Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it shulde be destroyed and accused, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue also heard it, sayth the Lord.

20 Beholde therefore, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shal not see all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this place. Thus they broght the King worde againe.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iosiah readeth the Lawe before the people 2 He maketh a couenant with the Lord 4 He putteth downe the idoles, after he had killed their priests 22 He kepeth Possouer 24 He destroyeth the conuersers 29 He was killed in Megiddo, 30 And his sonne Iehoiakim reigneth in his Steade 33 After he was taken, his sonne Iehoiakim was made King.

1 Then the King sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudáh and of Ierusalém.

2 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iudáh and all the inhabitants of Ierusalém with him, and the Priests and Prophetes, and all the people bothe small & great: and he red in their eares all the wordes of the boke of the couenant, which was found in the house of the Lord.

3 And the King stode by^b the pillar, and made a^c couenant before the Lord, that they shuld walke after the Lord, and kepe his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes with all^d their heart, & with all^e their soul, that they might accomplish the wordes of this couenant written in this boke. And all^f y^e people stode to the couenant.

4 Then the King commanded Hilkiah the hie Priest and the^d Priests of the second ordre, and the keepers of the dore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Bál, and for the groue, and for all the hoste of heauen, and he burnt them without Ierusalém in the fields of Kedron, and caryed^e the powdre of them into Beth-él.

5 And he put downe^f Chemerim, whome the Kings of Iudáh had fouled to burne incense in the hie places, & in the cities of Iudáh, and about Ierusalém, & also them that burnt incense vnto Bál, to the sunne and to the moone, and to the planets, & to all the hoste of heauen.

6 And he broght out the^g groue from the Temple of the Lord without Ierusalém vnto the valley Kedron, and burnt it in the valley Kedron, and stampit it to powdre, and cast the dust thereof vpon the^h graues of the children of the people.

7 And he brake downeⁱ y^e houses of y^e sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the groue.

8 Also he broght all the priestes out of the cities of Iudáh, and defiled the hie places where the priests had burnt incense, even from Géba to Beer-sheba, and destroyed the hie places of the gates, that were in y^e entring in of the gate of Ioshúa the gouernour of the citie which was at the left hand of the gate of the citie.

9 Neuertheles the priests of the hie places came not vp to the altar of the Lord in Ierusalém, saue onely thei did eat of the vnleauened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also ^kTópheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnóm, that no man shulde make his sonne or his daughter passe through y^e fyre to Mólech.

11 He put downe also the ^lhorfes that the Kings of Iudáh had giuen to the sunne at the entring in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethan-mélech the eunuche, which was ruler of the suburbes, and burnt the charets of the sunne with fyre.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Aház, which the Kings of Iudáh had made, and the altars which Manasséh had made in the two courtes of the house of the Lord, did the Kig breake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the brooke Kedrón.

13 Moreouer the King defiled the hie places that were before Ierusalém and on the right hand of the ^mmount of corruption (which ^{*}Salomón the King of Israel had buyt for Ashtórieth the idole of the Zidonians, and for Chemósh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchóm the abomination of the children of Ammón)

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore the altar that was at Beth-él, & the hie place made by Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israel to sinne, bothe this altar and also the hie place brake he downe, & burnt the hie place, & stamp it to powder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosiah turned him selfe, he spied the graues, that were in the mount, and sent and toke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar, and polluted it, according to the worde of the Lord that the ^oman of God proclaimed which cryed the same wordes.

17 Thē he said, What title is that which I see? And the mē of the citie said vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudáh, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-él.

18 Thē said he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the ^pProphet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also toke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Israel had made to angrē the Lord, and did to them according to all the factes that he had done in Beth-él.

20 And he sacrificed all the priests of the hie places, that were there vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalém.

21 ¶ Then the King commanded all the people, saying, ^{}Kepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord your God, ^{}as it is written in the boke of this couenant.

22 And there was no Passeouer holden ^qlike that from the daies of the Iudges that iudged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Israel, and of the Kings of Iudáh.

23 And in the eighteenth yere of King Iosiah was this Passeouer celebrated to the Lord in Ierusalém.

24 Iosiah also toke away them that had familiar spirits, & the sothesayers, and the images, and the idoles, & all the abominacions that were espied in the land of Iudáh & in Ierusalém, to performe the wordes of the ^{*}Lawe, which were written in the boke that Hilkiáh the Priest founde in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, & with all his might according to all the Lawe of Moisés, nether after him arose there anie like him.

26 Not withstanding the Lord turned not from the ^rfearcenes of his great wrath wherewith he was angric against Iudáh, because of all the prouocacions wherewith Manasséh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord said, I wil put Iudáh also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israel, and wil cast of this citie Ierusalém, which I haue chosen, and the house whereof I said, ^{*}My Name shalbe there.

 33 And Pharaóh Nechoh put him in bonds at Ribáh in the land of Hamáth, while he reigned in Ierusalém, and put the land to a tribute of an hundred talents of siluer, and a talent of golde.
 34 ¶ And Pharaóh Nechoh made Eliakim the sonne of Iosiah King in steade of Iosiah his father, and turned his name to Ichoiakim, and toke Ichoahaz away, which when he came to Egypt, dyed there.
 35 And Ichoiakim gaue the siluer and the golde to Pharaóh, and taxed the land to giue the money, according to the commandement of Pharaóh: he leuyed of euerie man of the people of the land, according to his vallew, siluer and golde to giue vnto Pharaóh Nechoh.

 10 * In that time came the seruants of Nebuchad-nezzá: King of Babél vp against Ierusalém: so the citie was besieged.
 11 And Nebuchad-nezzá: King of Babél came against the citie, & his seruants did besiege it.
 12 ¶ Then Ichoiachin the King of Iudáh came out against the King of Babél, he, and his mother, and his seruants, and his princes, and his eunuches: and the King of Babél toke him in the eight yere of his reigne.
 13 ¶ And he caried out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, and brake all the vessels of golde, which Salomon King of Israél had made in the Temple of the Lord, as the Lord had said.
 14 And he caried away all Ierusalém, and all the princes, and all the strong men of warre, euen ten thousand into captiuitie, & all the workemen, & conning men: so none remained sauing the poore people of the land.
 15 ¶ And he caried away Ichoiachin into Babél, and the Kings mother, & the Kings wiues, and his eunuches, and the mightie of the land, caried he away into captiuitie from Ierusalém to Babél, 16 And all the men of warre, euen seven thousand, and carpenters, & lockesmithes a thousand: all that were strong and apt for warre, did the King of Babél bring to Babél captiues.
 17 ¶ And the King of Babél made Mattanáh his vncle King in his steade, & changed his name to Zedekiah.

2 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleueth yere of King Zedekiáh.

3 And the ninth day of the moneth the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 Then the citie was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled by night, by the waye of the d gate, which is betwene two walles that was by the Kings garden: now the Caldees were by the citie rounde about: and the King went by the way of the wildernes.

5 But the armie of the Caldees pursued after the King, and toke him in the deserts of Ierichó, and all his hoste was scared from him.

6 Then they toke the King, and caryed him vp to the King of Babél to Ribláh, where they gaue iudgement vpon him.

7 And they slewe the sonnes of Zedekiáh before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiáh, and bounde him in chaines, & caryed him to Babél.

8 And in the fift moneth, & f seventh day of the moneth, which was the nintenth yere of King Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél, came Nebuzar-adán chief steward and seruant of the King of Babél, to Ierusalém, 9 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalém, & all the great houses burnt he with fyre.

10 And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chief stewart, brake downe the walles of Ierusalém rounde about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen to the King of Babél, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adán chief stewart carye away captiue.

12 But the chief stewart left of the poore of the land to drie the vines, and to till the land.

13 Also the pillers of brasse that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and caryed the brasse of them to Babél.

14 The pottes also and the besomes, and the instruments of musike, and the incense asses, & all the vessels of brasse that they ministred in, toke they away.

15 And the asse pannes, and the basens, and all that was of golde, & that was of siluer, toke the chief stewart away,

16 With the two pillers, one Sea & the bases, which Salomón had made for the house of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

17 The height of the one piller was eightene cubites, and the chapter thereon was brasse, and the height of the chapter was with networke thre cubites, and pomegranates vpon the chapter rounde about, all of brasse: and likewise was the seconde piller with the networke.

18 And the chief stewart toke Seraiáh the chief Priest, and Zaphaniáh the seconde Priest, and the thre keepers of the dore.

19 And out of the citie he toke an cunuche that had the ouersight of the me of warre, and k fise men of them that were in the Kings presence, which were founde in the citie, and Sophér captaine of the hoste, who mustred the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were founde in the citie.

20 And Nebuzar-adán the chief stewart toke them, and brought them to the King of Babél to Ribláh.

21 And the King of Babél smote them, and slewe them at Ribláh in the land of Hamáth. So Iudáh was caryed away captiue out of his owne land.

22 Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iudáh, whome Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél left, & made Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán ruler ouer them.

23 The when all the captaines of the hoste & their men heard, that the King of Babél had made Gedaliáh gouernour, they came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, to wit, Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, and Iohanán the sonne of Káreah, and Seraiáh the sonne of Tánhúmeth y Netophathite, & Iazaniáh y sonne of Maachathí, they & their me.

24 And Gedaliáh sware to thé, & to their men, and said vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees: dwel in the land, and serue the King of Babél, and ye shal be wel.

26 Then all the people bothe small & great and the captaines of the armie arose, and came to Egypt: for they were afayed of the Caldees.

THE FIRST BOKE OF the "Chronicles, or Paralipoménon.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Iewes comprehend bothe these boke in one, which the Grecians because of the length demde into two^a and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babilón. But these are not those boke of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the boke of Kings of Iudáh and Israel, which did at large set forth the storie of bothe the kingdomes, and afterward perished in the captiuitie : but an abbridgement of the same, and were gathered by Esra, as the Iewes write, for their returne fro Ba-bylón. This first boke containeth a brief rehearſal of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Iſhák, Iſrahél, and the twelue Patriarches, chieflie of Iudáh and of the reigne of Dauid, because Christ came of him according to the first. And therefore it setteth forth the more amply his actes, bothe cocerning civil gouernement, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyceth, and giueth thanks to the Lord.

23 And the children of the halfe tribe of Manasse dwelt in the land, from Basán vnto k Béal Hermón, and Senír, and vnto mount Hermón: for they increased.

24 And these were the heades of the householdes of their fathers, euen Ephraim and Ishí, and Eliél and Azriél, and Ieremiáh, and Hodauíah, and Iahdiél, strong men, valiant & famous, heades of the householdes of their fathers.

25 But they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land, whome the God had destroyed before them.

26 And God of Israel stirred vp the spirit of Pul King of Asshúr, and the spirit of Tilgáth Pincefér King of Asshúr, and he carried them away: euen the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasse, and brought them vnto * Haláh and Habór, and Hará, and to the riuer Gozán, vnto this day.

l Thus God stirred vp the wicked and vfed them, as instruments to execute his iuste iudgement against uncers, although they were led w malice & ambition. 2. King 18. 11.

And these be the names of the sonnes of Gersón, Libní, and Shimeí.

18 And the sonnes of Koháth were Amrá, and Izhár, and Hebrón and Vzziel.

19 The sonnes of Merarí, Mahlí and Musí: and these are the families of Leui concerning their fathers.

23 Elkanáh his sonne, and Ebiásaph his sonne, and Afsír his sonne, 24 Taháth his sonne, Vriél his sonne, Vzziel his sonne, and Shaúl his sonne, 25 And the sonnes of Elkanáh, Amasái, and Ahimóth.

26 Elkanáh. the sonnes of Elkanáh, Zophai his sonne, and Náhath his sonne, 27 Eliáb his sonne, Ierohám his sonne, Elkanáh his sonne, 28 And the sonnes of Samuél, ^e eldest Vashni, then Abiáh.

29 ¶ The sonnes of Merarí were Mahlí, Libní his sonne, Shimeí his sonne, Vzziel his sonne, 30 Shimea his sonne, Haggiáh his sonne, Afaiáh his sonne.

31 And these be they whome David set for to sing in the house of the Lord, after that the Arke had rest.

32 And they ministred before the Tabernacle, euen the Tabernacle of the Congregation with singing, vntil Salomón had buylt the house of the Lord in Ierusalém: then they continued in their office, according to their custome.

33 And these ministred with their children: of the sonnes of Koháth, Hemán a singer, the sonne of Ioél, the sonne of Snemuél, 34 The sonne of Elkanáh, the sonne of Ierohám, the sonne of Eliél, the sonne of Tóah, 35 The sonne of Zuph, the sonne of Elkanáh, the sonne of Máhath, the sonne of Amasái, 42 The sonne of Ethán, the sonne of Zimmáh, the sonne of Shimeí, 43 The sonne of Iáhath, the sonne of Ger-shóm, the sonne of Leuí.

 44 And their brethren the sonnes of Merarái were on the left hand, even Ethán the sonne of Kíshí, the sonne of Abdí, the sonne of Mallúch, 45 The sonne of Hashabiáh, the sonne of Amaziáh, the sonne of Hilkiáh, 46 The sonne of Amzí, the sonne of Baní, the sonne of Shámer, 47 The sonne of Mahlí, the sonne of Mushí, the sonne of Meraií, & sonne of Leuí.
 48 ¶ And their ¹ brethren the Leuites were appointed vnto all the seruice of the Tabernacle of the house of God, 49 But Aarón and his sonnes burnt incense vpon the altar of burnt offering, and on the altar of incense, for all that was to do in the moste holy place, and to make an atonement for Israél, according to all that Mosés the seruant of God had commanded.
 50 These are also the sonnes of Aarón, Eleazái his sonne, Phinehás his sonne, Abishúa his sonne, 51 Bukkí his sonne, Vzzí his sonne, Zerahíáh his sonne, 52 Meraióth his sonne, Amariáh his sonne, Ahitúb his sonne,
 53 Zadók his sonne, & Ahimáaz his sonne.
 54 ¶ And these are the ¹ dwelling places of them throughout their townes & coastes, even of the sonnes of Aarón for the familie of the Kohathites, for the ^m lot was theirs.
 55 So they gaue them ⁿ Hebrón in the land of Iudáh and the suburbes thereof rounde about it.
 56 But the field of the citie, and the villa-

CHAP. VII.

1 The genealogie of Issachár, Benamín, 13 Naphtalí, 14 Manasséh, 20 Ephráim, 30 And Ashér.

1 And the sones of Issachái were Tola & Puah, & Iahúib, & Shimrón, foure, 2 And the sonnes of Tola, Vzzi, and Rephaíah, and Ieríel, and Iahmái, & Iibsam, and Shumuél, heades in the householdes of their fathers. Of Tola were valiant men of warre in their generacions, whose number was in the daies of Dauid two & twentie thousand, and six hundreth.

3 And the sonne of Vzzi was Izíahaiáh, & his sonnes of Izíahaiáh, Michaél, & Obadiáh, and Ioél, & Isshárah, foure men all princes.
4 And with them in their generacions after the householdes of their fathers were bands of mé of warre for battel, six & thirtie thousand: for they had many wiues and children.

5 And their brethren among all the families of Issachar were valiant men of warre, rekened in all by their genealogies foure score and seuen thousand.

6 ¶ The sonnes of Benamín were Béla, & Bécher, and Iediaél, thre.

7 And the sonnes of Béla, Ezbón, & Vzzi, and Vzziél, and Ierimóth, & Iri, foure heades of the householdes of their fathers, valiant men of warre, and were rekened by their genealogies, two and twentie thousand & thirtie and foure.

8 And the sonnes of Bécher, Zemíah, and Ioásh, and Eliézer, and Eliocnáí, & Omrí, & Ierimóth, & Abiáh, & Anathórh, & Alámeth: all these were the sones of Bécher.

9 And they were nombred by their genealogies according to their generacions, and the chief of the houses of their fathers, valiant men of warre, twentie thousand & two hundreth.

10 And the sonne of Iediaél was Bilhán, and the sonnes of Bilhán, Ieúsh, and Beniamín, and Ehúd, and Chenaanáh, and Zethán, and Tharshísh, and Ahisháhar.

11 All these were his sonnes of Iediaél, chief of the fathers, valiant men of warre, seuentene thousand & two hundreth, marching in battel aray to the warre.

12 And Shuppím, & Huppím were the sonnes of Iri, but Hushum was the sonne of another.

13 ¶ The sonnes of Naphtalí, Iahziél, and Guní, and Iézer, and Shallúm, foure of the sonnes of Bilhán.

14 The sone of Manasséh was Ashiél whom she bare vnto him, but his concubine of Arám bare Machíu the father of Gileád.

15 And Machíu toke to wife the sister of Huppím & Shuppím, and the name of their sister was Maacháh. And the name of the seconde sone was Zelophchad, and Zelophchad had daughters.

16 And Maacháh the wife of Machír bare a sonne, and called his name Péresh, and the name of his brother was Sheíesh: and his sonnes were Vlám and Rakém.

17 And his sonne of Vlám was Bedán. These were the sonnes of Gileád the sonne of Machír, the sonne of Manasséh.

18 And his sister Moléchet bare Ishód, & Abiézer, and Mahaláh.

19 And the sonnes of Shemidá were Ahíán, and Shéchem, and Likhí, and Aníám.

20 ¶ The sonnes also of Ephráim were Shuthélah, & Béred his sonne, & Táthath his sonne, and his sonne Eladáh, & Táthath his sonne, 21 And Zabád his sonne, and Shuthélah his sonne, and Ezéi, and Eleád: and the men of Gath that were borne in the land, slew them, because they came downe to take away their cattel.

22 Therefore Ephráim their father mourned many dayes, and his brethren came to comforte him.

23 And when he went in to his wife, she conceiued, and bare him a sonne, & he called his name Beriáh, because affliction was in his house.

24 And his daughter was Sheráh, which buylt Beth horón the nether, and the upper, and Vzzén Sheeráh.

25 And Réphah was his sonne, & Resheph, and Télah his sonne, & Táhan his sonne, 26 Laadán his sonne, Ammihúd his sonne, Elishamá his sonne, 27 Non his sonne, Iehoshúa his sonne.

28 And their possessions & their habitacions were Beth-el, and the villages thereof, and Eastwarde Naarán, and Westwarde Gézer with the villages thereof, Shechem also and the villages thereof, vnto Azzáh & the villages thereof, 29 And by the places of the children of Manasséh, Beth-shean & her villages, Tanaanách and her villages, Megiddó and her villages, Dor and her villages. In those dwelt the children of Ioseph the sonne of Israël.

30 ¶ The sonnes of Ashér were Innáh, & Issúah, and Ishuai, & Berráh, & Séráh their sister.

31 And the sonnes of Beriáh, Héber, and Malchiél, which is the father of Birzáuith 32 And Héber begate Iaphlet, and Shomér, and Hothám, and Shuah their sister.

 14 ¶ And of the Leuites, Shemaiáh the sonne of Hasshúb, the sonne of Azrikám, the sonne of Hasshabíah of the sonnes of Merari, 15 And Bakbakkár, Héresh and Galál, and Mattaniah the sonne of Michá, the sonne of Zichrí, the sonne of Afáph, 16 And Obadiáh the sonne of Shemaiáh, the sonne of Galál, ^y sonne of Ieduthín, and Berechiáh, the sonne of Afá, the sonne of Elkanáh, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.
 17 ¶ And the porters were Shallúm, and Akkúb, and Talmón, and Ahimán, and their brethren: Shallúm was the chief.
 18 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Leui vnto the ^e Kings gate Eastwarde.
 19 And Shallúm the sonne of Kóre the sonne of Ebiafáph the sonne of Kórah, & his brethren the Korathites (of the house of their father) were ouer the worke, and office to kepe the gates of the ^f Tabernacle: so their families were ouer the hoise of the Lord, keping the entrie.
 20 And Phinchás the sonne of Elcazár was their guide, and the Lord was with him.
 21 Zecharíah the sonne of Mesheleíah was the porter of the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
 22 All these were chosen for porters of the gates, two hundredth and twelue, which were nombred according to their genealogies by their townes. Dauid established these and Samuél the Seer ^g in their perpetual office.
 23 So they and their children had the ouer-fight of the gates of ^y house of ^y Lord, euē of the house of the Tabernacle by wardes.

 24 The porters were in foure quarters Eastward, Westward, Northward and Southward.
 25 And their brethren, which were in the ir townes, came at ^g seuen dayes from time to time with them.
 26 For these foure chief porters were in perpetual office, and were of the Leuites and had charge of the ^h chambers, & of the treasures in the house of God.
 27 And they laye round about the house of God, because the charge was theirs, & they caused it to be opened euerie morning.

CHAP. X.

1 The battel of Saúl against the Philistims, 4 In which he dyeth, 5 And his sonnes also. 13 The cause of Sauls death.

1 Sam. 31, 5

1 Then * the Philistims fought against Israél: and the men of Israél fled before the Philistims, and fel downe slaine in mount Gilbóa.

2 And the Philistims pursued after Saúl & after his sonnes, and the Philistims smote Ionathán, and Abinadáb, & Malchishúa the sonnes of Saúl.

2 Eir founde.

3 And the bartel was fore against Saúl, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saúl to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy sworde, and thrust me through therewith, lest these vncircúsed come & mocke at me: but his armour bearer wolde not, for he was fore afraid: therefore Saúl toke the sworde & fel vpon it.

5 And when his armour bearer sawe that Saúl was dead, he fel likewise vpon the sworde, and dyed.

6 So Saúl dyed and his thre sonnes, and all his house, they dyed together.

7 And when all the men of Israél that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saúl and his sonnes were dead, they forsóke their cities, & fled away, and the Philistims came, and dwelt in them.

2 Eir fallen.

8 And on the morowe when the Philistims came to spoile them that were slaine, they found Saúl & his sonnes lying in mount Gilbóa.

9 And when they had stript him, they toke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

a Which was the idole of y Philistims, & from the belly downward had the forme of a fish, & vpwarde of a man.

10 And they laied vpon his armour in y house of their god, and set vpon his head in the house of a Dagón.

11 ¶ Whé all thei of Iabésh Gileád heard all that the Philistims had done to Saúl, then they arose (all the valiant men) and toke the body of Saúl, and the bodies of his sonnes, and broght them to Iabésh, and buryed the bones of them vnder an oke in Iabésh, and fasted seuen dayes.

1 Sam. 31, 13.

12 So Saúl dyed for his transgression, that he committed against the Lord, * euen against the worde of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that he sought and asked counsil of a * familiar spirit,

CHAP. XI.

1 After the death of Saul is Dauid anointed in Hebrón. 5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whom he taketh the towre of Zión. 10 Ioáb is made captaine. 10 His valiant men.

1 Then * all Israél gathered them selves to Dauid vnto Hebrón, saying, Beholde, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 Sam. 5, 1. a This was after the death of Ishbosheth Sauls sonne, whé Dauid had reigned ouer Iudáh seuen yeres and six months in Hebrón, 2. Sam. 5, 5.

2 And in time past, euen when Saúl was King, thou leddest Israél out and in: and the Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt fede my people Israél, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israél.

3 So came all the Elders of Israél to y King to Hebrón, & Dauid made a couenât with thei in Hebrón before the Lord. And they anointed Dauid King ouer Israél, * according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Samuél.

1 Sam. 16, 19.

4 ¶ And Dauid & all Israél went to Ierusalém, which is Iebús, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebús said to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuer theles Dauid toke the towre of Zión, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid said, * Whoso euer smiteth y Iebusites first, shal be the chief & captaine. So Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh wét first vpon, and was captaine.

2 Sam. 5, 8.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the towre: therefore thei called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And he buyt the citie on euerie side, fro Milló euen round about: & Ioáb repaired the rest of the citie.

2 Sam. 5, 9.

9 And Dauid prospered, & grewe: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

10 ¶ These also are the chief of the valiant men that were with Dauid & ioyned their force with him in his kingdome w all Israél, to make him King ouer Israél, according to the worde of the Lord.

2 Sam. 23, 8.

11 And this is the nombre of the valiant men whome Dauid had, Iashobeám the sonne of Hachmoní, the chief among thirty: he list vpon his speare against thre hundred, whome he slewe at one time.

b Meaning the moste excellent & best esteemed for his valiantnes some read, the chief of the princes 10, 100, 1000.

12 And after him was Eleazár the sonne of Dódo the Ahoite, which was one of the thre valiant men.

13 He was with Dauid at Paddammím, & there the Philistims were gathered together to bartel: and there was a parcel of ground ful of barley, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And thei stode in y middes of the field, and saued it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victorie.

c This act is referred to Shammá, 2 Sam 23, 11. w semeth was the chiefest of these d that is Eleazár & his two companions 15 ¶ And thre of the thirtie captaines wét to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullám. And the armie of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And when Dauid was in the holde, the Philistims garison was at Bethléhem.

17 And Dauid longed, and said, * Oh, that one wolde giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-léhem that is at the gate.

18 Then these thre brake thorowe the hoste of the Philistims, and drewe water out of the well of Beth-léhem that was by the gate, and toke it and broght it to Dauid: but Dauid wolde not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord,

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to do this: shulde I drinke the blood of these mēs lues: for they haue broght it with the reopardye of their liues: therefore he wolde not drinke it: these things did these thre mightie m.n.

20 ¶ And Abshái the brother of Ioáb, he was chief of the thre, and he list vp his speare against thre húdreth, and slewe thē, and had the name among the thre.

21 Among the thre he was more honorable then the two, & he was their captaine: * but he attained not vnto the first thre.

22 Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá (the sonne of a valiant man) which had done manie acts, and was of Kabzeél, he slewe two strong men of Moáb: he went downe also and slewe a lion in the middes of a pit in time of snow.

23 And he slewe an Egyptian, a mā of great stature, even five cubites long, and in the Egyptian hand was a speare like a weauers beame: and he went downe to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slewe him with his owne speare.

24 These things did Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, & had the name among the thre worthies.

25 Bcholde, he was honorable among thirtie, but he attained not vnto the first thre.

* And Dauid made him of his counsel.

8 But when the Philistims heard that Da-uid was anointed King ouer Israél, all y^e Philistims came vp to seke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, he went out against them.

9 And the Philistims came, and spred them selues in the valley of Repháim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsel at God, saying, Shal I go vp against y^e Philistims, & wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand?
And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp: for I wil deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came vp to Báal-perazím & Da-uid smote them there: and Dauid said, God hathe deuided mine enemies with mine háð, as waters a. e. deuided: therefore thei called the name of that place, Báal-pera-zím.

12 And there they had left their gods: and Dauid said, Let them euen be burnt with fyre.

13 Againe the Philistims came and spred them selues in the valley.

14 And whē Dauid asked againe coufel at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou maiest come vpon them ouer against the mulbery trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the toppes of the mulbery trees, then go out to battel: for God is gone forthe before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeón euen to Gézer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands and the Lord broght the feare of him vpon all nacions.

a That was in the place of Jeric called Zion, 2.Sam 5,8 Numb. 4,8 & 20.

1 And Dauid made him houses in the citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

b From the house of Obéd Edóm, 2.Sam. 6,10

2 Then Dauid said, *None ought to cary the Arke of God, but the Leuites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Arke of the Lord, and to minstre vnto him for euer.

3 ¶ And Dauid gathered all Israël together to Ierusalém to bring vp the Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

4 And Dauid assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath Vriél the chief, and his brethren six score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiáh the chief, and his brethren two hundred & twentie.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershon, Ioél the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirtie.

c Who was the sonne of Vriél, the fourth sonne of Kohath, Exod. 6, 21 & Nomb. 3, 30 8 Of the sonnes of Elizaphán, Shemaríah the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of H. brón, Eliél the chief, and his brethren foure score.

10 Of the sonnes of Vzziel, Amminadáb the chief, and his brethren an hundred & twelue.

e Prepare your selues, & be pure, & absteyne from all things where-by ye might be polluted, & so not able to come to the Tabernacle. Ch. 13, 10. f According as he hath appointed in the Lawe

11 ¶ And Dauid called Zadók & Abiathár the Priests, and of the Leuites, Vriél, Asaiáh and Ioél, Shemaríah, and Eliél, and Amminadáb:

12 And he said vnto the, Ye are the chief fathers of the Leuites: sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israël vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

Exod. 25, 25.

13 For *because ye were not there at first, the Lord our God made a bicache among vs: for we fought him not after due order.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified them selues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israël.

15 ¶ And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shulders with the bannes, as Moisés had commanded, *according to the worde of the Lord.

g These instruments & other ceremonies, & their obseruation, were instructions of their infancie, which continued to the coming of Christ.

16 And Dauid spake to the chief of the Leuites, that they shulde appoint certeyne of their brethren to sing with instruments of musike, with viols and harpes, & cymbales, that they might make a sounde, and lift vp their voyce with ioye.

17 So the Leuites appointed Hemán the sonne of Ioél, and of his brethren Asáph the sonne of Berechiah, and of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethán the sonne of Kufnaiáh,

18 And with them their brethren in the seconde degre, Zechariah, Ben, and Iazziel, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, Eliáb, and Benaiáh, and Maasiáh, & Mattithiáh, and Elipheléh, and Mikneáh, and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiel the porters.

h Which were inferior in dignite

19 So Hemán, Asáph & Ethán were singers to make a sounde with cymbales of brasle, 20 And Zechariah, and Aziél, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, and Eliáb, and Maasiáh, and Benaiáh with viols on Alamóth, i This was an instrument of musike, or a certeyne tune, whereto they accustomed to sing psalmes. h Which was a eight tune, ouer the which he was most excellent had charge. l To wit, to appoint psalmes, & songs to that sang 21 And Mattithiáh, & Elipheléh, and Mikneáh, and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiel, and Azaziáh, with harpes vpon Shemunith lenazzeáh.

22 But Chenaniáh the chief of the Leuites had the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

23 And Berechiah & Elkanáh were porters for the Arke.

24 And Scaniah and Iehoshaphat and Nathaniel and Amathai, and Zachariah, and Benaiáh, and Eliezer the Priest, did blowe with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obéd Edóm and Ieuiáh were porters for the Arke.

m With Berechiah & Elkanah, vers. 23. 2 Sam. 6, 18.

25 *So Dauid and the Elders of Israël and the captaynes of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the house of Obéd Edóm with ioye.

26 And because that God helped the Leuites that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, they offered seven bullockes and seven rams.

n That is, gave them strength to execute their office. o Besides the bullocke and the fat beest, which Dauid offered at euery first sacrifice, 2 Sam. 6, 13.

27 And Dauid had on him a linnen garment, as ail the Leuites that bare the Arke, and the singers and Chenaniáh that had the chief charge of the singers: and vpon Dauid was a linnen Ephod.

p Read 2 Sam. 6, 14

28 Thus all Israël brought vp the Arke of the Lords couenant with shouting and sounde of trumpets & with cornet, & with cymbales, making a sounde with viols & with harpes.

29 And when the Arke of the couenant of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michal the daughter of Saúl looked out at a window, & sawe King Dauid dancing and playing, and she despised him in her heart.

q It was so called because it put the Israelites in remembrance of the Lord couenant made with them. 2 Sam. 6, 16.

2 And when Dauid had made an end of offering y^e burnt offering & the peace offerings, he ^a blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

3 And he dealt to euerie one of Israél bothe man and woman, to euerie one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottel of wine.

4 And he appointed certeine of the Leuites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and to ^b rehearse and to thanke and praise the Lord God of Israél,

5 Asaph the chief, and next to him Zechariáh, Ieiel, and Shemiamóth, and Iehiel, and Mattithiáh, and Eliáh, and Benaiáh, & Obéd Edóm, euen Ieiel with instruments, violes and harpes, and Asaph to make a sounde with cymbales, 23 *Sing vnto the Lord all the earth: declare his saluacion from day to day.

24 Declare his glorie among the nations, and his wonderful workes among all people.

25 For the Lord is great and muche to be praised, and he is to be feared about all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are ^m idols; but the Lord made the heauens.

27 Praise and glorie are betwix him: power and beautie are in his place.

28 Giue vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glorie and power.

29 Giue vnto the Lord the glorie of his Name: bring an offering and come before him, & worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.

30 ⁿ Tremble ye before him, all the earth: surely the worlde shal be stable and not moue.

31 Let the ^o heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let them say among the nations, The Lord reigneth.

34 Praise the Lord, for he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

35 And say ye, Saue vs, o God, our saluacion, and gather vs, & deliuer vs from the heathé, that we may praise thine holy Name, and ^q glorie in thy praise.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israél for euer and euer: and let all people say, So be it, and praise the Lord.

37 ¶ Then he left there before the Arke of the Lords couenant Asaph and his brethren to minister continually before the Arke, that which was to be done euerie day:

38 And Obéd Edóm and his brethren, thre scoie and eight: and Obéd Edóm the sonne of Ieduthún, and Hosáh were porters.

39 And Zadók the Priest and his brethren the Priests were before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the hie place that was at Gibeón, 40 To offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, vpon the burnt offering altar continually, in the morning and in the euening, euen according vnto all that is wriuen in the Lawe of the Lord, which he commanded Iisráel.

41 And with them ^r were Hemán, and Ieduthún, and the rest that were chosen, (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lord, because his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Dauid is forbidden to buyld an house vnto the Lord. 12 Christ is promised vnder the figure of Salomon. 28 Dauid giueth saankes, 23 And prayeth vnto God.

1 NOW afterwarde whē Dauid dwelt in his house, he said to Nathán y Prop-ner, Beholde, I dwel in an house of cedre trees, but the Arke of the Lords couenant remaineth vnder curtains.

2 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Do all that is in thine heart. for God is with thee.

3 And the same night euen the worde of God came to Nathán, saying,

4 Go, and tel Dauid my seruāt, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not buyld me an house to dwel in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day y I broght out the children of Israël vnto this day, but I haue bene from tent to tent, and from habitacion to habitacion.

6 Where soeuer I haue walked with all Israël, spake I one worde to anie of the iudges of Israël (whome I commanded to fede my people) saying, Why haue ye not buyld me an house of cedre trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruāt Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I toke thee from following the shepe, that thou shuldest be a prince ouer my people Israël.

8 And I haue bene wth thee whether soeuer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy fight, and haue made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 (Also I wil appoint a place for my people Israël, & wil plant it, that they may dwell in their place, and moue nomore: nether shal the wicked people vex the anie more, as at the beginning,

10 And since the time that I commanded iudges ouer my people Israël) And I wil subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Lord wil buyld thee an house.

11 And when thy dayes shalbe fulfilled to go with thy fathers, then wil I raise vp thy sede after thee, which shal be of thy sonnes, and wil stablish his kingdome.

12 He shal buyld me an house, and I wil stablish his throne for euer.

13 I wil be his father and he shalbe my sonne, and I wil not take my mercie away from him, as I toke it from him that was before thee.

14 But I wil establish him in mine house, & in my kingdome for euer, and his throne shalbe stablished for euer,

15 According to all these wordes, and ac-ording to all this vision. So Nathán spake to King Dauid.

16 ¶ And Dauid the King went in and sate before the Lord and said, Who am I, o Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast broght me hetherro.

17 Yet thou esteeming this a small thing, o God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruāt for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of hye degre, o Lord God.

18 What can Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruāt for thou knowest thy seruāt.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, nether is there anie god besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Morcouer what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israël, whose God went to redeme the to be his people, & to make thy selfe a Name, and to do great and terrible things by casting out nations from before thy people, whome thou hast deliuered out of Egypt.

22 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israël to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruāt & concerning his house, be confirmed for euer, and do as thou hast said,

24 And let thy Name be stable & magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Lord of hostes, God of Israël, is the God of Israël, & let the house of Dauid thy seruāt be stablished before thee.

25 For thou, o my God, hast reueled vnto the eare of thy seruāt, that thou wilt buyld him an house: therefore thy seruāt hathe bene bolde to pray before thee.

26 Therefore now Lord (for thou art God, and hast spoken this goodnes vnto thy seruāt)

27 Now therefore, it hathe pleased thee to blefse the house of thy seruāt, that it may be before thee for euer: for thou, o Lord, hast blessed it, & it shalbe blessed for euer.

¹ Dauid causeth the people to be nombred. ¹⁴ And there dye seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

1 And ^a Satan itode vp against Israél, and prouoked Dauid to number Israél.

^a He tempted Dauid in letting before his eyes his excellencie & glorie, his power & victories, read 2 Sam. 24. 1.

2 Therefore Dauid said to Ioáb, and to the rulers of the people, Go & number Israél from ^b Beer-sheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

^b That is, fró Southe to North.

3 And Ioáb answered, The Lord increase his people an hundred times so many as they be, ^o my lord the King: are they not all my lords seruants ^o wherefore doeth my lord require this thing, why shulde he be a cause of ^c trespasse to Israél.

4 Neuertheles the Kings worde preuailed against Ioáb. And Ioáb departed and wér through all Israél, and returned to Ierusalém.

^c It was a thing indifferent & vsual to number the people, but because he did it of an ambitious minde, as though his strength stode in his people, God punished him. ^d Ioáb partly for grief and partly through negligence gathered not the whole summe: it is here declared.

6 But the Leuites and Beniamín counted he not among them: for the Kings worde was abominable to Ioáb.

7 ¶ And God was displeasèd with this thig: therefore he smote Israél.

8 Then Dauid said vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseeche thee, remove the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids ^g Seer, saying,

10 Go and tel Dauid, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I offie thee thre things: chose thee one of them, that I may do it vnto thee.

11 So Gad came to Dauid, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Take to thee

12 Ether thre yeres famine, or thre moneths to be destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sworde of thine enemies ^h to take thee, or els the sworde of ^ý Lord and pestilence in the land thre dayes, that ^ý Angel of the Lord may destroy throughout all the coastes of Israél: now therefore aduise thee, what worde I shall bring againe to him that sent me.

^g Or, smite thee.

13 And Dauid said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderful strait. let me now fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, & let me not fall into y^e hand of mā.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israël, and there fell of Israël seuentie thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroye it. And ^f as he was destroying, the Lord behelde, and ^s repented of the euil and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now ynough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of Ornán the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the earth and the heauen with his sworde drawn in his hand, and stretched out towarde Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israël, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euil, but these shepe what haue they done? & Lord my God, I beseeche thee, let thine hand be on me and on my fathers house, and not on thy people for their destruction.

18 ¶ The Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid shulde go vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornán the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to y^e saying of Gad, which he had spokē in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Ornán turned about, and sawe the Angel, and his foue sonnes that were with him, hid them selues, and Ornán threshed wheat.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornán, Ornán looked and sawe Dauid and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed him selfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid said to Ornán, Giue me the place of thy threshing floore, that I may buyde an altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it me for sufficient mony, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 Then Ornán said vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King do that which seemeth him good. lo, I giue thee bullockes for burnt offrings, & threshing instruments for wood, & wheat for meat offering. I giue it all.

24 And King Dauid said to Ornán, Not so: but I wil buye it for sufficient money. for I wil not take that which is thine for y^e Lord, nor offer burnt offrings without cost.

25 So Dauid gaueto Ornán for that place six hundred shekels of golde by weight.

26 And Dauid buylt there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offrings, and peace offrings, and called vpon the Lord, and he answered him by fyre from heauē vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, he put vp his sworde againe into his sheathe.

28 At that time when Dauid sawe that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornán the Iebusite, then he sacrificed there.

29 (But the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moses had made in the wilde rnes, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the hie place at Gibeón.)

30 And Dauid colde not go before it to aske counsel at God: for he was afraid of the sworde of the Angel of the Lord)

1 Dauid prepareth things necessary for the buylding of the Temple. & He commaendeth his sonne Salomon to buylde the Temple of the Lord, wherin thing he him selfe was forbidden to do. 2 Under the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

1 And Dauid said, This is the house of the Lord God & this is the altar to the burnt offering of Israël.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israël, and he set masons to hewe and polish stones to buylde the house of God.

3 Dauid also prepared mucheyron for the nailes of the doores & of the gates, and for the roynings, and abundance of brasse passing weight,

4 And cedre trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus broght much cedre wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid said, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and we must buylde an house for the Lord, magnificent, excellent and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreys. I wil therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to buylde an house for the Lord God of Israël.

7 And Dauid said to Salomon, My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to buylde an house to the Name of the Lord my God,

8 But the woide of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shed muche blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt not buylde an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed muche blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, which shalbe a mā of rest, for I wil giue him rest from all his enemies round about: therefore his name is Salomon, and I wil send peace and quietnes vpon Israël in his dayes.

17 Dauid also commanded all the princes of Israél to helpe Salomón his sonne, saying,

18 Is not the Lord your God with you, & hath giuen you rest on euerie side: for he hath giuen the inhabitants of the land into mine hand, & the land is subdued before y Lord & before his people.

19 Now set your hearts and your soules to seke the Lord your God, and arise, and buyde the Sanctuarie of the Lord God to bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God into the house buyld for y Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 David being olde, ordaineth Salomón King. 3 He causeth the Leuites to be nombred, 4 And assigneth them to their offices. 13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the hie Priest. 14 The sonnes of Moses.

1 SO when Dauid was olde and ful of daies, he made Salomón his sonne King ouer Israél.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israél with the Priests and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were nombred from the age of thirtie yere and aboue, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set to aduance the worke of the house of the Lord, and six thousand were ouerscers and iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, & foure thousand praised y Lord with instrumets which he made to praise the Lord.

6 So Dauid deuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leuí, to Gershón, Koháth, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershonites were Laadán and Shimeí.

8 The sonnes of Laadán, the chief was Iehiél, and Zethám and Ioél, thre.

9 The sonnes of Shimeí, Shelomíth, and Haziél and Harám, thre: these were the chief fathers of Laadán.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimeí were Iáhath, Ziná, Ieúsh, and Beriáh: these foure were the sonnes of Shimeí.

11 And Iáhath was the chief, & Zizáh the seconde, but Ieúsh & Beriáh had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Koháth were Amrá, Izhár, Hebrón and Vzziél, foure.

13 ¶ The sonnes of Amrá, Aarón and Moses: and Aarón was separated to sanctifie the moste holy place, he & his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for euer.

14 ¶ Moses also the man of God, & his children were named with the tribe of Leuí.

15 The sonnes of Moses were Gershóm, and Eliézer, 16 Of the sonnes of Gershóm was Shebuél the chief.

17 And the sonne of Eliézer was Rehabiáh the chief: for Eliézer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiáh were very many.

18 The sonne of Izhár was Shelomíth the chief.

19 The sonnes of Hebrón were Ieriáh the first, Amariáh the seconde, Iahaziél the third, and Iekamiám the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziél were Micháh the first, and Isshiáh the seconde.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahlí and Mushí. The sonnes of Mahlí, Eleazár and Kish.

22 And Eleazár dyed, and had no sonnes, but daughters, and then brethren the sonnes of Kish toke them.

23 The sonnes of Mushí were Mahlí, and Edér, and Ierimóth, thre.

24 These were the sonnes of Leuí according to the house of their fathers, euen the chief fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names: & then summe that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord from the age of twenty yeres and aboue.

1 Moreouer Dauid the King said vnto all the Cōgregaciō, God hath chosen Salomón mine onelic sonne yong and tendre, & the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the ^a Lord God.

2 Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasse for things of brasse, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood & onix stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones and of diuers colour, and all precious stones, & marble stones in abundance.

^a And therefore it ought to be excellent in all pointes,

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morowe after that day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euem a thousand yong bullockes, a thousand rammes, & a thousand sheepe, with their ^m drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israél.

22 And they did eat and drinke before the Lord the same day with greate ioye, and they made Salomón the sonne of Dauid King the seconde time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadók for the hie Priest.

23 So Salomón sate on the ⁿ throne of the Lord, as King in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israél obeyed him.

24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the sonnes of King Dauid ^o submitted them selues vnder King Salomón.

THE SECONDE BOKE of the Chronicles.

THE ARGUMENT.

This seconde boke containeth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two boke of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomón to the destruction of Ierusalém, and the Bb.iii.

carrying away of the people captiue into Babylon . In this storie are certeine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the booke of the Kings , and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophetes . But three things are here chiefly to be considered . First that the godlie Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their countrey for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues removed . The seconde how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that suche as feare him and professe his religion, shoulde soyne in amitie with the wicked . And thirde how the good rulers euer loued the Prophetes of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion t'vroughout all their dominions, and contrarie wise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and worde of God, set vp idolatrie, and serued God according to the fantasie of men . Thus haue we hitherto the chief actes from the beginning of the worlde to the buylding againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darus , and containe in the whole, thre thousand, foure hundred and foure score and eight yeres, and six moneths.

CHAP. I.

4 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdom. 13 Which he giueth him and more. 14 The number of his charets and horses, 15 And of his riches.

1 THÉ Salomón the sone of Dauid was confirmed in his kingdome: & y^e Lord his God was with him, & magnified him highlie.

And Salomón ^a spake vnto all Israél, to the captaines of thousands, and of hundreds and to the iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israél, ^b even the chief fathers.

3 So Salomón and all the Congregation with him went to the hie place that was at ^b Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle ^c of the Cōgregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-earim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

5 Moreover the ^d brazen altar ^e that Bezaleel the sone of Uri, the sone of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomón and the Cōgregation sought it.

6 And Salomón offered there before y^e Lord vpon the brazen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: ^e euē a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

7 ¶ The same night did God appeare vnto Salomón, and said vnto him, Aske what I shal giue thee.

8 And Salomón said vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father and hast made me to reigne in his steade.

9 Now therefore, o Lord God, let thy promises vnto Dauid my father be true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me now wisdom and knowledge, ^f that I may go out & go in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God said to Salomón, Because this was in thine heart, & thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the liues of thine enemies, nether yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom & knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whome I haue made thee King, 12 Wisdom & knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I wil giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the Kings w^h were before thee, nether after thee shal there be y^e like.

13 Then Salomón came from the hie place, that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israél.

14 ^g And Salomón gathered the charets & horfmen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charets, & twelue thousand horfmen, whome he placed in the ^h charet cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

15 And the King gaue siluer and golde at Ierusalem as ⁱ stones, & gaue cedre trees as the wilde fig trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

5 And the house which I buyld, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he thé that can be able to buyld him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens can not contene him? who am I then? I shulde buyld hī an house-but I do it to burne incēse before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, in siluer, and in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and crimosin and blewe silke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men ſ are with me in Iudāh and in Ierusalēm, whome Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send me also cedre trees, firre trees, and Algummim trees from Lebanón: for I knowe that thy seruants can skill to hewe timbre in Lebanón: and beholde, my seruants shall be with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timbre in abundance: for the house which I do buyld, is great and wonderful.

10 And beholde, I wil giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timbre twētic thousand measures of beaten wheat, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand baths of wine, and twentie thousand baths of oyle.

11 Then Hiram King of Tyrus answered in writing which he sent to Salomón, Because the Lord hath loued his people, he hath made thee King ouer them.

12 Hurām said moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Israēl which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a wise sonne, that hath the discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to buyld an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, & of vnderstanding of my father Hurams, 15 Now therefore the wheat and the barley, the oyle & the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And we wil cut wood in Lebanón as muche as thou shalt nede, and wil bring it to thee in iafes by the sea to Iaphó, so thou maiest cary them to Ierusalēm.

17 ¶ And Salomón nobred all the strangers that were in the land of Israēl, after the nombing that his father Dauid had nombred them: and they were founde an hundred and thre and fiftie thousand, and six hundred.

18 And he set scuentie thousand of them to the burden, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, & thre thousand and six hundred ouerseers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

The Temple of the Lord, and the porche are buylded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 SO*Salomón began to buyld the house of the Lord in Ierusalēm, in mount Moriáh which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

2 And he began to buyld in the seconde moneth & the seconde day, in the fourth yere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures, whereon Salomón grouded to buyld the house of God: the length of cubites after the first measure was threescore cubites, & the breadth twenty cubites:

4 And the porche, ſ was before the length in the fronte of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twētie, & he ouerlaid it within with pure golde.

5 And the greater house he syled with firre tree which he ouerlaid with good golde, & graued thereon palmetrees & chaires.

6 And he ouerlaid ſ house with precious stone for beautie: and the golde was golde of Paruáim.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof and the dootes thereof ouerlaid he with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ He made also ſ house of the moste holy place: the length thereof was in the fronte of the breadth of the house, twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he ouerlaid it with the best golde, of six hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie shekels of golde, and he ouerlaid the chaires with golde.

10 ¶ And in the house of the moste holy place he made two Cherubims wight like children, and ouerlaid them with golde.

11 *And the wings of the Cherubims were twenty cubites long: the one wing was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, reaching to ſ wing of the other Cherub.

1 And when Salomon had made an end of praying, a fyre came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering & the sacrifices. and the glorie of the Lord filled the house,

2 So that the Priests colde not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glorie of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israel saw the fyre, and the glorie of the Lord come downe vpon the house, they bowed them selues with their faces to the earth vpon the pavement, and worshiped and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercie lieth for euer.

1 King 8. 65.

4 * Then the King and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And King Salomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullockes, and an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe. for the King and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, & the Leuites with the instruments of musike of the Lord, which King Dauid had made to praise the Lord, Because his mercie lasteth for euer: when Dauid praised God by them, the Priests also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7 Moreover Salomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receiue burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the fat.

8 And Salomon made a feast at that time of seven dayes, & all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, vnto the riuier of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solenne assemblie, for they had made the dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the thre and twentieth day of the seventh moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, ioyous & with glad heart, because of the goodness that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 * So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord, and he prospered in his house.

2 And when Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát heard it, (which was in Egypt, wher he had fled fró the presence of Salomón the King) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboám and all Israél, and cōmuned with Rehoboám, saying,

4 Thy father b made our yoke grieuous: now therefore make y the grieuous feruitude of thy father, and his sore yck, that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we wil serue thee.

b That is, hēdeled vs rudely. It semeth that God hardened their heartes, so that they thus murmured without cause - which declareth also the incōstācie of the people.

5 And he said to thē, Departe yet thre dayes, thē come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

6 And King Rehoboám toke counsel with the olde men that had stand before Salomón his father, while he yet liued, saying, What counsel giue ye that I may answer this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and please them, and speake louing wordes to them, they wil be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsel of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and toke counsel of the yong mē that were broght vp with him, and c wanted on him.

11 Now where as my father did burdē you w̄ a grieuous yoke, I wil yet increase your yoke: my father hathe chastised you with rodde, but I wil correct you with scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboám and all the people came to Rehoboám the third day, as the King had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the King answered them sharply: and King Rehoboám left the counsil of the ancient men, 14 And spake to them after the counsil of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I wil increase it: my father chastised you with rodde, but I wil correct you with scourges.

15 So the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken by Ahiah the Shilonite to Ieroboám the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israél sawe that the King wolde not heare them, the people answered the King, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid: for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Eshai. ¶ O Israél, euerie man to your tents: now se to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israél departed to their tents.

17 Howbeit Rehoboám reigned ouer the children of Israél, that dwelt in the cities of Iudáh.

18 Then King Rehoboám sent Hadorám that was over the tribute, & the children of Israél stoned him with stones, that he dyed: then King Rehoboám made speede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Ierusalém.

19 And Israél rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

4 Rehoboám is forbidden to fight against Ieroboám. Citas which he buyt as he hath eightene wiuues, & threescore concubines, and by them eight and twentie sonnes and threescore daughters

1 And whē Rehoboám was come to Ierusalém, he gathered of the house of Iudáh and Benjamin nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against Israél, & to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboám.

2 But the worde of the Lord came to She-maráh the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboám, the sonne of Salomón King of Iudáh, and to all Israél that are in Iudáh, and Benjamin, saying,

4 Thus sayth the Lord, Ye shal not go vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euerie man to his house for this thing is done of me. They obeted therefore the worde of the Lord, and returned from going against Ieroboám.

5 And Rehoboám dwelt in Ierusalém, and buyt strong cities in Iudáh.

6 He buyt also Beth-léhem, and Etám, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zúr, and Shocó, & Adullám,

8 And Gath, and Mareshá, and Ziph,

9 And Adorám, and Lachísh, and Azekáh,

10 And Zoráh, & Aialón & Hebrón, which were in Iudáh & Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holdes and put captaynes in them, and store of vitayle, and oyle and wine.

12 And in all cities he put shields & speares, & made them exceding strong: so Iudáh and Benjamin were his.

13 ¶ And the Priests and the Leuites that were in all Israél, resorted vnto him out of all their coastes.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbes and their possession, and came to Iudáh and to Ierusalém: for Ieroboám and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priests office vnto the Lord.

15 ¶ And he ordeined him Priests for the hie places, and for the deuils and for the calves, which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites there came to Ierusalém of all the tribes of Israél, suche as set their hearts to seke the Lord God of Israél, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudáh, and made Rehoboám the sonne of Salomón mightie, thre yers long: for thre yere they walked in the way of Dauid & Salomón.

18 ¶ And Rehoboám toke him Mahaláh the daughter of Ierimórh the sonne of Dauid to wife, & Abiháil the daughter of Eshai the sonne of Ishai, 19 Which bare him sonnes Ieúsh, and She-maríah, and Záham.

20 And after her he toke Maakáh the daughter of Abisám which bare him Abihai, and Arthai, and Zizá, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboám loued Maakáh the daughter of Abisám about all his wiuues & his concubines: for he toke eightene wiuues, & thre score concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, & threescore daughters.

1 And when Rehoboam had established the kingdom & made it strong, he forsoke the Lawe of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

2 Therefore in the fifth yere of King Rehoboam, Shishak the King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

3 With twelue hundred chariots, and threescore thousand horsemen, & the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, even the Libims, Sukkims, & the Ethiopians.

4 And he toke the strong cities which were of Iudah, and came vnto Ierusalem.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Iudah, that were gathered together in Ierusalem, because of Shishak, and said vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the King humbled them selues, and said, The Lord is iust.

7 And when the Lord sawe that they humbled them selues, the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, They haue humbled them selues, therefore I wil not destroye them, but I wil send them deliuerance shortly, & my wrath shal not be powred out vpon Ierusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 Neuertheles they shalbe his seruaunts: so shal they knowe my seruice, & the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

9 ¶ Then Shishak King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem, and toke the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house: he toke even all, and he caried away the shields of golde, which Salomon had made.

10 In stead whereof King Rehoboam made shields of brasse, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the garde, that waited at the dore of the Kings house.

11 And when the King entered into the house of the Lord, the garde came and bare them and broght them againe vnto the garde chamber.

12 And because he humbled him selfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he wolde not destroye all together. And also in Iudah the things prospered.

13 ¶ So King Rehoboam was strong in Ierusalem and reigned: for Rehoboam was one & fourtie yere olde, when he began to reigne, & reigned & seuentene yeres in Ierusalem, the citie which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his Name there. And his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonitess.

1 IN the eighteenth yere of King Ieroboam began Abiiah to reigne ouer Iudah.

2 He reigned thre yere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was Michaiiah the daughter of Uriel of Gibeon) and there was warre betwene Abiiah and Ieroboam.

3 And Abiiah set the battel in aray with the armie of valiant men of warre, even foure hundred thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battel in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant.

4 And Abiiah stode vp vpon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboam, & all Israel, heare you me,

5 Oght you not to knowe that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdom ouer Israel to Dauid for euer, even to him and to his sonnes by a couenant of salt?

6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath rebelled against his lord.

7 And there are gathered to him vaine men, wicked, and made them selues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was but a childe and tender hearted, & colde not resist them.

8 Now therefore ve thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdom of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonne of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, & the golden calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.

4 And commanded Iudáh to seke the Lord God of their fathers, & to do according to the Lawe and the commandement.

5 And he toke away out of all the cities of Iudáh the hie places, & the images: therefore the kingdome was quiet before him.

b He sheweth what the rest & quietnes of kingdomes standeth in abolishing idolatry, and aduancing true religion.

6 He buylt also strong cities in Iudáh, because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yerres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore he said to Iudáh, Let vs buyld these cities and make walles about, and towres, gates, and barres, whiles the lād is before vs: because we haue fought the Lord our God, we haue fought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euerie side: so they buylt and prospered.

Iehoshaphát trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 He abolishest idolatrie. 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiueth tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions and men of warre.

1 And Iehoshaphát his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israél.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudáh, and set bands in the land of Iudáh and in the cities of Ephráim, which Asá his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphát, because he walked in the first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim, 4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the trade of Israél.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudáh broght presents to Iehoshaphát, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he toke awaie moreouer the hie places & the groues out of Iudáh.

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiáh, and Nethaniáh, and Zebadiáh, and Afahél, & Shemiramóth, and Iehonathán, and Adonitáh, and Tobitáh, and Tob adonitáh, Leuites, and with them Elisnamá and Iehorám Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudáh, and had the boke of the Lawe of the Lord with them, & went about throughout all the cities of Iudáh, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands y were rounde about Iudáh, and they sought not against Iehoshaphát.

11 Also some of the Philistims broght Iehoshaphát gifts and tribute siluer, and the Arabiás broght him flockes, seué thousand, and seuen hundreth rams, and seuen thousand, and seuen hundreth he gotes.

12 So Iehoshaphát prospered and grewe vp on hie: and he buylt in Iudáh palaces and cities of store.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers, In Iudáh were captaines of thousands, Adnáh the captaine, and with him of valiant men three hundreth thousand.

15 And at his hand Iehohanán a captaine, and with him two hundreth & foure score thousand.

16 And at his hand Amasiáh the sonne of Zichrí, which willingly offered him selfe vnto the Lord, and with him two hundreth thousand valiant men.

17 And of Beniamín, Eliadá a valiant má, and with him armed men with bowe and shield two hundreth thousand.

15 And the King said to him, How oft shal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I sawe all Israél scatered in the mountaines, as shepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord said, m These haue no master: let the returne euerie man to his house in peace.

17 And the King of Israél said to Iehoshaphát, Did I not tel thee, that he wolde not prophetic good vnto me, but euil?

18 Againe he said, Therefore heare ye the worde of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the n hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shal o persuade Aháb King of Israél, that he may go vp and fall at Ramóth Gileád? And one spake and said thus, and another said that.

20 The there came forthe a spirit and stode before the Lord, and said, I wil persuade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he said, I wil go out, and be a false spirit in the mouthe of all his Prophetes. And o he said, Thou shalt persuade, and shalt also preuaile: go forthe and do so.

22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a p false spirit in the mouth of these thy Prophetes, & the Lord hath determined euil against thee.

23 Then Zidkiáh the sonne of Chenaanáh came nere, and smote Michaiáh vpon the cheeke, and said, By what way wét the spirit of y Lord fro me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiáh said, Beholde, thou shalt se that day whé thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the King of Israél said, Take ye Michaiáh, and carie him to Amón the gouernour of the citie, & to Ioáb the Kings sonne, 26 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, & fede him with bread of r affliction and with water of affliction vntil I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiáh said, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the King of Israél and Iehoshaphát the King of Iudáh wét vp to Ramóth Gileád.

29 And the King of Israél said vnto Iehoshaphát, I wil t change my selfe, and entre into the battel: but put thou on thine apparel. So the King of Israél chaged him selfe, and they went into the battel.

30 And the King of Arám had commanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against y King of Israél onely.

Neuertheles good things are founde in thee, because thou hast také away the gro- ues out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seke God.

¶ So Iehoshaphat dwelt at Ierusalém, & returned and went through the people from Beer-sheba to mount Ephráim, and broght them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

¶ And he set iudges in the land throughout all the strong cities of Iudáh, citie by citie,

¶ And said to the iudges, Take hede what ye do: for ye execute not the iudgements of man, but of the Lord, & he wil be with you in the cause and iudgement.

¶ Wherefore now let the feare of the Lord be vpon you: take hede, & do it: for there is no iniquitie with the Lord our God, nether respect of persones, nor receiuing of rewarde.

¶ Moreouer in Ierusalém did Iehoshaphát set of the Leuites, and of the Priests and of the chief of the families of Israél, for the iudgement and cause of the Lord: and they returned to Ierusalém.

¶ And he charged them, saying, Thus shal ye do in the feare of the Lord faithfully and with a perfite heart.

¶ And in euerie cause that shal come to you of your brethren that dwel in their cities, betwene blood and blood, betwene lawe and precept, statutes and iudgements, ye shal iudge them, and admonish them that they trespasse not against the Lord, that his wrath come not vpon you and vpon your brethré. After this also came the children of Moáb and the children of Ammón, and with them of the Ammonites against Iehoshaphát to battel.

¶ Thê there came that tolde Iehoshaphát, saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyonde the Sea, out of Arám: and beholde, they be in Hazzón Tamár, which is Engédi.

¶ And Iehoshaphát feared, and set him selfe to se the Lord, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Iudáh.

¶ And Iudáh gathered them selues together to aske counsil of the Lord: they came eué out of all the cities of Iudáh to inquire of the Lord.

¶ And Iehoshaphát stode in the Congregation of Iudáh and Ierusalém in the house of the Lord before the new court,

¶ And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen and in thine hand is power and might, & none is able to withstand thee.

¶ Didest not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israél, and gauest it to the sede of Abraham thy friend for euer?

¶ And they dwelt therein, and have buylt thee a Sanctuarie therein for thy Name, saying,

¶ If euil come vpon vs, as the sworde of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine, we wil stand before this house and in thy presence (for thy Name is in this house) & wil crye vnto thee in our tribulacion, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

¶ And now beholde, the children of Ammón and Moáb, and mount Seir, by whome thou woldest not let Israél go, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them not:

¶ Beholde, I say, thei rewarde vs, in cōming to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherit.

¶ O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs to stand before this great multitude that cōmeth against vs, nether do we know what to do: but our eyes are towarde thee.

¶ And Iahaziél the sonne of Zechariáh the sonne of Benariáh, the sonne of Ieiel, the sonne of Mattaniáh, a Leuite of the sonnes of Asáph was there, vpon whome came the Spirit of the Lord, in the muddes of the Congregation.

¶ And he said, Harken ye, all Iudáh, & ye inhabitants of Ierusalém, and thou, King Iehoshaphát: thus saith the Lord vnto you, Feare you not, nether be afraid for this great multitude: for the battel is not yours, but Gods.

¶ Tomorowe go ye downe against them: beholde, they come vp by the cleft of Ziz, and ye shal finde them at the end of the broke before the wildernes of Ieruel.

y Some thinke that this was Elishá, so called, because he had the spirit in abundance, as had Eliáh.

12 And there came a writing to him from Eliáh the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphát thy father, nor in the wayes of Asá King of Iudáh,

14 Beholde, with a great plague wil^y Lord smite thy people, and thy children, & thy wiues, and all thy substance, 15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntil^h thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

h We se this example daily practised vpo them that fall away frõ God, and be come adolaters and smart herers of their brethrẽ.
i There were vther Arabiãs in Africa Southward, toward Egyppt. Called also Ahaziáh, as Chap 27.1. of Azariáh, ver. 6 16 ¶ So the Lord stirred vp against Iehorám the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopiãs.

17 And they came vp into Iudáh, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was founde in the Kings house, & his sonnes also, and his wiues, so that there was not a sonne left him, saue^h Iehoaház, the yongest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in processe of time, euen after the ed of two yeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he dyed of fore diseases: & his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

i That is, as some write, he was not regarded, but deposited for his wickednes & idollatrie: so that his sonne reigned 22 yeres, (his father yet liuing) without honour & after his fathers death he was cõfirmed to reigne 21, as Chap 22.2.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yere olde, and reigned in Ierusalém eight yere, and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

1 Ahaziáh reigned after Iehorám. Iehú King of Israel killed Ahaziáh so Athaliáh putteth to death all the Kings issue: Ioshs escapeth.

c That is, after the death of his father. d She was Ahabs daughter, who was the sonne of Omri.

4 He walked also in the wayes of the house of Aháb: for his mother counseled him to do wickedly.

5 Wherefore he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Aháb: for they were his^e counsellers after the death of his father, to his destruction.

e He meaneth, that it must needs followe that the rulers are such as their counsellers be, & that there can not be a good King, that suffreth wicked counsellers.

6 And he walked after their counsel, and went with Iehorám the sonne of Aháb King of Israël to fight against Hazaél King of Arám at Ramóth Gileád: and the Aramites smote Ioiám.

7 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Izreél, because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramáh, when he fough with Hazaél King of Arám. Now Azariáh the sonne of Iehorám King of Iudáh went downe to se Iehorám the sonne of Aháb at Izreél, because he was diseased.

8 And the destruction of Ahaziáh^f came of God in that he wét to Iorám: for when he was come, he went forthe with Iehorám against Iehú the sonne of Nimshí, whome the Lord had anointed to destroye the house of Aháb.

f Herby we se how nothing can come to any, but by Gods prouidence & as he hath appointed, & therefore he causeth all means to serue to his will.

² And they went about in Iudáh, & gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudáh, and the chief fathers ^b of Israel: and they came to Ierusalém.

And all the Congregation made a couenant with the King in the house of God: & he said vnto them, Beholde, the Kings sonne muste reigne, ^a as the Lord hath said of the sonnes of Daud.

⁴ This is it that ye shal do, The third parte of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites, shalbe porters of the doies.

And Iehoiadá the Priest deliuered to the captaynes of hundreths speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene King Dauds, and were in the house of God.

¹⁰ Or, sawe the King standing.

Then Iehoiadá the Priest broght out the captaynes of hundreths that were gouerners of the hoste, and said vnto them, Haue her forthe of the ranges, & he that followeth her, let him dye by the sword: for the Priest had said, Sleaher not in the house of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

⁴ Ioásh reparereth the house of the Lord ¹⁷ After the death of Iehoiadá he falleth to idolatrie ²¹ He stoneth to death Zechariah the Prophet ²⁵ Ioásh is killed

2.King. 12. 1

Ioásh was seuen yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yere in Ierusalém: and his mothers name was Zabíah of Beethéba.

a Who was a faithful counseller, and gouerned him by the worde of God.

2 And Ioásh did vp rightly in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of Iehoiadá the Priest.

3 And Iehoiadá toke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And afterward it came into Ioásh minde, to renue the house of the Lord.

b He meant not the ten tribes, but onely the two tribes of Iudáh and Benjamin.

5 And he assembled the Priestes and the Leuites, & said to them, Go out vnto the cities of Iudáh, and gather of all Israél money to repaire the house of your God, from yere to yere, and haste the thing: but the Leuites hasted not.

c For he was the hie Priest.

6 Therefore the King called Iehoiadá, the chief, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudáh and Ierusalém the tax of Moisés the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israél, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

Exod. 30. 13

d The Scripture doeth reuerberate her thus, because she was a cruel murderer, and a blasphemous idolatresse.

7 For wicked Athaliáh, her children brake vp the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did thei bestowe vpon Baalim.

2.King. 12. 2

8 Therefore the King commanded, and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord.

Exod. 30. 13

9 And they made proclamacion through Iudáh and Ierusalém, to bring vnto the Lord the tax of Moisés the seruant of God, laid vpon Israél in the wilderness.

e Such as were faithful, whose the King had appointed for that matter.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntil they had finished.

11 And when it was time, thei brought the chest vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they sawe that there was muche siluer, then the Kings Scribe (& one appointed by the Priest) came and emptied the chest, and toke it, and carried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

f Signifying, this thing was done by aduise and counsel, and not by any one mans action.

12 And the King and Iehoiadá gaue it to suche as did the labour worke in the house of the Lord, and hyred mafons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workers of yron and brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

g Ebr a medicine was vpon the worke, meaning, it was repaired.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke amended through their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, & strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the siluer before the King and Iehoiadá, and he made thereof vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister, bothe morters & incense cuppes, and vessels of golde, and of siluer: and they offred burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Iehoiadá.

15 But Iehoiadá waxed olde, and was full of daies and dyed. An hundredth and thirtie yere olde was he when he dyed.

16 And thei buried him in the cite of Dauid with the Kings, because he had done good in Israél, and toward God and his house.

17 And after the death of Iehoiadá, came the princes of Iudáh, and did reuerence to the King, & the King hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groues and idoles: and wrath came vpon Iudáh and Ierusalém, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent Prophetes among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and thei made protestation among them, but they wolde not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zachariáh the sonne of Iehoiadá the Priest, which stode aboute the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse ye the commandements of the Lord. surely it shal not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lord, he also hathe forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him and stoned him with stones at the commandement of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioásh the King remembred not the kindenes which Iehoiadá his father had done to him, but slewe his sonne. And when he dyed, he said, The Lord loke vpon it, & require it.

23 And when the yere was out, the hoste of Arám came vp against him, and thei came against Iudáh and Ierusalém, & destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoile of them vnto the King of Damascus.

24 Though the armie of Arám came with a small company of me, yet the Lord deliuered a very great armie into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they gaue sentence against Ioásh.

25 And when thei were departed from him, (for thei left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him for the blood of the children of Iehoiadá the Priest, and slewe him on his bed, and he dyed, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid: but they buried him not in the 6 He hyred also an hundreth thousand valiant men d out of Israel for an hundreth talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O King, let not the armie of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not e with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If f not, go thou on, do it, make thy selfe stiong to the battel, but God shal make thee fall before y enemy: for God hathe power to helpe, and to cast downe.

5 And he fought God in the dayes of Zechariáh (which vnderstode the visions of God) and when as he fought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went forth and fought against the Philistims, and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Iabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and buylt cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue giftes to Vzziah, and his name spred to the entering in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreover Vzziah buylt towres in Ieru-

10 And he buylt towres in the wildeines, and digged many cisternes: for he had muche catel bothe in the vallis and plaines, plowmen, and dressers of vines in the mountaynes, and in Carmel: for he loued husbandrie.

11 Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that wet out to warre by bands, according to the counte of their number vnder the hand of Ieriel the scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole number of the chief of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and six hundred.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, thre hundred and seuen thousand, and five hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the King against the enemye.

14 And Vzziah prepared chariots throughout all the hoste, shields, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and stonnes to sling.

15 He made also verie artificial engins in Ierusalém, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shote arrowes and great stonnes: and his name spred farre abroad, because God did helpe him meruelously, til he was mightie.

18 And they withstode Vzziah the King, & said vnto him, It pertaineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: go out of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: & while he was wroth with the Priests, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

11 Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captaines againe, which ye haue také prisoners of your brethren: for the feare wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certeine of the chief of the children of Ephráim, Azariáh the sonne of Iehohanán, Berechiáh the sonne of Meshilmóth, and Iehuzkiáh the sonne of Shallúm, and Amasí the sonne of Hadlái, stode vp against them that came from the warre, r Or, in Ierusalem. q They buried him not in the citie of Dauid whete were sepulchres of the Kings.

16 ¶ At that time did King Aház send vnto the Kings of Asshúr, to helpe him.

17 (For the Edomites came moreouer, and slewé of Iudáh, & caryed away captiues.

18 The Philistims also inuaded the cities in the lowe countrey, and towarde the South of Iudáh, and toke Bethshémesh and Aialón, and Gederóth and Shochó, with the villages thereof, & Timnáh, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Iudáh, because of Aház King of Israél: for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudáh and had grieuously transgressed against the Lord)

20 And Tiglath Pilneéser King of Asshúr came vnto him who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

21 For Aház toke a porcion out of the house of the Lord and out of the Kings house and of the princes, and gaue vnto y King of Asshúr: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulacion did he yet trespassé more against the Lord, (this is King Aház)

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, & he said, Because the gods of the Kings of Arám helped them, I wil sacrifice vnto them, & they wil helpe me: yet they were his ruine, and of all Israél.

24 And Aház gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the dores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euerie corner of Ierusalém.

25 And in euerie citie of Iudáh he made hie places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and prouoked to angre the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his actes, and all his wayes first and last, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Kings of Iudáh, and Israél.

27 And Aház slept with his fathers, & they buried him in the citie of Ierusalém, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the Kings of Israél: and Hezekiáh his sonne reigned in his steade.

4 And he brought in the Priests and the Leuites, and gathered them into the East strete, b This is a notable example for all princes, first to establish the pure religion of God, and to procure that Lord may be honored and serued aright. c Meaning all the idoles, altars, grones & whatsoever was occupied in their seruice, and wherewith the Temple was polluted.

5 And said vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites: sanctifie now your selues, and sanctifie the house of y Lord God of your fathers, and carye forthe the filthines out of the Sanctuarie.

6 For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, & turned their backs.

7 They haue also shut the dores of the porche, and quenched the lampes, and haue nether burnt incense, nor offred burnt offerings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Israél, d He sheweth that the contempt of religion is the cause of all Gods plagues.

8 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath bene on Iudáh and Ierusalém: & he hath made them a scatering, a desolacion, and an hissing, as ye se with your eyes.

Or, a adding of the bread and moquette.

9 For lo, our fathers are failé by y sword, and our sonnes, & our daughters, and our wiues are in captiuitie for the same cause.

10 Now I purpose to make a coucnant with the Lord God of Israél, that he may turne away his fierce wrath from vs.

11 Now my sonnes, be not deceiued: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serue him, and to be his ministers, and to burne incense.

e He proneth by the iudgements of God vpon those who haue contemned his wordes, that there is no way to auoyde his plagues, but by conforming the selues to his wil. Num. 17.6.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites arose, Maháth the sonne of Amashái, and Ioél the sonne of Azariáh of the sonnes of the Kohathites and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariáh the sonne of Iehalelél: and of the Gershonites, Ioáh the sonne of Zimmáh, and Edén the sonne of Ioáh:

13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphán, Shimrí, and Iehiél: & of the sonnes of Asaph, Zechariáh, and Mattanáh:

14 And of the sonnes of Hemán, Iehiél, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Ieduthún, Shemaiáh and Vzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified them selues & came according to the commandment of the King, and by the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

Or, concerning the threser of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the vncleannes that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the courte of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites toke it, to carie it out vnto the broke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porche of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixtete day of the first moneth they made an end.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, & the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transfessed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 And Hezekiah the King rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen bullockes, and seuen rams, and seuen lames, and seuen hegoates, for a sin offering for the kingdome, and for the sanctuarie, and for Iudah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullockes, and the Priests receiued the blood, & sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rams & sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slew the lames, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hegoates for the sinne offering before the King & the Congregation, and they laied their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, & with the blood of them they clesed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering & the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with violins, and with harpes, according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathán the Proph. t: for the commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the had of his Prophetes.

26 And the Leuites stode with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: & when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntil the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed them selues, and worshipped.

30 The Hezekiah the King & the princes commanded the Leuites to praise the Lord with the wordes of Dauid, and of Asaph the Seer. so they praised with ioye, and they bowed them selues, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now ye haue consecrate your selues to the Lord: come nere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of praises, and euerie man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seuentie bullockes, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lames: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for purification six hundred bullockes, and thie thousand shepe.

34 But the Priests were to fewe, & were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, til they had ended the worke, & vntil other Priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were more vpright in heart to sanctifie them selues, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the fat of the peace offerings and the drinke offerings for the burnt offering. so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced & all the people, that God had made the people so ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

1 And Hezekiah sent to all Israel, and Iudah, and also wrote letters to Ephaiim and Manasseh, that they shulde come to the house of the Lord at Ierusalem, to kepe the Pafseouer vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the King and his princes and all the Congregation had taken counsel in Ierusalem to kepe the Pafseouer in the seconde moneth.

l This thing was not appointed of man, but it was the commandement of God

m The Psalme which Dauid had appointed to be sung for the dayes giuing, 4 And the thing pleased the King, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israël from Beerſheba euen to Dan, that they ſhulde come to kepe the Pässeouer vnto the Lord God of Iſaél at Ieruſalém: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commiſſion of the King; and his princes, throughout all Iſraél and Iudáh, and with the commandment of the King, ſaying, Ye childre of Iſraél, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Iſhák, and Iſaél, and he wil returne to the remnant that are eſcaped of you, out of the hands of the Kings of Aſſhúr.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespaſſed againſt the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them deſolate, as ye ſe.

8 Be not ye now ſtiffecked like your fathers, but giue the hád to the Lord & come into his Sãctuarie, which he hath ſanctified for euer, and ſerue the Lord your God, and the ſcarcenes of his wrath ſhal turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children ſhal finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they ſhal returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and wil not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶ So the postes went from citie to citie through the land of Ephraím and Manaſſéh, euen vnto Zebulún: but they laughed them to ſcoone, and mocked them.

11 Ne ertheles diuers of Aſhét, and Manaſſéh, and of Zebulún ſuomitted them ſelues and came to Ieruſalém.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudáh, ſo that he gave them one heart to do the commandemēt of the King, and of the rulers, according to the worde of the Lord.

13 And there aſſembled to Ieruſalém muche people, to kepe the feaſt of the vnleauened bread in the ſeconde moneth, a very great aſſembly.

14 ¶ And they aroſe, & toke away the altars that were in Ieruſalém: and all thoſe for incenſe toke they away, and caſt them into the broke Kidrón.

15 Afterward they ſawe the Pässeouer the fourteenth day of the ſeconde moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were aſhamed, and ſanctified them ſelues, and broght the burnt offrings into the houſe of the Lord.

16 And they ſtoode in their place after their maner, according to the Law of Moſés the man of God: and the Priests ſprinkled the blood, returned of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Because there were manie in the Congregation that were not ſanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Pässeouer for all that were not cleane, to ſanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraím, & Manaſſéh, Iſſachár & Zebulún had not clenſed them ſelues, yet did eat the Pässeouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiáh prayed for them, ſaying, The good Lord be merciful toward him, 19 That prepareth his whole heart to ſeek the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not clenſed, according to the purification of the Sanctuarie.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiáh, & healed the people.

21 And the children of Iſraél that were preſent at Ieruſalém, kept the feaſt of the vnleauened bread ſeuē dayes w̄ great ioye, and the Leuites, and the Priests praised the Lord, day by day, ſinging with lowde instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiáh ſpake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to ſing vnto the Lord: & they did eat in that feaſt ſeuē dayes, & offered peace offrings, & praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole aſſembly toke counſel to kepe it other ſeuē dayes. So they kept it ſeuē dayes with ioye.

24 For Hezekiáh King of Iudáh had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ſeuē thousand ſhepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand ſhepe: and many Priests were ſanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudáh reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, & all the Congregation that came out of Iſaél, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſraél, & that dwelt in Iudáh.

26 So there was great ioye in Ieruſalém: for ſince the time of Salomón the ſonne of Dauid King of Iſraél there was not the like thing in Ieruſalém.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites aroſe, and bleſſed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

4 He commañded also the people that dwelt in Ierusalém, to giue a parte to the Priests, and Leuites, that they might be encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

d The tithes & first frutes for the maintenance of y Priests and Leuites

¶ And whé the commañdment was spred, the children of Israél broght abundance of first frutes, of corne, wine, & oyle, & homie, & of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things broght they abundantly.

e That their vioules might not be intangled with profusion of worldly things but y they might wholly & cheerfully serue the Lord

6 And the children of Israél & Iudáh that dwelt in y cities of Iudah, they also broght the tithes of bullocks and shepe, and the holy tithes w were cōsecrate vnto y Lord their God, & laid them on many heapes.

f Which they had dedicate to the Lord by a voice

7 In the third moneth they began to laye the fundacion of the heapes, and finished them in the seuent moneth.

g For the relief of the Priests, Leuites, widows, pupill s, fatherlesse, strangers & such as were in necessitie

8 ¶ And when Hezekiáh & the princes came, and sawe the heapes, they blessed the Lord and his people Israél.

h They praised the Lord, and prayed for all prosperitie to his people

9 And Hezekiáh questioned w the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariáh y chief Priest of the house of Zadók answered him, & said, Since the people begā to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we haue eaten & haue bene satisfied, & there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

i He sheweth that this plentiful liberalitie is expedient for y maintenance of the ministers, and that God therefore prospereth his people, & increaseth by his blessing that which is giue.

11 ¶ And Hezekiáh cōmāded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them, 12 And caried in the first frutes, and the tithes, & the dedicate things faithfully: & ouer the was Conaniáh the Leuite, y chief, and Shimeí his brother the seconde.

13 And Iehiél, and Azaziáh, & Náhath, & Afahél, & Ierimóth, and Izabád, and Eliél, and Ismachiáh, and Máhath, and Benaiáh were ouerseers by the appointment of Conaniáh, and Shimeí his brother, & by the cōmādemēt of Hezekiáh the King, and of Azariáh the chief of the house of God.

14 And Koré the sone of Imnáh the Leuite porter toward the East, was ouer the things y were willingly offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, & the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Edén, & Miniamín, & Isihúa, & Semaiah, Amariáh, and Shechaniáh, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethré by courses, bothe to the great and small,

16 Their daily porcion: beside their generacion being males & from thre yere olde and aboue, euen to all that entered into the house of the Lord to their office in th charge, according to their courses:

k Who had also a portion & allowance in this distribution.

17 Bothe to the generaciō of the Priests after the house of their fathers, & to the Leuites from twentie yere old & aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generacion of all their children, their wiues, & their sonnes and their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

l Mean'g, that ether by the faithful distributions of the officers, euerie one had their parte in the things that were offered, or is that their wiues & childre were relieved, because the Leuites were faithful in their office, and so depended on them.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aatón, the Priests, which were in y fields & suburbs of their cities, in euerie citie the men that were appointed by names, shulde giue porcions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generacion of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiáh throughout all Iudáh, and did wel, and vprightly, & truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the seruice of the house of God, bothe in the Law and in the commañdemēt, to seke his God, he did it with all his heart, & prospered.

And he set captaines of warre ouer the people and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

Be strong and couragious: feare not, neither be afraid for the King of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: for there be mo with vs, then is with him.

With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah King of Iudáh.

After this, did Sanneherib King of Asshur send his seruants to Ierusalém (while he was against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah King of Iudáh and vnto all Iudáh that were at Ierusalém, saying,

Thus saith Sanneherib the King of Asshur, Wherein do ye trust, that ye wil remaine in Ierusalém, during the siege?

Doeth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine & by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shal deliuer vs out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

Hath not y same Hezekiah take awaie his hie places and his altars and commāded Iudáh and Ierusalém, saying, Ye shal worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

Knowe ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreies? Were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

Who is he of all the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that colde deliuer his people out of mine hand? that your God shulde be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sorte, neither beleue ye him: for none of all y gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand and out of y hand of my fathers: how muche lesse shal your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

And his seruantes spake yet more against the Lord God, & against his seruant Hezekiah.

He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israél and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreies colde not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shal not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

Then they cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes speache vnto the people of Ierusalém that were on the wall, to feare the Lord and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalém, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the workes of mans hands,

But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Isaiáh the sonne of Amoz, prayed against this and cryed to heauen.

And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur: so he returned with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his owne bowels, slewe him there with the sworde.

So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalém from the hand of Sanneherib King of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, and maintained the on euerie side.

And many broght offerings vnto the Lord to Ierusalém, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that he was magnified in the sight of all nacions from thence forth.

In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

But Hezekiah did not rendre accordig to the rewarde bestowed vpon him: for his heart was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudáh and Ierusalém.

Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled him selfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalém, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the daies of Hezekiah.

Hezekiah also had exceedig muche riches & honour, & he gate him treasures of siluer, & of golde, and of precious stones, & of swete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

And of store houses for the increase of wheat, and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beastes, and rowes for the stables.

And he made him cities, and had possession of shepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding muche.

This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of Gihon, and led the streight vnderneath toward y citie of Dauid Westward. so Hezekiah prospered in all his workes.

b By the charge giue to Moses.

1 Manasséh was twelue yere olde, * whē he began to reigne, and he reigned fiue and fiftie yere in Ierusalém:
2 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the abominacions of the heathen, * whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israél.
3 For he went backe and buylt the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshiped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.
4 Also he buylt altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, * In Ierusalém shall my Name be for euer.
5 And he buylt altars for all the hoste of the heauē in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.
6 And he caused his sonnes to passe through yē fyre in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gaue him selfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to sorcerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: he did verie much euil in yē sight of the Lord to angre him.
7 He put also the karued image, which he had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid and to Salomón his sonne, * In this house & in Ierusalém, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israél, wil I put my Name for euer, 8 Nether wil I make the foote of Israél to remoue any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take hede, & do all that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Mosés.
9 So Manasséh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalém to erre, & to do worse then the heathen, whome the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israél.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake to Manasséh & to his people, but they wolde not regarde.
11 Wherefore the Lord broght vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur, which toke Manasséh & put him in fetters, and bounde him in chaines, and carryed him to Babel.
12 And when he was in tribulaciō, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled him selfe greatly before yē God of his father, 13 And prayed vnto him, and God was entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and broght him againe to Ierusalém into his kingdome: the Manasséh knewe that the Lord was God.
14 Now after this he buylt a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the Westside of Gihon in the valley, eue at the entrie of the fish gate, & compassed about Ophél, and raised it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.
15 And he toke away the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that he had buylt in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalém, and cast them out of the citie.
16 Also he prepared the altar of yē Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and of thankes, and commanded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israél.
17 Neuertheles the people did sacrifice still in the hie places, but vnto yē Lord their God.
18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasséh, and his prayer vnto his God, and the wordes of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Israél, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Kings of Israél.
19 And his prayer and how God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespassse, and the places wherein he buylt hie places, and set groues and images (before he was humbled) beholde, they are written in the boke of the Seers.
20 So Manasséh slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in his owne house: and Amón his sonne reigned in his stead.
21 ¶ Amón was two and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yere in Ierusalém.
22 But he did euil in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasséh his father. for Amón sacrificed to all the images, which Manasséh his father had made, and serued them, 23 And he humbled not him selfe before the Lord, as Manasséh his father had humbled him selfe: but this Amón trespassed more and more.
24 And his seruants * conspired against lum, and slewe him in his owne house.

h Thus by ignorance they were deceiued thinking it not to kepe the altars, so that they worshiped God: but it is idolatrie to worship God anie otherwise then he hath appointed. Which albeit that it is not contained in the Hebrew, yet because it is here mentioned & is written in the Greke, we haue placed it in yē end of this boke.

k Because he had so horribly offended against yē Lord, they did not blyve him in yē citie, whiches of the Kings, but in the garden of the Kings house.

25 But the people of the land slewe all the that had conspired against King Amón: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne King in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Iosiah destroyeth the idoles, & And restoreth the Temple. 14 The booke of the Lawe is founde. 21 He sendeth to Huldáh the propheteesse for counsell. 27 God heareth his prayer. 31 He maketh a covenant with God.

2 King. 22. 1

Iosiah was eight yere olde whē he began to reigne, and he reigned in Ierusalem one and thirtie yere.

a He followed David in all points that he followed the Lord.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of David his father, and bowed nether to the right hand nor to the left.

b When he was but thirte yere olde, he shewed him selfe zealous of Gods glorie, & at twētie yere olde he abolished idolatrie and restored true religion. Which sheweth that he wolde see the reformation of his owne cōs.

3 And in the eight yere of his reigne (when he was yet a childe) he began to seke after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth yere he began to purge Iudáh, and Ierusalem from the hie places, and the groues, and the kerued images, and molten images:

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalím, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on hie vpon them: he brake also the groues, & the kerued images, and the molten images, and stampd them to poudre, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

d Read 2. King. 23. 16.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the Priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudáh and Ierusalem.

6 And in cities of Manasséh, & Ephráim, and Simeón, euen vnto Naphtalí, with their maules they brake all rounde about.

e This great zeale of this godlie King of holie Ghost teacheth for the as an example & paterne to other Kings & rulers, to seeke the what God requireth of them.

7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stampd to poudre the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israél, he returned to Ierusalem.

2 King. 23. 3.

8 ¶ Then in the eightente yere of his reigne when he had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphán the sonne of Azaliáh, and Maaseáh the gouernour of the citie, and Ioáh the sonne of Ioaház the recorder, to repara the house of the Lord his God.

10, the returned to Ierusalem, meaning, Shaphán, &c.

9 And when they came to Hilkiáh the hie Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the dore, had gathered at the hand of Manasséh, and Ephráim, & of all the residue of Israél, and of all Iudáh and Beniamín, and of the inhabitánts of Ierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that shulde do the worke & had the ouersight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repara & amende the house.

11 Euen to the workemen & to the buylders gaue they it, to bye hewed stone and timber for couples & for beames of the houes, which the Kings of Iudáh had destroyed.

f For there were many porcions and pieces annexed to the Temple. g Meaning, they were in such a credit for their fidelitie, that they made none account of that which they receiued. 2. King. 22. 9.

12 And the men did the worke & faithfully, and the ouerscers of them were Iaháh and Obadiáh the Leuites, of the children of Merarí, and Zecharíah, and Meshulám, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that colde skil of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdes, and them that set forwarde all the workemen in euerie worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, & officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiáh the Priest founde the booke of the Lawe of the Lord giuen by the hád of Moses.

h Read 2. King. 22. 8.

15 Therefore Hilkiáh answered and said to Shaphán the chanceler, I haue founde the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiáh gaue the booke to Shaphán.

16 And Shaphán caryed the booke to the King, and brought the King worde againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that do they.

i For the King was commanded to haue continually a copie of this booke, & to read therein day & night. Deut. 17. 18.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was founde in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerscers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphán the chanceler declared to the King, saying, Hilkiáh the Priest hath giuen me a booke, & Shaphán read it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the wordes of the Lawe, he tare his clothes.

k For sorrow that the worde of God had bene so long suppressed, and the people kept in ignorance, considering alio the curtes contained therein against theire greuous.

20 And the King commanded Hilkiáh, and Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán, & Abdón the sonne of Micáh, & Shaphán the chanceler, and Asaiáh the Kings seruant, saying, 21 Go and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israél and Iudáh, concerning the wordes of this booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the worde of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiáh and they that the King had appointed, went to Huldáh the propheteesse the wife of Shallúm, the sonne of Tokháth, the sonne of Hasráh keeper of the wardrobe (and she dwelt in Ierusalem within the colledge) and they communed herewith her.

l Thus the godlie do not only lament their owne sinnes, but also that their fathers and predecessors haue offended God.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, Telle the man that sent you to me, m Thus the Kings. n Read herof 2 King. 22. 15. o 1. King. 12. to the King.

24 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euē all the curses, that are written in the boke which they haue red before the King of Iudáh:

25 Because they haue forsáké me, and burnt incēse vnto other gods, to angre me with all the workes of their P hands, therefore shal my wrath fall vpon this place, & shal not be quenched.

26 But to the King of Iudáh, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, The wordes which thou hast heard, shal come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did not melt, and thou didest humble thy self before God, whē thou heardest his wordes against this place and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy self before me and taicst thy clothes, and weptest before me, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Beholde, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shal not see all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this r place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the King worde againe.

29 ¶ Then the King seat and gathered all the Elders of Iudah and Ierusalém.

30 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudáh, and the inhabitants of Ierusalém, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all the people frō the greatest to the s smallest, and he red in their eares all the wordes of the boke of the couenant that was founde in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stode by his pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord, to walke after the Lord, and to kepe his commādements, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, & ÿ he wolde accomplish the wordes of the couenant written in the same boke.

32 And he caused all that were founde in Ierusalém, and Beniamín to stand to it: & the inhabitants of Ierusalém did according to the couenant of God, euē the God of their fathers.

33 So Iosiah toke away all the abominations out of all the countreys that pertained to the children of Israél, and compelled all r that were found in Israél, to serue the Lord their God: so all his daies they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

6 So kil the Paffeouer, and sanctifie your selues, and d prepare your brethren that they may do according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Mosés.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the r people shepe, lābes and kiddes, all for the Paffeouer, euē to all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, & thre thousand bullockes: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests & to the Leuites: Hilkiáh, and Zechariáh, and Iehiél, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto ÿ Priests for the Paffeouer, euē two thousand and six hundred shepes, & thre hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stode in their places, also the Leuites in their ordres according to the Kings commandement:

11 And they slawe the Paffeouer, & ÿ Priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, & the Leuites slayed them.

12 And they toke away ÿ burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the boke of Mosés, & so of ÿ bullockes.

13 And r they roasted the Paffeouer with fyre, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pottes, panns, and caulderns, & distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterwarde also they prepared for the selues & for the Priests: for the Priests the fonnēs of Aarón were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, & the fat vntil night there, for the Leuites prepared for the selues, &

THE PRAYER OF MANASSÉH King of the Iewes.

Lord almighty, God of our fathers, Abram, Isaac and Iacob, and of their righteous sede, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the worde of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the depe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all do feare & tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glorie can not be borne, & thine angrie threatening toward sinners is importable, but thy merciful promes is vnmeasurable & vnsearcheable. For thou art the moste high Lord, of great compassiō, long suffring & moste merciful, & repētest for mā's miseries. Thou, o Lord, accordig to thy great goodnes hast promised a repentance & forguenes to them that sinne against thee, & for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, o Lord, that art the God of the iuste, hast not appointed repentance to the iuste, as to Abram, and Isaac and Iacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned about the nōber of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, o Lord, are multiplied: my transgres- sions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde & se the height of the heauēs for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnes. I am bowed downe with many yro bādes, that I cā not lift vp mine head, nether haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath and done euil before thee. I did not thy wil, nether kept I thy com- mandements. I haue set vp abominacions & haue multiplied offenses. Now therefore I bowe the kne of mine heart, besechig thee of grace. I haue sinned, o Lord, I haue sinned, & I acknowledge my trasgressiōs: but I humbly besече thee, forgie me: o Lord, forgie me, & destroye me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for euer by reseruing euil for me, nether condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shewe all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I wil praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life. for all the power of the heauens praise thee, & thine is the glorie for euer & euer, Amen.

Ff. 111.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is euer merciful vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they shulde see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the worlde and aspire vnto the heauens. so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept the newe in London, seuentie yeres in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tendre mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued lothe the heart of the chief ruler to pittie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding lest they shulde growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he kept them stil in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endeuour as muche as they can to hindre their moste worthwhile enterprises: yet by the exhortacion of the Prophetes they went forward by lile: and lile til their worke was finished. The autor of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and scribe of the Law, chap. 7. 6. he returned to Ierusalém the first yere of Darius, who succeded Cyrus, that is, more then fowrte yeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabél, when the Temple was buylt. He broglt with him a great companie, and muche treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all suche things as shulde be necessarie for the Temple: and at his coming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good ordre.

C H A P. I.

*1 Cyrus sendeth againe the people that was in captiuitie.
2 And reioyces them their holy vessils.*

NOW* in the first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (the worde of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying,

Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath commanded me to buyld him an house in Ierusalém, which is in Iudáh.

Who is he among you of all his people with whome his God let him go vp. to Ierusalém which is in Iudáh, and buyld the house of the Lord God of Israél: he is the God, which is in Ierusalém.

And euerie one that remaineth in anie place (where he soourneth) let the men of his place relieue him with siluer & with golde, and with substance, & with cattel, and with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Ierusalém.

Then the chief fathers of Iudáh & Benjamin, & the Priests & Leuites rose vp, with all the whose spirit God had raised to go vp, to buyld the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalém.

And all they that were about the, strengthened their hands with vessils of siluer, with golde, with substance & with cattel, & with precious things, besides all that was willingly offred.

Also the King Cyrus broglt forth the vessils of the house of the Lord, which Nabuchadnezzár had takē out of Ierusalém, & had put the in his house of his god.

8 Even the did Cyrus King of Persia brig forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted the vnto Shehbazzár the prince of Iudáh.

9 And this is the number of them, thirtie basins of golde, a thousand basins of siluer, nine and twentie kniues,

10 Thirtie bowles of golde, & of siluer bowles of the second sort, foure hundredth and ten, & of other vessils, a thousand.

11 All the vessils of golde & siluer were fine thousand & foure hundredth. Shehbazzár broglt vp all with the of the captiuitie that came vp from Babel to Ierusalém.

1 Thei buyld the altar of God & Thei offer to the Lord. 2 Thei prepare for the Tēple. 11 And sing vnto the Lord.

1 And when the seuent moneth was come, and the children of Israél were in their cities, the people assembled them selues as one man vnto Ierusalém.

2 Then stode vp Ieshúa the sonne of Iožadák, and his brethren the Priests, and Zerubbabél the sonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, & buylded the altar of the God of Israél, to offer burnt offrings thereon, as it is written in the Law of Mosés the man of God,

3 And they set the altar vp vpon his bases (for feare was among them, because of the people of those countreies) therefore they offered burnt offrings there vnto the Lord, euen burnt offrings in the morning and at euen.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and the burnt offering daily, by nomber according to the custome day by day,

5 And afterward the continual burnt offering, bothe in the new moneths and in all the feast dayes that were consecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offred vnto the Lord.

6 From the first day of the seuent moneth began they to offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord: but the fundacion of the Temple of the Lord was not laied.

7 They gaue money also vnto the masons, and to the workemen, and meat and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Zidón and of Tyrus, to bring the cedre wood from Lebanon to the sea vnto Iaphó, according to the grant that they had of Cyrus King of Persia.

8 And in the seconde yere of their coming vnto the house of God in Ierusalém in the second moneth began Zerubbabél the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshúa the sonne of Iožadák, and the remnant of their brethren the Priests and the Leuites, & all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Ierusalém, and appointed the Leuites from twenty yere olde & aboue, to set forward the worke of the house of the Lord.

9 And Ieshúa stode with his sonnes, and his brethren, Kadmiél with his sonnes, & the sonnes of Iudáh together to set forward the workemen in the house of God, and the sonnes of Henadák with their sonnes, and their brethren the Leuites.

10 And when the buylders laied the fundacion of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asáph with cymbales, to praise the Lord, after the ordinance of Dauid King of Israél.

11 Thus they sang when they gaue praise, and when they gaue thanks vnto the Lord, For he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer toward Israél. And all ý people shouted with a great shoute, whē they praised the Lord, because the fundacion of the house of the Lord was layed.

12 Many also of the Priests and the Leuites and the chief of the fathers, ancient men, which had seen the first house, when the fundacion of this house was layed before their eyes, wept with a loude voyce: and many shouted a loude for ioye, 13 So that the people colde not discern the founde of the shoute for ioye, from the noyce of the weping of the people: for the people shouted with a loude crye, and the noyce was heard farre of.

1 THE *Haggái a Prophet & Zechariáh the sonne of Iddó a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudāh, & Ierusalēm, in the Name of the God of Israél, euen vnto them. 2 Then Zerubbabél the sonne of Shealtiel, & Ieshúa the sonne of Iozadak arose, and began to buylde the house of God at Ierusalēm, and with them were the Prophetes of God, which a helped them. 3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnái, which was captaine beyonde the Riuer, & Shether-boznái and their companions, & said thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandemēt to buylde this house, and to lay the fundacions of these walles? 4 b Then said we vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that buylde this buylding? 5 But the eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they colde not cause them to cease, til the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters ther eunto. 6 The copie of the lettre, that Tatnái captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shether boznai and his companions Apharsethcaré, (which wer beyonde the Riuer) sent vnto King Darius. 8 Be it known vnto the King, that we wēt into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is buylded with great stones, and beames are layed in the walles, and this woike is wroght spedely, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to buyld this house, and to laye the fundacion of these walles?

10 We asked their names also, y^e we might certifie thee, & that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, & said, We are the seruants of y^e God of heauen & earth, & buyld the house that was buylt of olde & many yeres ago, which a^d great King of Israël^e buylded, & founded it.

13 But in the first yere of Cyrus King of Babél, King Cyrus made a decree to buyld this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde & siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzár took out of the Tēple, that was in Ierusalém, and broght them into the Temple of Babél, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Tēple of Babél, & they gaue them vnto one^f Sheshbazzár by his name, whome he had made captaine.

15 And he said vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, & put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalém, and let the house of God be buylt in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzár and layed the fundacion of the house of God, which is in Ierusalém, and since that time euen vntil now, hath it bene in buylding, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be searche made in the house of the Kings treasures, which is there in Babél, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to buyld this house of God in Ierusalém, and let the King send his minie concerning this.

palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, & therein was it thus writē, as a memorial,

3 IN THE FIRST yere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalém, Let the house be buylt, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, & let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be thie score cubites, & the breadth thereof thre score cubites.

^c Meane, see with them, rather handit them.

7 Suffre ye the woike of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes & the Elders of the Iewes may buyld this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what ye shal do to the Elders of these Iewes for the buylding of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyonde the Riuer, there be incessantly expences giuen vnto these me that they^d cease not.

^d For lacke of money.

9 And that which they shal haue nede of, let it be^e giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rams, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine, & oyle, according to the appointemēt of the Priests that are in Ierusalém, that there be no faute,

10 That they may haue to offer swete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, y^e whosoeuer shal alter this sentence, the wood shal be pulled downe from his house, and shal be set vp, & he shal be hanged thereon, & his house shal be made a dung hil for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name^e to dwel there, destroye all Kings and peopie that put to their hand to alter, and to destroye this house of God, which is in Ierusalém. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with spede.

CHAP. VII.

¶ By the commādemēt of the King, Ezrá and his companions come to Ierusalem. 27 He giueth thākes to God.

Now after these things, in the reign of ^a Artahsháste King of Persia, was Ezrá the sonne of Seraiáh, the sonne of Azariáh, the sonne of Hilkíah,

2 The sonne of Shaliúm, the sonne of Zaddók, the sonne of Ahitúb,

3 The sonne of Amariáh, the sonne of Azariáh, the sonne of Meraióth,

4 The sonne of Zeraíah, the sonne of Vzzí, the sonne of Bukkí,

5 The sonne of Abisshúa, the sonne of Phinehás, the sonne of Eleazár, the sonne of ^b Aaron, the chief Priest.

6 This Ezrá came vp from Babel, and was a ^c scribe prompt in the Law of Moisés, which the Lord God of Israél had giuen, and the King gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp ^{certen} e of the children of Israél, and of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the sinners, and the porters, and the Nethinims vnto Ierusalém, in the seuent yere of King Artahsháste.

8 And he came to Ierusalém in the ^d first moneth, which was in the seuent yere ^e of the King.

9 For vpon the first ^{day} of the first moneth began he to go vp from Babel, and on the first ^{day} of the fifth moneth came he to Ierusalém, according to the good hand of his God ^{that} was vpon him.

10 For Ezrá had prepared his heart to seke the Law of the Lord, and to do it, & to teache the precepts & iudgements in Israél.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that King Artahsháste gaue vnto Ezrá the Priest & scribe, ^{euen} a writer of the wordes of his comandements of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israél.

25 And weighed the siluer & the golde, & the vessels, euē the offering of the house of our God, which the King and his counsellers, and his princes, and all Israél that were present had offered.

¶ Read 1 Kin 9:14

26 And I weighed vnto their hand six hundred and fifty ^b talents of siluer, and in siluer vessel, an hundred talents, and in golde, an hundred talents:

¶ Read Chap. 2:69

27 And twentie basins of golde, of a thousand ^c drammes, and two vessels of shining brassie very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶ And I said vnto the, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the golde and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watche ye, & kepe them vntil ye weigh them before the chief Priests and the Leuites, and the chief fathers of Israél in Ierusalém in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Leuites receiued the weight of the siluer and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalém, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the Riuer of Ahauá on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to go vnto Ierusalém, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of suche as layed ^k waite by the way.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euil dedes, and for our great trespasses (seing that thou our God hast staid vs from being benethe s for our iniquities, & hast giuen vs suche deliuerance)

h He sheweth that God is iuste in punishing his people, & yet merciful in referring a returne to whome he sheweth fauour.

14 Shulde we returne to breake thy cōmandements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of suche abominaciōs, woldest not thou be angrie toward vs til thou haddest cōsumed vs, so that there shulde be no remnant nor anie eskaping?

15 O Lord God of Israël, thou art iuste, for we haue bene h referued to escape, as appeareth this day: beholde, we are before thee in our trespass: therefore we cannot stand before thee because of it.

CHAP. X.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

2 Ezr. 2, 92.
a He confesed his sinnes and the sinnes of the people.

1 W Hiles Ezrá prayed thus, & confessed him selfe weping, and falling downe before y house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israël a very great Congregation of men and women & children: for the people wept with a great lamentacion.

b Meaning, that God wolde receive the to mercie

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elám, answered, and said to Ezrá, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is b hope in Israël concerning this.

c Which are strangers and married contrary to the Law of God

3 Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away c all the wiues (and suche as are borne of them) according to the counsel of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

d Because God hath giuen thee autoritie, & learning to persuade y people hereto and to cōmande them.

4 Arise: for the matter d belongeth vnto thee: we also wil be with thee: be of comforte and do it.

5 ¶ Then arose Ezrá, and caused the chief Priests, the Leuites, & all Israël, to swear that they wolde do according to this worde. So they sware.

3 Ezr. 9, 8.

6 * And Ezrá rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chambre of Lohan in the sonne of Eliashib: he went euen thither, but he did eat nether bread, nor dronke water: for he mourned, because of the trasgression of the of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamacion to go throughout Iudáh and Ierusalém, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they shulde assemble them selues vnto Ierusalém.

*Ezr sonnes of the captiuitie.

8 And whosoeuer wolde not come within thre dayes according to the counsel of the princes and Elders, all his substance shulde be forfayt, & he shulde be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

*Or, cōdemned.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudáh & Benjamin assembled them selues vnto Ierusalém within thre dayes, which was the twentieth day of the c mntē moneth, and all the people sate in the strete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the f raine.

e Which continued part of Nouember & part of December

10 And Ezrá the Priest stode vp, and said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to s increase the trespassse of Israël.

f For the season was giuen to raine, & so y wether was more sharpe & colde, and alio their conscience touched them

11 Now therefore h giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his wil and separate your selues from the people of the land, & from the strange wiues.

h Read Iohs. 7, 29.

12 And all the Congregation answered, & said with a loude voyce, Se wil we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie wether, and we are not able to stand without, neither is it the woike of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore i before all the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euerie cite and the iudges thereof, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

i Let them be appointed to examine this matter.

15 Then were appointed Ionathán the sonne of Afah-él, and Iahazrah the sonne of Tikuah ouer this matter, and Meshullám and Shabbethái the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so and k departed, euen Ezrá the Priest, & the mē that were chief fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first daye of the tēte moneth to examine the matter.

k They went to the chiefes to sit on this matter w was thre moneths in finishing.

17 And vntil the first day of y first moneth they were finishing the busines with all the men that had taken strange wiues, 18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men founde, that had taken strange wiues, to wnt, of the sonnes of Ieshúa, the sonne of Iozadák, & of his brethren, Maasetháh, A Eliézer, and Iarib and Gedaliáh.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthy persones for the commoditie and profite of this Church, as now within the compasse of seuentie yeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabél, Ezra, and Nehemiáh. Whereof the first was their captaine, to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was buylded: the seconde reformed their maners and planted religion: & the thirde buylded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godlie man and in great autoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him moste ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he colde desire. This boke is also called of the latins the seconde of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

- 1 Nehemiáh bewasleth the calamitie of Ierusalém.
- 5 He confesseth the sinnes of the people, & prayeth God for them

He wordes of Nehemiáh the sonne of Hachaliáh, in the moneth ^a Chisleú, in the twentieth yere, as I was in the palace of Shushán,

- 2 Came Hanani, one of my ^b brethren, he & the men of Iudáh, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of ^y captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalém.

against thee, bothe I & my fathers house haue sinned:

7 We haue grievously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements, which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.

Deut 30.4

8 I beseeche thee, remember the worde that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye wil transgresse, and I wil scatter you abroade among the people.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and kepe my commandments, and do them, though your scattering were to the vntermost parte of the heaue. yet wil I gather you from thence and wil bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen, to place my Name there.

10 Now these are thy seruants & thy people, whome thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beseeche thee, let thine eare now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the Kings butler.

That is, to worship thee.

To wit, the King Artahastate.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, he came to Ierusalem, and buylde the walles.

Which was first mouth of the yere & sitheth part of Marche & part of April Who is also called Darius read EZR 7.1.

Now in the moneth Nisan in the twetieth yere of King Artahastate, the wine stode before him, and I toke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the King. now I was not before time sad in his presence.

2 And the King said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorowe of heart. Then was I fore afraid,

3 And I said to the King, God saue the King for euer: why shulde not my countenance be sad, when the citie & house of sepulchres of my fathers lieth waste & the gates thereof are deuoured with fyre?

4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing dost thou require? Then I prayed to the God of heauen,

I desired God in mine heart, to prosper mine enterprise.

And said vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue founde fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou woldest send me to Iudah vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may buylde it.

5 And the King said vnto me, (the queene also sitting by him) How long shalt thy journey be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

Or, Ephraim.

6 After I said vnto the King, If it please thy King, let them giue me letters to the captaines beyonde the River, that they may conuaye me ouer, til I come into Iudah.

And letters vnto Asaph the keeper of the Kings park, that he may giue me timber to buylde the gates of the palace (which appertained to the walles) & for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shal entre into. And the King gaue me according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

Or, paradise.

As God moued me to aske, & as he gaue me good success the. xiii.

7 Then came I to the captaines beyonde the Riuer, & gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captaines of the armie and horsmen with me.

8 But Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved thefore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

These were great enemies to the Iewes & libbed all-wise bothe by force & subtiltie to ouer come them. & Tobiah because his wife was a Jewess, had aduertisement euer of their affaires and so wrought them great trouble.

9 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there thre dayes.

10 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with me: for I tolde no man, what God had put in mine heart to do at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with me, saue the beast whereon I rode.

11 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragon well, and to the dung porte, and vewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof deuoured with the fyre.

12 Then I went forthe vnto the gate of the fountaine, and to the Kings fish pool, & there was no iourne for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

Or, conduit.

13 Then went I vp in the night by the broke, & vewed the wall, and turned backe, and comming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

14 And the rulers knew not whether I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tel it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

That is, concerned of other nations, is though God had forsaken vs.

15 Afterward I said vnto them, Ye see the miserie that we are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fyre: come and let vs buylde the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more for a reproche.

They were encouraged & gaue them felicitie to do well, & to traueil in this worthy enterprise.

16 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the Kings wordes that he had spoken vnto me. And they said, Let vs rise, & buylde. So they strengthened their hands to good.

These were thre chief gouerners vnder the King of Persia beyonde Euphrates: thus wicked when they wil burthen the children of God, euer lay creation vnto their charge, bothe because it maketh the more odious to the world, & also stretcheth hatred of priests most against them.

17 But when Sanballat the Horonite, & Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye do? Wil ye rebell against the King?

18 Then answered I them, and said to the, The God of heauen, he wil prosper vs, &

The number of them that buylded the walles.

Then arose Eliashib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests, & they buylt the shepegate: they repaired it, & set vp the dores thereof: euen vnto the towre of Meish repaired they it, & vnto the towre of Hananel.

2 And next vnto him buylded the men of Iichó, and beside him Zaccúr the sonne of Imrí.

3 But the fish porte did the sonnes of Senaáh buylde, which also layed the beames thereof, and set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next vnto the fortified Merimóth, the sonne of Vriah, the sonne of Hakkóz: and next vnto them fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiáh, the sonne of Meshazabeél: and next vnto them fortified Zidók, the sonne of Baaná:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tecoites. but the great man of them^b put not their neckes to the worke of their lords.

6 And the gate of the^a old fishpoole fortified Iehoiadá the sonne of Paseah, & Meshullám the sonne of Besodaiáh. they layed the beames thereof, and set on the dores thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiáh the Gibeonite, & Iadón y Meronothite, men of Gibeón, and of Mizpáh, vnto the throne of the Duke, which was beyonde the Ruer.

8 Next vnto him fortified Vzzél the sonne of Harhohiáh^c of the golde smithes: next vnto him also fortified Hananiah, the sonne^d of Harakkahím, and they repaired Ierusalém vnto the broad wall.

9 Also next vnto them fortified Rephaiáh, the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe parte of Ierusalém.

10 And next vnto him fortified Iedaiáh the sonne of Harumáph, euen ouer against his house: and next vnto him fortified Hattúsh, the sonne of Hasbabniáh.

11 Malchiáh the sonne of Harím, and Hashtub the sonne of Paháth Moáb fortified the seconde^e portion, & the towre of the fornaces.

12 Next vnto him also fortified Shallúm, the sonne of Halloésh, the ruler of the halfe parte of Ierusalém, he, & his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanúm, & the inhabitants of Zanuáh: they buylt it, and set on the dores thereof, y lockes thereof, & the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubites on the wall vnto the dung porte.

14 But the dung porte fortified Malchiáh, the sonne of Recháb, the ruler of y fourte parte of Beth haccárem: he buylt it, & set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, & the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallún, the sonne of Col-hozéh, the ruler of y fourte parte of Mizpáh: he buylded it, and couered it, and set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall vnto the fishpoole of Sheláh by the Kings garden, and vnto the steppes that go downe from the cite of Dauid.

16 After him fortified Nehemiáh the sonne of Azbák, the ruler of the halfe parte of Beth-zúr, vntil the other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fishpoole that was repaired, and vnto the house of the mightie.

17 After him fortified the Leuites, Rehúm the sonne of Baní, and next vnto him fortified Hashabah the ruler of the halfe parte of Kerláh in his quarter.

18 After him fortified their brethren: Bauái, the sonne of Henadád the ruler of the halfe parte of Kerláh:

19 And next vnto him fortified Ezer, the sonne of Ieshúa the ruler of Mizpáh, the other portion ouer against the going vp to the^d corner of the armour.

20 After him was earnest Barúch the sonne of Zaccái, & fortified another portion from the corner vnto the dore of the house of Eliashib the hie Priest.

21 After him fortified Merimóth, the sonne of Vriáh, the sonne of Hakkóz, another portion from the dore of the house of Eliashib, euen as long as the house of Eliashib extended.

22 After him also fortified the Priests, the men of^e the plaine.

23 After them fortified Beniamín, & Hashtub ouer against their house: after him fortified Azariáh, the sonne of Maafaiáh, the sonne of Ananiáh, by his house.

24 After him fortified Binnú, the sonne of Henadád another portio, from the house of Azariáh vnto the turning and vnto the corner.

25 Palál, the sonne of Vzaí, from ouer against the corner, and the high towre, that lyeth out from the Kings house, which is beside the courte of the prison. After him, Pedaiáh, the sonne of Parósh.

26 And the^f Nethinims they dwelt in the fortresse vnto the^g place ouer against the water gate, Eastward, & to the towre that lyeth out.

27 After him fortified y Tecoites another portion ouer against the great towre, that lyeth out, euen vnto the wall of the fortresse.

CHAP. IIIII.

7 The buylding of Ierusalém is hindred, 15 But God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes buylde with one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

1 BVt when Sanballát heard that we buylded the wall, then was he wroth and sore grieued, and mocked the Iewes, 2 And said before his brethien and the armie of Samaria, thus he said, What do these weake Iewes wil they fortifie the selues wil thei sacrifice wil thei finish it in a day wil they make the stones whole againe out of y heapes of dust, seing they are burnt
 3 And Tobíah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they buylde, yet if a foxe go vp, he shal euen breake downe their stony wall.

4 Heare, o our God (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray d in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their iniquitie, neither let their sinne be put out in thy presence: for thei haue prouoked vs before the buylders.

6 So we buylt the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the h halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 ¶ But when Sanballát, and Tobíah, & the Arabians, and the Ammonites, & the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalém were repared, (for the breaches begā to be stopped) then thei were verie wroth,

8 And conspired altogether to come and to fight against Ierusalém, & to hindei thē.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set watchemen by them, day & night, because of them.

10 And Iudáh said, The strength of y bearers is weakened, and thei en muche earth, so that we are not able to buylde the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had said, Thei shal not knowe, neither se, til we come into the middes of them and slaye them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs f ten times, & Fró all places whence ye shal returne, they wil be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall vpon y toppes of the stones, & placed y people by their families, with their swordes, their speares & their bowes,

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, & said vnto the princes, & to the rulers, & to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: h remember the great Loid, & feareful, & fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowne vnto vs, then God brought their counsel to nought, & we turned all againe to the wall, euerie one vnto his worke.

16 And fró that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe parte of them helde the speares, and shields, & bowes, and habergins: and the rulers stode i behinde all the house of Iudáh.

17 They that buylded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, & they that laded, did the worke with one hand, & with the other helde the sworde.

18 For euerie one of the buylders had his sworde girde on his loynes, & so buylded:
 & he that blewe the trúpet, was beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the sóud of the trumpet, k resorte ye thither vnto vs: our God shal fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them helde the speares, from the appearing of the morning, til the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euerie one with his si ruant lodge within Ierusalém, that they may be a watche for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So nether I, nor my brethren, nor my ser-uants, nor the mé of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put of our clothes, saue euerie one put them of l for wash-

4 The e were alſo that ſaid, We haue borrowed money for the Kings tribute vpon our lands and our vineyardes.

5 And now our ſiſti is as ^d the fiſh of our brethre, & our ſonnes as their ſonnes: and lo, we bring into ſubiectiō our ſonnes, and our daughters, as ſeruāts, and there be of our daughters now in ſubiectiō, and there is no power ^e in our hands. for other mē haue our lāds & our vineyardes.

6 Then was I very angrie when I heard their crye and theſe wordes.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and ſaid vnto them, You laie ^f burdens euerie one vpon his brethren: and I ſet a great ^g aſſemble againſt them,

8 And I ſaid vnto them, We (according to our abilitie) haue redemed our brethren the Iewes, which were ſolde vnto the heathen: and wil you ſell your brethren againe, or ſhal they be ^h ſolde vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, and colde not anſwere.

9 I ſaid alſo, That which ye do, is not good. Oght ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the ^k reproche of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my ſeruāts do lend them money & corne: I pray you, let vs leaue of this burden.

12 Then ſaid they, We wil reſtore it, and wil not require it of them: we wil do as thou haſt ſaid. Then I called the Priests, & cauſed them to ſweare, that they ſhulde do according to this promes.

13 So I ſhooke my lappe, & ſaid, So let God ſhake out euerie man that wil not performe this promes from his houſe, and from his labour: euen thus let him be ſhakē out, and emptied. And all the Congregation ſaid, Amen, and praifed the Lord. and the people did accoꝛding to this promes.

16 But rather I fortified ^a a porcion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no land, and all my ſeruants came thether together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there were at my table an hundred and ſiftie of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared dailey an ox, & fix choſen ſhepe, & birdes were prepared for me, and ^c with ten dayes wine for all ^d in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was gentle vnto this people.

19 Remember me, o my God, in goodnes, according to all that I haue done for this people.

together into y^e house of God in the middes of the Tēple, and shut the dores of the Temple: for they wil come to slay thee: yea, in y^e night wil they come to kil thee.

f He doubted not but God was able to preserve him, & knewe that, if he had obeyed this counsel, he should haue discouraged all the people: thus God giveth power to his, to resist false prophetes though they seme to haue neuer so great probabilitye.

11 Then I said, f Shulde suche a man as I, see? Who is he, being as I am, that wolde go into the Temple to liue? I wil not go in.

12 And lo, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that he pronouced this prophete against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hyred him.

13 Therefore was he hyred, that I might be afrayed, and do thus, and sinne, and that they might haue an euill reporte that they might reproche me.

^c This decla- reth the great zeale, that the people had to heare y^e worde of God.

^d To the in- tent that his voyce might be the better heard.

1 And all the people assembled them selues together, in y^e streat that was befoie the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezrá the scribe, that he wolde bring the boke of the Law of Mosés, which the Lord had commanded to Israél.

2 And Ezrá the Priest broght the Law be- fore the Congregation bothe of men and women, and of all that colde heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the se- uent moneth,

3 And he red therein in the streat that was before the watergate (from the morning vntil the midday) before men and wo- men, and of them that vnderstode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the boke of the Law.

4 And Ezrá the scribe stode vpon a pul- pit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, & beside him stode Mattithiáh, and Shéma, and Ananiáh, and Vriiáh, & Hilkiah, and Maaseiáh on his right hád, and on his left hand Pedaiáh, & Mishaél, and Malchiáh, and Hashúm, and Hashba- dána, Zechariáh, and Meshullám.

5 And Ezrá opened the boke before all the people: for he was aboue all the people: and when he opened it, all the people sto- de vp.

6 And Ezrá praised y^e Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amé, with lifting vp their háds: & they bowed them selues, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the grounde.

7 Also Ieshúa, and Bani, and Sherebiáh, Ja- mín, Akkáb, Shabbethái, Hoduiáh, Maase- iáh, Kelitá, Azariáh, Lozabid, Hunán, Pe- laiáh, & the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, and the people stode in their place.

8 And they red in the boke of the Law of God distinctly and gaue the sense, & cau- sed them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiáh (which is Tirshátha) and Ezrá the Priest & scribe, and the Le- uites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This daye is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, nether wepe: for all the people wept, whé they heard the wordes of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eat of the fat, & drinke the swete, and send parte vnto them, for whome none is prepared: for this daye is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sory therefore: for the ioye of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites made silence through- out all the people, saying, Holde your pea- ce: for y^e daye is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away parte, & to make great ioye, because they had vnderstand the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the secóde day the chief fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Leui- tes were gathered vnto Ezrá the scribe, that he also might instruce them in the wordes of the Law.

14 And they founde writē in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Mosés) that the childre of Israél shulde dwell in boothes in the feaft of the seuent moneth,

15 And that they shulde cause it to be decla- red and proclaimed in all their citres, and in Ierusalém, saying, Go forthe vnto the mount, and bring oliuebranches, and pi- nebranches, and branches of myrtus, and palmebranches, and branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is writen.

16 So the people went forthe and broght the & made them boothes, euerie one vpon the rofe of his house, and in their court, and in the courts of the house of God, & in the strete by the watergate, and in the strete of the gate of Ephráim.

17 And all the Cōgregation of them y^e we- re come againe out of the captiuitie, made boothes, & sate vnder the boothes: for sin- ce the time of Ieshúa the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of I- rael done so, & there was very great ioye.

18 And he red in the boke of the Law of God euerie day, from the first daye vnto the last daye. And they kept the feaft seuen dayes, & on the eight daye a solēne assem- blie, according vnto the maner.

ler of fyre by night, to shewe them light, & the way whereby they shulde go.
- 20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & withheldest not thy M A N from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.
- 21 Thou didest also sede thẽ fourtie yeres in ȳ wildernes: they lacked nothig: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their fete swelled not.
- 22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and ^d scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed * the land of Sihõn and the land of the King of Heshbõn, & the land of Og King of Bashán.
- 23 And thou didest multiplie their childrẽ, like the starres of the heauen, & broghtest them into the lãd, whereof thou haddest spoken vnto their fathers, that they shulde go, and possesse it.
- 24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, euen the Canaanites, and gauest them into their hãds, with their Kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they wolde.
- 25 And they toke their strõg cities and the fat land, and possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyardes, & oliues, and trees for fode in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, & lued in pleasure through thy great goodnes.
- 26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled agãist thee, & cast thy Law behinde their backes & slewe thy Piophetes (which protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.
- 27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed thẽ:
yet in the time of their afflictiõ, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them sauours, who saued them out of the hand of their ad-uersaries.
- 28 But when they had ^f rest, they returned to do euil before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted and cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times,
- 29 And protestedst among them that thou

f He declared how Gods mercies euer contended with the wickednes of the people, who euer in their prosperitie forgate God might bring the againe vnto thy Law: but they behaued them selues proudly, and hearken'd not vnto thy commandements, but sinned against thy iudgements (* which a man shulde do and liue in them) and s pulled away the shuldre, and were stifnecked, and wolde not heare.

30 Yet thou didst forbear them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, euē by the hand of thy Prophetes, but they wolde not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies, thou hast not consumed them, nether forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore our God, * thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepst couenant and * mercie, let not all the affliction that hathe come vnto vs, seme a litle before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our princes, & to our Priestes, and to our Prophetes and to our fathers, & to all thy people since the time of the Kings of Asshur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou * hast delt truely, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our Kings and our princes, our Priestes and our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandements nor thy protestatiōs, wherewith thou hast protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnes that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou settest before them, and haue not conuerted from their euil workes.

36 Beholde, we are seruants this day, & the lād that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eate the frute thereof, and the goodnes thereof, beholde, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeldeth muche frute vnto y Kings whome thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattel at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this we make a sure counā: and write it, and our princes, our Leuites and our Priestes seale vnto it.

- 23 The sonnes of Leuí, the chief fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicle en vnto the daies of Iohanán the sonne of Eliafhib.
- 24 And the chief of the Leuites were Hahabiáh, Sheicbiáh, and Ieshúa the sonne of Kadmiél, & their brethren about them to giue praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, warde ouer & against warde.
- 25 Mattaniáh and Bakbukíah, Obadiáh, Meshullám, Tamón and Akkúb were porters keeping the warde at the thresholdes of the gates.
- 26 These were in the daies of Ioiakím the sonne of Ieshúa, the sonne of Iozadak, & in the daies of Nehemiáh the captaine, & of Ezrá the Priest and scribe.
- 27 And in the dedication of the wall at Ierusalém they sought the Leuites out of all the places, to bring them to Ierusalém to keepe the dedication and gladnes, both with thanksgiuings and with songs, cymbales, viols and with harpes.
- 28 Then the ^h singers gathered them selues together both from the plaine countrey about Ierusalem, and from the villages of ⁱ Netophathí,
- 29 And from the house of Gilgál, and out of the countreis of Géba, and Azmaúeth: for the singers had buylt the villages rounde about Ierusalém.

Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israél all those that were mixed.

That is, all such, which had ioyued in unlawful marriage, and also those, with whome God had forbidē them to haue societie

And before this had the Priest Eliashib the ouersight of the chamber of the house of our God, being kinsman to Tobíah:

That the separation was made: He was ioyued in societie with Iobaiáh the Ammonite, and enemye of the Iewes.

And he had made him a great chamber & there had the aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the singers, & the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

But in all this time was not I in Ierusalém: for in the two and thirtieth yere of Artahshaste King of Babél, came I vnto the King, and after certeine dayes I obtained of the King.

Called also Darius, Ezra 7, 1: Or, at the yeres end.

And when I was come to Ierusalém, I vnderstode that Eliashib had done for Tobíah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,

Thus we see to what inconuenienc the people fall into, when they are desirous of one that hath the fear of God, being that their chief gouernour was but awhile absent, and yett they fell into suche great absurdities as appeareth also, Lxx.

And it grieued me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobíah out of the chamber.

And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thether brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense.

And I perceued that the porcions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euerie one was fled to his lād, euen the Leuites & singers that executed the worke.

Thē reproued I the rulers & said, Why is the house of God forsakē? And I assem- bled them, and set them in their place.

Then brought all Iudáh the tithes of corne & of wine, & of oyle vnto the treasures.

And I made tresurers ouer the treasures, Shelemiáh the Priest, & Zadók the scribe, & of the Leuites, Pedaiáh, & vnder their hand Hanán the sonne of Zaccúr the sonne of Mattaniáh: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

g I declared vnto the, that God wolde not suffer in the transgressours of his Law to be vnto justified.

h Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague shulde be greater.

i About the time that the sunne went downe for the Sabbath lasted from the sunne going downe of the one day to the sunne setting of the other.

k Meaning, of the Temple that none, that was vncleane, shulde enter.

wine presses on the Sabbath, & that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges and all burdens, and brought them into Ierusalém vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they solde vitayles.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and sold on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudáh euen in Ierusalém.

17 Then reproued I the rulers of Iudáh, & said vnto them, What euil thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie: yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israël, in breaking the Sabbath?

19 And when the gates of Ierusalém began to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they shulde not be opened til after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there shulde no burden be brought in on the Sabbath daye.

20 So the chapmen and marchants of all marchandise remained once or twice all night without Ierusalém.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I wil lay hands vpon you. Fro that time came they nomore on the Sabbath.

22 And I said vnto the Leuites that they shulde cleanse them selues, and that they shulde come and kepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, o my God, concerning this, and pardone me according to thy great mercie.

23 In those dayes also I sawe Iewes that married wiuues of Ashdód, of Ammón, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speache of Ashdód, & colde not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, & of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and cursed them, and smote certein of them, and pulled of their heere, & toke an orbe of them by God, Ye shal not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, nether shal ye take of their daughteis vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 Did not Salomón the King of Israël sinne by these things: yet among manie nations was there no King like him: for he was beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Israël: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 Shal we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euil, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marry strange wiuues?

28 And one of the sonnes of Ioiadá the sonne of Eliahib the hie Priest was the sonne in law of Sanballát the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

29 Remember them, o my God, that defile the Priesthode, and the couenant of the Priesthode, and of the Leuites.

30 Then cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wardes of the Priests & of the Leuites, euerie one in his office, 31 And for the offr.ing of the wood at times appointed, & for the first frutes. Remember me, o my God, in goodnes.

l Which was a cite of the Philistins, & they had married wiuues thereof, and so had corrupted their sp.ache, and religion.

m That is, I did excommunicate them, & drue the out of th. Cōgregation.

THE ARGUMENT.

Because of the diuersitie of names, wherely they vsed to name their Kinge, and the supplication of yere, wherem the Ebrewes, and the Grecians do varie, diuers au'tors write diuersly as touching this Ahshuerish, but it smeth Daniél 6, 1. and 9, 1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyger, called also Ahshuerish, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chief, as the selfe id herein v described the great mercies of God toward his Church, who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer sturreth vp some, by whome he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herem also v described the ambicion, pride and cruelty of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their soltyes fall when they are at highest, and how God preferreth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glorie, and haue a care and loue towards their bretheren.

In the dayes of a Ahasuerósh (this is Ahasuerósh that reigned, from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an b hūdreth, and seuen and twentie prouinces)

In those dayes when the King Ahasuerósh c fate on his throne, which was in the palace of* Shushán,

In the thirde yere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruáts, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the captaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

That he might shewe the riches & glorie of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maestie manie dayes, eueⁿ an hūdreth and foure score dayes.

And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushán, bothe vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the courte of the garden of the Kings palace, Vnder an hanging of white, grene, and blewe clothes, fastened with cordes of fine lincn and purple, in siluer rings, and pillars of marble: the d beddes were of golde, and of siluer vpon a pauement of porphyre, and marble and alabaister, and blewe coulour.

And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundance according to the e power of the King.

And the drinking was by an ordre, none might f compel: for so the King had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they shulde do according to euerie mans pleasure.

The Quene Vashti made a feast also for the womē in the royal house of King Ahasuerósh.

g Which was the last day of the feast that the King made for y^e people, as verse 5.

Vpon the 8 seuent day when the King was mery with wine, he commanded Memucán, Bizthá, Haboná, Bigthá, and Abagthá, Zethár, and Carcás, the seuen eunuches (that stued in the presence of Kíng Ahasuerósh)

To bring Quene Vashti before the King with y^e crowne royal, that he might shewe the people and the princes her beautie: for she was faire to loke vpon.

But the Quene Vashti refused to come at the Kings worde, which he had giuen in charge to the eunuches: therefore the King was very angrie, and his wrath kindled in him.

h Ebr. which is in the had of the eunucher.

Then the King said to the wise men, that knewe the times (for so was the Kings maner towardes all that knewe the lawe and the iudgement:

i That had experience of things, as thei had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time

And the next vnto him was Catshená, Shethár, Admátha, Tarshush, Méres, Marsená & Memucán the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which sawe the Kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome) k Which were his chief counsellers, that might haue all wates accessible to him.

What shal we do vnto y^e Quene Vashti according to the lawe, because she did not according to the worde of the King Ahasuerósh by the commission of the eunuches?

Then Memucán answered before the King and the princes, The Quene Vashti hath not onely done k euil against the King, but against all the princes, & against all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahasuerósh.

l By her disobedience she hath giuen an example to all women to do the like to their housbands

For the l acte of the Quene shal come a brode vnto all women, so that they shal despise their housbáds in their owne eies, and shal say, The King Ahasuerósh commanded Vashti the Quene to be broght in before him, but she came not.

m That is, her disobedience.

So shal the m princesses of Persia & Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, whē thei heare of the acte of the Quene, thus shal there be muche despitefulness and wrath.

n Meaning, y^e thei wolde take first occasiō hereof to do y^e like, & that y^e rest of womē wolde by continuance do y^e same.

If it please the King, let a royal decree procede from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come a nomore before King Ahasuerósh, and let the King giue her royal estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

o Let her be diuorced & a nother made Quene.

And when the decree of the King which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdome (thogh it be o great) all the women shal giue their housbáds honour, bothe great and small.

p For he had vnder him an hundreth twentie and seuen countreys.

And thus saying pleased the King & the princes, & the King did according to the worde of Memucán.

For he sent letters into all the prouinces of the King, into euerie prouince according to the writig thereof, & to euerie people after their language, that euerie man shulde p beare rule in his owne house, and that he shulde publish it in the language of that same people.

4 And the maid that fhall please the King, let her reigne in the ftead of Vafhti. And this pleased the King, and he did fo.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shufhán, there was a certeine Iewe, whofe name was Mordecái the fonne of Iair, the fonne of Shimeí, the fonne of Kífh a man of Iemuní,

6 Which had bene caryed away from Ierufalém with the captiuitie that was caryed away with Iekoniáh King of Iudáh (whome Nebuchadneczzár King of Babél had caryed away)

7 And he nourifhed Hadaffáh, that is Eftér, his vnckles daughter: for she had nether father nor mother, and the maid was faire, and beautiful to loke on: & after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecái toke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the Kings commandement, & his decree was published, and manie maides were broght together to the palace of Shufhán, vnder the hád of Hegé, Eftér was broght alfo vnto the Kings houfe vnder y hand of Hegé the keper of the women.

9 And the maid pleased him, and she founde fauour in his fight: therefore he caufed her things for purification to be giuen her fpedely, and her flate, and fcuen comely maides to be giuen her out of the Kings houfe, and he gaue change to her and to her maides of the beft in the houfe of the women.

¶ Eftér perfons.

10 But Eftér fhewed not her people and her kindred: for Mordecái had charged her, that she fhulde not tel it.

e For though she was taken away by a cruel law, yet he ceaued not to haue a fatherlie care ouer her, and therefore did refort oft times to heare of her.

11 And Mordecái walked euerie day before the courte of the womens houfe, to knowe if Eftér did wel, and what fhulde be done with her.

12 And when the courfe of euerie maid came, to go into King Ahaftuerófh, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for fo were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, fix moneths with oyle of myrthe, & fix moneths with fwere odours and in the purifying of the women:

f What appa rel the asked of the eunuch, that was bounde to giue her.

13 And thus went the maides vnto the King) whatfoeuer she required, was giuen her, to go with her out of the womens houfe vnto the Kings houfe.

14 In the euening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the seconde houfe of the women vnder the hand of Shaafh-gáz the Kings eunuche, which kept the cöcubines: she came into the King nomore, except she pleased the King, & that she were called by name.

15 Now when the courfe of Eftér y daughter of Abiháil the vnckle of Mordecái (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, y she fhulde go in to the King, she defired nothing, but what Hegé the Kings eunuche the keper of the women faid: and Eftér founde fauour in the fight of all them that looked vpon her.

¶ Or, Hegé.

16 ¶ So Eftér was takē vnto King Ahaftuerófh into his houfe royal in the tenth moneth, which is the month Tebéth, in the feuent yere of his reigne.

g Wherein he modified because the fight not apparcl to comend her beautie, but fode to y eunuchus appoint ment. h Which contained part of Decembar & part of Iannuarie.

17 And the King loued Eftér aboue all the women, and she founde grace and fauour in his fight more then all the virgins: fo that he fet the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, & made her Quene in fteade of Vafhti.

18 Then the King made a great feaft vnto all his princes and his feruants which was the feaft of Eftér and gaue rest vnto the prouinces, and gaue giftes, according to the power of a King.

i That is, made for her sake. k He releafed their tribute. l That is, great & magnificent. m That is, at the marriage of Eftér, which was y seconde marriage of y King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the feconde time, then Mordecái fate in the Kings gate.

20 Eftér had not yet fhewed her kindred nor her people, as Mordecái had charged her: for Eftér did after the worde of Mordecái, as when she was nourifhed with him.

21 ¶ In thofe daies when Mordecái fate in the Kings gate, two of the Kings eunuches, Bigtán and Téiefh, which kept the dore, were wroth, & fought to lay hand on the King Ahaftuerófh.

n Meaning, to kill him.

22 And the thing was knowé to Mordecái, and he tolde it vnto Quene Eftér, and Eftér certified the King thereof in Mordecái name: and when inquisició was made, it was founde fo: therefore thei were bothe hanged on a tre: and it was written in the boke of the Chronicles before the King.

ded cōcerning him:but Mordecái bowed not the knee,nether did reuerence.

Then the Kings seruants which were at the Kings gate said vnto Mordecái, Why transgressist thou the Kings commandement?

And albeit they spake daiely vnto hí,yet he wolde not heare them: therefore they tolde Hamán, that they might shew Mordecáis matters wolde stand:for he had tolde them,that he was a Iewe.

And when Hamán sawe that Mordecái bowed not the knee vnto him,nor did reuerence vnto him,then Hamán was ful of wrath.

Now he thought it to litle to lay hands onely on Mordecái: & because they had shewed him the people of Mordecái, Hamán sought to destroye all the Iewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahashuerósh, euen y^e people of Mordecái.

In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisán) in the twelfth yere of King Ahashuerósh, they cast Pur (that is a lot) before Hamán, from day to day, and fro moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth Adár.

Then Hamán said vnto King Ahashuerósh, There is a people scatted, and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they do not obserue the Kings lawes: therefore it is not the Kings profite to suffice them.

If it please the King, let it be written that they may be destroyed, & I wil paye ten thousand talents of siluer by the hánds of them that haue the charge of this busines to bring it into the Kings treasure.

Then the King toke his ring from his hand and gaue it vnto Hamán the sonne of Hammedátha the Agagite the Iewes aduersarie.

And the King said vnto Hamán, Let y^e siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

Then were the Kings scribes called on the thirtent day of the first month, and there was written (according to all that Hamán commanded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euerie prouince, and to the rulers of euerie people & to euerie prouince, accordig to the writing thereof, & to euerie people according to their language: in the name of King Ahashuerósh was it written, and sealed with the Kings ring.

And the letters were sent by postes into all the Kings prouinces, to rote out, to kill and to destroye all the Iewes, bothe yong and olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirtent day of the twelfth month, (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoil them as a pray.

The contents of the writing was, that there shulde be giuen a comandmēt in all prouinces, & published vnto all people, that they shulde be ready against the same day.

And the postes compelled by the Kings comandement went forth, and the comandement was giue in the palace at Shushan: and the King and Hamán sate drinking, but the cite of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIIII.

Mordecáis gaueth the Quene knowledge of the cruel decree of the King against the Iewes so She wileth that they pray for her.

Now when Mordecái perceiued all that was done, Mordecái rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, & ashes, and went out into the middes of the cite, & cryed with a great crye, and a bitter.

And he came eue before the Kings gate, but he might not entre within the Kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

And in euerie prouince, & place, whether the Kings charge and his commision came, there was great sorowe among the Iewes, and fasting, & weping and mournig, and many laye in sackcloth & in ashes.

Then Esters maides and her eunuches came and tolde it her: therefore the Quene was very heauy, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecái, and to take away his sackcloth fro him, but he receiued it not.

Then called Estér Hatách one of y^e Kings eunuches, whome he had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a comandement vnto Mordecái, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

So Hatách wēt forth to Mordecái vnto the street of the cite, which was before the Kings gate.

And Mordecái tolde hí of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siluer that Hamán had promised to paye vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Iewes, so to destroye them.

Also he gaue him the copie of the writig & commision that was giuen at Shushán, to destroye thē that he might shewe it vnto Estér and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she shulde go in to the King, & make petition and supplication before him for her people.

So when Hatách came, he tolde Estér the wordes of Mordecái.

Then Estér said vnto Hatách, and commanded him, to say vnto Mordecái,

All the Kings seruants and the people of the Kings prouinces do knowe, that whosoever, man or woman, that cometh to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a lawe of his,

that he shal dye ; except him to whom the King holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue . Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the King these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecái of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecái said, that thei shulde answer Ester thus, Thinke not with thy self that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliuerance shal appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shal perish:and who knoweth whether thou art come to thy kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commaded to answer Mordecái,

16 Go, & assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushán, & fast ye for me, & eat not, nor drinke in thie dayes, day nor night. I also and my maides wil fast likewise, and so wil I go in to the King, which is not according to the Law:and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordecái went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entreteth in to the King, and biddeth him and Hamán to a feast. 11 Hamán prepareth a galous for Mordecái.

1 AND on the third day Ester put on her royal apparel, and stode in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house:and the King sate vpon his royal throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, she found fauour in his sight: & the King helde out the goldē sceptre y was in his hād: so Ester drewe nere, and touched the toppe of the sceptre.

3 Then said the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? & what is thy request? it shalbe euengiuē thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let the King and Hamán come this day vnto the bāket, y I haue prepared for him.

5 And the King said, Cause Hamán to make hast that he maie do as Ester hathe said. So the King and Hamán came to the bāket that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Ester at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shal euē be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and said, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue founde fauour in the sight of the King, and if it please the King to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the King and Hamán come to the banquet that I shal prepare for them, & I wil do tomorowe according to the Kings saying.

9 ¶ Then went Hamán for the same day ioyful & with a glad heart. But when Hamán sawe Mordecái in the Kings gate, that he stode not vp, nor moued for him, then was Hamán ful of indignacion at Mordecái.

10 Neuertheles Hamán refrained him self: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zéresh his wife.

11 And Hamán tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had promoted him, and how that he had set him aboute the princes and seruants of the King.

12 Hamán said moreouer, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the banquet that she had prepared, saue me: and tomorowe am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaille me, as long as I se Mordecái the Iewe sitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then said Zéresh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tre of fiftie cubites hie, and tomorowe speake thou vnto the King, that Mordecái may be hanged thereon: the shalt thou go ioyfully with the King vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Hamán, and he caused to make the tre.

CHAP. VI.

1 The King turneth ouer the chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecái, so And comandeth Haman, to cause Mordecái to be had in honour.

1 THE same night the King slept not, & he commanded to bring the boke of the records & the chronicles: and thei were red before the King.

2 Then it was founde written that Mordecái had tolde of Bigtána, & Térersh two of the Kings eunuches, keepers of the dore, who sought to lay hands on the King Ahasuerósh.

3 The King said, What honour & dignitie hathe bene giuen to Mordecái for this? And the Kings seruants that ministered vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King said, Who is in the court? (Now Hamán was come into the inner court of the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the King to hang Mordecái on the tre that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the Kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, Hamán standeth in the court. And the King said, Let him come in.

- 7 And Hamán answered the King, The man whome the King wolde honour,
- 8 Let the bring for him royal appa:el, which the King vs. th to weare, and the c horse that the King ydeth vpon, and that the crowne royal may be set vpon his head.
- 9 And let the rayment and the horse be deliueted by the hand of one of the Kings moſte noble princes, and let them apparel the man (whome the King wil honour) & caufe him to ride vpon the horse through the ſtreete of the citie, & proclaime before him, Thus shal it be done vnto the man, whome the King wil honour.
- 10 Then the King said to Hamán, Make haſte, take the rayment & the horse as thou haſt ſaid, & do ſo vnto Mordecái y Iewe, that ſitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou haſt ſpoken.
- 11 So Hamán toke the rayment & the horse, and arayed Mordecái, and brought him on horse backe through the ſtreete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shal it be done to the man whome the King wil honour.
- 12 And Mordecái came againe to y Kings gate, but Hamán haſted home mourning and his head couered.
- 13 And Hamán tolde Zérefh his wife, & all his friends all that had befallen him. The ſaid his wiſe man, and Zérefh his wife vnto him, If Mordecái be of the ſide of the Iewes, before whome thou haſt begone to fall, thou ſhalt not preuaile againſt him, d but ſhalt ſurely fall before him.

d Thus God ſometime putteth in the mouthe of the very wicked, to ſpeake that thiſg, which he hathe decreed ſhal come to paſſe.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches and haſted to bring Hamán vnto the báket that Eſtér had prepared.

- 7 And the King aroſe from the banquet of wine in his wrath, & went into the palace garden: but Hamán ſtode vp, to make requeſt for hiſliſe to y Queene Eſtér: for he ſawe that there was a c miſchief prepared for him of the King.
- 8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the houſe where they dranke wine, Hamán was d fallen vpon the bed whereon Eſtér ſate: therefore the King ſaid, Wil he force y Queene alſo before me in the houſe? As the worde wēt out of the Kings mouthe, they e couered Hamans face.

that are in all the Kings prouinces.
 For how can I suffer and se the euil, that shal come vnto my people? Or how can I suffice and se the destruction of my kinred?
 7 And the King Ahashuerósh said vnto y^e Quene Ester, & to Mordecái the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Hamán, whome they haue hanged vpon the tree, because he^r layed hand vpon the Iewes.

Or, went about to slay the King.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring, (for the writings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring, may no^t man reuoke)

This was y^e lawe of the Medes & Persians, as Dan 6. 15 notwithstanding the King reuoked the former decree gráted to Hamán, for Esters sake. f Which concerneth parte of May and parte of Iune.

9 Thē were the Kings scribes called at the same time, cuē in the third moneth, that is the moneth^r Siuán, on the thre & twētieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecái commanded vnto the Iewes and to the prouinces, & captaines, and rulers of the princes, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundredth & seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euerie prouince, according to the^r writing thereof, and to euerie people after their speache, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

g That is, in suche letters & language, as was vsed in euerie prouince.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahashuerósh name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: & he sent letters by postes on horsebacke & that rode on beastes of price, as dromedaries & coltes of mares.

Or, mules.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather them selues together, & to stand for^h their life, & to roote out, to slay & to destroye all the power of the people & of the prouince that vexed them, both the children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

h That is, to defend them selues against all that wolde assaile them.

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of King Ahashuerósh, euen in the thirtent day of the twelst moneth, which is the moneth^r Adár.

i Which hath parte of February & part of Marche.

13 The copie of the writing was, how there shulde be a commandement giuen in all and euerie prouince, published among all the people, and that the Iewes shulde be readie against that day to^k auenge them selues on their enemies.

k The King gaue them libertie to kill all y^e did oppose them.

14 So the postes rode vpon beastes of price, & dromedaries, & wēt forthe with spede, to execute the Kings commandement, & the decreet was giuen at Shushán y^e palace.

15 And Mordecái went out from the King in royal apparel of blewe, and white, and with a great crowne of golde, and with a garment of fine linnen and purple, and the citie of Shushán reioyced and was glad.

l He showeth by these wordes that follow what this light was.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and ioye and gladnes, and honour.
 17 Also in all and euerie prouince, and in all and euerie citie and place, where the Kings commādemēt & his decree came, there was ioye and gladnes among the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

m Corformed them selues to the Iewes religion.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Hamán are hanged. 17 The Iewes kepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

a This was by Gods great punitiōe, who turneth y^e ioye of the wicked into sorow, & the teares of the godlie into gladnes.

2 The Iewes gathered thē selues together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahashuerósh, to laye hand on suche as sought their hurt, and no man colde withstande them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, & the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King^b exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecái fell vpon them.

b Did the honour, & shewed the friendship.

4 For Mordecái was great in the Kings house, and the reporte of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecái waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their^c enemies with strokes of the sworde and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they wolde vnto those that hated them.

c Which had conspired their death by the permission of the wicked Hamán.

6 And at Shushán the palace slewe y^e Iewes and destroyed^d five hundredth men, 11 On the same day came the number of those that were slayne, vnto the palace of Shushán before the King.

12 And the King said vnto the Quene Ester, The Iewes haue slayne in Shushán the palace and destroyed five hundredth men, and the ten sonnes of Hamán: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request moreouer, that it may be p^rformed?

vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tre Hamans ten sonnes.

14 And the King charged to do so, and the decree was giuen at Shushán, and they há- ged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushán, af- scmbled them felus vpon the fourtent day of the moneth Adár, and slewe thre húdred men in Shushan, but on the spoile they layed not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled thē felus, and stode for s their liues, and had rest from their enemies, & slewe of them that hated them, h seuentie and fy ue thousand: but they layed not their hád on the spoile.

17 Thus they did on the i thirtente day of the moneth Adar, and restid the fourtete day thereof, and kept it a daye of fea- sting and ioye.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushán, af- senbled them felus on the thirtete day, & on the fourtente thereof, & ther rested on the fiftente of the same, & kept it a day of fasting and ioye.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled townes, k kept the fourtente day of the moneth Adar with ioye and feasting, euen a ioyful day, and euerie one sent presents vnto his nei- ghbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecái wrote i these wordes, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the King Ahashuerósh, bothe nere and farre, 21 Inioining them that they shulde kepe the fourtente day of the monerh Adár, and the fiftente day of the same, euerie yeie.

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had b. gonne, and as Mordecái had writen vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Hamme- dátha the Agagite all the I ewe adu. r. r. íe, had imagined aga nst the Jew. s, to de- stroye them, & had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroye them.

25 And whé o she came before the King, he cómanded by letters, Let his wicked p de- uise (which he imagined against y Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tre.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Pu- rím, by the name of Pur, and because of all the wordes of this lettre, and of that which they had sene besides this, & of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordeined, and promised for them and for their sede, and for all that ioined vnto them, that they wolde not faile to obserue those i two dayes euerie yeie, according to their writing, and ac- cording to their season,

28 And that these dayes shulde be remem- bred, and kept throughout euerie genera- tion and euerie familie, and euerie prou- ince, and euerie citie: euen these dayes of Purím shulde not faile among the Iewes, and the memorial of them shulde not pe- rish from their sede.

29 And y Quene Estéi the daughter of A- bibail & Mordecái the Iewe wrote with all autoritie (to cōfirme this letter of Pu- rím the seconde time)

30 And he sent letters vnto all the Iewes to the hundreth and seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahashue- rósh, with i wordes of peace and trueth, 31 To confirme these dayes of Purím ac- cording to their seasons, as Mordecái the Iewe and Estéi the Quene had appointed them, and as they had promised for them s felus and for their sede with s fasting and prayer.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Job was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his minde, and conscience by the sharpe temptations of his wife, and chief friends: which by their vehemēt wordes, and subtil disputations brought him almoste to dispaire. for they set forthe God as a severē iudge, and mortal enemy vnto him, which had caste him of, therefore in vaine he shoulde seke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolatiō, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this storie we haue to marke that Job mainteineth a good cause, but handeleth it euil: agayne his aduersaries haue an euil matter, but they defend it crasiely. For Job helde that God did not alway punish men accordyng to their synnes, but that he had secret iudgements, whereof man knewe not the cause, and therefore man colde not reason agaynst God therein, but he shoulde be conuicted. Moreover he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments, & affliction he brasteth forthe vnto manie inconueniēces bothe of wordes and sentences, and sheweth him selfe as a desperate man in manie things, and as one that wolde resist God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handel wel. Agayne the aduersaries mainteine with manie goodlie argumēts, that God punisheth continually accordyng to the trespas, grounding vpon Gods providence, his iustice, and mans synnes, yet their inuention is euil: for they labour to bring Job into dispaire, and so they mainteine an euil cause. Ezechiel commendeth Job as a iuste man, Ezech. 14, 14, and James setteth out his patience for an example, Iam. 5, 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holynes, riches, and care of Job for his children. 2 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 3 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 4 His faith and patience.

a That is, of the countrey of Idumea, as Lam. 4, 21, or bordering thereupon. for the land was called by the name of Vz then the sonne of Sir, Genes. 36, 22 b Forasmuche as he was a Gentle and not a Iewe, & yet is pronounced vpright, and without hypocrisie, it declareth that among the heathen God hath his. c Hereby is declared, what is meant by an vpright, and iuste man d His childre and riches are declared, to commend his vertue in his prosperitie, & his packe, & confidēs whē God had takē them frō him. e Meaning, the Arabians, Chaldeans, Idumeans, &c. f That is, commāded them to be sanctified meaning, that they shoulde consider the fautes, that they had committed, & recoile them selues for the same g That is, he offered for euērie one of his children an offering of reconciliatiō, which declared his religiō toward God & the care that he had toward his children h In Ebrewe it is and bless. d God, which is some time taken for blaspheming and cursing, as here, and 1 King 21, 10 and 11, &c. i While the feast lasted k Meaning, the Angels which are called the sonnes of God, because they are willing to execute his wil l Because our infirmitie cā not comprehend God in his iusticie, he is set forthe vnto vs as 1 King, that our capacitie may be able to vnderstand that, which is spokē of him.

Here was a mā in the lād of a Vz called Job, and this mā was an vpright and iuste man, one that feared God, & eschewed euil.

And he had seue sonnes, and thre daughters.

His substance also was seuen thousand shepe, and thre thousand camels, and fyue hundred yoke of oxen, and fyue hundred she asses, and his familie was verie great, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

And his sonnes went and banketed in their houses, euērie one his day, and sent, & called their thre sisters to eat & to drinke with them.

And when the dayes of their banketting were gone about, Job sent, and sanctified the, and rose vp early in the morning, and offered burnt offrings according to the number of the all. For Job thought, It may be that my sonnes haue sinned, and blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Job euērie day.

¶ Now on a day when the children of God came and stode before the Lord, Satan came also among them.

Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Whēre comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Job, how none is like him in the earth, an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euil?

The Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doeth Job feare God for nought?

Hast thou not made an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hathe on euērie side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is encreased in the land.

But stretche out now thine hand and touche all that he hathe, to see if he wil not blaspheme thee to thy face.

Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Lo, all that he hathe is in thine hand, onely vpon him selfe shalt thou not stretch out thine had. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

There came a messenger vnto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

And the Shabeans came violently, & toke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruant with the edge of the sworde: but I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.

And Job answered the Lord, saying, I have heard that thou art God, and now I see that thou hast spoken truly to thy seruant. I have heard that thou art God, but now I see that thou hast spoken truly to thy seruant. I have heard that thou art God, but now I see that thou hast spoken truly to thy seruant. I have heard that thou art God, but now I see that thou hast spoken truly to thy seruant.

This declareth that although Satan be aduersarie to God, yet he is compelled to obey him, and do him all homage, with out whose permission, & appointment he cā do nothing. This questiō is asked for our infirmitie: for God knewe whence he came. Herein is described the nature of Satan, which is euē ranging for his pray. P. 158 He feareth theenor for his owne sake, but for the comoditie that he receiueth by thee. Meaning, grace of God, which serued Job as a ramparte against all tentations. This significth that Satan is not able to touche vs, but it is God that must do it. f Satan noteth the vice, whereunto we are commonly subiect. that is, to hide their rebellion, and to be content with God in the time of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed in the time of their aduersitie. God giveth nor Satan power ouer man to gratifie him, but to declare of at he hath: no power ouer man, but that which God giveth him. u That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to do. For els he can neuer go out of Gods possession. x That is, the Arabians.

v Which this was also done by y craft of Satán to tempt Iob the more greuously, not asmuche as he might be, that not ouely men were his enemies, but that God made war against him z This last plague declareth, that whe one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send vs another farre more greuous, to trye his, & teache them obedience a Which came not of impacience, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blockes, but y in their patience they fele affliction, and grief of minde yet they kepe a meane hereín, and rebell not against God, as the wicked do.

Eccle. 5. 14. b That is, into the belly of y earth, which is the mother of all c Hereby he confesseth th r God is iuste, and good, all though his had be fore vpon him d But declared that God did althing according to iustice and equitie.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The y fyre of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the shepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone, to tel thee.
17 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Caldeans set out three bindes, and fel vpon the camels, and haue taken them; and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sworde: but I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.
18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, & said, Thy z sonnes, & thy daughters were eating, & drinking wine in their eldest brothers house, 19 And beholde, there came a great winde from beyond the wildernes, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fel vpon the childre, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.
20 Then Iob arose, and a rent his garmēt, and shaued his head, and fel downe vpon the grounde, and worshipped, 21 And said, *Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, & naked shal I returne b whether: the Lord hathe giuen, and the Lord hathe taken it: c blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God d foolishly.

8 And he toke a i potsharde to scrape him, and he sate downe among the ashes.
9 The said his k wife vnto him, Doeft thou continue yet in thine vprightnes? m BlaspHEME God, and dye.
10 But he said vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what n shal we receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euil? In all this did not Iob sinne with his o lippes.
11 Now when Iobs thre p friends heard of all this euil that was come vpon him, they came euerie one from his owne place, to wit, Elipház the Temanite, and Bildád the Shuhite, and Zophár the Naamathite. for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.
12 So whe they list vp their eyes a farre of, they knewe him not. therefore they list vp their voyces and wept, and euerie one of them rent his garmēt, & spinkled q dust vpon their heades toward the heauen.
13 So they sate by him vpon the grounde seuen dayes, and seuen nights, & none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe, that the grief was very r great.

uous tentation of the faithful, when their faith is assailed, and when Satán goeth about to persuade them: that they trust in God in vayne m For death was appointed to the blasphemers, & so the ment that he shulde be soon ridde out of his peine n That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we reioice, when he sendeth prosperitie, & so to acknowledge him to be bothe mercifull and iuste o He so bridled his affections, that his tōgue through impacience did not murmur against God p Which were men of auctoritie, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him but when they saw how he was visited, they conceiued an euil opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for h s finnes q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in thosē countreis, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorow &c. r And therefore thought that he wolde not haue hearkened to their counsel.

CHAP. III.

1 Iob complaineth and curseth the day of his birth. 11 He d. fireth to dye, as though death were the end of all māns miserie.

Afterward a Iob opened his mouth, and b cursed his day.
2 And Iob cryed out, and said,
3 Let the daye c perish, whereín I was borne, and the night when it was said, There is a manchilde conceived.
4 Let y day be darkenes, let not God d regarde it from aboue, nether let the light shine vpon it,
5 But let darkenes, & the e shadowe of death staine it: let the cloude remaine vpon it, & let them make it feareful as a bitter day.
6 Let darkenes possesse that night, let it not be ioined vnto the dayes of the yere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.
7 Yea, desolate be that night, & let no ioye be in it.
8 Let them that curse the day, (beig f ready to renew their mourning) curse it.

and let it not haue the light of the sunne to separate it from the night. e That is, more obscure darknes, which maketh them afraid of death, that are in it f Which curse the day of their birth, let them lay that curse vpon this night.

h This sorow was moite ve hemēt, where with also God plagued the Egyptians, E. cō 9. 9 and threaten th to punish the rebellious people, Deut 28. 27 so that this tentation was moite greuous, for if Iob had measured Gods fauour by the vehemencie of his disease, he might haue thought y God had cast him of. i As desfiture of all other helpe and meanes, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorowe of his disease. k Satán vsith the same instrument against Iob, as he did against Adam. l Meaning, What gainest thou to serue God, seing he thus plagueth thee as though he were thine enemy? This is y moite griefe.

I haue sene the foolish wel rooted, & suddenly I a cursed his habitation, saying, His children shalbe farre from saluatiō, and they shalbe destroyed in the gate, and none shal deliuer them. The hungrie shal eat vp his harvest: yea, they shal take it from among the thornes, and the thirstie shal drinke vp their sub stance. For miserie commeth not forthe of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth. But man is borne vnto trouble, as the sparkes flye vpward. But I wolde inquire at God, and turne my talke vnto God: Which doeth great things and vnsearcheable, and maruelous things without number. He giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the stretes, And setteth vp on hie them that be lowe, that the sorowful may be exalted to saluation. He scatereth the deuises of the craftie: so that their hands can not accōplish that which they do enterprife. He taketh the wise in their craftines, & the counsel of the wicked is made foolish. They mete with daikenes in the day time, and grope at noone day, as in the night. But he saueth the poore frō the sworde, from their mouth, and from the hand of the violent man, So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie shal stop he month. Beholde, blessed is the man whome God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty. For he maketh the wounde, and bindeth it vp: he smureth, and his hāds make whole. He shal deliuer thee in six troubles, and in the seuent the euil shal not touche thee. In famine he shal deliuer thee frō death: and in battel from the power of the sworde. Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of y tongue, and thou shalt not be affraid of destruction when it cometh. But thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, & shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth. For the stones of the field shalbe in league with thee, and the beastes of the field shal be at peace with thee. And thou shalt knowe, that peace shalbe in thy tabernacle, & thou shalt visite thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.

Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy sede shalbe great, & thy posteritie as the grasle of the earth. Thou shalt go to thy graue in a full age, as a ricke of corne cometh in due season into the barne. Lo, thus haue we inquired of it, and so it is: heare this and knowe it for thy self. For it wolde be now heauyer thē the sand of y sea: therefore my wordes are swallowed vp. For the arrowes of the Almighty are in me, y venime whereof doeth drinke vp my spirit, & the terrours of God fight agāst me. Doeth the wilde affe braye when he hath the grasle, or loweth the oxe when he hath the foddre? That which is vsfauery, shal it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge? Suche things as my soule refused to touche, as were sorowes, are my meate. Oh that I might haue my desire, & that God wolde graunt me the thing that I long for! That is, that God wolde destroye me: that he wolde let his hād go, & cut me of. Then shulde I yet haue comfort, (though I buine with sorowe, let him not spare) because I haue not denyed the wordes of the Holie one. What power haue I that I shulde endure? or what is mine end, if I shulde prolong my life? Is my strength the strength of stones, or is my flesh of brass? Is it not so, that there is in me no helpe? and that strength is taken from me? He that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but mē haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty. My brethren haue deceiued me as a blocke, & as the rising of the riuers they passe away. Which are blackish with yce, & wherein the snowe is hid. But in time they are dried vp with heat & are consumed: and when it is hote they faile out of their places,

Though the children of God haue noe alwaies this promise for comfort, yet God doeth recompence it other wise to their advantage. We haue learned these pointes by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare to iustice, and that the affliction which is sent vnto the wicked, is for their good. CHAP. VI. Iob answereth, that his paine is more grievous then his fault. He wisheth death. He cōplaineth of his frōds. But Iob answered, and said, Oh that my grief were wel weighed, and my miseries were laied together in the balance. For it wolde be now heauyer thē the sand of y sea: therefore my wordes are swallowed vp. For the arrowes of the Almighty are in me, y venime whereof doeth drinke vp my spirit, & the terrours of God fight agāst me. Doeth the wilde affe braye when he hath the grasle, or loweth the oxe when he hath the foddre? That which is vsfauery, shal it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge? Suche things as my soule refused to touche, as were sorowes, are my meate. Oh that I might haue my desire, & that God wolde graunt me the thing that I long for! That is, that God wolde destroye me: that he wolde let his hād go, & cut me of. Then shulde I yet haue comfort, (though I buine with sorowe, let him not spare) because I haue not denyed the wordes of the Holie one. What power haue I that I shulde endure? or what is mine end, if I shulde prolong my life? Is my strength the strength of stones, or is my flesh of brass? Is it not so, that there is in me no helpe? and that strength is taken from me? He that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but mē haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty. My brethren haue deceiued me as a blocke, & as the rising of the riuers they passe away. Which are blackish with yce, & wherein the snowe is hid. But in time they are dried vp with heat & are consumed: and when it is hote they faile out of their places, friends which comfort vs not in miserie, & as the rising of the riuers they passe away, we neede waters, as it were water is hard to be had, & as the rising of the riuers they faile out of their places, we haue no acde, our trouthe with water.

that mine eye shal not returne to se plea-

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousness is nothing.

Then Iob answered, and said, I knowe verely that it is so: for how shulde man compared vnto God, be iustified?

If he wolde dispute with him, he colde not answer him one thing of a thousand.

He is wise in heart, & mightie in strength: who hath bene scarce agaisnt him & hath prospered?

He remoueth the mountaines & they fele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof do shake.

He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signet.

He him self alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

He maketh the starres Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climats of South.

He doeth great things, and vnsearchable: yea, meruelous things without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I see him not: & when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Beholde, when he taketh a pray, who can make him to restore it? who shal say vnto him, What doest thou?

13 God wil not withdrawe his angre & the moste mightie helpes do stoupe vnder him.

14 How muche lesse shal I answer him? or how shulde I finde out my wordes with him?

15 For thogh I were iuste, yet colde I not answer, but I wolde make supplicacion to my Iudge.

16 If I crye, and he answer me, yet wolde I not beleue, that he heard my voyce.

17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, & woundeth me without cause.

18 He wil not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternes.

19 If we speake of strength, beholde, he is strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shal bring me in to plaide?

20 If I wolde iustifie my self, mine owne mouth shal condemne me: if I wolde be perfite, he shal iudge me wicked.

21 Thogh I were perfite, yet I knowe not my soule: therefore abhorre I my lyfe.

22 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the perfite and the wicked.

23 If the scourge shulde sodenly slaie, shulde God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: he couereth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is he? or who is he?

25 My daies haue bene more swift then a poste: they haue fled, & haue sene no good thing.

26 They are passed as with the moste swift shippes, and as the egle that flieth to the praye.

27 If I say, I wil forget my complaint, I wil cease from my wrath, & comfort me, 28 Then I am afayed of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I wash my self with snowe water, and purge mine hands moste cleane, 31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the pit, and mine owne clothes shal make me filthy.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I shulde with according to his iustice, he wil destroye aswel them that are couied perfit, as them that are wicked. To wit, the wicked. This is spoken according to our apprehension, as thogh he wolde say, If God destroye but the wicked, as chap 5.3, why shulde he suffer the innocents to be so long tormented by them? That they can not se to do iustice. That can thewe the contrary. I thinke not to fall into these affectiōns, but my sorowes bring me to the multitude of infirmitie, & my conscience condemneth me. Why doeth not God destroye me at once: thus he speaketh according to the miserie of the flesh. Thogh I teme neuer to purge in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God. Whatsoener I wolde vie to couer my filthines with, shal disclose me so muche more.

g As a rush can not growe without moistnes, so can not the hypocrite, because he hath the not faith, which is moistened with Gods Spirit. h Which is to day, and to morowe swept away. i He copareth the iuste to a tree, which although it be remoued out of one place vnto another, yet flourisheth. so the affliction of the godlie turneth to their profire. k That is, so y there remaine nothing there to proue whether yre had growen there, or no. l To be planted in another place, where it may growe at pleasure.

m If thou be godlie, he wil giue thee occasion to reioyce, & if not, thine affliction shal increase.

n Iob here answereth to y point of Eliphaz and Bildads oracion, touching the iustice of God & his innocencie, confessing God to be iust in iustice, and man to be nothing in respect. o Of a thousand things, w God colde lay to his charge, ma can not answer him one. e He declareth what is the infirmitie of ma by y mightie and incomprehensible power that is in God, shewing what he colde do, if he wolde sit forthe his power. f These are y names of certeine starres, whereby he meaneth that all starres both knowne & vknowne are at his appointment.

e I am not able to comprehend his workes, which are commune and daily before mine eyes, muche lesse in those things, which are hid and secret. f He sheweth that whe God doeth execute his power, he doeth it wisely, for as much as none can controle him. g God wil not be appealed for ought that man can laie for him self for his iustification. h That is, all y reasons that men can laie to approue their cause. i How shulde I be able to answer him by eloquence: whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they felt not in heart, that which they spake. k Meaning, in his owne opinion, signifyig that man wil sometime flatter him self to be righteous, which before God is abominacion. l Whiles I am in my pang, I can not but brag forthe into many incomeniences, although I know still that God is iust. m I am not able to sele my finnes so great, as I sele the weight of his plagues: & thus he speaketh to condemne his dulnes, and to iustifie God. n After he hath the accusid his owne weakenes, he contineth to iustifie God and his power. o If I wolde stande in mine owne defence, yet God hath iuste cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart, & conscience. p If God punish according to his iustice, he wil destroye aswel them that are couied perfit, as them that are wicked. q To wit, the wicked. r This is spoken according to our apprehension, as thogh he wolde say, If God destroye but the wicked, as chap 5.3, why shulde he suffer the innocents to be so long tormented by them? That they can not se to do iustice. That can thewe the contrary. I thinke not to fall into these affectiōns, but my sorowes bring me to the multitude of infirmitie, & my conscience condemneth me. x Why doeth not God destroye me at once: thus he speaketh according to the miserie of the flesh. y Thogh I teme neuer to purge in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God. z Whatsoener I wolde vie to couer my filthines with, shal disclose me so muche more.

Which might make an access betwene God and me. speaking of impatience, & yet confessing God to be iust in punishing him. b Signifying Gods iudgements: kepe him in awe answer him, if we come together to iudgement.

33 Nether is there any vmpire that might lair his hand vpon vs both.

34 Let him take his rod away frō me, & let not his feare astonish me:

35 Then wil I speake, & scare him not: b but because I am not so, I holde me still.

CHAP. X.

Iob is weary of his life, and setteth out his fragilitie before God. so he desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A description of death.

a I am more like to a dead man, then to one y liueth. b I wil make an ample declaration of my tormētts, accusing my self & not God. c He wolde not that God shulde procede against him by his secret iustice, but by the ordinarie means that he punisheth others. d Is it agreeable to thy iustice to do me wrong? e Wilt thou be without compassion? f Wilt thou gratifie y wicked & condēne me? g Doest thou thus of ignorance? h Art thou inconstant and changeable, as the times, to date a friend, to morrow an enemy? i By affliction thou kepest me as in a prison, & restraynest me from doing euil, neither can any fet me at libertie. k In these eight verses following he describeth the mercie of God in the wōderful creation of

MY soule is cut of a thogh I liue: I wil leaue my b complaint vpon my self, & wil speake in the bitternes of my soule

I wil say vnto God, c Condēne me not: shewe me, wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Thinkest thou it d good to oppresse me, & to cast of the e labour of thine hands, and to fauour the f counsel of the wicked?

4 Hast thou s carnal eyes? or doest thou see as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as mans h dayes? or thy yeeres, as the time of man?

6 That thou inquest of mine iniquitie, & searchest out my sinne.

7 Thou knowest that I can not do i wickedly: for none can deliue me out of thine hand.

8 Thine k hands haue made me, and facioned me wholly rounde about, & wilt thou destroye me?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as l the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred me out as mylk? and turned me to cruds like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skinne and flesh, and ioyned me together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, and m grace: & thy n visitacion hath preserued my spirit.

13 Thogh thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I knowe o y it is so with thee. If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straightly loke vnto me, and wilt not holde me giles of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wo vnto me: if I haue done righteously, I wil not p lift vp mine head, being ful of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lyon: retorne & shewe thy self q maruelous vpon me.

n That is, thy fatherlie care & prouidence, whereby thou preseruest me, and without the which I shulde perish straight way not threw him self rigorous against him. l As brittle as a pot of clay. m That is, reason and vnderstanding, and many other giftes whereby man excelleth all earthlie creatures. n That is, thy fatherlie care & prouidence, whereby thou preseruest me, and without the which I shulde perish straight way. o Thogh I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confesse them. p I wil alway walke in feare and humilitie, knowing that none is iuste before thee. q Iob being sore afflited in this battel betwene the flesh and the spirit, breatheth out into these acedious, wishing rather short dayes then long paine.

17 Thou renuest thy plagues against me, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: r changes and aimes of sorowes are against me.

18 Wherefore thē hast thou broght me out of the wombe? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had sene me!

19 And that I were as I had not bene, but broght from the wombe to the graue.

20 Are not my dayes fewe? let him t cease, and leaue of frō me, that I may take a litle comfort,

21 Before I go and shal not t retorne, euent to the land of darkenes and shadowe of death:

22 Into a lād, I say, darke as darkenes it self, & into the shadow of death, where is none u order, but the light is there as darkenes.

CHAP. XI.

Iob is vniustly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 14 He is merciful to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that liue godlie

1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Shulde not the multitude of wordes be answered? or shulde a great a talker be iustified?

3 Shulde men holde their peace at thy lyes? and when thou mockest others, shal none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, b My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh, that God wolde speake and open his lippes against thee!

6 That he might shewe thee the c secrets of wisdom, how y hast deserued double, according to right: knowe therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching finde out God? canst thou finde out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heauens are his, what canst thou do? d it is deeper then the hel, how canst thou knowe it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut of and e shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, & him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man wolde be wise, thogh man newe borne is like a wilde asse f colte.

13 If thou s p prepare thine heart, & stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine h hand, put it faire away, & let no wickednes dwell in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy i face without r That is, diuersitie of distresses and in great roundness, showing that God hath infinite mercies to punish man. s He wisheth God wolde leaue of his affliction, considering his great miserie & the breuitie of his life. t He speaketh thus in y person of a sinner, that is overcome with passions & w the feeling of Gods iudgements, & therefore can not apprehend in y state the mercies of God & comfort of the resurrection. u No distinction betwene light and darkenes, but where all is vnto darkenes it self.

a Shulde he persuade by his great talker, that he is iust? b He chargeth Iob with this, that he shulde say, that the thing, which he spake, was true, and that he was without sinne in y sight of God. c Which is, not to stand in iustifying of thy self: the significatiō that man wil neuer be overcome, while he reasoneth with another, and therefore God must breake of the controuersie, and stop mans mouth. d That is, this perfection of God, & if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauē, the depth of hel, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator? e If God shulde turne the fate of things, and establish a newe order in nature, who coulde controule him? f That is, without vnderstanding so that whatsoeuer giftes he hath receiued, come of God and not of nature. g If thou repent, pray vnto Iob. h Renounce thine owne euil workes, and so that they offend not God, vnto whom thou hast charge. i He declarer what qualities of confidence and confidence in all things such as Iob had, which turne to God by true repentance.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt dig pittes, and shalt lye downe safely.

Louis 16. s.

19 *For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraied: yea, manie shall make sure vnto thee.

k He sheweth that contrarie things shal come vnto them that do not repent.

20 But the eyes ^k of the wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be sorowe of minde.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance 7 He declareth the might, and power of God, 17 And how he changeth the course of things.

a Because you fele not that, & you speake, you thinke y^e whole staderth m wordes, and so flatter your selues as though none knewe anie thing, or colde knowe but you Prou. 14. 2.

b He reprobeth these his friends of two fautes: the one y^e they thought they had better knowledg the an dede they had, & y^e other that in stead of true consolatio they did deride, and despise their friend in his aduersitie c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods fauour but he, because he hath all things that he desireth

d As the ricke esteeme not a light, or torne that goeth our, so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie to aduersitie e Ebr is whome God hath brought in with his hand. e He declareth to them that did dispute agais^t him, that their wisdom is comuⁿe to all, & suche as y^e very brute beasts do darre teache Or. 16. 11.

f He exhorteth them to be wise in iudgmg. and aswel to know the right vse why God hath giuen them eares, as he hath done a mouth I though men by age, and continuance of time attaine to wisdom, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisdom, nor able to comprehend his iudgements, wherein he answereth to that, which was alleaged, Chap. 38.

Then Iob answered, and said, In dede because that ye are the people onely, a wisdom must dye with you.

But I haue vnderstanding aswel as you, & am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not suche things?

*I am ^{bas} one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he ^c heareth him: the iuste and the vpright is laughed to scoine.

d He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the ricke.

The tabernacles of robbers do prosper, and they are in sauetie, that prouoke God, whome God hath enriched with his hand.

Aske now the beastes, e and they shall teache thee, and the foules of the heauen, and they shall tel thee:

Or speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.

Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

In whose hand is the soule of euerie liuing thing, and the breath of all mankinde.

Doeth not the eares ^f discern the wordes, and the mouth taste meat for it self?

Among the ^s ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

With him ^{is} wisdom and strength: he hath counsel and vnderstanding.

Beholde, he wil breake downe, and it can not be buyt: he shutteth a man vp, and he can not be losed.

Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, and thei drye vp: but when he sendeth the out, they destroye the earth.

With him ^{is} strength and wisdom: he that is deceiued, and that ^h deceueth, are his.

He causeth the counsellers to go as spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

He loseth ^k the collar of Kings, and girdeth their loines with a girdle.

He leadeth away the princes as a pray, & ouerthroweth the mightie.

He taketh away the speache from the ^l faithful counsellers, & taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

He powreth contempt vpon princes and maketh the strength of the mightie weak.

He discovereth the depe places from their darkenes, & bringeth forth the shadowe of death to light.

He ^m increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, & bringeth them in againe.

He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wader in the wildeines out of the way.

They grope in the darke without light: & he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man:

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitents shall be saued, and the hypocrite condemned 20 He prayeth vnto God that he wolde not handle him rigorously.

L O, mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstand it.

I knowe also as muche as you knowe: I am not inferior vnto you.

But I wil speake to the Almighty, and I desire ^a to dispute with God.

For in dede ye forge lyes, and all you are ^b phisicians of no value.

Oh, that you wolde holde your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wisdom!

Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lippes.

Wil ye speake ^c wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

Wil ye accept his persone? or wil ye contend for God?

Is it wel y^e he shulde seke of you? wil you make a lye for him, as one lyeth for a man?

He wil surely reprob you, if ye do secretly accept anie persone.

Shal not his excellencie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?

Your ^d memories may be copared vnto ashes, and your bodies to bodies of claye.

Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what wil.

Wherefore do I ^e take my flesh in my teth, and put my soule in mine hand?

Lo, though he slay me, yet wil I trust in him, and I wil reprove my wayes in his sight.

h He sheweth that there is nothing done in this worlde without Gods wil, and ordinance: for els he shulde not be almightie. i He taketh wisdom fro them k He abateth the honour of princes, and bringeth them into the subiectio of others. l He causeth that their wordes haue no credit, which is when he wil punish sone m In this discourse of Gods wonderful workes l^o sheweth that whatsoever is done in this worlde, bothe in y^e ordre and charge of things is by Gods wil and appointment: wherein he declareth that he thinketh wel of God, and is able to set forth his power in wordes as they that reasond agais^t were Chap. XIII a For although he knewe that God had a iustice, & was manifest in his ordinarie working, and another in his secret counsel, yet he wolde vtter his affection to God, because he was not able to vnderstand the cause why he did thus punish him b You do not wel applye your medicine to the disease. c He condemneth their scale & had not knowledg, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alwaie grated on Gods iustice, as though it was not euidently seene in Iob, except they had vnderstande the probation thereof d Your fame shal come to nothing e Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I do not complaine without cause, seing y^e I am thus tormented as though I shulde care none owne flesh, & put my life in day?

fWhereby he declareth that he is not an hypocrite as thei charged him

CHAP. XIII.

Iob describeth the shortenes and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope susteineth the godlie. 22 The condition of mans life.

1 MAn is borne of woman, is of short continuance, and ful of trouble.
 2 He shooteth forth as a flowre, and is cut downe: he vanisheth also as a shadow, & continueth not.
 3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such one, and causest me to entre into iudgement with thee.
 4 Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthines? there is not one.
 5 Are not his dayes determined? the nōber of his moneths are with thee. thou hast appointed his boundes, which he can not passe.
 6 Turne from him that he may cease vntil his desired day, as an hyreling.
 7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it wil yet sproute, and the branches thereof wil not cease.
 8 Though y rote of it waxe olde in the earth & the stocke thereof be dead in y groude, 9 Yet by the sent of water it wil bud, and bring forth the bowes like a plant.
 10 But man is sicke, and dyeth, & man perissheth, and where is he?
 11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp, 12 So man slepeth and riseth nor: for he shal not wake againe, nor be raised from his 13 Oh that thou woldest hide me in the graue, and kepe me secret, vntil thy wrath were past, and woldest giue me terme, and remember me.

 14 If a man dye, shal he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time wil I waite, til my changing shal come.
 15 Thou shalt call me, and I shal answer thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne hands.
 16 But now thou nombrest my steps, and doest not delay my finnes.
 17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a baggage, and thou addest vnto my wickednes.
 18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, cometh to noght, and the rocke that is remoued from his place:
 19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.
 20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face when thou castest him away.
 21 And he knoweth not if his sonnes shal be honorable, nether shal he vnderstand concerning thē, whether they shal be of lowe degre, 22 But while his flesh is vpon him, he shal be sorowful, and while his soule is in him, it shal mourne.

CHAP. XV.

Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth wisdom, and purenes to him self. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of the number.

1 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,
 2 Shal a wise man speake wordes of the winde, and fil his belly with the East winde?
 3 Shal he dispute with wordes not comely? or with talke that is not profitable?
 4 Surely thou hast cast of feare, and restrained prayer before God.
 5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seing thou hast chosen the tongue of the crafty.
 6 Thine one mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lippes testifie against thee.
 7 Art thou the first man, that was borne? and wast thou made before the hills?
 8 Hast thou heard the secret counsel of God, and doest thou restraine wisdom to thee?
 9 What knowest thou that we knowe not? and vnderstandest that is not in vs?
 10 With vs are bothe ancient and very aged men, farre older then thy father.

 12 Why

e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to dye f That is, recalcemy peines and take me to mercie g Meaning, vnto the day of the resurrection whē he shulde be changed, & renewed.
h Though I be afflicted in this life yet in the resurrection I shal fele thy mercies, and answer when thou callest me Prou 5.21.

k He murmureth through y impacificite of y flesh against God, as though he vied as great seruicite against him as against y hard rockes, or waters y ouerflowe so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away l Yet whiles he liueth, he shal be in paine & miserie.

a That is, vaine wordes, & without consolation?
b Meaning, matters that are of none importāce which are forgotten as soon as they are vttered, as the East winde drieth vp the moisture as soon as it falleth c He chargeth Iob as though his talke caused me to cast of the feare of God & prayer.

f Art thou onely wife?
g He accuseth Iobs pride, and ingratitude, y wil not be comforted by God, nor by their counsel.

h Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceite? Ebr. in thy spirit.
i His purpose is to proude, y Job as an vnjust man & an hypocrite is punished for his sinnes, like as he did before, Chap 4, 18 k Which hath the a desire to sinne as he y is thurste to drinke.
l Who by their wisdom so gouerned, y no stranger inuaded them, & so the land seemed to be giued to them alone.
m The cruel man is euer in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience n Out of that miserie where into he once falleth.
o God doeth not onely impouerish the wicked oft times: but euen in their prosperitie he punisheth the wicked a greedines euer more to gacher: which is as a beggerie p He sheweth what weapons God vseth against y wicked which lift vp the selues against him, to wit, terror of conscience, & outward afflictions q That is, he was so puffed vp with great prosperitie, & abundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting, y Job in his felicitie had not the true feare of God
r Though he buylde, & repare ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shal bring all to naught, and turne his great prosperitie into extreme miserie.
s Meaning, y his sumptuous buyldings shulde neuer come to perfection t He standeth so in his owne conceite, that he wil giue no place to good counsell, therefore his owne pride shal bring him to destruction u As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe.
x Which were buylt or maintained by purling, and bribes.

Why doeth thine heart take thee away, and what do thine eyes meane,
 That thou answerest to God at thy pleasure, and bringest suche wordes out of thy mouth?
 What is man, that he shulde be cleane? and he that is borne of woman, that he shulde be iust?
 Beholde, he founde no stedfastnes in his Saintes: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.
 How muche more man abominable, & filthy, which drinketh iniquitie like water?
 I wil tel thee: heare me, and I wil declare that which I haue seene:
 Which wise men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:
 To whome alone the land was giuen & no stranger passed through them.
 The wicked man is continually as one that trauelleth of childe, and the number of yeres is hid from the tyrant.
 A soule of feare is in his eares, & in his prosperitie y destroyer shal come vpon him.
 He beleueth not to returne out of darkenes: for he seeth the sworde before him.
 He wadareth to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darkenes is prepared at hand.
 Affliction and anguish shal make him afraid: they shal preuaile against him as a King ready to the battell.
 For he hath stretched out his hand against God, and made him self strong against the Almightye.
 Therefore God shal runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, & against the moste thicke part of his shield.
 Because he hath covered his face with his fatnes, & hath collopes in his flacke.
 Though he dwel in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes,
 He shal not be riche, nether shal his substance continue, nether shal he prolong the perfection thereof in the earth.
 He shal neuer departe out of darkenes: y flame shal diue vpon his branches, & he shal go away with the breath of his mouth.
 He beleueth not that he crieth in vanitie: therefore vanitie shal be his change.
 His branche shal not be grene, but shal be cut of before his day.
 God shal destroy him as the vine her sower vpon a grape, and shal cast him of, as the oliue doeth her flowre.
 For the congregacion of the hypocrite shal be desolate, & fyre shal deuoure the houses of bribes.

For they conceiue mischief and bring forth the vanitie, & their bellie hath prepared deceite.
 Chap. xvi.
 Job moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 Counsell in what extremitie he was, 19 And taketh God witness of his innocencie.
 But Job answered, and said,
 I haue oft times heard suche things: miserable comforters are ye all.
 Shal there be none end of wordes of wind? or what maketh thee bolde so to answer?
 I colde also speake as ye do: (but wolde God your soule were in my soules stead) I colde kepe you companie in speaking, and colde shake mine head at you,
 But I wolde strengthen you with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips shulde aswage your sorowe.
 Though I speake, my sorowe can not be aswaged: though I cease, what release haue I?
 But now she maketh me weary: O God, thou hast made all my congregacion desolate,
 And hast made me full of wrinkles which is a witness thereof, and my leannes riseth vp in me, testifying the same in my face.
 His wrath hath torne me, and he tetheth me, & gnaweth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemy hath sharpened his eies against me.
 They haue opened their mouthes vpon me, & smitten me on the cheke in reproche: they gather the selues together against me.
 God hath deliuered me to the vniust, and hath made me to turne out of the way by the hands of the wicked.
 I was in welth, but he hath brought me to night: he hath taken me by the necke, and beaten me, and set in me as a marke for him self.
 His archers compassed me round about: he cutteth my reins, & doeth not spare, and powreth my gall vpon the ground.
 He hath broken me with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a gyant.
 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skin, and haue abased mine horne vnto the dust.
 My face is withered with weeping, & the shadow of death is vpon mine eies, Though there be no wickednes in mine hands, and my prayer be pure.
 O earth, couer not thou my blood, and let my cying finde no place.
 For lo, now my witness is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

And therefore all their vaine deuises shal turne to their owne destruction.

a He declared that two things moued him to speake to wit, because Iob sene to touch him, & because he thought he had know ledge sufficient to confute him
b His purpose is to prouoke Iob to be a wicked man, & an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his praise into aduersitee.
c Where as y facth, r through ambition & tyrannie oppressed the poore, the children through power tie & intierie shal like fauour at y poore. So that the things, which he hath taken away by violence, shal be restored againe by force

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraied, & feare taketh holde on my flesh.
7 Wherefore do the wicked liue, and waxe olde, and growe in welth?
8 Their sede is established in their sight with them, and their generacion before their eyes.
9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.
10 Their bullocke gendreth, & faileth not: their cowe calueth, and casteth not her calfe.
11 They send forth their children like shepe, and their sonnes dance.
12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sounde of the organs.
13 They spend their daies in welth, and suddenly they go downe to the graue.
14 They say also vnto God, Depart fro vs: for we desire not the knowledge of thy waies.
15 Who is the Almighty, that we shulde serue him? and what profite shulde we haue, if we shulde pray vnto him?
16 Lo, their welth is not in their hand: therefore let the counsel of the wicked be farre from me.
17 How oft shal the candel of the wicked be put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he wil deuide their liues in his wrath.
18 They shal be as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme caryeth away.

19 God will lay vp the sorow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shal knowe it.
20 His eyes shal see his destruction, and he shal drinke of the wrath of y Almighty.
21 For what pleasure hathe he in his house after him, when the number of his months is cut of?
22 Shal any teache God knowledge, who iudgeth the hieft things?
23 One dyeth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.
24 His breasts are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marowe.
25 And another dyeth in the bitterness of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.
26 They shal slepe bothe in the dust, and the wormes shal couer them.
27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterpises, where with ye do me wrong.
28 For ye say, Where is the princes house? and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?
29 May ye not aske the that go by y way? and ye can not denie their signes.
30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, & they shal be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who shal declare his waie to his face? and who shal rewarde him for that he hath done?
32 Yet shal he be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.
33 The slimie valley shalbe swete vnto hi, and euerie man shal drawe after him, as before him there were innumerable.
34 How the comfort ye me in vaine, seig in your answers these remaine but lyes?

CHAP. XXII.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his finnes. 6 He accuseth him of vnnecessaries, 13 And that he denied Gods providence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,
2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?
3 Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vp-right?
4 Is it for feare of thee that he wil accuse thee? or go with thee in to iudgement?
5 Is not thy wickednes great, & thine iniquities innumerable?
6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.
7 To suche as were weary, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawn bread from the hungrie.

k When God recompenseth his wickednes he shal knowe y his prosperitie was but vaine
l Who sendeth to the wicked prosperitie, & punisheth the godlie m Meaning, the wicked.
n To wit, the godlie
o As concerning their bodies: and this he speaketh according to y commune iudgement p Thus they called Iobs house in derision, concluding y it was destroyed because he was wicked q Which through long trauailing haue experience & tokens here of, to wit, that the wicked do prosper & the godlie lue in affliction r Though the wicked flourish here, yet God wil punish hi in the last day. s Though men do batter him, and none dare reprove him in this world, yet death is a tokē that God wil bring him to an account.
t He shal be glad to lie in a slimie pit, before colde not be content with a royal palace u Saying, that the iust in this worlde haue prosperitie & y wicked aduersitate.

a Though man were iuste, yet God wolde haue no profite of this his iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hathe no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne.
b Let y shaldest reprove or hurt him?
c Thou hast bene cruel and without charitie, & woldest do nothing for the poore, but for thine owne aduantage.

CHAP. XXIII.

d When thou wast in power and autoritie, thou didst not iustice, but wrong
 e Thou hast not onely not shewed pite, but oppressed them f That is, many folde afflictions g He accuseth Job of impie tie & contempt of God, as though he wolde say, if thou passe not for men, yet consider the height of Gods maiestie h That so muche the more by that excellent worke y maist feare God and reuerence him i He reproverth Job as though he denied Gods prouidence, and that he colde not se things that were done in this worlde k How God hath punished them from the beginning l He prouerth Gods prouidence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can brig their wicked purposes to passe m He answereth to that, which Job had said Chap 21.7 that the wicked haue prosperie in this worlde: desiring that he might not be partaker of y like n The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth him self iudger of the worlde, & by this meanes continueth his honour and glorie: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care ouer his in that he punisheth their enemies.
 o That is, the state and preservation of y godlie is hid vnder Gods wings.
 p Meaning of the wicked q He exhortheth Job to repentance and to returne to God.
 r God wil restore vnto thee all thy substance s Which shalbe in abundance like dust t That is, the fauour of God.
 u God wil deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed rounde about them, as in the flood and in Sodom x God wil deliuer a whole countrey from peril, euen for the iuste mans sake.

8 But the mightie man d had the earth, and he that was in autoritie, dwelt in it.
 9 Thou hast cast out widowes emptie, and the armes of e the fatherles were broken.
 10 Therefore snares are rounde about thee, and feare shal sodenly trouble thee:
 11 Or daikenes that thou shuldest not feare, and f abudance of waters shal cour thec.
 12 Is not God on s hie in the heauen? & beholde the height of the h staires how hie they are.
 13 But thou saiest, How shulde God i knowe that he can iudge through the daike cloude?
 14 The cloudes hid him that he can not se, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.
 15 Hast thou marked the way of y worlde, k wherein wicked men haue walked?
 16 Which were l cut downe before the time, whose fundacion was as a riuier that ouerflowed:
 17 Which said vnto God, Departe from vs, and asked what the Almighty colde do for them.
 18 Yet he m filled their houses with good things: but let the counsel of the wicked be farre from me.
 19 The righteous shal se them, and shal reioyce, n and the innocent shal laugh them to scoine.
 20 Surely o our substance is hid: but the fyre hath deuoured the remnant of p them.
 21 Therefore acquaint thy self, I pray thee, q with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.
 22 Receiue, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and late vp his wordes in thine heart.
 23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt r be buyt vp, & thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.
 24 Thou shalt lay vp golde for s dust, and the golde of Ophir, as the flints of the riuers.
 25 Yea, the Almighty shalbe thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.
 26 And thou shalt the delite in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
 27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he shal heare thee, and thou shalt rendie thy vowes.
 28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, & he shal establish it vnto thee, and the t light shal shine vpon thy waies.
 29 u When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shal saue the humble persone.
 30 The innocent shal deliuer the x yland, and it shalbe preferued by the purenes of thine hands.

2 Job affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the Iudge, 10 And that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

1 BUt Job answered and said,
 2 Though my talke be this day in a bitterness, and my plague greater than my groning,
 3 Wolde God yet I knewe how to finde him, I wolde entre vnto his place.
 4 I wolde pleade the cause before him, and fil my mouth with arguments.
 5 I wolde knowe the wordes, that he wolde answer me, and wolde vnderstand what he wolde say vnto me.
 6 Wolde he b plead against me with his great power? No, but he wolde c put strength in me.
 7 d There the righteous might reason with him, so I shulde be deliuered for euer from my Iudge.
 8 e Beholde, if I go to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I can not perceiue him:
 9 If to the North where he worketh, yet I can not se him: he wil hide him self in the South, and I can not beholde him.
 10 But he knoweth my f way, and tryeth me, and I shal come forth like the golde.
 11 My fore hath followed his steppes: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.
 12 Nether haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, & I haue g esteemed the wordes of his mouth more than mine appointed fode.
 13 Yet he is in one minde, and who can h turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde desireth.
 14 For he wil performe that, which is decreed of me, and i many suche things are with him.
 15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, & in considering it, I am afrayed of him.
 16 For God k hath softened mine heart, & the Almighty hath troubled me.
 17 For I am not cut of in l darkenes, but he hath hid the darkenes from my face.

a He sheweth the iuste cause of his coplaining, & as touching that Elphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, chap 22. 21, he declareth that he desireth nothing more: but it seemeth that God wolde not be foude of him
 b Ysing his absolute power & saying, Because I am God, I may do what I wil c Of his mercie he wolde giue me power to answer him d When he of his mercie hath giuen strength to mainteine their cause e Meaning, y if he consider Gods iustice, he is not able to coprehende his iudgements on what side or parte soeuer he turneth him self f God hath this preeminence aboue me that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: he sheweth also his confidence, that God doeth visite him for his profite g His worde is more precious vnto me, then the meat wherewith the bodie is sustented h Job confesseth that at this present he felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good end i In many pointes man is not able to atteine to Gods iudgements k That I shulde not be without feare l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none end, nether yet knoweth the cause

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Job describeth the wickednes of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked, 12 How all things are governed by Gods prouidence, 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

1 How shulde not the times a be hid from the Almighty, seeing that they which knowe him, se not his b daies?
 2 Some i remoue the land markes, that robbe the flockes and fede thereof.
 3 They lead away the asse of the fatherles: and take the widowes oxe to pledge.
 Mm i.
 b When he punisheth the wicked and rewardeth the good a Thus Job speaketh in his passions and after the iudgement of the Iust: that is, y he seeth not the things that are done at times, nether y: he hath a peculiar care ouer all, because he punisheth vs: the wicked, nor reuengeth the good.

4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, fo that the poore of the earth hide them felues together.

5 Beholde, others as wilde affes in the wildernes, go forthe to their bufines, and^d rife early for a pray: the wildernes^e giueth him & his childen fode.

6 They reape^f his prouifio in the field, but thei gather the late^g vitage of the wicked.

7 Thei caufe the naked to lodge without garnēt, & without couering in the colde.

8 They are wet with the showies of the mountaines, h and thei imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.

9 They plucke the fatherlesⁱ frō the breast, and take the pledge^k of the poore.

10 They caufe him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleining from the hungrie.

11 Thei^l y make oyle^l betwene their walles, and treade their winepreffes, suffer thirft.

12 Mē^m crye out of the citie, & the foules of the flayneⁿ crye out: yet God doeth^o not charge them with follie.

13 Thefe are thei, that abhorre the^p light: thei knowe not the waies thereof, nor continue in the pathis thereof.

14 The murtherer rifeth early^q & killeth the poore and the nedie: and in the night he is as a thefe.

15 The eye also of the^r adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and faith, None eye fhall fe me, and difguifeth his face.

16 Thei digge through houfes in the darke, which they marked for them felues in the day: they knowe not the light.

17 But the morning^u quen to them as the shadow of death: if one knowe the^v, they are in the terroures of the shadowe of death.

18 He is fwift vpon the^w waters: their^x portion fhall be curfed in the earth: he wil not beholde the way of the vineyardes.

19 As the dnye grounde & heat cofume the fnowe waters, fo fhall the graue^y the finners.

20^u The pitiful man fhall forget him: the worme^z fhall fele his sweetenes: he fhall be no more remēbred, & the wicked fhall be broken like a te.

21 He^z doeth euil iatreat the baren, that doeth not beare, nether doeth he good to the widowe.

22 He draweth also^z y mightie by his power, & whē he rifeth vp, none is fure of life.

23 Thogh men giue him affurance to be in fauetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.

24 Thei are exalted for a litle, but thei are gone, and are brought lowe as all^z others: thei are deftroyed, and cut of as the top of an eare of corne.

^e And for crueltie & opprefion dare not fhewe their faces
^d That is, fpare no diligēce.
^e He and his, liue by robbing and murdering ^f Meaning the poore man.
^g Signifying, that one wicked man wil not fpoile another, but for neceffitie.
^h The poore are driven by the wicked into rockes and holes, where thei can not liue drye for the rayne.
ⁱ That is, they fo pottle and pille y poore widowe, y she can not haue to fubfift her felf, that she may be able to giue her childē fucce.
^k That is, his garment, where with he fhould be couered or clad.
^l In fuche places, y are appointed for y purpose: meaning, y thofe that labour for y wicked, are pined for hungre.
^m For y great opprefion & extortion ⁿ Crye out & call for vengeance.
^o God doeth not condemne y wicked, but femeth to pafte ouer it by his lōg filēce.
^p That is, Gods worde, becaufe they are reprobud there by ^q By thefe particular vices, & the licece thereunto, he wolde prouē y God punifeth not y wicked & rewardeth the iufte
^r He fteerh to the waters for his fuccour
^s They thinke that all the worlde is bent againft them, & dare not go by the dnye way.
^t As the dnye grounde is neuer ful with waters, fo wil thei neuer ceafe finning, til thei come to the graue.
^u Thogh God fuffere the wicked for a time, yet their end fhall be moſte vile deftrudion, & in this point Job cometh to him felf and fheweth his confidence
^x He fheweth why the wicked fhall not be famcated, becaufe he did not picke others
^y He declarh that after that the wicked haue deftroyed the weakē, thei wil do like to the ftronger, and therefore are iufely puencted by Gods iudgements.

25 But if it be not^z fo, where is he^z or who wil prouē me a lyer, & make my wordes of no value?

CHAP. XXV.

Bildād proueth that no man cleaue nor without finne before God.

1 Then answered Bildād the Shuhite, & faid,
 2 Power & feare^z is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.
 3 Is there any number in his armies? & vpō whome^b fhall not his light arife?
 4 And how may a man^c be iuftified with God? or how can he be cleane, that is borne of woman?
 5 Beholde, he wil giue no light to the moone, d and the ftarres are vnclane in his fight.
 6 How muche more man, a worme, euē the fonne of man, which is but a worme?

CHAP. XXVI.

Job fheweth that man cannot helpe God, & proueth it by his meracles.

1 But Job answered, and faid,
 2 Whome helpeft thou^z him that hathe no power? faueit thou the arme that hathe no ftrengh?
 3 Whome counfeleſt thou^z him that hathe no wifdome? thou^b fheweft right wel as the thing is.
 4 To whome doeft y declare thefe wordes? or whoſe ſpirit^c cometh out of thee?
 5 The^d dead things are formed vnder the waters, and nere vnto them.
 6 The graue is^e naked before him, & there is no couering for^f deftrudion.
 7 He ſtretcheth out the^g North ouer the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.
 8 He bindeth the waters in his cloude, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.
 9 He holdeth backe the face of his throne: h and ſtreadeth his cloude vpon it.
 10 He hathe fet bondes about the waters, vntil theⁱ day and night come to an end.
 11 The^k pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reprof.
 12 The ſea is calme by his power, & by his vnderftanding he ſmiteth y pride^l thereof.
 13 His Spirit hathe garniſhed the heauē, & his hand hathe foimed y crooked^m ſerpēt.
 14 Lo, thefe are parte of his wayes: but how litle a portion heare we of him, and who can vnderftand his feareful power?
 15 Not that heaue hadhe pillars to vpholde it, but he ſpeaketh by a ſimilitude, as thogh he wolde ſay, The heauen it ſelf is not able to abide his reproche
 16 Which is a figure of ftarres facioned like a ſerpent, becaufe of the crookednes 17 If thefe fewe things, which we ſe daily with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how muche more wolde they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

CHAP. XXVII.

The conſtancie and perfimes of Job. 13 The rewardes of the wicked and of the tyrants.

1 Moreouer Job proceded and continued his parable, ſaying, ^z That is, that contrary to your reaſoning no man can giue a perſite reaſon of Gods iudgements, let me be reprobud.

 Chap. XXV.
 a His purpoſe is to prouē, y about God trye and afflicte the iufte, yet ſone after he ſendeth profperitie, & becauſe he did not ſo to Job, he concludeth that he is wicked
 b Who can cōſide hum frō his preſence?
 c That is, be iufte in reſpect of God?
 d If God ſhew his power, the moone & ftarres cā not haue that light, whis giuen the, muche leſſe cā man haue any excellēcie, but of God Chap. XXVI.
 a Thou cōcludeth nothing: for nether y helpeſt me, y am deftitute of all helpe, nether yet ſpeaketh ſufficiently on Gods behalfe, who hathe no nede of thy defence
 b But y doest not applie it to y purpoſe c That is, moueth thee to ſpeake thiſt?
 d Job beginneth to declare the force of Gods power & prouidence in the mines and metals in the depe places of the earth
 e There is nothing hid in y bottom of the earth, but he ſeeth it f Meaning, the graue wherein thiſt putrefie.
 g He cauſeth y whole heauen to turne about y North pole.
 h That is, he hideth y heauens, which are called his throne i So lōg as thiſt ſpeaketh by a ſimilitude, as thogh he wolde ſay, The heauen it ſelf is not able to abide his reproche
 l Which is a figure of ftarres facioned like a ſerpent, becaufe of the crookednes m If theſe fewe things, which we ſe daily with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how muche more wolde they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

a He hath so fore afflicted me, that me can nor iudge of mine vprightnes: for thus iudge onely by outward signes b Howsoeuer men iudge of me; yet wil I not speake contrary to that, which I haue said, and to do wickedly in betraying the truth
c Which condemn me as a wicked mā, because I had of God in vprōme d I wil not cōfesse that God doeth thus punish me for my sinnes e Of my life past
f What aduantage hath the distembler to gaine neuer so much, seeing he shal lose his owne soule?
g That is, what God referueth to him self, & whereof he giveth not the knowledge to all h That is, these secret iudgements of God, and yet do not vnderstand them i Why main teine you this error?
k Thus wil God orde the wicked, & punish him euen vnto his posteritie l None shal lament him
m Which breedeth in another mans possession or garment, but is some shaken out n He meaneth that the wicked tyrants shal not haue a quiet death, nor be buried honorably o His purpose is to declare that man may attaine in this worlde to diuers secrets of nature, but mā is neuer able to comprehend the wisdome of God.
p There is nothing but it is cōpased within certene limites, & hath an end, but Gods wisdom e Meanly him that dwelleth thereby.

2 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgement: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitternes.
 3 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils, 4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednes, and my tongue shall vtter no deceit.
 5 God forbid, that I should iustifie you: vntill I dye, I wil neuer take away mine innocencie from my self.
 6 I wil kepe my righteousnes, and wil not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove me for my euill dayes.
 7 Mine enemies shall be as the wicked, & he that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.
 8 For what hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?
 9 Wil God heare his crye, when trouble cometh vpon him?
 10 Wil he set his delite on the Almighty? wil he call vpon God at all times?
 11 I wil teach you what is in the hand of God, & I wil not conceale that which is with the Almighty.
 12 Beholde, all ye your selues haue sene it: why then do you thus vanish in vanitie?
 13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, & the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.
 14 If his children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.
 15 His remnant shall be buried in death, & his widowes shall not wepe.
 16 Though he should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the ruste shall put it on, and the innocēt shall deuide the siluer.
 18 He buyldeth his house as the mothe, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.
 19 When the riche man slepeth, he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.
 20 Terrours shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carie him away by night.
 21 The East wind shall take him away, & he shall departe: and it shall hurle him out of his place.
 22 And God shall cast vpon him & not spare, though he wolde faine see out of his hand.
 23 Euerie man shall clap their hands at him, and hisse at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdome of God is vnsearchable.

The siluer surely hath his vaine, & the golde his place, where they take it.
 Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasle is molten out of the stone.
 God putteth an end to darknes, & he tryeth the perfectio of all things: he setteth a bōde of darkenes, & of the shadow of death.
 4 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters forgotten of the fote, being higher than the mā, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cometh bread, & vnder it, as it were fyre is turned vp.
 6 The stones thereof are a place of sapphirs, and the dust of it is golde.
 7 There is a path which no foule hath known, nether hath the kites eye sene it.
 8 The lions whelps haue not walked it, nor the lion passed thereby.
 9 He putteth his hand vpon the rocks, & ouerthroweth the mountains by their rootes.
 10 He breaketh riuers in the rocks, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.
 11 He bindeth the floods, that they do not ouerflowe, & the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.
 12 But where is wisdome founde, & where is the place of vnderstanding?
 13 Man knoweth not the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.
 14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.
 15 Golde shall not be giuen for it, nether shall siluer be weighed for the price thereof.
 16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious onix, nor the saphir.
 17 The golde nor the cristall shall be equal vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine golde.
 18 No mention shall be made of coral, nor of the gabaris: for wisdome is more precious then perles.
 19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equal vnto it, nether shall it be valued with the wedge of pure golde.
 20 Whence then cometh wisdome? and where is the place of vnderstanding?
 21 Seing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, & is hid from the soules of the heauens?
 22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the same thereof with our eares.
 23 But God vnderstandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.
 24 For he beholdeth the ends of the worlde, & seeth all that is vnder heauen, 25 To make the weight of the windes, & to weigh the waters by measure.
 26 When he made a decree for the raine, & a way for the lightening of the thunders, 27 Then did he se it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.
 28 And vnto man he said, Beholde, the feare of the Lord is wisdome, and to departe from euil is vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past.

SO Iob proceeded and continued his psalme, saying,
 Oh that I were as in times past, when God preferred me!

d Which a mā can not wade through e That is, cornes; and vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easily concealeth fyre.
f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, wherunto nether soules nor beastes can eere.
g After that he hath declared the wisdome of God in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power.
h Though Gods power, & wisdome may be vnderstand in earthly things, yet his heauenlie wisdome can not be attained vnto.
i It is to hie a thing for man to attaine vnto in this worlde.
k It can nether be bought for golde, nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.
l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone.
m Meaning, that there is no natural meanes, whereby man might attaine to the heauenlie wisdome: which he meaneth by the soules, that sit in he.
n He maketh God onely the author of this wisdome, and the gauer thereof.
o He declareth that mā hath so much of this heauenlie wisdome as he sheweth by feare of God, and departing from euil.

^a When I felt ³ his fauour ^b I was free from afflictio.
^c That is, seemed by euident tokens to be more present with me
^d By these similitudes he declareth the great prosperitie, that he was in, so that he had none occasion to be such a sinner as they accused him.
^e Being ashamed of their lightnes, and afraid of my grauitie.
^f Acknowledging my wil-dome
^g All that heard me, praised me
^h Testifying I did good iustice ⁱ Because his aduersaries did so much charge him with wickednes, he is compelled to rendre a couite of his life ^k That is, I did succour him y^e was in destresse, and so he had cause to praise me ^l I delited to do iustice as others did, to weare costly apparel.
^m That is, at home in my bed without all trouble, and vnquietnes.
ⁿ My felicitie doeth increate
^o That is, was pleasant vnto them
^p As the drye grounde thirsteth for the raine.
^q That is, they thought it not to be a rest, or the thought nor I wold cōdescēd vnto the ^r They were afraid to offend me, and cause me to be angry
^s I had them at commandment
^t That is, mine estate is changed, & where as before the ancient men were glad to do me reuerence, the yong men now contemne me.

When his light shined vpon mine head:
 & when by his light I walked through the darkenes,
 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when Gods prouidēce was vpon my tabernacle:
 When the Almighty was yet with me, & my children rounde about me:
 When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:
 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgemēt seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the strete.
 The yong men sawe me, and hid them selues, and the aged arose, and stode vpon.
 The princes stayed talke, and laied their hand on their mouth.
 The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to y^e roofof their mouth.
 And when the care heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye sawe me, it gaue witness to me.
 For I deliuered the poore that cryed, and the fatherles, and him that had none to helpe him.
 The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.
 I put on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.
 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the fete to the lame.
 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knewe not the cause, I sought it out diligently.
 I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the praye out of his tethe.
 Then I said, I shal dye in my nest, and I shal multiplie my dayes as the sande.
 For my roote is spread out by the water, and the dewe shal lye vpon my branche.
 My glorie shal renew toward me, and my bowe shal be restored in mine hand.
 Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and helde their tongue at my counsel.
 After my wordes they replied not, & my talke dropped vpon them.
 And they waited for me, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth as for the latter raine.
 If I laughed on them, they beleued it not: nether did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.
 I appointed out their way, and did sit as chief, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth y^e mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Iob complaineth that he is contemned of the moste contemptible. 11. 21. Because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23. Death is the house of all flesh.

BVt now they that are yonger then I, mocke me: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the dogges of my flockes.

 For where to shulde the strength of their hands haue serued me, beinge aged & perished in them?
 For pouertie and famine they were solitarie, fleeing into the wildernes, which is darke, desolate and waste.
 They cut vpon nettels by the bushes, and the iuniper rootes was their meat.
 They were chased forthe from among men: they showed at them, as at a thefe.
 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.
 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the thittels they gathered them selues.
 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.
 And now am I their song, & I am their talke.
 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.
 Because that God hathe losed my corde and humbled me, & they haue losed the bridel before me.
 The youth rise vpon at my right hand: they haue pusht my fete, and haue trode on me as on the paths of their destruction.
 They haue destroyed my paths: they toke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none helpe.
 They came as a great breache of waters, and vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.
 Feare is turned vpon me: and they pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloude.
 Therefore my soule is now powred out vpon me, and the dayes of affliction haue taken holde on me.
 It perceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.
 For the great vehemencie is my garrēt chaged, which compasseth me about as the colar of my coate.
 He hathe cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.
 When I crye vnto thee, y^e doest not heare me, nether regardest me, when I stand vpon.
 Thou turnest thy self cruelly against me, and art enemie vnto me with the strength of thine hand.
 Thou takest me vpon and causest me to ride vpon the winde, and makest my strength to faile.
 Surely I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.
 Doubtes none can stretche his hand vnto the graue, though they crye in his destruction.
 Did not I wepe with him y^e was in trouble?

^b Meaning, to be my shepherdes, or to kepe my dogges.
^c That is, their fathers dyed for famine before they came to age.
^d Or, malice.
^e Iob sheweth that these that mocked him in his afflictio, were like to their fathers, wicked, and fewde fellows, such as he hege deserueth.
^f They make songs of me, & mocke at my miserie.
^g God hathe takē fro me y^e force, credit & autoritie, where-with I kept them in subiection.
^h He said that the yong men who they saw him, hid them selues, as chap. 29. 8. and now in his miserie they were impudent and licentious ⁱ That is, they fought by all means how they might destroye me ^j They nede none to helpe them.
^k By my calamitie they roke an occasio against me
^l My life faileth me, and I am as halfe dead
^m Meaning, sorowe.
ⁿ That is, God hath bragged me into contempt.
^o He speaketh not thus to accuse God, but to declare the vehemencie of his affliction, whereby he was cryed beside himself.
^p He compasseth his afflictions to a rest, or whirle winde
^q Or, wiffling, or Law
^r None can deliuer me thence though they lament at my death.

ble was not my soule in heauines for the poore?
 ¶ In Read of 26 cōforting they mocked at me. f Not deliting in anie worldly thing, no not so muche, as in the vie of the sunne. r Lamenting the that were in affliction, & mouing others to pitie them. u I am like y wilde beastes chat desire mo ste solitarie places x With the heat of affliction.

26 Yet when I loked for good, & euil came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkenes.
 27 My bowels did boyle without rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.
 28 I wēt mourning & without sunne: I stode vp in the congregacion & and cryed.
 29 I am a brother to the dragons, and a companion to the ostriches.
 30 My skinne is blacke vpon me, and my bones are burnt with heat.
 31 Therefore mine harp is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that wepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

Iob reciteth the innocencie of his living, and number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the iustful.

a I kept mine eyes from all wanton lokes. b Wolde not God then hate punished me?

I Made a couenant with mine eyes: why the shulde I thinke on a maid?
 2 For what porcion shulde I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on hie?

c Iob declarereth that the feare of God was a bridel to stay him from all wickednes.

3 Is not destruction to the wicked & strange punishment to the workers of iniquitie?
 4 Doeth not he beholde my wayes and tell all my steppes?
 5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my fote hath made haste to deceit, d He sheweth wherein his vprightnes standeth: that is, in as muche as he was blameles before men, & sinned not against the second table.

6 Let God weigh me in the iuste balance, and he shal knowe mine vprightnes.
 7 If my step hathe turned out of the way, or mine heart hathe walked after mine eye, or if anie blot hathe cleaued to mine hands, e That is, hathe accomplished the lust of mine eye.

8 Let me sowe, & let another eat: yea, let my plants be rooted out.
 9 If mine heart hathe bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue land wayte at the dore of my neighbour, f According to the curse of the Law, Deu. 28.33

10 Let my wife grind vnto another ma, and let other men bowe downe vpon her.
 11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned.

g Lether be made a flauie h He sheweth that albeit mā neglect the punishment of adulterie, yet the wrath of God wil neuer cease til suche be destroyed

12 Yea, this is a fyre that shal deuoure to destruction, and which shal roote out all mine increase, 13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my seruant, and of my maid, when they did contend with me.

i When they thoght them selues euil in created by me k If I had oppressed others, how shulde I haue escaped Gods iudgement? l He was moued to shewe pitie vnto seruants, because they were Gods creatures as he was m By long waiting for her request 14 What then shal I do when God standeth vpon, and when he shal visite me, what shal I answer?

 15 He that hathe made me in the wombe, hathe he not made him? hathe not he alone facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widowe to faile, 17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, & the fatherles hathe not eaten thereof,

(For from my youth he hathe growē vp with me as with a father, & from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her)

19 If I haue sene anie perish for want of clothing, or any poore without couering, 20 If his loines haue not blessed me, because he was warmed w the fleece of my shepe, 21 If I haue lift vpon mine hand against the fatherles, when I sawe that I might helpe him in the gate, n He nourished y fatherles & maintened the widowes cause.

22 Let mine arme fall from my shulder, & mine arme be broken from the bone.
 23 For Gods punishment was a fearful vnto me, and I colde not be deliuered from his highnes.

o To oppress him & do him iniurie.

24 If I made golde mine hope, or haue said to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence, 25 If I reioyced because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten muche, p Let me rott in pieces q I refrained not from sinning for feare of men, but because I feared God r If I was proude of my worldlye prosperitie & felicitie, which is ment by the shining of the sunne & brightenes of the moone s If mine owne dongs delited me t By putting confidence in any thing, but in him alone u My seruants moued me to be reuedged of mine enemies, yet did I neuer wish him hurt. x And not confessed it freely: whereby it is euidēt that he iustified himselfe before men and not before God y That is, I reuerenced the moste weak & contemued & was afrayed to offend them z I suffered the to speake euil of me and wēt not out of my house to reuege it.

26 If I did beholde the sunne, when it shined, or the moone, walking in her brightenes, 27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kisse mine hand, 28 (This also had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denied the God aboue)
 29 If I reioyced at his destruction that hated me, or was moued to ioye when euil came vpon him, 30 Nether haue I suffred my mouth to sinne, by wishing a curse vnto his soule.

 31 Did not the men of my tabernacle say, Who shal giue vs of his flesh? we can not be satisfied.
 32 The stranger did not lodge in the sere, but I opened my dores vnto him, that wēt by the way.

33 If I haue hid my sinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my bosom, 34 Thogh I colde haue made afrayed a great multitude, yet the most contemtable of the families did feare me: so I kept silence, and went not out of the dore.
 35 Oh that I had some to heare me! beholde my signe that the Almighty wil witnes for me: thogh mine aduersarie shulde write a boke against me, 36 Wolde not I take it vpon my shulder, & binde it as a crowne vnto me?

 37 I wil tel him the number of my goings, and go vnto him as to a prince.
 38 If my land crye against me, or the furrowes thereof complaine together, 39 If I haue eaten the frutes thereof without filuer: or if I haue griued the soules of the masters thereof, 40 Let thistles growe in stead of wheat, & cokle in the stead of barley.

THE WORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED

Mm.iii.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu reprooeth them of folly. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the Spirit of God.

1 SO these three men ceased to answer Iob, because he esteemed him selfe iust.

^a Ebr. was iust in his owne eyes

^a Which came of Buz / ^b sonnē of Nabōr A- ^c brahams brother ^b Or, as the Chaldee para- ^c phrast re- ^d deth, Abram ^c By making him selfe innocēt, and by charging God of rigour ^d That is, the three mēcioned before.

2 The wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the familie of Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Iob, because he iustified him selfe more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they colde not finde an answer, and yet condemned Iob.

4 (Now Elihu had waited til Iob had spoken: for they were more ancient in yeres then he)

5 So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the thre men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel, the Buzite answered, and said, I am yong in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afrayed to shewe you mine opinion.

^a Meaning, the ancient, which haue experience

7 For I said, The dayes shal speake, and the multitude of yeres shal teache wisdom.

^f It is a special gift of God that man hath the vnderstanding, and cometh nether of nature nor by age:

8 Surely there is a spirit in man, but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding.

9 Great men are not alway wise, nether do the aged all way vnderstand iudgement.

10 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I wil shewe also mine opinion.

11 Beholde, I did waite vpon your wordes & hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you sought out reasons.

^a To proue Iobs afflictio came for his finnes.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reprobued Iob, nor answered his wordes:

^b And flatter your selues, as though you had ouercome him

13 Left ye shulde say, We haue founde wisdom: for God hath cast him downe, & no man.

14 Yet hath he not directed his wordes to me, nether wil I answer him by your wordes.

ⁱ To wit, Iob k He vseth almost the like arguments, but without railing, and reproches.

15 Then they fearing, answered nomore, but left of their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stode stil and answered nomore)

17 Then answered I in my turne, & I shewed mine opinion.

ⁱ I haue conceiued in my minde great sore of reasons.

18 For I am full of matter, & the spirit within me compelleth me.

19 Beholde, my bellie is as the wine, which hath no vent, & like the newe bottels that bratt.

^m I wil nether haue regarde to riches, credit nor autoritie, but wil speake the veritie.

20 Therefore wil I speake, that I may take breath: I wil open my lippes, and wil answer.

21 I wil not now accept the persone of mā, nether wil I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue titles, lest my Maker shulde take me away sodenly.

ⁿ The Ebrew worde signifieth to change the name, as to call a foole a wife man: meaning that he wolde not close the truth to flatter men

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 He sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruit man and to drawe him from sinne. 19. 29 He afflicteth man and sodenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered, giueth thanks to God.

1 W Herefore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke and hearken vnto all my wordes.

2 Beholde now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes are in the vprightenes of mine heart, and my lippes shal speake pure knowledge.

4 The Spirit of God hath made me, & the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe & stand before me.

6 Beholde, I am according to thy wish in Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.

7 Beholde, my terrour shal not feare thee, nether shal mine hand be heauy vpon thee.

8 Douteles thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes.

9 I am cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Lo, he hath founde occasions against me, and counted me for hisemie.

11 He hath put my fere in the stockes, and loketh narrowly vnto all my paths.

12 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right: I wil answer thee, y God is greater than mā.

13 Why doest thou strue against him: for he doeth not giue account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh once or twise, & one seeth it not.

15 In dreames & visions of the night, when slepe falleth vpon men, and they slepe vpon their beddes,

16 Then he openeth the eares of me, euen by their corrections, which he had sealed,

17 That he might cause man to turne away from his enterprife, and that he might hide the pride of man, 18 And kepe backe his soule from the pit, & his life shulde not passe by the sworde.

19 He is also stricken wrth sorow vpon his bed, and the grief of his bones is sore, 20 So that his life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule daintie meat.

21 His flesh faileth that it cannot be sene, & his bones which were not sene, clatter.

22 So his soule draweth to the graue, & his life to the buriers.

23 If there be a messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousand to declare vnto man his righteoufnes,

24 Then wil he haue mercie vpon him, chosen out of a thousand, & is able to declare the great mercies of God vnto sinners: & wherein mans righteoufnes standeth, which is through the iustice of Iesus Christ & faith therein

Chap XXXIII. ^a I confesse the power of God, & am one of lus therefore thou oughtest to heare me ^b Because Iob had witheld to dispute his cause with God, Chap 16, 21, so that he might do it without feare, Elihu sayth, he wil reason in Gods stead, whome he needeth not to feare, because he is a man made of the same matter that he is. ^c I wil not handle thee so roughly, as the se others haue done ^d He repeateh Iobs wordes, whereby he protesteth his innocencie in diuers places, but specially in the 13, 16 & 30 Chap ^e The cause of his iudgements is not alway declared to man ^f Iough God by sonarie examples of lus iudgements speake vnto man, yet the reason thereof is not knowne: yea & though God shalde speake, yet he is not vnderstand ^g God, saith he, speaketh commonly, ether by visions to teache vs the cause of his iudgements, or els by afflictions, or by his messenger ^h That is, determined to: send vpon the. ⁱ He sheweth for what end God sendeth afflictions: to beat downe mans pride, & to turne fro euil ^k That is, his painful & miserable life. ^l To them that shal burie him: ^m A man sent of God to declare his will. ⁿ A singular man, & as one chosen out of a thousand, & is able to declare the great mercies of God vnto sinners: & wherein mans righteoufnes standeth, which is through the iustice of Iesus Christ & faith therein ^o He sheweth that it is a sure token of Gods mercie towards sinners, when he causeth his wordes to be preached vnto the p That is, the minister that by the preaching of the worde pronouce vnto him y forguene of his finnes. q He shal see Gods fauour and reioyce: declarig hereby, wherein standeth the true ioy of the faithful: and y God wil restore hie to health of body, which is a token of his blessing r God wil forgive his finnes and accept hie as iuste s That is, done wickedly t But my sinne hath bene the cause of Gods wrach toward me. u God wil forgive the penitent sinner x Meaning, oft times, euen as oft as a sinner doeth repent y If thou doute of any thing, or se occasion to speake against it. z That is, to shewe thee, wherein mans iustificatiõ consisteth.

and wil saie, p Deliuere him, that he go not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliatiõ. 25 The shal his flesh be as fresh as a childs, & shal returne as in y daies of his youth. 26 He shal pray vnto God, and he wil be fauourable vnto him, and he shal se his face with ioy: for he wil readre vnto man his r righteousnes. 27 He loketh vpon me, and if one say, I haue sinned, and s perueied righteousness, and it did not profit me, 28 He wil deliuer his soule from going into the pit, and his life shal se the light. 29 Lo, all these things wil God worke x twise or thrise with a man, 30 That he may turne backe his soule fro the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing. 31 Marke wel, o Iob, & heare me: kepe silence, and I wil speake. 32 If there be y matter, answer me, & speake: for I desire to iustifie thee. 33 If thou hast not, heare me: holde thy tongue, and I wil teache thee wisdom.

15 All flesh shal perish together, and man shal returne vnto dust. 16 And if y hast vnderstanding, heare this & hearken to the voyce of my wordes. 17 Shal he that hateth iudgement, m gouerne? & wilt thou iudge him wicked that is moeste iust? 18 Wilt thou say vnto a King, Thou art n wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodlie? 19 How muche lesse to him that accepteth not the persones of princes, & regardeth not the riche, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his hands. 20 They shal dye sodenly, o and the people shal be troubled at midnight, p & they shal passe forthe and take away the mightie without hand. 21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings. 22 There is no darkenes nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein. 23 For he wil not lay on man so muche, that he shulde e entre into iuggemēt with God. 24 He shal breake the mightie without s feking, and shal set vp other in their steade. 25 Therefore shal he declare their s workes: he shal turne the t night, and they shal be destroyed. 26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the u seers, 27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and wolde not consider all his waies: 28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to x come vnto him, and he hath heard the crye of the afflicted. 29 And when he giueth quietnes, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can beholde him, whether it be vpon nacions, or vpon a man onely? 30 Because the y hypocrite doeth reigne, & because the people are snared. 31 Surely it apperteineth vnto God z to say, I haue pardoned, I wil not destroye. 32 a But if I se not, teache thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I wil do no more. 33 Wil he performe the thing through b thee? for thou haste reprobud c it, because that thou hast chosē, and not I. now speake what thou knowest. 34 Let men of vnderstanding tel me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me. 35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his wordes according to wisdom. 36 I desire that Iob may be d tryed, vnto the end touching the answers for wicked men. 37 For he e addeth rebellion vnto his sinne: he clappeth his hāds among vs, & multiplieth his wordes against God.

m If God were not iust, how colde he gouerne the worlde? n If man of nature feare to speake euil of such as haue power, the more ought they to be afraid to speake euil of God o When they loke not for it p The messengers or visitation that God shal send q God doeth not afflict man aboute measure, so that he shulde haue occasion to cōtend with hie r For all his creatures are at hand to serue him, so that he needeth not to seke for any other armie s Make them manifest that they are wicked t Declare the things that were hid u Meaning, openly, in the sight of all men x By their reueltion & extortion y Whent rārs sit in the throne of iustice & vnder pretence of executing iustice are but hypocrites & oppresse the people, it is a signe that God hath the drawen backe as countenance and fauour from that place z Onely it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, & not vnto man. a Thus Elihu speaketh in y persone of God, as it were mockig Iob because he wolde be wiser then God b Wil God viche thy counsel in doing his workes? c Thus he speaketh in y persone of God, as though Iob shulde chuse & refuse afflictio at his pleasure d That he may speake as muche as he can, that we may answer him & all the wicked that shal vse suche arguments e He standeth stubbly in the maintenance of his cause.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu chargeth Iob, that he called him selfe righteous. 12 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reuergeth.

a Which are esteemed wise of the worlde. b See vs examine the matter vprightly c That is, hath afflicted me without measure d Shulde I say, I am wicked, being an innocent e I am forer punished, then my sinne deserueth f Which is compelled to receiue the reproche & scoroges of many for his foolish wordes. g Meaning, that Iob was like to the wicked, because he seemed not to glorifie God, & submitt him selfe to his iudgements. h He wasteth Iobs wordes, who said that Gods childre are oft times punished in this worlde, & the wicked go free i That is, liue godly, as Gen 5.22 k Chap 36.23. l To destroye him m The breath of life, which he gaue man

1 MOREouer Elihu answered, and said, 2 Heare my wordes, ye a wise men, and hearkē vnto me, ye that haue knowledge. 3 For the eare tryeth the wordes, as y mouth tasteth meat. 4 Let vs seke b iudgement among vs, & let vs knowe among our selues what is good. 5 For Iob hathē said, I am righteous, and God hathē taken c away my iudgement. 6 Shulde I lye in my d right? my wounde of the arowe is e grieuous without my sinne. 7 What mā is like Iob, that drinketh f scornfulnes like water? 8 Which goeth in the g companie of them that worke iniquitie, & walketh with wicked men? 9 For he hathē said, h It profiteth a mā nothing that he shulde walke with God. 10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wisdom, God forbid y wickednes shulde be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty. 11 For he wil rendre vnto man according to his worke, & cause euerie one to finde according to his way. 12 And certainly God wil not do wickedly, neither wil the Almighty peruert iudgement. 13 Whome i hathē appointed ouer y earth beside him self, or who hathē placed the whole worlde? 14 If k he set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto him self his spirit and his breath, 12 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reuergeth.

CHAP. XXXV.

Neither doeth godlines profite, or ungodlines hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked crye vnto God and are not heard.

1 ELihú spake more ouer, and said, 2 Thikest thou this right, that thou hast said, I am a more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast said, What profiteth it thee and what auaieth it me, to purge me from my sinne?

4 Therefore wil I answer thee, and thy companions with thee.

5 Loke vnto the heauen, and se and beholde the cloudes which are hier then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou against him, yea, when thy sinnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiueth he at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art: thy rigteousnes may profite the sonne of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, to crye, which crye out for the violence of the mightie.

10 But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giueth songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more thē the beastes of the earth, and giueth vs more wisdomē then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they crye because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.

13 Surely God wil not heare vanitie, nether wil the Almighty regarde it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regardē it, yet iudgement is before him: tust thou in him.

15 But now because his angre hathe not visited, nor called to couēt the euil with great extremitie, 16 Therefore Iob openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 ELihú sheweth the power of God, 6 And his iustice, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The propertie of the wicked.

1 ELihú also proceded and said, 2 Suffere me a litle, & I wil instruct thee: for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I wil fetchē a my knowledge a farre of, & wil attribute righteousness vnto my Maker.

4 For truely my wordes shal not be false, & he that is perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Beholde, the mightie God casteth away none that is mightie & valiant of courage.

6 He maimeineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eies from the righteous, but they are with Kings in the throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters & eyed with the cordes of affliction, 9 Then wil he shewe them their worke and their sinnes, because they haue bene proude.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

11 If they obey and serue him, they shal end their dayes in prosperitie, & their yerer in pleasures.

12 But if they wil not obey, they shal passe by the sworde, & perish without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites of heart increase the wrath: for they call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soule dyeth in youth, & their life among the whoremongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so wolde he haue taken thee out of the streight place into a broad place & not shut vp beneth: and that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene ful of fat.

17 But thou art ful of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie mainteine all things.

18 For Gods wrath is, lest he shulde take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of giftes can deliuet thee.

19 Wil he regarde thy riches? he regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 Be not careful in the night, how he destroieth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou hede: loke not to iniquitie: for thou hast chusen it rather then affliction.

22 Beholde, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hathe appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men beholde.

25 All men se it, and men beholde it a farre of.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, & we knowe him not, nether can the number of his yerer be searched out.

27 When he restraineth the droppes of water, the raine powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the cloudes do droppe & let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can knowe the diuisions of the cloudes & the thunders of his tabernacle?

30 Beholde he spreadeth his light vpon it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.

a Iob neuer spake these wordes: but because he maineined his innocencie, it seemed as though he wolde say, that God tormented him without iust cause. b Suche as are in the like error c If thou canst not controle the cloudes, wilt thou presume to instruct God? d Nether doeth thy sinne hurt God, nor thy iustice profite hi: for he wil be glorified without thee e The wicked may hurt man and cause him to crye, who if he sought to God, which sendeth comfort, shulde be deliuered f Because they pray not in faith as feling Gods mercies g God is iust, howsoeuer y iudget of hi. h For if he did punish thee, as thou deseruest, thou shuldest not be able to open thy mouth. Chap XXXVI. a He sheweth that when we speake of God we must lift our spirits more high, then our natural sense is able to reache b Thou shalt perceiue that I am a faithful instructor, & that I speake to thee in the name of God c Strong and constant, & of vnderstanding: for these are gifts of God, & he loueth them in man: but for a similitude as God punished now Iob, it is a figure that these are not in hi. d Therefore he wil not pre-serue the wicked: but to the humble & afflicted heart he wil shewe grace e He preferreth the godlie to honour.

f He wil moue their heartes to file their sinnes y they may come to him by repentance as he did Manasseh Ise 1. 19. g That is, in their follie or obstination, & so shalbe cause of their owne destruction. h Which are maliciously bett against God and flatter the felues in their vices i When they are in affliction they seke not to God for succour, as Afa. 2. y He sheweth that the raine hache double vic:the one y it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth ouerflowe any places, & y other that it maketh y lad fruteful z That is, one cloude to dash agais another. a The colde vapour sheweth him: that is, the cloude of the hore exhalaciõ, which being taken in y colde cloude moueth vp towards the place where y fyre is, and so angre is engendred: y is, noise and thunder claps a At the maruelling of the thunder, and lightnings: whereby he declareth that the faithful are liuely touched with the maestic of God, whẽ they beholde his workes:
b That is, the thunder, whereby he speaketh to men to waken their dulnes and to bring them to the consideration of his workes
c Meaning, the raines and thunders d So y nether sinale raine nor great, snowe nor anie thing els cometh without Gods appointment e By raines & thunders God causeth men to kepe them selues within their houses f In Ebrewe it is called y scattering wnde, because it drieth away the cloude & purgeth the ayre.
g That is, is frozen vp and dried h Gather the vapours, and moue to & fro to water the earth i That is, the cloude y hath lightening in it k Raine, colde, heat, tempestes and suche like are sent of God, ether to punish m̃, or to profite y earth, orto declare his fauour toward m̃, as Chap 36, 31.
l That is, the lightning to breake forth to the cloude:
m Which is some time changed into raine; or snowe, or haile or suche like n Why thy clothes shulde kepe thee warme; when the South wnde bloweth, rather then when anie other wnde bloweth?
o For their clearnes p That is, ouer ignorance: signifying that Iob was so presumptuous that he wold controle the workes of God.

31 For thereby he iudgeth y the people, and giueth meat abundantly.
32 He couereth the light with the cloudes, and commandeth them to go z agais it.
33 His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is angre in rising vp.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Elisha proueth that the vnsearchable wisdoms of God is manifest by his workes, 4 As by the thunders, 6 The snowe, 9 The whirle winde, 11 And the vauge.

AT this also mine heart is a astonied, & is moued out of his place.

2 Hear the b founde of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the wouide.

4 After it a noyse foundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maiette, and he wil not stay e them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundreth maruelously w his voyce: he worketh great things, which we knowe not.

6 For he saith to the snowe, Be thou vpon y earth: d likewise to the smale raine and to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof he e shutteth vp euery man, that all men may knowe his worke.

8 Then the beafts go into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirle wide cometh out of y South, and the colde from the f North winde.

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, & the breadth of the waters is made narrowe.

11 He maketh also the cloudes to h labour, to water the earth, & scattereth the cloude of i his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernem̃t, that they may do whatsoeuer he commandeth them vpon the whole worlde:

13 Whether it be for h punishment, or for his land, or of mercie, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, o Iob: stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Didest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the l light of his cloude to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the m varietie of the cloude, & the wonderous workes of him, that is perfite in knowledge?

17 Or how thy clothes are n warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?

18 Hast thou stretched out y heauens, which are strong, & as a molten o glasse?

19 Tel vs what we shal say vnto him: for we can not dispose our matter because of p darkenes.

20 Shal it be q tolde him when I speake: or shal ma speake when he shalbe r destroyed?
21 And now men se not the light, f which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and clenseth them.

22 The t brightnes cometh out of y North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: we ca not finde him out: he is excellent in power & iudgement, & abundant in iustice: he u afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for he wil not regarde any that are wise in their owne conceit.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakenes of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice and prouidence of the Creator is knowne.

T hen answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the a whirle winde, & said,

2 Who is this that b darkeneth the counsel by wordes without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I c wil demande of thee and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layed the d fundacions of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding,

5 Who hath layed the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line ouer it:

6 Where vpon are the fundacions thereof set: or who layed the corner stone thereof?

7 When the starres of the morning e praised me together, and all the f children of God reioycd:

8 Or who hath shut vp the sea with dores, when it yssued and came forth e out of the wombe:

9 When I made the cloudes as a couering thereof, and darknes as the s swadeling bandes thereof:

10 When I established my commandement vpon it, and set barres and dores, 11 And said, Hetherto shalt thou come, but no farther, and here h shal it staye thy proude waues.

12 Hast thou commanded the i morning since thy dayes? hast thou caused the morning to knowe his place?

13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be k shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to facion, l & all stand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shalbe taken away, and the lie arme shalbe broken.

q Hathe God nede that anie shulde tel him when ma murmureth agais him?
r If God wolde destroye a man, shulde he repine?
s The cloude stoppeth the shining of y sunne, that ma ca not se it til the winde haue chafed away y cloude: and if man be not able to attein to the knowledge of these things, how muche lesse of Gods iudgements?

j To wix to rise, since thou wast borne?
k Who hauing in the night bene giuen to wickednes, can not abide the light but hide them selues l The earth which seemed in the night to haue no forme, by the rising of the sunne is as it were created a newe, and all things therein clad with newe beautie.

16 Hast thou entred into the bottomes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seke out the depth?

m. If thou art not able to seke out the depth of the sea, how muche lesse art thou able to comprehend the counsel of God?

17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou sene the gates of the shadow of death?

n. That through rest appoint the way and thence.

18 Hast thou perceiued the breadth of the earth? tel if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkenes, 20 That thou shuldest receiue it in the boundes thereof, and that thou shuldest knowe the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then borne, & because the number of thy daies is great?

o. To punish mine enemies such them, as Exod. 9. 18. 10. 10. 11.

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snowe? or hast thou sene the treasures of the hayle, 23 Which I haue hid against the time of trouble, against the day of warre & battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East winde vpon the earth?

25 Who hath decider the spowtes for the raine? or the way for the lightening of the thunders,

p. The yce covereth it, as though it were paved with stone.

26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, & in the wildernes where there is no man?

27 To fulfil the wilde & waste place, & to cause the bud of the herbe to sprig forth?

q. Which starres arise when the sunne is in Taurus, which is the spring time, & bring soures 28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the droppes of the dewe?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath ingedred the frost of the heauen?

r. Which starre bringeth in winter.

30 The waters are hid as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

s. Certaine starres so called: some thinke they were the twelve signes.

31 Canst thou restraime the swete influences of the Pleiades? or loose the bands of Orion?

t. The North starre & those that are about him.

32 Canst thou bring forth the Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide Arcturus with his sonnes?

u. Canst thou cause the heauilie bodies to haue aue power over the earthlie bodies?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou set the rule thereof in the earth?

x. In the secret partes of man. That is, the clouds, where in the water is conceined as in bottles.

34 Canst thou list vp thy voyce to the cloudes that the abundance of water may couer thee?

35 Canst thou sende the lightnings that they may walke, & say vnto thee, Lo, here we are?

y. For which God doeth not open the earth cometh to this incument mee.

36 Who hath put wisdom in the iuines? or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who can number cloudes by wisdom? or who can cause to cease the bottles of heauen, 38 When the earth groweth into hardenes, and the clottes are fast together?

CHAP. XXXIX.

The bountie and providence of God, which extendeth euen to the yong rauen. giueth man ful occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Job confesseth & humbly himself.

Wilt thou hunt the praye for the lyon? or fill the appetite of the yong lyons whelpes, z. After he had declared Gods workes in the heuens, he sheweth his maraculous prouidence in earth, and the brute beasts.

When they couche in their places, & remaine in the covert to lye in waite?

3 Who preparerth for the rauen his meat, when his byrdes crye vnto God, wandring for lacke of meat?

b. Read Psal. 147. 9.

4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring forth the yong? or doest thou marke when the hindes do calue?

c. He chiefly maketh mention of wilde goates & hindes, because they bring forth their yong with moche difficulty.

5 Canst thou number the months that they fulfil? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

6 They bowe them selues: they bruise their yong and cast out their sorowes.

d. That is, how long they go with yong?

7 Let their yong waxe fat, and growe vp with corne: they go forth and returne not vnto them.

e. They bring forth with great difficulty.

8 Who hath set the wilde asse at libertie? or who hath loosened the bondes of the wilde asse?

9 It is I which haue made the wildernes his house, and the salt places his dwellings.

f. That is, the bare ground where no good fruites growe.

10 He derideth the multitude of the citie: he heareth not the crye of the driuer.

11 He seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, & searcherh after euery grene thig.

12 Will the vnicorne serue thee? or will he tary by thy crybbe?

g. Is it possible to make the vnicorne tame? signifying that if man can not rule a creature, that it is muche more impossible for he shulde appoynt the wisdom of God, whereby the gouerneth all the world.

13 Canst thou binde the vnicorne with his band to labour in the furrowe? or will he plowe the vallis after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast of thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleue him, that he wil bring home thy sede, and gather it vnto thy barn?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peccoakes? or wings & fethers vnto the ostriche?

17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth & maketh them hote in the dust,

h. They write of the ostrich couereth her egges in sand, and because the countrey is hote and the sunne she kepeth them warme, they are hatched.

18 And forgetteth that the fore might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.

19 He sheweth him self cruel vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he trauailed in vaine.

20 For God hath deprived him of wisdom, & hath giuen him no parte of vnderstanding.

i. If he shulde take care for them.

21 When time is, he mounteth on hys: he mocketh the horse and his rider.

k. That is, to haue a care, & natural affect on toward his yong.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength? or couered his necke with neyng?

23 Hast thou made him afraid as the gras-hoper? his strong neyng is feareful.

l. When the yong ostrich is grown vp, he out runneth the horse. That is, giue him courage which is meant by saying and shaking his mane, for with his breath couereth his necke.

24 He diggeth in the valley, & reioyceth in his strength: he goeth forth to mete the harness man.

25 He mocketh at feare, & is not afraid, & turneth not backe from the sworde,

m. He beatech his horse.

26 Though the quier rattle against him, the glittering glittering speare and the shield.

 27 He swalloweth the grounde for fear-cenes and rage, and he beleueth not that it is the noyse of the trumpeter.
 28 He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha:
 he smelleth the battel a farre of, and the noyse of the captaines, and the shouting.
 29 Shal the hauke flie by thy wisdom, stret- ching out his wyngs toward the South?
 30 Doeth the egle mount vp at thy comandement, or make his nest on hye?
 31 She abideth and remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, and the tower.
 32 From thence she spieth for meat, and her eyes beholde a farre of.
 33 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: and where the slaine are, there is she.
 34 Moreouer the Lord spake vnto Job, and said, 35 Is this the way for a man that wil learne to striue with the Almighty? he that reprooueth God, let him answer to it.
 36 ¶ Then Job answered the Lord, saying, Beholde, I am vile: what shal I answer thee? I wil lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

 15 Surely the mountaines bring him forthe grasse, where all the beasts of the field playe.
 16 Lyeth he vnder the trees in the couert of the rede and fennes?
 17 Can the trees couer him with their shadowe? or can the willowes of the riuer co-passe him about?
 18 Beholde, he spoileth the riuer, and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iordē into his mouth.
 19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him.
 20 ¶ Canst thou draw out Leviathan with an hooke, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?
 21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose?
 canst thou perce his iawes with an angle?
 22 Wil he make maner prayers vnto thee, or speake thee fauie?
 23 Wil he make a couenant with thee, and wilt thou take him as a seruant for euer?
 24 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird?
 or wilt thou binde him for thy maides?
 25 Shal the companions banket with him?
 shal they deuide him among the mar-chants?
 26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skinne? or the fishpauer with his head?
 27 Laye thine hand vpon him: remember the battel, and do no more so.

CHAP. XLII.

The repentance of Iob. He prayeth for his friends. His goods are restored double vnto him. His childrens age and death.

1 Then Iob answered the Lord, and said,

2 I knowe that thou canst do all things, and that there is no thought hid from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counsell without knowledge: therefore haue I spokē that I vnderstode not, euen things to wonderful for me, and which I knewe not.

4 Heare, I beseeche thee, and I wil speake: I wil demaunde of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ Now after that the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto Iob, the Lord also said vnto Elipház the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends, for ye haue not spokē of me y thing that is right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now seuen bullockes, and seuen rams, and go to my seruant Iob, & offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shal pray for you: for I wil accept him, lest I shulde put you to shame, because ye haue not spokē of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Elipház the Temanite, and Bildád the Shuhite, and Zophár the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise so muche as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethré, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, and comforted him for all the euil, that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euerie man gaue him a piece of money, & euerie one an earring of golde.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob more then the first: for he had fourethene thousand sheepe, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.

13 He had also seuen sonnes, and thre daughters.

14 And he called the name of one Iemimah, and the name of the second Keziáh, and the name of the thirde Kerenhappúch.

15 In all the land were no women founde so faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their bréthren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundreth and fourtie yeres, and sawe his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generacions.

17 So Iob dyed, being olde, & ful of dayes.

THE PSALMES of Dauid.

THE ARGUMENT.

This booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holie Gost to be esteemed as a moste precious treasure, wherein all things are contened that appertene to true felicitie: aswel in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenlie wisdom are here set open for vs, to take thereof moste abundantly. If we wolde knowe the great, and his maiestie of God, here we may se the brightnes thereof shine moste clearely. If we wolde seke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the schole of the same profession. If we wolde comprehend his inestimable bounty, and approche nere therunto, and fil your hands with that treasure, here we may haue a moste liuely, and comfortable taste thereof. If we wolde knowe wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life euerlasting, here is Christ our onely redemer, and mediator moste evidently described. The riche man may learue the true vse of his riches. The poore man may fynde ful contentation. He that wil reioyce, shal knowe the true ioe, and how to kepe measure therern. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shal se wherein standeth their comforte, and how they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shal se how the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he bridleth them, in somuche as they can not touche an heere of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is moste miserable. Briefly, here we haue moste present remedies against all tentations, and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being wel practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attene to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is laud xj for all them that loue the soveraign of our Lord Iesus Christ.

* Or, Praises, according to Hebrewes: and were chiefly inditine to praise, and giue thanks to God for his beuities. These are called the Psalmes, or Songs of Dauid because the moste parte were made by him.

PSALME I.

Whether it was Esdras, or anse other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it semeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhorte all godlie men to studie, and meditate the heauenlie wisdom. For the effect hereof is, 1 That they be blessed, which giue them selues wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. 4 And that the wicked contemners of God, though they seme for a while happy, yet at length shal come to miserable destruction.

a When a man hath the giue once place to euil counsel, or to his owne concupiscence, he beginneth to forget himself in his sin, & so falleth in to contempt of God, which contempt is called the seat of the scorners. Deut. 6. 6. iosh. 1. 8. pro. 6. 30. b In the holie Scriptures. iere. 17. 8. c Gods children are so mouened vnder with his grace, y whatsoeuer cometh vnto them, teendeth to their saluation. d Though the wicked seme to beare the swinge in this worlde, yet the Lord drmeth them downe that they shal not rise nor stand in the companie of the righteous. e But terrible, when they sele Gods wrath. f Doeth approue and prosper, like as got to knowe, is to reprove and reiect.

Blessed is the man that doeth not walke in the counsel of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful:

But his delite is in the Law of the Lord, & in his Law doeth he meditate day and night. For he shal be like a tre planted by the riuers of waters, that wil bring forth the her frute in due season: whose leafe shal not fade: so whatsoeuer he shal do, shal prosper. The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away. Therefore the wicked shal not stand in the Iudgement, nor sinners in the assemble of the righteous. For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shal perish.

PSAL. II.

The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God wil continue his kingdome for euere & aduance it euen to the end of the worlde, so And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they wolde humbly submit them selues vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resiste God. Herein is figured Christs kingdome.

Why do the heathen rage, & the people murmur in vaine? The Kings of the earth band them selues, and the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ. Let vs breake their bands, and cast their cords from vs. But he that dwelleth in the heauen shal laugh: the Lord shal haue the in derisio. Then shal he speake vnto them in his wrath, & vex them in his sore displeasure, saying, Euen I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holie mountaine. I wil declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath said vnto me, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee. Aske of me, & I shal giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the endes of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt crush them with a sceptre of yron, & breake them in peeces like a potters vessel. Be wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth. Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling. Kisse the Sonne, lest he be angrie, and ye perish in the waie, when his wrath shal

PSAL. III.

1 David driue forth of his kingdome, was greatly tormētēd in munde for his finnes agāst God: 4 And therefore calleth vpon God, & waxeth bolde through his promises agāst the great railings and errors of his enemies, yea, agāst death itself, which he sawe present before his eyes. 7 Finally he reioyceth for the good successe, that God gaue him, and all the Church.

A Psalm of David, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

a This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recourse to God. b Selah here signifieth a lifting vp of the voyce, to cause vs to consider the sentence, as a thing of great importance.

2 Manie saye to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God. b Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me: my glorie, and the lifter vp of mine head.

4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holie mountaine. Selah.

5 He laied me downe & slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord susteined me.

6 I will not be afrayed for ten thousand of the people, that shulde beset me round about.

7 O Lord, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 Saluatiō belongeth vnto the Lord, & thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

PSAL. IIII.

1 When Saül persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting in his promes, and therefore boldly reprooueth his enemies, who wilfully resisted his dominion, 7: And finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldlie treasures.

To him that excelleth on Neginōth. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear me when I call, b O God of my righteousness: thou hast set me at libertie, when I was in distres: haue mercie vpon me and hearken vnto my praye.

2 O ye dōnnes of men, how long will ye turne my glorie into shame, e louing vāntie and seeking lyes? Selah.

8 I wil laye me downe, & also slepe in peace.

a Among the that were appointed to sing the Psalmes, I and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chief to set the tune, & to begin: who had the charge, because he was moste excellent, and he began this Psalm on the instrument called Neginōth, or in a same sort called. b Thou art my defender of my iust cause. c Bothe of mind and body. d Ye that thinke your selues noble in this world. e Though your enterprises please you neuer so muche, yet God will bring them to nought. f A King shall walke in this vocation. g For feare of Gods iudgement. h Cease your rage. i Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies. k The multitude shall worldlie walch, but David setteth his felicitie in Gods fauour.

ce: for thou, Lord, I onely makest me dwell in laeticie.

PSAL. V.

1 David oppressed with the crueltie of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing how requisite it is that God shulde punish the malice of his aduersaries. 7 After being assured of prosperous success, he conceiveth comfort. 12 Concluding that when God shall deliuer him, others also shall be partakers of the same mercies.

To him that excelleth vpon Neginōth. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my wordes, O Lord: vnderstand my meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voyce of my crye, my King & my God: for vnto thee do I praie.

3 Heare my voice in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I wil wait.

4 For thou art not a God that loueth wickednes: nether shall euil dwell with thee.

5 The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke iniquitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lyes: the Lord wil abhorre the bloodie man and deceitful.

7 But I wil come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: & in thy feare wil I worship towards thine holie Temple.

8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteoufnes, f because of mine enemies: make thy waye plaine before my face.

9 For no costancie is in their mouth: within, they are very corruption: their throte is an open sepulchre, & they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroye them, O God: let them fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled agāst thee.

11 And let all them that trust in thee, reioyce & triumphe for euer, f couer thou them: and let them, that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lord wilt blesse the righteous, & with fauour wilt compass him, as with a shield.

PSAL. VI.

1 When David by his finnes had prouoked Gods wrath, and now felt mortally his hand agāst him, but also conceiued the horrors of death euerlasting, he desireth forgiveness, 6 Bewailing that if God take him awaie in his indignation, he shoulde lacke occasion to praise him: as he was wont to do, when he was among men. 9 Then suddenly feeling Gods mercie, he sharply rebuketh his enemies which rejoyced in his affliction.

To him that excelleth on Neginōth vpon the eight tune, A Psalm of David.

1 O Lord, rebuke me not in thine angre, nether chastise me in thy wrath.

1 This word in Ebrew may be referred to God, as it is here translated, or to David, signifying that he shoulde dwell as ioyfully alone, as if he had manie about him, because the Lord is with him.

1 I Wil praise the Lord with my whole heart: I wil speake of all thy maruerous workes.

2 I wil be glad, and reioyce in thee: I wil sing praise to thy Name, o moste high,

3 For that mine enemies are turned backe: they shal fall, and perish at thy presence:

4 For thou hast maintained my right & my cause: thou art set in the throne, and iudget right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 O enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end, and thou hast destroyed the cities: their memorial is perished with them.

7 But the Lord shal sit for euer: he hath prepared his throne for iudgement.

8 For he shal iudge the worlde in righteousness, & shal iudge the people with equitie.

9 The Lord also wil be a refuge for the poore, a refuge in due time, euen in affliction.

10 And they that knowe thy Name, wil trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed: they that seke thee.

11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: shewe the people his workes.

12 For when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth it, & forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercie vpon me, o Lord: consider my trouble, which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me vp from the gates of death:

PSAL. X.

He complaineth of the fraude, rapine, tyrannie, and all kindes of wrong, which worldly men vse, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldly prosperitie, and therefore setting aparte all feare and reuerence towards God, thinke they may do all things without controuersie. 15 Therefore he calleth vpon God to send some remedie against these desperat euils. 16 And at length comforteth him selfe with hope of deliuerance.

1 Why standest thou farre of, o Lord, & hidest thee in due time, euen in affliction?

2 The wicked with pride doeth persecute the poore: let them be taken in the crafts that they haue imagined.

3 For the wicked hath made boast of his owne hearts desire, and the couetous blesseth him selfe: he contemneth the Lord.

4 The wicked is so proude that he seeketh not for God: he thinketh alwaies, There is no God.

5 His waies alwaie prosper: thy iudgements are hid about his sight: therefore defieth he all his enemies.

6 He saeth in his heart, I shal neuer be moued, nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is ful of cursing and disceite and fraude: vnder his tongue is mischief & iniquities.

8 He lieth in waite in the villages: in the secret places doeth he murder the innocent: his eyes are bent against the poore.

9 He lieth in wait secretly, euen as a lyon in his denne: he lieth in waite to spoile the poore: he doeth spoile the poore, when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth & boweth: therefore heapes of the poore do fall by his might.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth awaie his face, & wil neuer see.

12 Arise, o Lord God: lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

13 Wherefore doeth the wicked contemne God? he saeth in his heart, Thou wilt not regard me.

14 Yet thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest mischief and wrong, that thou maiest take it into thine hands: the poore comitteth him selfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherles.

15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: searche his wickednes, & thou shalt finde none.

16 The Lord is King for euer and euer: the heathen are destroyed for the of his land.

17 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart: thou dost thine eare to them, 18 To iudge the fatherles and poore, that earthly man cause to feare no more.

^a Or, kinde of instrument, or instrument, or for the death of Labbin or Goliath. a God is not praised, except the whole glory be giuen to him alone.

^b Howsoeuer enemy seme for a time to preuaile, yet God preferreth the iust.

^c A derision of enemy, that mandereth nothing, but destruction: but the Lord wil deliuer his, & bring him into iudgement. ^d Or, right as Judge.

^e Our miseries are meanes to cause vs to see Gods present care ouer vs.

^f Though God reuengeth not suddenly the wrong done to his, yet he suffereth not the wicked vnpunished.

^g In the open assemblie of the Church for God overthroweth the wicked in their enterprises.

^h The mercie of God toward his sinners must be declared, & the fall of the wicked must alwaies be considered.

ⁱ Omnia in uerbo: God promisseth not to helpe vs before we haue felt the croffe.

^k Which they cannot learne without feare of thy iudgement.

^a So soon as we enter into affliction, we thinke God shulde helpe vs, but that is not alwaies his due time. ^b The wicked man reioyceth in his owne lust, he boastereth when he hath that he wolde: he braggeth of his wit & wealth, & blesseth himselfe, and thus blasphemeth the Lord.

^c Or, suffereth at. ^d Or, not be moued because he wil neuer be euil.

^e The euil shal not touch me, Isa 28, 15. or els he speaketh thus because he neuer felt euil. ^f He sheweth that wicked haue many meanes to hide their euelties, and therefore ought more to be feared.

^g By the hypocritie of them that haue auerted the poore are deuoured.

^h He calleth to God for helpe, because wickednes is so farre overgrown, & God must now helpe or neuer. ⁱ Therefore must nedes punish this their blasphemy.

^j To iudge betwene the right and the wrong.

^k For he hath viterly destroyed him.

^l The hypocrites, or such as liue not after Gods law, shal be destroyed.

^m God helpeth when man helpe ceaseth. ⁿ Or, destroy no more man vpon the earth.

The iudgment of the wicked. Pſalmes. All men are vniuft. 237 79/1224

PSAL. XI.

1 This pſalme containeth two partes . In the firſt Dauid ſheweth how harde afflites of tentacions he ſuſtained, & in how great anguiſh of minde he was , when Saül did perſecute him. 4 Then next he reioyeth that God ſet him ſuccour in his neceſſitie, declaring his iuſtice aſwel in gouerning the good, and the wicked men, as the whole worlde.

To him that excelleth. A Pſal. of Dauid.

IN the Lord put I my truſt: how ſay ye then to my ſoule, ^a Flee to your mountaine as a birde?

2 For lo, the wicked bend their bowe, and make readie their arrowes vpon the ſtring, that they may ſecretly ſhoote at thee, which are vpright in heart.

3 For the ^b fundaciõs are caſt downe: what liathe the ^c righteous dome?

4 The Lord is in his holie palace: ^d Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes ^d wil conſider: his eye lids wil trye the children of men.

5 The Lord wil trye the righteous: but the wicked & him that loueth iniquitie, doeth his ſoule hate.

6 Vpon the wicked he ſhal raine ſnares, ^e fyre, and brimſtone, & ſto:mie temptit: this is the ^f porcion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loueth righteousnes: his countenance doeth beholde ^g iuſt.

PSAL. XII.

The Prophet lamenting the miſerable eſtate of the people, and the decay of all good order, deſireth God ſpeedily to ſend ſuccour to his children. 7 The comforting him ſelf and others with the aſſurance of Gods helpe, he commendeth the conſtant veritie that God obſerueth in keeping his promiſes.

To him that excelleth vpon the eight tune. A Pſ. of Dauid.

HElpe Lord, for there is not ^a a godlie man left: for the faithful are failed from among the children of men.

2 They ſpeake decentfully euerie one with his neighbour, ^b flattering with their lippes, and ſpeake with a double heart.

3 The Lord cut of all flattering lippes, & the tongue that ſpeaketh proude things:

4 Which haue ſaid, ^c With our tongue wil we preuaile: our lippes are our owne: who is lord ouer vs?

5 Now for the oppreſſion of the nedie, & for the ſighes of the poore, I wil vp ſaith the Lord, and wil ^e ſet at libertie him, whom the wicked hathe ſnared.

6 The wordes of the Lord are pure wordes, as ^f ſiluer, tryed in a fornace of earth, fined ſeuẽ ſolde.

7 Thou wilt kepe ^g them, O Lord: thou wilt preferue him from this generaciõ for euer.

8 The wicked walke on euerie ſide: when they are exalted, ^h it is a ſhame for the ſonnes of men.

PSAL. XIII.

Dauid as it were overcome with ſundrie and newe afflictions, fleeth to God as his onelie refuge. 3 And ſo at the length being encouraged through Gods promiſes, he conceiuethe moſte ſure confidence againſt the extreme horrors of death.

To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, for euer? how long wilt thou hyde thy face from me?

2 How long ſhal I take ^b counſel within my ſelf, having wearines daiely in mine heart? how long ſhal mine enemy be exalted a boue me?

3 Beholde, & heare me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I ſlepe not in death:

4 Leſt mine enemy ſaie, I haue ^c preuailed againſt him: & they that afflict me, reioyce when I ſlide.

5 But I truſt in thy ^d mercie: mine heart ſhal reioyce in thy ſaluacion: I wil ſing to the Lord, becauſe he hathe ^e delt louingly with me.

PSAL. XIII.

He deſcribeth the peruerſe nature of men; which were ſo grown to licentiousnes, that God was brought to utter contempt. 7 For the which thing although he was greatly grieued, yet being perſuaded that God wolde ſend ſome preſent remedie, he comforteth him ſelf & others.

To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

The fool hath ſaid in his heart, ^a There is no God: they haue ^b corrupted, and done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.

2 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to ſee if there were anie that wolde vnderſtand, and ſeke God.

3 All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Do not all ^c workers of iniquitie knowe that they eat vp my people, as they eat bread? they call not vpon the Lord.

5 There they ſhal be taken with feare, becauſe God is in the generacion of the iuſt.

6 You haue made ^e a mocke at the counſel of the poore, becauſe the Lord is his truſt.

7 Oh giue ſaluacion vnto ^f Iſraël out of Zión: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iaakõb ſhal reioyce, and Iſraël ſhal be glad.

PSAL. XV.

This Pſalme teacheth on what conditiõ God did chuſe the Iewes for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing vprightly and godly, might witneſſe that they were his ſpecial and holie people.

A Pſalme of Dauid.

Lord, who ſhal dwell in thy Tabernacle? who ſhal reſt in thine holie Mountayne?

^a This is the wicked counſel of his enemies to him & his coparions, to driue him from the hope of Gods pines

^b All hope of ſuccour is taken aſide
^c Yet am I innocent and my cauſe good.
^d Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God wil execute judgement from heauen

^e As in the deſtruction of Sodõm and Gomorrah ^f Which they ſhal drinke euen to the aregs, Ezek 33:3.

^g Which dare detende the trueth, & ſhew mercie to the oppreſſed
^h He meaneth ⁱ flatterers of the court, & hurt him more with their tongues than with their weapons

ⁱ They thinke the felues able to perſuade whatſoener they take in hand ^j The Lord is moued with the complaints of his, & deliuereth in the end from all dangers.

^k Becauſe the Lordes worde and promes is true & vchãgeable, he wil performe it & preferue the poore from this wicked generacion
^l That is, thine, though he were but one man
^m For theſe ſimples & godlie and mainteine the wicked.

^a He declarerh ^b his afflictions laſted a long time, & ^c his faith fauted not ^d Chãging my purpoſe as the ſickemã doeth his place.

^e Which might turne to Gods diſhonour, if he did not defend his.
^f The mercie of God is the cauſe of our ſaluacion
^g Both by the benefices paſt and by others to come.

Pſal 13.
^a He ſheweth that the cauſe of all wickednes is to forget God
^b There is nothing but diſorder & wickednes among them

^c Dauid here maketh comparison betwene the faithful and the reprobate; but S Paul ſpeaketh the ſame of all men naturally, Rom 3:10
^d Where they thinke themſelues moſte ſure

^e You mocke them that put their truſt in God

^f He prayeth for the whole Church, whom he is aſſured God wil deliuer: for none but he onely can do it.

First God requereth vprightnes of life, next dole wel to others, and thirdly truth and simplicitie in our wordes.

He that flattereth not the vngodlie in their wickednes.

To the hinderance of his neighbour.

Thar is, shal not be cast forth of the Church as hypocrites.

Or, a covetise cane.

He sheweth that we can not call vpon God, except we trust in hi

Though we ca not enriche God, yet we must bestowe Gods gifts to the vse of his children

As grief of conscience & miserable destruction.

He wolde rather by our wardes professio nor in heart nor in mouth cofess to their idolatries

Wherewith my porcion is measured

God teacheth me continually by secret inspiracio

The faithfull are sure to persevere to the end

That is, I rejoyce boche in bodie & in soule

This is chiefly ment of Christ, by whose resurrection all his members have immortalitie

Where God fauoreth, there is persefelicite.

My righte cause.

2 He that walketh vprightly and worketh righteousnes, and speaketh the truth in his heart.

3 He that sclandreth not with his tongue, nor doeth euil to his neighbour, nor receiue a false reporte against his neighbour.

4 In whose eyes a vile persone is cōtemned, but he honoreth them that feare the Lord: he that sweareth to his owne hunderance and changeth not.

5 He that giueth not his money vnto vsurie, nor taketh rewarde against the innocent: he that doeth these things, shall neuer be moued.

PSAL. XVI.

1 David prayeth to God for succour not for his workes, but for his faiths sake, 4 Protesting that he hateth all idolatrie, taking God onelie for his comfort and felicitie. 8 Who suffreth his to lacke nothing.

Michtam of David.

1 P Reserue me, o God: for in thee do I trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast said vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my welding extendeth not to thee,

3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delite is in them.

4 The sorowes of them, that offer to another god, shal be multiplied: their offerings of blood wil I not offer, nether make mencion of their names with my lippes.

5 The Lord is the porcion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou shalt mainteine my lot.

6 The lines are fallen vnto me in pleasant places: yea, I haue a faire heritage.

7 I wil praise the Lord, who hath giuen me counsel: my reins also teache me in the nights.

8 I haue set the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand: therefore I shall not slide.

9 Wherefore mine heart is glad and my tongue reioyce: my flesh also doeth rest in hope.

10 For thou wilt not leaue my soule in the graue: nether wilt thou suffer thine holie one to se corruption.

11 Thou wilt shewe me the path of life: in thy presence is the fulnes of ioye: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for euermore.

PSAL. XVII.

1 Here he complaineth to God of the cruel pride and arrogancie of his enemies, who wronged him, and the rest of his enemies, who wronged him, and the rest of his enemies, who wronged him.

The prayer of David.

1 H Eare the right, o Lord, consider my crye: hearken vnto my prayer of lips vnfained.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence, & let thine eyes beholde equitie.

3 Thou hast proued & visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tryed me, & foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my mouth shulde not offend.

4 Concerning the workes of men, by the wordes of thy lippes I kept me from the paths of the cruel man.

5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my fete do not slide.

6 I haue called vpon thee: surely thou wilt heare me, o God: incline thine care to me, & hearken vnto my wordes.

7 Shewe thy maruelous mercies, thou that art the Sauour of them that trust in thee, from suche as resist thy right hand.

8 Kepe me as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the shadow of thy wings, 9 From the wicked that oppresse me, from mine enemies, which compass me rounde about for my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne fatt, and they haue spoken proudly with their mouth.

11 They haue compassed vs now in our steps: they haue set their eyes to bring downe to the grounde:

12 Like as a lyon that is greedie of praye, & as it were a lyons whelp loking in secret places.

13 Vp Lord, disappoint him: cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the wicked with thy sworde, 14 Fiō men by thine hand, o Lord, from men of the worlde, who haue their porcion in this life, whose belies thou fillest with thine hid treasure: their childre haue ynough, and leaue the rest of their substance for their children.

15 But I wil beholde thy face in righteoufnes, & when I awake, I shall be satisfied with thine image.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulacion, and thankesgiving in the entring into his kingdome, wherein he extollet & praiseth moste highly the maruelous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. 32 Also he setteth furthe the image of Christs kingdome, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shal alwayes conquer & ouercome by the unspeakable power of his Father, though all the whole worlde shulde strue thereagainst.

1 To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David the seruant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lord the wordes of this songe (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, & from the hand of Saül) and said,

1 I Wil loue thee deely, o Lord my strength.

2 The Lord is my rocke, and my fortress, and

The vengeance that I shall shewe against mine enemies.

When thy Spirit examined my conscience

I was innocent towards mine enemy bothe in dede and thought.

Though the wicked prouoked me to do euil for euil, yet thy worde kept me backe

He was assured that God would not refuse his request

For all rebell against thee, & trouble thy Church.

For their crueltie can not be satisfied but with my death

They are puffed vp with pride, as the stomake that is chafed with fat

Stop his rage

Or, which is thy sworde

By thine heauenlie power

And whose tyrannie hath he ligendured

And sele not the smart that Gods children oft times do

This is y ful felicitie, comforting against all afflictions, to haue the face of God & fauorable countenance opened vnto vs

And am deliuered out of my great troubles

Sam. 22, 1. He vseth this denegatio of names, to shewe y as the wicked haue many meanes to hurt, so God hath many waies to helpe and he that deliuereth me, my God & my strength: in him wil I trust, my shield, the horne also of my saluaciō, & my refuge.

b For none can obtrude their requests of God, & soyne not his glorie with their petition c He speaketh of the dangers and malice of his enemies, from the which God had deliuered him d Or, considerantes.

3 I wil call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised: so shal I be safe from mine enemies.

4 The sorowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednes made me afraied.

5 The sorowes of the graue haue cōpassed me about: the snares of death ouertoke me.

6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my crye did come before him, euē into his eares.

d A description of the wrath of God against his enemies after he had heard his prayers e He sheweth how horrible Gods iudgements shal be to the wicked f Darknes signifieth the wrath of God, as the bright light signifieth Gods fauour g This is described at large Psal 104
h As a King angry with y people, wil not stiew him self vnto them i Hundred, lightnes, and haile k His lightnings

7 Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the fundacions also of the mountaines moued and shoke, because he was angry.

8 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a consuming fyre out of his mouth: coles were kindled therat.

9 He bowed the heauens also and came downe, and darkened vnder his fete.

10 And he rode vpon Cherub and did flie, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkenes his secret place, & his pavilion rounde about him, euē darkenes of waters, and cloudes of the aire.

12 At the brightnes of his presence his cloudes passed, haile stones & coles of fyre.

13 The Lord also thundered in the heauen, and the Highest gaue his voyce, haile stones and coles of fyre.

14 Then he sent out his arrowes & scattered them, and he increased lightninges and destroyed them.

15 And the chanelles of waters were sene, and the fundacions of the worlde were discovered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 He hath sent downe from aboue and taken me: he hath drawn me out of many waters.

17 He hath deliuered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hate me: for they were to strong for me.

18 They preuented me in the daye of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He broght me forth also into a large place: he deliuered me because he fauoured me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousnes: according to the purenes of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, & did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his Lawes were before me, and I did not cast away his commandements from me.

23 I was vpright also with him, & haue kept me from my wickednes.

l That is, the depe bottoms were sene, whē the red sea was divided m Out of fundric, and great dangers n Thou, Saule
o Therefore God sent me succour p The cause of Gods deliuerance is his onelie fauour & loue to vs q Dauid was sure of his righteous cause and good behauiour toward Saul & his enemies, & therefore was assured of Gods fauour & deliuerance.
r For all his dangers he exercised him self in the Law of God s In other game place to their wicked venturations, nor so mine owne afflictions.

24 Therefore y Lord rewarded me according to my righteousnes, & according to the purenes of mine hands in his sight.

25 With the godlie thou wilt shewe thy self godlie: with the vpright mā thou wilt shewe thy self vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy self pure, & with the frowarde thou wilt shewe thy self froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, & wilt cast downe the proude lokes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candel: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenes.

29 For by thee I haue broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The waye of God is vncorrupt: the worde of the Lord is tryed in the fyre: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my waye vpright.

33 He maketh my fete like hindes fete, and setteth me vpon mine high places.

34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of brasse is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giue me y shield of thy saluacion, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy louing kindenes hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steppes vnder me, and mine heles haue not slied.

37 I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe til they had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded the, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my fete.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battel them; that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroye them that hate me.

41 They cryed, but there was none to saue them, euē vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beate them smale as the dust before the winde: I did tread them flat as the claye in the stretes.

43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the heathen: a people, whom I haue not knowne, shal serue me.

44 As sone as they heare, they shal obey me: the strangers shal be in subiection to me.

45 Strangers shal shrinke away, & feare in their priuie chambers.

46 Let the Lord liue, and blessed be my strength, and the God of my saluacion be exalted.

r Here he speaketh of God according to our capacity, who sheweth mercie to his & punisheth the wicked, as is said 109, Leuit 26, 21.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fyrie ouen in time of thine angre : the Lord shal destroy them in his f wrath, and the fyer shal deuoure them.

10 Their frute shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their sede from the children of men.

11 For they e intended euil against thee, and imaged mischief, but they shal not preuaile.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them h aparte, & the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 Be thou exalted, o Lord, in thy strenght: so wil we sing and praise thy power.

PSAL. XXII.

Dauid complained because he was broght into suche extremities that he was past all hope, but after he had rehearsed the sorowes & griefs, wherewith he was vexed, he recouereth him self fro the bottomles pit of temptations and groweth in hope. And here vnder his owne persone he setteth forthe the figure of Christ, whome he did foresee by the Spirit of prophecie, that he shoulde maruelously & strangely be deserted, & abased, before his Father shoulde raise & exalte him againe

To him that excelleth vpon Auēie: h Hafshā-hai. A Psalme of Dauid.

MY God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, & at so farre from mine health, and from the wordes of my roaring?

O my God, I crye by daie, but thou hearest not, & by night, but haue no audiēce.

But thou art holie, and doest inhabite the praises of Israēl.

Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didest deliuer them.

They called vpon thee, and were deliuered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

But I am a worme, & not a man: a shame of men, and the contēpt of the people.

All they that see me, haue me in derision: they make a mowe & nod the head, saying,

He trusted in the Lord, let him deliuer him: let him saue him, seig he loueth him.

But y didest drawe me out of the wombe: thou gauest me hope, euen at my mothers breasts.

I was cast vpon thee, euen from the wombe: thou art my God from my mothers belly.

Be not farre from me, because trouble is nere: for there is none to helpe me.

Manye yong bulles haue compassed me: mightie bulles of Bashān haue closed me about.

They gape vpon me with their mouthes, as a ramping and roaring lion.

I am like water powred out, and all He meaneth, that his enemies were so fat, proude and cruel, that they were rather beasts then men. Before, he spake of the occulcie of his enemies, and now he declareth the inwarde griefs of y minde, so that Christ was tormented, both in soule and bodie.

my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.

My strenght is dried vp like a potsheard, and my tongue cleueth to my iawes, and y haft broght me into the dust of death.

For dogges haue compassed me, & the assemblie of the wicked haue inclosed me: they k perced mine hands and my fete.

I maie tel all my bones: yet thei beholde, and loke vpon me.

They parte my garments among them, and cast lottes vpon my vesture.

But be not thou faile of, o Lord, my strenght: hasten to helpe me.

Deliuere my soule from the power of the dog: desolate soule from the power of the dog.

Saue me from the lions mouth, and answer me in sauing me from the hornes of the vnicornes.

I wil declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the middes of the Congregaciō wil I praise thee, saying, Praise the Lord, ye that feare him: magnifie ye him, all the sede of Iaakob, & feare ye him, all the sede of Israēl.

For he hathe not despised nor abhorred y affliction of the poore: nether hathe he hid his face from him, but when he called vnto him, he heard.

My praise shalbe of thee in the great Congregation: my P vows wil I performe before them that feare him.

The poore shal eat and be satisfied: thei that seke after the Lord, shal praise him: your heart shal liue for euer.

All the ends of the worlde shal remember them selues, and turne to the Lord: and all the kinreds of the nations shal worship before thee.

For the kingdome is the Lords, and he ruleth among the nations.

All they that be fat in the earth, shal eat and worship: all they that go downe into the dust, shal bowe before him, euen he that can not quicken his owne soule.

Thei sede shal serue him: it shalbe counted vnto the Lord for a generation.

Thei shal come, & shal declare his righteousnes vnto a people that shal be borne, because he hathe done it.

PSAL. XXIII.

Because the Prophet had proued the great mercies of God at diuerse times, and so sundrie maners, he gathereth a certeine assurance, fully perswading him self that God wil continue the verie same goodnes towards him for euer.

A Psalme of Dauid.

The Lord is my shepherd, I shal not want.

c Or, cease us. e He meaneth the place of praising, euen the Tabernacle: or els it is so called, because he gaue y people continually occasio to praise him d And seming moste miserable of all creatures, & was mee of Christ And herein appeareth the vspeakable loue of God toward man, that he wold thus abase his Sonne for our sakes

Matt 27.43. e Euen fro my birth thou hast giuen me occasion to trust in thee f For except Gods prouidence preserve y infants, they shoulde perish

g thousand times in the mothers wombe h He meaneth, that his enemies were so fat, proude and cruel, that they were rather beasts then men i Thou hast freed me to be without all hope of life.

k Thus Dauid complaineth as though he were nailed by his enemies both hands & fete: but this was accomplished in Christ

Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloodie men: In whose hands is wickednes, and their right hand is ful of bribes. But I wil walke in mine innocencie: redeme me therefore, and be merciful vnto me. My fote standeth in h vprightnes: I wil praise thee, o Lord, in the Congregacions.

PSAL. XXVII.

Dauid maketh this psalme being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the praises and thankesgiuing annexed: 6 Wherin we may see the constant faith of Dauid against the assaults of all his enemies. 7 And also the end wherefore he desireth to liue and to be deliue red, onely to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalme of Dauid.

a Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers, and that his saluation was surely laid vp i God, he feared not the tyrante of his enemies b That God wil deliuer me, & giue my faith y victorie c The iofie of countrie, wife & all worldly commodities greue me not in respect of this one thig, that I may not praise thy Name in the mid des of the Congregation

The Lord is my a light and my saluation, whome shal I feare: the Lord is the strength of my life, of whome shal I be afraid? When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my fogs came vpon me to eat vp my flesh they stumbled and fel. Though an hoste pitched against me, mine heart shulde not be afraid: though warre be raised against me, I wil trust in b this. c One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I wil require, euen that I may dwel in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to beholde the beautie of the Lord, & to visite his Temple. For in the time of trouble he shal hide me in his Tabernacie: in the secret place of his pavilion shal he hide me, & set me vp vpon a rocke. d And now shal he lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about me: therefore wil I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioye: I wil sing and praise the Lord.

d Dauid assured him selfe by the Spirit of prophetic that he shulde overcome his enemies and serue God in his Tabernacle.

Hearken vnto my voice, o Lord, when I crye: haue mercie also vpon me and heare me. When thou saide st, e Seke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I wil seke thy face. Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor cast thy seruant awaie in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, nether forsake me, o God of my saluation. Though my father and my mother shulde forsake me, yet the Lord wil gather me vp. Teache me thy waie, o Lord, and leade me in a right path, because of mine enemies. Giue me not vnto the lust of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses rise vp against me, & suche as speake cruelly. I shulde haue faunted, except I had beleued to see the goodnes of the b Lord in the land of the liuing. Hope in the Lord: be strong, & he shal comfort thine heart, & trust in the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

Being in great feare & heavines of heart to see God dishonored by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them, & cryeth for vengeance against them. & at length assureth him selfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 9 Vnto whose trust he commendeth all the faithfull.

A Psalme of Dauid.

Vnto thee, o Lord, do I crye: o my strength, be not deafe toward me, lett, if thou answer me not, I be alike them that go downe into the pit. Hear the voice of my petitions, when I crye vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands toward thine b holy Oracle. c Drawe me not awaie with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitte: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts. d Reward them according to their dedes, and according to the wickednes of their inuentions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: reder them their rewarde. For they regard not the workes of y Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore e breake them downe, & buylde the not vp. f Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voice of my petitions. The Lord is my strength and my shield: mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shal reioyce, & with my song wil I praise him. The Lord is g their strength, and he is the strength of the deliuerances of his appointed. Saue thy people, and blesse thine inberitance: fede them also, & exalt the for euer.

PSAL. XXXI.

The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the worlde, which for the most parte thinke there is no God. 3 At the least to feare him for the thunders & tempestes, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threateneth sinners yet is he atwaies merciful to his, & moueth the thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalme of Dauid.

Giue vnto the Lord, ye a sonnes of the Omightie: giue vnto the Lord glorie and strength.

f He magnifeth Gods loue towards his, which farre passeth the most tender loue of parents towards their children g But ether pacifie their wrath, or breddel their rage.

h In this present life before I dye, as Isa. 38, 17 i He exhorted him self to depede on y Lord, seeing he neuer failed in his promises.

a He counteth him selfe as a dead man, til God shew his fauour toward him, and grate him his petition b He vied this outward meanes to helpe y weaknes of his faith: for in y place was the Arke, and there God promised to shewe the tokens of his fauour.

c Destroy not the good with the bad.

d He thus prayeth in respect of Gods glorie, & not for his owne cause, being assured, that God wolde punish the persecuters of his Church.

e Let them be utterly destroyed, as Mal. 1, 4

f Because he felt the assurace of Gods helpe in his heart, his mouthe was opened to sing his praises

g Meaning, his soldiers, who were as meanes, by whome God declared his power.

a He exhorted y proude tyrants to humble the selues vnder Gods hand and not to be inferiour to brute beasts & dome creatures

b The thunder clappes, that are heard out of y^e cloudes, ought to make the wicked to tremble for feare of Gods anger.

c That is, the thunderbolte breaketh the moſte ſtrong trees, and ſhal men thinke their power to be able to reſiſt God?

d Called alſo Hermon.

e It cauſeth y^e lightnings to ſhote & glyde.

f In places moſt deſolate, where as ſometimes there is no preſence of God.

g For feare maketh them to caſt their caltices.

h Maketh the trees bare, or perceeth y^e moſt ſecret places.

i Though y^e wicked are nothing moued wth theſe things, yet y^e faithful praiſe God.

k To moderate y^e rage of the tempeſt & waters, that they deſtroy not all.

a After that Abſalom had polluted it wth moſte ſilkie fornication.

b He condemneth them of great ingratitude, which do not praiſe God for his benefices.

c Restored fro y^e rebellion of Abſalom.

d Meaning y^e he eſcaped death moſte narrowly.

2 Giue vnto the Lord glorie due vnto his Name: w^{ch} ſh^{al} the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.

3 The voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glorie maketh it to thunder: the Lord is vpon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is mighty: the voice of the Lord is glorious.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedres: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedres of Lebanon.

6 He maketh the also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also and Shirion like a yong vnicorne.

7 The voice of the Lord deuideth the flames of fyre.

8 The voice of the Lord maketh the wilderness to tremble: the Lord maketh the wilderness of Kadeth to tremble.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to calue, & discouereth the forests: therefore in his Temple doeth euery man ſpeake of his glorie.

10 The Lord sitteth vpon the flood, and the Lord doeth remaine King for euer.

11 The Lord shal giue strenght vnto his people: y^e Lord shal blesse his people wth peace.

P S A L. XXX.

When David was deliuered from great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to do the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather merciful then seuer and rigorous towards his children, & And also that the fall from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. This done he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

A Psalm of or song of the dedication of the house of David.

1 I Wil magnifie thee, o Lord: b^e for thou hast exalted me, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou hast restored me.

3 O Lord, thou hast broght vp my soule out of the graue: thou hast reuiued me fro them that go downe into the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, ye his Saints, and giue thanks before the remembrance of his Holines.

5 For he endureth but a while in his angrer: but in his fauour is life: weping maie abide at euening, but ioye cometh in the morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I said, I shal neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnes hadest made my mountaine to stand strong: but y^e didest hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee, o Lord, and prayed to my Lord.

9 What profit is there in my blood, whē I go downe to y^e pit: shal the dust giue thanks vnto thee, or shal it declare thy truth?

10 Heare, o Lord, and haue mercie vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioye: thou hast loosed my sacke & girded me with gladnes.

12 Therefore shal my tongue praise thee and not cease: o Lord my God, I wil giue thanks vnto thee for euer.

P S A L. XXXI.

David deliuered from some great danger, first rehearseth what meditation he had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemy being ready to take him. Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwayes readie to those that feare him. Finally he exhorteth all the faithful to trust in God and to loue him, because he preferueth and strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 IN thee, o Lord, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy righteousness.

2 Bowe downe thine eare to me: make haste to deliuer me: be vnto me a strong rock, & an house of defence to saue me.

3 For thou art my rocke and my fortress: therefore for thy Names sake direct me & guide me.

4 Drawe me out of the net, that they haue laied priuily for me: for thou art my strength.

5 Into thine hand I commende my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, o Lord God of truth.

6 I haue hated them that giue them selues to deceitful vanities: for I trust in the Lord.

7 I wil be glad and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast sene my trouble: thou hast known my soule in aduersities,

8 And thou hast not shut me vp in the hand of y^e enemy, but hast set my feet at large.

9 Haue mercie vpon me, o Lord: for I am in trouble: mine eye, my soule & my bellie are consumed with grief.

10 For my life is wasted with heauines, and my yeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my peine, & my bones are consumed.

11 I was as reproche among all mine enemies, but specially among my neighbours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, who seeing me in the strete, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am like a broken vessel.

13 For I haue heard the railing of great men: feare was on euery side, while they conspired together against me, & consulted to take my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, o Lord: I said, Thou art my God.

15 My times are in thine hand: deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

i Because thou hast preferred me, y^e my tongue shulde praise thee, I wil not be vnmindful of my duetie.

a For the God declareth him self wth me, whē he preferueth his according as he hath promised.

b Preserve me from the craftie counsels & subtil practises of mine enemies.

c He desireth God not onely to take care for him in his life, but that his soule may be saued after this life.

d This affligg^o ought to be in all Gods children, to haue whatsoeuer thing is not grounded vpo a sure trust in God, as deceitful and vaine.

e Laiges significeth comfort: as Aratnes is row and perik.

f Meaning, that his sorrow and torment had continued a great while.

16 Make thy face to shine vpon thy seruāt, & saue me through thy mercie.
17 Let me not be confounded, o Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked be put to confusion, & to silence in thy graue.
18 Let the lying lippes be made dumme, which cruelly, proudly & spitefully speake against the righteous.
19 How great is thy goodnes, which thou hast laied vp for them, that feare thee! & done to them, that trust in thee, euen before the sonnes of men!
20 Thou doest hide them: priuely in thy presence from the pride of men: thou kepest them secretly in thy Tabernacle from the strife of tongues.
21 Blessed be the Lord: for he hath shewed his maruolous kindenes toward me in a strong citie.
22 Though I said in mine haste, I am cast out of thy sight, yet ye heardst the voyce of my prayer, when I cryed vnto thee.
23 Loue ye the Lord all his Saints: for the Lord preferueth the faithful, and rewardeth abundantly the proude doer.
24 All ye that trust in the Lord, be strong, and he shall establish your heart.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 David punished with grieuous sicknes for his finnes, counteth them blessed, to whome God doeth not impute their transgressions. And after that he had confessed his finnes and obtayned pardon, 6 He exhorteth the wicked men to lue godly. 11 And the good to reioyce.
2 A Psalme of David to giue instruction.
3 Blessed is he whose wickednes is forgiven, & whose sinne is couered.
4 Blessed is the man, vnto whome the Lord imputeth not iniquitie, & in whose spirit there is no guile.
5 When I helde my tongue, my bones consumed, or when I roared all the day, (For thine had is heauie vpon me, daie & night: & my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Sélah)
6 The Lord acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, nether hid I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I wil confesse against my self my wickednes vnto the Lord, and thou forgavest the punishment of my sinne. Sélah.
7 Therefore shall euerie one, that is godlie, make his prayer vnto thee in a time, when thou maiest be founde: surely in the flood of great waters: they shall not come nere him.

11 Be glad ye righteous, & reioyce in the Lord, and be ioyful all ye, that are vpright in heart.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 He exhorteth good men to praise God for that he hath not onely created all things, and by his prouidence governeth the same, but also is fasthful in his promises, 10 He vnderstandeth mans heart, and scattereth the counsel of the wicked, 16 So that no man can be preserved by any creature or mans strength but they, that put their confidence in his mercie, shall be preserved from all aduersities.
2 Reioyce in the Lord, o ye righteous: for it becometh vpright men to be thankfull.
3 Praise the Lord with harpe: sing vnto him with viole & instrument of ten strings
4 Sing vnto him a new song: sing cherefully with a loude voyce.
5 For the worde of the Lord is righteous, and all his workes are faithfull.
6 He loueth righteousnes & iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnes of the Lord.
7 By the worde of the Lord were the heauens made, and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.
8 He gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and laiech vp the depths in his treasures.
9 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all that dwell in the worlde, feare him.

17 The King is not saued by the multitude of an hoste, nether is the mightie man deliuered by great strength.
18 A horse is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliuer any by his great strength.
19 Beholde, the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, & vpon them, that trust in his mercie, 19 If Kings and the mightie of the worlde can not be saued by worldlie meanes, but onely by Gods prouidence, what haue others to trust in, that haue not like meanes? God sheweth that toward his mercie, which man by no meanes is able to compass.

He sheweth that peace & joy of conscience in the holie God is the fruit of faith.

It is the duetic of the godlie to set forth the praises of God for his mercie & power shewed toward the world

So long as Saül was enimie to Dauid, all that had any autoritie vnder him to flatter their King (as in the courſe of the worlde) did alſo moſte cruelly perſecute Dauid againſt whome he praueth God to pleaue & to auenge his cauſe, 2 That they may be taken in their nets & ſnares, which they laied for him, that his innocencie may be declared. 27 And that the innocents, which taketh parte with him, may reioyce & praiſe the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his ſeruants. 28 And ſo he promiſeth to ſpeake for the iuſtice of the Lord, & ſo magnifie his Name all the dayes of his liſe.

They rewarded me euil for good, to haue ſpoiled my ſoule.

Yet when they were ſicke, I was clothed with a ſacke: I humbled my ſoule with faſting: and my prayer was turned vpon my boſome.

I behaued my ſelfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my ſelfe, mourning as one that bewailed his mother.

1 The Prophet grieuouly vexed by the wicked, doeth complaine of their malicious wickednes. 6 Then he turneth to consider the vnspēakable goodnes of God towards all creatures. 9 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted & assured of his deliuerance by the ordinarie course of Gods worke. 13 Who in the end destroyeth the wicked & saucth the iuste.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid, the seruant of the Lord.

1 Wickednes faueth to y^e wicked mā, euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he b flattereth him self in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is found worlith to be hated.

3 The wordes of his mouthe are iniquitie and c deceit: he hath left of to vnderstand & to do good.

4 He d imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he setteth him selfe vpon a ware, that is not good & doeth not abhorre euil.

bc admonisheth the godlie to beware of these vices.

5 Thy mercie, o Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfulness vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteousnes is like the mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, doest saue man and beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercie, o God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

8 They shal be satisfied with the fatnes of thine house, & thou shalt giue them drinke out of the ruer of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, & in thy light shal we see light.

10 Extend thy louing kindenes vnto them that knowe thee, and thy righteousnes vnto them that are vp right in heart.

11 Let not the sote of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked moue me.

PSAL. XXXVII.

1 This Psalm contemeth exhortation & consolation for the weake, that are grieued at the prosperitie of the wicked, & the affliction of the godlie. 7 For how prosperously soeuer the wicked do liue for the time, he doeth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies. 11 And how miserably that the righteous semeth to liue in the worlde, yet his end is peace, & he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked & preserved.

A Psalm of Dauid.

5 Commit thy waye vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shal bring it to passe.

6 And he shal bring forth the thy righteousnes as the light, & thy iudgement as the noone daye.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lord & hope in him: fret not thy self for him which prospereth in his waye: nor for the mā that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

8 Cease from engre, & leaue of wrath: fret not thy selfe, & also to do euil.

 20 But the wicked shal perish, and the enemies of the Lord shalbe consumed as the fat of lambes: euen with the smoke shal they consume awaye.
 21 The wicked boroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is merciful, and giueth.
 22 For suche as be blessed of God, shal inherit the land, & they that be cursed of him, shalbe cut of.
 23 The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his waye.
 24 Though he fall, he shal not be cast off: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.
 25 I haue bene yong and am olde: yet I saw neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his sede begging bread.
 26 But he is euer merciful and lendeth, and his sede enjoyeth the blessing.
 27 Flee from euil and do good, and dwell for euer.
 28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, & forsaketh not his Saints: they shalbe preferred for euermore: but the sede of the wicked shalbe cut of.
 29 The righteous mē shal inherit the land, and dwell therein for euer.
 30 The mouth of the righteous wil speake of wisdom, and his tongue wil talke of iudgement.
 31 For the Law of his God is in his heart, & his steppes shal not slide.
 32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.
 33 But y^e Lord wil not leaue him in his hād, nor condemne him, when he is iudged.

34 Waite thou on the Lord, and kepe his waye, & he shal exalt thee, that thou shalt inherit the lād: when the wicked men shal perish, thou shalt se.
 35 I haue sene the wicked strong, & spreading him self like a grene baye tre.
 36 Yet he passed away, and to, he was gone, and I sought him, but he colde not be founde.
 37 Marke the vpright man, and beholde the iust: for the end of that man is peace.
 38 But the transgressours shalbe destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shalbe cut of.
 39 But the saluation of the righteous mē shalbe of the Lord: he shalbe their strength in the time of trouble.
 40 For the Lord shal helpe them, and deliuer them: he shal deliuer them from the wicked, and shal saue them, because they trust in him.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

Dauid lying sicke of some greuous disease, acknowledgeth him self to be chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, & therefore praieth God to turne away his wrath. He vttereth the greatnes of his grief by maner wordes & circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, for saken of his friends, euil intreated of his enemies. But in the end with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, & hopeth for speedie helpe at his hand.

A Psalm of Dauid for a remembrance.
 O Lord, rebuke me not in thine angre, nether chastise me in thy wrath.
 For thine arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lyeth vpon me.
 There is nothing founde in my flesh, because of thine angre: nether is there rest in my bones because of my sinne.
 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, & as a weightie burden they are to heaue for me.
 My woundes are putrified, and corrupt because of my foolishnes.
 I am bowed, and croked very fore: I go mourning all the daye.
 For my reines are ful of burning, & there is nothing founde in my flesh.
 I am weakened and sore broken: I sorrowe for the verie grief of mine heart.
 Lord, I powre my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.
 Mine heart panteth: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen they are not mine owne.
 My louers and nay friends stand aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stand a farre of.
 They also, that like after my life, laye snares, and they that go about to do me euil, talke wicked things and imagine deceite continually.

x So that the prosperitie of the wicked is but as a cloude, which vanissheth away in a moment.
 y He exhorteth the faithful to marke diligently the exaples bothe of Gods mercies, & also of his iudgements.
 z He sheweth that y^e patient hope of the godlie is neuer in vaine, but in the end hathe good success, though for a time God proueth them by sundrie tentations.

a To put him self & others in minde of Gods chastisement for sinne.
 b He desireth not to be expelled fro Gods rod, but that he wolde so moderate his hand, that he might be able to beare it.

1 David uttereth with what great grief & bitterness of minde he was drisen to these ourageous complaints of his infirmities 2 For he confesseth that when he had determined silence, that he brast forth yet into wordes that he wolde not, through the greatness of his grief 3 Then he rehearseth certeine requestes which came vnto him, & And maxeth with shew maue prayers. but all di serue a misde wonderfully troubled, that is maze plasme: y appeare how he asid frum magnitey against death and disperation.

To the excellent musician a Jeduthun. A Ps. lme of David.

I Thought, b I wil take hede to my I wares, that I sinne not with my togue: I wil kepe my mouth bridled, while the wick d is in my sight.

2 I was dumme and spake nothing: I kept silence euen from good, c and my sorow was more stirred.

3 Mine heart was hote within me, and while I was musing, the fyre kindled, & d I spake with my tongue, saying,

4 Lord, let me know mine end, & the measure of my dayes, what it is: let me know how long I haue to liue.

5 Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euerie man in his best state is altogether e vanitie. Selah.

6 Douteles man walketh in a shadowe, and disquieteth him self in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, & ca not tel who shal gather the.

7 And now Lord, what waite I for i mine hope is euen in thee.

8 Deliuere me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the f foolish.

9 I shulde haue bene dumme, and not haue

10 Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine had.

11 When thou with rebukes doest chastise man for iniquite, thou as a moth h makest his i beaurie to consume: surely euerie ma is vanitie. Selah.

12 Heare my praier, o Lord, & hearken vnto my crye: kepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, & a sojourner as all my fathers.

13 Stay thine angre from me, that I maie recouer my strength, k before I go hence & be not.

away all that is desired in this worlde k For his sorow caused him to thinke that God wolde destroy him vtterly: whereby we se how hard it is for the vertie santes to kepe a measure in their wordes, when death & despayre assaile them.

PSAL. XL.

1 David deliuered from great danger, doeth magnifie and praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, & commendeth his prouidence towards all mankynde. 2 Then doeth he promise to geue him self wholly to Gods seruise, & so declarer how God is truly worshipped. 14 Afterward he giueth thanks & praiseth God, & hauing complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for aide and succour.

To him that excellith. A Psalme of David. I Waited a patiently for the Lord, & he inclined vnto me, and heard my crye.

2 He broght me also out of the b horrible pit, out of the myrie claie, and set my fete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

3 And he hath put in my mouth c a new song of praise vnto our God: manie shal se it and feare, and shal trust in the Lord.

4 Blessed is the man, that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth d not the proude, nor fuche as turne aside to lies.

5 e O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderful woikes so manie, that none can counte in ordre to thee thy thoghts toward vs: I wolde declare, & speake of them, but they are mo then I am able to expresse.

6 Sacrifice and offring thou didest not desire: (for f mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offring and un offring hast thou not required.

7 g Then said I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the boke it is writen of me,

8 I desired to do thy good wil, o my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.

9 I haue declared thy righteousnes in the h great Congregation: lo, I wil not refrain my lippes: o Lord, thou knowest.

10 I haue not hid thy righteousnes within mine heart, but I haue declared thy i truth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercie and thy truth from the great Congregation.

seruice g When thou hadst opened mine eares & heart, I was readie to obey thee, being assured that I was writen in the boke of thine clef for this end h In the Church assembled to y Sanctuary i David here nobly degree of our saluatio: Gods mercie, whereby he pitreth vs: his righteousness, which signifi th his continual protection, and his truth, whereby appeareth his constant fauour, so that herof proceedeth our saluation.

g Seing my troubles came of thy prouidē ce, I ought to haue endured the patiently h Though thine open plaques light noe curmore vpon them, yet thy secret curffe continually fretteth them i The worde significth all y the desirerh, as health, force, strength, beaurie, and in whatioeuer he hath desire, so that the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this worlde k For his sorow caused him to thinke that God wolde destroy him vtterly: whereby we se how hard it is for the vertie santes to kepe a measure in their wordes, when death & despayre assaile them.

a Though God differd his helpe, yet he patiently abode, til he was heard b He hath deliuered me fro moite great dangers c That is, a special occasio to praise him: for Gods benefices are so manie occasio for vs to praise his Name d To follow their example, which he must neder do, that trusteth not onely in the Lord

e David goerh from one kide of Gods fauour to the contemplation of his prouidē ce ouer all, & con fesseth that his counsels toward vs are farre aboute our capacities: we ca not so much as tel thim in ordre

f Thou hast opened mine eares to vnder stand the spiri tual meaning of the sacrifices and here David este meth the ceremonies of the Law nothing in respect of the spiri tual a This was one of y chief, singers, 1 Chr 16. 41.

b Albeit he had appointed with him self patiently to haue taryed Gods leasure, yet the vehemencie of his peine caused him to breake his purpose

c Though whē the wicked ruled, he thought to haue kept silence, yet his zeale caused him to change his minde d He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatness of his sorowes, & the shortnes of his life

e Yet David offended in y that he reasoned of God, as though that he were to luerre towarde his weak creature.

f Make me not a mockig stocke to the wicked, or wrap me not vp w the wicked, when they are put to shame

11 Withdraw not thou thy tendre mercie from me, o Lord: let thy mercie and thy trueth alway preferue me.

12 For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my sinnes haue taken suche holde vpon me, that I am not able to loke vp: yea, they are mo in number then the heeres of mine head: therefore mine heart hath failed me.

13 Let it please thee, o Lord, to deliuer me: make haste, o Lord, to helpe me.

14 Let them be confounded & put to shame together, y^e feke my soule to destroye it: let them be driue backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

15 Let them be destroyed for a rewarde of their shame, w^h saye vnto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all the, that seke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: & let the, that loue thy saluation, saye alway, The Lord be praised.

17 Thogh I be poore and needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper & my deliuerer: my God, make no taying.

PSAL. XII.

1 David being grievously afflicted, blesteth them, that pite his case. 9 And complaneth of the treason of his owne friends & familiars, as came to passe in Iudas. Iohn 13, 18 After he feling the great merues of God gently chastising him, & not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 Giueth moite heartie thanks vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

1 Blessed is he that iudgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord shal deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord wil kepe him, & preferue him aliu: he shal be blessed vpon the earth, & thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the wil of his enemies.

3 The Lord wil strengthen him vpon the bed of sorowe: thou hast turned all his bed in his sickenes.

4 Therefore I said, Lord haue mercie vpon me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies speake euil of me, saying, When shal he dye, and his name perish?

6 And if he cometo se me, he speaketh lies, but his heart heapeth iniquitie within hi, & when he cometh forth, he telleth it.

7 All they that hate me, whisper together against me: euen against me do they imagine mine hurt.

8 A mischief is light vpon him, & he that lieth, shal no more rise.

9 Yea, my familiar friend, whome I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted vp the heele against me.

10 Therefore, o Lord, haue mercie vpon me, & raise me vp: so I shal rewarde them.

11 By this I know that thou fauorist me, because mine enemy doeth not triumph against me.

12 And as for me, thou vpholdest me in mine integritie, and doest set me before thy face for euer.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel worlde without end. So be it, euen so be it.

PSAL. XLIII.

1 The Prophet grievously complaneth, that being letted by his persecutors he coulde not be present in the Congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was separated in bodie fro them yet his heart was thitherwarde affectioned. And last of all he sheweth, that he was not so farre overcome with these sorowes & thights, but that he continually put his confidence in the Lord

To him that excelleth. A Plaine to giue instruction, & omitted to the sonnes of Korah.

1 As the hart braeth for the riuers of water, so breatheth my soule after thee, o God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shal I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meat daie and night, while they daely say vnto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remebred these things, I powdered out my verie heart, because I had gone with the multitude, & led them into the House of God with the voice of singing, & praise, as a multitude y^e kepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and vnquiet within me? waite on God: for I wil yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

6 My God, my soule is cast downe within me, because I remember thee, from the land of Iordén, and Hermonim, and si om the mount Mizár.

7 One is depe calleth another depe by y^e noise of thy water spoutes: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord wil grante his louing kindness in the daie, and in the night shal I sing of hi, euen a praier vnto y^e God of my life.

9 I wil saie vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I mourning, when the enemy oppresth me?

10 My bones are cut a sunder, while mine enemies reproche me, saying daely vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? & why art thou disquieted within me? waite on God: for I wil yet giue him thanks: he is my present helpe, and my God.

PSAL. XLIIII.

1 He praieeth to be deliuered from them which conspire against him, that he might ioyfully praise God in his holie Congregation

1 Iudge me, o God, & defend my cause against the vnmerciful people: deliuer me from the deceitful and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me awaie: why go I so mourning, when the enemy oppresth me.

WE haue heard with our eares, o God: our fathers haue tolde vs the workes, that thou haſt done in their daies, in the olde time:

2 How thou haſt driuen out the heathen with thine hand, and planted them: how thou haſt deſtroyed the people, and cau-ſed them to growe.

3 For thei inherited not the land by their owne ſword, nether did their owne arme ſaue them: but thy right hand, & thine arme and the light of thy countenance, becauſe thou didſt fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, o God: ſaid helpe vnto Iaakob.

5 Through thee haue we thruſt backe our aduerſaries: by thy Name haue we troade downe them that roſe vp againſt vs.

6 For I do not truſt in my bowe, nether can 7 But thou haſt ſaued vs from our aduerſa-ries, & haſt put the to confuſion y hate vs.

8 Therefore wil we praie God continually, & wil confeſſe thy Name for euer. Selah.

9 But now thou art faire of, and putteſt vs to confuſion, & goeſt not forthe with our armies.

10 Thou makeſt vs to turne backe from the aduerſarie, and thei, which hate vs, ſpoile them ſelues.

11 Thou giueſt vs as k as ſhepe to be eaten, & doeſt ſcater vs among the nations.

12 Thou ſelleſt thy people without gaine,

14 Thou makeſt vs a prouerbe among the nations, & a nodding of the head among the people.

15 My confuſion is dailey before me, and the ſhame of my face haſt thou covered me,

16 For the voice of the ſclanderer and rebu-

When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan, for his great offences, he did not onely acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his natural corruptio and enquitie, but also left a memoriall ree of to his posteritie. Therefore first he desireth God to forgive his finnes, to And to renew in him his holie Spirit, 13 Which promes that he wil not be unkindful of those great graces. 18 Finally fearing lest God wolde punish the whole Church for his fault, he requreth that he wolde rather increase his graces towards the same.

To him that excelleth. A psalme of David, when the Prophet Nathan came vnto him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba.

HAue mercie vpon me, o God, according to thy louing kindenes: according to the multitude of thy compassions put awaie mine iniquities. Wash me throughly from mine iniquitie, and cleanse me from my sinne. For I knowe mine iniquities, & my sinne is euil before me. Against thee, against thee onely haue I sinned, & done euil in thy sight, that thou maiest be iuste when thou speakest, and pure when thou iudget. Beholde, I was borne in iniquitie, and in sinne hath my mother conceued me. Beholde, thou louest trueth in y inward affections: therefore hast thou taught me wisdom in the secret of mine heart. Purge me with hyssope, and I shall be cleane: wash me, & I shall be whiter then snow. Make me to heare ioye and gladnes, that the bones, which thou hast broken, maie reioyce. Hide thy face from my finnes, and put awaie all mine iniquities. Create in me a cleane heart, o God, & renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not awaie from thy presence, and take not thine holie Spirit from me. Restore to me the ioye of thy saluacion, and stablish me with thy fre Spirit. Then shall I teache thy wayes vnto the wicked, and sinners shall be conuerted vnto thee. Deliuer me from blood, o God, which art the God of my saluacion, and my tongue shall sing ioyfully of thy righteousnes. Open thou my lippes, o Lord, and my mouth shall shewe forthe thy praise. For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I wolde giue it: thou delitest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a contrite spirit: a contrite & a broken heart, o God, thou wilt not despise. Be fauourable vnto Zion for thy good pleasure: buylde the wallis of Ierusalem. Then shalt thou accept the sacrifices of a righteousnes, euen the burnt offering and oblation: then shall they offer calues vpon thine altar.

PSAL. LXII

This Psalme partly containeth meditatio, whereby Dauid encourage him self to trust in God against the assaults of satians. And because our mindes are easily drawe from God by the allurements of the worlde, he sharply reproveth this vanitie, to the intent he might cleave fast to the Lord.

To the excellent musician * Ieduthún. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 YET my soule kepeth silence vnto God: of him cometh my saluacion.

2 Yet he is my strength and my saluacion, & my defence: therefore I shall not muche be moued.

3 How long wil ye imagine mischief against a man? ye shall be all slaine: ye shall be as a bowed wall, or as a wall shaken.

PSAL. LXIII.

Dauid, after he had bene in great danger by Saúl in the desert of Ziph, made this psalme. 3 Wherein he giueth thanks to God for his wonderful deliuerance, in whose mercies he trusted, euen in the maddes of his miseries. 9 Prophecying the destruction of Gods enemies: 11 And contrariwise happines to all them that trust in the Lord.

A Psalme of Dauid. When he was in the wilderness of Iudáh.

1 O God, thou art my God, early wil I feele thee: my soule thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a baren and drye land without water.

2 Thus I beholde thee as in the Sanctuarie, when I beholde thy power & thy glorie.

3 For thy louing kindenes is better then life: therefore my lippes shall praise thee.

4 Thus wil I magnifie thee all my life, and lift vp mine hands in thy Name.

5 My soule shall be satisfied, as with marrow and fatnes, and my mouth shall praise thee with ioyful lippes,

6 When I remember thee on my bed, & when I thinke vpon thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast bene mine helper, therefore vnder the shadow of thy wings wil I reioyce.

8 My soule cleaueth vnto thee: for thy right hand vpholdeth me.

9 Therefore they that seke my soule to destroy it, they shall go into the lowest partes of the earth.

10 They shall cast him downe with the edge of the sword, & thei shall be a portio for foxes.

11 But the King shall reioyce in God, and all that sweare by him shall reioyce in him: for the mouth of them that speake lies, shall be stopped.

3 Hide me from the conspiracie of the wicked, and from the rage of the workers of iniquitie.

4 Which haue whet their tongue like a sworde, and shot for their arrowes bitter wordes:

5 To shote at the vpright in secret: they shote at him suddenly, and feare not.

6 They encourage them selues in a wicked purpose: they comune together to laie snares priuely, and saie, Who shal se them?

7 They haue fought out iniquities, and haue accomplished that which they fought out, euen euerie one his secret thoughts, and the depth of his heart.

8 But God wil shote an arrow at them suddenly: their strokes shal be at once.

9 They shal cause their owne tongue to fall vpon them: and whosoever shal se them, shal flee awaie.

10 And all men shal se it, and declare the worke of God, and they shal vnderstand, what he hathe wrought.

2 Because thou hearest the prairer, vnto thee shal all flesh come.

3 Wicked dedes c haue preuailed against me: but thou wilt be merciful vnto our trasgressions.

4 Blessed is he, whome thou chusest and causest to come to thee: he shal dwell in thy courts, and we shal be satisfied with the pleasures of thine House, euen of thine holie Temple.

5 O God of our saluacion, thou wilt answer vs with feareful signes in thy righteousnes, o thou the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are farre of in the sea.

6 He stablisheth y mountaines by his power: and is girded about with strength.

7 He appeareth the noise of the seas and the noise of the waues thereof, and the tumultes of the people.

8 They also, that dwell in the vttermost partes of the earth, shal be afraid of thy signes:

thou shalt make" the East and the West to reioyce.

9 Thou s visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou makest it very riche: the Riuier of God is ful of water: thou prepairst them corne: for so thou appointest it.

10 Thou waterest abundantly the fountaynes thereof: thou causest the raiues to descend into y valleis thereof: thou makest it soft with showres, & blestest the bud thereof.

11 Thou crownest the yere with thy goodnes, and thy steps drop fatnes.

12 They drop vpon y pastures of the wildernes: & the hills shal be copassid w gladnes.

13 The pastures are clad with shepe: y valleis also shal be couered with corne: therefore they showte for ioye, and sing.

PSAL. LXXVI.

1 He prouoketh all men to praise the Lord and to consider his works. 6 He setteth forth the power of God to affray the rebels, 10 And sheweth how God hath adiuered Israel from great bondage and afflictions. 13 He promiseth to giue sacrifice. 16 And prouoketh all men to heare what God hath done for him and to praise his Name.

ousnes, and thy saluacion: for I knowe not the number.

I wil go forward in the strength of the Lord God, and wil make mention of thy righteousness, euen of thine onely.

O God, thou hast taught me from my youth euen vntil now: therefore wil I tel of thy wonderous workes, yea, euen vnto mine olde age and graie head, O God: forsake me not, vntil I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, & thy power to all them, that shal come.
And thy righteousness, O God, I wil exalt on high: for thou hast done great things:
O God, who is like vnto thee!
Which hast shewed me great troubles and aduersities, but thou wilt reuere and reuiue me, and wilt come againe, and take me vp from the depth of the earth.
Thou wilt increase mine honour, & returne and comfort me.
Therefore wil I praise thee for thy faithfulnes, O God, vpon instrument and viole:
vnto thee wil I sing vpon the harpe, O Ho-lie one of Israel.
My lippes wil reioyce when I sing vnto thee, and my soule, which thou hast deli-uered.
My tongue also shal talke of thy righte-ousnes daily: for they are confounded & brought vnto shame, that seke mine hurt:

a Copied by David as thou chusing ſeigne of his ſonne Salomon b Endue the King with the Spirit of wiſdomme & iuſtice that he reigne not as do the worldelie tyrants
 c To wit, to his poſteritie
 d Whē iuſtice reigneth, euen ſpaces moſte barren ſhal be entriched with thy bleſſings e He ſheweth wherefore the ſworde is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocēt and ſuppreſſe the wicked f The people ſhal embrace thy true religion, whē thou gūeſt a King, that ruleth according to thy worde g As this is true in all godlie Kings: ſo is it chiefly verified in Chriſt, who ſ his heauenlie dewe maketh his Church euer to flouriſh h That is fro the red Sea to the ſea called Syriacum, and fro Euphrates forward: meaning Chriſt's kingdome ſhulde be large & vniuerſal i Of Cilicia & of all other countries beyōd the ſea, which he meaneth by the yles k That is, of Arabia yriche countries, wherof Shebā was a parte bordering vpon Ethiopia l Though tyrants paſſe not to ſhed blood, yet this godlie King ſhal preferre his ſubiect from all kinde of wrong
 m God will be the proſper his liſe, & alſo make the people moſte willing to obeye him

 q Concerning his ſonne Salomon.

¶ A Pſalme of Salomon.
 GIVE thy iudgements to the King, O God, and thy righteousnes to the Kings ſonne.
 Then ſhal he iudge thy people in righteousnes, and thy poore with equitie.
 The mountaines and the hills ſhal bring peace to the people by iuſtice.
 He ſhal iudge the poore of the people: he ſhal ſaue the children of the needie, and ſhal ſubdue the oppreſſor.
 They ſhal feare thee as long as the ſunne and moone endureth, from generation to generation.
 He ſhal come downe like the raine vpon the mowen graſſe, & as the ſhowres that water the earth.
 In his daies ſhal the righteous flouriſh, & abundance of peace ſhal be ſo long as the moone endureth.
 His dominion ſhal be alſo from ſea to ſea, and from the Riuer vnto the ends of the land.
 They that dwell in the wildernes, ſhal knele before him, and his enemies ſhal like the duſt.
 The Kings of Tarſhiſh & of the yles ſhal bring preſentes: the Kings of Shebā and Sebā ſhal bring giſtes.
 Yea, all Kings ſhal worſhip him: all nations ſhal ſerue him.
 For he ſhal deliuer the poore when he cryeth: the needie alſo, and him that hath no helper.
 He ſhal be merciful to the poore and needie, and ſhal preferre the ſoules of the poore.
 He ſhal redeme their ſoules from deceit and violence, and deare ſhal their blood be in his ſight.
 Yea, he ſhal liue, and vnto him ſhal they giue of the golde of Shebā: they ſhal alſo praye for him continually, and daily bleſſe him.
 An handful of corne ſhal be ſowen in the earth, euen in the top of the mountaines, and the frute thereof ſhal ſhake like the trees of Lebanón: and the children ſhal flouriſh out of the citie like the graſſe of the earth.
 His name ſhal be for euer: his name ſhal indure as long as the ſunne: all nations ſhal bleſſe him, and be bleſſed in him.
 Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Iſraél, which onely doeth wonderful things.
 And bleſſed be his glorious Name for euer: and let all the earth be filled with his glorie. So be it, euen ſo be it.
 HERE END THE 9 PRAIERS OF DAVID, THE SONNE OF Iſhái.

PSAL. LXXIII.
 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldlie proſperitie of the ungodlie. 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to diſcourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to conſider our Fathers providence, and to cauſe vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 For aſmuch as the wicked vaniſh away. 24 And the godlie enter into liſe euerlaſting. 28 In hope whereof he reſigneth him ſelf into Gods hands.
 ¶ A Pſalme committed to Aſaph.
 Yet God is good to Iſraél: euen, to the pure in heart.
 As for me, my ſete were almoſt gone: my ſteps had welneie ſlup.
 For I ſieated at the fooliſh, when I ſawe the proſperitie of the wicked.
 For there are no bands in their death, but they are luſtie & ſtrong.
 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.
 Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto the, & crueltie couereth them as a garment.
 Their eyes ſtand out for fatnes: they haue more then heart can wiſh.
 They are licentious, and ſpeake wickedly of their oppreſſion: they talke preſumptuouſly.
 They ſet their mouth againſt heauen, & their tongue walketh through the earth.
 Therefore his people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.
 And they ſay, How doeth God know it: or is there knowledge in y moſte High?
 Lo, theſe are the wicked, yet proſper they alway, & increaſe in riches.
 Certainly I haue clenſed mine heart in vaine, and waſhed mine hands in innocencie.
 For daily haue I bene puniſhed, and chaſtened euerie morning.
 If I ſay, & I wil iudge thus, behold the generaciō of thy children: I haue reſpiced.
 The thought I to knowe this, but it was to painful for me, Vntil I went into the Sanctuarie of God: then vnderſtoode I their end.
 Surely thou haſt ſet them in ſlipperie places, and caſteſt them downe into deſolation.
 How ſuddenly are they deſtroyed, perriſhed & horribly conſumed,
 As a dreame when one awaketh: O Lord, when thou raiſeſt vs vp, thou ſhalt make their image deſpiſed.
 Certainly mine heart was vexed, & I was pricked in my reins:
 So fooliſh was I and ignorant: I was a beaſt before thee.
 Yet I was alway with thee: thou haſt

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The faithful complains of the destruction of the Church & true religion. 2 Under the name of Zion, and the Temple destroyed: 11 And trusting in the might & fre mercies of God, 20 By his couenant. 21 They require helpe & succour for the glorie of Gods holie Name, for the saluacion of his poore afflicted seruants. 23 And the confusion of his proude enemies.

¶ A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

O God, why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled against the shepe of thy pasture?

a The Church of God being oppressed by the tyrannie either of the Babylonians, or of Antiochus, prayeth to God by whose had this yoke was laied vpon them for their finnes b Which in the rursace y haue measured out for thy self as with a line or rod c Of these
e They haue destroyed thy true religion & spread their banners in signe of defiance.
ed He cometh to destroy the Temple for the cause of the matter, the excellent workmanship & beautie thereof notwithstanding the enemies did destroye.
e They encouraged one another to cruelty, y not onely Gods people might be destroyed, but also his religion vtterly in all places suppressed.
f They lamēt y they haue no Prophet among them to shewe them how long their miseries shal endure.
g They soyne their deliuerance with Gods glorie & power, knowing that the punishment of the enemy shal be their deliuerance.
h Meaning, in the fight of all the worlde.

2 Thinke vpon thy Congregation, which thou hast possessed of olde, & on the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, & on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift vp thy strokes, that thou maiest for euer destroye euerie enemy that doeth euil to the Sanctuarie.

4 Thine aduersaries roare in the middes of thy Congregation, & set vp their banners for signes.

5 He that lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was renoumed, as one, that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they breake downe the carued worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast thy Sanctuarie into the fyre, & rased it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their hearts, Let vs destroye them altogether: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We se not our signes: there is not one Prophet more, nor any with vs that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shal the aduersarie reproche thee? shal the enemy blaspheme thy Name for euer?

11 Why withdrawest thou thine hand, euen thy right hand? drawe it out of thy bosome, & consume them.

12 Euen God is my King of olde, working saluacion in the middes of the earth.

13 Thou didest diuide the Sea by thy power:

thou brakest the heades of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of Liuiathan in pieces, and gauest him to be meat for the people in wildernes.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine and riuier: thou dryedst vp mightie riuers.

16 The daye is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made somer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hathe reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hathe blasphemed thy Name.

19 Giue not the soule of thy turtle dooue vnto the beast, & forget not the Congregation of thy poore for euer.

20 Consider thy couenant: for the darke places of the earth are ful of the habitacions of the cruel.

21 Oh let not the oppressed returne ashamed, but let the poore & nedie praise thy Name.

22 Arise, o God: mainteine thine owne cause: remember thy dailie reproche by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: for the tumulte of them, that rise against thee, ascendeth continually.

PSAL. LXXV.

1 The faithful do praise the Name of the Lord, which shal come to iudge at the tyme appointed, when the wicked shalbe put to confusion, and drinke of the cup of his wrath. 10 Their proude shalbe abated, & the righteous shalbe exalted to honour.

¶ To him that excelleth. Destroye not. A Psalm or song committed to Asaph.

We wil praise thee, o God, we wil praise thee, for thy Name is nere: therefore they wil declare thy wondrous workes.

2 When I shal take a conuenient time, I wil iudge righteously.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolued: but I wil establish the pillars of it. Selah.

4 I said vnto the foolish, Be not so foolish, and to the wicked, Lift not vp the horne.

5 Lift not vp your home on high, nether speake with a stiffe necke.

6 For to come to preferment is nether from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South,

7 But God is the iudge: he maketh low and he maketh hie.

8 For in the hand of the Lord is a cup, and the wine is red: it is ful mixt, and he poureth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shal wring out & drinke the driegs thereof.

PSAL. LXXVI.

This Psalm setteth forth the power of God & care for the defence of his people in Ierusalém, in the destruction of the arme of Saneherib: 11 And exhorteth the faithful to be thankfull for the same.

To him that excelleth on Neginóth. A Psalm or song committed to Asaph.

1 God is a knowen in Iudáh: his Name is great in Israél.
 2 For in b Shalém is his Tabernacle, and his dwelling in Zión.
 3 There brake he the arrowes of the bowe, the shield and the sworde and the battel. Sélah.
 4 Thou art more bright and puissant, then the mountaines of pray.
 5 The stoute harted are spoiled: they haue slept their slepe, & all the men of strength haue not d founde their hands.
 6 At thy rebuke, ó God of Iaakób, bothe the chariot and horse are cast a slepe.
 7 Thou, euen thou art to be feared: and who shal stand in thy e sight, when thou art angrie!
 8 Thou didest cause thy iudgement to be heard from heauen: therefore the earth feared and was stil, 9 When thou, ó God, arose to iudgement, to f helpe all the meke of the earth. Sélah.
 10 Surely the rage of man shal turne to thy praise: the remnant of the rage shalt thou reffraine.
 11 Vowe & performe vnto the Lord your God, all ye that be h rounde about him: let the bring presents vnto him that oght to be feared.
 12 He shal a cut of the spirit of princes: he is terrible to the Kings of the earth.

PSAL. LXXVII.

The Prophet in the name of the Church rehearseth the greatnes of his affliction, and his grievous temptations, 6 Whereby he was druen to this end to consider his former conuersation, 11 And the continual course of Gods workes in the preseruatiõ of his seruants, & so he confirmeth his faith against these temptations.

For the excellent musician * Ieduthún. A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 My a voyce came to God, when I heard me.
 2 In the day of my trouble I fought y Lord: my sore ranne & ceased not in the night: my soule refused comfort.
 3 I did thinke vpon God, and was b troubled: I prayed, and my spirit was ful of anguish. Sélah.

 8 Is his f mercie cleane gone for euer: doerth his promes faile for euer more?
 9 Hathe God forgotten to be merciful: hath he shut vp his tender mercies in displeasure: Sélah.
 10 And I said, This is my s death: yet I remebred the yeres of the right had of the most High.
 11 I remembred the workes of the Lord: certainly I remebred thy wonders of olde.
 12 I did also meditate all thy workes, & did deuise of thine Actes, saying, 13 Thy waie, ó God, is h in the Sanctuarie: who is so great a God as our God!
 14 Thou art the God that doest wonders: thou hast declared thy power among the people.
 15 Thou hast redeemed thy people w thine at me, euen the sonnes of Iaakób and Ioseph. Sélah.
 16 The waters sawe thee, ó God: the waters sawe thee, and were afraied: yea, the depths trembled.
 17 The cloudes powred out water: the heauens gaue a l founde: yea, thine arrowes went abroad.
 18 The voice of thy thundre was round about: the lightenings lightened the worlde: the earth trembled and shoke.
 19 Thy waie is in the Sea, and thy paths in the great waters, and thy fotesteps are not m knowen.
 20 Thou didest leade thy people like shepe by the hand of Mosés and Aarón.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

He sheweth how God of his mercie chose his Church of the posteritie of Abraham, & Reprocheth the Stubburne rebellion of their fathers, that the children might not onely vnderstand, 11 That God of his fre mercie made his couenant with their anctours, 17 But also seing them so maliciõus and peruerse, might be ashamed and so turne wholly to God. In this Psalm the holie Ghost hath comprehended as it were, the summe of all Gods benefites, to the intent the ignorant and grosse people might see in fewe wordes the effect of the whole histories of the Bible.

4 We wil not hide them from their children, but to the generacion to come we wil shewe the praises of the Lord, his power also, and his wonderful workes that he hath done:

5 How he established a testimonie in Iaakob, and ordeined a Law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they shulde teache their children:

6 That the posteritie might knowe it, and the children, which shulde be borne, shulde stand vp, & declare it to their children:

7 That they might set their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God but kepe his commandmentes:

8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generacion: a generacion that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithful vnto God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed & shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the couenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law, 11 And forgate his Actes, and his wonderful workes that he had shewed them.

12 He did maruelous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zóan.

13 He deuided the Sea, and led them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 In the daie time also he led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fyer.

15 He claue the rockes in the wildernes, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 He broght floods also out of the stonie rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they sinned stil against him, and prouoked the Higheest in the wildernes, 18 And tempted God in their heartes in requiring meat for their lust.

19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wildernes?

20 Beholde, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can he giue bread also, or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard and was angrie, and the fyer was kindled in Iaakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel, 22 Because they beleued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the cloudes aboute, and had opened the dores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe man vpon the for to eat, and had giuen them of the wheat of heauen.

25 Man did eat the bread of Angels: he sent them meat ynough.

26 He caused the Eastwinde to passe in the heauen, and through his power he broght in the Southwinde.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered foule as the sand of the sea.

28 And he made it fall in y middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat and were wel filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their lust, but the meat was yet in their mouthes, 31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and flew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they sinned stil, and belued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their daies did he consume in vanitie, and their yeres hastily.

34 And when he slewe them, they sought him & they returned, & sought God early.

35 And they remembered that God was their strength, & the moste high God their redemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not vpriight with him: nether were they faithful in his couenant.

38 Yet he being merciful forgave their iniquitie, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his angrie, and did not stirre vp all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were flesh: yea, a winde that passeth and commeth not againe.

40 How oft did they prouoke him in the wildernes, & grieue him in the desert?

41 Yea, they returned, and temored God, and limited the Holie one of Israel.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the daie when he deliuered them from the enemy,

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, & his wonders in the field of Zóan, 44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that they coulde not drinke.

45 He sent a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, & frogs, which destroyed them.

o So that they had y, which was necessarie & sufficient but their lust made them to conuert that which they knewe God had deuised them.

1 Cor 10.5. p God vsed y meanes of the winde to teach them, that all euils were at his commandment, & that no distance of place could let his working.

Zion which he loued. 69 And he buylt his Sanctuarie as an high palace, like the earth, which he stablished for euer. 70 He chose David also his seruant, & toke him from the shepfoldes. 71 Euen from behinde the ewes withyong broght he him to fede his people in Iakob, and his inheritance in Israel. 72 So he fed them according to the simplicitie of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

The Israelites complaine to God for the great calamities and oppression that they suffered by Gods enemies. And confessing their finnes, flee to Gods mercies with full hope of deliurance. 10 Because their calamities were sained with the contempt of his Name. 13 For the which they promise to be thankfull.

A Psalm committed to Asaph. O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holie Temple haue they defiled, & made Ierusalem the apes of stones. The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meat vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy Sanctes vnto the beastes of the earth. Their blood haue they shed like waters round about Ierusalem, and there was none to burie them. We are a reproche to our neighbours, euen a scorn and derision vnto them that are round about vs. Lord, how long wilt thou be angrie for euer: shall thy gelouise burne like fyer? Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee, and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name. For they haue deuoured Iakob and made his dwelling place desolate. Remember not against vs the former iniquities, but make haste & let thy tender mercies preuent vs: for we are in great miserie. Helpe vs, O God of our saluacion, for the glorie of thy Name, and deliuer vs, and be merciful vnto our sinnes for thy names sake. Wherefore shulde the heathen saie, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our fight by the vengeance of the blood of thy seruants that is shed. Psal LXXXIII a This Psalme seemeth to haue bene composed, as a forme of prayer against the dangers that the Church was in in the daies of Iosaphat. b He calleth them Gods enemies, which are enemies to his Church. c The elect of God are his secret ones: for he hideth them in the secret of his tabernacle, & preserveth them fro all dangers. d They were not content to take the Church as prisoner, but sought verily to destroy it. e By all secret meanes. f They thought to haue subuerted thy counsel, wherein the perpetuall of the Church was established.

A 2^d or Psalme committed to Asaph.

Kepe not thou silence, O God: be not still and cease not, O God.

For lo, thine enemies make a tumult: & they hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.

They haue taken craftie counsel against thy people, and haue consulted against thy secret ones.

They haue said, Come and let vs cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

For they haue consulted together in heart, & haue made a league against thee:

The tabernacles of Edom, & the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Agarims:

A song or Psalme of* Heman the Exrahite to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah for him that excelleth vpon Alamath a Leannath.

Lord God of my saluaciō, I crye day and night b before thee.

Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine eare vnto my crye.

For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth nere to the graue.

I am counted among them that go downe vnto the pit, and am as a man without strength:

c Fre amōg the dead, like the slaine lying in the graue, whome thou remembrest no more, and they are cut of from thine d hand.

Thou hast laied me in the lowest pit, in darkenes, & in the depe.

Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou hast vexed me with all thy e waues. Sélah.

Thou hast put away mine f acquaintan- ce farre frō me, & made me to be abhorred of them: s I am shut vp, and can not get forthe.

h Mine eye is sorowful through mine affliction: Lord, I call daiely vpon thee: I stretche out mine hands vnto thee.

Wilt thou shewe i a miracle to y dead? or shal the dead rise & praise thee? Sélah.

Shal thy louing kindenes be declared in the graue? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

Shal thy wonderous workes be knowne in the darke? and thy righteousnes in the land k of obliuion?

But vnto thee haue I cryed, o Lord, and early shal my prayer come before thee.

Lord, why doest thou reiect my soule, & hidest thy face from me?

I am afflicted and at the point of death: l from my youth I suffer thy terrors, doubting of my life.

Thine indignations go ouer me, & thy feare hathe cut me of.

They came round about me daiely like water, & compassed me together.

My louers and friends hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance hid them selues.

2 With manie wordes doeth the Prophet praise the goodnes of God, 33 For his testament & couenant, that he had made betwene him and his elect by Iesus Christ the sonne of Daud: 38 Then doeth he complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Daud, so that to the outwarde appearance the promes was

O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which art a mightie Lord, and thy truth is about thee!

i Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a mā slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.

 40 Thou hast broken downe all his walles: thou hast layed his fortresses in ruine.
 41 All that go by the way, spoile him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.
 42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.
 43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sworde, and hast not made him to stand in the battel.
 44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the grounde.
 45 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened, and coucred him with shame. Sélah.

PSAL. XC.

Moses in his prayer setteth before vs the eternal fauour of God toward vs. Who are nether admonished by the breuitie of their life. Nor by his plagues: to be thankful. Therefore Moses praeseth God to renewe their hearts & continue his mercies toward them. & their posteritie for euer.

A prayer of Moses, the man of God.
 1 Lord, thou hast bene our habitacion from generacion to generacion.
 2 Before the mountaines were made, and before thou hadest formed the earth, & the worlde, euen from euerlasting to euerlasting thou art our God.
 3 Thou turnest man to destructio: againe thou failest, Returne, ye sonnes of Adam.
 4 For a thousand yeres in thy sight are as yesterdaie when it is past, and as a watche in the night.
 5 Thou hast ouerflowed them: they are as a slepe: in the morning he groweth like the grasse:
 6 In the morning it flourisheth and groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.
 7 For we are consumed by thine angrie, and by thy wrath are we troubled.
 8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret finnes in the light of thy countenance.
 9 For all our dayes are past in thine angrie: we haue spent our yeres as a thoght.
 10 The time of our life is thre score yeres & ten, and if they be of strength, foure score yeres: yet their strength is but labour and sorowe. for it is cut of quickly, and we slee away.
 11 Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy feare is thine angrie.
 12 Teache vs so to number our dayes, that we maie applie our hearts vnto wisdom.
 13 Returne (O Lord, how long?) and be pacified toward thy seruants.

The Prophet in toyng prayer & his complaint, sheweth his faith neuer failed Seeing mans life is short, & hath created man to bestowe thy benefites vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death wil preuent thee
 He meaneth Gods enemies did not onely sclander him behinde his backe: but also mocked him to his face, & as it were cast their iniuries in his bosome
 So he calleth the that persecute Church.
 They laugh at vs, & pacie ly waite for thy comming of thy Christ.
 Thus the Scripture vieth to call the Prophetes.
 Thou hast bene as an house and defence vnto vs in all our troubles & trauailes now this foure hundred yeres
 Thou hast chosen vs to be thy people before fundacions of the worlde were layed.
 Moses by lamenting the frailtie & shortnes of mans life moueth God to pittie
 Though man thinke his life long, & is in dede moste short, yea, thogh it were a thousand yeres: yet Gods sight it is as nothing, and as the watche that lasteth but thre houres.
 Thou takest the away suddenly as with a flood Thou callest vs by thy rods to consider the shortnes of our life, & for our sinnesthon abridge our daies
 Our daies are not onely short, but miserable, forasmuch as our finnes daily prouoke thy wrath
 If mans life for the feare, which feare the onely knowe. Which is by considering the shortnes of our life & by meditating the heauelie toyces meaning, wilt thou be angrie? Our sake comfort in thy seruants.

f Thogh there shalbe euermore re enemies against Gods kingdome, yet he promisseth to ouercome them
 I wil mercifully performe my promyses to him, notwithstanding his infirmities & offences
 His power, glorie & state
 He shal ensoye the land round about
 His excellēt dignitie shal appere herein that he shal be named the sonne of God, & his first borne, wherem he is a figure of Christ
 Thogh for sinnes of the people & state of this kingdome decayed: yet God reserved still a roote, til he had accomplished this promes in Christ
 Sam. 7. 14.
 Thogh the faithful answer nothin all point to their profission, yet God wil not breake his couenant with them
 For God in promising hath the respect to his mercie and not to mans power in performing Ely if I lie vnto Dauid: which is a manner of vber
 As long as sunne & moone endure, they shalbe witnesses to me of this promes
 Because of horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God as thogh he sawe not the performance of his promes. And thus discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doute & impacience
 By this he meaneth his horrible dispacion and scattering of kingdome, which was vnder Ieroboam: or elses, which came thence that by Spirit of propheticie Erian speaketh of those great misfortune afterwarde to passe at the captiuitie of Babylon. f He kindeme failed before it came to perfection or was ripe.

Here is described in what assurance he liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, & committeth him self wholly to his protection in all temptations. 14 A promes of God to those that loue him, know him and trust in him, so deliuer them, & giue them immortal glorie.

WHoso dwelleth in the secrect of the moste High, shal abide in the shadowe of the Almighty.
 2 I wil say vnto the Lord, O mine hope, and my fortres: he is my God, in him wil I trust.
 3 Surely he wil deliuer thee frō the snare of the hunter, and from the noisome pestilence.
 4 He wil couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be sure vnder his feathers: his trueth shal be thy shield and buckler.
 5 Thou shalt not be afraid of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flieth by daye:
 6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darknes: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone daye.
 7 A thousand shal fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shal not come nere thee.
 8 Douteles with thine eyes shalt thou behold, and see the rewarde of the wicked.

PSAL. XCII.

This psalme was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre up the people to acknowledge God and to praise him in his workes: the Prophet reioyceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodlie, whē he is moste flourishing, shal moste spedely perish. 12 In the end is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

IT is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, o moste High,
 2 To declare thy louing kindenes in the morning, and thy trueth in the night,
 3 Vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viole with the song vpon the harpe.
 4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy workes, & I wil reioyce in the workes of thine hands.
 5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! thy thoughts are verie depe.
 6 An vnwise man knoweth it not, and a foole doeth not vnderstand this,

2 Exalt thy self, & Iudge of the worlde, & render a rewarde to the proude.

3 Lord, how long shal the wicked, how long shal the wicked triumph?

4 They prate & speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vante themselves.

5 They smite downe thy people, & Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They slaie the widow and the stranger, and murther the fatherles.

7 Yet they saie, The Lord shal not see: neither wil the God of Iakob regarde it.

8 Vnderstand ye vnwise among the people: and ye fooles, when wil ye be wise?

9 He that planted the eare, shal he not heare? or he that formed the eye, shal he not see?

10 Or he that chasticeth the nations, shal he not correcte? he that teacheth man knowledge, shal he not knowe?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.

12 Blessed is the man, whome thou chasticest, & Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, 13 That thou maiest giue him rest from the dayes of euil, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.

An earnest exhortation to praise God 4 For the government of the worlde, and the election of his Church, 8 An admonition not to followe the rebellion of the old fathers, that tempted God in the wilderness: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promes.

1 Come, let vs reioice vnto the Lord: let vs sing aloude vnto the rocke of our saluacion.

2 Let vs come before his face with praise: let vs sing loude vnto him with psalme s.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King aboute all gods.

An exhortation vnto the Jewes and Gentiles to praise God for his mercie. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdome of Christ.

1 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: sing vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, & praise his Name: declare his saluacion from daie to daie.

3 Declare his glorie among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

a He sheweth Gods seruice handeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the sacrifice of praise & thanksgiving.

b Euen Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idoles, & mans braue imagines.

c All things are gouerned by his providence.

d By these three wordes he significeth one thing: meaning y they make wholly giue them selues to serue God.

e That is, the focke whome he gouerneth with his owne hand.

f By the contēting of Gods worde.

g They were without judgement & reason.

h That is, into the land of Canaan, where he promised them rest.

i Or, vanities.

Besides Gods power & wisdom in creating, and gouerning, his great mercie also appeareth in y he hath giuen his people his worde and counsaile.

Whose office it is to take vengeance on the wicked.
b Shewe by effect y thou art Iudge of the worlde to punish y wicked.
c That is, brag of their crueltie & oppression, or, cheme them selues none alltogether.
d Seeing the Church was thus, so sore oppressed, it ought not to seeme strange to vs, if we be it so now, & therefore we muste call to God to take our cause in hand.

e He sheweth that they are desperat in mallice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gaue the felmes wholly to downkedly.

f He sheweth that it is impossible, but God shal de heare, se & vnderstand their wickednes.

g If God punish whole nations for their sin, it is more folle for anie one man, or els asene to thinke that God wil spare the.

h God hath care ouer his and chasticeth them for their welch, y they shulde not perill for guet with the wicked.

i Whē I thought there was no way but death in my trouble & distress I neuer founde thy present helpe. Though the wicked iudges pretend iustice in oppressing the Church, yet they haue not that anxtious of God.

By offering vp your selues wholly vnto God, declare that you worship him only.

his courtes.

g He propheseth that the Gentils shalbe partakers of the Iewes of Gods promes h He shal regenerate them anew with his Spirit, and restore them to the image of God i If the insensible creatures shal haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whome he hath taken milidition & sinne.

- 9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.
- 10 Saie among the nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the worlde shalbe stable, and not moue, & he shal iudge the people in righteoufnes.
- 11 Let the heauens reioyce, & let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, and all that therein is.
- 12 Let the field be ioyful, and all that is in it: let all the trees of the wood then reioyce
- 13 Before the Lord, for he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: he wil iudge the worlde with righteoufnes, & the people in his trueth.

PSAL. XCVII.

The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the coming of the kingdom of Christ. Dreadful to the rebels & idolaters. And ioyful to the iust, whome he exhorteth to innocencie, & to reioycing and thankesgiuing.

g He sheweth where God reigneth, there is all felicitie and spiriual ioye b For the Gospel shal norbe only preached in Iudea, but through all yles & countreis c He is thus described to kepe his enemies in feare, which commonly contemne Gods power d Thus feare bringeth not the wicked to true obediēce, but maketh them to runne awaie from God e He signifiseth Gods iudgements are in a readines to destroy the idolaters. f Let all that which is esteemed in y worlde, fall downe before him g The Iewes shal haue occasion to reioyce y the Gentiles are made partakers of them of Gods fauour h He requereth two things of his childre: the one y thei detest vice, the other y thei put their trust in God for their deliuerance, i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sowne and laied vp in store for them k Be unaneful of his benefites and onely trust in his defence.

- 1 The Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the multitude of the yles be glad.
- 2 Cloudes and darkenes are round about him: righteoufnes and iudgement are the fundatō of his throne.
- 3 There shal go a fyer before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.
- 4 His lightnings gaue light vnto y worlde: the earth sawe it and was afraid.
- 5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
- 6 The heauens declare his righteoufnes, and all the people se his glorie.
- 7 Confounded be all they that serue graven images, & that glorie in idoles: worship him all ye gods.
- 8 Ziō heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudāh reioyced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.
- 9 For thou, Lord, art moſte high aboue all the earth: thou art muche exalted aboue all gods.
- 10 Ye that loue the Lord, hate euil: he preſerueth the ſoules of his Saints: he wil deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.
- 11 Light is sowne for the righteous, and ioye for the vpright in heart.
- 12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and giue thanks for his holie remembrance.

PSAL. XCVIII.

An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercie and fidelitie in his promes by Christ. By whome he hath communicated his saluacion to all nations.

A Psalme.

- 1 Sing vnto the Lord a new song: for he hath done maruelous things: his right hand, and his holie arme haue gotten him the victorie.
- 2 The Lord declared his saluation: his righteoufnes hathe he reueiled in fight of the nations.
- 3 He hath remembered his mercie and his trueth toward the house of Iſraēl: all the ends of the earth haue ſene the saluation of our God.
- 4 All the earth, sing ye loude vnto y Lord: crye out and reioyce, and sing praises.
- 5 Sing praise to the Lord vpon the harpe, euen vpon the harpe with a ſinging voice.
- 6 With shalmes and ſounde of trumpets sing loude before the Lord the King.
- 7 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is, the wolde, and they that dwell therein.
- 8 Let the floods clap their hands, & let the mountaines reioyce together:
- 9 Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteoufnes shal he iudge the worlde, and the people with equitie.

PSAL. XCIX.

He commendeth the power, equitie and excellencie of the kingdom of God by Christ ouer the Iewes and Gentiles. And prouoketh them to magnifie the same & to serue the Lord, following the example of the ancient Fathers. Moyses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers a That is, some song newly made in token of their wonderful deliuerance by Christ. b He pſermeth his Church miraculouſly. c For the deliuerance of his Church. d God was moued by none other meanes to gather his Church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but because he wolde performe his promes e By this repetition & earnest exhortation to gae praises with instruments, & also of the diuine creatures, he signifiseth y the worlde is neuer able to praise God ſufficiently for their deliuerance.

- 1 The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: he sitteth betweene Cherubims, let the earth be moued.
- 2 The Lord is great in Ziō, & he is high aboue all the people.
- 3 They shal praise thy great and feareful Name (for it is holie)
- 4 And the Kings power, that loueth iudgement: for thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement & iustice in Iacob.
- 5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his foreſtole: for he is holie.
- 6 Moſes & Aaron were among his Priests, and Samuel among ſuche as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, & he heard them.
- 7 He spake vnto the in the cloudie pillar: shei kept his testimonies, & the Lawe that he gaue them.
- 8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though y didest take vengeance for their inuentions.
- 9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his holie Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holie.

a When God deliuereth his Church, all y enemies that haue cause to tremble b Though the wicked rage against God, yet the godlie shal praise his Name, & mightie power c That is, before his Temple or Arke, where he promised to heare, when they worshipped him, as now he promiseth his spiriual presēce, whereſoner his Church is assembled d Vnder these thre he comprehendeth y whole people of Iſraēl, with whome God made his promes e For the more liberally y God dealeth with his people, the more doeth he punish them that abuse his benefites.

PSAL. C.

He exhorteth all to serue the Lord, who hath chosen vs & preserved vs. And to entre into his assemblies to praise his Name.

A psalme of praise.

1 Sing a ye loude vnto the Lord, all the 2 Scarth.
 Serue the Lord with gladnes: come befo-3 re him with ioyfulness.
 Knowe ye that euen the Lord is God: he hath ^b made vs, & not we our selues: we are his people, and the shepe of his pasture.
4 Enter into his gates with praise, & into his courtes with reioycing: praise him and blesse his Name.
5 For the Lord is good: his mercie is deulasting, and his trueth is from generacion to generacion.

a He prophiecieth of Gods benefite in calling the Gentiles, shalbe so great: that at thei that haue wonderful occasio to praise his mercie & reioyce
 b He chiefly meaneth, touching the spiri- tual regenera- tion, whereby we are his shepe and peo- ple c He sheweth that God wil not be wor- shiped, but by that meanes, which he hath appointed.
 d He declareth that we ought neuer to be wearie in praising him, seeing his mercies toward vs last for euer.

PSAL. CI.

David describeth what gouernement he wil obserue in his house and kingdome: He wil punish and correct, by rooting forth the wicked, & And cherishing the good- lie persons.

A Psalme of David.

1 Wil I sing mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, wil I sing.
2 I wil do wisely in the perfite waie: til y^e comest to me: I wil walke in y^e vprightnes of mine heart in the middes of mine house.
3 I wil set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the worke of them that fall away: it shal not cleaue vnto me.
4 A froward heart shal depart from me: I wil knowe none euil.
5 Him, that priuely ^d slandereth his neighbour, wil I destroy: he that hath a proude loke and high heart, I can not suffer.
6 Mine eyes shalbe vnto the ^e faithful of the land, that they maie dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfit waie, he shal ser-ue me.
7 There shal no deceitful persone dwell within mine house: he that telleth lies, shal not remaine in my sight.
8 Betimes wil I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I maie cut of all the workers of iniquitie from the Citie of the Lord.

a David confi- dereth what maner of King he wolde be, whē God shulde place him in the throne, promising openly, that he wolde be merciful and iust
 b Though as yet y^e differeth to place me in the kingly dig- nite, yet wil I geue my self to wisdom & vprightnes: being a private man c He sheweth that magistra- tes do not their dueties, except they be enemies to all vice d In punishing so punish the- se vices, which are most pernicious in the that are about Kings, he de- clarerh, that he wil punish all e He sheweth what is y^e true waie of the sword: to punish the wicked and to mainteine the good.
 f Magistrates must immediatly punish vice, lest it growe to farther incon- uenience and if heathen Magistrates are bounde to do this, how muche more shal that haue the charge of the Church of God?

PSAL. CII.

It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the faithful to praise in the captiuitie of Babylon. 16 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18 Wherof followeth the praise of God to be published vnto all posteritie. 22 The commendation of the Gentiles. 23 And the stabilitie of the Church.

1 A prayer of the afflicted, when he shalbe in distress, and pouerth forth his meditation before the Lord.

a Wherby, is signified, that wher we be in neuer so great miseri- wy, yett here is euer place left for praies.

1 O Lord, heare my praier, and let my crye come vnto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me:
 when I call, make haste to heare me.
3 For my daies are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an herth.
4 Mine heart is smitten and withereth like graffe, because I forgate ^d to eat my bread.
5 For the voice of my groning my bones do cleaue to my skin.
6 I am like a pellicane of the wildernes: I am like an owle of the deserts.
7 I wathe and am as a sparowe alone vpon
 the house toppe.
8 Mine enemies reuile me daiely, & they y^e rage agaist me, haue ^f sworne agaist me.
9 Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weping, 10 Because of thine ^h indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vpon, and cast me downe.
11 My daies are like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like graffe.
12 But thou, O Lord, doest ⁱ remaine for e-uer, and thy remembrance from generaciō to generacion.
13 Thou wilt arise & haue mercie vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the ^k appointed time is come.
14 For thy seruants delite in the stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust thereof.
15 Then the heathen shal feare the Name of the Lord, & all the Kings of the earth thy glorie,
16 Whē the Lord shal buylde vpon Ziōn, & shal appeare ^m in his glorie, 17 And shal turne vnto the praier of the desolate, and not despise their praier.
18 This shalbe writen for the generacion to come: & the people, which shalbe ⁿ crea-red, shal praise the Lord.
19 For he hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuarie: out of the heauen, did the Lord beholde the earth, 20 That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the ^o children of death:
21 That they maie declare the Name of the Lord in Ziōn, and his praise in Ierusalēm, 22 When the people shalbe gathered together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.
23 He ^q abated my strength in the waie, &
 shortened my daies.
24 And I said, O my God, take me not away

b He declarerh that in our praier we must liuely feele that, which we desire and rediably beleue to obtene
 c These excessiue kindes of speache shew how muche y^e affliction of y^e Church ought to wounde the heartes of the goodlie.
 d My seruants were to greue, that I passed not for mine ordinarie tode e Euer mourning, and sol- rarie, calling our feareful cryes f Haue conspi- red my death.
 g I haue not risen out of my mourning to take my res- tition.
 h He sheweth that the afflic- tions did not onely thus moue him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displea- sare
 i How soener we be fraile: yet thy pro- mes is sure & the remembra- ce thereof shal confirme vs for euer k That is, the sancte yerres, which by the prophet Iere- mie y^e daies appointed, Ier. 29, 12
 l The more y^e the Church is in miserie and desolation, the more ought the faithful to loue and praise it m That is, when he shal haue drawn his Church out of the darkenes of death n The deliue- rance of the Church is a most excellēt benefite: & there- fore he com- pareth it to a newe creations for in their ba- nishment the bodie of the Church seemed to haue bene dead, which by deliue- rance was as it were created anewe.
 o Who now in their bani- themēt colde loke for nothing but death.
 p He sheweth that Gods Na- me is neuer more praised, then when religion flourisheth, and the Church in- creaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished vnder the kingdome of Christ.
 q The Church lament that shee not the time of Christ, which was promised, but haue but fewe yerres and short daies.

away in the middes of my daies: thy yeres endure from generacion to generacion.

¶ If heauen & earth perish, muche more man shal perish but the Church by reason of Gods promes endureth for euer. ¶ Seing y^e hast chosen thy Church out of the worlde, & ioyned it to thee, it can not but continue for euer: for y^e art euerlasting.

- 25 Thou hast aforetime laied the fundation of the earth, and the heauens are y^e worke of thine hands.
- 26 ¶ Thei shal perish, but thou shalt endure: euen thei all shal waxe olde as doeth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and thei shalbe changed.
- 27 But thou art the same, and thy yeres shal not faile.
- 28 The children of thy seruants shal continue, and their seide shal stand fast in thy sight.

PSAL. CIII.

¶ He prouoketh all to praise the Lord, which hath pardoned is finnes, deliuered him from destruction, and giuen him sufficient of all good things. ¶ Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he sheweth like a moste tender Father towards his children. ¶ The frailtie of mans life. ¶ An exhortation to man and Angels to praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

¶ He waketh his dulnes to praise God, the way y^e both vnderstanding & affectiōs, minde & heart are to liue to serue the his praise. ¶ This is the beginning and chiefest of all benefites: remission of sinne. ¶ For before y^e we haue remission of our finnes, we are as dead mē in the graue. ¶ As the egle, whether beake ouergroweth, sucketh blood, and so is roused in strength, euen so God miraculously giueth strength to his Church aboue all mā's expectation. ¶ As to his chief minister & next to his people. ¶ He sheweth first his seuerie iudgement, but so soone as the sinner is humbled, he receiueth him to mercie. ¶ We haue p^{er}u^e by continual experience, y^e his mercie hath euer preuailed against our offences. ¶ As great as the worlde is, so ful is it of signes of Gods mercies toward his faithful, when he hath removed their finnes. ¶ He declareth that mā hath nothing in him selfe to moue God to mercie, but onely the confession of his iniquities & miserie.

- 1 My soule, praise y^e the Lord, & all that is within me, praise his holie Name.
- 2 My soule, praise thou the Lord, and forget not all his benefites.
- 3 Which forgoueth all thine iniquitie, & healeth all thine infirmities.
- 4 Which redemeth thy life from y^e graue, and crowneth thee with mercie and compassions.
- 5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy youth is renewed like the egles.
- 6 The Lord executeth righteousnes and iudgement to all that are oppressed.
- 7 He made his waies known vnto Moyses, & his works vnto the children of Israël.
- 8 The Lord is ful of compassion and mercie, slowe to angie and of great kindenes.
- 9 He wil not alwaie chide, nether kepe his angre for euer.
- 10 He hath not dealt with vs after our finnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.
- 11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, so great is his mercie toward them that feare him.
- 12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he removed our finnes from vs.
- 13 As a father hath compassiō on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.
- 14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembereth that we are but dust.
- 15 The daies of mā are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.
- 16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shal knowe it no more.
- 17 But the louing kindenes of the Lord endureth for euer & euer vpon them that feare him, and his rightcousnes vpon childrens children, dureth for euer & euer vpon them that feare him, and his rightcousnes vpon childrens children,

- 18 Vnto them that kepe his couenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to do them.
- 19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.
- 20 Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandement in obeying the voice of his worde.
- 21 Praise the Lord, all ye his hostes, ye his seruants that do his pleasure.
- 22 Praise the Lord, all ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord.

PSAL. CIII.

¶ An excellent Psalme to praise God for the creation of the worlde & the gouernance of the same by his maruelous prouidence. ¶ Herein the Prophet praiseth against the wicked, who are occasions that God dimmished his blessings.

- 1 My soule, praise thou y^e Lord: o Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, y^e art clothed with glorie & honour.
- 2 Which couereth him self with light as with a garment, & spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.
- 3 Which laucth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.
- 4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, & a flaming fyre his ministers.
- 5 He fet the earth vpon her fundacions, so y^e it shal neuer moue.
- 6 Thou coueredst it with y^e deepe as with a garment: the waters wolde stand aboue the mountaines.
- 7 But at thy rebuke thei flee: at the voice of thy thunder thei haste awate.
- 8 And the mountaines ascend, & the vallis descend to the place which thou hast established for them.
- 9 But thou hast set them a bonde, which thei shal not passe: thei shal not returne to couer the earth.
- 10 He sendeth the springs into the vallis, which runne betwene the mountaines.
- 11 Thei shal giue drinke to all the beastes of the field, and the wilde asses shal quenche their thirst.
- 12 By these springs shal the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the braches.
- 13 He watereth the mountaines from his chambers, & the earth is filled with the frute of thy workes.
- 14 He causeth grasse to growe for the cattel, and herbe for the vse of man, that he maie bring forth the bread out of the earth,
- 15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, & oyle to make the face to shine,

¶ His iuste & faithful kepig of his promes. ¶ To whome he giueth grace to feare hi, & to obey his worde. ¶ In that that we, which naturally are slowe to praise God, exhort the Angels, & willigly do it, we hurte vpon our selues to consider our duerie, & awake out of our sluggishnes.

¶ The Prophet sheweth that we neede not to enter into the heauens to seeke God, for asmuch as all the ordre of nature, with y^e proprietie and placing of the clements, are moste lively mirrours to se his maiestie in b As the Prophet here sheweth y^e all visible powers are readie to serue God: so the Apostle to y^e Ebr 1, 7 beholderth in this glasse, how y^e verie Angels alio are obedient to his comandement c Thou makest the sea to be an ornament vnto y^e earth d If by thy power y^e diddest not bridle the rage of y^e waters, it were not possible, but the whole worlde shulde be destroyed: e If God prouide for y^e verie beastes, much more wil he extend his prouident care to man. f There is no part of the worlde so barren, where moste euident signes of Gods blessings appeare not g From the cloudes. h He deserueth Gods prouident care ouer man, who doeth not onely prouide necessarie things for him, as herbes & other meate but also things to reioyce and comforte him, as wine & oyle or unntments.

 11 Saying, Vnto thee wil I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.
 12 Albeit they were fewe in number, yea, ve-rie fewe & strangers in the land, 13 And walked about from nacion to nació, from one kingdome to another people, 14 Yet suffred he no man to do them wrong, but reprobued Kings for their sakes, saying, 15 Touche not mine anointed, and do my Prophetes no harme.
 16 Moreouer he called a famine vpon the land, & vterly brake the staf of bread.
 17 But he sent a man before them: Ioséph was solde for a slaue.
 18 They helde his fete in the stockes, & he was laied in yrons, 19 Vntil his appointed time came. & the Ruler of the people deliuered him.

 21 He made him Lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance, 22 That he shulde binde his princes vnto his wil, & teache his Ancients wisdom.
 23 Then Iſraél came to Egypt, and Iakób was a stranger in the land of Ham.
 24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressers.
 25 He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftely with his seruants.
 26 Then sent he Mosés his seruant, & Aa-rón whome he had chosen.
 27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the land of Ham.
 28 He sent darkenes, and made it darke: and they were not disobedient vnto his commission.
 29 He turned their waters into blood, and slewe their fish.
 30 Their land broght forthe frogs, euē in their Kings chambers.
 31 He spake, & there came swarmes of flies & lice in all their quarters.

34 r He spake, and the grasshoppers came, & caterpillers innumerable,

35 And did eat vp all the grasse in their lād, and deuoured the frute of their grounde.

36 *He smote also all the first borne in their land, euē the beginning of all their strength.

37 He broght them forthe also with siluer and golde, and there was f none feble among their tribes.

38 Egypr was t glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.

39 He spred a cloude to be a couering, and fyre to giue light in the night.

40 They u asked, and he broght quailes, & he filled them with the bread of heauen.

41 He opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, and ran in the drye places like a riuer.

42 For he remembered his holie x promises to Abraham his seruant, 43 And he broght forthe his people with y ioye, & his chosen with gladnes, PSAL. CVI.

1 The people dispersed Under Antiochus do magnifie the goodnes of God among the iuste and repentāt: 4 Desiring to be broght againe into the land by Gods mercifull visitation 8 And after the manifeste marvels of God wrought in their deliuerance forthe of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people rehearsed. 47 They do pray & desire to be gathered from among the heathē to the intent they may praise the Name of the God of Israel

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise a ye y Lord because he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shewe forthe all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that b kepe iudgement, and do righteousnes at all times.

4 Remember me, o Lord, with the c fauour of thy people: visit me with thy saluacion,

5 That I may se the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioye of thy people, and glorie with thine inheritance.

6 We haue d sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.

7 Our fathers vnderstode not thy wōders in Egypt, nether remembered they y multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euē at the red Sea.

8 Neuertheles he e saued them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be knowne.

e The Prophet exhorreth the people to praise God for his benefites past, y thereby their mindes maie be strenghtened against all present troubles & despaire h He sheweth that it is not ynough to praye God with mouth, except y whole heart agre therunto, and all our life be thereunto framed.

i Let y good will that thou bearest to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I maie be receiued in to the number of thine

d By earnest confession as wel of their owne, as of their fathers finnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promises wolde piete them. e The inestimable goodnes of God appeareth in this, that he wolde change the ordre of nature, rather then his people shulde not be deliuered, although they were wicked.

9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dryed vp, and he led them in the depe, as in the wildernes.

10 And he saued them frō the aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemye.

11 *And the waters covered their oppressers: not one of them was left.

12 Then f beleued they his wordes, & sang praise vnto him.

13 But incontinently they forgate his wordes: they waited not for his s counsell, 14 But lusted with concupiscēce in the wildernes, & tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent h leannes into their soule.

16 They eniued Mosēs also in the tentes, & Aaron the holie one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and i swallowed vp Dathan, and covered the companie of Abiram.

18 And the fyre was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horēb, & worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their k glorie into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Sauour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderful workes in the land of Ham, and fearful things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroye them, had l not Mosēs his chosen stand in the breach before hī to turne away his wrath, lest he shulde destroye them.

24 Also they contemned that m pleasant land, & beleued not is worde, 25 But murmured in their tentes, & hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore n he lifted vp his hād against them, to destroye them in the wildernes, 27 And to destroye their sede among the nacions, and to scater them throughout the countreis.

28 They ioyned them selues also vnto o Baal-peor, & did eat the offrings of the p dead.

29 Thus they q prouoked him vnto angre, with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But r Phinehas stode vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was staied.

31 *And it was s imputed vnto him for righteousnes frō generacion to generaciō for euer.

32 They angred him also at the waters of *Meribāh, so that t Mosēs was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his spirit, so that he spake vnadvisedly with his lippes.

48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israēl for euer & euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVII.

The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, & gathered vnto him to giue thanks; 9 For his mercifull providence of God governing all things at his good pleasure, 20 Sending good & euil, prosperitie and aduersitee to bring men vnto him 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouthes stopped.

Praise ^a the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.
 3 Let them, ^b which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shewe how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppresser, 9 For he satisfied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungrie soule with goodnes.

 10 They, that dwell in darkenes and in the shadowe of death, being bounde in miserie and yron,

^d Then y^e true way to obey God, is to followe his expresse cōmandement: also hereby all are exhorted to descēde into the selues, forasmuch as none are punished, but for their sinnes

^l He sheweth by y^e sea what care God hath the ouer man, for in that he deliuereth the from the great dangers of the sea, he deliuereth them, as it were, from a thousand deaths

^o Though before euerie drop seemed to fight one against another, yet at his cōmandement they are as still, as though they were frozen.

11 Because they ^d rebelled against the wordes of the Lord, and despised the counsel of the moste High, 12 When he humbled their heart with heauines, then they fell downe and there was no helper.
 13 Then they ^e cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distress.

14 He brought them out of darkenes, and out of the shadowe of death, and brake their bands a sunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindenes, & his wonderful workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For he hath broken y^e gates of braſſe, and braſt the barres of yron a sunder.

17 ^z Fooles by reason of their transgression & because of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their soule abhorreth all meat, & they are brought to deaths dore.

19 Then they crye vnto the Lord in their trouble, & he deliuereth them from their distress.

20 ^h He sendeth his worde and healeth them, and deliuereth them from their ignaues.

21 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindenes, & his wonderful workes before the sonnes of men, 22 And let them offer sacrifices of ^k praise, and declare his workes with reioycing.

23 They that go downe to the ^l sea in shippes, & occupie by the great waters, 24 They see the workes of the Lord, & his wonders in the depe.

25 For he commandeth and raiseth the stormie winde, and it listeth vp the waues thereof.

26 They mounte vp to the heauē, & descēd to the depe, so that their soule ^m melteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their ⁿ cunning is gone.

28 Then they crye vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distress.

29 He turneth the storme to calme, so that the waues thereof are still.

30 When they are ^o quieted, they are glad, & he he

he bringeth them vnto the haue, where they wolde be.

31 Let the therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindenes, and his wonderful workes before the sonnes of men.

This great benefite ought not onely to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places & assemblies. Or, false.

32 And let them exalt him in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the assemblie of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods into a wildernes, and the springs of waters into drienes, 34 And a fruteful land into barrennes for the wickednes of them that dwell therein.

For the loue he beareth to his Church he changeth the ordre of nature for their commoditie 35 Againe he turneth the wildernes into pooles of water, & the drye land into water springs.

Continual increase & prolific.

36 And there he placeth the hungrie, and they buyld a cite to dwell in,

37 And sowe the fields, & plant vineyardes, which bring forth the fruteful increase.

38 For he blesseth them, and they multiplie exceedingly, and he diminisheth not their cattel.

As God by his prouidence doeth exalte men, so doeth he also humble them by afflictions to knowe them selues. For their wickednes and tyrannie he causeth the people & subiects to contene them. They, whose faith is lightened by Gods Spirit, shall reioyce to see Gods iudgements against the wicked & godlie.

39 Againe men are diminished, and brought lowe by opprefion, euil and sorowe.

40 He powreth contempt vpon princes, and causeth them to erre in desert places out of the way.

41 Yet he raiseth vp the poore out of miserie, and maketh him families like a flocke of shepe.

42 The righteous shall see it, and reioyce, and all iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

43 Who is wise that he maie obserue these things: for they shall vnderstand the louing kindenes of the Lord.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalm is composed of two other Psalmes before, the seven and sixtieth. The matter here contained is, 1 That Dauid giueth him self with heart and voyce to praise the Lord, 2 And assureth him self of the promises of God concerning his kingdome ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 3 Who though he seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet he shall in the end cast downe our enemies.

A song or Psalm of Dauid.

God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I wil sing & giue praise.

This earnest affection declareth that he is free from hypocrisy, and suggestion. He hath his heart set on God, because chiefly hee seeketh for the glory of God.

1 Awake viole & harpe: I wil awake early.

2 I wil praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I wil sing vnto thee among the nations.

3 For thy mercie is great about the heauens, and thy truth vnto the cloudes.

4 Exalt thy self, O God, about the heauens, and let thy glorie be vpon all the earth,

5 That thy beloued maie be deliuered: 6 Help with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his holines: therefore I wil reioyce, I shall diuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

Let all the world see thy iudgements, in that that thou art God ouer all, & so confesse that thou art glorious. God by his benefites maketh vs partakers of his mercies, he admoniseth vs to be earnest in praier to desire him to continue and flourish his graces. As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so wil he shewe him self constant, and holie in his promises, so that these nations following shall be subiect vnto me.

8 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done auaie.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manasse shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iuda is my Lawgiuer.

9 Moab shall be my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will leade me into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, which haddest forsaken vs, & didest not go forthe, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Though God we shall do valiantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

Psalm 60, 8.

From the sixte verse of this psalme vnto the last read the exposition in the thre score psalme, and like verbe.

PSAL. CIX.

Dauid being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saül, praierth God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. And vnder this he speaketh of Iudas the traitor vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God. 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may knowe the worke to be of Gods. 30 Them doeth he promise to giue praises vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

1 Holde not thy tongue, O God of my praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened vpon me: thei haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 Thei compassed me about also with wordes of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship thei were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my self to praier.

5 And they haue rewarded me euil for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let his aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be iudged, let him be condemned, and let his praier be turned into sinne.

8 Let his daies be fewe, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherles, & his wife a widowe.

10 Let his children be vagabunds & begge and seke bread, comming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extortioner catche all the hate, and let the strangers spoile his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercie vnto him: nether let there be anie to shewe mercie vpon his fatherles children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, & in the generation following let their name be put out.

14 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done auaie.

Though all the worlde condemne me, yet thou wilt approue mine innocencie, & that is a sufficient praise to me.

To declare I had none other refuge, but thee, in whome my confidence was at rest.

Whether it were Dauid or Saül, or some familiar friend he had betrayed him, he praierth not of private affliction, but moued by Gods Spirit.

God would take vengeance vpon him. As to the end all things turne to their profite: so to the reprobate euen those things, which are good, turne to their damnation.

This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Act 1. 20. He declarerth that the curse of God lieth vpon the extortioners: who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawful gotten goods, are Thus punisherth the parents of their wicked children.

T.iii. by Gods iudgement deprived of all the Lord to the third, and fourth generation the wickednes in their wicked children.

15 But let them alway be before the Lord, that he maie cut of their memorial from the earth.

16 Because he remembred not to shewe mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorowful hearted to slaye him.

17 As he loued cursing, so shal it come vnto him, & as he loued not blessing, so shal it be farre from him.

18 As he clothed him self with cursing like a raiment, so shal it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it be vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith he shalbe alwaie girded.

20 Let this be the rewarde of mine aduersarie from the Lord, and of them, that speake euil against my soule.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with me according vnto thy Name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

22 Because I am poore and nedie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I departe like shadowe that declineth, and am shaken of as the grasshopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, & my flesh hath lost all fatnes.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: saue me according to thy mercie.

27 And they shal knowe, that this is thine hand, & that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shal arise and be confounded, but thy seruant shal reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them couer the selues with their confusion, as with a cloke.

30 I wil giue thanks vnto the Lord greatly with my mouth, and praise him among the multitude.

31 For he wil stand at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them, that wolde condemne his soule.

PSAL. CX.

David prophesieth of the power and everlasting kingdom giuē to Christ. And of the Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Levi.

A Psalm of David.

The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy foetstole.

The Lord shal send the rod of thy power out of Zion: be thou ruler in the middes of thine enemies.

Thy people shal come willingly at the time of assembling: thine armie is holie beautie: the youth of thy wombe shalbe as the morning dewe.

The Lord sware and wil not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer after the ordre of Melchi-zédek.

The Lord, that is at thy right hand, shal wounde Kings in the daie of his wrath.

He shalbe Iudge among the heathen: he shal fill all with dead bodie, and smite the head ouer great countreis.

He shal drinke of the brooke in y waie: therefore shal he lift vp his head.

PSAL. CXI.

He giueth thanks to the Lord for his merciful workes toward his Church, and declareth wherein true wisdom and right knowledge consisteth.

Praise ye the Lord.

I wil praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assemblie and Congregation of the iust.

The workes of the Lord are great, and ought to be fought out of all them that loue them.

His worke is beautiful and glorious, and his righteousnes endureth for euer.

He hath made his wonderful workes to be had in remembrance: the Lord is merciful and full of compasion.

He hath giuen a portion vnto the that feare him: he wil euer be mindeful of his couenant.

He hath shewed to his people the power of his workes in giuing vnto them the herita ge of the heathen.

The workes of his hands are truth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

They are established for euer & euer, and are done in truth and equitie.

He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commanded his couenant for euer: holie and feareful is his Name.

The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord: all they that obserue them, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

They only are wise, that feare God: and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his worde.

PSAL. CXII.

He praiseth the felicitie of the that feare God, and condemneth the cursed state of the contemners of God.

Praise ye the Lord.

Blessed is the man, that feareth the Lord, & deliteth greatly in his commandements.

His sede shalbe mightie vpon earth: the generacion of the righteous shalbe blessed.

Riches and treasures shalbe in his house, and his righteousness endureth for euer.

Vnto the righteous ariseth light in darkness: he is merciful and full of compasion and righteous.

The faithful in all their aduersities knowe that all shal ge wal with them: for God wil be merciful and iust.

A good

h He sheweth God accu- some to pla- gue them after a strange sort, & shewes them felices cruel toward other. i Thus gueth the Lord to enerie man the thing, wherein he delieth, & the reprobate can not accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their lusts and reprobate min- des.

k For being destitute of mans helpe, he fully trusted in the Lord, that he wolde deliuer him. l As he is not merciful, gracious and long suffering, so shewe they self inoffen- sive. m Meaning, he hath no state nor ab- sence in this worlde. n For hunger, that came of sorow, he was leane, and his natural moy- sture failed hi. o The more grieuous & se- uer afflicted him, the more earnest & in- stant was he in prayer. p They shal gaine nothing by cursing me. q Not onely in confessing it secretly in my self, but also in declaring it before all the congregation. r Hereby he sheweth he had not so do- & them, that were of little power, but of the iudges and princes of the world.

s Thus Christ in the two & twentie of Maie gueth the interpreta- tion hereof, & sheweth he shal not properly be applied vnto David, but to him self. t And these he shal stretch through all the worlde: & this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his worde. c By thy worde thy people shalbe assembled into thy Church, whose increase shalbe so abundant & wonderful, as the drops of the dewe.

d As Melchi- zédek & figure of Christ was bothe King & Priest: so the office can not be accomplish- ed in any King, same onely in Christ. e Chro. 26. 21. f No power shalbe able to resist him. g Under this similitude of a captaine, that is to grede to destroy his enemies, that he wil not scarce drinke by the waie, he shew- eth how God wil destroy his enemies.

a The Prophet declareth that he wil praise God bothe pri- uely & openly, & that from his heart, as he consecrated hi selfe wholly & onely vnto God. b He sheweth Gods workes are a faith- full cause, wherefore we shoulde praise him, but chiefly his benefites toward his Church. c God hath giuen to his people all that was necessarie for this, & wil do likewise for his covenants sake, and in this sense the Hebrew worde is take. Prou. 30. 8 & 31. 15. d As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth he declare him- selfe iust and true in his go- uernement of the same.

a He meaneth that reverent feare, which is in children of God, which causeth them to desire onely the worde of God. b The godlie shal haue abun- dance & contentment, be- cause their hearts is satisfi- ed in God.

d He sheweth what is frute of mercie: to lend freely & not for gaine, & so to measure his doings, that he maie be able to helpe where nede requircth, and not to bestowe all on hi selfe. The godlie pincbe not niggardely, but distribute liberally, as the necessitie of poore requircth, & as his power is able. His power & prosperous estate

g The blessings of God vpon his children shal cause the wicked to dye for saue

- 5 A good man is merciful and lendeth, and wil measure his affaires by iudgement.
- 6 Surely he shal neuer be moued: but the righteous shalbe had in euerlasting remembrance.
- 7 He wil not be afraid of euil tidings: for his heart is fixed, & beleueth in the Lord.
- 8 His heart is stablished: therefore he wil not feare, vntil he se his desire vpon his enemies.
- 9 He hath distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousness remaineth for euer: his house shalbe exalted with glorie.
- 10 The wicked shal se it and be angrie: he shal gnash with his teeth, and consume awaie: the desire of the wicked shal perish.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord for his providence. 7 In that that contrarie to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

a By this office repetition he stirreth vp our colde dulnes to praise God, seeing his workes are so wonderful, & that we are created for the same cause

b If Gods glorie shine through all the world, & therefore of all ought to be praised, what great commendation were it to his people, among whom chiefly it shineth, if they shulde not carockly extoll his Name?

c By preferring the poore to high honour, and giuing the barre childie, he sheweth God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinarie meanes, but also by miracles

Exod. 14. 21

a That is, fro the that were of a strange language

b The whole people were witnesses of his holie matie, in adopting them, and of his mightie power in deliuering them. c Seeing that these dead creatures felt Gods power, & after a sorte sawe it, muche more his people ought to consider it & glorifie him for the same

- 1 Praise, O ye seruants of the Lord, praise the Name of the Lord.
- 2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord from hence forth and for euer.
- 3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same.
- 4 The Lord is high aboue all nations, & his glorie aboue the heauens.
- 5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hathe his dwelling on high!
- 6 Who abaseth him self to beholde things in the heauen and in the earth.
- 7 He raiseth the needie out of the dust, & lifteth vp the poore out of the dung,
- 8 That he maie set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.
- 9 He maketh the baren woman to dwell with a familie, & a ioyful mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 How the Israelites were deliuered forthe of Egypt, & of the wonderful miracles, that God wrought at that time which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercie toward his Church, who, when the course of nature faileth, preserueth his miraculously

- 1 When Israel went out of Egypt, & the house of Iaakob from the barbarous people,
- 2 Iudáh was his sanctification, & Israel his dominion.
- 3 The Sea sawe it and fled: Iordén was turned backe.
- 4 The mountaines leaped like rams, & the hilles as lambs.
- 5 What ailed thee, O Sea, that thou fleddest? O Iordén, why wast thou turned backe?

- 6 Ye mountaines, why leaped ye like rams, and ye hilles as lambs?
- 7 The earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Iaakob.
- 8 Which turneth the rocke into water-pool, & the flint into a fountaine of water.

PSAL. CXV.

1 A prayer of the faithful oppressed by idolatrous tyrants against whom they desire that God would succour them, & Trusting moste constantly that God wil preserue them in this their nede, seeing that he hath adopted and receiued them to his fauour, is Promising finally that they wil not be vnthankful of so great a benefite, if it woulde please God to heare their prayer, & deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

1 Not vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glorie, for thy louing mercie and for thy truthes sake.

- 2 Wherefore shal the heathen saie, Where is now their God?
- 3 But our God is in heauen: he doeth what soeuer he wil.
- 4 Their idoles are siluer and golde, euen the worke of mens hands.
- 5 They haue a mouth and speake not: they haue eyes and se not.
- 6 They haue eares and heare not: they haue noses and smell not.
- 7 They haue hands and touche not: they haue fete and walke not: neither make they a sounde with their throte.
- 8 They that make them are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.
- 9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.
- 10 O house of Aarón, trust ye in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.
- 11 Ye that feare the Lord, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper and their shield.
- 12 The Lord hathe bene mindfull of vs: he wil blesse, he wil blesse the house of Israel, he wil blesse the house of Aarón.
- 13 He wil blesse them that feare the Lord, bothe smal and great.
- 14 The Lord wil encrease his graces toward you, euen toward you and toward your children.
- 15 Ye are blessed of the Lord, which made the heauen and the earth.
- 16 The heauens, euen the heauens are the Lords: but he hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men.
- 17 The dead praise not the Lord, neither anie that go downe into the place of silence.
- 18 But we wil praise the Lord from hence forth and for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

thing but to shewe his fatherlie care toward men. 1 Though the dead see forthe Gods glorie, yet he meaneth here, that they praise hi not in his Church and Congregation.

d Oght them his people to be insensible, when they see his power & matie? e That is, caused miraculously water to come out of the rocke in moite abundance, Exod. 17. 6.

a Because God promised to deliuer them, not for their sakes, but for his Name, Isa 48. 11, therefore they gioune their praise vpon this promise b Whe' the wicked se God accomplisheth not his pines, as they imagine, they thinke there is no God.

c No impediments can let his worke, but he vseth euen the impediments to serue his will d Seeing that neither the matter, nor the forme can commend the idoles, it followeth there is nothing, why they shulde be esteemed e He sheweth what great vantage it is to aske helpe of the, which not onely haue no helpe in them, but lacke sense and reason.

f As muche without sense, as blockes & stones

PSAL. CXVI.

1 David being in great danger of Saül in the desert of Maon, perceiving the great and insupportable love of God to ward him, magnifieth such great mercies. 13 And protesteth that he wil be thankfull for the same.

1 I loue y Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his care vnto me, when I did call vpon him in my daies.

3 When the snares of death compassed me, and the griefs of the graue caught me: where I founde trouble and sorowe,

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseeche thee, O Lord, deliuer my soule.

5 The Lord is merciful & righteous, and our God is full of compassion.

6 The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserie and he saued me.

7 Returne vnto thy rest, O my soule: for y Lord hath bene beneficial vnto thee,

8 Because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eyes from teares, & my feete from falling.

9 I shall walke before the Lord in the land of the liuing.

10 I beleued, therefore did I speake: for I was sore troubled.

11 I said in my feare, All men are liars.

12 What shall I render vnto the Lord for all his benefites toward me?

13 I wil take the cup of saluacion, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

14 I wil paie my vowes vnto y Lord, euen now in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his Saints.

16 Beholde, Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, & the sonne of thine handmaid: thou hast broken my bonds.

17 I wil offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, & wil call vpon the Name of the Lord.

18 I wil paie my vowes vnto the Lord, euen now in the presence of all his people, 19 In the courtes of the Lords house, euen in the maddes of thee, O Ierusalém. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVII.

1 He exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because he hath accomplished all that he promised to the Lawes, the promises of life euertlasting by Iesus Christ.

1 All nations, praise ye the Lord: all ye people, praise him.

2 For his louing kindenes is great toward vs, and the truth of the Lord endureth for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVIII.

1 David reuelled of Saül and of the people, as the time appointed obtained the kingdome. 4 For the which he biddeeth all them, that feare the Lord, to be thankfull. And vnder his persone in all this was Christ liuely set forth, who should be of his people rescued.

1 Praise ye y Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let Israël now saie, That his mercie endureth for euer

3 Let the house of Aaron now saie, That his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Let them, that feare the Lord, now saie, That his mercie endureth for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lord in trouble, and the Lord heard me, and set me at large.

6 The Lord is with me: therefore I wil not feare what man can do vnto me.

7 The Lord is with me among them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.

10 All nations haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord shall I destitute them.

11 Thei haue compassed me, yea, they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shall destitute them.

12 Thei came about me like bees, but they were quenched as a fyre of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destitute them.

13 Thou hast thrust sore at me, that I might fall. but the Lord hath holpen me.

14 The Lord is my strength and song: for he hath bene my deliuerance.

15 The voice of ioye and deliuerance shall be in the tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shall not dye, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.

18 The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not deliuered me to death.

19 Open ye vnto me the gates of righteousness, that I maye go in to the, & praise the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall entre into it.

21 I wil praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast bene my deliuerance.

22 The stone, which the buylders refused, is the head of the corner.

23 This was the Lords doing, & it is maruelous in our eyes.

24 This is the daie, which the Lord hath made: let vs reioyce and be glad in it.

25 O Lord, I praie thee, saue now: O Lord, I praie thee now giue prosperitie.

a Because God by creating Dauid King, shewed his mercie toward his afflicted Church, y Prophet doeth not onely hi self thanke God, but exhorteth all y people to do the same. b We are here taught, that y more y troubles oppresse vs, the more ought we to be instant in prayer. c Being exalted to this estate, he assured himselfe to haue ma enen to be his enemy. Yet he doubted not, but God wolde mainte ne him because he had placed him. d He sheweth y he had trusted in vaine, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue bene preferred to y kingdome, & therefore he put his trust in God & obtayned. e He noteth Saül his chief enemy. f In y he was deliuered, it came not of himselfe, nor of y power of man, but onely of Gods fauour: therefore he wil praise hi. g He smiteth bothe to reare graces him self, & to cause others to do y same, because y in his person the Church was restored. h So that all, y are bothe farre & nere, maye see his mightie power. i He willeth the dores of y Tabernacle to be opened, y he maye declare his thankfull minde. Ihu 28.26. Mat. 21.41. Act. 4.11. Rom. 9.33. 1. Pet. 2.6. k Though Saül and the chief powers refused me to be King, yet God hath preferred me aboue them all. l Where God hath shewed chiefly his mercie by appointing me King, and deliuering his Church. m The people praie for the prosperitie of Dauids kingdome, who was the figure of Christ.

a He granteth y no pleasure is so great, as to see Gods helpe in our necessitie, neither that any thing more stirreth vp our loue toward him.

b That is, in euery time to see helpe. w was when he was in distress. c He sheweth forth the frutes of his loue in calling vpon him, & in asking him to be swift & merciful, & to helpe them y are destitute of aide & couel.

d Which was waquered before, now rest vpon the Lord: for he hath bene beneficial towards thee.

e The Lord wil preserue me, & saue my life. f I felt all the se things, and therefore was moued by faith to confesse the.

g In my great distress I thought God wolde not regard me, & is but lies and vauntie, yet I ouercame this temptation, and felt y feruarie h In the Lawe thei vsed to make a baket, when thei gaue solene thanks to God, and to take the cup & drinke in signe of thanksgiving.

i I perceiue y God hath a care ouer his, so that he bothe disposeth their death and taketh an account. k I wil thanke him for his benefites: for that is a iuste payment, to confesse that we owe all to God.

67 Before I was afflicted, I went astrait: but now I kepe thy worde.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teache me thy statutes.

69 The proude haue imagined a lie against me: but I wil kepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 Their heart is fat as greafe: but my delite is in thy Law.

71 It is good for me that I haue bene afflicted, that I maie learne thy statutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thousands of golde and siluer.

I O D.

73 Thine hands haue made me and facioned me: giue me vnderstanding therefore, that I maie learne thy commandements.

74 So thei feare thee, seing me shal reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy worde.

75 I knowe, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou hast afflicted me iustly.

76 I praise thee that thy mercie maie comfort me according to thy promes vnto thy seruāt.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I maie liue: for thy Law is my delite.

78 Let the proude be ashamed: for thei haue dealt wickedly and falsely with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let suche as feare thee turne vnto me, and thei that knowe thy testimonies.

80 Let mine heart be vpriight in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

C A P H.

81 My soule fainteth for thy saluacion: yet I waite for thy worde.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy promes, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am like a bottel in the smoke: yet do I not forget thy statutes.

84 How manie are the daies of thy seruāt? when wilt thou execute iudgement on the that persecute me?

85 The proude haue digged pittes for me, which is not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsely: helpe me.

87 They had almost consumed me vpon the earth: but I forsoke not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindenes. so shal I kepe the testimonie of thy mouth.

L A M E D.

89 O Lord, thy worde endureth for euer in heauen.

90 Thy trueth is from generacion to generacion: thou hast laied the fundacion of the earth, and it abideth.

91 Thei continue euen to this daie by thine ordinances: for all are thy seruants.

92 Except thy Law had bene my delite, I shulde now haue perished in mine affliction.

93 I wil neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am thine, saue me: for I haue fought thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for me to destroye me: but I wil consider thy testimonies.

96 I haue sent an end of all perfection: but thy commandement is exceeding large.

a Because God leaueh not his worke, that he hath begon, he desireth a newe grace is, y he wolde continue his mercies.

b When God sheweth his grace towarde me, he testifieth to others that he faileth nor them that trust in him.

c He declareth, y when he fele nor Gods mercies, he was at dead.

d That is, be comforted by mine exaple.

e He sheweth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his worde.

a Though my strenght faile me, yet my soule groweth and sigheth, resting stil in thy worde.

b Like a skynbottel or bladder that is parched in the smoke.

c How long wilt y afflict thy seruāt?

d They haue not onely oppressed me violently, but also craftely cōspired against me.

e He assureth him self, that God wil deliuer his & destroye suche as vnjustly persecute them.

f Finding no helpe in earth, he lifeth vp his eyes to heauen.

a Because none shulde esteeme Gods wordes according to the changes of things in this worlde, he sheweth that it abideth in heauen & therefore is immutable.

b Seing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate, wherin y hast created them, muche more thy trueth remaineth constant & vchangeable.

c He proueth by effect, y he is Gous child, because he seeketh to vnderstand his worde.

d There is no thing so perfit as earth, but it hath an end: onely Gods worde lasteth for euer.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruteful vine on the sides of thine house, and thy children like the oliue plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zión shall blesse thee and thou shalt see the welth of Ierusalém all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israël.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 He admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be deliuered. 6 And the enemies for all their glorious shewes, shall suddenly be destroyed.

A song of degrees.

1 They haue often times afflicted me from my youth (may Israël now say)

2 They haue often times afflicted me from my youth: but they colde not preuaile against me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made long sorrowes.

4 But the righteous Lord hathe cut the cordes of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zión, shall be all ashamed and turned backwarde.

6 They shall be as grassse on the house toppes, which withereth afore it cometh forth.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, nether the glammer his lap:

8 Nether they, which go by, say, The blessing of the Lord be vpon you, or, We blesse you in the Name of the Lord.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their bottomles miseries do cry vnto God, and are heard. 3 They confesse their sinnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

A song of degrees.

1 Out of the deepe places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, heare my voyce: let thine eares attend to the voice of my praier.

tend to the voice of my praier.

3 If thou, O Lord, straitly markest iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But mercie is with thee, that thou maicst be feared.

5 I haue waited on the Lord: my soule hath waited, and I haue trusted in his worde.

6 My soule waiteth on the Lord more then the mornig watche watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israël waite on the Lord: for with the Lord is mercie, and with him is great redemption.

8 And he shall redeme Israël from all his iniquities.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 Dauid charged with ambition and greedie desire to reigne, protesteth his humilitie & modestie before God, and teacheth all men, what they shoulde do.

A song of degrees or Psalm of Dauid.

1 Lord, mine heart is not hawtie, nether are mine eyes loftie, nether haue I walked in great matters and hid from me.

2 Surely I haue behaued my self, like one waiaed from his mother, and kept silence: I am in my self as one that is waiaed.

3 Let Israël waite on the Lord from hence forth and for euer.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 The faithful, growding on Gods promises made vnto Dauid, desire that he wolde establish the same, both as touching his posteritie and the buylding of the Temple, to praise there as was forespoken, Deut. 12.5.

A song of degrees.

1 Lord, remember Dauid with all his affliction.

2 Who swore vnto the Lord, & vowed vnto the mightie God of Iakób, saying,

3 I wil not enter into the tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to slepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber,

5 Vntil I finde out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mightie God of Iakób.

6 Lo, we heard of it in Ephráthah, & soude it in the fields of the forest.

7 We wil entre into his Tabernacles, and worship before his foretote.

8 Arise, O Lord, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saintes reioyce.

10 For thy seruant Dauids sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

11 The Lord hathe sworne in trueth vnto Dauid, and he wil not shrinke from it, was barren as a forest & compassed about onely with hilles.

12, Ierusalém, because that afterward his Arke shulde remove to none other place.

f Let the effect of thy grace bothe appeare in the Priests & in the people. g As thou first madest promises to Dauid, so continue it to his posteritie, that whatsoever they shall aske for their people, it may be granted.

f That is, indued with strength & vertues from God: for these are signes of Gods blessings, & not of nobles. g Suche children shall be able to stop their aduersaries mouthes, when their godlie life is maliciously accused before iudges.

a God approoveth not our life, except it be reformed, according to his worde. b The worlde esteemeth them happy, which live in welth, and ydleness: but the holie God approoveth them best, which live of the meane part of their labours. c Because Gods fauour appeareth in none outward thing more then in increase of children, he promiseth to enriche the faithful with this gift. d Because of the spiritual blessing, which God hathe made to his Church, these temporal things shall be granted. e For except God blessed his Church publicly, thus private blessing were nothing.

a The Church now afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hathe ever bene such from the beginning: to be molested most grievously by wicked: yet in time it hath ever bene deliuered. b Because God is righteous, he can not but plague his aduersaries, and deliuer his, as oxen out of the floue. c The enemies which lift themselves most high, and as it were, approche nere to the sunne, are consumed with the heate of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godlie humilitie. d That is, which shall perih and none shall passe for the. e Being in great distress and sorrow.

b He declareth that we can not be iust before God, but by forgiveness of sinnes. c Because of nature you are merciful: therefore the faithful reuerence thee. d He sheweth to whom the mercie of God doeth appertaine: to Israël, that is to the Church, & not to the reprobate.

a He setteth forth his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and gouerners. b Which passe the measure & limites of his vocation. c He was volde of ambitio & wicked desires.

a That is, with how great diligence he came to the Kings dome, & how great zeale & care he went about to build the Temple. b Because the chief charge of the King was to set forth Gods glorie, he sheweth, which he colde take no rest, nether wolde go about any worldelike thing, were it neuer so necessary, before he had executed his office. c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence. d The comune brute was that which Arke shulde remaine in Ephráthah: which is, in Beth-lehem, a plentiful place, but after we perceived, which was the worst place it in Ierusalém, which saiyng, Of the frute of thy bodie wil I set vpon thy throne.

h Because this can not be accomplished but in Christ. it fol loweth that s pmes was s ritual

- 12 If thy sonnes kepe my couenant, and my testimonies, that I shal teache them, their sonnes also shal sit vpon thy throne for euer.
13 For the Lord hathe chose Zión, & loued to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest for euer: here wil I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.
15 I wil surely blesse her vitailles, & wil satisfie her poore with bread, 16 And wil clothe her Priests with saluacion, and her Saintes shal showte for ioye.
17 There wil I make the home of Daud to bud: for I haue ordeined a light for mine Anointed.
18 His enemies wil I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shal flourish.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

This psalme containeth the commendacion of brotherlie amitie among the seruants of God. A song of degrees or Plalm of Daud.

a Because the greatest parte were againe Daud, though some faouored him, yet when he was establi shed King, at length they joy ned all together like brethren: & there fore he sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherlie loue

- 1 Beholde, how good and how comelie a thing it is, brethren to dwell euen together.
2 It is like to the precious ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which wet downe on the border of his garments:
3 And as the dewe of Hermon, which falleth vpon the mountaines of Zión: for there the Lord appointed the blessing & life for euer.

b The ornament was a figure of the graces, which come fro Christ the head vnto his Church c By Hermon & Zión he meaneth the plentifull countrey about Ierusalem d Where there is suche concord

PSAL. CXXXIII.

He exhorteth the Leuites, watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord. A song of degrees.

a Ye are Leuites & chiefly appointed to this office b For their charge was not onely to kepe the Temple, but to praise there & to giue God thanks c And therefore he hath all power, blesse thee with his Fatherlie loue declared in Zión Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and blesse the people

- 1 Beholde, praise ye the Lord, all ye seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the House of the Lord.
2 Lift vp your hands to the Sanctuarie, & praise the Lord.
3 The Lord, that hathe made heauen and earth, blisse thee out of Zión.

PSAL. CXXXV.

He exhorteth all the faithfull, of what estate so euer they be, to praise God for his maruelous workes, especially for his graces toward his people, wherein he hathe declared his maiestie. To the confusion of all idolaters and their idoles. Praise ye the Lord.

a Ye Leuites are in his Sanctuarie b Meaning the people: for the people and Leuites had their courtes, which were places of the Temple service.

- 1 Praise the Name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise him.
2 Ye stand in the House of the Lord, & in the courtes of the House of our God, 3 Praise ye the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comelie thing.

melie thing.

- 4 For the Lord hathe chosen Izaakob to him selfe, and Israél for his chief treasure.
5 For I knowe that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.
6 Whatsoeuer pleased the Lord, that did he in heauen and in earth, in the sea, & in all the depths.
7 He bringeth vp the cloudes from the ends of the earth, and maketh the lightnings with the raine: he draweth forth the winde out of his treasures.
8 He smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.
9 He hathe sent tokens and wonders into the middes of thee, o Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

c That is, hath frely loued the posteritie of Abraham.

d He toyneeth Gods power with his wil, to the intent that we shalde not separate them: & hereby he wil lete Gods people to depend on his power, & he confirmeth by examples. Ier. 10. 12. exord. 12. 18.

He smote manie nacions, & slewe mighty Kings:

Nom 31. 5. & 24. 38.

- 11 Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og King of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:
12 And gaue their land for an inheritance, euen an inheritance vnto Israél his people.
13 Thy Name, o Lord, endureth for euer: o Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

e He sheweth what frute the godlie coeuenant of Gods power. whereby this se how he destroyeth his enemies: & deliuereth his people.

For the Lord wil iudge his people, and be pacified towards his seruants.

f That is, gouerne & defende his people. g By shewing what punishment God appointeth for heathen idolaters, he warneth his people to beware the like offence, seeing y idoles haue neither power nor life, & y their deliriance came not by idoles, but by y mightie power of God read psal 115 vers. 4.

- 14 The idoles of the heathen are siluer & golde, euen the worke of mens hands.
15 They haue a mouth, & speake not: they haue eyes and see not.
16 They haue eares and heare not, nether is there anie breath in their mouth.
17 They that make them, are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.
18 Praise the Lord, ye house of Israél: praise the Lord, ye house of Aarón.
19 Praise the Lord, ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.
20 Praised be the Lord out of Zión, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

A moste earnest exhortation to giue thanks vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things: whub standeth in confessing that he giueth vs all of his mere liberalitie.

- 1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.
2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.
3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie endureth for euer.
4 Which onelie doth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer:
5 Which by his wisdom made the heauens: for his mercie endureth for euer:
6 Which hathe stretched out the earth

a By this repetition he sheweth that least of Gods benefices bide vs to thankes giue: but chiefly his mercie, & is principally declared towards his Church.

The people of God in their banishment seing Gods true religion decaye, liued in great anguish and sorowe of heart: the which grief the Chaldeans did so liule pittie, that they rather increased the same daily with tauntes reproches and blasphemies against God. David with great courage praiseth the goodnes of God toward him, the which is so great. That it is knowne to forren princes, who shal praise the Lord together with him. And he is assured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

¶ A Psalme of David.

I Wil praise thee with my whole heart: a Ieuen before the a gods wil I praise thee.

2 I wil worship toward thine holie b Temple and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindenes and for thy trueth: for thou hast magnified thy Name about all things by thy worde.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

David to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisie sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not.

Which he confirmeth by the creation of man. After declaring his zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemy to all them that contemne God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

d Albeit the faithful are troubled with their particular griefs, yet the comūne sorrowe of the Church is moſte grieuous vnto them, & are ſu. he as they can not but remember and lament e The decaye of Gods religion in their courtes was ſo grieuous, that no ioye colde make them glad, except it were restored.
f According as Ezekiel 25.15. & Ieremie 49. 7 vers prophesied: & Abdias vers 10 sheweth that the Edomites, who came of Esau, who thou didest visit Ierusalém h He alludeth to Iſaías propheticke chap 13, & 16 vers promising good success to Cyrus and Darius, whose ambition moued to fight against Babylón: but God vsed them as his rods to punish his enemies.

a Euen in the presence of Angels & of thei, y^e haue autoritie among me.
b Bothe y^e Temple & ceremonial seruice at Christs coming were abolished: so that now God wil be worshipped onely in spirit and trueth c Thou hast strengthened me against mine outward & inward enemies.
d All y^e worlde shal confesse y^e thou hast wonderfully preserved me, & performed thy promises e Distance of place can not hinder God to shewe mercie to his, and to iudge the wicked, though they thinke y^e he is farre of f Thogh mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord, who hath begun his worke in me, wil continue his grace to y^e end.

g In our greatest affliction & seruic, when we looked for nothing lesse then to haue had anie succour.
h Seing y^e God prouideth, not for the beastes: muche more hath he care ouer his.
i Being that all ages haue had most plaine testimonies of Gods benefites.

a That is, we abode a long time: & albeit y^e the countrey was pleasant, yet colde it not state our rears, nor turne vs fro the true seruice of our God.
b To wit, of that countrey by our silence we shoulde sigulie that we hoped no more in God.

O Lord, thou hast tryed me and knowe me.
 Thou knowest my sitting & my rising: thou vnderstandest my thought a farre off.
 Thou hast compassed my paths, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my waies.
 For there is not a worde in my tongue, but lo, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.
 Thou holdest me strait behinde and before, and laiest thine hand vpon me.
 Thy knowledge is to wonderfull for me: it is so high that I can not attaine vnto it.
 Whether shal I go from thy Spirit? or whether shal I flee from thy presence?
 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I lie downe in hel, thou art there.
 Let me take the wings of the morning, & dwell in the vttermost partes of the sea:
 Yet thether shal thine hand leaue me, & thy right hand holde me.
 If I saie, Yet the darkenes shal hide me, euen the night shal be light about me.
 Yea, the darkenes hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: y darke and light are bothe alike.
 For thou hast possessed my reins: y hast couered me in my mothers wombe.
 I wil praise thee, for I am fearfully & wonderously made: maruelous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it wel.
 My bones are not hid from thee, though I was made in a secret place, & facioned beneth in the earth.
 Thine eyes did see me, when I was without forme: for in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were facioned, when there was none of them before.
 How vnder therefore are thy thoughts vnto me, O God! how great is y summe of the!
 If I shulde counte them, thei are mo then the sand: whē I wake, I am stil with thee.
 Oh that thou woldest slay, O God, y wicked and bloodie men, to whom I saie, Depart ye from me:
 Which speake wickedly of thee, & beig thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.
 Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and do not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp against thee?
 I hate them with an vnfaigned hatred, as they were mine vtter enemies.
 Trye me, O God, and knowe mine heart: proue me and knowe my thoughts,
 And consider if there be any waie of wickednes in me, and lead me in the waie for euer.

PSAL. CXL.
 David complaineth of the cruelty, falsehood & iniuries of his enemies, & against the which he prayeth vnto the Lord and assureth himself of his helpe and succour.

Wherefore he prouoketh the iust to praise the Lord, & to assure them selues of his tuition.
Tomm that excelleth. A psalme of Dauid.
Deliuer me, O Lord, from the euil man: preferue me from the cruel man:
 Which imagine euil things in their heart, & make waie continually.
 Thei haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: adders poyson is vnder their lip-pes. Sélah.
 Kepe me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked: preferue me from the cruel man, which purposeth to cause my steppes to slide.
 The proude haue laid a snare for me & spred a net with cordes in my pathwaie, & set gennes for me. Sélah.
 Therefore I sud vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, O Lord, the voice of my prayers.
 O Lord God the strength of my saluacion, thou hast couered mine head in the daie of battel.
 Let not y wicked haue his desire, O Lord: for he forme not his wicked thought, lest thei be proude. Sélah.
 As for the chief of them, that compassed me about, let the mischief of their owne lippes come vpon them.
 Let coles fall vpon them: let him cast them into the fyre, & into the depe pittes, that thei rise not.
 For y backbiters shal not be established vpon the earth: euil shal hunt the cruel man to destruction.
 I knowe that the Lord wil auenge the afflicted, & iudge the poore.
 Surely the righteous shal praise thy Name, & the iust shal dwell in thy presence.

PSAL. CXLI.
 David being grievously persecuted vnder Saül, only fleeth vnto God to haue succour. Desiring him to bridle his affections, & as he may patiently abide til God take vengeance of his enemies.

A Psalm of Dauid.
O Lord, I call vpō thee: haste thee vnto me: heare my voyce, when I crye vnto thee.
 Let my praier be directed in thy sight as incense, & the lifting vp of mine hands as an euening sacrifice.
 Set a watche, O Lord, before my mouth, & kepe the dore of my lippes.
 Incline not mine heart to euil, that I shulde commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not eat of their delicates.
 Let the righteous smite me: for that is a benefite: & let him reprove me, & it shal be a precious oyle, that shal not breake mine head: for within a while I shal euen praise in their miseries.
 When their iudges shal be cast downe in I shal see the wicked so sharply handled, that I shal for pittie

Which persecuteth me of malice & without cause
That is, by their false accusations and lies thei kille y hatred of the wicked against me

He calleth to God with liuelie faith, being assured of his mercies, because he had before time puen, that God helped him euer in his dangers
For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrowe y counsels & enterprises of y wicked
It seemeth y he alludeth to Saül.
To wit, God: for Dauid saw y thei were reprobat & that there was no hope of repentance in them
Gods plagus shal light vpon him in such sort, y he shal not escape
That is, shal be defended & preferred by thy Fatherlie prouidence & care PSAL. CXLI.
He sheweth y there is none other refuge in o necessitates, but only to flee vnto God for comfort of soule
He meaneth his earnest zeale & lecture, whē he vsed in praier: alluding to the sacrifices, which were by Gods commandement of fred in y olde Law
He desireth God to kepe his thoughts & waies euer from thinking or executing vengeance

He colde abide all corrections, that came of a louing heart
By patience praise for them.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalm was composed, when the kingdom of Daud flourished. 1. It herein he describeth the wonderful providence of God, as wel in governing man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 17. He praiseth God for his iustice & mercie. 18. But especially for his loving kindnes toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21. For the which he promisseth to praise him for euer.

A P'salme of Daud of praise.

a He sheweth what sacrifices are pleasant & acceptable vnto God: euen praise & thankesgiuing, and seing that God stil continueth his benefites towards vs, we ought neuer to be wearie in praising him for the same. b Herby he declareth y all power is subiect vnto God, & y no worldlie promotion ought to obscure Gods glorie. c Forasmuche as the end of mans creation, & of his preseruatio is this life is to praise God, therefore he requirerth, y not onely we our selues do this, but cause all other to do the same. d Of thy terrible iudgements against the wicked Exod. 34. 6.

- 1 O my God and King, I will extoll thee, and wil blesse thy Name for euer and euer.
- 2 I wil blesse thee daily, and praise thy Name for euer and euer.
- 3 Great is the Lord, & moste worthie to be praised, and his greatnes is incomprehensible.
- 4 Generacion shal praise thy workes vnto c generacion, and declare thy power.
- 5 I wil meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maiestic, & thy wonderful workes,
- 6 And they shal speake of the power of thy d feareful Actes, and I wil declare thy greatnes.
- 7 They shal breake out into the mencion of thy great goodnes, & shal sing aloude of thy righteousnes.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet praiseth the bountie, wisdome, power, iustice & providence of God vpon all his creatures, 2 But specially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their disperſion, 19 Declaring his worde and iudgements so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

a He sheweth wherf we ought to exercise our felues continually, & to take our partime to wit, in praising God

1 Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is ^a a pleasant thing, & praise is comelie.

b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it can not be destroyed, though the members thereof be disperſed, and seme, as it were, for a time to be cut of.

2 The Lord doeth buyld vp ^b Ierusalēm, & gather together the disperſed of Iſraēl.

c With affliction or sorow for sinne.

3 He healeth those that are ^c broken in heart, and bindeth vp their sores.

d Though it seme to man incredible, that God shulde assemble his Church, being so disperſed, yet nothing can be so hard to him, that can nober & name all the starres.

4 He ^d counteth the number of the starres, & calleth them all by their names.

e For the more high that the wicked clime, the greater is their fall in the end.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wisdome is infinite.

f He sheweth by the exaples of Gods mightie power, goodnes & wisdome, that we can neuer wat meſe iust occasiō to praise God.

6 The Lord releueth the meke, & abaseth the wicked to the ^e grounde.

g For their crying is as it were a confession of their neede, which can not be relied but by God onely: then if God shew him selfe mindeful of the moste contemptible foules, can he suffer them to dye by famine, whome he hath assured of life euerlasting.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with praise: sing vpō the harpe vnto our God, h Though to vse lawfull meanes is boche pleasaible & pleaseth God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraude God of his honour

8 Which ^f couereth the heauē with cloudes and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasſe to growe vpon the mountaines:

i He doeth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessarie, but preferueth also the same, & maketh it strong against all outward force 9 Which giueth to beastes their fode, and to the yong rauens that ^s crye.

k Mis secret working in all creatures is as a commandement to kepe the in ordre, & to giue the mouing & force

10 He hath not pleasure in the ^h strength of an horse, nether deliteth he in the legges of man.

l For immediately & without resisting all things obey him

11 But the Lord deliteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.

m As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: so he meaneth here, by his worde, ydone of life euerlasting, which he hath left to his Church as a moste precious treasure 12 Praise the Lord, ^o Ierusalēm: praise thy God, ^o Zion.

n The cause of this difference is Gods fre mercie, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluacion: & his iuste iudgement, wherby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

13 For he hath made the barres of thy gates ⁱ strong, and hath blessed thy childre within thee.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, & satisfieth thee with the ⁿ floure of wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his ^k commandemēt vpon earth, and his worde runneth verie ^l swiftly.

16 He giueth snow like wool, & scattereth the hoare frost like asſhes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who can abide the colde thereof?

18 He sendeth his worde and melteth the: he causeth his winde to blowe, & the waters flowe.

19 He sheweth his ^a worde vnto Iakob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Iſraēl.

20 He hath not dealt so with euerie nacion, nether haue they ⁿ known his iudgements.

Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heauē and earth and all places, 14 Specially his Church for the power that he hath giuen to the same after that he had chosen them and ioyned them vnto him.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise ye the Lord from the heauen: praise ye him in the high places.

2 Praise ye him, all ye ^a his Angels: praise him, all his armie.

3 Praise ye him, ^b sunne and moone: praise ye him all bright starres.

4 Praise ye him, ^c heauens of heauens, & ^d waters, that be aboute the heauens.

5 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for he commāded, and they were created.

6 And he hath established them for euer and euer: he hath made an ordinance, which shal not passe.

7 Praise ye the Lord fro the earth, ye ^e dragons and all depths:

8 ^f Fyre and haile, snowe and vapors, stormie winde, which execute his worde:

9 Mountaines and all hilles, fruteful trees and all cedres:

10 Beastes and all cattel, creaping things & feathered foules:

11 ^s Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the worlde:

12 Yong men and maidens, also olde men and children:

13 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for his Name onely is to be exalted, and his praise aboute the earth and the heauē.

14 For he hath exalted the ^h horne of his people, which is a praise for all his Sainctes, euen for the ⁱ children of Iſraēl, a people that is nere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

THE PROVERBES

of Salomón.

THE ARGUMENT.

The wonderful loue of God toward his Church is declared in this booke forasmuche as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these brief sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortacions to bothe. Wherof the nine first chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, and depe mysteries, to allure the haertes of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a moste precious reuel to the Church, of those three thousand parables mentioned 1. King. 4, 32, and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants and indited by him.

^e This worde Prouerbe, or Parable signifieth a grane & notable sentence, worthe to be kept in memorie: and is some tyme taken in the euill parte for a mocke, or scoffe.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vse of the worde of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his worde. 10 We may not consent to the entisings of sinners. 20 Wisdome complasneteth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

1 The Parables of Salomón the sonne of Dauid King of Israél.

To knowe wisdom, & instruction, to vnderstand the wordes of knowledge,

- 2 To receiue instruction to do wisely, by iustice and iudgement and equitie,
- 3 To giue vnto the simple sharpenes of wit, & to the childe knowledge and discretion.
- 4 A wife man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of vnderstanding, shall atteme vnto wise counsels,
- 5 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation, the wordes of the wise, & their darke sayings.
- 6 ¶ The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisdom & instruction.

^a That is, what we ought to knowe & followe, & what we ought to refuse. ^b Meaning the worde of God wherein is the onely true knowledge. ^c To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise. ^d By liuing iustly and rendering to euery man that we apperteneeth vnto him. ^e To wiche as haue not discretion to rule them selues. ^f As he sheweth these parables concerning the effect of religion as touching maners & doctine do appertene to the simple people: so doeth he declare that the same is also acceptable to them that are wise and learned. *Psal. 111, 10. eccl 1, 16

- 8 My sonne, heare thy fathers instruction, and forsake not thy mothers teaching.
- 9 For they shall be a comelie ornament vnto thine head, and as chaines for thy necke.
- 10 ¶ My sonne, if sinners do intise thee, consent thou not.
- 11 If they say, Come with vs, we wil lay wait for thy blood, & lie priuie for the innocent without a cause:
- 12 We wil swallow thee vp aliuie like a graue even whole, as those that go downe into the pit:
- 13 We shall finde all precious riches, & fill our houses with spoile:
- 14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we wil all haue one purse:
- 15 My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: refraine thy fote from their path.
- 16 For their fete runne to euill, & make hast to shed blood.
- 17 Certainly as without cause the net is spread before the eyes of all that hathe wing:
- 18 So they laye wait for blood & lie priuie for their liues.

^g He speaketh this in the Name of God, which is the vniuersal Father of all creatures, or in the Name of the pastor of the Church, who is as a father to that is, of the Church, wherein the faithful are forgotten by the incorruptible fete of Gods worde. ^h Ebr. increase of grace. ⁱ To wit, the wicked, which haue not the feare of God. ^k He speaketh not onely of shedding of blood with hand, but of all craftie practises which tede to the detriment of our neighbour. ^l As the graue is neuer satiate so the auarice of the wicked and their crueltye hath no end. ^m He sheweth whereby the wicked are allured to ioyne together, because they haue euertie one parte of the spoile of the innocent. ⁿ That is, haue nothing at all to do with them. ^o He sheweth that there is no cause to moue the wicked to spoile the innocent, but their auarice and crueltye.

 25 But ye haue despised all my counsel, & wolde none of my correction.
 26 I wil also laugh at your destruction, and mocke, when your feare cometh.
 27 When your feare cometh like sudden desolation, and your destruction shal come, like a whirle winde: when affliction & anguish shal come vpon you,
 28 Then shal they call vpon me, but I wil not answer: they shal seke me early, but they shal not finde me,
 29. Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.
 30. They wolde none of my counsel, but despised all my correction.
 31 Therefore shal they eat of the fruite of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuises.
 32 Fox catcheth the foolish, and the prosperitie of fooles destroyeth them.
 33 But he that obeierth me, shal dwell safely, & be quiet from feare of euil.

CHAP. II.

1. Wisdom exhorteth to obey her. 5 She teacheth the feare of God. 6 She is giuen of God. 10 She preferueth from wickednes.

1 MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and hide my commandements within thee,
 2 And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wisdom, & encline thine heart to vnderstanding,
 3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, & cryest for vnderstanding:
 4 If thou sekest her as siluer, and searchest for her as for treasures,
 5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.
 6 For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.
 7 He preferueth the state of righteous: he is a shield to them that walke vprightly, a That is, kepe them in thine heart.

 b. If thou giue thy self to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisie

 9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteoussnes, and iudgement, and equitie, & euerie good path.
 10 ¶ When wisdom entreth into thine heart, and knowledge deliteth thy soule, 11 Then shalt counsel preferue thee, & vnderstanding shal kepe thee, 12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, and from the man that speaketh froward things, 13 And from them that leaue the wayes of righteoussnes to walke in the wayes of darkness:
 14 Which reioyce in doing euil, & delite in the frowardnes of the wicked, 15 Whose wayes are croked and they are lewde in their paths.
 16 And it shal deliuer thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.
 17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the couenant of her God.
 18 Surely her house tendeth to death, & her paths vnto the dead.
 19 All they that go vnto her, returne not againe, nether take they holde of the wayes of life.
 20 Therefore walke thou in the waye of good men, & kepe the wayes of the righteous.
 21 For the iust shal dwell in the land, and the vpright men shal remaine in it.
 22 But the wicked shalbe cut of from the earth and the transgressors shalbe rooted out of it.

CHAP. III.

1 The worde of God giueth life 5 Trust in God 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffre his correction. 22 To them that followe the worde of God, all things shal succede wel.

1 MY sonne, forget not thou my Law, but let thine heart kepe my commandements.
 2 For they shal increase the length of thy daies and the yers of life, and thy prosperitie.
 3 Let not mercie and trueth forsake thee: binde them on thy necke, & write them vpon the table of thine heart.
 4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.
 5 ¶ Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.
 6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shal direct thy wayes.

24 If y sleapest, thou shalt not be afraid, and when thou sleepest, thy slepe shalbe swete.

25 Thou shalt not feare for anie suddē feare, nether for the destruction of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the Lord shal be for thine assurance, & shal preferue thy fote from taking.

27 Withholde not the good from the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to do it.

28 Saie not vnto thy neighbour, Go & come againe, and to morowe wil I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Wisdom and her frutes ought to be searched 14 The way of the wicked must be refused 20 By the worde of God the heart, eyes and course of life must be guarded

1 Heare, o ye children, the instruction of a father, and giue care to learne vnderstanding.

2 For I do giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and dere in the sight of my mother.

4 When he taught me, and said vnto me, Let thine heart holde fast my wordes: kepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisdom: get vnderstanding: forget not, nether decline from the wordes of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shal kepe thee: loue her and she shal preferue thee.

7 Wisdom is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and aboute all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shal exalt thee: she shal bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

9 She shal giue a comelie ornament vnto thine head, yea, she shal giue thee a crowne of glorie.

10 Heare my sonne, and receiue my wordes, and the yeas of thy life shalbe manie.

11 I haue taught thee in the waie of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shal not be strait, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take holde of instruction, & leaue not: kepe her, for she is thy life.

14 Entre not into the way of the wicked, & walke not in the waie of euil men.

15 Aioide it & go not by it: tuine from it, & passe by.

16 For they can not slepe, except they haue done euil, and their slepe departeth, except they cause some to fall.

17 For they eat the bread of wickednes, and drinke the wine of violence.

CHAP. VII.

An exhortacion to wisdom and to the words of God, s Which wil preserue vs from the harlot, & v^{ch} bofe maners are described.

MY sonne, kepe my wordes, and hide my commandements with thee.
Kepe my commandements, & thou shalt liue, and mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes.
3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.
4 Saie vnto wisdom, Thou art my sister:
and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman, 5 That they maie kepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smothe in her wordes.
6 ¶ As I was in the windowe of mine house, I loked through my windowe, 7 And I sawe among the fooles, and confidered among the children a yong man destitute of vnderstanding, 8 Who passed through the strete by her coine, and went toward her house, 9 In the twilight in the euening, when the night began to be c blacke and darke.
10 And beholde, there met him a woman with an harlots behaviour, and r subtil in heart.
11 (She d is babling and lowde: whose fete can not abide in her house.
12 Now she is without, now in the stretes, & lieth in waite at euerie corne) 13 So she caught him & kissed him & with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I haue e peace offrings: this f day haue
I paid my vowes.
15 Therefore came I for the to mete thee, y
I might seke thy face: & I haue foude thee.
16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, carpets and laces of Egypt.
17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.
18 Come, let vs take our fil of loue vntil the mornig: let vs take our pleasure in daliāce.
19 For mine housband is not at home: he is gone a iourney faie of.

siluer, and wil come home at the day appointed.
21 Thus with her great craft she caused him to yelde, & with her flattering lippes she entised him.
22 And he followed her straightwaies, as an oxe that goeth to the slaughter, & h as a foole to the stockes for correction, 23 Til a darte strike through his liuer, as a birde hasteth to the snare, not knowing that r he is in danger.
24 ¶ Heare me now therefore, o children, and hearken to the wordes of my mouth.
25 Let not thine heart decline to her waies:
wander thou not in her paths.

CHAP. VIII.

1 *Wisdom*e declareth her excellencie. 11 Riches. 15 Power
22 Eternitie. 31 She exhorteth all to loue and followe her.

Chap. 8, 20. 1 Salomon declareth that man is cause of his owne perdition, and that he can pretend no ignorance, for as muche as God calleth to all men by his worde, and by his workes to followe vertue and to flee fro vice.
2 Where the people did make resort, and which was the place of iustice.
3 Measg, that the worde of God is easie vnto all, that haue a desire vnto it, & are not blinded by the prince of this worlde.
4 That is, except a man haue wisdom, which is true knowledge of God, he can nether be prudent nor good counsellor.
5 So that he doeth not hate euil, feareth not God.
6 Whereby he declareth that honors, dignitie or riches come not of mans wisdom or industrie, but by the prouidence of God.
7 That is, studie the worde of God diligently, and with a desire to profite.
8 Signifying he chiefly meaneth the spiritual treasures and heauenlie riches.
9 For there can be no true iustice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisdom.
10 He declareth hereby the diuinitie & eternitie of this wisdom, which he magnifieth and praiseth through this booke, meaning thereby the eternal Sonne of God Iesus Christ our Saviour, whome S. Iohn calleth the worde which was in the beginning, Iohn. 1, 1.

1 DOeth not a wisdom crye and vnderstanding vtter her voyce?
2 She standeth in the top of the high places by the way in the place of the paths.
3 She cryeth besides the gates before the cite at the entrie of the dores, 4 O men, I call vnto you, and vtter my voice to the children of men.
5 O ye foolish men, vnderstand wisdom, and ye, o fooles, be wise in heart.
6 Giue care, for I wil speake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes shall teache things that be right.
7 For my mouth shall speake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednes.
8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdenes, nor frowardenes in them.
9 They are all plaine to him that wil vnderstand, and straight to them that wolde finde knowledge.
10 Receiue mine instruction, and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine golde.
11 For wisdom is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.
12 I wisdom dwell with prudence, and I finde for the knowledge and counsels.
13 The feare of the Lord is to hate euil as pride, and arrogancie, and the euil waie: and a mouth that speaketh lewde things, I do hate.
14 I haue counsel and wisdom: I am vnderstanding, & I haue strength.
15 By me, Kings reigne, and princes decree iustice.
16 By me princes rule and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.
17 I loue them that loue me: & they that seke me early, shall finde me.
18 Riches and honour are with me: heuen durable riches and righteousnes.
19 My frute is better then golde, euen the fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine siluer.
20 I cause to walke in the waie of righteousness, & in the muddes of the paths of iudgement, 21 That I maie cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I wil fill their treasures.
22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his waie: I was before his workes of olde.
23 I was set vp from euerlasting, from the beginning & before the earth.
24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were setled: & before the hilles, was I begotten.
26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the worlde.
27 When he prepared the heauens, I was there, when he set the compas vpon the depe.
28 When he established the cloudes aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines of the depe, 29 When he gaue his decree to the sea, that the waters shulde not passe his commandement: when he appointed the foundations of the earth,
30 Then was I with him as a nourisher, and I was daily his delite reioycing alwaie before him, 31 And toke my solace in the compasse of his earth: & my delite is with the childre of men.
32 Therefore now hearken, o children, vnto me: for blessed are they that kepe my waies.
33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, & refuse it not. blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, & giuing attendance at the postes of my dores.
34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.
35 But he that sinneth against me, hurteth his owne soule: & all that hate me, loue death.

CHAP. IX.

1 *Wisdom*e calleth all to her feaft. 7 The scorner wil not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The condsons of the harlots.

1 WISDOME hath bought her house, & hewen out her seven pillars.
2 She hath killed her vitailles, drawn her wine, and prepared her table.
3 She hath sent for the her maidens and cryeth vpon the highest places of the cite, saying,
4 Whoso is simple, let him come hether, & to him is destitute of wisdom, she saith,
5 Come, & eat of my meat, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawn.
6 Forsake your way, ye foolish, and ye shall lue: & walke in my waie of vnderstanding.
7 He that reproveth a scorner, purchaseth to him self shame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth him self a blot.
8 Rebuke not a scorner, lest he hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, & he wil loue thee.
9 Giue admonition to the wise, and he wil be the wise: teache a righteous man, & he wil increase in learning.
10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord, & the knowledge of holy things, is vnder-

1 He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is ment by this worde Wisdom, who was before all time and euer present w the Father.
2 Some read a chief worker: signifying that this Wisdom, euen Christ Iesus, was equal w God his Father, and created, preserued, and fill worketh w him, as Ioh. 1, 17.
3 Whereby is declared that the worke of creation was no penne, but a solace vnto the wisdom of God.
4 By earth, he meaneth man, which is the worke of God to whome wisdom toke pleasure: in some as for mans sake & Diuine Wisdom toke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, & filled vs with vnspicable treasures: and this is that solace & pastime whereof is here spoken.

a Christ hath prepared him a Church.
b That is, many chief rates and principal partes of his Church, as were the Patriarkes, Prophets, Apostles, Pastors & Doctors.
c He comparerth wisdom with great princes who kept open house for all who come.
d Measg true preachers, who are not infected with mans wisdom.
e He that knoweth his owne ignorance and is void of malice.
f By the meat and drinke, is ment the worde of God and the ministratio of the sacraments, whereby Godnourisheth his seruants in his house, w.

15 Church. g For the wicked wil contemne him & labour to diffame him. h Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Christ calleth dogs & swine, or he speaketh this in comparison, not that wicked should not be rebuked, but he sheweth their malice, and the small hope of profite.

1 He sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to know & wil of God in his worde, & is ment by holie things.
k Thou shalt haue the chief profite, and commoditie thereof.
l By & foolish woman, some vnderstand, the wicked preachers, who counterfeit & worde of God, as appeareth vers. 10, & were true worles of the true teachers, as vers. 4: but their doctrine is but as stolle waters: meanig that they are but mens traditions, which are more pleasant to y flesh then & worde of God and therefore they them selues boast thereof.

- 15 vnderstanding.
- 11 For thy dayes shalbe multiplied by me, and the yeres of thy life shalbe augmēted.
- 12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy self, and if thou be a scorner, thou alone shalt suffre.
- 13 ¶ A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.
- 14 But she sitteth at the dore of her house on a seat in the hye places of the citie,
- 15 To call them that passe by the way, that go right on their way, saying,
- 16 Who so is simple, let him come hether, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she saith also,
- 17 Stollen waters are swete, and hid bread is pleasant.
- 18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her ghesles are in the depth of hel.

CHAP. X.

In this chapter and all that followe vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorseth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to followe vertue, and flee vice and sheweth also what profite cometh of wisdom, & what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnes.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

Chap 10. 20.

- 1 A Wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauienes to his mother
- 2 The treasures of wickednes a profite nothing: but righteousnes deliuereth fro death.
- 3 The Lord wil not famish the soule of the righteous: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.
- 4 A flouthful hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh riche.
- 5 He that gathereth in sommer, is the sonne of wisdom: but he that slepeth in haruest, is the sonne of confusion.
- 6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shal couer the mouth of the wicked.
- 7 The memorial of the iuste shalbe blessed: but the name of the wicked shal rotte.
- 8 The wise in heart wil receiue commādemēts: but the foolish in talke shalbe beatē.
- 9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh boldly: but he that peruerteth his wayes, shal be knowen.
- 10 He that winketh with the eye, worketh sorowe, and he that is foolish in talke, shalbe beaten.
- 11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well spring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.
- 12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: but loue couereth all trespasses.
- 13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding wisdom is foude, and a rod shalbe for the backe of him that is destitute of

- wisdome.
- 14 Wise men laye vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.
- 15 The riche mans goods are his strong citie: but the feare of the nedie is their pouertie.
- 16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.
- 17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.
- 18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lippes, and he that inueneth scandre, is a foole.
- 19 In manie wordes there can not wat iniquitie: but he that reframeth his lippes, is wise.
- 20 The tongue of the iuste man is as fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is litle worthe.
- 21 The lippes of the righteous do fede manie: but fooles shal dye for want of wisdom.
- 22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh riche, and he doeth adde no sorowes with it.
- 23 It is as a passe time to a foole to do wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.
- 24 That which the wicked feareth, shal come vpon him: but God wil grante the desire of the righteous.
- 25 As the whirle winde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an euerlasting fundacion.
- 26 As vinegre is to y teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the flouthful to them that send him.
- 27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yeres of the wicked shalbe diminished.
- 28 The pacient abiding of the righteous shalbe gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shal perish.
- 29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright mā: but feare shalbe for the workers of iniquitie.
- 30 The righteous shal neuer be remoued: but the wicked shal not dwell in the land.
- 31 The mouth of the iuste shalbe frutefull in wisdom: but the tongue of the frowarde shal be cut out.
- 32 The lippes of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh frowarde things.

CHAP. XI.

- 1 False balances are an abominacion vnto the Lord: but a perfite weight pleaseth him.
- 2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowlie wisdom.

h And so maketh him bolde to do euil, where as pouertie bridleth the poore from manie euil things.

2 For they speake truth and cast manie by exhortations, admonition and couniel.
k Meaning y all worldelie things bring care, & sorow, where as they that seele the blessings of God, haue none.

l He is but a trouble, and grief to him y fretteth him about anie busines.
m The time of their prosperitie is aie short, because of their great fall, thogh they seme to liue long.

n They enioye in this life by faith, and hope their euerlasting life.

a Vnder this worde he condegneth all false weights, measures and deceit.
b When man forgetteth him self, and thinketh to be exalted aboue his vocacion, then God bringeth him to confusion.

3 The vprightenes of the iuste shal guide them:but the frowardnes of the transgressors shal destroye them.

Exek. 7. 19. vntil 5. 10.

4 * Riches auaille not in the day of wrath: but righteoufnes. deliuereth from death.

5 The righteoufnes of the vpright shal direct his way: but the wicked shal fall in his owne wickednes.

6 The righteoufnes of the iuste shal deliuer them:but the transgressors shalbe take in their owne wickednes.

Wisd. 5. 15.

7 * When a wicked man dyeth, his hope perissheth, and the hope of the vnust shal perissh.

That is, shal enter into trouble.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, & the wicked shal come in his c stead.

A dissembler that pretendeth friendship, but is a pruite enemy.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour:but the righteous shalbe deliuered by knowledge.

The countrey is blessed, where there is godlie men, & they ought to reioyce, when the wicked are take away. Or, prosperitie.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie e reioyeth, and when the wicked perissh, there is ioye.

11 By the blessing of y righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

Will not make light report of others.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding wil f kepe silence.

Where God giueth store of men of wisdom, and counsel

13 He that goeth about as a scladerer, discovereth a secret: but he that is of a faithful heart, conceileth a matter.

Whose conuersation he knoweth not 14 Where no counsel is, the people fall: but where manie s counsellers are, there is health.

He y doeth not without iudgement, and consideratiō of the circumstances put him self in danger, as Chap 6. 1.

15 He shal be fore vexed, that is suretie for a h stranger, and he i that hateth suretieship, is sure.

Or, modest

16 A gracious woman atteineth honour, & the strong men attein riches.

Is bothe good to him self, and to others

17 He that is merciful, k rewardeth his owne soule: but he that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruel.

Or, neighbour

18 The wicked worketh a disceitful worke: but he that soweth righteoufnes, shal receiue a sure reward.

I though they make neuer so manie friends, nor thinke the felnes neuer so sure, yet they shal not escape.

19 As righteoufnes leadeth to life: so he that followeth euil, seketh his owne death.

Or, vncemely behauiour

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delite.

They can looke for nothing but Gods vengeance

21 Though hand royne in had, the wicked shal not be vnpunished: but the fede of the righteous shal escape.

Meaning the, that giue liberality, whom God blesteth.

22 As a iewel of golde in a swines snoute: so is a faire woman, which lacketh discretiō.

That is, the niggard

23 The desire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked m is indignacion.

24 There is that scatereth, n and is more increased: but he that spareth more o then is right, surely cometh to pouertie.

25 The liberal persone shal haue plentie: and he that watereth, shal also haue raue.

26 He that with draweth the corne, the people wil curse him: but blessing shal be vpon the head of him that p selleth corne.

p That proudeth for y vso of them that are in necessitie.

27 He that seketh good things, getteth fauour: but he that seketh euil, it shal come to him.

q The couerto men y spare their riches to the hinderance of their families, shalbe deprived thereof miserably.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shal fall: but the righteous shal flourish as a lease.

r For though y wicked be riche, yet are they but sclauens to y godlie.

29 He that troubleth his owne q house, shal inherite y winde, and the foole shalbe r seruuant to the wise in heart.

w are the true possessors of y giftes of God.

30 The frute of the righteous is as a tre of life, and he that f winneth soules, is wise.

f That is, bringeth them to the knowlege of God.

31 Beholde, the righteous shalbe c recompensed in the earth: how muche more the wicked and the sinner?

t Shal be punished as he deserueth, as 1 Pet 4. 12.

CHAP. XII.

1 HE that loueth instructiō, loueth knowledge: but he that hateth correctiō, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauoure of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginacions wil he condemne.

3 A man can not be established by wickednes: but the a roote of the righteous shal not be moued.

a They are so grounded in y fauour of God, that their rore shal prosper continually 4 A vteous woman is the crowne of her housband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

Or, stroag or persifal.

5 The thoghts of the iuste are right: but the counsels of the wicked are disceitful.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the righteous wil b deliuer them.

b As their conscience is vpright, so shal they be able to speake for them selues against their accusers.

7 God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of y righteous shal stand.

8 A man shalbe commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shalbe despised.

9 He that is despised, c and is his owne seruant, is better the he that boasteth him self and lacketh bread.

c The poore man that is cōdemned, & yet liueth of his owne traual.

10 A righteous man d regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.

d Is merciful, euen to the very beast that doeth him seruice.

11 He that tilleth his land, shal be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is destitute of vnderstanding.

Chap 15. 19. eccles 10. 30.

12 The wicked desireth the e net of euils: but the f roote of the righteous giueth frute.

e Continually imagineth meanes how to do harme to others.

13 The euil man is snared by the wickednes of his lippes, but the iust shal come out of aduersitie.

f Meaning, their heart with in, which is vpright, and doeth good to all.

14 A man shalbe satiate with good things by the frute of his mouth, and the recompense of a mans hands shal God giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is s right in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counsel, is wife.

g He standeth in his owne conceit, and condemneth all others in respect of himself.

17 He that speaketh truth, wil shewe righte-ousnes: but a false witness ^u shall disceit.

18 * There is that speaketh wordes like the prickings of a sword: but the tongue of wise men is health.

19 The lippe of truth shall be stable for euer:
but a lying tongue ^v varieth incontinently.

20 Disceit is in the heart of them that imagine euil: but to the counsellors of peace shall be love.

21 There shall none iniquitie come to the iuste: but the wicked are full of euil.

22 The lying lippes are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truly are his delite.

23 A wise man conceileth knowledge: but the heart of the fooles publisheth foolishnes.

24 * The hand of the diligent shall beate rill: but the idle shall be vnactive tribute.

25 Heauines in the heart of mā doeth bring wil disceiue them.

27 The disceitful man roseth not, that he maketh in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteousnes, and in that pathway there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A Wise sonne wil obey the instruction of his father: but a scorner wil heare not rebuke.

2 A man shall eat good things by the frute of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shall suffer violence.

3 He that kepeth his mouthe, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lippes, destruction shall be to him.

4 The sluggarde ^b lusteth, but his soule hateth nought: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plentie.

5 A righteous man hateth lying wordes: but the wicked causeth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnes preferueth the vpright of life: but wickednes ouerthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh him self riche, and hateth nothing, & that maketh him self poore, hauing great riches.

8 A mā wil giue his riches for the raufome of his life: but the poore can not heare the reproche.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth:
but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

10 * Onely by pride ^d doeth man make contentment: but with the well aduised is wis-dome.

11 The riches of vanitie shall diminish: but he that gathereth with ^e the hand, shall increase them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the desire commeth, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that despiseth the worde, he shall be despised: but he that feareth the commandement, he shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the well spring of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable:
but the way of the disobedient is hated.

16 Euerie wise man wil wake by knowledge: but a foole wil spread abroad follie.

17 * A wicked messenger fallth ^h into euil:
but a faithful ambassadour is preseruation.

18 Prouentie and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth correction, shall be honoured.

19 A desire accomplished delieth the soule:
but it is an abomination to fooles to departe from euil.

20 He that walketh with the wise, shall be wise: but a companion of fooles shall be afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God wil recompense good.

22 The good mā shall giue inheritance vnto his children: and the riches of the sinner is laid vp for the iuste.

23 Muche foode is in the field of the poor:
but the field is destroyed without discretio.

24 * He ^v spareth his rod, bareth his sonne:
but he that loueth him, chasteneth him be-time.

25 The righteous eateth to the contentation of his minde: but the bellie of the wicked shall want.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A Wise woman ^a buyldeth her house:
but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.

2 * He that walketh in his ^b righteousnes, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his waies, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the ^c rodde of pride: but the lippes of the wise prefer-ue them.

4 Where none ^d oxen are, there the crib is strength of the ox.

5 A faithful witness wil not lye: but a false recorde wil speake lyes.

6 A scorner ^e seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that wil vnderstand.

7 Departe from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lippes of knowledge.

Chap. 27. 24.

n. For as muche as they are gonid there by, and put to ſcience.

- 9 The foole maketh a mocke^f of ſinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.
- 10 The heart knoweth the bitterneſſe of his ſoule, and the ſtranger ſhal not medle with his ioye.
- 11 The houſe of y^e wicked ſhalbe deſtroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous ſhal flouriſh.
- 12 * There is a way which ſemeth right to a man: but the yſſues thereof are the wayes of death.
- 13 Euen in laughing the heart is ſorrowful, and the end of that mirth is heauines.
- 14 The heart that declineth, ſhalbe facitate with his owne wayes: but a good man ſhal departe from him.
- 15 The fooliſh wil beleue euerie thing: but the prudent wil conſider his ſteppes.
- 16 A wiſe man feareth, and departeth from cuil: but a foole rageth, and is careleſſe.
- 17 He that is haſt ie to angre, committeth folie, and a buſie bodie is hated.
- 18 The fooliſh do inherite folie: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
- 19 The euil ſhal bowe before the good, and the wicked^k at the gates of the righteous.
- 20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the riche are manie.
- 21 The ſinner deſpiſeth his neighbour: but he that hath mercie on the poore, is bliſſed.
- 22 Do not they erre that imagine euil? but to them that thinke on good things, ſhalbe mercie, and truth.
- 23 In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lippes bringeth onely want.
- 24 The crowne of the wiſe is their riches, & the folie of foolles is fooliſhnes.
- 25 A faithful witneſſe deliuereth ſoules: but a diſceiuer ſpeaketh lies.
- 26 In y^e feare of y^e Lord is an aſſured ſtrength, and his children ſhal haue hope.
- 27 The feare of the Lord is as a well ſpring of life, to auoide the ſnares of death.
- 28 In the multitude of the^l people is the honour of a King, and for the want of people cometh the deſtruction of the prince.
- 29 He that is ſlowe to wrath, is of great wiſdome: but he that is of an haſtie minde, exalteth folie.
- 30 A ſound heart is the life of the^m fleſh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.
- 31 * He that oppreſſeth the poore, reproveth him that made him: but he honoreth him that hath mercie on the poore.
- 32 The wicked ſhalbe caſt away for his malice: but the righteous hath hopeⁿ in his death.
- 33 Wiſdome reſteth in the heart of him that hath vnderſtanding, and is knowen in the middeſſe of foolles.

- 34 Juſtice exalteth a nation, but ſinne is a ſhame to the people.
- 35 The pleaſure of a King is in a wiſe ſeruant: but his wrath ſhalbe toward him that is lewde.

CHAP. XV.

- 1 A * Soft answer putteth away wrath: but grievous wordes ſtirre vp angre.
- 2 The tongue of the wiſe uſeth knowledge aright: but the mouth of foolles ba- Verſ 28. bleth out fooliſhnes.
- 3 The eyes of the Lord in euerie place beholde the euil and the good.
- 4 A whoſome tongue is as a tre of life: but the frowardnes thereof is the breaking of the minde.
- 5 A foole deſpiſeth his fathers inſtruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.
- 6 The houſe of the righteous hath^a muche treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is^a trouble.
- 7 The lippes of the wiſe do ſpread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the fooliſh doeth not ſo.
- 8 The^b ſacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of y^e righteous is acceptable vnto him.
- 9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him y^e followeth righteouſnes.
- 10 Inſtruction is euil to him that forſaketh the way, & he y^e hateth correction, ſhal dye.
- 11 Hel & deſtruction are before the Lord: how much more the hearts of the ſonnes of men?
- 12 A ſcorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither wil he go vnto the wiſe.
- 13 * A ioyful heart maketh a chereful countenance: but by the ſorrow of the heart the minde is heauie.
- 14 The heart of him that hath vnderſtanding, ſeeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with fooliſhnes.
- 15 All y^e daies of the afflicted are euil: but a good^c conſcience is a continual feaſt.
- 16 * Better is a litle with y^e feare of the Lord, the great treasure and trouble therewith.
- 17 Better is a dinner of grene herbes where loue is, then a ſtalled ox and hatred therewith.
- 18 * An angrie man ſtirreth vp ſtrife: but he that is ſlowe to wrath, appeaſeth ſtrife.
- 19 The way of a ſlouthful man is as an hedge of thornes: but the way of y^e righteous is plaine.
- 20 * A wiſe ſonne reioyceth the father: but a fooliſh man deſpiſeth his mother.
- 21 Fooliſhnes is ioye to him that is deſtitute of vnderſtanding: but a man of vnderſtanding walketh vprightly.
- 22 Without counſel thoughtes come to nought: but^f in the multitude of counſellers there is ſtedfaſtines.

* Or, to be mercie of the people in a ſacrifice for ſinne.

25 The Lord wil deſtroy the houſe of the proude men: but he wil ſtabliſh the borders of the widowe.

26 The thoghts of the wicked are abominatiō to the Lord: but the pure haue pleaſant wordes.

27 He y is gredie of gaine, troubleth his owne houſe: but he y hateth giftes, ſhal liue.

28 The heart of the righteous ſtudieth to answer: but y wicked mans mouth bableth euil things.

CHAP. xvi.

The preparatiōs of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.

2 All the waies of a mā are cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pōdereth y ſpirits.

3 Cōmit thy workes vnto the Lord, & thy thoghts ſhal be directed.

4 The Lord hathe made all things for his owne ſake: yea, euē the wicked for the day of euil.

5 All that are proude in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: thogh hand ioyne in hand, he ſhal not be vnpuniſhed.

6 By mercie and truth iniquitie ſhal be forgiuē, and by the feare of the Lord they departe from euil.

7 When the waies of a man pleaſe y Lord, he wil make alſo his enemies at peace with him.

8 Better is a litle with righteousnes, then great reuenues without equitie.

9 The heart of mā purpoſeth his way: but the Lord doeth direct his ſteppes.

10 A diuine ſentence ſhal be in the lippes of the King: his mouth ſhal not tranſgreſſe in iudgement.

11 A true weight and balance are of the Lord: all the weights of the bagge are his worke.

12 It is an abomination to Kings to commit wickednes: for the throne is ſtabliſhed by iuſtice.

13 Righteous lippes are the delite of Kings, and the King loueth him that ſpeaketh right things.

14 The wrath of a King is as h meſſengers of death: but a wiſe man wil pacifie it.

15 In the light of the Kings countenance is life: and his fauour is as a cloude of the latter raine.

16 How muche better is it to get wiſdome then golde: and to get vnderſtanding, is more to be deſired then ſiluer.

17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euil, & he kepeth his ſoule, that kepeth his way.

18 Pride goeth before deſtruction, and an high mā de before the fall.

19 Better it is to be of humble mind with the lowlie, then to deuide the ſpoiles with the proude.

20 He that is wiſe in his buſines, ſhal finde good: and he that truſteth in the Lord, he is bleſſed.

21 The wiſe in heart ſhal be called prudēt: & the ſweetenes of the lippes ſhal increaſe doctrine.

22 Vnderſtanding is a well ſpring of life vnto them that haue it: and the inſtruction of foolles is folie.

23 The heart of the wiſe guideth his mouth wiſely, and addeth doctrine to his lippes.

24 Faire wordes are as an honie combe, ſweetenes to the ſoule, & health to the bones.

25 There is a way that ſemeth right vnto man: but the yſſue thereof are the waies of death.

26 The perſone that trauaileth, trauaileth for him ſelf: for his mouth craueth it of him.

27 A wicked man diggeth vp euil, and in his lippes is like burning fyre.

28 A froward perſone ſoweth ſtriſe: and a tale teller maketh diuiſion among princes.

29 A wicked man diſceiueth his neighbour, and leadeth him vnto the way that is not good.

30 He ſhutteth his eyes to deuiſe wickednes: he moueth his lippes, & bringeth euil to paſſe.

31 Age is a crowne of glorie, when it is founde in the way of righteousnes.

32 He that is ſlowe vnto angre, is better thē the mightie man: and he that ruleth his owne minde, is better then he that winneth a citie.

1 The Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the riuers of waters: he turneth it whether soeuer it pleaseth him.

2 Euerie way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 * To do iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord, then sacrifice.

4 A hautie loke, and a proude heart, which is the light of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent do surely bring abundance: but whose soeuer is hastie, cometh surely to pouertie.

6 * The gathering of treasures by a disceitful tongue is vanitie: called to and fro of them that seke death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shal destroy them: for they haue refused to execute iudgement.

8 The way of some is peruered and strange: but of the pure man, his worke is right.

9 * It is better to dwell in a corner of thy house toppe, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

10 The soule of the wicked wisheth euil: and his neighbour hath no fauour in his eyes.

11 When the scorner is punished, the foolish is wise: and when one instructeth the wife, he wil receiue knowledge.

12 The righteous teacheth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euil.

13 He that stoppeth his eare at the crying of the poore, he shal also crye and not be heard.

14 As gift in secret pacifieth angre, and a gift in the bosome great wrath.

15 It is ioye to the iust to do iudgement: but destruction shalbe to the workers of iniquitie.

16 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom, shal remaine in the congregacion of the dead.

17 He that loueth pastime, shalbe a poore man: & he that loueth wine & oyle, shal not be riche.

18 The wicked shalbe a ransome for the iust, and the trasgressour for the righteous.

20 In thy house of the wise is a pleasant treatise and oyle: but a foolish man deuouereth it.

21 He that followeth after righteousnes & mercie, shal finde life, righteousnes, and glorie.

22 A wise man goeth vp into the citie of the mightie, and casteth downe thy strength of the confidence thereof.

23 He that kepeth his mouth and his tongue, kepeth his soule from afflictions.

24 Proude, hautie & scornful is his name that worketh in his arrogancie wrath.

25 The desire of the slouthful slaicth him: for his hands refuse to worke.

26 He counteth greedely, but the righteous giueth, and spareth not.

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abominacion: how muche more when he bringeth it with a wicked minde.

28 * A false witnes shal perish: but he that heareth, speaketh continually.

1 Be not thou enuious against euil men, nether desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lippes speake mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house buylded, and with vnderstanding it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious, & pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding encreaseth his strength.

6 For with counsel thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsel, is health.

7 Wisdom is hid to a foole: therefore he can not open his mouth in the gate.

8 He that imagineth to do euil, men shall call him an autor of wickednes.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scorner is an abominacion vnto men.

10 If thou be faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is smal.

13 My sonne, eat of the honie, for it is good, and the honie combe, for it is swete vnto thy mouth.

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule, if thou finde it, and there shall be an end, and thine hope shall not be cut of.

15 Lay no waite, o wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoyle not his resting place.

16 For a iuste man falleth feuen times, & riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

17 Be thou not glad when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when he stumbleth, 18 Lest the Lord see it, and it displease him, and he turne his wrath from him.

23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTAIN TO THE WISE, It is not good to haue respect of any person in iudgement.

24 He that saith to the wicked, Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, and the multitude shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke him, shall be pleasure, and vpon them shall come the blessing of goodness.

26 They shall kisse the lippes of him that answereth vp right wordes.

THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES OF SALOMON, WHICH THE MEN OF HEZEKIAH KING OF IUDAH COPIED OUT.

Whome Hezekiah appointed for this purpose

That is gathered out of divers books of Solomon

God doth not reuile his cause or his iudgement is to man

Because the King useth by the reuelled word of God

For cause of his doings must appeare, & therefore he must vnder diligence

In trying out of causes He sheweth

It is hard for man to attaine to the secret doings of the King

When he is vpright, & doeth his duty

When vice is removed from a King, he is a meete vessel for the Lords use

It is not ynough that he be pure himself, but he put away others that be corrupted.

Luk 14. 10. Left where as thou thyself by this means haue an end of thy matter, it put thee to further trouble

In the time of great calamities men desire to be

Which haue an outward appearance, and are nothing within

By not making occasion to trouble him further.

That is, the heart is but so angry, as Chap 15. 1

Which moderately the pleasures of this world

Which melte it, and consume it

Rom 12. 19 Thou shalt as it were by force ouercome him

So muche that his owne conscience shall knowe ledge thy benediction, and his heart shall be satisfied

THE glorie of God is to conceale a thing secret: but the Kings honour is to sear che out a thing.

The heaucns in height, and the earth in depenes, and the Kings heart can no man sear che out.

Take the dross from the siluer, and there shall procede a vessel for the fines.

Take away the wicked from the King, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.

Stand not thy self before the King, and boast not in the place of great men.

For it is better, that it be said vnto thee, Come vp hither, than thou be put lower in the presence of the prince whome thine eyes haue sene.

Go not forth hastily to strife, lest thou knowe not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

Rebate thy matter with thy neighbour, & discouer not the secret to another,

Lest he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamie do not cease.

A worde spokē in his place, is like appels of golde with pictures of siluer.

He that reproveth the wise, and the obedient: are, as a golden eating and an ornament of Anglice

As the colde of the snow in the time of hard frost, is a further iudgement to them that find him: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.

A man that boasteth of his liberalitie, is like cloudes and wind without raine.

A prince is pacified by staying of anger, and a soft tongue breaketh iron bones.

If thou haue founde honie, eat that is sufficient for thee, lest thou be ouerfull, and vomit it.

Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbours house, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is like an hammer & a sword, and a sharpe arrowe.

Confidence in an vnfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tolic and a sliding fote.

He that taketh away the garment in colde season, is like wine gathered vpon nettles, or like him that singeth songs to an heauie heart.

If he that hateth thee be hungry, giue him bread to eat, and if he be thiristie, giue him water to drinke.

For thou shalt lay peales vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.

As the Northwind driueth away the raine, so doeth an angrie countenance the scolding tongue.

It is better to dwell in a corner of the house toppe, than with a contentious woman in a wide house.

As are the colde waters to a wearie soule, so is good newes from a farre countrey.

A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt spring.

It is not good to eat muche honie. so to search their owne glorie is not glorie.

A man that refraineth not his appetite, is like a citie which is broken downe, and without walles.

As the snow in the sommer, and as the raine in the haruest are not mete, so is honour vnseemly for a foole.

As the sparrow by flying, and the swalowe by flying escape, so the curse that is causeles, shall not come.

Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, and a rodde to the foolles backe.

Answer not a foole according to his foolishnes, lest thou also be like him.

Answer a foole according to his foolishnes, lest he be wise in his owne conceite.

He that sendeth a message by the hand of a foole, is as he that cutteth off the fete, and drinketh iniquitie.

As they that lift vp the legges of the lame, so is a parable in a foolles mouth.

As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is he that giueth glorie to a foole.

A thorne standing vp in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of foolles.

The excellent that formed all things, bothe rewardeth the foole and rewardeth the transgressors.

As a dogge turneth againe to his owne vomite, so a foole turneth to his foolishnes.

Seekest thou a man wise in his owne conceite, more hope is of a foole then of him.

The slouthful man saith, A lyon is in the waye: a lyon is in the skretes.

As the dore turneth vpon his hinges, so doth the slouthful man vpon his bed.

The slouthful hideth his hand in his bosome, and it grieueth him to put it agayne to his mouth.

The sluggard is wise in his owne conceit, than seven men that can rendre a reason.

He that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as a dogge that taketh a dogge by the eares.

Chap. 19. 24.

18 As he that faineth him self mad, casteth fyre brandes, arrowes and mortal things, 19 So dealeth the deceitful man with his friend and faith, Am not I in sporte?
 20 Without wood the fyre is quenched, & without a tale bearer strife ceaseth.
 21 *As the cole maketh burning coles, and wood a fyre, so the contentious man apt to kindle strife.
 22 *The wordes of a tale bearer are as flat-terings, and they go downe into the bowels of the bellie.
 23 As siluer drosse ouerlayed vpon a pot-shard, so are burning lippes, and an euil heart.
 24 He that hateth, wil counterfait with his lippes, but in his heart he layeth vp deceit.
 25 Thogh he speake fauorably, beleue him not: for there are seven abominacions in his heart.
 26 Harred may be couered by deceit: but the malice thereof shalbe discouered in the Congregation.
 27 *He that diggeth a pit, shal fall therein, and he that rolleth a stone, shal retur-ne vnto him.
 28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth causeth ruine.

CHAP. XXVII.

BOast not thy self of to morowe: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forthe.
 2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine owne lips.
 3 *A stone is heauie, and the sand weightie:
 but a foolies wrath is heauier then them bothe.
 4 Anger is cruel, and wrath is raging: but who can stand before enuie?
 5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.
 6 The woundes of a louer are faithful, and the kisses of an enemy are pleasant.
 7 The persone that is full, despiseth an honie combe: but vnto the hungry soule euerie bitter thing is swete.
 8 As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his owne place.
 9 As ointement and perfume reioyce the heart, so doeth the sweetenes of a mans friend by heartie counsell.
 10 Thine owne friend and thy fathers friend forsake thou not: neither entre into thy brothers house in the day of thy calamitie:
 for better is a neighbour that is nere, then a brother farre of.
 11 My sonne, be wise, & reioyce mine heart, that I may answer him that reprocheth me.
 12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himself: but the foolish go on stil, and are punished.

 13 *Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger, & a pledge of him for the stranger.
 14 He that praiseth his friend with a low-de voyce, rising early in the morning, it shalbe counted to him as a curse.
 15 *A cotinual dropping in the day of raine, and a contentious woman are a like.
 16 He that hideth her, hideth the wunde, & she is as the oyle in his right hand, that witreth it self.
 17 Yron sharpeneth yron, so doeth a man sharpen the face of his friend.
 18 He that kepeth the figge tre, shal eat the frute thereof: so he that waiteth vpon his master, shal come to honour.
 19 As a water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.
 20 The graue and destruction can neuer be fulfilled, so the eyes of man can neuer be satif-fied.
 21 *As is the fining pot for siluer & the fornace for golde, so is euerie man according to his dignitie.
 22 Thogh thou shuldest braye a foole in a mortar among wheat brayed with a pes-tel, yet wil not his foolishnes departe from him.
 23 Be diligent to knowe the state of thy floe-ke, and take hede to the heards.
 24 For riches remaine not alwaye, nor the crowne from generation to generation.
 25 The heye discouereth it self, and the grasse appeareth, and the herbes of the mountaines are gathered.
 26 The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.
 27 And let the milke of the goats be sufficient for thy foode, for the foode of thy familie, and for the sustinance of thy mai-des.

Whose praier God hateth. Prouerbes. The want of the word ^{127/1224}

- 7 He that kepeth the law, is a childe of vnderstanding, but he that fedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.
- 8 He that increaseth his riches by vsurie and interest, gathereth them for him that wil be merciful vnto the poore.
- 9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, euen his praier shal be abominable.
- 10 He that causeth the righteous to go astray by an euil way, shal fall into his owne pit, and the vpright shal inherit good things.
- 11 The riche man is wise in his owne conceit: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can trye him.
- 12 * When righteous man reioyce, there is great glorie: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tryed.
- 13 He that hideth his sinnes, shal not prosper: but he that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shal haue mercie.
- 14 Blessed is the man that feareth alwaye: but he that hardeneth his heart, shal fall into euil.
- 15 As a roaring lyon, and an hungrie beate, so is a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.
- 16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressour: but he that hateth couetousnes, shal prolong his daies.
- 17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a persone, shal flie vnto the graue, and ther shal not stay him.
- 18 He that walketh vprightly, shal be saued: but he that is froward in his waies, shal once fall.
- 19 * He that tilleth his land, shal be satisfied with bread: but he y followeth the ydle, shal be filled with pouertie.
- 20 A faithful man shal abounde in blessings, & he that maketh haste to be riche, shal not be innocent.
- 21 To haue respect of persones is not good: for that man wil transgresse for a piece of bread.
- 22 A man with a wicked eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not, that pouertie shal come vpon him.
- 23 He that rebuketh a man, shal finde more fauour at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.
- 24 He that robbeth his father and mother, & saith, it is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.
- 25 He that is of a proude heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shal be safe.
- 26 He that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisdom, shal be deliuered.
- He that giueth vnto the poore, shal not
- lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shal haue many curses.
- 28 * When the wicked rise vp, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXX.

1 A Man that hardeneth his necke, when he is rebuked, shal suddenly be destroyed and can not be cured.

2 * When the righteous are in autoritie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: * but he that fedeth harlots, wasteth his substance.

4 A King by iudgement maintaineth the country: but a man receiving giftes, destroyeth it.

5 A man y flattereth his neighbour, & spreadeth a net for his steppes.

6 In the transgression of an euil man is his snare: but the righteous doeth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornful men bring a citie into a snare: but wise man turne away wrath.

9 If a wise man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angrie or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloodie men hate him that is vpright: but the iuste haue care of his soule.

11 A foole powreth out all his minde: but a wise man kepeth it in til afterwarde.

12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lyes, all his seruants are wicked.

13 * The poore and the vsurer mete together, and the Lord lightneth bothe their eyes.

14 * A King that iudgeth the poore in truth, his throne shal be established for euer.

15 The rodde and correction giue wisdom: but a childe set at libertie, maketh his mother ashamed.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shal see then fall.

17 Correct thy sonne and he wil giue thee rest, and wil giue pleasures to thy soule.

18 Where there is no vision, the people decay: but he that kepeth the Law, is blessed.

19 A seruant wil not be chastised with wordes: thogh he vnderstand, yet he wil not answer.

11 There is a generacion that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generacion that are pure in there owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthines.

13 There is a generacion, whose eyes are haughty, and their eye liddes are lifted vp.

14 There is a generacion, whose teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as kniues to eat vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

20 Suche is the way also of an aduouterous woman: she eateth & wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

k She hath her desires, & alter counterfarteth as though she were an honest woman.

21 For thre things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it can not susteine it self:

22 For a seruānt when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meat, l These commonly abuse the state whereon to they are called 23 For the hateful woman, when she is married, and for a handmaid that is m hie to her mastres.

m Which is married to her master after the death of her mastres

27 The greshopper hathe no King, yet go thei forthe all by bandes:

28 The spider taketh holde with her hāds, and is in Kings palaces.

o If man be not able to passe these commune things by his wisdom, we can not attribute wisdom to man but folie.

THE WORDES OF KING

a Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that asseblith the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, & how men ought to passe their life in this transitorie world. He condemneth the opinions of all men that see felicitie in aie thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanitie and nothing. Salomon doeth not condemn mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in aie thing vnder the heauen, nor in aie creature, for in suche as all things are transitorie.

a Lemuel: The b propheticke which his mother taught him.

WHat my sonne^a and what the sonne of ^c my wombe! and what, ^d o sonne of my desires!

Give not thy strength vnto womē, ^d nor thy waies, ^e which to destroy Kings.

It is not for Kings, ^e o Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drinke wine, nor for princes ^e strong drinke;

Let he drinke, and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

Give ye strong drinke vnto him, that is ready to perish, and wine vnto them that haue grief of heart.

Let him drinke, that he may forget ^f his pouertie, and remember his miserie no more.

Open thy mouth for the ^g domme in the cause of all the children of destruction.

Open thy mouth. iudge righteously, and iudge the afflicted, and the poore.

Who shal finde a vertuous woman? for her price ^h is farie aboute the pearles.

The heart of her housband trusteth in her, and he shal haue no nede of ⁱ spoile.

The wil do him good, and not euill all the daies of her life.

She seeketh wooll and flaxe, and laboreth cherefully with her hands.

She is like the shippes of marchants: she bringeth her fode from a farie.

And she riseth, whiles it is yet night: and gueth ^j the porcion to her housholde, and the ^k ordinarie to her maids.

She considereth a field, and ^k getteth it: with the frute of her hands she planteth a vineyarde.

She girdeth her loynes with strength, & strengtheneth her armes.

She felth that her marchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

She putteth her hands to the whcrue, & her hands handle the spindle.

She stretcheth out her hand to the poore, and putteth forthe her hands to the needy.

She feareth not the snowe for her familie. for all her familie is clothed with skarlet.

She maketh her self carpets: fine linen & purple ^l is her garment.

Her housband is known in the ^m gates, when he sitteth with the Elders of ⁿ y land.

She maketh ^o shetes, and selleth them, & gueth guidels vnto the marchant.

Strength and honour ^p is her clothing, and in the latter day she shal reioyce.

She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and the ^q law of grace ^r is in her tongue.

She ouersceth ^s y waies of her housholde, and eateth not the bread of y dlenes.

Her children rise vp, and ^t call her blessed. her housband also shal praise her, saying, Manie daughters haue done vertuously: but thou surmountest them all.

Fauour ^u is disceitful, and beautie ^v is vanitie: but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shal be praised.

Give ^w her of the frute of her hands, and let her owne workes praise her in ^x y gates.

i She preparereth their meat betime. k She purchaseth it with y gaines of her trauaile.

l In the assemblies and places of iudgement.

m After that he had spokē of the apparel of the bodie, he now declareth the apparel of the spirit.

n Her tongue is as a boke wherby one might learne manie good things for the delight to take of the worde of God.

o That is, do her reuerence.

p Confess her diligent labours and commend her therefore.

q For as much as the most honorable are clad in the apparel that sheweth.

ECCLESIASTES, OR the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon, as a preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceuall: vanities of this worlde, that man shoulde not be addicted to aie thing, grauer the seruice, but rather instructed with the desire of the heauenlie life: therefore he consateth their opinions, which see their felicitie, ether in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God and shal enioye his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, saue in as muche as they further vs to attaine to this heauenlie treasure, which is sure and permanent, and can not be founde in aie other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

a All things in this world are ful of vanitie, and of none endurance. b All mans wisdoms is but filie and grief.

He wordes of the ^a Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalem.

^b Vanitie of vanities, faith ^c y Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

What remaineth vnto man in all his ^d transitorie.

uail, which he suffereth vnder the sunne.

One generacion passeth, and another generacion succedeth: but the earth remaineth for ^e euer.

The sunne riseth, & the sunne goeth downe, & draweth to his place, where he riseth.

The ^f winde goeth toward ^g y South, & ^h compasseth toward ⁱ y North: the winde goeth about, & returneth by his circuites.

*All the riuers go into the sea, yet the sea is not ful: for the riuers go vnto the place, d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, euen to the last daie, which yet is subiect to corruption.

e By the sunne, winde and riuers he sheweth that the great labour and longest hart an end, and therefore there can be no iusticie in this world.

f Eccles. 1. 6.

f The sea & compasseth all the earth, filch the vines thereof, the power our springs and rivers into the sea againe
 g He speaketh of times & seasons & things done in them, which as thou haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe h He proueth that if anie colde haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour and studie, he chiefly shulde haue obtained it, because he had giftes and aydes of God thereunto above all other i Man of nature hath a desire to knowe, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, & is the punishment of sinne, to humble man, and to teache him to depende onely vpon God.
 k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goe other wise then they doe nether can he nombre the fautes that are committed, muche lesse remedie them l That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but grief & trouble of conscience m Wisdome & knowledge can not be come by without great peine of bodie and minde for when a man hath attained to the hest, yet is his minde neuer fully content, therefore in this worlde is no true felicitie.

8 All things are ful of labour: man can not vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.
 9 What is it that hath bene that that shalbe: & what is it that hath bene done that which shalbe done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.
 10 Is there anie thing, whereof one may say, Beholde this, it is newe: it hath bene already in the olde time y was before vs.
 11 There is no memorie of y former, nether shal there be a remembrance of the later that shalbe, with them that shal come after.
 12 ¶ I the Preacher haue bene King ouer Israel in Ierusalém:
 13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search & finde out wisdome by all things that are done vnder the heauen. (this fore trauail hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby) 14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all is vanitie, and vexacion of the spirit.
 15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: & that which faileth, can not be nobred.
 16 I thought in mine heart, & said, Beholde, I am become great, and excel in wisdome all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalém: and mine heart hath sene muche wisdome and knowledge.
 17 And I gaue mine heart to knowe wisdome & knowledge, madnes & foolishnes: I knewe also y this is a vexacion of the spirit.
 18 For in y multitude of wisdome is muche grief: & he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorowe.
 19 That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but grief & trouble of conscience m Wisdome & knowledge can not be come by without great peine of bodie and minde for when a man hath attained to the hest, yet is his minde neuer fully content, therefore in this worlde is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buyldings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise and the foole haue bothe one end, touching the bodie death.

a Salomon maketh this discours with his self, as though he wolde trye whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures b He drawe my self to wine.
 c Albeit I gaue my self to pleasures, yet I thought to keepe wisdome & the feare of God in mine heart, and gouerne mine affaires by the same.

 e Hee paratise

1 I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will proue thee with ioye: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: & beholde, this also is vanitie.
 2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioye, What is this that thou doest?
 3 I sought in mine heart to giue my self to wine, & to lead mine heart in wisdome, and to take holde of folie, til I might sene where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they enioye vnder the sunne: the whole number of the daies of their life.
 4 I haue made my great workes: I haue buylt me houses: I haue plated me vineyards.
 5 I haue made me gardens and orchardes, and planted in them trees of all fruite.
 6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to watter therewith the woods that growe with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants & maids, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beues and shepe about all that were before me in Ierusalém.
 8 I haue gathered vnto me also siluer and golde, and the chief treasures of Kings & prouinces: I haue prouided me me fingers and women fingers, and the delites of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.
 9 And I was great, and encreased about all that were before me in Ierusalém: also my wisdome remained with me.
 10 And what soeuer mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from the: I withdrew not mine heart from anie ioye: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauail.
 11 The I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauail that I had labored to do: and beholde, all is vanitie and vexacion of the spirit: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.
 12 ¶ And I turned to beholde wisdome, & madnes and folie: (for who is the man that wil come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)
 13 Then I sawe that there is profite in wisdome, more then in folie: as the light is more excellent then darkenes.
 14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenes: yet I knowe also that the same condition falleth to them all.
 15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the foole. Why therefore do I the labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.
 16 For there shalbe no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole for euer. for that that now is, in the daies to come shal all be forgotten. And how dyeth the wise man, as doeth the foole?
 17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke y is wrought vnder y sunne is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanitie, & vexacion of the spirit.
 18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder y sunne, which I shal leaue to the man that shalbe after me.
 19 And who knoweth whether he shalbe wise or foolish? yet shal he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, & wherein I haue shewed my self wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.
 20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.
 21 For there is a man whose trauail is in wisdome, & in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a mā that hath not trauailed herein, shal he giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great grief.

c Meaning, of the seruants or slaues, which he had bought: for the childre borne in their seruitude, were the masters.
 d That is, what soeuer men take pleasure in.
 e Which were the most beautiful of them that were taken in warre, as Judges, 5, 30. Some vnderstand by these wordes, noe women but instruments of musike f For all this God did not take his gift of wisdome from me g This was y fruite of all my labour, a certeine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse h I bethoght with my self whether it were better to followe wisdome, or mine owne affectiōs and pleasures, which he calleth madnes.
 i Or, compare with the King.
 k Prom. 17, 24.
 l He foreseeth things, which the foole can not for lacke of wisdome
 m For bothe dye & are forgotten, as ver. 16, or they bothe alike haue prosperitie or aduersitie.
 n Meaning, in this worlde.
 o He wondereth that men forget a wise man, being dead, as those as they do a foole.
 p That I might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.
 q Among other griefs this was not y least to leaue that which he had gotten by great trauail, to one y had taken no peine therefore, and whome he knew not whether he were a wise man or a foole.

Tyme for all things. Or the Preacher. Of man and beast. 17824

- 22 For what hathe man of all his trauail and grief of his heart, wherein he hathe trauailed vnder the sunne?
- 23 For all his dayes are sorrowes, and his trauail grief. his heart also taketh not rest in the night, which also is vanitie.
- 24 There is no profit to man but that he eat, and drinke, and reuelite his soule with the profit of his labour. I sawe also this, that it was of the hand of God.
- 25 For who colde eat, and who colde haste to outward things more then I?
- 26 Surely to a man that is good in his fight, God giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and strength: but to the sinner he giveth paine, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, & vexation of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

All things haue their tyme: 14 The workes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iuste, and vnjuste.

p When a man liueth and laboureth he can get no more than his soule: he can not take with him into the grave: as the sunne, and the moon, and the stars, which are not subject to corruption.

a He speaketh of this duration of time for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in this world, which is not subject to corruption. And secondly, to shew that we haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither enjoy them so long as we would wish.

b Read Chap 3.

c God hathe giuen man a free will, and a free choice, and a free conscience, to let out the things of this world, and to labour therein. See Chap 2, 24, and the places declared. We shoulde do all things, with iobnesse, and the feare of God, forasmuch as he giueth vs his gifts, vs to be sure that they shoulde be abused. That is, man shal neuer be able to let Gods workes, but as he hathe determined, so it shal come to passe if God onlie commandeth, vs to be sure, to be true.

- TO all things there is an appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.
- 1 A time to be borne, & a time to dye: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that, which is planted.
- 2 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to buylde.
- 3 A time to wepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.
- 4 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be faire from embracing.
- 5 A time to keepe, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.
- 6 A time to retyre, & a time to sowe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.
- 7 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.
- 8 What profit hathe he that worketh, of thyng wherein he trauaileth?
- 9 I haue sene the trauail that God hathe giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby.
- 10 He hathe made euerie thing beautiful in his tyme: also he hathe set the world in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God hathe wrought from the beginning even to the end.
- 11 I knowe that there is nothing good in the, but to reioyce, & to do good in his life.
- 12 And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour, this is the gift of God.
- 13 I knowe that whatsoever God shal do, it shalbe foreuer: to it can no man adde, and fro it can none diminish: for God hathe done it, they shoulde feare before him.
- 14 What is that that hathe bene that is now: & that that shalbe, hathe now bene: for God requireth that which is past.

- 16 And moreouer I haue sene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednes, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.
- 17 I thought in mine heart, God wil iudgethe iuste & the wicked, for time is there for euery purpose and for euery worke.
- 18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had purged them: yet to se to, they are in the felicitie as beasts.
- 19 For the condition of the children of man, and the condition of beastes are euery as one condition vnto them. As the one dyeth, so dyeth the other. for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man above the beast, for all vanitie.
- 20 All go to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shal retorne to the dust.
- 21 Who knoweth whether the spirit of man ascende vppward, and the spirit of the beast descend downward to the earth?
- 22 Therefore I se that there is nothing better then y a man shulde reioyce in his affaires, because y is his portion. For who shal bring him to se what shalbe after him?

CHAP. IIII.

The innocents are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans secret is necessarie. 13 A young man poore, and wise is to be preferred to an olde King that is a foole.

- SO as I turned, and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, & beholde, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them. and by the strength of the hand of them that oppresseth them, and none comforteth them.
- 1 Wherefore I praised the dead which are now at the dead, about the liuing, which are yet a liue.
- 2 And I counted him better then them both, which hathe not yet bene. for he hathe not sene the euil workes which are wrought vnder the sunne.
- 3 Also I behelde all trauail, and all perfection of workes that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbour. thus also is vanitie and vexation of spirit.
- 4 The foole foloweth his hands, and eateth vp his owne flesh.
- 5 Better is an handful with quietnes, then two handfulls with labour and vexation of spirit.
- 6 Again I returned, and sawe vanitie vnder the sunne.
- 7 There is one alone, and there is not a second, which hathe nether sonne nor brother, yet is there none end of all his trauail, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither doth he thinke, For whome do I trauail, and defraude my soule of pleasure: this also is vanitie, and this is an euil trauail.
- 8 Two are better then one: for they haue

g Meaning, 3 God, howe soeuer man neglecteth his dutie

h And made them pure in their first creation

i Man is not able by his reason, & iudgement to put difference betwene man & beast, as touching those things which are common to both k Both are subject for they eye can not iudge the other l The wife of a man being dead, the of a beast, is dead yet by the word of God

m And thus we easily knowe the diuersitie n Meaning, that reason is not common to both o Which hath belueth her p By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap 2, 24 & Chap 3, 12, and 22

q Chap 8, 15 he decreith that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this late life

v He speaketh according to the iudgement of his heart, & can not abate his heart

w He is more part of the workes as the more is the end of his wicked

x For valence he is copiled to destroye his selfe

y Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither helpe himselfe nor others z He sheweth that ought to be in mutual societie, to the intent that may be profitable one to another, & that their things may encrease better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellowe: but wnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a seconde to lift him vp.

11 Also if two slepe together, then shal they haue heat: but to one how shulde there be heat?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shal stande against him: and a threfolde s coard is not easely broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an olde and foolish King, which wil no more be admonished.

14 For out of the h prison he cometh forthe to reigne: when as he that is borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

15 I behelde all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, k with the seconde childe, which shal stande vp in his place.

16 There is none l end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shal not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

17 Take hede to thy m foote when thou entrest into the House of God, and be more nere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of a fooles: for they knowe not that they do euil.

CHAP. V.

Not to speake lightly, especially in Gods matters. 9 The covetous can neuer haue ynough. 11 The laborers slepe in swete. 14 Man when he dyeth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, and with a conserued minde in the gift of God.

1 BE not rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be haltie to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on y earth: therefore let thy wordes be b fewe.

2 For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of busines: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.

3 When thou hast vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he deliteth not in fooles. paye therefore y thou hast c vowed.

4 It is better that thou shuldest not vowe, then that thou shuldest vowe and not paye it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy d flesh to sinne: nether say before the e Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shal God be angrie by thy voyce, & destroye the worke of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, & vanities are also manie wordes: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou seeest the oppressio of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, be not astonied at the matter: for he that is f higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the s abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King h also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shal not be satisfied with siluer, & he that loueth riches, shal be without the frute thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 Whē goods encrease, they are encreased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The slepe of him that trauaileth, is swete, whether he eat litle or muche: but the s facietie of the riche wil not suffer him to slepe.

12 There is an euil sickenes that I haue sene vnder the sunne: to w^t, riches k restured to the owners thereof for their euil.

13 And these riches perish by euil trauail, & he begetteth a sonne, and in his l hand is nothing.

14 As he came forthe of his mothers belly, he shal returne naked to go as he came, & shal beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his had.

15 And this also is an euil sickenes that in all pointes as he came, so shal he go, and what profite hath he that he hath trauailed for the m winde?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in n darcknes with muche grief, and in his sorow & angre.

17 Beholde then, what I haue sene good, that it is comelie to o eat, and to drinke, & to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he trauaileth vnder the sunne, y whole nōber of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his porcion.

18 Also to euerie man to whome God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eat thereof, and to take his parte, and to enioye his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely he wil not muche remember the dayes of his p life, because God answereth to the ioye of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whome God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

1 HERE is an euil, which I sawe vnder the sunne, and it is muche among mē:

2 A man to whome God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but a God giueth him not power to eat thereof, but a strange man shal eat it vp: this is vanitie, and this is an euil sickenes.

3 If a man beget an hundred children and liue manie yeres, and the dayes of his yeres be multiplied, and his soule be not b satisfied with good things, and he be not c buried, I say that an vntimelie fiute is better then he.

4 For d he cometh into vanitie and goeth

s The renewes of search are to be preferred above all things, & appertene to this life. h Kings and princes can not mainteiner their estate without tillage, & this commendeth y excellence of tillage.

i That is, his great abundance of riches, or y surfeiting, & cometh by his great feeding.

k When covetous men heape vp riches, which turnes their destruction.

l He doeth not enioye his fathers riches. Job. 1. 21. Wisd. 7. 6. 1. 2. 20. 6. 8.

m Meaning, in vaine, & without profit. n In affliction, and grief of minde.

o Read Chap. 3. 22.

p He will take no grev thought for the peines that he hath endured in time past.

q He sheweth that it is the plague of God when y riche man hath not a liberal heart to vse his riches. b If he can neuer haue ynough. c As we se often times, that y covetous mā lither falleth into crimes y deserue death, or is murdered or drowned or hangeth himself or such liks, & so lacketh the honour of buryal which is the last office of humanitie. d Meaning, y vntimelie: or late whole lite did nether profite or hurt aucte.

g By this proverbe he declareth how necessaric it is, y men shulde liue in societie. h That is, fro a poore, & base estate, or out of trouble, & prison, as Iosiph did, Gen 41. 14. i Meaning, y is borne a King. k Which follow, & flatter y Kings sonne, or him y shal succede to enter into credit with them in hope of gaine. l They neuer cease by all means to creepe into fauour: but when they obtaine not their greadie desires, they thinke the ielues abused, as other haue bene i time past, and so care no more for him. m That is, what a satisfaction thou comest to heare y worde of God. n Meaning, of the wicked, w^t thinke to please God w^t ceremonies, and haue nether faith nor repenitance.

a Either i vowing or in praying meaning y we shulde vse all reuerence to God warde. b He heareth thee not for thy manie wordes sake, or often repetitions, but considereth thy faith, and fervent minde. Deut. 23. 21. c He speaketh of voves, & are approved by Gods wordes, and serue to his glorie. d Cause not thy self to sinne by vowing rashly: as the do w^t make a vowe to liue unmarried, and such like. e That is, before Gods messenger whē he shal examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance shulde be a just excuse. f Meaning, y God wil redresse these things, & therefore we must deged vpo his.

5 Also he hathe not sene y sunne, nor knowe it: therefore this hathe more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeres twise tolde, and had sene no good, shal not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of mā is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled.

8 For what hathe the wise man more then the fool? what hathe y peccer that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lustes: this also is vanitie and vexacion of spirit.

10 What is that that hathe bene the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man. and he can not struue with him that is stronger then he.

Surcise vanitie & what auailerth it mā?

2 For who knoweth what is a good for man in the life & in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seing he maketh thē as a shadow? For who can shewe vnto man what shalbe after him vnder y sunne? * A good name is better then a good oyntment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

3 It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men, and the liuing shal lay it to his heart.

4 Angrie is better then laughter: for by a sad loke the heart is made better.

5 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of foolles is in the house of mirth.

6 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wise man, then that a mā shulde heare the song of foolles.

7 For like the noise of the thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foole: this also is vanitie.

8 Surely oppressio maketh a wise mā mad: and the rewarde destroyeth the heart.

9 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, & the pacient in spirit is better then the proude in spirit.

10 Be not y of an hastie spirit to be angrie: for angrie resteth in the bosome of foolles.

11 Say not thou, Why is it that the former daies were better then these? for thou dost not enquire wisely of this thing.

12 Wisdom is good with an inheritaunce, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

13 For man shal rest in the shadowe of wisdom, & in y shadowe of siluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdom giueth life to the possessers thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make straight that which he hathe made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, & in the day of affliction: confide in God: also hathe made this contrary to that, to the intent that mā shulde finde nothing after him.

17 I haue sene all things in the daies of my vanitie: there is a iust man that perisheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iust ouermuche, nether make thy self ouer wise: wherefore shuldest thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked ouermuche, nether be thou foolish: wherefore shuldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou late holde on this: but yet withdrawe not thine hand from that: for he that feareth God, shal come forth of them all.

21 Wisdom shal strengthen the wise man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.

22 Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine ear also to all y wordes that men speake, lest thou do heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For often times also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisdom: I thought I wil be wise, but it went faire from me.

26 It is farre of, what maie it be? and it is a profound depenes, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, bothe I and mine heart to knowe and to enquire and to searche wisdom and reason, and to knowe the wickednes of folie, and the foolishnes of madnes,

28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nettes & snares, and her hands as bands: he that is good before God, shalbe deliuered from her, but y sinner shalbe taken by her.

29 Beholde, saith the Preacher, this haue I founde, seeking one by one to finde y couete:

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not. I haue founde one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not founde.

31 Onely lo, this haue I founde, that God hathe made man righteous: but they haue sought manie inuentions.

 2 I ^aadvertise thee to take hede to the ^c mouth of the King, and to the worde of the othe of God.
 3 ^d Haste not to go forth of his sight: stand not in an euil thing: for he wil do whatsoeuer pleaseth him.
 4 Where the worde of the King is, ^e there is power, and who shal say vnto him, What doest thou?
 5 He that kepeth the commandement, shal knowe none euil thing, and the heart of the wise shal knowe the ^f time and iudgement.
 6 For to euerie purpose there is a time and iudgement because the ^g miserie of man is great, vpon him.
 7 For he knoweth not that which shalbe: for who can tel him when it shalbe?
 8 Man is not lord ^h ouer the spirit to re- teine the spirit: nether hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battel, nether shal wickednes deliuer the possessor thereof.
 9 All this haue I sene, and haue giuen mine heart to euerie worke, which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I sawe a time that man rulerth ouer man to his owne ⁱ hurt.
 10 And likewise I sawe the wicked buried, and ^j they returned, and they that came from the holie ^k place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this also is vanitie.
 11 Because sentence against an euil worke is not ^l executed spedely, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in the to do euil.
 12 Thogh a sinner do euil an hundreth times, and God prolongeth ^m his dayes, yet I knowe that it shalbe wel with them that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.
 13 But it shal not be wel to the wicked, nether shal he prolong ⁿ his dayes: he shalbe like a shadowe, because he feareth not before God.
 14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon the earth, that there be righteous men to whome it cometh according to the ^o worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whome it cometh according to the worke of the iuste: I thought also that this is vanitie.
 15 And I praised ioye: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the sunne, saue ^p to eat and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.
 16 When I applied mine heart to knowe wisdom, and to beholde the busines that is done on earth, that nether day nor night the eyes of man take slepe, m Which are punished as though they were wicked, as Chap. 7. 16.

 n Read Chap. 3. 22.

17 Then I beheld ^q the whole worke of God, that man can not finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne. for the which man laboreth to seke it, and can not finde it: yea, and thogh the wise man thinke to knowe it, he can not finde it.

- CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whome God loveth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wisdom excelleth strength.

1 I haue suerly giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iuste, & the wise, and their workes are in the hand of God. & no man knoweth ether loue or ^a hatred of all that ^b is before them.
 2 All things ^c come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iuste and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, & to the polluted, & to him that sacrificeth, & to him that sacrificeth not: as ^d is the good, so ^e is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an othe.
 3 This is euil among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one ^f condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euil, and madnes is in their hearts while they liue, and after that, they ^g go to the dead.
 4 Surely whosoever is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a ^h liuing dog, then to a dead lyon.
 5 For the liuing knowe that they shal dye, but the dead knowe nothing at all: nether haue they any more a rewarde: for their remembrance is forgotten.
 6 Also their loue, and their hatred, & their enuie is now perished, and they haue no more portion foreuer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.
 7 Go, eat thy bread with ioye, & drinke thy wine with a cheereful heart: for God now ⁱ accepteth thy workes.
 8 At all times let thy garments be ^j white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.
 9 ^k Reioyce with the wife whome ^l thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, ^m for God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne: all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, & in thy trauail wherein thou laborest vnder the sunne.
 10 All that thine hand shal finde to do, do it with ⁿ all thy power: for there is nether worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whether thou goest.
 11 I returned, & I sawe vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battel to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, nether yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and ^o chance cometh to them all.
 12 For nether doeth man knowe his ^p time, but as the fishes, which are taken in an euil net, a Meaning, what things he ought to craue or refuse or make knowne not by these outward things, but by propertie or aduertise, whome God doeth fauour or hate: for he sanderth them aswel to the wicked as to the goodie

 b In outward things as riches, and power, sickness, & helth there is no difference betweene the goodie, & the wicked but difference is that godlie are assured by faith of Gods fauour & assistance
 c He noteth Epicures, & carnal men, who made their belly their god, & had no pleasure but in this life, without rather to be an abject, & vile person in this life, then a man of authority, and to dye, which is ment by the dog and lyon.
 d They flatter them selues to be in Gods fauour, because they haue all things in abundance net, & as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euil time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also sene this wisdome vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A litle citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and buylded forres against it.

15 And there was founde therein a poore and wise man, and he deliuered the citie by his wisdome: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdome then strength: yet the wisdome of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wife are more heard in quietnes, then the crye of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisdome then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnes and wisdome. 11 A scorpion is like a serpent that can not be charmed. 16 Of foolish Kings, and drunken princes. 17 And of good Kings and princes.

1 Dead flies cause to stinke, and putrifie the ointment of the apoticarie: so doeth a litle folie him that is in estimation for wisdome, and for glorie.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his leit hand.

3 And also whē the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentleness pacifieth great finnes.

5 There is an euil that I haue sene vnder the sunne, as an error that procedeth frō the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folie is set in great excellencie, and the riche set in the lowe place.

7 I haue sene seruants on horses and princes walking as seruants on the grounde.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shal fall into it, & he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shal bite him.

9 He y remoueth stones, shal hurt him self thereby, & he that cutteth wood, shaibe in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hathe not whet the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdome.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lippes of a foole deuoure him self.

13 The beginning of y wordes of his mouth is foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnes.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying, Manknoweth not what shaibe: and who can tel him what shaibe after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the scitrie.

16 Wo to thee, o land, when thy King is a childe, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, o land, when thy King is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkennes.

18 By slouthfulness y rooffe of the house goeth to decay, and by the ydlenes of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 Thei prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no nor in thy thought, nether curse the riche in thy bed chamber: for the soule of the heauen shal cary the voice, & that which hathe wings, shal declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal to the poore. 4 Not to doute of Gods providence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God wil iudge all.

1 Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after manie daies thou shalt finde it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, & also to eight: for thou knowest not what euil shaibe vpon the earth.

3 If the cloudes be ful, they wil poure forth the raine vpon the earth: and if the tre do fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tre falleth, there it shaibe.

4 He that obserueth the winde, shal not sowe, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shal not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do growe in the wombe of her that is with child: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy sede, and in the euening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shal prosper, this or that, or whether bothe shaibe alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see y sunne.

8 Though a man liue manie yeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he shal remember the daies of darkness, because thei are manie, all that cometh is vanitie.

9 Reioyce, o yong man, in thy youth, & let thine heart chere thee in the daies of thy youth: and walke in the waies of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but knowe that for all these things, God wil bring thee to iudgement.

CHAP. XII.

To thinke on God in youth and not to differre til age. The soule returneth to God as if some in the gift of God and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandements.

Remember now thy Creator in the daies of thy youth, whiles the euil daies come not, nor the yeres approche, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the cloudes returne after the raine:

When the l'kepets of the house shal tremble, and the strong men shal bowe them selues, and the grinders shal cease, because they are f. we, and the waxe darke that l'oke out by the windowes:

And the d'ores shal be shut without by the bas. sounde of the grinding, and he shal rise vp at the voice of the h'uids: & all the daughters of singing shal be abas'd.

Also thei shalbe afrated of the k'ie thing, and feare sh'ibe in the way, and the almonde tre shal flourish and the g'rahpper shalbe a burden, and concupiscence shalbe druen away. for man go-

And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the spirit returne to God that gaue it.

Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanitie.

And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, & caused them to heare, & searched forth, and prepared manie parables.

The Preacher sought to finde out pleasant wordes, & an vp'right writing, eue the wordes of truth.

The wordes of the wise are like goades, and like nailes fastened by the matters of the assemblies, wh'ch are giuē by one y' p'st'our.

And of other th'ings besides these, my sonne, take thou hede. for the e'ie is none end in making manie booke, and muche reading is a wearines of the flesh.

Let vs heare the end of all: feare God & kepe his commandements: for this is the whole d'uee of man.

AN EXCELLENT SONG which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this Song, Salomón by moste sweete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomón and King of peace, and the iustifical soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste and without reproche. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benesites wherewith he doth enrich her of his pure lountie and grace without anye of her desertings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ desireth to be more and more voyued to his true loue, and not to be forsaken for anye spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the spiritual loue betwene Iesus Christ and his Church. The domestical enemies that persecute the Church.

L'ike a h'k' fi' n' with the s'ulks of his mouth: for thy loue is better than win.

Because of the fauour of thy good ornaments thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the virgines loue thee.

Drawe me: we wil runne after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers. we wil reioyce and be glad in thee: we wil remember thy loue more then wine. the righteous do loue thee.

I am blacke, o daughters of Ierusalem, but comelie, as the frutes of a Kedar, as the curtines of Salomón.

Regarde ye me not because I am blacke: for the sunne hath looked vpon me. The sonnes of my mother were angrie against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I kept not mine owne vine.

Shewe me, O thou, whome my soule lo

Next,

Whome thou hast called to the dignitie of pastures, and ther set torrie their owne dreames in head of thy doctine
 Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding the that are ignorant, to go to the pastors to learne
 For thy spiritual beautie and excellencie there was no worldlie treasure to be compared vnto thee
 The Church reioyeth that she is admitted to the companie of Christ
 He shal be moke deare vnto me
 Christ accepteth his Church and commendeth her beautie
 That is, the heart of the faithful where in Christ dwelleth by his Spirit

Thus Christ preferreth his Church above all other things
 The spouse testifieth her great desire toward her husband, but her strength faileth her, and therefore she desireth to be comforted, & felt Christ chargeth them wch haue to do in the Church, as it were by a solemne othe, that their trouble not the quietnes thereof
 This is spoken of Christ, who toke vpon him our nature to come to helpe his Church.
 For as muche as his diuinitie was hid vnder the cloke of our flesh
 So that we can not haue full knowledge of him in this life
 That is, sinne and error is driuen backe by the coming of Christ which is heretofore bed by spring time, when all things flourish

ueth, where thou fedest, where thou liest at noone: for why shulde I be as she that turneth aside to thy flockes of thy copanions
 If thou knowe not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and fede thy kiddes by the tents of the shepherdes.
 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in thy charrets of Pharaoh.
 Thy chekes are comelie wch rowes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.
 We wil make thee borders of golde with studdes of siluer.
 Whiles the King was at his repast, my spikenarde gaued the smel thereof.
 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shal lye betwene my breastes.
 My welbeloued is as a clustre of camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.
 My loue, beholde, thou art faire: beholde, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the dooues.
 My welbeloued, beholde, thou art faire and pleasant: also our bed is grene: the beames of our house are cedres.

CHAP. III.

The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadowes of Christ. She heareth his voyce. She is compared to the dooue, to the foxes.

I am the rose of the field, & the lily of the vallies.
 Like a lily among the thornes, so is my loue among the daughters.
 Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest: so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadowe had I delite, & sate downe: and his frute was swete vnto my mouth.
 He brought me into the wine celler, and loue was his banner ouer me.
 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.
 His left hand is vnder mine head, & his right hand doeth embrace me.
 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalém, by the rocs & by the hundes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor wakē my loue, vntil she please.
 It is the voyce of my welbeloued, beholde, he cometh leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hilles.
 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong hart: lo, he standeth behinde our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing himselfe through the grates.
 My welbeloued spake & said vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, & come thy way.
 For beholde, winter is past, the raine is changed, and is gone away.
 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birdes is come, & the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.
 The figge hath brought forth the honyong figges, & the vines with their small grapes haue cast a fauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

 My dooue, that art in the holes of the rocke, in thy secret places of thy staires, shewe me thy sight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is swete, and thy sight comelie.
 Take vs thy foxes, thy litle foxes, wch destroy the vines: for our vines haue small grapes.
 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: he fedeth among the lilies, Vntil thy day breake, & the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, & be like a roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bethel.

CHAP. IIII.

The Church desireth to be ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband & her deliuerance out of the wilderness.

In my bed by night I sought him that my soule loued: I sought him, but I founde him not.
 I wil rise therefore now, and go about in the citie, by the stretes & by the open places, & wil seeke him that my soule loueth: I sought him, but I founde him not.
 The watchmen that went about the citie, founde me: to whome I said, Haue you sene him whome my soule loueth
 When I had past a litle from them, then I founde him whome my soule loued: I toke holde on him and left him not, til I had broght him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that conceiued me.
 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalém, by the roes and by the hundes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor wakē my loue vntil she please.
 Who is she that commeth vp out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and incense, & with all the spices of the marchant Beholde his bed, which is Salomons: thre score strong men are round about it, of the valiant man of Israel.
 Thei all handle the swordes, & are expert in warre, euerie one hath his sworde vpon his thigh for the feare by night.
 King Salomón made himselfe a palace of the trees of Lebanon.
 He made the pillars the reof of siluer, & pauemēt thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whose middes was paued wch the loue of thy daughters of Ierusalém.
 Come forth, ye daughters of Zion, & beholde the King Salomón wch the crowne, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnes of his heart.

CHAP. IIIII.

The praises of the Church & she is without blemish, as his sight & the loue of Christ towards her.

Beholde, thou art faire, thine eyes are like the dooues, among thy lockes thine heete is

Thou that art ashamed of thy sinnes, come & shewe thy selfe vnto me Suppress the heretikes which les their are yng, that is, when their begone to shewe their malice & destroy the vine of the Lord.
 The Church desireth Christ to be moke ready to helpe her in all dangers.

The Church by night, is in troubles secketh to Christ, but is not distinctly heard.

Shewing that although we be not heard at first, yet we must stil continue in prayer til we feele comfort
 Which declareth, that we must seeke vnto all of whome we hope to haue anie succour.

3 I haue put of my ^d coate, how shal I put it on: I haue washed my fete, how shal I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the dore, & mine heart was affected toward him.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, & mine häds did droppe downe myrrhe, & my ^e fingers pure myrrhe vpon the handels of the barie.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone, & past: mine heart was gone when he did speake: I sought him, but I colde not finde him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The ^f watchemen that went about the cite, founde me: they smote me & wounded me: the watchemen of the walles toke away my vaile from me.

8 I charge you, ^s ð daughters of Ierusalém, if you finde my welbeloued, that you tel him that I am sicke of loue.

9 ^h O the fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued: what is thy welbeloued more then another loue, that thou dost so charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddy, the chiefest of ten thousand.

11 His ⁱ head is as fine golde, his lockes curled, & blacke as a rauē.

12 His eyes are like dooues vpon the riuers of waters, which are washt with milke, & remaine by the ful vessels.

13 His chekes are as a bed of spices, and as swete flowres, & his lippes like lilies dropping downe pure myrrhe.

14 His hands as rings of golde set with the chrysolite his bellie like white yuorie covered with saphirs.

15 His legges are as pillers of marbre, set vpon sockets of fine golde: his countenance as Lebanón, excellent as the cedres.

16 His mouth is as swete things, and he is wholly delectable: this is my welbeloued, & this is my loue, ð daughters of Ierusalém.

17 ^k O the fairest among womē, whether is thy welbeloued gone? whether is thy welbeloued turned aside, that we may seke him with thee?

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God, according to his promes Deut. 18, 15. that he wolde neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a special reuelation, but also to interpret & declare the Law, and to applie particularly the doctrine, contained briefly therein, to the vtilitie & profite of those, to whome they thought it chiefly to appertine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to thre things, which were the grounde of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the twotables: secondely to the promises & threatenings of the Law: & thirdely, to the covenant of grace & reconciliation, grounded vpon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto they nether added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regarde to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their sauergarde by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation they haue more clearly intreated it then Moses, and set forthe more liuely Iesus Christ, in whome this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophetes, and was moste diligent to set out the same, with moste vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as he sawe that the disease of the people required. He declareth also manie notable prophecies which he had receued of God, as touching the promes of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdome. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocaton of the Gentiles, and their vnion with the Iewes. Which are as moste principal pointes contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certeine daies that they had stand vpon the Temple dore (for the maner of the Prophetes was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certeine dayes that the people might the letter marke it, as Isa. 8, 1. & Habak. 2, 2.) the Priestes toke it downe and referued it among their registers: and so by Gods prouidence these bookes were preserved as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his persone and time, he was of the Kings stocke: for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree, and prophced more then 64 yeres from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in lawe he was (as the Ebrewes write) and of whome he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophetes this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certentie thereof, and that they colde not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsel, and so reueiled them to his Prophetes.

CHAP. I.

Isaiah reproveth the Jewes of their ingratitude and stubbornnes, that neither for benefites nor punishment woulde amend. He sheweth why their sacrifices are refused, and where Gods true service standeth. He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem, and of the restitution thereof.

IN THIS, a revelation of prophecies, which were one of the two means, whereby God declared himselfe to his servants in old times, as Nom. 2. 6. & therefore the Prophecies were called Scriptures, 1 Tim. 9. 9. b. It was chiefly sent to Iudah and Ierusalem, but not onely for in this booke are prophecies concerning other nations; also called also Azaiah 2 King. 1. 1. of these Kings read 2 King. from Chap. 14. unto Chap. 21. and 2 Chron. from Chap. 25. unto Chap. 33. d. Because it was written and made publicke, he called it to be damne creatures, which were made prompt to obey Gods word, as Deu. 2. 1. He called it his great mercie towards the Jewes, forasmuch as he closed them about all other nations to be his people & children. Deu. 10. 15. f. The moste brute and dumb beasts to more acknowledge their duetie towards their masters, then my people do towards me, of whom they have received benefites without comparison. They were not onely wicked, as were their fathers, but verily corrupt, and by their evil example infected others. h. That is, him selfe sanctified Ierusalem.

A vision of Isaiah, the sonne of Amoz, which he sawe concerning Iudah and Ierusalem: in the daies of Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz & Hezekiah Kings of Iudah.

1 Heare, O heavens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath said, I have nourished and brought up children, but they have rebelled against me.

2 The ox knoweth his owners, and the asse his masters cryb, but Israel hathe not knownen my people nathe not vnderstand.

3 Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquitie, a seede of the wicked, corrupt children, they haue forsaken the Lord: they haue prouoked the holy one of Israel to anger: they are gone backe wade.

4 Wherefore shulde ye be smitten anie more: for ye fall away more and more the whole head is sicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

5 From the sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but woundes, & swelling, and sores full of corruption: they haue not bene wiped, nor bounde up, nor mollified with oyle.

6 Your land is waste: your cities are burnt with fyre: strangers deuoure your land in your presence, and it is desolate like the outflowe of strangers.

7 And the daughter of Zion shal remaine like a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, & like a besieged citie.

8 Except the Lord of hostes had reserved vnto vs, euen a small remnant: we shulde haue bene as Sodom, & shulde haue bene like vnto Gomorah.

9 Heare the worde of the Lord, O princes of Sodom: hearken vnto the Law of our God, O people of Gomorah.

10 What haue I to do with the multitude of your sacrifices, saith the Lord: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, & of the fat of fed beastes: and I desire not the blood of bullockes, nor of lambes, nor of goates.

11 Whē ye come to appeare before me, who required this of your hands to tread in my countes?

12 Bring no mo oblations, in vaine incense is an abomination vnto me. I can not suffer, our newe moones, nor sabbaths, nor solemne daies (it is iniquitie) nor solemne assemblies.

13 My soule hateth your newe moones & your appointed feasts: they are a burden vnto me. I am weary to beare them.

14 And whē you shal stretch out your hands, I wil hide mine eyes from you: and though ye make manie prayers, I wil not heare: for your hands are full of blood.

15 Wash you, make you cleane: take away the euil of your workes from before mine eyes. cease to do euil.

16 Learne to do wel: seke iudgement, & relieue the oppressed: iudge the fatherles & defend the widowe.

17 Come now, & let vs reason together, saith the Lord: though your sinnes were as crimson, they shalbe made white as snow: though they were red like skarlet, they shalbe as woll.

18 If ye consent and obey, ye shal eat the good things of the land.

19 But if ye refuse and be rebellious, ye shalbe deuoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

20 How is the faithful citie become an habitation? it was full of iudgement, & iustice lodged therein, but now they are as a churche-rerer.

21 Thy siluer is become drosse. thy wine is mixt with water.

22 Thy princes are rebellious and companions of theues: euerie one loueth gifts, & followeth after rewards. they iudge not the fatherles, neither doeth the widowes cause come before them.

23 Therefore saith the Lord God of hostes, the mighty one of Israel, Ah, I wil ease me of mine aduersaries, and auenge me of mine enemies.

24 Then I wil tyme mine hand vpon thee, and burne out thy drosse, til it be pure, & take away all thy rynne.

25 And I wil restore thy iudges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning.

Without faith & repentance. You sacrifices offered in the new moones & feasts conducted hereby hypocrites, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, & they themselves are void of faith and mercie. In the which thou where me be gaine to avarice, decaie, cruelty & extortion, which is meant by blood, there God wil shew his anger, and not accept them, though they seeme neuer so holy, as Chap. 59. By this outward washing, he meaneth spiritual cleansing the Jewes to repent & amend themselves. This kinde of reuolving, by the second table, the Scriptures vnto manie places against the hypocrites, who pretend holmes & religion in word, but when their charitie & lone loward their brethren shalbe apparent, they declare they haue neither fourth nor religion. To knowe if I do accepte you without cause. Left sinners shulde pretend a rigor on Gods parte, he onely walketh there to be pure in heart, & he wil forgue all their sinnes, were they neuer so many or great. He sheweth that w hatsoever aduerstie in an iudiceth, it ought to be attributed to his ouer muche disobedience. That is Ierusalem, which had promised fidelitie vnto me, as a wife to her husband. Gruen to contentment and exorcism, which I signified before by blood. vers 15. Whosoever was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though thou haue outward shewe. That is, they maintain the wicked & the extortioners, & not onely do not punish them, but are them selues such. When God wil shewe himselfe mercifull to his Church, he calleth himselfe. The holie one of Israel, but when he hateth to do with his enemies, he is called Mighty, as against whom no power is able to resist. I wil take vengeance of mine aduersaries the Jewes, and satisfie my desire by punishing them. Which thing yet he doeth with a grief because of his covenant. Left the faithful among them shulde be overcome with this threatening, he addeth this consolacion. It is onely the worke of God to purifie the heart of men, which thing he doeth because of his promise, made concerning the saluacion of his Church.

1 What anueth it to seke to amend you by punishment, seeing the more I correct you, the more ye rebel. k By naming the chief partes of the boone, he signifieth, that there was no parte of the whole bodie of the Jewes free from his roddes. l Enerte parte of the bodie, as well the least as the chiefest was plagued. m Their plagues were so grievous that they were incurable, and yet they woulde not repent. n Meaning of them, that dwell fyre of, which, because they loke for no aduantage of that, which remaineth, destroye all before them. o This is, Ierusalem. p Because that he wil euer haue a Church to call vpon his Name. q That is, all destroyed. r Ye that for your wages deserued all to be destroyed as they of Sodom, saue that God of his mercie reserved. s Iude romber, Lim 3. 22. f Although God commanded the sacrifices for a time, as rites and exercises of their faith, yet because the people had not faith nor repentance, God detesteth them, Psal 50. 14. 1er 6. 20. amos 5. 21. mich 6. 7.

m By iustice is meant Gods faithful promes, w^{ch} is the caus. of y^e deliuerance of his Church. n The wicked shal not be partakers of Gods promes, Plal. 92. 9. o That is, the trees & pleasant places, where ye commit idolatrie, which was forbidden, Deut 16. 22. p The false god, wherein ye put your confidence, shal be consumed as easily, as a piece of towne.

afterwarde shalt thou be called a citie of righteousness, & a faithful citie.

27 Zión shalbe redemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in iustice.

28 And the destruction of the transgressours and of the sinners shalbe together: and they that forsake the Lord, shalbe consumed.

29 For they shal be cōfounded for the oakes, which ye haue desired, and ye shalbe ashamed of the gardens, that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shalbe as an oke, whose leafe fadeth: & as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shalbe as p^{ow}er, and the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they shal bothe burne together, & none shal quenche them.

CHAP. II.

1 The Church shalbe restored by Christ, and the Gentiles called. 6 The punishment of the rebellious & obstinate.

1 The worde that Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz sawe vpon Iudáh and Ierusalém.

2 *It shalbe in the last daies, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shalbe prepared in the top of the mountaines, & shal be exalted aboue the hilles, & all nacions shal slowe vnto it.

3 And manie people shal go, & say, Come, and let vs go vp to the mountaine of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iakób, & he wil teache vs his waies, and we wil walke in his paths: for the Law shal go forth of Zión, and the worde of the Lord from Ierusalém,

4 And he shal iudge among the natiōs, & rebuke manie people: they shal breake their swordes also into mattockes, & their speares into sithes. nacion shal not lift vp a sworde against nacion, nether shal they learn: k to fight anie more.

5 O house of Iakób, come ye, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord.

6 Surely thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Iakób, because they are full of the East maners, and are forcerers as the Philistims, and abunde with strange children.

7 Their land also was ful of siluer and golde, and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was ful of horses, and their charets were infinite.

8 Their land also was ful of idoles: they worshipped the worke of their owne hánds, which their owne fingers haue made.

9 He sheweth the frute of the peace, which the Gospel shulde bring to wit, that men shulde do good one to another, where as before they were enemies. k He speaketh not against the vie of weapons and lawfull warre, but sheweth how the hearts of the godlie shalbe affected one toward another which peace and loue doeth begiue and growe in this life, but shal be perfected, when we are ioyned with our head Christ Iesus.

l Seing the Gentiles wil be so readie, make you haste and shewe them the way to worship God. m The Prophet seing the small hope, that the Iewes wolde conuert, complaeth to God, as though he had vterly forsaken them for their sinnes. n Full of the corruptions that reigned chiefly in the East partes.

o They altogether gae them selues to the factions of other nacions. p The Prophet first condemned their superstition and idolatrie, next their couetousnes, and sturdily, their vaine trust in worldelic meanes.

9 And a man bowed him self, and a man humbled him self: therefore spare the not.

10 Enter into the rocke, & hide thee in the dult from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie.

11 The hie loke of man shalbe humbled, and the loftines of men shalbe abased, & the Lord onely shalbe exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hostes is vpon all the proude and hautie, and vpon all that is exalted: and it shalbe made lowe.

13 Euen vpon all the cedres of Lebanon, that are hie and exalted, and vpon all the okes of Basan,

14 And vpon all the high mountaines, & vpon all the hilles that are lifted vp,

15 And vpon euerie hie towre, and vpon euerie strong wall,

16 And vpon all the shippes of Tarsish, and vpon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the hautines of men shalbe brought lowe, and the loftines of men shalbe abased, and the Lord shal onely be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles wil he vtterly destroye.

19 Then they shal go into the holes of the rockes, and into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, & from the glorie of his maiestie, when he shal arise to destroye the earth.

20 At that day shal man cast away his siluer idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made them selues to worship them) to the mowles and to the backes, 21 To go into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes from befoie the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie, when he shal rise to destroye the earth.

22 Cease you from the man whose breath is in his nostrilles. for wherein is he to be esteemed?

CHAP. III.

1 For the sime of the people God wil take away the wise men, and gae them foolish prouces. 14 The couetousnes of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

1 For so lo, the Lord God of hostes wil take away from Ierusalém and from Iudah the stay and the strength: euen all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, and the man of warre, the iudge and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honorable, and the counselei, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I wil appoint children to be their princes, and babes shal rule ouer them.

5 The people shalbe oppressed one of another, & euerie one by his neighbour: the childre shal presume against the anciet, & the vile against the honorable.

e For lacke of good regiment and order.

f He sheweth that this plague shall be so horrible, that it shall be so rare to the common man of men, w by nature are ambitious, none shall be able to bring to be their honour. ¶ Are they that shall cause him to forsake his throne, to take such a dangerous charge upon him when God shall examine their deeds, whereupon shall new for an impudent face, he shall hide the marke of their impiety in their forehead. ¶ Be ye that are godlie assured, y God will direct you in y muddes of their troubles. ¶ Because the wicked people were more added to their princes, the more commended of God, he sheweth y he wolde give it to such princes, by whose tines should have no help, but that should be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be soles & effeminate. ¶ Meaning, that the rulers and gouernours had destroyed his Church & not preserved it, according to their dutie. ¶ That is, ye shewe ill crueltie against them which menteth y people, because of y arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue them felicitie to all nations & dissolution. ¶ Which delighted their pride. ¶ As a signe, y they were not chaste. ¶ Which shewed their wantons. ¶ They delighted in slippers y did creeke, or had little plates sowed vpon them, w they went in rehercing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnes & vanitie of such as can not be content w coe lie apparel according to their degree.

6 When euerie one shall take holde of his brother of the house of his father, & say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt be our price, and let this fall be vnder thine hand. 7 In that day he shall swear, saying, I can not be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no price of the people. 8 Doubtes Jerusalem is fallen, and Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue and workes are against the Lord, to prouoke the eyes of his glorie. 9 The bryall of their countenance testified against them, yea, they declared their sinnes, as Sodom, they hid them not. Wo be vnto them soules: for they haue rewarded euil vnto them selues. 10 Say ye, Surely it shall be well with y iuste: for they shall eat the frute of their workes. 11 Wo be to the wicked, it shall be euil with him: for the rewarde of his hands shall be giuen him. 12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them: om my people, they that lead thee, cause thee to erre, and destroye the way of thy path. 13 The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea, he standeth to iudge the people. 14 The Lord shall entrie into iudgement with the Ancients of his people and the princes thereof. for ye haue eaten vpon the vineyarde: the spoyle of the poore is in your houses. 15 What haue ye to do, that ye beat my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes. 16 The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walke with stretched out neckes, and with wandring eyes, walking and murmuring as they go, and making a tinkeling with their fete, 17 Therefore shall the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lord shall discouer their secret partes. 18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, & the calles, & the rounde tyres, 19 The swete balles, and the brasselets, and the bonnets, 20 The tyres of the head, and the sloppes, & the head bands, & the tablets, & y carings, 21 The rings and the mufflers, 22 The costlie apparel and the vailes, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes, 23 And the glasses and the fyne linen, and the hoodes, and the claudes. 24 And instead of swete sauour, there shall be stinke, and instead of a girdle, a rent, & instead of dressing of y heer, baldnes, and instead of a stomacher, a girding of sacke cloth, & burning in stead of beautie.

25 Thy men shall fall by the sworde, & thy strength in the battel. 26 Then shall her gates mourne and lament, and she, being desolate, shall sit vpon the grounde.

CHAP. IIII.

The smale remnant of me: after the destruction of Ierusalem. ¶ The graces of God vnto them that remaine. ¶ And in that day shall a sruen woman take holde of one man, saying, We wil eat our owne bread, and we wil weare our owne garments: onely let vs be called by thy name, & take away our reproche. ¶ In that day shall the budde of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the frute of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Iſrael. ¶ Then he that shall be left in Zion, and he y shall remaine in Ierusalem, shall be called holie, and cleare one shall be written among the liuing in Ierusalem, ¶ When the Lord shall wash the filthines of the daughters of Zion, & purge the blood of Ierusalem out of y middes thereof by the spirit of iudgement, and by the spirit of burning. ¶ And the Lord shall creat vpon euerie place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fyre by night: for vpon all the glorie shall be a defense. ¶ And a couering shall be for a shadowe in the day for the heat, and a place of refuge and a couert for y storme & for the raine.

CHAP. V.

Under the similitude of the vine he describeth the state of the people, & of their auarice. ¶ Their drunkennes. ¶ Of their captiuitie. ¶ Now wil I sing to my beloued a song of my beloued to his vineyard, My beloued had a vineyard in a vert frutefull hill, and he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, and he buylt a towre in y middes thereof, & made a wine presse therein: the he looked y it shulde bring forth grapes: but it brought forth wilde grapes. ¶ Now therefore, o inhabitants of Ierusalem & me of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, betwene me, and my vineyard. ¶ What colde I haue done any more to my vineyarde y I haue not done vnto it: why haue I looked that it shulde bring forth grapes, & it bringeth forth wilde grapes? ¶ And now I wil tel you what I wil do to my vineyard: I wil take away y hedge as it was enuied y they were the cause of their owne ruine: no more care for it meaning y he wolde take fro the his worde & all other confortes, & send them contrarie plagues.

Meaning, y God wil not onely punish y women, but their householdes, w haue suffred it is dissolutenes, and also y coruene wale, w hath not remeared. ¶ Chap IIII ¶ When God shall execute his vengeance, ther. shal not be one man founde to be y head to many women, & ther contrarye to womanly chastitee, shal be vnto men, and offer them selues to any condition. ¶ Be thou our husband, and let vs be called thy wues. ¶ For so they thought to be without an head & husband. ¶ He comforteth y Church in this desolation, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces shal be as plentiful toward the faithful, as though they spring out of the earth, as Chr 45, 8. ¶ Some by the bud of y Lord meane Christ. ¶ He standeth to the boke of life, whereof read Exod 32, 32 meaning Gods secre. con. uer. wherein his childe receiued in to life euery thing that is in the world, extortion, auarice, and all wickednes. ¶ When things shall be redressed, that were amisse. ¶ He allueth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod 13, 21 meaning that Gods fauour & proteccion shal appeare in euery place. ¶ The faithful were called the glorie of God because his image, and tokens of his gracie in them. ¶ God promyseth to be the increase of his Church against all troubles and dangers. ¶ A 12. 11.

thereof, & it shal be eaten vp: I wil breake the wall thereof, & it shal be trode downe:

6 And I wil lay it waste it shal not be cut, nor digged, but briers, & thornes shal growe vp. I wil also commande the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

h Iudgement and righteousnes are true frutes of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruel oppressors there is no religion. i Of them that are oppressed. k To wit, for the poore to dwell in.

7 ¶ Surely the vineyarde of the Lord of hostes is the house of Israél, and the men of Iudáh are his pleasant plant, and he looked for iudgemēt: but beholde oppressiō: for righteousness, but beholde a crying.

8 Wo vnto thē that ioyne house to house, and lay field to field, til there be no^k place, that ye may be placed by your selues in the middes of the earth.

i I haue heard the cōplaint, and crye of the poore. m Which cōtēneth about the pottels. n In euerie acre shulde be yelde one pottel.

9 Thus in mine eares, saith the Lord of hostes. Surely manie houses shalbe desolate, euē great, & fayre without inhabitāt.

10 For ten acres of vines shal yelde one mbath, & the fede of an^a hómer shal yelde an^o epháh.

n Which cōtēneth an hūdreth pottels. o An Epháh cōtēneth ten pottels, & is in drye things as muche as bath is in licours.

11 ¶ Wo vnto them, that rise vp early to followe drunkennes, and to them that cōtinue vntil a night, til the wine do inflame them.

p That spare no paine nor diligence to followe their lustes. q Which are neuer weary of their rioting and exceisive pleasures but vse all meanes to prouoke to the same.

12 And the harpe and viole, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feastes: but they regarde not the^r worke of the Lord, nether consider the worke of his hands.

r They regarde not the prouident care of God ouer them, nor for what end he hath created them. s That is, shal certainly goe for so the Prophetes vse to speake, as though the thing which shal come to passe, were done already.

13 Therefore my people is gone into captiuitie, because they had no knowledge, and the glorie thereof are men famished, & the multitude thereof is dryed vp with thirst.

t Because they wolde not obey the worde of God. u Meaning, the graue shal allowe vp them that shal dye for hungre and thirst, and yet for all this great destruccion it shal neuer be satiate.

14 Therefore he^l hath enlarged it self, and hath opened his mouth, without measure, and their glorie, and their multitude, and he that reioyceth among them, shal descende into it.

v As a iudge ready to giue sentence. w They were Angels called because they were of a fyre colour, to signifye they burnt in the loue of God, or were light as fyre, to execute his will. x Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightness of Gods glorie. y Wherby was declared that man was not able to see the brightness of God in them. z Which thing declereth the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute Gods cōmandment. h This oī r-petition signifieth, that the holy Angels can not satisfie them selues in praising God, to teache vs that in all our liues we shulde giue our praises to the conuincial praise of God.

15 And man shalbe broght downe, and man shalbe humbled, euē the eyes of the proude shalbe humbled.

16 And the Lord of hostes shalbe exalted in iudgement, and the holie God shalbe sanctified in iustice.

17 Then shal the lambes fede after their maner, and the strangers shal eat the desolate places of the fat.

18 ¶ Wo vnto them, that drawe iniquitie w^r cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as with cart ropes:

19 Which say, Let him make spede let him hasten his worke, that we may se it: & let the cōusel of the holie one of Israél drawe nere and come, that we may knowe it.

20 Wo vnto them that speake good of euil, and euil of good, which put darkenes for light, and light for darkenes, that put bitter for swete, and swete for^r sowre.

21 Wo vnto them that are wise in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight.

22 Wo vnto them that are mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke

23 Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousnes of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fyre deuoureth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their roote shalbe as rottennes, and their budde shal rise vp like dust, because they haue cast of the Law of the Lord of hostes, and contemned the worde of the holie one of Israél.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, & he hath stretched out his hand vpon them, and hath smitten them that the mountaines did tread: and their karcafes were torne in the middes of the stretes, & for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out stil.

26 And he wil lift vp a signe vnto the nations a farre, and wil hille vnto them from the end of the earth: & beholde, they shal come hastily with spede.

27 None shal s^mant nor fall among them: none shal slumber nor slepe, nether shal the girdle of his loynes be losed, nor the latchet of his shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrowes shalbe sharpe, & all his bowes bent: his horse hooues shalbe thought like flint, & his wheles like a whiele wide.

29 His roaring shalbe like a lyon, and he shal roare like lyons whelpes: they shal roare, and lay holde of the pray: they shal take it away, and none shal deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shal roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: & if they loke vnto the earth, beholde darkenes, and sorow, and the light shalbe darkened in their sight.

 3 King 16, 1
 And in the dayes of Aház, the sonne of Iothám, the sonne of Vzziah King of Iudáh, Rezin the King of Arám came vp, and Pekáh the sonne of Remaliah King of Israél, to Ierusalém to fight against it, but he colde not ouercome it.
 And it was told the house of Dauid, saying, Arám is ioyned with Ephraim: therefore his heart was moued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moued by the winde.
 Then said the Lord vnto Isaiáh, Go forthe now to meete Aház (hou and e Sic- at- iaháb thy sonne) at the end of the conduit of the vpper pool, in the path of the fullers field,

 And say vnto him, Take hede, & be still: feare not, nether be faint hearted for the two tailles of these smoking fyrebrandes, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Arám, and of Remaliahs sonne:
 Because Arám hath taken wicked counsel against thee, & Ephraim, & Remaliahs sonne, saying,
 Let vs go vp against Iudáh, & let vs wáke them vp, and make a breche therein for vs, and set a King in the middes thereof, euen the sonne of Tabeal.
 Thus saith the Lord God, It shal not stand, nether shal it be.
 For the head of Arám is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin and with in Eze & therefore yere, Ephraim shal be destroyed from being a people.
 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleue not, surely ye shal not be established.
 And the Lord spake againe vnto Aház, saying,
 Aske a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, ether in the depth or in the height aboue.
 But Aház said, I wil not aske, nether wil I tempt the Lord.
 Thē he said, Heare you now, o house of Dauid, Is it a smale thing for you to grieue men, that ye wil also grieue my God?
 Therefore the Lord himself wil giue you a signe. Beholde, the virgine shal conceiue and beare a sonne, and she shal call his name Immanú-él.

Binde vp the testimone: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

Therefore I wil wait vpo the Lord that hathe hid his face from the house of Iacob, and I wil loke for him.

Beholde I, and the children whome the Lord hathe giue me, as signs & as wonders in Israél, by y Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

And whé thou shal say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and at the south saiers, which whisper and murmur, Shulde not a people enquire at their God from the liuing to the dead?

To the Lawe, and to the testimone, if they speake not according to this worde: it because there is no light in them.

Thé he that is afflicted & famished, shal go to and fro in it: & when he shalbe hungry, he shal euen freat him self, and curse his King and his gods, & shal loke vwarde.

And whé he shal loke to the earth, beholde trouble, & darkenes, vexacion & anguish, and he shal be diuicn to darkenes.

Aaa.iiii.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes all together Kings?

g Seeing that I have one come, as wel one cite as another, so that none colde resist, shal Ierusalem be able to escape mine hands?

9 Is not Cainó as Carchemísh? Is not Hamáth like Arpád? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hád hathe founde the kingdoms of the idoles, seeing the idoles were aboute Ierusalém, and aboute Samaria:

11 Shal not I, as I haue done to Samaria, & to the idoles thereof, so do to Ierusalém and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hathe accóplished all his worke vpon mount Ziôn and Ierusalém, I wil visit the frute of the proude heart of the King of Asshúr, and his glorious and proude lokes, h Whé he hath the sufficientlly chastised his people (for he beginneth at his owne house) thé wil he burne the rodde. Meaning, of Saacherab.

13 Because he said, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisdom, because I am wise: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, and haue spoiled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hathe founde as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.

k Here we see that no creature is able to do aucthing, but as God appointeth him, & that they are all but his instruments to do his worke, though the intentions be diuerse, as ver 6

15 Shal the axe boast it self against him who heweth therewith? or shal the sawe exalt it self against him that moueth it? as if the rod shulde lift vp it self against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe shulde exalt it self, as it were no wood.

l Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people, & a fyre to burne his enemies. That is, the Assyrians. To wit, bodie and soule viterly.

16 Therefore shal the Lord God of hostes send among his fat men, leanenes, and vnder his glorie he shal kindle a burning, like the burning of fyre.

17 And the light of Iisraél shalbe as a fyre, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shal burne, and deuoure his thornes and his briars in one day:

m When the banner of Ierusalem is lost and the standard taken 18 And shal consume the glorie of his forest, & of his fruteful fields bothe soule and flesh: and he shalbe as the fainting of a stander bearer.

n This is the end of Gods plagues towards his, to bring them to him and to forsake all trust in others

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shalbe fewe, that a childe may tel them.

o This smale somber, & seemed to be consumed, and yet accordag to Gods decre is saved, shalbe sufficient to fill all the worlde with righteousnes

20 ¶ And at that day shal the remnant of Iisraél, and such as are escaped of the house of Iaakób, staye no more vpon him that smote them, but shal stay vpon the Lord, the holy one of Iisraél in trueth.

p God wil destroye this Iud as he hathe determined, and after some a smale portio.

21 The remnant shal returne, euen the remnant of Iaakób vnto the mightie God.

22 For thogh thy people, ó Iisraél, be as the sand of the sea, yet shal the remnant of thé returne. The consumption decreed shal ouerflowe with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shal make the consumption, euen determined, in the middes of all the land.

Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, O my people, that dwellest in Ziôn, be not afraid of Asshúr: he shal smite thee with a rod, and shal lift vp his staffe against thee after the maner of Egypt 25 But yet a very litle time, and the wrath shalbe consumed, and mine angre in their destruction.

f As if Egyptus did punish mee

26 And the Lord of hostes shal raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of Midian in the rocke Oré: and as his staffe was vpon the Sea, so he wil lift it vp after the maner of Egypt.

Read Chap. 9, 4

27 And at that day shal his burde be taken away from of thy shulder, & his yoke fro of thy necke: & the yoke shalbe destroyed because of the anointing.

u When the Ifraclites passed through by lifting vp of Moses rod, & the enemies were drowned, Exod 14, 28 29 They haue gone ouer the foorde: they lodged in the lodging at Gebá: Ramáth is afraid: Gibeá of Saúl is fled away.

y He describeth by what way the Assyrians shulde come against Ierusalem to confirm the faithfull, who shulde come to passe, that as their plague was comming shulde they be deliuered.

30 Lift vp thy voice, ó daughter Gallím, cause Laish to heare, ó poore Anathóth.

31 Madmenásh is remoued: the inhabitants of Gebím haue gathered them selues together.

32 Yet there is a time when he wil stay at Nob: he shal lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Ziôn, the hill of Ierusalém.

z Fyres & destruction shal come vpon Iudah for the princes and people shal all be led away captiues.

33 Beholde, the Lord God of hostes shal cut of the bough with feare, and thei of high stature shalbe cut of, and the hie shalbe humbled.

34 And he shal cut away the thicke places of the forest with yron, & Lebanón shal haue a mightie fall.

1 But there shal come a rod forthe of the stocke of Ishaí, & a grafe shal growe out of his rootes.

a Because the captiuitie of Babylon was a figure of the spirituall captiuitie vnder sinne, he sheweth that our true deliuerance must come by Christ

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shal rest vpon him: the Spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding, the Spirit of counsel & strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord, b All these vertues can agree to none but onely vnto Christ for it is he that toucheth the heartes of the faithfull and mortifieth their concupiscences & to the wicked he is the flavour of death & to them that shal perish so y all the worlde shal be smitten with this rodde.

3 And shal make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he shal not iudge after the sight of his eyes, nether reprocue by the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousness shal he iudge the poore, and with equitie shal he reprocue for the meke of the earth: and he shal smite the earth with the rodde of his mouth, & with the breath of his lippes shal he slaye the wicked.

5 And iustice shalbe the girdle of his loynes, & faithfulness the girdle of his raines.

19 And Babel the glorie of kingdomes, the beautie and pride of the Chaldeans, shalbe as the destruction of God * in Sodóm & Gomoráh.

20 It shal not be inhabited for euer, nether shal it be dwelled in from generacion to generacion: nether shal the Arabian pitch his tets there, nether shal the shepherdes make their foldes there.

o Who vseth to go from country to countrey to finde pasture for their beasts, but there shal they finde none p Which were ether wilde beasts, or fowles, or wicked spirits, where by Satan deluded man, as by the fairies, goblins and such like fantasies

21 But p Zuim shal lodge there, and their houses shalbe ful of Ohim: Ostriches shal dwell there, & the Satyrs shal dance there.

22 And Im shal crye in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is readie to come, & the dayes thereof shal not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The desolation of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Phisitians.

FOR the Lord wil haue compassion of Iaakób, and wil yet chuse Israél, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger b shal ioyne him self vnto them, and they shal cleaue to the house of Iaakób.

a He sheweth why God wil haue to destroy his enemies to wit, because he wil deliure his Church b Meaning, y the Gentiles shalbe ioyned with the Church and worship God.

And the people shal receiue thé & bring them to their owne place, & the house of Israél shal possesse them in the land of the Lord, for seruants & handmaids: & they shal take thé prisoners, whose captiues they were, & haue rule ouer their oppressors.

c Signifying y Iewes shuld be superiours to the Gentes, & y they shuld be brought vnder the seruice of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are brought to the subiectio of Christ, 2 Co 12, 5.

¶ And in that day whé the Lord shal giue thee rest from thy sorow, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou didest serue,

Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the King of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased, and the golde thirstie Babel, rested?

¶ The Lord hath broken the rodde of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers:

a That is, he suffered all violence and injuries to be done.

Which smote the people in angre with a continual plague, & ruled the nations in wrath: if anie were persecuted, he did not let.

7 The whole worlde is at rest & is quiet: they sing for ioye.

8 Also the fyrr trees reioyced of thee, & the cedres of Lebanón, saying, Since thou art laide downe, no hewer came vp agais't vs.

9 Hell beneth is moued for thee to mete thee at thy comming, raising vp the dead for thee, euen all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All they shal crye, and say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we, at thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy poumpe is broght downe to the graue, & the founde of thy vioules: the worme is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauén, o Lucifer, sonne of the morning? & cut downe to the grounde, which didest cast lottes vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saidest in thine heart, I wil ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the staires of God: I wil sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

14 I wil ascéd about y height of the cloudes, & I wil be like the moeste high.

15 But thou shalt be broght downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that se thee, shal loke vpon thee & consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, & that did shake the kingdomes?

17 He made the worlde as a wildernes, and destroyed the cities thereof, & opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 All the Kings of the nacions, euen they all slepe in glorie, euerie one in his owne house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy graue like an abominable branche: like the raimet of thok y are slaine, & thrust thorowe with a sworde, which go downe to the stones of the pit, as a carkeise troden vnder fete.

20 Thou shalt not be ioyned w them in the graue, because y hast destroyed thine owne land, & slaine thy people: the sede of the wicked shal not be renoumed for euer.

21 Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquite of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fil the face of the worlde with enemies.

¶ For I wil rise vp agais't thé (saith the Lord of hostes) and wil cut of from Babel the name and the remnant and the sonne, and the nephewe, saith the Lord:

22 And I wil make it a possession to y hedgohog, and pooles of water, and I wil swepe it with the besome of destruction, saith the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lord of hostes hath sworne, sayig, Sure-

e Meaning, that when tyrants reigne, there can be no rest nor quietnes, and also how detestable a thing tyrannie is, being the inuenible creatures huc occasio to reioyre at their destruction f As thogh they feared lest thou shuldest trouble the dead, as y didst the liuing and here he desired y prouide tyrannie of the wicked, which knewe not y all creatures with their destruction that they maie reioyce

g In field of thy costly c... pets aua couerung h Thou that thought thy self most glorious, and as it were, placed in y heauén for y morning starre, that goulde before the sunne, as called Lucifer to whom Nibuchad-nez 23 is compared

i Meaning, Ierusalem, whereof the Temple was on the North side, as psal 48 2 whereby he meaneth that tyrants fight agais't God, when they persecute his Church, and wolde sit thé selues in his place k In marueling at this l To set them at libertie noting his crueltie m Thou wast not buried in the sepulchre of thy fathers thy tyrannie was so abhorred n He calleth to the Medes and Persians and all those that shuld execute Gods vengeance

Or 130 40.

Surely like as I haue purposed, so shal it come to passe, and as I haue consulted, it shal stand:

That I wil breake to pieces Asshur in my land, and vpon my mountaines wil I treade him vnder fote: so y his yoke shal departe from them, and his burden shal be taken from of their shuldre.

This is the counsel that is cōsulted vpō the whole worlde, and this is the hād stretched out ouer all the nacions,

Because the Lord of hostes hath determined it, and who shal disanul it, and his hand is stretched out, and who shal turne it away?

In the yere that King Aház dyed, was this y burden.

Reioyce not, (thou whole Palestina) becaufe the rod of him that did beat thee, is brokē: for out of the serpens roote shal come forthe a cockatrice, and the frute thereof shalbe a fyric flying serpent.

For the first borne of the poore shalbe fed, & the medie shal lye downe in safety: and I wil kil thy roote with famine, & it shal slay thy remnant.

Howle, o gate, crye o citie: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolved, for there shal come from the North a smoke, and none shalbe alone, at his time appointed.

What shal then one answer y messengers of the Gentiles? That the Lord hath established Zion, & the poore of his people shal trust in it.

CHAP. XV.

A prophesie against Moáb.

The burden of Moáb. Surely Ar of Moáb was destroyed & brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moáb was destroyed, & brought to silence in a night.

He shal go vp to the temple, and to Dibón to the hie places to wepe: for Nebón and for Medebá shal Moáb howle: vpon all their heads shalbe baldenes, and euerie beard shauen.

In their stretes shal they be girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their houses, and in their stretes euerie one shal howle, and come downe with weping.

And Heshbón shal crye, & Elealéh: their voyce shalbe heard vnto Iáhsaz: therefore y warriors of Moáb shal showte: the soule of euerie one shal lament in him self.

Mine heart shal crye for Moáb: his fugitiues shal flee vnto Zóar, an heiffer of thre yere olde: for they shal go vp w weping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horonáim they shal raise vp a crye of destruction.

For the waters of Nimrim shal be dried vp: therefore the grasse is withered, the herbes consumed, & there was no grene herbe.

Therefore what euerie man hath left, & their substance shal they beare to y brokē of the willowes.

For the crye went rounde aboute y borders of Moáb: & the howling thereof vnto Egláim, & the skriking thereof vnto Beer Elím,

Because the waters of Dimón shalbe full of blood: for I wil bring more vpon Dimón, euen Lyons vpon him that escapeth of Moáb, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

Send ye a lambe to the ruler of the Sworde from the rocke of the wilderness, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

For it shalbe as a birde that flyeth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moáb shal be at the foordes of Arnón.

Gather a counsel, excute iudgement: make thy shadowe as the night in the midday: hide them that are chafed out: bewraye not him that is fled.

Let my banished dwel with thee: Moáb be thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extorcioner shal end: the destroyer shalbe consumed, & the oppressour shal cease out of the land.

And in mercie shal the throne be prepared, and he shal sit vpon it in stedfastnes, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and siking iudgement, and hasting iustice.

We haue heard of the pride of Moáb (he is verie proud) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignacion, but his lies shal not be so.

Therefore shal Moáb howle vnto Moáb: euerie one shal howle: for the fundacions of Kir-haréseth shal ye mourne, yet they shalbe stricken.

For the vineyardes of Heshbón are cut downe, & the vine of Sibmáh: the lords of the heathen haue broken the principal vines thereof. they are come vnto Iazér: they wandred in the wilderness: her goodlie branches stretched out them selues, & went ouer the sea.

Therefore wil I wepe with the weping of Iazér, & of y vine of Sibmáh, o Heshbón: and Elealéh, I wil make thee drunke with my teares, becaufe vpon thy sommer frutes, and vpon thy haruest a showting is fallen.

13 This is the worde that the Lord hathe spoken against Moáb since that time.

14 And now the Lord hathe spoken, saying, In thre yeres, as the yeres of a byreling, and the glorie of Moáb shalbe contéined in all the great multitude, & the remnant shalbe very smale & feble.

CHAP. xvii.

A prophesie of the destruction of Damascus and Ephráim. 7 Calamitie moweth to repentance.

The burden of Damascus. Beholde, Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shalbe a ruinous heape.

The cities of Aroér shalbe forsaken: they shalbe for flockes: for thei shal lye there, and none shall make them afraid.

The munition also shal cease from Ephráim, & the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Arám shalbe as the glorie of the children of Israél, saith the Lord of hostes.

And in that day the glorie of Iakób shalbe impouerished, and the fatnes of his flesh shalbe made leane.

And it shalbe as when the haruest man gathereth the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he shalbe as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of Re-pháim.

Yet a gathering of grapes shal be left in it, as the shaking of an oliue tre, two or thre berries are in the top of the vpmoste boughs, & foure or fiue in the hie branches of the frute thereof, saith the Lord God of Israél.

At that day shal a man loke to his maker, and his eyes shal loke to the holie one of Israél.

And he shal not loke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, nether shal he loke to those things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.

In that day shal the cities of their strenght be as the forsaking of boughs & bráches, which they did forsake, because of the childre of Israél, & there shalbe desolatio. Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluacion, and hast not remembred the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleásant plants, and shalt graffe strange vine branches:

In the day shalt thou make thy plant to growe, and in the morning shalt thou make thy sede to flourish: but the haruest shal be gone in the day of possession, and there shalbe desperate sorow.

Ah, the multitude of manie people, they shal make a sounde like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shal make a sounde like the noyse of mightie waters.

The people shal make a sounde like the noyse of manie waters: but God shal rebuke them, and they shal flee farre of, and shalbe chased as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rolling thing before the whirle winde.

And lo, in the euening there is trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the porcion of them that spoile vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

CHAP. xviii.

Of the enemies of the Church. 7 And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

Oh, the land shadowing with wings, which is beyonde the riuers of Ethiopia,

Sending ambassadours by the sea, eué in vessels of reedes vpon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation that is scared abroad, and spoiled, vnto a terrible people from their beginning eué hitherto: a nation by litle and litle, euen troden vnder fote, whose land the floods haue spoiled.

All ye the inhabitants of the worlde and dwellers in the earth, shal se when he setteth vp a signe in the mountaines, and when he bloweth the trumpe, ye shal heare.

For so the Lord said vnto me, I wil rest & beholde in my tabernacle, as the heat drying vp the raine, & as a cloude of dewe in the heat of haruest.

For afore the haruest when the floure is finished, & the frute is riping in the floure, then he shal cut downe the branches with hookes, and shal take away, & cut of the boughs:

They shal be left together vnto the fowles of the mountaines, and to the beastes of the earth: for the foule shal sommer vp it, and euerie beait of the earth shal winter vpon it.

At that time shal a present be brought

At that time shal a present be brought vnto the Lord, as Chap. 8, 7. f When the Lord preparereth to fight against the Ethiopians g I wil stay a while from punishing the wicked h Which two seasons are moie profitable for the reing of frutes: whereby he meauerth, y he wil seme to fauour them, & giue them abundance for a time, but he wil suddenly cut them of i Not onely me shal conténe them, but the brute beafts. k Meaning, that God wil pitie his Church, and receiue that litle remnant as an offering vnto him self.

m Which are excell. ut. and brought out of other countreys n As the Lord threateth the wicked in his Law. Leuit 26, 16 o The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague y was prepared against Israél by y Assyriás, which were infinite in number, and gathered of many nations. p He adderth this for y consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israél. q He comparerth y enemies y Assyriás to a téper, which riseth ouer night, and in the morning is gone.

a He meaneth that parte of Ethiopia, which lieth toward y sea, & was so full of shippes that the scales (which he comparerth to wings) seemed to shadow the sea b Which in those countreys were great inio muche as they made shippes of the for swiftnes. c This may be taken y they sent other to comfote the Iewes, and to promise them helpe against their enemies, and so y Lord did threaten to take away their strength that y Iewes shulde not trust therein: or that they did sollicite y Egyptians, & promised the aide to go against Iudah. d To wit, the Iews, who because of Gods plagues made all other nations afraid of the like, as God threateth

m For verie sorow and compassion. n They shal vse all meanes to seke helpe of their idoles & all in vaine: for Chemóz their great god shal not be able to helpe them o He appointed a certeine time to punish the enemies in. p Who wil obserue wisely y time, for the which he is hyred, & serue no longer, but wil euer long for it.

a Read Chap. I 35, 1. b The chief citie of Syria. c It was a coucrey of Syria 2 by the riuér Arnon d It semeth y the Prophet wolde comfort y Church in declaring the destruction of the setwo Kings, of Syria & Israél, when as they had conspired y ouerthrowe of Iudáh e The ten tribes gloried in their multitude, and allice with other nations therefore he saith y they shal be brought downe and the Syriás also. f Meaning of y ten tribes, & boasted them selues of their nobilitie, pprtnesse, strenght & multitude g As the abundance of corne doeth not feare the haruest men y shulde cut it downe: no more shal y multitude of Israél make y enemies to shrinke, whom God shal appoint to destroye them h Which valley was plentiful & fertile. i Because God wolde haue his couenat stable, he promiserth to reserue some of this people, and to bring them to repentance k He shewerth that Gods corrections euer bring forthe some frute, and cause his to turne from their sinnes, and to humble them selues to him l As the Canaanites left their cities, whé God did place the Israelites there, so the cities of Israél shal no more be able to defend their inhabitants, then bulles, when God shal send the enemies to plague them vnto the Lord of hoſtes, (a people that is ſcattered abroad, and ſpoiled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation, by little and little euen troden vnder foot, whoſe lãd the riuers haue ſpoiled) to the place of the Name of the Lord of hoſtes, euen the mount Ziõn.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The deſtruction of the Egyptians by the Aſſyrians. 18 Of their conuerſion to the Lord.

Read Chap 19, 1

b Because the Egyptians traſſed in the deſe of their country, in multitude of their idoles, & in the valianes of their men, the Lord ſheweth that he wil come ouer all their munitions in a ſwift cloude, and that their idoles ſhal treble at his coming, and that mens hearts ſhal faint

c As he cauſed the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kil one another, whẽ they came to deſtroye the Church of God, 1 Chron 20, 22 chap 49 26

d Meaning, their policie, and wiſdomes He ſheweth of the ſea & Nilus their great riuier, whereby they thought the felues moſt ſure, ſhulde not be able to defend them fro his angre, but that he wolde ſend the Aſſyrians among the that ſhulde kepethem vnder as felues

e For Nilus into the ſea by ſeuẽ ſtreames, as thogh they were ſo manie riuers

f The Hebrew worde is mouth, whereby they meane the ſpring out of the water gulch as out of a mouth

g The Scripturẽs vie to deſcribe the deſtruction of a country by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, fiſh, and ſuche other things, whereby countries are enriched. 1 Cal led alſo Tanes, a famous citie vpon Nilus k He ſoeth the flatterers of Pharaõh who perſuaded the King that he was wiſe, and noble, and that his houſe was moſt ancient, and ſo he flattered him ſelf, ſaying, I am wiſe. l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Cairã m The principall vpholders thereof are the chiefẽ cauſe of their deſtruction

1 The burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lord ſhal come into Egypt, & yd idoles of Egypt ſhal be moued at his preſence, & the heart of Egypt ſhal melt in the middes of her.

2 And I wil ſet the Egyptians againſt the Egyptians. ſo euerie one ſhal fight againſt his brother, and euerie one againſt his neighbour, citie againſt citie, & kingdom: againſt kingdom.

3 And the ſpirit of Egypt ſhal faile in the middes of her, and I wil deſtroye their counſel, and they ſhal ſeke at the idoles, & at the forcerers, & at them that haue ſpirits of diuination, and at the ſouthſayers.

4 And I wil deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruel lords, and a mightie King ſhal rule ouer them, ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes.

5 Then the waters of the ſea ſhal faile, & the riuier ſhal be dried vp, and waſted.

6 And the riuers ſhal goe farre away: the riuers of deſenſe ſhal be emptyed & dried vp: the reeds & ſlagges ſhal be cut downe.

7 The graſſe in the riuers, and at the head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuers, ſhal wither, & be driuen away, and be no more.

8 The fiſhers alſo ſhal mourne, and all they that caſt angle into the riuier, ſhal lament, and they that ſpread their net vpon the waters, ſhal be weakened.

9 Moreouer, they that worke in flax of diuers ſortes, ſhal be confounded, and they that weaue nettes.

10 For their nettes ſhal be broken, and all they, y make ponds, ſhal be heauie in heart.

11 Surely y princes of Zoãn are foolẽs: the counſel of the wiſe counſelers of Pharaõh is become fooliſh: how ſay ye vnto Pharaõh, I am the ſonne of the wiſe: I am the ſonne of the ancient Kings

12 Where are now thy wiſe men, that they may tel thee, or may know what the Lord of hoſtes hath determined againſt Egypt

13 The princes of Zoãn are become foolẽs: the princes of Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen the corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the ſpirit of errors and they haue cauſed Egypt to erre in euerie worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Nether ſhal there be any worke in Egypt, which the head maie do, nor the taile, the branche nor the ruſh.

16 In that daie ſhal Egypt be like vnto women: for it ſhal be afraid & feare becauſe of the mouing of the hand of the Lord of hoſtes, which he ſhaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah ſhal be a feare vnto Egypt euerie one y maketh mention of it, ſhal be afraid thereof, becauſe of the counſel of the Lord of hoſtes, which he hath determined vpon it.

18 In that daie ſhal ſiue citie in the land of Egypt ſpeake the language of Canaan, and ſhal ſweare by the Lord of hoſtes: one ſhal be called the citie of deſtruction.

19 In that daie ſhal the altar of the Lord be in the middes of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof vnto y Lord.

20 And it ſhal be for a ſigne and for a witness vnto the Lord of hoſtes in the land of Egypt: for they ſhal crye vnto the Lord, becauſe of the oppreſſers, and he ſhal ſend them a ſauour and a great man, and ſhal deliuer them.

21 And the Lord ſhal be knowne of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians ſhal knowe the Lord in that daie, and doe ſacrifice & oblation, & ſhal vowe vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord ſhal ſmite Egypt, he ſhal ſmite and heale it: for he ſhal returne vnto the Lord, and he ſhal be intreated of the Lord, and ſhal heale them.

23 In that daie ſhal there be a path fro Egypt to Aſſhur, & Aſſhur ſhal come into Egypt, & Egypt into Aſſhur. ſo the Egyptians ſhal worſhip with Aſſhur.

24 In that daie ſhal Iſraël be the third with Egypt and Aſſhur, euen a bliſſing in the middes of the land.

25 For the Lord of hoſtes ſhal bleſſe it, ſaying, Bleſſed be my people Egypt and Aſſhur, the worke of mine hands, and Iſraël mine inheritance.

comprehendeth the ſpiritual ſeruitee vnder Chriſt y By the which were their chief enemies of the Church, he ſheweth that the Gẽtiles, & the Iewes ſhulde be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and ſhulde be all one folde vnder Chriſt their ſhepherd

CHAP. XX.

2 The three yeres captiuitie of Egypt and Ethioſia deſcribed by the three yeres going naked of Iſaiáh.

1 In the yete that Tartan came to Aſhdod, (whẽ Sargõn King of Aſſhur ſet him) and had fought againſt Aſhdod, and taken it, n For the ſpirit of wiſdomme he hath made. the drunken man erreth in his vomite. o Neither the great nor the ſmall, y ſtrong nor y weak. p Conſidering that through their occaſion the Iewes made not God their defence, but put their truſt in them, & were therefore now put in ſhãd, they ſhal ſcare leſt the like light vpon them q ſhal make one confeſſion of faith with the people of God by the ſpeech of Canaan meaning, the language wherein God was then ſerued r ſhal renouice their ſuperſtitious & proteſt to ſerue God a right i Meaning, of ſix citie ſiue ſhulde ſerue God, and the ſix remaine in their wickednes & ſo of the ſix parte there ſhulde be but one loſt t There ſhal be euident ſignes & tokens, that Gods religio is there which manner of ſpeech is taken of the Patriarckes and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place, and ſul in aner how he wolde be worſhipped. u This declarer, that this pphete ſhulde be accompliſhed in the time of Chriſt. x By the ceremonies he ſheweth that the two nations, which were their chief enemies of the Church, he ſheweth that the Gẽtiles, & the Iewes ſhulde be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and ſhulde be all one folde vnder Chriſt their ſhepherd

And he did so, walking naked and barefore.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Ifaiáh hath walked naked, & barefote thre yeres, as a signe & wondre vpon Egypt, & Ethiopia,

4 So shal the King of Asshur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, bothe yong men and olde men, naked and barefote, with their buttockes vncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shal feate, and be asnimed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt of their glorie.

CHAP. XXIII.

A prophesie of the curse of God for the sinnes of the people. 13 A remnant reserved, shall praise the Lord.

This prophesie is as a conclusion of that, which hath bene threatened to the Jewes & other nations from the 13 Chap: & therefore by the earth he meaneth those lands, which were before named. Because this was a name of a gaine, it was also applied to the, which were not of Aarons familie, & so signifieth also a man of dignitie, as 2 Sam 8, 18 and 20, 25 1 Chron. 28, 17 and by these wordes the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shall be neither religion, order nor policie, Hosea. 49. Thus, rendereth not her face for the sake of the people, whom the earth deceiued of their nourture, because they deuened God of his honour. d Written in the Law, as Leuit. 26, 14 dem. 28, 16. Thus the Prophetes used to applie particularly the menaces, and promises which are general in the Law. e With heat and drought, or else, that they were consumed with the fyre of Gods wrath.

Beholde, the Lord maketh the earth empty, & he maketh it waste: he turneth it upside downe, & scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof. 2 And there shall be like people, like Priest, and like seruant, like master, like maide, like maistresse, like byer, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to vsurie. 3 The earth shall be cleane emptied, and vtterly spoyled: for the Lord hath spoken this worde. 4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away: the worlde is febled & decayed: the proude people of the earth are weakened. 5 The earth also deceiueth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlasting couenant. 6 Therefore hath the curse deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are burned vp, and fewe men are left. 7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, do mourne. 8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noise of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioye of the harpe ceaseth. 9 They shall not drinke wine with mirth:

strong drinke shall be bitter to them that drinke it. 10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe: euerie house is shut vp, that no man may come in. 11 There is a crying for wine in the stretes: all ioye is darkened: the mirth of the worlde is gone away. 12 In the citie is left desolacion, & the gate is smitten with destruction. 13 Surely thus shall it be in the middes of the earth, among the people, as the shaking of an oliue tre, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended. 14 They shall lift vp their voyce: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall reioyce from the sea.

Wherefore praise ye the Lord in the valleys, in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the yles of the sea. 16 From the vttermoſt parte of the earth we haue heard praises, euen glorie to the Iust, & I said, My leaneſnes, my leaneſnes, woe is me: the transgressors haue offended: yea, the transgressors haue grievously offended. 17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, o inhabitant of the earth. 18 And he that fleeth from the noise of the feare, shall fall into the pit: & he that cometh vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the fundacions of the earth do shake. 19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolved: the earth is moued exceedingly. 20 The earth shall reele to & fro, like a drunken man, and shall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shall be heauie vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more. 21 And in that day shall the Lord visite his hoſte about that is on hie, euen the Kings of the worlde that are vpon the earth. 22 And they shall be gathered together, as the prisoners in the pit: and they shall be shut vp in the prison, & after manie daies shall they be visited. 23 Then the moone shall be abashed, & the sunne ashamed, when the Lord of hostes shall reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glorie shall be before his ancient men.

CHAP. XXV.

f Which as it was without order, so now shalld it be brought to desolacion and confusion and this was not onely ment of Ierusalem, but of all other wicked cities. g Because they did not vse Gods benefites aright, their pleasures shal de faile, and they fall to mourning. h He comforteth the faithful, declaring that in this great desolacion the Lord wil assemble his Church, & shal praise his name, as Chap 10, 22. i From the vtmost coastes of the worlde, where the Gospel shal be preached, as vers 16. k Meaning, to God, who wil publish his Gospel through all the worlde. l I am confused with care, considering the affliction of the Church, bothe by fore enemies & domestical. Some read, my secret, that is, it was reuelled to the Prophet, that the good shalld be pierced & the wicked destroyed. m Meaning, Gods wrath, and vengeance shalld be ouer & vnder them: so that they shall not escape no more then they did at Noahs flood. n There is no power so high or mightie, but God wil visite him with his rodde. o Not with his rodde, as vers 21, but shalld be comforted. p When God shall restore his Church, the glorie thereof shall so shine and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the sunne shall be darke in comparison thereof. q Thus the Prophet giueth thanks to God, because he wil bring vnder subiectio these nations by his corrections, & make them of his Church, & before were his enemies.

p He comforteth the faithful in their afflictions shewing them that as euen in death they shal liue li. e. and that they shalde more certainly rise to glorie q The contrary shulde come to the wicked, as vers. 14.
r As herbes dead in winter, flourish againe by the raine in the spring time for they lie in the dust, shal rise vp to ioie when they see the dewe of Gods grace.

of herbes, & the earth shal cast out y dead.

1 Come, my people: entre thou into thy chambers, and shutte thy dores after thee: hide thy self for a very litle while, vntil the indignacion passe ouer.

2 For lo, the Lord cometh out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitáts of the earth vpon them: and the earth shal disclose her blood, and shal no more hide her slayne.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophetic against the kingdome of Satán, and of the soye of the Church for their deliuerance.

1 IN that day the Lord with his fore & great and mightie sworde shal visite Liuiathán, that percing serpent, euen Liuiathán, that croked seipent, & he shal slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyarde of red wine.

3 I the Lord do kepe it: I wil watter it e uery moment: lest anie assaile it, I wil kepe it night and day.

4 Angre is not in me: who wolde set the briers and the thornes against me in battel? I wolde go through them, I wolde burne them together.

5 Or wil he fele my strength, that he may make peace with me, & be at one with me?

6 Here after, Iaakób shal take rote: If íaél shal flourish and growe, and the worlde shal be filled with frute.

7 Hathe he smitten him as he smote those that smote him? or is he slayne according to the slaughter of them that were slayne by him?

8 In measure in the branches thereof wilt thou cõtend w it, when he bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the East winde.

9 By this therefore shal y iniquitie of Iaakób be purged, and this is all the frute, the taking away of his sinne: when he shal make all the stones of the altars, as chalke stones, broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stand vp.

10 Yet the defensed cite shalbe desolate, & the habitacion shalbe forsaken, and left like a wildernes. There shal the calfe sede, and there shal he lie, & consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs of it are drye, they shalbe broken: the women come, and set them on fyre. for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore he that made them, shal not haue compafsion of them, and he that formed them, shal haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day shal the Lord thresh frō the chanel of the Riuer vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye shalbe gathered, one by one, ó children of Israél.

13 In that day also shal the great trumpe be blowne, and they shal come, which perished in the land of Asshú: and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shal worship the Lord in the holy mount at Ierusalém.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride & dronkennes of Israél, & The vntowardnes of them that shulde learne the worde of God. God doeth all things in time and place.

1 WO to the crowne of pride, the dronkards of Ephráim: for his glorious beautie shalbe a fading floure, w is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, & are ouercome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lord hathe a mightie and strong hoste, like a tempest of haile, & a whirlwinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters y ouerflowe, which throwe to the grounde mightely.

3 They shalbe troden vnder fote, euen the crowne and the pride of the dronkards of Ephráim.

4 For his glorious beautie shalbe a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and y hastie frute afore sommer, which whé he that loketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shal the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of glorie, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of iudgemét to him that sitteth in iudgement, & for strength vnto thé that turne away the battel to the gate.

7 But s thei haue erred because of wine, & are out of the way by strong drinke: the Priest & the Prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: thei faile in vision: thei stamble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are ful of filthy vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whome shal he teache knowledge, and whome shal he make to vnderstand the things that he heareth? them that are weined from the milke and drawn from the breasts.

10 For precept must be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle & there a litle.

11 For with a stammering tongue & with a strange láguage shal he speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whome he said, This is the rest: give rest to him that is wearie. and this is the refreeshing, but thei wolde not heare.

13 A strange language. I That is the Prophet, whome God shal send. This is the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to stay & rest. That are wearie and haue neede of rest, what is the true rest.

m He shal destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped. n In the time of Cyrus, by whome they shuld be deliuered but elus was chief by accomplished vnder Christ.

Chap XXVIII a Meaning, the proude kingdome of the Israelites, & were dronken with worldly prosperitie. b Because the Israelites for the most parte dwelt in plentiful valles, he meaueth here by y valley of them, y had abundance of worldlie prosperitie, & were, as it were, crowned therewith, as with garlands. c He semeth to meane the Assyrians, by whome y reu tribes were carryed away. d Which is not of long continuance, but as fone ripe, & first eaten. e Signifying, y the faithful, w put not their trust in anie worldlie prosperitie, but made God their glorie, shalbe preserved. f He wil giue counsel to the gouernour, & strength to the capitaine, to drive the enemies in at their owne gates. g Meaning, the hypocrites, & were among them, & were all together corrupt in life & doctrine, w is here meue by dronkenes & vomiting. h For there was none that was able to vnderstand anie good doctrine: but were foolish, & as vmetete as yong babes. i They must haue one thing off some told. k Let one teache what he can, yet they shal no more vnderstand him, the if he spake shulde send. l shewc to those that are wearie and haue neede of rest, what is the true rest.

z He exhorteth the faithful to be patient in their afflictions, and to waite vpon Gods worke. a The earth shal vomit & cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may crye for vengeance against the wicked. Chap. XXVII a At the time appointed. b That is, by his mightie power and by his worde. He prophesieth here of the destruction of Satán and his kingdome vnder the name of Liuiathán, Asshúr and Egypte. c Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyarde, that is y Church, shulde bring forthe as moste agreeable to the Lord. d Therefore he wil destroy y kingdome of Satán, because he loneth his Church for his owne merites sake, & hee wil not be angry w it, but wisheth that he may powre his angre vpon y wicked infidels, whome he meaueth by briers & thornes. e He maruellet, that Israél wil not come by genelesnes, except God make the to fele his rod, & so bring the vnto him. f Though I afflicted & dimitt with my people for a time, yet shal the rote spring againe & bring forthe in great abundance. g He sheweth that God punisheth his inmercie, & his enemies in iustice. h That is, thou wilt not detrouse the rote of thy Church though y branches thereof seme to perishe by the sharpe winde of affliction. i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, til the heart be purged from all idolatrie, and the monuments thereof destroyed. k Notwithstanding his fauour that he wil shewe them after, yet Ierusalém shalbe destroyed, and graffe for cattel shal growe in it. l God shal not haue neede of mightie enemies: for the verie women shal do it, to their great shame.

Therefore

o Because they wil not receiue the worde of God, & then it is s'ed, it cometh of their owne malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before p They thought they hid their eyes to auoid Gods iudgements, and if at they could escape though all other perished
 q Though the Prophetes condemned their idoles, & vaine traffick of falshood, & r' m'ue, yet the wicked thought in their hearts that it woulde last in the things
 r That is, Christ, by whom all things must be tried and ypholden, Plal 118, 22 mat 21, 42 ad 4, 11 rom. 9, 31 1 pet. 2, 6 s He shal be quiet and seke one other religion, but he cometh with Christ t In the scriptur of I. S. Church, iudgements, & d' s'ie that reigne Gods curse, & affliction u That is, shal be diseased, & in your vau to iudice what they kept secret to them selves
 y Ferrous and distrad o shal moue you to learne that, w' exhortations and gentleness could not bring you vnto z Your affliction shalbe so sore, that you are not able to endure it a When Dauid ouercame the Philistines, 2 Samuel 5, 20 1 chio 14, 11 b Where Ioshua diucon fered the Kings of the Amorites, Ierh 10, 12 c As if plowe man hath his appointed barre, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lord for his vengeance for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sorte and some after another, so that his chosen seede is beaten, and tryed, but not broken, as are the wicked.

13 Therefore shal the worde of the Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle & there a litle, that they may go, and fall backward, and be brcken and be snared and be taken.
 14 Wherefore, heate the worde of the Lord, ye scornful men, y' rule this people, which is at Ierusalém.
 15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a couenant with death, & w' hell are we at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, & passe through, it shal not come at vs: for we haue made a faithfull our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid,
 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil lay in Ziön a stone, a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure fundacion. He that beleueth, shal not make haste.
 17 Iudgement also wil I laye to the rule, & righteousness to the balance, and the harte shal swepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shal ouerflowe the secret place.
 18 And your couenant with death shalbe disannulled, & your agreement with hel shal not stand: when a scourge shal runne ouer and passe through, then shal ye be trode downe by it.
 19 When it passeth ouer, it shal take you away for it shal passe through euerie morning in the day, and in the night, and there shal be onely y' face to make you to vnderstand the lesing.
 20 For the bed is strait that it can not suffice, and the couering narowe that one can not wrap him self.
 21 For the Lord shal stand as in mount Pezizim, he shalbe wrath as in the valley of Gibeon, y' he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte.
 22 Now therefore be no mockers, lest your bonds increafe: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.
 23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearken ye, and heare my speache.
 24 Doeth the plow man plow all the day, to sowe? doeth he open, and breake the clottes of his grounde?
 25 When he hath made it a plaine, wil he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheat by measure, & the appointed barley and rye in their place?
 26 For his God doeth instruct him to haue discrecion, and doeth teache him.
 27 For fitches shal not be threshed with a threshing instrument, nether shal a cart whole be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

 28 Bread cometh when it is threshed, he doeth not alway thresh it, nether doeth the whele of his cart shal make any se, nether wil he breake it with the tette thereof.
 29 This also cometh from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderful in counsel, & excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

A prophesie against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that followe the traditions of men.

A H' altar, altar of the cite that Dauid dwelt in: adde yere vnto yere. let them kill lambes.
 2 but I wil bring the altar into distress, and there shalbe heauines & sorrow, and it shalbe vnto me like an altar.
 3 And I wil beseege thee as a circle, & fight against thee on a mount, & wil cast vp ramparts against thee.
 4 So shalt thou be humbled, & shalt speake out of the grounde, and thy speache shal be as out of the dust. thy voyce also shalbe out of the grounde like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shal whisper out of the dust.
 5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shal be like smale dust, and the multitude of strong men shalbe as chaffe that passeth away, and it shalbe in a moment, euen suddenly.
 6 Thou shalt be visited of y' Lord of hostes with thundre, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flaine of a deuouring fyre.
 7 And the multitude of all the nations y' fight against the altar, shalbe as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds against it, and laye sege vnto it.
 8 And it shalbe like as an hūgrie man dreameth, and beholde, he eateth: and when he awaketh, his louke is emtrie: or like as a thirskie man dreameth, and lo, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, beholde, he is faunte, and his soule longeth: so shal the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Ziön.
 9 S'ray your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.
 10 For the Lord hath covered you with a spirit of slomber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophetes, and your chief Seers hath he covered.
 11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to each that can read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. Then shal he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

a The Hebrew word. Aril signifieth the eye of God, & signifieth y' altar, because the altar is a sacrifice of w' is offered to God, as Ezek. 41, 16

12 And the boke is giuen vnto him that can not read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. And he shal say, I can not read.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people ^k come nere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lippes, but haue remoued their heart far frõ me, and their ^l feare toward me was taught by the precept of men, 14 Therefore beholde, I wil againe do a maruelous worke in this people, euem a maruelous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wisemen shal ^m perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shalbe hid.

15 Wo vnto them that ⁿ seke depe to hide their counsell from the Lord: for their workes are in darknes, and they say, Who seeth vs, and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuises shal it not be esteemed ^o as the potters claye, for shal ^y worke say of him that made it, He made me not, or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, He had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon shalbe ^p turned into Carmel, & Carmel shalbe counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shal the deafe heare the wordes of the boke, & the eyes of the blind shal se out of obscuritie, and out of darkenes.

19 The meke in the Lord shal receiue ioye againe, and the poore men shal reioyce in the holie one of Israél.

20 For the cruel man shal cease, and the scorneful shalbe consumed: and all that hasted to iniquitie, shalbe cut off:

21 Which made a man to sinne in ^y iworde, & toke him in a snare: which reiproued them in the gate, and made the iuste to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Iaakób, euem he that redeemed Abraham, Iaakób shal not now be confounded, nether now shal his face be pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the worke of mine háds, in the middes of him, they shal sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the holie one of Iaakób, & shal feare the God of Israél.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, ^r shal haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shal learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

He reiproueth the Lewes which in their aduersitie Used their owne counsels, and sought helpe of the Egyptians to Despis: g the Prophetes 16 Therefore he sheweth what destruction shal come vpon them. 18 But of fresh mercie to the repentant.

WO to the ^a rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsell, but not of me, and ^b couer with a couering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forthe to go downe into Egypt (& haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen them selues with the strength of Pharaóh, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaóh shalbe your shame, & the trust in ^y shadowe of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his ^c princes were at Zóan, and his ambassodours came vnto Hanés.

5 They shalbe all ashamed of the people ^y cannot profite them, nor helpe nor do the good, but shalbe a shame and also a reproche.

6 ¶ The ^d burden of the beastes of the South, in a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shal come the yong and olde lyon, the viper and fyrie flying serpent against them that shal beare their riches vpo the shoulders of the coltes, and their treasures vpon the bouches of the camels, to a people that can not profite.

7 For the Egyptians are vanitie, and they shal helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vn. ^e her, Their strength ^f is to sit still.

8 Now go, & write ^g it before them in a table, & note it in a boke that it may be for the ^h last day for euer and euer:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, & children that wolde not ⁱ heare the Law of the Lord.

10 Which say vnto the Seers, Se not: and to the Prophetes, Prophecie not vnto vs right things, but speake flattering things vnto vs: p^{ro}phetic^{ke} enours.

11 Depurte out of the way: go aside out of the path. cause the holie one of Israél to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus saith the holie one of Israél, Because you haue cast off this worde, and trust in ⁱ violence, and wickednes, and stay thereupon,

13 Therefore this iniquitie shalbe vnto you as a breache that falleth, or a swelling in an hie wail, whose breaking cometh suddenly in a moment.

14 And the breaking thereof is like ^y breaking of a potters pot, which is broke without pitie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde ^m a sheerd to take fyre out of the hearth, or to take water out of the pit.

15 For thus said the ⁿ Lord God, the holie one of Israél, In rest and quietnes shal ye be sauéd: in quietnes and in confidence shalbe your strength, but ye wolde not.

16 For ye haue said, No, but we wil ride away vpon ^o horses. Therefore shal ye flee. We wil ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shal your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand as one shal flee at the rebuke of one:

^k Because they are hypocrites & not sincere in heart, as Mat 15 8.

^l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine, & not by my worde in Meaning, ^y where as God is not worshipped according to his worde, bothe magistrates, and ministers are but foolles, & without vnderstanding.

^m This is spoken of the, ^w in heart despised Godsworde & mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face

^o For all your craft, saith the Lord, you can not be able to escape mine hands no more the claye, th it is in the potters hande, hath power to deliuer it self

^p Shal there not be a charge of all things, and Carmel, that is a plentiful place in respect of that it shalbe then, may be taken, as a forest, as Chap 32, 15. & thus he speaketh to comfort the faithful

^q They that went about to finde faulte in the Prophetes wordes, and wolde not abide admonitions, but wolde intagle the and bring the into daogere.

^r Signifying, ^y except God giue vnderstanding, & knowledge, man can not but sin erre, and murmur against him.

^a Who contrary to their promises, take not me for their protectour, & contrary to my commandement, seke helpe at strangers ^b They seke helpe to cloke their doings, and not godlie meanes.

^c The chiefe of Israél went in to Egypt to auoide to seke helpe, and a boke at these times.

^d That is, a heauy sentence or prophetic against the beastes that carried their treasures into Egypt, by the wildernes, ^y was South from Iudáh signifying that it ^y beastes shalbe not be spared, the men inuide be punished much more grieuouly ^e To wit, to Ierusalem

^f And not to come to & fro to seke helpe ^g That is, this prophecie.

^h That it may be a witness, against them for all posteritie ⁱ He sheweth what was the cause of their destruction, & bringeth in all miserie to m^a to wit, because they wolde not heare the worde of God, but delisted to be flattered, and led in error.

^k Threaten vs not by sworde of God, nether be formidable, nor take vnto vs in the name of the Lord, as Jer 11, 21

^l Meaning, in their stubbernes against God, and the admonitions of his Prophetes.

^m Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shalbe without recovery ⁿ Oft times by his Prophetes he put you in remembrance of this, ^y you shalbe onely deped on him. ^o We wil trust to escape by our horses.

p Where as all the trees are cut downe for the two or three to make mastes.

q He commeth the great mercies of God who with patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.

r Not ouely in punishing, but in vying moderation in the same, as Ier. 10, 24, and 30, 11.

r Or, instruer.

f God that direct all thy wayes, and appoint thee how to go ether hether or thether.

t Ye shal cast away your idoles, which you haue made of golde, & siluer with all that belongeth vnto them, as a moſte filthy thing and polluted.

u Shewing that there can be no true repentance except both in heart and dede we shewe our selues enemies to idolatrie.

x By these diuerſe maners of speache he sheweth y the felicitie of the Church shalbe so great, y none is able sufficiently to expresse it.

y When the Church shalbe restored, y glorie thereof shal passe ſeuē times y brightnes of y sunne: for by the sunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, he sheweth what shalbe the glorie of the children of God in the kingdom of Chriſt.

z This threatening is against the Assyrians, the chief enemies of the people of God.

a To driue thee to nothing: and thus God consumeth the wicked by y meanes, whereby he cleareth his.

b Ye shal reioyce at the destruction of your enemies, as they that sing for ioye of the ſolemne feaſt, which began in the euening.

of one : at the rebuke of ſiue ſhal ye flee, til ye be left as a ſhippe maſt vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpó an hill.

18 Yet therefore wil y Lord waite, that he may haue q mercy vpon you, and therefore wil he be exalted, that he may haue cõpafſion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of cõ iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people ſhal dwell in Ziõ, & in Ieruſalẽm: thou ſhalt wepe no more: he wil certainly haue mercie vpó thee at y voyce of thy crye: whẽ he heareth thee, he wil answer thee.

20 And when the Lord hathe giuẽ you the bread of aduerſitie, and the water of affli- ctiõ, thy raine ſhalbe no more kept backe, but thine eyes ſhal ſee thy raine.

21 And thine eares ſhal heare a worde be- hindẽ thee, ſaying, This is the way, f walke ye in it, when thou turneſt to the right hand, and when thou turneſt to the left.

22 And ye ſhal t pollute the couering of the images of ſiluer, and the riche ornament of thine images of golde, & caſt the away as a menſtruous cloth, and thou ſhalt ſay vnto it, u Get thee hence.

23 Then ſhal he giue raine vnto thy ſede, when thou ſhalt ſowe the groude, & bread of the increaſe of the earth, and it ſhalbe fat and as oyle: in that day ſhal thy cattel be fed in large paſtures.

24 The oxen alſo and the yong aſſes, that til the grounde, ſhal eat cleane prouendre, which is winowed with the ſhoouel and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euerie his x mountaine, and vpon euerie hie hil ſhal there be riuers & ſtreames of waters, in the day of the great ſlaughter, when the towers ſhal fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the moone ſhalbe as the light of the y ſunne, and the light of the ſunne ſhalbe ſeuē folde, and like the light of ſeuē dayes in the day that the Lord ſhal binde vp the breache of his people, & heale the ſtroke of their woude.

27 Beholde, z the Name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauie: his lippes are ful of indignacion, and his tongue is as a deuouring fyre.

28 And his Spirit is as a riuier y ourfloweth vp to y necke: it diuideth a ſondre, to fanne the nations with the fanne of a vanitie, and there ſhalbe a bridle to cauſe them to erre in the chawes of the people.

29 But there ſhalbe a ſong vnto you as in the b night, whẽ a ſolemne feaſt is kept: & gladnes of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to go vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Iſraël.

30 And the Lord ſhal cauſe his glorious voyce to be heard, & ſhal declare the ligh- ting downe of his arme with the angre of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fyre, with ſcattering & tempeſt, and hail ſtones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord ſhal Aſ- ſhur be destroyed, which ſmote with the c rodde.

32 And in euerie place that the ſtaffe ſhal paſſe, it ſhal d cleaue faſt, which the Lord ſhal lay vpon him with e tabrets and har- pes: and with battels, & lifting vp of hands ſhal he fight f againſt it.

33 For Tõphet is prepared of olde: it is euẽ prepared for the h King: he hathe made it i depe and large: the burning there of is fyre & much wood: the breth of the Lord, like a riuier of brimſtone, doeth kindle it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curſeth them that forſake God, and ſeke for the helpe of men.

1 WO vnto them that a go downe in- to Egypt for helpe, and ſtay vpon horſes, and truſt in charettes, becauſe they are manie, and in horſemen, becauſe they be very ſtrong: but thei loke not vnto the holie one of Iſraël, nor b ſeke vnto the Lord.

2 But he yet is c wiſeſt: therefore he wil bring euil, and not turne backe his worde, but he wil ariſe againſt the houſe of the wicked, and againſt the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, & not God, and their horſes fleſh and not ſpirit: and when the Lord ſhal ſtretchẽ out his hand, the d helper ſhal fall, and he that is holpẽ ſhal fall, and thei ſhal altogether faile.

4 For thus haſte the Lord ſpoken vnto me, As the lion or lions whelpe roareth vpon his praie, againſt whome if a multitude of ſhepherds be called, he wil not be afraid at their voyce, nether wil humble him ſelf at their noiſe: ſo ſhal the Lord of ho- ſtes come e downe to fight for mount Zi- õn, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birdes that flie, ſo ſhal the Lord of hoſtes defend Ieruſalẽm by defending and deliuering, by paſſing through & prefer- uing it.

6 O ye children of Iſraël, turne againe, in aſmuchẽ as ye are f ſunken depe in rebel- lion.

7 For in that day euerie man ſhal caſt out his idoles of ſiluer, and his idoles of golde, which your hands haue made you, eue a ſinne.

8 The ſhal Aſhur fall by h the ſworde, not of man, nether ſhal the ſworde of man a There were two ſpecial cauſes, why y Iſraẽlites ſhuld be not ioyne amitie with y Egyptians: firſt, becauſe the Lord had com- manded the maner to retur- ne thether, Deu 17, 16. & 28, 68, leſt they ſhulde forget the benefite of their redemption: & ſecondly, leſt they ſhulde be corrupted with the ſuperſtitiõ & idolatrie of the Egyptians, and ſo forſake God, Ier. 2, 13.

b Meaning, that thei forſake the Lord, that put their truſt in worldlie things: for thei can not truſt in both.

c And knoweth their craftie enterpriſes & wil bring all to naught.

d Meaning, both the Egyptianes and the Iſraẽlites.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Saneherib sendeth Rabshakéh to beseege Ierusalem. 15 His blasphemies against God.

a This historie is rehearsed, because it is as a seale & confirmation of the doctrine afore, bothe for the threatenings & promises to wit, that God wolde suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length wolde send deliuerance & restore religion, yet God wolde exercise his Church to trye their faith and patience.

Now in the fourteenth yere of King Hezekiáh, Saneherib King of Asshúr came vp against all the strong cities of Iudáh, and toke them.

And the King of Asshúr sent Rabshakéh frõ Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto King Hezekiáh, with a great hoste, and he stode by the conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

b When he had abolished supersticion, & idolatrie, &

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakím the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebná the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

4 And Rabshakéh said vnto them, Tel you Hezekiáh, I pray you, Thus saith the great King, the King of Asshúr, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I saie, Surely I haue eloquence, but counsel and strength are for the warre: on whom then dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it wil go into his hand, and perce it: so is Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the Lord our God. Is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiáh toke downe, and said to Iudáh and to Ierusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Asshúr, & I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy parte to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou despise anie captaine of the least of my lords seruants: and put thy trust on Egypt for charets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto me, Go vp against this land & destroy it.

11 Then said Eliakím, and Shebná and Ioah vnto Rabshakéh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakéh, Hath my master sent me to thy master, & to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall, that they may eat their owne dounge, and drinke their owne piss with you?

13 So Rabshakéh stode, & cryed with a loud voyce in the Iewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Asshúr.

14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiáh deceiue you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Nether let Hezekiáh make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord wil surely deliuer vs: this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshúr.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiáh: for thus saith the King of Asshúr, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerie man may eat of his owne vine, and euerie man of his owne figtre, and drinke euerie

e For he was now restored to his office, as Ifaiáh had prophesied, Chap. 22, 20

d This declarereth that there were fewe godly to be founde in the Kings house, whẽ he was driuen to send this wicked man in such a weightie matter

e Saneherib chief speaker. f He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiáh, falsely charging him, that he put his trust in his wit and eloquence, where as his onlie confidence was in the Lord

g Satan labored to pul the godlie King from one vaine confidence to another, to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weake & would deceiue them: so yelde him self to the Assyrians and so not to hope for any helpe of God

h Or, saue backe. He reprocheth to Hezekiáh his small power, which is not able to resist one of Saneheribs least captaines. i Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, wil pretend the Name of the Lord but we must trye the spirits, whether thei be of God or no. k They were afraid, lest by his wordes he shulde haue stirred the people against the King, and also pretended to growe to some appointment with him. l Ebr. the word of their fist.

27 T^h I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, even a land of wheat and 28 Lest Hezekiah discueve you, saying, The Lord wil deliuer vs. Hathe anie of y gods of the naciós deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshúr?

19 Where is the god of ^m Hamáth, and of or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their country out of mine hand, that the Lord shulde deliuer Ierusalém out of mine hand?

21 Then they kept silence, and answered him not a worde: for the Kings' commandement was saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiáh the steward of the house, and Shebná the chancellet, and Ioáh the sonne of Asaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiáh with rét cloth's, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakéh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Hezekiáh asketh counsel of Isaiáh, who promiserh him the Victorie 10 The blaspheme of Saneherib 16 Hez-ekiah's praier. 26 The arme of Saneherib is slayne of the Angel. 38 And he him self of his owne sonnes.

1 AND whé the King Hezekiáh heard it, he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth & came into the House of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebná the chancellet, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackclothe vnto Isaiáh the Prophet, the sonne of Amóz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiáh, This day is a day of tribulacion & of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forthe.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard the wordes of Rabshakéh, whome the King of Asshúr his maister hath sent to raile on y liuing God, & to reproche him with wordes which y Lord thy God hath heard, then list thou vp thy praier for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiáh.

6 And Isaiáh said vnto them, Thus say vnto your maister, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshúr haue blasphemed me.

7 Beholde. I wil send a blast vpon him, & he shal heare a noise, and retorne to his owne land, and I wil cause him to fall by the sworde in his owne land.

8 So Rabshakéh returned, and founde the King of Asshúr fighting against Libnah:
for he had heard that he was departed fró Lachish.

9 He heard also men say of Tirhakáh, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiáh, saying,

10 Thus shal ye speake to Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, saying, Let not thy God deceue thee, in whome thou trustest, saying, Ierusalém shal not be giuen into the hand of the King of Asshúr.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what y Kings of Asshúr haue done to all lands in destroying them, & shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the naciós deliuered them, which my fathers haue destroyed?
As Gozán, and Harán, and Rézeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Tellassár?

13 Where is the King of Hamáth, and the King of Arpád, and the King of the cite of Sepharuáim, Hana and Iuáh?

14 So Hezekiáh receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers and red it, and he went vp into the House of the Lord, and Hezekiáh spred it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiáh praied vnto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hostes, God of Isaiél, which dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art vey God alone ouer all the kingdome of the earth: thou hast made the heauen &
the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, ó Lord, and heare: open thine eyes, ó Lord, and se, and heare all the wordes of Saneherib, who hath sent to blasphemie the liuing God.

18 Truth it is, ó Lord, that the Kings of Asshúr haue destroyed all lands, & their country,

19 And haue cast their gods in the fyre: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, even wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, ó Lord our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the king-domes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.

21 Then Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz sent vnto Hezekiáh, saying, Thus saith y Lord God of Israiél, Because thou hast prayed vnto me, concerning Saneherib King of Asshúr,

22 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against him, O virgine, daughter of Ziön, he hath despised thee, & laugh-

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore wil I put mine hoke in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lippes, and wil bring thee backe againe the same way y camest.

30 And this shal be a y signe vnto thee, o Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this yere suche as groweth of it self. and the 2 second yere, suche things as grow without sowig: and in the third yere, sow ye and reape, & plant vineyardes, & eat the frute thereof.

32 For out of Ierusalem shal go a remnant, & they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lord of hostes shal do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord, concerning y King of Asshur, He shal not enter into this citie, nor shoote an arrowe there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shal returne, and not come into this citie, saith the Lord.

35 For I wil defend this citie to saue it, for mine owne sake, & for my seruāt Dauids sake.

36 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the campe of Asshur an hundredth, foure score, and fise thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, beholde, they were all dead corpses.

37 So Sanchrib King of Asshur departed, and went away and returned and dwelt at Ninueh.

1 Hezekiah is sicke & He is restored to health by the Lord, and isuerth fiftene yeres after. 10 He giueth thanks for his benefite

1 A Bout that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiáh sonne of Amoz came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an ordre, for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 And said, I beseeche thee, Lord, remember now how I haue walked before thee in truth, & with a perfite heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: & Hezekiah wept sore.

4 ¶ Then came the worde of the Lord to Isaiáh, saying,

5 Go, & say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, & sen thy teares: beholde, I wil adde vnto thy daies fiftene yeres.

6 And I wil deliuer thee out of the hand of the King of Asshur, and this citie: for I wil defend this citie.

7 And this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that y Lord wil do this thing, that he hath spoken,

At the same time, Merodach Balaadan, the sonne of Baladan, King of Babel, sent letters, & a present to Hezekiáh: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recouered.

And Hezekiáh was glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, & the precious ointement, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiáh shewed them not.

The came Isaiáh the Prophet vnto King Hezekiáh, and said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiáh said, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babel.

The said he, What haue they sene in thine house? And Hezekiáh answered, All that is in mine house haue they sene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

And Isaiáh said to Hezekiáh, Heare the worde of the Lord of hostes, Beholde, the dayes come that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntil this day, shal be carryed to Babel. nothing shal be left, saith the Lord.

And of thy sonnes, that shal procede out of thee, & which thou shalt beget, shal they take away, and they shal be eunuches in the palace of the King of Babel.

Then said Hezekiáh to Isaiáh, The worde of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and he said, Yet let there be peace, and trueth in my dayes.

Remission of finnes by Christ
3 The coming of Iohn Baptist
18 The Prophet reproveth the idolaters and them that trust not in the Lord.

Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God say.

Euerie valie shal be exalted, and euerie mountaine and hill shal be made lowe: & the croked shal be streight, and the rough places plaine.

And the glorie of the Lord shal be reueiled, and all flesh shal see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

A voyce said, Crie. And he said, What shal I crye? All flesh is grasse, and all the grace thereof is as the floure of the field.

The grasse withereth, the floure fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: surely the people is grasse.

16 And Lebanón is not sufficient for fyre, nor the bestes thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him, lesse then nothing, and vanitie.

18 To whome then wil ye liken God, or what similitude wil ye set vp vnto him?

19 The workeman melteth an image, or the golde smith beatech it out in golde, or y golde smith maketh siluer plates.

20 Doeth not x the poore chuse out a tree that wil not rote, for an oblation? he seeketh also vnto him a cunning workeman, to prepare an image, that shall not be moued.

21 Knowe ye nothing: haue ye not heard y it hathe it not bene tolde you from the beginning? haue ye not vnderstand it by the fundamentacion of the earth?

22 He sitteth vpon the circle of the earth, & the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, he stretcheth out the heauens, as a curtaine, & spreadeth the out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the iudges of the earth, as vanitie, 24 As though they were not plated, as though they were not sowed, as though their stocke toke no roote in the earth: for he did euē a blow vpon them, and they withered, and the whirle winde wil take them away as stubble.

25 To whome now wil ye liken me, that I shulde be like him, saith the holie one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on hie, and beholde, who hathe created these things, and bringeth out their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatnes of his power and mightie strength nothing faileth.

27 Why saiest thou, o Iakób, and speakest o Israél, c My way is hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God.

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the euerlasting God, the Lord hathe created the ends of the earth: he nether fainteth, nor is weary there: no searching of his vnderstanding.

29 But he giueth strength vnto him that fainteth, & vnto him that hathe no strength, he increaseth power.

30 Euen the yong men shall faint, and be wearie, and the yong men shall stumble and fall.

31 But they that waite vpon the Lord, shall renewe their strength: they shall lift vp the wings as the egle: they shall runne, & not be wearie, & they shall walke and not faint.

2 Gods mercie in chusing his people 6 Their idolatrie. 27 Deliueraunce promised to Zion

1 KEpe a silence betoie me, o ylands, & let the people b renewe their strength: let them come nere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgement.

2 Who raised vp c iustice from the East, & called him to his fore? and gauē the nations before him, and subdued the Kings? he gauē them as dust to his sworde, & as scatred stubble vnto his bowe.

3 He pursued them, and passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his fete.

4 Who hathe wrought and done it? he that calleth the d generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the e first, and with the last I am the same.

5 The yles sawe it, & did f feare: & the ends of the earth were abashed, drewe nere, and came.

6 Euerie man helped his neighbour and said to his brother, h Be strong.

7 So the workeman comforted the founder & he that smote w the hammer, him that smote by course, sayig, It is ready for the sodering, & he fastened it with nailes that it shulde not be moued.

8 ¶ But thou, Israél, art my i seruant, & thou Iakób, whome I haue chosē, the sēde of Abraham my friend.

9 For I haue taken thee from the ends of the earth, and called thee before the chief thereof, and said vnto thee, Thou art my seruant: I haue chosē thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afraid, for I am thy God: I wil strengthen thee, and helpe thee, and wil susteine thee with the k right hand of my iustice.

11 Beholde, all they y prouoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded: they shall be as nothing, & they that striue with thee, shall perish.

19 I wil set in the wildernes the cedre, the shittah tre, & the myrre tre & the pine tre, & I wil set in the wildernes the fyrre tre, the elme and the boxe tre together.

20 Therefore let them se and knowe, and let them consider and vnderstand together that the hand of the Lord hathe done this, and the holie one of Israél hathe created it.

21 Stand to your cause, saith the Lord: bring forthe your strong reasons, saith the King of Iakób.

22 Let the bring the forthe, & let the tel vs what shal come: let them shewe the former things what thei be, that we maie consider them, and knowe the later end of them: ether declare vs things for to come.

23 Saewe the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods: yea, do good or do euil, that we may declare it, and beholde it together.

24 Beholde, ye are of no value, & your making is of naught: man hathe chosen an abomination by them.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The obedience and humilitie of Christ. 6 Why he was sent into the worlde. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

1 Beholde, my seruant: I wil stay vpon him: mine elect, in whome my soule delighteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: he shal bring forthe iudgement to the Gentiles.

2 He shal not crye, nor lift vp, nor cause his voyce to be heard in the strete.

3 A bruised reede shal he not breake, and the smoking flax shal he not quenche: he shal bring forthe iudgement in truth.

4 He shal not faile nor be discouraged til he haue set iudgement in the earth: and the kyles shal wait for his law.

5 Thus saith God the Lord (he that created the heauens and spred them abroad: he that stretched forthe the earth, and the buddes thereof: he that giueth breth vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke therein)

6 I the Lord haue called thee in righteousnes, and wil holde mine hand, and I wil kepe thee, and giue thee for a couenant of the people, & for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou maiest open the eies of the blinde, & brig out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkenes, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my glorie wil I not giue to another, nether my praise to grauen images.

9 Beholde, the former things are passe, and newe things do I declare: before they come forthe, I tel you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song, & his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go downe to the sea, and all that is therein: the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wildernes and the cities thereof lift vp their voice, the townes that 13 The Lord shal go forthe as a gyant: the shal stirre vpon his courage like a mā of warre: he shal shoute and crye, & shal preuaile against his enemies.

f I wil haue to execute my vengeance, & I haue so long diff. red, as a woman that desireth to be deliuered whē she is, in trauail t That is, my poore people, which are in perplexitie & care.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene still & refrained my self: now wil I crye like a trauailing woman: I wil destroye and deuoure at once.

n To wit, Israēl, w̄ shal de haue moſte light becauſe of my Law

15 I wil make waſte mountaines, and hilles, and drye vp all their herbes, and I wil make the floods ylandes, and I wil drye vp the pooles.

x The Priest to whome my worde is committed, which shulde not onely heare it him self, but cause others to heare it

16 And I wil bring the blinde by a way, that they knew not, & leade them by paths that they haue not knowen: I wil make darknes light before them, and croked things straight. These things wil I do vnto them, and not forsake them.

z Because they wil not acknowledge this benefite of the Lord, who is ready to deliuer them, he suffereth them to be spoiled of their enemies through their owne faulte and incredulitie

17 They shal be turned backe: they shal be greatly ashamed, that trust in graue images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

a There shal be none to succour them, or to wil the enemy to restore that, & he hathe spoiled.
b Meaning, Gods wrath.

18 Heare, ye deafe: and ye blinde, regarde, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but my seruant, or deafe as my messenger, that I sent, who is blinde as the yperſite, and blinde as the Lords seruant.

20 Seig manie things, but thou kepeſt them not, opening the eares, but he heareth not.

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousnes sake that he may magnifie the Law, & exalt it.

22 But this people is robbed and spoiled, and shal be all snared in dongeons, & they shal be hid in prison houses: they shal be for a pray, and none shal deliuer: a spoile, and none shal say, a Restore.

23 Who among you shal hearken to this, & take hede, and heare for afterwardec.

24 Who gaue Iaakob for a spoile, and Israēl to the robbers? Did not the Lord, because we haue sinned against him, for they wolde not walke in his wayes, nether be obedient vnto his Law.

25 Therefore he hathe powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battel: and it set him on fyre round about, and he knewe not, and it burned him vp, yet he confidred not.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth his people. He promiseth deliuerance to the Iewes. 22 There is no God but one alone.

a After these b threatnings he promiseth deliuerance to his Church, because he hathe regenerate them, adopted them & called them.

BVt now thus saith the Lord, that created thee, o Iaakob: and he that formed thee, o Israēl, Feare not: for I haue redemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passeſt through the waters, I wil be with thee, & through the floods, that they do not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkest through the verſe fyre, thou shalt not be burnt, nether shalt the flame kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israēl, thy Saviour: I gaue Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, and Sebá for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, & thou wast honorable, and I loued thee, therefore wil I giue man for thee, & people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I wil bring thy sede from the East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I wil saie to the North, Giue: and to the South, Kepe not backe: bring my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the earth.

7 Euerie one shal be called by my Name: for I created him for my glorie, formed him and made him.

8 I wil bring forthe the blinde people, and they shal haue eyes, and the deafe, & they shal haue eares.

9 Let all the nacions be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this and shewe vs former things? let them bring forthe their witnessses, & they may be iustified: but let them heare, and saie, It is trueth.

10 You are my witnessses, saith the Lord, and my seruant, whome I haue chosen: therefore ye shal knowe and beleue me & ye shal vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, nether shal there be after me.

11 I, euen I, am the Lord, & beside me there is no Saviour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnessses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliuer out of mine hand: I wil do it, and who shal let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redemer, the holy one of Israēl, For your sake I haue sent to Babél, and broght it downe: they are all fugitiues and the Chaldeans crye in the shippes.

1 The destruction of Babylon and of their idoles. 3 He calleth the Jewes to the consideration of his workes.

q Meanly, strictly & without ransom, or any grievous condition
r These people were tributaries to the Persians, & to King Artabanus, that gave them money towards the building of the Temple, Ezra 7:21
f Where as before they were thine enemies, they shall now honour thee, and thou shalt do them as was accomplished in the time of Christ
t Hereby he exhorteth the Jewes to patience, though their deliverance be deferred for a time the heuens, I haue euen commanded all their armie.

13 I haue raised him vp in righteousness, & I wil direct all his wayes: he shall buyld my citie, and he shall let go my captiues, not for price nor reward, saith the Lord of hostes.
14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, & of the Sabeans, men of stature shall come vnto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall follow thee, and shall go in chaines: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplicacion vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.
15 Verily thou, O God, hast hidest thy self, O God, the Saviour of Israel.
16 All they shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shall go to confusion together that are the makers of images.
17 But Israel shall be saved in the Lord, with an euermlasting saluacion: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded worlde without end.
18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God him self, that formed the earth, and made it: he that prepared it, he created it not in vaine: he formed it to be inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.
19 I haue not spoken in secret, neither in a place of darkness in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto the seditious of Iacob, Scke you me: I the Lord do speake righteousness, & declare righteous things.
20 Assemble your selues, and come: drawe neere together, ye abject of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that set vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that can not saue them.
21 Telye and bring them, & let them take counsel together, who hath declared this from the beginning? or hath tolde it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? & there is none other God beside me, a iust God, & a Saviour: there is none beside me.
22 Loke vnto me, and ye shall be saved: all the ends of the earth shall be saved: for I am God, and there is none other.
23 I haue sworn by my self: the worlde is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not returne, That euery knee shall bowe vnto me, and euery tongue shall sweare by me.
24 Surely he shall say, In the Lord haue I righteousness and strength: he shall come vnto him, and all that prouoke him, shall be ashamed.
25 The whole seditious of Israel shall be iustified, and glorie in the Lord.

1 Bel is bowed downe: Nebó is fallen: their idoles were vpon the beasts, and vpon the cattel: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.
2 They are bowed downe, & fallen together: for they coude not rid the of the burden, & their soule is gone into captiuitie.
3 Heare ye me, O house of Iacob, & all that remaine of the house of Israel, which are borne of me from the wombe, and brought vp of me from the birth.
4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I wil beare you vntil the home heeres: I haue made you: I wil also beare you, and I wil carrie you, and I wil deliuer you.
5 To whom wil ye make me like, or make me equal, or will compare me, that I should be like him?
6 They drawe golde out of the bagge and weigh situer in the balance, and hyre a goldsmith to make a god of it, & they bowe downe, and worship it.
7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they carrie him and set him in his place: so doeth he stand, & can not remoue from his place. Though one crye vnto him, yet can he not answer, nor deliuer him out of his tribulacion.
8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe to minde, O you transgressors.
9 Remember the former things of olde: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me, 10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not done, saying, My counsel shall stand, & I wil do whatsoeuer I wil.
11 I call a bird from the East, & the man of my counsel from far: as I haue spoken, so wil I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I wil do it.
12 Heare me, ye stubburne hearted, that are farre from iustice.
13 I bring mine iustice: it shall not be farre of, and my saluacion shall not tary: for I wil giue saluacion in Zion, and my glorie vnto Israel.

a These were the chief idoles of babylon.
b Because they were of golde and siluer, the Mages & Persians caried them away.
c The beasts that caried the idoles, fell downe vnder their burden.
d He derideth the idoles, which had neither soule nor iustice.
e He sheweth the difference betweene the idoles, and the true God: for they must be carrie of others, but God himself carrieth his.
f Deut 32:11 I being I haue begun to say, I wil nourish and presse you for cur.
g The people of God, being their owne calamitie & the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, should be tempted to thinke that their God was not so mighty as the idoles of their enemies therefore he describeth the original of all the idoles, to make them to be blotted of all men shewing that the mozt that can be spoken in their commendacion is but to praise them vnto, Bar 6:25

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of Babylon and the causes wherefore.

1 Come downe and sit in the dust: O virgin, daughter Babel, sit on the ground: there is no thine, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, Tendre and delicate.
2 Take the mille stenes, & grande meale.

a Which hath liued in wealth, & wantonnes, and hath not yet bene ouercome by any comie.
b Thy government shall be taken from thee.
c Thou shalt be brought to mozt vile seruitude for to turne the mille was the office of slaves.

¶ Our redemer, the Lord of hostes is his Name, the holy one of Israél.
¶ Sit still, and get thee into darkenes, o daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The ladie of kingdomes.
¶ I was wrath with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou didest shewe them no ^h mercie, but thou didest lay thy very beaue yoke vpon the ancient.
¶ And thou saidest, I shall be a ladie for euer, so that thou didest not set thy minde to these things, nether didest thou remember the latter end thereof.
¶ Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, & dwellest careles, She saith in her heart, I am and none els: I shall not sit as a widdow, nether shall knowe y losse of children.
¶ But these two things shall come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children and widdowehead: they shall come vpon thee in their ⁱ perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinacions, & for the great abundance of thine inchanters.
¶ For thou hast trusted in thy wickednes: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy ^k wisdom & thy knowledge, they haue caused thee to rebell, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.
¶ Therefore shall euil come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shall come vpon thee suddenly, or thou beware.
¶ Stand now among thine inchanters, and in the multitude of thy sorcifiers (with whome thou hast ^l wearied thy self from thy youth) if so be thou maiest haue profited, or if so be thou maiest haue strength.
¶ Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the starre gasers, & pronosticatours stand vp, and saue thee from these things, that shall come vpon thee.
¶ Beholde, they shall be as stubble: the fyre shall burne them: they shall not deliuer their owne liues from the power of the flame: there shall be no coies ^m to warme at, nor light to sit by.
¶ Thus shall they serue thee, with whome thou hast wearied thee, eue thy marchants from thy youth: euery one shall wander to his owne ⁿ quarter: none shall saue thee.

¶ The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reprobud. ¶ The Lord alone wil be worshipped. ¶ Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

¶ For they are called of the holy citie, and staie them selues ^c vpon the God of Israél, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.
¶ I haue declared the former things of olde, and they went out of my mouth, and I shewed ^d them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.
¶ Because I knewe, that ^e thou art obstinate, and thy necke is an yron sinew, and thy browe brasse, ¶ Therefore I haue declared it to thee of olde: before it came to passe, I shewed ^f it thee, lest thou shuldest say, Mine idole hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.
¶ Thou hast heard, beholde all this, & wil not ye ^g declare it: I haue shewed thee new things, euen now, and hid things, which thou knewest not.
¶ They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardest them not, lest ^h thou shuldest say, Beholde, I ^h knewe them.
¶ Yet thou heardest the not, nether didest knowe them, nether yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knewe that thou woldest grieuously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressour from the ⁱ wombe.
¶ For my Names sake wil I differ my wrath, and for my praise wil I refraine it from thee, ^k that I cut thee not of.
¶ Beholde, I haue fined thee, but ^l not as siluer: I haue ^m chosen thee in the fornace of affliction.
¶ For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake wil I do it: for how shulde my Name ⁿ be polluted: surely I wil not giue my glorie vnto another.
¶ Heare me, o Iaakób & Israél, my called, ^p I am, I am the first, and I am the last.
¶ Surely mine ^h had hath layed the foundation of the earth, & my right hand hath spanned the heauens: when I call them, ^q they stand vp together.

CHAP. XLIX.

The Lord exhorteth all nations to beleue his promises of Christ in the saluacion of all that beleue, and wil deliuer them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

1 HEARE ye me, ó yles, & hearké, ye people fró farr. The Lord hathe called me from the wombe, and made mencion of my name from my mothers bellie.

2 And he hathe made my mouth like a sharpe sworde vnder the shadowe of his hád: he hid me, and made me a chosén shafte, & hid me in his quiver,

3 And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, ó Israél, for I wil be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I haue labored in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my woike with my God.

5 And now saith the Lord, that formed me fró the wombe to be his seruant, that I maie bring Iakób againe to him (though Israél be not gathered, yet shal I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shalbe my strength)

6 And he said, It is a smale thing that thou shuldest be my seruant, to raise vp the tribes of Iakób, and to restore the desolations of Israél. I wil also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maiest be my saluacion vnto the end of the world.

7 Thus saith the Lord the redemer of Israél, & his Holie one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a seruant of rulers, Kings shal se, and arise, and princes shal worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful. and the Holie one of Israél, which hathe chosen thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluacion haue I helped thee. and I wil preserue thee, and wil giue thee for a covenant of the people, that thou maiest raise vp the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritage:

9 That thou maiest say to thy prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in daikenes, Shewe your selues: they shal fede in the wayes, & their prisoners shalbe in all the toppes of the hilles.

10 They shal not be úrgrie, nether shal they be thurstie, nether shal the heat smite them nor the sunne: for he that hathe compassion on them, shal lead them. euery to the springs of waters shal he driue them.

11 And I wil make all my mountaines, as a way, & my paths shalbe exalted.

12 Beholde, these shal come fró farre: & lo, these fróm the North and fróm the West, and these fróm the land of Sírím.

13 Reioyce, ó heauens: and be ioyful, ó earth bragge forth in to praise, ó mountaines for God hathe comforted his people, & wil haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The Lord hathe forsaken me, and my Lord hathe forgotté me.

15 Can a woman forget her childe, and not haue compassion on the sonne of her wombe? though they shulde forget, yet wil I not forget thee.

16 Beholde, I haue graued thee vpon the palme of mine hands. thy walles are euer in my sight.

17 Thy buylders make haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eyes rounde about & beholde: all these gather the selues together & come to thee. as I haue, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely put them all vpon thee as a garmet, & giue thy selfe like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, & thy waste places, & thy land destroyed, shal surely be now narrow for them: they shal dwell in it, & they that did deuoure thee, shalbe farre away.

20 The children of thy barrennes shal say againe in thine eares, The place is strait for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

z He sheweth what are the ornaments of his Church to haue mine children, which are assembled by the word of God & governed by his Spirit.

f Since the time that I declared my self to your fathers I haue prophesied for him self, & to assure them of these things which shall do thee good. I that is, the persons estate of Christ. After that he had forewarned them of their captiuitie, and of the cause thereof, he sheweth them the great ioye, which shall come of their deliuerance. He sheweth that it shalbe as easy to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. Thus he sheweth that the wicked should not abate. Gods promises in whome was neither truth, nor hope, etc. a. Cap 57, 21.

a This is spoken in the promise of Christ to assure the faithful, that the promises shulde come to passe for they were all made in him, and a him shulde be performed. b This is met of the time, if Christ shulde be manifested to the world, as Psal 27. c By the sworde, and shifte, he signifieth the vertue and efficacy of Christs doctrine. d God hathe take me to his protection and defence this chiefly is met of Christ, and may also be applied to his ministers of his worde. e By Israél is met Christ, & all the body of faithful as the members and their head. f Thus Christ in his members complasment, that his labour, and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented, if his doings are approved of God. g Though the Iewes refuse my doctrine, yet God wil approve my ministerie.

desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro: & who hath nourished the beholde, I was left alone: whence are these?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lift vp mine hand to the Gentiles and set vp my standart to the people, and they shall bring thy sonnes in their armes: and thy daughters shall be caryed vpon their shoulders.

23 And Kings shall be thy nourcing fathers, and Quenes shall be thy nources: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and lick vp the dust of thy fete: & thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed to waite for me.

24 Shall the praise be taken from the mightie or the iust captiuitie deliuered?

25 But thus saith the Lord, Euen the captiuitie of the mightie shall be taken awaie: & the praice of the tyrant shall be deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, & I will saue thy children, 26 And will fede them that spoile thee, with their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with swete wine: & all flesh shall knowe that I am thy Sauour & thy redemer, the mightie one of Iakób.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the smiters, and my chekes to the nippers: I had not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I knowe that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is nere that iustifieth me: who will contend with me? Let vs stand together: who is mine aduerfarie? let him come nere to me.

9 Beholde, the Lord God will helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? lo, they shall waxe olde as a garment: the mothe shall eat them vp.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him heare the voyce of his seruant. he that walketh in darkenes, & hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, & stay vpon his God.

11 Beholde, all you kindle a fyre, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in the light of your fyre, and in the sparkes that ye haue kindled. This shall ye haue of mine hand: ye shall lie downe in sorowe.

CHAP. I I.

To trust in God alone by Abrahams example. Not to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Ierusalem, & her deliuerance.

1 Heare me, ye that follow after righteousness, & ye that seke the Lord: loke vnto the rocke, whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit, whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, & blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: ioye and gladnes shall be founde therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken ye vnto me, my people, and giue care vnto me, o my people. for a Law shall procede from me, and I will bring forth the my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My righteousness is nere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine armes shall iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and loke vpon the earth beneth: for the heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my saluation shall be for euer, & my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken vnto me, ye that knowe righteousness, the people in whose heart is my Law. Feare ye not the reproche of men, nether be ye afraid of their rebukes.

k I did not shrinke from God for any persecution or calamitie whereby he sheweth, that the true ministers of God can loke for none other recompence of wicked but after this sorte and also what is their comfort.

l Shewing it is a rare thing that any should obey aright Gods true ministers, though they labour to bring the fro hel to heauen. m You haue fought consolation by your owne deuises, & haue refused the light, and consolation, & God hath offered therefore ye shall remaine in sorowe, and not be comforted a He comforteth the Church, that they should not be discouraged for their small number b That is, to Abraham, of whome ye were begotten, & to Sarah, of whome ye were borne c As plentiful as Paradise, Genef 2.3.

d I will rule, & gouerne my Church by my worde, and doctrine.

e The time, I will accomplish my promises f My power, and strength.

g He forewarneth them of the horrible change, & mutations of all things, & how he will preferue his Church in the middes of all these dangers.

h He sheweth, Christ will not onely gather this greaze number of the Iewes, but also of the Gentiles i Meaning, Kings shall be conuerted to Gospel and be stowe their power, & autoritie for the preferuation of the Church

k Being ioyned with the Church, they shall hūble the felues to Christ their head, and giue him all honour

l He maketh this as an objection, although the Chaldeas were strong, & had them in iuste possession.

m This is the answer to their objection, none is stronger then the Lord, nether hath a more iuste title vnto them

CHAP. I I.

The Iewes forsaken for a time. 2 Let the power of God be not diminished. 5 Christs obedience & victorie.

1 Thus saith the Lord, Where is that abil of your mothers diuorcement, whome I haue cast of? or who is the creditor to whome I solde you? Beholde, for your iniquities are ye solde, and because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

2 Wherefore came I, & there was no man? I called, and none answered: is mine hand so shortened, that it can not helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? beholde, at my rebuke I drye vp the Sea: I make the floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dyeth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heauens with darknes, & make a sacke their couering.

4 The Lord God hath giuen me a tongue of the learned, that I should knowe to minister a worde in time to him: I am weary: he will raise me vp in the morning: in the morning he will waken mine eare to heare, as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, nether turned I backe.

a Meaning, she had not forsaken her, but through her owne occasio, as Hosea 2.2 b Which should declare, I haue cut her of, meaning, they colde shewe none

c Signifying he solde them not for any det or pueritie, but they solde the felues to sinnestie their owne lustes, & pleasures

d He came by his Prophetes and ministers, but they wolde not beleue their doctrine and conuert e Am I not as able to helpe you, as I haue holpen your fathers of olde, when I dryed vp the red Sea, and killed the fish in the riuers, & also as I seruarde in Iorden?

f As I did in Egypt in token of my displeasure, Exod 10.21 g The Prophet doeth represente here the persone and charge of them that are iustly called to the ministerie of Gods worde h To him that is oppressed by affliction and miserie i As they that are taught, and made free by him.

CHAP. LV.

1 An exhortation to come to Christ & Gods counsels are not as mans 12 The way of the fastifull

1 HO, uerie one of you that haue no siluer, come buye wine and milk without siluer and without money.

2 Wherefore do ye late out siluer & not for bread? & your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto me, & eat that which is good, and let your soule delite in fatnes.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me:
heare, and your soule shall liue, and I will make an euerlasting covenant with you, even the mercies of Dauid.

4 Behold, I gaue him for a witness to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knewe not thee, shall rúne vnto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and the holie one of Isaiáh. for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seek ye the Lord while he is nere:
decease vpon him while he is nere.

7 Let the wicked forsake his waies, and the vnrigheteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he will haue mercie vpon him: and to our God, for he is verie ready to forgiue.

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your waies my waies, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heauens are higher than the earth, so are my waies higher than your waies, and my thoughts above your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine cometh downe and the snowe from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth and maketh it to bring forth and budde that it maie giue seede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth,

11 So shall my word be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing where-to I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall go out with ioye, and be led forth with peace through the moun-taines and the hills shall breake forth before you into ioye, and all the trees of the field shall clappe their hands.

13 For thornes there shall growe fyrr trees:
for nettles shall growe the myrrhe tree, and it shall be to the Lord for a name, and for an euerlasting signe that shall not be taken away.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice to Against Shepherds that deuoure their flocke.

1 THUS saith the Lord, Keep iudgement & do iustice: for my saluacion is at hand to come & my righteousnes to be reueiled.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which layeth holde on it: he that kepeth the Sabbath and polluteth it not, and kepeth his hand from doing euill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which is ioyned to the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separat me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a drye tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord, vnto the Eunu-ches, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth me, and take holde of my covenant,

5 Euen vnto the wil I giue in mine house & with my wailes, a place and a name better then of the sonnes & of the daughters I wil giue them an euerlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, & to loue the Name of the Lord, & to be his seruants euery one that kepeth the Sabbath, & polluteth it not & embrace his my covenant,

7 The wil I bring also to mine holy moun-taine, & make them ioyful in mine House of prayer their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted vpon mine altar:
for mine House shall be called an house of prayer for all people.

Althogh you

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scatered of Israël, Yet wil I gather to them those that are to be gathered to the.
 9 All ye beasts of the field, come to deuoure, euen all ye beasts of the forest.
 10 Their watchemen are all blinde: they haue no knowledge: they are all dommedoggs: they can not barke: they lie & slepe and delite in sleping.
 11 And these gredie doggs can neuer haue ynough: and these shepherds can not vnderstand; for they all loke to their owne way, euerie one for his aduantage, & for his owne purpose.
 12 Come, I wil bring wine, and we wil fill our selues with strong drinke, and to morowe shalbe as this daie, and muche more abundant.

i Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. thus he speaketh to feare the hypocrites & to assure the faithful, that when this cometh, they may knowe it was tolde them before.
 k He sheweth that his affliction shal come through the fauour of the gouernours, Prophetes & pastors, whose ignorance, negligence & obstinacie prouoked Gods wrath against them. l We are wel yet, and tomorowe shal be better: therefore let vs not feare the plagues before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

God taketh awaie the good, that he shoulde not se the horrible plagues to come. Of the wicked idolaters. And their vaine confidence.

1 The righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart: and merciful men are taken awaie, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken awaie from the euil to come.
 2 Peace shal come: they shal rest in their beddes, euerie one that walketh before him.
 3 But you witches children, come hither, the sede of the adulterer and of the whore.
 4 On whome haue ye iested vpon whome haue ye gaped and thrust out your tongue: are not ye rebellious children; and a false sede?
 5 Inflamed with idoles vnder euerie grene tree: and sacrificing the children in the valleis vnder the toppes of the rockes?
 6 Thy porcion is in the smooth stones of the riuier. they, they are thy lotte: euen to them hast thou powred a drinke offering: thou hast offred a sacrifice. Shulde I delite in these?
 7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon a verie hie mountaine: thou wentest vp thether, euen the her wentest thou to offre sacrifice.
 8 Behinde the dores also and postes hast thou set vp thy remembrance: for thou hast discouered thy self to another then me, and wentest vp and didest enlarge thy bed, & make a couenant betwene thee and them, and loudest their bed in euerie place a From the plague that is at hand, & also because God wil punish the wicked.

 b The soule of the righteous shal be in ioye & their bodie shal rest in the graue vnto the time of the resurrection; because they walked before the Lord.
 c He threatneth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of the name of Gods people derided Gods worde & his promises: boasting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithful & obedient as Abraham was, he calleth the bastards, & the children of forzerers, who forsake God and fled to wicked means for succour.
 d Read Leui 18, 21. 2. King 23, 10.
 e Meaning, euerie place was polluted with their idolatrie: or euerie faire one that they founde, they made an idole of it.
 f In the sacrifices which you, offering before these idoles, thought you did serue God.
 g To wit, thine altars, in an open place like an impudent harlot that careth not for the sight of her housband.
 h In stead of setting vp the worde of God in the open places on the postes & dores to haue it in remembrance. Deut. 6. 9. & 27, 1. thou hast set vp signes and markes of thine idolatrie in euerie place. i That is, didst thou encrease thine idolatrie more and more.

where thou sawest it.
 9 Thou wentest to the Kings with oyle, & didest increase thine oynmentes & send thy messengers farre of, and didest humble thy selfe vnto hel.
 10 Thou weariedst thy self in thy manifold iourneys, yet saidest thou not, There is no hope: thou shalt founde life by thine had, therefore thou wast not grieved.
 11 And whome didest thou reuerence or feare, seing thou hast lied vnto me, and hast not remembred me, nether set thy minde thereon? is it not because I holde my peace, and that of long time? therefore thou fearest not me.
 12 I wil declare thy righteousness & thy workes, and they shal not profite thee.
 13 When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but thy wunde shal take the all away: vanitie shal pul them awaie: but he that trusteth in me, shal inherit the land, and shal possesse mine holie Mountaine.

k Thou didest seeke the fauour of the Assyrians by giftes and presents, to helpe thee against the Egyptians: & when they failed, thou soughtest to the Babylonians & more and more didest torment thy self. l Although thou sawest all thy labours to be in vaine, yet wouldest thou neueracknowledged thy fault & leaue of. m He derideth their vnprofitable diligence which thought to haue made all sure, & yet were decetued. n Broken promes with me. o Meaning, the wicked abuse Gods lenitie & growe to farther wickednes.
 p That is, thy naughtines, idolatries & impieties: which the wicked call Gods seruice: thus he derideth their obstinacie.
 q Meaning, the Assyrians & other, whose helpe they looked for.
 r God shal say to Darius and Cyrus.
 s I wil not vse my power against fraile man whose life is but a blast.
 t That is, for thy vices & fautes of the people, which is ment here by couetousnes.
 u Though they were obstinate, yet I did not withdraw my mercie from them.
 x That is, I frame the speache & wordes of my messengers which shal bring peace.
 y As well to him which is in captiuitie as to him which remaineth at home.
 z Their euil conscience doeth euer torment them, & therefore they can neuer haue rest, read Chap. 48, 22.
 Chap. LVIII.
 a The Lord thus speaketh to the Prophet, willing him to vse all diligence & feueritie to rebuke the hypocrites.

14 And he shal say, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the waie: take vp the stumbling blockes out of the waie of my people.
 15 For thus saith he, that is hie and excellent, he that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose Name is the Holie one, I dwell in the hie & holie place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuieue the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.
 16 For I wil not contend for euer, nether wil I be alwaies wrath, for the spirit shulde faile before me: and I haue made the breathe.
 17 For his wicked couetousnes I am angrie with him, & haue smited him: I hid me & was angrie, yet he went awaie, & turned after the waie of his owne heart.
 18 I haue sene his waies, and wil heale him: I wil leade him also, & restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.
 19 I creat the frute of the lippes to be peace: peace vnto them that are farre of, and to them that are nere, saith the Lord: for I wil heale him.
 20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can not rest, whose waters cast vp mire and dirt.
 21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

The office of Gods ministers. The workes of the hypocrites. The fast of the faithful. Of the true Sabbath.

1 Rye a loud, spare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, & to the house of Iaakob, their sinnes.
 2 Yet they seke me daily, & wil knowe my waies, euen as a nacion that did rightly. They wil seme to worship me and haue outward holines.

ouly, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: thei aske of me the ordinances of iustice: they wil draw nere vnto God, saying,

3 Wherefore haue we fasted, & thou seeest it not? we haue punished our selues, & thou regardest it not. Beholde, in y day of your fast you wil seke your wil, and require all your dettes.

4 Beholde, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednes: ye shal not fast as ye do to day, to make your voyce be heard aboute.

5 Is it suche a fast, that I haue chofen that a man shalde afflict his soule for a day, & to bowe downe his head, as a bulle rush, and to lie downe in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this y fasting, that I haue chofen, to loose the bands of wickednes, to take of the heauy burdens, & to let the oppressed go fre, and that ye breake euery yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, & that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seeest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy self from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shal thy light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shal growe spedely: thy righteousness shal go before thee, and the glorie of the Lord shal embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shal answer: thou shalt crye and he shal say, Here I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou poure out thy soule to the hungry, & refresh the troubled soule: then shal thy light spring out in the darkenes, and thy darkenes shalbe as the none day.

11 And the Lord shal guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shalbe of thee, that shal buylde the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the fundacions for manie generacions, & y shalt be called the repaier of y breache, & the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou turne away thy fote from the Sabbath, from doing thy wil on mine holy day, & call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrat it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne waies, nor seking thine owne wil, nor speaking a vaine worde,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I wil cause thee to mounte vpon the hie places of the earth, and fede thee with the heritage of Isakob thy father. for y mouth of the Lord hathe spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of finnes. 16 God alone wil preserve his Church, though all men faile.

Beholde, the Lords hand is not shortened, that it can not saue: nether is his care heauy, that it can not heare.

2 But your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, and your finnes haue hid his face from you, that he wil not heare.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lies, & your tongue hathe murmured iniquitie.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for trueth: they trust in vanitie, & speake vaine things: thei coceiue mischief, and bring forth the iniquitie.

5 They hatche cockatrice egges, & weaue the spiders webbe: he that eateth of their egges, dyeth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shalbe no garment, nether shal they couer them selues with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands.

7 Their fete runne to euil, and they make haste to shed innocēt blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: defolacion & destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they knowe not, and there is none equitie in their going: thei haue made them croked paths: whosoeuer goeth therein, shal not knowe peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, nether doeth iustice come nere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it is darkenes, for brightnes: but we walke in darkenes.

10 We grope for the wall like the h blinde, and we grope as one without eyes: we stōble at the none day as in the twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like beares, and mourne like doues: we loke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are manie before thee, and our finnes testifye against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we knowe our iniquities

13 In trespassing & lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away frō our God, & haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, concerning and vttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre of: for trueth is fallen in the strete, and equitie can not enter.

15 Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refreineth from euil, maketh him self a pray: and e He setteth forth the malice and disdain of y hypocrites, w^{ch} grudge against God, if their workes be not accepted. Thus he commeth the hypocrites by the scōlectable & by their ductu toward their neighbours: that he haue not fair nor religion. So long as you vse contencion & oppression, your fasting & prayer shal not be heard.

f That you leaue of all your extorsions.

The Gentiles shal come to the knowledge of the Gospell. & they shal come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shal haue abundance, though they suffer for a time.

1 A Rise, o Ierusalem: be bought, for thy light is come, & the glorie of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenes shal couer y^e earth, and grosse darkenes the people: but the Lord shal arise vpon thee, and his glorie shalbe sene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shal walke in thy light, & Kings at y^e brightnes of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes rounde about, & beholde: all these are gathered, & come to thee: thy sonnes shal come from farre, and thy daughters shalbe nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt se and shine: thine heart shalbe astonied & enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shalbe conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shal come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shal couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midian & of Ephah: all they of Sheba shal come: they shal bring golde & incense, and shewe forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the shepe of Kedar shalbe gathered vnto thee: y^e rams of Nebat h shal serue thee: they shal come vp to be accepted vpon mine altar: and I wil beautifie the

To wit, of the Gentiles Where as the Gentiles had dominion ouer the Iewes in times past, now they shal haue double autoritie ouer them and posses- sion of the earth I wil not receiue their offering, which are extortioners, deceiuers, hypocrites, or that deprive me of my glorie That is, of the Church. He sheweth what shalbe the affection, when they seke this their deliuerance.

The Spirit of the Lord God is vpon me, therefore hath the Lord anointed me: he hath sent me to preache good tidings vnto the poore, to binde vp the broken hearted, to preache libertie to the captiues, and to them that are bounde, the opening of the prison,

To preache the acceptable yere of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zión, & to giue vnto them beautie for ashes, the oyle of ioye for mourning, the garmēt of gladnes for the spirit of heauines, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

And they shal buylde the olde waste places, & raise vp the former desolations, & they shal repaire the cities which were desolate and waste through manie generations.

And the strangers shal stande and fede your shepe, & the sonnes of the strangers shalbe your plowe men & dressers of your vines.

But ye shalbe named the Priests of the Lord, & men shal saie vnto you, The ministers of our God, Ye shal be the riches of the Gentiles, and shalbe exalted with their glorie.

For your shame you shal receiue double, and for confusion they shal reioyce in their porcion: for in their land they shal possesse the double: euerlasting ioye shalbe vnto them.

For I the Lord loue iudgement & hate a robberie for burnt offering, and I wil direct their worke in trueth, and wil make an euerlasting couenant with them.

And their sede shal be knowne among the Gentiles, & they buddes among the people. All that se them, shal knowe them, they they are the sede which the Lord hath blessed.

I wil greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shalbe ioyful in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluacion, and couered me with the robe of righteousness: he hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride tureth her self with her iewels.

For as the earth bringeth forth her budde, & as the garden causeth to growe that which is sowne in it: so the Lord God wil cause righteousness to growe & praise before all the heathen.

CHAP. LXII.

The great desire that the Prophetes haue had for Christ; comming. 6 The diligence of the Pastors to preache.

For Zions sake I wil not holde my tongue, and for Ieruselems sake I wil not rest, vntil the righteousness thereof breake forth as the light, and saluacion thereof as a burning lampe.

And the Gentiles shal see thy righteousness, and all Kings thy glorie: and thou shalt be called by a newe name, which the mouth of the Lord shal Name.

Thou shalt also be a crowne of glorie in the hand of the Lord, & a royal diademe in the hand of thy God.

It shal no more be said vnto thee, Forsaken, nether shal it be said any more to thy lād, Desolate, but thou shalt be called Hephzi-bāh, and thy land Beulāh: for the Lord deliureth in thee, and thy land shal haue an housband.

For as a yong man marieth a virgine, so shal thy sonnes marry thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shal thy God reioyce ouer thee.

I haue set watchmen vpon thy walkes, O Ierusalem, which all the daye and all the night continually shal not cease: ye that are mindeful of the Lord, kepe not silence, and giue him no rest, til he repaire and vntil he set vpon Ierusalem the praise of the worlde.

The Lord hath sworne by his right hand & by his strong arme, Surely I wil no more giue thy corne to be meat for thine enemies, & surely the sonnes of the strangers shal not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast labored.

But they that haue gathered it, shal eat it, & praise the Lord, & the gatherers thereof shal drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuarie.

Go through, go through the gates: prepare you the waye for the people: cast vp the wate, and gather out the stones & set vp a standart for the people.

Beholde, the Lord hath proclaimed vnto the ends of the worlde: tel the daughter Zión, Beholde, thy Sauour commeth: beholde, his wages is with him, and his worke is before him.

And they shal call the, The holie people, the redemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A citie sought out & not forsaken.

God shal destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. Gods benefites towards his Church.

The Prophet saith that he wil neuer cease to declare vnto the people good tidings of their deliuerance. Til they haue full deliuerance: and thus the Prophet speaketh to courage all other ministers to the setting forth of Gods mercies toward his Church. Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hether to. He shal esteeme thee as dere & precious as a King doeth his crowne. Thou shalt no more be contemned as a woman forsaken of her housband. Or, my deliue- ra ber Or, married That it may be replenished with children. For as muche as they confesse one faith & religion with thee, they are in the same bond of marriage with thee: and they are called the children of the Church, in as much as Christ maketh her plentiful to bring forth children vnto him. Prophets, pastors, and ministers He exhorteth the ministers neuer to cease to call vpon God by prayer for the deliuerance of his Church and to reache others to do the same. For the re- stauratiō of he- reof all the worlde shal praise him Signifying a great number of shal come to the Church, & what meanes he wolde prepare for the restitution of the same, as Chap. 57, 14. The Prophets and ministers shew people of this their deliuerance was chiefly ment of our saluatiō by Christ, Zach 9, 9. Mat. 21, 5. n He shal haue all power to bring his purpose to passe, as Chap. 40, 10. That is, one ouer whome God hath had a singular care to recouer her whiche he was lost.

a This prophete is against Iudaians, and enemies which persecuted y^e Church, on whom God wil take vengeance, and is here set forthe all bloody after that he hathe destroyed them in Bozrah, the chief cite of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and vnder the title of Circumcised, and the kindred of Abraham claimed to the selues y^e chief religion, and hated y^e true worshippers, Psal 137, 7 b God answereth them that asked this question, Who is this? & c and saith, Ye se now performed in dede the vengeance, & my Prophetes threatned. c Another question, to the which y^e Lord answereth d Shewing, y^e when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profane and deliuerance of his Church e God sheweth that he hathe no neede of mans helpe for the deliuerance of his, and though men refuse to do their duetie through negligence, & ingratitude, yet he him self wil deliuer his Church, and punish the enemies, read chas. 59, 16 f I wil so aske them, and make the so giddy, that they shal not knowe, which way to go g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benefites in times past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles h For I did chuse them to be mine, that they shulde beholy, & not deeme mine expectation i He bare their afflictions and griefs as though they had bene his owne k Which was a witness of Gods presence and thus may be referred to Christ, to whome belongeth the office of saluation l That is, the people of Israél being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which he had bestowed vpon their fathers in times past m Meaning, Moses n That is, in Moses that he might wel gouerne the people: some referre this giuing of the Spirit to the people. o Peaceably and gently, as an horse is led to his pasture.

Who is this that cometh from Edóm, with red garments from Bozrah? he is glorious in his apparel and walketh in his great strength: I speake in righteousness, & am mightie to saue. Wherefore is thine apparel red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse? I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with me: for I wil tread them in mine angre, & tread them vnder fote in my wrath, and their blood shalbe sprinckled vpon my garments, and I wil staine all my raiment. For the daie of vengeance is in mine heart, & the daye of my redemed is come. And I looked, & there was none to helpe, & I wondered that there was none to vp-holde: therefore mine owne arme helped me, and my wrath it self susteined me. Therefore I wil reade downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignation, & wil bring downe their strength to the earth. I wil remembre the mercies of y^e Lord & the praises of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hathe giuen vs, and for the great goodnes towarde the house of Israél, which he hathe giuen them according to his tendre loue, and according to his great mercies. For he said, Surely they are my people, children that wil not lie: so he was their fauour. In all their troubles he was troubled, & the Angel of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redemed them, and he bare them and caried them all waies continually. But they rebelled and vexed his holie Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemy & he fought against them. Then he remembered the olde time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is he that broght them vp out of the Sea with the shepherd of his shepe? where is he y^e put his holie Spirit within him? He led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, deuiding the water before them, to make him self an euerlasting Name. He led them through the depes, as an horse in the wildernes, that they shulde not stamble, As the beast goeth downe into y^e valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaued them rest: so didest thou lead thy people, to make thy self a glorious Name. He bare their afflictions and griefs as though they had bene his owne k Which was a witness of Gods presence and thus may be referred to Christ, to whome belongeth the office of saluation l That is, the people of Israél being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which he had bestowed vpon their fathers in times past m Meaning, Moses n That is, in Moses that he might wel gouerne the people: some referre this giuing of the Spirit to the people. o Peaceably and gently, as an horse is led to his pasture.

Loke downe from heauē, and beholde the dwelling place of thine holines, & of thy glorie. Where is thy zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, & of thy compassions? they are restrained from me. Doubtesly art our Father: though Abraham be ignorant of vs, and Israél knowe vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redemer: thy Name is for euer. O Lord, why hast thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance. The people of thine holines haue possessed it, but a litle while: for our auersaries haue troden downe thy Sanctuarie. We haue bene as they, ouer whome y^e neuer barest rule, and vpon whome thy Name was not called. The Prophet prayeth for the summe of the people. d Mā righteousnes is like a filthy cloth. OH, that thou woldest breake the heauens, & come downe, and that y^e mountaines might melt at thy presence! As y^e melting fyre burneth, as the fyre causethe waters to boile, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy auersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence. When thou didest terrible things, which we looked not for, thou camest downe, & the mountaines melted at thy presence. For since the beginning of the worlde they haue not heard nor vnderstand with the eare, nether hathe the eye sene another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him. Thou didest mete him, that reioyced in thee, and did iustly: they remembred thee in thy wayes: beholde, thou art angrie, for we haue sinned: yet in them is continuance, and we shal be saued. But we haue all bene as an vnclene thing & all our righteousnes is as filthy cloutes, and we all do fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away. And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, nether that sturrieth vp him self to take holde of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities. But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the claye, and thou art our potter, & cause we haue prouoked thee to angre, and though we wolde excuse our iniquities, yet our righteousnes, & best vertues are better, than as vile cloutes, or (as some read) like the menstruous clothes of a woman. Albeit, O Lord, by thy iuste iudgement thou must utterly destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to be merciful to thy children.

Having declared Gods benefites shewed to their forefathers, he turneth himself to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces toward them. CHAP. LXXV.

1 The Vocation of the Gentiles and the reſiſtion of the Iewes. 2 The ioy of the elect and the puniſhment of the wicked.

1 I haue bene ſoght of them that aſked me not: I ſaid, Beholde me, beholde me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue b ſpred out mine hands all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, euen after their owne imaginacions:

3 A people that prouoked me euervnto my face: that ſacrificeth in dgardens, and burneth incenſe vpon bricks.

4 Which remaine among the graues, and lodge in the deſerts, which eat & ſwineſheth, and the broth of things polluted are in their veſſels.

5 Which ſay, Stand aparte, come not nere to me: for I am holier then thou: theſe are a ſmoke in my wrath & a fyre that burneth all the day.

6 Beholde, it is written before me: I wil not kepe ſilence, but wil reuente it and recompenſe it into their boſome.

7 Your iniquities & the iniquities of your fathers ſhalbe together (ſaith the Lord) which haue burnt incenſe vpon the mountaines, and blaſphemed me vpon the hilles: therefore wil I meafure their olde worke into their boſome.

8 Thus ſaith the Lord, As the wine is founde in the cluſter, and one ſaith, Deſtroy it not, for a bleſſing is in it, ſo wil I do for my ſeruants ſakes, that I may not deſtroy them whole.

9 But I wil bring a ſede out of Iakób, & out of Iudáh, that ſhal enherit my mountaine: and mine elect ſhal inherit it, & my ſeruants ſhal dwell there.

10 And Sharon ſhalbe a ſhepe ſolde, and the valley of Achór ſhalbe a reſting place for the cattel of my people, that haue ſoght me.

11 But ye are thei that haue forſaken the children are puniſhed for their fathers fautes: to wit, when the ſame fautes or like are founde in them. That is it is proſpice meaning, that God wil not deſtroy the faithful branches of his vineyard when he deſtroyeth the rotten ſtokes, that is the hypocrites. Which was a plentiful place in Iudea to ſede ſhepe, as Achór was for cattel

13 Therefore wil I p number you to the ſworde, and all you ſhal bowe downe to y slaughter, becauſe I called, and ye did not answer: I ſpake, & ye heard not, but did euil in my ſight and did chuſe that thing which I wolde not.

14 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Beholde, my ſeruants ſhal eat, & ye ſhal be hungrie: beholde, my ſeruants ſhal drinke, and ye ſhal be thirſtie: beholde, my ſeruants ſhal reioyce, and ye ſhal be aſhamed.

15 Beholde, my ſeruants ſhal ſing for ioye of heart, and ye ſhal crye for ſorowe of heart, & ſhal howle for vexation of minde.

16 And ye ſhal leaue your name as a curſe vnto my choſen: for the Lord God ſhal ſlaie you and call his ſeruants by another name.

17 He that ſhal bleſſe in the earth, ſhal bleſſe him ſelf in the true God, and he that ſwareth in the earth, ſhal ſwear by the true God: for the former troubles are forgotten, and ſhal ſurely hide them ſelues from mine eyes.

18 For lo, I wil create newe heauens and a newe earth: and the former ſhal not be remembered nor come into minde.

19 But be ye glad & reioyce for euer in y things that I ſhal create: for beholde, I wil create Ieruſalém as a reioycing & her people as a ioye, 20 And I wil reioyce in Ieruſalém, & ioye in my people, and the voice of weeping ſhalbe no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

21 There ſhalbe no more there a childe of yeres, nor an olde man that hath not filled his daies: for he that ſhalbe an hūdreth yeres olde, ſhal dye as a yong man: but the ſinner being an hūdreth yeres olde ſhalbe accuſed.

22 And thei ſhal buylde houſes and inhabit them, and thei ſhal plant vineyardes, and eat the frute of them.

23 Thei ſhal not buylde, and another inhabit: thei ſhal not plant, and another eat: for as the daies of the tre are the daies of my people, and mine elect ſhal inioye in olde age the worke of their hands.

24 Thei ſhal not labour in vaine, nor bring forth in feare: for thei are the ſede of the bleſſed of y Lord, & their buddes with the.

CHAP. LXVI.

3 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 3 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles 23 The perpetual Sabbath 24 The punishment of the wicked is everlasting.

Thus faith the Lord, The^e heaven is my throne, and the earth is my foote-stole: where is y^e house that ye wil buylde vnto me: & where is that place of my rest? For all these things hathe mine had made, & all these things haue bene, faith the Lord: & to him wil I loke, euen to him, that is poore, and of a contrite spūit and trembleth at my wordes.

He that killeth a bullocke, is as if he slew a man: he that sacrificeth a shepe, as if he cutte of a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offred swines blood: he y^e remembreth incense, as if he blessed an idole: yea, thei haue chose their owne waies, & their soule deliteth in their abominaciōs.

Therefore wil I chuse out their delusiōs, & I wil bring their feare vpon the, because I called, & none wolde answer: I spake and they wolde not heare: but they did euil in my sight, & chose y^e things w^{ch} I wolde not. Hear the worde of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his^e wordes, Your brethren that hated you, & cast you out for my Names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shal appeare to your ioye, and thei shal be ashamed.

A voyce foundeth from the citie, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lord, that recōpenceth his enemies fully. Before^h the trauailed, she broght forth: and before her peime came, she was deliuered of a man childe.

Who hathe heard such a thing? who hathe sene suche things? shal the earth be broght forth in one^e day? or shal a nation be borne at once? for a while as Ziōn trauailed, she broght forth her children.

Shal I^e cause to trauaile, and not bring forth? shal I cause to brīg forth & shal be baren, faith thy God?

Reioyce ye with Ierusalēm, and be glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioye with her, all ye that mourne for her,

That ye may sucke^e & be satisfied with the breasts of her cōsolation: that ye may milke out & be delited with the brightnes of her glorie.

For thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I wil brethens, but 12 For thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I wil were hypocrites and hated them that feared God. g The enemies that thore- sely heare a more terrible voyce, euen fyre and slaughter, seing thei wolde not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance h Meaning, that the restauration of the Church shulde be so sudd^e & contrarie to all mens opinion as when a woman is deliuered before she loke for it, and that without paine in trauail. 1 This shal passe the capacite of man to se suche a multitude that shal come vp at once, meaning vnder the preaching of the Gospel, whereof thei that came vp out of Babylon, were a figure h Declaring hereby, that as by his power, & prouidence woman trauaileth & is deliuered so haue he power to bring forth his Church at his time appoynted 1 That ye may reioyce for all y^e benefites that God bestoweth vpon his Church.

extend^e peace ouer her like a flood & the glorie of y^e Gentiles like a flowing streame: then shal ye sucke, ye shal be borne vp^o her sides, and be ioyful vp^o her knees.

As one whome his mother comforteth, so wil I comforte you, and ye shal be comforted in Ierusalēm.

And when ye se this, your heart shal reioyce, and your^e bones shal flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shal be known among his seruants, and his indignacion against his enemies.

For beholde, y^e Lord wil come with fyre, & his charets like a whirlewinde, that he may^e recōpence his angre with wrath, & his indignacion with the flame of fyre.

For the Lord wil iudge with fyre, and w^{ch} his sworde all flesh, & the flaine of y^e Lord shal be manie.

They that sanctifie^e the selues, & purifie them selues in the gardens behinde one tre in y^e middes eating^e swines flesh, & suche abominacion, euen the mouse, shal be consumed together, faith the Lord.

For I wil visit their workes, and their imaginations, for it shal come that I wil gather all nations, and tongues, and thei shal come, and se my^e glorie.

And I wil set a^e signe amōg the, & wil send those that^e escape of them, vnto the nations of y^e Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, & to them that drawe the^e bowe, to Tubal and Iarān, yles a farre of, that haue not heard my fame, nether haue sene my glorie, & thei shal declare my glorie among the Gentiles.

And they shal bring all your^e brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all nations, vpon^e horses, and in charets, and in horse litters, & vp^o mules, & swift beasts, to Ierusalēm mine holie Mountaine, faith the Lord, as the children of Israēl, offer in a cleane vessel in the House of the Lord.

And I wil take of them for^e Priests, and for Leuites, faith the Lord.

For as y^e newe^e heauē, & the newe earth which I wil make, shal remaine before me, faith the Lord, so shal your sede and your name continue.

And from moneth to moneth, and from Sabbath to Sabbath shal all flesh come to worship before me, faith the Lord.

And they shal go forth, and loke vpon the^e carkeises of the men that haue transgressed against me: for their^e worme shal not dye, nether shal their fyre be quēched, & thei shal be an abhorring^e vnto all flesh.

THe Prophet Ieremiáh borne in the citie of Anathóth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiáh, whome some thinke to be he that founde out the booke of the Lawe, and gave it to Iosiáh. This Prophet had excellent giftes of God, and moste eudent reuelations of propheticke, so that by the commandement of the Lord he began very yong to propheticke, that is, in the thirtieth yere of Iosiáh, and continued eightene yere vnder the said King, and thre moneths vnder Iehoaház, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeres, and thre moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres: vnto the tyme that they were carryed away into Babylon. So that this tyme amounteth to aboue forty yere, besides the tyme that he propheticke after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares, and lamentation the destruction of Ierusalém, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetousnes, subtiltie, crueltie, excesse, rebellion, and contempt of Gods worde, and for the consolation of the Church, reuileth the iuste tyme of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered thre things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubberne and obstinate, when the Prophetes do admonish them moste plainely of their destruction. Next how the Prophetes and ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocatió, though they be persecuted & rigorously handeled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdely, though God shewe his iuste iudgement against the wicked, yet wil he euer shewe him self a preseruer of his Church, and when all meanes seme to mans iudgement to be abolished, the wil he declare him self victorious in preseruing his.

C H A P. I.

In what time Ieremiáh propheticke. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalim. 17 He commandeth him to preache his worde without feare.

a That is, the sermons and prophecies.
b Which is thought to be he who founde the booke of the Law vnder King Iosiáh.
c This was a citie about thre miles distant from Ierusalim, and belonged to the Priests of the sonnes of Aaron.
d This is spoken to confirme his vocation & office. faras muche as he did not presume of him self to preache, & propheticke, but was called thercunto by God.
e Meaning, the nephewe of Iosiáh: for Iehoaház was his father, who reigned but thre moneths and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Ioiachin that reigned no longer.
f Of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah, who was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carried away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezár.
g The Scripture vseth this manner of speache to declare, that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as 1sa. 49. 1. gal. 1. 15.
h For Ieremiáh did not onely propheticke against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations.
i Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatnings shulde come vpon the worlde, he was moued with a certeine compassion on the one side to pittie them that shulde thus perishe, & on the other side by the infirmitie of mans nature knowing how hard a thing it was to enterpriue suche a charge, as 1sa. 6. 11. exod. 3. 11. & 4. 1.

TH E ^a wordes of Ieremiáh the sonne of ^b Hilkiáh one of the Priests that were at ^c Anathóth in the land of Benjamin.

TO whome the ^d wordes of the Lord came in the daies of Iosiáh the sonne of Amón King of Iudáh in the thirteenth yere of his reigne:

And also in the daies of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiáh King of Iudáh vnto the end of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiáh King of Iudáh, euen vnto the carying awaie of Ierusalém captiue in the fift ^e moneth.

Then the wordes of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Before I ^f formed thee in the wombe, I knewe thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, & ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the ^h nations.

Then said I, ⁱ Oh, Lord God, beholde, I can not speake, for I am a childe.

But the Lord said vnto me, Saie not, I am a childe: for thou shalt go to all that I shal send thee, and whatsoever I commande thee, shalt thou speake.

Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

Then the wordes of the Lord came vnto me, saying, ^g The Scripture vseth this manner of speache to declare, that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as 1sa. 49. 1. gal. 1. 15. ^h For Ieremiáh did not onely propheticke against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations. ⁱ Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatnings shulde come vpon the worlde, he was moued with a certeine compassion on the one side to pittie them that shulde thus perishe, & on the other side by the infirmitie of mans nature knowing how hard a thing it was to enterpriue suche a charge, as 1sa. 6. 11. exod. 3. 11. & 4. 1.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand & ^k touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto me, Beholde, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

10 Beholde, this daie haue I fet thee ouer ^l the nations and ouer the kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy and throwe downe, to buylde, and to plant.

11 After this ^m worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying, Ieremiáh, what seest thou? And I said, I see ⁿ a rod of an almonde tre.

12 Then said the Lord vnto me, Thou hast seene aright: for I wil hasten my worde to performe it.

13 Againe the wordes of the Lord came vnto me the seconde time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a feething ^o por lokig out of the North.

14 Then said the Lord vnto me, Out of the North shal a plague be spred vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For lo, I wil call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shal come, and euerie one shal set ^p his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalém, and on all the walles thereof ^q rounde about, and in all ^r the cities of Iudáh.

16 And I wil declare vnto them my ^s iudgements touching all the wickednes of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshiped the workes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore truffle vp thy loynes, & arise & speake vnto them all that I commande thee: be not afrayed of their faces, lest I ^t destroye thee before them.

18 For I, beholde, I this daie haue made thee a ^u luster. ^v Syria & Assyria were North ward in respect of Ierusalém, which were the Caldeans dominion. ^w I wil giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters, who haue forsaken me for their idoles. ^x Which declareth Gods vengeance is prepared against them, who dare not execute their dutie faithfully, ether for feare of man, or for any other cause, 1. Cor. 9. 16.

k Which declareth, God maketh them mete, & abusereth the, who me he calleth to fet forth his glorie: giuing them all meanes necessarie for the same, Exod. 4. 12. 1sa. 6. 7.
l He sheweth, what is the autoritie of Gods true ministers, who by his worde haue power to beat downe whatsoever lieth it self vp against God: & to plant & assure the humble, & suche as giue them felicitie to the obedience of Gods worde, 2. Cor. 10. 4. ebr. 4. 12. and these are the keys which Christ hath left to loose, Mat. 18. 18.
m He soyneth the signe with the worde for a more ample confirmation: signifying by the rod of the almonde tre, the first buddeth, the hasty coming of the Babylonians against the Iewes.
n Signifying, that the Caldeans, & Assyrians shulde be as a por to fet the Iewes, which boyled in their pleasures, and were the Caldeans dominion. ^p I wil giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters, who haue forsaken me for their idoles. ^q Which declareth Gods vengeance is prepared against them, who dare not execute their dutie faithfully, ether for feare of man, or for any other cause, 1. CHAP. II.

2 God rehearseth his benefites done vnto the Iewes. 2 Against the Priests and false prophetes. 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

1 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Go, and cry in the eares of Ierusalém, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the kindnesses of thy youth and y loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wildernes in a land that was not sown.

3 Israél was as a thing e halowed vnto the Lord, & his first frutes: all they d that eat it, shal offend. euil shal come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare ye the worde of the Lord, o house of Iaakób, and all the families of the house of Israél.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers founde in me, that they are gone e farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become f vaine?

6 For they said not, Where is y Lord that broght vs vp out of the land of Egypt? that led vs through y wildernes, through a desert, and waite land, through a drye land, and z by the shadowe of death, by a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I broght you into a plentiful countrey, to eat the frute thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entred, ye defiled h my land, and made mine heritage an abominacion.

8 The Priests said not, i Where is the Lord? and they that shulde minister the Law, knewe me not: y i pastours also offended against me, and the prophetes prophecied in m Báal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I wil yet n plead with you, saith the Lord, and I wil plead with your childrens children.

10 For go ye to the yles of o Chittím, & beholde, and send vnto p Kedár, and take diligent hede, and se whether there be suche things.

11 Hathe anie nation changed their gods, That is, spake vaine things, and broght the people from the true worship of God to serue idoles: for by Báal, which was the chief idole of the Moabites, are ment all idoles. n Signifying, that he wolde not as he might, straight way condemne them, but sheweth them by euident examples their great ingratitude, that they might be ashamed, and repent. o Meaning, the Grecians & Italians. p Vnto Arabia.

which yet are no gods: but my people haue chaged their y glorie, for that which doeth not r profite.

12 O ye sheauens, be astonied at this: be afrayed and vterly cōfounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue cōmitted two euils: they haue forsakē me: the fountaine of liuening waters, to digge thē pittes, euen broken pittes, that can holde no water.

14 Is Israél a seruant, or is he borne in the house? why then is he spoiled?

15 The x Lyons roared vpon him & yelled, and they haue made his land waite: his cities are burnt without y an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of y Noph and Tahapanés haue a broken thine head.

17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy self, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he b led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of e Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus: or what makest thou in the way of Ashúr: to drinke the water of the d Riuer?

19 Thine owne wickednes shal e correct thee, and thy turnings backe shal reprove thee: knowe therefore and beholde, that it is an euil thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hostes.

20 For of olde time I haue brokē thy yoke, & burst thy bōds, and thou saidest, f I wil no more trasgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all hie hilles, and vnder all grene trees.

21 Yet I had plāted thee, a noble vine, whose y plants were all natural: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Thogh thou wash thee with s nitre, & take thee muche sope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before me, saith the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, nether haue I h followed Baalim: beholde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes.

24 And as a wilde k affe, vsed to the wildernes, that snoffeth vp the winde by occasiō at her pleasure: who cā turne her backe? all thei that seke her, wil not weary them selves, but wil finde her in her l moneth.

q That is, God which is their glorie, & who maketh them glorious aboue all other peoples: rebrouing the Iewes, that they were selfe debget to serue y true God, then were the adulaters to honour their vanities.

r Meaning, the idoles, which were their deification, Psal. 106. 36. s He sheweth, that the insensible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitudo, and as it were, tremble for feare of Gods great iudgements against the same.

t Signifying, y when men forsake Gods worde, which is the fountaine of life, they reuel God his selfe, and so fall to their owne inuencions, & vaine confidence, and procure to the felices delectatione, Iona 2. 8. zach. 10. 2.

q As though I did you iniurie in punishing you, being that your fautes are so euident.

r That is, you haue killed your Prophetes, that exhorted you to repentance, as Zechariáh, I. I. saiah, &c.

f Haue I not giuen them abundance of all things?

t But wil trust in our owne power & policie.

u With strangers.

x The Prophetes and the faithfull are stayne in euery corner of your country.

y For the Assyrians had taken away the ten tribes out of Israél, and destroyed Iuda, euen vnto Ierusalem: and the Egyptians stowe Iosiah, and vexed the Iewes in sondry fortes. z In signe of lamentacion, as 2 Sam. 13. 19.

25 Kepe thou thy fete from barenes, and thy throte from thirst: but thou saidst desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, & them wil I followe.

26 As the thefe is ashamed, when he is founde, so is the house of Israél ashamed, they, their Kings, their princes and their Priestes, and their Prophetes, 27 Saying to a tre, Thou art my father, & to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, and not their face: but in y^e time of their trouble they wil say, Arise, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, o Iudáh.

29 Wherefore wil ye pleade with me? ye all haue rebelled against me, saith the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your owne sworde hathe deuoured your Prophetes like a destroying lyon.

31 O generacion, take hede to the worde of the Lord: haue I bene as a wilderness vnto Israél? or a land of darkenes? Wherefore saith my people then, We are lords, we wil come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a maide forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people haue forgotten me, daies without number.

33 Why doest thou prepare thy way, to feke amitie? euen therefore wil I teache thee, that thy waies are wickednes.

34 Also in thy wings is founde the blood of the foules of the poore innocents: I haue not founde it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Yet thou saist, Because I am gileles, surely his wrath shal turne fró me: beholde, I wil entre with thee into iudgement, because thou saiest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so muche to change thy waies? for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt, y^e as thou art confounded of Asshur.

37 For thou shalt go forthe from thence, & thine hands vpon thine head, because the Lord hathe reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

ier shall not this land be polluted: but y^e b If he take hast plaied the harlot with manie louers: yet d turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eies vnto the high places, & beholde, where thou hast not plaied the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the waies, as the Arabian in the wilderness: & y^e hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue bene restrained, and the latter raine came not, and thou haddest a s whores forheade: thou woldest not be ashamed.

4 Didst thou not stil crye vnto me, Thou art my father, & the guide of my youth?

5 Wil he kepe his angre for euer? wil he reserve it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou dost euil, euen more and more.

6 The Lord said also vnto me, in the daies of Iosiah the King, Hast thou sene what this rebel? Israél hathe done? for she hathe gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery grenetre, & there plaied the harlot.

7 And I said, when she had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudáh sawe.

8 When I sawe, how that by all occasions rebellious Israél had plaied the harlot, I cait her away, and gaue her a byl of deuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudáh was not afrayed, but she went also, & plaied the harlot.

9 So that for the lightnes of her whoredome she hathe euen defiled the land: for she hathe committed fornicació with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheles for all this, her rebellious sister Iudáh hathe not returned vnto me with her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israél hathe iustified her self more then the rebellious Iudáh.

12 Go and crye these wordes towarde the North and saie, Thou disobedient Israél, returne, saith the Lord, & I wil not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, & I wil not alway kepe mine angre.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God & hast scattered thy waies to the strange gods vnder euerie grenetre, but ye wolde not obeye my voyce, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient childre, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I wil take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe and wil bring you to Ziön, God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14 He promiseth the restitution of his Church. 20 He reprobeth Iudáh & Israél, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

THey say, If a mā put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another mans, shal he returne againe vnto to mine heart, which shal fede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased & multiplied in the land, in those daies, saith the Lord, thei shal say no more, The Arke of the couenant of the Lord: for it shal come no more to minde, nether shal they remember it, nether shal they visit it, for that shalbe no more done.

17 At that time they shal call Ierusalém, The throne of the Lord, & all the nations shalbe gathered vnto it, euen to y Name of the Lord in Ierusalém: and thence forth the they shal followe no more the hardenes of their wicked heart.

18 In those daies the house of Iudáh shal walke with the house of Israél, & thei shal come together out of y land of y North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I said, How did I take thee for children & giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and said, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne fró me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israél, saith the Lord.

21 A voyce was heard vpon the high places, weping and supplicacions of the childre of Israél: for thei haue peruerted their way, & forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne and I wil heale your rebellions. Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truely the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israél.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour, from our youth their shepe & their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 We lie downe in our confusion, and our shame couereth vs: for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth: euen vnto this day, & haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 He exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudáh is prophesied, for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lameteth it.

O Israél, if thou returne, a returne vnto me, saith the Lord: & if thou put away thine abominaciós out of my sight, then shalt thou not remoue.

And thou shalt b swear, The Lord liueth in trueth, in iudgement, and in righteousnes, and the nations shalbe blessed in him, and shal glorie in him.

For thus saith the Lord to the men of Iudáh, and to Ierusalém,

4 Breake vp your fallow grounde, & sowe not among the thornes: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudáh, and inhabitants of Ierusalém, lest my wrath come for the like fyre, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednes of your inuentions.

5 Declare in Iudáh, and shewe for the in Ierusalém, and say, Blowe the trumpet in the land: crye, and gather together, & say, Assemble your selues, and let vs go into strong citiés.

6 Set vp the standart in Ziön: prepare to flee, & stay not: for I wil bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The Lyon is come vp from his denne, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, & gone for the of his place to lay thy land waste, and thy cities shalbe destroyed without an inhabitant.

19 My bely, y my bely, I am peined, euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I can not be styl: for my soule hathe heard the sounde of the trumpet, & the alarme of the battel.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tentes destroyed, and my curteines in a moment.

21 How long shal I se the standart, & heare the sounde of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowen me: they are foolish childre, & haue none vnderstanding: they are wise to do euil, but to do wel they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and void: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines: & lo, they trembled and all the hilles shooke.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruteful place was a wildernes, and all their cities thereof were brokē downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hathe y^e Lord said, The whole land shalbe desolate: yet wil I not make a ful end.

28 Therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboute shalbe darkened, because I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and wil not repent, nether wil I turne backe from it.

In Iudáh no righteous man found nether among the people nor the rulers. 15 Therefore Iudáh is destroyed of the Caldeans.

R Vnne to & fro by the firetes of Ierusalem, and beholde now, & knowe, & inquire in the open places thereof, if ye can finde a man, or if there be any that excuteth iudgement, and seketh the trueth, and I wil spare it.

2 For thogh they say, The b Lord liueth, yet do they sweare falsely.

3 O Lord, are not thine eies vpon y^e trueth: thou hast d striken them, but they haue not sorowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receiue correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I said, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they knowe not the way of the Lord, nor y^e iudgement of their God.

5 I wil get me vnto the e great men, and wil speake vnto them: for they haue knowen y^e way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bondes.

6 Wherefore f a lion out of the forest shal slay them, and a wolfe of the wildernes shal destroye them: a leoparde shal watche ouer their cities: euerie one that goeth out thence, shalbe torne i pieces, because their trespaces are many, and their rebellions are encreased.

7 How shulde I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsakē me, & s sworne by them y^e are no gods: thogh I fed them to y^e ful, yet they committed adulterie, and assembled them selues by companies in the hartes houses.

8 They rose vp in y^e morning like fed horses: for euerie man neyed after his neighbours wife.

CHAP. VI.

The coming of the Assyrians and Caldeans. He exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

O ye children of Beniamín, prepare to flee out of the middes of Ierusalém and blow the trumpet in Tekoá: set vp a standart vpon Beth-haccérem: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great destruction.

I haue compared the daughter of Ziön to a beautiful and deintie woman.

The pastors with their flockes shall come vnto her: thei shall pitch their tents round about by her, & euerie one shall fede in his place.

Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs go vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the euening are stretched out.

Arise, and let vs go vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

For thus hath the Lord of hostes said, Hewe downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalém: this citie must be visited: all oppression is in the middes of it.

As y^e fountaine casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice: & crueltie and spoile is continually heard in her before me with sorow and strokes.

Be thou intruded, o Ierusalém, lest my soule departe from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Thei shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israél: turne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

Vnto whome shall I speake, & admonish that thei may heare? beholde, their eares are vncircumcised, and thei can not hearken: beholde, the worde of y^e Lord is vnto them as a reproche: thei haue no delite in it.

Therefore I am ful of the wrath of the Lord: I am wearie with holding it: I wil powre it out vpon the childre in y^e strete, & likewise vpon y^e assemblie of the yong men: for the hous band shall euen be taken with the wife, & the aged with him that is ful of daies.

And their houses with their lands, and wiues also shall be turned vnto strangers: for I wil stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

For fró the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euerie one is giuen vnto couetousnes, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, thei all deale falsly.

Thei haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with swete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

Were thei ashamed when they had committed abominacion: nay, thei were not ashamed, no nether colde they haue anie shame: therefore thei shall fall among the slain: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

And come and stand before me in this House, whereupon my Name is called, & saie, We are deliuered, thogh we haue done all these abominations?

Is this House become a dēne of theues, whereupō my Name is called before your eyes? beholde, euen I see it, saith the Lord.

d Because thei depended so muche on the Temple, w was for his pmes, that he wolde be present, and defend them where y Arke was: he sendeth them to Gods iudgements against Shiló, where y Arke had remained about 300 yeres, and after was take, the Priests flaine, & y people miserably discomfited, 1. Sam. 4. 11. Cha. 26. 6.

But go ye now vnto my place which was in Shiló, d where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde, what I did to it for the wickednes of my people Israél.

Therefore now because ye haue done all these workes, saith the Lord, (& I rose vp earely and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye wolde not heare me, nether whē I called, wolde ye answer)

Therefore wil I do vnto this House, whereupō my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shiló.

19 Do thei prouoke me to angre, saith the Lord, and not them selues to the confuſion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, mine angre and my wrath shalbe powred vpon this place, vpon man & vpon beast, and vpon the tre of the field and vpon the frute of the grounde, and it shal burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israél, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eat the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I broght them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, & I wil be your God, and ye shalbe my people: and walke ye in all the waies which I haue commanded you, that it maie be wel vnto you.

24 But thei wolde not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubbernes of their wicked heart, & went backwarde and not forwarde.

25 Since the daie that your fathers came vp out of the Land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophetes, rising vp early euerie daie, and sending them.

26 Yet wolde thei not heare me nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke and did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto the, but thei wil not heare thee: thou shalt also crye vnto the, but thei wil not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt saie vnto them, This is a nation which heareth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiueth discipline: trueth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut of thine heere, o Ierusalém, & cast it awaie, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hathe reiected & forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Iudáh haue done euil in my sight, saith the Lord: thei haue set their abominations in the House, where-upon my Name is called, to pollute it.

31 And thei haue buylt the hie place of Topheth, which is in the vallei of Ben-Hinnóm to burne their sonnes & their daughters in the fyre, which I commanded thei not, nether came it in mine heart.

CHAP. V.I.I.I.

The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord moueth the people to améendment. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine & the couetousnes of the Prophetes & Priestes.

At that time, saith the Lord, thei shal bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudáh, and the bones of their princes, and the bones of the Priestes and the bones of the Prophetes, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalém out of their graues.

And thei shal spread the before the sunne & the moone, and all the hoste of heauen, whome they haue loued, and whome thei haue serued, & whome thei haue followed, & whome thei haue fought, and whome thei haue worshipped: thei shal not be gathered nor be buried, but shal be as dung vpon the earth.

And death shalbe desired rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scatred them, saith the Lord of hostes.

Thou shalt saie vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shal thei fall & not arise? shal he turne awaie and not turne againe?

Wherefore is this people of Ierusalém turned backe by a perpetual rebellion: thei gaue the selues to deceit, & wolde not returne.

I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednes, saying, What haue I done: euerie one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battel.

1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we onely to reioyce. 26 The Uncircumcision of the heart.

OH, that mine head were full of water and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might wepe day and night for the flaine of the daughter of my people.
 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a cottage of way faring men, that I might leaue my people, & go from them: for they be all adulterers & an assemblie of rebels, And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they haue no courage for the trueth vpon y earth: for they pro-cede from euil to worse, and they haue not knowen me, saith the Lord.

4 Let euerie one take hede of his neighbour, & trust you not in any brother: for euerie brother wil vse deceit, and euerie friend wil deale deceitfully,
 5 And euerie one wil deceiue his friend, & wil not speake the trueth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to do wickedly.
 6 This is the habitation is in the middes of deceivers: because of their deceit they refuse to knowe me, saith the Lord.
 7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil melt them, & trye the: for what shulde I els do for the daughter of my people?
 8 Their tongue as an arrowe shot out, & speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth waite for him.
 9 Shal I not visit the for these things, saith the Lord? or shal not my soule be aduenged on suche a nation as this?
 10 Vpon the mountaines wil I take vp a weeping and a lamentacion, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so that none can passe through them, nether can men heare the voyce of the flocke: bothe the foule of y aire, & the beast are fled away & gone.

 12 Who is wise, to vnderstand this, and to whome y mouth of the Lord hath spokē, euē he shal declare it. Why doeth y land perish, & is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

CHAP. X.

The conſtellacions of the ſtarres are not to be feared. The weaknes of idoles, & of the power of God. 25 Their paſſours are become brute beaſts.

Heare ye the worde of the Lord that he ſpeaketh vnto you, o houſe of Iſraël. Thus ſaith the Lord, Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the ſignes of heauen, thogh the heathen be afraid of ſuche. For the cuſtomes of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tre out of the foreſt (which is the worke of the hãds of the carpen-ter) with the axe. And another decketh it with ſiluer, and with golde: they faſten it with nailles, and hammers, that it fall nor. The idoles ſtãd vp as the palme tre, but ſpeake not: they are borne becauſe they can not go: feare them not, for they can not do euil, nether can they do good.

A God forbiddeh his people to giue credit or feare the conſtellacions & conuulſiõs of ſtarres, and planetes, which haue no power of the felues, but are governed by him, & their ſecret motions & influences are not knowne to man, and therefore there can be no certaine iudgement thereof, Deut. 18, 9. But their laws and ceremonies whereby they confirme their idolatrie, which is forbidden, Deu. 12, 30. The Prophetes ſpeake plainly & ſimply to ſee forthe the vile abſurditie of the idolaters, that men might learne to be aſhamed of y, whereunto their corrupt nature is moſte ſubiect, read Iſa. 44, 22.

There is none like vnto thee, o Lord: thou art great, and thy Name is great in power. Who wolde not feare thee, o King of nations: for to thee apperteineth the dominion: for amõg all the wiſe men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee. But altogether they dote, and are fooliſh: for the ſtocke is a doctrine of vanitie. Siluer plates are broght from Tarſhiſh, and golde from Vphãz, for the worke of the workeman, and the hands of the founder: the blewẽ ſilke, and the purple is their clothing: all theſe things are made by cunning men. But the Lord is the God of trueth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlaſting King: at his angre the earth ſhal tremble, & the nations can not abide his wrath. (Thus ſhal you ſay vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens and the earth, ſhal periſh from the earth, and from vnder theſe heauens) He hathe made the earth by his power, and eſtabliſhed the worlde by his wiſdome, and hathe ſtretched out the heauen by his diſcretion. He gueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he cauſeth the cloudes to aſcend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treaſures. Euerie man is a beaſt by his owne knowledge: euerie fouder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falſehode, and there is no breth therein. They are vanitie, & y worke of errours: in the time of their viſitation they ſhal periſh. Gather vp thy wares out of the lãd, & thou that dwelleſt in the ſtrong place. For thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I wil throwe as with a ſling the inhabitants of the land, and wil trouble them, and they ſhal finde it ſo. The more that man thinketh to do any thing wel by his owne wiſdome, and not as God inſtrudeth him, the more doeth he proue him ſelf to be a vile beaſt. By theſe wordes, Portion and rod, he ſignifieth their inheritance: meaning, that God ſhulde be all ſufficient for them, and that their felicitie conſiſted in him alone, & therefore they ought to renounce all other helpe, & ſuccoure as of idoles, &c. The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of Anathóth, (that seke thy life, & say, Prophecie not in the Name of the Lord, that thou dye not by our hands) Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil visit them: the yong men shal dye by y sworde: their sonnes & their daughters shal dye by famine, And none of them shal remaine: for I wil bring a plague vpo the men of Anathóth, euen the yere of their visitacion.

CHAP. XII.

The Prophet marueleth at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Lewes are forsake of the Lord 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations, that troubled Iudáh.

Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements; wherefore doeth the waye of the wicked prosper? why are all they in welth that rebelliously transgress?

Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they growe, and bring forth the frute: thou art nere in their mouth, and farre from their reines.

But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast sene me, and tyled mine heart toward thee: pul them out like shepe for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

How long shal the land mourne, and the herbes of euery field wither, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed and the byrdes, because they said, He wil not see our last end.

If thou hast runne with the footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou matche thy self with horses? & if thou thoghtest thy self safe in a peaceable lãd, what wilt thou do in the swelling of Iordén?

For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen they haue delt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleue them not, though they speake faire to thee.

I haue forsaken mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the derelie beloued of my soule into the hands of her enemies.

Mine heritage is vnto me, as a lyon in the forest: it cryeth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.

God wolde euer be merciful, and not vnto the destroy th: therefore they hardned them selues in sime, till at length the beasts and insensibie creatures felt the punishment of their stubberne rebellion againt God. Some thinke that God reproveth Jeremiáh in that, that he wolde reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to matche with men, that he were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the foremen, meane them of Anathóth, & by y herse men them of Ierusalém, which shulde trouble the Prophet-worke, then his owne countrey men did. God willett the Prophet to denounce his iudgements againt Ierusalém, notwithstanding that they shal bothe by threatnings and flatteries labour to put him to silence. Euen ramping and raging againt me and my Prophecies.

Shal mine heritage be vnto me, as a birde of diuerse colours? are not y birdes about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to eat her?

Many pastors haue destroyed my vineyard, and troden my porcion vnder foote: of my pleasant porcion they haue made a desolate wildernes.

They haue laid it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto me: and the whole land lyeth waste, because no man setteth his minde on it.

The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wildernes: for y sworde of the Lord shal deuoure from the one end of the land, euen to the other end of the land: no flesh shal haue peace.

They haue sown wheat, and reaped thornes: they were sicke, and had no profite: and they were ashamed of your fruites, because of the fierce wrath of y Lord.

Thus saith the Lord againt all mine euil neighbours, that touche the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Irael to inherite, Beholde, I wil plucke them out of their land, and plucke out the house of Iudáh from among them.

And after that I haue plucked them out, I wil reuene, and haue compassion on them, and wil bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

And if they wil learne the wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, (The Lord liueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Báal) then shal they be buylt in the middes of my people.

But if they wil not obey, then wil I vnterly plucke vp, and destroye that nacion, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Lewes is prefigured 11 Why Irael was receiued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

Thus saith the Lord vnto me, Go, and bye thee a lincn girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water. So I bought the girdle according to the commandment of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.

And the worde of the Lord came vnto me the seconde time, saying,

Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, go toward Peráth, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

So I went, & hid it by Peráth, as the Lord had commanded me.

And after many daies, the Lord said vnto me, Arise, go toward Peráth, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee

In stead of bearing my lincery & wearing onely my colours, they haue change and diuersitie of colours of their idoles & superstitions, therefore their cogmiz, as thicke as the foules of the ayre, shal come about the to destroy them

He prophecieth of the destruction of Ierusalém by the captaines of Nebuchad-nezzár, whom he calleth pastors

The true doctrine and maner to serue God. Read Chap 4. 2. They shalbe of the number of the faithful, and haue a place in my Church.

Because this riuer Peráth or Euphrates was farre fro Ierusalém, it is euident, that this was a vision, whereby was signified that the Lewes shulde passe ouer Euphrates to be captiues in Babilon & there for length of time shulde seme to be rotted: although they were ioyced to the Lord before as a girdle about a man.

thee to hide there.

7 Then wēt I to Peráth, and digged, & toke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, & beholde, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this maner wil I destroye the pride of Iudáh, & the great pride of Ierusalém.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my worde, & walke after the stubbernes of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shalbe as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loines of a man, so haue I tyed to me the whole house of Israél, and the whole house of Iudáh, saith the Lord, that thei might be my people: that they might haue a name and praise, and glorie, but thei wolde not heare!

12 Therefore thou shalt saie vnto them this worde, Thus saith y^e Lord God of Israél, Euerie^b bottel shalbe filled with wine, and thei shal saie vnto thee, Do we not knowe that euerie bottle shalbe filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou saie vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen the Kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests and the Prophetes, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalém with drunkenes.

14 And I^c wil dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lord: I wil not spare, I wil not pitie nor haue compassiō, but destroye them.

15 Heare and giue eare, be not proude: for the Lord hathe spokē it.

16 Giue glorie to y^e Lord your God before he bring^d darknes, and or euer your fete stumbe in the darke mountaines, and whiles you loke for^e light, he turne it into the shadowe of death and make it as darkenes.

17 But if ye wil not heare this, my soule shal wepe in secret for your pride, & mine eye shal wepe and drop downe teares, because the Lords flocke is caried awaie captiue.

18 Saie vnto the^s King and to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glorie shal come downe rom your heads.

19 The cities of^h the South shalbe shut vp, and no man shal open them: all Iudáh shal be caried awaie captiue: it shalbe wholly caried awaie captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes and beholde them y^e come from the North, where is y^e flocke y^e was giuē thee, euen thy beautiful flocke.

21 What wilt thou saie, when he shal visit thee? (for thou hast^k taught the to be captaines & as chief ouer thee) shal not sorow take thee as a woman in trauail?

22 And if thou saie in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts^l discovered & thy heles made bare.

23 Can the blacke More change his skin? or the leopard his spottes: then maie ye also do good, that are accustomed to do euil.

24 Therefore wil I scatre the, as the stubble that is taken awaie with the South winde.

25 This is thy portion, and the parte of thy measures from me, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue also discovered thy skirts vpon thy face, m that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue sene thine adulteries, & thyⁿ neyings, y^e filthines of thy whoredome on the hilles in^o the fields, and thine abominatiōs. Wo vnto thee, o Ierusalém: wilt thou not be made cleane: when shal it once be?

CHAP. XIII.

1 Of the dearth that shulde come. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The unfaithful people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophetes that seduce the people.

1 The worde of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiáh, concerning the^a dearth.

2 Iudáh hathe mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene^b brought to heaunnes vnto the grounde, and the crye of Ierusalém goeth vp,

3 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and founde no water: they returned with their vessels emptie: they were ashamed & confounded, and^c couered their heads.

4 For the grounde was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and couered their heades.

5 Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsoke^d it, because there was no grasse.

6 And the wilde asses did stād in the high places, and drewe in their winde like^e dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

7 O Lord, thogh our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are manie, we sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israél, the sauiour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the lād, as one that passeth by to tariē for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as^h a strong man that can not helpe? yet thou, o Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy Name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

k By seeking to straggers for helpe thou hast made the selfe unprofitable to fight against thee.

CHAP. XV.

i Read Chap. 7, 16 & 21, 14.

11 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, Thou ſhalt not praye to do this people good.

1 The Lord wolde heare no prayer for the Iewes, & thus ſtrength ſo deſtroie them with foure plagues.

12 Whē they faſt, I wil not heare their crye, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I wil not accept them: but I wil conſume them by the ſworde, and by the famine and by the peſtilence.

1 THÉ ſaid the Lord vnto me, Though Moſes and Samuél ſtoode before me, yet mine affectiō colde not be toward this people: caſt them out of my ſight, and let them departe.

2 He pitieth the people, & accuſeth the falſe prophetes, which deceiued them: but the Lord answered, that bothe y Prophetes, which deceiued, and the people, w ſuffred the ſelues to be ſedu ced, ſhal periſh, Chap. 21, 25, & 27, 28, & 29, 8. Chap. 23, 21. & 27, 21. & 18, 26

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the Prophetes ſay vnto them, Ye ſhal not ſe the ſworde, nether ſhal famine come vpon you, but I wil giue you aſſured peace in this place.

2 And if they ſay vnto thee, Whether ſhal we departe then tel them, Thus ſaith the Lord, Suche as are appointed to death, vnto death: & ſuche as are for the ſworde, to the ſworde, & ſuche as are for the famine to the famine, and ſuche as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

14 Then the Lord ſaid vnto me, The Prophetes prophecie lies in my Name: I haue not ſent them, nether did I commande them, nether ſpake I vnto them, but they prophecie vnto you a falſe viſion, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulnes of their owne heart.

3 And I wil appointe ouer them foure kindes, ſaith the Lord, the ſworde to ſlay, and the dogs to teare in pieces, & the foules of the heauen, & the beaſtes of the earth to deuoure, and to deſtroie.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Concerning the Prophetes that prophecie in my Name, whome I haue not ſent, yet they ſay, Sworde and famine ſhal not be in this land, by ſworde & famine ſhal thoſe Prophetes be conſumed.

4 I wil ſcater them alſo in all kingdomes of the earth, because of Manaſſeh the ſone of Hezekiah King of Iudah, for that which he did in Ieruſalem.

16 And the people to whome theſe Prophetes do prophecie, ſhal be caſt out in the ſtreets of Ieruſalem, because of the famine, & the ſworde, & there ſhal be none to burye them, bothe they, and their wiues, and their ſonnes, & their daughters: for I wil powre their wickednes vpon them.

5 Who ſhal then haue pitee vpon thee, o Ieruſalem or who ſhal be for thee: or who ſhal go to pray for thy peace? 6 Thou haſt forſaken me, ſaith the Lord, & gone backward: therefore wil I ſtretch out mine hand againſt thee, and deſtroie thee: for I am wearie with repenting.

17 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay this worde vnto them, Let mine eyes drop downe teares night and day without ceaſing: for y virgine daughter of my people is deſtroied with a great deſtruction, and with a ſore grievous plague.

7 And I wil ſcatter the with the ſanne in y gates of the earth: I haue waſted, & deſtroied my people, yet they wolde not returne from their wayes.

18 For if I go into the field, beholde the ſlaine with the ſworde: and if I entre into the citie, beholde the that are ſicke for hunger alſo: moreouer the Prophet alſo and the Prieſt go a wandring into a land that they know not.

8 Their widdowes are increaſed by me aboute the ſand of the ſea: I haue brought vpon the, & againſt the aſſembly of the yong men a deſtroier at none day: I haue cauſed him to fall vpon them, & the citie ſuddenly, and ſpedely.

19 Haſt thou vtterly reiected Iudah, or haſt thou ſoule abhorred Zion? Why haſt thou ſmitten vs, that we can not be healed? We loked for peace, & there is no good, & for the time of health, & beholde trouble.

9 She that hathe borne ſeuē, hathe bene made weake: her heart hathe failed: the ſunne hathe failed her, whiles it was day: ſhe hathe bene confounded, & aſhamed, and the reſidue of them wil I deliuer vnto the ſworde before their enemies, ſaith y Lord.

20 We acknowledge, o Lord, our wickednes & the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue ſinned againſt thee.

10 Who is me, my mother, that thou haſt borne me, a contentious man, & a mā that ſtriueth with y whole earth: I haue nether lent on vſurie, nor me haue lent vnto me on vſurie: yet euerie one doeth curſe me.

21 Do not abhorre vs: for thy Names ſake caſt not downe the thronē of thy glorie: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

11 The Lord ſaid, Surely thy remnant ſhal haue welth: ſurely I wil cauſe thine enemy to ſtreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

1 The falſe prophetes promiſed peace, & aſſurance, but Ieremiáh calleth to teares, and repentance for their of ſiſion, & is at hand, as Chap. 9, 1. lament, 1, 16 & 2, 18. m Bothe he, & lowe ſhal be led captiue into Babylon. n Though the Prophet knew that God had caſt off y multitude, which were hypocrites, and baſtard children, yet he was aſſured that for his promes ſake he wolde haue ſil a Church, for the which he prayeth. o He teacheth the Church a forme of prayer, to humble the ſelues to God by true repentance, & is the onelic meane to auoide this famine, & was the beginning of Gods plagues. p Meaning, their idoles, read Chap. 30, 15.

a Meaning, that if there were anie man liuing moued with ſo great zeale toward y people, as were theſe two, yet that he wolde not grante thir requiſt, for as muche as he had determind the contrarie, Ezek. 14, 14. Zach. 11, 9.

b The dogs, birdes & beaſtes ſhal deuoure them, y were ſlaine. c The worde ſignifieth to rine to & fro for feare, and vniquietnes of conſcience, as did Cain. d Not that y people was puniſhed for the Kings ſinnes onely, but for their owne ſinnes alſo, because they conſented to his wickednes, 2 King. 23, 9. e That is, I wil not call backe my plagues, or ſpare thee any more.

f Meaning, the cities. g Because I had ſlainethir houſbands. h She that had manie, loſt all her children. i She was deſtroied in the middes of her proſperitie.

14 And I wil make thee to go with thine enemies into a lãd that thou knoweſt not; for a fyre is kindled in mine angre, which ſhal burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knoweſt, remembre me, & viſit me, and reuenge me of my perſi- cuters: take me not awaie in the continuance of thine angre: knowe that for thy ſake I haue ſuffred rebuke.

16 Thy wordes were founde by me, and I did eat them, and thy worde was vnto me the ioye and reioycing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon me, O Lord God of hoſtes.

17 I ſate not in the aſſembly of the mock- ers, nether did I reioyce, but ſate alone because of thy plague; for thou haſt filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heavines continual & my plague deſperate & can not be healed why art thou vnto me as a lyer, and as waters that faile.

19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, If thou returne, then wil I bring thee againe, & thou ſhalt ſtand befoie me: and if thou take awaie the precious from the vile, thou ſhalt be according to my worde: let them returne vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

20 And I wil make thee vnto this people a ſtrong braſſe wall, and they ſhal fight againſt thee, but they ſhal not preuaile againſt thee: for I am with thee to ſaue thee & to deliuer thee, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

The Lord forbidding Ieremiáh to marie, ſheweth him what ſhulde be the afflictions vpon Iudáh. 13 The capti- uety of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

The worde of the Lord came alſo vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſhalt not take thee a wife, nor haue ſonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord concerning the ſonnes, and cõcerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, & concerning their fathers, that beget them in this land.

4 They ſhal dye of deaths & diſeaſes: they ſhal not be lamented, nether ſhal they be buried, but they ſhalbe as dung vpon the earth, and they ſhalbe conſumed by the ſworde, and by famine, and their carcafes ſhalbe meat for the foules of the heauen, and for the beaſtes of the earth.

5 For thus ſaith the Lord, Entre not into the houſe of mournig, nether go to lamet, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace fro this people, ſaith the Lord, euen mercie and compaſſion.

6 Bothe y great, & the ſmale ſhal dye in this land: they ſhal not be buried, nether ſhal men lamet for them nor cut them ſelues, nor make them ſelues bald for them.

7 They ſhal not ſtrecche out the hands for them in the mourning to cõfort them for the dead, nether ſhal they giue them the cup of conſolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou ſhalt not alſo go into the houſe of feaſting to ſit with them to eat & to drinke.

9 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Beholde, I wil cauſe to ceaſe out of this place in your eyes, euen in your daies the voice of mirth, & the voice of gladnes, the voice of the bride grome and the voice of the bride.

10 And when thou ſhalt ſhewe this people all theſe wordes, & they ſhal ſaie vnto thee,

*Wherefore hathe the Lord pronounced all this great plague againſt vs or what is our iniquitie? and what is our ſinne that we haue omitted againſt y Lord our God?

11 Then ſhalt thou ſaie vnto them, Becauſe your fathers haue forſaken me, ſaith the Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue ſerued them, & worſhiped them, & haue forſakẽ me, & haue not kept my Law,

12 (*And ye haue done worſe then your fathers: for behold, you walke euerie one after the ſtubbcines of his wicked heart, and wil not heare me)

13 Therefore wil I driue you out of this land into a land that ye knowe not, nether you, nor your fathers, and there ſhal ye ſerue other gods daie and night: for I wil ſhewe you no grace.

14 *Beholde, therefore, ſaith the Lord, the daies come that it ſhal no more be ſaid, The Lord lueth, which broght vp y children of Iſraél out of the land of Egypt, 15 But the Lord lueth, that broght vp the children of Iſraél from the land of the North, and from all the lands where he had ſcattered them, and I wil bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.

16 Beholde, ſaith the Lord, I wil ſend out many fiſhers, and they ſhal fiſh them, and after, wil I ſend out many hunters, & they ſhal hunt them from euerie mountaine and from euerie hill, and out of the cauces of the rockes.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroye the dispensers of his worde. 12 The consp^racise of the lawes against Ieremiáh. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

1 The worde which came to Ieremiáh from the Lord, say:ng,

2 Arise, & go downe into the potters house, and there shal I shewe thee my wordes.

3 Then I went downe to the potters house, and beholde, he wrought a worke on the wheles.

4 And the vessel that he made of claye, was broken in the hand of the potter. so he returned, & made it another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 O house of Israél, can not I do with you as this potter, saith the Lords: holde, as y^e claye is in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, o house of Israél.

7 I wil speake suddely against a nation or a against a kingdome to plucke it vp, & to roote it out and to destroye it.

8 But if this nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne fró their wickednes, I wil repent of y^e plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I wil speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to buylde it and to plant it.

10 But if it do euil in my sight and heare not my voice, I wil rep^et of the good that I thought to do for them.

11 Speake y^e now therefore vnto the men of Iudáh, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalém, saying, Thus saith y^e Lord, Beholde, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euerie one from his euil waie, and make your waies and your workes good.

12 But thei said euery speratly, Surely we wil walke after our owne imaginacions & do euerie man after the stubbernes of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard suche things: the virgine of Israél hathe done verie sithily.

14 Wil a man forsake the snowe of Libanon, which cometh from y^e rocke of the field?

15 Or shal the colde flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

16 Because my people hathe forgottin me, & haue burnt incense to vanitie, and their Prophetes haue caused them to stumble in their waies from the ancient waies to walke in the paths and waie that is not trodden,

17 To make their land desolate & a perpetual derision, so that euerie one that passeth thereby, shalbe astonished and wagge his head,

18 I wil scattre them with an East winde before the enemy: I wil shewe them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

19 Then said they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Ieremiáh: for the Lawe shal not perish from the Priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the worde from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs not grieve hede to any of his wordes.

20 Hearken vnto me, o Lord, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

21 Shal euil be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remembre that I stode before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

22 Therefore, deliver vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sworde, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their housbands be put to death, and let their yong men be slayne by the sworde in the battel.

23 Let the crye be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my fete.

24 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel against me tendeth to death: forgieue not their iniquitie, nether put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine angre.

4 Because they haue forsaken me, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whome nether they, nor their fathers haue knownen, nor the Kings of Iudáh (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue buylt the hie places of Báal, to burne their sonnes with fyre for burnt offrings vnto Báal, which I comanded not, nor spake it, nether came it into my minde)

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

11 And shalt saie vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so wil I breake this people & this citie, as one breaketh a potters vessel, that can not be made whole againe, & thei shal burye them in Tópheth til there be no place to burye.

12 Thus wil I do vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I wil make this citie like Tópheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalém, and the houses of the Kings of Iudáh shalbe defiled as the place of Tópheth, because of all the houses vpon whose rofes thei haue burnt incense vnto all the hoste of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offrings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiáh from Tópheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophetic, and he stode in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israél, Beholde, I wil bring vpon this citie, and vpon all her townes, all the plagues y^e I haue pronounced againt it, because they haue hardened their neckes, and wolde not heare my wordes.

2 Jeremiáh is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the worde of God. 3 He propheseth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 He complaneth that he is a mocking stocke for the worde of God 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preache the worde.

1 WHen Pashúr, the sonne of Immér, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in y^e House of the Lord, heard that Ieremiáh prophecied these things,

2 Then Pashúr smote Ieremiáh the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the hie gate of Beniamín which was by the House of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashúr broght Ieremiáh out of the stocks. Then said Ieremiáh vnto him, The Lord hathe not called thy name Pashúr, but Magór-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil make thee to be a terrour to thy self, & to all thy friends, and thei shal fall by the sworde of their enemies, & thine eyes shal beholde it, and I wil giue all Iudáh into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shal carie them captiue into Babel, and shal slae them with the sworde.

5 Moreover I wil deliuer all the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof & all the precious things thereof, and all y^e treasures of the Kings of Iudáh wil I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shal spoyle them, and take them awaie and carie them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashúr, & all that dwell in thine house, shal go into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt dye, and shalt be buried there, thou & all thy friends, to whome thou hast prophecied lies.

8 For since I spake, I cryed out of wrong, and proclaimed desolation: therefore the worde of the Lord was made a reproche vnto me, and in derision daiely.

9 Then I said, I wil not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his Name. But his worde was in mine hêart, as a burning fyre shut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, & I colde not stay.

CHAP. XXI.

He prophesieth that Zedekiah shalbe taken, and the citie burned.

1 THE worde which came vnto Jeremiáh from the Lord, when King Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashúr, the sonne of Malchiáh, & Zephaniáh, the sonne of Maseáh the Priest, saying, a Not that the King was touched with repentance of his finnes and so fought to God, as did Hezekiah when he sent to Iosiah, 2 King 19, 1 Iosiah 37, 2, but because the Prophet might pray vnto God to take this present plague away, as Pharaoh fought vnto Moses, Exod 9, 28 b To wit, from your enemies to destroye your selues.

2 a Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs (for Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord wil deale with vs according to all his wonderous workes, that he may returne vp from vs.

3 Then said Jeremiáh, Thus shal you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, Beholde, I wil^b turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the King of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, & I wil assemble them into the middes of this citie.

5 And I my self wil fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arme, euen in angre and in wrath, and in great indignacion.

6 And I wil smite the inhabitants of this citie, bothe man, and beast: they shal dye of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I wil deliuer Zedekiah the King of Iudah, and his seruants, and the people, and suche as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sworde and from the famine into the had of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seke their liues, and he shal smite them with the edge of the sworde: he shal nor spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 ¶ And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I set before you the way of life, & the way of death.

9 * He that abideth in this citie, shal dye by the sworde and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shal liue, and his life shalbe vnto him for a pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie, for euil and not for good, saith the Lord: it shal be giuen into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shal burne it with fyre.

11 ¶ And say vnto the house of the King of Iudah, Heare ye the worde of y Lord.

12 O house of Dauid, thus saith the Lord, *Execute iudgement^f in the morning, and deliuer the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go out like fyre and burne, that none can quenche it, because of the wickednes of your workes.

5 But if ye wil not heare theſe wordes, I ſwear by my ſelf, ſaith y Lord, that this Houſe ſhalbe waſte.
6 For thus hathe the Lord ſpoken vpon the Kings houſe of Iudah, Thou art c Gileád vnto me, and the head of Lebanón, yet ſurely I wil make thee a wildernes & as cities not inhabited,
7 And I wil d prepare deſtroyers againſt thee, euery one with his weapons, and they ſhal cut downe thy chief e cedre trees, and caſt them in the fyre.
8 f And many nations ſhal paſſe by this citie, & they ſhal ſay euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hathe y Lord done thus vnto this great citie?
9 Then ſhal they answer, Becauſe they haue forſaken the couenant of y Lord their God, and worſhiped other gods & ſerued them.
10 ¶ Wepe not for the dead, & be not moued for them, but wepe for him s that goeth out: for he ſhal returne no more, nor ſe his natiue countrey.
11 For thus ſaith the Lord, As touching b Shallúm the ſonne of Iofiah King of Iudáh, which wēt out of this place, he ſhal not returne thether, 12 But he ſhal dye in y place, whether they haue led him captiue, and ſhal ſe this land no more.
13 ¶ Wo vnto him y buyldeth his houſe by vnrighteouſnes, & his chambers without equitie: he vſeth his neighbour without wages and gueth him not for his worke.
14 He ſaith, I wil buylde me a wide houſe and large chambers: ſo he wil make him ſelf large windowes, and ſiling with cedre and painte them with vermelon.
15 Shalt thou reigne, becauſe thou cloſeſt thy ſelf in cedre & did not thy k father eat and drinke and proſper, when he executed iudgement and iuſtice?
16 When he iudged the cauſe of y afflicted & the poore, he proſpered: was not this becauſe he knewe me, ſaith the Lord?
17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but onely for thy couetouſnes, and for to ſhed innocent blood, & for oppreſſion, and for deſtruction, euen to do this.
18 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord againſt Iehoiakim, the ſonne of Iofiah King of Iudáh, They ſhal l not lamēt him, ſaying, Ah, my brother, or ah, ſiſter: nether ſhal they mourne for him, ſaying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glorie.
19 He ſhalbe buryed as an aſſe m is buryed, eue drawn and caſt forth without the gates of Ierufalem.
20 ¶ Go vp to a Lebanón, & crye: ſhowte in o Baſhán & crye by the paſſages: for all thy louers are deſtroyed.

21 I ſpake vnto thee whē thou waſt in proſperitie: but thou ſaidſt, I wil not heare: thus hathe bene thy maner from thy youth that thou woldeſt not obey my voyce.
22 The winde ſhal fede all thy paſtors, & thy louers ſhal go into captiuitie: and then ſhalt thou be aſhamed and confounded of all thy wickednes.
23 Thou that dwelleſt in Lebanón, and makeſt thy neſt in the y cedies, how beautiful ſhalt thou be when forowes come vpon thee, as the ſorrow of a woman in trauai?
24 As I liue, ſaith the Lord, though r Coniáh the ſonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh, were the ſignet of my right hand, ye wolde I plucke thee thence.
25 And I wil giue thee into the hand of the that ſeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whoſe face thou feareſt, eue into the hand of Nebuchad nezzá King of Ba bēl, and into the hand of the Caldeans.
26 And I wil cauſe them to cary thee away, and thy mother that bare thee, into another countrey, where ye were not borne, & there ſhal ye dye.
27 But to the land, whereunto they deſire to returne, they ſhal not returne thether.
28 Is not this man Coniáh as a deſpiſed and broken idole & or as a veſſel, wherein is no pleaſure? Wherefore are they carryed away, he and his ſede, & caſt out into a land that they knowe not?
29 O earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lord.
30 Thus ſaith the Lord, Write this man deſtitute of children, a man that ſhal not proſper in his dayes: for there ſhalbe no man of his ſede that ſhal proſper and ſit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudáh.

Againſt falſe Paſtors. s A prophece of the great Paſtor Ieſus Chriſt.
1 W O vnto a the Paſtors that deſtroye and ſcatter b the ſhepe of my paſture, ſaith the Lord.
2 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraēl vnto the Paſtors that c ſee my people, Ye haue ſcattered my ſlocke and thruſt them out, & haue not viſited the: behold, I wil viſite you for the wickednes of your worke, ſaith the Lord.
3 And I wil gather the d rēnant of my ſhepe out of all countreys, whether I had driuen them, and wil bring them againe to their foldes, and they ſhal growe and increaſe.
4 And I wil ſet vp ſhepherdes ouer them, which ſhal fede them: and they ſhal dread no more nor be afraid, nether ſhal any of them be lacking, ſaith the Lord.
he ſheweth how God wil gather his Church after this diſperſion.

5 Beholde, The daies come, saith the Lord, that I wil raise vnto Dauid a righteous e branche, & a King shal reigne, and prosper, and shal execute iudgement, and iustice in the earth.

6 In his daies * Iudáh shalbe saued, and Israél shal dwell safely, and this is the name whereby thei shal call him, * The Lord our righteousnes.

7 Therefore beholde, the daies come, saith the Lord, that thei shal no more say, The f Lord liueth, which broght vp the children of Israél out of y land of Egypt,

8 But the Lord liueth, which broght vp and led the sede of the house of Israél out of the North countrey & from all contreys where I had scattered them, and thei shal dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the e Prophetes, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (& like a man whome wine hathe ouercome) for the ptesence of the Lord and for his holie wordes.

10 For the land is ful of adulterers, and because of othes y land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wildeines are dryed vp, and thei h course is euil, and their force is not right.

11 For bothe the Prophet and the Priest do wickedly: and their wickednes haue I founde in mine i House, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their waie shalbe vnto them as superie waies in the darkenes: thei shal be driuen forthe and fall therein: for I wil bring a plague vpon them, euen the yere of their visitacion, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue sene foolishnes in the Prophetes of Samaria, y prophecied in Báal and caused my people Israél to erre.

14 I haue sene also in the Prophetes of Ierusalém k filthines: thei commit adulterie & walke in lies: thei strengthen also the háds of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednes: thei are all vnto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomoráh.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes concerning the Prophetes, Beholde, I wil fede them with m wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from y Piophetes of Ierusalém is wickednes gone forthe into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Heare not the wordes of the Prophetes that prophecie vnto you, and teache you vanitie: thei speake the visiõ of their owne h heart e not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 Thei saie stil vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye o shal haue peace: & thei saie vnto euerie one that walketh after the stubbernes of his owne heart, No euil shal come vpon you.

18 For p who hathe stand in the counsel of the Lord that he hathe perceiued & heard his worde: Who hathe marked his worde and heard it?

19 Beholde, the tempest of the Lord goeth forthe in his wrath, & a violent whirlwinde shal fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The angre of the Lord shal not returne vntil he haue executed, and til he haue performed the thoghts of his heart: in the latter daies ye q shal vnderstand it plainly.

21 * I haue not sent these Prophetes, saith the Lord, yet thei ranne: I haue not spoke to them, and yet thei prophecied.

22 But if thei had stand in my counsel, and r had declared my wordes to my people, then they shulde haue turned them from their euil waie, and from the wickednes of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God f farre of?

24 Can anie hide him self in secret places, that I shal not se him, saith the Lord? Do not I fil heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the Prophetes said, that prophecie lies in my Name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long d Do the Prophetes delite to prophecie lies, euen prophecying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke thei to cause m my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which thei tel euerie man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotté my Name for Báal?

28 The Prophet that hathe a dreame, let him s tel a dreame, and he that hathe my worde, let him speake my worde faithfully: y what is y chaffe to the wheat, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my worde euen like a fyre, saith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore beholde, I wil come against the Prophetes, saith the Lord, that i teale my worde euerie one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I wil come against the Prophetes, saith the Lord, which haue swete tongues, and saye, a He saith.

32 Beholde, k wil come against them that prophecie false dreames, saith the Lord, & do tel them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I send them not, nor cõmanded them: therefore thei bring no profite vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the Prophet, or a Priest shal aske thee, saying, What is the b burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I wil euen forsake you, saith the Lord.

g Bothe that God hathe sent me, and that my wordes shal be true. Chap. 1. 4. 13. & 27. 21.

r He sheweth the difference betweene the true Prophetes and the false, betweene the hireling and the true minister s Do not p fe your falschoode, how soeuer you cloke it, and where soeuer you commit it?

u Ebr. Is it in the heart of the prophet?

v He sheweth that Satan raise vp falsse prophetes to bring the people from God.

w Let the falsse prophet declare that it is his owne fantasie, & not scilicet my worde as though it were a cloke to couer his lyes

y Meaning, y it is not sufficient for Gods ministers to abtaine from lies, & to speake the worde of God, but that there be iudgement in alledging it, & that it may appere to be applied to the same purpose y it was spoken, Ezek. 3. 17. 1 cor. 2. 17. & 4. 2. 2. Tim. 2. 15. 1. pet. 4. 11

z Which set forthe in my Name y which I haue not cõmanded

a To wit, the Lord

b The Prophetes called their threatenings Goas burden, which the sinners were not able to susteine: therefore y wicked an deriding the worde, wolde aske of the Prophetes, what was the burden, as though thei wolde say, You teke nothing els, but to lay burdons on our sholders. and thus thei reueiled the worde of God, as a gracious burden.

34 And the Prophet, or the Priest, or the people that shal say, The burden of the Lord, I wil euen visit euerie suche one, & his house.

c Because this worde was brought to contempt & derision, he wil teache them another maner of speache, and wil cause this worde Burden to cease, and teache them to aske with reuerence, What saith y^e Lor^d? d The thing which they mocke & conteme, shal come vpon them.

35 Thus shal ye say euerie one to his neighbour, and euerie one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered? and what hath the Lord spoken?

36 And y^e burden of the Lord shal ye mention no more: for euerie mans worde shal be his burden: for ye haue peruered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to y^e Prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? and what hath the Lord spoken?

38 And if you say, The burden of the Lord, Then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this worde, The burden of the Lord, and I haue sent vnto you, saying, Ye shal not say, The burden of the Lord,

39 Therefore beholde I, euen I, wil vtterly forget you, and I wil forsake you, & the cite that I gaue you & your fathers, and cast you out of my presence,

Or, take you away.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The vision of the baskets of figges. Signifieth that parte of the people shulde be brought againe from captiuitie. And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people shulde be carryed away.

a The good figgs signified the that were gone into captiuitie, and so saued their liues, as chap 21, 8 and the noughtie figgs them y^e remained, which were yett subject to the sword, famine and pestilence.

1 The Lord shewed me, & beholde, two baskets of figges were set before y^e Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel had caried away captiue Ieconiah y^e sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh, and the princes of Iudáh with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalém, and had broght them to Babel.

2 One basket had verie good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe: & the other basket had verie noughtie figges which coulde not be eaten, they were so euil.

3 Then said the Lord vnto me, What seest thou, Jeremiáh? And I said, Figges: the good figgs verie good, & the noughtie verie noughtie, which can not be eaten, they are so euil.

4 Againe the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israél, Like these good figges, so wil I knowe them that are caried away captiue of Iudáh to be good, whome I haue sent out of this place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I wil set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I wil bring them againe to this land, and I wil buylde them, and not destroy them, and I wil plant them, and not roote them out, b Whereby he approueth the yielding of Ieconiah, & his companie, because they obeyed the Prophet, who exhorted them to repentance.

And I wil giue them an heart to knowe me, that I am the Lord, and they shal be my people, and I wil be their God: for they shal returne vnto me with their whole heart.

c Which declareth that man of him selfe can knowe nothing, til God giue the heart and vnderstanding

*And as the noughtie figges which can not be eaten, they are so euil (surely thus saith the Lord) so wil I giue Zedekiah the King of Iudáh, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalém, that remaine in this land, & them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

Chap 31, 33. ebr 8, 10. Chap 29, 17.

d Which fled thither for succour.

I wil euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproche, and for a prouerbe, for a commune talke, and for a curse, in all places, where I shal cast them.

And I wil send the sworde, the famine, and the pestilence among them, til they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

He prophesieth that they shalbe in captiuitie seuentie yeres, and that after the seuentie yeres the Babylonians shulde be destroyed. The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

The worde that came to Jeremiáh, concerning all the people of Iudáh in the fourth yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiáh King of Iudáh that was in the first yere of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel:

a That is, in y^e third yere accomplished, & in the beginning of the fourth: for though Nebuchadnezzar began to reigne in the end of the thirde yere of Iehoiakims reigne, yet that yere is not here counted, because it was almost expired, Dan 1, 1. b Which was the fifth yere & the ninth moneth of Iehoiakims reigne

The which Jeremiáh the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudáh, & to all the inhabitants of Ierusalém, saying,

c That is, I haue spared no diligence or labour, Chap 7, 13

From the thirteth yere of Iosiáh the sonne of Ammón King of Iudáh, euen vnto this daye (that is the thre and twentieth yere) the worde of the Lord hath come vnto me, & I haue spoken vnto you, saying early and speaking, but ye wolde not heare.

And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophetes, rising early and finding them, but ye wolde not heare, nor encline your eares to obeye.

Then said, Turne againe now euerie one from his euil waie, and from the wickednes of your inuencions, & ye shal dwell in the land that the Lord hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

d He sheweth that the Prophetes wholly with one consent did labour to pul y^e people from those vices, w^{ch} then reigned: rowit, fro idolatrie, and the vaine confidence of men. for vnder these two all other were contained 2 King 17, 13 cha 18 11 & 35, 15, Ionah 3, 8

And go not after other gods to serue them, & to worship them, and prouoke me not to angre with the workes of your hands, & I wil not punish you.

Neuer theles ye wolde not heare me, saith the Lord, but haue prouoked me to angre with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my wordes, Beholde, I wil send and take to me all the CHAP. XXVI.

Jeremiáh moueth the people to repentance. He is taken of the false Prophetes and Priestes and brought to iudgement. 23 Uriáh the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim contrary to the wil of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiáh King of Iudáh, came this worde from the Lord, saying,

Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords House, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudáh, which come to worship in the Lords House, all the wordes y I commád thee to speake: kepe not a worde backe,

If so be they wil hearken, and turne euerie man from his euil way, that I may repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednes of their workes.

And y shalt say vnto thé, Thus saith the Lord, If ye wil not heare me to walke in my Lawes, which I haue set before you,

And to heare the wordes of my seruants the Prophetes, whome I sent vnto you, both rising vp early, and sending them, and wil not obeye them,

Then wil I make this House like Shilón, and wil make this citie a curse to all the nacions of the earth.

So the Priestes, and the Prophetes, and all the people heard Jeremiáh speaking these wordes in the House of the Lord.

Now when Jeremiáh had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, thé the Priestes, and the Prophetes, and all the people toke him, and said, Thou shalt dye the death.

Why hast thou prophecied in the Name of y Lord, saying, This House shalbe like Shilón, & this citie shalbe desolate without an inhabitant: & all the people were gathered against Jeremiáh in the House of the Lord.

And when the princes of Iudáh heard of these things, they came vp from y Kings house into the House of the Lord, & sate downe in the entrie of the newe gate of the Lords House.

Then spake the Priestes, and the Prophetes vnto the princes, & to all y people, saying, This man is worthie to dye: for he hathe prophecied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

Then spake Jeremiáh vnto all the princes, & to all the people, saying, The Lord hathe sent me to prophecie against this House and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

Therefore now améd your waies & your workes, & heare the voice of y Lord your God, y the Lord may repent him of y plague, y he hathe pronounced against you.

As for me, beholde, I am in your hands: do with me as ye thinke good and right.

But knowe ye for certeine, y if ye put me to death, ye shal surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truerh y Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

Then said the princes and all the people vnto the Priestes & to the Prophetes, This man is not worthie to dye: for he hathe spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

Then rose vp certeine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assemblie of the people, saying,

Micháh the Morashite prophecied in y dayes of Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, and spoke to all the people of Iudáh, saying,

Thus saith y Lord of hostes, Zión shalbe plowed like a field, and Ierusalém shalbe an heape, & the mountaine of the House shalbe as the high places of the forest.

Did Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, and all Iudáh put him to death: did he not feare the Lord, and praye before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that he had pronouced against them: thus might we procure great euil against our soules.

And there was also a man that prophecied in y Name of the Lord, one Uriáh the sonne of Shemaiáh, of Kiríath-iaírem, who prophecied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the wordes of Jeremiáh.

Now when Iehoiakim the King with all his men of power, & all the princes heard his wordes, the King sought to slae him. But when Vriáh heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

The Iehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, euen Elnathán the sonne of Achbár, and certeine with him into Egypt.

And they fet Vriáh out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Iehoiakim the King, who slewe him with the sworde, and cast his dead bodie into the graues of the children of the people.

But the hand of Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán was with Jeremiáh y they shulde not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

Jeremiáh at the commandement of the Lord sendeth bondes to the King of Iudáh and to the other Kings that were nere, whereby they are moued to be subiectes vnto Nebuchad-nazár: He warneth the people & the Kings & rulers that they beleue not false Prophetes.

That is, of the House of y Lords: to wit, Zión, and these examples the goulie alledged to deliner Jeremiáh out of the Priests hands whose rage would not haue bene satisfied, but by his death

So that the citie was not destroyed, but by miracle was deliuered out of the hands of Saneherib. Here is declared the furie of tyrants, who can not abide to heare Gods worde declared, but persecute the ministers thereof, and yet in the end they procure nothing, but prouoke Gods iudgements so muche y more. As in the first Hezekiás example is to be followed. So in this other Iehoiakims as is to be abhorred: for Gods plague did light on him, and his house holde

Which declareth that nothing colde haue appeased their furie, if God had not moued this noble man to stand valiantly in his defence.

As touching the dispositiõ of these propheties, they that gathered them into a booke, did not altogether obserue the order of times, but did set some afore, which shulde be after, and contrarie wise: which if the reader marke wel, it shal auoide many doutes, & make the readinge muche easie.

dáh came this worde vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee bondes, and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to the King of Edóm, & to the King of Moáb, and to the King of the Ammonites, and to the King of Tyrus, and to the King of Zidón, by the hád of the messengers which come to Ierusalém vnto Zedekíah the King of Iudáh,

4 And commande them to say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israél, Thus shal ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, and the beast that are vpo the groude, by my great power, & by my outstretched arme, & haue giuen it vnto whome it pleased me.

6 But now I haue giuen all these lands into the hád of Nebuchad-nezzár the King of Babél my seruant, and the beastes of the field haue I also giuē him to serue him.

7 And all nations shal serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne vntil the verie time of his land come also: then manie nations and great Kings shal serue them selues of him.

8 And the nation & kingdome which wil not serue y same Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél, and that wil not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babél, the same nation wil I visite, saith the Lord, with the sworde, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntil I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your Prophetes nor your southsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your forceiers, which saie vnto you thus, Ye shal not serue the King of Babél.

10 For their prophecie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your land, and that I shulde cast you out, and you shulde perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babél, & serue him, those wil I let remaine stil in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shal occupie it and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekíah King of Iudáh according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babél, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wil ye dye, thou, & thy people by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spokē against y nation, that wil not serue y King of Babél?

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the Prophetes, that speake vnto you, saying, Ye shal not serue the King of Babél: for their prophecie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent the, saith the Lord, yet they prophecie a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, bothe you, & the Prophetes that prophecie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to y Priestes, & to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the wordes of your Prophetes that prophecie vnto you, saying, Beholde, the vessels of the House of the Lord shal now shortly be brought againe from Babél, for their prophecie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare the not, but serue the King of Babél, that ye may liue: wherefore shulde this citie be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophetes, and if the worde of the Lord be with the, let them in treat the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, & in the house of the King of Iudáh, & at Ierusalém, go not to Babél.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél toke not, when he caried away captiue Ieconíah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh from Ierusalém to Babél, with all the nobles of Iudáh and Ierusalém.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hostes y God of Israél, concerning the vessels y remaine in the House of the Lord, & in y house of the King of Iudáh, and at Ierusalém, 22 They shalbe brought to Babe, and there they shalbe vntil the day that I visite the, saith the Lord: then wil I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The false prophecie of Hananiáh the Ieremiáh repro- ueth Hananiáh, and prophesieth.

1 And that same yere in the beginning of the reigne of Zedekíah King of Iudáh in the fourth yere, and in the fifth moneth Hananiáh the sonne of Azúr the Prophet, w was of Gibeón, spake to me in the House of the Lord in the presence of the Priestes, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israél, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the King of Babél.

3 Within two yeres space I wil bring into this place all the vessels of the Lords House, y Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél toke away from this place, and caried them into Babél.

4 And I wil bring againe to this place Ieconíah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh, with all the that were caried away captiue of Iudáh, and wēt into Babél, saith the Lord: for I wil breake the yoke of the King of Babél.

b By suche signes y Prophetes vied some times to confirme their propheties, w not withstanding they coulde not do of them selues, but inasmuche as they had a reuelation for the same, Isa. 20. 2. and therefore the falso prophetes to get more credit did vse also suche visible signes, but they had no reuelation. 1. Jeremiáh. To prophecie lyes.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremiáh said vnto the 4 Prophet Hananiáh in the presence of the Priests, & in the presence of all the people that stode in the House of the Lord.

d He was so esteemed, though he was a false Prophet.

6 Eue the Prophet Jeremiáh said, So be it:
 the Lord so do, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophecied to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is caried captiue from Babel into this place.

e That is, I wolde with y

7 But heare thou now this worde that I wil speake in thine cares and in the cares of all the people.

8 The Prophetes that haue bene before me and before thee in time past, f prophecied against manie countreys, and against great king domes, of warre, & of plagues, and of pestilence.

f Meaning, that the Prophetes that did ether denounce warre or peace,

 their prophecies. Albeit

9 And the Prophet which prophecieth of peace, when the worde of the Prophet shal come to passe, then shal the Prophet be known that the Lord hathe truely sent him.

10 Then Hananiáh the Prophet toke the yoke from the Prophet Jeremiahs necke, and brake it.

11 And Hananiáh spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith y Lord, Euen so wil I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel, frõ the necke of all nations within the space of two yeres: and the Prophet Jeremiáh went his way.

g This decla-

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremiáh the Prophet, (after that Ha-naniáh the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Jeremiáh)
 saying,

13 Go, & tel Hananiáh, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood: but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israël, I haue put a h yoke of yron vpon y neck: of all these natiõs, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shal serue him, and I haue gi-uen him the beasts of the field also.

i Signifying,
 that all shulde be his, as Dan.

15 The said the Prophet Jeremiáh vnto the Prophet Hananiáh, Heare now Hananiáh, the Lord hathe not sent thee, but thou makst this people to trust in a lye.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde,
 I wil cast thee from of the earth: this yere thou shalt dye, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the worde of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whome I haue ſent from Ieruſalém to Babél.

21 Thus faith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, of Aháb the ſonne of Kolaiáh, & of Zedekiáh the ſonne of Maſſaiáh, which prophecie lies vnto you in my Name, Beholde, I wil deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél & he ſhal ſlaye them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudáh, that are in Babél, ſhal take vp this curſe againſt them. & ſay, The Lord make thee like Zedekiáh and like Aháb, whome the King of Babél burnt in the fyre, m Because they gaue the people hope of ſpedy returning.

23 Because they haue committed a vilenie in Iſraél, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wiues, and haue ſpoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I knowe it, & teſtifie it, ſaith the Lord.

n Which was adulterie, and falſifying the wordes of God.

24 ¶ Thou ſhalt alſo ſpeake to Shemaiáh the Nehelamite, ſaying,

25 Thus ſpeaketh ſ the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, ſaying, Because thou haſt ſet letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Ieruſalém, & to Zephaniáh the ſonne of Maſſaiáh the Prieſt, and to all the Prieſts, ſaying, p Shemaiáh ſ falſe prophet flattered Zephaniáh the chief Prieſt, as though God had giuen him the ſpirit and zeale of Iehoiadá to puniſh whomeuer ſeſ paced againſt the wordes of God, of the w he wolde haue made Ieremiáh one, calling him a rauer & a falſe pphet 27 Now therefore why haſt not thou reproued Ieremiáh of Anathóth, which prophecie vnto you?

bél, ſaying, This captiuitie is long: buylde houſes to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the frutes of them.

29 And Zephaniáh the Prieſt red this letter in the eares of Ieremiáh the Prophet.

30 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiáh, ſaying,

31 Send to all the of the captiuitie, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord of Shemaiáh the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiáh hath prophecied vnto you, & I ſent him not, & he caufed you to truſt in a lye,

CHAP. XXX.

The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

1 THE worde, that came to Ieremiáh frō the Lord, ſaying,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord God of Iſraél, ſaying, Write thee all the wordes, that I haue ſpoken vnto thee in a booke.

3 For lo, the daies come, ſaith the Lord, that I wil bring againe ſ captiuitie of my people Iſraél and Iudáh, ſaith the Lord: for I wil reſtore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, & they ſhal poſſeſſe it.

r Because they ſhulde be affured and their poſteritie comforted in the hope of this deliuerance promiſed.

4 Again, theſe are the wordes ſ the Lord ſpake concerning Iſraél, and concernig Iudáh.

5 For thus ſaith the Lord, We haue heard a terrible voyce, of feare & not of peace.

s He ſheweth that before ſ this deliuerance ſhal come, the Caldeans ſhulde be extremely afflicted by their enemies, and ſ they ſhulde be in ſuche perplexitie & ſorrow as a woman in her trauail, as Iſa. 13. 8.

6 Demande now & beholde, if man trauail with childewherefore do I beholde euery man with his hands on his loines as a woman in trauail, & all faces are turned into a paleneſ?

7 Alas, for this day is great: none hath bene like it: it is euen the time of Iaakobs trouble, yet ſhal he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that day, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, I wil breake e his yoke from of thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and ſtrangers ſhal no more ſerue them ſelues f of him.

t Meaning, ſ the time of their captiuitie ſhulde be gracious d When I ſhal viſit Babylon.

9 But they ſhal ſerue the Lord their God, & Dauid their King, whome I wil raiſe vp vnto them.

e Of the King of Babylon f To wit, of Iaakob

10 Therefore feare not, o my ſeruāt Iaakób, ſaith the Lord, nether be afraid, o Iſraél: for lo, I wil deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy ſede from the land of their captiuitie, & Iaakób ſhal turne againe, & ſhal be in reſt and proſperitie & none ſhal make him afraid.

g That is, Meſſiáh, w ſhulde come of ſ ſtocke of Dauid, according to the fleſh and ſhulde be the true paſtor, as Ezek. 34. 23 who is ſet forth and his kingdom that ſhulde be eneuſtaining in the perſone of Dauid, Hoſ. 3. 5.

thee by iudgement, and not vnto thee of.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wounde is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medecines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue striken thee with the wounde of an enemye, & with a sharpe chaftisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorowe is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 Therefore all they that deuoure thee, shal be deuoured, and all thine enemies euery one shal go into captiuitie: and they that spoyle thee, shal be spoyled, & all they that robbe thee, wil I giue to be robbed.

17 For I wil restore helth vnto thee, & I wil heale thee of thy woundes, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The cast away, saying, This is Ziön, whome no man seketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Iaakobs tentes, and haue compassion on his dwelling places: and the citie shal be buylded vpon her owne heape, and the palace shal remaine after the maner thereof.

19 And out of them shal procede a thanksgiving, and the voyce of them that are ioyous, and I wil multiplie them, and they shal not be fewe: I wil also glorifie them, and they shal not be diminished.

20 Their childre also shalbe as afore time, and their congregacion shalbe established before me: & I wil visite all that vexed thee.

21 And their noble ruler shalbe of them selues, and their gouernour shal procede from the middes of them, and I wil cause him to drawe nere, and approche vnto me: for who is this that directeth his heart to come vnto me, saith the Lord?

22 And ye shalbe my people, and I wil be your God.

23 Beholde, the temple of the Lord goeth forth with wrath: the whirlwinde hangeth ouer, shal light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord shal not returne, vntil he haue done, and vntil he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the latter daies ye shal vnderstand it.

CHAP. XXXI.

He rehearseth Gods benefites after their returne from Babylon, 23 And the spiritual ioye of the faithful in the Church.

At the same time, saith the Lord, wil I be the God of all the families of Israél, and they shalbe my people.

Thus saith the Lord, The people which escaped the sworde, founde grace in the wilderness: he walked before Israél to cause him to rest.

The Lord hath appeared vnto me of olde, say they: Yea, I haue loued thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore with mercie I haue drawn thee.

4 Againe I wil buylde thee, and thou shalt be buyded, o virgine Israél: thou shalt still be adorned with thy tymbrels, and shalt go forth in the dance of thee that be ioyful.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaine of Samaria, and the planters that plant them, shal make them commune.

6 For the daies shal come that the watchmen vpon the mountaine of Ephraim shal crye, Arise, and let vs go vp vnto Ziön to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnes for Iaakób, and shoute for ioye among the chief of the Gentiles: publish praise, and say, O Lord, saue thy people, the remnant of Israél.

8 Beholde, I wil bring thee from the North cuntry, and gather them from the coastes of the worlde, with the blinde & the lame among them, with the woman with childe, & her that is deliuered also: a great companie shal returne hether.

9 They shal come weeping, and with mercie wil I bring them againe: I wil leade them by the riuers of water in a straight way, wherein they shal not stumble: for I am a Father to Israél, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Hear the worde of the Lord, o ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles a farre of, & say, He hath scattered Israél, wil gather him and wil kepe him, as a shepherd doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iaakób, & ransomed him from the hand of him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shal come, and reioyce in the light of Ziön, and shal iunne to the beautifullnes of the Lord, euen for wheat and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increase of shepe, and bullockes: and their soule shalbe as a watered garden, and they shal haue no more sorow.

13 The virgine shal reioyce in the dance, and the yong men, & the olde men together: for I wil turne their mourning into ioye, and wil comforte them, & giue them ioye for their sorowes.

14 And I wil replenish the soule of the Priests with fatnes, and my people shalbe satisfied with my goodnes, saith the Lord.

 16 Thus saith the Lord, Refraine thy voice from weping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shalbe rewarded, saith y Lord, and they shal come againe from the land of theemie:
 17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shal come againe to their owne borders.

 20 Is Ephraim my dere sonne or pleasant childe: yet since I spake vnto him, I stil remembred him: therefore my bowelles are troubled for him: I wil surely haue compassion vpon him, saith the Lord.
 21 Set thee vp signes: make thee heapes: set thine heart toward the path and waite, that thou hast walked: tuerne againe, o virgine of Israél: tuerne againe to these thy cities.
 22 How long wilt thou go astraic, o thou rebellious daughter: for the Lord hath created a newe thing in the earth: a woman shal compasse a man.

Jeremiáh is cast into prison because he prophesied that the citie should be takē of the King of Babylon. 7 He sheweth, that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 28 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

1 The worde that came vnto Jeremiáh from the Lord, in the tenth yere of Zedekiah King of Iudáh, which was the eighteenth yere of Nebuchad-nezzár.

2 For then the King of Babels hoſte besieged Ierusalem: and Jeremiáh the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, w^h was in the King of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah King of Iudáh had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore doest thou prophetic, & say, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil giue this citie into the hands of the King of Babel, and he shal take it?

4 And Zedekiah the King of Iudáh shal not escape out of the hand of y^e Caldeans, but shal surely be deliuered into the háds of the King of Babel, and shal speake with him mouthe to mouthe, and his eyes shal beholde his face,

5 And he shal lead Zedekiah to Babel, and there shal he be, vntil^b I visite him, saith the Lord: thogh ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shal not prosper.

6 ¶ And Jeremiáh said, The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

7 Beholde, Hanameel, the sonne of Shal- lum thine vnclē, shal come vnto thee and saie, Bye vnto thee my field, that is in Anathóth: for the^c title by kinred appertei- neth vnto thee^d to bye it.

8 So Hanameel, mine vnclē sonne, came to me in the court of the prison, according to the worde of the Lord, and said vnto me, Bye my^e field, I praiē thee, that is in Anathóth, which is in the countrei of Beniamín: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase belongeth vnto thee: bye it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the worde of the Lord.

9 And I boght the field of Hanameel, mine vnclē sonne, that was in Anathóth and weighed him y^e siluer, euen seuen^f shekels, and ten^g pieces of siluer.

10 And I writ it in the boke and signed it, & toke witnesses, and weighed him the sil- uer in the balances.

11 So I toke the boke of the possession, being sealed & according to the Law, and custome, with the boke that was open,

12 And I gauē the boke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriáh, the son- ne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vnclē sonne, and in y^e presence of the witnesses, written in the boke of the posses- sion, before all the Iewes that sate in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, say- ing,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Take the writings, euen this boke of the possession, bothe that is sealed, and this boke that is open, and put them in an earthen^h vessel, that thei maie continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses and fields, and vineyar- des shalbe possessed againe in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had deliuered the boke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriáh, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

17 Ah Lord God, beholde, thou hast made the heauē and the earth by thy great pow- er, and by thy stretched out arme, and there is nothingⁱ hard vnto thee.

18 *Thou shewest mercie vnto thousands, and recompencest the iniquitie of the fa- thers into y^e bosome of their^j childre after them: o God the great and mightie, whose Name is the Lord of hostes,

19 Great in counsel, and mightie in worke, (for thine eyes are opē vpon all the waies of the sonnes of men, to giue to euerie one according to his waies, and according to the frute of his workes)

20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this^k day, & in Israel, and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this daie,

21 And hast broght thy people Israel out of the lād of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terror,

22 And hast giuen them this land, which thou didest sweare to their fathers to gi- ue them, euen a land, that floweth with milke and honie,

23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voyce, nether walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to do, they haue not done: therefo- re thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Beholde, the^l mounts, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is gi- uen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it by meanes of the sworde, and of the famiue, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and beholde, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said vnto me, o Lord God, Bye vnto thee the field for siluer, and take witnesses: for the citie shalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ The came the worde of the Lord vnto Jeremiáh, saying,

27 Beholde, I am the Lord God of all^m flesh: is there anie thing to hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebu- chad-nezzár h And so to hide them in the ground; y^e thei might be preferred as a token of thei deliuerance.

chad-nezzár, King of Babel, and he shal take it.

29 And the Caldeans shal come and fight against this citie, and set fyre on this citie and burne it, with the houses, vpon whose roofes they haue offered incense vnto Bál, and powred drinke offrings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto angre.

30 For the children of Israél, and the children of Iudáh haue surely done euil before me from their youth: for the children of Israél haue surely prouoked me to angre with the workes of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto me as a prouocation of mine angre, and of my wrath, from the daye, that they buyt it, euen vnto this daye, that I shulde remoue it out of my sight,

32 Because of all the euil of the children of Israél, and of the children of Iudáh, which they haue done to prouoke me to angre, euen they, their Kings, their princes, their Priests, and their Prophetes, and the mé of Iudáh, and the inhabitáts of Ierusalém.

33 And they haue turned vnto me the backe & not the face: though I taught them, rising vp early, and instructing them, yet they were not obediēt to receiue doctrine,

34 But they set their abominations in the house (whereupon my Name was called) to defile it,

35 And they buyt the hye places of Bál, which are in the valley of Ben-hinnóm, to cause their sonnes, and their daughters to passe through the fyre vnto Moléch, w^{ch} I commáded them not, nether came it into my minde, that they shulde do suche abomination, to cause Iudáh to sinne.

36 And now therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israél spoken, concerning this citie, whereof ye say, It shalbe deliuered into the hand of the King of Babel by the sworde, and by the famine, and by the pestilence, 37 Beholde, I wil gather the out of all countreys, wherein I haue scatred them in mine angre, & in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I wil bring them againe vnto this place, and I wil cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shal be my people, and I wil be their God.

39 And I wil giue the one heart & one way y^e thei may feare me for euer for the welth of them, & of their children after them.

40 And I wil make an euerlasting couenāt wth the, that I wil neuer turne away frō the to do the good, but I wil put my feare in their hearts, y^e thei shal not departe frō me.

41 Yea, I wil delité in the to do the good, & I wil plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, & with all my soule.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I haue broght all this great plague vpon this people, so wil I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fields shal be possessed in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beaft, and shalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

44 Mé shal bye fields for siluer, and make writings, and seale them, and take witnesses in the land of Beniamín, and round about Ierusalém, & in the cities of Iudáh, and in the cities of the mountaines, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I wil cause their captiuitie to returne, saith the Lord.

3 Call vnto me, and I wil answer thee, and shewe thee great & mightie things, which thou knowest not.

5 They come to fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fil the selues with the dead bodies of men, whome I haue slaine in mine angre and in my wrath: for I haue hid my face from this citie, because of all their wickednes.

6 Beholde, I wil giue it helth & amendement: for I wil cure them, and wil reueile vnto them the abundance of peace, and trueth.

7 And I wil cause the captiuitie of Iudáh, and the captiuitie of Israél to returne, & wil buylde them as at the first.

8 And I wil cleanse them from all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against me: yea, I wil pardone all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against me, and whereby they haue rebelled against me.

9 And it shalbe to me a name, a ioy, a praise, and an honour before all the nacions of the earth, which shal heare all the good that I do vnto them: and they shal feare, & tremble for all the goodnes, and for all the welth, that I shewe vnto this citie.

13 In the cities of the ^k mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Beniamin, and about Ierusalém, and in the cities of Iudáh shal the shepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil performe y^e good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israél, and to the house of Iudáh.

15 In those daies and at that time, wil I cause ^l the bráche of righteousnes to growe vp vnto Dauid, & he shal execute iudgement, and righteousnes in the land.

16 In those dayes shal Iudáh be saued, and Ierusalém shal dwell safely, & he that shal call ^m her, is the Lord our ⁿ righteousnes.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Dauid shal neuer want a man to sit vp^o the throne of the house of Israél.

18 Nether shal the Priests and Leuites wát a man before me to offer ^o burnt offerings, and to offer meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremiáh, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my couenāt of the ^p day, and my couenāt of the night, that there shulde not be day, and night in their season,

21 Then may my couenant be broken with Dauid my seruāt, that he shulde not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, & Priests my ministers.

22 As y^e armie of heauen can not be nōbred, nether the sand of the sea measured: so wil I multiplie the sede of Dauid my seruāt, and the Leuites, that minister vnto me.

23 ¶ Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came to Jeremiáh, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what ^q this people haue spoken, saying, The two families, which the Lord hath chosen, he hath euen cast them of? thus they haue despised my people, that they shulde be no more a nacion before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my couenant be not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the ordre of heauen and earth, 26 Then wil I cast away the sede of Iakób and Dauid my seruāt, & not take of his sede to be rulers ouer the sede of Abraham, Izhák, and Iakób: for I wil cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.

and euerie one his handmaide, and that none ſhulde ſerue them ſelues of them any more, thei obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterwarde thei repented and cauſed the ſeruants & the handmaids, whome thei had let go ſe to returne & helde the in ſubiection as ſeruants and handmaidens.

12 Therefore the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremiáh from the Lord, ſaying, 13 Thus ſaith y Lord God of Iſraél, I made a couenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of ſeruants, ſaying, Dr, bondage.

Deut 15, 1.

14 *At the terme of ſeuē yerē let ye go, euerie mā his brother an Ebrewe which hath bene ſolde vnto thee: & when he hath ſerued thee ſix yerē, thou ſhalt let him go fre from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, nether inclined their eare.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my ſight in proclaiming libertie, euerie man to his neighbour, and ye had made a couenant before me in the Houſe, whereupon my Name is called.

Meaning, in the Temple, to declare that it was a moſt ſolemne & ſtreit couenant, made in the Name of y Lord.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for ye haue cauſed euerie man his ſeruant, & euerie man his handmaide, whome ye had ſet at libertie at their pleaſure, to returne, and holde them in ſubiection to be vnto you as ſeruants and as handmaidens.

17 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Ye haue not obeyed me, in proclaiming ſedome euerie man to his brother, and euerie man to his neighbour: beholde, I proclaime a libertie for you, ſaith y Lord, to the ſworde, to the peſtilence, and to the famine, & I wil make you a terrour to all the kingdomes of the earth.

That is, I giue the ſworde libertie to deſtroy you.

18 And I wil giue thoſe men that haue broken my couenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the couenant, which thei had made before me, when thei cut the calfe in twaine, and paſſed betwene the partes thereof.

As touching this manner of ſolemne couenant which the Ancient vſed by paſſing betwene the two partes of a beaſt, to ſignifie that y tranſgreſſor of the ſame couenant ſhulde be ſo diuided in pieces, read Ge 15, 10.

19 The princes of Iudáh, and the princes of Ieruſalém, the Eunuches, and the Priſtes, and all the people of the land, which paſſed betwene the partes of the calfe, 20 I wil cūen giue them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of thei ſeke their life: and their dead bodies ſhalbe for meat vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beaſtes of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah King of Iudáh, and his princes wil I giue into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of thei ſeke their life, & into the hand of the King of Babels hoſte, whi are gone vp from you.

To fight againſt y Egyp 1205, as Chap. 37, 11.

22 Beholde, I wil comāde, ſaith the Lord, and cauſe them to returne to this citie, and thei ſhal fight againſt it, and take it, and burne it with fyre: and I wil make y cities of Iudáh deſolate without an inhabitant.

The worde which came vnto Jeremiáh from the Lord, in the daies of Iehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah King of Iudáh, ſaying,

For the diſpoſition and order of theſe prophecies, read, Chap 27o

2 Go vnto the houſe of the Rechabites, & ſpeake vnto them, & bring them into the Houſe of y Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

Thei came of Hobab Moſes father in law, who was no Iſraelite, but after ioyned with them in the ſeruaice of God.

3 Then toke I Iazaniáh, the ſonne of Jeremiáh the ſonne of Habazzaniáh, and his brethren, and all his ſonnes, and the whole houſe of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into y Houſe of the Lord, into the chamber of the ſonnes of Hanán, the ſonne of Igdaliah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was aboute the chamber of Maafaiáh the ſonne of Shallúm, the keeper of the treaſure.

That is, a Prophete.

5 And I ſet before the ſonnes of the houſe of the Rechabites, pottes ful of wine, and cuppes, and ſaid vnto them, Drinke wine.

Or, drewe.

6 But thei ſaid, We wil drinke no wine: for Ionadáb the ſonne of Recháb our father commanded vs, ſaying, Ye ſhal drinke no wine, nether you nor your ſonnes for euer.

The Prophet ſaith not, The Lord ſaith thus: for then thei ought to haue obeyed, but he tendereth to another end: y is, to declare their obedience to man, ſeing the Iewes wolde not obey God him ſelfe

7 Nether ſhal ye buylde houſe, nor ſowe ſede, nor plant vineyarde, nor haue any, but all your daies ye ſhal dwell in tentes, that ye may liue a long time in the land where ye be ſtrangers.

Whome Iehu the King of Iſraél ſauored for his zeale, 2 King 10, 15

8 Thus haue we obeyed y voice of Ionadáb the ſonne of Recháb our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and we drinke no wine all our daies, nether we, our wiues, our ſonnes, nor our daughters.

Teaching them hereby to flee all occaſion of intemperancie, ambition and auarice, and that thei might knowe that thei were ſtrangers in y earth, and be ready to depart at all occaſions

9 Nether buylde we houſes for vs to dwell in, nether haue we vineyarde, nor field, nor ſede,

Which was now for the ſpace of three hundred yerē

10 But we haue remained in tētes, and haue obeyed, & done according to all that Ionadáb our father commanded vs.

from Iehu to Ichoiakim

11 But when Nebuchadnezzár King of Babel came vp into the land, we ſaid, Come, and let vs go to Ieruſalém, from the hoſte of the Caldeans, and from the hoſte of Arám: ſo we dwell at Ieruſalém.

Which declareth that thei were not ſo bound to their vowe, that it coulde not be broke for any neceſſitie: for where thei were recomāded to dwell in tētes, thei dwell now at Ieruſalém for feare of y warres

12 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Jeremiáh, ſaying, 13 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Go, and tel the men of Iudáh, and the inhabitans of Ieruſalém, Wil ye not receiue doctrine to obey my wordes, ſaith the Lord?

Whome I haue choſen to be my childre, ſeing theſe were the children of an heathen man, obeyed the comādemēt of their fathers?

14 The comādemēt of Ionadáb the ſonne of Recháb that he comāded his ſonnes, that thei ſhulde drinke no wine, is ſurely kept: for vnto this day thei drinke none, but obey their fathers comādemēt:

If I haue most diligently exhorted & warned you bothe by my selfe & my Prophets. Chap. 18, 11. 23, 24.

notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, rising early, and speaking, but ye wolde not obcie me.

I haue sent also vnto you all my seruantes the Prophetes, rising vp early, and sending them, saying, Returne now euerie mā from his euil waie, and amende your workes, and go not after other gods to seiuē them, & ye shal dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye wolde not incline your eare, nor obcie me.

Surely the sonnes of Ionadáb the sonne of Recháb, haue kept ſý cōmandement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obcie me.

Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, ſý God of Israél, Beholde, I wil bring vpon Iudáh, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalém, all ſý euil that I haue pronounced against them, because I haue spoken vnto them, but they wolde not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they wolde not answer.

And Jeremiáh said to the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith ſý Lord of hostes the God of Israél, Because ye haue obcie the cōmandement of Ionadáb your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hath commanded you, Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israél, Ionadáb the sonne of Recháb shal not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Barúch writeth, as Jeremiáh enditeth, the booke of the curses against Iudáh and Israél. He is sent with the booke vnto the people and readeth it before them all. He is called before the rulers and readeth it before the also. The King casteth it in the fyre. There is another written as the cōmandement of the Lord.

Read Chap. 1 25.

And in the fourth yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiáh King of Iudáh, came this worde vnto Jeremiáh from the Lord, saying,

Take thee a roole or boke, and write therein all the wordes that I haue spoken to thee against Israél, & against Iudáh, and against all the nacions, from the daie that I spake vnto thee, euen from the daies of Iosiáh vnto this daie.

Which were twenty and thre yere, as Cha 25, 3 counting from the thirtenth yere of Iosiáhs reigne.

It maie be that the house of Iudáh wil heare of all the euil, which I determined to do vnto them that they may returne euerie man from his euil waie, that I maie forgiue their inquitie and their finnes.

As he did iudice.

Then Jeremiáh called Barúch the sonne of Neriáh, and Barúch wrote at ſý mouth of Jeremiáh all the wordes of the Lord, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roole or boke.

And Jeremiáh cōmanded Barúch, saying,

I am shut vp, & can not go into the House of the Lord.

Meaning, in priso, through the malice of the Priestes.

Therefore go thou, and read the roole wherein thou hast written at my mouth the wordes of the Lord in the audience of the people in the Lords House vpon the fasting day: also thou shalt read them in the hearing of all Iudáh, & come out of their cities.

Which was proclaimed for feare of the Babylonians, as their custome was when this red warre or any great plague of God. He sheweth that fasting without praier and repentance auaileth nothing, but is mere hypocritie.

It may be that they wil pray before the Lord, and euerie one returne from his euil way, for the angre & the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

So Barúch the sonne of Neriáh did according vnto all, that Jeremiáh ſý Prophet commanded him, reading in the boke the wordes of the Lord in the Lords House.

The fast was then proclaimed, and Barúch red this roole, which was a litle before that Ierusalém was first taken, and then Iehoiakim and Daniel, and his cōpanions were led away captiues.

And in the fift yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiáh King of Iudáh, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalém, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudáh vnto Ierusalém.

Then red Barúch in the boke the wordes of Jeremiáh in the House of the Lord, in the chambre of Gemariáh the sonne of Shaphán the secretarie, in the hier court at the entrie of the newe gate of the Lords House, in the hearing of all the people.

Which is East gate of the Temple.

When Michaiáh the sonne of Gemariáh, the sonne of Shaphán had heard out of the boke all the wordes of the Lord,

Then he went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and lo, all ſý princes sate there, euen Elishamá the Chancellour, & Delaiáh the sonne of Shemaiáh, and Elnathán ſý sonne of Achbór, and Gemariáh the sonne of Shaphán, and Zedekiáh the sonne of Hananiáh, and all the princes.

Then Michaiáh declared vnto them all the wordes that he had heard whē Barúch red in the boke in the audience of the people.

Therefore all the princes sent Iehudí the sonne of Nethaniáh, the sonne of Shelemiáh, the sonne of Chufhí, vnto Barúch, saying, Take in thine hand the roole, wherein thou hast red in the audience of the people, and come. So Barúch the sonne of Neriáh, toke the roole in his hand, and came vnto them.

And they said vnto him, Sit downe now, and read it, that we may heare. So Barúch red it in their audience.

Now when they had heard all the wordes, they where afrared bothe one and other, and said vnto Barúch, We wil certifie the King of all these wordes.

The godke were afraid, seing God so offend. & the wicked were afrayed for the horror of the punishment.

And they examined Barúch, saying, Tell vs now, how didest thou write all these wordes at his mouth.

18 Then

18 Then Barúch answered them, He pronounced all these wordes vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with yncke in the boke.

¶ Theſe y were godlie among the princes, gaue this counſel, by whoſe meanes it is like that Ieremiáh was deſidered: for theſe knewe the rage of y King and of y wicked to be ſuche that they coude not eſcape without danger of their liues.

¶ In ſhewing, y the wicked in ſtead of repenſing, when thei heare Gods iudgements, grow into farther malice againſt him and his wordes.

¶ Thus we ſe the continual care, that God hath euer ower his to preſerue them from the rage of the wicked.

¶ Though the wicked thinke to haue aboliſhed the worde of God, when they haue burnt the boke thereof: yet this declarerh that God wil not onely raiſe it vp againe, but alſo increaſe it in greater abundance to their condemnation, as verſ. 12.

¶ R ad Chap. 23. 19.

19 Then ſaid the princes vnto Barúch, Go, hide thee, thou and Ieremiáh, and let no man knowe where ye be.

20 ¶ And thei wēt in to the Kig to y court, but thei laied vp y roole in the chābre of Eliſhamá the Chancellour & tolde y King all the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the King ſent Iehudá to ſet y roole, & he toke it out of Eliſhamá the Chancellors chambre, and Iehudá red it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of all the princes, which ſtoode beſide the King.

22 Now the King ſate in the winter houſe, in the ninth moneth, and there was a fyre burning before him.

23 And when Iehudá had red thre, or foure ſides, he cut it with the penknife, and caſt it into the fyre, that was on the herth vntil all the roole was cōſumed in the fyre, that was on the herth.

24 Yet thei were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the King, nor any of his ſeruants, that heard all theſe wordes.

25 Neuertheles, Elnathán, and Delaſáh, and Gemariáh had beſoght the King, that he wolde not burne the roole: but he wolde not heare them.

26 But the King commanded Ierahmeél the ſonne of Hammélech, & Seraſáh the ſonne of Azriél, & Shelemiáh the ſonne of Abdiél, to take Baruch the ſcribe, and Ieremiáh the Prophet, but the Lord hid them.

27 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came to Ieremiáh (after that the King had burnt the roole and the wordes w̄ Barúch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiáh) ſaying,

28 Take thee againe another roole and write in it all y former wordes that were in the firſt roole which Iehoiakim y King of Iudáh hath burnt,

29 And y ſhalt ſay to Iehoiakim Kig of Iudáh, Thus ſaith y Lord, Thou haſt burnt this roole, ſaying, Why haſt thou written therein, ſaying, that the King of Babel ſhal certainly come and deſtroie this land, and ſhal take thence bothe man and beaſt

30 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh, He ſhal haue none to ſit vpon the throne of Dauid, and his dead bodie ſhalbe caſt out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the froſt.

31 And I wil viſite him and his ſede, and his ſeruantes for their iniquitie, & I wil bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ieruſalém, & vpon the men of Iudáh all the euil that I haue pronouced againſt them: but they wolde not heare.

32 Then toke Ieremiáh another roole, and gaue it Barúch the ſcribe y ſonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiáh all the wordes of the boke which Iehoiakim Kig of Iudáh had burnt in the fyre, and there were added beſides them many like wordes.

6 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiáh, ſaying, 7 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél, Thus ſhal ye ſay to the King of Iudáh, y ſent you vnto me to inquire of me, Beholde, Pharaohs hoſte, which is come forth to helpe you, ſhal returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans ſhal come againe, and fight againſt this citie, and take it & burne it with fyre.

9 Thus ſaith the Lord, Deceiue not your ſelues, ſaying, The Caldeans ſhal ſurely departe from vs: for thei ſhal not departe.

¶ Or, liſt not your ſelues.

10 For though ye had ſmiten the whole hoſte of the Caldeans that fight againſt you, & there remained but wounded men among them, yet ſhulde euery man riſe vp in his tent, and burne this citie with fyre.

11 ¶ When the hoſte of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ieruſalém, becauſe of Pharaohs armie, 12 Then Ieremiáh went out of Ieruſalém to go into the land of Beniamin, ſeparating him ſelf thence from among the people.

f As ſome thinke, to go to Anathoth his owne towne.

g By y which men went into the countrey of Beniamin.

13 And when he was in the gate of Beniamin, there was a chief officer, whoſe name was Iriſáh, the ſonne of Shelemiáh, the ſonne of Hananiáh, and he toke Ieremiáh the Prophet, ſaying, Thou fleſt to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiáh, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeás: but he woldenot heare him: so Iriiáh toke Jeremiáh, and broght him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiáh, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Iehonathán the scribe: for they had made that the ^h prison.

^h Because it was a vile and strait prison.

16 When Ieremiáh was entred into the dongeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time, 17 Then Zedekiáh the King sent, and toke him out, and the King asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any worde from the Lord? And Ieremiáh said, Yea: for, said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the King of Babel.

18 Moreover, Ieremiáh said vnto King Zedekiáh, What haue I offended agáist thee, or agáinst thy seruants, or agáinst this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the King: let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou cause me not to returne to the house of Iehonathán the scribe, lest I dye there.

21 Then Zedekiáh the King commanded, that they shulde put Ieremiáh in the court of the prison, and that they shulde giue him daiely a piece of bread out of the bakers strete vntil all the bread in the citie were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiáh remained in the court of the prison.

ⁱ That is, so long as there was any bread in the citie: thus God promised for his y^e he wil cause their enemies to preferre them to y^e end whereunto he hathe appointed them.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

¹ By the motion of the rulers Ieremiáh is put into a dongeon. ¹⁴ At the request of Ebed-mélech the King commandeth Ieremiáh to be broght forth of the dongeon. ¹⁷ Ieremiáh sheweth the King how he might escape death.

1 Then Shephatiáh the sonne of Matán, and Gedaliáh the sonne of Pashúr, and Iucál the sonne of Shelemiáh, & Pashúr the sonne of Malchiáh, heard the wordes that Ieremiáh had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

² For Zedekiáh had sent these to Ieremiáh to inquire at the Lord for the state of the countrey now whé Nebuchad-nezar came, as Chap. 21. 1 b Read Chap. 21. 9.

2 Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this citie, shal dye by the sworde, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shal liue: for he shal haue his life for ^b a pray, and shal liue.

³ Or, discourse.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This citie shal surely be giuen into the hand of the King of Babels armie, which shal take it.

⁴ Thus we see how the wicked whé they can not abide to heare y^e truth of Gods wordes, seke to put the ministers to death as transgressors of pollicies.

4 Therefore the princes said vnto y^e King, We beseeche you, let this man be put to death: for thus he^e weakeneth the hands of the men of warre ^c that remaine in this citie; and the hands of all the people, in speaking suche wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiáh the King said, Beholde, he is in your hands, for the King can denie you nothing.

6 Then toke they Ieremiáh, and cast him into the dongeon of Malchiáh the sonne of Hammélech, that was in the part of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiáh with coards: and in the dongeon there was no water but myre: so Ieremiáh sticke fast in the myre.

^d Wherein he grievously offended in that that not onely he woldenot heare the truth spoken by the Prophet, but also gave him to y^e lusts of the wicked to be cruelly intreated. ^e Ebr. Cushite, or Ethiopians.

7 Now when Ebed-mélech the blacke More one of the Eunuches, which was in the Kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiáh in the dongeon (then the King fate in the gate of Beniamín)

^e To heare matters & giue sentence.

8 And Ebed-mélech wét out of the Kings house, and spake to the King, saying,

9 My lord the King, these men haue done euil in all y^e they haue done to Ieremiáh the Prophet, whome they haue cast into y^e dongeon, and he dyeth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the citie.

^f Hereby is declared that the Prophet founde more fauour at this strangers hands then he did by all them of his countrey which was to their great condemnation.

10 Then the King commanded Ebed-mélech y^e blacke More, saying, Take fro hence thirtie men with thee, and take Ieremiáh the Prophet out of the dongeon before he dye.

^g Ebr. vnder thine hand.

11 So Ebed-mélech toke the men with him and went to the house of the King vnder the treasurie, and toke there olde rotten ragges, and olde worne cloutes, and let them downe by coardest into the dongeon to Ieremiáh.

12 And Ebed-mélech the blacke More said vnto Ieremiáh, Put now these olde rotten ragges and worne vnder thine arme holes, betwene the coardest. And Ieremiáh did so.

13 So they drewe vp Ieremiáh with coardest and toke him vp out of the dongeon, and Ieremiáh remained in the court of the prison.

^g Where the King had set him before to be at more liberty, as Chap. 37. 22.

14 Then Zedekiáh the King sent, and toke Ieremiáh the Prophet vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the House of the Lord, & the King said vnto Ieremiáh, I wil aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremiáh said to Zedekiáh, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slaye me? and if I giue thee counsel, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the King sware secretly vnto Ieremiáh, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soules, I wil not slaye thee, nor giue thee into the hands of those men that seke thy life.

17 Then said Ieremiáh vnto Zedekiáh, Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, y^e God of Israël, If thou wilt go forth vnto the King

^h And yelde thy self vnto them.

King of Babels ^h princes, then thy soule shal liue, and this citie shal not be burnt vp with fyre, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not go forthe to ^y King of Babels princes, then shal this citie be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and thei shal burne it with fyre, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiáh the King said vnto Ieremiáh, I am careful for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, lest thei deliuer me into their hands, and thei mocke me.

1 Which declareth that he more feared the reproche of men, then ^y threatenings of God.

20 But Ieremiáh said, Thei shal not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voice of the Lord, I beseeche thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shal it be wel vnto thee, and thy soule shal liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to go forthe, this is the worde ^y the Lord hathe shewed me.

^k When Ieremiáh and his mother with others were carryed away, the few womē of the Kings house were left: ^y shalbe taken, saith the Prophet, and tel ^y King of Babel how Zedekiáh hathe bene seduced by his familiar friends and false Prophets, which haue leit him in the myre.

22 And beholde, all the women that are ^k left in the King of Iudahs house, shalbe broght forthe to ^y King of Babels princes: and those women shal say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue preuailed against thee: thy fete are fastened in the myre, and thei are turned backe.

23 So thei shal bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hand of the King of Babel: and this citie shalt thou cause to be burnt with fyre.

24 Then said Zedekiáh vnto Ieremiáh, Let no man knowe of these wordes, and thou shalt not dye.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and thei come vnto thee, and say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast said vnto the King, hide it not from vs; and we wil not slay thee: also what the King said vnto thee,

^l Herein, appeareth the infirmitie of the Prophet, who did dissemble to saue his life albeit it was not to the detrial of his doctrine, or to ^y hurte of any.

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly ^l besoght the King that he wolde not cause me to returne to Iehonathans house, to dye there.

27 The came all the princes vnto Ieremiáh and asked him. And he tolde them according to all these wordes that ^y King had commanded: so thei left of speaking with him, for the matter was not perceiued.

28 So Ieremiáh abode still in ^y court of the prison, vntil the day that Ierusalém was taken: and he was there, when Ierusalém was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Nebuchad-nezzár besiegeth Ierusalém, 4 Zedekiáh sleing is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Ieremiáh is prouided for. 15 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captiuitie.

^h King. 25. 2. chap. 33. 4.

IN ^h the ninth yere of Zedekiáh King of Iudáh in ^y tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel and all his hoste against Ierusalém, and thei besieged it.

2 And in the eleuenth yere of Zedekiáh in the fourth moneth, the ninth daie of the moneth, the citie was broken ^a vp.

^a The gates & walles were broken downe.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, and sate in the middle gate, euen Neregál, Sharézer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechím, Rab-saris, Neiegál, Sharézer, Rab-mag with all the residue of the princes of the King of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiáh the King of Iudáh sawe them, and all the men of warre, then thei fled, & went out of the citie by night, through the Kings garden, ^b by the gate betwene the two walles, and he went toward the wildernes.

^b Which was a posterne door, read 2 King. 25. 4.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and ouertoke Zedekiáh in the desert of Ierichó: and when thei had taken him, thei broght him to Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel vnto ^c Ribláh in the land of Hamáth, where he gaue iudgemēt vpon him.

^c Which is called Antiochia in Syria.

6 Then the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiáh in Ribláh before his eyes: also the King of Babel slewe all the nobles of Iudáh.

7 Moreouer he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bounde him in chames, to carye him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fyre, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalém.

9 Then Nebuzar-adán the ^d chief steward caryed away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

^d Or, captain of the garde.

10 But Nebuzar-adán ^y chief steward left the ^e poore that had nothing in the land of Iudáh, and gaue them vineyardes and fields at the same time.

^e For ^y riches & the mightie put their trust in their riches & meanes, were by Gods iust iudgements most rigorously handled

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel gaue charge concerning Ieremiáh vnto Nebuzar-adán ^y chief steward, saying,

12 Take him, and loke wel to him, and do him no harme, but do vnto him ^e euen as he shal say vnto thee.

^e Eor by the hand of ^e Eor see thine eyes vpon him. Thus God preferred his Prophet by his meanes, whom he made ^y scourge to punish the King, and them that were his enemies.

13 So Nebuzar-adán the chief steward sent and Nebuzabán, Rabsaris, & Neregál, Sharézer, Rab-mag, and all the King of Babels princes:

14 Euen thei sent, and toke Ieremiáh out of the court of the prison, and comitted him vnto ^f Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán, that he shulde carie him home: so he dwelt among the people.

^f Whome the King of Babel had now appointed gouernour ouer the rest of the Iewes that he left behinde.

15 Now ^y worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiáh, while he was shut vp in ^y court of the prison, saying,

16 Go & speake to Ebed-mélech the blacke More, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israél, Beholde, I wil bring my wordes vpon this cite for euil, and not for good, and they shalbe accomplished in that daie before thee.

17 But I wil deliuer thee in that daie, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whome thou fearest.

18 For I wil surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sworde, but thy life shalbe for a pray vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

g Thus God recompensed his zeale and fauour, which he shewed to his Prophet in his troubles, CHAP. XL.

1 Ieremiáh hath licence to go whether he wil. & He dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliáh.

THE worde which came to Ieremiáh from the Lord after that Nebuzardan the chief steward had let him go fro Ramáth, when he had taken him being bounde in chaines among all that were caryed awaie captiue of Ierusalém and Iudáh, which were caryed awaie captiue vnto Babél.

a From this se code vers vnto chap 42, 7 it seemeth to be as a parenthesis, and separated matter: & there this storie begunneth againe, & this visio is declared what it was b God moued this iudele to speake this, to declare the great blindness and obdincie of the Iewes, which coulde not see that which this heathen man confessed. c Or, as thy commandement.

2 And the chief steward toke Ieremiáh, and said vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath broght it, & done according as he hath said: because ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now beholde, I lose thee this daie from the chaines which were on thine handes, if it please thee to come with me into Babél, come, and I wil loke wel vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babél, tary stil: beholde, all the land is before thee: whether it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to go, thether go.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore he said, Returne to Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám, the sonne of Shaphán, whome the King of Babél hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudáh, and dwell with him among the people, or go wheresoeuer it pleaseth thee to go. So the chief steward gaue him vitales and a rewarde, and let him go.

6 Then went Ieremiáh vnto Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám, to Mizpáh, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captaines of the hoste, which were in the fields, euen they and their men heard, that the King of Babél had made Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám c Which was a cite of Iudáh.

d Which were scattered abroad for feare of the Caldeans.

gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him, men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, that were not caryed away captiue to Babél,

Then they came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, euen Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, and Iohanán, and Ionathán the sonne of Karéah, and Seraiáh the sonne of Tanehuméth, and the sonnes of Ephái, the Netophathite, and Iezaniáh the sonne of Maachathí, they and their men.

And Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám, the sonne of Shaphán sware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and serue the King of Babél, and it shalbe wel with you.

10 As for me, beholde, I wil dwell at Mizpáh to serue the Caldeans, which wil come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and sommer frutes, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, & dwell in your cities, that ye haue taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moáb, and among the Ammonites, and in Edóm, and that were in all the countreis, heard that the King of Babél had left a remnant of Iudáh, and that he had set ouer them Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driuen, and came to the land of Iudáh to Gedaliáh vnto Mizpáh, and gathered wine and sommer frutes, very muche.

13 Moreouer Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, 14 And said vnto him, Knowest thou not that Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh to slay thee? But Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanán the sonne of Karéah spake to Gedaliáh in Mizpáh secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I wil slay Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, and no man shal knowe it. Wherefore shulde he kyl thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, shulde be scattered, and the remnant in Iudáh perish?

16 But Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám said vnto Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmaél.

e Who was of Kings blood and after him, Cha. 42.

f Or, to receive them, or to treat them for good.

g Or, chosen to dwell in.

h Which were fled also for feare of the Caldeans.

i For vnder colour of intertaining of Ishmaél he sought onely to make ché to destroy one another.

k Thus the godlie, which thinke no harme to others, are somtyme deceiued & neuer lacke such as conspire their destruction.

l Thus the cite was destroyed in the fourth month and in the tenth moneth, which continued part of September, & part of October, was the gouernour Gedaliáh slaine.

CHAP. XLI.

Ishmaél killeth Gedaliáh guilefully, and many other with him. Iohanán followeth after Ishmaél.

BUt in the tenth moneth came Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, the ^b Mesolog. Zedekiah.

^c They did eat together as familiar friends.

sonne of Elishamá of the sede royal, and the princes of the ^b King, & ten men with him, vnto Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám to Mizpáh, and there thei did ^c eat bread together in Mizpáh.

2 Then arose Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán with the sworde, and slewe him, whome the King of Babel had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Ishmaél also slewe all the Iewes that were with Gedaliáh at Mizpáh, & all the Caldeans that were founde there, & the men of warre.

4 Now the seconde daie that he had slaine Gedaliáh, and no man knewe it,

5 There came men from Shechem, fró Shilóh, & from Samaria, euen foure scoremen, hauing their beards shauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with ^d offerings and incense in their hands to offre in the House of the Lord.

^d For they thought that the Temple had not bene destroyed, & therefore came vnto the least of Tabernacles, but hearing of the burning thereof in the way, they shewed these signes of sorrowe.

^e For his death was kept secret, & he feared that he lamented for the destruction of Ierusalem & the Temple: but after he was shewen when they seemed to favour Gedaliáh

6 And Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh went forth from Mizpáh to mete them, weeping as he went: & when he met them, he said vnto them, Come ^e to Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám.

7 And when they came into the middes of the cite, Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh slewe the, and cast them into the middes of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were founde among them, that said vnto Ishmaél, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honie: so he staied, and slewe them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmaél had cast the dead bodies of the men (whome he had slaine because of Gedaliáh) is it, which Asá the King had ^f made because of Balsá King of Israél, and Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh filled it with them that were slaine.

^f As a fortified Mizpáh for feare of the enemy, and cast ditches & trenches, as King Jerem.

10 Then Ishmaél caryed away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpáh, euen the Kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpáh, whome Nebuzar-adán the chief steward had committed to Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám, and Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh caryed them away captiue, and departed to go ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, & all the ^g captaines of the hoste that were with him, heard of all the euil that Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh had done, ^g Which had bene captaines vnder Zedekiah.

12 Then they all toke their men, and went to fight with Ishmaél ^h the sonne of Nethaniáh, and founde him by the great waters that are in Gibeón.

13 Now when all the people whome Ishmaél caryed away captiue, sawe Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Ishmaél had caryed away captiue from Mizpáh, returned and came againe, and went vnto Iohanán the sonne of Karéah.

15 But Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, escaped from Iohanán with eight men, and went to the ^h Ammonites.

16 The toke Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, & all the captaines of the hoste, that were with him all the remnant of the people, whome Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, had caryed away captiue from Mizpáh, (after that he had slaine Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám) euen the strong men of warre, and the women, and the children, & the eunuches, whome he had broght againe from Gibeón:

^h For Balsá King of the Ammonites was the cause of this warre ther.

17 And they departed and dwelt in Gerúth Chimham, which is by Beth-léhem, to go ⁱ to entre into Egypt, ⁱ Which place David of olde had giuen to Chimham the sonne of Barzilai the Gileadite, 2 Sam. 33. 38.

18 Because of the Caldeans: for they feared them, because Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh had slaine Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám, whome the King of Babel made gouernour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

^j The captaines aske counsel of Jeremiáh what they ought to do. 7. He admonisheth the remnant of the people not to go into Egypt.

1 Then all the captaines of the hoste, and Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, & Iezaniáh the sonne of Hoshazaiáh, and all the people from the least vnto the moste came,

^k Let my prayer fall for thee, as Chap 36. 7

2 And said vnto Jeremiáh ^l Prophet, "Hearre our prayer, we beseeche thee, & pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euen for all this remnant (for we are left, but a fewe of manie, as thine eyes do beholde)

^k Let my prayer fall for thee, as Chap 36. 7
^l This declarereth the nature of hypocrites, which wolde knowe of Gods worde what they shulde do, but will not follow it, but in as muche as it agreeth with the thing which they haue purposed to do.

3 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may ^m do.

^m There are none more ready to abuse the Name of God and take it in vaine, the hypocrites, to colour their falsehood wth it without all reuerence, and make it a meanes for them to decerne the simple, and the godlie.

4 Then Jeremiáh the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard you: beholde, I wil pray vnto the Lord your God according to your wordes, and whatsoeuer thing the Lord shal answer you, I wil declare it vnto you: I wil kepe nothing backe fró you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiáh, ⁿ The Lord be a witness of truth, and faith betwene vs, if we do not, euen according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shal send thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euil, we wil obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whome we send thee that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

e Here is declared the vision & the occasiō thereof, whereof mencio⁹ was made, Chap 40.4.

7 ¶ And so after ten dayes came ȳ worde of the Lord vnto Jeremiáh.

8 Then called he Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, and all the captaines of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the moste;

9 And said vnto thē, Thus saith the Lord God of Israël, vnto whome ye sent me to present your prayers before him;

d Read Chap. 18.8.

10 If ye wil dwell in this land, then I wil buyld you, and not destroye you, and I wil plant you, and not roote you out: for I d repent me of the euil that I haue done vnto you.

e Because all Kings hearts and wates are in his hands, he can turne them & dispose them as it pleaseth him, and therefore they neede not to feare man, but onely obey God, Prou. 21.1. Or. 21.1.

11 Feare not for the King of Babel, of whome ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, saith the Lord: for I am with you, to saue you, and to deliuer you from his hand, 12 And I wil grant you mercie that he may haue compassiō vpon you, and he shal cause you to dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye say, We wil not dwell in this land, nether heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we wil go into the lād of Egypt, where we shal se no warre, nor heare the sounde of the trumpet, nor haue hungre of bread, and there wil we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the worde of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudáh: thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israël, If ye set your faces to entre into Egypt, and go to dwell there) f Thus God turneth ȳ policie of the wicked to their owne destruction. for their thought thēselues sure in Egypt, and there Nebuchad-nezzár destroyed them, and the Egyptians, Chap. 18.25.

16 Then the sworde that ye feared, shal take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for ȳ which ye care, shal there hág vpon you in Egypt, & there shal ye dye.

17 And all the men that set their faces to entre into Egypt to dwell there, shal dye by the sworde, by the famine & by ȳ pestilence, & none of them shal remaine nor escape frō the plague, that I wil bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hostes ȳ God of Israël, As mine angre and my wrath hath bene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalém: so shal my wrath be powred forth vpon you, when ye shal entre into Egypt, & ye shal be a detestation, & an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproche, and ye shal se this place no more.

g Read Chap. 26.6 & 24.22. shewing that this shalde come vpon them for their inidelitie & subornet.

19 O ye remnant of Iudáh, the Lord hath said concerning you, Go not into Egypt: knowe certainly that I haue admonished you this day.

h For you were fully minded to go into Egypt, wharfoeuer God spaketh to the contrarye.

20 Surely ye haue dissembled in your hearts when ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for vs vnto ȳ Lord our God and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God shal say, and we wil do it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor anie thing for the which he hath sent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, knowe certainly that ye shal dye by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go and dwell.

i To wit, in Egypt.

CHAP. XLIII.

Iohanán carryeth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrarie to the minde of Jeremiáh. Jeremiáh prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

1 Now whē Jeremiáh had made an end of speaking vnto the whole people all the wordes of the Lord their God, for the which ȳ Lord their God had sent him to them, euen all these wordes, a Who was al so called Iezaniáh, Chap. 42.1

2 Then spake Azariáh the sonne of Hoshaiah, and Iohanán the sonne of Karéah and all the proude men, saying vnto Jeremiáh, Thou speakest fallsy: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to dwell there, b This deceypt that pride is the cause of rebellion, & contempt of Gods ministers c When the hypocrite of the wicked is discovered thei braut forthe into open rage: for they can abide nothing but flatteries, read Isa. 30.10. d He sheweth what is the nature of the hypocrites: to wit, to fame that they wolde obey God and embrace his worde, if they were auerred that his messengers spake the trueth: though m deede they be moſte farre from all obediēce.

3 But Barúch the sonne of Neriáh pro-uoketh thee against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hand of the Caldeans, that they might slay vs, and carie vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, and all the captaines of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Iudáh.

5 But Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, and all the captaines of the hoite toke all ȳ remnant of Iudáh, that were returned from all nacions, whether thei had benedriued, to dwell in the land of Iudáh:

e Thus the wicked do not onely commene, & hurt the messengers of God, but sclander, & speake wickedly of all the that support or fauour the godlie.

6 Euen men and women, and children, and the Kings daughters, and euerie persone, that Nebuzar-adán the chief steward had left with Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám, the sonne of Shaphán, and Jeremiáh the Prophet, & Barúch the sonne of Neriáh.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: thus came they to Tahpanhes.

f Thus the wicked do not onely commene, & hurt the messengers of God, but sclander, & speake wickedly of all the that support or fauour the godlie.

8 ¶ Thē came the worde of the Lord vnto Jeremiáh in Tahpanhes, saying, g As from the Moabites, Ammonites, and Edomites, Chap 40.11.

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the bricke kil, which is at the entrie of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudáh, h Whome these wicked led away by force.

10 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israël, Beholde, I wil send and bring Nebuchad-nezzár the King of Babel my seruant, and wil set his throne vpon these stones ȳ I haue hid, and he shal sprede his pauillion ouer thē.

13 He shal breake also the images of Bethshérásh, that is in the land of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shal he burne with fyre.

CHAP. XLIIII.

He reproveth the people for their idolatrie 15 Thei that set light by the threatening of the Lord, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt and of the Lewes therein, is prophesied.

1 THe worde that came to Ieremiáh concerning all the Lewes, which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdól and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the countrey of Pathró, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israél, Ye haue sene all the euil that I haue broght vpon Ierusalém, and vpon all y cities of Iudáh; & beholde, this day they are desolate, & no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednes which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger in that they went to burne incense, & to serue other gods, whome they knewe not, neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruantes the Prophetes rising early, and sending them, saying, Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they wolde not heare nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednes, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath, and mine anger was powred forthe and was kindled in the cities of Iudáh, and in the stretes of Ierusalém, and they are desolate, & wasted, as appeareth this daye.

7 Therefore now thus saith y Lord of hostes the God of Israél, Wherefore commit ye this great euil against your soules, to cut of from you man and woman, childe & suckeling out of Iudáh, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that ye prouoke me vnto wrath with the workes of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whether ye be goneto dwell: y ye might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might be a curse and a reproche among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickednes of your fathers, and the wickednes of the Kings of Iudáh and the wickednes of their wiues and your owne wickednes and the wickednes of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudáh and in y stretes of Ierusalém?

10 They are not humbled vnto this daie, neither haue they feared nor walked in my Lawe nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith y Lord of hostes y God of Israél, Beholde, I wil set my face against you to euil & to destroy all Iudáh, 12 And I wil take the remnant of Iudáh, that haue set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shal all be consumed & fall in the land of Egypt: they shal be consumed by the sworde & by y famine: they shal dye from the least vnto the moste, by the sworde, & by the famine, & they shal be a detestation and an astonishment and a curse and a reproche.

13 For I wil visit them that dwell in the lād of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalém, by y sworde, by the famine, & by the pestilence, 14 So that none of the remnant of Iudáh, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shal escape or remaine, that they shuld returne into the lād of Iudáh to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shal returne, but such as shal escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods, and all the women that stode by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathró, answered Ieremiáh, saying,

16 The worde that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, we wil not heare it of thee,

17 But we wil do whatsoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Quene of heauen, & to powre out drinke offrings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our Kings and our princes in the citie of Iudáh, and in the stretes of Ierusalém: for then had we plenty of vitailles and were wel and felt none euil.

18 But since we left of to burne incense to the Quene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offrings vnto her, we haue had scarcenes of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sworde and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense to the Quene of heauen & powred out drinke offrings vnto her, did we make her cakes to make her glad, and powre out drinke offrings vnto her without our housbandes?

20 Then said Ieremiáh vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all y people w had giue him y answer, saying,

21 Did not y Lord remeber the incense, that ye burnt in y cities of Iudáh, & in the stretes of Ierusalém, both you, & your fathers, your Kings, and your princes, and the people of y lād, & hathe he not considered it?

e He ſetteth before their eyes Gods iudgements againſt Iudáh & Ierusalém for their idolatrie, that they might beware by their example, and not with the like wickednes prouoke the Lord: for then they ſhulde be double puniſhed. He ſheweth that we ought to kepe in memorie Gods plagues from the beginning that conſidering them, we might liue in his feare, and knowe if he haue not ſpared our fathers yea, Kings, princes, and rulers, and alſo whole countreys, and nations for their finnes, & we vile wormes can not loke to eſcape puniſhment for ours "Or, beaten downe."

h This declareth how dangerous a thing it is to decline once from God, & to followe our owne fantaſies: for Satans euer ſoliciteſh ſuche and doeth not leaue the til he haue broght them to extreme impudencie & madnes, eue to iuſtifie their wickednes againſt God, & his prophetes.

i Read Chap. 7, 17 It ſemeth that the Papiſtes gathered of this place their Salve Regina, and Regina celi, leaue, calling y virgine Marie Quene of heauen, & ſo of the bleſſed virgine, & mother of our Sauour Chriſt made an idol: for here the Prophet condemneth their idolatrie.

"Ebr we were ſaciat with bread. k This is ſtil y argument of idolaters, w eſtimate religion by the bellie, & in ſtead of acknowledging Gods workes, who ſendeth bothe plenty & dearth, health, & ſicknes, they attribute it to their idoles, and ſo diſhonour God "Or, ſawe."

22 So that the Lord colde no longer forbear, because of the wickednes of your inuencions, & because of the abominations, which ye haue committed: therefore is your land desolate and an astonishment, & a curse & without inhabitant, as appeareth this daie.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense and because ye haue sinned against the Lord, & haue not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor walked in his Law nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreouer Ieremiáh said vnto all the people and to all the women, Heare the worde of the Lord, all Iudáh that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wiues haue bothe spoken with your mouthes, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We wil performe our vowes & we haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke-offerings to her: ye wil performe your vowes and do the things that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the worde of the Lord, all Iudáh that dwell in the land of Egypt.
Beholde, I haue sworne by my great Name, saith the Lord, that my Name shal no more be called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudáh, in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord God liueth.

27 Beholde, I wil wathe ouer them for eu-il and not for good, and all men of Iudáh that are in the land of Egypt, shal be consumed by the sworde, and by the famine, vntil they be vtterly destroyed.

28 Yet a smale nombre that escape the sworde, shal returne out of the land of Egypt into the land of Iudáh: and all the remnant of Iudáh that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shal knowe whose wordes shal stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shal be a signe vnto you, saith the Lord, when I visite you in this place, that ye maie knowe that my wordes shal surely stand against you for euil.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil giue Pharaóh Hophrá King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seke his life: as I gaue Zedekiáh King of Iudáh into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel his enemy, who also soght his life.

CHAP. XLV.

Ieremiáh comforteth Baruch assuring him that he should not perish in the destruction of Ierusalem.

1 The worde that Ieremiáh the Prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriáh, when he had writen these wor-des in a booke at the mouth of Ieremiáh, in the fourth yere of Ichoiakim the sonne of Iosiáh King of Iudáh, saying, 1 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto thee, O Baruch,

2 Thou didest say, Wo is me now: for the Lord hath layed sorowe vnto my sorow:
I am fainted in my mourning, and I can finde no rest.

3 Thus shalt thou say vnto him, The Lord saith thus, Beholde, that which I haue buyt, wil I destroye, & that which I haue planted, wil I plucke vp, euen this whole land.

4 And sekest thou great things for thy selfe: seke them not: for beholde, I wil bring a plague vpon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life wil I giue thee: for I pray in all places, whether thou goest.

1 He prophesieth the destruction of Egypt. 27 Deliurance is promised to Israel.

1 The wordes of the Lord, which came to Ieremiáh the Prophet against the Gentiles,

2 As against Egypt, against the armie of Pharaóh Necho King of Egypt, which fourth to battel.

4 Make readie the horses, and let the horsemen get vp, & stand vp wth your fallers, fourbish the speares, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore haue I sene them afraide, & driuen backe: for their mightie men are smitten, and are fled away, and loke not backe: for feare was round about, saith the Lord.

6 The swift shal not flee away, nor the strong manscape: they shal stumbe, and fall toward the North by the riuer Perath.

7 Who is this, that cometh vp, as a flood, whose waters are moued like the riuers?

8 Egypt riseth vp like the flood, and his waters are moued like the riuers, and he saith, I wil go vp, & wil couer the earth:
I wil destroye the cite with them that dwell therein.

9 Come vp, ye horses, and rage ye charets, and let the valiant men come forthe, & the blacke Mores, and the Lybians that beare the shield, and the Lydians that handle & bend the bowe.

10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hostes, & a day of vengeance, that he may aduége him of his enemies: for the sworde shal deuoure, and it shal be sariat, and made drunke with their blood: for the Lord
