so the woman went her way, and did eat, and loked no more sad.

19 ¶ Then they rose vp early, and worshipped before the Lord, and returned, and came to their house to Ramáh. Now Elkanáh knewe Hannáh his wife, and the Lord remembred her.

20 For in proceffe of time Hannáh conceiued, and bare a sonne, and she called his name Samuél, Because, said she, I haue asked him of the Lord.

21 ¶ So the man Elkanáh & all his house went vp to offer vnto y^e Lord the yrelic sacrifice, and his woue:

22 But Hannáh went not vp: for she said vnto her housbád, I wil tary vntil the childe be weined, then I wil bring him that he may appeare before the Lord, & there abide for euer.

23 And Elkanáh her housband said vnto her, Do what semeth thee best: tary vntil thou hast weined him: onely the Lord accomplish his worde. So the woman abode, and gaue her sonne sucke vntil she weined him.

24 ¶ And whé she had weined him, she toke him with her with thre bullockes and an Epháh of floure and a bottle of wine, and broght him vnto the house of the Lord in Shilóh, and the childe was yong.

25 And thei slewe a bullocke, and broght the childe to Elí.

26 And she said, Oh my lord, as thy soule liueth, my lord, I am the womán that stode with thee here praying vnto the Lord.

27 I praied for this childe, and the Lord hath giuen me my desire which I asked of him.

28 Therefore also I haue giuen him vnto the Lord: as long as he liueth he shalbe giuen vnto the Lord: and he worshipped the Lord there.

9 He wil kepe the fete of his Sainctes, and the wicked shal kepe silence in darckenes: for in his owne might shal no man be strong.

10 The Lords aduersaries shal be destroyed, and out of heauen shal he thunder vpon them: the Lord shal iudge the ends of the worlde, and shal giue power vnto his King, and exalte the horne of his Anointed.

11 And Elkanáh went to Ramáh to his house, and the childe did minister vnto the Lord before Elí the Priest.

12 ¶ Now the sonnes of Elí were wicked men, & knewe not the Lord.

13 For the Priests custome toward the people was thus: when any mā offed sacrifice, the Priests boy came, while the flesh was seething and a fleshoke with thre teth in his hand,

14 And thrust it into the kettle, or into the caldren, or into the pan, or into y^e pot: all that y^e fleshoke broght vp, the Priest toke for him self: thus thei did vnto all the Israelites, that came thether to Shilóh.

15 Yea, before they burnt the fat, the Priests boy came and said to the man that offed, Giue me flesh to rost for y^e Priest: for he wil not haue sodden flesh of thee, but rawe.

16 And if any man said vnto him, Let them burne the fat according to the custome, then take as muche as thine heart desireth: then he wolde answer, No, but thou shalt giue it now: and if thou wilt not, I wil rake it by force.

20 And Eli blessed Elkanáh and his wife, & said, The Lord giue thee sede of this woman, for the petition that she asked of the Lord: and they departed vnto their place.

21 And the Lord visited Hannáh, so that she conceived, and bare thre sonnes, and two daughters. And the childe Samuél grewe before the Lord.

22 ¶ So Eli was very olde, & heard all that his sonnes did vnto all Israél, & how they laye with the women that assembled at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

27 And there came a má of God vnto Eli and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Did not I plainly appeare vnto y house of thy father, when they were in Egypt in Pharohs house?

28 And I chose him out of all the tribes of Israél, to be my Priest, to offer vpon mine altar, and to burne incense, and to weare an Ephód before me, and I gaue vnto the house of thy father all the offerings made by fire of the children of Israél.

29 Wherefore haue you kikid against my sacrifice and mine offering, which I commanded in my Tabernacle, and honorest thy children aboute me, to make your selues fat of the first frutes of all the offerings of Israél my people?

30 Wherefore y Lord God of Israél sayth, I said, y thine house & the house of thy father shulde walke before me for euer: but nowe the Lord saith, It shal not be so: for them that honour me, I wil honour, and they that despise me, shal be despised.

31 Beholde, the dayes come, that I wil cut of thine arme, and the arme of thy fathers house, that there shal not be an olde man in thine house.

35 And I wil sterre me vp a faithful Priest, that shal do according to mine heart and according to my minde: and I wil buylde him a sure house, and he shal walke before mine Anoyned for euer.

There was no manifest visio in the time of Eli. 4 The Lord calleth Samuél thre times, 11 And sheweth what shal come vpon Eli: and his house. 18 The same declareth Samuél to Eli.

1 Now the childe Samuél ministred vnto the Lord before Eli: and the worde of the Lord was precious in those dayes: for there was no manifest vision.

2 And at that time, as Eli laye in his place, his eyes began to waxe dimme that he colde not se.

3 And yer the light of God went out, Samuél slept in the temple of the Lord, where the Arke of God was.

4 Then the Lord called Samuél: and he said, Here I am.

5 And he ran vnto Eli, and said, Here am I, for thou calledst me. But he said, I called thee not: go againe and slepe. And he went and slept.

6 And the Lord called once againe, Samuél. And Samuél arose, and went to Eli, & said, I am here: for thou didest call me. And he answered, I called the not, my sonne: go againe and slepe.

7 Thus did Samuél, before he knewe the Lord, and before the worde of the Lord was reueiled vnto him.

8 And the Lord called Samuél againe the third time: and he arose, and went to Eli, and said, I am here: for thou hast called me. Then Eli perceiued that the Lord had called the childe.

9 Therefore Eli said vnto Samuél, Go and slepe: and if he call thee, then say, Speake

14 Now therefore I haue sworne vnto the house of Eli, that the wickednes of Elis house, shal not be purged with sacrifice nor offering: for euer.

17 Thé he said, What is it, that the Lord said vnto thee? I pray thee, hide it not from me. God k do so to thee, and more also, if thou hide anie thing from me, of all that he said vnto thee.

18 So Samuél tolde him euerie whit, & hid nothing from him. Then he said, It is the Lord: let him do what semeth him good.

And Samuél spake vnto all Israél: & Israél went out against y Philistims to battel and pitched beside Ebén éze: and the Philistims pitched in Aphék.

And y Philistims put them selues in aray against Israél: and when they ioyned the battel, Israél was smitten downe before the Philistims: who slewe of the armie in the field about foure thousand men.

So when the people were come into the campe, the Elders of Israél said, Wherefore hath the Lord smitten vs this day before the Philistims? let vs bring y Arke of the couenant of the Lord out of Shiloh vnto vs, that when it commeth among vs, it may saue vs out of the hand of our enemies.

4 Thé the people sent to Shiloh, & broght from thence the Arke of the couenant of the Lord of hostes, who dwelleth betwene the Cherubims: and there were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni, & Phinehas, with the Arke of the couenant of God.

5 And when the Arke of the couenāt of the Lord came into the hoste, all Israél showed a mihty showte, so that the earth rag againe.

6 And when the Philistims heard the noise of the showte, they said, What meaneth the founde of this mighty showte in the hoste of the Ebrewes? & they vnderstode, that the Arke of the Lord was come into the hoste.

7 And the Philistims were afraid, and said, God is come into the hoste: therefore said thei, Wo vnto vs: for it hath not bene so heretofore.

11 And the Arke of God was taken, and the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas dyed.

12 And there ran a man of Beniamin out of the armie, and came to Shiloh the same day with his clothes rent, and earth vpon his head.

13 And when he came, lo, Eli sate vpon a seate by the way side, waiting: for his heart was feared for the Arke of God: and when the man came into the citie to tel it, all the citie cryed out.

2 The Philistims bring the Arke into the house of Dagón, which idole set downe before it 6 The men of Ashdód are plagued. 8 The Arke is caryed vnto Gath and after to Ekron.

1 THEN the Philistims toke the Arke of God and caryed it from Eben ézer vnto ^a Ashdód,

^g Which was one of the five principall cities of the Philistims
^b Which was their chief idole, & as some write, from ^h nauil downe wayde was like a silke, and vpon arde like a man

2 Euen the Philistims toke the Arke of God, and broght it into the house of ^b Dagón, and set it by Dagón.

3 And when they of Ashdód rose the next day in the morning, beholde, Dagón was fallen vpon his face on the grounde before the Arke of the Lord, and they toke vp Dagón, and set him in his place againe.

4 Also they rose vp early in the morning the next day, & beholde, Dagón was fallē vpon his face on the grounde before the Arke of the Lord, and the head of Dagón and the two palmes of his hands were cut of vpon the thresholde: onely the stumpe of Dagón was left to him.

5 Therefore the Priestes of Dagón, and all that come into Dagon's house ^c treade not on the thresholde of Dagón in Ashdód, vnto this day.

^c Thus in steade of acknowledging ^h true God by this miracle, they fall to a farther superstition ^{Psal} 78, 66.

6 But the hand of the Lord was heauy vpon them of Ashdód, and destroyed them, and smote them with ^{*}emerods, bothe Ashdód, and the coastes thereof.

7 And whē the men of Ashdód sawe this, they said, Let not the Arke of the God of Israél abide with vs: for his hand is fore vpon vs and vpon Dagón our god.

8 They sent therefore and gathered all the princes of the Philistims vnto them, and said, ^d What shal we do with the Arke of the God of Israél? And they answered, Let the Arke of the God of Israél be caryed about vnto Gath: & then caryed the Arke of the God of Israél about.

^d Though the had felt Gods power & were affracted thereof, yet they wolde farther true hi, which thing God turned to their destruction & his glorie.

9 And when they had caryed it about, the hand of the Lord was against the citie with a very great destruction, and he smote the men of the citie bothe small and great, & they had emerods in their secret partes.

10 ¶ Therefore they sent the Arke of God to Ekron: and as sone as the Arke of God came to Ekron, the Ekronites cryed out, saying, They haue broght the Arke of ^h God of Israél to vs to slay vs and our people.

11 Therefore they sent, and gathered together all the princes of the Philistims and said, Send ^e away the Arke of the God of Israél, and let it returne to his owne place, that it slay vs not and our people: for there was a destruction & death through out all the citie, & the hād of God was very sore there.

^e The wicked, when they fele the hand of God, grudge & reuēde him, where ^h godly humble them selues & crye for mercie

12 And the men that dyed not, were smittē with the emerods: and the crye of the citie went vp to heauen.

CHAP. VI.

1 The time that the Arke was with the Philistims which they sent againe with a gift 12 It cometh to Beth-shémesh. 17 The Philistims offer golden emerods 19 The men of Beth-shémesh are stricken for looking vnto the Arke.

1 SO the Arke of the Lord was in ^h counthe of the Philistims ^a seuen monethes.

2 And the Philistims called the Priestes & the sothfayers, saying, What shal we do w^h the Arke of the Lord ^b tel vs wherewith we shal send it home againe?

^a Thei thought by continuance of time ^h plague wolde haue ceased and so wolde haue kept ^h Arke still

3 And they said, If you send away the Arke of ^h God of Israél, send it not away empty, but giue vnto it ^b a sinne offering: then shal ye be healed, and it shalbe knowne to you, why his hand departeth not from you.

^b The idolaters confesse there is a true God who punisheth sinne iustly.

4 Then said they, What shalbe the sinne offering, which we shal giue vnto it? And they answered, Fiue golden emerods and fiue golden mice, according to the nombre of ^h Princes of the Philistims: for one plague was on you all, & on your princes.

5 Wherefore ye shal make the similitudes of your emerods, and the similitudes of your mice that destroye the lād: so ye shal giue glorie vnto the God of Israél, that he may take his hād from you, and from your ^c gods, and from your land.

^c This is Gods iudgement vpon the idolaters, that knowing the true God thei worship him not aright.

7 Now therefore make a newe carte, and take two melche kine, on whome there hath come no yoke: & tye the kine to the carte, and bring the calves home from them.

d Meaning of goldē emerods and the golden mice.

8 Then take the Arke of the Lord, and set it vpon the carte, and put the iewels of golde which ye giue it for a sinne offering in a coffer by the side thereof, and send it away, that it may go.

e The God of Israél.

9 And take hede, if it go vp by the way of his owne coast to Beth-shémesh, it is he that did vs this great euil: but if not, we shal knowe then, that it is not his hád that smote vs, but it was a chance that happened vs.

f The wicked attribute almost all things to fortune and chance, whereas in dede there is nothing done without Gods prouidence & decree.

10 And the men did so: for they toke two kine that gaue milke, and tyed them to the carte and shut the calves at home.

g For the trial of the matter

11 So they set the Arke of the Lord vpon the carte, and the coffer with the mice of golde, and with the similitudes of their emerods.

12 And the kine went the streight way to Beth-shémesh, & kept one path and lowed as they went, & turned nether to the right hand nor to the left: also the princes of the Philistims went after s thē, vnto the borders of Beth-shémesh.

h To wit, the men of Beth-shémesh, w were Israélites.

13 Now they of Beth-shémesh were reaping their wheat haruest in the valley, & they lift vp their eyes, and spyed the Arke, and reioyced when they sawe it.

14 ¶ And the carte came into the fielde of Ioshúa a Bethshemite, & stode stil there. there was also a great stone, and they claue the wood of the carte and offred the kine for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

15 And the Leuites toke downe the Arke of the Lord, and the coffer that was with it, wherein the iewels of golde were, & put them on the great stone, and the men of Beth-shémesh offred burnt offering, and sacrificed sacrifices that same day vnto the Lord.

16 And when the five princes of the Philistims had sene it, they returned to Ekrón the same day.

17 ¶ So these are the goldē emerods, which the Philistims gaue for a sinne offering to the Lord: for Ashdód one, for Gazá one, for Askelón one, for Gath one, & for Ekrón one, i These were the five principal cities of the Philistims which were not all cōquered vnto the time of Dauid.

18 And goldē mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Philistims, belonging to the five princes, bothe of walled townes and of townes vnwalled, vnto the great stone of Abél, whereon they set the Arke of the Lord: which stone remaineth vnto this day in the field of Ioshúa the Bethshemite.

k Or, the plaine, or lamentation.

19 And he smote of the men of Beth-shémesh, because they had looked in the Arke of the Lord: he slewe euen among the people fiftie thousand men and thre score and ten men. and the people lamented, because the Lord had slaine y people with so great a slaughter.

k For it was not laulful to anie ether to touche or to se it, saue onely to Aaron & his sonnes, Nom. 4, 15 & 20.

20 Wherefore the men of Beth-shémesh said, Who is able to stand before this holy Lord God? and to whome shal he go from vs?

21 And they sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-iarim, saying, The Philistims haue brought againe the Arke of the Lord: come ye downe & take it vp to you.

5 And Samuél said, Gather all Israél to Mizpéh, and I wil pray for you vnto y Lord.

c For Shiloh was now desolate, because the Philistims had taken thence the Arke

6 And they gathered together to Mizpéh, and drewe water and powred it out before the Lord, and fasted the same day, & said there, We haue sinned against the Lord. And Samuél iudgeth the children of Israél in Mizpéh.

d The Chaldee text hath, y they drewe water out of their heart: that is, wept abundantly for their sinnes.

7 When the Philistims heard that the children of Israél were gathered together to Mizpéh, the princes of the Philistims wēt vp against Israél: and when the children of Israél heard that, they were afraid of the Philistims.

8 And the children of Israél said to Samuél, Cease not to crye vnto the Lord our God for vs, that he may saue vs out of the hand of the Philistims.

e Signifying y in the prayers of the godlie there ought to be a vehement zeale.

9 Then Samuél toke a sucking lambe, and offred it all together for a burnt offering vnto vnto the Lord, and Samuél cryed vnto the Lord for Israël, and the Lord heard him.

10 And as Samuél offred the burnt offering, the Philistims came to fight against Israël: but the Lord f thundred with a great thundie that day vpon the Philistims, & scatred them: so they were flaine before Israël.

5 And said vnto him, Beholde, thou art old, and thy sonnes walke not in thy waies: * make vs now a King to iudge vs like all nacions.

6 But the thing d displeaséd Samuél, when they said, Giue vs a King to iudge vs: and Samuél prayed vnto the Lord.

7 And the Lord said vnto Samuél, Heare the voice of the people in all that they shal

13 He wil also take your daughters and make them apoticaries, and cookes and bakers.

14 And he wil take your fieldes, and your vineyardes, and your best oliue trees, and giue them to his seruants.

15 And he wil take the tenth of your sede, and of your vineyardes, and giue it to his Eunuches, and to his seruants.

17 He wil take the tenth of your shepe, and ye shalbe his seruants.

18 And ye shal crye out at that day, because of your King, whome ye haue chosen you, and the Lord wil not s heare you at that day.

7 Then said Saúl to his seruant, Wel then, let vs go: but what shal we bring vnto the man? For the bread is spent in our vessels, and there is no present to bring to the mā of God: what haue we?

8 And the seruant answered Saúl againe, & said, Beholde, I haue found about me the fourth parte of a shekelle of siluer: that wil
I giue the man of God, to tel vs our way.

9 (Beforetime in Israél when a man went to seeke an answer of God, thus he spake, Come, & let vs go to the ^f Seer: for he that is called now a Prophet, was in y^e olde time called a Seer)

10 Thē said Saúl to his seruant, Wel said, come, let vs go: so they went into the ci-tie where the man of God was.

11 ¶ And as thei were going vp the hie way to the cite, they founde maydes that came out to drawe water, and said vnto thē,
Is there here a Seer?

12 And they answered them, and said, Yea:
lo, he is before you. make haste now, for he came this day to the cite: for there is an offring of the people this day in the hie place.

13 When ye shal come into the cite, ye shal finde him streight way yer he come vp to the hie place to eat: for the people wil not eat vntil he come, because he wil ^h blesse y^e sacrifice: and then eat: they that be bidden to the feast: now therefore go vp: for euē now shal ye finde him.

14 Then they went vp into the cite, and when they were come into the middes of the cite, Samuél came out against them, to go vp to the hie place.

15 ¶ But the Lord had reueiled to Samuél secretly (a day before Saúl came) saying,

16 Tomorowe about this time I wil send thee a man out of the land of Beniamín:
him shalt thou anoint to be gouernour ouer my people Israél, y^e he may saue my people out of the hands of the Philistims:
for I haue looked vpon my people, & their crye is come vnto me.

17 When Samuél therefore sawe Saúl, the Lord answered him, Se, this is the man whome I spake to thee of, he shal rule my people.

18 Then went Saúl to Samuél in the mid-des of the gate, and said, Tel me, I pray thee, where the Seers house is.

19 And Samuél answered Saúl, and said, I am the Seer: go vp before me vnto the hie place: for ye shal eat with me to-day. and tomorowe I wil let thee go, & wil tel thee all that is in thine heart.

20 And as for thine asses y^e were lost thre dayes ago, care not for them: for they are founde, and ^l on whome is set all the desire of Israél: is it not vpon thee and on all thy fathers house?

21 ¶ But Saúl answered, and said, Am not I the sonne of Ieminí of the smallest tribe of Israél? & my familie is the least of all the families of y^e tribe of Beniamín. Wherefore then speakest thou so to me?

22 And Samuél toke Saúl and his seruant, and broght them into the ^m chamber, and made them sit in the chiefest place among them that were bidden: which were about thirtie persones.

23 And Samuél said vnto the cooke, Bring so: the the portion which I gaue thee, & whereof I said vnto thee, Kepe it with thee.

24 And the cooke toke vp the shoulder, & that ⁿ was vpon it, & set it before Saúl.
And Samuel said, Beholde, that which is left, set it before thee & eat: for hitherto hath it bene kept for thee, saying, Also I haue called the people. So Saúl did eat with Samuél that day.

25 And whē they were come downe frō the hie place into y^e cite, he communed with Saúl vpon the top of the house:

26 And whē they arose early about y^e spring of y^e day, Samuél called Saúl to the ^p top of the house, saying Vp, that I may send thee away. And Saúl arose, and they went out, bothe he, and Samuél.

27 And when they were come downe to the end of the cite, Samuél said to Saúl, Bid the seruant go before vs, (and he went)

7 Then Samuél toke a viole of oyle and powred it vpon his head, & kissed him, and said, Hathe not the Lord anointed thee to be gouernour ouer his inheritance?

8 When thou shalt departe from me this day, thou shalt finde two men by Rahels sepulchre in the border of Benjamin, eué at Zelzáh, & thei wil say vnto thee, The asses which y wentest to seke, are foude: & lo, thy father hathe left the care of the asses, and soroweth for you, saying, What shal I do for my sonne?

9 Then shalt thou go forthe from thence and shalt come to the plaine of Tabór, and there shal mete thee thre mé going vp to God to Beth-el: one caryig thre kiddes, & another carying thre loaves of bread, and another carying a bottle of wine:

10 And thei wil aske thee if all be wel, and wil giue thee the two loaves of bread, which thou shalt receiue of their hands.

11 After that shalt thou come to the hill of God, where is the garisons of the Philistims: and when thou art come thither to the citie, thou shalt mete a companie of Prophets comming downe from the hie place with a viole, and a tymbel, and a pipe, and an harpe before them, and thei shal prophecie.

12 Then the Spirit of the Lord wil come vpon thee, and thou shalt prophecie with the, & shalt be turned into another man.

13 Therefore when these signes shal come vnto thee, do as occasion shal serue: for God is with thee.

14 And thou shalt go downe before me to Gilgál: and I also wil come downe vnto thee to offer burnt offerings, & to sacrifice sacrifices of peace. * Tary for me seuen daies, til I come to thee and shewe thee what thou shalt do.

15 And whé he had turned his backe to go from Samuél, God gaue him another heart: & all those tokens came to passe that same day.

16 And whé thei came thether to the hill, beholde, the companie of Prophets met him, and the Spirit of God came vpon him, and he prophecied among them.

17 Therefore all the people that knewe him before, when thei sawe that he prophecied among the Prophets, said eche to other, What is come vnto the sonne of Kish? is Saúl also among the Prophets?

18 And one of the same place answered, and said, But who is their father? Therefore it was a prouerbe, Is Saúl also among the Prophets?

19 And when he had made an end of propheciing, he came to the hie place.

20 And Saúls vnclé said vnto him, and to his seuát, Whether went ye? And he said, To seke the asses: and when we sawe that thei were no where, we came to Samuél.

21 And Saúls vnclé said, Tel me, I pray thee, what Samuél said vnto you.

22 Then Saúl said to his vnclé, He tolde vs plainly that the asses were foude: but concerning the kingdome whereof Samuél spake, tolde he him nor.

23 And Samuél assembled the people vnto the Lord in Mizpéh, 24 And he said vnto the children of Israél, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, I haue brought Israél out of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, & out of the hands of all kingdomes that troubled you.

25 But ye haue this day cast away your God, who onely deliuereth you out of all your aduersities and tribulacions: and ye said vnto him, No, but appoint a King ouer vs. Now therefore stand ye before the Lord according to your tribes and according to your thousands.

26 And when Samuél had gathered together all the tribes of Israél, the tribe of Benjamin was taken.

27 Afterwarde he assembled the tribe of Benjamin according to their families, & the familie of Matrí was taken. So Saúl the sonne of Kish was taken, and when thei fought him, he colde not be founde.

28 Therefore thei asked the Lord againe, if that man shulde yet come thether. And the Lord answered, Beholde, he hathe hid him selfe among the stufte.

29 And thei anne, and brought him thence: and when he stode among the people, he was hier then any of the people from the shoulders vpward.

30 And Samuél said to all the people, Se ye not him, whome the Lord hathe chosen, that there is none like him among all the people: And all the people showed and said, God saue the King.

31 Then Samuél tolde the people the duetie of the kingdome, and wrote it in a boke, and layed it vp before the Lord, & Samuél sent all the people away euery man to his house.

32 Saúl also went home to Gibeáh, & there followed him a band of men, whose heart God had touched,

33 But the wicked men said, How shal he saue vs? So thei despised him, and brought him no presentes: but he held his tougue.

Nahásh the Ammonite warreth against Iabésh Gileád, who asketh helpe of the Israelites & Saul promiseth helpe. 11 The Ammonites are slayne. 14 The kingdome is remoued.

After that Saul was chosen King: for feare of whom they asked a King. as Chap 12, 13.

Then Nahásh the Ammonite came vp, and besieged Iabésh Gileád: and all the men of Iabésh said vnto Nahásh, Make a couenant with vs, and we wil be thy seruants.

And Nahásh the Ammonite answered them, On this condicion wil I make a couenant with you, that I may thrusse out all your right eyes, & bring that shame vpon all Israél.

This declaration, that the more nere that tyrants are to their destruction, the more cruell they are.

To whome y Elders of Iabésh said, Giue vs seuen daies respekt, that we may send messengers vnto all the coastes of Israél: & then if no man deliuei vs, we wil come out to thee.

Then came the messengers to Gibeáh of Saúl, & tolde these tidings in the eares of the people: and all the people list vp their voyces and wept.

And beholde, Saúl came following the cattel out of the field, & Saúl said, What ayleth this people, y thei wepe? And thei tolde him the tidings of the mé of Iabésh.

God gaue him the spirit of strength & courage to go against this tyrant.

Then the Spirit of God came vpon Saúl, when he heard those tidings, and he was exceeding angry,

And tooke a yoke of oxen, and hewed them in pieces, and sent them throughout all the coastes of Israél by the hands of messengers, saying, Whosoeuer commeth not forthe after Saúl, and after Samuél,

He addeth Samuél, because Saúl was not yet approoued of all. 1 Ebr at 1:12.

so shal his oxé be serued. And the feare of the Lord fel on the people, and thei came out with one consent.

And when he nombred them in Bezék, the children of Israél were thre hundredth thousand men: and the men of Iudáh thirty thousand.

Meaning, Saúl & Samuél.

Then thei said vnto the messengers that came, So say vnto the men of Iabésh Gileád, Tomorowe by then the sunne be hote, ye shal haue helpe. And the messengers came and shewed it to the men of Iabésh, which were glad.

That is, to y Ammonites, doubting that they had hope of aide.

Therefore the men of Iabésh said, Tomorowe we wil come out vnto you, & ye shal do with vs all that pleaseth you.

And when the morowe was come, Saúl put the people in thre bands, & thei came in vnto the hoste in the morning watch, & slewe the Ammonites vntil the heate of the day: and thei that remained, were scattered, so that two of them were not left together.

By this victorie the Lord wone y hearts of the people to Saúl.

Then the people said vnto Samuél, Who is he that said, Shal Saúl reigne ouer vs? bring those mé that we may slaye them.

But Saúl said, There shal no man dye this day: for to day the Lord hath saued Israél.

By shewing mercie he thought to overcome their malice.

Then said Samuél vnto the people, Come, that we may go to Gilgál, & renewe the kingdome there.

So all the people went to Gilgál, and made Saul King there before the Lord in Gilgál: and there thei offered peace offerings before the Lord: and there Saúl & all the mé of Israél reioyced exceedingly.

In signe of thanksgiving for y victory.

Samuél then said vnto all Israél, Beholde, I haue hearkened vnto your voyce in all that ye said vnto me, & haue appointed a King ouer you.

I haue greued your petition

Now therefore beholde, your King walketh before you, and I am olde & gray headed, and beholde, my sonnes are with you: and I haue walked before you from my childehode vnto this day.

19 And all the people said vnto Samuél, Pray for thy seruants vnto the Lord thy God, that we dye not: for we haue sinned in asking vs a King, beside l all our other sinnes.

2 Then Saúl chose him three thousand of Israël: & two thousand were with Saúl in Michmásh, and in mount Beth-él, and a thousand were with Ionathán in Gibeáh of Beniamin: and the rest of the people he sent euerie one to his tent.

3 And Ionathán smote the garison of the Philistims, that was in the c hil: and it came to the Philistims eares: and Saúl blewe the d trumpet throughout all the land, saying, Heare, o ye Ebrewes.

c Of Kirjath-earim, where the Ark was, Chap 10, 5

4 And all Israël heard say, Saúl hathe destroyed a garison of the Philistims: wherefore Israël was had in abominació with the Philistims: and the people gathered together after Saúl to Gilgál.

5 ¶ The Philistims also gathered them selues together to fight with Israël, thirtie thousand charets and six thousand horsemē: for the people was like the sand which is by the seas side in multitude, and came vp, and pitched in Michmásh Eastwarde from e Beth-áuen.

e Which was also called Beth-él, in the tribe of Beniamin.

6 And whē the men of Israël sawe that they were in a strait (for the people were in distresse) the people hid thē selues in caues, & in holdes, & in rockes, & towres, & in pirtes.

7 And some of the Ebrewes went ouer Iordén vnto the land of f Gad & Gileád: and Saúl was yet in Gilgál, and all the people for feare followed him.

f Where the two tribes & the halie remained.

8 And he taried seue dayes, according vnto the time that Samuél had appointed: but Samuél came not to Gilgál, therefore the people were g scared f: om him.

9 And Saúl said, Bring a burnt offering to me and peace offerings: and he offered a burnt offering.

10 And as sone as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, beholde, Samuél came. and Saúl went forthe to mete him, to h salute him.

h Ebr. blisse him

11 And Samuél said, What hast thou done? Then Saúl said, Because I sawe that the people was i scared from me, and that thou camest not within the dayes appointed, and that the Philistims gathered thē selues together to Michmásh, i I hough these causes seme iusticeme in mans iudgement: yet because they had not the worde of God, they turned to his destruction.

12 Therefore said I, The Philistims wil come downe now vpon me to Gilgál, and I haue not made supplicacion vnto the Lord. I was bolde therefore and offered a burnt offering.

13 And Samuél said to Saúl, Thou hast done foolishly: thou hast not kept the commandement of the Lord thy i God, which i Who willed thee to obey him and rest vpon the wordes spoken by his Prophet.

he commáded thee: for the Lord had now stablished thy kingdome vpon Israél for euer.

sonne of Elí, was the Lords Priest in Shilóh, and ware an Ephód: and the people knewe not that Ionathán was gone.

That is, David.

14 But now thy kingdome shal not continue: the Lord hathé soght him a man after his owne heart, and y^e Lord hathé comáded him to be gouernour ouer his people, because thou hast not kept that which the Lord had commanded thee.

4 ¶ Now in the way whereby Ionathán soght to go ouer to y^e Philistíms garison, there was a sharpe rocke on the one side, and a sharpe rocke on the other side: the name of the one was called Bozéz, & the name of the other Séneh.

Or, like a rope.

And went to his cune Ramáh.

15 ¶ And Samuél arose, and gate him vp fró Gilgál in Gibeáh of Beniamín: & Saúl nombred the people that were foude with him, about six hundreth men.

5 The one rocke stretched fró the North toward Michmásh, & the other was from the South toward Gibeáh.

To wit, the Philistims

16 And Saúl and Ionathán his sonne, & the people that were founde with them, had their abiding in Gibeáh of Beniamín: but the Philistíms pitched in Michmásh.

6 And Ionathán said to the yong man that bare his armour, Come, and let vs go ouer vnto the garison of these vncircumcised: it may be that the Lord wil woike with vs: for it is not hard to the Lord to saue with manie, or with fewe.

Or, none can tra she Lord

Or, the desired: it was, the captaine came out with three bande

17 And there came out of the hoste of the Philistíms thre bádes to destroy, one bāde turned vnto the way of Ophráh vnto the land of Shuál,

7 And he that bare his armour, said vnto him, do all that is in thine heart: go where it pleaseth thee: beholde, I am with thee as thine heart desireth.

Or, 14, 15.

I wil follow thee whether soeuer thou goest.

So that to mans iudgemēt these thre armes would haue ouerrunne the whole countrey.

18 And another bande turned toward the way to Beth-horón, and the thirde bāde turned toward the way of the coast that loketh toward the valley of Zeboím, toward the wildernes.

8 Then said Ionathán, Beholde, we go ouer vnto those men, and wil shewe our selues vnto them.

19 Thê there was no smith founde through out all the land of Israél: for the Philistíms said, Lest the Ebrewes make them swordes or spears.

9 If they say on this wise to vs, Tarie vntil we come to you, then we wil stand stil in our place, and not go vp to them.

This he spake by the Spirit of prophesie, forasmuche as hereby God gaue him assurance of the victorie

1. Mat. 4. 23.

20 Wherefore all the Israelites wēt downe to the Philistíms, to sharpen euerie man his share, his mattocke, & his axe and his weding hooke.

10 But if they say, Come vp vnto vs, then we wil go vp: for the Lord hathé deliuered them into our hand: and thus shalbe a signe vnto vs.

21 Yet they had a file for the shares, and for the mattockes, and for the pickeforkes, & for the axes and for to sharpen the goades.

11 So they bothe shewed them selues vnto the garison of the Philistíms: and the Philistíms said, Se, the Ebrewes come out of y^e holes wherein they had hid thê selues.

Thus they spake cōtemproudly, and by derision.

To declare that the victorie onely came of God & not by their force.

22 So when the day of battel was come, there was nether sworde nor speare founde in the hands of anie of the people that were with Saúl & with Ionathán: but onely with Saúl and Ionathán his sonne was there founde.

12 And the men of the garison answered Ionathán, & his armour bearer, and said, Come vp to vs: for we wil shewe you a thing. Then Ionathán said vnto his armour bearer, Come vp after me: for the Lord hathé deliuered them into the hand of Israél.

23 And the garison of the Philistíms came out to the passage of Michmásh.

13 So Ionathán went vp vpon his hands, and vpon his fete, and his armour bearer after him: and some fel before Ionathán, & his armour bearer slewe others after him.

That is, he crept vp, or went vp with all haif

CHAP. XIII.

14 Ionathán and his armour bearer put the Philistims to flight. 24 Saúl bindeth the people by an othe, not to eat til euening. 31 The people eat with the blood. 38 Saúl wold put Ionathán to death. 45 The people deliuer him.

14 So the first slaughter which Ionathán and his armour bearer made, was about twentie mē within that cōpasse, as it were within halfe an acre of land which two oxen plowe.

The seconde was whē they slewe one another, and the thirde when y^e Israelites chased them.

1 Then on a day Ionathán the sonne of Saúl said vnto the yong man that bare his armour, Come and let vs go ouer toward the Philistíms garison, that is yonder on the other side, but he tolde not his father.

15 And there was a feare in the hoste, and in the field, and amóg all the people: the garison also, and they that went out to spoile, were afayed them selues: and the earth trembled: for it was stricken with feare by God.

In that the insensible creatures tremble for feare of Gods iudgement, it declarerh how terrible his vengeance shalbe against his enemies.

By this exámple God wold declare to Israél that the victorie did not consist in multitude or armour, but onely came of his grace.

2 And Saúl taryed in the border of Gibeáh vnder a pomegranate tre, which was in Migrón, and the people that were with him, were about six hundreth men.

16 Thê the watchmen of Saúl in Gibeáh of Beniamín sawe: and beholde, the multitude was discomfited, and smitten as they went.

Chap. 4. 21.

3 And Abiáh the sonne of Ahitúb, Ichabods brother, the sonne of Phinehás, the 7 Therefore said Saúl vnto the people that that were with him, Search now & se, who is gone from vs. And whé they had nombred, beholde, Ionathán and his armour bearer were not there.

18 And Saúl said vnto Ahiáh, Bring hither the Arke of God (for y^e Arke of God was at that time with the children of Israël)

19 ¶ And while Saúl talked vnto the Priest, the noise, that was in the hoste of the Philistims, spred farther abroad, & encreased: therefore Saúl said vnto the Priest, Withdrawe thine hand.

20 And Saúl was assembled with all the people that were with him, and they came to the battel: & beholde, * euerie mans sworde was against his fellowe, and there was a very great discomfiture.

21 Moreouer y^e Ebrewes that were with the Philistims before time, & were come with them into all partes of the holste, eué they also turned to be with the ^h Israelites that were with Saúl and Ionathán.

22 Also all the men of Israël which had hid them selues in mount Ephráim when they heard, that the Philistims were fled, they followed after them in the battel.

23 And so the Lord sauéd Israël that day: and the battel continued vnto Beth-áuen.

24 ¶ And at that time the men of Israël were pressed with hunger: for Saúl charged the people with an othe, saying, ¹ Cursed be the man y^e eateth foode til nyght, that I may be auenged of mine enemies: so none of the people tasted any sustenance.

25 And all they of the lād came to a wood, where hony lay vpon the ground.

26 And the people came into the wood, & beholde, the hony dropped, and no man moued his hād to his mouth: for the people feared the ^m othe.

27 But Ionathán heard not when his father charged the people with the othe: wherefore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his hād, and dipt it in an hony cōbe, and put his hand to his mouth, and his ⁿ eyes receyued sight.

28 Then answered one of the people, and said, Thy father made y^e people to sweare, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth sustenance this day: and the people were faint.

29 Then said Ionathán, My father hathe troubled the land: se now how mine eyes are made cleare, because I haue tasted a litle of this hony:

30 How muche more, if the people had eatē to day of the spoyle of their enemies which they founde: for had there not bene now a greater slaughter among the Philistims?

31 ¶ And they smote y^e Philistims that day, from Michmásh to Aiaalón: and the people were exceding faint.

32 So the people turned to the spoyle, and toke shepe, & oxen, and calues, & slewe thē on the ground, and the people did eat thē *with the blood.

33 Then men told Saúl, saying, Beholde, the people sinne against the Lord, in that they eat with the blood. And he said, Ye haue trespassed: roule a great stone vnto me this day.

34 Againe Saúl said, Go abroad among y^e people, & bid them bring me euerie man his ox, and euery mā his shepe, and slaye them here, and eate and sinne not against the Lord in eating with the blood. And the people broght euery man his ox in his hand that night and slewe them there.

35 Then Saúl made an altar vnto the Lord, & that was the first altar that he made vnto the Lord.

36 ¶ And Saúl said, Let vs go downe after the Philistims by night, and spoyle them vntil the morning shine, and let vs not leaue a mā of them. And they said, Do whatsoever thou thinkest best. Then said the Priest, Let vs draw nere hither vnto God.

37 So Saúl asked of God, saying, Shall I go downe after the Philistims? wilt thou deliuer them into the hands of Israël? But he answered him not at that time.

38 ¶ And Saúl said, * All ye chief of y^e people, come ye hither, and knowe, and se by whome this sinne is done this day.

39 For as the Lord liueth, which saueth Israël, though it be done by Ionathán my sonne, he shal dye the death. But none of all the people answered him.

40 Then he said vnto all Israël, Be ye on one side, & I and Ionathán my sonne will be on the other side. And the people said vnto Saúl, Do what thou thinkest best.

41 Then Saúl said vnto the Lord God of Israël, Giue a perfet lot. And Ionathán & Saúl were taken, but the people escaped.

42 And Saúl said, Cast lot betwene me and Ionathán my sonne. And Ionathán was taken.

43 Then Saúl said to Ionathán, Tel me what thou hast done. And Ionathán told him, and said, I tasted a litle hony with y^e end of the rod, that was in mine hand, & lo, I must dye.

44 Againe Saúl answered, God do so and more also, vnles y^e dye y^e death, Ionathán.

45 And the people said vnto Saúl, Shal Ionathán dye, who hathe so mightely deliuered Israël? God forbid. As y^e Lord liueth there shal not one heere of his head fall to the ground: for he hathe wrought wth God this day. So the people deliuered Ionathán that he dyed not.

46 Thē Saúl came vp from the Philistims: & the Philistims wēt to their owne place.

3 Saúl is commanded to slay Amalék. 9 He spareth Agãg & the best things. 19 Samuél reproveth him. 28 Saúl is reiected of the Lord, and his kingdome giuen to another. 33 Samuél beweeth Agãg in pieces.

15 And Saúl answered, Thei haue broght the frõ the Amalekites: for the people spared the best of the shepe, and of the oxen to sacrifice them vnto the Lord thy God, and the remnant haue we destroyed.

Chap 9. 16.

1 ¶ Afterwarde Samuél said vnto Saúl, The Lord sent me to anoint thee King ouer his people ouer Israël: nowe therefore obey the voyce of the wordes of the Lord.

16 Againẽ Samuél said to Saúl, Let me tell thee what the Lord hathe said to me this night. And he said vnto him, Say on.

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I remember what Amalék did to Israël, how they layed wait for them in the way, as they came vp from Egypt.

17 Then Samuél said, When thou wast little in thine owne fight, wast y not made the head of the tribes of Israël? for the Lord anointed thee King ouer Israël.

That this might be an example of Gods vengeance against the that deale cruelly with his people.

3. Nowe therefore go, and smite Amalék, & destroye ye all that pertaineth vnto them, and haue no cõpassion on them, but slay bothe man and woman, bothe infant and suckeling, bothe oxen, and shepe, bothe camel, and asse.

18 And the Lord sent thee on a iourney, & said, Go, and destroye those sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them, vntil thou destroye them.

Or, knowe their number by the lambe, which they broght. Or, fogus in the valley.

4 ¶ And Saúl assembled the people, and nombred them in Telaim, two hundred thousand footemen, and ten thousand men of Iudãh.

19 Now wherefore hast thou not obeyed y voyce of the Lord, but hast turned to the praye, and hast done wickedly in the fight of the Lord?

He stãderh most ipudẽtly in his owne defence bothe against God & his owne conscience.

Which were the posteritie of Iethrõ Moyses father in lawe.

5 And Saúl came to a citie of Amalék, and set watch at the riuer.

20 And Saúl said vnto Samuél, Yea, I haue obeyd y voyce of the Lord, & haue gone y way which the Lord sent me, and haue broght Agãg the King of Amalék, & haue destroyed the Amalekites.

For Iethrõ came to visit them and gaue them good counsel. Exod. 18. 19.

6 And Saúl said vnto the Kenites, Go, departe, and get you downe from among the Amalekites, lest I destroy you with them: for ye shewed mercy to all the children of Israël, when they came vp frõ Egypt: and the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites.

21 But y people toke of the spoyle, shepe, & oxen, & the chiefest of the things which shulde haue bene destroyed, to offer vnto the Lord thy God in Gilgãl.

7 So Saúl smote the Amalekites from Hãuilãh as thou comest to Shur; that is before Egypt,

8 And toke Agãg the King of the Amalekites aliue, and destroyed all the people with the edge of the sworde.

9 But Saúl and the people spared Agãg, & the better shepe, and the oxen, and the fat

24 Then Saúl said vnto Samuél, I haue sinned ned: for I haue transgressed the cōmandement of the Lord, & thy wordes, because I feared the people, & obeyed their voyce.

25 Now therefore, I pray thee, take away my sinne, and turne againe with me, that I may worship the Lord.

26 But Samuél said vnto Saúl, I wil not returne with thee: for thou hast cast away the worde of the Lord, & the Lord hath cast away thee, that thou shalt not be Kíng ouer Israél.

27 And as Samuél turned him selfe to go away, he caught y lap of his coat, & it rét.

28 Then Samuél said vnto him, The Lord hath rent the kingdome of Israél from thee this day, & hath giuen it to thy neighbour, that is better then thou.

29 For in dede the strength of Israél wil not lie nor repent: for he is not a man that he shulde repent.

30 Then he said, I haue sinned: but honour me, I pray thee, before the Elders of my people, & before Israél, & turne againe w me, that I may worship the Lord thy God.

31 ¶ So Samuél turned againe, and followed Saúl: and Saúl worshipped the Lord.

32 Thē said Samuél, Bring ye hither to me Agág y King of the Amalekites: & Agág came vnto him p'cafamily, and Agág said, Truly the bitteines of death is passed.

33 And Samuél said, * As thy swoude hath made women childeles, so shalt thy mother be childeles among other womē. And Samuél hewed Agág in pieces before the Lord in Gilgál.

34 ¶ So Samuél departed to Ramáh, and Saúl went vp to his house to Gibeah of Saúl.

35 And Samuél came nomore to se Saúl vntil y day of his death: but Samuél mourned for Saúl, and the Lord ¶ repented that he made Saúl King ouer Israél.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Samuél is reprov'd of God, & is sent to anoint Dauid. 7 God regardeth the heart 13 The Spirit of the Lord commeth vpon Dauid. 14. The wicked spirit is sent vpon Saúl. 19 Saúl sendeth for Dauid.

1 THE Lord thē said vnto Samuél, How long wilt y mourne for Saúl, seing I haue cast him away from reigning ouer Israél: hit thine horne with oyle and come, I wil send thee to Ishái the Bethlehemite: for I haue prouided me a King among his sonnes.

2 And Samuél said, How can I go for if Saúl shal heare it, he wil kil me. Then the Lord answered, Take an heifer w thee, & say, I am come to do sacrifice to y Lord.

3 And call Ishái to the sacrifice, and I wil shewe thee what y shalt do, & y shalt anoint vnto me him whome I name vnto thee.

4 So Samuél did y the Lord bade him, & came to Beth-léhem, and the Elders of the towne were astonied at his comming, & said, Comest thou peaceably?

5 And he answered, Yea: I am come to do sacrifice vnto the Lord: sanctifie your selues, & come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Ishái and his sonnes, and called them to the sacrifice.

6 And when they were come, he loked on Eliáb, and said, Surely the Lords Anointed is before him.

7 But the Lord said vnto Samuél, Loke not on his cōtinance, nor on the height of his stature, because I haue refused him: for God seeth not as man seeth: for man loketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord beholderth the heart.

8 Then Ishái called Abinadáb, & made hī come before Samuél. And he said, Nether hath the Lord chosen this.

9 Thē Ishái made Shámáh come. And he said, Nether yet hath y Lord chosen hī.

10 Againe Ishái made his seuen sonnes to come before Samuél: & Samuél said vnto Ishái, The Lord hath chose none of these.

11 Finally Samuél said vnto Ishái, Are there no more children but these? And he said, There remaineth yet a litle one behinde, y kepeth the shepe. Then Samuél said vnto Ishái, * Send and fet him: for we wil not sit downe, til he be come hither.

12 And he sent, and broght him in: and he was ruddie, and of a good countinace, & comelic visage. And y Lord said, Arise, & anoint him: for this is he.

13 Thē Samuél toke the horne of oyle, & anointed him in the middes of his brethren. And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon Dauid, from that day forward: thē Samuél rose vp, and went to Ramáh.

14 ¶ But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saúl, and an euil spirit sent of the Lord vexed him.

15 And Sauls seruáts said vnto hī, Beholde now, y euil spirit of God vexeth thee.

16 Let our lord therefore commande thy seruants, that are before thee, to seke a man, that is a conning player vpon the harpe: that when the euil spirit of God commeth vpon thee, he may playe with his hand, & thou maiest be eased.

17 Saúl then said vnto his seruáts, Prouide me a man, I pray you, that can play wel, & bring him to me.

18 Then answered one of his seruants, and said, Beholde, I haue sene a sonne of Ishái, a Bethlehemite, that can playe, & is lti óg, valiát & a má of warre & wise in matters, & a comely personē, & y Lord is with hī.

19 ¶ Wherefore Saúl sent messengers vnto Ishái, & said, Send me Dauid thy sonne, which is with the shepe.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The Philistims make warre against Israél. 10 Goliath defieeth Israél. 17 Dauid is sent to his brethren. 34 The strength and boldenes of Dauid. 47 The Lord saueih not by sworde nor speare. 50 Dauid killeth Goliath and the Philistims flee.

1 Now the Philistims gathered their armies to battel, and came together to Shochóh, which is in Iudáh, & pitched betwene Shochóh and Azekáb, in the coast of Dammim.

Or, in Ephraim.

2 And Saúl, and the men of Israél assembled, and pitched in the valley of Eláh, & put them selues in battel array to meté the Philistims.

Or, of the vale.

3 And the Philistims stode on a mountaine on the one side, and Israél stode on a mountaine on the other side: so a valley was betwene them.

Betweene the two campe.

4 ¶ Then came a mā betwene them: bothe out of the tentes of the Philistims, named Goliath of Gath: his height was six cubits and an hand breadth,

Or, made of plate.

5 And had an helmet of brasse vpō his head, and a brigandine vpon him: and the weight of his brigandine was five thousand shekels of brasse.

That is, 156 lib 4 ounces, after halfe an ounce the shekel & 600 shekels weight amounteth to 12 lib 3 quarters.

6 And he had bootes of brasse vpō his legges, & a shilde of brasse vpō his shoulders.

7 And the shafte of his speare was like a weauers beame: and his speare head weyed six hundred shekels of yron: and one bearing a shilde went before him.

8 And he stode, and cryed against the hoste of Israél, and said vnto them, Why are ye come to set your battel in array? am not I a Philistim, and you seruants to Saúl? chose you a mā for you, & let him come downe to me.

Or, suite me.

9 If he be able to fight with me, and kil me, then wil we be your seruants: but if I ouercome him, and kil him, then shal ye be our seruants, and serue vs.

10 Also the Philistim said, I defie the hoste of Israél this day: giue me a man, that we may fight together.

Or, bid to bid.

11 When Saúl and all Israél heard those wordes of the Philistim, they were discouraged, and greatly afrayed.

Chap. 18.

12 ¶ Now this Dauid was the sonne of an Ephrathite of Beth-léhem Iudáh, named Ishái, which had eight sonnes: and this mā was taken for an olde man in the dayes of Saúl.

Or, he was called, and among the ybar bare office.

13 And the thre eldest sonnes of Ishái went and followed Saúl to the battel: and the names of his thre sonnes that wēt to battel, were Eliáb the eldest, & the next Abinadáb, and the third Shammáh.

14 So Dauid was the least: and the thre eldest went after Saúl.

15 Dauid also went, but he returned from Saúl to fede his fathers shepe in Beth-léhem.

To serue Saúl, as chap 16. ver. 19.

16 And the Philistim drewe nere in y morning, and eueing, and continued fourtie dayes.

17 And Ishái said vnto Dauid his sonne, Take now for thy brethren an Epláh of this parched corne, and these ten cakes, and runne to the hoste to thy brethren.

Though Ishái ment one thing, yet Gods providence direct Dauid to another end.

18 Also cary these ten fresh cheses vnto the captaine, and loke how thy brethren fare, and receiue their pledge.

If they haue laied any thing to gage for their necessitie, redeme it out.

19 (Then Saúl and they, and all the men of Israél were in the valley of Eláh, fighting with the Philistims)

20 ¶ So Dauid rose vp early in the mornig, and left the shepe with a keeper, and toke and went as Ishái had commanded him, & came within the compasse of the hoste: & the hoste went out in array, and showed in the battel.

21 For Israél and the Philistims had put them selues in array, armie against armie.

22 And Dauid left the things, which he bare, vnder the hands of the keeper of the cariage, and ran into the hoste, & came, and asked his brethren how they did.

Or, visited.
Or, of peace.

23 And as he talked with them, beholde, the man that was betwene the two armies, came vp, (whose name was Goliath the Philistim of Gath) out of the armie of the Philistims, and spake suche wordes, & Dauid heard them.

Or, valley.
As are about rehearsed ver. 8, & 9.

24 And all the men of Israél, when they sawe the man, ran away from him, & were fore afrayed.

25 For euery man of Israél said, Sawe ye not this man that cometh vpeuen to reuile Israél is he come vp: and to him that killeth hī, wil the King giue great riches, and wil giue him his daughter, yea, and make his fathers house fre in Israél.

26 ¶ Then Dauid spake to the men that stode with him, and said, What shalbedone to the man that killeth this Philistim, and taketh away the shame from Israél: for who is this vncircumcised Philistim, that he shulde reuile the hoste of the liuing God?

This dishonour y he doeth to Israél.

27 And the people answered him after this maner, saying, Thus shal it be done to the the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliáb his eldest brother heard whé he spake vnto the men, & Eliáb was very angry with Dauid, and said, Why comest thou downe hether? and with whom hast y left those fewe shepe in the wildernes: I knowe thy pride and the malice of thine heart, that thou art come downe to se the battel.

For his fathers sending was a iuste occasion, & also he tel him self inwardly moued by Gods Spirit.

29 Then Dauid said, What haue I now done? Is there not a cause?

30 And he departed from him into the presence of another, and spake of the same maner, and the people answered him according to the former wordes.

31 ¶ And thei that heard the wordes which Dauid spake, rehearsed them before Saúl, which caused him to be broght.

32 So Dauid said to Saúl, Let no más heart faile him, because of him: thy seruant wil go, and fight with this Philistim.

Here Saúl seeth Dauids faith by the fidelitie of Saúl.

33 And Saúl said to Dauid, Thou art not able to go against this Philistim to fight with him: for thou art a boye, and he is a man of warre from his youth.

Dauid by the experience y he hath had in time past of Gods helpe, nothing doubting to overcome this danger, seing he was zealous for Gods honour.

34 And Dauid answered vnto Saúl, Thy seruant kept his fathers shepe, and there came a lyon and likewise a beare, and toke a shepe out of the flocke, 35 And I went out after him & smote him, & toke it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by the bearde, and smote him, and slewe him.

36 So thy seruant slewe bothe the tyon, and the beare: therefore this vncircumcised Philistim shalbe as one of them, seing he hath railed on y hoste of the liuing God.

For by these examples he sawe that the power of God was w him.

37 ¶ Moreouer Dauid said, The Lord that deliuered me out of the pawe of the lyon, and out of the pawe of the beare, he wil deliuer me out of the hand of this Philistim. Then Saúl said vnto Dauid, Go, and the Lord be with thee.

Or, assayed

38 And Saúl put his rayment vpon Dauid, and put an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and put a brigandine vpon him.

39 The giude Dauid his sworde vpon his rayment, and began to go: for he neuer proued it: and Dauid said vnto Saúl, I can not go with these: for I am not accustomed, wherefore Dauid put them of him.

To y intent that by these weake meanes God might only be knowen to be y autor of this victorie.

40 Then toke he his staffe in his hand, and chose him five smothe stones out of a brooke, and put them in his shepherdes bag or skuppe, & his sling was in his hád, and he drewe nere to the Philistim.

41 ¶ And the Philistim came & diewe nere vnto Dauid, and the man that bare the shield went before him.

42 Now when the Philistim looked about and sawe Dauid, he disdained him: for he was but yong, rudly & of a comely face.

43 And the Philistim said vnto Dauid, Am

I a dog, that thou comest to me with itaues? And the Philistim cursed Dauid by his gods.

He sware by his gods that he wolde destroye him.

44 And y Philistim said to Dauid, Come to me, and I wil giue thy flesh vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the field.

45 ¶ The said Dauid to y Philistim, Thou comest to me with a sworde, and with a speare, and with a shield; but I come to thee in the Name of the Lord of hostes, the God of the hoste of Israél, whome thou hast railed vpon.

46 This day shal the Lord close thee in mine hand, and I shal smite thee, and take thine head from thee, and I wil giue the carcases of the hoste of the Philistims this day vnto the foules of the heauen, & to the beastes of the earth, y all the worlde may knowe that Israél harbe a God, Dauid being assured bothe of his cause & of his calling, prophesied of the destruction of the Philistims.

47 And that all this assemblie may knowe, that the Lord saueh not with sworde nor with speare (for the battel is the Lords) & he wil giue you into our hands.

48 And when the Philistim arose to come and drawe nere vnto Dauid, Dauid rested & ran to fight against the Philistim.

Being moued with a seruent zeale to be reuenged vpon this blasphemer of Gods Name.

49 And Dauid put his hand in his bag, and toke out a stone, & slang it and smote the Philistim in his forehead, that the stone stuck in his forehead, and he fel groueling to the earth.

50 So Dauid ouercame the Philistim with a sling and with a stone, & smote the Philistim, & slewe him, when Dauid had no sworde in his hand.

Eccles. 47. 4. 1. 1746. 4. 30.

51 Then Dauid ran, and stode vpon the Philistim, and toke his sworde & drew it out of his sheath, and slewe him, & cut of his head therewith. So whé the Philistims sawe, that their champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Israél and Iudáh arose, and showed, and followed after the Philistims, vntil thei came to the valley, and vnto the gates of Ekion: and the Philistims fel downe wounded by the way of Shaaraim, euen to Gath and to Ekion.

Or, Gai, shite.

53 And the children of Israél returned from pursuing the Philistims, and spoiled their tents.

54 And Dauid toke the head of the Philistim, and broght it to Ierusalém, and put his armour in his tent.

Or, house at Beth léhem.

55 ¶ When Saúl sawe Dauid go forth against the Philistim, he said vnto Abnér the captaine of his hoste, Abnér, whose sonne is this yong man? and Abnér answered, As thy soule liueth, o King, I can not tel.

That is, of what familie & tribe is he? or els, he had forgotten Dauid, albeit he had receiued so great a benefitt by him.

56 The King said, Enquire thou whose sonne this yong man is.

57 And when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of y Philistim, the Abner toke him, & broght him before Saúl with the head of the Philistim in his hand.

58 And Saúl said to him, Whose sonne art thou, thou yong man? And Dauid answered, I am the sonne of thy seruant Ishai the Bethlehemite.

1 The amitie of Ionathán and Dauid. 2 Saúl enuieith Dauid for the praise that the womē gaue him 11 Saúl wolde haue slayne Dauid 17 He promiseth him Meráb to wife, but giueth him Michal 27 Dauid deliuereth to Saúl two hundred foreskinnes of the Philistims. 29 Saúl feareth Dauid, seing that the Lord is with him.

a His affection was fully bent toward him

1 And when he had made an end of speaking vnto Saúl, the a soule of Ionathán was knit with the soule of Dauid, and Ionathán loued him, as his owne soule.

2 And Saúl toke him that day, and wolde not let him returne to his fathers house.

3 Then Ionathán and Dauid made a covenant: for he loued him as his owne soule.

4 And Ionathán put of the robe that was vpon him, and gaue it Dauid, and his garments, euen to his sworde, & to his bowe, and to his girdle.

b That is, he prospered in all his doings.

5 And Dauid went out whether soeuer Saúl sent him, & behaued him selfe. b wisely: so that Saúl set him ouer the mé of warre, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Sauls seruants.

c To wit, Goliath.

6 ¶ When thei came againe, and Dauid returned from the slaughter of the c Philistim, the women came out of all cities of Israél, singing and dancing to mete King Saúl, with timbrels, with instruments of ioye, and with rebeckes.

d Ebr answered, playing Chap. 21. 11. & 29. 5 eccl. 47. 7.

7 And the women sang by cours in their playe, & said, * Saúl hatue slayne his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand.

8 Therefore Saúl was exceeding wrath, and the saying displeas'd him, & he said, Thei haue ascribed vnto Dauid ten thousand, & to me thei haue ascribed but a thousand, & what can he haue mote saue the kingdome?

e Because he bare him enie & hatred.

9 Wherefore Saúl e had an eye on Dauid from that day forward.

f That is, spake as a man beside him selfe: for so the people abused this worde, when thei colde not vnderstand.

10 ¶ And on the morowe, the euil spirit of God came vpon Saúl, & he f prophecied in the middes of the house: and Dauid played with his hand like as at other times, and there was a speare in Sauls hand.

11 And Saúl toke the speare, and said, I wil smite Dauid through to y wall. But Dauid auoyded twise out of his presence.

12 And Saúl was afraid of Dauid, because the Lord was with him, and was departed from Saúl.

g Meaning, he was captaine ouer y people.

13 Therefore Saúl pur him from him, and made him a captaine ouer a thousand, and he went g out and in before the people.

14 And Dauid behaued him selfe wisely in all his waies: for the Lord was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saúl saue that he was very wise, he was afraid of him.

16 For all Israél and Iudáh loued Dauid, because he went out and in before them.

17 ¶ The Saúl said to Dauid, Beholde mine eldest daughter Meráb, her I wil giue thee to wife: onely be a valiant sonne vnto me, and h fight the Lords battels: for Saúl thought, Mine hand shal not be vpon him, but the hand of the Philistims shal be vpon him.

g Fight against them y warre against Gods people

18 And Dauid answered Saúl, What am I? and what is my life, or the familie of my father in Israél, that I shulde be sonne in lawe to the King?

19 Howbeit when Meráb Sauls daughter shulde haue bene giue to Dauid, h she was giue vnto Adriél a Meholahite to wife.

h By whome he had five sonnes, which Dauid put to death at the request of the Gibeonites, 2 Sam 21. 2.

20 ¶ Then Michal Sauls daughter loued Dauid: and thei shewed Saúl, & the thing pleased him.

21 Therefore Saúl said, I wil giue him her, that she may be a i snare to him, and that the hád of the Philistims may be against hi. Wherefore Saúl said to Dauid, Thou shalt this day be my sonne in lawe in the one of the twaine.

i So his hypocrite appeareth: or vnder pretence of fauour he sought his destruction.

22 And Saúl comanded his seruants, Speake with Dauid secretly, and say, Beholde, the King hathe a fauour to thee, and all his seruants loue thee: be now therefore the Kings sonne in lawe.

23 And Sauls seruants spake these wordes in the eares of Dauid. And Dauid said, k Semeth it to you a light thing to be a Kings sonne in lawe, seing that I am a poore man and of small reputacion?

k Meaning, y he was not able to endowe his wife with riches.

24 And then Sauls seruants broght him worde againe, saying, Suche wordes spake Dauid.

25 And Saúl said, This wise shal ye say to Dauid, The King desireth no dowrie, but an húdretth foreskinnes of the Philistims, to be auenged of the Kings enemies: for Saúl thought to make Dauid fall into the hands of the Philistims.

26 And when his seruants tolde Dauid these wordes, it pleased Dauid wel, to be the l Kings sonne in lawe: and the daies were not expued.

l Because he thought him selfe able to compass the Kings request.

27 Afterwarde Dauid arose with his men, and went and slewe of the Philistims two hundred men: and Dauid broght their foreskinnes, and m thei gaue them wholy to the King that he might be the Kings sonne in lawe: therefore Saúl gaue him Michal his daughter to wife.

m Meaning, Dauid and his soldiers

28 Then Saul saue, & vnderstode that the Lord was with Dauid, & that Michal the daughter of Saúl loued him.

29 The Saúl was more & more n afraid of n To be deprived of his kingdome.

Dauid, and Saul became alway Dauids enemy.

o That is, Dauid had better successe against the Philistines then Sauls me.

30 And when the princes of the Philistims went forthe, at their going for the Dauid behaued him selfe more wisely then all the seruantes of Saul, so that his name was muche set by.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Ionathan declareth to Dauid the wicked purpose of Saul 11 Michal his wife saueth him 18 Dauid cometh to Samuel. 23. The Spirit of prophete cometh on Saul:

a Before Saul fought Dauids life secretly, but now his hypocrite bursteth forth to open crueltye

1 Then Saul spake to Ionathan his sonne, and to all his seruants, that they shulde kil Dauid: but Ionathan Sauls sonne had a great fauour to Dauid.

b That I may gaine thee warning what to do.

2 And Ionathan tolde Dauid, saying, Saul my father goeth about to slaye thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take hede vnto thy selfe vnto the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thy selfe.

3 And I wil go out, and stand by my father in the field where thou art, and wil commune with my father of thee, and I wil fe what he saith and wil tel thee.

wE b be pat his soule in his hand Iudg 12.3. 1 sam 27.21. psal 119.109.

4 ¶ And Ionathan spake good of Dauid vnto Saul his father, and said vnto him, Let not the King sinne against his seruants, against Dauid: for he hath not sinned against thee, but his workes haue bene to thee very good.

c Whatsoeuer he pretended outwardly, yet his heart was full of mallice

5 For he did put his life in danger, and slewe the Philistin, and the Lord wrought a great saluation for all Isiael: thou sawest it, and thou reioycest: wherefore then wilt thou sinne against innocent blood, & slaye Dauid without a cause?

6 Then Saul hearkened vnto the voyce of Ionathan, and Saul sware, As the Lord liueth, he shal not dye.

7 So Ionathan called Dauid, and Ionathan shewed him all those wordes, & Ionathan broght Dauid to Saul, and he was in his presence as in times past.

8 ¶ Againe the warre began, and Dauid wet out and fought with the Philistims, and slewe them with a great slaughter, & they fled from him.

d He plaide on his harpe to mitigate the rage of the euil Spirit, as Chap 16.23

9 ¶ And the euil Spirit of the Lord was vpon Saul, as he sate in his house hauing his speare in his hand, and Dauid played with his hand.

10 And Saul entended to smite Dauid to the wall with the speare: but he turned aside out of Sauls presence, and he smote the speare against the wall: but Dauid fled, and escaped the same night.

e Thus God moued bothe the sonne and daughter of this tyrant to fauour Dauid against their father.

11 Saul also sent messengers vnto Dauids house, to watche him, and to slaye him in the morning: & Michal Dauids wife tolde it him, saying, If thou saue not thy self this night, tomorowe thou shalt be slaine.

12 So Michal let Dauid downe through a window: and he went, and fled, and escaped.

13 Then Michal toke an image and layed it in the bed, and put a pillowe stuffed with goates heere vnder the head of it, and couered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saul sent messengers to take Dauid, she said, He is sicke.

15 And Saul sent the messengers againe to se Dauid, saying, Bring him to me in the bed, that I may slaye him.

f Beholde, how y tyrant to accomplish their rage, neither regard the nor friendship. God nor man.

16 And when the messengers were come in, beholde, an image was in the bed, with a pillowe of goates heere vnder the head of it.

17 And Saul said vnto Michal, Why hast thou mocked me so, and sent away mine enemy, that he is escaped? And Michal answered Saul, He said vnto me, Let me go, or els I wil kil thee.

18 ¶ So Dauid fled, and escaped, and came to Samuel to Ramah, and tolde him all that Saul had done to him: and he and Samuel went and dwelt in Ramah.

g Naioth was a scholl where the worde of God was studyed, nere to Ramah.

19 But one tolde Saul, saying, Beholde, Dauid is at Naioth in Ramah.

20 And Saul sent messengers to take Dauid: and when they sawe a companie of Prophets prophecieng, and Samuel standing as appointed ouer them; the Spirit of God fel vpon the messengers of Saul, and they also prophecied.

h Being their chief instructor 1 Chaged their mindes and praised God.

21 And when it was tolde Saul, he sent other messengers, and they prophecied likewise: againe Saul sent the third messengers, and they prophecied also.

22 Then went he him self to Ramah, and came to a great well that is in Sechu, and he asked, and said, Where are Samuel and Dauid? and one said, Beholde, they be at Naioth in Ramah.

23 And he went thither, ouer to Naioth in Ramah, and the Spirit of God came vpon him also, and he went prophecieng vntil he came to Naioth in Ramah.

k With a minde to persecute them.

24 And he stript of his clothes, and he prophecied also before Samuel, and fel downe naked all that day and all that night: therefore they say, * Is Saul also among the Prophetes?

2 Ionathan comforteth Dauid 3 They renue their league 33 Saul wolde haue killed Ionathan 38 Ionathan aduertiseth Dauid by thre arrowes of his fathers fury:

1 And Dauid fled from Naioth in Ramah, and came and said before Ionathan, What haue I done? what is mine iniquitie? and what sinne haue I committed before thy father, that he seeketh my life?

n For Saul was stayed, & prophecied a day & a night by Gods prouidence, that Dauid might haue time to escape nothing great nor small, but he wil" shew it me: and why shulde my father hide this thing from me? he wil not do it.

3 And Dauid sware againe and said, Thy father knoweth that I haue founde grace in thine eyes: therefore he thinketh, Ionathán shal not knowe it, lest he be sory: but in dede, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, there is but a steppe betwene me and death.

I am in great danger of death.

Ebr. sayeth.

4 Then said Ionathán vnto Dauid, Whatsoeuer thy soule requireth, that I wil do vnto thee.

5 And Dauid said vnto Ionathán, Beholde, tomorowe is the first day of the moneth, and I shulde sit with the King at meat: but let me go, that I may hide my selfe in the fields, vnto the third day at euen.

c At what time there shulde be a solene sacrifice, Nób. 28, 11: to the w they added peace offrings and feasts.

6 If thy father make mencion of me, then say, Dauid asked leaue of me, y he might go to Beth-léhé to his owne citie: for there is a yereily sacrifice for all that familie.

d Read Chap. 4, 21.

7 And if he say thus, It is wel, thy seruant shal haue peace: but if he be angry, be sure that wickednes is concluded of him.

8 So shalt thou shewe mercy vnto tny seruant: *for thou hast ioyned thy seruant into a couenant of the Lord with thee, & if there be in me iniquitie, slaye thou me: for why shuldest thou bring me to thy father?

Chap. 13, 16.

9 ¶ And Ionathán answered, God kepe y from thee: for if I knwe that wickednes were concluded of my father to come vpon thee, wolde not I tel it thee?

e That he were fully determined.

f If thy father do fauour me.

10 Thē said Dauid to Ionathán, Who shal tel me how shal I knowe, if thy father answer thee cruelly?

11 And Ionathán said to Dauid, Come and let vs go out into the field: and they twaine went out into the field.

12 Then Ionathán said to Dauid, O Lord God of Israhél, when I haue groped my fathers minde tomorowe at this time, or with in this thre dayes, & if it be wel with Dauid, and I then send not vnto thee, and shewe it thee, g The Lord punishe me more grieuouly.

13 The Lord s do so & muche more vnto Ionathán: but if my father haue minde to do thee euil, I wil shewe thee also, & send thee away, that thou mayest go in peace: and the Lord be with thee as he hath bene with my father.

14 Likewise I require not whiles I liue: for I dout not but thou wilt shewe me the mercy of the Lord, ^h that I dye not.

h I knowe y if thou werest now preferred to y kyngdome, thou woldest not destroy me, but shewe thy selfe friendly to my posterite.

15 But I require that thou cut not of thy mercie from mine house for euer: no, not whē the Lord hath destroyed the enemies of Dauid, euerie one from the earth.

16 So Ionathán made a bonde with the house of Dauid, saying, Let the Lord require it at the hands of Dauids enemies.

And againe Ionathán sware vnto Dauid, because he loued him (for he loued him as his owne soule)

18 Thē said Ionathán to him, Tomorowe is y first day of the moneth: and thou shalt be looked for, for thy place shalbe empty. ⁱ Or, mentioned.

19 Therefore thou shalt hide thy selfe thre dayes, then thou shalt go downe quickly and come to the place where thou didest hide thy selfe, when this matter was in hand, & shalt remaine by the itone "Ezél.

20 And I wil shoote thre arrowes on the side thereof, as thogh I shot at a marke.

21 And after I wil send a boy, saying, Go, seke the arrowes. If I say vnto the boy, Se, y arrowes are on this side thee, bring them, and come thou: for it is wel with thee and no hurt, as the Lord liueth.

ii Ebr. peace.

22 But if I say thus vnto the boy, Beholde, the arrowes are beyonde thee, go thy way: for the Lord hath sent thee away.

1 The Lord is the ourour of thy departure.

23 As touching the thing which thou and I haue spoken of, beholde, the Lord be betwene thee and me for euer.

24 ¶ So Dauid hid him selfe in the field: & when the first day of the moneth came, the King sate to eat meat.

25 And the King sate, as at other times vpon his seat, euen vpon his seat by the wall: & Ionathán arose, and Abnér sate by Sauls side, but Dauids place was empty.

26 And Saúl said nothing that day: for he thought, Some thing hath befallen him, thogh he were cleane, or els because he was not purified.

k Yet he might haue some busines to let him.

27 But on the morow which was the secōd day of the moneth, Dauids place was empty againe: and Saúl said vnto Ionathán his sonne, Wherefore commeth not the sonne of Israhí to meat, nether yesterday nor to day?

l Thus he speaketh contemptuously of Dauid.

28 And Ionathán answered vnto Saúl, Dauid required of me, that he might go to Beth-léhém.

29 For he said, Let me go, I pray thee: for our familie offreth ^m a sacrifice in the citie, and my brother hath sent for me: therefore now if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let me go, I pray thee, & se my brethrē: this is the cause that he cometh not vnto the Kings table.

m That is a peace offering.

n Meaning all his kinfolke.

30 Then was Saúl angry with Ionathán, & said vnto him, Thou sonne of the wicked rebellious woman, do not I knowe, that thou hast chosen the sonne of Israhí to thy confusion and to the confusion and shame of thy mother?

o Thou art euer contrary vnto me as thy mother is.

31 For as long as the sonne of Israhí liueth vpon the earth, thou shalt not be stablished, nor thy kingdome: wherefore now send and fet him vnto me, for he shal surely dye.

p Ebr. sonne of death.

32 And Ionathán answered vnto Saúl his father, father, and said vnto him, Wherefore shal he dye: what hath he done?

33 And Saúl cast a speare at him to hit him, whereby Ionathán knewe, that it was determined of his father to slaye Dauid.

34 ¶ So Ionathán arose from the table in a great angre, and did eat no meat the secód day of the moneth: for he was sory for Dauid, and because his father had reuiled him.

35 On the next morning therefore Ionathán went out into the field, and at the time appointed with Dauid, and a litle boy with him.

36 And he said vnto his boy, Runne now, seke the arrowes which I shoote, & as the boy ran, he shot an arrowe beyonde him.

37 And when the boy was come to the place where the arrowe was that Ionathán had shot, Ionathán cryed after the boy, & said, Is not the arrowe bey ond thee?

38 And Ionathán cryed after the boy, Make speede, haste and stand not still: and Ionathás boy gathered vp the arrowes, and came to his master, 39 But the boy knewe nothing: onely Ionathán and Dauid knewe the matter.

40 Then Ionathán gaue his bowe and arrowes vnto the boy that was with him, & said vnto him, Go, carie them into the citie.

41 ¶ Assone as the boy was gone, Dauid arose out of a place that was towarde the South, and fel on his face to the ground, and bowed him selfe thre times: and they kyssed one an other, and wept bothe twaine, til Dauid exceded.

42 Therefore Ionathán said to Dauid, Go in peace: that which we haue sworne bothe of vs in the Name of the Lord, saying, The Lord be betwene me & thee, and betwene my feede and betwene thy feede, let it stand for euer.

43 And he arose and departed, and Ionathán went into the citie.

1 Dauid fleeth to Nob to Ahimélech the Priest. 6 He getteth of him the shewbread to satisfie his hunger. 7 Doeg Sauls seruant was present. 10 Dauid fleeth to King Achish. 13 And there fameth him selfe mad.

1 THEN came Dauid to a Nob, to Ahimélech the Priest, and Ahimélech was astonied at the meeting of Dauid, and said vnto him, Why art thou alone, and no mā with thee?

2 And Dauid said to Ahimélech the Priest, The King hath commanded me a certeine thing, and hath said vnto me, Let no man knowe whereabout I send thee, & what I haue commanded thee, and I haue appointed my seruants to suche and suche places.

3 Now therefore if thou hast ought vnder thine hand, giue me fiue cakes of bread, or what commeth to hand.

4 And the Priest answered Dauid, & said, There is no commune bread vnder mine hand, but here is halowed bread, if yong men haue kept them selues, at least from women.

5 Dauid then answered the Priest, and said vnto him, Certainly women haue bene separate fro vs these two or thre dayes since I came out: and the vessels of yong men were holy, thogh the way were prophane, & how muche more then shal euery one be sanctified this day in the vessel?

6 So the Priest gaue him halowed bread: for there was no bread there, saue the shewbread that was také from before the Lord, to put hote bread there, the day that it was taken away.

7 (And there was the same day one of the seruants of Saúl abiding before the Lord, named Doeg the Edomite, the chiefest of Sauls herdemen)

8 And Dauid said vnto Ahimélech, Is there not here vnder thine hand a speare or a sword? for I haue nether broght my sword nor mine haines with me, because the Kings busines required haste.

9 And y Priest said, The sword of Goliath the Philistim, whome thou slewest in the valley of Eláh, beholde, it is wrapt in a clothe behinde the Ephód: if thou wilt take that to thee, take it: for there is none other saue that here, & Dauid said, There is none to that, giue it me.

10 And Dauid arose & fled the same day from the presence of Saúl, & went to Achish the King of Gath.

11 And the seruants of Achish said vnto hi, Is not this Dauid the King of the land? did they not sing vnto him in dances, saying, Saúl hath slain his thousand, & Dauid his ten thousand?

12 And Dauid considered these wordes, & was fore afraid of Achish the King of Gath.

13 And he chāged his behauiour before thé, and fained him selfe mad in their hands, & scrabled on the doores of the gate, & let his spetle fall downe vpon his bearde.

14 Then said Achish vnto his seruants, Lo, ye se the mā is beside him selfe, wherefore haue ye broght him to me?

15 Haue I nede of mad men, that ye haue broght this fellowe to play the mad man in my presence? shal he come into mine house?

7 And Saúl said vnto his seruáts that stode about him, Heare now, ye sonnes of Ieminí, wil the sonne of Ishái giue euerie make you all captaines ouer thousands, & captaines ouer hundreths?

8 That all ye haue cōspired against me, and there is none that telleth me that my sonne hath made a couenant with y sonne of Ishái? & there is none of you that is sory for me, or sheweth me, that my sonne was appointed ouer the seruants of Saúl) and said, I sawe the sonne of Ishái when he came to Nob, to Ahimélech the sonne

& gaue him vitails, and he gaue him also threatened to 11 Then the King sent to call Ahimélech the Priest the sonne of Ahitúb, and all were in Nob: and they came all to the King.

12 And Saúl said, Heare now, thou sonne of Ahitúb. And he answered, Here I am, my lord.

13 Then Saúl said vnto him, Why haue ye conspired against me, thou and the sonne of Ishái, in that thou hast giuen him vitai-le, and a sworde, and hast asked counsel of God for him, that he shulde rise against me, & lye in waite as appeareth this day?

14 And Ahimélech answered the King, & said, Who is so faithful among all thy ser-uáts as Dauid, being also the Kings sonne in lawe, & goeth at thy commandement, and is honorable in thine house?

15 Haue I this day first begon to aske counsel of God for him? he is far fró me, let not the King impute any thing vnto his seruant, nor to all the house of my father:
for thy seruant knewe nothing of all this,

other times also, whē he had great affaires,

16 Then the King said, Thou shalt surely

17 And the King said vnto the sergents that stode about him, Turne, & slaye the Priests of the Lord, because their hand also is with Dauid, and because they knewe when he fled, and shewed it not to me. But the seruáts of the King wolde not moue their hands to fall vpon the Priests of the Lord.

^{Or, sergents.}

18 The King said to Doég, Turne thou and fall vpon the Priests. And Doég the Edomite turned, and ran vpon the Priests, and slewe that same day foure score and siue persones that did weare a linen man and woman, bothe childe and suckling, bothe ox and asse, and shepe with the edge of the sworde.

20 But one of the sonnes of Ahimélech the sonne of Ahitúb (whose name was Abia-thár) escaped and fled after Dauid.

21 And Abiathár shewed Dauid, that Saúl had slaine the Lords Priests.

22 And Dauid said vnto Abiathár, I knewe it the same day, when Doég the Edomite was there, that he wolde tel Saúl. I am the cause of the death of all the persones of thy fathers house.

10 Then said Dauid, O Lord God of Israél, thy seruant hathe heard, that Saúl is about to come to Keilah to destroy the citie for my sake.

17 When Dauid had made an end of speaking these wordes to Saúl, Saúl said, Is this thy voyce, my sonne Dauid? and Saúl lift vp his voyce, and wept, 18 And said to Dauid, Thou art more righteous then I: for thou hast rendred me good, and I haue rendred thee euil.

19 And thou hast shewed this day, that thou hast dealt wēt with me: forasmuch as whē the Lord had closed me in thine hands, thou killedst me not.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Samuél dyeth. 3 Nabál & Abigáil 38 The Lord kilte Nabál 43 Abigáil & Ahinoám Dauids wives. 44 Michal is giuen to Phaltí.

1 Then Samuél dyed, and all Israél assembled, and mourned for him, & buried him in his owne house at Ramáh. And Dauid arose and went downe to the wildernes of Parán.

2 Now in Maón was a man, who had his possession in Carmél, and the man was exceeding mighty and had thre thousand shepe, and a thousand goates: and he was sheping his shepe in Carmél.

3 The name also of the man was Nabál, & the name of his wife Abigáil, and she was a woman of singular wisaome, and beautiful, but the man was churlifh, and euil conditioned, and was of the familie of Caléb.

4 And Dauid heard in the wildernes, that Nabál did there his shepe.

5 Therefore Dauid sent ten yong men, & Dauid said vnto the yong men, Go vp to Carmél, and go to Nabál, and aske him in my name how he doeth.

6 And thus shal ye say for salutation, Bothe y, and thine house, and all that thou hast, be in peace, welth, and prosperitie.

7 Beholde, I haue heard, that thou hast shepers: now thy shepherds were with vs, and we did them no hurt, nether did they misse anie thing all the while they were in Carmél.

8 Aske thy seruants & they wil shewe thee. Wherefore let these yōg mé finde fauour in thine eyes: (for we come in a good season) giue, I praye thee, whatsoeuer cometh to thine hand vnto thy seruants, & to thy sonne Dauid.

9 And when Dauids yong men came, they tolde Nabal all those wordes in the name of Dauid, and helde their peace.

11 Shal I then take my bread, & my water, & my flesh that I haue killed for my she-

12 ¶ So Dauids seruants turned their way, and went againe, and came, and tolde him all those things.

13 And Dauid said vnto his men, Girde eu-ery man his sworde about him. And they girded euery man his sworde: Dauid also girded his sworde. And about foure hundredth men went vp after Dauid, and two hundredth abode by the carriage.

14 Now one of the seruants tolde Abigáil Nabals wife, saying, Beholde, Dauid sent messengers out of the wildernes to salute our maister, and he rayled on them.

15 Notwithstanding the men were very good vnto vs, and we had no displeasure, for he is so wicked y a man can not speake

18 ¶ Then Abigáil made haste, and toke two hundredth cakes, and two bottles of wine, and fiue shepe ready dressed, & fiue measures of parched corne, and an hundredth failes of raisins, and two hundredth figges, and laded them on asses.

19 Then she said vnto her seruants, Go ye before me: beholde, I wil come after you:
 yet she tolde not her husband Nabál.

20 And as she rode on her asse, she came downe by a secret place of the mountaine, and beholde, Dauid and his men came downe against her, and she met them.

21 And Dauid said, In dede I haue kept all in vaine that this fellowe had in the wil-dernes, so that nothing was missed of all that pertained vnto him: for he hathe requited me euil for good.

22 So and more also do God vnto the enemies of Dauid: for surely I wil not leaue of all that he hathe, by the dawning of the day, any that pisseth against the wall.

23 And when Abigáil sawe Dauid, she hasted and lighted of her asse, & fel before Dauid on her face, and bowed her selfe to the grounde,

24 And fel at his fete, & said, Oh, my lord,
 I haue committed the iniquitie, and I pray thee, let thine handmaid speake to thee, & heare thou the wordes of thine hádmayd.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regarde this wicked man Nabál: for as his name is, so is he: Nabál is his name, and folly is with him: but I thine handmayd sawe not the yong men of my lord whome y sentest.

26 Now therefore my lord, as the Lord li-ueth, and as thy soule liueth (the Lord, I say, that hathe withholdē thee from com-ming to shed blood, and that thine hand shulde not saue thee) so now thine enemies shalbe as Nabál, and they that intende to do my lord euil.

27 And now, this blessing which thine handmayd hathe broght vnto my lord, let it be giuen vnto the yong mé, that followe my lord.

28 I pray thee, forgiue the trespassse of thine handmayd: for the Lord wil make my lord a sure house, because my lord fighteth the battels of the lord and none euil hathe bene founde in thee in all thy life.

29 Yet a man hathe risen vp to persecute thee, and to seke thy soule, but the soule of my lord shalbe bounde in the bundel of life with the Lord thy God: and the soule of thine enemies shal God cast out, as out of the midle of a sling.

30 And when the Lord shal haue done to my lord all the good that he hathe promised thee, and shal haue made thee ruler ouer Israél,

31 Then shal it be no grief vnto thee, nor offence of minde vnto my lord, that he hathe not shed blood causeles, nor that my lord hathe not preseued him selfe: & whē the Lord shal haue dealt wel with my lord, remember thine handmayd.

32 Then Dauid said to Abigáil, Blessed be the Lord God of Israél, which sent thee this day to mete me.

33 And blessed be thy counsel, and blessed be thou, which haste kept me this day fiō comming to shed blood, and that mine hand hathe not saued me.

34 For in dede, as the Lord God of Israél liueth, who hathe kept me backe from hurting thee, except thou haddest hasted and met me, surely there had not bene left vnto Nabál by the dawning of the day, any that pisseth against the wall.

35 Then Dauid receued of her hand that which she had brought him, & said to her, Go vp in peace to thine house: beholde, I haue heard thy voyce, and haue granted thy petition.

36 ¶ So Abigáil came to Nabál, & beholde, he made a feast in his house, like the feast of a King, and Nabals heart was mery within him, for he was very drōken: wherefore she tolde him nothing, nether lesse nor more, vntil the morning arose.

37 Then in the morning when the wine was gone out of Nabál, his wife tolde

11 The Lord kepe me from laying mine hand vpon the Lords anointed: but, I pray thee, take now the speare that is at his head, and the pot of water, and let vs go hence.

12 So Daud toke the speare and the pot of water from Sauls head, & thei gate them away, and no man sawe it, nor marked it, nether did any awake, but thei were all aslepe: for the Lord had sent a dead slepe vpon them.

d Meaning, he wolde make him sure at one stroke. e To wit, in his owne priuate cause: for Iehu slew two Kings at Gods appointment, 2. King. 9. 24.

Or, the brayn slepe of the Lord was fallen vpon them.

13 Then Daud went into the other side, & stode on the toppe of an hil a far of, a great space being betwene them.

14 And Daud cryed to the people, and to Abnér the sonne of Ner, saying, Hearest thou not Abnér? Then Abnér answered, and said, Who art thou that cryest to the King?

Or, answered.

15 ¶ And Daud said to Abnér, Art not a man, and who is like thee in Israél? wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lord the King, for there came one of the folke in to destroye the King thy lord.

f Esteemed more valiant, and mete to saue the King?

16 This is not wel done of thee: as the Lord liueth, ye are worthy to dye, because ye haue not kept your master the Lords Anointed: and now se where the Kings speare is, and the pot of water that was at his head.

Or, finnes of death.

17 And Saúl knewe Dauds voyce, & said, Is this thy voyce, & my sonne Daud? And Daud said, It is my voyce, my lord O King.

g Hereby it appeareth, the hypocrite persecuted Daud against his owne conscience, and contrary to his promises.

18 And he said, Wherefore doeth my lord thus persecute his seruant? for what haue I done? or what euil is in mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I beseeche thee, let my lord the King heare the wordes of his seruant. If the Lord haue stured thee vpon against me, let him smel the saour of a sacrifice: but if the children of men haue done it, cursed be thei before the Lord: for thei haue cast me out this day fro abiding in the inheritance of the Lord, saying, Go, serue other gods.

h Let his anger towards vs be pacified by a sacrifice.

20 Now therefore let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the King of Israél is come out to seke a flye, as one wolde hunt a partridge in the mountaines.

i As muche as laye in them, they compelled him to idolatrye, because they forced him to see to the idolaters.

21 Then said Saúl, I haue sinned : come againe, my sonne Dauid: for I wil do thee nomore harme, because my soule was precious in thine eyes this day: beholde, I haue done foolishly, and haue erred exceedingly.

22 Then Dauid answered, & said, Beholde the Kings speare, let one of the yong me come ouer and fet it.

23 And let the Lord rewarde euerie man according to his ¹ righteoufnes & faithfulness: for the Lord had deliuered thee into mine hánds this daie, but I wolde not lay mine hand vpon the Lords anointed.

24 And beholde, like as thy life was muche set by this day in mine eyes: so let my life be set by in the eyes of the Lord, that he may deliuer me out of all tribulacion.

² Dauid fleeth to Achísh King of Gath, who giueth him Ziklág. ³ Dauid destroyeth certeine of the Philistims. ¹⁰ Achísh is deceyued by Dauid.

¹ ANd Dauid said in his heart, I shal now ^a perish one day by the hand of Saúl: is it not better for me that I saue my selfe in the land of the Philistims, and that Saúl may haue no hope of me to seke me any more in all the coastes of Israél, and so escape out of his hand?

² Dauid therefore arose, and he, and the six hundred men that were with him, wēt vnto Achísh the sonne of Maóch King of Gath.

³ And Dauid ^b dwelt with Achísh at Gath, he, and his men, euerie man with his household, Dauid with his two wiues, Abinóam the Izreelite, and Abigáil Nabals wife the Carmelite.

⁴ And it was tolde Saúl that Dauid was fled to Gath: so he sought nomore for him.

⁵ And Dauid said vnto Achísh, If I haue now founde grace in thine eyes, let them giue me a place in some other cite of the country, that I may dwell there: for why shulde thy seruant dwell in the head cite of the kingdome with thee?

⁶ Then Achísh gaue him Ziklág that same day: therefore Ziklág pertaineth vnto the Kings of Iudáh vnto this day.

⁹ And Dauid smote the land, & left nether man nor woman aliue, and toke shepe, & oxen, and asses, and camels, and apparel, and returned and came to Achísh.

¹⁰ And Achísh said, ⁹ Where haue ye bene a rousing this day? And Dauid answered, Against the Southe of Iudáh, and against ¹⁰ the Southe of the ^e Ierameelites, & against the Southe of the Kenites.

¹¹ And Dauid faced nether man nor woman aliue, to bring them to Gath, saying, Lest they shulde tel on vs, and say, So did Dauid, and so wil be his maner all the while that he dwelleth in the country of the Philistims.

⁵ And when Saúl sawe the hoste of the Philistims, he was afrayed, and his heart was fore astonied.

⁶ Therefore Saúl asked counsel of ¹ Lord, & the Lord answered him not, nether by dreames, nor by ^c Vrim, nor yet by Prophetes.

⁷ ¶ Then said Saúl vnto his seruants, Seke me a woman that hathe a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and aske of her. And his seruants said to him, Beholde, there is a woman at Endor that hathe a familiar spirit.

⁸ Then Saúl ^d changed him selfe, and put on other raiment, and he went, and two men with him: and they came to the woman by night: and he said, I pray thee, come thou vnto me by the familiar spirit, and bring me him vp whom I sha: name vnto thee.

11 Then said the womā, Whome shal I bring vp vnto thee? And he answered, Bring me vp e Samuél.

12 And when the woman sawe Samuél, she cryed with a loude voyce, and the woman spake to Saúl, saying, Why hast thou deceiued me? for thou art Saúl.

13 And the King said vnto her, Be not afraid: for what sawest thou? And the woman said vnto Saúl, I sawe gods ascēding vp out of the earth.

14 Then he said vnto her, What facion is he of? And she answered, An olde man cometh vp lapped in a mantel: and Saúl knewe that it was f Samuél, and he enclined his face to the ground, & bowed him selfe.

15 ¶ And Samuél said to Saúl, Why hast thou disquieted me, to bring me vp? Then Saúl answered, I am in great distresse: for the Philistims make warre against me, & God is departed frō me, and answereth me no more, nether by Prophetes nether by dreames: therefore I haue called thee, that thou mayest tel me, what I shal do.

16 Then said Samuél, Wherefore the doest thou aske of me, seing the Lord is gone from thee, and is thine enemy?

17 Euen the Lord hath done to s him, as he spake *by mine hand: for the Lord wil rent the kingdome out of thine hand, and giue it thy neighbour Dauid.

18 Because thou obeyedst not the voyce of the Lord, nor executedst his feare wrath vpon the Amalekites, therefore hath the Lord done this vnto thee this day.

19 Moreover the Lord wil deliuer Israél with thee into the hāds of the Philistims: h and tomorowe shalt thou and thy sonnes be with me, & the Lord shal giue the hoste of Israél into the hands of the Philistims.

20 Then Saúl fel streyght way all along on the earth, and was sore a afrayed because of the wordes of Samuél, so that there was no strength in him: for he had eaten no bread all the day nor all the night.

21 Then the woman came vnto Saúl, and sawe that he was sore troubled, and said vnto him, Se, thine handmayd hath obeyed thy voyce, & I k haue put my soule in mine hand, and haue obeyed thy wordes which thou saidest vnto me.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also vnto the voyce of thine handmaid, and let me set a morsel of bread before thee, that thou mayest eat & get thee strength, and go on thy iourney.

23 But he refused, and said, I wil not eat: but his seruants and the woman together compelled him, & he obeyed their voyce. so he arose from the earth, and sate on the bed.

24 Now the woman had a fat calfe in the house, and she hasted, and killed it, and toke floure and kneaded it, and baked of it vnleauened bread.

25 Then she broght them before Saúl, and before his seruants: and when they had eaten, they stode vp, and went away the same night.

CHAP. XXIX.

¶ The princes of the Philistims cause Dauid to be sent backe from the battel against Israél, because they distrust him.

1 SO the Philistims were gathered together with all their armies in Aphék: & the Israelites pitched by the founteine, which is in Izreél.

2 And the princes of the Philistims went forthe by a hundreths and thousands, but Dauid and his men came behinde with Achish.

3 Then said the princes of the Philistims, What do these Ebrewes here? And Achish said vnto the princes of the Philistims, Is not this Dauid y seruant of Saúl the King of Israél, who hath bene with me these dayes, b or these yeres, and I haue foude nothing in him, since he dwelt with me vnto this day?

4 But the princes of the Philistims were wrothe with him, & the princes of the Philistims said vnto him, * Send this fellowe backe, that he may go againe to his place which thou hast appointed him, & let him not go downe with vs to battel, lest that in the battel he be an aduersarie to vs: for wherewith shulde he obtaine the fauour of his master? shulde it not be with the c heads of these men?

5 Is not this Dauid, of whome they sang in dances, saying, * Saúl slewe his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand?

6 ¶ The Achish called Dauid, & said vnto him, As the Lord liueth, thou hast bene vp right and good in my sight, when thou wentest out and in with me in the hoste, nether haue I founde euil with thee, since y camest to me vnto this daye, but the princes do not fauour thee.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The Amalekites burne Ziklág. 5 Dauids two wiues are taken prisoners 6 The people would stone him. 8 He asketh counsel of the Lord and pursuing his enemies, recouereth the praye. 24 He deuadeth is equally. 26 And sendeth parte to his friends.

1 BVt when Dauid and his men were come to Ziklág ^a the third day, the Amalekites had inuaded vpon the South, euen vnto Ziklág, and had ^b smitten Ziklág, and burnt it with fire,

2 And had taken the women that were therein prisoners, bothe small and great, and slew not a man, but caryed them away, and went their wayes.

c For these onely remained in the citie, when the mē were gone to warre.

3 ¶ So Dauid and his men came to the citie, and beholde, it was burnt with fire, and their ^c wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters were taken prisoners.

4 Then Dauid & the people that was with him, lift vp their voyces and wept, vntil they colde wepe nomore.

5 Dauids two wiues were taken prisoners also, Ahinoám the Izreélite, and Abigáil the wife of Nabál the Carmelite.

d Thus we se, ym troubles & aduersitie we do not consider Gods prouidēce, but like raging beastes forget bothe our owne ductie and comēce Gods appointment ouer vs.

6 And Dauid was in great sorowe: for the people ^d entended to stone him, because the heartes of all the people were vexed euerie mā for his sonnes and for his daughters: but Dauid comforted him selfe in the Lord his God.

7 ¶ And Dauid said to Abiathár the Priest Ahimelechs sonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephód. And Abiathár broght the Ephód to Dauid.

8 Then Dauid asked counsel at the Lord, saying, Shal I followe after this companie? shal I ouertake them? And he answered him, Followe: for thou shalt surely ouertake them, and ^e recouer all.

e Though God seeme to leaue vs for a time, yet if we trust in him, we shal be sure to finde comforte.

9 ¶ So Dauid and the six hundred mē that were with him, wēt, and came to the riuier Besór, where a parte of them abode:

10 But Dauid and foure hundred men followed (for two hundred abode behinde, being to wearye to go ouer y riuier Besór)

11 And they founde an Egyptiá in the field, and broght him to Dauid, and gaue him f bread and he did eat, and they gaue him water to drinke.

f God by his prouidēce bothe prouided for the necessitie of this poore strāger, and made him a guide to Dauid to accomplish his enterprise.

12 Also they gaue him a fewe figs, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirit came againe to him: for he had eaten no bread, nor dronke any water in thre dayes, and thre nights.

13 ¶ And Dauid said vnto him, To whome belongest thou? and whence art thou? And he said, I am a yong mā of Egypt, and seruuant to an Amalekite: and my maister left me thre daies ago, because I fellicke.

14 We roued vpon the South of Chéreth, & vpon the coast belonging to Iudáh, and vpon the South of Caléb, and we burnt Ziklág with fire.

15 And Dauid said vnto him, Canst thou bring me to this companie? And he said, I sweare vnto me by God, that thou wilt nether kil me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my maister, and I wil bring thee to this companie.

h The wicked in their pōpe and pleasures consider not y iudgement of God, which is thē at hand to smite them.

i Some reade, & vnto y morowe of y two strāgers: that is, thre daies.

18 And Dauid recouered all that y Amalekites had takē: also Dauid rescued his two wiues.

19 And they lacked nothing, small or great, sonne or daughter, or of the spoyle of all that they had taken away: Dauid recouered them all.

20 Dauid also toke all the shepe, and the oxē, & they draue them before his cattel, and said, This is Dauids ^k praye.

k Which the Amalekites had taken of others, & Dauid from thē besides the goods of Ziklág.

21 ¶ And Dauid came to the two hundred mē that were to wearie for to followe Dauid: whome they had made also to abide at the riuier Besór: and they came to mete Dauid, and to mete the people that were with him: so when Dauid came nere to the people, he saluted them.

22 Then answered all the euil and wicked of the mē that went with Dauid, and said, Because they went not with vs, therefore wil we giue them none of the praye, that we haue recouered, saue to euery man his ^l wife and his children: therefore let them cary them away and departe.

l Vnder these are comprehendēd the cattel and goods, w appertained to euery man.

23 Then said Dauid, Ye shal not do so, my biethren, with that which the Lord hathe giuen vs, who hathe preferred vs, and deliuered the companie that came against vs, into our handes.

24 For who wil obey you in this matter? but as his parte is that goeth downe to the battel, so shal his parte be, that toucheth by the stuffe: they shal parte alike.

m Some referre these wordes to Dauid, that he had ed an olde custome & law, as if it were writ, It is bothe now and hath bene auser.

THE SECONDE BOKE of Samuél.

THE ARGUMENT.

This boke and the former beare the title of Samuel, because they containe the conception, natiuitie and the whole course of his life, and also the liues and actes of two Kings, to wit, of Saúl and Daud, whome he anointed and consecrated Kings by the ordinance of God. And as the first boke containeth those things, which God broght to passe among his people vnder the gouernement of Samuel and Saúl: so this seconde boke declareth the noble actes of Daud, after the death of Saúl, when he began to reigne, vnto the end of his kingdom: and how the same by him was wonderfully augmented: also his great troubles & dangers, which he sustained bothe within his house and without: what horrible & dangerous insurrections, vprores, & treasons were wrought against him, partely by false counsellers, famed friends & flatterers, and partely by some of his owne children and people and how by Gods assistance he ouercame all difficulties, and enjoyed his kingdom in rest and peacie. In the persone of Daud the Scripture seeth forth Christ Iesus the chief King, who came of Daud according to the flesh, and was persecuted on euery side with outward and inward enemies, as wel in his owne persone, as in his members, but at length he ouercometh all his enemies and giueth his Church victorie against all power bothe spiritual & temporal: and so reigneth with them, King for euermore.

4 ¶ Then the men of Iudáh came, and there they anoited Dauid King ouer the house of Iudáh. And they tolde Dauid, saying, 1 Sam: 31, 12. ¶ that the men of Iabésh Gileád buyed Saúl.

5 And Dauid sent messengers vnto the mé of Iabésh Gileád, & said vnto them, Blesfed aie ye of y Lord, that ye haue shewed suche kindenes vnto your lord Saúl, that you haue buryed him.

6 Therefore now the Lord shewe mercie and ^dtrueth vnto you: and I wil recompence you this benefite, because ye haue done this thing.

7 Therefore now let your hands bestróg, and be you valiant: albeit your master Saúl be dead, yet neuertheless the house of Iudáh hath anoited me ^e King ouer them.

8 ¶ But Abné the sonne of Ner that was captaine of Sauls hoste, toke Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saúl, and broght him to Mahanáim, 9 And made him King ouer Gileád, and ouer the Ashurites, and ouer Izreél, and ouer Ephráim, and ouer Beniamín, and ouer ^fall Iísaél.

10 Ish-bósheth Sauls sonne was forty yere olde when he began to reigne ouer Israél, and reigned two yere: but the house of Iudáh followed Dauid.

11 (And the time which Dauid reigned in Hebrón ouer the house of Iudáh, was seué yere and six monethes)

12 ¶ And Abné the sonne of Ner, and the seruants of Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saúl went out of Mahanáim to Gibeón.

13 And Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh, and the seruants of Dauid went out and met one an other by the poole of Gibeón: and they fate downe, the one on the one side of the poole, and the other on the other side of the poole.

14 Then Abné said to Ioáb, Let the yong men now arise, and ^h playe before vs. And Ioáb said, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose and went ouer twelue of Beniamín by nomber, which pertained to Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saúl, and twelue of the seruants of Dauid.

16 And euerie one caught ⁱ his fellowe by the head, & thrust his sworde in his fellowes side, so they fel downe together: wherefore the place was called Helkath-hazzurim which is in Gibeón.

17 And the battel was exceding sore that same day: for Abné and the men of Iísaél ^k fel before the seruants of Dauid.

18 And there were thre sonnes of Zeruiáh there, Ioáb, and Abishái, and Afahél. And Afahél was as light on foote as a wilde roc.

19 And Afahél followed after Abné, & in going he turned nether to the right hand nor to the left from Abné.

20 Then Abné looked behinde him, & said, Art thou Afahél? And he answered, Yea.

21 Then Abné said, Turne thee ether to y right hand or to the left, and take one of the yong men, and take thee his ^oweapons: but Afahél wolde not departe from him.

22 And Abné said to Afahél, Departe fró me: ¹ wherefore shulde I smite thee to the ¹gioude? how thé shulde I be able to holde vp my face to Ioáb thy brother? 1 Why Joab y prouoke me to kil thee?

23 And when he wolde not departe, Abné with the hindre end of the speare smote him vnder the ^m fift rib, thā: the speare came out behinde him: and he fel downe there, and dyed in his place. And as manie as came to the place where Afahél fel downe and dyed, stode stil. m Some read, in those partes, where as the liuely partes lye: as the heart, the lungs, y liuer, the mit, and the gall.

24 Ioáb also and Abishái pursued after Abné: and the sunne went downe, when they were come to y hil Ammah, that lieth before Gíah, by the way of the wildernes of Gibeón.

25 And the children of Beniamín gathered them selues together after Abné, & were on an heape and stode on the top of anhil.

26 Then Abné called to Ioáb, and said, Shal the ⁿsworde deuoure for euer: knowest thou not, that it wil be bitternes in the latter end? how long thé shal it be, or thou bid the people retorne fró following their brethren? n Shal we not make an end: of murthering?

27 And Ioáb said, As God liuerh, if thou haddest not ^o spoken, surely euen in the morning the people had departed euerie one backe from his brother. o If y hadst not prouoked thé to battel, as vers 14.

28 ¶ So Ioáb blewe a trumpet, and all the people stode stil, and pursued after Israél nomore, nether foght they anie more.

29 And Abné and his men walked all that night through the ^oplaine, & wét ouer Iorden, & pass through all Bithrón til they came to Mahanáim. o Or, wilderness. Or, to the side.

30 Ioáb also returned backe from Abné: & whē he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dauids seruants ninetene men and Afahél.

31 But the seruats of Dauid had smitten of Beniamín, and of Abners men, so that thre hundred and threescore men dyed.

32 And they toke vp Afahél, and buryed hī in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-léhem: and Ioáb and his men wēt all night, and ~~when they came~~ to Hebrón, the daie arose. p Thus God wolde confirme Dauid in his kingdome by the destruction of his aduersaries.

1 Long warre betwene the houses of Saúl and Dauid. 2 The children of Dauid in Hebrón. 12 Abné turneth to Dauid. 27 Ioáb killeth him.

1 THere was then a long warre betwene the house of Saúl and the house of Dauid:

Dauid: but Dauid waxed stronger, & the house of Saúl waxed weaker.

Dauid in times past, that he might be your King.

2 ¶ And vnto Dauid were children borne in Hebrón: and his eldest sonne was Amnón of Amónam the Izreelite, 18 Now then do it: for the Lord hathe spoken of Dauid, saying, By the hand of my seruant Dauid I wil saue my people Israël out of the hands of the Philistims, and out of the hands of all their enemies.

^b Who is called also Dani-el. Chro. 3.1.

3 And his seconde, was ^b Chilkáb of Abigáil the wife of Nabál the Camelite: and the third, Absalóm the sonne of Maacáh the daughter of Talmái the King of Geshúr, 19 Also Abnér spake ^c to Beniamín, and afterwaide Abnér went to speake with Dauid in Hebrón, concerning all that Israël was content with, and the whole house of Beniamín.

^c Ebr in the eares of Beniamín

4 And the fourth, Adonijáh the sonne of Aggith, and the fifth, Shephaciáh the sonne of Abitál, ^g Who challeged the kingdome, because of their father Saúl.

5 And the sixth, Ithreám by Egláh Dauids wife: these were borne to Dauid in Hebrón.

^e Within sente yeres and six moneths.

6 ¶ Now while there was warre betwene the house of Saúl and the house of Dauid, Abnér made all his power for y^e house of Saúl.

7 And Saúl had a concubine named Rizpáh, the daughter of Aijáh. And Ish-bósheth said to Abner, Wherefore hast thou gone in to my fathers concubine?

20 So Abnér came to Dauid to Hebrón, hauing twenty men with him, and Dauid made a feast vnto Abnér, and to the men that were with him.

21 Then Abnér said vnto Dauid, I will rise vp, and go gather all Israël vnto my lord y^e King, that they may make a couenát with thee, & that thou maicst reigne ouer all that thine heart desireth. Then Dauid let Abnér departe, who went in peace.

^h Or, without harme

8 The was Abnér very wrothe for the wordes of Ish-bósheth, & said, Am I a dog, for all my mercy this day vnto the house of Saúl thy father, to his brethren, & to his neighbours, and haue not deliuered thee into the hand of Dauid, that thou chargest me this day with a fault concerning this woman?

^d Doest thou esteeme me no more then a dog, for all my seruice done to thy fathers house?

22 ¶ And beholde, the seruants of Dauid and Ioáb came from the cape, & broght a great pray with them (but Abnér was not with Dauid in Hebrón for he had sét him away, and he departed in peace)

^h From warre against the Philistims.

9 ¶ So do God to Abnér, and more also, except, as the Lord hathe sworne to Dauid, euen so I do to him, ^e We se how the wicked can not abide to be admonished of their fautes, but take their displeasure, & go about to bring them fro their wickednes.

10 To remoue the kingdome fro the house of Saúl, that the throne of Dauid may be stablished ouer Israël, and ouer Iudáh, euen from Dan to Beer sheba.

23 When Ioáb, and all the hoste that was with him were come, men tolde Ioáb, saying, Abnér the sonne of Ner came to the King, and he hathe sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Ioáb came to the King, and said, What hast thou done? beholde, Abnér came vnto thee, why hast thou sent him away, and he is departed?

ⁱ Here appeareth the malignous mude of Ioáb, who wolde haue had the King to slay Abnér for his private grudge.

11 And he durst nomore answer to Abnér: for he feared him.

12 ¶ Then Abnér sent messengers to Dauid on his behalfe, saying, Whose is the land? Who shulde also say, Make couenant with me, & beholde, mine hand shall be with thee, to bring all Israël vnto thee.

^h Or, secretly.

13 Who said, Wel, I wil make a couenant with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, that y^e se not my face except thou bring Michál Sauls daughter when thou comest to se me.

25 Thou knowest Abnér the sone of Ner: for he came to disceiue thee, & to knowe thy outgoing and ingoing, and to knowe all that thou doest.

26 ¶ And when Ioáb was gone out fro Dauid, he sent messengers after Abnér, which broght him againe fro the well of Siriah vnknowing to Dauid.

27 And when Abnér was come againe to Hebrón, Ioáb toke him aside in the gate to speake with him peaceably, and smote him vnder the fifth ry^e, that he dyed, for the blood of Afahél his brother.

16 And her housband went with her, and came weping behinde her, vnto Bahurím: then said Abnér vnto him, Go, & returne. So he returned.

28 ¶ And when afterwaide it came to Dauids eare, he said, I and my kingdome are gilty before the Lord for euer, concerning the blood of Abnér the sonne of Ner.

36 And all the people knewe it, & it pleased them: as whatsoeuer the King did, pleased all the people.

37 For all the people and all Israél vnderstode that day, how that it was not the Kings dede that Abné the sonne of Ner was slayne.

38 And the King said vnto his seruants, Knowe ye not, that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israél?

15 So Dauid and all the house of Israél, brought the Arke of the Lord with shouting, and sounde of trumpet.

16 And as the Arke of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michál Saúls daughter looked through a windowe, and sawe King Dauid leape, and dance before the Lord, and she despised him in her heart.

17 And when they had brought in the Arke of the Lord, they set it in his place, in the middes of the tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it: the Dauid offered burnt offrings, & peace offrings before the Lord.

18 And as sone as Dauid had made an end of offering burnt offrings & peace offrings, he blessed the people in the Name of the Lord of hostes, i That is, to pray for his house, as he had done for the people.

20 ¶ Then Dauid returned to bless his house, and Michál the daughter of Saúl came out to mete Dauid, and said, O how glorious was the King of Israél this day, which was vncovered to day in the eyes of the maidens of his seruants, as a foole vncovereth him selfe.

k It was for no worldly affection; but onely for that zeale that I bare to Gods glorie.

21 Then Dauid said vnto Michál, k It was before the Lord, which chose me rather then thy father, and all his house, and commanded me to be ruler ouer all the people of the Lord, euem ouer Israél: and therefore wil I play before the Lord, 22 And wil yet be more vile then thus, and wil be lowe in mine owne sight, and of the very same maidseruants, which thou hast spoken of, shal I be had in honour.

l Which was a punishment, because the mocked the seruant of God.

23 Therefore Michál the daughter of Saúl had no childe, vnto the day of her death.

Dauid wolde buylde God an house, but is forbidden by the Prophet Nathán: God putteth Dauid in minde of his benefites: He promiseth continuance of his kingdome and posteritie.

3 Then Nathán said vnto the King, Go, and do all that is in thine heart: for the Lord is with thee.

4 ¶ And the same night the worde of the Lord came vnto Nathán, saying,

5 Go, and tel my seruánt Dauid, Thus saith the Lord, Shalt thou buyld me an house for my dwelling?

b Meaning, he shulde not; yet Nathán speaking according to his iudgement and not by the Spirit of prophetic, permitted him.

6 For I haue dwelt in no house since the time that I broght the children of Israél out of Egypt vnto this day, but haue walked in a tent and tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I haue walked with all the children of Israél, spake I one worde with anie of the tribes of Israél when I commanded the iudges to fede my people Israél: for said I, Why buyld ye not me an house of cedar trees?

c As concerning the buylding of an house: meaning that without Gods expresse worde nothing ought to be attempted. 1 Sam 16. 12. Psal. 78. 70.

8 Now therefore so say vnto my seruánt Dauid, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, I toke thee from the shepecote following the shepe, that thou mightest be ruler ouer my people, ouer Israél.

9 And I was with thee where soeuer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a great name, lyke vnto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

16 And thine house shalbe stablished and thy kingdome for euer before thee, euem thy thron shalbe stablished for euer.

h This was begun in Sa-lomon as a figure, but accomplished in Chri.

17 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision, Nathán spake thus vnto Dauid.

18 Then King Dauid went in, and sate before the Lord, & said, Who am I, ô Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast broght me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, ô Lord God, therefore thou hast spoké also of thy seruants house for a great while: but doeth this appeeteine to me, ô Lord God?

i Ebr is this the lawe of man? h Cometh not this rather of thyre mercie, then of some worthines that can be in man?

20 And what can Dauid say more vnto thee? for thou, Lord God, knowest thy seruant.
 21 For thy wordes sake, and according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them knowen vnto thy seruant.
 22 Wherefore thou art great, ó Lord God: for there is none like thee, nether is there anie god besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

Gen. 4, 7. 23 * And what one people in y^e earth is like thy people, like Israél: whose God went & redeemed thé to him selfe, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, & do for you great things, and terrible for thy ^k iád, ó Lord, euén for thy people, whome thou redemest to thee out of Egypt, from the ^l nacions, and their gods?

24 For thou hast ^m ordeined thy people Israél to be thy people for euer: and thou Lord art become their God.

25 Now therefore, ó Lord God, confirme for euer the worde that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and his house, and do as thou hast said.

26 And let thy Name be magnified for euer by them that shal say, The Lord of hostes is the God ouer Israél: and let the ⁿ house of thy seruant Dauid be stablished before thee.

27 For thou, ó Lord of hostes, God of Israél, hast ieuiciled vnto thy seruant, saying, I wil buyld thee an house: therefore ha the thy seruant bene bolde to pray this prayer vnto thee.

28 Therefore now, ó Lord God, (for thou art God, and thy wordes be true, and thou hast tolde this goodnes vnto thy seruãt)

29 Therefore now let it please thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue for euer before thee: for thou, ó Lord God, hast ^o spoken it: and let the house of thy seruant be blessed for euer, with thy blessing.

Therefore I firmly beleue it shal come to passe.

1 Dauid ouercommeth the Philistims, and other strange nacions, and maketh them tributaries to Israél.

1 AFTER this now, Dauid smote the Philistims, and subdued them, & Dauid toke the bridle of bondage out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And he smote Moáb, and measured them with a corde, and cast them downe to the ground: he measured them with ^b two cordes to put them to death, & with one ful corde to kepe them aliue: so became the Moabites Dauids seruants, and brought gifts.

3 Dauid smote also Hadadézer the sonne of Rehób King of Zobáb as he went to recouer his border at ^e iuer Euphrátes.

4 And Dauid toke a thousand and seuen hundred horsemen, and twentie thousand footemen, and destroyed all the charets, but he reserued an hundred charets of them

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of ^g Dam mésk to succour Hadadézer King of Zobáb, but Dauid slewe of the Aramites two and twentie thousand men.

6 And he put a garison in Arám of ^h Dámésk: and the Aramites became seruants to Dauid, and brought giftes. And the Lord saued Dauid wheresoeuer he went.

7 And Dauid toke the shields of golde that belonged to the seruants of Hadadézer, and brought them to ⁱ Ierusalém.

8 And out of Bétah, and Berothái (cities of Hadadézer) Dauid brought exceeding muche brasse.

9 ¶ Then ^j Tóí King of Hamáth heard how Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadadézer, 10 Therefore ^k Tóí sent Iorám his sonne vnto King Dauid, to salute him, and to ^l reioyce with him because he had fought against Hadadézer, and beaten him (for Hadadézer had waite with ^m Tóí) who brought with him vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde & vessels of brasse.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord with the siluer and golde that he had dedicate of all the nacions, which he had subdued:

12 Of ⁿ Arám, & of Moáb, and of the children of Ammón, & of the Philistims, and of Amalék, and of the spoule of Hadadézer the sonne of Rehób King of Zobáb.

13 So Dauid gate a name after that he returned, and had slaine of the Aramites in the valley of salt eightene thousand men.

14 And he put a garison in Edóm: throughout all Edóm put he soldiers, and all they of Edóm became Dauids seruants: and ^o y Lord kept Dauid wheresoeuer he wēt.

15 Thus Dauid reigned ouer all Israél, and executed iudgement and iustice vnto all his people.

16 And Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the hoste, and Ioshaphát the sonne of Ahimélech was recorder.

17 And Zadók the sonne of Ahitúb, and Ahimélech the sonne of Abiathár were ^p y Priests, and Seraiah the scribe.

15 And he wrote thus in the letter, Purge Vriah in the foreface of the strength of the battel, & recule ye backe from him, that he may be smitten, and dye.

1 And when the yere was expired in y time when Kings go forth to battel, Dauid sent Ioab, and his seruants with him, & all Israel, who destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabbah: but Dauid remained in Ierusalem.

2 And when it was euening tide, Dauid arose out of his bed, and walked vpon the rooffe of the Kings palace: and fro the rooffe he sawe a woman washing her selfe: and the womā was very beautiful to loke vpon.

3 And Dauid sent and inquired what woman it was: and one said, It is not this Beth-sheba y daughter of Eliam, wife to Vriah the Hittite?

4 Then Dauid sent messengers, and toke her away: and she came vnto him and he lay with her (now she was purified from her vnclennes) and she returned vnto her house.

5 And y womā conceiued: therefore she sent & tolde Dauid & said, I am with childe.

7 And when Vriah came vnto him, Dauid demanded him how Ioab did, & how the people fared, and how the warre prospered.

8 Afterwarde Dauid said to Vriah, Go downe to thine house, and wash thy feet. So Vriah departed out of the Kings palace, & the King sent a present after him.

Then the Elders of his house arose to come vnto him, and to cause him to rise from the ground: but he wolde not, neither did he eat kmeat with them.

k Thinking by his instat prater that God wolde haue restored his childe, but God had otherwise determined.

So on the seuenth day the childe dyed: & the seruants of Dauid feared to tel him that the childe was dead: for they said, Beholde, while the childe was aliue, we spake vnto him, and he wolde not hearken vnto our voyce: how then shal we say vnto him, The childe is dead, " to vex^e him more?

Heb. & he wil do him false euil.

But when Dauid sawe that his seruants whispered, Dauid perceiued that y^l childe was dead: therefore Dauid said vnto his seruants, Is the childe dead? And they said, He is dead.

Then Dauid^l arose from the earth, & washed and anointed him selfe, and changed his apparel, and came into the house of the Lord, and worshiped, & afterward came to his owne house, and bade that they shulde set bread before him, and he did eat.

l Shewing that our lamentations ought not to be excessive, but moderate: and y^l we must praise God in all his doings.

Then said^m his seruants vnto him, What thing is this, that thou hast done? thou didest fast and wepe for the childe, while it was aliue, but whé the childe was dead, thou didest rise vp, and eat meat.

m As they considered not that God granteth manie things to the sobbes & teares of y^l faithful.

And he said, While the childe was yet aliue, I fasted, and wept: for I said, Who can tel whether God wil haue mercie on me, that the childe may liue?

But now being dead, wherefore shulde I now fast? " Can I bring him againe anie more? I shal go to him, but he shal not returne to me.

n By this consideration appaied his sorrowe.

¶ And Dauid comforted Bath-sheba his wife, and went in vnto her, and lay with her, * and she bare a sonne, ^o & he called his name Salomón: also y^l Lord loued hi.

34 Amnón Dauids sonne defileth his sister Tamár.
35 Tamár is comforted by her brother Absalóm.
36 Absalóm therefore killeth Amnón.

3 Now after this so it was, that Absalóm the sonne of Dauid hauing a faire sister, whose name was a Tamár, Amnón the sonne of Dauid loued her.
2 And Amnón was so fore vexed, that he fel sicke for his sister Tamár: for she was a b virgin, & it semed harde to Amnón to do any thing to her.
3 But Amnón had a friend called Ionadáb, the sonne of Shimeáh Dauids brother:
and Ionadáb was a very subtile man.
4 Who said vnto him, Why art thou the Kings sonne so leane f: o day to day? wilt thou not tel me? Then Amnón answered him, I loue Tamár my brother Absalós sister.
5 And Ionadáb said vnto him, c Lye downe on thy bed, and make thy selfe sicke: and when thy father shal come to se thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tamár come, and giue me meat, and let her dresse me in my sight, that I may se it, and eat it of her hand.
6 ¶ So Amnón laye downe, & made him selfe sicke: and when the King came to se him, Amnón said vnto the King, I pray thee, let Tamár my sister come, & make me a couple of d cakes in my sight, that I may receiue meat at her hand.
7 Then Dauid sent home e Tamár, saying, Go now to thy brother Ammons house, and dresse him meat.

8 ¶ So Tamár went to her brother Ammons house, and he laye downe: and she toke f floure, and knead it, and made cakes g in his sight, and did bake the cakes.
9 And she toke a panne, & e powred them out before him, but he wolde not eat. The Amnón said, Cause ye euery man to go out from f me: so euery man went out from him.

10 Then Amnón said vnto Tamár, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tamár toke the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnón her brother.
11 And when she had set them before him to eat, he toke her, and said vnto her,
Come, lye with me, my sister.
12 But she answered him, Naye, my brother, do not force me: for no suche thing ought to be done in Israél: commit not this folie.

13 And I, whether shal I cause my shame to go: and thou shalt be as one g of the fooles in Israél: now therefore,
I pray thee, speake to the King, for he wil not denye me vnto thee.
14 Howbeit he wolde not hearken vnto her voyce, but being stronger then she, forced her, and lay with her.

15 Then Amnón hated her exceedingly, so that he hated wherewith he hated her,
was greater then the loue, wherewith he had loued her: and Amnón said vnto her, Vp, get thee hence 16 And she answered him, There is no cause: this euil (to put me away) is greater then the other that thou didest vnto me: but he wolde not heare her,

17 But called his h seruant that serued him, and said, Put this woman now out from me, and locke the dore after her.

18 (And she had a garment of h diuers coulers vpon her: for with suche garmets were the Kings daughters that were virgins, appareled) Then his seruant brought her out, and locked the dore after her.

19 And Tamár put ashes on her head, & rent the garment of diuers coulers which was on her, and layed her hand on her head, & went her way crying.

20 And Absalóm her brother said vnto her, Hathe Amnón thy brother bene with thee? Now yet be i styl, my sister:
he is thy brother: let not this thing griue thine heart. So Tamár remained desolate in her brother Absaloms house.

21 ¶ But when King Dauid heard all these things, he was very wrothe.

22 And Absalóm said vnto his brother Amnón nether good nor bad: for Absalóm hated Amnón, because he had forced his sister Tamár.

z Sam 24. 11. & chap 3. 8.

f Dauid felt y this was the judgement of God for his sinne, & therefore humbleth him selfe to his god

1 WHEN Dauid was a litle past the ^atoppe of the hil, beholde, Zibá the seruant of Mephibósheth met him with a couple of asses saddled, and vpon them two hundreth ^gcakes of bread, and one hundreth bunshes of raisins, & an hundreth of ^hdryed figges, and a bottel of wine.

2 And y King said vnto Zibá, What meanest thou by these? And Zibá said, They be ^b asses for the Kings housholde to ride on, and bread and dryed figges for the yong men to eat, and wine, that the faint may drincke in the wildeines.

3 And the King said, But where is thy masters sonne? Thē Zibá answered the King, Beholde, he remaineth in Ierusalém: for he said, This day shal the house of Israél restore me the kingdome of my father.

4 Then said the King to Zibá, Beholde, thine are all that ^cperteined vnto Mephibósheth. And Zibá said, I beseeche thee, let me finde grace in thy sight, my lord, ó King.

5 ¶ And when King Dauid came to ^eBahurim, beholde, thence came out a man of the familie of the house of Saúl, named Shimeí the sonne of Gerá: and he came out, and cursed.

6 And he cast stones at Dauid, and at all the seruants of King Dauid: and all the people, and all the men of warre were on his ^d right hand, and on his left.

7 And thus said Shimeí when he cursed, Come forthe, come forthe thou ^mmurderer, and ⁿwicked man.

8 The Lord hathe broght vpon thee all the blood of the house of Saúl, in whose stead thou hast reigned: and the Lord hathe deliuered the kingdome into the hand of Absalóm thy sonne: and beholde, thou art ^otaken in thy wickednes, because thou art a murderer.

9 Then said Abishái the sonne of Zeruiáh vnto the King, Why doeth this ^zdead dogge curse my lord the King? let me go, I pray thee, and take away his head.

10 ¶ But the King said, What haue I to do with you, ye sonnes of Zeruiáh: for he curfeth, euen because the Lord hathe ^fbidden him curse Dauid: who darie then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And Dauid said to Abishái, & to all his seruants, Beholde, my sonne w came out of mine owne bowels, seketh my life: then how muche more now may this sonne of Ieminí? Suffire him to curse: for the Lord hathe bidden him.

12 It may be that the Lord wil loke on ^omine affliction, and s dome good for his cursing this day.

13 And as Dauid and his men went by the way, Shimeí went by the side of the móútaine ouer against him, and cursed as he went, and threwe stones against him, and cast dust.

14 Then came y King & all the people that were with him weary, and refreshed them selues ^h there.

15 ¶ And Absalóm, and all the people, the men of Israél came to Ierusalém, & Ahithóphel with him.

16 And when Hushái the Archite Dauids friend was come vnto Absalóm, Hushái said vnto Absalóm, God saue the King, God saue the King.

17 Then Absalóm said to Hushái, Is this thy kindenes to thy ⁱ friend? Why wentest thou not with thy friend?

18 Hushái then answered vnto Absalóm, Nay, but whome the Lord, & this people, and all the men of Israél chuse, his wil I be, and with him wil I dwell.

19 And ^lmoreouer vnto whome shal I do seruice? not to his sonne, as I serued before thy father, so wil I before thee.

20 ¶ Then spake Absalóm to Ahithóphel, Gue counsel what we shal do.

21 And ^kAhithóphel said vnto Absalóm, Go in to thy fathers cócubines, which he hathe left to kepe the house: and when all Israél shal heare, that thou art abhorred of thy father, the hands of all that are with thee, shalbe strong.

22 So they spred Absalóm a tent vpon the top of the house, and Absalóm went in to his fathers concubines in the sight of all Israél.

23 And the counsel of Ahithóphel which he counseled in those dayes, was like as one had asked ^l counsel at the oracle of God: so was all the counsel of Ahithóphel bothe with Dauid and with Absalóm.

CHAP. XVII.

7 Ahithophels counsel is ouerthrowen by Hushái 14 The Lord had so ordeined. 19 The Priests sonnes are hsd in the well. 22 Dauid goeth ouer Iordán. 23 Ahithóphel hangeth him selfe. 27 They bring vitails to Dauid

1 MOREouer Ahithóphel said to Absalóm, Let me chuse out now twelue thousand men, and I wil vp and follow after Dauid this night,

2 And I wil come vp ó him: for he is weary,

^b Meaning David.

3 And I will bring againe all the people vnto thee, and when all shall returne, (^b the man whome thou sekest being slaine) all the people shall be in peace.

^c Ely, was right in the eyes of Absalom.

4 And the saying pleased Absalom well, and all the Elders of Israel.

^d Ely what is in his mouth.

5 The said Absalom, Call now Hushai the Archite also, and let vs heare likewise what he sayeth.

^e Or, given such counsel.

6 So when Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom spake vnto him, saying, Ahithophel hath spoken thus: shall we do after his saying, or not? tell thou?

^f Hushai showed him selfe faithful to David, in that he reproveth this wicked counsel and purpose. Or, vary all night.

7 Hushai then answered vnto Absalom, The counsel that Ahithophel hath giue, is not good at this time.

8 For, said Hushai, thou knowest thy father, and his men, that they be strong mẽ, and are chafed in minde, as a beare robbed of her whelpes in the field: also thy father is a valiant warrior, and wil not lodge with the people.

9 Beholde, he is hid now in some caue, or in some place: and though some of them be ouerthrowen at the first, yet the people shall heare, and say, The people that followe Absalom, be ouerthrowen.

^g Ely, bene a brace, or more. Ely, melt.

10 Then he also that is valiant whose heart is as the heart of a lion, shall shrink and faint: for all Israel knoweth, that thy father is valiant, and they which be with him, stowte men.

11 Therefore my counsel is, that all Israel be gathered vnto thee, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba as the sand of the sea in number, and that thou go to battel in thine owne persone.

^h We will catch him.

12 So shall we come vpon him in some place, where we shall finde him, and we will vpon him as the dewe falleth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, we will not leaue him one.

13 Moreover if he be gotten into a citie, then shall all the men of Israel bring ropes to that citie, and we will drawe it into the riuer, vntil there be not one smale stone found there.

ⁱ Or, somewhat.

14 ¶ Then Absalom and all the men of Israel said; The counsel of Hushai the Archite is better, then the counsel of Ahithophel: for the Lord had determined to destroy the good counsel of Ahithophel, that the Lord might bring euill vpon Absalom.

^j That counsel which seemed good at the first to Absalom, ver. 4.

15 Then said Hushai vnto Zadok and to Abiathar the Priests, Of this and that manner did Ahithophel and the Elders of Israel counsel Absalom: and thus and thus haue I counselled.

^k For by the counsel of Hushai he went to the battel where he was slain.

16 Now therefore send quickly, and shewe

Dauid, saying, Tary not this night in the fieldes of the wildernes, but rather get thee ouer, least the King be deuoured & all the people that are with him.

^f That is, ouer Iordan.

17 ¶ Now Ionathan and Ahimaz abode by En-rogel: (for they might not be sene to come into the citie) and a maid went, and tolde them, and they went and shewed King Dauid.

^l Or, the well of Rogel.

^g Meaning, the message from their fathers.

18 Neuertheles a yong man sawe them, and tolde it to Absalom. therefore they bothe departed quyeckly, & came to a mas house in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, into the which they went downe.

19 And the wife toke and spred a covering ouer the welles mowthe, and spred grounde corne thereon, that the thing shulde not be knowen.

^h Thus God sendeth succour to his in their greatest dangers.

20 And when Absaloms seruants came to the wife into the house, they said, Where is Ahimaz and Ionathan? And the woman answered them, They be gone ouer the brooke of water. And when they had sought them, and colde not finde them, they returned to Ierusalém.

ⁱ The Chaldee text readeth, now they haue passed the Iordán.

21 And as soon as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde King Dauid, and said vnto him, Vp, and get you quyeckly ouer the water: for Ahithophel hath giuen counsel against you.

^k To wit, re pursue thee with all haste.

22 Then Dauid arose, and all the people that were with him, and they went ouer Iordan vntil the dawning of the day, so that there lacked not one of them, that was not come ouer Iordan.

^l They traueled all night, & by morning had all their companie passed ouer.

23 ¶ Now when Ahithophel sawe that his counsel was not followed, he saddled his asse, and arose, and he went home vnto his citie, and put his householde in ordre, and hanged him selfe, and dyed, and was buried in his fathers graue.

^m Gods iuste vengeance euē in this life is powred on them, which are enemies, traitours, or persecuters of his Church.

24 ¶ Then Dauid came to Mahanaim. And Absalom passed ouer Iordan, he, and all the men of Israel with him.

25 And Absalom made Amasa captaine of the hoste in the stead of Ioab: which Amasa was a mans sonne named Ithra an Israelite, that wēt in to Abigail the daughter of Nahash, sister to Zeruah Iobas mother.

ⁿ Who was also called Hushai Dauids father.

26 So Israel and Absalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

27 ¶ And when Dauid was come to Mahanaim, Shobi the sonne of Nahash out of Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and Machir the sonne of Ammiel out of Lodebar, and Barzilai the Gileadite out of Rogel

28 brought beds, and basens, and earthen vessels, and wheat, and barley, and floure, and parched corne, & beanes, and lentils, and parched corne.

^o God showed his liberallitie to him, when they came to be victuallly deficiente.

29 And

29 And they broght hony, and butter, and shepe, and cheefe of kine for Dauid and for the people that were with him, to ease: for they said, The people is hungry, & weary, and thirfty in the wilderness.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 Dauid deuised his armie into thre partes. 9 Abfalóm is hanged flaine, and cast in a pit 33 Dauid lamenteth the death of Abfalóm.

2 For certain of y Reubenites, Gadites, & of the halre tribe, colde nor beare the insolencie of y soone againt y father, & therefore ioyned with Dauid

Then Dauid a nobred the people that were with him, & set ouer them captaynes of thousands and captaynes of hundreds.

2 And Dauid sent forthe the third parte of the people vnder the hand of Ioáb, and the third parte vnder the hand of Abishái Ioabs brother the sonne of Zeruah: and the other third parte vnder the hād of Ittái the Gittite. & the King said vnto the people, I wil go with you my selfe also.

3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not go fo: the: for if we flee away, they wil not regarde vs, nether wil they passe for vs, thogh halfe of vs were flaine: but thou art now worthe tē thousand of vs: therefore now it is better that thou succour vs out of the citie.

6 Signifying, y a good gouernour ought to be so deare vnto his people, that they wil rather iole their liues, the y ought shulde come vnto hi.

4 Then the King said vnto them, What semeth you best, that I wil do. So y King stode by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundreds and by thousands.

5 And the King commanded Ioáb and Abishái, and Ittai, saying, Entreate the yong man Abfalóm gently for my sake: and all the people hearde when the King gaue all the captaynes charge concerning Abfalóm.

6 So the people went out into the field to meete Israél, & the battel was in y wood of Ephraim:

e So called because y Ephraimites (as some say) fed their cattel beyōde Iordē in this wood.

7 Where the people of Israél were flaine before the seruants of Dauid: so there was a great slaughter that day, euen of twentie thousand.

8 ¶ For the battel was skatred ouer all the country: and the wood deuoured muche more people that day, then did the sworde.

9 ¶ Now Abfalóm met the seruants of Dauid, and Abfalóm rode vpon a mule, and the mule came vnder a great thicke oke: and his head caught holde of the oke, and he was taken vp betwene the heauen and the earthe: & the mule that was vnder him went away.

¶ This is a terrible exanple of Gods vengeance againt them that are rebels or disobedient to their parents

10 And one that sawe it, tolde Ioáb, saying, Beholde, I sawe Abfalóm hanged in an oke.

11 Then Ioáb said vnto the man that tolde him, And hast thou in dede sene why then didest not thou there smite him to the ground, and I wolde haue giuen thee tū shekels of siluer, and a girdle

Gen 23, 15

12 Then the man said vnto Ioáb, Though I shulde receiue a thousand shekels of siluer in mine hād, yet wolde I not lay mine hād vpon the Kings sonne: for in our hearing the King charged thee, and Abishái, & Ittai, saying, Beware, lest anie touche the yong man Abfalóm.

"Ebr weigh wth mine hand.

13 If I had done it, it had bene the danger of my life: for nothing can be hid frō the King: yea, y thy selfe woldest haue bene againt me.

"Ebr a lye as gainst my soule.

14 Then said Ioáb, I wil not thus tary with thee. And he toke thre dartes in his hand, & thrust them through Abfalóm, while he was yet aliue in the middes of the oke.

"Ebr in the heart of Abfalóm.

15 And ten seruants that bare Ioabs armour, compassed about and smore Abfalóm, and slewe him.

16 Then Ioáb blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing after Israél: for Ioáb helde backe the people.

d For he had pitie of y people, which was seduced by Abfaloms flatterie.

17 And they toke Abfalóm, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and layed a mighty great heape of stones vpon him: and all Israél sled euerie one to his tent.

e Thus God turned his vaine glorie to shame.

18 Now Abfalóm in his life time had take and reared him vp a pillar, which is in the Kings dale: for he said, I haue no sonne to kepe my name in remembrance. & he called y pillar after his owne name, and it is called vnto this day, Abfaloms place.

Gen 14, 17.

f It semeth y God had punished hi, in taking away his children, Chap 14, 27.

19 ¶ Then said Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók, I pray thee, let me runne, and beare the King tidings that the Lord hathe deliuered him out of the hand of his enemies.

"Ebr Judged.

20 And Ioáb said vnto him, Thou shalt not be y messenger to day, but thou shalt beare tidings another time, but to day thou shalt beare none: for the Kings sonne is dead.

g For Ioáb bare a good affection to Ahimáaz, & doubted how Dauid wold take the reports of Abfaloms death.

21 Thē said Ioáb to Cushí, Go, tel the King, what thou hast sene. And Cushí bowed him selfe vnto Ioáb, and ran.

22 Thē said Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók agame to Ioáb, What, I pray thee, if I also runne after Cushí? And Ioab said, Wherefore now wilt thou runne, my sonne, seing that thou hast no tidings to bring?

23 Yet what if I runne? Then he said vnto him, Rūne. So Ahimáaz ranne by the way of the plaine, and ouerwent Cushí.

24 Now Dauid sate betwene y two gates. And the watchman went to the toppē of the gate vpon the wall, & lift vp his eyes, and sawe, and beholde, a man came running alone.

h He sate in the gate of y citie of Mahanaim.

25 And the watchman cryed, & tolde the King. And the King said, If he be alone, he bringeth tidings. And he came apase, and stode nere.

"Ebr stande vnto the king.

26 And the watcheman sawe an other man running, and the watcheman called vnto the porter, and said, Beholde, another man runneth alone. And the King said, He also bringeth tidings.

1 Ebr. I for the running.

27 And the watcheman said, "Me thinketh the running of the fo: most is like the running of Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók. Then the King said, He is a good man, & commeth with good tidings.

1 He had had experience of his fidelitie, Chap 17, 21.

28 And Ahimáaz called, and said vnto the King, Peace be with thee: and he fel downe to the earth vpon his face before y King, and said, Blessed be the Lord thy God, who hath ^o smyt vp the men that lift vp their hands against my lord the King.

10 Or, deliuered 72

29 And the King said, Is the yong man Absalóm safe? And Ahimáaz answered, Whē Ioáb sent the Kings k seruant, and me thy seruāt, I sawe a great tumulte, but I knewe not what.

k To wit, Chusai, who was an Ethiopian

30 And the King said vnto him, Turne aside, & stand here. so he turned aside and stode stil.

31 And beholde, Cushí came, and Cushí said, "Tidings, my lord the King: for the Lord hath deliuered thee this day out of the hand of all that rose against thee.

11 Ebr tidings is brought 32 Then the King said vnto Cushí, Is the yong man Absalóm safe? And Cushí answered, The enemies of my lord y King, & all that risē against thee to do thee hurt, be as that yong man is.

l Because he considered bothe the ydgement of God against his sinne, & cold not otherwise hide his fatherly affection toward his sonne.

33 And the King was moued, and went vp to the chamber ouer the gate, and wept: & as he went, thus he said, O my sonne Absalóm, my sonne, my sonne Absalóm: wolde God I had dyed for thee, o Absalóm, my sonne, my sonne.

CHAP. XIX.

7 Ioáb encourageth the King. 8 Dauid is restored 23 Shimeí is pardoned 24 Mephiboseth meeteth the King. 32 Barzilai departeth. 41 Israél striueth with Iudáh.

And it was tolde Ioáb, Beholde, the King wepeth and mourneth for Absalóm.

12 Ebr. saluation, or, deliuerance.

2 Therefore the victorie of that day was turned into moaning to all the people: for the people heard say that day, The King sorroweth for his sonne.

13 Or, by heales.

3 And the people wēt that day into the citie secretly, as people confounded hide them selues when they flee in battel.

14 As they do that mourne.

4 So the King hid his face, and the King cryed with a lowde voyce, My sonne Absalóm, Absalóm my sonne, my sonne.

15 At Mahanaim.

5 ¶ Then Ioáb came into the house to the King & said, Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy seruāts, which this day haue saued thy life, and the liues of thy sonnes and of thy daughters, and the liues of thy wiues, and the liues of thy concubines,

6 In that thou louest thine enemies, & hatest thy friendes: for thou hast declared this day, that thou regardest nether thy princes nor seruants: therefore this day I perceiue, that if Absalóm had liued, and we all had dyed this day, that thē it wolde haue pleased thee wel.

16 Or, captaines.

7 Now therfore vp, come out, and speake comfortably vnto thy seruāts: for I sweare by the Lord, except thou come out, there wil not tary one man with thee this night: and that wil be worfe vnto thee, then all y euil that fel on thee from thy youthe hetherto.

17 Ebr. bene right in thine eyes

18 Ebr. to the heare of thy seruants

8 Then the King arose, & sate in the gate: and they tolde vnto all the people, saying, Beholde, the King doeth sit in the gate: & all the people came before the King: for Israél had fled euerie man to his tent.

19 Where the moste resort of the people halted.

9 ¶ Then all the people were at strife throughout all the tribes of Israél, saying, The King saued vs out of the hád of our enemies, & he deliuered vs out of the hand of the Philistims, and now he is fled out of the land for Absalóm.

20 Euerie one blamed another & strone who shulde first bring him home.

10 And Absalóm, whome we anoite d ouer vs, is dead in battel: therefore why are ye so slowe to bring the King againe?

11 But King Dauid sent to Zadók and to Abiathár the Priests, saying, Speake vnto the Elders of Iudáh and say, Why are ye behind to bring y King againe to his house, (for the saying of all Israél is come vnto the King, euen to his house)

21 That they shulde reprove the negligence of y Elders, seeing the people were so furwarde.

12 Ye are my brethren: my bones and my flesh are ye: wherefore then are ye the last that bring the King againe?

13 Also say ye to Amasá, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? God do so to me and more also, if thou be not captaine of the hoste to me for euer in y iourne of Ioáb.

22 By this policie Dauid thought y by winning of the captaine, he shulde haue y heartes of all the people.

14 So he bowed the heartes of all the men of Iudáh, as of one man: therfore they sent to the King, saying, Returne thou with all thy seruants.

15 ¶ So the King returned, & came to Iordén. And Iudáh came to Gilgál, for to go to meete the King, & to conduct him ouer Iordén.

16 ¶ And Shimeí y sonne of Gerá, the sonne of Iemini, which was of Bahurím, hasted & came downe with the men of Iudáh to meete King Dauid,

23 Who had before reuiled him, Chap. 16, 13

l Able for his wisdoms to iudge in all matters. m Worthy to dye for Saúls crueltie towards thee.

n David did euil in taking his lands from him before he knewe his cause, but muche worse, that knowing the truth, he did not restore them.

19 And said vnto ^h King, Let not my lord impute ^k wickednes vnto me, nor remember the thing that thy seruant did ^h wickedly when my lord the King departed out of Ierusalém, that ^h King shulde take it to his heart.

20 For thy seruát doeth knowe, that I haue done amisse: therefore beholde, I am the first this day of all the house of ⁱ Ioséph, that am come to go downe to meete my lord the King.

21 But Abishái the sonne of Zeruiáh answered, and said, Shal not Shimeí dye for this, because he cursed the Lords anointed?

22 And Dauid said, What haue I to do with you, ye sonnes of Zeruiáh, that this day ye shulde be aduersaries vnto me? shal there anie man dye this day in Israel? for do not I knowe, that I am this day King ouer Israel?

23 Therefore the King said vnto Shimeí, Thou shalt not dye, and the King sware vnto him.

24 ¶ And Mephibósheth the sonne of Saúl came downe to meete the King, and had nether washed his feete, nor dressed his bearde, nor washed his clothes from the time the King departed, vntil he returned in peace.

25 And when ^k he was come to Ierusalém, & met the King, the King said vnto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mephibósheth?

26 And he answered, My lord the King, my seruant disceiued me: for thy seruant said, I wolde haue mine asse saddled to ride thereon for to go with the King, because thy seruant is lame.

27 And he hathe ^k accused thy seruant vnto my lord the King: but my lord ^h King is as an ^l Angel of God: do therefore thy pleasure.

28 For all my fathers house were ^m but dead men befoie my lord the King, yet didest thou set thy seruant among them ^h King did eat at thine owne table: what right therefore haue I yet to crie anie more vnto the King?

29 And the King said vnto him, Why speakest thou anie more of thy matters? I haue said, Thou, and Zibá deuide the ⁿ lands.

30 And Mephibósheth said vnto ^h King, Yea, let him take all, seing my lord the King is come home in peace.

31 ¶ Then Barzillái the Gileadite came downe from Rogelím, and went ouer Iordén with the King, to conduct him ouer Iordén.

32 Now Barzillái was a very aged man, euē fourescore yere olde, and he had prouided the King of sustenance, while he lay at Mahanaim: for he was a man of very great substance.

33 And the King said vnto Barzillái, Come ouer with me, & I wil feede thee with me in Ierusalém.

34 And Barzillái said vnto ^h King, "How long haue I to lyue, that I shulde go vp with the King to Ierusalém?" Hebr how many daies are the yerres of my life?

35 I am this day fourescore yere olde: and cá I discern betwene good or euil? Hathe thy seruant anie taste in that I eat or in ^h I drinke? Can I heare anie more the voice of singing men and women? wherefore then shulde thy seruant be anie more a ^o burthen vnto my lord the King?

36 Thy seruant wil go a litle way ouer Iordén with the King, and why wil the King recompence it me with suche a rewarde?

37 I pray thee, let thy seruant turne backe againe, that I may dye in mine owne citie, and be buried in the graue of my father and of my mother: but beholde thy seruát ^p Chimhám, let him go with my lord the King, & do to him what shal please thee. p My sonne

38 And the King answered, Chimhám shal go with me, and I wil do to him that thou shalt be content with: & whatsoeuer thou shalt ^r require of me, that wil I do for thee. r Or, chuse.

39 So all the people went ouer Iordén: and the King passed ouer: and the King kissed Barzillái, and ^o blessed him, and he returned vnto his owne place. o Or, bade him fare wel

40 ¶ Then the King went to ^q Gilgál, and Chimhám went with him, and all the people of Iudah conducted the King, and also halfe the people of ^r Israel. q Where the tribe of Iudah carryed to receiue him

41 And beholde, all the men of Israel came to the King, & said vnto the King, Why haue our brethren the men of Iudah stolen thee away, and haue brought the King and his household, and all Dauids men with him ouer ^r Iordén? r Which had taken parte w the King.

42 And all the men of Iudah answered the men of Israel, Because the King is nere of kin to vs: and wherefoie now be ye angry for this matter? haue we eatē of the Kings cost, or haue we taken anie bribes? s Towarde Ierusalém.

43 And the men of Israel answered the mé of Iudah, and said, We haue ten partes in the King, and haue also more right to Dauid then ye, Why then did ye despise vs, ^t that our aduise shulde not be first had in restoring our King? And the wordes of the men of Iudah were fearcer then the wordes of the men of Israel. t Or, haue not we first spoken to bring home the King? ver/ xi

b Dauid, nether haue we inheritance in y sonne of Ishái: euery man to his tents, o Israél.

So euery man of Israél went from Dauid and followed Shéba the sonne of Bichrí: but the men of Iudáh claue fast vnto their King, from d Iordén euen to Ierusalém.

When Dauid then came to his house to Ierusalém, the King toke the ten women his concubines, that he had left behinde him to kepe the house, & put them in warde, and fed them, but lay no more with them: but they were enclosed vnto y day of their death, liuing in widowhode.

¶ The said the King to e Amasá, Assemble me the mé of Iudáh within thre daies, and be thou here present.

So Amasá wét to assemble Iudáh, but he taried longer then the time which he had appointed him.

¶ Then Dauid said to Abishái, Now shal Shéba the sonne of Bichrí do vs more harme the did Absalóm: take thou therefore thy lords seruants and followe after him, lest he get him walled cities, & escape vs.

And there went out after him Iobabs mé, and the Cherethites and the Pelethites, and all the mightie men: & thei departed out of Ierusalém, to followe after Shéba the sonne of Bichrí.

¶ Whé thei were at the great stone, which is in Gibeón, Amasá went before them, & Iobabs garment, that he had put on, was girded vnto him, & vpon it was a sworde girded, which hanged on his loines in the sheath, & as he went, it vsed to falle out.

And Iobáb said to Amasá, Art thou m health, my brother? & Iobáb toke Amasá by the beard with y right hád to kisse him.

But Amasá toke no hede to the sworde that was in Iobabs hand: for therewith he smote him in the fist rib, and shed out his bowels to the grounde, & smote him not the seconde time: so he dyed. then Iobáb & Abishái his brother followed after Shéba the sonne of Bichrí.

And one of Iobabs men stode by him, & said, He that fauoreth Iobáb, & he that is of Dauids parte, let him go after Iobáb.

And Amasá wallowed in blood in the middes of the way: & when the man sawe that all the people stode stil, he remoued Amasá out of the way into y field, & cast a cloth vpon him, because he sawe that euery one that came by him, stode stil.

¶ When he was remoued out of the way, cuery man went after Iobáb, to followe after Shéba the sonne of Bichrí.

And he went through all the tribes of Israél vnto Abél, and Bethmaacháh and all places of Berim: and thei gathered together, and went also after him.

So thei came, and besieged him in Abél, nere to Bethmaacháh: and thei cast vp a mount against the citie, & the people thereof stode on the ramper, and all the people that was with Iobáb, destroyed and cast downe the wall.

¶ Then cryed a wise woman out of the citie, Heare, heare, I pray you, say vnto Iobáb, Come thou hither, that I may speake with thee.

And when he came nere vnto her, the womā said, Art thou Iobáb? And he answered, Yea. And she said to him, Heare the wordes of thine handmayd. And he answered, I do heare.

¶ Then she spake thus, Thei spake in the olde time, saying, Thei shulde aske of Abél. and so haue thei continued.

I am one of them, that are peaceable & faithfull in Israél: and thou goest about to destroye a citie, and a mother in Israél: why wilt thou deuoure the inheritance of the Lord?

And Iobáb answered, & said, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I shulde deuoure, or destroye it.

¶ The matter is not so, but a má of mouit Ephraím (Shéba the sonne of Bichrí by name) hath lift vp his hand against the King, euen against Dauid: deliuer vs him onely, & I wil departe from the citie. And the woman said vnto Iobáb, Beholde, his head shalbe throwen to thee ouer the wall.

¶ Then the woman went vnto all the people with her wisdom, and thei cut of the head of Shéba the sonne of Bichrí, & cast it to Iobáb: then he blew the trumpet, and thei retired from the citie, euery man to his tent: and Iobáb returned to Ierusalém vnto the King.

¶ The Iobáb was ouer all the hoste of Israél, and Banasáh the sonne of Iehoiadá ouer the Cherethites & ouer y Pelethites,

And Adorám ouer the tribute, and Ioshaphát the sonne of Ahilúd the recorder,

And Sheiá was scribe, and Zadók and Abiathár the Priests,

And also Irá the Iarite was chief about Dauid.

3 And Dauid said vnto the Gibeonites, What shal I do for you, and wherewith shal I make the atonement, that ye may blesse the inheritance of the Lord?

4 The Gibeonites then answered him, We wil haue no siluer nor gold of Saúl nor of his house, nether for vs shalt thou kil anie man in Israël. And he said, What ye shal say, that wil I do for you.

5 Then they answered the King, The man that consumed vs and that imagined euil against vs, so that we are destroyed from remaining in anie coste of Israël,

6 Let seuen men of his sonnes be deliuered vnto vs, and we wil hang them vp vnto the Lord in Gibeón of Saúl, the Lords chosen. And the King said, I wil giue them.

7 But the King had compassion on Mephibósheh the sone of Ionathán the sonne of Saúl, because of the Lords othe, that was betwene them, euen betwene Dauid and Ionathan the sonne of Saúl.

8 But the King toke the two sonnes of Rizpáh the daughter of Aiah, whome she bare vnto Saúl, euen Armoni & Mephibósheh and the five sonnes of Michál, the daughter of Saúl, whome she bare to Abiéel the sonne of Barzillái the Meholahbite.

9 And he deliuered them vnto the hands of the Gibeonites, which háged them in the mountaine before the Lord: so they dyed all seuen together, and they were slaine in the time of maruest: in the first dayes, & in the beginning of barly haruest.

10 Then Rizpáh the daughter of Aiah toke sackcloth & háged it vp for her vpõ the rocks, from the beginning of haruest, vntil water dropped vpon them from the heauen, and suffred nether the birdes of the aire to light on them by day, nor beastes of the field by night.

11 And it was tolde Dauid, what Rizpáh the daughter of Aiah the concubine of Saúl had done.

12 And Dauid went and toke the bones of Saúl and the bones of Ionathán his sonne from the citizens of Iabésh Gileád, which had stollen them from the strete of Bethshán, where the Philistims had handged them, when the Philistims had slaine Saúl in Gilbóa.

13 So he brought thence the bones of Saúl and the bones of Ionathán his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saúl and of Ionathán his sonne buried they in the countrei of Beniamín in Zeláh, in the graue of Kish his facher: and when they had performed all that the King had commanded, God was then appeased with the land.

15 And againe the Philistims had warre with Israël: and Dauid went downe, and his seruants with him, and they fought against the Philistims, and Dauid fained.

16 Then Ishi benób which was of the sonnes of Harapháh (the head of whose speare waye I ture hundreth shekels of brasse) eue he being girded with a newe sword, thought to haue slaine Dauid.

17 But Abishái the sonne of Zeiuráh succoured him, and smote the Philistim, and killed him. Then Dauids men sware vnto him, saying, Thou shalt go no more out with vs to battel, lest thou quenche the light of Israël.

18 And after this also there was a battel with the Philistims at Gob, then Sibbechái the Hushathite slewe Saph, which was one of the sonnes of Harapháh.

19 And there was yet another battel in Gob with the Philistims, where Elhanáh the sonne of Iaae-oregím, a Bethlehemite slewe Goliáth the Gittite: the staffe of whose speare was like a weauers beam.

20 Afterward there was also a battel in Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and had on euerie hand six fingers, and on euerie foote six toes, foure and twentie in number: who was also the soune of Harapháh.

21 And when he reuiled Israël, Ionathán the sonne of Shamá the brother of Dauid slewe him.

22 These foure were borne to Harapháh in Gath, and dyed by the hand of Dauid and by the hands of his seruants.

7 But in my tribulation did I call vpon the Lord, and crye to my God, & he did heare my voice out of his temple, & my crye did enter into his eares.

8 Then the earth trembled and quaked: the fundacions of the heauens moued, and shoke, because he was angry.

9 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and consuming fire out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.

10 He bowed the heauens also, and came downe, and darkenes was vnder his feete.

11 And he rode vpon Cherub and did flye, and he was sene vpon the wings of the winde.

12 And he made darknes a tabernacle rounde about him, euen the gatherings of waters, and the cloudes of the aire.

13 At the brightnes of his prefence the coles of fire were kindled.

16 The chanel also of the sea appeared, euen the fundacions of the worlde were discovered by the rebuking of the Lord, and at the blast of the breath of his nostrils.

17 He sent from aboue, and toke me: he drew me out of manie waters.

18 He deliuered me from my strong enemies, and from thē that hated me: for they were to strong for me.

19 They preuented me in the day of my calamitie, but the Lord was my stay, 20 And broght me forthe into a large place: he deliuered me, because he fauored me.

21 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousnes: according to the purenes of mine hands he recompenced me.

22 For I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

23 For all his lawes were before me, and his statutes: I did not departe therefrom.

24 I was vpright also towarde him, and haue kept me from my wickednes.

25 Therefore the Lord did rewarde me, according to my righteousnes, according to my purenes before his eyes.

26 With godlie thou wilt shewe thy selfe godlic: with the vpright man thou wilt shewe thy selfe vpright.

27 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy selfe pure, and with the foward thou wilt shewe thy selfe foward.

28 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people: but thine eyes are vpon the haute to humble them.

29 Surely thou art my light, o Lord: and the Lord wil lighten my darknes.

30 For by thee haue I broken through an hosie, and by my God haue I leaped ouer a wall.

31 The way of God is vncorrupt: the worde of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

32 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty, saue our God?

33 God is my strength in battel, and maketh my way vpright.

34 He maketh my feete like hundes feete, and hathe set me vpon mine hie places.

35 He teacheth mine hands to fight, so that a bowe of brasse is broken with mine armes.

36 Thou hast also giuen me the shield of thy saluacion, and thy louing kindenes hathe caused me to me ease.

37 Thou hast enlarged my steppes vnder me, and mine heeles haue not slid.

38 I haue pursued mine enemies and destroyed them, and haue not turned againe vntil I had consumed them.

39 Yea, I haue consumed them and thrust them through, and they shal not arise, but shal fall vnder my feete.

40 For thou hast girded me with power to battel, and them that arose against me, hast thou subdued vnder me.

41 And thou hast giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

42 They looked about, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

43 Then did I beate thē as small as the dust of the earth: I did tread them flat as the clay of the streete, and did spread them abroad.

44 Thou hast also deliuered me from the contrecions of my people: thou hast preserved me to be the head ouer nacions: the people which I knewe not, do serue me.

45 Strangers shalbe in subiection to me: as sone as they heare, they shal obeye me.

46 Strangers shal shrinke away, and feare in their priue chambers.

49 And rescueth me from mine enemies: also hast lift me vp from them that rose against me, thou hast deliuered me from the cruel man.

THE FIRST BOKE OF the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

Because the children of God shulde loke for no continual rest and quietnes in this worlde, the holy Ghost setteih before our eyes in this boke the varietie and change of things, which came to the people of Israël from the death of Dauid, Salomón and the rest of the Kings, vnto the death of Aháb, declaring how that flourishing kingdomes, except they be preserued by Gods protection, (who then fauoreth them when his worde is truly set forth, vertue esteemed, vice punished and concorde mainteined) fall to decay and come to naught: as appeareth by the diuiding of the kingdome vnder Robohám, and Ierobohám, which before were but all one people, and now by the iuste punishment of God were made two, whereof Iudáh and Beniamín came to Robohám: and this was called the kingdome of Iudáh, and the other ten tribes helde with Ierobohám, and this was called the kingdome of Israël. The King of Iudáh had his throne in Ierusalém, and the King of Israël in Samaria, asier it was buylte by Amri Ahabs father. And because our Saviour Christ according to the flesh shulde come of the stocke of Dauid, the genealogie of the Kings of Iudáh is here described, from Salomón to Ioram the sonne of Iosaphát, who reigned ouer Iudáh in Ierusalém, as Aháb did ouer Israël in Samaria.

CHAP. I.

3 Abishág kepth Dauid in his extreme age. 5 Adoniah vsurpeth the kingdome. 20 Salomón is appointed King. 50 Adoniah fleeth to the altar.

a He was about 70 yere olde, 2 Sam. 5. 4. b For his natural heate was worne away with trauels.

Now when King Dauid was a olde, and striken in yeres, they couered him w clothes, but no heate came vnto him.

c Or, serue him.

Wherefore his seruáts said vnto him, Let there be sought for my lord the King a yong virgin, and let her stand before the King, and cherish him: & let her lye in thy bosome, that my lord the King may get heate.

e Which cite was in the tribe of Issachar.

3 So they sought for a faire yong maid throughout all the coastes of Israël, and founde one Abishág a Shunammite, and brought her to the King.

4 And the maid was exceeding faire, & cherished the King, and ministred to him, but the King knewe her not.

7 And he toke counsel of Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh, and of Abiathár the Priest: &

8 But Zadók the Priest, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehozadá, and Nathán the Prophet, & Shimei, & Reí, & y men of might w were with Dauid, were not w Adoniah.

9 Then Adoniah sacrificed shepe & oxen, and fat cattel by the stone of Zobéleth, which is by En-rogeíl, and called all his brethren the Kings sonnes, & all the men of Iudáh the Kings seruants,

Or, the fountain.

10 But Nathán the Prophet, & Benaiáh, and the mighty men, and Salomón his brother he called not.

f As the Cherethites & Pelethites.

11 Wherefore Nathán spake vnto Bath-sheba the mother of Salomón, saying, Hast thou not heard, that Adoniah the sonne of Haggith doeth reigne, and Dauid our lord knoweth it not?

2 Sam. 3. 4.

12 Now therefore come, & I wil now giue thee counsel, how to saue thine owne life, and the life of thy sonne Salomón.

g For Adoniah wil destroy thee and thy sonne, if he reigne.

13 Go, and get thee in vnto King Dauid, & say vnto him, didest not thou, my lord, ó King, swear vnto thine hádmaid, sayig, Assuredly Salomón thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne? why is then Adoniah King?

14 Beholde, while y yet talkest there with the King, I also wil come in after thee, & comfirmethy wordes.

h By declaring suche things, as may further the same.

15 ¶ So Bath-sheba went in vnto the King into y cháber, & the King was very olde, and Abishág the Shunammite ministred vnto the King. O.iiii.

16 And Bath-sheba bowed and made obeisance vnto the King. And the King said, What is thy matter?

17 And she answered hi, My lord, thou swarest by the Lord thy God vnto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne.

18 And beholde, now is Adoniah King, & now, my lord, O King, thou knowest it not.

19 And he hath offered many oxen, and fat cattel, and shepe, and hath called all the sonnes of the King, & Abiathar the Priest, & Ioab the captaine of the hoste: but Salomon thy seruant hath he not bidden.

20 And thou, my lord, O King, knowest that the eyes of all Israel are on thee, that thou shouldest tel them, who shoulde sit on the throne of my lord the King after him.

21 For els wher my lord the King shall slepe with his fathers, I and my sonne Salomon shall be reputed vile.

22 And lo, while she yet talked with the King, Nathán also the Prophet came in.

23 And they tolde the King, saying, Beholde, Nathán the Prophet. And when he was come in to the King, he made obeisance before the King vpon his face to the grounde.

24 And Nathán said, My lord, O King, hast thou said, Adoniah shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne?

25 For he is gone downe this day, & hath slain many oxen, and fat cattel and shepe, and hath called all the Kings sonnes, & the captaines of the hoste, & Abiathar the Priest and beholde, they eat & drinke before him, and say, God saue King Adoniah.

26 But me thy seruant, and Zadók the Priest and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and thy seruant Salomon hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the King, & thou hast not shewed it vnto thy seruant, who shoulde sit on the throne of my lord the King after him?

28 ¶ Then King Dauid answered, & said, Call me Bath sheba. And she came into the Kings presence, and stood before the King.

29 And the King sware, saying, As the Lord liueth, who hath redeemed my soule out of all aduersitie, 30 That as I have sworn vnto thee by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne in my place, so wil I certainly do this day.

31 Then Bath-sheba bowed her face to the earth, & did reuerence vnto the King, & said, God saue my lord King Dauid for euer.

32 ¶ And King Dauid said, Call me Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá. And they came before the King.

33 Then the King said vnto them, Take with you the seruants of your lord, and cause Salomon my sonne to ride vpon mine owne mule, & cary him downe to Gihón.

34 And let Zadók the Priest and Nathán the Prophet anoint him there King ouer Israel, and blowe ye the trumpet, and say, God saue King Salomon.

35 Then come vp after him, that he may come and sit vpon my throne: and he shall be King in my steade: for I haue appointed him to be prince ouer Israel and ouer Iudah.

36 Then Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá answered the King, & said, So be it, O the Lord God of my lord the King ratifie it.

37 As the Lord hath bene with my lord the King, so be he with Salomon, & exalt his throne about the throne of my lord King Dauid.

38 So Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and the Cherethites & the Pelethites went downe, and caused Salomon to ride vpon King Dauids mule, and brought him to Gihón.

39 And Zadók the Priest toke an horn of poynt out of the Tabernacle, and anointed Salomon anointed him with the trumpet, and all the people said, God saue King Salomon.

40 And all the people came vp after him, and the people piped with pipes & reioyced with great ioye, so that the earth rang with the sounde of them.

41 ¶ And Adoniah and all the gesses that were with him, heard it: (and they had made an end of eating) and when Ioab heard the sounde of the trumpet, he said, What meaneth this noise & vproie in the citie?

42 And as he yet spake, beholde, Ionathán the sonne of Abiathar the Priest came: & Adoniah said, Come in: for thou art a worthy man, and bringest good tidings.

43 And Ionathán answered, and said to Adoniah, Verely our lord King Dauid hath made Salomon King.

44 And the King hath sent with him Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and they haue caused him to ride vpon the Kings mule.

45 And Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet haue anointed him King in Gihón: and they are gone vp fro thence with ioye, and the citie is moued: this is the noise

- 9 But thou ſhalt not count him innocent: for thou art a wiſe man, and knoweſt what thou oughteſt to do vnto him: therefore ſhalt thou cauſe his hoare head to go downe to the graue with blood.
- 10 So * Dauid ſlept with his fathers, & was buryed in the citie of Dauid.
- 11 And the daies which Dauid * reigned vpon Iſraél, were fourtie yeres: ſeuene yeres reigned he in Hebrón, and thirty & three yeres reigned he in Ieruſalém.

21 She said thē, Let Abiſhág the Shunámite be giuē to Adonijáh thy brother to wife.

22 But King Salomón answered and ſaid vnto his mother, And why doeſt ſú alke Abiſhág ſú Shunámite for Adonijáh: alke for him the 1 kingdome alſo: for he is mine elder brother, & hathe for him bothe Abiathár the Prieſt, and Ioáb the ſonne of Zeruiáh.

23 Thē King Salomón ſware by the Lord, ſaying, God do ſo to me and more alſo, if Adonijáh hathe not ſpoken this worde againſt his owne life.

24 Now therefore as the Lord liueth, who hathe eſtabliſhed me, and ſet me on the throne of Dauid my father, who alſo hathe made me an houſe, as he promiſed, Adonijáh ſhal ſurely dye this day.

25 And King Salomón ſent by the hand of Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá, and he ſmote him that he dyed.

26 ¶ Then the King ſaid vnto Abiathár the Prieſt, Go to Anathóth vnto thine owne fields: for thou art worthy of death: but I wil not this day kil thee, becauſe thou bareſt the Arke of the Lord God before Dauid my father, & becauſe thou haſt ſuffred in all, where in my father hathe bene afflicted.

27 So Salomón caſt out Abiathár from being Prieſt vnto the Lord, that he might fulfil the wordes of the Lord, which he ſpake againſt the houſe of Eli in Shilóh.

28 ¶ Then tidings came to Ioáb: (for Ioáb had turned after Adonijáh, but he turned not after Abſalóm) and Ioáb fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, & caught holde on the hornes of the altar.

29 And it was tolde King Salomón, that Ioáb was fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, & beholde, he is by the altar. Thē Salomón ſent Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá, ſaying, Go, fall vpon him.

30 And Benaiáh came to the Tabernacle of the Lord, & ſaid vnto him, Thus ſaith the King, Come out. And he ſaid, Naye, but I wil dye here. Then Benaiáh broght the King worde againe, ſaying, Thus ſaid Ioáb, and thus he answered me.

31 And the King ſaid vnto him, Do as he hathe ſaid, and ſmite him, & buye him, ſú thou maielt take away the blood, which Ioáb ſhed cauſeles, from me and from the houſe of my father.

32 And the Lord ſhal bring his blood vpon his owne head: for he ſmote two more righteous & better then he, & ſlewe them with the ſworde, and my father Dauid knewe not: ſo wil, * Abnéi ſú ſonne of Ner, captaine of the hoſte of Iſraél, and * Amafá the ſonne of Iethér captaine of the hoſte of Iudáh.

33 Their blood ſhal therefore retorne vpon the head of Ioáb, and on the head of his ſede for euer: but vpon Dauid, and vpon his ſede, and vpon his houſe, and vpon his throne ſhal there be peace for euer fro the Lord.

34 So Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá went vp, and ſmote him, and ſlewe him, and he was buried in his owne houſe in the wil- dernes.

35 And the King put Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá in his rounge ouer ſú hoſte: & the King ſet Zadók the Prieſt in the rounge of Abiathár.

36 ¶ Afterwarde the King ſent, and called Shimei, and ſaid vnto him, Buylde thee an houſe in Ieruſalém, and dwel there, & departe not thence anie whether.

37 For that day that thou goeſt out, & paſſeſt ouer the riuer of Kidrón, knowe assuredly, that thou ſhalt dye the death: thy blood ſhalbe vpon thine owne head.

38 And Shimei ſaid vnto the King, The thing is good: as my lord the King hathe ſaid, ſo wil thy ſeruāt do. So Shimei dwelt in Ieruſalém many dayes.

39 And after thre yeres two of the ſeruāts of Shimei fled away vnto Achíſh ſonne of Maacháh King of Gath: & thei tolde Shimei, ſaying, Beholde, thy ſeruants be in Gath.

40 And Shimei aroſe, and ſaddled his aſſe, and went to Gath to Achíſh, to ſeke his ſeruants: and Shimei went, and broght his ſeruants from Gath.

41 And it was tolde Salomón, that Shimei had gone from Ieruſalém to Gath, & was come againe.

42 And the King ſent and called Shimei, & ſaid vnto him, Did I not make thee to ſweare by the Lord, & proteſted vnto thee, ſaying, That day that thou goeſt out, and walkeſt anie whether, knowe assuredly ſú thou ſhalt dye the death: And thou ſaideſt vnto me, The thing is good, that I haue heard.

43 Why then haſt thou not kept the othe of the Lord, & the cōmandement wherewith I charged thee?

44 The King ſaid alſo to Shimei, Thou knoweſt all the wickednes whereunto thine heart is priuie, that thou dideſt to Dauid my father: the Lord therefore ſhal bring thy wickednes vpon thine owne head.

45 And let King Salomón be bleſſed, and the throne of Dauid ſtabliſhed before the Lord for euer.

46 So the King commanded Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá: who went out & ſmote him that he dyed. And the kingdome was ſtabliſhed in the hand of Salomón.

Mat. 8, 33. wisd. 7, 21.

Salomon the made affinitie with Pharaoh King of Egypt, and toke Pharaohs daughter, and brought her into the citie of Dauid, vntil he had made an end of buylding his owne house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Ierusalem round about.

Onely the people sacrificed in the high places, because there was no house buylt vnto the Name of the Lord, vntil those dayes.

And Salomon loued the Lord, walking in the ordinaces of Dauid his father: onely he sacrificed and offered incense in the high places.

And the King wet to Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the chief high place: a thousand burnt offerings did Salomon offer vpon that altar.

In Gibeon the Lord appeared to Salomon in a dreame by night: and God said, Aske what I shal giue thee.

And Salomon said, Thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant Dauid my father great mercy, when he walked before thee in trueth, & in righteoufnes, and in vprightnes of heart with thee: & thou hast kept for him this great mercy, and hast giuen him a sonne, to sit on his throne, as appeareth this day.

And now, O Lord, my God, thou hast made thy seruant King in stead of Dauid my father: and I am but a yong childe, and knowe not how to go out and in.

And thy seruant is in the middes of thy people, which thou hast chosen, euen a great people which cannot be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

Giue therefore vnto thy seruant an vnderstanding heart, to iudge thy people, that I may discern betwene good & bad: for who is able to iudge this thy mighty people?

And this pleased the Lord wel, that Salomon had desired this thing.

And God said vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, & hast not asked for thy selfe long life, nether hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked thy life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe vnderstanding to heare iudgement, Beholde, I haue done according to thy wordes: lo, I haue giuen thee a wise and an vnderstanding heart, so that there haue bene none like thee before thee, nether after thee shal arise the like vnto thee.

And I haue also giuen thee that, which thou hast not asked, bothe riches and honour, so that among the Kings there shal be none like vnto thee all thy dayes.

And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to kepe mine ordinances and my commandments, as thy father Dauid did walke, I wil prolong thy dayes.

And when Salomon awoke, beholde, it was a dreame, and he came to Ierusalem, and stode before the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, and offered burnt offerings and made peace offerings, and made a feast to all his seruants.

Then came two harlottes vnto the King, and stode before him.

And the one woman said, Oh my lord, I & this woman dwell in one house, & I was deliuered of a childe with her in this house.

And the third day after that I was deliuered, this woman was deliuered also: and we were in the house together: no stranger was with vs in the house, saue we twaine.

And this womans sonne dyed in the night: for she ouerlay him.

And she rose at midnight, and toke my sonne from my side, while thine handmaid slept, & layed him in her bosome, & layed her dead sonne in my bosome.

And when I rose in the morning to giue my sonne sucke, beholde, he was dead: and when I had wel considered him in the morning, beholde, it was not my sonne, whom I had borne.

Then the other woman said, Naye, but my sonne liueth, and thy sonne is dead: againe she said, No, but thy sonne is dead, & mine aliue: thus they spake before the King.

Then said the King, She sayth, that liueth is my sonne, & the dead is thy sonne: and the other sayth, Naye, but the dead is thy sonne, and the liuing is my sonne.

Then the King said, Bring me a sworde: & they brought out a sworde before the King.

And the King said, Deuide ye the liuing childe in twaine, and giue the one halfe to the one, and the other halfe to the other.

Then spake the woman, whose the liuing childe was, vnto the King, for her compassion was kindled toward her sonne, & she said, Oh my lord, giue her the liuing childe, and slay him not: but the other said, Let it be nether mine nor thine, but deuide it.

Then the King answered, & said, Giue her the liuing childe, and slay him not: this is his mother.

And all Israell heard the iudgement, which the King had iudged, and they feared the King: for they sawe that the wisdom of God was in him to do iustice.

2 And the house which Kig Salomón buylt for the Lord, was thre score cubites long, & twentie broade, and thirty cubites hie.

3 And the porche before the Temple of the house was twentie cubites long according to the breadth of the house, and ten cubites broade before the house.

4 And in the house he made windowes, broade without, and narowe within.

5 And by the wall of the house he made^o galleries rounde about, euen by the walles of the house rounde about the Temple and^d the oracle, and made chambres rounde about.

6 The nethermost gallerie was five cubites broade, and the middlemost six cubites broade, & the thide seuē cubites broade: for he made^e restes: rounde about without the house, that the beames shulde not be fastened in the walles of the house.

7 And whē the house was buylt, it was buylt of stone perfit, before it was brought, so that there was nether hammer, nor axe, nor any toole of yron heard in the house, while it was in buylding.

8 The dore of the middleⁿ chambre was in the right side of the house, & men went vp with winding steires into the middlemost, and out of the middlemost into the third.

16 And he buyt twentie cubites in the sides of the house with bordes of cedre, fro the floore to the walles, and he prepared a place within it for y oracle, ~~then~~ the moste holy place.

17 But the houte, that is, the temple before it was fouentie cubites long.

18 And the cedre of the house within was kerued with knoppes, and grauen with flowres: all was cedre, so that no stone was sene.

19 ¶ Also he prepared the place of the oracle in the middes of the house within, to set the Arke of the couenant of the Lord there.

20 And the place of the oracle within was twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad; and twentie cubites he, and he couered it with pure golde, and couered the altar with cedre.

21 So Salomon couered the house within with pure golde: and he shut the place of the oracle with chaines of golde, and couered it with golde.

22 And he ouerslaid the house with golde, vntil all the house was made perfite. also he couered y whole altar, that was before the oracle, with golde.

4 The Arke is borne into the Temple. 20 A cloude filleth the Temple. 25 The King blesteth the people.

1 Then King Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, euen all the heads of the tribes, the chief fathers of the children of Israel vnto him in Ierusalem, for to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the citie of Dauid, which is Zion.
2 And all the men of Israel assembled vnto King Salomon at the feast in the moneth of Ethanim, which is the seuēth moneth.
3 And all the Elders of Israel came & the Priests toke the Arke.
4 They bare the Arke of the Lord, and they bare the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle: those did the Priests & Leuites bring vp.
5 And King Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel, that were assembled vnto him, were with him before the Arke, offering shepe & beeces, which colde not be tolde, nor nombred for multitude.
6 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the oracle of the house, into the moste holy place, euē vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

CHAP. X.

The queene of Sabá cometh to heare the wisdome of Salomón 18 His royal throne 23 His power and magnificence

2 Chron. 9. 1. Mat. 12. 42. Luk. 11. 31. Josephus saith that she was queene of Benep¹, and y Sheba was the name of y ciuitie of Meroe, which is a y land of Nilus.

1 And the queene of Shebá hearing the fame of Salomón (concerning the Name of the Lord) came to proue him with hard questions,

2 And she came to I rusalém with a very great traine, & camels that bare swete odors, and golde exceeding muche, & precious stones: and she came to Salomón, and communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Salomón declared vnto her all her questions: nothing was hid frõ the King, which he expounded not vnto her.

4 Then the queene of Shebá sawe all Salomons wisdom, and the house that he had buylt.

6 That is, the whole ordre, and trade of his house

5 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the ordre of his ministers, & their apparel, & his drinking vessels, and his burnt offrings, that he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was greatly astonied.

11 For there was no more spirit in her

6 And she said vnto the King, It was a true worde that I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdome.

7 Howbeit I beleued not this reporte, til I came, and had sene it with mine eyes: but lo, the one halfe was not tolde me: for thou hast more wisdome and prosperitie, the I haue heard by reporte.

8 Happy are thy men, happy are these thy seruants, which stand euer before thee, and heare thy wisdome.

9 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on the throne of Israél, because the Lord loued Israél for euer and made thee King, to doe equitie and righteousnes.

e But muche more happie are they, w^{ch} heare the wisdome of God reueiled in his worde d It is a chief signe of Gods fauour, when godlie & wise rulers sit in y throne of iustice e This is the cause, why Kings are appointed.

10 And she gaue the King six score talents of golde, and of swete odors exceeding muche, and precious stones. There came no more suche abúdance of swete odors, as the queene of Shebá gaue to King Salomón.

11 The nauie also of Hiram (that caried golde from Ophír) broght likewise great plenty of Almuggím trees from Ophír and precious stones.

2 Chron. 9. 100

12 And the King made of the Almuggím trees pillers for the house of the Lord, & for the Kings palace, and made harpes & psalteries for singers. There came no more suche Almuggím trees, nor were anie more sene vnto this day.

13 And King Salomón gaue vnto the queene of Shebá, whatsoeuer she wolde aske, besides that, which Salomón gaue her of his kinglie liberalitie: so she returned & went to her owne countrey, bothe she, and her seruants.

11 Ebr by shebád of the King.

14 ¶ Also the weight of golde, that came to Salomón in one yere, was six hundred and six^{*} talents of golde, 15 Besides that he had of marchant men and of the marchandises of them that solde spices, and of all the Kings of Arabia, & of the princes of the countrey.

Exod. 25. 39.

16 And King Salomón made two hundred targats of beaten golde, six hundred shekels of golde went to a targat:

f To wit, of Arabia, which for the great abundance of all things was called, happy.

17 And thre hundred shields of beaten golde, thre pounce of golde went to one shield: and the King put them in y house of the wood of Lebanón.

Chap. 7. 6.

18 ¶ Then the King made a great throne of yuerie, and couered it with the best golde.

19 And the throne had six steps, and the top of the throne was round behinde, & there were 8 stayes on ether side on the place of the throne, and two lions standing by the stayes.

g As the chair, or bowes, or places to leane vpon.

20 And there stode twelue lions on the six steps on ether side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

THE ROYAL

THRONE
MON.

21 And all King Salomons drinking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanón were of pure golde. none were of siluer: for it was nothing esteemed in the daies of Salomón.

22 For the King had on the sea the nauie of Tharshish with the nauie of Hiram: once in thre yere came y^e nauie of^h Tharshish, & broght golde and siluer, yuerie, & apes and peacockes.

23 So King Salomón exceded all y^e Kings of the earth bothe in riches and in wisdom.

24 And all the worlde fought to se Salomón, to heare his wisdom, which God had put in his heart,

25 And thei broght euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde, and raiment, and armour, and swete odors, horses and mules, from yere to yere.

26 Then Salomón gathered together^{*} charrets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charrets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whome he placed in the charret, cities, and with the King at Ierusalém.

27 And the King^o gaue siluer in Ierusalém as stones, and gaue cedres as the wilde fig-trees that growe abundantly in the plaine.

28 Also Salomón had horses broght out of Egypt, and fine linen: the Kings merchants receiued the linen for a price.

29 There came vp and went out of Egypt some charet, worthe six hundred shekels of siluer: that is, one horse, an hundred and fiftie. and thus they broght horses to all the Kings of the Hittites and to the Kings of Aíam by their^o meanes.

CHAP. XI.

1 Salomón hadde a thousand wiues and concubines, which bring him to idolatrie. 2 His God raseth up aduersaries against him. 3 He dyeth.

1 BUt King Salomón loued^{*} many^a outlandish women: bothe the daughter of Pharaóh, & the women of Moáb, Ammón, Edóm, Zidón and Heth, ^oDeu. 17. 17. eccles 47. 2. a Which were idolaters.

2 Of the nacions, whereof the Lord had said vnto the children of Israël, *Go not ye in to them, nor let thē come in to you: for surely they wil turne your hearts after their gods. to them, I say, did Salomón ioyne in loue.

^oExod 34. 16.

3 And he had seuen hundred wiues, that were^o princeesses and thre hundred^b concubines, and his wiues turned away his heart.

^oOr, quenes b To whome appertained no dowry

4 For when Salomón was olde, his wiues turned his heart after other gods, so y^e his heart was not^c perfitt with the Lord his God, as was the heart of Dauid his father.

^c He serued not God with a pure heart.

5 For Salomón followed^{*} Ashtaróth the god of y^e Zidonians, &^d Milcóm the abominacion of the Ammonites.

^oJudg 2. 13. d Who was also called Molech ver 7. read 2. King. 23. 10.

6 So Salomón wrought wickednes in the sight of the Lord, but continued not to follow the Lord, as did Dauid his father.

7 Then did Salomón buylde an hie place for ^h By Tharshish is meant Cilicia, w^h was abundant in varietie of precious things.

^oOr, he made fl^o was as pleasant as honey.

^oOr, for the compass of the Kings merchants did receive a number as a price.

e Thus the Scripture termeth, whatfoeuer man doeth reuerence and ferue as God for Chemósh the abominaciõ of Moáb, in the mountaine that is ouer against Ierusalém, and vnto Mólech the abomination of the children of Ammón.

8 And so did he for all his outiãdish wiues, which burnt incense and offred vnto their gods.

9 Therefore the Lord was angry with Salomón, because he had turned his heart from the Lord God of Israél, *which had appeared vnto him twise,

Chap 3, 5. & 9, 3.

Chap. 6, 12.

10 And had giuen him a * charge concerning this thing, that he shulde not followe other gods: but he kept not that, which the Lord had commanded him.

11 Wherefore the Lord said vnto Salomón, Forasmuch as ^f this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my coucnant, and my statutes (which I commanded thee)

f That thou hast forsaken me & worshipped idoles.

Chap 12, 15.

* I wil surely rent the kingdome frõ thee, and wil giue it to thy seruant.

12 Notwithstanding in thy daies I wil not do it, because of Dauid thy father, but I wil rent it out of the hand of thy sonne:

13 Howbeit I wil not rent all y^e kingdome, but wil giue one tribe to thy sonne, because of Dauid my seruant, and because of Ierusalém, which I haue chosen.

g Because the tribes of Iudáh & Benjamin hau their possessiõs mixed, they are here taken as one tribe

h Of the King of Edoms stocke
3 Sam 8, 14.

14 ¶ Then the Lord stirred vp an aduersarie vnto Salomón, euen Hadád the Edomite, of the Kings ^h seede, which was in Edóm.

i Of the Edomites

15 * For when Dauid was in Edóm, & Ioáb the captaine of the hoste had smitten all the males in Edóm, and was gone vp to bury the slayne,

16 (For six moneths did Ioáb remaine there, and all Israél, til he had destroyed all the males in Edóm)

* Thus God referred this adolater to be a scourge to punish the peoples finnes.

17 Then this Hadád ^k fled and certeine other Edomites of his fathers seruants with him, to go into Egypt, Hadád being yet a litle childe.

18 And they arose out of Midián, & came to Parán, and toke men with them out of Parán, and came to Egypt vnto Pharaóh King of Egypt, which gaue him an house, and appointed him vntailes, and gaue him land.

l God brought him to honour that his power might be more able to copasse his enterprises against Salomons honours.

19 So Hadád ^l founde great fauour in the sight of Pharaóh, & he gaue him to wife the sister of his owne wife, euen the sister of Tahpenés the quene.

20 And the sister of Tahpenés bare him Genubáth his sonne, whome Tahpenés wayned in Pharaohs house: & Genubáth was in Pharaohs house among the sonnes of Pharaóh.

21 And when Hadád heard in Egypt, that Dauid slept with his fathers, & that Ioáb the captaine of the hoste was dead, Hadád said to Pharaóh, Let me departe, that I may go to mine owne countrey.

22 But Pharaóh said vnto him, What hast thou lacked with me, that thou woldest thus go to thine owne countrey? And he answered, Noching, but in any wise let me go.

23 ¶ And God stirred him vp another aduersarie, Rezón the sonne of Eliadá, which ^m fled from his lord Hadadézer King of Zobáh.

2 Sam 8, 3.

m Whē Dauid had discōfired Hadadézer & his armie.

24 And he gathered men vnto him, & had bene captaine ouer the companie, when Dauid slewe them. And they went to Damascus, and dwelt there, ⁿ and they made him King in Damascus.

n To wit, the mé, whome he had gathered vnto him

25 Therefore was he an aduersarie to Israél all the daies of Salomón: besides the euil that Hadád did, he also abhorred Israél, and reigned ouer Arám.

26 ¶ And Ieroboám y^e sonne of Nebát an Ephrathite of Zeréda Salomons seruant (whose mother was called Zeruáh a widowe) lift vp his hand against the King.

2 Chron. 13, 6.

27 And this was the cause that he lift vp his hand against the King, when Salomón buylt Milló, he repaired the broken places of the citie of Dauid his father.

28 And this man Ieroboám was a man of strength and courage, and Salomón seing that the yong má was meete for the worke, he made him ^o ouersee: of all the labour of the house of Ioséph.

o He was ouersee of Salomons worke for the tribe of Iparám and Maasésh

29 And at that time, when Ieroboám went out of Ierusalém, the Prophet Ahijáh the Shilonite founde him in the way, hauing a newe garment on him, and they two were alone in the field.

30 Then Ahijáh caught the newe garment that was on him, and ^p rent it in twelue pieces, p By these visible signes y^e Prophets wold more depely printe their message into their hearts, to whome they were sent 31 And said to Ieroboám, Take vnto thee ten piéces: for thus sayth the Lord God of Israél, Beholde, I wil rét the kingdome out of the hands of Salomón, & wil giue ten tribes to thee.

32 But he shal haue one tribe for my seruát Dauids sake, and for Ierusalém the citie, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israél, 33 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue worshipped Ashtaroth the god of the Zidonians, & Chemósh the god of the Moabites, and Milcóm the god of the Ammonites, & haue not walked in my wayes (to do right in mine eyes, and my statutes, & my lawes) as did Dauid his father.

o Or, to do right in mine eyes, as did Dauid

34 But I wil not take the whole kingdome out of his hád: for I wil make him prince all his life long for Dauid my seruants sake, whome I haue chosen, & who kept my commandments and my statutes.

35 * But I wil take the kingdome out of his sonnes hand, and wil giue it vnto thee; euen the ten tribes.

Chap. 12, 24.

¶ He hathe respect vnto h^e Meſſiah, w^h ſhulde be the bright ſtarre y^e ſhulde ſhine through all y^e worlde. ¶ Euen in all that this ſeute.

36 And vnto his ſonne wil I giue one tribe, that Dauid my ſeruant maye haue a ſlight alwaie before me in Ieruſalem the citie, which I haue choſen me, to put my Name there.

37 And I wil take thee, & thou ſhalt reigne, euen as thine heart deſireth, & ſhalt be King ouer Iſraél.

38 And if thou hearkē vnto all that I commandethee, and wilt walke in my wares, and do right in my fight, to kepe my ſtatutes and my commandements, as Dauid my ſeruant did, then wil I be with thee, & buylde thee a ſure houſe, as I buylt vnto Dauid, and wil giue Iſraél vnto thee.

¶ For this idolatrye that Salomón hathe committed ¶ For y^e whole ſpiritual kingdome was reſtored in Meſſiah

39 And I wil for this afflicte the ſeede of Dauid, but not for euer.

40 ¶ Salomón foght therefore to kil Ieroboám, and Ieroboám aroſe, and fled into Egypt vnto Shiſhák King of Egypt, and was in Egypt vntil the death of Salomón.

¶ Which boke, as is thought, was loſt in their captiuitie.

41 And the reſt of the wordes of Salomón, & all that he did, and his wiſdome, are thei not written in the boke of the actes of Salomón?

42 The time that Salomón reigned in Ieruſalem ouer all Iſraél, was fourtie yere.

43 And Salomón ſlept with his fathers and was buryed in the citie of Dauid his father: and Rehoboám his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

CHAP. XII.

1 Rehoboám ſucceedeth Salomón. 3 He refuseth the counſel of the Ancients. 20 Ieroboám reigneth ouer Iſraél. 21 God commandeth Rehoboám not to fight. 23 Ieroboám maketh golden calues.

¶ Chro 12.2.

1 And Rehoboám went to Shechem: for all Iſraél were come to Shechem, to make him King.

2 And when Ieroboám the ſonne of Nebát heard of it (who was yet in Egypt) whether Ieroboám had fled from King Salomón, and dwelt in Egypt,

¶ Chap. 11. 40.

3 Then thei ſent and called him: and Ieroboám and all the Congregation of Iſraél came, and ſpake vnto Rehoboám, ſaying,

¶ Chap. 4. 7.

4 Thy father made our yoke grieuous: now therefore make thou the grieuous ſeruitude of thy father, and his ſore yoke which he put vpon vs, lighter, & we wil ſerue thee.

¶ Oppreſſe vs not w^h ſo great charges, which we are not able to ſuſtaine.

5 And he ſaid vnto them, Departe yet for thre dayes, then come againe to me. And the people departed.

¶ Or, had bene of his ancient counſellers.

6 And King Rehoboám take counſel with the olde men that had ſtande before Salomón his father, while he yet liued, and ſaid, What counſel giue ye, that I may make an answer to this people?

7 And thei ſpake vnto him, ſaying, If thou be a ſeruant vnto this people this day, and ſerue them, and answer them, and ſpeake kinde wordes to them, thei wil be thy ſeruants for euer.

¶ Thei ſhewed him that there was no way to winne y^e peoples hearts, but to grante thei their iuſte petition.

8 But he forſoke the counſel that the olde men had giuen him, and asked counſel of the yong men, that had bene brought vp with him, and waited on him.

9 And he ſaid vnto them, What counſel giue ye, that we may answer this people, which haue ſpoken to me, ſaying, Make the yoke, which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

¶ There is nothing harder for them, that are in autoritie, the to bridel their affections, and followe good counſel.

10 Then the yong men that were brought vp with him, ſpake vnto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto this people, that haue ſpoken vnto thee, and ſaid, Thy father hathe made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter vnto vs: eue thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto the, My leaſt parte ſhal be bigger then my fathers loynes.

¶ Or, liſte ſinger. d I am muche more able to kepe you in ſubjection thei my father was 11 Now where as my father did burde you with a grieuous yoke, I wil yet make your yoke heauier: my father hathe chaſtiſed you with rods, but I wil correct you with ſcouges.

¶ Or, ſcorpions.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboám and all the people came to Rehoboám the third day, as the King had appointed, ſaying, Come to me againe the third day.

¶ The people declare their obedience in this, that they wolde attempt nothing before y^e King had giuen the iuſte occaſion

13 And the King answered the people ſharply, and leſt the olde mens counſel that thei gaue him,

14 And ſpake to them after the counſel of the yong men, ſaying, My father made your yoke grieuous, and I wil make your yoke more grieuous: my father hathe chaſtiſed you with rods, but I wil correct you with ſcouges.

15 And the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of the Lord, that he might performe his ſaying, which the Lord had ſpoken by Ahiáh the Shilonite vnto Ieroboám the ſonne of Nebát.

¶ Or, the Lord was the cauſe.

¶ Chap. 11. 11.

16 So when all Iſraél ſawe that the King regarded them not, the people answered the King thus, ſaying, What portio haue we in Dauid? we haue none inheritance in the ſonne of Iſhái. To your tents, O Iſraél: now ſe to thine owne houſe, Dauid. So Iſraél departed vnto their tents.

¶ Though their cauſe were good, yet it is moſte hard for the people to bridel their affections, as theſe vile wordes declare

17 Howbeit ouer the children of Iſraél, which dwelt in the citieſ of Iudáh, did Rehoboám reigne ſtil.

18 ¶ Now the King Rehoboám ſent Adoram the receiuer of the tribute, and all Iſraél ſtoned him to death: then King Rehoboám made ſpede to get him vp to his chaſer, to flee to Ieruſalem:

¶ Ebr ſtrengthened him ſelfe.

19 And Iſraél rebelled againſt the houſe of Dauid vnto this day.

¶ By the iuſte iudgement of God for Salomons finnes.

20 ¶ And when all Iſraél had heard that Ieroboám

22 *But the worde of God came vnto She-maiah the ¹ man of God, saying,

24 Thus sayth the ^k Lord, Ye shal not go vp, nor fight against your brethrin the children of Israél: retuine euerie man to his house: for this thing is done by me. They obeyed therefore the worde of the Lord and returned, and departed, according to the worde of the Lord.

25 ¶ Then Ieroboám buylt Shechem in mount Ephraím, and dwelt therein, & wēt from thence, and buylt Penuél.

26 And Ieroboám thought in his heart, Now shal the kingdome retuine to the house of Dauid.

27 If this people go vp and do sacrifice in the house of the Lord ^l at Ierusalém, the shal the heart of this people turne againe vnto their lord, euen to Rehoboám King of Iudáh: so shal they kil me and go againe to Rehoboám King of Iudáh.

28 Whereupon the King toke counsel, and made two calves of golde, and said vnto them, ^m It is to muche for you to go vp to Ierusalém: beholde, ^o Israél, thy gods, which brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt.

29 And he set the one in Beth-él, and the other set he in Dan.

^d Neither kindred nor autoritie ought to be regarded, when they blasphem God & become idolaters, but must be punished. ^e For in that that he suffered them to worship God in other places, then he had appointed, it came of ignorance and not of malice.

13 And he ^d put downe Maacháh his mother also from her citate, because she had made an idole in a groue : & Afá destroyed her idoles, & burnt the by the broke Kidión.

1 Eliáh is sent to Achis: 3 Obadiáh hideth an hundred Prophetes 40 Eliáh killeth all Baals prophetes as he obtaineth raine.

1 After many daies, the worde of the Lord came to Eliáh, in the ^a third yere, saying, Go, shewe thy selfe vnto Aháb, and I wil send raine vpon the earth.

2 And Eliáh went to shewe him selfe vnto Aháb, and there was a great famine in Samaria.

3 And Aháb called Obadiáh the gouernour of his house: (and Obadiáh ^b feared God greatly)

4 For when Iezébel destroyed the Prophetes of the Lord, Obadiáh toke an húdreth Prophetes, & hid them, by fiftie in a caue, and he fed them with bread and water.

5 And Aháb said vnto Obadiáh, Go into the land, vnto all the fountaines of water, and vnto all the riuers, if so be that we may finde grasse to saue the horses & the mules aliue, lest we deprue the Land of the beastes.

6 And so thei deuided the land betwene them to walke through it. Aháb went one way by him selfe, and Obadiáh went another way by him selfe.

7 ¶ And as Obadiáh was in the way, beholde, Eliáh ^c met him: & he knewe him, and fel on his face, and said, Art not thou my lord Eliáh?

8 And he answered him, Yea, go tel thy lord, Beholde, Eliáh is here.

9 And he said, What haue I sinned, that thou woldest deliue thy seruant into the hand of Aháb, to slaye me?

10 As the Lord thy God liueth, there is no nació or kíngdome, whether my lord hate the not sent to seke thee: and when thei said, He is not here, he toke an othe of y^e kingdome and naciou, if thei had not founde thee.

12 And when I am gone fró thee, the Spirit of the Lord shal cary thee into some place that I do not knowe: so when I come and tel Aháb, if he can not finde thee, then wil he kil me: but I thy seruant ^d feare the Lord from my youth.

13 Was it not tolde my lord, what I did when Iezébel slewe the Prophetes of the Lord, how I hidde an hundred men of the Lords Prophetes by fifties in a caue, & fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou saiest, Go, tel thy lord, Beholde, Eliáh is here, that he may slaye me.

15 And Eliáh said, As the Lord of hostes liueth, before whome I stand, I wil surely shewe ^e my selfe vnto him this day.

16 ¶ So Obadiáh went to mete Aháb, and tolde him: and Aháb wét to mete Eliáh.

17 And when Aháb sawe Eliáh, Aháb said

vnto him, Art thou he that troubleth Israél?

18 And he answered, I haue not troubled Israél, but ^f thou, and thy fathers house, in that ye haue forsaken the cōmandements of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalím.

19 Now therefore send, and gather to me all Israél vnto mount Carmél, and the prophetes of Báal foure húdreth & fiftie, & the prophetes of the groues foure hundredreth, which eat at Iezebels table.

20 ¶ So Aháb sent vnto all the children of Israél, & gathered the prophetes together vnto mount Carmél.

21 And Eliáh came vnto all the people, & said, How long ^g halt ye betwene two opinions? If the Lord be God, followe him. but if Báal be he, then go after him. And the people answered him not a woide.

22 Then said Eliáh vnto y^e people, I onely remaine a Prophet of the Lord: but Baals prophetes are foure hundredreth & fiftie mé.

23 Let them therefore giue vs two bullocks, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and laye him on the wood, but put no fyre vnder, and I wil prepare the other bullocke, and laye him on the wood, and wil put no fyre vnder.

24 Then call ye on the name of your god, and I wil call on the Name of the Lord: and the God that answereth ^h by fyre, let him be God. And all the people answered, and said, It is wel spoken.

25 And Eliáh said vnto the prophetes of Báal, Chuse you a bullocke, and prepare him first, (for ye are many) & call on the name of your gods, but put no fyre vnder.

26 So thei toke the one bullocke, y^e was giuen them, & thei prepared it, & called on y^e name of Báal, from morning to noone, saying, O Báal, heare vs: but there was no voyce, nor anie to answer: and thei ⁱ leapt vpon the altar that was made.

27 And at noone Eliáh mocked them, and said, Crie loud: for he is a ^k god: ether he talketh or pursueth his enemies, or is in his journey, or it may be that he slepeth, and must be ^l awaked.

28 And they cryed loude, and cut them selues as their maner was, with kniues and lancets, til the blood gushed out vpon them.

29 And when mydday was passed, and thei had prophecied vntil the offring of the euening sacrifice, there was nether voyce, nor anie to answer, nor anie that regarded.

30 And Eliáh said vnto all the people, Come to me. And all y^e people came to him. And he repaired the altar of the Lord that was broken downe.

31 And Eliáh toke twelue stones, accordig to the number of the tribes of the sonnes

^a After that he departed from the riuér Cherath.

^b God had be-gone to worke his feare in his heart, but had not yet brought him to that knowledge, & as also requisit of the godly: y^e is, to professe his Name openly

^c God pitieth oft times the wicked for y^e godly sake, & causeth Eliáh to mete with Obadiáh, that the benefite might be knowne to be granted for Gods children sake.

^d I am one of the wicked persecuters, y^e thou shouldest procure vnto me suche displeasure, but serue God and fauour his childre.

^e By my presence I wil declare y^e thou hast toke him the truth.

^f The true ministers of God ought not onely not to suffer y^e truth to be vnustely skādered, but to reprove boldly y^e wicked skāderers without respect of person.

^g Be constant in religion, & make it not as a thing indifferēt whether ye followe God or Báal, or whether ye serue God wholly or in parte

^h By sending downe fire fró heauē to burne y^e sacrifice.

o He commended them that as they were truly persuaded to confesse y onely God: so thei wolde serue him w all their power & destroye the idolaters his enemies.

of Iakob; (vnto whom the worde of the Lord came, saying, * Israēl shalbe thy name)

32 And with the stones he buyk an altar in the Name of the Lord: & he made a ditche rounde about the altar, as great as wolde containe two measures of fede.

33 And he put the wood in order, & hewed the bullocke in pieces, and layed him on the wood, 34 And said, Fil foure barels with water, & powre it on the burnt offring and on the wood. Againe he said, Do so againe. And thei did so the seconde time. And he said, Do it the third time. And thei did it the third time.

35 And the water ran rounde about the altar: & he filled the ditche w water also.

36 And when they shulde offer the evening sacrifice, Eliáh the Prophet came, & said, Lord God of Abraham, Izhák and of Israēl, let it be known this day, that thou art the God of Israēl, and that I am thy seruant, and that I haue done all these things at thy commandement.

37 Heate me, o Lord, heare me, and let this people knowe that thou art y Lord God, and that thou hast turned their heart againe at the last.

38 Then the fyre of the Lord fel, and consumed the burnt offring, and the wood, & the stones, and the dust, and licked vp the water that was in the ditche.

39 And when all the people sawe it, thei fel on their faces, and said, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.

40 And Eliáh said vnto them, Take the prophetes of Bál, let not a man of them escape. And they toke them, and Eliáh brought them to the broke Kishón, & slewe them there.

41 ¶ And Eliáh said vnto Aháb, Get thee vp, eat and drinke, for there is a sounde of muche raine.

42 So Aháb went vp to eat and to drinke, and Eliáh went vp to the top of Carmél: and he crouched vnto the earth, and put his face betwene his knees, 43 And said to his seruant, Go vp now and loke towarde the way of the Sea. And he went vp, and loke, and said, There is nothing. Againe he said, Go againe p seuen times.

44 And at y seuenth time he said, Beholde, there ariseth a litle cloude out of the sea like a mans hand. Then he said, Vp, and say vnto Aháb, Make readie thy charet, and get thee downe, that the raine stay thee not.

45 And in the meane while the heauen was blacke with cloudes & winde, & there was a great raine. Then Aháb went vp & came to Izreél.

46 And the had of the Lord was on Eliáh, and he girded vp his loynes, and ran before Aháb til he came to Izreél.

CHAP. XIX.

Eliáh being from Izreél, is nourished by the Angel of God: & he is commanded to anoint Hazáel, Iehu, and Elishá.

1 NOW Aháb tolde Iezebel all that Eliáh had done, & how he had slayne all the prophetes with the sworde.

2 Then Iezebel sent a messenger vnto Eliáh, saying, The gods do so to me and more also, if I make not thy life like one of their liues by to morowe this time.

3 ¶ When he sawe that, he arose, and went for his life, & came to Beer-sheba, which is in Iudáh, and left his seruant there.

4 But he went a daies iourney into the wilderness, and came and sate downe vnder a iuniper tre, & desired that he might dye, and said, It is now ynough: o Lord, take my soule, for I am no better, then my fathers.

5 And as he laie and slept vnder the iuniper tre, beholde now, an Angel touched him, and said vnto him, Vp, & eat.

6 And when he loke about, beholde, there was a cake baken on the coles, and a pot of water at his head: so he did eat and drinke, and returned and slept.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the seconde time, and touched him, and said, Vp, & eat: for thou hast a great iourney.

8 ¶ Then he arose, and did eat and drinke, and walked in the strength of that meat fourtie daies & fourtie nights, vnto Horeb the mount of God.

9 And there he entred into a caue, & lodged there: and beholde, the Lord spake to him, and said vnto him, What doest thou here, Eliáh?

10 And he answered, I haue bene very ielous for the Lord God of hostes: for the children of Israēl haue forsaken thy covenant, broken downe thine altars, and slayne thy Prophetes with the sworde: & I onely am left, and thei seeke my life to take it away.

11 And he said, Come out, and stand vpon the mount before the Lord. And beholde, the Lord went by, and a mightie strong winde rent the mountaines, and brake the rockes before the Lord: but the Lord was not in the winde: and after the winde came an earthquake: but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake came fyre: but the Lord was not in the fyre: & after the fyre came a stil and soft voyce.

13 And whē Eliáh heard it, he couered his face with his mantel, & went out, & stode in the entring in of the caue: & beholde, q He was so strengthened w Gods Spirit, that he ran faster then the charet was able to runne.

b Though the wicked rage against Gods children, yet he holdeth them backe y they can not execute their malice. Or, whether his mantle led him.

c So hard a thing it is to bridle our impaciēcie in affliction that y saints colde not overcome the same.

d He declareth y except God had nourished him miraculously, it had not bene possible for him to haue gone this iourney.

e He complaineth, that the more zealous y heshewed him self to mainteine Gods glorie, the more cruelly was he persecuted. Rom. 11. 13.

f For the nature of man is not able to come nere vnto God, if he shulde appeare in his strength & full maiestie, & therefore of his mercie he submittech him selfe to our capacitie.

there there came a voyce vnto him, and said, What doest thou here, Eliiah?

g We ought not to depend on the multitude in maintaining Gods glorie, but because our duetie so requireth, we ought to do it.

14 And he answered, I haue bene very ielous for y Lord God of hostes, & because the children of Israel haue forsake thy couenant, cast downe thine altars and slaine thy Prophetes with the sworde, & I onely am left, and they seke my life to take it away.

17 And him that escapeth fró the sworde of Hazael, shal Iehú slaye: and him that escapeth from the sworde of Iehú, shal Elíshá slay.

18 Yet wil I leaue seuē thousand in Israel, euen all the knees that haue not bowed vnto Bál, and euerie mouthe that hath not kissed him.

i Though this natural affection is not to be cōdemned, yet it ought not to moue vs when God calleth vs to serue him. k He wolde not stay till wood was bought, so great was his desire to followe his vocacion.

19 So he departed thence, and founde Elíshá y sonne of Shaphát who was plowing with twelue yoke of oxen before him, and was with the twelst: & Eliiah went towards him, and cast his mantel vpon him.

20 And he left the oxen, & ran after Eliiah, and said, Let me, I pray thee, kisse my father and my mother, and then I wil followe thee. Who answered him, Go, returne: for what haue I done to thee?

21 And when he wēt backe againe fró him, he toke a couple of oxen, and sl we them, and sod their flesh with the instruments of the oxen, and gaue vnto the people, & they did eat: then he arose and went after Eliiah, and ministred vnto him.

CHAP. XX.

1 Samaria is besieged. 13 The Lord promiseth the victorie to Aháb by a Prophet. 31 The King of Israel made peace with Ben-hadád, and is reprov'd therefore by the Prophet.

Or, Syria.

1 Then BÉ-hadád the King of Aram assembled all his armie, and two and thirtie Kings with him, with horses, & charets, and went vp, and besieged Samaria, and fought against it.

o That is, gouernours, and rulers of prouinces

Or, Shomonda

2 And he sent messengers to Aháb King of Israel, into the citie,

3 And said vnto him, Thus sayeth Ben-hadád, Thy siluer and thy golde his mine: also thy women, and thy faire children are mine.

p. I am content to obey and pay tribute.

4 And the King of Israel answered, and said, My lord King, according to thy saying, I am thine, and all that I haue.

5 And when the messengers came againe, they said, Thus comandeth Ben-hadád, & sayth, When I shal send vnto thee, and comande, thou shalt deliuer me thy siluer & thy golde, & thy women, & thy childrē,

6 Or els I wil send my seruants vnto thee by to morow this time: and they shal searche thine house, and the houses of thy seruants: and what soeuer is pleasant in thine eyes, they shal take it in their hands, and bring it away.

e He wolde not accept his answer, except he did out of hand deliuer whatsoeuer he shulde aske: for he sought an occasion, how to make warre against him.

7 Then the King of Israel sent for all the Elders of the land; and said, Take hede, I pray you, and se how he seeketh mischief: for he sent vnto me for my wiues, and for my children, and for my siluer, and for my golde, and I denyed him not.

8 And all the Elders, & all the people said to him, Hearnē not vnto him, nor cōsēt. 9 Wherefore he said vnto the messengers of Ben-hadád, Tel my lord the King, All that thou didest send for to thy seruant at the first time, that I wil do, but this thing I may not do. And the messengers departed, and broght him an answer.

d They thought it their dutie rather to venture their liues, then to that thing which was not lawful, onely to satisfie the lust of a tyrant.

10 And Ben-hadád sent vnto him, & said, The gods do so to me & more also, if the dust of Samaria be ynough to all y people y followe me, for euerie mā an hadful

e Muche lesse shal there be founde and pray, that is worthe any thing, when they shalbe so mane

11 And the King of Israel answered, and said, Tel him, Let not him that girdeth his harness, boast hi selfe, as he y putteth it of.

f Boast not before the victorie be gotten. Or, Put your siluer so to dre.

12 And when he heard y tidings, as he was with the Kings drinking in the pavilions, he said vnto his seruants, Bring forthe your engines, and thei set them against the citie.

13 And beholde, there came a Prophet vnto Aháb King of Israel, saying, Thus saith y Lord, Hast thou sine all this great multitude beholde, I wil deliuer it into thine hand this day, that y maest knowe, s that I am the Lord.

g Before God went about w signes and miracles to oul Aháb fró his impietie, and now againe w wonderful victories.

14 And Aháb said, By whome? And he said, Thus saith the Lord, By the seruants of the princes of the prouinces. He said againe, Who shal ordre the battel? And he answered, Thou.

15 Then he nombred the seruants of the princes of the prouinces, and they were two hundred, two and thirtie: & after the he nombred the whole people of all the children of Israel, euen seuen thousande.

16 And they wēt out at noone: but Ben-hadád did drinke til he was dronken in the tents, both he & the Kings: for two & thirtie Kings helped him.

17 So the seruants of the princes of the prouinces went out first: & Ben-hadád sent out, and they shewed him, saying, There are men come out of Samaria.

h That is, y men trained in the seruice of princes.

18 And he said, Whether they be come out for peace, take them aliue: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet aliue.

19 So they came out of the citie, to wit, the seruants of the princes of the prouinces, and the hoste which followed them.

^{Hebr man.}

20 And they slewe euerie one his^m enemye: and the^m Aramites fled, and Israél pursued them: but Ben-hadád the King of Arám escaped on an horse with his^m horsemen.

^{Or, Syriaus.}

^{With them were appointed for the preferuatiõ of his persone.}

21 And the King of Israél went out, and smote the horses and charets, and with a great slaughter slewe he the Aramites.

22 (For there had come a Prophet to the King of Israél, & had said vnto him, Go, be of good courage, and consider, and take hede what thou doest: for when the yere is gone about, the King of Arám wil come vp against thee)

^{Thus wicked blaspheme God in their: but, whome not-wichstandinge suffreth nor unpunished.}

23 ¶ The seruants of the King of Arám said vnto him, Their^m gods are gods of the mountaines, and therefore they ouer-came vs: but let vs fight against them in the plaine, and douteles we shal ouercome them.

24 And this do, Take the Kings away, euerie one out of his place, and place captai-nes for them.

25 And number thy selfe an armie, like the armie that thou hast lost, with suche horses, and suche charets, and we wil fight against them in the plaine, and douteles we shal ouercome the: and he hearkened vnto their voyce, and did so.

26 And after the yere was gone about, Ben-hadád nombred the Aramites, and went vp to Aphék to fight against Israél.

^{All they, were in battel of the former yere, ver. 15.}

27 And the children of Israél were nombred, and were all^m assembled and went against them, and the children of Israél pitched before them, like two litle flockes of kiddes: but the Aramites filled the countrey.

28 And there came a man of God, and spake vnto the King of Israél, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, Because the Aramites haue said, The Lord is the God of the mountaines, and not God of the valleys, therefore wil I deliuer all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye shal knowe that^m I am the Lord.

^{Who am of like power in the valley, as I am on the hills, and can aswel destroy a multitude as fewe as with manie.}

29 And they pitched one ouer against the other seuen dayes, & in the seuēth day the battel was ioyned: and the children of Israél slewe of the Aramites an hundred thousand fotemen in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Aphék into the citie: and there fel a wall vpon seuen & twentie thousand men that were left: and Ben hadád fled into the citie, and came into^m a secret chamber.

^{Hebr from chamber to chamber.}

31 ¶ And his seruantes said vnto him, Beholde now, we haue heard say that the Kings of the house of Israél are merciful Kings: we pray thee, let vs put sackecloth about our^m loynes, and ropes about our heades, and go out to the King of Israél: it may be that he wil saue thy life.

^{In signe of submission, and that we haue deserued death, if he wil punishe vs with rigour.}

32 The they girded sackecloth about their loynes, and put ropes about their heades, and came to the King of Israél, and said, Thy seruant Ben-hadád faith, I pray thee, let me liue: and he said, Is he yet aliue? he is my brother.

33 Now the men toke diligent hede, if they colde cathe^m any thing of him, and made haste, & said, Thy brother^m Ben-hadád. And he said, Go, bring him. So Bē hadád came out vnto him, and he caused him to come vp vnto the charet.

^{Or, and caught of him.}

^{He is aliue}

34 And Ben-hadád said vnto him, The cities, which my father toke frō thy father, I wil restore, and thou shalt make stretes for thee in^m Damascus, as my father did in Samaria. Then said Aháb, I wil let thee go with this couenant. So he made a couenant with him, and let him go.

^{Thou shalt appoint in my chief citie what thou wilt, and I wil obey thee}

35 ¶ Then a certeine man of the^m children of the Prophetes said vnto his neighbour by the comandemēt of the Lord, ¶ Smite me, I pray thee. But the man refused to smite him.

^{Or, of the disciples.}

^{By this external signe he wolde more liuely touche Kings heart.}

36 Then said he vnto him, Because thou hast not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, beholde, as sone as thou art departed from me, a lyon shal^m slay thee. So when he was departed frō him, a lyon found him and slewe him.

^{Because thou hast transgressed the comandement of the Lord.}

37 Then he found another man, and said, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, and in smiting wounded him.

38 So the Prophet departed, and waited for the King by the way, and disguyfed him selfe with asshes vpon his face.

39 And when the King came by, he cryed vnto the King, and said, Thy seruant went into the middes of the battel: and beholde, these went away a man, whome another man broght vnto me, & said, Kepe this man: if he be lost, and want, thy life shal go for his, or els thou shalt paye a talent of siluer.

^{By this parable he maketh Aháb comdemne him selfe, who made a couenant with Gods enemye, and let him escape, whome God had appointed to be slaine.}

40 And as thy seruant had here and there to do, he was gone: and the King of Israél said vnto him, So shal thy iudgment be: thou hast giuen sentence.

41 And he hasted, and toke the asshes away from his face: & the King of Israél knew him that he was of the Prophetes:

42 And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, ¶ Because thou hast let go out of thine hands a man whome I appointed to dye, thy life shal go for his life, and thy people for his people.

^{Bezēbel commandeth to kil Naboth for the Vineyard, that he refused to sel to Aháb. 19 Eliab reprimeth Aháb, and he repenteth.}

After

^aOr, at that time. 1 Mc.

^a Though Ahabs tyrannic be condemned by the holy Spirit, yet he was not so rigorous that he wolde take from another man his right without full recompence

^b Thus y wicked consider not what is iust & lawfull, but fret inwardely, when they can not haue their inordinate appetites satisfied.

^c As though she said, Thou knowest not what it is to reigne. Commande, and in great not ¹Ebr les thue hearts be mery.

^d For the they vied to inquire of mens tautes: for none could tast truly that were notorious sinners

^e Thus the worldlings conerary to Gods comãdemēt, who willecth not to chesent to the shedding of innocēt blood, obey rather y wicked commandēts of princes than the iust Lawes of God ¹Ebr bleser.

After these things Nabóth the Izreelite had a vineyarde in Izreél, hard by the palace of Aháb King of Samaria.

2 And Aháb spake vnto Nabóth, saying, ^a Giue me thy vineyarde, that I may make me a garden of herbes thereof, because it is nere by mine house: and I wil giue thee for it a better vineyarde then it is: or if it please thee, I wil giue thee the worthe of it in money.

And Nabóth said to Aháb, The Lord kepe me from giuing the inheritãce of my fathers vnto thee.

4 Then Aháb came into his house heauy & in displeasure, because of the worde which Nabóth the Izreelite had spoké vnto him. for he had said, I wil not giue thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he lay ^b vpon his bed and turned his face and wolde eat no bread.

5 Then Iezébel his wife came to him and said vnto him, Why is thy spirit so sad y thou eatest no bread?

6 And he said vnto her, Because I spake vnto Nabóth the Izreelite, and said vnto him, Giue me thy vineyarde for money, or if it please thee, I wil giue thee another vineyarde for it: but he answered, I wil not giue thee my vineyarde.

7 Then Iezébel his wife said vnto him, ^c Doeft thou now gouerne the kingdome of Israél vp, eat bread, and ² be of good chere, I wil giue thee the vineyarde of Nabóth the Izreelite.

8 ¶ So she wrote letters in Ahabs name, & sealed them with his seale, and sent the letters vnto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling w Nabóth.

9 And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaime a ^d fast, and set Nabóth amög the chief of the people,

10 And set two wicked men before him, and let the witnesses against him, saying, Thou didest blaspheme God and the King: the cary him out, and stone him that he may dye.

11 And the ^e men of his citie, euen the Elders and gouernours, which dwelt in his citie, did as Iezébel had sent vnto them: as it was writé in the letters, which she had sent vnto them.

12 They proclaimed a fast, and set Nabóth among the chief of the people, 13 And there came two wicked men, & sate before him: and the wicked men witnessed against Nabóth in the presence of the people, saying, Nabóth did ² blaspheme God and the King. The they caryed him away out of the citie, and stoned him with stones, that he dyed.

14 Then they sent to Iezébel, saying, Nabóth is stoned and is dead.

15 ¶ And when Iezébel heard that Nabóth was stoned and was dead, Iezébel said to Aháb, ^f Vp, & take possession of the vineyarde of Nabóth the Izreelite, which he refused to giue thee for money: for Nabóth is not aliue, but is dead.

16 And when Aháb heard that Nabóth was dead, he rose to go downe to the vineyarde of Nabóth the Izreelite, to take possession of it.

17 ¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto Eliiáh the Tishbite, saying,

18 Arise, go downe to mete Aháb King of Israél, which is in Samaria. lo, he is in the vineyarde of Nabóth, whether he is gone downe to take possession of it.

19 Therefore shalt thou say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, ^g Hast thou killed, and also gotten possession? And thou shalt speake vnto him, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, ^h In the place where dogs licked the blood of Nabóth, shal dogs licke euē thy blood also.

20 And Aháb said to Eliiáh, Hast thou founde me, & mine enemies? And he answered, I haue founde thee: for thou hast solde thy selfe to worke wickednes in the fight of the Lord.

21 * Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon thee, & wil take away thy posteritie, and wil cut of from Aháb him that ⁱ pilleth against y wall, aswel him that is ² shut vp, as him that is left in Israél, 22 And I wil make thine house like y house of ³ Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, & like the house of ⁴ Baashá the sonne of Ahiiáh, for the prouocacion wherewith thou hast prouoked, and made Israél to sinne.

23 And also of Iezébel spake the Lord, saying, ⁵ The dogs shal eat Iezébel, by the wall of Izreél.

24 The dogs shal eat him of Ahabs stockes, that dyeth in the citie: and him that dyeth in the fields, shal the foules of the ayre eat.

25 But there was none like Aháb, who did ⁶ sell him selfe, to worke wickednes in the fight of the Lord: whome Iezébel his wife prouoked.

26 For he did exceedig abominably in following idoles, accordig to all that the Amorites did, whome the Lord cast out before the children of Israél.

27 Now when Aháb heard those wordes, he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth vpō ⁷ him and fasted, and lay in sackcloth and went ⁸ softly.

28 And the worde of the Lord came to Eliiáh the Tishbite, saying,

29 Seeft thou how Aháb is humbled before me? because he submitteth him selfe before me, I wil not bring that euil in his dayes, but in his ⁹ sonnes dayes wil I bring euil vpon his house.

i In their kinglie apparel.

1 The true Prophetes of God were accustomed to vse signes for the confirmation of their doctrine. Isa. 20. 2 iere 32. Wherein the false Prophetes did imitate them, thinking thereby to make themselves more commedable.

1 And they continued a thre yere without warre betwene Aram and Israél.

2 And in the third yere did Iehoshaphat the King of Iudáh come downe to the King of Israél.

3 (Then the King of Israél said vnto his seruants, Knowe ye not that Ramoth Gilead was ours: and we staye, and take it not out of the hand of the King of Aram?)

4 And he said vnto Iehoshaphat, Wilt thou go with me to battel against Ramoth Gilead? And Iehoshaphat said vnto the King of Israél, I am as thou art, my people as thy people, and mine horses as thine horses.

5 Then Iehoshaphat said vnto the King of Israél, Aske counsel, I pray thee, of the Lord to day.

6 Then the King of Israél gathered the Prophetes vpon a foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shal I go against Ramoth Gilead to battel, or shal I let it alone? And they said, Go vpon for the Lord shal deliuer it into the hands of the King.

7 And Iehoshaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet of the Lord more, that we might inquire of him?

8 And the King of Israél said vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man (Michaiiah the sonne of Imláh) by whome we may aske counsel of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophetic good vnto me, but euil. And Iehoshaphat said, Let not the King say so.

9 Then the King of Israél called an Eunuiche, & said, Call quickely Michaiiah the sonne of Imláh.

10 And the King of Israél & Iehoshaphat the King of Iudáh sate ether of them on his throne in their apparell in the voyde place at the entring in of the gate of Samaria, and all the Prophetes propheticied before them.

11 And Zidkiiah the sonne of Chanaanáh made him hornes of yron, & said, Thus sayth the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites, vntil thou hast consumed them.

12 And all the Prophetes propheticied so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth Gilead, & prosper: for the Lord shal deliuer it into the Kings hand.

13 And the messenger that was gone to call Michaiiah spake vnto him, saying, Beholde now, the wordes of the Prophetes declare good vnto the King with one accorde: let thy worde therefore, I pray thee, be like the worde of one of them, & speake thou good.

14 And Michaiiah said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer the Lord sayth vnto me, that wil I speake.

15 So he came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiiah, shal we go against Ramoth Gilead to battel, or shal we leaue of? And he answered him, Go vp, & prosper: and the Lord shal deliuer it into the hand of the King.

16 And the King said vnto him, How oft shal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothig but that which is true in the Name of y Lord.

17 Then he said, I sawe all Israél scatted vpon the mountaines, as shepe that had no shepherd. And the Lord said, These haue no master, let euery man returne vnto his house in peace.

18 (And the King of Israél said vnto Iehoshaphat, Did I not tel thee, that he wolde propheticie no good vnto me, but euil?)

19 Againe he said, Heare thou therefore y worde of the Lord. I sawe the Lord sit on his throne, & all the hoste of heauen stode about him on his right hand and on his left hand.

20 And the Lord said, Who shal entise Ahab that he may go and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one said on this maner, and another said on that maner.

21 Then there came forthe a spirit, & stode before the Lord, and said, I wil entise him. And the Lord said vnto him, Where-wit?

22 And he said, I wil go out, and be a false spirit in the mouthe of all his prophetes. The he said, Thou shalt entise him, & shalt also preuaile: go forthe, and do so.

23 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouthe of all these thy prophetes, and the Lord hath appointed euil against thee.

24 Then Zidkiiah y sonne of Chanaanáh came nere & smote Michaiiah on y cheke, and said, When went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speake vnto thee?

25 And Michaiiah said, Beholde, y shalt se in that day, when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

26 And the King of Israél said, Take Michaiiah, & cary hi vnto Amón y gouernour of se cite, and vnto Ioash the Kings sonne, 27 And say, thus sayth the King, Put this man in the prison house, & fede him with bread of affliction, & with water of affliction, vntil he returne in peace.

28 And Michaiiah said, If y returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me: And he said, Hearken all ye people.

 30 And the King of Israél said to Iehoshaphát, I wil change mine apparel, and wil entre into the battel, but put thou on thine apparel. And the King of Israél changed him selfe, and went into the battel.
 31 And the King of Arám commanded his two & thirtie captaines ouer his charrets, saying, Fight nether with smal, nor great, saue onely against the King of Israél.
 32 And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iehoshaphát, they said, Surely it is y King of Israél, & they turned to fight against him: and Iehoshaphát cryed.
 33 And when the captaines of the charets sawe that he was not the King of Israél, they turned backe from him.
 34 Then a certaine man drue a bowe mightely and smote the King of Israél betwene the ioyntes of his brigädine. Wherefore he said vnto his charet man, Turne thine hád & cary me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.
 35 And the battel encreased that day, and the King stode stil in his charet against the Aramites, and dyed at euen: and the blood ran out of the woúde into the middes of the charet.
 36 And there went a proclamatiō through out y hoste about the going downe of the sunne, saying, Euery man to his citie, and euery man to his owne countrei.

 50 And Iehoshaphát did slepe with his fathers, & was buryed with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father and Iehorám his sonne reigned in his steade.

THE SECONDE BOKE of the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

This seconde boke conteineth the actes of the Kings of Iudáh and Israél: to wit, of Israél, from the death of Aháb vnto the last King Hoshea, who was imprisonned by the King of Assyria, & his citie Samaria taken, & the tē tribes ly the iuste plague of God for their idolatrie & disobedience to God led into captiuitie. And also of Iudáh, frō the reigne of Iehorám sonne of Iehoshaphát vnto Zedechiá who for contemning the Lords comandement by his Prophetes, & neglecting his sundry admonitions, by famine & other meanes was taken by his enemies, sawe his sonnes moste cruelly slaine before his face, & his owne eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his Prophet Ieremie: and also by the iuste vengeance of God for contempt of his worde Ierusalém was destroyed, the Temple burnt, and he and all his people were led away captiues into Babylon. In this booke are notable examples of Gods fauour towards those rulers and people which obey his Prophetes and imbrace his worde: and contrary wise of his plagues towards those commune weales which neglect his ministers and do not obey his commandements.

CHAP. I.

1 Aha^aziah by a fall falleth sicke & cōsuleth with Baalzebub 3 He is reproved by Eliáh. 10 The captiues ouer fifty were sent to Eliáh, whereof two were burne with fyre frō heauen by his prayer. 17 Aha^aziah dyeth, and Iehorám his brother succedeth him.

1 Hen Moáb rebelled agāst Israél after the death of Aháb:

And ^a Ahaziáh fel through the latteſſe win dowe in his vpper chāber which was in Samaria: so he was sicke: thē he sent messengers, to whome he said, Go, & enquire of ^b Baalzebub the god of Ekron, if I shal recouer of this my diseafe.

Then the Angel of the Lord said to Eliáh the Tishbite, Arise, & go vp to mete the messengers of the King of Samaria, and saye vnto them, ^c Is it not because there is no God in Israél, that ye go to inquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron?

Wherefore thus sayth the Lord, Thou shalt not come downe from the bed on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death. So Eliáh departed.

And the messengers returned vnto him, to whome he said, Why are ye now returned?

And they answered him, There came a man and met vs, and said vnto vs, Go, and returne vnto the King which sent you, and say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, ^d Is it not because there is no God in Israél, that thou sendest to enquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron? Therefore thou shalt not come downe from the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.

And he said vnto them, What maner of man was he which came and met you, and tolde you these wordes?

And they said vnto hi, He was an ^e heerie man, and girded with a girdle of lether about his loynes. Then said he, It is Eliáh the Tishbite.

Therefore the King sent vnto him a captaine ouer fifty with his fifty men, who went vp vnto him: for beholde, he sat on the toppē of a mountaine, & he said vnto him, O man of God, the King hath commanded that thou come downe.

But Eliáh answered, & said to the captaine ouer the fiftie, If that I be a man of God, let fyre come downe frō the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fyre came downe from the heauen and deuoured him and his fiftie.

11 Againe also he sent vnto him another captaine ouer fiftie, with his fifty. Who spake, and said vnto him, ^h O man of God, thus the King commandeth, Come downe quickly.

12 But Eliáh answered & said vnto them, ⁱ If I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fyre came downe from the heauen, and deuoured him and his fiftie.

13 ¶ Yet againe he sent the third captaine ouer fifty w^h his fifty. And the third captaine ouer fifty went vp & came, & fel on his knees before Eliáh, & besought him, & said vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life and the life of these thy fifty seruantes be ^k precious in thy sight.

14 Beholde, there came fyre downe from the heauen and deuoured the two former captaines ouer fifty with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.

15 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Eliáh, Go downe w^h him, be not afrayd of his presence. So he arose, and wēt downe with him vnto the King.

16 And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast sent messengers to inquire of Baalzebub the God of Ekron, (was it not because there was no God in Israél to inquire of his worde) therefore thou shalt not come downe of the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.

17 So he dyed according to the worde of ^l the Lord which Eliáh had spoken. And ^m Iehorám begā to reigne in his ſteade, in the seconde yere of Iehorám the sonne of Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh, because he had no sonne.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahaziáh, that he did, are thei not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

CHAP. II.

1 Eliáh deuiderth the waters with his cloke 11 He is taken vp into heauen 13 Elishá taketh his cloke & deuiderth Iordén 20 The better and venomous waters are healed 23 The children that mocke Elishá, are rent in pieces with beeres.

And when the Lord wolde take vp Eliáh into heauē by a whirle wind, Elishá went with Elishá from ⁿ Gilgál.

2 Then Eliáh said to Elishá, Tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Beth-el. But Elishá said, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So they came downe to Beth-el. 3 And ^h He spake this to mocke-ry, & therefore prouoked Gods wrath so muche the more. ⁱ Meaning, that God wolde shewe by effect, whether he was a true Prophet or not.

^k Which hum- ble my selfe before God & his seruant. ^l That is, spare my life & let me not dye as the other two.

^m Thus ^l Lord giveth boldnes to his that they feare not the threatnings of tyrants, & otherwise of them selues are afrayde to do Gods message.

ⁿ Jehoshaphát going to bat- tel against the Syrian, made his sonne Iehorám King in the 17 yere of his reigne: and in the 18 yere, & was the se- conde yere of his sonne, Iehorám ^o sonne of Aháb reigned in Israél: and in the fiftie yere of this Iehorám Iehoshaphát dyed and the kingdome of Iudáh was confirmed to his sonne.

^o Which was ^l place where the childre of Israél were circumcised after they came ouer Iordén & had bene foure yeres in ^l wilderness, as Iulh 5.9.

^a So that he 2 was punished for his idolatry after two sortes: for the Moabites, & were wonte to pay him tribute, rebelled, & he fel downe at a grate: & was vpon his house to gye light beneath.

^b The Philistines, & dwelt at Ekron, worshipped this idole, & signifieth ^l god of lies, thinking that he coulde preserue them from the biting of flies: or els he was so called, because lies were ingedred in great abundance of the blood of ^l sacrifices that were offered to that idole.

^c He sheweth that idolaters haue not the true God, for els they wolde seke to none but to him alone.

i The Spirit of prophetic is giuen to him, as it was to Eliáh.

3 And the b children of the Prophetes that were at Beth-él, came out to Elihá, and said vnto him, Knowest thou that y Lord wil take thy master from e thine head this day? And he said, Yea, I d knowe it: holde ye your peace.

4 Againe Eliáh said vnto him, Elishá, tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hathe sent me to Ierichó. But he said, As y Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So thei came to Ierichó.

5 And the children of the Prophetes that were at e Ierichó, came to Elisha, & said vnto him, Knowest thou, that the Lord wil take thy master from thine head this day? And he said, Yea, I knowe it: holde ye your peace.

6 Moreouer Eliáh said vnto him, Tary, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hathe sent me to Iordén. But he said, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So they went bothe together.

7 And fittie men of the sonnes of the Prophetes went and stode on the other side a-farre of, and thei two stode by Iordén.

8 ¶ Then Eliáh toke his cloke, and wrapt it together, and smote the f waters, and they were deuided herther and thether, & thei twaine went ouer on the drye land.

9 Now when thei were passed ouer, Eliáh said vnto Elishá, Aske what I shal do for thee before I be taken from thee. And Elishá said, I pray thee, Let thy Spirit e be double vpon me.

10 And he said, Thou hast asked an hard thing: yet if thou se me when I am tak n from thee, thou shalt haue it so: & it not, it shal not be.

11 And as thei went walking and talking, beholde, there appeared a charer of fyre, and horses of fyre, and did separate them twaine. * So Eliáh went vp by a whyle-winde into b heauen.

12 And Elishá sawe it, and he cryed, My father, my father, the charer of Israél, and the horsemen thereof: & he sawe him no more: and he toke his owne clothes, & rent them in two pieces.

13 ¶ He toke vp also the cloke of Eliáh that fel from him, and returned, and stode by the banke of Iordén.

14 After, he toke the cloke of Eliáh, that fel from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Eliáh, and he him selfe? Againe also he smote the waters, and thei were separated this waye and that waye: and Elishá went ouer.

15 And when the children of the Prophetes, which were at Ierichó, sawe him on the otherside, they said, i The Spirit of Eliáh doeth rest on Elishá: and they came to mete him, & fel to the grounde before him,

16 And said vnto him, Beholde now, there be with thy seruants fittie strong men: let them go, we pray thee, and seke thy k master, if so be the Spirit of the Lord hathe taken him vp, and cast him vpon some mountaine, or into some valley. But he said, l Ye shal not send.

17 Yet they were instant vpon him, til he was ashamed: wherefore he said, Send. So thei sent fittie mé, which sought thre daies, but founde him not.

18 Therefore thei returned to him, (for he taried at Ierichó) and he said vnto them, Did not I say vnto you, Go not?

19 ¶ And the man of the citie said vnto Elishá, Beholde, we pray thee: the situacion of this citie is pleasant, as thou, my lord, seest, but the water is noght, & the groude baren.

20 Then he said, Bring me a newe cruse, & put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast there m the salt, and said, Thus saith the Lord, I haue healed this water: death shal no more come thereof, nether barenes to the grounde.

22 So the waters were healed vntil this day, according to y worde of Elishá which he had spoken.

23 ¶ And he wét vp from thence vnto Beth-él. And as he was going vp the waye, litle children came out of the citie, and mocked him, and said vnto him, Come vp, thou balde head, come vp, thou balde head.

24 And he turned backe & loked on them, and a curfed them in the Name of the Lord. And two beares came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourtie children of them.

25 So he went from thence to mount Carmél, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

 5 But when Aháb was deade, the King of Moáb rebelled against the King of Israël.
 6 Therefore King Iehorám went out of Samaria the same season, and nombred all Israël, 7 And went, and sent to Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh, saying, The Kíng of Moáb hath rebelled against me: wilt thou go with me to battel against Moáb? And he answered, I wil go vp: for ^d I am, as thou art, my people, as thy people, and mine horses as thine horses.

10 And in the morning when the meat offering was offered, behold, there came water by the way of Edóm: and the countrey was filled with water.
 11 And when all the Moabites heard that the Kings were come vp to fight against them, they gathered all that was able to put on harness, and vpwarde, and stode in their border.
 12 And they rose early in the morning, when the sunne arose vpon the water, & the Moabites sawe the water ouer against them, as red as blood.

h He knewe y^e this wicked King wolde haue but vsed his counsel to serue his turne, & therefore he disdaind to answer him.

i The wicked esteeme not the seruants of God, but when they are drinē by very necessitie & feare of y^e present danger.

k God suffreth his worde to be declared to the wicked, because of the goldie that are among the.

l He sig songs to Gods glorie, and so stirred vp y^e Prophetes heart to prophetic.

m He wil not onely miraculously giue you waters, but your enemies also into your hand.

n Though God bestowe his benefites for a time vpon his enemies, yet he hath his seasons, when he wil take them away, to the intent they might see his vengeance, & is prepared against them.

8 Then said he, What way shal we go vnto? And he answered, The way of the wilderness of Edóm.
 9 So went the King of Israël & the King of Iudáh, and the King of Edóm, and when they had compassed the way seuen daies, they had no water for the hoste, nor for the cattel that followed them.
 10 Therefore the King of Israël said, Alas, that y^e Lord hath called these thre Kíngs, to giue them into the hand of Moáb.

11 But Iehoshaphát said, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him? And one of the King of Israels seruants answered, & said, Here is Elishá y^e sonne of Shaphát, which powred water on the hands of Eliáh.

12 Then Iehoshaphát said, s The worde of the Lord is with him. Therefore the King of Israël, and Iehoshaphát, and the King of Edóm went downe to him.

13 And Elishá said vnto the King of Israël, h What haue I to do with thee? Get thee to the Prophetes of thy father and to the Prophetes of thy mother. And the King of Israël said vnto him, i Naye: for the Lord hath called these thre Kings, to giue them into the hand of Moáb.

14 Then Elishá said, As the Lord of hostes liueth, in whose sight I stand, if it were not, that I regarde the presence of Iehoshaphát the King of Iudáh, I wolde k not haue loked toward thee, nor sene thee.

15 But now bring me a minstrel. And when the minstrel l played, the hand of the Lord came vpon him.

16 And he said, Thus saith the Lord, Make this valley ful of dyches.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Ye shal nether se winde nor se raine, yet the valley shal be filled with water, that ye may drinke, bothe ye and your cattel, and your beastes.

18 But this is a m small thing in the sight of the Lord: for he wil giue Moáb into your hand.

19 And ye shal smite euerie strong towne and euerie chief citie, and shal sel euerie fayre tre, and shal stop all the fountaines of water, and n marre euerie good field with stones.

13 And they said, o This is blood: y^e Kings are surely slayne, and one hath smiten another: now therefore, Moáb, to y^e spoile.

14 And when they came to the hoste of Israël, the Israëlites arose vp, and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them, but they p iauaded them, and smote Moáb.

15 And they destroyed the cities: and on all the good field euerie mā cast his stone, & filled them, & they stopte all the fountaines of water, and felled all the good trees: onely in q Kir-haráseth left they the stones thereof: howbeit they wēt about it with slings, and smote it.

16 And when the King of Moáb sawe that the battel was to sore for him, he toke with him seuen hundred men that drew the sword to breake through vnto the King of Edóm: but they coulde not.

17 Thē he toke his eldest sonne, that shulde haue reigned in his steade, & r offered him for a burnt offering vpon the wall: so that Israël was sore grieved, and they departed from him, and returned to their countrey.

CHAP. IIII.

 12 He obremeth for the Sennammite a sonne as Gods hand 28 Who dyng. 32 He raiseth him vp againe.
 40 He maketh sweete the pottage. 42 And multiplieth the loaves.

1 And one of the wiues a of the sonnes of the Prophetes cryed vnto Elishá, saying, Thy seruāt mine housband is dead, and thou knowest, that thy seruāt did b feare the Lord: and the creditour is come to take my two sonnes to be his c bondemen.

2 Then Elishá said vnto her, What shal I do for thee d tel me, what hast thou at home. And she said, Thine handmayd hath nothing at home, saue a d pytcher of oyle.

3 And he said, Go, and borrow thee vessels abroade of all thy neighbours, empty vessels, & spare not.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the dore vpon thee & vpon thy sonnes, and powie out into e all those vessels and set aside those that are ful.

b And therefore fel not into det by vntirifines or prodigality, but by the hand of the Lord.

c Because I am poore and not able to pay.

d Thus God suffreth his many times to be brought to extreme necessitie, before he succor them, that afterwarde they may y^e more praise his mercie.

e The Prophe declareth hereby vnto her, that God neuer faileth to poude for his seruants, their wiues & children, if they trust in him.

5 So she departed from him, and shut the dore vpon her, and vpon her sonnes. And they broght to her, and she powred out.

6 And when the vessels were ful, she said vnto her sonne, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said vnto her, There is no mo vessels. And the oyle^f ceased.

f To augment and increase in the vessels

7 Then she came and tolde the man of God. And he said, Go, and sel the oyle, & pay them that thou art in det vnto, and liue thou and thy children of the rest.

g God here did not onely prouide for his seruants, that his dees shoulde be payed, & so kept his doctrine and professiō without flāder, but also for his wife and children

8 ¶ And on a time Elishā came to Shunē, & there a woman of great estimation cost: aimed him to eat bread: and as he passed by, he turned in thether to eat bread.

h Which shoulde be separate from the rest of the house, that he might more comodiously giue him selfe to study and prayers.

9 And she said vnto her housbād, Beholde, I knowe now, that this is an holie man of God that passeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make^h him a litle chamber, I pray thee, with walles, and let vs set him there a bed and a table & a stole, and a candlesticke, that he may turne in thether whē he commeth to vs.

11 ¶ And on a day, he came thether and turned into the chamber, and laye therein;

12 And said to Gehazí his seruā, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, she stode before him.

i Thus the seruants of God are not vnthankful for the benefites they receyue 13 Then he said vnto him, Say vnto her now, Beholde, thou hast had all this great care for vs, what shal we do for thee? Is there anie thing to be spokē for thee to the King or to the captaine of the hoste? And she answered, I dwel among mine owne people.

k I am content with that that God hathe set me, and can want nothing that one cā do for another 14 Againe he said, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazí answered, In dede she hathe^l no sonne, and her housband is old.

l Which when was a reproche & therefore he wolde by his master shalde pray to God for her that she might be fruitful Gen. 18. 10.

15 Thē he said he, Call her. And he called her, and she stode in the dore.

16 And he said, At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a sonne. And she said, Oh my lord, thou man of God, do not lye vnto thine handmaid.

17 So the womā conceiued, and bare a sonne at that same season, according to the time of life, that Elishā had said vnto her.

18 ¶ And when the childe was growen, it fel on a day, that he went out to his father, & to the reapers.

m His head ached sore, and therefore he cryed thus.

19 And he said to his father, Mine head, mine head. Who said to his seruant, Bear him to his mother.

20 And he toke him and broght him to his mother, & he sate on her knees til noone, and dyed.

21 Then she went vp, and layed him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the dore vpon him, and went out.

22 ¶ Then she called to her housband, and said, Send with me, I pray thee, one of the yong mē & one of the asses: for I wil haste to the man of God, and come againe.

23 And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? it is nether a newe moone nor Sabbath day. And she answered, All shalbe wel.

n For at such times the people were wont to resorte to the Prophetes for doctrine and consolacion

24 Then she sadled an asse, and said to her seruant, Dryue, and go forwarde: stay not for me to get vp, except I bid thee.

25 ¶ So she went, & came vnto the man of God to mount Carmel. And whē the man of God saw her ouer against him, he said to Gehazí his seruant, Beholde, the Shunammite.

o Or, farre off

26 Runne now, I say, to mete her, and say vnto her, Art thou in helthe? is thine housband in helthe? & is the childe in helthe? And she answered, We are in helthe.

27 And when she came to the man of God vnto the mountaine, she caught him by his feet: and Gehazí went to her, to thrust her away: but the man of God said, Let her alone: for her soule is vexed within her: and the Lord hathe hid it from me, and hathe not tolde it me.

o In token of humilitie and joy that she had met with him

28 Then she said, Did I desire a sonne of my lord: did I not say, Discerne me not.

29 Thē he said to Gehazí, Gird thy loynes, and take my staffe in thine hand, and go thy way: if thou mete anie, salute him not: and if anie salute thee, answer him not: and lay my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

p Make suche speche that nothing may let thee in any way, Luk. 10. 4.

30 And the mother of the childe said, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazí was gone before thē, & had layed the staffe vpon the face of the childe, but he nether spake nor heard: wherefore he returned to mete him: and tolde him, saying, The childe is not waken.

32 ¶ Then came Elishā into the house, and beholde, the childe was dead, and layed vpon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and shut the dore vpon them twaine, and prayed vnto the Lord.

34 After he went vp, and lay vpon the childe, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes vpon his eyes, and his hand vpon his hands, and stretched him selfe vpon him, & the flesh of the childe waxed warme.

q The like did Elishā to the widowes sonne at Sarepta 1. King 17. 21 and 5 Paul Act. 20. 10 signifyng the care that ought to be in them, that beare the worde of God and are distributors of the spiratual life.

35 And he wēt from him, and walked vp and downe in the house, & went vp and spread him selfe vpon him: then the childe needed seuen times, and opened his eyes.

r Meaning oftentimes.

36 Then he called Gehazí, and said, Call this Shunammite. So he called her, which came in vnto him. And he said vnto her, Take thy sonne.

37 And she came, and fel at his feet, and bowed her selfe to the grounde, and toke vp her sonne, and went out.

38 Afterwarde Elishá returned to Gilgál, and a famine was in the land, and the childre of the Prophetes dwelt with him. And he said vnto his seruant, Set on the great pot, and seeke pottage for the children of the Prophetes.

39 And one went out into the field, to gather herbes, and founde, as it were, a wilde vine, and gathered thereof wilde gourdes his garment full, and came and shred them into the pot of pottage: for they knewe it not.

40 So they powred out for the men to eat: and when they did eat of the pottage, they cryed out, and said, O thou man of God, death is in the pot: and they colde not eat thereof.

41 The he said, Bring meale. And he cast it into the pot, and said, Powre out for the people, that they may eat: & there was none euil in the pot.

42 ¶ Then came a man from Baal-shalísha, and broght the man of God bread of the first frutes, euen twentie loaues of barley, & full eares of corne in y huske. And he said, Giue vnto the people, that they may eat.

43 And his seruant answered, How shulde I set this before an hundred men? He said againe, Giue it vnto the people that they may eat: for thus sayth the Lord, They shal eat, and there shal remaine.

44 So he set it before them, and they did eat, and left ouer, according to the worde of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

1 Naamán the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Elisha refuseth his gifts 27 Geház is striken with leprosie, because he toke money, & raimēt of Naamán.

1 NOW was there one Naamán captaine of the hoste of the King of Arám, a great man, and honorable in the sight of his lord, because that by him y Lord had deliuered the Aramites. He also was a mightie man and valiant, but a lepre.

2 And the Aramites had gone out by bandes, & had taken a litle maid of the land of Israél, and she serued Naamans wife.

3 And she said vnto her maistres, Wolde God my lord were with the Prophet that is in Samaria. he wolde soone deliuer him of his leprosie.

4 And he went in, and tolde his lord, saying, Thus and thus saith the maid that is of the land of Israél.

5 And the King of Arám said, Go thy way thether, and I wil send a letter vnto the King of Israél. And he departed, and toke with him ten talents of siluer, and six thousand pieces of golde, and ten charge of raiments,

6 And broght the letter to the King of Is-raél to this effect, Now when this letter is come vnto thee, vnderstād, that I haue sent thee Naamán my seruāt, that thou mayest heale him of his leprosie.

7 And when the King of Israél had red the letter, he rent his clothes, and said, Am I God, to kil and to giue life, that he doeth send to me, that I shulde heale a man from his leprosie? wherefore considre, I pray you, and se how he seketh a quarel against me.

8 But when Elishá the man of God had heard that the King of Israél had rent his clothes, he sent vnto the King, saying, Wherefore hast thou rēt thy clothes? Let him come now to me, and he shal knowe, that there is a Prophet in Israél.

9 ¶ Then Naamán came with his horses, & with his charrets, and stode at the dore of the house of Elishá.

10 And Elishá sent a messenger vnto him, saying, Go and wash thee in Iordén seuen times, and thy flesh shal come againe to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed.

11 But Naamán was wroth & went away, and said, Beholde, I thought with my selfe, He wil surely come out, and stand, and call on the Name of the Lord his God & put his hand on the place, and heale the leprosie.

12 Are not Abaná and Pharpár, riuers of Damascus, better then all the waters of Israél? may I not wash me in them, and be cleansed? So he turned, and departed in displeasue.

13 But his seruants came, and spake vnto him, and said, Father, if the Prophet had comāded thee a great thing, woldest thou not haue done it? how muche rather then, whē he saith to thee, Wash, and be cleane?

14 Then went he downe, and washed him selfe seuen times in Iordén, according to the saying of the mā of God: and his flesh came againe, like vnto the flesh of a litle childe, and he was cleane.

15 ¶ And he turned againe to the man of God, he, and all his companie, and came & stode before him and said, Beholde, now I know that there is no God in all y worlde, but in Israél: now therefore, I pray thee, take a rewarde of thy seruant.

16 But he said, As the Lord liueth (before whome I stād) I wil not receiue it. And he wolde haue constrained him to receiue it, but he refused.

17 Moreouer Naamán said, Shal there not be giue to thy seruant two mules loade of this earth? for thy seruant wil hence for the offer nether burnt sacrifice, nor offering vnto anie other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 Herein the Lord be merciful vnto thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmón, to worship there, and Then he said, Take it vp to thee. And he stretched out his hand, and toke it.

Then the King of Arám was red against Israél and toke counsel with his seruants, and said, In suche and suche a place shal be my campe.

Therefore the man of God sent vnto the King of Israél, saying, Beware thou go not ouer to suche a place: for there the Aramites are come downe.

So the King of Israél sent to the place which the man of God tolde him, & war-

And the heart of the King of Arám was troubled for this thing: therefore he called his seruants and said vnto them, Wil ye not shew me, which of vs bewratheth our counsel to the King of Israél?

Then one of his seruants said, None, my lord, ó King, but Elishá the Prophet that is in Israél, telleth the King of Israél, euen the wordes that thou speakest in thy priuite chamber.

e There is noknoweth it, & discouereth it

And he said, Go, and espie where he is, that I may send and fetch him. And one that be with vs, are mo then they that be with them.

me, and I will lead you to the man whome ye seke. But he led them to Samaria.

20 And when they were come to Samaria, Elishá said, Lord, open their eyes that they may see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they sawe, and beholde, they were in the middes of Samaria.

21 And the King of Israél said vnto Elishá when he sawe them, My father, shal I smite them, shal I smite them?

22 And he answered, Thou shalt not smite them: dost thou not smite them that thou hast taken with thy sworde, & with thy bowe? but set bread and water before the, that they may eat and drinke and go to their master.

23 And he made great preparacion for the: & when they had eaten & dronken, he sent them away: and they went to their master. So the bands of Arám came no more into the land of Israél.

24 But afterwarde Ben-hadád King of Arám gathered all his hoste, and went vp, & besieged Samaria.

25 So there was a great famine in Samaria: for lo, they besieged it vntil an asses head was at foure score peces of siluer, and the fourth parte of a kab of dooues a doung at five peces of siluer.

26 And as the King of Israél was going vpon the wall, there cryed a woman vnto him, saying, Helpe, my lord, o King.

27 And he said, Seeing the Lord doeth not succour thee, how shulde I helpe thee with the barn, or with the wine presse?

28 Also y King said vnto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said vnto me, Giue thy sonne, that we may eat him to day, and we wil eat my sonne to-morowe.

29 So we sod my sonne, and did eat him: and I said to her the day after, Giue thy sonne, that we may eat him, but she hath hid her sonne.

30 And when the King had heard y wordes of the woman, he rent his clothes, (and as he went vpon the wall, the people looked, and beholde, he had sackcloth within vpon his flesh)

31 And he said, God do so to me and more also, if the head of Elishá the sone of Shaphát shal stand on him this day.

32 (Now Elishá sate in his house, and the Elders sate with him.) And the King sent a man before him: but before the messenger came to him, he said to the Elders, Se ye not how this murderer sonne hath sent to take away mine head? take hede when the messenger cometh, & shut the dore, and handle him roughly at the dore: is not the sound of his masters fete behind him?

33 While he yet talked with the, beholde, the messenger came downe vnto him, & said, Beholde, this euil cometh of y Lord: shulde I attend on the Lord any longer?

CHAP. VII.

1 Elishá propheseth plente of vntaile and other things to Samaria. 6 The Syrians runne away, and haue no man following them 17 The prince that wolde not beleue the worde of Elishá is troden to death.

1 Then Elishá said, Heare ye the worde of the Lord: thus saith the Lord, Tomorrow this time a measure of fine floure shalbe solde for a shekel, and two measutes of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince, on whose hand the King leaned, answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord wolde make windows in the heauens, colde this thing come to passe? And he said, Beholde, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but y shalt not eat thereof.

3 Now there were foure leprouse men at y entrie in of y gate: and they said one to another, Why sit we here vntil we dye?

4 If we say, We wil entrie into the citie, the famine is in the citie, & we shal dye there: and if we sit here, we dye also. Now therefore come, and let vs fall into the campe of the Aramites: if they saue our liues, we shal liue: & if they kil vs, we are but dead.

5 So they rose vp in the twilight, to go to the campe of the Aramites: and when they were come to the vmoste parte of the campe of the Aramites, lo, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had caused the campe of y Aramites to heare a noise of chariets & a noise of horses, & a noise of a great armie, so y they said one to another, Beholde, the King of Israél hath hired against vs the Kings of the Hittites, & the Kings of the Egyptians to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, & left their tentes & their horses, & their asses, euen the campe as it was, and s fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to y vmost part of the campe, they entred into one tent, and did eat and drinke, and caried thence siluer and golde, and raiment, and went and hid it: after they returned, and entred into another tent, & caried thence also, and went, and hid it.

9 Then said one to another, We do not wel: this day is a day of good tidings, and we holde our peace. if we tary til day light, some mischief wil come vpon vs. Now therefore come, let vs go, and tel the Kings housholde.

10 So they came, & called vnto the porters of the citie, & tolde the, saying, We came to the campe of the Aramites, & lo, there was no man there, nether voyce of man, but horses d Thy inuidie shalbe punished herein, whif thou shalt see this miracle & yet not be partaker thereof.

e For it was commanded in the Lawe that they shulde dwell aparte & not among their brethren, Leuit. 13. 46.

f Thus God nedeth no great preparacion to destroy the wicked, though they be neuer so many for he can scatter them with a small noise or shaking of a leafe.

g The wicked nedeth no greater enemy the their owne conscience to punish them.

11 And the porters cryed and declared to the Kings house within.

^h He mistrusts the Prophees wordes, & therefore colde beleue nothing, as they which are more politike then god-lieueser cast more perils then needeth

12 Then the King arose in the night, and said vnto his seruants, ^h I wil shewe you now, what the Aramites haue done vnto vs. They knowe that we are affamished, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide them selues in the field, saying, When thei come out of the citie, we shal cathe them aliue, and get into the citie.

^l There are no more left, but that, or the rest are consumed with the famine as the rest of the people. ^{407.} two horses of the chaires, which were accustomed to drawe in the chaire.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and said, Let men take now fiue of the horses that remaine, & are left in the citie, (beholde, they are euen as all the multitude of Israél that are left therein: beholde, I say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) & we wil send to se.

14 So they toke two chaires of horses, and the King sent after the hoste of the Aramites, saying, Go and se.

15 And they went after them vnto Iordén, and lo, all the way was ful of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste : & the messengers returned, and tolde the King.

16 Then the people went out and spoiled the campe of the Aramites: so a measure of fine floure was at a shekel, and two measures of barley at a shekel ^k according to ^ÿ worde of the Lord.

^k Which he spake by the mouth of Elisha ver 1

17 And the King gaue the prince (on whose hand he leaned) the charge of the gate, & the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed, as the man of God had said, which spake it, when the King came downe to him.

^l As the people preatled out of ^ÿ gate to runne to ^ÿ Syrians tentes where they had heard was meat, & great spoile left.

18 And it came to passe, as the man of God had spoken to the King, saying, Two measures of barley at a shekel and a measure of fine floure shalbe at a shekel, tomorrow about this time in the gate of Samaria.

19 But the prince had answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord wolde make windowes in the heauen, colde it come so to passe? And he said, Beholde, ^ÿ shalt se it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eat thereof.

20 And so it came vnto him: for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed.

Elisha prophesieth vnto the Shunammite the death of seven yere 12 He prophesieth to Hazael that he shalbe King of Syria 13 He reigneth after Benhadad. 16 Jeho ram reigneth ouer Iudáh. 20 Edóm falleth from Iudáh Oboz iab succedeth Iehoram.

^l Chap 4. 35. ^a Where thou canst finde a commodious place to dwell, where is no pleantie.

1 Then spake Elisha vnto the woman, ^h whose sonne he had restored to life, saying, Vp, and go, thou, and thine house, and sojourn where thou ^a canst sojourn: for the Lord hathe called for a famine, &

it cometh also vpon the land seven yeres. 2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, and went bothe she & her household and sojourned in the land of the Philistims seven yeres.

3 ¶ And at the seven yeres end, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistims and went out ^b to call vpon the King for her house and for her land.

^b That is to complaine on the which had taken her possession while she was absent.

4 And the King talked with Gehazi the seruant of the man of God, saying, Tel me, I praye thee, all the great actes, that Elisha hath done.

5 And as he tolde ^c the King, how he had restored one dead to life, beholde, the woman, whose sonne he had raised to life, called vpon the King for her house & for her land. Then Gehazi said, My lord, ^o King, this is the woman, and this is her sonne, whome Elisha restored to life.

^c Gods wonderful providence appeareth in this that he caused ^ÿ King to be desirous to heare of hⁱ, whome before he contemned, & also hereby prepared an entrance to the poore widowes sute.

6 And when the King asked the woman, she tolde him: so the King appointed her an Eunuche, saying, Restore thou all that are hers, and all the ^d frutes of her landes since ^ÿ day she left the land, euē vntil this time.

^d The King caused that to be iustly restored which was wrongfully holden from her

7 ¶ Then Elisha came to Damascus, & Benhadad the King of Aram was sicke. & one tolde him, saying, The man of God is come hether.

8 And the King said vnto Hazael, Take a present in thine hand, and go mete the man of God, that thou maiest inquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shal I recouer of this disease?

9 ¶ So Hazael went to mete him, and toke the present in his hand, and of euerie good thing of Damascus, euen the burden of forty camels, and came and stode before him, and said, Thy sonne Benhadad King of Aram hathe sent me to thee, saying, Shal I recouer of this disease?

^e Of all the chiefest & precious things of ^ÿ countrey.

10 And Elisha said to him, Go, & say vnto him, Thou shalt recouer: howbeit ^ÿ Lord hathe shewed me, that he shal surely dye. 11 And he loked vpon him stedfastly til Hazael was ashamed, and the man of God wept.

^f Meaning that he shulde recouer of this disease: but he knewe ^ÿ this messenger Hazael shulde slay him to obtaine the kingdom.

12 And Hazael said, Why wepeth my lord? And he answered, Because I knowe the euil that thou shalt do vnto the children of Israél: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fyre, and their yong men shalt thou slay with the sworde, and shalt dash their infants against the stones, & rent in pieces their women with childe.

13 Then Hazael said, What is thy seruant a dog, that I shulde do this great thing? And Elisha answered, The Lord hathe shewed me, ^ÿ thou shalt be King of Aram.

^g That I shulde be without all humane and pittie.

14 ¶ So he departed from Elisha, and came to his master, who said to him, What said Elisha to thee? And he answered, He tolde me that thou shuldest recouer.

buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid. And Ahaziáh his sonne reigned in his steade.

25 ¶ In the twelfē yere of Ioram the sonne of Aháb King of Israél did Ahaziáh the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudáh begin to reigne.

ziáh when he began to reigne, & he reigned one yere in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Athaliáh y^e daughter of Omri King of Israél.

27 And he walked in the way of the house of Aháb, and did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Aháb: for he was the sonne in lawe of the house of Aháb.

28 And he went with Ioram the sonne of Aháb to warre against Hazaél King of Aram in Ramóth Gileád, and the Arami-tes smote Ioram.

29 And King Ioram returned to be healed in Izreél of the wounds which the Aramites had giuen him at Ramáh, when he fought against Hazaél King of Arám.
And Ahaziáh the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudáh went downe to see Ioram the sonne of Aháb in Izreél, because he was sicke.

CHAP. IX.

6 Iehú is made King of Israél, 24 And killeth Iehoram the King thereof, 27 And Ahaziáh, otherwise called Ochozias, the King of Iudáh, 33 And causeth Iezé-bel to be cast downe out of a window, and the dogs did eat her.

1 ¶ Then Elishá the Prophet called one of the children of the Prophetes, and said vnto him, * a Garde thy loynes and take this boxe of oyle in thine hand, and get thee to Ramóth Gileád.

2 And when thou commist thither, loke where is Iehú the sonne of Iehoshaphát, the sonne of Nimshi, and go, and make him arise vp from among his brethren, & lead him to a secret chamber.

3 Then take the boxe of oyle, and powre it on his head, & say, Thus sayeth the Lord,
I haue anointed thee for King ouer Israél.
then open the dore, and flee without anie tarying.

4 So the seruant of the Prophet gate him to Ramóth Gileád.

5 And whē he came in, beholde, the captai-nes of the armie were sitting. And he said,
I haue a message to thee, o captaine. And Iehú said, Vnto which of all vs? And he answered, To thee, o captaine.

6 And he arose, and went into the house, and he powred the oyle on his head, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, I haue anointed thee for King ouer the people of the Lord, ouer Israraél.

7 And thou shalt smite the house of Aháb thy master, that I may auenge the blood of my seruants the Prophetes, & the blood of all the seruants of the Lord * of the hand of Iezébel.

8 For the whole house of Aháb shalbe destroyed: and * I wil cut of from Aháb, him that maketh water against the wall, as wel him that is shut vp, as him that is left in Israél.

9 And I wil make the house of Aháb like the house * of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, & like the house * of Baashá the sonne of Ahiáh.

10 And the dogs shal eat Iezébel in the field of Izreél, and there shalbe none to burye her. And he opened the dore, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Iehú came out to the seruants of his lord. And one said vnto him, Is all wel? wherefore came this mad fellowe to thee? And he said vnto them, Ye knowe the man, and what his talke was.

12 And they said, It is false, tel vs it now.

16 So Iehú gate vp into a charet, and went to Izreél: for Iorám laye there, and * Ahaziáh King of Iudáh was come downe to se Iorám.

e God had thus ordeined, as is red 2 Chro 22.7. y this wicked & idolatrous King, who was more ready to gratifie wicked Iorám, thē to obey y wil of God, thulde perish w him, by whose meanes he thought to haue bene stronger.

17 And the watchman that stode in the towre in Izreél, spyed the companie of Iehú as he came, and said, I se a companie. And Iehorám said, Take a horseman and send to mete them, that he may say, Is it peace?

18 So there went one on horsebacke to mete him, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Iehú said, What hast thou to do with peace? turne behinde me. And the watchemā tolde, saying, The messenger came to them, but he commeth not againe.

Or, followe me.

19 Then he sent out another on horsebacke, which came to them, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Iehú answered, What hast thou to do with peace? turne behinde me.

20 And the watchman tolde, saying, He came to them also, but commeth not againe, and the marching is like the marching of Iehú the sonne of Nimshí: for he marcheth furiously.

f As one that went earnestly about his enterprise.

21 ¶ Then Iehorám said, Make readie: and his charet was made readie. And Iehorám King of Israel and Ahaziáh King of Iudáh went out ether of them in his charet against Iehú, and met him in the field of Nabóth the Izreelite.

22 And when Iehorám sawe Iehú, he said, Is it peace, Iehú? And he answered, What is peace? the whoredomes of thy mother Iezébel, and her witchcraftes are yett in great number.

g Meaning, that forasmuche as God is their enemy because of their finnes, that he will euer stirre vp some to reuenge his cause.

23 Then Iehorám turned his hand, & fled, and said to Ahaziáh, O Ahaziáh, there is treason.

24. But Iehú toke a bowe in his hand, and smote Iehorám betwene the sholders, that the arrowe went through his heart: and he fel downe in his charet.

25 Thē said Iehú to Bidkár a captaine, Take, & cast him in some place of the field of Nabóth the Izreelite: for I remember that when I and thou rode together after Aháb his father, the Lord^o layed this burden vpon him.

Or, shake the prophete against him. 1 King 22.28

26 * Surely I haue sene yesterday the blood of Nabóth, and the blood of his^b sonnes, said the Lord, and I wil render it thee in this field: saith the Lord: now therefore take and cast him in the field, according to the worde of the Lord.

h By this place it is cundē, that Iezébel caused bothe Nabóth & his sonnes to be put to death y Aháb might enioye his vineyarde more quietly: for els his children might haue claimed possession. 1 After that he was wounded in Samaria he fled to Megiddó, which was a citie of Iudáh.

27 But when Ahaziáh the King of Iudáh sawe this, he fled by the way of the gardé house: and Iehú pursued after him, & said, Smite him also in the charet: & thei smote him in the going vp to Gur, which is by Ibleám. And he fled to Megiddó, and there dyed.

28 And his seruants caryed him in a charet to Ierusalém, & buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in y citie of Daurid.

k That is, eleuen whole yeres: for Chap. 8.25 before, when he said that he began to reigne the twelthe yere of Iorám, he taketh parte of y yere for the whole.

29 ¶ And in the^k eleuenth yere of Iorám the sonne of Aháb, begā Ahaziáh to reigne ouer Iudáh.

l B. King of an haute & cruel nature, she wolde still retaine her princelic state and dignitie.

30 And when Iehú was come to Izreél, Iezébel heard of it, and painted her face, and tired her head, & looked out at a wyndow.

31 And as Iehú entred at the gate, she said, Had^m Zimrí peace, w^e slewe his master?

m As though she wolde say, Can any traitor, or any y riseth against his superior, haue good success? read f 1 King 16.10.

32 And he lift vp his eyes to the windowe, and said, Who is on my side, who? Then two or thre of herⁿ Eunuchs looked vnto him.

n This he did by the motion of the Spirit of God, y her blood shulde be shed, that had shed the blood of innocents, to be a spectacle and example of Gods iudgements to all tyrants.

33 And he said, Cast her downe: and they cast her downe, and he spinkled of her blood vpon the wall, and vpon the horses, and he trode her vnder fote.

34 And whē he was come in, he did eat and drinke, and said, Visite now yonder cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a Kings daughter.

o To wit, of y Kíng of Zidon, 1 King. 16.31. Or, chief seruants.

35 And thei went to bury her, but thei found no more of her then the skul & the scete, and the palmes of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came againe and tolde him. And he said, This is the worde of the Lord, which he spake by his seruāt Eliiáh the Tishbite, saying, * In the field of Izreél shal the dogs eat the flesh of Iezébel.

37 And the carkers of Iezébel shalbe as doung vpō the grounde in the field of Izreél, so y none shal say, P This is Iezébel.

p Thus Gods iudgements appear enen in this worlde against the that suppress his worde & persecute his seruants.

CHAP. X.

6 Iehú causeth the seuentie sonnes of Aháb to be slayne. 13 And after that forty and two of Ahazabhs brethren he killeth also all the priests of Baal 35 After his death, his sonne reigneeth in his steade.

1 A Háb had now seuentie^a sonnes in Samaria. And Iehú wrote letters, & sent to Samaria vnto the rulers of Izreél, & to the Elders, and to the bringers vp of Ahabs children, to this effect, a The Scripture vseth to call the sonnes y are ether children, or nephewes.

2 Now when this letter commeth to you, (for ye haue with you your masters sonnes, ye haue with you bothe chariats and horses, and a defended citie, and armour)

3 Consider therefore which of your masters sonnes is best and moste mete, & set him on his fathers throne, and fight for your masters house.

4 But thei were exceedingly afraied, & said, Beholde, two Kings colde not stand before him, how shal we then stand?

5 And he that was gouernour of Ahabs house, and he that ruled the citie, and the Elders, and the bringers vp of the childre sent to Iehú, saying, We are thy seruants, and wil do all that thou shalt byd vs: we wil make no King: do what semeth good to thee.

6 ¶ Then he wrote another letter to them, sayig, If ye be mine, & wil obey my voice, take the heades of the men that are your masters sonnes, and come to me to Izreél by tomorowe this time. (Now the Kings sonnes, euens seuentie persones were with the great men of the citie, which brought them vp)

7 And when the letter came to them, they toke the Kings sonnes, and slewe the seuentie persones, and laied their heades in baskets, and sent them vnto him to Izreél.

8 ¶ Then there came a messenger & tolde him, saying, Thei haue broght the heades of the Kings sonnes. And he said, Let the lay them on two heapes at the entring in of the gate vntil the morning.

9 And whē it was day, he went out, & stode & said to all the people, Ye be righteous: beholde, I conspired against my master, & slewe him: but who slewe all these?

10 Knowe now that there shal fall vnto the earth nothing of the worde of the Lord, which the Lord spake concerning y^e house of Aháb: for the Lord hathe broght to passe the things that he spake by his seruant Eliáh.

11 So Iehú slewe all that remayned of the house of Aháb in Izreél, and all that were great with him, and his familiars and his priests, so that he let none of his remaine.

12 ¶ And he arose, and departed and came to Samaria. And as Iehú was in the waye by an house where the shepherdes did there, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziáh King of Iudáh and said, Who are ye? And thei answered, We are the brethren of Ahaziáh, & go downe to salute the children of the King and the children of the queene.

14 And he said, Take them aliue. And thei toke them aliue, & slewe them at the well beside the house where y^e shepe are shorne, euens two and fourtie men, and he left not one of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he met with Iehonadáb the sonne of Recháb comming to mete him, and he blessed him, and said to him, Is thine heart vp-right, as mine heart is toward thine? And Iehonadáb answered, Yea, douteles. Then giue me thine hand. And when he had giuen him his hand, he toke him vp to him into the charet.

16 And he said, Come with me, and see the zeale that I haue for the Lord: so they made him ryde in his charet.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slewe all that remained vnto Aháb in Samaria, til he had destroyed him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake to Eliáh.

18 Then Iehú assembled all the people, and said vnto them, Aháb serued Bál a litle, but Iehú shal serue him muche more.

19 Now therefore call vnto me all the prophets of Bál, all his seruants, and all his priests, and let not a man be lacking: for I haue a great sacrifice for Bál: whosoever is lacking, he shal not liue. But Iehú did it by a subtiltie to destroye the seruants of Bál.

20 And Iehú said, Proclaime a solempne assēblie for Bál. And thei proclaimed it.

21 So Iehú sent vnto all Israél, and all the seruants of Bál came, and there was not a mā left that came not. And thei came into the house of Bál, & the house of Bál was ful from end to end.

22 Then he said vnto him that had y^e charge of the vestric, Bring forth the vestements for all the seruants of Bál. And he broght them out vestements.

23 And when Iehú went, & Iehonadáb the sonne of Recháb into the house of Bál, he said vnto the seruants of Bál, Searche diligently, and loke, lest there be here with you any of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Bál onely.

24 And when thei went in to make sacrifice & burnt offering, Iehú appointed fourescore men without, and said, If anye of the men whome I haue broght into your hands, escape, his soule shall be for his soule.

25 And when he had made an end of the burnt offering, Iehú said to the garde, and to the captaines, Go in, slaye them, let not a man come out. And they smote the with the edge of the sworde. And the garde, and the captaines cast them out, & went vnto the citie, where was the temple of Bál.

26 And they broght out the images of the temple of Bál, and burnt them.

27 And they destroyed the image of Bál, and threwe downe the house of Bál, and made iakes of it vnto this day.

28 So Iehú destroyed Bál out of Israél.

Againe he said, Take the arowes. And he toke them. And he said vnto the King of Israél, Smite the ground. And he smote thrise, and ceased.

20 And they brought him on horses, and he was buryed at Ierusalém with his fathers in the cite of Dauid.

21 Then all the people of Iudáh toke Azariáh, which was sixtene yere olde, and made him King for his father Amaziáh.

22 He buylt Elath, and restored it to Iudáh, after the King slept with his fathers.

23 ¶ In the fiftenth yere of Amaziáh the sonne of Ioash King of Iudáh, was Ieroboám the sonne of Ioash made King ouer Israél in Samaria, & reigned one and fourtie yere.

24 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the sinnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

25 He restored the coast of Israél, from the entring of Hamáth, vnto the Sea of the wilderness, accordig to the worde of the Lord God of Israél, which he spake by his seruant Ionáh the sonne of Amittai the Prophet, which was of Gath Hépher.

26 For the Lord sawe the exceeding bitter affliction of Israél, so that there was none shut vp, nor any left, nether yet any that colde helpe Israél.

27 Yet the Lord had not decreed to put out the name of Israél from vnder the heauen: therefore he preserued them by the hand of Ieroboám the sonne of Ioash.

9 And did euil in the sight of the Lord, as did his fathers: for he departed not from the sinnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

10 And Shallúm the sonne of Iabésh conspired against him, & smote him in the sight of the people, and killed him, & reigned in his steade.

11 Concerning the rest of the actes of Zachariáh, beholde, they are writē in y boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

12 This was the worde of the Lord, which he spake vnto Iehú, sayig, Thy sonnes shal sit on the throne of Israél vnto y fourte generation after thee. And it came so to passe.

13 ¶ Shallúm the sonne of Iabésh began to reigne in the nine and thirtieth yere of Vzziáh King of Iudáh: and he reigned the space of a moneth in Samaria.

14 For Menahém the sonne of Gadí went vp from Tirzáh, and came to Samaria, & smote Shallúm the sonne of Iabésh in Samaria, & slew him, & reigned in his steade.

15 Concerning the rest of the actes of Shallúm, and the treason which he wrought, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

17 The nine and thirtieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh, began Menahém the sonne of Gadí to reigne ouer Israél, & reigned ten yeres in Samaria.

18 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, and departed not all his dayes from the sinne of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

19 ¶ The Phul the King of Asshúr came against the land: & Menahém gaue Phul a thousand talents of siluer, that his had might be with him, & establisth the kingdome in his hand.

24 And he did euil in the sight of y Lord: for he departed not fró the sinnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

25 And Pékah the sonne of Remaliáh, his captaine cōspired against him, and smote him in Samaria in the place of the Kings palate with Argób and Ariéh, and with him fifty men of the Gileadites: so he killed him, and reigned in his steade.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pekahiáh, and all that he did, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

27 In the two and fiftieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh began Pékah the sonne of Remaliáh to reigne ouer Israél in Samaria, and reigned twentie yere.

28 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from the sinnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, that made Israél to sinne.

29 In the dayes of Pékah King of Israél, came Tiglath Pileser King of Asshúr, and toke Ión, & Abél, Beth-maacháh, & Iánoah, and Kedésh, and Hazór, and Gileád, and Galiláh, & all the land of Naphthalí, and caried them away to Asshúr.

30 And Hoshéa the sonne of Eláh wrought treason against Pékah the sonne of Remaliáh, and smote him, and slewe him, & reigned in his steade in the twentieth yere of Iothám the sonne of Vzziáh.

1 The seuententh yere of Pekáh the sonne of Remaliáh, Aház the sonne of Iothám King of Iudáh began to reigne. 2 Twentie yere olde was Aház, when he began to reigne, and he reigned sixtene yere in Ierusalém, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord his God, like Daudid his father:

a This was a wicked sonne of a godlie father, as of him againe came godlie Ezekiah, and of him wicked Manasseh, saue that God in the end shewed him mercie, thus we see how vncertaine it is to depend on the dignitie of our fathers. b That is, offered hito Moloch, or made him vp parte betweene two fyres, as y maner of the Gentiles was, Leu. 21, 18, Deu. 18, 10. Isa. 7, 1.

3 But walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, yea, & made his sonne to go thorrow the fyre, after the abominations of the heathē, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Also he offered and burnt incense in the hie places and on the hilles, & vnder euerigreeme tre.

5 Then Rezin King of Arám and Pekáh sonne of Remaliáh King of Israel came vp to Ierusalém to fight: & they besieged Aház, but colde not ouercome him.

6 At the same time Rezin King of Arám restored Eláth to Arám, and droue the Iewes fro Eláth: so the Aramites came to Eláth, and dwelt there vnto this day.

e For the Lord preferred the citie and his people for his promes sake made to Daudid. Which citie Azariáh had taken from the Aramites and fortified it, Chap 14, 22. e Contrary to the admonitiō of the Prophets, Isa. 1, 7, 4. f Thus he spared not to spoile the Temple of God to haue succour of men, and wolde not once lift his heart toward God to desire his helpe, nor yet heare his Prophets counsel.

7 Then Aház sent messengers to Tiglath Pilefár King of Asshúr, saying, I am thy seruant and thy sonne: come vp, and deliuer me out of the hand of the King of Arám, and out of the hand of the King of Israel which rise vp against me.

8 And Aház toke the siluer and the golde that was foude in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the Kings house, and sent a present vnto the King of Asshúr.

9 And the King of Asshúr consented vnto him: and the King of Asshúr went vp against Damascus. and when he had take it, he caried the people away to Kir, and slewe Rezin.

10 And King Aház went vnto Damascus, to mete Tiglath Pilefár King of Asshúr: and when King Aház sawe the altar that was at Damascus, he sent to Vriiáh the Priest the patern of the altar, and the faccion of it, and all the workmanship thereof.

11 And Vriiáh the Priest made an altar in all pointes like to that which King Aház had sent from Damascus, so did Vriiáh the Priest against King Aház came from Damascus.

g We see that there is no price so wicked, but he shall finde a treasura & false ministers to serue his tyme.

12 So when the King was come from Damascus, the King sawe the altar: & the King drewe nere to the altar and offered the reon.

13 And he burnt his burnt offering, and his meat offering, & powdered his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings besides the altar,

14 And set it by the brasen altar which was before the Lord, and broght it in farther before the house betwene the altar and the house of the Lord, & set it on the Northside of the altar.

15 And King Aház commaded Vriiáh the Priest and said, Vpon the great altar set on fyre in the morning the burnt offering, and in the euen the meat offering, and the Kings burnt offering and his meat offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings: and powre thereby all the blood of the burnt offering, and all the blood of the sacrifice, and the brasen altar shall be for me to inquire of God.

16 And Vriiáh the Priest did according to all that King Aház had commanded.

17 And King Aház brake the borders of the bases, and toke downe the caldrons from of them, and toke downe the sea from the brasen oxen that were vnder it, and put it vpon a pavement of stones.

18 And the waile for the Sabbáth (that they had made in the house) & the Kings entrie without turned to the house of the Lord, because of the King of Asshúr.

19 Concerning the rest of the actes of Aház, which he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

20 And Aház slept with his fathers, & was buried with his fathers in the citie of Daudid, & Hezekiáh his sonne reigned in his steade.

5 Then the King of Asshur came vp throughout all the land, and went against Samaria, and besieged it thre yere.

6 ¶ In the ninth yere of Hoshea, the King of Asshur toke Samaria, and caryed Israél away vnto Asshur, and put them in Halah, and in Habór by the riuier of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

7 For when the children of Israél sinned against the Lord their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharaoh King of Egypt, and feared other gods,

8 And walked according to the facions of the heathen, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israél, and after the maners of the Kings of Israél, which they vsed,

9 And the children of Israél had done secretly things that were not vpright before the Lord their God, and throughout all their cities had buylt hie places, bothe from the towre e of the watche, to the defended citie,

10 And had made them images and groues vpon euerie hie hil, and vnder euerie grene tre,

11 And there burnt incense in all the hie places, as did the heathen, whome the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to angre the Lord,

12 And serued idoles: whereof the Lord had said vnto them, * Ye shal do no suche thing, 13 Notwithstanding the Lord testified to Israél, and to Iudah " by all the Prophetes, and by all the Seers, saying, * Turne from your euil waies, & kepe my comandements & my statutes, according to all the Lawe, which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my seruants the Prophetes.

14 Neuertheles they wolde not obey, * but hardened their neckes, like to the neckes of their f fathers, that did not beieue in the Lord their God.

15 And they refused his statutes and his couenant, that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies (wherewith he witnessed vnto them) and they followed vanitie, and became vaine, & followed the heathen that were rounde about them: concerning whome, the Lord had charged them, that they shulde not do like them.

16 Finally they left the comandements of the Lord their God, and made them molten images, * euen two calues, & made a groue, and worshiped all the e hoste of heauen; and serued Baal.

17 And they made their sonnes and their daughters h passe through the fyre, and v-fed witchcraft and enchantements, yea, i solde them selues, to do euil in the sight of the Lord, to angre him.

18 Therefore y Lord was exceeding wroth with Israél, and put them out of his sight, and none was left but the tribe of Iudá k onely.

19 Yet Iudáh kept not the comandements of the Lord their God; but walked according to the facion of Israél, which they vsed.

20 Therefore the Lord cast of all the sede of Israél, and afflicted them, & deliuered them into the hands of spoylers, vntil he had cast them out of his l sight.

21 m For he cut of Israél from the house of Dauid, and they made Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát King: & Ieroboám drewe Israél away from following the Lord and made them sinne a great sinne.

22 For the children of Israél walked in all the sinnes of Ieroboám, which he did, and departed not therefrom, 23 Vntil the Lord put Israél away out of his sight, as he had said n by all his seruants the * Prophetes, & caryed Israél away out of their land to Asshur vnto this day.

24 And the King of Asshur brought folke from Babel, and from n Cutháh, and from Auá, and from Hamáth, and from Sepharuáim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in steade of the children of Israél: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 ¶ And at the beginning of their dwelling there, thei o feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent lyons among them, which slewe them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the King of Asshur, saying, The nations which thou hast ieroued, and placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the maner of y God of the land: therefore he hath sent lyons among them, and beholde, they slay them, because they knowe not the maner of the God of the land.

27 Then the King of Asshur commanded, saying, Cary thether one of the priests, whome ye brought thence, and let him go and dwel there, & teache them the maner of the God p of the countrey.

28 So one of the priests, which they had caryed from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they shulde feare the Lord.

to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, & Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh said vnto them, Tel ye Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayth the great King, euen the great King of Asshur, What confidence is this wherein y trustest?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I haue eloquence, & counsel and strength are for the warre. On whome then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Lo, thou trustest now in this broken staffe of reede, to wit, on Egypt, on which if a man leane, it wil go into his had, & peare it: so is Pharaoh King of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if ye say vnto me, We trust in y Lord our God, is not that he whose he places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Iudah and Ierusalem, Ye shal worship before this altar in Ierusalem?

23 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Asshur, and I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set riders vpon them.

24 For how canst thou despise any captain of the least of my masters seruants, & put thy trust on Egypt for charrets and horsemen?

25 Am I now come vp without the lord to this place, to destroy it? the lord said to me, Go vp against this land, & destroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah and Shebnah, and Ioah said vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, for we vnderstand it, and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshakeh said vnto the, Hathe my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men which sit on the wall, that they may eat their owne dounge, & drinke their owne pisse with you?

28 So Rabshakeh stode and cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, & spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Asshur.

29 Thus sayth the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shal not be able to deliuer you out of mine hand.

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord wil surely deliuer vs, and this citie shal not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerie man may eat of his owne vine, and euerie man of his owne figtre, and drinke euerie man of the water of his owne well, 32 Til I come, and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, a land of oliues oyle, & hony that ye may liue and not dye: and obey not Hezekiah, for he deceiuech you, saying, The Lord wil deliuer vs.

33 Hathe any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

34 Where is the god of Hamah, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim, Henna and Iuah? how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the nations, that haue deliuered their land out of mine hand, that the Lord shulde deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and answered not him a worde: for the Kings commandment was, saying, Answer ye him not.

37 Then Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah was steward of the house & Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

1 About that time was Hezekiáh sicke vnto death: and y Prophet Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz came to him, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Loid, Put thine house in an ordre: for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

2 Then he turned his face to the wall, & prayed to the Lord, saying,

3 I beseeche thee, O Loid, remember now, how I haue walked before thee in trueth & with a b persit heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiáh c wept sore.

4 ¶ And afore Isaiáh was gone out into the middle of the court, the worde of the Lord came to him, saying,

5 Turne againe, and tel Hezekiáh the captaine of my people, Thus sayth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy d prayer, and sene thy teares: beholde, I haue healed thee, and the third day thou shalt go vp to the e house of the Lord,

6 And I wil adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yere, & wil deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the King of Asshur, and wil defend this citie for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

7 Then Isaiáh said, Take a f lompe of drye figs. And they toke it, and layed it on the boyle, and he recovered.

8 ¶ For Hezekiáh had said vnto Isaiáh, What shalbe the signe that the Lord wil heale me, and that I shal go vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

9 And Isaiáh answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil do that he hath spoken, Will thou that the shadowe go forwarde ten degrees, or go backe ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiáh answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to passe forwarde ten degrees: not so thou, but let the shadowe g go backe ten degrees.

11 And Isaiáh the Prophet called vnto the Loid, and he brought againe the shadowe tē degrees backe by the degrees wherby it had gone downe in the h dial of Aház.

12 ¶ The same season Berodách Baladán

the sonne of Baladán King of Babel, sent letters and a p present to Hezekiáh: for he had heard how that Hezekiáh was sicke

13 And Hezekiáh heard them, and shewed them all his treasure house, to wit, the siluer, & the golde, & the spices, and the precious ointment, & all the house of his armour, and all that was founde in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in all his k realme, that Hezekiáh shewed them not.

14 Then Isaiáh the Prophet came vnto King Hezekiáh, and said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiáh said, They be come from a farre countrey, euen from Babel.

15 Then said he, What haue they sene in thine house? And Hezekiáh answered, All that is in mine house haue they sene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

16 And Isaiáh said vnto Hezekiáh, Heare the worde of the Loid.

17 Beholde, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and what soeuer thy fathers haue laied vp in store vnto this day, * shal be carried into Babel: Nothing shalbe left, saith the Lord.

18 And of thy sonnes, that shal procede out of thee, & which thou shalt beget, shal they take away, and they shalbe eunuches in the palace of the King of Babel.

19 Then Hezekiáh said vnto Isaiáh, The worde of the Lord which thou hast i spoken, is good: for said he, Shal it not be good, if m peace and trueth be in my dayes?

9 Yet they obeyed not, but Manasséh led them out of the way, to do more wickedly then did the heathen people, whome the Lord destroyed before the children of Israél.

10 Therefore the Lord spake by his seruants the Prophetes, saying,

11 *Because that Manasséh King of Iudáh hath done suche abominaciós, and hath wrought more wickedly then all that the Amorites (which were before him) did, & hath made Iudáh sinne also w his idoles, 12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israél, Beholde, I wil bring an euil vpon Ierusalém and Iudáh, that who so heareth of it, bothe his eares shal c tingle.

13 And I wil stretch ouer Ierusalém the li- ne d of Samaria, and the plommet of the house of Aháb: and I wil wipe Ierusalém, as a man wipeth a dish, which he wipeth, and turneth it vpside downe.

15 Because they haue done euil in my sight, and haue prouoked me to angre, since the tyme their fathers came out of Egypt vntil this day.

16 Moreover Manasséh shed f innocent blood exceding muche, til he replenished Ierusalém from corner to corner, beside his sinne wherewith he made Iudáh to sinne, and to do euil in the sight of the Lord.
