¹⁵“Then hear now the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah! Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘If you wholly ^aset your faces to enter Egypt, and go to dwell there,

¹⁶“then it shall be that the ^bsword which you feared shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt; the famine of which you were afraid shall follow close after you there in Egypt; and there you shall die.

¹⁸“For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘As My anger and My fury have been poured out on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so will My fury be poured out on you when you enter Egypt. And you shall be an oath, an ^dastonishment, a curse, and a reproach; and you shall see this place no more.’

¹⁹“The LORD has said concerning you, O remnant of Judah, ^e“Do not go to Egypt!’ Know certainly that I have admonished you this day.

²⁰“For you were hypocrites in your hearts when you sent me to the LORD your God, saying, ‘Pray for us to the LORD our God, and according to all that the LORD your God says, so declare to us and we will do it.’

²¹“And I have this day declared it to you, but you have ^fnot obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, or anything which He has sent you by me.

²²“Now therefore, know certainly that you shall ^gdie by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence in the place where you desire to go to dwell.”

Jeremiah in Egypt, warns of judgment

43 NOW it happened, when Jeremiah had stopped speaking to all the people all the ^hwords of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, all these words,

²that Azariah the son of Hoshaiiah, Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men spoke, saying to Jeremiah, “You speak ⁱfalsely! The LORD our God has not sent you to say, ‘Do not go to Egypt to dwell there.’

³“But ^jBaruch the son of Neriah has set you against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death or carry us away captive to ^kBabylon.”

⁴So Johanan the son of Kareah, all the captains of the forces, and all the people would ^lnot obey the voice of the LORD, to remain in the land of Judah.

⁵But Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces took all the ^mremnant of Judah who had returned to dwell in the land of Judah, from all nations where they had been driven—

⁶men, women, children, the ⁿking’s daughters, and ^oevery person whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch the son of Neriah.

⁷^pSo they went to the land of Egypt, for they did not obey the voice of the LORD. And they went as far as Tahpanhes.

⁸Then the ^qword of the LORD came to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

⁹“Take large stones in your hand, and hide them in the sight of the men of Judah, in the clay in the brick courtyard which ^ris at the entrance to Pharaoh’s house in Tahpanhes;

¹⁰“and say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Behold, I will send and bring Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, ^sMy servant, and will set his throne above these stones that I have hidden. And he will spread his royal pavilion over them.

¹¹“When he comes, he shall strike the land of ^tEgypt and deliver to death those appointed for death, and to captivity those appointed for

Message to the Jews in Egypt
(cp. Jer. 43:8–13)

44 THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews who dwell in the land of Egypt, who dwell at ^bMigdol, at Tahpanhes, at ^cNoph,* and in the country of ^dPathros, saying,

²“Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘You have seen all the calamity that I have brought on Jerusalem and on all the cities of Judah; and behold, this day they are a ^edesolation, and no one dwells in them, ³“because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke Me to anger, in that they went to burn incense and to ^fserve other gods whom they did not know, they nor you nor your fathers.

⁵“But they did not listen or incline their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense to other gods.

poured out and kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as it is this day.⁷

⁷“Now therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Why do you commit this great evil ^aagainst yourselves, to cut off from you man and woman, child and infant, out of Judah, leaving none to remain,

⁸‘in that you provoke Me to wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense to other gods in the land of Egypt where you have gone to dwell, that you may cut yourselves off and be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?’

¹⁰‘They have not been ^bhumbled, to this day, nor have they ^cfear^d; they have not walked in My law or in My statutes that I set before you and your fathers.’

¹²‘And I will take the remnant of Judah who have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to dwell there, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the land of Egypt. They shall be ^econsumed by the sword and by famine. They shall die, from the least to the greatest, by the sword and by famine; and they shall be an oath, an ^fastonishment, a curse and a reproach!

¹³‘For I will ^gpunish those who dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence,

¹⁴‘so that none of the remnant of Judah who have gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there shall escape or survive, lest they return to the land of Judah, to which they ^hdesire to return and dwell. For none shall return except those who escape.’”

¹⁵Then ⁱall the men who knew that their wives had burned incense to other gods, with all the women who stood by, a great multitude, and all the people who dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying:

¹⁶“As ^jfor the word that you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD, we will ^knot listen to you!

¹⁷“But we will certainly do ^lwhatever has gone out of our own mouth, to burn incense to the ^mqueen of heaven and pour out drink offerings to her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. For ⁿthen we had plenty of ^ofood, were well-off, and saw no trouble.

¹⁹The women also said, “And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven and poured out drink offerings to her, did we make cakes for her, to worship her, and pour out drink offerings to her without our ^qhusbands’ permission?”

²⁰Then Jeremiah spoke to all the people—the men, the women, and all the people who had given him that answer—saying:

²¹“The incense that you burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, you and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and did it not come into His mind?

²²“So the LORD could no longer bear ^rit, because of the evil of your doings and because of the abominations which you committed. Therefore your land is a desolation, an ^sastonishment, a curse, and without an inhabitant, as it is this day.

²⁷‘Behold, I will watch over them for adversity and not for good. And all the men of Judah who are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by famine, until there is an end to them.

²⁸‘Yet a small number who escape the sword shall return from the land of Egypt to the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah, who have gone to the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words will stand, Mine or theirs.

³‘You said, “Woe is me now! For the LORD has added grief to my sorrow. I faint in my sighing, and I find no rest.” ’

⁴“Thus you shall say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD: “Behold, what I have built I will break down, and what I have planted I will pluck up, that is, this whole land.

⁵“And do you seek great things for yourself? Do not seek them; for behold, I will bring adversity on all flesh,” says the LORD. “But I will give your life to you as a prize in all places, wherever you go.” ’ ”

Prophecy against Egypt

46 THE word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the prophet against the nations.

²Against Egypt.

Concerning the army of Pharaoh Necho, king of Egypt, which was by the River Euphrates in Carchemish, and which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon defeated in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah:

³“Order the buckler and shield, And draw near to battle!

⁴ Harness the horses, And mount up, you horsemen! Stand forth with your helmets, Polish the spears, Put on the armor!

⁶“Do not let the swift flee away, Nor the mighty man escape; They will stumble and fall

Prophecy against Edom

Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"Is wisdom no more in ^bTeman? Has counsel perished from the prudent?

Has their wisdom ^cvanished?

⁸ Flee, turn back, dwell in the depths, O inhabitants of Dedan!

For I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, The time that I will ^dpunish him.

⁹ If grape-gatherers came to you, Would they not leave some gleaning ^egrapes?

If thieves by night, Would they not destroy until they have enough?

¹⁰ But I have made Esau ^fbare; I have uncovered his secret places,

And he shall not be able to hide himself.

His descendants are plundered, His brethren and his neighbors, And he is no more.

¹¹ Leave your fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; And let your widows trust in Me."

¹²For thus says the LORD: "Behold, those whose judgment was not to drink of the cup have assuredly drunk. And are you the one who will altogether go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, but you shall surely drink of it."

¹³"For I have sworn by Myself," says the LORD, "that ^gBozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse. And all its cities shall be perpetual wastes."

¹⁴ ^hI have heard a message from the LORD,

And an ambassador has been sent to the nations:

"Gather together, come against her, And rise up to battle!

¹⁵ "For indeed, I will make you small among nations, Despised among men.

¹⁶ Your fierceness has deceived you,

The ⁱpride of your heart, O you who dwell in the clefts of the rock,

Who hold the height of the hill! Though you make your nest as high as the eagle,

I will bring you down from there," says the LORD.

¹⁷ "Edom also shall be an astonishment;

Everyone who goes by it will be ^jastonished

And will hiss at all its plagues.

¹⁸ ^kAs in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah

And their neighbors," says the LORD,

"No one shall remain there, Nor shall a son of man dwell in it.

¹⁹ "Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the floodplain* of the Jordan

Against the dwelling place of the strong;

But I will suddenly make him run away from her.

And who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her?

49:7 Observe that this passage (vv. 7-17) is strikingly similar to Obadiah, e.g. Obad. 8-9.

49:11 trust. Trust is the characteristic OT word for the NT "faith" and "believe." It occurs 154 times in the OT, and is the rendering of Hebrew words signifying to take refuge (Ps. 2:12); to lean on (Ps. 56:3); to roll on (Ps. 22:8).

49:17 Edom (called "Seir," Gen. 32:3; 36:8) is the name of the country lying south of the ancient kingdom of Judah and extending from the Dead Sea to the Gulf of Aqaba.

ba. It includes the ruins of Petra, and is bounded on the north by Moab. Peopled by descendants of Esau (Gen. 36:1-19), Edom has a remarkable prominence in the prophetic Word as (together with Moab) the scene of the final destruction of Gentile world-power in the Day of the LORD. See Armageddon (Rev. 16:13-16; 19:17-21) and Times of the Gentiles (Luke 21:24; Rev. 16:19). Compare Ps. 137:7; Is. 34:1-8; 63:1-6; Jer. 49:17-22; Ezek. 25:12-14; Obad. 1-21.

- 20 Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD that He has taken against Edom,
And His purposes that He has proposed against the inhabitants of Teman:
^a Surely the least of the flock shall draw them out;
Surely He shall make their dwelling places desolate with them.
- 21 The earth shakes at the noise of their fall;
At the cry its noise is heard at the Red Sea.
- 22 Behold, He shall come up and fly like the eagle,

Prophecy against Babylon

50 THE word that the LORD spoke against ^bBabylon and against the land of the Chaldeans by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 "Declare among the nations,
 Proclaim, and set up a standard;
 Proclaim—do not conceal it—
 Say, 'Babylon is ^ctaken, ^dBel is shamed.
 Merodach* is broken in pieces;
 Her idols are humiliated,
 Her images are broken in pieces.'

3 For out of the north a nation comes up against her,
 Which shall make her land desolate,
 And ^eno one shall dwell therein.
 They shall move, they shall depart,
 Both man and beast.

4 "In those days and in that time," says the LORD,

"The children of Israel shall come,
 They and the children of Judah together;
 With continual weeping they shall come,
 And seek the LORD their God.

5 They shall ask the way to Zion,
 With their faces toward it,
 saying,
 'Come and let us join ourselves to the LORD
 In a perpetual ^fcovenant
 That will not be forgotten.'

6 "My people have been lost ^gsheep.
 Their shepherds have led them ^hastray;
 They have turned them away ⁱon the mountains.
 They have gone from mountain to hill;
 They have forgotten their resting place.

7 All who found them have devoured them;
 And their adversaries said, 'We have ^jnot offended,
 Because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of justice,
 The LORD, the hope of their fathers.'

8 "Move from the midst of Babylon,
^jGo out of the land of the Chaldeans;
 And be like the rams before the flocks.

9 For behold, ^kI will raise and cause to come up against Babylon

Chaldeans: The people of the region of Chaldea, located near the Persian Gulf.

15 Shout against her all around;
She has given her hand,

Bashan: soft, rich soil. A fertile area of land east of the Sea of Galilee.

You have indeed been ^atrapped,
 O Babylon,
 And you were not aware;
 You have been found and also

 Because you have ^bcontended against the LORD.

25 The LORD has opened His armory,
 And has brought out the weapons of His indignation;
 For this is the work of the Lord
 GOD of hosts
 In the land of the Chaldeans.

26 Come against her from the farthest border;
 Open her storehouses;
 Cast her up as heaps of ruins,
 And destroy her utterly;
 Let nothing of her be left.

27 Slay all her bulls,
 Let them go down to the slaughter.
 Woe to them!
 For their day has come, the time of their punishment.

28 The voice of those who flee and escape from the land of Declares in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God,

 The vengeance of His temple.

29 "Call together the archers

 Let none of them escape.*
 Repay her according to her work;
 According to all she has done,
 do to her;
 For she has been ^cproud against
 the LORD,
 Against the Holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore her young men shall fall in the streets,
 And all her men of war shall be

 the LORD.

31 "Behold, I am against you,

 "For your day has come,

 you.*

32 The most ^eproud shall stumble and fall,
 And no one will raise him up;
 I will kindle a fire in his cities,
 And it will devour all around

33 Thus says the LORD of hosts:
 "The children of Israel were

 Along with the children of Judah;
 All who took them captive have held them fast;
 They have refused to let them go.

34 Their ^fRedeemer is strong;

- ⁹ We would have healed Babylon,
But she is not healed.
Forsake her, and let us go everyone to his own country;
For her judgment reaches to heaven and is lifted up to the skies.
- ¹⁰ The LORD has ^frevealed our righteousness.

- 28 Prepare against her the nations,
With the kings of the Medes,

All the land of his dominion.
- 29 And the land will tremble and sorrow;
For every ^epurpose of the LORD shall be performed against Babylon,
To make the land of Babylon a desolation without ^finhabitant.
- 30 The mighty men of Babylon
have ceased fighting,
They have remained in their

Their might has failed,
They became like women;
They have burned her dwelling

- 31 One runner will run to meet

And one messenger to meet another,
To show the king of Babylon that his city is taken on all

- 32 The passages are blocked,
The reeds they have burned with fire,
And the men of war are terrified.
- 33 For thus says the LORD of hosts,
the God of Israel:
- “The daughter of Babylon is like

When it is time to thresh her;
Yet a little while
And the time of her harvest will come.”

- 35 Let the violence done to me and my flesh be upon Babylon,”
The inhabitant of Zion will say;
“And my blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea!”
Jerusalem will say.
- 36 Therefore thus says the LORD:
“Behold, I will ⁱplead your case and take vengeance for you.
I will dry up her sea and make her springs dry.

61^a And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, "When you arrive in Babylon and see it, and read all these words, 62^a "then you shall say, 'O LORD, You have spoken against this place to cut it off, so that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but it shall be desolate ^hforever.'

III. Historical Supplement, 52

An appendix: second account of overthrow of Judah

(cp. 2 Kin. 25:1–26; Jer. 39:1–10)

52^a ZEDEKIAH ^kwas twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of ^lLibnah.

2^a He also did evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

3^a For because of the anger of the LORD this happened in Jerusalem and Judah, till He finally cast them out from His presence. Then Zedekiah ^mrebelled against the king of Babylon.

4^a Now it came to pass in the ⁿninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and encamped against it; and they built a siege wall against it all around.

5^a So the city was besieged until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

6^a By the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, the famine had become so severe in the city that there was no food for the people of the land.

7^a Then the city wall was broken through, and all the men of war fled and went out of the city at night by way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden, even though the Chaldeans were near the city all around. And they went by way of the plain.

8^a But the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king, and they ^oovertook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. All his army was scattered from him.

52:7 plain. Arabah in Hebrew. When used with the definite article only, it refers to the valley which runs from the Sea of Galilee to the Gulf of Aqabah. South of the Dead Sea the name is still retained (Wady el-Arabah).

⁹So they took the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the land of Hamath, and he pronounced judgment on him.

¹⁰Then the king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes. And he killed all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

¹¹He also ^aput out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in bronze fetters, took him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

¹³He ^cburned the house of the LORD and the king's house; all the houses of Jerusalem, that is, all the houses of the great, he burned with fire.

¹⁴And all the army of the Chaldeans who were with the captain of the guard broke down all the walls of Jerusalem all around.

¹⁵Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive some of the poor people, the rest of the people who remained in the city, the defectors who had deserted to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the craftsmen.

¹⁶But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left some of the poor of the land as vinedressers and ^dfarmers.

¹⁷^eThe bronze pillars that were in the house of the LORD, and the carts and the bronze Sea that were in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans broke in pieces, and carried all their bronze to Babylon.

¹⁸They also took away the pots, the shovels, the trimmers, the bowls, the spoons, and all the bronze utensils with which the priests ministered.

¹⁹The basins, the firepans, the bowls, the pots, the lampstands, the spoons, and the cups, whatever was solid gold and whatever was solid silver, the captain of the guard took away.

²⁰The two pillars, one Sea, the twelve bronze bulls which were under it, and the carts, which King Solomon had made for the house of the LORD—the bronze of all these articles was beyond *f*measure.

²¹Now concerning the *g*pillars: the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, a measuring line of twelve ^hcubits could measure its circumference, and its thickness was four fingers; it was hollow.

TEMPLE PLUNDERERS

Name	Reference	What was done or taken
King Shishak of Egypt	1 Kings 14:25-27; 2 Chronicles 12:9	Took temple treasures and gold shields.
King Asa of Judah	1 Kings 15:16-19	Took silver and gold of the temple treasures to bribe the King of Syria into an alliance.
Sons of Queen Athaliah of Judah	2 Chronicles 24:7	Broke into the temple, took the sacred objects and presented them to the Baals.
King Joash of Judah	2 Kings 12:18	Took sacred objects and gold from the treasures to bribe Hazael, king of Syria.
King Jehoash of Israel	2 Kings 14:14	Took all the gold and silver and all the sacred temple articles.
King Ahaz of Judah	2 Kings 16:8	Took all the silver and gold to pay tribute to the King of Assyria.
King Hezekiah of Judah	2 Kings 18:15-16	Took all the silver and stripped the gold from the temple doors and pillars to pay tribute to the King of Assyria.
Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon	2 Kings 24:13	Took all the temple treasurers and all the gold articles.
Nebuzaradan, captain of the guard of Nebuchadnezzar	Jeremiah 52:12-23; 2 Kings 25:9	Took all the bronze pillars and furnishings, all the utensils and articles made of solid gold or silver. Burned the temple.

²²A capital of bronze was on it; and the height of one capital was five cubits, with a network and pomegranates all around the capital, all of bronze. The second pillar, with pomegranates was the same.

²³There were ninety-six pomegranates on the sides; all the ^apomegranates, all around on the network, were one hundred.

²⁴The captain of the guard took ^bSeraiah the chief priest, ^cZephaniah the second priest, and the three doorkeepers.

²⁵He also took out of the city an officer who had charge of the men of war, seven men of the king's close associates who were found in the city, the principal scribe of the army who mustered the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land who were found in the midst of the city.

²⁶And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took these and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

²⁷Then the king of Babylon struck them and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive from its own land.

²⁸^dThese are the people whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year, three thousand and twenty-three Jews;

²⁹in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred and thirty-two persons;

³⁰in the twenty-third year of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred and forty-five persons. All the persons were four thousand six hundred.

³²And he spoke kindly to him and gave him a more prominent seat than those of the kings who were with him in Babylon.

³³So Jehoiachin changed from his prison garments, and he ate bread regularly before the king all the days of his life.

³⁴And as for his provisions, there was a regular ration given him by the king of Babylon, a portion for each day until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

Literary Background

Lamentations, composed of five elegies lamenting the destruction of Jerusalem, is undoubtedly the work of Jeremiah. In literary form chapters 1—4 are alphabetic, somewhat on the order of Psalm 119. Thus in chapters 1 and 2 a new letter of the Hebrew alphabet begins each of the twenty-two verses. In chapter 3 there are sixty-six verses, arranged in twenty-two groups of three verses. Each group of three verses uses a successive letter of the alphabet, each verse in the group beginning with that one letter. The fifth chapter, although not alphabetical, contains twenty-two verses in a plaintive meter which—the second half of each verse being shorter than the first—conveys a somber effect of diminuendo.

The Old Testament in the New

The deeper significance of Lamentations lies in the fact that Jeremiah's intense burden of sympathy for Jerusalem discloses the love and sorrow of the LORD for the very people whom He is chastening, a burden similar to that which the Lord Jesus Christ expressed in His lament over Jerusalem (Matthew 23:37–39).

| V. A Plaintive Prayer to the Lord | 5:1–22 |

I. The Desolation of Jerusalem

- 1 HOW ^alonely sits the city
That was full of people!
^bHow like a widow is she,
Who was great among the nations!
The ^cprinces among the provinces
Has become a slave!
- 2 She weeps bitterly in the night,
Her tears are on her cheeks;
Among all her lovers
She has none to comfort her.
All her friends have dealt treacherously with her;
They have become her enemies.
- 3 ^dJudah has gone into captivity,
Under affliction and hard servitude;
She dwells among the nations,
She finds no ^erest;
All her persecutors overtake her in dire straits.
- 4 The roads to Zion mourn
Because no one comes to the set feasts.
All her gates are ^fdesolate;
Her priests sigh,
Her virgins are afflicted,
And she is in bitterness.
- 5 Her adversaries have become the ^gmaster,
Her enemies prosper;
For the LORD has afflicted her ^hBecause of the multitude of her transgressions.
Her children have gone into captivity before the enemy.
- 6 And from the daughter of Zion
All her splendor has departed.
Her princes have become like deer
That find no ⁱpasture,
That flee without strength
Before the pursuer.
- 7 In the days of her affliction and roaming,

Jerusalem /remembers all her pleasant things
That she had in the days of old.
When her people fell into the hand of the enemy,
With no one to help her,
The adversaries saw her
And mocked at her downfall.*

- 8 ^kJerusalem has sinned gravely,
Therefore she has become vile.*
All who honored her despise her
Because they have seen her nakedness;
Yes, she sighs and turns away.

- 9 Her uncleanness is in her skirts;
She did not consider her ^ldestiny;
Therefore her collapse was awesome;
She had no comforter.
“O LORD, behold my affliction,
For the enemy is exalted!”

- 10 The adversary has spread his hand
Over all her pleasant things;
For she has seen the nations
^menter her sanctuary,
Those whom You commanded ⁿNot to enter Your assembly.

- 11 All her people sigh,
They seek bread;
They have given their valuables for food to restore life.
“See, O LORD, and consider,
For I am scorned.”

- 12 “Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by?
Behold and see ^oIf there is any sorrow like my sorrow,
Which has been brought on me,
Which the LORD has inflicted
In the day of His fierce anger.

- 13 “From above He has sent fire into my bones,
And it overpowered them;
He has ^pspread a net for my feet
And turned me back;
He has made me desolate
And faint all the day.

Judah: praised. The southern kingdom.

Jerusalem: founded in peace. The capital of David's kingdom and the religious center of Israel. Solomon built a magnificent temple here. The city and temple were destroyed and restored throughout Israel's history.

*1:7 Vulgate reads her Sabbaths.*1:8 Septuagint and Vulgate read moved or removed.

- 14^a “The ^ayoke of my transgressions was bound;^{*}
They were woven together by His hands,
And thrust upon my neck.
He made my strength fail;
The Lord delivered me into the hands of those whom I am not able to withstand.
- 15 “The Lord has trampled underfoot all my mighty men in my midst;
He has called an assembly against me
To crush my young men;
The Lord trampled as in a winepress
The virgin daughter of Judah.
- 16 “For these things I weep;
My eye, my eye overflows with water;
Because the ^bcomforter, who should restore my life,
Is far from me.
My children are desolate
Because the enemy prevailed.”
- 17 Zion spreads out her hands,
But no one comforts ^cher;
The LORD has commanded concerning Jacob
That those ^daround him become his adversaries;
Jerusalem has become an unclean thing among them.
- 18 “The LORD is ^erighteous,
For I rebelled against His commandment.
Hear now, all peoples,
And behold my sorrow;
My virgins and my young men
Have gone into captivity.
- 19 “I called for my lovers,
But they deceived me;
My priests and my elders
Breathed their last in the city,
While they sought food
To restore their life.
- 20 “See, O LORD, that I am in distress;
My soul is troubled;
My heart is overturned within me,
For I have been very rebellious.
Outside the *h*sword bereaves,
At home it is like death.
- 21 “They have heard that I sigh,
But no one comforts me.
All my enemies have heard of my trouble;
They are *g*glad that You have done it.
Bring on the ^hday You have announced,
That they may become like me.
- 22 “Let all their wickedness come before You,
And *i*do to them as You have done to me
For all my transgressions;
For my sighs are many,
And my heart is faint.”
- II. The Day of the LORD's Anger*
- 2 HOW the Lord has covered the daughter of Zion
With a ⁱcloud in His anger!
He ^kcast down from heaven to the earth
The beauty of Israel,
And did not remember His ^lfootstool
In the day of His anger.
- 2 The Lord has swallowed up and has ^mnot pitied
All the dwelling places of Jacob.
He has thrown down in His wrath
The strongholds of the daughter of Judah;
He has brought them down to the ground;
He has profaned the kingdom and its princes.
- 3 He has cut off in fierce anger
Every horn of Israel;

1:15 winepress. A winepress is at times used to picture divine judgment (Is. 63:3; Rev. 14:19–20; 19:15).

2:3 horn. The words “horn” and “horns” (OT, qeren; NT keras) are used in Scripture both literally and figuratively. In the latter sense at least three meanings appear: (1) strength in general (Deut. 33:17); (2) arrogant pride (Ps. 75:4–5); and

(3) political and military power (Dan. 8:20–21).

Jacob: supplanter. The younger son of Isaac and Rebekah who tricked his brother Esau into selling him his birthright. He deceived his father in order to receive the family blessing.

	He has drawn back His ^a right hand From before the enemy. He has blazed against Jacob like a flaming fire Devouring all around.	Therefore He has caused the rampart and wall to lament; They languished together.
	^{4 b} Standing like an enemy, He has bent His bow; With His right hand, like an adversary, He has slain all who were pleasing to His eye; On the tent of the daughter of Zion, He has poured out His fury like fire.	⁹ Her gates have sunk into the ground; He has destroyed and broken her bars. Her ^k king and her princes are among the nations; The Law is no more , And her prophets find ^l no vision from the LORD.

- 5 He has besieged me
And surrounded me with bitterness and woe.
- 6 ^lHe has set me in dark places
Like the dead of long ago.
- 7^mHe has hedged me in so that I cannot get out;
He has made my chain heavy.
- 8 ⁿEven when I cry and shout,
He shuts out my prayer.
- 9 He has blocked my ways with hewn stone;
He has made my paths crooked.

3:20 THINGS MOURNED FOR IN LAMENTATIONS

For the city of Jerusalem:	1:1–9; 2:1–2, 8–9, 15–16; 4:1
For the destruction of the temple:	1:10; 2:2–9
For lack of any comfort:	1:16–17, 21
For personal loss	3:1–21
For the people of Judah	1:15–16, 18; 2:9b– 12, 20–21; 4:14–19; 5:3–6, 14–16
For victims of rape and torture:	5:11–12
For those taken into slavery:	5:8, 13
For severe famine:	1:11, 19; 2:19–20; 4:3–5, 7–10

*3:13 Literally kidneys

3:22 This beautiful passage (vv. 22–27) sounds a note of hope and trust amid the gloom of the book. Even his grief cannot blind the prophet to the abiding faithfulness of the LORD (compare also vv. 31–33, 40–41, 55–58).

- 11 The LORD has fulfilled His fury, ^gHe has poured out His fierce anger.
He ^hkindled a fire in Zion,
And it has devoured its foundations.
- 12 The kings of the earth,
And all inhabitants of the world,
Would not have believed
That the adversary and the enemy
Could ⁱenter the gates of Jerusalem—
- 13 ^jBecause of the sins of her prophets
And the iniquities of her priests,
Who shed in her midst
The blood of the just.
- 14 They wandered blind in the streets;
They have defiled themselves with blood,
So that no one would touch their garments.
- 15 They cried out to them,
“Go away, ^kunclean!
Go away, go away,
Do not touch us!”
When they fled and wandered,
Those among the nations said,
“They shall no longer dwell here.”
- 16 The face* of the LORD scattered
them;
He no longer regards them.
The people do not respect the priests
Nor show favor to the elders.
- 17 Still our eyes failed us,
Watching vainly for our help;
In our watching we watched
For a nation that could not save us.
- 18 They tracked our steps
So that we could not walk in our streets.
^lOur end was near;
Our days were over,
For our end had come.

THE BOOK OF EZEKIEL

Author:
Ezekiel

Theme:
Judgment and Glory

Date of writing:
6th Cent. B.C.

Background

Ezekiel, a priest whose name means God will strengthen, was among the Jewish exiles carried away to Babylon between the first and final deportations of Judah (2 Kings 24:11–16). His book shows him as a man of stern integrity and strong purpose, completely devoted to the practices of his priestly religion. Like Daniel and the Apostle John, he prophesied outside the land of Judah; and his prophecy, like theirs, follows the method of symbol and vision. Unlike the pre-exilic prophets, whose ministry was primarily either to Judah or to the ten-tribe kingdom, or to both, Ezekiel was the voice of the LORD to “the whole house of Israel.” In marked contrast with Jeremiah, all of the material in Ezekiel’s prophecy is arranged in chronological order as God revealed it to him.

Speaking broadly, the purpose of Ezekiel’s ministry was to keep before the generation born in exile the national sins which had brought Israel so low (for example, Ezekiel 14:23); to sustain the faith of the exiles by predictions of national restoration, of the execution of justice upon their oppressors, and of national glory under the Davidic monarchy.

God’s Relationship with Man

Observe that the glory of the LORD departed from the city just before the destruction of Jerusalem (11:23); this glory will return to Jerusalem in the millennial period (43:2). No Temple in Jerusalem has known the presence of the glory of God in this manner since 586 B.C.

I. The Call of Ezekiel, 1-3

*Occasion of Ezekiel's first vision:
the glory of the LORD*

1 NOW it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives ^a by the River Chebar, that the heavens were ^bopened and I saw visions* of God.

²On the fifth day of the month, which was in the fifth year of King Jehoiachin's captivity, ³the word of the LORD came expressly to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans* by the River Chebar; and the hand of the LORD was upon him there.

⁴Then I looked, and behold, a whirlwind was coming out of the north, a great cloud with raging fire engulfing itself; and brightness was all around it and radiating out of its midst like the color of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

⁵Also from within it came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: they had the likeness of a man.

⁶Each one had four faces, and each one had four wings.

⁷Their legs were straight, and the soles of their feet were like the soles of calves' feet. They sparkled like the color of burnished bronze.

⁸The hands of a man were under their wings on their four sides; and each of the four had faces and wings.

⁹Their wings touched one another. The creatures did not turn when they went, but each one went straight ^dforward.

¹⁰As for the ^elikeness of their faces, ^eeach had the face of a man; each of the four had the face of a lion on the right side, each of the four had the face of an ox on the left side, and each of the four had the face of an eagle.

¹¹Thus were their faces. ^hTheir wings stretched upward; two wings of each one touched one another, and two covered their bodies.

¹²And each one ⁱwent straight forward; they went ^jwherever the spirit wanted to go, and they did not turn when they went.

¹³As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, like the appearance of torches going back and forth among the living creatures. The fire was bright, and out of the fire went lightning.

¹⁴And the living creatures ran back and forth, in ^kappearance like a flash of lightning.

¹⁵Now as I looked at the living creatures, behold, a wheel was on Ezekiel: whom God will strengthen. A major prophet who prophesied the fall of Jerusalem to the Jews in exile in Babylonia. His book of Ezekiel records many of his visions as well as the hope of the coming Messiah.

1:2 fifth year. Approximately 593 B.C.

1:3 priest. Since Ezekiel was a priest, it is possible to trace priestly indications throughout his prophecy. His visions of the divine glory (chs. 1 and 10) are reminiscent of the Shekinah in the Mosaic system. The stages of the departure of the glory (chs. 8-11) are described by one familiar with the priestly order. Chapters 40-48 are admittedly couched in terms understandable only in the framework of the Levitical appointments. Even details of the priesthood, such as the prohibition against defilement of the priest (4:13ff.), and the profanation of the Sabbath (20:12ff.; 22:8) are found.

EZEKIEL'S VISION

In exile, far from the sight of the glory of God's earthly temple, surrounded by the pomp of idolatry, Ezekiel received a vision of the majesty and wonder of God's glory, showing that his God was more magnificent than anything to be found in heathenism, and impressing on his mind the greatness of the unseen God of Israel. The vision indicated that the affairs of the world are not directed by impersonal laws of nature, but by a living Spirit (vv. 20-21). Above the babel of man's plans, the authoritative voice of God speaks (v. 24). The four faces in the vision (v. 10) prefigure the four aspects in which God would reveal Himself when He incarnated Himself in human flesh as Messiah. On the right is the lion, symbol of kingship (Matthew). On the left is the ox, symbol of the Servant (Mark). The face of a man represents His perfect humanity (Luke). The eagle, soaring overhead, symbolizes His Deity (John). Compare also Rev. 4:7.

the earth beside each living creature with its four faces.

¹⁶The appearance of the wheels and their workings was ^alike the color of beryl, and all four had the same likeness. The appearance of their workings was, as it were, a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

¹⁷When they moved, they went toward any one of four directions; they did not turn aside when they went.

¹⁸As for their rims, they were so high they were awesome; and their rims were ^bfull of eyes, all around the four of them.

¹⁹When the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

²⁰Wherever the spirit wanted to go, they went, because there the spirit went; and the wheels were lifted together with them, for the spirit of the living creatures* was in the wheels.

²¹When those went, these went; when those ^cstood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up together with them, for the spirit of the living creatures* was in the wheels.

²²The likeness of the firmament above the heads of the living creatures* was like the color of an awesome ^dcrystal, stretched out ^eover their heads.

²³And under the firmament their wings spread out straight, one toward another. Each one had two which covered one side, and each one had two which covered the other side of the body.

²⁴When they went, I heard the noise of their ^fwings, like the ^gnoise of many waters, ^hlike the voice of the Almighty, a tumult like the noise of an army; and when they stood still, they let down their wings.

²⁵A voice came from above the firmament that was over their heads; whenever they stood, they let down their wings.

²⁶And above the firmament over their heads was the likeness of a throne, in appearance ⁱlike a sapphire stone; on the likeness of the throne was a likeness with the appearance of a man high above ^jit.

²⁷Also from the appearance of His waist and upward I saw, as it were, the color of amber with the appearance of fire all around within it; and from the appearance of His waist and downward I saw, as it were, the appearance of fire with brightness all around.

²⁸^kLike the appearance of a rainbow in a cloud on a rainy day, so was the appearance of the brightness all around it. This was the appearance of the likeness of the ^lglory of the LORD.

So when I saw it, ^mI fell on my face, and I heard a voice of One speaking.

2:1 Son of man. The expression "son of man" is a common Semitic way of indicating an individual man (Ps. 4:2; 57:4; 58:1; 144:3; Jer. 49:18,33; 50:40; 51:43). God addresses Ezekiel about ninety times by this title. In Dan. 7:13 the term is used to show that an actual man will come in the clouds of heaven to receive a worldwide kingdom. From this use in Daniel it came to refer to the

The living creatures are identified as the cherubim in 10:20. The cherubim are symbolic of God's holy presence and unapproachability. They are celestial beings who guard and vindicate the righteousness of God (compare Gen. 3:24; Ex. 26:1,31; 36:8,35), the mercy of God (compare Ex. 25:22; 37:9), and the government of God (compare 1 Sam. 4:4; Ps. 80:1; 99:1; Ezek. 1:22,26). In the holy of holies God's glory dwelt between the cherubim (Ps. 80:1; compare Ex. 25:10-22). Some think that the living creatures of Rev. 4 are cherubim (besides points of similarity, observe dissimilarity to the cherubim in number of wings: Ezek. 1:6; 10:21; Rev. 4:8; compare Is. 6:2). This dissimilarity may indicate that these beings have power to appear in different forms for purposes of symbolic revelation.

²Then the ^aSpirit ^bentered me when He ^cspoke to me, and set me on my feet; and I heard Him who spoke to me.

³And He said to me: “Son of man, I am sending you to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that has ^drebelled against Me; they and their fathers have transgressed against Me to this very day.

⁴“For they are impudent and ^estubborn children. I am sending you to them, and you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD.’

⁵“As for them, whether they hear or whether they ^frefuse—for they are a ^grebellious house—yet they will know that a prophet has been among them.

⁷“You shall speak My words to them, whether they hear or whether they refuse, for they are rebellious.

⁸“But ⁱyou, son of man, hear what I say to you. Do not be rebellious like that rebellious house; open your mouth and ^jeat what I give you.”

⁹Now when I looked, there was a hand stretched out to me; and behold, a scroll of a book was in it.

¹⁰Then He spread it before me; and there was writing on the inside and on the outside, and written on it were lamentations and mourning and woe.

Ezekiel, God's watchman

3 MOREOVER He said to me, “Son of man, eat what you find; eat this scroll, and go, speak to the house of Israel.”

²So I opened my mouth, and He caused me to eat that scroll.

³And He said to me, “Son of man, feed your belly, and fill your stomach with this scroll that I give you.” So I ate, and it was in my mouth like honey in sweetness.

⁴Then He said to me: “Son of man, go to the house of Israel and speak with My words to them.

⁵“For you are not sent to a people of unfamiliar speech and of hard language, but to the house of Israel, ⁶“not to many people of unfamiliar speech and of hard language, whose words you cannot understand. Surely, had I sent you to them, they would have ^klistened to you.

⁷“But the house of Israel will not listen to you, because they will ^lnot listen to Me; for all the house of Israel are impudent and hard-hearted.

⁸“Behold, I have made your face strong against their faces, and your forehead strong against their foreheads.

⁹^m“Like adamant stone, harder than flint, I have made your forehead; do not be afraid of them, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house.”

¹⁰Moreover He said to me: “Son of man, receive into your heart all My words that I speak to you, and hear with your ears.

¹²Then the ^oSpirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me a great thunderous voice: “Blessed is the ^pglory of the LORD from His place!”

¹³I also heard the ^qnoise of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the noise of the wheels beside them, and a great thunderous noise.

¹⁴So the ^rSpirit lifted me up and took me away, and I went in ^sbitterness, in the heat of my spirit; but the ^thand of the LORD was strong upon me.

¹⁵Then I came to the captives at Tel Abib, who dwelt by the River Chebar; and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them ^useven days.

¹⁷“Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; therefore hear a word from My mouth, and give them ^bwarning from Me:

3:22 Arise, go out. Evidently this command to arise and go to the plain where the LORD appeared to him, as at the River Chebar, was given to Ezekiel after he had carried out the commission of vv. 17–21 and the people had turned against him. Then the LORD struck Ezekiel mute (v. 26), so that he was obliged to communicate by symbolic actions. Only when God had a special message to give through him could he speak (v. 27). This condition continued until the prophecy of judgment upon Jerusalem was fulfilled (24:25–27; 33:21–22).

3:22,23 plain. Or valley. Ezek. 8:4.

4:1 take a clay tablet. The symbolic actions during the prophet’s inability to speak were testimonies to the past wickedness and chastisement of the house of Israel (the whole nation), and prophetic of a coming siege. They are therefore intermediate between the siege of 2 Kin. 24:10–16, at which time Ezekiel was carried to Babylon, and the siege of 2 Kin. 25:1–11, eleven years later.

and ninety days; so you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

⁶“And when you have completed them, lie again on your right side; then you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days. I have laid on you a day for each year.

⁸“And surely I will ^arestrain you so that you cannot turn from one side to another till you have ended the days of your siege.

(2) Defiled bread

⁹“Also take for yourself wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet, and spelt; put them into one vessel, and make bread of them for yourself. During the number of days that you lie on your side, three hundred and ninety days, you shall eat it.

¹⁰“And your food which you eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day; from time to time you shall eat it.

¹¹“You shall also drink water by measure, one-sixth of a ^bhin; from time to time you shall drink.

¹²“And you shall eat it as barley cakes; and bake it using fuel of human waste in their sight.”

¹³Then the LORD said, “So ^cshall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, where I will drive them.”

¹⁴So I said, ^d“Ah, Lord GOD! Indeed I have never defiled myself from my youth till now; I have never eaten what died of ^eitself or was torn by beasts, nor has ^fabominable flesh ever come into my mouth.”

¹⁵Then He said to me, “See, I am giving you cow dung instead of human waste, and you shall prepare your bread over it.”

¹⁶Moreover He said to me, “Son of man, surely I will cut off the ^gsupply of bread in Jerusalem; they shall eat bread by weight and with anxiety, and shall drink water by measure and with ^hdread, ¹⁷“that they may lack bread and water, and be dismayed with one another, and ⁱwaste away because of their iniquity.

(3) The razor and the hair

⁵“AND you, son of man, take a sharp sword, take it as a barber’s razor, and ^jpass it over your head and your beard; then take scales to weigh and divide the hair.

²“You shall burn with fire one-third in the midst of the ^kcity, when the days of the siege are finished; then you shall take one-third and strike around it with the sword, and one-third you shall scatter in the wind: I will draw out a sword after ^lthem.

^{3m}“You shall also take a small number of them and bind them in the edge of your garment.

⁴“Then take some of them again and throw them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire. From there a fire will go out into all the house of Israel.

⁵“Thus says the Lord GOD: “This is Jerusalem; I have set her in the midst of the nations and the countries all around her.

⁶“She has rebelled against My judgments by doing wickedness more than the nations, and against My statutes more than the countries that are all around her; for they have refused My judgments, and they have not walked in My statutes.”

⁷“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you have multiplied disobedience more than the nations that are all around you, have not walked in My statutes nor kept My judgments, nor even done* according to the judgments of the nations that are all around you’—

⁸“therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Indeed I, even I, am against you and will execute judgments in your midst in the sight of the nations.

⁹ⁿ“And I will do among you what I have never done, and the like of which I will never do again, because of all your abominations.

8:1 sixth year. Approximately 592 B.C. sixth month.

between earth and heaven, and brought me in visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the north gate of the inner court, ^awhere the seat of the image of jealousy was, ^bwhich provokes to jealousy.

⁴And behold, the ^cglory of the God of Israel was there, like the vision that I saw in the plain.

The temple defiled

⁵Then He said to me, "Son of man, lift your eyes now toward the north." So I lifted my eyes toward the north, and there, north of the altar gate, was this image of jealousy in the entrance.

⁶Furthermore He said to me, "Son of man, do you see what they are doing, the great ^dabominations that the house of Israel commits here, to make Me go far away from My sanctuary? Now turn again, you will see greater abominations."

⁷So He brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, there was a hole in the wall.

⁸Then He said to me, "Son of man, dig into the wall"; and when I dug into the wall, there was a door.

⁹And He said to me, "Go in, and see the wicked abominations which they are doing there."

¹⁰So I went in and saw, and there—every ^esort of ^fcreeping thing, abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed all around on the walls.

¹¹And there stood before them ^gseventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in their midst stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan. Each man had a censer in his hand, and a thick cloud of incense went up.

¹²Then He said to me, "Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in the room of his idols? For they say, 'The LORD does ^hnot see us, the LORD has forsaken the land.'"

¹³And He said to me, "Turn again, and you will see greater abominations that they are doing."

¹⁴So He brought me to the door of the north gate of the LORD's house; and to my dismay, women were sitting there weeping for Tammuz.

¹⁵Then He said to me, "Have you seen this, O son of man? Turn again, you will see greater abominations than these."

¹⁶So He brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house; and there, at the door of the temple of the LORD, ⁱbetween the porch and the altar, were about ^jtwenty-five men with their backs toward the temple of the LORD and their faces toward the east, and they were worshipping the ^ksun toward the east.

¹⁷And He said to me, "Have you seen this, O son of man? Is it a trivial thing to the house of Judah to commit the abominations which they commit here? For they have filled the land with violence; then they have returned to provoke Me to anger. Indeed they put the branch to their nose.

¹⁸"Therefore I also will act in fury. My eye will not ^mspare nor will I have pity; and though they ⁿcry in My ears with a loud voice, I will not hear them."

8:3 EZEKIEL'S FOUR VISIONS

The four visions of ch. 8 emphasize the profanation of God in the very temple set aside to His worship. Idolatry was present and unchecked (vv. 5,10-11); women were participating in the immoral cult of Tammuz; and sun worshipers brazenly turned their backs to the temple (v. 16).

Although Ezekiel was actually by the River Chebar (1:1,3; 3:23; 10:15,20,22; 43:3), in a vision he was transported back to Jerusalem. These profanations going on in the temple area were shown to the prophet so that he might justify to the new generation, born and growing up in Assyria and Babylon, the righteousness of God in the present chastening. Because of sins like these, past and present, the captivities were necessitated. This strain continues through the book to 33:21.

Interspersed with the various visions are promises of restoration and blessing to be brought about by Israel's repentance. See Israel (Gen. 12:2-3; Rom. 11:26, note); also Kingdom (OT) (Gen. 1:26-28; Zech. 12:6-8 and note at v. 8).

Vision of the slaying in Jerusalem

9 THEN He called out in my hearing with a loud voice, saying, "Let those who have charge over the city draw near, each with a deadly weapon in his hand."

²And suddenly six men came from the direction of the upper gate, which faces north, each with his battle-ax in his hand. One man among them was clothed with ^alinen and had a writer's inkhorn at his side. They went in and stood beside the bronze altar.

³Now the ^bglory of the God of Israel had gone up from the cherub, where it had been, to the threshold of the temple. * And He called to the man clothed with linen, who had the writer's inkhorn at his side;

⁴and the LORD said to him, "Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and put a mark on the ^cforeheads of the ^dmen who sigh and cry over all the abominations that are done within it."

⁵To the others He said in my hearing, "Go after him through the city and ^ekill; do not let your eye spare, nor have any pity.

⁶"Utterly slay old and young men, maidens and little children and women; but do not come near anyone on whom is the mark; and ^gbegin at My sanctuary." So they began with the ^helders who were before the temple.

⁷Then He said to them, "Defile the temple, and fill the courts with the slain. Go out!" And they went out and killed in the city.

⁸So it was, that while they were killing them, I was left alone; and I fell on my face and cried out, and ⁱsaid, "Ah, Lord GOD! Will You destroy all the remnant of Israel in pouring out Your fury on Jerusalem?"

⁹Then He said to me, "The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great, and the ^jland is full of bloodshed, and the city full of perversity; for they say, 'The LORD has forsaken the land, and the LORD does ^knot see!'

¹⁰"And as for Me also, My eye will neither spare, nor will I have pity, but I will recompense their deeds on their own head."

¹¹Just then, the man clothed with linen, who had the inkhorn at his side, reported back and said, "I have done as You commanded me."

Jerusalem (v. 18)*

10 AND I looked, and there in the ^mfirmament that was above the head of the cherubim, there appeared something like a sapphire stone, having the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

²Then He spoke to the man ⁿclothed with linen, and said, "Go in among the wheels, under the cherub, fill your hands with ^ocoals of fire from among the cherubim, and ^pscatter them over the city." And he went in as I watched.

³Now the cherubim were standing on the south side of the temple* when the man went in, and the ^qcloud filled the inner court.

⁴Then the glory of the LORD went up from the cherub, and paused over the threshold of the temple; and the ^rhouse was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD'S ^sglory.

⁵And the ^tsound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even in the outer court, like the ^uvoice of Almighty God when He speaks.

⁶Then it happened, when He commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, "Take fire from among the wheels, from among the cherubim," that he went in and stood beside the wheels.

⁷And the cherub stretched out his hand from among the cherubim to the fire that was among the cherubim, and took some of it and put it

9:3 gone up from the cherub. It is noteworthy that to Ezekiel the priest was given the vision of the glory of the LORD departing (1) from the cherubim to the threshold of the temple (v. 3; 10:4); (2) from the threshold (10:18);

(3) from temple and city to the mountain on the east of Jerusalem, Olivet (11:23); and (4) returning to the millennial temple to abide (43:2-5).

10:2 your hands. Literally the hollow of your hands.

⁸The cherubim appeared to have the form of a man's hand under their ^awings.

⁹And when I looked, there were ^bfour wheels by the cherubim, one wheel by one cherub and another wheel by each other cherub; the wheels appeared to have the color of a beryl stone.

¹⁰As for their appearance, all four looked alike—as it were, a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

^{11c}When they went, they went toward any of their four directions; they did not turn aside when they went, but followed in the direction the head was facing. They did not turn aside when they went.

¹²And their whole body, with their back, their hands, their wings, and the wheels that the four had, were ^dfull of eyes all around.

¹³As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing, "Wheel."

¹⁴Each one had ^efour ^ffaces: the first face was the face of a cherub, the second face the face of a man, the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

¹⁵And the cherubim were lifted up. ^gThis was the living creature I saw by the River Chebar.

¹⁷When *the cherubim stood still, the wheels stood still, and when *one was lifted up, *the other lifted itself up, for the ^hspirit of the living creature was in ^hthem.

¹⁸Then the glory of the LORD ⁱdeparted from the threshold of the temple and stood over the cherubim.

¹⁹And the cherubim lifted their wings and mounted up from the earth in my sight. When they went out, the wheels were beside them; and they stood at the door of the ^jeast gate of the LORD'S house, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.

^{20k}This is the living creature I saw under the God of Israel by the River Chebar, and I knew they were cherubim.

²¹Each one had four faces and each one four wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

²²And the likeness of their faces was the same as the faces which I had seen by the River Chebar, their appearance and their persons. They each went straight ^lforward.

Wicked leaders to be judged

11 THEN the ^mSpirit lifted me up and brought me to the ⁿEast Gate of the LORD'S house, which faces eastward; and there at the door of the gate were ^otwenty-five men, among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of ^pAzzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

²And He said to me: "Son of man, these are the men who ^qdevise iniquity and give wicked counsel in this city, ³"who say, 'The time is not near to build houses; this city is the caldron, and we are the meat.'

⁴"Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man!"

⁵Then the ^rSpirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said to me, "Speak! 'Thus says the LORD: "Thus you have said, O house of Israel; for I ^sknow the things that come into your mind.

⁶"You have ^tmultiplied your slain in this city, and you have filled its streets with the slain."

⁷"Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "Your slain whom you have laid in its midst, they are the meat, and this city is the ^ucaldron; but I shall ^vbring you out of the midst of it.

⁸"You have ^wfeared the sword; and I will bring a sword upon you," says the Lord GOD.

⁹"And I will bring you out of its ^{10b}“You shall fall by the sword. I will judge you at the border of Israel. Then you shall know that I am the LORD.

¹¹“This city shall not be your caldron, nor shall you be the meat in its midst. I will judge you at the border of Israel.

¹²“And you shall know that I am the LORD; for you have not walked in My statutes nor executed ^cMy judgments, but have done according to the customs of the Gentiles which are all around you.” ’ ’

¹³Now it happened, while I was prophesying, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then I fell on my face and cried with a loud voice, and said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Will You make a complete end of the remnant of Israel?”

Promise of restoration of remnant of Israel to the land

¹⁴Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

¹⁵“Son of man, your brethren, your relatives, your countrymen, and ^dall the house of Israel in its entirety, are those about whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, ‘Get far away from the LORD; this land has been given to us as a possession.’

¹⁶“Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Although I have cast them far off among the Gentiles, and although I have ^escattered them among the countries, yet I shall be a little ^fsanctuary for them in the countries where they have gone.” ’

¹⁷“Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “I will ^ggather you from the peoples, assemble you from the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.” ’

¹⁸“And they will go there, and they will take away all its ^hdetestable things and all its abominations from there.

¹⁹“Then I will ⁱgive them one heart, and I will ^jput a new spirit within them,* and take the stony heart out of their flesh, and give them a heart of flesh, ²⁰“that they may walk in My statutes and keep My judgments and do them; and ^kthey shall be My people, and I will be their God.

²¹“But as for those whose hearts follow the desire for their detestable things and their abominations, I will recompense their deeds on their own heads,” says the Lord GOD.

Vision of glory departing from Mount of Olives (cp. Ezek. 43:1–4)

²²So the cherubim lifted up their wings, with the wheels beside them, and the glory of the God of Israel was high above them.

²³And the ^lglory of the LORD ^mwent up from the midst of the city and stood on the mountain, which is on the east side of the city.

²⁴Then the ⁿSpirit took me up and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea,* to those in captivity. And the vision that I had seen went up from me.

²⁵So I spoke to those in captivity of all the things the LORD had shown me.

⁵“Dig through the wall in their sight, and carry your belongings out through it.

⁶“In their sight you shall bear them on your shoulders and carry them out at twilight; you shall cover your face, so that you cannot see the ground, for I have made you a ^dsign to the house of Israel.”

⁸And in the morning the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

¹⁵“Then they shall ^kknow that I am the LORD, when I scatter them among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries.

¹⁶“But I will spare a few of their men from the sword, from famine, and from pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the Gentiles wherever they go. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.”

¹⁷Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

¹⁹“And say to the people of the land, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the land of Israel: “They shall eat their bread with ^manxiety, and drink their water with dread, so that her land may be emptied of all who are in it, because of the violence of all those who dwell in it.

Lying prophets condemned

13 AND the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

²"Son of man, prophesy ^eagainst the prophets of Israel who prophesy, and say to those who prophesy out of their own ^fheart, 'Hear the word of the LORD!' "

³Thus says the Lord GOD: "Woe to the foolish prophets, who follow their own spirit and have seen nothing!

⁴"O Israel, your prophets are like foxes in the deserts.

^{5g}"You have not gone up into the gaps to build a wall for the house of Israel to stand in battle on the day of the LORD.

⁶"They have envisioned ^hfutility and false divination, saying, 'Thus says the LORD!' But the LORD has 'not sent them; yet they hope that the word may be confirmed.

⁷"Have you not seen a futile vision, and have you not spoken false divination? You say, 'The LORD says,' but I have not spoken."

⁸Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "Because you have spoken nonsense and envisioned lies, therefore I am indeed against you," says the Lord GOD.

⁹"My hand will be ⁱagainst the prophets who envision futility and who ^kdivine lies; they shall not be in the assembly of My people, 'nor be written in the record of the house of Israel, nor shall they enter into the land of Israel. Then you shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

¹⁰"Because, indeed, because they have seduced My people, saying, ^m'Peace!' when there is no ⁿpeace—and one builds a wall, and they ^oplaster it with untempered mortar—

¹¹"say to those who plaster it with untempered mortar, that it will fall. There will be ^pflooding rain, and you, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall tear it down.

¹²"Surely, when the wall has fallen, will it not be said to you, 'Where is the mortar with which you plastered it?' "

¹³Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "I will cause a stormy wind to break forth in My fury; and there shall be a flooding rain in My anger, and great hailstones in fury to consume it.

¹⁴"So I will break down the wall you have plastered with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundation will be uncovered; it will fall, and you shall be consumed in the midst of it. Then you shall ^qknow that I am the LORD.

¹⁵"Thus will I accomplish My wrath on the wall and on those who have plastered it with untempered mortar; and I will say to you, 'The wall is no more, nor those who plastered it,

¹⁷"Likewise, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people, who prophesy out of their own heart; prophesy against them,

Idoltrous elders of Israel condemned

14 NOW some of the elders of Israel ^ecame to me and sat before me.

²And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

⁵“that I may seize the house of Israel by their heart, because they are all estranged from Me by their idols.” ’

⁷“For anyone of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who dwell in Israel, who separates himself from Me and sets up his idols in his heart and puts before him what causes him to stumble into iniquity, then comes to a prophet to ⁱinquire of him concerning Me, I the LORD will answer him by Myself.

⁸“I will ^jset My face against that man and ^kmake him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of My people. Then you shall ^lknow that I am the LORD.

¹⁹“Or if I send a ^dpestilence into that land and pour out My fury on it in blood, and cut off from it man and beast,

²⁰“even though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they would deliver neither son nor daughter; they would deliver only themselves by their righteousness.”

²¹For thus says the Lord GOD: “How much more it shall be when I send My ^efour severe judgments on Jerusalem—the sword and famine and wild beasts and pestilence—to cut off man and beast from it?

²²“Yet behold, there shall be left in it a ^fremnant who will be ^gbrought out, both sons and daughters; surely they will come out to you, and you will see their ways and their doings. Then you will be comforted concerning the disaster that I have brought upon Jerusalem, all that I have brought upon it.

²³“And they will ^hcomfort you, when you see their ways and their doings; and you shall know that I have done nothing ⁱwithout cause that I have done in it,” says the Lord GOD.

Parable of the useless vine
(cp. Is. 5:1–24)

15 THEN the word of the LORD came to me, saying:

²“Son of man, how is the wood of the ^jvine better than any other wood, the vine branch which is among the trees of the forest?

³“Is wood taken from it to make any object? Or can men make a peg from it to hang any vessel on?

⁴“Instead, it is thrown into the ^kfire for fuel; the fire devours both ends of it, and its middle is burned. Is it useful for any work?

⁵“Indeed, when it was whole, no object could be made from it. How much less will it be useful for any work when the fire has devoured it, and it is burned?

⁶“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Like the wood of the ^lvine among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so I will give up the inhabitants of Jerusalem;

⁷and I will ^mset My face against them. They will go out from one fire, but another fire shall devour them. Then you shall know that I

Job: one persecuted. A righteous man who probably lived during the time of Abraham. He was tested by Satan but remained faithful to God in spite of his afflictions and loss.

The vine, as described by Ezekiel, symbolizes unregenerate man in general and sinful Israel in particular. Just as the vine wood is tough, twisted, unworkable, and fit only for fuel, so Israel, recalcitrant in sin, is fit only for judgment.

Whereas in ch. 15 (and in Is. 5 also) the vine pictures only judgment, in John 15 Christ uses it to portray the living union between Himself and the believer. Here the intrinsic worthlessness of the wood is wholly subordinated to the single, positive function of the vine—that of bearing fruit. Thus our Lord takes the figure of the vine wood, representative in Ezekiel of humanity ruined in sin, and transforms it into the parable of Himself as the Vine and Christians as His branches, bearing fruit for Him.

am the LORD, when I set My face against them.

⁸“Thus I will make the land desolate, because they have persisted in unfaithfulness,” says the Lord GOD.”

The LORD's grace to unfaithful Jerusalem

16 AGAIN the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

²“Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her ^aabominations,

⁴“As for your nativity, ^con the day you were born your navel cord was not cut, nor were you washed in water to cleanse you; you were not rubbed with salt nor wrapped in swaddling cloths.

⁵“No eye pitied you, to do any of these things for you, to have compassion on you; but you were thrown out into the open field, when you yourself were loathed on the day you were born.

⁶“And when I passed by you and saw you struggling in your own blood, I said to you in your blood, ‘Live!’ Yes, I said to you in your blood, ‘Live!’

⁷“I made you thrive like a plant in the field; and you grew, matured, and became very beautiful. Your breasts were formed, your hair grew, but you were naked and bare.

⁸“When I passed by you again and looked upon you, indeed your time was the time of ^dlove; so I spread My wing over you and covered your nakedness. Yes, I ^eswore an oath to you and entered into a ^fcovenant with you, and ^gyou became Mine,” says the Lord GOD.

⁹“Then I washed you in water;

yes, I thoroughly washed off your blood, and I anointed you with oil.

¹⁰“I clothed you in embroidered cloth and gave you sandals of badger skin; I clothed you with fine linen and covered you with silk.

¹¹“I adorned you with ornaments, put bracelets on your wrists, and a chain on your neck.

¹²“And I put a jewel ^hin your nose, earrings in your ears, and a beautiful crown on your head.

¹³“Thus you were adorned with gold and silver, and your clothing was of fine linen, silk, and embroidered cloth. You ate pastry of fine flour, honey, and oil. You were exceedingly beautiful, and succeeded to ⁱroyalty.

¹⁴“Your fame went out among the nations because of your ^jbeauty, for it was perfect through My splendor which I had bestowed on you,” says the Lord GOD.

She becomes a harlot

¹⁵“But you trusted ^kin your own beauty, ^lplayed the harlot because of your fame, and poured out your harlotry on everyone passing by who would have it.

¹⁶“You took some of your garments and adorned multicolored ^mhigh places for yourself, and played the harlot on them. Such things should not happen, nor be.

¹⁷“You have also taken your beautiful jewelry from My gold and My silver, which I had given you, and made for yourself male images and played the harlot with them.

¹⁸“You took your embroidered garments and covered them, and you set My oil and My incense before them.

From Egyptian monuments (Tell el-Amarna Tablets) and the Assyrian texts, it has been shown that these were the Kheta or Hatti. Expeditions in the first dozen years of this century have revealed that Boghaz-koi in Asia Minor (east of Ankara, Turkey) was the capital of the Hittite Empire. Periods of Hittite prominence:

²⁰"Moreover you took your sons and your daughters, whom you bore to Me, and these you ^asacrificed to them to be devoured. Were your acts of harlotry a small matter, ²¹"that you have slain My children and offered them up to them by causing them to pass through *the b*fire?

²²"And in all your abominations and acts of harlotry you did not remember the days of your ^cyouth, when you were naked and bare, struggling in your blood.

²³"Then it was so, after all your wickedness—"Woe, woe to you!" says the Lord GOD—²⁴"that you also built for yourself a shrine, and ^dmade a high place for yourself in every street.

²⁵"You built your high places at the head of every road, and made your beauty to be abhorred. You offered yourself to everyone who passed by, and multiplied your acts of harlotry.

²⁶"You also committed harlotry with the ^eEgyptians, your very fleshly neighbors, and increased your acts of harlotry to ^fprovoke Me to anger.

²⁷"Behold, therefore, I stretched out My hand against you, diminished your allotment, and gave you up to the will of those who hate you, the daughters of the ^gPhilistines, who were ^hashamed of your lewd behavior.

²⁸"You also played the harlot with the ⁱAssyrians, because you were insatiable; indeed you played the harlot with them and still were not satisfied.

²⁹"Moreover you multiplied your acts of harlotry as far as the land of the trader, ^jChaldea; and even then you were not satisfied.

³⁰"How degenerate is your heart!" says the Lord GOD, "seeing you do all these things, the deeds of a ^kbrazen harlot.

³¹"You erected your shrine at the head of every road, and built your high place in every street. Yet you were not like a harlot, because you scorned ^lpayment.

³²"You are an adulterous wife, who takes strangers instead of her husband.

³³"Men make payment to all harlots, but you made your ^mpayments to all your lovers, and hired them to come to you from all around for your harlotry.

³⁴"You are the opposite of other women in your harlotry, because no one solicited you to be a harlot. In that you gave payment but no payment was given you, therefore you are the opposite."

Her judgment prophesied

³⁵"Now then, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD!

³⁷"surely, therefore, I will gather all your ⁿlovers with whom you took pleasure, all those you loved, and all those you hated; I will gather them from all around against you and will uncover your nakedness to them, that they may see all your nakedness.

³⁸"And I will judge you ^oas women who break wedlock or shed blood are judged; I will bring blood upon you in fury and jealousy.

³⁹"I will also give you into their hand, and they shall throw down your shrines and break down your high places. They shall also strip you of your clothes, take your beautiful jewelry, and leave you naked and bare.

⁴¹"They shall ^qburn your houses with fire, and execute judgments on you in the sight of many women; and I will make you cease playing the harlot, and you shall no longer hire lovers.

17 AND the word of the LORD came to me, ^gsaying,

²“Son of man, pose a riddle, and speak a ^hparable to the house of Israel, ³“and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“A great eagle with large wings and long pinions, Full of feathers of various colors, Came to Lebanon And took from the cedar the highest branch.

⁴ He cropped off its topmost young twig And carried it to a land of trade; He set it in a city of merchants. ⁵ Then he took some of the seed of the land

And planted it in a fertile field; He placed it by abundant waters And set it like a willow tree.

⁶ And it grew and became a spreading vine of low stature;

Its branches turned toward him, But its roots were under it.

So it became a vine,

Brought forth branches, And put forth shoots.

⁷“But there was another* great eagle with large wings and many feathers; And behold, this vine bent its roots toward him, And stretched its branches toward him, From the garden terrace where it had been planted, That he might water it.

⁸ It was planted in good soil by many waters, To bring forth branches, bear fruit, And become a majestic vine.”

⁹“Say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Will it thrive?

ⁱWill he not pull up its roots, Cut off its fruit, And leave it to wither?

All of its spring leaves will wither, And no great power or many people

Will be needed to pluck it up by its roots.

¹⁰ Behold, it is planted, Will it thrive?

Will it not utterly wither when the ^jeast wind touches it? It will wither in the garden terrace where it grew.”

16:60 remember. It must ever be a source of encouragement to God’s people to have the assurance from His Word that He remains faithful even when they themselves are unfaithful (2 Tim. 2:13). There could be no hope of salvation were this not true. covenant. In its first use in this verse, the word “covenant” alludes to the Palestinian Covenant (see Deut. 30:3, note); in its second usage, to the New Covenant (see Heb. 8:8, note).

¹⁴“that the kingdom might be brought low and not lift itself up, but that by keeping his covenant it might stand.

¹⁵“But he ^arebelled against him by sending his ambassadors to Egypt, that they might give him horses and many people. Will he prosper? Will he who does such things escape? Can he break a covenant and still be delivered?

¹⁶“As I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely in the place where the king dwells who made him king, whose oath he despised and whose covenant he broke—with him in the midst of Babylon he shall ^bdie.

^{17c}“Nor will Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company do anything in the war, ^dwhen they heap up a siege mound and build a wall to cut off many persons.

¹⁸“Since he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, and in fact ^egave his hand and still did all these things, he shall not escape.”

¹⁹Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “As I live, surely My oath which he despised, and My covenant which he broke, I will recompense on his own head.

²⁰“I will spread My net over him, and he shall be taken in My snare. I will bring him to Babylon and try him there for the treason which he committed against Me.

²¹“All his fugitives* with all his troops shall fall by the sword, and those who remain shall be ^fscattered to every wind; and you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken.”

²²Thus says the Lord GOD: “I will take also one of the highest ^gbranches of the high cedar and set it out. I will crop off from the top-most of its young twigs a ^htender one, and will ⁱplant it on a high and prominent mountain.

²³“On the ^jmountain height of Israel I will ^kplant it; and it will bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a majestic cedar. ^lUnder it will dwell birds of every sort; in the shadow of its branches they will dwell.

²⁴“And all the trees of the field shall know that I, the LORD, have ³“As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “you shall no longer use this proverb in Israel.

And kept My judgments faithfully—
He is just;
He shall surely ^alive!”
Says the Lord GOD.

10 “If he begets a son who is a robber

Or a ^bshedder of blood,
Who does any of these things

11 And does none of those duties,
But has eaten on the mountains
Or defiled his neighbor’s wife;

12 If he has oppressed the poor and needy,

Robbed by violence,
Not restored the pledge,
Lifted his eyes to the idols,
Or committed abomination;

13 If he has exacted usury
Or taken increase—
Shall he then live?

He shall not live!
If he has done any of these abominations,

He shall surely die;
His ^cblood shall be upon him.

14 “If, however, he begets a son Who sees all the sins which his father has done,
And considers but does not do ^dlikewise;

15 Who has not eaten on the mountains,
Nor lifted his eyes to the idols
of the house of Israel,
Nor defiled his neighbor’s wife;

16 Has not oppressed anyone,
Nor withheld a pledge,

Nor robbed by violence,
But has given his bread to the hungry
And covered the naked with clothing;

17 Who has withdrawn his hand from the poor*

And not received usury or increase,

But has executed My judgments
And walked in My statutes—
He shall not die for the iniquity of his father;
He shall surely live!

18 “As for his father,
Because he cruelly oppressed,
Robbed his brother by violence,
And did what is not good among his people,
Behold, he shall die for his iniquity.

19 “Yet you say, ‘Why should the son not bear the ^eguilt of the father?’ Because the son has done what is lawful and right, and has kept all My statutes and observed them, he shall surely live.

20 “The ^fsoul who sins shall die.
The ^gson shall not bear the guilt of the father, nor the father bear the guilt of the son. The ^hrighteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the ⁱwickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself.

21 “But if a wicked man ^jturns from all his sins which he has committed, keeps all My statutes, and does what is lawful and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die.

22 “None of the transgressions which he has committed shall be remembered against him; because of the righteousness which he has done, he shall ^klive.

23^l “Do I have any pleasure at all that the wicked should die?” says the Lord GOD, “and not that he should turn from his ways and ^mlive?

24 “But when a righteous man turns away from his righteousness and commits ⁿiniquity, and does according to all the abominations that the wicked man does, shall he live?
All the righteousness which he has

18:24 ETERNAL SECURITY

This and similar passages in Ezekiel (e.g. 3:17-21; 33:10-20) have been understood by some to teach that a Christian may lose his righteous standing before God. But in support of the security of the believer it should be observed that these passages in Ezekiel do not necessarily teach the eternal loss of a saved person, because the word “righteous” may refer to ceremonial religion (compare Matt. 5:20) and not to “the righteousness which is from God by faith” (compare Phil. 3:7-9).

Moreover, the punishment threatened may refer only to physical death rather than to eternal death. In any case, these texts in Ezekiel must be considered in the light of such NT affirmations as John 10:28; Rom. 5:8-9; 8:38-39; Phil. 1:6; etc. that so clearly teach the security of the believer.

done shall ^anot be remembered; because of the unfaithfulness of which he is guilty and the sin which he has committed, because of them he shall ^bdie.

²⁵“Yet you say, ‘The ^cway of the Lord is not fair.’ Hear now, O house of Israel, is it not My way which is fair, and your ways which are not fair?”

²⁷“Again, when a wicked man turns away from the wickedness which he committed, and does what is lawful and right, he preserves himself alive.

²⁸“Because he considers and turns away from all the transgressions which he committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die.

²⁹“Yet the house of Israel says, ‘The way of the Lord is not fair.’ O house of Israel, is it not My ways which are fair, and your ways which are not fair?”

³⁰“Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways,” says the Lord GOD.

^d“Repent, and turn from all your transgressions, so that iniquity will not be your ruin.

³¹^e“Cast away from you all the transgressions which you have committed, and get yourselves a new heart and a new spirit. For why should you die, O house of Israel?”

³²^g“For I have no pleasure in the death of one who dies,” says the Lord GOD. “Therefore turn and live!”

Among the young lions she nourished her cubs.

And he became a young lion; He learned to catch prey, And he devoured men.

⁴ The nations also heard of him; He was trapped in their pit, And they brought him with chains to the land of Egypt.

By the noise of his roaring.

⁸ ^kThen the nations set against him from the provinces on every side, And spread their net over him; He was trapped in their pit.

They brought him in nets, That his voice should no longer be heard on the mountains of Israel.

God's dealing with Israel vindicated

20 IT came to pass in the ^cseventh year, in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and ^asat before me.

²Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

³“Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel, and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Have you come to inquire of Me? As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will ^enot be inquired of by you.” ’

⁴“Will you judge them, son of man, will you judge them? Then make known to them the abominations of their fathers.

⁵“Say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “On the day when I ^fchose Israel and raised My hand in an oath to the descendants of the house of Jacob, and made Myself known to them in the land of Egypt, I raised My hand in an oath to them, saying, ‘I am the LORD your God.’

⁶“On that day I raised My hand in an oath to them, to ^gbring them out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had searched out for them, ^h“flowing with milk and honey,’ the glory of all lands.

⁷“Then I said to them, ‘Each of you, throw away the abominations which are before his eyes, and do not ⁱdefile yourselves with the idols of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.’

⁸“But they rebelled against Me and would not obey Me. They did not all cast away the abominations which were before their eyes, ⁱnor did they forsake the idols of Egypt. Then I said, ‘I will pour out My fury on them and fulfill My anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.’

⁹“But I ^kacted for My name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the Gentiles among whom they were, in whose sight I had made Myself ^lknown to them, to bring them out of the land of Egypt.

¹⁰“Therefore I made them go out of the land of Egypt and brought them into the wilderness.

¹¹“And ^mI gave them My statutes and showed them My judgments, ‘which, if a man does, he shall ⁿlive by them.’

¹²“Moreover I also gave them My ^oSabbaths, to be a sign between them and Me, that they might know that I am the LORD who sanctifies them.

¹³“Yet the house of Israel rebelled against Me in the wilderness; they did not walk in My statutes; they despised My judgments, ‘which, if a man does, he shall live by them’; and they greatly defiled My Sabbaths. Then I said I would pour out My fury on them in the wilderness, to consume them.

¹⁴“But I acted for My name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the Gentiles, in whose sight I had brought them out.

20:1 seventh year. Approximately 591 B.C. fifth month. This is the month of Ab in the Hebrew religious calendar. It correlates to the modern months of July–August. For more information on the Hebrew religious calendar, see the note at Lev. 23:2.

20:14 For My name's sake expresses one of God's motives in dealing with humanity. Although it means so little to most men, the name of the LORD is infinitely precious to Him. See 36:20, where the LORD says of unfaithful Israel, “they profaned My holy name,” and the following verse, where He says of Himself, “I had concern for My holy name.” Consistent with His holiness, God is concerned to vindicate the honor of His name.

^{15a}“So I also raised My hand in an oath to them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, ‘flowing with milk and honey,’ the glory of all lands, ¹⁶“because they despised My judgments and did not walk in My statutes, but profaned My Sabbaths; ^bfor their heart went after their idols.

¹⁷“Nevertheless My eye spared them from destruction. I did not make an end of them in the wilderness.

¹⁸“But I said to their children in the wilderness, ‘Do not walk in the statutes of your fathers, nor observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

¹⁹‘I am the LORD your God: Walk in My statutes, keep My judgments, and do them;

^{20c}‘hallow My Sabbaths, and they will be a sign between Me and you, that you may know that I am the LORD your God.’

²¹“Notwithstanding, the ^dchildren rebelled against Me; they did not walk in My statutes, and were not careful to observe My judgments, ‘which, if a man does, he shall live by them’; but they profaned My Sabbaths. Then I said I would pour out My fury on them and fulfill My anger against them in the wilderness.

²²“Nevertheless I withdrew My hand and acted for My name’s sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the Gentiles, in whose sight I had brought them out.

²³“Also I raised My hand in an oath to those in the wilderness, that I would ^escatter them among the Gentiles and disperse them throughout the countries,

²⁵“Therefore I also ^fgave them up to statutes that were not good, and judgments by which they could not live;

²⁶“and I pronounced them unclean because of their ritual gifts, in that they caused all ^gtheir firstborn to pass through the fire, that I might make them desolate and that they might know that I am the LORD.”’

²⁷“Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel, and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “In this too your fathers have ^hblasphemed Me, by being unfaithful to Me.

²⁹“Then I said to them, ‘What is this high place to which you go?’ So its name is called Bamah to this day.”’

³⁰“Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Are you defiling yourselves in the manner of your ⁱfathers, and committing harlotry according to their ^jabominations?

³¹“For when you offer your gifts and make your sons pass through the fire, you defile yourselves with all your idols, even to this day. So shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will ^knot be inquired of by you.

³²“What you have in your mind shall never be, when you say, ‘We will be like the Gentiles, like the families in other countries, serving wood and stone.’

God will establish Israel in her land

³³“As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “surely with a mighty hand, with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out, I ^lwill ^mrule over you.

³⁴“I will bring you out from the peoples and gather you out of the countries where you are scattered, with a mighty hand, with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out.

³⁵“And I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there ³⁸“I will ^apurge the rebels from among you, and those who transgress against Me; I will bring them out of the country where they dwell, but they shall not enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

³⁹“As for you, O house of Israel,” thus says the Lord GOD: ^e“Go, serve every one of you his idols—and hereafter—if you will not obey Me; but profane My holy name no more with your gifts and your idols.

⁴⁰“For on My holy mountain, on the mountain height of Israel,” says the Lord GOD, “there ^fall the house of Israel, all of them in the land, shall serve Me; there I will ^gaccept them, and there I will require your offerings and the firstfruits of your sacrifices, together with all your holy things.

⁴⁴“Then you shall know that I am the LORD, when I have dealt with you for My name’s sake, not according to your wicked ways nor according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

⁴⁵Furthermore the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

⁴⁶“Son of man, set your face toward the south; preach against the south and prophesy against the forest land, the South;”

¹⁰ Sharpened to make a dreadful

Polished to flash like lightning!
Should we then make mirth?
It despises the scepter of My

That it may be handled;
This sword is sharpened, and it is polished
To be given into the hand of Against all the ^cprinces of Israel.

will be against My people;
Therefore strike your thigh.

says the Lord GOD.

¹⁴ “You therefore, son of man,
prophesy,
And ^dstrike your hands together.

It is the sword that slays,
The sword that slays the great men,
That enters their private

And I will cause My ffury to tion for Jerusalem: to set up battering rams, to call for a slaughter, to lift the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to a wall.

²³ “And it will be to them like a false divination in the eyes of those who have sworn ^joaths with them; but he will bring their iniquity to remembrance, that they may be taken.

so that in all your doings your sins appear—because you have come to remembrance, you shall be taken in

Sins of Israel enumerated

22 MOREOVER the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

²“Now, son of man, will you judge, will you judge the bloody city? Yes, show her all her abominations!

³“Then say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “The city sheds ^jblood in her own midst, that her time may come; and she makes idols within herself to defile herself.

⁴“You have become guilty by the blood which you have ^kshed, and have defiled yourself with the idols which you have made. You have caused your days to draw near, and have come to the end of your years; ^ltherefore I have made you a reproach to the nations, and a mockery to all countries.

⁷“In you they have ⁿmade light of father and mother; in your midst they have oppressed the stranger; in you they have mistreated the ^ofatherless and the widow.

⁸“You have despised My holy things and profaned My Sabbaths.

⁹“In you are men who ^pslander to cause bloodshed; in you are those who eat on the mountains; in your midst they commit lewdness.

¹⁰“In you men uncover their fathers’ nakedness; in you they violate women who are ^qset apart during their impurity.

¹²“In you they take ^ubribes to shed blood; you take usury and increase; you have made profit from your neighbors by extortion, and have ^vforgotten Me,” says the Lord GOD.

¹³“Behold, therefore, I beat My fists at the dishonest profit which you have made, and at the bloodshed which has been in your midst.

¹⁴“Can your heart endure, or can your hands remain strong, in the days when I shall deal with you? I, the LORD, have spoken, and will do it.

Parable of the dross in the furnace

¹⁷The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

¹⁸“Son of man, the house of Israel has become ^adross to Me; they are all bronze, tin, iron, and lead, in the midst of a ^bfurnace; they have become dross from silver.

¹⁹“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you have all become dross, therefore behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.

²⁰‘As men gather silver, bronze, iron, lead, and tin into the midst of a furnace, to blow fire on it, to ^cmelt it; so I will gather you in My anger and in My fury, and I will leave you there and melt you.

²¹‘Yes, I will gather you and ^dblow on you with the fire of My wrath, and you shall be melted in its midst.

²²‘As silver is melted in the midst of a furnace, so shall you be melted in its midst; then you shall know that I, the LORD, have ^epoured out My fury on you.’ ”

Sins of the leaders and people

²³And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

²⁴“Son of man, say to her: ‘You are a land that is ^fnot cleansed* or rained on in the day of indignation.’

²⁶“Her ⁱpriests have violated My ^jlaw and ^kprofaned My holy things; they have ^lnot distinguished between the holy and unholy, nor have they made known the differ- ence between the unclean and the clean; and they have hidden their eyes from My Sabbaths, so that I am profaned among them.

²⁷“Her ^mprinces in her midst are like wolves tearing the prey, to shed blood, to destroy people, and to get dishonest gain.

23:3 harlotry. This dark parable of Oholah and Oholibah unmasks the loathsome nature of unfaithfulness to God and provides a corrective for any light view of apostasy. The picture, revolting though it is, shows the awfulness of spiritual adultery whereby the LORD’s people, who are one with Him as bride with bridegroom, repudiate their union with Him and give themselves to the service of the world, the flesh, and the devil. Compare James 4:4.

- 4 Their names: Oholah the elder and Oholibah her ^asister; ^bThey were Mine,
And they bore sons and daughters.
As for their names,
Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem is Oholibah.
- 5 "Oholah played the harlot even though she was Mine;
And she lusted for her lovers,
the neighboring Assyrians,
- 6 Who were clothed in purple,
Captains and rulers,
All of them desirable young
men,
Horsemen riding on horses.
- 7 Thus she committed her
harlotry with them,
All of them choice men of Assyria;
And with all for whom she lusted,
With all their idols, she defiled herself.
- 8 She has never given up her harlotry brought from Egypt,
For in her youth they had lain with her,
Pressed her virgin bosom,
And poured out their immorality upon her.
- 9 "Therefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers,
Into the hand of the Assyrians,
For whom she lusted.
- 10 They ^cuncovered her
nakedness,
Took away her sons and daughters,
And slew her with the sword;
She became a byword among women,
For they had executed judgment on her.
- 11 "Now although her sister Oholibah saw this, she became ^dmore corrupt in her lust than she, and in her harlotry more corrupt than her sister's harlotry.
- 12 "She lusted for the neighboring ^eAssyrians,
Captains and rulers,
Clothed most gorgeously,
Horsemen riding on horses,
All of them desirable young
men.
- 13 Then I saw that she was defiled;
Both took the same way.
- 14 But she increased her harlotry;
She looked at men portrayed on the wall,
Images of ^fChaldeans portrayed in vermilion,
- 15 Girded with belts around their waists,
Flowing turbans on their heads,
All of them looking like captains,
In the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea,
The land of their nativity. 23:14
- 16 As ^gsoon as her eyes saw them,
She lusted for them
And sent ^hmessengers to them in Chaldea. 23:16
- 17 "Then the Babylonians came to her, into the bed of love,
And they defiled her with their immorality;
So she was defiled by them, and alienated herself from
them. 23:18
- 18 She revealed her harlotry and uncovered her nakedness.
Then ⁱI /alienated Myself from her,
As I had alienated Myself from her sister. 23:19
- 19 "Yet she multiplied her harlotry in calling to remembrance the days of her youth,
When she had played the harlot
in the land of ^kEgypt.
- 20 For she lusted for her
paramours,
Whose flesh is like the flesh of donkeys,
And whose issue is like the issue of horses.
- 21 Thus you called to remembrance the lewdness of your youth,
When the ^lEgyptians pressed your bosom
Because of your youthful breasts. 23:21

23:4 Oholah. Meaning (She has) her own tent. See 2 Chr. 10:16 and Hos. 1:10, notes. Oholibah. Meaning My tent (is) in her. See 2 Kin. 17:23, note.

The Babylonian invasion

22 "Therefore, Oholibah, thus says the Lord GOD:

'Behold, ^a I will stir up your lovers against you,
From whom you have alienated yourself,
And I will bring them against you from every side:

23 The Babylonians,
All the Chaldeans,
^b Pekod, Shoa, Koa,
All the Assyrians with them,
All of them desirable young men,
Governors and rulers,
Captains and men of renown,
All of them riding on horses.

24 And they shall come against you
With chariots, wagons, and war-horses,
With a horde of people.
They shall array against you
Buckler, shield, and helmet all around.

'I will delegate judgment to them,
And they shall judge you according to their judgments.

25 I will set My ^c jealousy against you,
And they shall deal furiously with you;
They shall remove your nose and your ears,
And your remnant shall fall by the sword;
They shall take your sons and your daughters,
And your remnant shall be devoured by fire.

26 They shall also ^d strip you of your clothes
And take away your beautiful jewelry.

27 'Thus I will make you cease your lewdness and your harlotry Brought from the land of Egypt, So that you will not lift your eyes to them,
Nor remember Egypt anymore.'

28 "For thus says the Lord GOD: 'Surely I will deliver you ^e into the hand of those you hate, into the hand of those from whom f you alienated yourself.

^{29g} "They will deal hatefully with you, take away all you have worked for, and leave you naked and bare. The nakedness of your harlotry shall be uncovered, both your lewdness and your harlotry.

³⁰ "I will do these things to you because you have gone as a harlot after the Gentiles, because you have become defiled by their idols.

³¹ "You have walked in the way of your sister; therefore I will put her ^h cup in your hand.'

³² "Thus says the Lord GOD:

'You shall drink of your sister's cup,

The deep and wide one;

ⁱ You shall be laughed to scorn
And held in derision;
It contains much.

33 You will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow,
The cup of horror and desolation,

The cup of your sister Samaria.

34 You shall /drink and drain it,
You shall break its shards,
And tear at your own breasts;
For I have spoken,'
Says the Lord GOD.

³⁵ "Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

'Because you have ^k forgotten Me and cast Me behind your back,

Therefore you shall bear the penalty

Of your lewdness and your harlotry.' "

Judgment of Oholah and Oholibah

³⁶ The LORD also said to me: "Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then 'declare to them their abominations.

³⁷ "For they have committed adultery, and ^m blood is on their hands. They have committed adultery with may be taught not to practice your lewdness.

⁴⁹“They shall repay you for your lewdness, and you shall pay for your idolatrous sins. Then you shall know that I am the Lord God.’ ”

Parable of the boiling pot

24 AGAIN, in the *k*ninth year, in the tenth month, on the same day they came into My sanctuary to profane it; and indeed *c*thus they have done in the midst of My house.

²“Son of man, write down the name of the *l*day, this very day—the king of Babylon started his siege against Jerusalem this very day.

³“And utter a *m*parable to the rebellious house, and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Put on a pot, set it on,
And also pour water into it.

4 Gather pieces of meat in it,

Every good piece,

The thigh and the shoulder.

Fill it with choice cuts;

5 Take the choice of the flock.

Also pile fuel bones under it,

Make it boil well,

And let the cuts simmer in it.”

⁶“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

“Woe n to the bloody city,
To the pot whose scum is in it,
And whose scum is not gone
from it!

Bring it out piece by piece,
On which no *o*lot has fallen.

7 For her blood is in her midst;

She set it on top of a rock;

She did not *p*pour it on the ground,

To cover it with dust.

8 That it may raise up fury and take vengeance,

I have set her blood on top of a

That it may not be covered.”

⁹“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

Prophecy against Ammon

25 THE word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, set your face against the ‘Ammonites, and prophesy against them.

*24:14 Septuagint, Syriac, Targum, and Vulgate read l.

25:2 Ammonites. During the course of the siege of Jerusalem, Ezekiel turned his attention entirely to prophecies concerning foreign nations (25:1—32:32).

³“Say to the Ammonites, ‘Hear the word of the Lord GOD! Thus says the Lord GOD: ^a“Because you said, ‘Aha!’ against My sanctuary when it was profaned, and against the land of Israel when it was desolate, and against the house of Judah when they went into captivity, ⁴“indeed, therefore, I will deliver you as a possession to the ^bmen of the East, and they shall set their encampments among you and make their dwellings among you; they shall eat your fruit, and they shall drink your milk.

⁵“And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels and Ammon a resting place for flocks. Then you shall know that I am the LORD.”

⁶“For thus says the Lord GOD: ^c“Because you clapped your hands, stamped your feet, and rejoiced in heart with all your disdain for the land of Israel,

⁷“indeed, therefore, I will stretch out My hand against you, and give you as plunder to the ^dnations; I will cut you off from the peoples, and I will cause you to perish from the countries; I will destroy you, and you shall know that I am the LORD.”

Prophecy against Moab

⁸“Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because ^eMoab and Seir say, ‘Look! The house of Judah is like all the nations,’

⁹“therefore, behold, I will clear the territory of Moab of cities, of the cities on its frontier, the glory of the country, Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and ^fKirjathaim.

¹⁰“To the men of the East I will give it as a possession, together with the Ammonites, that the Am-monites may not be remembered among the nations.

¹¹“And I will execute judgments upon Moab, and they shall know that I am the LORD.”

Prophecy against Edom

¹²“Thus says the Lord GOD: ^g“Because of what ^hEdom did against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and has greatly offended by avenging itself on them,”

¹³“therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “I will also stretch out My hand against Edom, cut off man and beast from it, and make it desolate from Teman; Dedan shall fall by the sword.

¹⁴“I will lay My vengeance on Edom by the hand of My people Israel, that they may do in Edom according to My anger and according to My fury; and they shall know My vengeance,” says the Lord GOD.

Prophecy against Philistia

¹⁵“Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because the ⁱPhilistines dealt vengefully and took vengeance with a spiteful heart, to destroy because of the old hatred,”

¹⁶“therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “I will stretch out My hand against the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites and destroy the remnant of the seacoast.

¹⁷“I will execute great vengeance on them with furious rebukes; and they shall ^jknow that I am the LORD, when I lay My vengeance upon them.” ’ ’ ”

Judgment on Tyre

26 ^kAND it came to pass in the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying, those cities and countries bear witness, but the mention of the day of the LORD (30:3) makes it evident that a fulfillment in the final sense is still future. See Day of the LORD (Is. 2:10–22; Joel 1:15 and Rev. 19:19, notes); also Armageddon (Rev. 16:13–16; 19:17, note). Those countries are once more to be the battleground of the nations.

25:15 The Philistines’ sustained animosity toward Israel, remembered chiefly from Goliath’s challenge to David, required God’s judgment upon them.

THE FATE OF TYRE

The fate predicted for Tyre is unique and has been remarkably fulfilled. At the time of Ezekiel, Tyre was on the coast of Phoenicia at the shore of the Mediterranean Sea. As Ezekiel predicted, Nebuchadnezzar conquered and destroyed the city. He had no reason, however, to fulfill v. 12 by casting its ruins into the sea. Some of the people from Tyre escaped to an island and built a new city there.

Three hundred years later Alexander the Great, desiring to conquer this island city, built a causeway to it and threw all the remains of ancient Tyre (called Palaeo-tyrus by the Greeks) into the sea, fulfilling Ezek. 26:12. The old city of Tyre has never been rebuilt, but has remained like the top of a rock. Remains of ancient Sidon (28:20-24) have been excavated, and a flourishing town now stands on its old site, but the remains of ancient Tyre are in the sea under Alexander's causeway.

¹⁹“For thus says the Lord GOD: ‘When I make you a desolate city, like cities that are not inhabited, when I bring the deep upon you, and great waters cover you, ²⁰then I will bring you down ^awith those who descend into the Pit, to the people of old, and I will make you dwell in the lowest part of the earth, in places desolate from antiquity, with those who go down to the Pit, so that you may never be inhabited; and I shall establish glory in the land of the living.

²¹‘I will make you a ^bterror, and you shall be no more; ^cthough you are sought for, you will never be found ^dagain,’ says the Lord GOD.”

Lament over Tyre
(cp. Rev. 18:1-24)

27 THE word of the LORD came again to me, saying,

²“Now, son of man, take up a ^elamentation for Tyre,

³“and say to Tyre, ^f‘You who are situated at the entrance of the sea, merchant of the peoples on many coastlands, thus says the Lord GOD:

“O Tyre, you have said,
‘I am perfect in ^gbeauty.’

⁴ Your borders are in the midst of the seas.

Your builders have perfected your beauty.

⁵ They made all your planks of fir trees from Senir;

They took a cedar from Lebanon to make you a mast.

⁶ Of ^hoaks from Bashan they made your oars;

The company of Ashurites have inlaid your planks

With ivory from the coasts of Cyprus.*

⁷ Fine embroidered linen from Egypt was what you spread for your sail;

Blue and purple from the coasts of Elishah was what covered you.

⁸“Inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were your oarsmen;

Your ⁱwise men, O Tyre, were in you;

They became your pilots.

⁹ Elders of ^jGebal and its wise men

Were in you to caulk your seams;

All the ships of the sea

And their oarsmen were in you To market your merchandise.

¹⁰“Those from Persia, Lydia,* and Libya*

Were in your army as men of war;

They hung shield and helmet in you;

They gave splendor to you.

¹¹ Men of Arvad with your army were on your walls all around,

And the men of Gammad were in your towers;

They hung their shields on your walls all around;

They made your beauty perfect.

¹²^k“Tarshish was your merchant because of your many luxury goods. They gave you silver, iron, tin, and lead for your goods.

¹³“Javan, Tubal, and Meshech were your traders. They bartered human ^llives and vessels of bronze for your merchandise.

¹⁴“Those from the house of ^mTogarmah traded for your wares with horses, steeds, and mules.

¹⁵“The men of ⁿDedan were your traders; many isles were the market of your hand. They brought you ivory tusks and ebony as payment.

¹⁶“Syria was your merchant because of the abundance of goods you made. They gave you for your wares emeralds, purple, embroidery, fine linen, corals, and rubies.

¹⁸“Damascus was your merchant because of the abundance of goods

28:12 You were . . . Here in vv. 11-17, as in Is. 14:12-17, the language goes beyond the king of Tyre to Satan, inspirer and unseen ruler of all such pomp and pride as that of Tyre. Gen. 3:14-15 and Matt. 16:23 are other instances of thus indirectly addressing Satan. The unfallen state of Satan is here described; his fall is written in Is. 14. See Rev. 20:10, note. Moreover, the vision is not of Satan in his own person, but of Satan fulfilling himself through an earthly king who arrogates to himself divine honors, so that the prince of Tyre foreshadows the beast (Dan. 7:8; Rev. 19:20).

Prophecy against Egypt

29 IN the k tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all l Egypt.

3 “Speak, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Behold, m I am against you,
O Pharaoh king of Egypt,
O great n monster who lies in the midst of his rivers,
Who has said, ‘My River* is my own;

I have made it for myself.’
4 But I will put o hooks in your jaws,
And cause the fish of your rivers to stick to your scales;
I will bring you up out of the midst of your rivers,
And all the fish in your rivers will stick to your scales.

5 I will leave you in the wilderness,

*29:3 That is, the Nile

28:19 Verses 1–19 contain references to the ruler and the king of Tyre (vv. 1,12); to Satan (v. 12, see note); and evidently to the city of Tyre (vv. 7–8,18–19). Other Scriptures make clear that neither the destiny of unsaved men nor of Satan involves cessation of being (Matt. 18:8; 25:41,46; Mark 3:29; 2 Thess. 1:9; Heb. 6:2; Jude 6,13; Rev. 14:11;

20:10). Existence on earth is what is involved here. 29:1 tenth year. Approximately 588 B.C. tenth month. This is the month of Tebeth in the Hebrew religious calendar. It correlates to the modern months of December–January. For more information on the Hebrew religious calendar, see the note at Lev. 23:2.

You and all the fish of your rivers;
You shall fall on the open ^afield;
You shall not be picked up ^bor gathered.*
I have given you as food
To the beasts of the field
And to the birds of the heavens.

6^c Then all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a ^cstaff of reed to the house of Israel.

7 When they took hold of you with the hand,
You ^abroke and tore all their shoulders;*
When they leaned on you,
You broke and made all their backs quiver.”

8^d Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Surely I will bring a sword upon you and cut off from you man and beast.

9^e And the land of Egypt shall become ^edesolate and waste; then they will know that I am the LORD, because he said, ‘The River is mine, and I have made it.’

10^f “Indeed, therefore, I am against you and against your rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waste and desolate, ^ffrom Migdol^g to Syene, as far as the border of Ethiopia.

11^g “Neither foot of man shall pass through it nor foot of beast pass through it, and it shall be uninhabited forty years.

12^g “I will make the land of Egypt desolate that are desolate; and among the cities that are laid waste, her cities shall be desolate forty years; and I will ^gscatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries.”

13^g Yet, thus says the Lord GOD: “At the end of forty years I will ^hgather the Egyptians from the peoples among whom they were scattered.

14^h “I will bring back the captives of Egypt and cause them to return to the land of Pathros, to the land of their origin, and there they shall be a lowly kingdom.

15^h “It shall be the lowliest of kingdoms; it shall never again exalt itself above the nations, for I will diminish them so that they will not rule over the nations anymore.

16^h “No longer shall it be the ⁱconfidence of the house of Israel, but will remind them of their iniquity when they turned to follow them. Then they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.” ’ ’ ”

17ⁱ And it came to pass in the ^jtwenty-seventh year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18ⁱ “Son of man, ^kNebuchadnezzar king of Babylon caused his army to labor strenuously against Tyre; every head was made ^lbald, and every shoulder rubbed raw; yet neither he nor his army received wages from Tyre, for the labor which they expended on it.

19^j “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Surely I will give the land of Egypt to ^mNebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; he shall take away her wealth, carry off her spoil, and remove her pillage; and that will be the wages for his army.

20^j “I have given him the land of Egypt for his labor, because they worked for Me,’ says the Lord GOD.

21^j “In that day I will cause the Lament over Egypt's fall

30 THE word of the LORD came to me again, saying,
²“Son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Wail, ‘Woe to the day!’

³ For the ^bday is near,
 Even the ^cday of the LORD is near;

It will be a day of clouds, the time of the Gentiles.

⁴ The sword shall come upon Egypt,
 And great anguish shall be in Ethiopia,

When the slain fall in Egypt,
 And they take away her wealth,
 And her foundations are broken down.

⁵“Ethiopia, Libya,* Lydia,* all the mingled people, Chub, and the men of the lands who are allied, shall fall with them by the sword.”

⁶“Thus says the LORD:

“Those who uphold Egypt shall fall,

And the pride of her power shall come down.

From Migdol to Syene
 Those within her shall fall by the sword,”

Says the Lord GOD.

⁷“They shall be ^edesolate in the midst of the desolate countries,

And her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are laid waste.

⁸ Then they will know that I am the LORD,
 When I have set a fire in Egypt
 And all her helpers are destroyed.

⁹ On that day ^fmessengers shall go forth from Me in ships
 To make the careless Ethiopians afraid,

And great anguish shall come upon them,
 As on the day of Egypt;
 For indeed it is coming!”

¹⁰“Thus says the Lord GOD:

“I will also make a multitude of Egypt to cease
 By the hand of ^gNebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.

¹¹ He and his people with him,
 the most ^hterrible of the nations,
 Shall be brought to destroy the land;

They shall draw their swords against Egypt,
 And fill the land with the slain.

¹² I will make the ⁱrivers dry,
 And sell the land into the hand of the wicked;

I will make the land waste, and all that is in it,
 By the hand of aliens.
 I, the LORD, have spoken.”

¹³“Thus says the Lord GOD:

“I will also ^jdestroy the idols,
 And cause the images to cease from Noph;*

There shall ^kno longer be princes from the land of Egypt;

I will put fear in the land of Egypt.

¹⁴ I will make ^lPathros desolate,
 Set fire to Zoan,

And execute judgments in No.
¹⁵ I will pour My fury on Sin,* the strength of Egypt;

I will cut off the multitude of No,
¹⁶ And set a fire in Egypt;

Sin shall have great pain,
 No shall be split open,
 And Noph shall be in distress daily.

¹⁷ The young men of Aven* and Pi Beseth shall fall by the sword,
 And these cities shall go into captivity.

IV. Ezekiel's Responsibility as Watchman, 33

His solemn duty to sound warning

33 AGAIN the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

²"Son of man, speak to the children of your people, and say to them: 'When I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take a man from their territory and make him their ^awatchman, ³'when he sees the sword coming upon the land, if he blows the trumpet and warns the people, ⁴'then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet and does ^bnot take warning, if the sword comes and takes him away, his blood shall be on his own ^chead.

⁵'He heard the sound of the trumpet, but did not take warning; his blood shall be upon himself. But he who takes warning will save his life.

⁶'But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet, and the people are not warned, and the sword comes and takes any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood I will require at the watchman's hand.'

⁷"So you, son of man: I have made you a ^dwatchman for the house of Israel; therefore you shall hear a word from My mouth and warn them for Me.

⁹"Nevertheless if you warn the wicked to turn from his way, and he does not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you have delivered your soul.

¹⁰"Therefore you, O son of man, say to the house of Israel: 'Thus you say, "If our transgressions and our sins lie upon us, and we ^epine away in them, how can we then live?"' in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked ^hturn from his way and live. Turn, turn from your evil ways! For ⁱwhy should you die, O house of Israel!?'

¹¹"Say to them: 'As I live,' says the Lord GOD, ^f'I have no pleasure

¹²"Therefore you, O son of man, say to the children of your people: 'The ^jrighteousness of the righteous man shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall because of it in the day that he turns from his wickedness; nor shall the righteous be able to live because of his righteousness in the day that he sins.'

¹³"When I say to the righteous that he shall surely live, ^kbut he trusts in his own righteousness and commits iniquity, none of his righteous works shall be remembered; but because of the iniquity that he has ^lcommitted, he shall die.

¹⁴"Again, when I say to the wicked, 'You shall surely die,' if he turns from his sin and does what is lawful and right, ¹⁵"if the wicked ^mrestores the pledge, ⁿgives back what he has stolen, and walks in the statutes of life without committing iniquity, he shall surely live; he shall not die.

¹⁶"None of his sins which he has committed shall be remembered against him; he has done what is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

¹⁷"Yet the children of your people say, 'The way of the Lord is not fair.' But it is their way which is not fair!

¹⁸"When the righteous turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, he shall ^pdie because of it.

¹⁹"But when the wicked turns from his wickedness and does what is lawful and right, he shall ^qlive because of it.

²⁰"Yet you say, 'The ^rway of the Lord is not fair.' O house of Israel, I will judge every one of you according to his own ways."

Hearers but not doers of the Word

²³Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying:

²⁴“Son of man, they who inhabit those ruins in the land of Israel are saying, ^b‘Abraham was only one, and he inherited the land. But we are many; the land has been given to us as a ^cpossession.’

²⁵“Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “You eat meat toward your idols, and shed blood. Should you then possess the ^eland?

²⁶“You rely on your sword, you commit abominations, and you defile one another’s ^fwives. Should you then possess the land?” ’

²⁷“Say thus to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “As I live, surely those who are in the ruins shall fall by the sword, and the one who is in the open field I will give to the beasts to be devoured, and those who are in the strongholds and caves shall die of the pestilence.

²⁸“For I will make the land most ^gdesolate, her arrogant strength shall cease, and the mountains of Israel shall be so desolate that no one will pass through.

²⁹“Then they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land most desolate because of all their abominations which they have committed.” ’

³⁰“As for you, son of man, the children of your people are talking about you beside the walls and in the doors of the houses; and they speak to one another, everyone saying to his brother, ‘Please come and hear what the word is that comes from the LORD.’

³¹“So they come to you as people do, they ^hsit before you as My people, and they ⁱhear your words, but they do not do them; for with their ^jmouth they show much love, but their hearts pursue their own gain.

³²“Indeed you are to them as a very lovely song of one who has a pleasant voice and can play well on an instrument; for they hear your words, but they do ^knot do them.

³³“And when this comes to pass—surely it will come—then they will ^lknow that a prophet has been among them.”

V. Prediction of Events to Take Place at the End of the Age, When Israel Is Again in Her Own Land, 34—39

Message to the faithless shepherds of Israel

34 AND the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

²“Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to the shepherds: ^m“Woe to the shepherds of Israel who feed themselves! Should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

³“You ⁿeat the fat and clothe yourselves with the wool; you ^oslaughter the fatlings, but you do not feed the flock.

⁴“The ^pweak you have not strengthened, nor have you healed those who were sick, nor bound up the broken, nor brought back what was driven away, nor ^qsought what was lost; but with ^rforce and cruelty you have ruled them.

⁵“So they were ^sscattered because there was no shepherd; and they ^tbecame food for all the beasts of the field when they were scattered.

⁶“My sheep ^uwandered through all the mountains, and on every high hill; yes, My flock was scattered over the whole face of the earth, and no one was seeking or searching for them.”

⁷“Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD:

34:12 As a shepherd. In its Messianic and evangelical import, this passage (vv. 11-31) is like a window letting the light of dawn into a hall of judgment. Verses 12, 14-16, 22 look forward to the LORD of Ps. 23 and the Good Shepherd of John 10; but the primary reference is to Israel—“there shall be showers of blessing” (v. 26), the people “shall be safe in their land” (v. 27), “they shall no longer be a prey for the nations” (v. 28). Verses 23-30 speak of a restoration yet future, for the remnant which returned to Palestine after the captivity was continually under the Gentile yoke until they were driven from the land in A.D. 70.

know that I am the LORD, when I have ^abroken the bands of their yoke and delivered them from the hand of those who enslaved them.

²⁹“I will raise up for them a garden of renown, and they shall ^cno longer be consumed with hunger in the land, nor ^dbear the shame of the Gentiles anymore.

³⁰“Thus they shall know that I, the LORD their God, am with them, and they, the house of Israel, are ^eMy people,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

³¹“You are My flock, the flock of My pasture; you are men, and I am your God,” says the Lord GOD.

Prophecy against Mount Seir (Edom)

35 MOREOVER the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

²“Son of man, set your face against *f*Mount Seir and prophesy against it,

³“and say to it, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Behold, O Mount Seir, I am against you;

I will stretch out My hand against you,

And make you most desolate;

⁴ I shall lay your cities waste, And you shall be desolate.

Then you shall know that I am the LORD.

^{5g}“Because you have had an ancient hatred, and have shed the blood of the children of Israel by the power of the sword at the time of their calamity, when their iniquity came to an end, ⁶“therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will prepare you for ^hblood, and blood shall pursue you; since you have not hated blood, therefore blood shall pursue you.

⁷“Thus I will make Mount Seir most desolate, and cut off from it the one who leaves and the one who returns.

⁸“And I will fill its mountains with the slain; on your hills and in your valleys and in all your ravines those who are slain by the sword shall fall.

⁹“I will make you perpetually ⁱdesolate, and your cities shall be uninhabited; then you shall know that I am the LORD.

¹⁰“Because you have said, ‘These ^jtwo nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will ^kpossess them,’ although the LORD was ^lthere, ¹¹“therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will do according to your anger and according to the envy which you showed in your hatred against them; and I will make Myself known among them when I judge you.

¹²“Then you shall know that I am the LORD. I have ^mheard all your ⁿblasphemies which you have spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, ‘They are desolate; they are given to us to consume.’

¹³“Thus with your mouth you have boasted against Me and multiplied your ^owords against Me; I have heard them.”

¹⁴“Thus says the Lord GOD: ^p“The whole earth will rejoice when I make you desolate.

¹⁵“As you ^qrejoiced because the inheritance of the house of Israel was desolate, ^rso I will do to you; you shall be desolate, O Mount Seir, as well as all of Edom—all of it! Then they shall know that I am the LORD.” ’

¹⁸“Therefore I poured out My fury on them for the blood they had shed on the land, and for their idols with which they had defiled it.

³¹“Then you will ⁱremember your evil ways and your deeds that were not good; and you will ^jloathe yourselves in your own sight, for your iniquities and your abominations.

³²“Not for your sake do I do this,” says the Lord GOD, “let it be known to you. Be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Israel!”

³³“Thus says the Lord GOD: “On the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will also enable you to dwell in the cities, and the ruins shall be rebuilt.

³⁴“The desolate land shall be tilled instead of lying desolate in the sight of all who pass by.

³⁵“So they will say, ‘This land that was desolate has become like the ^kgarden of Eden; and the wasted, desolate, and ruined cities are now fortified and inhabited.’

³⁶“Then the nations which are left all around you shall know that I, the LORD, have rebuilt the ruined places and planted what was desolate. I, the LORD, have spoken it, and I will do it.”

³⁷“Thus says the Lord GOD: “I will also let the house of Israel ^minquire of Me to do this for them: I will increase their men like a flock.

37:1 full of bones. Having announced the restoration of the nation (36:24–38), the LORD now gives in vision and symbol the method of its accomplishment. Verse 11 gives the clue. The bones represent the whole house of Israel living at the time of restoration. The graves (v. 12) are the nations where they dwell. The order is: (1) bringing the people out (v. 12); (2) bringing them in (v. 12); (3) their conversion (v. 13); and (4) their being filled with the Spirit (v. 14). The symbol follows. The two sticks are Judah and the ten tribes; united, they are one nation (vv. 19–28).

winds, O breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may ^alive.” ’ ’ ”

¹⁰So I prophesied as He commanded me, and breath came into them, and they lived, and stood upon their feet, an ^bexceedingly great army.

Vision explained

¹¹Then He said to me, “Son of man, these bones are the ^cwhole house of Israel. They indeed say, ‘Our bones are dry, our hope is ^dlost, and we ourselves are cut off!’

¹²“Therefore prophesy and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, O My people, I will ^eopen your graves and cause you to come up from your ^fgraves, and bring you into the land of Israel.

¹³“Then you shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, O My people, and brought you up from your graves.

¹⁴“I will put My ^gSpirit in you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land. Then you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken it and performed it,” says the LORD.’ ”

Sign of the two sticks

¹⁵Again the word of the LORD came to me, ^hsaying,

¹⁶“As for you, son of man, take a stick for yourself and write on it: ‘For Judah and for the children of Israel, his companions.’ Then take another stick and write on it, ‘For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel, his companions.’

¹⁷“Then join them one to another for yourself into one stick, and they will become ⁱone in your hand.

¹⁸“And when the children of your people speak to you, saying, ‘Will you not show us what you mean by these?’—

¹⁹“say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Surely I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel, his companions; and I will join them with it, with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they will be one in My hand.” ’

²⁰“And the sticks on which you write will be in your hand before their eyes.

²¹“Then say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Surely I will take the ^jchildren of Israel from among the nations, wherever they have gone, and will ^kgather them from every side and ^lbring them into their own land;

²²“and I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel; and one ^mking shall be king over them all; they shall no longer be two nations, nor shall they ever be divided into two kingdoms again.

²³“They shall not defile themselves anymore with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions; but I will deliver them from all their dwelling places in which they have sinned, and will ⁿcleanse them. Then they shall be My people, and I will be their God.

²⁴“David My servant shall be king over them, and they shall all have one shepherd; they shall also walk in My judgments and observe My statutes, and do them.

²⁶“Moreover I will make a ^rcovenant of peace with them, and it shall be an everlasting covenant with them; I will establish them and multiply them, and I will set My sanctuary in their midst forevermore.

²⁷“My tabernacle also shall be with them; indeed I will be their God, and they shall be My people.

²⁸“The nations also will know that I, the LORD, sanctify Israel, when My sanctuary is in their midst forevermore.” ’ ’ ” ^{8g}“After many days you will be visited. In the latter years you will come into the land of those brought back from the sword and gathered from many people on the mountains of Israel, which had long been desolate; they were brought out of the nations, and now all of them dwell ^hsafely.

¹⁰“Thus says the Lord GOD: “On that day it shall come to pass that thoughts will arise in your mind, and you will make an evil plan:

¹¹“You will say, ‘I will go up against a land of ⁱunwalled villages; I will go to a peaceful people, who dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates’—

¹⁵“Then you will come from your place out of the far north, you and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great company and a mighty army.

38:2 Gog . . . Magog . . . Rosh. The reference is to the powers in the north of Europe, headed by Russia. The whole passage should be read in connection with Zech. 12:1-4; 14:1-9; Matt. 24:14-30; Rev. 14:14-20; 19:17-21. Gog is probably the prince; Magog, his land. Russia and the northern powers have long been the persecutors of dispersed Israel, and it is congruous both with divine justice and with the covenants of God that destruction should fall in connection with the attempt to exterminate the remnant of Israel in Jerusalem. The entire prophecy belongs to the yet future day of the LORD (see notes at Joel 1:15; Rev. 19:19).

²“and I will ^hturn you around and lead you on, bringing you up from the far north, and bring you against the mountains of Israel.

³“Then I will knock the bow out of your left hand, and cause the arrows to fall out of your right hand.

⁴“You shall fall upon the ⁱmountains of Israel, you and all your troops and the peoples who are with you; I will give you to birds of prey of every sort and to the beasts of the field to be ^jdevoured.

⁵“You shall fall on the open field; for I have spoken,” says the Lord GOD.

⁶“And I will send ^kfire on Magog and on those who live in security in the coastlands. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.

⁷“So I will make My holy name known in the midst of My people Israel, and I will not ^llet them ^mprofane My holy name anymore. Then the nations shall ⁿknow that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel.

⁸“Surely it is coming, and ^oit shall be done,” says the Lord GOD.

“This is the day of which I have spoken.

⁹“Then those who dwell in the cities of Israel will go out and set on fire and burn the weapons, both the shields and bucklers, the bows and arrows, the javelins and spears; and they will make fires with them for seven years.

¹⁰“They will not take wood from the field nor cut down ^pany from the forests, because they will make fires with the weapons; and they will ^qplunder those who plundered them, and pillage those who pillaged them,” says the Lord GOD.

¹¹“It will come to pass in that day that I will give ^rGog a burial place there in Israel, the valley of those who pass by east of the sea; and it will obstruct travelers, because there they will bury Gog and all his multitude. Therefore they will call it the Valley of Hamon Gog.

¹²“For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them, in order to ^scleanse the land.

¹³“Indeed all the people of the land will be burying, and they will gain ^trenown for it on the day that I am glorified,” says the Lord GOD.

¹⁴“They will set apart men regularly employed, with the help of a search party,* to pass through the land and bury those bodies remaining on the ground, in order to cleanse it. At the end of seven months they will make a search.

¹⁶“The name of the city will also be Hamonah. Thus they shall cleanse the land.”’

DIFFICULTIES OF EXPOSITION

The last nine chapters of Ezekiel have posed numerous problems for expositors. Five explanations have been offered:

(1) Some feel these chapters describe the Solomonic temple before its destruction in 586 B.C. This is not possible because of disagreement in detail with the accounts in the books of Kings and Chronicles.

(2) Some hold it is a description of the restoration temple completed in the sixth century B.C. This view is also untenable, because the descriptions do not tally.

(3) Others maintain that the chapters portray an ideal temple never realized. This position does not explain why the portrayal is presented, nor why there is so much detail.

(4) Still another view is the claim that the picture is one of the Church and its blessings in this age. This view does not explain the symbolism, nor why large areas of Christian doctrine are omitted. And

(5) the preferable interpretation is that Ezekiel gives a picture of the millennial temple. Judging from the broad context of the prophecy (the time subsequent to Israel's regathering and conversion) and the testimony of other Scripture (Is. 66; Ezek. 6; 14), this interpretation is in keeping with God's prophetic program for the millennium.

The Church is not in view here, but rather it is a prophecy for the consummation of Israel's history on earth.

was upon me; and He took me there.

²In the visions of God He ^atook me into the land of Israel and set me on a very high mountain; on it toward the south was something like the structure of a city.

³He took me there, and behold, there was a ^bman whose appearance was like the appearance of bronze. He had a line of flax and a measuring ^crod in his hand, and he stood in the gateway.

⁴And the man said to me, "Son of man, ^dlook with your eyes and hear with your ears, and fix your mind on everything I show you; for you were brought here so that I might show them to you. ^eDeclare to the house of Israel everything you see."

⁷Each gate chamber was one rod long and one rod wide; between the gate chambers was a space of five cubits; and the threshold of the gateway by the vestibule of the inside gate was one rod.

⁸He also measured the vestibule of the inside gate, one rod.

⁹Then he measured the vestibule of the gateway, eight cubits; and the gateposts, two cubits. The vestibule of the gate was on the inside.

¹⁰In the eastern gateway were three gate chambers on one side and three on the other; the three were all the same size; also the gateposts were of the same size on this side and that side.

¹¹He measured the width of the entrance to the gateway, ten cubits;

and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits.

¹²*There was* a space in front of the gate chambers, one cubit on this side and one cubit on that side; the gate chambers were six cubits on this side and six cubits on that side.

¹³Then he measured the gateway from the roof of one gate chamber to the roof of the other; the width was twenty-five cubits, as door faces door.

¹⁴He measured the gateposts, sixty cubits high, and the court all around the gateway extended to the gatepost.

¹⁵*From* the front of the entrance gate to the front of the vestibule of the inner gate was fifty cubits.

¹⁶*There were* ^hbeveled window frames in the gate chambers and in their intervening archways on the inside of the gateway all around, and likewise in the vestibules. There were windows all around on the inside. And on each gatepost were ⁱpalm trees.

¹⁷Then he brought me into the ^jouter court; and there were ^kchambers and a pavement made all around the court; ^lthirty chambers faced the pavement.

¹⁸The pavement was by the side of the gateways, corresponding to the length of the gateways; this was the lower pavement.

¹⁹Then he measured the width from the front of the lower gateway to the front of the inner court exterior, one hundred cubits toward the east and the north.

²⁰On the ^mouter court was also a gateway facing north, and he measured its length and its width.

²¹Its gate chambers, three on this side and three on that side, its gateposts and its archways, had the same measurements as the first gate; its length was fifty cubits and its width twenty-five cubits.

²²Its windows and those of its archways, and also its palm trees, had the same measurements as the gateway facing east; it was ascended by seven steps, and its archway was in front of it.

²³A gate of the inner court was opposite the northern gateway, just as the eastern gateway; and he measured from gateway to gateway, one hundred cubits.

²⁴After that he brought me toward the south, and there a gateway was facing south; and he measured its gateposts and archways according to these same measurements.

²⁵There were windows in it and in its archways all around like those windows; its length was fifty cubits and its width twenty-five cubits.

²⁶Seven steps led up to it, and its archway was in front of them; and it had palm trees on its gateposts, one on this side and one on that side.

²⁷There was also a gateway on the inner court, facing south; and he measured from gateway to gateway toward the south, one hundred cubits.

²⁸Then he brought me to the inner court through the southern gateway; he measured the southern gateway according to these same measurements.

²⁹Also its gate chambers, its gateposts, and its archways were according to these same measurements; there were windows in it and in its archways all around; it was fifty cubits long and ^atwenty-five ^bcubits wide.

³⁷Its gateposts faced the outer court, palm trees were on its gateposts on this side and on that side, and going up to it were eight steps.

³⁸There was a chamber and its entrance by the gateposts of the gateway, where they ^cwashed the burnt offering.

³⁹In the vestibule of the gateway were two tables on this side and two tables on that side, on which to slay the burnt offering, the ^dsin offering, and the ^etrespass offering.

⁴⁰At the outer side of the vestibule, as one goes up to the entrance of the northern gateway, were two tables; and on the other side of the vestibule of the gateway were two tables.

⁴¹Four tables were on this side and four tables on that side, by the side of the gateway, eight tables on which they slaughtered the sacrifices.

⁴²There were also four tables of hewn stone for the burnt offering, one cubit and a half long, one cubit and a half wide, and one cubit high; on these they laid the instruments with which they slaughtered the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

⁴³Inside were hooks, a ^ghand-breadth wide, fastened all around; and the flesh of the sacrifices was on the tables.

⁴⁷And he measured the court, one hundred cubits long and one hundred cubits wide, foursquare. The altar was in front of the temple.

⁴⁸Then he brought me to the ^dvestibule of the temple and measured the doorposts of the vestibule, five cubits on this side and five cubits on that side; and the width of the gateway was three cubits on this side and three cubits on that side.

⁴⁹The length of the vestibule was twenty cubits, and the width eleven cubits; and by the steps which led up to it there were ^epillars by the doorposts, one on this side and another on that side.

The holy and most holy place, side chambers, the rear buildings and interior

41 THEN he ^fbrought me into the sanctuary* and measured the doorposts, six cubits wide on one side and six cubits wide on the other side—the width of the tabernacle.

²The width of the entryway was ten cubits, and the side walls of the entrance were five cubits on this side and five cubits on the other side; and he measured its length, forty cubits, and its width, twenty cubits.

³Also he went inside and measured the doorposts, two cubits; and the entrance, six cubits high; and the width of the entrance, seven cubits.

⁴He measured the length, twenty cubits; and the width, twenty cubits, beyond the sanctuary; and he said to me, ^g“This is the ^hMost Holy Place.”

⁵Next, he measured the wall of the temple, six ⁱcubits. The width of each side chamber all around the temple was four cubits on every side.

⁶The side ^jchambers were in three stories, one above the other, thirty chambers in each story; they rested on ledges which were for the side chambers all around, that they might be supported, but ^knot fastened to the wall of the temple.

⁷As one went up from story to story, the side chambers became wider all around, because their supporting ledges in the wall of the temple ascended like steps; therefore the width of the structure increased as one went up from the lowest story to the highest by way of the middle one.

⁸I also saw an elevation all around the temple; it was the foundation of the side chambers, a full ^mrod, that is, six cubits high.

⁹The thickness of the outer wall of the side chambers was five cubits, and so also the remaining terrace by the place of the side chambers of the temple.

¹⁰And between it and the wall chambers was a width of twenty cubits all around the temple on every side.

¹¹The doors of the side chambers opened on the terrace, one door toward the north and another toward the south; and the width of the terrace was five cubits all around.

¹²The building that faced the separating courtyard at its western end was seventy cubits wide; the wall of the building was five cubits thick all around, and its length ninety cubits.

¹³So he measured the temple, one ⁿhundred cubits long; and the separating courtyard with the building and its walls was one hundred cubits long;

¹⁴also the width of the eastern face of the temple, including the separating courtyard, was one hundred cubits.

¹⁵He measured the length of the building behind it, facing the separating courtyard, with its ^ogalleries on the one side and on the other side, one hundred cubits, as well as

¹⁸And it was made with ^ccherubim and ^dpalm trees, a palm tree between cherub and cherub. Each cherub had two faces, ¹⁹so that the face of a ^eman was toward a palm tree on one side, and the face of a young lion toward a palm tree on the other side; thus it was made throughout the temple all around.

²⁰From the floor to the space above the door, and on the wall of the sanctuary, cherubim and palm trees were carved.

²¹The ^fdoorposts of the temple were square, as was the front of the sanctuary; their appearance was similar.

²²The ^galtar was of wood, three cubits high, and its length two cubits. Its corners, its length, and its sides were of wood; and he said to me, "This is the ^htable that is before the LORD."

²³The temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

²⁴The doors had two ⁱpanels apiece, two folding panels: two panels for one door and two panels for the other door.

²⁵Cherubim and palm trees were carved on the doors of the temple just as they were carved on the walls. A wooden canopy was on the front of the vestibule outside.

²⁶*There were* beveled window frames and palm trees on one side and on the other, on the sides of the vestibule—also on the side chambers of the temple and on the canopies.

The priests' chambers and final measurements of the temple

42 THEN he ^kbrought me out into the ^louter court, by the way toward the ^mnorth; and he brought me into the ⁿchamber which was opposite the ^oseparating courtyard, and which was opposite the building toward the north.

²Facing the length, which was one hundred ^pcubits (the width was fifty cubits), was the north door.

³Opposite the inner court of twenty cubits, and opposite the ^qpavement of the outer court, was ^rgallery against gallery in three stories.

⁴In front of the chambers, toward the inside, was a walk ten cubits wide, at a distance of one cubit; and their doors faced north.

⁵Now the upper chambers were shorter, because the galleries took away space from them more than from the lower and middle stories of the building.

⁶For they were in three stories and did not have pillars like the pillars of the courts; therefore the upper level was shortened more than the lower and middle levels from the ground up.

⁷And a wall which was outside ran parallel to the chambers, at the front of the chambers, toward the outer court; its length was fifty cubits.

⁸The length of the chambers toward the outer court was fifty cubits, whereas that facing the temple was one ^shundred cubits.

⁹At the lower chambers was the entrance on the east side, as one goes into them from the outer court.

¹⁰Also there were chambers in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, opposite the separating courtyard and opposite the building.

¹¹*There was* a walk in front of them also, and their appearance was like the chambers which were toward the north; they were as long and as wide as the others, and all their exits and entrances were according to plan.

¹³Then he said to me, “The north chambers and the south chambers, which are opposite the separating courtyard, are the holy chambers where the priests who ^aapproach the LORD ^bshall eat the most holy offerings. There they shall lay the most holy offerings—the ^cgrain offering, the sin offering, and the trespass offering—for the place is holy.

¹⁵Now when he had finished measuring the inner temple, he brought me out through the gateway that faces toward the feast, and measured it all around.

¹⁶He measured the east side with the measuring rod,* five hundred *g*rods by the measuring rod all around.

¹⁷He measured the north side, five hundred rods by the measuring rod all around.

¹⁸He measured the south side, five hundred rods by the measuring rod.

Vision of glory of the LORD filling the temple (cp. Ezek. 11:22–24)

43 AFTERWARD he brought me to the gate, the gate that faces toward the ^keast.

²And behold, the ^lglory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east. His ^mvoice was like the sound of many waters; and the earth shone with His ⁿglory.

³*It was* like the appearance of the vision which I saw—like the vision which I saw when I came to destroy the city. The visions were like the vision which I saw by the River Chebar; and I fell on my face.

⁴And the ^oglory of the LORD came into the temple by way of the gate which faces toward the east.

⁵The ^pSpirit lifted me up and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the LORD ^qfilled the temple.

The place of the throne in the coming kingdom

⁶Then I heard Him speaking to me from the temple, while a ^rman stood beside me.

⁷And He said to me, “Son of man, this is the ^splace of My throne and the place of the soles of My feet, where I will ^dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever. No more shall the house of Israel defile My holy name, they nor their kings, by their harlotry or with the carcasses of their kings on their ^uhigh places.

⁸“When they set their threshold by My threshold, and their doorpost by My doorpost, with a wall between them and Me, they ^vdefiled My holy name by the abominations which they committed; therefore I have consumed them in My anger.

⁹“Now let them put their harlotry and the carcasses of their kings far away from Me, and I will dwell in their midst forever.

¹⁰“Son of man, describe the temple to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and let them measure the pattern.

“when He came to destroy the city.” A possible rendering, and perhaps preferable, would be to read the final letter of the disputed word as a well-known abbreviation for “LORD,” thus giving us the reading “when the LORD came to destroy the city.”

THE PROBLEM WITH SACRIFICES

A problem is posed by this paragraph (vv. 19–27). Since the NT clearly teaches that animal sacrifices do not in themselves cleanse away sin (Heb. 10:4) and that the one sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ that was made at Calvary completely provides for such expiation (compare Heb. 9:12,26,28; 10:10,14), how can there be a fulfillment of such a prophecy? Two answers have been suggested: (1) Such sacrifices, if actually offered, will be memorial in character. They will, according to this view, look back to our Lord’s work on the cross, as the offerings of the old covenant anticipated His sacrifice. They would, of course, have no expiatory value. And (2) the reference to sacrifices is not to be taken literally, in view of the putting away of such offerings, but is rather to be regarded as a presentation of the worship of redeemed Israel, in her own land and in the millennial temple, using the terms with which the Jews were familiar in Ezekiel’s day.

³"As for the ^bprince, because he is the prince, he may sit in it to ^ceat bread before the LORD; ^dhe shall enter by way of the vestibule of the gateway, and go out the same way."

their idols, they shall bear their iniquity.

¹¹"Yet they shall be ministers in My sanctuary, as gatekeepers of the house and ministers of the house; they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister to them.

¹²"Because they ministered to them before their idols and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore I have ⁿraised My hand in an oath against them," says the Lord GOD, "that they shall bear their iniquity.

¹³"And they shall ^onot come near Me to minister to Me as priest, nor come near any of My holy things, nor into the Most Holy Place; but they shall bear their shame and their abominations which they have committed.

¹⁴"Nevertheless I will make them ^pkeep charge of the temple, for all its work, and for all that has to be done in it.

¹⁵"But the priests, the Levites, the ^qsons of Zadok, who kept charge of My sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from Me, they shall come near Me to minister to Me; and they ^rshall stand before Me to offer to Me the fat and the blood," says the Lord GOD.

¹⁶"They shall ^senter My sanctuary, and they shall come near My table to minister to Me, and they shall keep My charge.

²²“They shall not take as wife a ^fwidow or a divorced woman, but take virgins of the descendants of the house of Israel, or widows of priests.

²³“And they shall ^gteach My people the difference between the holy and the unholy, and cause them to ^hdiscern between the unclean and the clean.

³¹“The priests ^pshall not eat anything, bird or beast, that died naturally or was torn by wild beasts.

The LORD’s district of land

45 “MOREOVER, when you ^qdivide the land by lot into inheritance, you shall set apart a ^rdistrict for the LORD, a holy section of the land; its length shall be twenty-five thousand cubits, and the width ten thousand. It shall be holy throughout its territory all around.

²“Of this there shall be a square plot for the sanctuary, ^sfive hundred by five hundred rods, with fifty ^tcubits around it for an open space.

⁵“An area twenty-five thousand cubits long and ten thousand wide shall belong to the Levites, the ministers of the temple; they shall have twenty chambers as a possession.*

⁶“You shall appoint as the property of the city an area ^vfive thousand cubits wide and twenty-five thousand long, adjacent to the district of the holy section; it shall belong to the whole house of Israel.

Section for the prince

⁷“The ^wprince shall have a section on one side and the other of the holy district and the city’s property; and bordering on the holy district and the city’s property, extending westward on the west side and eastward on the east side, the length shall be side by side with one of the tribal portions, from the west border to the east border.

⁸“The land shall be his possession in Israel; and My princes shall no more oppress My people, but they shall ^xgive the rest of the land to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.”

²⁰"And so you shall do on the seventh day of the month for everyone who has ^hsinned unintentionally or in ignorance. Thus you shall make atonement for the temple.

²¹ⁱ"In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall observe the Passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

²²"And on that day the prince shall prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a ^jbull for a sin offering.

²⁴"And he shall prepare a grain offering of one ^kephah for each bull and one ephah for each ram, together with a ^khin of oil for each ephah.

¹⁰“The prince shall then be ^hin their midst. When they go in, he shall go in; and when they go out, he shall go out.

¹²“Now when the prince makes a voluntary burnt offering or voluntary peace offering to the LORD, the gate that faces toward the east shall then be opened for him; and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings as he did on the Sabbath day. Then he shall go out, and after he goes out the gate shall be shut.

¹³“You shall daily make a burnt offering to the LORD of a lamb of the first year without blemish; you shall prepare it every ^jmorning.

¹⁴“And you shall prepare a grain offering with it every morning, a sixth of an ^kephah, and a third of a ^khin of oil to moisten the fine flour. This grain offering is a perpetual ordinance, to be made regularly to the LORD.

¹⁵“Thus they shall prepare the lamb, the grain offering, and the oil, as a ^lregular burnt offering every morning.”

¹⁷“But if he gives a gift of some of his inheritance to one of his servants, it shall be his until the ⁿyear of liberty, after which it shall return to the prince. But his inheritance shall belong to his sons; it shall become theirs.

¹⁸“Moreover the ^oprince shall not take any of the people’s inheritance by ^pevicting them from their property; he shall provide an inheritance for his sons from his own property, so that none of My people may be ^qscattered from his property.” ’ ” were enclosed courts, forty ^acubits long and thirty wide; all four corners were the same size.

²³There was a row of building stones all around in them, all around the four of them; and cooking hearths were made under the rows of stones all around.

²⁴And he said to me, “These are the kitchens where the ministers of the temple shall boil the sacrifices of the people.”

The river of the sanctuary
(cp. Zech. 14:8-9; Rev. 22:1-2)

47 THEN he brought me back to the door of the temple; and there was ^bwater, flowing from under the threshold of the temple toward the east, for the front of the temple faced east; the water was flowing from under the right side of the temple, south of the altar.

²He brought me out by way of the north gate, and led me around on the outside to the outer gateway that faces ^ceast; and there was water, running out on the right side.

³And when the ^dman went out to the east with the line in his hand, he measured one thousand ^ecubits, and he brought me through the waters; the water came up to my ankles.

⁴Again he measured one thousand and brought me through the waters; the water came up to my knees. Again he measured one thousand and brought me through; the water came up to my waist.

⁵Again he measured one thousand, and it was a river that I could not cross; for the water was too deep, water in which one must swim, a river that could not be crossed.

⁶He said to me, “Son of man, have you seen this?” Then he brought me and returned me to the bank of the river.

⁷When I returned, there, along the bank of the river, were very many ^ftrees on one side and the other.

⁸Then he said to me: “This water flows toward the eastern region, goes down into the valley, and enters the sea. When it reaches the sea, its waters are healed.

⁹“And it shall be that every living thing that moves, wherever the rivers go, will live. There will be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters go there; for they will be healed, and everything will live wherever the river goes.

¹⁰“It shall be that fishermen will stand by it from En Gedi to En Eglaim; they will be places for spreading their nets. Their fish will be of the same kinds as the fish of the ^gGreat Sea, exceedingly many.

¹¹“But its swamps and marshes will not be healed; they will be given over to salt.

¹²“Along the bank of the river, on this side and that, will grow all kinds of trees used for food; their ^hleaves will not wither, and their fruit will not fail. They will bear fruit every month, because their water flows from the sanctuary. Their fruit will be for food, and their ^hleaves for ⁱmedicine.”

48:1 northern border. The portion of land provided for each of the twelve tribes runs in parallel strips, east from the Mediterranean Sea, starting with Dan in the north and ending with Gad at the south.

48:8 district. The word (Hebrew terûmâh) translated here, in v. 9, and in 45:1 as “district” denotes something lifted up and describes a presentation to the LORD alone. Here the offering consists of land. In other passages (Ex. 29:27; Num. 15:19, etc.) it is an animal or grain offering.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL

Author:
Daniel

Theme:
Rise and Fall of Kingdoms

Date of writing:
6th Cent. B.C.

Background

The book of Daniel, like Revelation in the New Testament, is called an apocalypse, as are also Isaiah 24–27 (the Isaiah Apocalypse), and the visions in Zechariah. “Apocalypse” means unveiling. When wickedness seemed supreme in the world, and evil powers were dominant, an apocalypse was given to show the real situation behind that which was apparent, and to indicate the eventual victory of righteousness upon the earth. Apocalyptic writing uses many figures and symbols. God used this literary form to convey His truth to His people.

The author of this book, Daniel, whose name means God is my judge, was taken in his youth to Babylon in the first deportation under Nebuchadnezzar. He soon excelled in wisdom in this land famous for its wise men, and ultimately rose to become first among the three highest officers of the Medo-Persian Empire (5:29; 6:1–3). His life in Babylon extended to at least 530 B.C.

Daniel is a book of kings and kingdoms, of thrones and dominions. While including a number of historical records, it embodies prophecies of the sequence of kingdoms in “the times of the Gentiles” (Luke 21:24; see Revelation 16:19, note) and portrays the end of this period. It voices the only prophecy in the Old Testament (9:24–27) that sets the time of Christ’s first advent.

Historical Events in Daniel

The historical events in Daniel, occurring at the beginning of the times of the Gentiles, illustrate events prophetically set forth in the book as taking place at the end of this period and culminating catastrophically in the termination of Gentile world rule at the return of Christ, the Messiah. Thus, the persecution of the children of God in chapters 3 and 6 foreshadows the more severe and universal persecution of God’s people to take place at the end of this age (7:25; 8:24; 12:1); likewise, the blasphemous repudiation of the God of Israel, as in 5:1–4; 6:5–12, will appear in a more universal form and even greater intensity at the end of the age (7:25; 9:26; 11:37,38).

The Old Testament in the New

This book is referred to or quoted many times in the New Testament (compare especially our Lord’s reference to Daniel in Matthew 24:15; Mark 13:14) and is the key to Revelation. It exercised a great influence upon the early church; its scheme of four successive empires dominated European historiography until the middle of the eighteenth century.

Outline

The book may be divided as follows:

 - E. Last Message to Daniel 12:4–13

I. Daniel's Early Life in the Babylonian Court, 1

*Daniel in the palace
of Nebuchadnezzar*

1 IN the third year of the reign of ^aJehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it.

²And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with ^bsome of the articles of the house of God, which he carried into the land of Shinar to the house of his god; and he brought the articles into the treasure house of his god.

³Then the king instructed Ashpenaz, the master of his eunuchs, to bring some of the children of Israel and some of the ^cking's descendants and some of the nobles, ⁴young men in whom there was no blemish, but good-looking, gifted in all wisdom, possessing knowledge and quick to understand, who had ability to serve in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the language and literature of the Chaldeans.

⁵And the king appointed for them a daily provision of the king's delicacies and of the wine which he drank, and three years of training for them, so that at the end of that time they might serve before the king.

⁶Now from among those of the sons of Judah were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

⁷To them the chief of the eunuchs gave names: he gave Daniel the name ^dBeltshazzar; to Hananiah, Shadrach; to Mishael, Meshach; and to Azariah, Abed-Nego.

Daniel's purpose of heart

⁸But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not ^edefile himself with the portion of the king's delicacies, nor with the ^fwine which he drank; therefore he requested of the chief of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

⁹Now ^gGod had brought Daniel into the favor and goodwill of the chief of the eunuchs.

¹⁰And the chief of the eunuchs said to Daniel, "I fear my lord the king, who has appointed your food and drink. For why should he see your faces looking worse than the young men who are your age? Then you would endanger my head before the king."

¹¹So Daniel said to the steward* whom the chief of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, ¹²"Please test your servants for ten days, and let them give us vegetables to eat and water to drink.

¹³"Then let our appearance be examined before you, and the appearance of the young men who eat the portion of the king's delicacies; and as you see fit, so deal with your servants."

¹⁴So he consented with them in this matter, and tested them ten days.

¹⁵And at the end of ten days their features appeared ^hbetter and fatter in flesh than all the young men who ate the portion of the king's delicacies.

¹⁶Thus the steward took away their portion of delicacies and the wine that they were to drink, and gave them vegetables.

¹⁷As for these four young men, God ⁱgave them ^jknowledge and skill in all literature and wisdom; and Daniel had ^kunderstanding in all visions and dreams.

¹⁸Now at the end of the days, when the king had said that they should be brought in, the chief of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

¹⁹Then the king interviewed* them, and among them all none was found like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah; therefore they ^aserved before the king.

²⁰And in all matters of wisdom and understanding about which the king examined them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers who were in all his realm.

²¹Thus Daniel continued until the first year of King Cyrus.

2 NOW in the second year of Nebuchadnezzar's reign, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams; and his spirit was so troubled that his sleep left him.

²Then the king gave the command to ^bcall the magicians, the astrologers, the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans to tell the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king.

³And the king said to them, "I have had a dream, and my spirit is anxious to know the dream."

⁴Then the Chaldeans spoke to the king in Aramaic, "O king, live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will give the interpretation."

⁵The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, "My decision is firm: if you do not make known the dream to me, and its interpretation, you shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made an ash heap.

⁶"However, if you tell the dream and its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts, rewards, and great honor. Therefore tell me the dream and its interpretation."

⁷They answered again and said, "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will give its interpretation."

⁸The king answered and said, "I know for certain that you would gain time, because you see that my decision is firm:

⁹"if you do not make known the dream to me, there is only one decree for you! For you have agreed to speak lying and corrupt words before me till the time has changed. Therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can give me its interpretation."

¹⁰The Chaldeans answered the king, and said, "There is not a man on earth who can tell the king's matter; therefore no king, lord, or ruler has ever asked such things of any magician, astrologer, or Chaldean.

¹²For this reason the king was angry and very furious, and gave the command to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

¹³So the decree went out, and they began killing the wise men; and they sought ^dDaniel and his companions, to kill them.

Daniel requests time; prays for wisdom

¹⁴Then with counsel and wisdom Daniel answered Arioch, the captain of the king's guard, who had gone out to kill the wise men of Babylon;

¹⁵he answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, "Why is the decree from the king so urgent?" Then Arioch made the decision known to Daniel.

16 So Daniel went in and asked the king to give him time, that he might tell the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the decision known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions, 18 that they might ^aseek ^bmercies from the God of heaven concerning this secret, so that Daniel and his companions might not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

The secret revealed to Daniel

19 Then the ^csecret was revealed to Daniel in a night vision. So Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel answered and said:

“Blessed be the name of God forever and ever, ^dFor wisdom and might are His.

21 And He ^echanges the /times and the seasons;

^gHe removes kings and raises up kings;
He gives wisdom to the wise

And knowledge to those who have understanding.

23 “I thank You and praise You, O God of my fathers;
You have given me wisdom and might,
And have now made known to me what we ^kasked of You,
For You have made known to us the king’s demand.”

24 Therefore Daniel went to ^lArioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon. He went and said thus to him: “Do not destroy the wise men of Babylon; ^mtake me before the king, and I will tell the king the interpretation.”

²⁶The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, “Are you able to make known to me the dream which I have seen, and its interpretation?”

²⁷Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, “The secret which the king has demanded, the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, and the soothsayers cannot declare to the king.

²⁸“But there is a ^aGod in heaven who reveals secrets, and He has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the ^blatter days. Your dream, and the visions of your head upon your bed, were these:

²⁹“As for you, O king, thoughts came to your mind while on your bed, about what would come to pass after this; and He who reveals secrets has made known to you ^cwhat will be.

THE VISION OF THE WORLD EMPIRES

The vision prophetically portrays the course of world empire and its destruction by Christ, who called this period “the times of the Gentiles” (Luke 21:24; see Rev. 16:19, note). The four metals composing the statue are explained as symbolizing four empires (vv. 38–40), not necessarily possessing the inhabited earth but divinely authorized to do so (v. 38), and fulfilled in Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece (under Alexander), and Rome. The latter power is seen divided, first into two (the legs), fulfilled in the eastern and western Roman Empires, and then into ten (the toes) (see Dan. 7:26, note). As a whole, the statue gives the imposing outward greatness and splendor of the Gentile world power.

The Striking Stone (2:34–35) destroys the Gentile world system (in its final form) by a sudden and irremediable blow, not by the gradual processes of conversion and assimilation; and then and not before, does the Stone become a mountain which fills “the whole earth” (compare Dan. 7:26–27). Such a destruction of the Gentile monarchy system did not occur at the first advent of Christ. On the contrary, He was put to death by the sentence of an officer of the fourth empire, which was then at the zenith of its power.

After Christ’s death the western part of the Roman Empire fell in A.D. 476 and the eastern part in 1453, but no other world empire has superseded Rome because only four empires will precede Christ’s return and rule. The interposition of the Church Age between the first and second advents of Christ, as revealed in the NT, is not a part of this vision. The deadly wound suffered by the fourth empire will not be healed by the restoration of the empire until the Church Age has been completed by the rapture of the Church (Rev. 13:3). Thus Gentile world power still continues, and the crushing blow is still suspended.

The detail of the end-time is given in Dan. 7 and Rev. 13–19. It is important to observe that (1) Gentile world power is to end in a sudden catastrophic judgment (see Armageddon, Rev. 16:13–16; 19:17, note); and (2) it is immediately to be followed by the kingdom of heaven. The God of the heavens will not set up His kingdom until after the destruction of the Gentile world system. It is noteworthy that Gentile world dominion begins and ends with a great statue, or image (Dan. 2:31; Rev. 13:14–15).

This Stone must not be identified with the Church, as some hold, for the task of the Church is never said to be the destruction of the nations of the earth.

found. And the stone that struck the image ^abecame a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

The interpretation: first world empire. Babylon under Nebuchadnezzar (cp. 7:4)

³⁶“This is the dream. Now we will tell the interpretation of it before the king.

³⁷“You, O king, are a king of kings. For the God of heaven has given you a kingdom, power, strength, and glory;

³⁸“and wherever the children of men dwell, or the beasts of the field and the birds of the heaven, He has given them into your hand, and has made you ruler over them all—you are this head of gold.

*Second and third world empires:
Medo-Persia (cp. 7:5; 8:20) and Greece (cp. 7:6; 8:21)*

³⁹“But after you shall arise another kingdom inferior to yours; then another, a third kingdom of bronze, which shall rule over all the earth.

*Fourth world empire: Rome
(cp. 7:7; 9:26)*

⁴⁰“And the ^bfourth kingdom shall be as strong as iron, inasmuch as iron breaks in pieces and shatters everything; and like iron that crushes, that kingdom will break in pieces and crush all the others.

⁴¹“Whereas you saw the feet and toes, partly of potter’s clay and partly of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; yet the strength of the iron shall be in it, just as you saw the iron mixed with ceramic clay.

⁴²“And as the toes of the feet were partly of iron and partly of clay, ^cso the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly fragile.

⁴³“As you saw iron mixed with ceramic clay, they will mingle with the seed of men; but they will not adhere to one another, just as iron does not mix with clay.

Christ’s kingdom to be established on earth (see Matt. 3:2, note)

⁴⁴“And in the days of these kings the God of heaven will set up a ^dkingdom which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people; it shall ^ebreak in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.

⁴⁵“Inasmuch as you saw that the ^fstone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold—the great God has made known to the king what will come to pass after this. The dream is certain, and its interpretation is sure.”

Daniel promoted

^{46g}Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell on his face, prostrate before Daniel, and commanded that they should present an offering and incense to him.

⁴⁷The king answered Daniel, and said, “Truly ^hyour God is the God of ⁱgods, the Lord of kings, and a ^jrevealer of secrets, since you could reveal this secret.”

2:35 mountain. A mountain is one of the biblical symbols of a kingdom. See Is. 2:2, note.

2:38 wherever the children of men dwell. Universal dominion is indicated. It was never fully realized, but divine authority was given for it. See v. 31, note.

2:41 strength of the iron. From the head of gold (v. 38) to the iron of the fourth kingdom (Rome) there is deterioration in fineness, but increase in strength (v. 40). Then comes the deterioration of the fourth kingdom in that very quality—strength. (1) Deterioration by division: the kingdom is divided into two, the legs (eastern and western empires), and these are again divided into kingdoms, the number of which, when the Stone strikes the image, will be ten (toes, v. 42; compare 7:23-24). And (2) deterioration by admixture: the iron mixed with the clay.

2:44 This passage fixes, in relation to other predicted events, the time when the millennial kingdom will be established. It will be “in the days of these kings,” that is, the days of the ten kings (compare 7:24-27) symbolized by the toes of the image. The ten kings did not exist at the advent of Messiah, nor was the federation even possible until the dissolution of the Roman Empire and the rise of the present nationalistic world system. See Kingdom (OT) (Gen. 1:26; Zech. 12:8, note); Kingdom (NT) (Luke 1:31-33; Rev. 20:4); also notes at Matt. 3:2; 6:33; and 1 Cor. 5:24. In vv. 44-45 the method by which the millennial kingdom will be established is repeated from vv. 34-35, that is, the Striking Stone will crush the statue that represents the world powers that are inimical to God. (See v. 31, note; compare Ps. 2:5 with 2:6; Zech. 14:1-8 with 14:9.)

^{48a}Then the king ^bpromoted Daniel and gave him many great gifts; and he made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief administrator over all the wise men of Babylon.

⁴⁹Also Daniel petitioned the king, and he set ^cShadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego over the affairs of the province of Babylon; but Daniel sat in the gate^d of the king.

3 NEBUCHADNEZZAR the king made an ^dimage of gold, whose height was sixty cubits and its width six ^ecubits. He set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

²And King Nebuchadnezzar sent word to gather together the satraps, the administrators, the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

³So the satraps, the administrators, the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces gathered together for the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

⁴Then a herald cried aloud: "To you it is commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages,

⁵*that* at the time you hear the sound of the horn, flute, harp, lyre, and psaltery, in symphony with all kinds of music, you shall fall down and ^fworship the gold image that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up;

⁶"and whoever does not fall down and worship shall be cast immediately into the midst of a burning fiery furnace."

⁷So at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the horn, flute, harp, and lyre, in symphony with all kinds of music, all the people, nations, and languages fell down and worshiped the gold image which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

*Daniel's three companions refuse

⁸Therefore at that time certain ^gChaldeans came forward and ^haccused the Jews.

⁹They spoke and said to King Nebuchadnezzar, "O king, live forever!

¹¹"and whoever does not fall down and worship shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

¹²"There are certain Jews ⁱwhom you have set over the affairs of the province of Babylon: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego; these men, O king, have ^jnot paid due regard to you. They do not serve your gods or worship the gold image which you have set up."

¹³Then Nebuchadnezzar, in ^krage and fury, gave the command to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. So they brought these men before the king.

¹⁴Nebuchadnezzar spoke, saying to them, "Is it true, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, that you do

3:6 fall down and worship. Here is a case of enforced state religion, involving the worship of a man-made image. This phenomenon, appearing at the beginning of the times of the Gentiles and continuing from time to time through history (e.g. Roman emperor worship, Japanese Shinto shrines, and Soviet veneration of Lenin), will reappear at the end of the age when, not only the dragon, but the beast and the image of the beast also will be worshiped under compulsion (Rev. 13:4-15; 14:9-11; 19:20; 20:4; compare 2 Thess. 2:4). There will be increasing stress upon worship at the end of the age, but it will be satanically directed.

not serve my ^agods or worship the gold image which I have set up?

¹⁵“Now if you are ready at the time you hear the sound of the horn, flute, harp, lyre, and psaltery, in symphony with all kinds of music, and you fall down and worship the image which I have made, good! But if you do not worship, you shall be cast immediately into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. And who is the god who will deliver you from my hands?”

¹⁶Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego answered and said to the king, “O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter.

¹⁷“If that is the case, our ^cGod whom we serve is able to ^ddeliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and He will deliver us from your hand, O king.

^{18e}“But if not, let it be known to you, O king, that we do not serve your gods, nor will we ^fworship the gold image which you have set up.”

Daniel's companions protected in tribulation

¹⁹Then Nebuchadnezzar was full of fury, and the expression on his face changed toward Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. He spoke and commanded that they heat the furnace seven times more than it was usually heated.

²⁰And he commanded certain mighty men of valor who were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, and cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

²¹Then these men were bound in their coats, their trousers, their turbans, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

²²Therefore, because the king's command was urgent, and the furnace exceedingly hot, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego.

²³And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

²⁴Then King Nebuchadnezzar was astonished; and he rose in haste and spoke, saying to his counselors, “Did we not cast three men bound into the midst of the fire?” They answered and said to the king, “True, O king.”

²⁵“Look!” he answered, “I see four men loose, ^hwalking in the midst of the fire; and they are ⁱnot hurt, and the ^jform of the fourth is like ^kthe Son of God.”*

Nebuchadnezzar recognizes the deliverance to be of God

²⁶Then Nebuchadnezzar ^lwent near the mouth of the burning fiery furnace and spoke, saying, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, servants of the ^mMost High God, come out, and come here.” Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego ⁿcame from the midst of the fire.

²⁷And the satraps, administrators, governors, and the king's counselors gathered together, and they saw these men on whose bodies the ^ofire had no power; the hair of their head was not singed nor were their garments affected, and the smell of fire was not on them.

²⁸Nebuchadnezzar spoke, saying, “Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, who sent His ^pAngel* and delivered His servants who trusted in Him, and they have frustrated the king's word, and yielded their bodies, that they should not serve nor worship any god except their own God!

*IV. The Vision and Humbling
of Nebuchadnezzar, 4*

The king's proclamation to all nations

4 NEBUCHADNEZZAR the king,

^aTo all peoples, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth:

Peace be multiplied to you.

² I thought it good to declare the signs and wonders that the Most High God has worked for me.

³ How great are His signs,
And how mighty His wonders!
His kingdom is an ^beverlasting kingdom,
And His dominion is from generation to generation.

Nebuchadnezzar's vision of a great tree

⁴ I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace.

⁵ I saw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head troubled me.

⁷ Then the magicians, the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers came in, and I told them the dream; but they did not make known to me its interpretation.

⁸ But at last Daniel came before me (his name is Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god; in him is the Spirit of the Holy ^cGod), and I told the dream before him, saying:

⁹ “Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, because I know that the Spirit of the Holy ^dGod is in you, and no secret troubles you, explain to me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and its interpretation.

¹⁰ “These were the visions of my head while on my bed:

I was looking, and behold,
A tree in the midst of the earth,
And its height was great.

¹¹ The tree grew and became strong;
Its height reached to the heavens,
And it could be seen to the ends of all the earth.

¹² Its leaves were lovely,
Its fruit abundant,
And in it was food for all.
The ^ebeasts of the field found shade under it,
The birds of the heavens dwelt in its branches,
And all flesh was fed from it.

¹³ “I saw in the visions of my head while on my bed, and there was a ^fwatcher, a ^gholy one, coming down from heaven.

¹⁴ He cried aloud and said thus:

“Chop ^hdown the tree and cut off its branches,
Strip off its leaves and scatter its fruit.

Let the beasts get out from under it,
And the birds from its branches.

¹⁵ Nevertheless leave the stump and roots in the earth,
Bound with a band of iron and bronze,
In the tender grass of the field.
Let it be wet with the dew of heaven,
And let him graze with the beasts
On the grass of the earth.

¹⁶ Let his heart be changed from that of a man,
Let him be given the heart of a beast,

under Belshazzar and Darius, 5—6*

Belshazzar defiles the temple vessels

5 BELSHAZZAR the king made a great feast for a thousand of his lords, and drank wine in the presence of the thousand.

²While he tasted the wine, Belshazzar gave the command to bring the gold and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple which had been in Jerusalem, that the king and his lords, and his wives, and his concubines might drink from them.

³Then they brought the gold ^ovessels that had been taken from the temple of the house of God which had been in Jerusalem; and the king

5:2 father. The word "father" is used here, as it is frequently employed in the Scriptures, to indicate an ancestor; e.g. David is spoken of as the father of Jesus (Luke 1:31-32). Probably Belshazzar was the grandson of Nebuchadnezzar through his mother.

4:34 I blessed the Most High. Progress may be traced in Nebuchadnezzar's apprehension of the true God: (1) "God is the God of gods [one among the national or tribal gods, but greater than they], the Lord [Adonai, meaning Master] of kings, and a revealer of secrets" (2:47). (2) He is still a Hebrew Deity, but Master of angels and a God who responds to faith (3:28). And (3) here (vv. 34-35) the king rises into a true apprehension of God. Compare Darius, 6:25-27.

⁴They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold and silver, bronze and iron, wood and stone.

The handwriting on the wall

^{5a}In the same hour the fingers of a man's hand appeared and wrote opposite the lampstand on the plaster of the wall of the king's palace; and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

⁶Then the king's countenance changed, and his thoughts ^btroubled him, so that the joints of his hips were loosened and his knees knocked against each other.

⁷The king cried aloud to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. The king spoke, saying to the wise men of Babylon, "Whoever reads this writing, and tells me its interpretation, shall be clothed with purple and have a chain of gold around his neck; and he shall be the third ruler in the kingdom."

⁸Now all the king's wise men came, but they could not read the writing, or make known to the king its interpretation.

⁹Then King Belshazzar was greatly troubled, his countenance was changed, and his lords were astonished.

Daniel interprets the writing

¹⁰The queen, because of the words of the king and his lords, came to the banquet hall. The queen spoke, saying, "O king, live forever! Do not let your thoughts trouble you, nor let your countenance change.

¹¹"There is a man in your kingdom in whom is the Spirit of the Holy ^aGod. And in the days of your father, light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him; and King Nebuchadnezzar your ^efather—your father the king—made him chief of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers.

¹²"Inasmuch as an excellent spirit, knowledge, understanding, interpreting dreams, solving riddles, and explaining enigmas* were found in this Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar, now let Daniel be called, and he will give the interpretation."

¹³Then Daniel was brought in before the king. The king spoke, and said to Daniel, "Are you that Daniel who is one of the captives* from Judah, whom my ^ffather the king brought from Judah?"

¹⁴"I have heard of you, that the Spirit of ^gGod is in you, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom are found in you.

¹⁵"Now the wise men, the astrologers, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing and make known to me its interpretation, but they could not give the interpretation of the thing.

¹⁶"And I have heard of you, that you can give interpretations and explain enigmas. Now if you can read the writing and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple and have a chain of gold around your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom."

¹⁷Then Daniel answered, and said before the king, "Let your ^hgifts be for yourself, and give your rewards to another; yet I will read the writing to the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

¹⁸"O king, the Most High God ⁱgave Nebuchadnezzar your father a kingdom and majesty, glory and honor.

¹⁹"And because of the majesty that He gave him, all peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him. Whomever he wished, he ^jexecuted; whomever he wished, he kept alive; whomever he wished, he set up; and whomever he wished, he put down.

5:16 third ruler. Belshazzar was co-ruler with his father (see v. 18, note); so Daniel was next to the kings in power.

pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him.

²¹“Then he was ^adriven from the sons of men, his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild donkeys. They fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till he knew that the Most High God ^brules in the kingdom of men, and appoints over it whomever He chooses.

²²“But you his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, although you knew all this.

²³“And you have ^clifted yourself up against the Lord of heaven. They have brought the ^dvessels of His house before you, and you and your lords, your wives and your concubines, have drunk wine from them. And you have praised the gods of silver and gold, bronze and iron, wood and stone, which do not see or hear or know; and the ^eGod who holds your breath in His hand and owns all your ^fways, you have not glorified.

²⁴“Then the fingers* of the hand were sent from Him, and this writing was written.

²⁵“And this is the inscription that was written:

MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.

²⁶“This is the interpretation of each word. Mene: God has numbered your kingdom, and finished it;

²⁷“Tekel: You have been weighed in the balances, and found wanting;

²⁸“Peres: Your kingdom has been divided, and ^ggiven to the Medes and Persians.”*

²⁹Then Belshazzar gave the command, and they clothed Daniel with purple and put a chain of gold around his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

³⁰That very night Belshazzar, king of the Chaldeans, was ^hslain.

³¹And Darius the Mede received the ⁱkingdom, being about sixty-two years old.

Daniel under Darius

²and over these, three governors, of whom Daniel was one, that the satraps might give account to them,

*5:24 Literally palm *5:28 Aramaic Paras, consonant with Peres

5:25 MENE . . . UPHARSIN. Each of the three Aramaic words has a double sense. “MENE” (from mena, to number) is repeated for emphasis. God has numbered the days of the Babylonian kingdom. “TEKEL” (from tekal, to weigh) indicates that the kingdom has been morally evaluated by God, and found lacking. “PERES” (from peres, to divide; “Persians” comes from paras) is a prediction that the kingdom is to be divided and given to the Persians. “UPHARSIN” (u is Aramaic for and, as in Hebrew) is the plural of PERES.

5:29 third ruler. Daniel was made third ruler (see vv. 7 and 16) because Nabonidus, the last king of Babylon, had elevated his son Belshazzar to be co-regent over the kingdom in Babylon while he himself resided in Tema in Arabia.

5:31 received the kingdom. Darius was probably made king under Cyrus, the Persian “king of kings” (compare 9:1).

5:18 THE BIBLICAL ORDER OF THE MONARCHS OF DANIEL’S TIME

(1) Nebuchadnezzar (c. 604–562 B.C.) with whom the captivity of Judah and “the times of the Gentiles” (see Luke 21:24 and Rev. 16:19, notes) began, and who established the first of the four world monarchies (2:37–38; 7:4).

(2) Belshazzar (c. 553–539 B.C.), the Bel-sharusur of the inscriptions, eldest son of Nabonidus and co-regent with his father.

(3) Darius, the Mede (c. 539 B.C.–?), 5:31; 6:1–27; 9:1. Concerning this Darius, secular history awaits further discoveries. It is conjectured that he was Gobryas (Gubaru), a Median official whom Cyrus made ruler of Babylon after the conquest.

(4) Cyrus (c. 539–530 B.C.), with whose rise to power the Medo-Persian world empire came fully into existence (2:39; 7:5). In verses 1–4 of ch. 8 the Median power is seen as the lesser of the two horns of the ram; the Persian power of Cyrus, as the higher horn which appeared last. Under Cyrus, who was named more than a century before his birth (Is. 44:28–45:4), the return of the Jewish remnant to Palestine began (Ezra 1:1–4). See Dan. 11:2, notes.

so that the king would suffer no loss.

³Then this Daniel ^adistinguished himself above the governors and satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king gave thought to ^bsetting him over the whole realm.

The governors and satraps plot against Daniel

⁴So the governors and satraps sought to find some ^ccharge against Daniel concerning the kingdom; but they could find no charge or fault, because he was faithful; nor was there any error or fault found in him.

⁵Then these men said, "We shall not find any charge against this Daniel unless we find it against him ^dconcerning the law of his God."

⁶So these governors and satraps thronged before the king, and said thus to him: "King Darius, live forever!

⁸"Now, O king, establish the decree and sign the writing, so that it cannot be changed, ^haccording to the law of the Medes and Persians, which does not alter."

⁹Therefore King Darius signed the written decree.

Daniel's steadfastness in prayer

¹⁰Now when Daniel ⁱknew that the writing was signed, he went home. And in his upper room, with his windows open ^jtoward Jerusalem, he knelt down on his knees ^kthree times that day, and ^lprayed and gave thanks before his God, as was his custom since early days.

¹¹Then these men assembled and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his God.

¹²And they went before the king, and spoke concerning the king's decree: "Have you not signed a decree that every man who petitions any ^mgod or man within thirty days, ⁿexcept you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?" The king answered and said, "The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which does not alter."

¹³So they answered and said before the king, "That Daniel, who is one of the ^ocaptives* from Judah, does not show due ^pregard for you, O king, or for the decree that you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day."

¹⁴And the king, when he heard these words, was greatly ^qdispleased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he ^rlabored till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

¹⁵Then these men approached the king, and said to the king, "Know, O king, that it is the law of the Medes and Persians that no decree or statute which the king establishes may be changed."

Daniel in the lions' den

¹⁶So the king gave the command, and they brought Daniel and cast him into the den of lions. But the king spoke, saying to Daniel, "Your God, whom you serve continually, He will ^sdeliver you."

¹⁷Then a stone was brought and laid on the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his own signet ring and with the signets of his lords, that the purpose concerning Daniel might not be changed.

¹⁸Now the king went to his palace and spent the night fasting; and no musicians* were brought before him. Also his sleep went from him.

¹⁹Then the ^tking arose very early in the morning and went in haste to the den of lions.

²⁰And when he came to the den, he cried out with a lamenting voice to Daniel. The king spoke, saying to Daniel, "Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you serve continually, been ^uable to deliver you from the lions?"

²¹Then Daniel said to the king, "O king, live forever!

The decree of Darius

²⁵Then King Darius wrote:

^eTo all peoples, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth:

Peace be multiplied to you.

7:3 NEBUCHADNEZZAR’S VISION

The monarchy vision of Nebuchadnezzar (ch. 2) covers the same order of fulfillment as Daniel’s beast vision, but with this difference: Nebuchadnezzar saw the imposing outward power and splendor of “the times of the Gentiles” (Luke 21:24; compare Rev. 16:19, note), whereas Daniel saw the true character of Gentile world government as rapacious and warlike, established and maintained by force. It is remarkable that the heraldic insignia of the Gentile nations are all beasts or birds of prey.

7:7 horns. The words “horn” and “horns” (OT, qeren; NT keras) are used in Scripture both literally and figuratively. In the latter sense at least three meanings appear: (1) strength in general (Deut. 33:17); (2) arrogant pride (Ps. 75:4–5); and (3) political and military power (Dan. 8:20–21).

7:9 Ancient of Days. This title, while referring here and in v. 13 to God the Father, has equal application to Christ, e.g. v. 22; Rev. 1:8,13–18. Compare Ps. 45:6; 93:2; Mic. 5:2; Hab. 1:12.

7:13 the Son. Literally a son. And they brought Him near before Him. This scene is identical with that of Rev. 5:6–10. There the ascription of praise concerning those who are “kings and priests” (see Dan. 7:18, note) ends with the words, “and we shall reign on the earth.” Revelation 6 opens the “distress” of Ps. 2:5, introductory to setting the king on Zion (Ps. 2:6; Rev. 20:4). The vision (7:9–14) reverses the order of events as they will be fulfilled. Verse 13 describes the scene in heaven (compare Rev. 5:6–10) which, in fulfillment, precedes the events which Daniel

7:8 THE VISION OF THE END OF THE GENTILE WORLD

The vision is of the end of Gentile world dominion. The former Roman Empire (the iron kingdom of 2:33–35, 40–44; 7:7) will have ten horns (that is, kings, Rev. 17:12), corresponding to the ten toes of the image. As Daniel considers this vision of the ten kings, there rises up among them a “little horn” (king), who subdues three of the ten kings so completely that the separate identity of their kingdoms is destroyed. Seven kings of the ten are left, and the “little horn,” who is “the prince who is to come” of 9:26, the “abomination” of 12:11 and Matt. 24:15, and the “beast rising up out of the sea” of Rev. 13:1–10. He will be the head of the restored fourth world empire (Beast, see Rev. 19:20, note). Some expositors also equate with him the “willful king” of 11:36–45, and the “man of sin” of 2 Thess. 2:3–8.

14 Then to Him was given dominion and glory and a ^akingdom,
That all peoples, nations, and languages should serve
Him.
His dominion is an everlasting ^bdominion,
Which shall not pass away,
And His kingdom the one
Which shall not be destroyed.

sees in vision in vv. 9-12. The order of fulfillment will be: (1) the investiture of the Son of Man with the kingdom (Dan. 7:13,14; Rev. 5:6-10); (2) the "distress" of Ps. 2:5, fully described in Matt. 24:21-22; Rev. 6-18; (3) the return of the Son of Man in glory to deliver the blow of 2:45 (Dan. 7:9-11; Rev. 19:11-21); and (4) God's judgment of individuals among the nations and the setting up of the kingdom (Dan. 7:10,26-27; Matt. 25:31-46; Rev. 20:1-6).

7:14 Verses 13-14 are identical with Rev. 5:1-7, and precede the fulfillment of Dan. 2:34-35. Verses 13-14 and Rev. 5:1-7 describe the investiture of the Son of Man and Son of David with the kingdom authority, while Dan. 2:34-35 describes the crushing blow (see Armageddon, Rev. 16:13-16; 19:17, note) which destroys Gentile world power, thus clearing the way for the actual setting up of the kingdom of heaven. Verses 34-35 and Rev. 19:19-21 describe the same event.

7:18 saints of the Most High. See "saints" in vv. 22,25, and 27 also. That the Church saints, that is, believers of the Church Age, will also share this rule seems evident in that the Church, having part in the first resurrection, will "reign with Him [Christ] a thousand years" (Rev. 20:6). Compare Rom. 8:17; 2 Tim. 2:10-12; 1 Pet. 2:9; Rev. 1:6; 3:21; 5:10.

7:25 time and times and half a time. The terms found in the OT and NT referring to specific lengths of time in future events require careful consideration, so as to avoid fantastic speculations. The first occurrence of a reference to a period of three and one-half years in the prophetic future is the expression "time and times and half a time" found here. It is also in Dan. 12:7 and Rev. 12:14. This is the same length of time as one-half of the final seven-year period (9:27), and is likewise the period of time expressed in the term "forty-two months" (Rev. 11:2; 13:5), or "one

The vision of the ram and male goat

8 IN the third year of the reign of King Belshazzar a vision appeared to me—to me, Daniel—after the one that appeared to me the first time.

²I saw in the vision, and it so happened while I was looking, that I was in Shushan, the citadel, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in the vision that I was by the River Ulai.

³Then I lifted my eyes and saw,
and there, standing beside the river, was a ^dram which had two horns, and the two horns were high; but one was ^ehigher than the other, and the higher one came up last.

⁴I saw the ram pushing westward, northward, and southward, so that no animal could withstand him; nor was there any that could deliver from his hand, but he did according to his will and became great.

⁵And as I was considering, suddenly a ^fmale goat came from the west, across the surface of the whole earth, without touching the ^ghorn between his eyes.

had two horns, which I had seen standing beside the river, and ran at him with furious power.

⁷And I saw him confronting the ram; he was moved with rage against him, attacked the ram, and broke his

the ram to withstand him, but he cast thousand two hundred and sixty days” (Rev. 12:6).

The three-and-one-half-year period seems to be a reference to the last half of Daniel’s seventieth week, also known as the great tribulation.

8:1 The remarkably precise predictions in chs. 8 and 11 about the reign, character, and antecedents of Antiochus Epiphanes, the Hellenistic king who cruelly persecuted the Jews 400 years after the time of Nebuchadnezzar, were advanced by Porphyry, an anti-Christian philosopher of the third century A.D., as proof that the Book of Daniel could not have been written before that time. This view has been followed by many modern critics but should not keep any believer in predictive prophecy from accepting the traditional date. third year. Approximately 551 B.C. vision.
This chapter gives details concerning the second and third world kingdoms: the silver and bronze kingdoms of ch. 2; and the bear and leopard kingdoms of ch. 7, that is, the Medo-Persian and Grecian (Macedonian) kingdoms of history. At the time of this vision (8:1), the first world empire was nearing its end. Belshazzar was the last ruler of that monarchy in the city of Babylon. See notes at 5:2, 18, 29.

8:5 horn. The words “horn” and “horns” (OT, qeren; NT keras) are used in Scripture both literally and figuratively. In the latter sense at least three meanings appear: (1) strength in general (Deut. 33:17); (2) arrogant pride (Ps. 75:4–5); and
(3) political and military power (Dan. 8:20–21).

7:26 THE END OF GENTILE WORLD POWER

In the beast vision of ch. 7, the fourth beast (v. 7) is declared to be “the fourth kingdom,” that is, the Roman Empire, the “iron” kingdom of ch. 2. The “ten horns” upon the fourth beast (Roman Empire), v. 7, are declared to be “ten kings who shall arise from this kingdom” (v. 24), answering to the ten toes of the image vision of ch. 2. The ten kingdoms, including the regions formerly ruled by Rome, will constitute, therefore, the form in which the fourth or Roman Empire will exist when the whole fabric of Gentile world domination is struck by the stone “cut out of the mountain without hands,” that is, Christ (2:44–45; 7:9).

But Daniel sees a “little horn” rise and subdue three of the ten kings (vv. 24–26). His distinguishing mark is hatred of God and believers. He is not to be confused with the little horn of ch. 8, a prophecy fulfilled in An-tiochus Epiphanes (see 8:9, note). In Rev. 13 additional particulars of the little horn of Dan. 7 are given (see Rev. 13:1, note).

him down to the ground and trampled him; and there was no one that could deliver the ram from his hand.

⁸Therefore the male goat grew very great; but when he became strong, the large ^ahorn was broken, and in place of it ^bfour notable ones came up toward the four winds of heaven.

The little horn

⁹And out of one of them came a little ^chorn which grew exceedingly great toward the south, toward the east, and toward the Glorious Land.

¹⁰And it grew up to the host of heaven; and it cast down some of the host and some of the stars to the ground, and trampled them.

¹¹He even exalted himself as high as the Prince of the host; and by him the daily sacrifices were taken away, and the place of His sanctuary was cast down.

¹²Because of transgression, an army was given over to the horn to oppose the daily sacrifices; and he cast truth down to the ground. He did all this and prospered.

¹³Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said to that certain one who was speaking, "How long will the vision be, concerning the daily sacrifices and the transgression of desolation, the giving of both the sanctuary and the host to be trampled underfoot?"

¹⁴And he said to me, "For two

The little horn of this verse (compare v. 23) was fulfilled (171-164 B.C.) in the historical Antiochus Epiphanes, who came out of Syria (one of the four prominent kingdoms of vv. 8,22), and persecuted the Jews and profaned the temple at Jerusalem. He is not to be confused with the little horn of 7:8, who is yet to come in the tribulation period (see vv. 9-13,23). The little horn of 7:8 will rise from the ten horns into which the fourth empire (Roman) will be divided, whereas the little horn of ch. 8 comes out of one of the four horns (vv. 9,22) into which the third empire (Grecian) is divided after Alexander's death (vv. 21-22) in the latter time of the four kingdoms of Alexander's generals (v. 23). Both little horns are violent in their hatred of the Jews and of God, and in their profaning of the temple at Jerusalem (compare 7:25 and 8:10-12).

The interpretation of the vision

8:13 THE SEVEN DESOLATIONS

Seven times in Daniel desolation is spoken of:

(1) of the sanctuary (8:13), fulfilled by Antiochus Epiphanes, 171–164 B.C.;

(2) of the sanctuary (9:17), alluding to its condition in Daniel's time, when the Jews were in exile;

(3) generally, of the land (9:18), also referring to Daniel's time;

(4) of the sanctuary (9:26), fulfilled in A.D. 70 in the destruction of city and temple after the cutting off of Messiah (Luke 21:20); and

(5), (6), and (7) of the sanctuary, by the beast, 9:27; 11:31; 12:11. Compare Matt. 24:15; Mark 13:14; 2 Thess. 2:3,8–12; Rev. 13:14–15.

8:17 time of the end. Two “ends” seems to be in view here: (1) historically, the end of the third empire (Greco) of Alexander, out of one of the divisions of which (Syria) the little horn of v. 9 (Antiochus Epiphanes) arose; and (2) prophetically, the end of “the times of the Gentiles” (see Luke 21:24 and Rev. 16:19, notes)—Daniel's final time of the end (see Dan. 12:4, note).

8:20 ram. Compare vv. 3–4. The higher horn, which came up last, was Persia. The other was Media, which was dominant at first. Compare 6:12. horns. The words “horn” and “horns” (OT, qeren; NT keras) are used in Scripture both literally and figuratively. In the latter sense at least three meanings appear: (1) strength in general (Deut. 33:17); (2) arrogant pride (Ps. 75:4–5); and (3) political and military power (Dan. 8:20–21).

8:22 four. The four kingdoms into which Alexander's empire was divided (4th Cent. B.C.): Macedonia, Syria, Egypt, and Asia Minor. See Dan. 11:4, note.

8:23 king shall arise. Concerning this sinister figure there are three views: (1) Some think he is the “king of the North” referred to in 11:40. (2) Others regard him as a type of the Roman beast of the end time (7:23–27). And (3) some see in this king a direct prophecy of the final Roman beast, thus identifying his geographical origin.

He shall destroy many in their prosperity.
 He shall ^aeven rise against the Prince of princes;
 But he shall be broken without human means.*

26 “And the vision of the evenings and mornings
 Which was told is true;
 Therefore ^bseal up the vision,
 For it refers to many days in the future.”

27 And I, Daniel, fainted and was sick for days; afterward I arose and went about the king’s business. I was astonished by the vision, but no one understood it.

The vision of the seventy weeks (vv. 1–27)

9 IN the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the lineage of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans—

²in the first year of his reign I, Daniel, understood by the books the number of the years specified by the word of the LORD through Jeremiah the prophet, that He would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

Daniel’s confession and prayer

³Then I ^cset my face toward the Lord God to make request by ^dprayer and supplications, with fasting, sackcloth, and ashes.

⁴And I prayed to the LORD my God, and made confession, and said, “O Lord, great and awesome God, who keeps His covenant and mercy with those who love Him, and with those who keep His commandments, ⁵“we have sinned and committed iniquity, we have done wickedly and rebelled, even by departing from Your precepts and Your judgments.

⁶“Neither have we heeded Your servants the prophets, who spoke in Your name to our kings and our princes, to our fathers and all the people of the land.

⁷“O Lord, righteousness belongs to You, but to us shame of face, as it is this day—to the men of Judah, to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and all Israel, those near and those far off in all the countries to which You have driven them, because of the unfaithfulness which they have committed against You.

⁸“O Lord, to us belongs shame of face, to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, because we have sinned against You.

⁹“To the Lord our God belong mercy and forgiveness, though we have rebelled against Him.

¹⁰“We have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in His laws, which He set before us by His servants the prophets.

¹¹“Yes, all Israel has transgressed Your ^elaw, and has departed so as not to obey Your voice; therefore the curse and the oath written in the Law of Moses the servant of God have been poured out on us, because ^fwe have sinned against Him.

¹²“And He has ^gconfirmed His words, which He spoke against us and against our judges who judged us, by bringing upon us a great disaster; for under the whole heaven such has ^hnever been done as what has been done to Jerusalem.

¹³“As it is written in the ⁱLaw of Moses, all this disaster has come upon us; yet we have not made our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities and understand Your truth.

¹⁴“Therefore the LORD has ^jkept the disaster in mind, and brought it upon us; for the LORD our God is righteous in all the works which He does, though we have not obeyed His voice.

2; compare Jer. 25) and was a fulfillment of the prophetic portion of Solomon’s prayer (1 Kin. 8:33–36). Here there are adoration (v. 4), confession (vv. 5–15), and petition (vv. 16–19). Prophetic study is intended to lead to a deeper spiritual life.

¹⁵“And now, O Lord our God, who brought Your people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and made Yourself a ^aname, as it is this day—we have sinned, we have done wickedly!

¹⁶“O Lord, according to all Your righteousness, I pray, let Your anger and Your fury be turned away from Your city ^bJerusalem, Your holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and Your people are a reproach to all those around us.

¹⁷“Now therefore, our God, hear the prayer of Your servant, and his supplications, and for the Lord’s sake cause Your face to shine on Your sanctuary, which is desolate.

¹⁸“O my God, incline Your ear and hear; open Your eyes and see our desolations, and the city which is called by Your name; for we do not present our supplications before You because of our righteous deeds, but because of Your great mercies.

PROPHECY OF THE SEVENTY WEEKS

Daniel's prophecy of the seventy "weeks" ('sevens') (vv. 24-27) provides the chronological frame for Messianic prediction from Daniel to the establishment of the kingdom on earth and also a key to its interpretation. Its main features are as follows:

(1) The entire prophecy is concerned primarily with Daniel's "people" and their "holy city"—that is, Israel and Jerusalem.

(2) Two princes are mentioned; the first is named the "Messiah the Prince" (v. 25); the second is described as "the prince who is to come" (v. 26), a reference to the little horn of ch. 7:8, whose "people" would destroy the rebuilt Jerusalem after the cutting off of the Messianic Prince (v. 26).

(3) The "seventy weeks" of the prophecy are weeks of years, an important sabbatical time-measure in the Jewish calendar. Violation of the command to observe the sabbatical year brought the judgment of the Babylonian captivity and determined its length of seventy years. Compare Lev. 25:1-22; 26:33-35; 2 Chr. 36:19-21; Dan. 9:2. Compare also Gen. 29:26-28 for use of "week" to indicate seven years.

(4) These 490 prophetic years are each 360 days long. This is proved by the biblical references to the seventieth week of seven years, which is divided into two halves (v. 27), the latter half being variously designated as "a time and times, and half a time" (Dan. 7:25; compare Rev. 12:14); forty-two months (Rev. 11:2; 13:5); or 1260 days (Rev. 11:3; 12:6). In this connection it should be remembered that, in the grand sweep of prophecy, prophetic time is invariably so near as to give full warning, so indeterminate as to give no satisfaction to mere curiosity (compare Matt. 24:36; Acts 1:7).

(5) The beginning of the seventy weeks is fixed as "the going forth of the command to restore and build Jerusalem" and its wall (v. 25). The only decree in Scripture authorizing the rebuilding of the city and its wall is recorded in Neh. 2; dated in "the month of Nisan, in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes" (that is, 445 B.C.), it is well attested in ancient history. From this date as a beginning, the first sixty-nine weeks reach to "the Messiah, the Prince."

(6) At a later time, after the "sixty-two weeks" which follow the first "seven weeks" (that is, after sixty-nine weeks), two important events will take place: (1) Messiah will be "cut off" and will have none of His regal rights ("but not for Himself"). And (2) the rebuilt city and sanctuary will again be destroyed, this time by "the people" of another "prince" who is yet to come. It is generally agreed that these two events were fulfilled in the death of Christ (A.D. 29) and the destruction of Jerusalem by Rome in A.D. 70. Both events are placed before the seventieth week of v. 27. Hence a period of at least forty-one years between the death of Christ and the destruction of Jerusalem must intervene between the sixty-ninth and seventieth weeks.

(7) The main events of the final "one week" (v. 27) are as follows: (1) There is a seven-year "covenant" made by the future Roman prince (the "little horn" of 7:8) with the Jews. (2) In the middle of the week there is a forcible interruption of the Jewish ritual of worship by the Roman prince who introduces "abomination" that renders the sanctuary desolate. (3) At the same time he launches persecution against the Jews. And (4) the end of the seventieth week brings judgment upon the desolator and also brings "everlasting righteousness" (v. 24—that is, the blessings of the Messianic kingdom).

The proof that this final week has not yet been fulfilled is seen in the fact that Christ definitely relates its main events to His second coming (Matt. 24:6,15). Hence, during the interim between the sixty-ninth and seventieth weeks there must lie the whole period of the Church set forth in the NT but not revealed in the OT. The interpretation which assigns the last of the seventy weeks to the end of the age is found in the Church Fathers. When this seventieth week was referred to during the first two and one-half centuries of the Christian Church, it was almost always assigned to the end of the age. Irenaeus places the appearance of Antichrist at the end of the age in the last week; in fact, he asserts that the time of Antichrist's tyranny will last just one-half of the week, three years and six months. So likewise Hippolytus states that Daniel "indicates the showing forth of the seven years which shall be in the last times."

⁴Now on the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, that is, the Tigris, ⁵I lifted my eyes and looked, and behold, a certain ^aman clothed in ^blinen, whose ^cwaist was girded with gold of Uphaz!

⁶His body was like beryl, his face like the appearance of ^dlightning, his eyes like ^etorches of fire, his arms and feet like burnished ^fbronze in color, and the sound of his words like the voice of a multitude.

⁷And I, Daniel, alone saw the vision, for the men who were with me did ^gnot see the vision; but a great terror fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

⁸Therefore I was left alone when I saw this great vision, and no strength ^hremained in me; for my vigor was turned to frailty in me, and I retained no strength.

⁹Yet I heard the sound of his words; and while I heard the sound of his words I was in a deep sleep on my face, with my face to the ground.

Conflict: holy and unholy angels

¹⁰Suddenly, a hand touched me, which made me tremble on my knees and ^{on} the palms of my hands.

¹¹And he said to me, "O Daniel, man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak to you, and stand upright, for I have now been sent to you." While he was speaking this word to me, I stood trembling.

¹²Then he said to me, "Do not fear, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your heart to understand, and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard; and I have come because of your words.

¹³"But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days; and behold, ⁱMichael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, for I had been left alone there with the kings of Persia.

¹⁴"Now I have come to make you understand what will happen to your people in the ^jlatter days, for the vision refers to many days yet to come."

¹⁵When he had spoken such words to me, I turned my face toward the ground and became speechless.

¹⁶And suddenly, ^{one} having the likeness of the sons^k of men touched my lips; then I opened my mouth and spoke, saying to him who stood before me, "My lord, because of the vision my sorrows have overwhelmed me, and I have retained no strength.

¹⁷"For how can this servant of my lord talk with you, my lord? As for me, no strength remains in me now, nor is any breath left in me."

¹⁸Then again, the one having the likeness of a man touched me and strengthened me.

¹⁹And he said, "O man greatly beloved, fear not! Peace ^{be} to you; be strong, yes, be strong!" So when he spoke to me I was strengthened, and said, "Let my lord speak, for you have strengthened me."

²⁰Then he said, "Do you know why I have come to you? And now I must return to fight with the prince of Persia; and when I have gone forth, indeed the prince of Greece will come.

²¹"But I will tell you what is noted in the Scripture of Truth. (No one upholds me against these, except Michael your prince.

k Dan. 5:31; 9:1

10:4 first month. This is the month of Abib (or Nisan) in the Hebrew religious calendar. It correlates to the modern months of March–April. For more information on the Hebrew religious calendar, see the note at Lev. 23:2.

10:10 Verses 10–15 probably introduce an angel. Verses 4–9, 16–17 are theophanies.

10:13 prince. Compare v. 20. The intimation is clear that, as the holy angels are sent forth on behalf of the heirs of salvation, so demons are concerned on behalf of the world system of Satan (John 7:7; Rev. 13:8).

11:1 first year. Approximately 539 B.C.

11:2 The spirit of prophecy here returns to that which in Persia, and the fourth shall be far richer than them all; by his strength, through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece.

³“Then a mighty ^aking shall arise, who shall rule with great dominion, and do ^baccording to his will.

⁴“And when he has arisen, his kingdom shall be broken up and divided toward the ^cfour winds of heaven, but not among his posterity nor according to his dominion with which he ruled; for his kingdom shall be uprooted, even for others besides these.

⁷“But from a branch of her roots one shall arise in his place, who shall come with an army, enter the fortress of the king of the North, and deal with them and prevail.

⁹“Also the king of the North shall come to the kingdom of the king of the South, but shall return to his own land.

¹⁰“However his sons shall stir up strife, and assemble a multitude of great forces; and one shall certainly come and overwhelm and pass through; then he shall return to his fortress and stir up strife.

¹²“When he has taken away the multitude, his heart will be lifted up; and he will cast down tens of thousands, but he will not prevail.

more immediately concerned Daniel and his royal masters—the near future of the empire in which he was so great a personage. Four kings were yet to follow in Medo-Persia. Then will come Alexander the “mighty king” of Greece (v. 3). The division of Alexander’s empire into four parts (v. 4), as already predicted (8:22), is foretold. The turbulent course of affairs in two parts of the disintegrated Alexandrian empire, Syria and Egypt, is then traced down to v. 20. Here Antiochus Epiphanes, the little horn of ch. 8, occupies the vision down to v. 36. His pollution of the sanctuary is again mentioned. See 8:9, note. From v. 36 the interpretation is of the willful king and his activities in the end-time. See Dan. 11:36, note.

11:2 three more kings. The three kings of Persia are probably Cyrus II (550–530 B.C.) referred to in Ezra 1:1 and 2 Chr. 36:22–23; Cambyses, 529–522 B.C., not referred to in the OT; and Darius I Hystaspes, 521–486 B.C. (Ezra 5; 6). The fourth king is either Ahasuerus, 486–465 B.C. (Ezra 4:6) or Artaxerxes I, 465–424 B.C. (Ezra 7:11–26).

11:3 mighty king. The “mighty king” is Alexander the Great who died about 323 B.C. He is referred to also in 7:6; 8:5–8,21–22.

11:4 divided. Following Alexander’s death the empire was divided among four of his generals: Cassander, ruling Macedonia; Lysimachus, ruling Thrace and Asia Minor; Ptolemy I, ruling Egypt, whose successors, the Ptolemies, ruled from 323–30 B.C.; and Seleucus, ruling Syria and the remainder of the Near East, whose successors, known as the Seleucids, ruled until c. 65 B.C.

11:5 king of the South. The “king of the South” here is Ptolemy I Soter, 323–285 B.C., and the strong one is Seleucus I Nicator, 312–281, the most powerful of all those ruling in the once-united empire of Alexander. Daniel’s prophecy here passes over the second Seleucid king, Antiochus I Soter, 281–261 B.C., though it does speak of a union of these two royal lines through marriage.

11:6 king of the South. This “king of the South” is Ptolemy II Philadelphus, 285–246 B.C. The daughter was Berenice.

11:7 branch. The reference in vv. 7–9 is to Ptolemy III Euergetes, 246–222 B.C. In v. 11, the “king of the South” is Ptolemy IV Philopator, 222–203 B.C.

11:10 his sons. The two rulers of Syria are Seleucus III Ceraunus (sometimes called Soter) 226–223 B.C. and Antiochus III the Great, 223–187 B.C., whose activities continue through v. 19.

14“Now in those times many shall rise up against the king of the South. Also, violent men* of your people shall exalt themselves in fulfillment of the vision, but they shall ^afall.

15“So the king of the North shall come and ^bbuild a siege mound, and take a fortified city; and the forces* of the South shall not withstand him. Even his choice troops shall have no strength to resist.

16“But he who comes against him shall do according to his own will, and no one shall stand against him. He shall stand in the Glorious Land with destruction in his power.*

17“^cHe shall also set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones* with him; thus shall he do. And he shall give him the daughter of women to destroy it; but she shall not stand with him, or be for him.

18“After this he shall turn his face to the ^dcoastlands, and shall take many. But a ruler shall bring the reproach against them to an end; and with the ^ereproach removed, he shall turn back on him.

19“Then he shall turn his face toward the fortress of his own land; but he shall ^fstumble and fall, and ^gnot be found.

20“There shall arise in his place one who imposes taxes on the glorious kingdom; but within a few days he shall be destroyed, but not in anger or in battle.

11:21 arise a vile person. This northern king (vv. 21–35) shall come in peaceably, and seize the kingdom by intrigue.

²²“With the force^a of a ^aflood they shall be swept away from before him and be broken, and also the prince of the covenant.

²³“And after the league is made with him he shall act ^bdeceitfully, for he shall come up and become strong with a small number of people.

²⁶“Yes, those who eat of the portion of his delicacies shall destroy him; his army shall be swept away, and many shall fall down slain.

²⁸“While returning to his land with great riches, his heart shall be moved against the holy covenant; so he shall do damage and return to his own land.

²⁹“At the appointed time he shall return and go toward the south; but it shall not be like the former or the latter.

³¹“And forces^g shall be mustered by him, and they shall ^gdefile the sanctuary fortress; then they shall take away the daily sacrifices, and place there the abomination of desolation.

³²“Those who do wickedly against the covenant he shall corrupt with flattery; but the people who know their God shall be strong, and carry out great exploits.

³⁴“Now when they fall, they shall be aided with a little help; but many shall join with them by intrigue.

³⁵“And some of those of understanding shall fall, to refine them, purify them, and make them white, until the time of the end; because it is still for the appointed time.

Prophecy concerning the willful king

is none other than Antiochus IV Epiphanes, 175-164 B.C., the great persecutor of the Jews and type of Antichrist.

11:25 Verses 25-28 record the first campaign of Antiochus Epiphanes against Egypt.

11:31 Verses 31-35 record the desolation of the Jerusalem temple by Antiochus Epiphanes.

11:32 people . . . shall be strong. For example, the Maccabees, about 168 and following.

11:36 king shall do. Here the prophetic foreview, having traced (vv. 3-20) the two parts of Alexander's empire (Syria and Egypt) which had to do with Palestine and the Jews up till the time of Antiochus Epiphanes, and having described his career (vv. 21-35), overleaps the Church Age and centuries to "the time of the end" (v. 35). Prophecy at this point does not concern itself with history as such but only with history as it affects Israel and the Holy Land. Antiochus Epiphanes was insignificant as compared with many historical personages whom the Bible does not mention, but he scourged the people of God and defiled His holy altar by offering a sow upon it. His attitude and actions toward Israel brought him into prophetic light.

The identity of the willful king is variously interpreted. Some expositors consider him to be the little horn of ch. 7 and the head of the revived Roman Empire. He will disregard all pagan gods ("gods of his fathers," NKJV note) and the Messianic hope, and will honor the god of war (the "god of fortresses"). He is identified as a supreme ruler, who will "magnify himself above every god."

³⁷“He shall regard neither the ^aGod* of his fathers nor the desire of women, nor regard any ^agod; for he shall ^bexalt himself above them all.

³⁹“Thus he shall act against the strongest fortresses with a foreign ^dgod, which he shall acknowledge, and advance its glory; and he shall cause them to rule over many, and divide the land for gain.

Another view considers him an unregenerate Jew in the Holy Land in league with the Roman beast (7:8ff.), who is an unbelieving Gentile in Rome (Rev. 17:9ff.). The willful king disregards the God of Israel (“the God of his fathers”); cares nothing for the hope of Messiah (“the desire of [Jewish] women”); and honors the Roman beast (the “god of fortresses”), Rev. 13:11–18.

The doom of the willful king is at the second coming of Christ (v. 45).

Michael: who is like unto God? An archangel who was a prince and protector of God's people.

12:2 those who sleep . . . shall awake. This resurrection concerns Daniel's people (v. 1), that is, the Jews (compare 9:15–16,20,24; 10:14), and is selective; not all, but “many” (v. 2), restricted to those written in the “book” (v. 1). The latter part of v. 2 may be rendered as follows: “These [that is, the ones who awake] to everlasting life; but those [that is, those left in the grave who are yet to awake] to shame and everlasting contempt.” This resurrection will occur after the tribulation and concerns OT believers and tribulation believers—not the Church, which will be translated before the tribulation.

⁷Then I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he ^aheld up his right hand and his left hand to heaven, and swore by Him who lives forever, that it shall be for a time, times, and half a time; and when the power of the holy people has been completely shattered, all these things shall be finished.

⁸Although I heard, I did not understand. Then I said, "My lord, what shall be the end of these things?"

⁹And he said, "Go your way, Daniel, for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

¹⁰"Many shall be purified, made white, and refined, but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand, but the wise shall understand.

12:4 THE TIME OF THE END

In Daniel the expression "the time of the end" or its equivalent occurs in 8:17-19; 9:26; 11:35,40,45; 12:4,6,9. Summary:

(1) The time of the end in Daniel begins with the violation by "the prince who is to come" (that is, little horn, "man of sin," "beast") of his covenant with the Jews for the restoration of the temple and sacrifice (9:27), and his presentation of himself as God (9:27; 11:36-38; Matt. 24:15; 2 Thess. 2:4; Rev. 13:4-6), and ends with his destruction by the appearing of the Lord in glory (2 Thess. 2:8; Rev. 19:19-20).

(2) The duration of the "time of the end" is three and one-half years, coinciding with the last half of the seventieth week of Daniel (7:25; 12:7; Rev. 13:5). And

(3) this "time of the end" is the "time of Jacob's trouble" (Jer. 30:7); "a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation" (Dan. 12:1); "great tribulation, such as has not been since the beginning of the world until this time, no, nor ever shall be" (Matt. 24:21). The NT, especially Revelation, adds many details.

12:12 THREE PERIODS OF DAYS

Three periods of "days" date from the "abomination" (that is, the blasphemous assumption of Deity by the beast, v. 11; Matt. 24:15; 2 Thess. 2:4):

(1) Twelve hundred and sixty days to the destruction of the beast (7:25; 12:7; Rev. 13:5; 19:19-20). This is also the duration of the great tribulation (compare 12:4, note).

(2) Dating from the same event is a period of 1290 days, an addition of thirty days (12:11). And

(3) again forty-five days are added, and with them the promise of v. 12. No account is directly given of that which occupies the interval of seventy-five days between the end of the tribulation and the full blessing of v. 12.

It is suggested that the explanation may be found in the prophetic descriptions of the events following the war of Armageddon (Rev. 16:13-16; see 19:17, note). The beast is destroyed and Gentile world dominion ended by the Striking Stone at the end of the 1260 days, but the scene is, so to speak, filled with the debris of the image which the "wind" must carry away before full blessing comes (2:35).

THE BOOK OF HOSEA

Author:
Hosea

Theme:
Redeeming Love

Date of writing:
8th Cent. B.C.

Background

Hosea, whose name means the LORD saves, carried on his ministry during the days of four different kings of Judah—Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah; and of Jeroboam II, the king of Israel. Hosea was a contemporary of Amos in Israel, and of Isaiah and Micah in Judah, and his ministry continued after the first, or Assyrian, captivity of the northern kingdom.

God's Relationship to Man

The theme of the opening of Hosea's prophecy is the unfaithfulness of Israel, set forth in terms of the marriage relationship, a familiar figure of speech depicting God's relation to His chosen people (Exodus 34:15–16; Leviticus 17:7; 20:5–6; Deuteronomy 32:16,21; Isaiah 54:5). Israel's forsaking of the LORD was brought home to Hosea in the adulterous acts of his own wife, so that his personal experiences became an allegory of God's experience with Israel. She was not only unfaithful, but her sin also took its character from the exalted relationship into which she had been brought.

The major truths of the book are: (1) God suffers when His people are unfaithful to Him; (2) God cannot condone sin; and (3) God will never cease to love His own and, consequently, He seeks to win back those who have forsaken Him.

Introduction

1 THE word of the LORD that came to Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of ^aUzziah, ^bJotham, ^cAhaz, and ^dHezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of ^eJeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

1:2 take yourself a wife. God did not command Hosea to take an immoral wife but permitted him to carry out his desire to marry Gomer, warning him that she would be unfaithful, and using the prophet's tragic experience as a basis for portraying God's relation to Israel during a period of unfaithfulness.

Hosea's marriage is no less historical because his children were given symbolic names as a message to Israel (vv. 4,6,9). Compare Is. 8:18.

2:2 “WIFE” OF THE LORD, SUMMARY

Marriage is one of many figures used in Scripture to emphasize the relationship of God to men. This illustration is used in both OT and NT to picture love, intimacy, privilege, and responsibility. In the OT, as here in vv. 16-23, Israel is described as the wife of the LORD, though now disowned because of disobedience. Nevertheless eventually, upon repentance, Israel will be restored. This relationship is not to be confused with that of the Church to Christ (John 3:29). In the mystery of the divine Trinity both are true. The NT speaks of the Church as a virgin espoused to one husband (2 Cor. 11:1-2), which could never be said of an adulterous wife restored in grace. Israel is, then, to be the restored and forgiven wife of the LORD; the Church is the virgin wife of the Lamb (John 3:29; Rev. 19:6-8). Israel will be the LORD’s earthly wife (ch. 2:23); the Church, the Lamb’s heavenly bride (Rev. 19:7).

*2:1 Hebrew Ammi (compare 1:9,10)

* Hebrew Ruhamah (compare 1:6)

Baal: lord. A pagan god of the Moabites and Canaanites.

2:13 Baals. That is, heathen gods and idols.

She decked herself with her earrings and jewelry, And went after her lovers; But Me she forgot," says the LORD.

- 14 "Therefore, behold, I will allure her, Will bring her into the wilderness, And speak comfort to her.
15 I will give her her vineyards from there, And the Valley of Achor as a door of hope; She shall sing there, As in the days of her youth, As in the day when she came up from the land of Egypt.

18 In that day I will make a covenant for them With the ^bbeasts of the field, With the birds of the air, And with the creeping things of the ground.

2:23 This verse plays upon the literal meaning of the children's names. See Hos. 1:2, notes; compare Hos. 2:1.

3:1 raisin cakes. Hebrew ashishah. Cakes of raisins were used in some of the sacrificial feasts of the Canaanites.

3:4 sacred pillar. This prediction has been remarkably fulfilled in the condition of Israel since the time of Christ. Scattered, without political unity under a king or a prince, and performing no sacrifices since the destruction of the temple by the Romans in A.D. 70, they have yet retained their identity and avoided idolatrous worship of sacred stones or idols.

3:5 Chapter 3 is one of the classic OT passages describing Israel's past, present, and future. Her idolatrous shall fear the LORD and His goodness in the latter days.

II. An Indictment of Israel, 4—8

The LORD's charge against the sinful nation

4 HEAR the word of the LORD,
You children of Israel,
For the LORD brings a ^acharge against the inhabitants of the land:

“There is no truth or mercy
Or knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing and lying,
Killing and stealing and committing adultery,
They break all restraint,
With bloodshed upon bloodshed.

3 ^bTherefore the land will mourn;
And everyone who dwells there will waste away
With the beasts of the field
And the birds of the air;
Even the fish of the sea will be taken away.

4 “Now let no man contend, or rebuke another;
For your people are like those who ^ccontend with the priest.

5 Therefore you shall stumble in the day;
The prophet also shall stumble
with you in the night;
And I will destroy your mother.

Israel's willful ignorance

6 ^dMy people are destroyed for lack of knowledge.
Because you have rejected knowledge,
I also will reject you from being priest for Me;

^eBecause you have forgotten the law of your God,
I also will forget your children.

7 “The more they increased,
The more they sinned against
Me;

^fI will change* their glory* into shame.

8 They eat up the sin of My people;
They set their heart on their
iniquity.

9 And it shall be: as like people, like priest.
So I will punish them for their ways,
And reward them for their deeds.

10 For they shall *h*eat, but not have enough;
They shall commit harlotry, but not increase;
Because they have ceased
obeying the LORD.

11 “Harlotry, wine, and new wine enslave the heart.

Israel's persistent idolatry

12 My people ask counsel from their wooden idols,
And their staff informs them.
For the spirit of harlotry has caused them to stray,
And they have played the harlot against their God.

13 They offer ⁱsacrifices on the mountaintops,
And burn incense on the hills,
Under oaks, poplars, and terebinths,
Because their shade is good.

^jTherefore your daughters commit harlotry,
And your brides commit adultery.

14 “I will not punish your daughters when they commit harlotry,

past is illustrated by Gomer's unfaithfulness to Hosea (vv. 1-2), despite which Hosea is commanded to love her and buy her back "as the LORD loves the Israelites," a love which led Him to pay the purchase price of the blood of the cross to redeem Israel, the basis of her restoration. The present condition of Israel is illustrated and plainly prophesied in vv. 3-4. Her future is declared in v. 5, showing her repentance toward God who, in His faithfulness, will restore her.

4:6 This is one of the best known and most frequently quoted passages in Hosea.

4:12 informs. That is, speaks like an oracle.

Nor your brides when they commit adultery;
For the men themselves go apart with harlots,
And offer sacrifices with a ritual harlot.*
Therefore people who do not understand will be trampled.

15 “Though you, Israel, play the harlot,
Let not Judah offend.
Do not come up to Gilgal,
Nor go up to ^aBeth Aven,
Nor swear an oath, saying, ‘As the LORD lives’—

16 “For Israel is ^bstubborn
Like a stubborn calf;
Now the LORD will let them forage
Like a lamb in open country.

17 “Ephraim is joined to ^cidols,
^dLet him alone.

18 Their drink is rebellion,
They commit harlotry continually.
Her rulers dearly love dishonor.*
19 The wind has wrapped her up in its wings,
And they shall be ashamed
because of their sacrifices.

The LORD's face is withdrawn

5 “HEAR this, O priests!
Take heed, O house of Israel!
Give ear, O house of the king!
For yours is the judgment,
Because you have been a snare to Mizpah

And a net spread on Tabor.
2 The revolvers are deeply involved in slaughter,
Though I rebuke them all.
3 I know Ephraim,
And Israel is not hidden from Me;
For now, O Ephraim, you
commit harlotry;
Israel is defiled.

4 “They do not direct their deeds
Toward turning to their God,
For the spirit of harlotry is in their midst,

And they do not know the LORD.
5 The ^epride of Israel testifies to his face;
Therefore Israel and Ephraim stumble in their iniquity;
Judah also stumbles with them.

6 “With their flocks and herds
They shall go to ^fseek the LORD,
But they will not find Him;
He has withdrawn Himself
from them.

7 They have dealt treacherously with the LORD,
For they have begotten pagan children.
Now a New Moon shall devour them and their heritage.

8 “Blow ^gthe ram's horn in Gibeah,
The trumpet in Ramah!
Cry aloud at ^hBeth Aven,
‘Look behind you, O Benjamin!’

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke;
Among the tribes of Israel I make known what is sure.

10 “The princes of Judah are like those who ⁱremove a landmark;
I will pour out My wrath on them like water.

11 Ephraim is ^joppressed and broken in judgment,
Because he willingly walked by human precept.

12 Therefore I will be to Ephraim like a moth,
And to the house of Judah like ^krottenness.

13 “When Ephraim saw his sickness,
And Judah saw his wound,
Then Ephraim ^lwent to Assyria
And sent to King Jareb;
Yet he cannot cure you,
Nor heal you of your wound.

14 For I will be like a ^mlion to Ephraim,
And like a young lion to the house of Judah.
I, even I, will tear them and go away;

 The prophet is a ^gfool,
 The spiritual man is insane,
 Because of the greatness of your iniquity and great enmity.
- 8 The ^hwatchman of Ephraim is
 with my God;
 But the prophet is a fowler's*
 snare in all his ways—
 Enmity in the house of his God.
- 9 They are deeply corrupted,
 As in the days of ⁱGibeah.
 He will remember their
 iniquity;
 He will punish their sins.
- 10 "I found Israel
 Like grapes in the ^jwilderness;
 I saw your fathers
 As the ^kfirstfruits on the fig tree in its first season.
 But they went to ^lBaal Peor,
 And separated themselves to
that shame;
 They became an abomination like the thing they loved.
- 11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird—
 No birth, no pregnancy, and no conception!
- 12 Though they bring up their
 children,
 Yet I will bereave them to the last man.
 Yes, woe to them when I depart
 from them!
- 13 Just as I saw Ephraim like ^mTyre, planted in a pleasant place,
 So Ephraim will bring out his children to the murderer."
- 14 Give them, O LORD—
 What will You give?
 Give them a miscarrying womb
 And dry breasts!
- 15 "All their wickedness is in ⁿGilgal,
 For there I hated them.
 Because of the evil of their deeds
 I will drive them from My house;
 I will love them no more.
 All their princes are ^orebellious.
- 16 Ephraim is ^pstricken,
 Their root is dried up;
 They shall bear no fruit.
 Yes, were they to bear children,
 I would kill the darlings of their womb."
- 17 My God will ^qcast them away,
 Because they did not obey Him;
 And they shall be ^rwanderers
 among the nations.
- "Break up your fallow ground" (10:12)
- 10 ISRAEL empties his vine;
 He brings forth fruit for himself.
 According to the multitude of his ^sfruit
 He has increased the altars;
 According to the bounty of his land
 They have embellished his sacred pillars.

Baal Peor: lord of the opening. A town in Moab that was the center for Baal worship.

*9:8 That is, one who catches birds in a trap or snare

- 2 Their heart is divided;
Now they are held guilty.
He will break down their altars;
He will ruin their sacred pillars.
- 3 For now they say,
“We have ^ano king,
Because we did not fear the LORD.
And as for a king, what would he do for us?”
- 4 They have spoken words,
Swearing falsely in making a covenant.
Thus judgment springs up like hemlock in the furrows of the field.
- 5 The inhabitants of Samaria fear
Because of the ^bcal^f of Beth Aven.
For its people mourn for it,
And its priests shriek for it—
Because its ^cglory has departed
from it.
- 6 The idol also shall be carried to
Assyria
As a present for King ^dJareb.
Ephraim shall receive shame,
And Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.
- 7 As for Samaria, her king is cut off
Like a twig on the water.
- 8 Also the ^ehigh places of Aven,
the ^fsin of Israel,
Shall be destroyed.
The thorn and thistle shall grow on their altars;
They shall say to the mountains, ^g“Cover us!”
And to the hills, “Fall on us!”
- 9 “O Israel, you have sinned from the days of ^hGibeah;
There they stood.
The ⁱbattle in Gibeah against the children of iniquity*
Did not overtake them.
- 10 When it is My desire, I will chasten them.
Peoples shall be gathered against them
- When I bind them for their two transgressions.*
- 11 Ephraim is a trained *i*heifer
That loves to thresh grain;
But I harnessed her fair neck,
I will make Ephraim pull a plow.
Judah shall plow;
Jacob shall break his clods.”
- 12 Sow for yourselves
righteousness;
Reap in mercy;
^kBreak up your fallow ground,
For it is time to seek the LORD,
Till He ^lcomes and rains righteousness on you.
- 13 You have plowed wickedness;
You have reaped iniquity.
You have eaten the fruit of lies,
Because you trusted in your own way,
In the multitude of your mighty
men.
- 14 Therefore tumult shall arise
among your people,
And all your fortresses shall be plundered
As Shalman plundered Beth Arbel in the day of battle—
A mother dashed in pieces upon her children.
- 15 Thus it shall be done to you,
O Bethel,
Because of your great
wickedness.
At dawn the king of Israel
Shall be cut off utterly.

THE BOOK OF JOEL

Author:
Joel

Theme:
Day of the LORD

Date of writing:
9th or 8th Cent. B.C.

Background

The book of Joel, whose name means the LORD (Jehovah) is God, is difficult to date because no Israelite king or foreign nation is mentioned in it. Many think that it was written in the time of Jehoash. It describes the invasion of Judah by a plague of locusts that destroyed everything in its path and impoverished the people (1:1—2:11).

God's Relationship to Man

In this situation the prophet urged the people to turn to the LORD (2:12–17). God's merciful answer follows. The passage at 2:18–19 shows the LORD accepting the repentance of the people and promising that He will not only remove from them the plague of locusts (2:20), but that He will also restore to them all that the locusts have eaten (2:23–25). In 2:28ff. the prophet looks far into the future at coming judgment and coming joys. The locust invasion, now only a matter of history, may be taken as a harbinger of invasions of human armies which are yet to come. Great blessings which God promises to pour out upon His people in the latter days are described.

Desolation by locusts

4 What the ^cchewing locust* left, the swarming ^dlocust has eaten;

What the swarming locust left,
the crawling locust has eaten;

And what the crawling locust left, the consuming locust has eaten.

5 Awake, you ^edrunkards, and weep;
And wail, all you drinkers of wine,
Because of the new wine,

For it has been cut off from your mouth.

6 For a ^fnation has come up against My land,
Strong, and without number;
His teeth are the teeth of a lion,
And he has the fangs of a fierce lion.

7 He has laid waste My vine,
And ruined My fig tree;
He has stripped it bare and thrown it away;
Its branches are made white.

8 Lament like a virgin girded

11 Be ashamed, you ⁱfarmers,
Wail, you vinedressers,
For the wheat and the barley;

12 The vine has dried up,
And the fig tree has withered;
The pomegranate tree,
The palm tree also,
And the apple tree—

j Amos 5:16

Joel: Jehovah is God. A minor prophet who declared God's judgment on Judah but also promised a future.

1:4 Exact identity of these locusts is unknown.

THE PLAGUE OF LOCUSTS

Some expositors understand these words to be different stages of the locusts' development. The essential fact is that, according to the usual method of the Spirit in prophecy, some local circumstance is shown to be of spiritual significance, and is made the occasion of a far-reaching prophecy (e.g. Is. 7:1–14, where the Syrian invasion and the unbelief of Ahaz give occasion to the great prophecy of v. 14). Here in Joel a plague of locusts is shown to have symbolic significance (1:13–14), portraying a coming invasion (2:1–11) if repentance is not forthcoming (2:12–17). This impending "day of the LORD" in judgment becomes a foreshadowing of that great climactic day of the LORD, not yet fulfilled (Is. 2:12, refs.).

The picture foreshadows the end-time of Israel's age, of "the times of the Gentiles" (Luke 21:24; Rev. 16:19); of the battle of Armageddon (Rev. 16:14; 19:11–21); of the regathering of Israel (see Rom. 11:26, note); and of kingdom blessing.

The order of events during Israel's last days may be: (1) the invasion of Palestine from the north by Gentile world powers (Joel 2:1–10; Armageddon, Rev. 16:14, refs.); (2) the Lord's army and destruction of the invaders (Rev. 19:11–21); (3) the repentance of Judah in the land (2:12–17; Deut. 30:3, note); (4) the answer of the LORD (2:18–27); (5) the outpouring of the Spirit in Israel's "last days" (2:28–29); (6) the return of the Lord in glory and the setting up of the kingdom (2:30–32; Acts 15:15–17) by the regathering of the nation and the judgment of the nations (3:1–16); and (7) permanent kingdom blessing (3:17–21; Zech. 14:1–21; see Matt. 25:32, note).

All the trees of the field are withered;
Surely ^ajoy has withered away from the sons of men.

- 13 Gird yourselves and lament,
you priests;
Wail, you who minister before
the altar;
Come, lie all night in sackcloth,
You who minister to my God;
For the grain offering and the drink offering
Are withheld from the house of your God.

Desolation by starvation and drought

- 14 ^bConsecrate a ^cfast,
Call a sacred assembly;
Gather the elders
And all the inhabitants of the land
Into the house of the LORD your God,
And cry out to the LORD.

- 15 Alas for the day!
For the ^dday of the LORD is ^eat
hand;
It shall come ^fas destruction
from the Almighty.
16 Is not the food ^gcut off before our eyes,
Joy and gladness from the house of our God?
17 The seed shrivels under the clods,
Storehouses are in shambles;
Barns are broken down,

For the grain has withered.
18 How the ^hanimals groan!
The herds of cattle are restless,
Because they have no pasture;
Even the flocks of sheep suffer punishment.*

- 19 O LORD, to You I cry out;
For fire has devoured the open pastures,
And a flame has burned all the trees of the field.
20 The beasts of the field also cry out to You,
For the water brooks are dried up,
And fire has devoured the open
pastures.

And sound an alarm in My holy mountain!

Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble;
For the ⁱday of the LORD is coming,
For it is at hand:

- 2 A day of darkness and
gloominess,
A day of clouds and thick darkness,
Like the morning clouds spread over the mountains.
A people come, ^jgreat and strong,
The ^klike of whom has never been;
Nor will there ever be any such after them,
Even for many successive generations.

- 3 A fire devours before them,
And behind them a flame burns;
The land is ^llike the Garden of Eden before them,
And behind them a desolate
wilderness;
Surely nothing shall escape
them.
4 Their appearance is like the appearance of ^mhorses;
And like swift steeds, so they run.
5 With a noise like chariots

1:15 THE DAY OF THE LORD

The term "day of the LORD [Jehovah]" is that period of time when the LORD openly intervenes in the affairs of men, when man's day has closed (compare 1 Cor. 4:3). It will be inaugurated with the rapture of the Church (1 Cor. 15:50-58; 1 Thess. 4:13-18). Since the prophets saw historical events from God's viewpoint, they saw the unity of God's world program. Thus they discerned that visitations of God in their time were near foreshadowings of an ultimate fulfillment. In this sense the term is frequently used by Joel.

The day of the LORD in prophetic times will cover the time of the coming tribulation (Rev. 6-19) and the reign of Christ on David's throne (Rev. 20). It will be brought to an end by the judgment of the great white throne (Rev. 20:11-15) and the ushering in of the new heavens and earth, called "the day of God" (2 Pet. 3:10-13). See Rev. 19:19, note.

*1:18 Septuagint and Vulgate read are made desolate.

Over mountaintops they leap,
Like the noise of a flaming fire that devours the stubble,
Like a strong people set in battle array.

- 6 Before them the people writhe
in pain;
All faces are drained of color.*
7 They run like mighty men,
They climb the wall like men of war;
Every one marches in formation,
And they do not break ranks.

- 8 They do not push one another;
Every one marches in his own column.*

Though they lunge between the weapons,

They are not cut down.*

- 9 They run to and fro in the city,
They run on the wall;
They climb into the houses,
They enter at the windows like a thief.

- 10 The earth quakes before them,
The heavens tremble;
The sun and moon grow dark,
And the stars diminish their brightness.

- 11 The LORD gives voice before
His army,

For His camp is very great;
For strong is the One who executes His word.

For the day of the LORD is great and very terrible;
Who can endure it?

Only repentance can avert invasion

- 12 “Now, therefore,” says the LORD,
“Turn to Me with all your heart,
With fasting, with weeping,
and with mourning.”

- 13 So rend your heart, and not your garments;
Return to the LORD your God,
For He is gracious and merciful,
Slow to anger, and of great kindness;
And He relents from doing harm.

- 14 Who knows if He will turn and relent,
And leave a blessing behind
Him—
A grain offering and a drink offering
For the LORD your God?

- 15 Blow the trumpet in Zion,
Consecrate a fast,
Call a sacred assembly;
16 Gather the people,
Sanctify the congregation,
Assemble the elders,
Gather the children and nursing babes;
Let the bridegroom go out from his chamber,
And the bride from her dressing room.

- 17 Let the priests, who minister to
the LORD,
Weep between the porch and
the altar;
Let them say, “Spare Your people, O LORD,
And do not give Your heritage to reproach,
That the nations should rule over them.
Why should they say among the peoples,
‘Where is their God?’ ”

them;
I will no longer make you a

2:11 His army. In vv. 1–10 the advancing locust plague becomes illustrative of an invading army. (A locust’s head resembles a horse’s head in miniature.) Verse 11 states that the LORD will bring this army against His people to discipline them for their sin unless they open their hearts in abject and full repentance (vv. 12–17). Only thus can the invasion of the northern (Assyrian) army be averted (v. 20).

With his face toward the eastern sea
And his back toward the western sea;
His stench will come up,
And his foul odor will rise,
Because he has done monstrous things.”

- 21 Fear not, O land;
Be glad and rejoice,
For the LORD has done marvelous things!
- 22 Do not be afraid, you beasts of the field;
For the open pastures are springing up,
And the tree bears its fruit;
The fig tree and the vine yield their strength.
- 23 Be glad then, you children of Zion,
And rejoice in the LORD your God;
For He has given you the former ^arain faithfully,*
And He will cause the rain to come down for you—
The former rain,
And the latter rain in the first month.
- 24 The threshing floors shall be full of wheat,
And the vats shall overflow with new wine and oil.
- 25 “So I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten,
The crawling locust,
The consuming locust,
And the chewing locust,*
My great army which I sent among you.
- 26 You shall eat in plenty and be satisfied,
And praise the name of the LORD your God,
Who has dealt wondrously with you;
And My people shall never be put to ^bshame.

- 27 Then you shall know that I am in the midst of Israel:
I am the LORD your God
And there is ^cno other.
My people shall never be put to shame.

II. The Promise of the Spirit, 2:28–29

- 28 “And ^dit shall come to pass afterward
That I will pour out ^eMy Spirit on all flesh;
Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy,
Your old men shall dream dreams,
Your young men shall see visions.
- 29 And also on My menservants and on My maidservants
I will pour out My Spirit in those days.

III. The Future Deliverance in the Coming Day of the LORD, 2:30—3:21

- The signs preceding the day of the LORD (cp. Is. 13:9–10; 24:21–23; Ezek. 32:7–10; Matt. 24:29–30)*
- 30 “And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth:
Blood and fire and pillars of smoke.
- 31 The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before the coming of the great and awesome ^fday of the LORD.
- 32 And it shall come to pass
That whoever calls on the name of the LORD
Shall be saved.
For in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be deliverance,
As the LORD has said,
Among the ^gremnant whom the LORD calls.

Peter quoted Joel’s prediction as an illustration of what was taking place in his day, and as a guarantee that God would yet completely fulfill all that

Joel had prophesied. The time of that fulfillment is stated here (“afterward,” compare Hos. 3:5), that is, in the latter days when Israel turns to the LORD. See also Gen. 49:1, note. all flesh. The fulfillment of Moses’ desire (Num. 11:29). Compare Is. 32:15; 44:3–4; Ezek. 36:27–28; 37:14; 39:29; Zech. 12:10.

THE BOOK OF AMOS

Author:
Amos

Theme:
Judgment on Sin

Date of writing:
8th Cent. B.C.

Background

Amos, whose name is related to a verb meaning to bear a load, was burdened over the sin of the northern kingdom in the eighth century B.C. Whereas Hosea was crushed with a sense of the unfaithfulness of Israel to the love of God, Amos was outraged at the violence they had done to the justice and righteousness of God. The note he strikes in his prophecy is the counterpart and corollary to the message uttered by Hosea. The words most descriptive of Amos's message are: "But let justice run down like water, and righteousness like a mighty stream" (5:24). Social justice is inseparable from true piety.

*I. The Pronouncement of Judgment,
1—2*

Introduction

1 THE words of Amos, who was among the ^asheepbreeders* of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of ^bUzziah king of Judah, and in the days of ^cJeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the ^dearthquake.

²And he said:

“The LORD roars from Zion,
And utters His voice from Jerusalem;
The pastures of the shepherds mourn,
And the top of Carmel withers.”

Judgments on surrounding cities and nations

³Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of ^eDamascus, and for four,
I will not turn away its
punishment,
Because they have ^fthreshed
Gilead with implements of iron.

⁴ But I will send a ^gfire into the house of Hazael,
Which shall devour the palaces
of ^hBen-Hadad.

⁵ I will also ⁱbreak the gate bar of Damascus,
And cut off the inhabitant from the Valley of Aven,
And the one who holds the scepter from Beth Eden.
The people of Syria shall go captive to Kir,”
Says the LORD.

⁶Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of ^jGaza, and for four,

I will not turn away its
punishment,
Because they took captive the whole captivity
To deliver them up to Edom.

⁷ But I will send a fire upon the wall of Gaza,
Which shall devour its palaces.
⁸ I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod,
And the one who holds the scepter from Ashkelon;
I will turn My hand against Ekron,
And the remnant of the Philistines shall perish,”
Says the Lord GOD.

⁹Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of ^kTyre, and for four,
I will not turn away its
punishment,
Because they delivered up the whole captivity to Edom,
And did not remember the covenant of brotherhood.
¹⁰ But I will send a fire upon the wall of Tyre,
Which shall devour its palaces.”

¹¹Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of ^lEdom, and for four,
I will not turn away its
punishment,
Because he pursued his ^mbrother with the sword,
And cast off all pity;
His anger tore perpetually,
And he kept his wrath forever.
¹² But I will send a fire upon Teman,
Which shall devour the palaces
of Bozrah.”

Amos: burden. A minor prophet who declared God's judgment on Judah and Israel and the surrounding nations.

1:1 Uzziah. Called Azariah in 2 Kin. 14:21.

1:3 Observe Amos's method of prophesying. Beginning with denunciation of Israel's enemies (compare vv. 3,6,9,11, 13; and 2:1), he wins a hearing from a hostile crowd. Moving nearer, he speaks of the sin of Judah (2:4). Finally, having gained the sympathy of his hearers, he points out the sin of Israel itself (3:1). Isaiah used a similar method (Is. 28).

1:3 For three transgressions . . . and for four. An expression indicating a measure of full iniquity and inevitable judgment.

1:5 gate bar. The gates of ancient cities were secured by heavy bars. It was gates such as these that Samson carried away from Gaza's entrance (Judg. 16:3).

Edom: red. The nation descended from Esau. Located in the rough mountainous area south of Moab and east of Arabah at the base of the Dead Sea. The Edomites had frequent conflicts with the Israelites.

¹³Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of the people of ^aAmmon, and for four,

I will not turn away its punishment,
Because they ripped open the women with child in Gilead,
That they might enlarge their territory.

¹⁴ But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah,
And it shall devour its palaces,
Amid shouting in the day of battle,
And a tempest in the day of the whirlwind.

¹⁵ Their king shall go into ^bcaptivity,
He and his princes together,”
Says the LORD.

Judgments on surrounding cities and nations (continued)

2 THUS says the LORD:

“For ^cthree transgressions of Moab, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because he burned the bones of the king of Edom to lime.

² But I will send a fire upon Moab,
And it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth;
Moab shall die with tumult,
With shouting and trumpet sound.

³ And I will cut off the judge from its midst,
And slay all its princes with him,”
Says the LORD.

Judgment on God’s people: Judah and Israel

⁴Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of ^dJudah, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,

Because they have despised the law of the LORD,
And have ^enot kept His commandments.
Their lies lead them ^fastray,
Lies which their fathers followed.

⁵ But I will send a fire upon Judah,
And it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.”

⁶Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of ^gIsrael, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because they sell the righteous for silver,
And the ^hpoor for a pair of sandals.

⁷ They pant after* the dust of the earth which is on the head of the poor,
And pervert the way of the humble.

And some of your young men
as ^fNazirites.
Is it not so, O you children of Israel?”
Says the LORD.
- 12 “But you gave the Nazirites wine to drink,
And commanded the prophets
saying,
‘Do not ^gprophesy!’
- 13 “Behold, I am weighed down by
you,
As a cart full of sheaves is weighed down.
- 14 Therefore flight shall perish
from the swift,
The strong shall not strengthen his power,
Nor shall the mighty deliver
himself;
- 15 He shall not stand who handles

Nor shall he who rides a horse

Says the LORD.
- II. Inevitable Divine Judgment
Because of Sin, 3—4*
- All twelve tribes guilty*
- 3 HEAR this word that the LORD has spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying:
- 2 “You only have I known of all the families of the earth;
Therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities.”
- 3 Can two ⁱwalk together, unless they are agreed?
- 4 Will a lion roar in the forest,
when he has no prey?
Will a young lion cry out of his nothing?

- 5 Will a bird fall into a snare on the earth, where there is no trap for it?
Will a snare spring up from the earth, if it has caught nothing at all?
- 6 If a trumpet is blown in a city, will not the people be afraid?
If there is ^jcalamity in a city, will not the LORD have done it?

Nazirites: A person or persons under a special vow to dedicate themselves to the Lord. They did not cut their hair, touch a dead body, drink wine or beer, or eat any product of the grapevine.

2:13 I am weighed down. Or I weigh you down.

3:1 the whole family. The language here, and the expression “house of Jacob” (v. 13), evidently give the prophecy a wider application than to Israel, the ten-tribe northern kingdom, though the judgment was executed first upon this kingdom (2 Kin. 17:18–23).

3:2 known. By covenant relationship. Deut. 4:32–37. I will punish you. The LORD’s controversy with the Gentile cities which hated Israel is brief: “I will send a fire” (2:2). But Israel had been brought into the place of privilege and so of responsibility, and the LORD’s indictment is detailed and unsparing. Compare Matt. 11:23; Luke 12:47–48; 1 Pet. 4:17; 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6.

3:3 Observe the seven result-cause questions in vv. 3–6, concluding with the challenge: “If there is calamity in a city, will not the LORD have done it?”

3:6 be afraid. Or run together.

Unless He ^areveals His secret to His servants the ^bprophets.

8 A lion has roared!
Who will not fear?
The Lord GOD has spoken!
^cWho can but prophesy?

9 “Proclaim in the palaces at Ashdod,
And in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say:
‘Assemble on the mountains of Samaria;

See great tumults in her midst,
And the oppressed within her.

10 For they do ^dnot know to do right,’
Says the LORD,
‘Who store up violence and robbery in their palaces.’ ”

11 Therefore thus says the Lord
GOD:

“An adversary shall be all around the land;
He shall sap your strength from
you,
And your palaces shall be plundered.”

12 Thus says the LORD:

“As a shepherd takes from the mouth of a lion
Two legs or a piece of an ear,
So shall the children of Israel be taken out
Who dwell in Samaria—
In the corner of a bed and on the edge* of a couch!

13 Hear and testify against the house of Jacob,”
Says the Lord GOD, the God of
hosts,

14 “That in the day I punish Israel for their transgressions,
I will also visit destruction on the altars of ^eBethel;

And the horns of the altar shall be cut off

And fall to the ground.

15 I will destroy the winter house along with the summer

The houses of ivory shall perish,

And the great houses shall have an end,”

Says the LORD.

Samaria: guard. The capital of the northern kingdom of Israel.

Bashan: soft, rich soil. A fertile area of land east of the Sea of Galilee.

4:4 Bethel. Compare 1 Kin. 12:25–33. Any altar at Bethel, after the establishment of the LORD’s worship at Jerusalem, was of necessity schismatic and idolatrous (Deut. 12:4–14). Compare John 4:21–24; also Matt. 18:20; Heb. 13:10–14.

4:5 thanksgiving with leaven. The use of leaven is significant. Peace with God is something which the believer shares with God. Christ is our peace offering (Eph. 2:13–18). Any thanksgiving for peace must, first of all, present Him. In Lev. 7:12 this is seen, in type, and so leaven is excluded. In Lev. 7:13 it is the offerer who gives thanks for his participation in the peace; so leaven fitly signifies that, although he has peace with God through the work of another, the offerer still has evil in him. This is illustrated in Amos 4:5, where the evil in Israel is before God.

You children of Israel!”
Says the Lord GOD.

Unheeded chastening

- 6 “Also I gave you cleanness of teeth in all your cities.
And ^alack of bread in all your places;
^bYet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.
- 7 “I also withheld rain from you,
When there were still three months to the harvest.
I made it rain on one city,
I withheld rain from another city.
One part was rained upon,
And where it did not rain the part withered.
- 8 So two or three cities wandered to another city to drink water,
But they were not satisfied;
Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.
- 9 “I blasted you with blight and mildew.
When your gardens increased,
Your vineyards,
Your fig trees,
And your olive trees,
The ^clocust devoured them;
Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.
- 10 “I sent among you a plague after the manner of ^dEgypt;
Your young men I killed with a sword,
Along with your captive ^ehorses;
I made the stench of your camps come up into your nostrils;
Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.
- 11 “I overthrew some of you,
As God ^foverthrew Sodom and Gomorrah,

And you were like a firebrand plucked from the burning;
Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.

- 12 “Therefore thus will I do to you,
O Israel;
Because I will do this to you,
^gPrepare to meet your God,
O Israel!”
- 13 For behold,
He who forms mountains,
And creates the wind,
Who ^hdeclares to man what his^{*} thought is,
And makes the morning darkness,
Who treads the high places of the earth—
The LORD God of hosts is His name.

III. God Pleads with Israel to Return to Him, 5:1–15

5 HEAR this word which I take up against you, a lamentation, O house of Israel:

2 The virgin of Israel has fallen;
She will rise no more.
She lies forsaken on her land;
There is ⁱno one to raise her up.

3 For thus says the Lord God:

“The city that goes out by a thousand
Shall have a hundred left,
And that which goes out by a hundred
Shall have ten left to the house of Israel.”

4 For thus says the LORD to the house of Israel:

“Seek ^jMe and live;

Nor enter Gilgal,
Nor pass over to Beersheba;

IV. Some Phenomena in Relation to the Coming of the LORD, 5:16—9:10

The day of the LORD

¹⁶ Therefore the LORD God of hosts, the Lord, says this:

“There shall be wailing in all
streets,
And they shall say in all the highways,
‘Alas! Alas!’
They shall call the farmer to mourning,
And skillful lamenters to wailing.

¹⁷ In all vineyards there shall be wailing,
For I will pass through you,”
Says the LORD.

¹⁸ Woe to you who desire the ^h day of the LORD!
For what good is the day of the LORD to you?
It will be darkness, and not light.

¹⁹ It will be as though a man fled from a lion,
And a bear met him!
Or as though he went into the house,
Leaned his hand on the wall,
And a serpent bit him!
²⁰ Is not the day of the LORD darkness, and not light?
Is it not very dark, with no brightness in it?

Worship without righteousness an abomination to the LORD

²¹ “I hate, I despise your feast days,
And I do not ⁱ savor your sacred assemblies.

²² Though you offer Me burnt offerings and your grain offerings,
I will not accept them,
Nor will I regard your fattened peace offerings.

²³ Take away from Me the noise of your songs,
For I will not hear the melody of your stringed instruments.

²⁴ But let justice run down like water,

*Warning through visions
(cp. 8:1—9:10)*

7 THUS the Lord GOD showed me: Behold, He formed locust swarms at the beginning of the late crop; indeed it was the late crop after the king’s mowings.

²And so it was, when they had finished eating the grass of the land, that I said:

“O Lord GOD, forgive, I pray!
Oh, that Jacob may stand,
For he is small!”

³ So the LORD ^arelented concerning this.
“It shall not be,” said the LORD.

⁴Thus the Lord GOD showed me: Behold, the Lord GOD called for conflict by fire, and it consumed the great deep and devoured the territory.

⁵Then I said:
“O Lord GOD, cease, I pray!
Oh, that Jacob may stand,
For he is small!”
⁶ So the LORD ^brelented concerning this.
“This also shall not be,” said the Lord GOD.

⁷Thus He showed me: Behold, the Lord stood on a wall made with a plumb line, with a plumb line in His hand.

⁸And the LORD said to me, “Amos, what do you see?” And I said, “A plumb line.” Then the Lord said:

“Behold, I am setting a plumb line
In the midst of My people Israel;
I will not pass by them anymore.

⁹ The ^chigh places of Isaac shall be desolate,
And the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste.

I will rise with the sword
^aagainst the house of Jeroboam.”

Amaziah sends accusation against Amos to Jeroboam

¹⁰Then Amaziah the ^epriest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, “Amos has ^sconspired against you in the midst of the house of Israel. The land is not able to bear all his words.

¹¹“For thus Amos has said:

‘Jeroboam shall die by the sword,
And Israel shall surely be led away ^hcaptive
From their own land.’ ”

¹²Then Amaziah said to Amos:

“Go, ⁱ you seer!
Flee to the land of Judah.
There eat bread,
And there prophesy.

¹³ But ⁱnever again prophesy at Bethel,
For it is the king’s sanctuary,
And it is the royal residence.”

The answer of Amos

¹⁴Then Amos answered, and said to Amaziah:

“I was no prophet,
Nor was I a son of a prophet,
But I was a ^ksheepbreeder*
And a tender of sycamore fruit.

¹⁵ Then the LORD took me as I followed the flock,
And the LORD said to me,
‘Go, ⁱprophesy to My people Israel.’

¹⁶ Now therefore, hear the word of the LORD:
You say, ‘Do not prophesy against Israel,
And do not spout against the house of Isaac.’

¹⁷“Therefore thus says the LORD:

*The final prophecy of dispersion
(cp. v. 9 and Deut. 28:63-68)*

9 I SAW the Lord standing by the altar, and He said:

“Strike the doorposts, that the thresholds may shake,
And break them on the heads of them all.

I will slay the last of them with the sword.

He who flees from them shall not get away,
And he who escapes from them shall not be delivered.

2 “Though^a they dig into ^bhell,*
From there My hand shall take them;

Though they climb up to heaven,
From there I will bring them down;

3 And though they ^dhide themselves on top of Carmel,

From there I will search and take them;

Though they hide from My sight at the bottom of the sea,
From there I will command the serpent, and it shall bite them;

4 Though they go into captivity before their enemies,
From there I will command the sword,
And it shall slay them.

I will set My eyes on them for ^eharm and not for good.”

5 The Lord GOD of hosts,
He who touches the earth and it melts,
And all who dwell there mourn;
All of it shall swell like the River,
And subside like the River of Egypt.

6 He who builds His layers in the sky,

And has founded His strata in the earth;

Who calls for the waters of the sea,

And pours them out on the face of the earth—

The LORD is His /name.

7 “Are you not like the people of ^gEthiopia to Me,
O children of Israel?” says the LORD.

“Did I not bring up Israel from the land of Egypt,
The Philistines from Caphtor,
And the Syrians from Kir?”

8 “Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are on the sinful kingdom,

And I will destroy it from the face of the earth;
Yet I will ^hnot utterly destroy the house of Jacob,”

Says the LORD.

9 “For surely I will command,
And will ⁱsift the house of Israel among all nations,
As grain is sifted in a sieve;
^jYet not the smallest grain shall fall to the ground.

10 All the sinners of My people shall die by the sword,
Who say, ‘The calamity shall ^knot overtake nor confront us.’

9:12 The ancient Greek translation rendered this verse as follows: "That the rest of mankind may seek [the LORD], and all the nations upon whom My name is called," says the LORD, who does all these things. Strange as it may seem to those who are unfamiliar with the Hebrew language, the Hebrew text may be rendered this way, with little more than the change of one letter. The corruption of this letter must have occurred after the time of the apostles, for James thus quoted the verse at the Jerusalem Council, and based his decision upon it (Acts 15:14-17). There were learned men present, some of them hostile to his view, who would certainly have shouted him down if he had based his decision upon a reading different from that which existed in the then current Hebrew manuscripts.

THE BOOK OF OBADIAH

Author: Obadiah

Theme:
Doom of Edom

Date of writing:
6th Cent. B.C.

Background

Obadiah is completely unknown, apart from the meaning of his name (servant or worshiper of the LORD). The date of his prophecy is not certain, but internal evidence seems best to point to about 585 B.C., the year after the destruction of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon. Some scholars suggest a much earlier date, however, that is, around the ninth century.

The book, which in literary form is a “doom song,” has a single theme—judgment upon Edom, the nation descended from Esau. In Obadiah’s time Sela (later called Petra) was the capital of Edom. Its unique ruins, cut out of solid cliffs of rose-colored rock and long hidden in the arid regions south of the Dead Sea, were discovered in A.D. 1812 and stand as a silent witness to the fulfillment of the prophecy.

Outline

The book may be divided as follows:

- | | |
|--|--------------|
| I. The Pronouncement of Doom upon Edom | verses 1–9 |
| II. The Cause of This Doom | verses 10–14 |
| III. Edom in the Day of the LORD | verses 15–21 |

I. The Pronouncement of Doom upon Edom, vv. 1-9

Introduction.

The deceitfulness of pride

THE VISION of Obadiah.

Thus says the Lord GOD
^aconcerning Edom

(We have heard a report from
the LORD,

And a messenger has been sent among the nations, saying,

“Arise, and let us rise up against her for battle”):

2 “Behold, I will make you small
among the nations;
You shall be greatly despised.

3 The ^bpride of your heart has deceived you,

You who dwell in the clefts of the rock,

Whose habitation is high;
You who say in your heart,

“Who will bring me down to the ground?”

4 Though you ascend as high as the eagle,

And though you set your nest
among the stars,

From there I will ^cbring you down,” says the LORD.

5 “If thieves had come to you,
If robbers by night—
Oh, how you will be cut off!—
Would they not have stolen till they had enough?

If ^dgrape-gatherers had come to
you,

Would they not have left some
 gleanings?

6 “Oh, how Esau shall be searched out!

How his hidden treasures shall be sought after!

7 All the men in your confederacy

Shall force you to the border;

The men at peace with you

Shall deceive you and prevail against you.

Those who eat your bread shall lay a trap* for you.

No one is aware of it.

8 “Will ^eI not in that day,” says
the LORD,

“Even destroy the wise men
from /Edom,

And understanding from the mountains of Esau?

9 Then your mighty men,
O ^gTeman, shall be dismayed,

To the end that everyone from the mountains of Esau

May be cut off by slaughter.

*II. The Cause of This Doom,

10 “For ^hviolence against your brother Jacob,

Shame shall cover you,
And you shall be ⁱcut off
forever.

11 In the day that you ^jstood on

In the day that strangers carried captive his forces,

When foreigners entered his gates

And cast lots for Jerusalem—

1 Edom. The enmity between Jacob and Esau (Gen. 36), the founder of Edom, persisted through the centuries (Ex. 15:15; Num. 20:14ff.; Ps. 83:6; Is. 63:1-6; Joel 3:19; etc.). The sin of Edom was pride (v. 3), which led to violation of the bond between brothers (vv. 10-14).

Obadiah: worshiper of Jehovah. A minor prophet who prophesied against Edom.

3 clefts. The allusion is to Petra, the great cliff-city which, in Obadiah's time, was called Sela. See Introduction.

Esau: hairy. The oldest son of Isaac and Rebekah who was tricked by his brother into selling him the birth-right. He was later also deprived of the family blessing.

9 Teman. Teman was noted for its wisdom, Jer. 49:7.

9 slaughter. The destruction described here (compare Jer. 49:7-22; Ezek. 25:12-14) was probably at the hands of the Arabs. As a result Edom was almost devoid of population during the Persian period. The presence of Arabs in the neighborhood is shown by the aggression of Geshem, the Arab, the enemy of Nehemiah (Neh. 6:1-2). Later a mixture of Arabs with the remainder of the Edomites became quite a factor in the region of Petra, the former capital of Edom, establishing there a kingdom called the Nabataean kingdom, as well as in southern Palestine, which was largely in the hands of the Edomites. The Greeks and Romans called the Edomites Idumeans, another form of the same name. King Herod was an Edomite.

11 carried captive his forces. Probably the deportation by Nebuchadnezzar, about 586 B.C.

- ^{*}v.12 Literally on the day he became a foreigner

17 there shall be holiness. Here Obadiah points to the essential element of the Messianic kingdom. Because the LORD’s kingdom must be a holy kingdom, man who is by himself unholy can never establish it. Only the Holy One of Israel can set up a holy kingdom.

18 Esau. Edom will be revived (compare Is. 11:14) in the latter days.

19 The South translates the Hebrew word Negev, which is based on a word meaning “to be dry.” It is a geographical term which refers to a specific section of Palestine (e.g. Gen. 13:1) located between Debir and the Arabian Desert. It is an arid region most of the year. Since this area was south of the larger part of Israel, the word also came to be used to denote that direction (compare Gen. 13:14; Dan. 8:4,9; 11:5, etc.). Lowland. The “lowland” or Shephelah is a section of the Holy Land bounded on the north by the Valley of Ajalon, on the west by the Maritime Plain, on the east by the Central Plateau, and reaching to Beersheba in the south. It is characterized by low, rounded chalk hills divided by several broad valleys.

21 Saviors or deliverers on the earth, as in Judg. 3:9,15, will serve under the Lord Jesus Christ, the King of kings (Rev. 19:16; compare also Rev. 20:4). This final verse is clearly Messianic. Short though his book is, Obadiah concludes, as do so many of the other prophets, with the promise of future deliverance for Israel in the kingdom.

THE BOOK OF JONAH

Author:
Jonah

Theme:
God's Mercy

Date of writing:
8th Cent. B.C.

Background

Jonah was a prophet of Israel who lived about the time of Jeroboam II (2 Kings 14:25). His name means dove, and he occupies a unique place as the first foreign missionary. The historical character of Jonah's preservation in the great fish and his preaching to the inhabitants of Nineveh is attested by Christ, who likens the prophet's experience to His own burial and resurrection (Matthew 12:38–42).

A masterpiece of condensed narration, this book has suffered from overemphasis upon the miracle of the great fish (see 1:17, note). However, neither deletion nor rationalization solves the difficulty of the miracle which remains an object of faith, not explanation. The Book of Jonah is full of the supernatural; aside from the great fish, there are the vine, the worm, the east wind, and, greatest of all, the repentance of the entire city of Nineveh.

God's Relationship with Man

Jonah's character and God's dealing with him foreshadow the subsequent history of the nation of Israel: outside the land, a trouble to the Gentiles, yet witnessing to them; cast out, but miraculously preserved; in future deepest distress calling upon the LORD as Savior, finding deliverance and then becoming missionaries to the Gentiles (Zechariah 8:7–23). But chiefly Jonah typifies Christ as the Sent-One, raised from the dead, and carrying salvation to the Gentiles.

I. The Disobedience and Flight of Jonah, 1:1-11

Introduction

1 NOW the word of the LORD came to ^aJonah the son of Amitai, saying,

Jonah flees from the LORD

²“Arise, go to ^bNineveh, that great city, and cry out against it; for their wickedness has come up before Me.”

³But Jonah arose to flee to Tarshish from the presence of the LORD. He went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to ^dTarshish; so he paid the fare, and went down into it, to go with them to Tarshish ^efrom the presence of the LORD.

⁴But the LORD sent out a great wind on the sea, and there was a mighty tempest on the sea, so that the ship was about to be broken up.

⁵Then the mariners were afraid; and every man cried out to his god, and threw the cargo that was in the ship into the sea, to lighten the load.* But Jonah had gone down into the lowest parts of the ship, had lain down, and was fast asleep.

⁶So the captain came to him, and said to him, “What do you mean, sleeper? Arise, call on your God; perhaps your God will consider us, so that we may not perish.”

⁷And they said to one another, “Come, let us cast ^glots, that we may know for whose cause this trouble has come upon us.” So they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah.

⁸Then they said to him, “Please tell us! For whose cause is this trouble upon us? What is your occupation? And where do you come from? What is your country? And of what people are you?”

⁹So he said to them, “I am a Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, ^hwho made the sea and the dry land.”

¹⁰Then the men were exceedingly afraid, and said to him, “Why have you done this?” For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.

¹¹Then they said to him, “What shall we do to you that the sea may be calm for us?”—for the sea was growing more tempestuous.

II. Jonah and the Great Fish, 1:12—2:10

Jonah swallowed by the fish

¹²And he said to them, “Pick ⁱme up and throw me into the sea; then the sea will become calm for you. For I know that this great tempest is because of me.”

¹³Nevertheless the men rowed hard to return to land, but they could ^jnot, for the sea continued to grow more tempestuous against them.

¹⁴Therefore they cried out to the LORD and said, “We pray, O LORD, please do not let us perish for this man’s life, and do not charge us with innocent ^kblood; for You, O LORD, have done as it ^lpleased You.”

¹⁵So they picked up Jonah and threw him into the sea, and the sea ^mceased from its raging.

¹⁶Then the men feared the LORD

Jonah: dove. A minor prophet who ran from God’s call. Famous for surviving being swallowed by a great fish.

1:2 Nineveh, the capital of the ancient Assyrian Empire, was noted for its cruelty and violence (Jon. 3:8). This is confirmed by the ancient records found there. Under the preaching of Jonah in the eighth century B.C., the city and king had turned to God (Jon. 3:3-10). But in the time of Nahum, a century or more later, the city had wholly departed from God. The message of Nahum, therefore, though given perhaps a generation before the destruction of the city, is not a call to repentance but an unrelieved warning of judgment (1:9; 3:10). Such is the way of God; light rejected brings destruction.

²And he said:

"I ^dcried out to the LORD because of my affliction, And He answered me.

"Out of the belly of ^eSheol I cried, And You heard my voice.

³For You cast me into the deep, Into the heart of the seas, And the floods surrounded me; All Your ^fbillows and Your waves passed over me.

⁴Then I ^gsaid, 'I have been cast out of Your sight; Yet I will look again toward Your holy temple.'

⁵The ^hwaters surrounded me, even to my soul; The deep closed around me; Weeds were wrapped around my head.

⁶I went down to the moorings of the mountains; The earth with its bars closed behind me forever; Yet You have brought up my life from the pit, O LORD, my God.

⁷"When my soul fainted within me,

I remembered the LORD; And my prayer went up to You, Into Your holy temple.

⁸"Those who regard worthless idols Forsake their own Mercy.

⁹But I will sacrifice to You With the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay what I have 'vowed. Salvation is of the ⁱLORD."

¹⁰So the LORD spoke to the fish, and it vomited Jonah onto dry land.

III. The Greatest Revival in History, 3

Nineveh repents and is spared

3 NOW the word of the LORD came to Jonah the second time, saying,

²"Arise, go to ^kNineveh, that great city, and preach to it the message that I tell you."

³So Jonah arose and went to Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an exceedingly great city, a three-day journey in extent.

⁴And Jonah began to enter the city on the first day's walk. Then he cried out and said, "Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown!"

⁵So the ^lpeople of Nineveh ^mbelieved God, proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest to the least of them.

⁶Then word came to the king of Nineveh; and he arose from his throne and laid aside his robe, covered himself with sackcloth and sat in ashes.

⁷And he caused it to be proclaimed and published throughout

MIRACLES OF THE OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

No other miracle of Scripture has called forth so much unbelief. It has been claimed that a whale could not swallow a man, yet types of whales have been found that could easily do so. However, the word used here, like the one in Matt. 12:40, does not mean whale but sea monster, possibly the whale shark or rhinodon, the largest of all fish, sometimes attaining a length of seventy feet. The real miracle is not the swallowing but the fact that Jonah was alive when he was cast out of the great fish on to the dry land. After all, a miracle is what might be expected of divine love, interposing for good in a physically and morally disordered universe (Rom. 8:19-23).

1:17 prepared. Literally appointed, ordered. Jon. 4:6,7,8.

2:1 prayed. That Jonah prayed implies that he was alive and conscious. The prayer is full of passages from the Psalms, indicating that Jonah had stored the Word of God in his heart. Compare Rom. 15:4.

2:9 Salvation is of the LORD. The theme of the Bible.

3:3 Nineveh was one of the greatest cities of ancient times. So large was its metropolitan area that it would take three days to go through it. This statement in Jonah was much questioned before the rise of modern archaeology. Excavations in Mesopotamia have fully confirmed the statements in Jonah, Nahum, and other parts of the OT about the greatness of Nineveh. Yet in 612 B.C. Nineveh was so completely destroyed by its enemies that even its location was forgotten. See 3:4, note.

Nineveh by the ^adecree of the king and his nobles, saying,

Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste anything; do not let them eat, or drink water.

⁸ But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily to God; yes, let every one turn from his evil way and from the violence that is in his hands.

⁹ Who can tell ^bif God will turn and ^crelent, and turn away from His fierce anger, so that we may not perish?

¹⁰Then God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God ^arelented from the disaster that

He had said He would bring upon them, and He did ^enot do it.

3:4 THE MESSAGE OF JONAH

The message of Jonah, as is so often the case in prophetic books, was ethically conditioned. If Nineveh repented, it would be spared; if it refused, it was to be destroyed.

Since God knew that Nineveh would ultimately reject His Word and would turn to even greater wickedness than before, the prediction of destruction is given in absolute form. Never was a city more terribly destroyed than was Nineveh. The whole Book of Nahum is devoted to predicting this terrible utter destruction. The forty-day element was ethically conditioned, and the time was lengthened at the occurrence of the great temporary revival described here in ch. 3. Compare the similar postponement of a predicted catastrophe in 1 Kin. 21:29.

3:10 He did not do it. This is the greatest revival in recorded history; no physical miracle in this book compares with the marvel and extent of this spiritual miracle.

4:1 displeased Jonah. The old nature resists the display of God's grace to any of His creatures. An example is Jonah's own admission in 4:2.

Therefore I fled previously to Tarshish; for I know that You are a ^agracious and merciful God, slow to anger and abundant in lovingkindness, One who ^brelents from doing harm.

³“Therefore now, O LORD, please take my life from me, for it is better for me to die than to live!”

Jonah rebuked by the LORD

⁴Then the LORD said, “Is it right for you to be ^cangry?”

⁵So Jonah went out of the city and ^dsat on the east side of the city. There he made himself a shelter and sat under it in the shade, till he might see what would become of the city.

⁶And the LORD God prepared a plant* and made it come up over Jonah, that it might be shade for his head to deliver him from his misery. So Jonah was very grateful for the plant.

⁷But as morning dawned the next day God prepared a worm, and it so damaged the plant that it withered.

⁸And it happened, when the sun arose, that God prepared a vehement east wind; and the sun beat on Jonah’s head, so that he grew faint. Then he wished death for himself, and said, “It is better for me to die than to live.”

⁹Then God said to Jonah, “Is it right for you to be angry about the plant?” And he said, “It is right for me to be angry, even to death!”

¹⁰But the LORD said, “You have had pity on the plant for which you have not labored, nor made it grow, which came up in a night and perished in a night.

¹¹“And should I not pity ^eNineveh, that ^fgreat city, in which are more than one hundred and twenty thousand persons who cannot discern between their right hand and their left—and much livestock?”

f See Jon. 3:3, note

*4:6 Hebrew kikayon, exact identity unknown

4:6 prepared. Four prepared things. Compare Jon. 1:17; 4:7,8.

4:10 In these last verses the great missionary lesson of the book is sharply drawn: Are the souls of men not worth as much as a vine? Like Jonah, God’s people today are often more concerned about the material benefits so freely bestowed upon us by God than about the destiny of a lost world.

THE BOOK OF MICAH

Author:
Micah

Theme:
Judgment and Kingdom

Date of writing:
8th Cent. B.C.

Background

Micah, whose name means Who is like the LORD?, prophesied in the eighth century B.C. as a contemporary of Isaiah (compare 1:1 with Isaiah 1:1). He came from the small town of Moresheth, about twenty miles southwest of Jerusalem. There are many similarities between passages in Isaiah and Micah (compare Micah 4:1–5 with Isaiah 2:2–4). Jeremiah mentions Micah by name (Jeremiah 26:18) and relates him to the reign of Hezekiah, and our Lord quotes Micah 7:6 in Matthew 10:35–36. Samaria, Jerusalem, all Judah, Israel, and the nations are the subject of the prophecy. Assyria is the prominent foreign power. The messages are particularly to the capital cities, Samaria and Jerusalem, as the centers of influence in the nation. God pleads with Israel and Judah to turn to Him from their sin, setting forth the Assyrian as the rod of His wrath, and He concludes with promises of future glory under the Messiah and His righteous reign.

I. Condemnation and Captivity, 1–2

Introduction

1 THE word of the LORD that came to ^aMicah of Moresheth in the days of ^bJotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

Judgment on Israel

- 2 Hear, all you peoples!
Listen, O earth, and all that is in it!
Let the Lord GOD be a witness against you,
The Lord from His holy temple.
- 3 For behold, the LORD is coming out of His place;
He will come down
And tread on the ^chigh places of the earth.
- 4 The mountains will melt under Him,
And the valleys will split
Like wax before the fire,
Like waters poured down a steep place.
- 5 All this is for the transgression of Jacob
And for the sins of the house of Israel.

What is the transgression of Jacob?

Is it not Samaria?

And what are the ^dhigh places of Judah?

Are they not Jerusalem?

Assyria will destroy Samaria and reach the gate of Jerusalem

- 6 “Therefore I will make Samaria a heap of ruins in the field,
Places for planting a vineyard;
I will pour down her stones into the valley,
And I will uncover her foundations.

- 7 All her carved images shall be beaten to pieces,
And all her ^epay as a harlot shall be burned with the fire;
All her idols I will lay desolate,
For she gathered it from the ^fpay of a harlot,
And they shall return to the pay of a harlot.”

- 9 For her wounds are incurable.

Micah: who is like Jehovah. A minor prophet who prophesied God’s judgment on Israel.

1:3 These words predict Shalmaneser’s destruction of the northern kingdom, Sennacherib’s invasion, and Nebuchadnezzar’s invasion.

1:6 In vv. 6–16 the Assyrian invasion is described. Compare 2 Kin. 17:1–18. This is the local circumstance which gives rise to the prophecy of the greater invasion in the last days (4:11–13), when the Lord will deliver His people at the Battle of Armageddon (Rev. 16:13–16; see Rev. 19:17, note).

Jacob: supplanter. The younger son of Isaac and Rebekah who tricked his brother Esau into selling him his birthright. He deceived his father in order to receive the family blessing. Married Leah and Rachel. Had twelve sons by his wives and concubines. Also referred to as Israel.

Samaria: guard. The capital of the northern kingdom of Israel.

1:7 pay as a harlot. This “pay as a harlot” probably was costly vessels that had been given to heathen temples.

1:13

GEOGRAPHICAL PUNS

Micah cleverly uses puns to convey his message. The puns are a play on the meanings of some of the place names in Micah 1:10–15.

Name	Meaning	Phrase played off of
Gath	sounds like the Hebrew word for “tell”	“Tell it not in Gath” (v. 10a)
Beth Aphrah	means “house of dust”	“Roll . . . in the dust” (v. 10b)
Moresheth Gath	means “possession of Gath”	“give presents to” (v. 14)
Achzib	means “lie”	“shall be a lie to the kings” (v. 14)
Mareshah	means “inheritance”	“bring an heir” (v. 15)
Adullam	means “justice of the people”	“the glory of Israel” (v. 15)

For it has come to Judah;
It has come to the gate of My people—
To Jerusalem.

10 Tell it not in ^aGath,
Weep not at all;
In Beth Aphrah*
Roll yourself in the dust.
11 Pass by in naked shame, you inhabitant of Shaphir;
The inhabitant of Zaanah* does not go out.

Beth Ezel mourns;
Its place to stand is taken away from you.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth
pined* for ^bgood,
But ^cdisaster came down from
the LORD
To the gate of Jerusalem.

13 O inhabitant of ^aLachish,
Harness the chariot to the swift steeds
(She was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion),

For the transgressions of Israel were ^efound in you.

14 Therefore you shall give presents to Moresbeth Gath;*
The houses of ^fAchzib* shall be a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 I will yet bring an heir to you,
O inhabitant of Mareshah*
The glory of Israel shall come to ^gAdullam.

16 Make yourself bald and cut off your hair,
Because of your precious
children;
Enlarge your baldness like an eagle,
For they shall go from you into ^hcaptivity.

Reasons for judgment

2 WOE to those who devise
iniquity,
And work out evil on their beds!
At ⁱmorning light they practice it,
Because it is in the ^jpower of their hand.

2 They ^kcovet fields and take them by ^lviolence,
Also houses, and seize them.
So they oppress a man and his house,
A man and his inheritance.

3 Therefore thus says the LORD:
“Behold, against this ^mfamily I am devising ⁿdisaster,
From which you cannot remove your necks;
Nor shall you walk haughtily,
For this is an evil time.

4 In that day one shall take up a proverb against you,
And lament with a bitter lamentation, saying:
‘We are utterly destroyed!
He has changed the heritage of my people;
How He has removed it from me!

cast out

From their children
You have taken away My glory

Yes, with utter destruction.
11 If a man should walk in a false spirit

Deliverance promised

12 “I will surely assemble all of you,
O Jacob,
I will surely gather the ^aremnant of Israel;
I will put them together like sheep of the ^efold,*
Like a flock in the midst of their pasture;
They shall make a loud noise
because of so many people.

13 The one who breaks open will come up before them;
They will break out,
Pass through the gate,
And go out by it;
Their king will pass before them,
With the LORD at their head.”

*II. Rebuke, and Restoration

Faithless leaders rebuked

3 AND I said:

“Hear now, O heads of Jacob,
And you ^srulers of the house of Israel:

Is it not for you to know ^hjustice?”

2 You who hate good and love evil;
Who strip the skin from My
people,*
And the flesh from their bones;
3 Who also eat the flesh of My
people,
Flay their skin from them,
Break their bones,
And chop them in pieces
Like meat for the pot,
Like flesh in the ⁱcaldron.”

4 Then they will cry to the LORD,
But He will ^jnot hear them;
He will even hide His face from them at that time,
Because they have been evil in their deeds.

5 Thus says the LORD concerning the ^kprophets
Who make my people stray;
Who chant “Peace”
While they chew with their teeth,
But who prepare war against him
Who puts nothing into their mouths:

6 “Therefore you shall have night without vision,
And you shall have darkness
without divination;
The sun shall go down on the prophets,
And the day shall be dark for ^lthem.

7 So the seers shall be ashamed,
And the diviners abashed;

Jerusalem to be destroyed

9 Now hear this,
You heads of the house of Jacob
And rulers of the house of Israel,
Who abhor justice
And pervert all equity,
10 Who build up Zion with ^abloodshed

And Jerusalem with iniquity:
11 Her heads judge for a ^ebribe,
Her priests teach for pay,
And her prophets divine for money.
Yet they lean on the LORD, and say,

“Is not the LORD among us?
No harm can come upon us.”

12 Therefore because of you
^fZion shall be plowed like a field,
Jerusalem shall become heaps of ruins,
And the mountain of the temple*
Like the bare hills of the forest.

Vision of earth's golden age

4 ^gNOW it shall come to pass in the latter days
That the mountain of the LORD's house
Shall be established on the ^htop of the mountains,
And shall be exalted above the hills;
And peoples shall flow to ⁱit.

2 Many nations shall come and say,
“Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
To the house of the God of Jacob;

He will teach us His ways,
And we shall walk in His paths.”
For out of Zion the law shall go forth,

And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

3 He shall judge between many peoples,
And rebuke strong nations afar off;

They shall beat their swords into plowshares,

And their spears into pruning hooks;

Nation shall not lift up sword against nation,

Neither shall they learn war anymore.

4 But everyone shall sit under his vine and under his fig tree,
And no one shall make them afraid;

For the mouth of the LORD of hosts has spoken.

5 For all people walk each in the name of his god,
But we will walk in the name of the LORD our God
Forever and ever.

Israel to be regathered

6 “In that day,” says the LORD,

“I will assemble the lame,
I will gather the ^joutcast
And those whom I have afflicted;

7 I will make the lame a remnant,
And the outcast a strong nation;
So the ^kLORD will ^lreign over them in Mount Zion
From now on, even forever.

8 And you, O tower of the flock,
The stronghold of the daughter of Zion,

To you shall it come,
Even the former dominion shall come,

The kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.”

3:11 divine for money. Fortune-telling, or “divining,” is never referred to in the OT in a good sense. Compare Balaam, Num. 23—24.

3:12 Fulfilled A.D. 70. Compare Luke 21:20–24.

4:1 Micah 4:1–3 and Is. 2:2–4 are practically identical. The Spirit of God gave both prophets the same revelation because of its surpassing importance. It is impossible to prove that either prophet was quoting the other. mountain.

In vv. 1–4 there are some general predictions concerning the kingdom. In Scripture a mountain is sometimes the symbol of a great earthly power (Dan. 2:35); hills, of smaller powers. The prediction asserts (1) the ultimate establishment of the kingdom, with Jerusalem for the capital (v. 2); (2) the universality of the future kingdom (v. 2); (3) its character—peace (v. 3); and (4) its effect—prosperity (v. 4). Compare Is. 2:1–5; 11:1–12.

4:13 horn. The words "horn" and "horns" (OT, qeren; NT keras) are used in Scripture both literally and figuratively. In the latter sense at least three meanings appear: (1) strength in general (Deut. 33:17); (2) arrogant pride (Ps. 75:4-5); and (3) political and military power (Dan. 8:20-21).

5:1 judge. King Zedekiah in the Babylonian invasion.

5:2 from everlasting. The Ruler comes from Bethlehem in time, but His activities have been from eternity. His goings forth were in creation, preservation, providences, theophanies, and redemptive activity. The eternal pre-existence of the Messiah is thus strongly presented.

MICAH'S PROPHECIES

Having described the future kingdom (vv. 1-8) and glanced at the Babylonian captivity (vv. 9-10), Micah looks forward into the last days to refer to the great battle (see Armageddon, Rev. 16:13-16; 19:17, note) which immediately precedes the setting up of the Messianic kingdom. See Kingdom (OT) (Gen. 1:26-28; Zech. 12:8, note); also, Kingdom (NT) (Luke 1:31-33; 1 Cor. 15:24, note).

In ch. 5:2 the scene shifts from the great battle (yet future) to the birth and rejection of the King, Messiah (Matt. 27:24-25,37). This is followed by the statement that Israel will be abandoned "until the time that she who is in labor has given birth" (v. 3). There is a twofold "labor" of Israel: (1) that which brings forth the "male Child" (Christ) (Rev. 12:1-2,5); and (2) that which, in the last days, brings forth a believing remnant out of the still unbelieving nation (v. 3; 4:10; Jer. 30:6-11). Both aspects are combined in Is. 66. In Is. 66:7 there is the male Child (Christ) of Rev. 12:1-2,5; in Is. 66:8-24, the remnant, established in kingdom blessing.

The meaning of Mic. 5:3 is that, from the rejection of Christ at His first coming, the LORD will abandon Israel until the believing remnant appear; then He stands and shepherds in His proper strength as the LORD (v. 4); He is the defense of His people as in 4:3,11-13; and afterward the remnant go as missionaries to Israel and to all the world (5:7-8; Zech. 8:23).

Shall return to the children of Israel.

4 And He shall stand and feed His flock
 In the strength of the LORD,
 In the majesty of the name of the LORD His God;
 And they shall abide,
 For now He ^ashall be great
 To the ends of the earth;

5 And this One shall be peace.
 When the ^bAssyrian comes into our land,
 And when he treads in our palaces,
 Then we will raise against him
 Seven shepherds and eight princely men.

6 They shall waste with the sword the land of Assyria,
 And the ^cland of Nimrod at its entrances;
 Thus He shall ^ddeliver us from the Assyrian,
 When he comes into our land
 And when he treads within our borders.

7 Then the remnant of Jacob
 Shall be in the midst of many peoples,
 Like ^edew from the LORD,
 Like showers on the grass,
 That tarry for no man
 Nor wait for the sons of men.

8 And the remnant of Jacob Shall be among the Gentiles,
 In the midst of many peoples,
 Like a ^flion among the beasts of the forest,
 Like a young lion among flocks of sheep,
 Who, if he passes through,
 Both treads down and tears in pieces,
 And none can deliver.

9 Your hand shall be lifted against your adversaries,
 And all your enemies shall be cut off.

10 "And it shall be in that day," says the LORD,
 "That I will ^gcut off your ^hhorses from your midst

And destroy your *i*chariots.
 11 I will cut off the cities of your land
 And throw down all your strongholds.
 12 I will cut off sorceries from your hand,
 And you shall have no soothsayers.
 13 Your carved images I will also cut off,
 And your sacred pillars from your midst;
 You shall no more worship the work of your hands;
 14 I will pluck your wooden images from your midst;
 Thus I will destroy your cities.
 15 And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury
 On the nations that have not heard."*

The LORD's past and present controversy with Israel (vv. 1–5; 10–16)

6 HEAR now what the LORD says:
 "Arise, plead your case before the mountains,
 And let the hills hear your voice.

6:7 firstborn. The law claimed the firstborn of man and beast for the LORD (Ex. 13:2,12). The firstborn of beasts were sacrificed. However, the sacrifice of children was forbidden on pain of death (Lev. 18:21; 20:2-5; Deut. 12:31; 18:10). They were redeemed (Ex. 13:13). This passage does not teach that human sacrifice was common in Israel; it merely reveals the futility of such a practice.

7:7 Verses 7-20 are, primarily, the confession and intercession of the prophet, who identifies himself with Israel. Compare Dan. 9:3-19. Intercession was a part of the prophetic office (Gen. 20:7; Jer. 27:18). But Micah's prayer voices also the heart exercise of the remnant in the last days. Such is prophecy, an intermingling of the near and the far. Compare Ps. 22:1; Matt. 27:46.

THE BOOK OF NAHUM

Author:
Nahum

Theme:
Nineveh's Doom

Date of writing:
7th Cent. B.C.

Background

Nahum means comfort (of God) and is related to the name Nehemiah. Nahum prophesied during the seventh century B.C. His book forms the sequel to the Book of Jonah. The repentance under Jonah delayed the judgment of God for about a century. Nahum's prophecy may be dated between the destruction of Thebes or No Amon (3:8) by Assurbanipal in 666 B.C. and the capture of Nineveh by the Babylonians and their allies in 612 B.C.

Style of the Book

The style of Nahum is lyric poetry of a high order, which some have considered the most impassioned in all the prophets. All must concede that his messages are vivid and forceful.

Outline

The book may be divided as follows:

I. The Character of God, 1:1–8

Introduction

1 THE ^aburden* against ^bNineveh.
The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

The holiness of the LORD;
judgment on Nineveh

2 God is jealous, and the LORD avenges;
The LORD avenges and is furious.
The LORD will take vengeance on His adversaries,
And He reserves wrath for His enemies;
3 ^cThe LORD is slow to anger and great in power,
And will not at all acquit the wicked.

^dThe LORD has His way
In the whirlwind and in the storm,
And the clouds are the dust of His feet.

4 He rebukes the sea and makes it dry,
And dries up all the rivers.
Bashan and Carmel wither,
And the flower of Lebanon wilts.
5 The mountains quake before Him,
The hills melt,
And the earth heaves* at His presence,
Yes, the world and all who dwell in it.

6 ^eWho can stand before His indignation?
And who can endure the fierceness of His anger?
His fury is poured out like fire,

And the rocks are thrown down by Him.

7 The LORD is good,
A stronghold in the day of trouble;
And ^gHe knows those who trust in Him.
8 But with an overflowing flood
He will make an utter end of its place,
And darkness will pursue His enemies.

II. God's Punishment of His Enemies, 1:9–15

9 What do you conspire against the LORD?
He will make an utter end of it.
Affliction will not rise up a second time.

10 For while tangled like thorns,
And while drunken like drunkards,
They shall be devoured like stubble fully dried.

11 From you comes forth one
Who plots evil against the LORD,
A wicked counselor.

12 Thus says the LORD:

“Though they are safe, and likewise many,
Yet in this manner they will be ^hcut down

When he passes through.
Though I have afflicted you,
I will afflict you no more;

13 For now I will break off his yoke from you,
And burst your bonds apart.”

14 The LORD has given a command concerning you:

*1:1 Or oracle *1:5 Targum reads burns.

1:1 Nineveh. The capital of the ancient Assyrian Empire was noted for its cruelty and violence (Jon. 3:8). This is confirmed by the ancient records found there. Under the preaching of Jonah in the eighth century B.C., the city and king had turned to God (Jon. 3:3–10). But in the time of Nahum, a century or more later, the city had wholly departed from God. The message of Nahum, therefore, though given perhaps a generation before the destruction of the city, is not a call to repentance but an unrelieved warning of judgment (1:9; 3:10). Such is the way of God; light rejected brings destruction.

Nahum: comforter. A minor prophet who prophesied the destruction of Nineveh.

1:2 The great ethical lesson of Nahum is that the character of God makes Him not only “slow to anger” (v. 3) and a refuge to those who trust Him (v. 7), but also one who “will not at all acquit the wicked” (v. 3). He can be “just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus” (Rom. 3:26), but only because His holy law has been vindicated in the cross.

1:4 Bashan, Carmel, and Lebanon are known to have been among the most fertile regions of Palestine.

1:11 wicked counselor. It is generally agreed that the invader is Sennacherib, king of Assyria, who threatened Judah in the fourteenth year of Hezekiah’s reign. Compare 2 Kin. 18:13—19:37; Is. 36—37.

“Your name shall be perpetuated no longer.
Out of the house of your gods I will cut off the carved image and the molded image.
I will dig your ^agrave,
For you are ^bvile.”

The joyful news

15 Behold, on the mountains
The ^cfeet of him who brings good tidings,
Who proclaims peace!
O Judah, keep your appointed feasts,
Perform your vows.
For the wicked one shall no more pass through you;
He is ^dutterly cut off.

2 HE who scatters* has come up before your face.
Man the fort!
Watch the road!
Strengthen your flanks!
Fortify your power mightily.
2 For the LORD will restore the excellence of Jacob
Like the excellence of Israel,
For the emptiers have emptied them out
And ruined their vine branches.

3 The shields of his mighty men are made red,
The valiant men are in scarlet.
The chariots come with flaming torches
In the day of his preparation,
And the spears are brandished.*

4 The chariots rage in the streets,
They ^ejostle one another in the broad roads;
They seem like torches,
They run like lightning.

5 He remembers his nobles;
They stumble in their walk;
They make haste to her walls,
And the defense is prepared.

6 The gates of the rivers are opened,
And the palace is dissolved.

AN ASSYRIAN LEGAL FORMULA

In the context the expression “safe, and likewise many,” although a literal translation of the Hebrew, does not seem to make much sense. Actually the Hebrew here represents a transliteration of a long-forgotten Assyrian legal formula. Excavation in the ruins of ancient Nineveh, buried since 612 B.C., has brought to light thousands of ancient Assyrian tablets, dozens of which contain this Assyrian legal formula. It proves, on investigation, to indicate joint and separate responsibility for carrying out an obligation.

Nahum quotes the LORD as using this Assyrian formula in speaking to the Assyrians, saying in effect, “Even though your entire nation joins as one person to resist me, nevertheless I shall overcome you.” As the words would have been equally incomprehensible to the later Hebrew copyists, their retention is striking evidence of the care of the scribes in copying exactly what they found in the manuscripts, and testifies to God’s providential preservation of the Biblical text.

1:14 dig your grave. This denotes the complete destruction of Nineveh by the Medes and Babylonians, which occurred in 612 B.C.

1:15 good tidings. The words in Is. 52:7 speak of deliverance from Babylon; here, from Assyria in 612 B.C. Paul applies the words in Rom. 10:15 to the Gospel of Christ, which announces eternal deliverance from sin.

2:1 He who scatters. That is, the Medo-Babylonian forces under Cyaxares and Nabopolassar.

2:3 red. The invaders were especially fond of red.

2:4 lightning. The Assyrian war chariots moved with unprecedented speed.

	And all their faces are drained of color.*		"I will lift your skirts over your face, I will show the nations your nakedness, And the kingdoms your shame.

3:3 Countless corpses. The striking cruelty of the Assyrians in battle is amply attested by the cuneiform inscriptions found by excavators at Nineveh.

3:8 No Amon. The fall of well-fortified Thebes (Hebrew No Amon) in Egypt to Ashurbanipal in 661 B.C. (vv. 8–10) is here used as a solemn warning to proud Nineveh that she will also fall, despite her excellent defenses (vv. 14–19). Nahum's prophecy against Nineveh was fulfilled c. 612 B.C. when she fell to Nebuchadnezzar, who led the assault on behalf of his father, Nabopolassar of Babylon.

they have ever been morally indignant against the crying injustices and outrageous wickedness of their time.

THE BOOK OF HABAKKUK

Author:
Habakkuk

Theme:
From Doubt to Faith

Date of writing:
7th Cent. B.C.

Background

Habakkuk, whose name means embrace, prophesied to Judah in the last quarter of the seventh century B.C. concerning the impending invasion by the Chaldeans (1:6). The conditions of 1:2–4 are corroborated by the record in 2 Kings 21–22; moral and spiritual decline marked the life of the nation.

Habakkuk was a man of a deeply tender nature and spiritual character. He manifested a great love for his people, fulfilling the position of watchman over them. His questions and doubts arose from his jealousy for the holiness and justice of God. The prophet was perplexed over God's permission of evil in Judah, and even more so over God's use of Babylon as the rod of correction for His people. The answer to his questions is found in 2:4, which is the key verse of the book and is quoted in Romans 1:17; Galatians 3:11; Hebrews 10:38. It sets forth the cause of life and death. Sin must issue in destruction; faith invariably leads to spiritual life.

The theophany in chapter 3, reminiscent of that at Mount Sinai, is one of the grandest in the Bible. (Compare Ezekiel 40:3–4; see Genesis 12:7, note.) The reference in 3:19 to "stringed instruments" suggests that the prophet was a Levite and a musician.

I. The Perplexity of the Prophet, 1:1–2:1

Introduction

1 THE burden which the prophet Habakkuk saw.

The problem: Why is sin unjudged?

- 2 O LORD, how long shall I cry,
And You will not hear?
Even cry out to You,
^a“Violence!”
And You will ^bnot save.
- 3 Why do You show me iniquity,
And cause me to see trouble?
For plundering and violence are before me;
There is strife, and contention arises.
- 4 Therefore the law is powerless,
And justice never goes forth.
For the wicked surround the righteous;
Therefore perverse judgment
proceeds.

The LORD’s answer

- 5 “Look among the nations and watch—
Be utterly astounded!
For I will work a work in your days
Which you would not believe,
though it were told you.
6 For indeed I am ^craising up the Chaldeans,
A bitter and hasty ^dnation
Which marches through the breadth of the earth,
To possess dwelling places that are not theirs.
7 They are terrible and dreadful;
Their judgment and their dignity proceed from ^ethemselves.
8 Their horses also are ^fswifter than leopards,

And more fierce than evening wolves.

Their chargers charge ahead;
Their cavalry comes from afar;
They fly as the seagle that hastens to eat.

- 9 “They all come for violence;
Their faces are set like the east wind.
They gather captives like sand.
10 They scoff at kings,
And princes are scorned by
them.
They deride every stronghold,
For they heap up earthen mounds and seize it.
11 Then his mind* changes, and he transgresses;
He commits offense,
Ascribing this power to his
god.”

Habakkuk’s perplexity:

How can God use wicked Babylon?

- 12 Are You not ^hfrom everlasting,
O LORD my God, my Holy One?
We shall not die.
O LORD, You have appointed them for judgment;
ⁱO Rock, You have marked them
for *i*correction.
13 You are of purer eyes than to behold evil,
And cannot look on
wickedness.
Why do You look on those who deal treacherously,
And hold Your tongue when the wicked devours
A person more righteous than he?
14 Why do You make men like fish of the sea,
Like creeping things that have no ruler over them?

1:1 burden. The “burden” (or oracle; see Is. 13:1, note) is not Habakkuk’s question in vv. 2–4, nor the one in 1:12–2:1, but the LORD’s answer to both of these questions.

Habakkuk: embrace. A minor prophet who prophesied God’s judgment against Judah.

1:3 iniquity. Like Asaph (Ps. 73) and Job, Habakkuk is perplexed by the affliction of the godly and the prosperity of the ungodly. The key to the solution is 2:4.

1:6 Chaldeans. The Chaldeans were Semites, descendants from Chesed, son of Nahor, brother of Abraham (Gen. 22:22). Habakkuk sees the Chaldeans as the rod of God’s anger on the kingdom of Judah, as Isaiah (5:26–30) saw the Assyrians as the agent of God’s punishment on the kingdom of Israel (Is. 10:5).

1:7 judgment. The Chaldeans, recognizing no superiors, were a law unto themselves.

1:13 behold. That is, look with favor upon.

- 15 They take up all of them with a hook,
They catch them in their net,
And gather them in their dragnet.
Therefore they rejoice and are glad.
- 16 Therefore they sacrifice to their net,
And burn incense to their dragnet;
Because by them their share is sumptuous
And their food plentiful.
- 17 Shall they therefore empty their net,
And continue to slay nations without pity?

2 I WILL stand my watch
And set myself on the rampart,
And watch to see what He will say to me,

2:3 THE RESPONSE OF THE VISION

To the watching prophet comes the response of the vision (vv. 2–20). Three elements are to be distinguished:

(1) The moral judgment of the LORD upon the evils practiced by Israel (vv. 5–13, 15–19).

(2) The future purpose of God that “the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea” (v. 14). That this revelation awaits the return of the Lord in glory is shown (a) by the parallel passage in Is. 11:9–12; and (b) by the quotation of v. 3 in Heb. 10:37–38, where the “it” of the vision becomes “He” and refers to the return of the Lord. It is then, after the vision is fulfilled, that “the knowledge of the glory,” etc. shall fill the earth. But

(3) meantime, “the just shall live by his faith.” This great evangelical word is applied to Jews and Gentiles in Rom. 1:17; to the Gentiles in Gal. 3:11–14; and to Hebrews especially in Heb. 10:38. This opening of life to faith alone, makes possible not only the salvation of the Gentiles, but also the existence of a believing remnant in Israel while the nation, as such, is in blindness and unbelief (see Rom. 11:1 and 5, notes), with neither priesthood nor temple, and consequently unable to keep the ordinances of the law. Such is the LORD!

In disciplinary government His ancient Israel is cast out of the land and judicially blinded (2 Cor. 3:12–15), but in covenanted mercy the individual Jew may resort to the simple faith of Abraham (Gen. 15:6; Rom. 4:1–5) and be saved. This, however, does not set aside the Palestinian and Davidic Covenants (see Deut. 30:3 and 2 Sam. 7:16, notes), for “the earth will be filled,” etc. (v. 14), and the LORD will again be in His temple (v. 20). Compare Rom. 11:25–27.

And what I will answer when I am corrected.

II. The Answer of God, 2:2–20

The just shall live by faith

2 Then the LORD answered me and said:

“Write^a the vision
And make it plain on tablets,
That he may run who reads it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time;
But at the end it will speak, and it will ^bnot lie.
Though it tarries, ^cwait for it;
Because it will surely come,
It will not tarry.

7 Will not your creditors^{*} rise up suddenly?
Will they not awaken who oppress you?

2:2 run who reads it. Not, as usually quoted, “that he who runs may read,” but “that he may run who reads”; that is, as a messenger of the vision. Compare Zech. 2:4–5.

2:4 the just shall live by his faith. Here is the central theme of the Bible. The cause of life and death is present-ed. Trust in God brings life (Gen. 15:6; John 3:16; Rom. 6:23); pride leads to death, because it will not accept by faith the grace of God (Rom. 1:17; Gal. 3:11; Heb. 10:38).

And you will become their

^{8 a} Because you have plundered many nations,
All the remnant of the people shall plunder you,

And the violence of the land
and the city,
And of all who dwell in it.
^{9 a} Woe to him who covets evil

^{12 a} Woe to him who builds a town with bloodshed,
Who establishes a city by
iniquity!
¹³ Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts
That the peoples labor to feed the fire,^{*}
And nations weary themselves in vain?
¹⁴ For the earth will be filled With the knowledge of the glory of the LORD,
As the waters cover the sea.
^{15 a} Woe to him who gives drink to his neighbor,
Pressing^{*} him to your bottle,
Even to make him drunk,
That you may look on his

¹⁶ You are filled with shame instead of glory.

2:13 is it not of the LORD. Or it is not of the LORD, etc., that is, though permitted in His providence, not His plan. Compare Mic. 4:2–4.

2:14 the earth will be filled. Compare Is. 11:9, which fixes the time when “the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD,” etc. It is when David’s righteous Branch has set up the kingdom. See Davidic Covenant, 2 Sam. 7:16, note; Kingdom (OT), Gen. 1:26–28; Zech. 12:8, note; Kingdom (NT), Luke 1:31–33; 1 Cor. 15:24, note.

You also—drink!
And be exposed as uncircumcised!^{*}
The cup of the LORD’s right hand will be turned against
you,
And utter shame will be on your glory.
¹⁷ For the violence done to Lebanon will cover you,
And the plunder of beasts
which made them afraid,
Because of men’s blood
And the violence of the land
and the city,
And of all who dwell in it.
^{18 a} What profit is the image, that

SHEOL

The Hebrew Sheol is, in the OT, the place to which the dead go.

(1) Often, therefore, it is spoken of as the equivalent of the grave, where all human activities cease; the terminus toward which all human life moves (e.g. Gen. 42:38; Job 14:13; Ps. 88:3).

(2) To the man “under the sun,” the natural man, who of necessity judges from appearances, Sheol seems no more than the grave—the end and total cessation, not only of the activities of life, but also of life itself (Eccl. 9:5,10). But

(3) Scripture reveals Sheol as a place of sorrow (2 Sam. 22:6; Ps. 18:5; 116:3), into which the wicked are turned (Ps. 9:17), and where they are fully conscious (Is. 14:9–17; Ezek. 32:21). Compare Jon. 2:2; what the belly of the great fish was to Jonah, Sheol is to those who are therein.

The Sheol of the OT and Hades of the NT are identical. See Luke 16:23, note.

20^a But the LORD is in His holy temple.
Let all the earth keep silence before Him.”

BIBLE PRAYERS OF THE OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

Prayer is an integral part of worship, in the OT and in the NT. In the OT the petitions and supplications of God's people are based upon His character and the divine covenants. OT saints, often acting in the priestly office of representing the people before the LORD, frequently appeal to the honor of the name of God and the steadfastness of His word as they plead with the Almighty to fulfill on their behalf the promises that He has graciously made to them as His covenant people (Gen. 15:2-3; 18:23-32; Ex. 32:11-14; 2 Sam. 7:18-29; 1 Kin. 8:22-53; 18:36-37; Dan. 9:3-19). For Bible prayers (NT), see Luke 11:2, note.

3:1 Shigionoth. Probably musical instruments.

3:3 This theophany recalls the events of the Exodus and Sinai, which form the background for God's future deliverance of His people (v. 13) and His judgment of their enemies (v. 12). Selah. The use here and in the Psalms of this Hebrew word, Selah, possibly marks those places where a musical rest in the chanting or a change of instrumental accompaniment stressed a shift of mood.

3:7 Cushan. Or Ethiopia.

3:18 rejoice in the LORD. Verses 17–18 declare that Habakkuk’s love for God, like that of any devoted believer, is not based on what he expects God to give him. Even if God should send him suffering and loss, he declares, he will still rejoice in the God of his salvation. Here is one of the strongest manifestations of faith in the Scriptures.

THE BOOK OF ZEPHANIAH

Author:
Zephaniah

Theme:
Day of the LORD

Date of writing:
7th Cent. B.C.

Background

Zephaniah, which means the LORD hides or protects, was a great-great-grandson of King Hezekiah (1:1). The internal evidence of the book shows that he prophesied during the reign of King Josiah, probably in the decade before the great revival of 621 B.C. Stirred by the moral declension of his time, he foresaw the fall of Jerusalem which, in his inspired vision, became a figure of the day of the LORD. Not only so, but he also looked forward to the judgment of the Gentiles and the restoration of Israel in the Messianic kingdom.

A leading theme of Zephaniah is the day of the LORD, a future event that he describes with vivid power. Zephaniah uses the term, "day of the LORD," more than any other prophet except Joel, yet he pleads with Judah to "seek the LORD" that they might be "hidden in the day of the LORD's anger" (2:3).

I. The Coming Invasion of Nebuchadnezzar, a Figure of the Day of the LORD, 1:1–2:3

Introduction

1 THE word of the LORD which came to Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of ^aJosiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

The coming judgment of Judah

- 2 “I will utterly consume everything
From the face of the land,”
Says the LORD;
- 3 “I will consume man and beast;
I will consume the birds of the heavens,
The fish of the sea,
And the ^bstumbling blocks*
along with the wicked.
I will cut off man from the face of the land,”
Says the LORD.
- 4 “I will stretch out My hand against Judah,
And against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
I will cut off every trace of Baal
from this place,
The names of the ^cidolatrous priests* with the pagan
priests—
- 5 Those who worship the host of heaven ^don the housetops;
Those who worship and swear
oaths by the LORD,
But who also swear by Milcom;
- 6 Those who have turned back from following the LORD,
And have not sought the LORD,
nor inquired of Him.”

7 Be silent in the presence of the
LORD GOD;
For the ^eday of the LORD is at hand,
For the LORD has prepared a ^fsacrifice;
He has invited* His guests.

8 “And it shall be,
In the day of the LORD’s sacrifice,
That I will punish the princes
and the king’s children,
And all such as are clothed with foreign apparel.

9 In the same day I will punish
All those who leap over the threshold,*
Who fill their masters’ houses with violence and deceit.

10 “And there shall be on that day,”
says the LORD,
“The sound of a mournful cry from the Fish Gate,
A wailing from the Second Quarter,
And a loud crashing from the hills.

11 Wail, you inhabitants of Maktesh!*
For all the merchant people are cut down;
All those who handle money are cut off.

Jer. 19:13

Zephaniah: whom Jehovah hid. A minor prophet who declared God’s judgment against Judah and various nations, but gave hope to Judah for the future.

1:5 Milcom, Molech (Lev. 18:21; 1 Kin. 11:5), was an idol of the Ammonites.

1:9 leap over the threshold. May suggest the zeal of their plundering expeditions.

1:10 Fish Gate. Now called the Damascus Gate.

1:11 Maktesh was a depression in Jerusalem where the market places were situated.

1:7 ZEPHANIAH’S PROPHECY

In predictive prophecy, such as Zephaniah’s portrayal of the day of the LORD, the near and far view are often merged. From a distance a great mountain range appears as a single barrier against the sky, although it actually comprises many foothills and intermediate summits separated by extensive valleys from the ultimate heights. So Zephaniah, seeing in the impending fall of Jerusalem the nearest aspect of the day of the LORD, can say that it is “at hand” (v. 7) and “hastens quickly” (v. 14); whereas, towering in the distant future of unfulfilled prophecy, the final Day of the LORD awaits the return of Christ in glory. It is then that all earth-judgment will culminate, to be followed by the restoration and blessing of Israel and the nations in the kingdom. See Day of the LORD (Is. 2:10–22; see Joel 1:15 and Rev. 19:19, notes); Israel (Gen. 12:2–3; Rom. 11:26).

	12 ^a “And it shall come to pass at that time That I will search Jerusalem with lamps, And punish the men Who are ^a settled in complacency,* Who say in their heart, ‘The LORD will not do good, Nor will He do evil.’	Of all those who dwell in the land.
	13 Therefore their goods shall become booty, And their houses a desolation; They shall build houses, but not inhabit them ; They shall plant vineyards, but ^b not drink their wine.”	Zephaniah’s call to repentance 2 ^g GATHER yourselves together, yes, gather together, O undesirable nation, 2 Before the decree is issued, Or the day passes like chaff, Before the LORD’s fierce anger comes upon you, Before the day of the LORD’s anger comes upon you!
	14 The great day of the LORD is near; It is near and hastens quickly. The noise of the day of the LORD is bitter; There the mighty men shall cry out.	3 Seek the LORD, all you meek of the earth, Who have upheld His justice. Seek righteousness, seek humility. ^aMoab,
 And the insults of the people of

 With which they have

 And made arrogant threats

 9 Therefore, as I live,"
 Says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel,
 "Surely Moab shall be like
 Sodom,
 And the people of Ammon like ^cGomorrah—Overrun with weeds and
 saltpits,
 And a perpetual desolation.
 The residue of My people shall

 And the remnant of My people

 10 This they shall have for their pride,
 Because they have reproached
 and made arrogant threats Against the people of the LORD of hosts.
 11 The LORD will be awesome to
 them,
 For He will reduce to nothing
 all the gods of the earth;
People shall worship Him,
 Each one from his place,
 Indeed all the shores of the nations.
 12 "You ^dEthiopians also,
 You shall be slain by My sword."
 13 And He will stretch out His hand against the north,
 Destroy ^eAssyria,
 And make Nineveh a
 desolation,
 As dry as the wilderness.
 14 The herds shall lie down in her

Every beast of the nation.
 Both the pelican and the bittern Shall lodge on the capitals of

 For He will lay bare the cedar

 That dwelt securely,
 That said in her heart,
 "I am it, and there is none

 How has she become a desolation,
 A place for beasts to lie down!
 Everyone who passes by her
 Shall hiss and shake his fist.

 Every morning He brings His justice to light;

Sodom and Gomorrah: burning. Cities located in the Valley of Siddim known for their extreme wickedness and destroyed by God with fire and brimstone. Only Lot and his family survived the destruction.

2:13 Nineveh. The capital of the ancient Assyrian Empire was noted for its cruelty and violence (Jon. 3:8). This is confirmed by the ancient records found there. Under the preaching of Jonah in the eighth century B.C., the city and king had turned to God (Jon. 3:3–10). But in the time of Nahum, a century or more later, the city had wholly departed from God. The message of Nahum, therefore, though given perhaps a generation before the destruction of the city, is not a call to repentance but an unrelieved warning of judgment (1:9; 3:10). Such is the way of God; light rejected brings destruction.

3:2 trusted. Trust is the characteristic OT word for the NT "faith" and "believe." It occurs 154 times in the OT, and is the rendering of Hebrew words signifying to take refuge (Ps. 2:12); to lean on (Ps. 56:3); to roll on (Ps. 22:8).

So that her dwelling would not

3:9 restore. In Zephaniah the conversion of “the peoples” is stated out of the usual prophetic order, in which the blessing of Israel and the setting up of the kingdom precede the conversion of the Gentiles. See Zech. 12:1,8, with notes. But the passage gives clear testimony as to when the conversion of the nations will occur. It is after the smiting of the nations. Compare Is. 11:9 with context; Ps. 2:5–8; Dan. 2:34–35; Acts 15:15–17; Rev. 19:19—20:6. pure language. The prophet is not foretelling a universal language, as though to reverse the consequences of Babel, but the conversion of the nations, a spiritual transformation readily discernible in their purified speech.

3:12 trust. Trust is the characteristic OT word for the NT “faith” and “believe.” It occurs 154 times in the OT, and is the rendering of Hebrew words signifying to take refuge (Ps. 2:12); to lean on (Ps. 56:3); to roll on (Ps. 22:8).

3:15 midst. That this, and all like passages in the prophets (see Kingdom (OT), Gen. 1:26–28; Zech. 12:8, note), cannot refer to anything which occurred at the first coming of Christ is clear from the context. Precisely the reverse is true. See, e.g., Is. 11:1, note.

16 In that day ^ait shall be said to Jerusalem: “Do not fear; Zion, let not your hands be weak. 17 The LORD your God in your midst, The Mighty One, will save; He will ^brejoice over you with gladness, He will quiet you with His love, He will rejoice over you with singing.” 18 “I will gather those who sorrow over the appointed assembly, Who are among you, To whom its reproach is a burden.	19 Behold, at that time I will deal with all who afflict you; I will save the lame, And gather those who were driven out; I will appoint them for praise and fame In every land where they were put to shame. 20 At that time I will ^cbring you back, Even at the time I gather you; For I will give you fame and praise Among all the peoples of the earth, When I return your captives before your eyes,” Says the LORD.	3:16 a Is. 35:3-4 3:17 b Deut. 30:9; Is. 62:5; 65:19; Jer. 32:41 3:20 c Is. 11:12; 27:12; 56:8; Ezek. 28:25; 34:13; 37:21; Amos 9:14
--	---	--

3:17 quiet you. Or be quiet in, a love too great for words. with His love. For the LORD's own, His final word is not of anger, as with the unbelieving nations, but of love, as expressed in this beautiful verse. When it comes to His people, chastised and forgiven, the LORD rests His case in love and rejoicing.

3:20 give you fame. This is the fulfillment of Israel's destiny, as stated in Deut. 26:19.

THE BOOK OF HAGGAI

Author:
Haggai

Theme:
Rebuilding the Temple

Date of writing:
6th Cent. B.C.

Background

Haggai, whose name means festive, was one of the early post-captivity prophets. His ministry was to rebuke the returned exiles for their delay in rebuilding the Temple and to encourage them to set to work. Haggai was a contemporary of Zechariah (Ezra 5:1–2).

The five messages that make up the Book of Haggai are among the most precisely dated of all prophecies, the year, month, and day being specified in each case (1:1,15; 2:1,10,20). Such expressions as “then the word of the LORD came” and “Thus says the LORD of hosts” occur about nineteen times in the two chapters of the prophecy.

Outline

The book may be divided according to the five messages of Haggai, as follows:

I. The First Message of Rebuke, 1:1–11

Introduction

1 IN the ^asecond year of King Darius, in the sixth month, on the first ^bday of the month, the word of the LORD came by ^cHaggai the prophet to ^dZerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying,

²“Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, saying: ‘This people says, “The time has not come, the time that the LORD’s house should be built.” ’ ”

The condition of the exiles:
God’s discipline because of disobedience

³Then the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying,

⁴“Is it time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, and this temple* to lie ^ein ruins?”

⁵Now therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts: “Consider your ways!

⁶“You have ^fsown much, and bring in little;
You eat, but do not have enough;
You drink, but you are not filled with drink;
You clothe yourselves, but no one is warm;
And he who earns wages,
Earns wages to put into a bag with holes.”

⁷Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Consider your ways!

⁸“Go up to the ^gmountains and bring wood and build the temple, that I may take pleasure in it and be glorified,” says the LORD.

⁹“You looked for much, but indeed it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why?” says the LORD of hosts. “Because of My house that is in ruins, while every one of you runs to his own house.

¹⁰“Therefore the ^hheavens above you withhold the dew, and the earth withholds its fruit.

¹¹“For I called for a ⁱdrought on the land and the mountains, on the grain and the new wine and the oil, on whatever the ground brings forth, on men and livestock, and on all the labor of your hands.”

II. The First Message of Encouragement, 1:12–15

The work recommenced

¹²Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people feared the presence of the LORD.

¹³Then Haggai, the LORD’s messenger, spoke the LORD’s message to the people, saying, “I am with you, says the LORD.”

¹⁴So the LORD ^jstirred up the spir-

For more information on the Hebrew religious calendar, see the note at Lev. 23:2. Haggai. Haggai’s prophecy should be compared with the prophecy of Zechariah, his contemporary, and also with the historical record in the Book of Ezra, as follows: Hag. 1:1–11 with Ezra 4:24–5:1; Hag. 1:12–15 with Ezra 5:2 and Zech. 1:1–6; Hag. 2:10–23 with Zech. 1:7–6:15. Also compare Ezra 5:3–17; 6:1–13 with Zech. 7–8. Zerubbabel . . . Joshua. Zerubbabel and Joshua were not only religious leaders, but prominent men in civic life also. Joshua. Or Jeshua. III. The Second Message of Encouragement: the Future Glory of the Temple, 2:1–9

The temples

2IN the ^dseventh month, on the twenty-first of the month, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying:

²“Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying:

^{3e}“Who is left among you who saw this temple* in its former glory? And how do you see it now? In comparison with it, is this not in your eyes as nothing?”

⁴“Yet now be strong, Zerubbabel,” says the LORD; ‘and be strong, Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all you people of the land,’ says the LORD, ‘and work; for I am with you,’ says the LORD of hosts.

⁵“According to the word that I *f*covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, so My [#]Spirit remains among you; do not fear!”

⁶“For thus says the LORD of hosts: ^h“Once more (it is a little while) I will ⁱshake heaven and earth, the sea and dry land;

⁷and I will shake all nations, and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations,* and I will fill this temple with ^kglory,” says the LORD of hosts.

⁸“The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine,” says the LORD of hosts.

⁹“The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than the former,” says the LORD of hosts. ‘And in this place I will give peace,’ says the LORD of hosts.”

IV. The Second Message of Rebuke, 2:10–19

God’s message of cleansing and blessing

¹⁰On the ^ltwenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying,

¹¹“Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘Now, ask the priests concerning the law, saying,

¹²“If one carries holy meat in the fold of his garment, and with the edge he touches bread or stew, wine or oil, or any food, will it become holy?” ’ ” Then the priests answered and said, “No.”

HAGGAI’S MESSAGE

The prophet calls the old men who remembered Solomon’s temple, to witness to the new generation how greatly that structure exceeded the present in magnificence; and he then utters a prophecy (vv. 7–9) which can only refer to the future kingdom temple described by Ezekiel. It is certain that the restoration temple and all subsequent structures, including Herod’s, were far inferior in costliness and splendor to Solomon’s.

The present period is described in Hos. 3:4–5. Verse 6 is quoted in Heb. 12:26–27. Verse 7, “I will shake all nations,” refers to the great tribulation and is followed by the coming of Christ in glory, as in Matt. 24:29–30. “The Desire of All Nations” (LXX, “the riches of all nations” that is, the treasures or desirable things) is an expression that refers ultimately to Christ, in whom all true riches culminate. See Mal. 3:1, note.

2:1 seventh month. This is the month of Tishri (or Ethanim) in the Hebrew religious calendar. It correlates to the modern months of September–October. For more information on the Hebrew religious calendar, see the note at Lev.23:2. twenty-first. This was the seventh day of the Feast of Tabernacles (Lev. 23:39–44; compare John 7:37ff.).

2:4 Joshua. Or Jeshua. Not the same man as in Josh. 1:1ff.; Ezra 2:2.

2:9 glory. Or the future glory of this house shall be greater than the former temple. In a broad sense all the temples (that is, Solomon’s, Ezra’s, Herod’s, that which will be used by the unbelieving Jews under covenant with the beast [Dan. 9:27; Matt. 24:15; 2 Thess. 2:3–4], and Ezekiel’s future kingdom temple [Ezek. 40–47]) are looked upon as though they are the “house of the LORD,” since they all profess to be that. For that reason Christ purified the temple of His day, erected though it was by an Idumean usurper to please the Jews (Matt. 21:12–13). Peace will be bestowed through the Prince of Peace (Is. 9:6–7; compare Mic. 5:5).

¹³And Haggai said, “If one who is ^aunclean because of a dead body touches any of these, will it be unclean?” So the priests answered and said, “It shall be unclean.”

¹⁴Then Haggai answered and said, “‘So is this people, and so is this nation before Me,’ says the LORD, ‘and so is every work of their hands; and what they offer there is unclean.

¹⁵‘And now, carefully consider from this day forward: from before stone was laid upon stone in the temple of the LORD—

¹⁶‘since those days, when one came to a heap of ^btwenty ephahs, there were but ten; when one came to the wine vat to draw out fifty baths from the press, there were but twenty.

¹⁷‘I struck you with ^cblight and mildew and hail in all the labors of your hands; ^dyet you did not turn to Me,’ says the LORD.

¹⁸‘Consider now ^efrom this day forward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, from the day that the foundation of the LORD’s temple was ^flaid—consider it:

¹⁹‘Is the seed still in the barn? As yet the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree have not yielded fruit. But from this day I will ^g‘bless you.’ ”

V. The Third Message of Encouragement: the Final Overthrow of Gentile World Power, 2:20–23

²⁰And again the word of the LORD came to Haggai on the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying,

²¹“Speak to ^hZerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying:

‘I will shake heaven and earth.

²² I will ⁱoverthrow the throne of kingdoms;

I will destroy the strength of the Gentile kingdoms.

I will overthrow the chariots

And those who ride in them;

The horses and their riders shall come down,

Every one by the sword of his brother.

²³‘In that day,’ says the LORD of hosts, ‘I will take you, Zerubbabel My servant, the son of Shealtiel,’ says the LORD, ‘and will make you like a ^jsignet ring; for I have ^kchosen you,’ says the LORD of hosts.”

THE BOOK OF ZECHARIAH

Author:
Zechariah

Theme:
Messiah's Advents

Date of writing:
6th Cent. B.C.

Background

Zechariah, whose name means the LORD remembers, was a prophet of the restoration from Babylon. As a contemporary of Haggai (compare 1:1 with Haggai 1:1), he began his two-year ministry in the second year of Darius I Hystaspis, 520 B.C. His messages cover events beginning with the rebuilding of the Temple and concluding with the millennium.

Expositors, both Jewish and Christian, have complained of the difficulty of the book. This is due largely to the visions of chapters 1–6. But no Old Testament prophet has more prophecy concerning Christ, Israel, and the nations in so short a space than Zechariah. He predicts the second coming of Christ. His reign, His priesthood, His kingship, His humanity, His Deity, His building of the Temple of the LORD, His coming in lowliness, His bringing of permanent peace, His rejection and betrayal for thirty pieces of silver, His return to Israel as the crucified One, and His being smitten by the sword of the LORD.

Zechariah's predictions of other prophetic events of the end-time are equally clear and significant. In the last chapter alone the prophet discloses the last siege of Jerusalem, the initial victory of the enemies of Israel, the cleaving of the Mount of Olives, the LORD's defense of Jerusalem by His visible appearing on Olivet, judgment on the confederated nations, the topographical changes in the land of Israel, the Feast of Tabernacles in the millennium, and the ultimate holiness of Jerusalem and her people.

I. Call to Repentance, 1:1–6

Introduction

1 IN the eighth month of the second year of ^aDarius, the word of the LORD came to ^bZechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of ^cIddo the prophet, saying,

A solemn warning and call to repentance

²“The LORD has been very angry with your fathers.

³“Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts: ^d“Return to Me,” says the LORD of hosts, “and I will return to you,” says the LORD of hosts.

⁴“Do not be like your fathers, to whom the former prophets preached, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Turn now from your evil ways and your evil deeds.”’ But they ^edid not hear nor heed Me,” says the LORD.

⁵“Your fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live forever?

⁶ Yet surely My words and My statutes, Which I commanded My servants the prophets, Did they not overtake your fathers?

“So they returned and said:

‘Just as the LORD of hosts determined to do to us, According to our ways and according to our deeds, So He has dealt with us.’ ” ’ ”

(1) The rider on the red horse

⁷On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet:

⁸I saw by night, and behold, a man riding on a red horse, and it stood among the myrtle trees in the hollow; and behind him were horses: red, sorrel, and white.

⁹Then I said, ^f“My lord, what are these?” So the *g*angel who talked with me said to me, “I will show you what they are.”

¹⁰And the man who stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, “These are the ones whom the LORD has sent to walk to and fro throughout the earth.”

¹¹So they answered the ^hAngel of the LORD, who stood among the myrtle trees, and said, “We have walked to and fro throughout the earth, and behold, all the earth is resting quietly.”

The LORD displeased with the nations

¹²Then the ⁱAngel of the LORD answered and said, “O LORD of hosts, ^jhow long will You not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which You were angry these ^kseventy years?”

¹³And the LORD answered the ^langel who talked to me, with good and comforting words.

1:8 saw by night. Zechariah’s first vision (vv. 8–17) reveals Judah in dispersion, Jerusalem under adverse possession, and the Gentile nations at rest about it. This condition still continues, and the LORD’s answer to the intercession of the angel sweeps on to the end-time of Gentile domination, when “the LORD will again comfort Zion,” etc. (vv. 16–17; Is. 40:1–5). See Kingdom (OT) (Gen. 1:26–28; Zech. 12:8, note). red horse. Compare Rev. 6:4. The whole period of Gentile world power is characterized by the red horse, that is, by the sword. ¹⁴So the ^aangel who spoke with me said to me, "Proclaim, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"I am ^bzealous for Jerusalem And for Zion with great zeal.

¹⁵I am exceedingly angry with the nations at ease; For I was a little angry, And they helped—but with evil intent."

¹⁶"Therefore thus says the LORD:

"I am ^creturning to Jerusalem with mercy; My ^dhouse ^eshall be built in it," says the LORD of hosts, "And a ^fsurveyor's line shall be stretched out over Jerusalem."

¹⁷"Again proclaim, saying, "Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"My cities shall again spread out through prosperity; The LORD will again ^gcomfort Zion, And will again ^hchoose Jerusalem." "

(2) The four horns and four craftsmen

¹⁸Then I raised my eyes and looked, and there were four ⁱhorns.

¹⁹And I said to the ^jangel who talked with me, "What are these?" So he answered me, "These are the horns that have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem."

²⁰Then the LORD showed me four craftsmen.

²¹And I said, "What are these coming to do?" So he said, "These are the ^khorns that scattered Judah, so that no one could lift up his head; but the craftsmen* are coming to terrify them, to cast out the ^lhorns of the nations that lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it."

(3) The man with the measuring line in his hand

2 THEN I raised my eyes and looked, and behold, a man with a ^mmeasuring line in his hand.

²So I said, "Where are you going?" And he said to me, "To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its width and what is its length."

³And there was the ⁿangel who talked with me, going out; and another angel was coming out to meet him,

Jerusalem in the Kingdom Age

⁴who said to him, "Run, speak to this young man, saying: 'Jerusalem shall be inhabited as towns without walls, because of the multitude of men and livestock in it.

⁵'For I,' says the LORD, 'will be a wall of fire all around her, and I will be the glory in her midst.' "

⁶"Up, up! Flee from the land of the north," says the LORD; "for I have spread you abroad like the four winds of heaven," says the LORD.

⁷"Up, Zion! Escape, you who dwell with the daughter of ^oBabylon."

⁸For thus says the LORD of hosts: "He sent Me after glory, to the nations which plunder you; for he who touches you touches the ^papple of His eye.

⁹"For surely I will shake My hand against them, and they shall become spoil for their servants. Then you

2:1 THE MEASURING LINE

The measuring line (or rod) is used by Ezekiel (40:3,5) as a symbol of preparation for rebuilding the city and temple in the Kingdom Age. Here it has that meaning, as the context shows (vv. 4-13).

The subject of the vision is the restoration of nation and city. In no sense has this prophecy been fulfilled. The order is:

(1) the LORD in glory in Jerusalem (v. 5) (compare Matt. 24:29-30);

(2) the restoration of Israel (v. 6);

(3) the judgment of the LORD upon the nations (vv. 8-9) (compare Matt. 25:31-32); and

(4) the full blessing of the earth (vv. 10-13).

See Kingdom (OT) (Gen. 1:26-28; Zech. 12:8, note; Israel, Gen. 12:2-3; Rom. 11:26, note).

1:18 raised my eyes. A horn is sometimes used as a symbol of a Gentile king (Dan. 7:24; Rev. 17:12), and the vision is of the four world empires (Dan. 2:36-44; 7:3-7), which have "scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem" (v. 19). See Deut. 33:17, note.

1:20 four craftsmen. The four craftsmen may denote the four judgments of Ezek. 14:21 ("the sword and famine and wild beasts and pestilence"), and in turn the four horsemen and horses of Rev. 6:1-8. See v. 18, note.

⁵And I said, “Let them put a clean turban on his head.” So they put a clean turban on his head, and they put the clothes on him. And the ⁱAngel of the LORD stood by.

⁶Then the ⁱAngel of the LORD admonished Joshua, saying,

⁷“Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘If you will walk in My ways, And if you will ^kkeep My command,

Then you shall also judge My house,

And likewise have charge of My courts;

I will give you places to walk Among these who stand here.

3:1 high priest. The purpose of this vision was to set forth the reinstatement of Israel into their priestly office. Compare Ex. 19:5–6. It discloses: (1) the change from self-righteousness to the righteousness of God (see Rom. 3:21, note), of which Paul’s experience in Phil. 3:1–9 is the illustration, as it is also the foreshadowing of the conversion of Israel; and (2) in type, the preparation of Israel for receiving the LORD’s Branch (see Is. 4:2, note). The refusal of the Jews to abandon self-righteousness for the righteousness of God blinded them to the presence of the Branch in their midst at His first advent (Rom. 10:1–4; 11:7–8). Compare Zech. 6:12–15, which speaks of the manifestation of the Branch in glory (v. 13) as the Priest-King, when Israel will receive Him. See Heb. 5:6, note.

THE VISION OF THE LAMPSTAND

In this vision the lampstand represents God’s witness before the world. In the time of Zechariah this witness was maintained by Israel. In the Church Age it is maintained by the Church (compare Rev. 1:12,13,20; 2:1,5; etc.). Although the Church will be removed at the rapture (1 Thess. 4:13–17; etc.), God will still maintain a witness in the world. The two olive trees represent two phases of God’s government, one the priestly and the other the kingly. From these two olive trees the oil was carried to the lampstand. Oil is the uniform symbol of the Holy Spirit. See Acts 2:4, note.

The two olive trees represent Joshua and Zerubbabel, whose witness in that day is the prototype of the two witnesses of Rev. 11:3–12. Actually no human being can be the real source of the power that actuates God’s witness. It is only as Joshua, Zerubbabel, or any other human being represents Christ, the true Priest-King, that he fulfills this vision. In their fullest significance the two olive trees speak of Christ, the LORD’s Priest-King (compare Ps. 110:4).

Zerubbabel: scattered in Babylon. A prince of Judah who led the first group of exiles back to Judah. He started the work of rebuilding the temple and restored the worship of God.

5:1 flying scroll. A scroll, in Scripture symbolism, denotes the written word, whether of God or man (Ezra 6:2; Jer. 36:2,4,6, etc.; Ezek. 3:1–3, etc.). Zechariah’s sixth vision is of the rebuke of sin by the Word of God. The two sins mentioned really transgress both tablets of the law. To steal is to set aside our neighbor’s right; to swear is to set aside God’s claim to reverence. As always, the law can only curse (v. 3; Gal. 3:10–14).

the whole earth: ‘Every thief shall be expelled,’ according to this side of the scroll; and, ‘Every perjurer shall be expelled,’ according to that side of it.”

4 “I will send out the curse,” says the LORD of hosts;

And the house of the one who ^bswears falsely by My name.

And ^cconsume it, with its timber and stones.”

(7) The basket and the women

5 Then the ^dangel who talked with me came out and said to me, “Lift your eyes now, and see what this is that goes forth.”

6 So I asked, “What is it?” And he said, “It is a ^ebasket* that is going forth.” He also said, “This is their resemblance throughout the earth:

7 “Here is a lead disc lifted up, and this is a woman sitting inside the basket”;

8 then he said, “This is Wickedness!” And he thrust her down into the basket, and threw the lead cover* over its mouth.

9 Then I raised my eyes and looked, and there were two women, coming with the wind in their wings; for they had wings like the wings of a fstork, and they lifted up the basket between earth and heaven.

10 So I said to the ^gangel who talked with me, “Where are they carrying the basket?”

11 And he said to me, “To build a house for it in the land of Shinar; when it is ready, the basket will be set there on its base.”

(8) The four chariots

6 THEN I turned and raised my eyes and looked, and behold, four chariots were coming from between two mountains, and the mountains were mountains of bronze.

2 With the first chariot were red horses, with the second chariot black horses,

3 with the third chariot white horses, and with the fourth chariot dappled horses—strong steeds.

4 Then I answered and said to the ^hangel who talked with me, “What are these, my lord?”

5 And the ⁱangel answered and said to me, “These are four spirits of heaven, who go out from their station before the Lord of all the earth.

6 “The one with the black horses is going to the ^jnorth country, the white are going after them, and the dappled are going toward the south country.”

7 Then the strong steeds went out, eager to go, that they might walk to and fro throughout the earth. And He said, “Go, walk to and fro throughout the earth.” So they walked to and fro throughout the earth.

8 And He called to me, and spoke to me, saying, “See, those who go toward the north country have giv-

5:5 In the vision of the measuring basket (vv.5–11) there is a blending of elements from Zechariah’s time with those of the far distant future. The basket is employed to indicate how the measure of Israel’s sins had accumulated in that day. Compare, for the figure of a measure, 2 Sam. 8:2; Jer. 51:13; Hab. 3:6–7; Matt. 7:2; 23:32. For such iniquity there must be, first of all, the restraint of God in order that the righteous may be permitted to live in the land; this is symbolized by the basket’s lead cover. Second, evil must be completely eradicated from the land and carried back to the seat of idolatry and defiance of God, namely, Babylon; this is indicated by the flight of the basket to Babylon, its base. Compare Rev. 18.

5:11 Shinar. That is, Babylon, Dan. 1:2.

6:1 four chariots. The interpretation of the eighth vision must be governed by the authoritative declaration of v. 5. The four chariots with their horses do not symbolize the four world empires of Daniel, but “four spirits of heaven, who go out from their station before the LORD of all the earth.” These spirits are angels (Luke 1:19; Heb. 1:14). They have also a ministry earthward, and of like nature with the spirits of Zech. 6:1–8, that is, judgment. The symbol (chariots and horses) is in perfect harmony with this. Always in Scripture symbolism, they stand for the power of God earthward in judgment (Jer. 46:9–10; Joel 2:3–11; Nah. 3:1–7). The vision, then, speaks of the LORD’s judgments upon the Gentile nations north and south in the day of the LORD (Is. 2:10–22; Rev. 19:11–21).

The question

7 NOW in the ⁱfourth year of King Darius it came to pass that the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, on the fourth ^jday of the ninth month, Chisleb,

²when the people sent Sher-ezer, with Regem-Melech and his men, to the house of God,* to pray before the LORD,

³and to ask the priests who were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and the prophets, saying, “Should I weep in the fifth month and fast as I have done for so many years?”

⁵“Say to all the people of the land, and to the priests: ‘When you ^kfasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh ^lmonths during those seventy years, did you really fast for Me—for ^mMe?’

⁶“When you eat and when you drink, do you not eat and drink for yourselves?

6:11 crown. Following the earth-judgments symbolized in the war chariots (6:1–8) comes the manifestation of Christ in His kingdom glory (vv. 9–15). This is the invariable prophetic order: first, the judgments of the day of the LORD (Is. 2:10–22; Rev. 19:11–21); then, the kingdom (compare Ps. 2:5 with 2:6; Is. 3:24–26 with 4:2–6; 10:33–34 with 11:1–10; Rev. 19:19–21 with 20:4–6). This is set forth symbolically by the crowning of Joshua, which was not a vision but was actually done (compare Ezek. 37:16–22). The fulfillment in the Branch will infinitely transcend the symbol. He “shall bear the glory” (v. 13; Matt. 16:27; 24:30; 25:31) as the Priest-King on His own throne

(vv. 12–13; Heb. 7:1–3). Christ is now a Priest but is still in the holiest within the veil (Heb. 9:11–14,24; compare Lev. 16:15) and seated on the Father’s throne (Rev. 3:21). He has not yet come out to take His own throne (Heb. 9:28). It was to keep alive this larger hope of Israel that this crown was made for the symbolic crowning of Joshua; it was to be laid up in the temple as a memorial.

7:1 Chisleb. This is the ninth month in the Hebrew religious calendar. It correlates to the modern months of November–December. For more information on the Hebrew religious calendar, see the note at Lev. 23:2.

7:2 A FAST DAY OBSERVANCE

The mission of these Jews concerned a fast day instituted by the Jews during the captivity in commemoration of the destruction of Jerusalem, wholly of their own will and without warrant from the Word of God. In the beginning there was doubtless sincere contrition in the observance of the day; now it had become a mere ceremonial. The Jews sent from Bethel would be rid of it, but seek authority from the priests. The whole matter, like much in modern pseudo-Christianity, was extra-biblical, formal, and futile.

The LORD takes the occasion to send a divine message to the inquirers. That message is in five parts:

(1) Their fast was a mere religious form; they should rather have given heed to the “former prophets” (vv. 4-7; compare Is. 1:12; Matt. 15:1-10).

(2) They are told why their prayer of seventy years has not been answered (vv. 8-14; compare Ps. 66:18; Is. 1:14-17).

(3) The unchanged purpose of the LORD and the blessing of Israel in the kingdom are alluded to (8:1-8; compare a like order in Is. 1:24-31 with 2:1-4).

(4) The messengers of the captivity are exhorted to hear “the prophets who spoke in the day the foundation was laid,” that is, Haggai and Zechariah, and to do justly; then all their fasts and feasts will become gladness and joy (8:9-19). And which is based on a word meaning “to be dry.” It is a geographical term which refers to a specific section of Palestine (e.g. Gen. 13:1) located between Debir and the Arabian Desert. It is an arid region most of the year. Since this area was south of the larger part of Israel, the word also came to be used to denote that direction (compare Gen. 13:14; Dan. 8:4,9; 11:5, etc.). Lowland. The “lowland” or Shephelah is a section of the Holy Land bounded on the north by the Valley of Aijalon, on the west by the Maritime Plain, on the east by the Central Plateau, and reaching to Beersheba in the south. It is characterized by low, rounded chalk hills divided by several broad valleys.

(5) they are assured that Jerusalem is yet to be the religious center of the earth (8:20-23; compare Is. 2:1-3; Zech. 14:16-21).

8:3 SANCTIFICATION, HOLINESS IN THE OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

In the OT various forms of the words consecrate, dedicate, sanctify, and holiness are renderings of one Hebrew word. The terms are used of persons and of things, and have an identical meaning, that is, set apart. Only when used of God Himself (e.g. Lev. 11:45), or of the holy angels (e.g. Dan. 4:13), is any inward moral quality necessarily implied. Doubtless a priest or other person set apart to the service of God, whose whole will and desire went with his setting apart, experienced progressively an inner detachment from evil. See Matt. 4:5 and Rev. 22:11, notes.

8:14 REPENTANCE IN THE OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

In the OT, “repentance” is one of the English words used to translate the Hebrew nacham, to be eased or comforted. It is used of both God and man. Relent is usually used for God in the NKJV. Notwithstanding the literal meaning of nacham, it is evident, from a study of all the passages, that the sacred writers use it in the sense of metanoia in the NT, meaning a change of mind. See Matt. 3:2; Acts 17:30, note.

As in the NT, such change of mind is often accompanied by contrition and self-judgment. When applied to God, the word is used phenomenally, according to OT custom. God seems to change His mind. The phenomena are such as, in the case of a man, would indicate a change of mind.

9:8 him who passes by. This refers to the advance and return of Alexander (v. 13) after the battle of Issus. He subdued the cities mentioned in vv. 1-6, and afterward returned to Greece without harming Jerusalem. But the greater meaning converges on the yet future last days (see Acts 2:17, note), as the latter part of v. 8 shows, for many oppressors have passed through Jerusalem since the days of Alexander.

9:9 your King is coming. The events following this manifestation of Christ as King are recorded in the Gospels. The real faith of the multitude who cried "Hosanna" is given in Matt. 21:11. So little was Jesus deceived by His apparent reception as King that He wept over Jerusalem and announced its impending destruction, fulfilled in A.D. 70. Compare Luke 19:38-44. The same multitude soon cried, "Crucify him."

9:10 After the King is introduced in v. 9, the following verses look forward to the end time and the kingdom.

The LORD will make flashing

He will give them showers of Grass in the field for everyone.

2 For the idols* speak delusion;
The diviners envision ^blies,
And tell false dreams;
They comfort in vain.

Therefore the people wend

They are in trouble ^dbecause

^eshepherds,
And I will punish the

For the LORD of hosts will visit
His flock,
The house of Judah,
And will make them as His

From him the tent peg,
From him the battle bow,
From him every ruler* together.

5 They shall be like mighty men,
Who tread down their enemies
In the mire of the streets in the

They shall fight because the LORD is with them,
And the riders on horses shall

And I will save the house of Joseph.
I will bring them back,
Because I have ^gmercy on them.

^hThey shall be as though I had not cast them aside;

For I am the LORD their God,
And I will ⁱhear them.

7 Those of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man,
And their heart shall rejoice as

Yes, their children shall see it

Their heart shall rejoice in the

For I will ^kredeem them;
And they shall ^lincrease as they 9 “I will ^msow them among the peoples,

And they shall ⁿremember Me
in far countries;
They shall live, together with their children,
And they shall return.

10 I will also bring them back from the land of Egypt,
And gather them from Assyria.
I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon,
Until no more room is found for them.

11 He shall pass through the sea with affliction,
And strike the waves of the sea:
All the depths of the River shall dry up.

Then the pride of ^oAssyria shall be brought down,
And the scepter of Egypt shall depart.

12 “So I will strengthen them in

And they shall walk up and

Says the LORD.

10:1 latter rain. Compare Hos. 6:3; Joel 2:23–32; Zech. 12:10. There are both a physical and spiritual meaning: rain as of old will be restored to Palestine, but also there will be a mighty effusion of the Spirit upon restored Israel.

10:4 comes. The tense is futuristic: “From him [Judah] will come the cornerstone [Ex. 17:6; see 1 Pet. 2:8, note], from him the tent peg [Is. 22:23–24], from him the battle bow,” etc. The whole scene is of the events which cluster around the deliverance of Israel at the time of the invasion of Palestine from the north (Ezek. 38–39) and the final liberation which will be completely effected by the return of the Lord (Rev. 19:11–21); but previously He strengthens the hard-pressed Israelites (Mic. 4:13; Zech. 9:13–15; 10:5–7; 12:2–6; 14:14). That there may have been a fulfillment in the Maccabean victories can neither be affirmed nor denied from Scripture, but the ultimate fulfillment, when Christ comes again, is certain.

7 So I fed the flock for slaughter, in particular the ^fpoor of the flock.*
I took for myself two ^gstaffs: the one
I called Beauty,* and the other I called Bonds;* and I fed the flock.

8 I dismissed the three shepherds and their soul also abhorred me.

Thus the poor* of the flock, who were watching me, knew that it staff, Judah was abandoned to the destruction foretold in vv. 1–6, which was fulfilled in A.D. 70. The breaking of the second staff meant the destruction of the inner bond of the nation, resulting in the internal strife and divisions that contributed largely to the downfall of the Jewish state in A.D. 70. The order of this chapter is: (1) the wrath against the land (vv. 1–6), fulfilled in the destruction of Jerusalem after the rejection of Christ (Luke 19:41–44); (2) the cause of that wrath in the betrayal and rejection of Christ (vv. 7–14); and (3) the rise of the “worthless shepherd,” the beast (Dan. 7:8; Rev. 19:20), and his destruction (vv. 15–17).

11:7 PARABLES IN THE OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

A parable is a similitude used to teach or enforce a truth.

The OT parables fall into three classes:

- (1) the story-parable, of which Judg. 9:7–15 is an instance;
- (2) parabolic discourses, e.g. Is. 5:1–7; and
- (3) parabolic actions, e.g. Ezek. 37:16–22.

³“And it shall happen in that day that I will make Jerusalem a very heavy stone for all peoples; all who would heave it away will surely be cut in pieces, though all nations of the earth are gathered against it.

⁴“In that day,” says the LORD, “I will strike every horse with confusion, and its rider with madness; I will open My eyes on the house of Judah, and will strike every horse of the peoples with blindness.

⁵“And the governors of Judah shall say in their heart, ‘The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts, their God.’

⁶“In that day I will make the governors of Judah like a firepan in the woodpile, and like a fiery torch in the sheaves; they shall devour all the surrounding peoples on the right hand and on the left, but Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place—Jerusalem.

⁷“The LORD will save the tents of Judah first, so that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem shall not become greater than that of Judah.

12:1 Chapters 12—14 form one prophecy, the general theme of which is the return of the Lord and the establishment of the kingdom. The order is:

(1) the siege of Jerusalem preceding the battle of Armageddon (vv. 1-3);

(2) the battle itself (vv. 4-9);

(3) the pouring out of the Spirit and the personal revelation of Christ to the family of David and the remnant in Jerusalem, not merely as the glorious Deliverer but also as the One whom Israel pierced and has long rejected (v. 10);

(4) the godly sorrow which follows that revelation (vv. 11-14); and

(5) the cleansing fountain (Zech. 13:1) then to be opened effectually to Israel.

12:8

KINGDOM OF THE OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

(See also Kingdom [NT] Luke 1:33; 1 Cor. 15:24, note):

I. Dominion over the Earth before the Call of Abraham.

(1) Dominion over creation was given to the first man and woman (Gen. 1:26-28). Through the fall this dominion was lost, Satan becoming “ruler of this world” (Matt. 4:8-10; John 14:30).

(2) After the flood, the principle of human government was established under the covenant with Noah (Gen. 9:6; see Gen. 9:16, note). Biblically, this is still the charter of all government.

II. The Theocratic Kingdom in Israel. (See also 1 Sam. 8:7, note.)

The call of Abraham involved, with much else, the creation of a distinctive people through whom great purposes of God toward the human race might be worked out (see Israel, Gen. 12:1-3; Rom. 11:26, note). Among these purposes is the establishment of a worldwide kingdom. The history of the divine mediatorial rule in Israel is as follows:

(1) Its establishment under Moses (Ex. 19:3-7; compare Ex. 3:1-10; 24:12).

(2) Its administration under leader-judges (Josh. 1:1-5; Judg. 2:16-18).

12:8KINGDOM OF THE OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY (continued)

(3) Its administration under kings (1 Sam. 10:1,24; 16:1-13; 1 Kin. 9:1-5).

(4) Its end at the captivity (Ezek. 21:25-27; compare Jer. 27:6-8; Dan. 2:36-38).

III. The Future Restoration of the Theocratic Kingdom.

(1) The Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7:8-16 [see v. 16, note]; Ps. 89:3-4,20-21,28-37).

(2) The exposition of the Davidic Covenant by the prophets (Is. 1:25-26 [see v. 26, note] to Zech. 12:6-8). They describe the kingdom as follows:

(a) It will be Davidic, to be established under David's heir, who is to be born of a virgin, therefore truly man, but also "Immanuel," "Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace" (Is. 7:13-14; 9:6-7; 11:1; Jer. 23:5; Ezek. 34:23; 37:24; Hos. 3:4-5).

(b) It will be a kingdom heavenly in origin, principle, and authority (Dan. 2:34-35,44-45), but set up on the earth, with Jerusalem as the capital (Is. 2:2-4; 4:3,5; 24:23; 33:20; 62:1-7; Jer. 23:5; 31:38-40; Joel 3:1, 16-17).

(c) The kingdom is to be established first over regathered, restored, and converted Israel, and is then to become universal (Ps. 2:6-8; 22:1-31; 24:1-10; Is. 1:2-3; 11:1,10-13; 60:12; Jer. 23:5-8; 30:7-11; Ezek. 20:33-40; 37:21-25; Zech. 9:10; 14:16-19).

(d) The moral characteristics of the kingdom are to be righteousness and peace. The meek, not the proud, will inherit the earth; longevity will be greatly increased; the knowledge of the LORD will be universal; beast-ferocity will be removed; absolute equity will be enforced; and open sin will be visited with instant judgment; whereas the enormous majority of earth's inhabitants will be saved (Ps. 2:9; Is. 11:4,6-9; 26:9; 65:20; Zech. 14:16-21). The NT (Rev. 20:1-5) adds a detail of immense significance—the removal of Satan from the scene. It is impossible to conceive to what heights of spiritual, intellectual, and physical perfection humanity will attain in this, its coming age of righteousness and peace (Ps. 72:1-10; Is. 11:4-9).

(e) The kingdom is to be established by power, not persuasion, and is to follow divine judgment upon the Gentile world powers (Ps. 2:4-9; Is. 9:7; Dan. 2:35,44-45; 7:26-27; Zech. 14:1-19). See Zech. 6:11, note.

(f) The restoration of Israel and the establishment of the kingdom are connected with the advent of the LORD, yet future (Deut. 30:3-5; Ps. 2:1-9; Zech. 14:4).

(g) The chastisement reserved for disobedience in the house of David (2 Sam. 7:14; Ps. 89:30-33) fell in the captivities and worldwide dispersion. Since that time, though a remnant returned under prince Zerubbabel, Jerusalem has generally been under the political authority of Gentiles. Even today, under Israeli rule, Gentiles control many important sites within the Holy City. The Davidic Covenant has not been abrogated (Ps. 89:33-37), however, but is yet to be fulfilled (Acts 15:14-17).

⁴“And it shall be in that day that every prophet will be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies; they will not wear a robe of coarse hair to deceive.

13:6 This verse is best understood as an evasive reply of a false prophet in the last days. It carries on and concludes the subject begun in v. 2. By no valid interpretation may it be referred to the Lord Jesus Christ. There is no clear change of subject between vv. 5 and 6 such as exists between vv. 6 and 7. Christ would not claim that He was not a prophet (compare Deut. 18:15-18); He was not a farmer; He was not bought or sold from His youth. Verse 7 does speak of Christ, as Matt. 26:31 and Mark 14:27 attest.

13:8 This chapter now returns to the subject of 12:10.

Verses 8-9 refer to the sufferings of the remnant (Is. 1:5; Rom. 11:9) preceding the great battle. Then ch. 14 is a recapitulation of the whole matter.

The order is:

(1) the gathering of the nations, 14:2 (see Armageddon, Rev. 16:13-16; 19:17, note);

(2) the deliverance, 14:3;

(3) the return of Christ to the Mount of Olives, and the physical change of the scene, 14:4-8; and

(4) the setting up of the kingdom, and full earthly blessing, 14:9-21.

12:10

HOLY SPIRIT IN THE OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

(1) The personality and Deity of the Holy Spirit appear from the attributes ascribed to Him and from His works.

(2) He is revealed as sharing the work of creation and, therefore, as omnipotent (Gen. 1:2; Job 26:13; 33:4; Ps. 104:30); omnipresent (Ps. 139:7); striving with men (Gen. 6:3); enlightening (Job 32:8); enduing with constructive skill (Ex. 28:3; 31:3); giving physical strength (Judg. 14:6,19), executive ability, and wisdom (Judg. 3:10; 6:34; 11:29; 13:25); enabling men to receive and utter divine revelations (Num. 11:25; 2 Sam. 23:2); and, generally, empowering the servants of God (Ps. 51:12; Joel 2:28; Mic. 3:8; Zech. 4:6).

(3) He is called holy (Ps. 51:11); good (Ps. 143:10); the Spirit of judgment and burning (Is. 4:4); the Spirit of the LORD, of wisdom, understanding, counsel, might, knowledge, the fear of the LORD (Is. 11:2), and of grace and supplication (Zech. 12:10).

(4) In the OT the Holy Spirit acts in free sovereignty, coming upon men and even upon a dumb animal as He wills; nor are conditions set forth (as in the NT) by compliance with which any one may receive the Spirit. The indwelling of every believer by the abiding Spirit is a NT blessing consequent upon the death and resurrection of Christ (John 7:39; 16:7; Acts 2:33; Gal. 3:1-6). And

(5) the OT contains predictions of a future pouring out of the Spirit upon Israel (Ezek. 37:14; 39:29), and upon “all flesh” (Joel 2:28-29). The expectation of Israel, therefore, was twofold—of the coming of Messiah-Immanuel, and of such a pouring out of the Spirit as the prophets described. See Holy Spirit, Acts 2:4, note.

They will ^acall on My name,

Which faces Jerusalem on the east.
And the Mount of Olives shall be split in two,
From east to west,
Making a very large valley;
Half of the mountain shall move toward the north
And half of it toward the south.

5 Then you shall flee through My mountain valley,
For the mountain valley shall reach to Azal.

Yes, you shall flee
As you fled from the ^hearthquake
In the days of Uzziah king of Judah.

Thus the ⁱLORD my God will come,
And all the saints with You.*

6 It shall come to pass in that day
That there will be no light;
The lights will diminish.

7 It shall be one day
Which is known to the LORD—
Neither day nor night.
But at evening time it shall happen
That it will be light.

8 And in that day it shall be
That living waters shall flow from Jerusalem,
Half of them toward the eastern sea
And half of them toward the western sea;
In both summer and winter it shall occur.

The kingdom set up on the earth

9 And the LORD shall be ^jKing over all the earth.
In that day it shall be—
"The LORD is one,"*
And His name one.

10 All the land shall be turned into a plain from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem. *Jerusalem shall be raised up and inhabited in her place from Benjamin's Gate to the place of the First Gate and the Corner

Mount of Olives: The summit of the range of hills east of Jerusalem which was once covered with olive trees. A central location to the events of Christ's ministry.

14:4 Mount of Olives. Verse 5 implies that the cleavage of the Mount of Olives is due to an earthquake, and this is confirmed by Is. 29:6; Rev. 16:18-19. In both passages the context, as here in vv. 1-3, associates the earthquake with the Gentile invasion under the beast (Dan. 7:8;

Rev. 19:20). Not one of the related events of this chapter occurred at the first coming of Christ, closely associated though He then was with the Mount of Olives.

14:9 King over all the earth. This will be the answer to the prayer of Matt. 6:10. Compare Dan. 2:44-45; 7:27. See Kingdom (NT), Luke 1:31-33; 1 Cor. 15:24, note.

14:10 plain. Arabah in Hebrew. When used with the definite article only, it refers to the valley which runs from the Sea of Galilee to the Gulf of Aqabah. South of the Dead Sea the name is still retained (Wady el-Arabah).

11 The people shall dwell in it;
And no longer shall there be utter destruction,
But Jerusalem shall be ^bsafely inhabited.

16 And it shall come to pass that everyone who is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall ^cgo up from year to year to ^dworship the ^eKing, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the ^fFeast of Tabernacles.

12 And this shall be the plague with which the LORD will strike all the people who fought against Jerusalem:

Their flesh shall dissolve while they stand on their feet,
Their eyes shall dissolve in their sockets,
And their tongues shall dissolve in their mouths.

17 And it shall be that whichever of the families of the earth do not come up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, on them there will be ^gno rain.

18 If the family of ^hEgypt will not come up and enter in, they shall have no rain; they shall receive the plague with which the LORD strikes the nations who do not come up to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt and the punishment of all the nations that do not come up to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.

20 In that day ⁱ"HOLINESS TO THE LORD" shall be engraved on the bells of the horses. The ^jpots in the LORD'S house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yes, every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be holiness to the LORD of hosts.* Everyone who sacrifices shall come and take them and cook in them. In that day there shall no longer be a ^kCanaanite in the house of the LORD of hosts.

THE BOOK OF MALACHI

Author:
Malachi

Theme:
Formalism Rebuked

Date of writing:
5th Cent. B.C.

Background

Malachi means my messenger, which is probably an abbreviated form of the messenger of the LORD. Apart from the meaning of his name, nothing is known of Malachi, who carried out his ministry in the second half of the fifth century B.C. This final message of the Old Testament contains the prophecy of John the Baptist's ministry, the fulfillment of which begins the New Testament. Malachi develops his main theme, which is the corruption of the priests and the sins of the people against the family and their miserliness toward God, followed by questions from those addressed and statements proving the original assertions, a dialectic form of discussion which later became quite popular in Judaism.

Outline

The book may be divided as follows:

I. Israel Pretends to be Unaware of God's Love, 1:1-5

Introduction

1 THE burden* of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.

The LORD's love for His chosen people, Israel

2 "I have ^aloved you," says the LORD.

"Yet you say, ^b"In what way have You loved us?"

Was not Esau Jacob's brother?" Says the LORD.

"Yet ^cJacob I have loved;

3 But Esau I have hated, And ^dlaid waste his mountains and his heritage

For the jackals of the wilderness."

4 Even though Edom has said, "We have been impoverished, But we will return and build the desolate places,"

Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"They may build, but I will ^ethrow down;

They shall be called the Territory of Wickedness,

And the people against whom the LORD will have indignation forever.

5 Your eyes shall see, And you shall say, 'The LORD is /magnified beyond the border of Israel.'

*II. The Priests Deny Despising
the Name of the LORD, 1:1-2:9*

Sins of the restoration priests

6 "A son ^ghonors his father, And a servant his master. If then I am the ^hFather, Where is My honor? And if I am a Master, Where is My reverence? Says the LORD of hosts To you priests who despise My name. Yet you say, ⁱ"In what way have we despised Your name?"

7 "You offer defiled food on My altar, But say, 'In/ what way have we defiled You?' By saying, 'The table of the LORD is contemptible.'

*1:1 Or oracle

Malachi: messenger of Jehovah. A minor prophet who preached against Israel's poor worship practices and called them to religious renewal.

Jacob: supplanter. The younger son of Isaac and Rebekah who tricked his brother Esau into selling him his birthright. He deceived his father in order to receive the family blessing. Married Leah and Rachel. Had twelve sons by his wives and concubines. Also referred to as Israel.

Esau: hairy. The oldest son of Isaac and Rebekah who was tricked by his brother into selling him the birthright. He was later also deprived of the family blessing.

1:3 hated. The statement that God loved Jacob but hated Esau, must be taken as relative rather than absolute. Special blessings were promised to Esau and his descendants (Gen. 27:38-40). However, the spiritual insight of Jacob was far greater, and Jacob was the one through whom the promised seed was to come. The comparison of the good things done for Jacob with those done for Esau is like the difference between loving and hating. Compare Luke 14:26, the statement that if a man does not hate his father and mother he cannot be a disciple of Christ. Love for father and mother is commanded in the Scripture. No Christian can hate his father and mother. What is meant is that his love for Christ should be so great that, in comparison, the love for father and mother would seem almost like hate.

1:4 Edom. That is, Esau's descendants. Gen. 25:30.

Edom: red. The nation descended from Esau. Located in the rough mountainous area south of Moab and east of Arabah at the base of the Dead Sea. The Edomites had frequent conflicts with the Israelites.

1:6 I am the Father. See Is. 63:16, note. The relationship here is national, not personal (Jer. 3:18-19); here, apparently, the Jews were calling the LORD "Father" but were yielding Him no filial obedience. Compare John 8:37-39; Rom. 9:1-8.

1:7 defiled food. The very sins that provoked Nehemiah (Neh. 5:1-13; 7:63-65; 9:4ff.; 13:23-27) are condemned by Malachi: (1) defilement of the priesthood; (2) foreign marriages after divorce from Jewish wives; and (3) neglect of the tithe and offerings. contemptible. Contempt was shown by the offering of forbidden sacrifices (vv. 7-8; compare Deut. 15:21).

- 8 And ^awhen you offer the blind as a sacrifice,
Is it not evil?
And when you offer the lame and sick,
Is it not evil?
Offer it then to your governor!
Would he be pleased with you?
Would he accept you favorably?"
Says the LORD of hosts.
- 9 "But now entreat God's favor,
That He may be gracious to us.
While this is being done by your hands,
Will He accept you favorably?"
Says the LORD of hosts.
- 10 "Who is there even among you who would shut the doors,
So that you would not kindle fire on My altar in vain?
I have no pleasure in you,"
Says the LORD of hosts,
"Nor will I accept an offering from your hands.
- 11 For from the rising of the sun, even to its going down,
My name shall be great among the Gentiles;
In every place incense shall be offered to My name,
And a pure offering;
For My name shall be great among the nations,"
Says the LORD of hosts.
- 12 "But you profane it,
In that you say,
'The table of the LORD* is defiled;
And its fruit, its food, is contemptible.'
- 13 You also say,
'Oh, what a ^bweariness!
And you sneer at it,"
Says the LORD of hosts.
"And you bring the stolen, the lame, and the sick;
Thus you bring an offering!
Should I accept this from your hand?"
Says the LORD.
- 14 "But cursed be the deceiver
Who has in his flock a male,
And takes a vow,
But sacrifices to the Lord what is ^cblemished—
For I am a great King,"
Says the LORD of hosts,
"And My name is to be ^dfeared among the nations.
- Priests to be disciplined by God*
- 2 "AND now, O ^epriests, this commandment is for you.
2 If you will not hear,
And if you will not take it to heart,
To give glory to My name,"
Says the LORD of hosts,
"I will send a curse upon you,
And I will curse your blessings.
Yes, I have cursed them ^falready,
Because you do not take it to heart.
- 3 "Behold, I will rebuke your descendants
And spread ^grefuse on your faces,
The refuse of your solemn feasts;
And one will take you away with it.
- 4 Then you shall know that I have sent this commandment to you,
That My covenant with Levi may continue,"
Says the LORD of hosts.
- 5 "My covenant was with him, one of life and peace,
And I gave them to him that he might fear Me;
So he feared Me
And was reverent before My name.
- 6 The ^hlaw of truth* was in his mouth,
And injustice was not found on his lips.
He walked with Me in peace and equity,
And turned many away from iniquity.

against One Another and against the Family, 2:10-17*

Sins against brotherhood

10 Have we not all one Father?
Has not one God created us?
Why do we deal treacherously with one ^canother
By profaning the covenant of the fathers?

Sins against God in the family

11 Judah has dealt treacherously,
And an abomination has been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem,
For Judah has ^dprofaned
The LORD's holy institution which He loves:
He has married the daughter of a foreign god.
12 May the LORD cut off from the tents of Jacob
The man who does this, being awake and aware,*
Yet who brings an offering to the LORD of hosts!
13 And this is the second thing
you do:
You cover the altar of the LORD
with tears,

With weeping and crying;
So He does not regard the offering anymore,
Nor receive it with goodwill from your hands.

14 Yet you say, “For what reason?”
Because the LORD has been witness
Between you and the wife of your youth,
With whom you have dealt ^etreacherously;
Yet she is your companion
And your wife by covenant.
15 But did He not make them
^fone,
Having a remnant of the Spirit? 2:14
And why one? e Mal. 3:5
He seeks ^ggodly offspring. 2:15

For you have robbed Me,
Even this whole nation.

Says the LORD of hosts,

(Gen. 3:1; James
1:14, note)

3:1 the Lord, whom you seek. The first part of v. 1 is quoted of John the Baptist (Matt. 11:10; Mark 1:2; Luke 7:27), but the next words, “the Lord whom you seek,” etc., are nowhere quoted in the NT. The reason is obviously that, in everything except Christ's first advent, the picture in vv. 2-5 of the LORD who suddenly comes to His temple (Hab. 2:20) is one of judgment, not of grace. Malachi, in common with other OT prophets, saw both advents of Messiah blended in one horizon, but did not see the separating interval described in Matt. 13 which was consequent upon the rejection of the King (Matt. 13:16-17). Still less was the Church Age in his vision (Eph. 3:3-6; Col. 1:25-27). “My messenger” (v. 1) is John the Baptist; the “Messenger of the covenant” is Christ in both of His advents, but with special reference to the events which are to follow His second coming. Will suddenly come. God's answer to the last question in 2:17.

3:3 refiner. Malachi reveals God in several relationships to Israel: Father, Lord, God, and Judge.

¹³“Your words have been harsh

Says the LORD,
“Yet you say,
‘What have we spoken against

THE DEITY OF GOD IN THE OLD TESTAMENT— ITS REVELATION, SUMMARY

God is revealed in the OT (1) through His names as follows:

CLASS	ENGLISH FORM	HEBREW EQUIVALENT
Primary	God	El, Elah, or Elohim , Gen. 1:1, note
	LORD	YHWH (Jehovah) , Gen. 2:4; Ex. 34:6, note
	Lord	Adon, or Adonai , Gen. 15:2, note
Compound with El = God	God Almighty	El Shaddai , Gen. 17:1, note
	Most High, or Most High God	El Elyon , Gen. 14:18, note
	Everlasting God	El Olam , Gen. 21:33, note
	Mighty God	El Gibbor , Is. 9:6-7
Compound with YHWH (Jehovah) = LORD	LORD God	YHWH (Jehovah) Elohim , Gen. 2:4; Ex. 34:6, note
	Lord GOD	Adonai YHWH (Jehovah) , Gen. 15:2, note
	LORD of hosts	YHWH (Jehovah) Sabaoth , 1 Sam. 1:3, note

This revelation of God by His names is invariably made in connection with some particular need of His people, and there can be no need of man to which these names do not answer as showing that man's true resource is in God. Even human failure and sin but to evoke new and fuller revelations of the divine fullness.

(2) The OT Scriptures reveal the existence of a Supreme Being, the Creator of the universe and of man, the Source of all life and of all intelligence, who is to be worshiped and served by men and angels. This Supreme Being is One, but, in some manner not fully revealed in the OT, is a unity in plurality. This is shown by the use of the plural pronoun in the interrelation of Deity as evidenced in Gen. 1:26; 3:22; Ps. 110:1; and Is. 6:8. That the interrelation of Deity includes that of Father and Son is directly asserted in Ps. 2:7 (with Heb. 1:5); likewise the Spirit is distinctly recognized in His personality, and to Him are ascribed all the divine attributes (e.g. Gen. 1:2; Num. 11:25; 24:2; Judg. 3:10; 6:34; 11:29; 13:25; 14:6,19; 15:14; 2 Sam. 23:2; Job 26:13; 33:4; Ps. 106:33; 139:7; Is. 40:7; 59:19; 63:10. See Zech. 12:10, note).

(3) The incarnation is intimated in the theophanies, or appearances of God in human form (e.g. Gen. 18:1,13,17–22; 32:24–30), and distinctly predicted in the promises connected with redemption (e.g. Gen. 3:15) and with the Davidic Covenant (e.g. Is. 7:13–14; 9:6–7; Jer. 23:5–6). The revelation of Deity in the NT so illuminates that of the OT that the latter is seen to be, from Genesis to Malachi, the foreshadowing of the coming incarnation of God in Jesus the Christ. In promise, covenant, type, and prophecy the OT points forward to Him.

(4) The revelation of God to man is one of authority and of redemption. He requires righteousness from man, but saves the unrighteous through sacrifice; and in His redemptive dealings with man all the divine persons and attributes are brought into manifestation. The OT reveals the justice of God as fully as His mercy, but never in opposition to His mercy. The flood, e.g., was an unspeakable mercy to unborn generations. From Genesis to Malachi He is revealed as the seeking God who has no pleasure in the death of the wicked, and who heaps up before the sinner every possible motive to persuade him to faith and obedience.

(5) In the experience of the OT men of faith, their God inspires reverence but never slavish fear; they exhaust the resources of language to express their love and adoration in view of His loving-kindness and tender mercy. This adoring love of His saints is the triumphant answer to those who pretend to find the OT revelation of God cruel and repellent. It is in harmony, not contrast, with the NT revelation of God in Christ.

(6) Those passages which attribute to God bodily parts and human emotions (e.g. Ex. 33:11,20–23; Deut. 29:20; 2 Chr. 16:9; Jer. 15:6) are metaphorical and mean that in the infinite being of God there exists that which answers spiritually to these things—eyes, a hand, feet, etc.; and the jealousy and anger attributed to Him are the emotions of perfect love in view of the havoc of sin.

(7) In the OT revelation there is a true sense in which, wholly apart from sin or infirmity, God is like His creature, man (Gen. 1:27); and the supreme and perfect revelation of God, toward which the OT points, is a revelation in and through a perfect Man, the Lord Jesus Christ, God's unique Son.

		*3:17 Literally special treasure

4:1 This verse gives no basis for the error of annihilationism. It describes physical death, not the state of the soul after death. The unsaved are in conscious eternal woe (Rev. 14:10–11; 20:11–15), as the saved are in conscious eternal bliss (Rev. 21:1–7).

4:2 fear. “The fear of the LORD” is an OT expression meaning reverential trust, including the hatred of evil.

4:6 curse. Genesis reveals the entrance of the curse into the human family (Gen. 3); the last word of the OT shows the curse still persisting (Mal. 4:6); Matthew begins (1:1) with Him who came to remove the curse (Gal. 3:13; Rev. 21:3–5; 22:3).

FROM

MALACHI TO MATTHEW

Background

The close of the Old Testament canon left Israel in two divisions. Most of the nation was dispersed throughout the Persian Empire, more as colonists than as captives. A remnant, chiefly of the tribe of Judah, with Zerubbabel, a prince of the Davidic family, and the surviving priests and Levites had returned to the land under the permissive decrees of Cyrus and his successors (Daniel 5:18, and 9:24, notes), and had re-established Temple worship. It is on this remnant that the interest of the student of Scripture centers; and this interest concerns both their political and religious history.

Political History

Politically, the fortunes of the Palestinian Jews are linked to the history of the Gentile world powers as foretold by Daniel (Daniel 2 and 7).

1. The Persian rule continued about one hundred years after the close of the Old Testament canon, and seems to have been mild and tolerant, allowing to the high priest, along with his religious functions, a measure of civil power, but still under the governors of Syria. In this period the rival worship of Samaria, which began during the Israelite monarchy, was developed and its own Temple established.

2. In 334 B.C. Syria fell under the power of the third of the world empires, the Greco-Macedonian Empire of Alexander. That conqueror was induced to treat the Jews favorably, but with the breaking up of his empire, Judea fell between the anvil and the hammer of Syria and Egypt, coming first under the power of Syria, but later under Egypt as ruled by the Ptolemaic kings. During this period (323–198 B.C.) great numbers of Jews were established in Egypt, and the Septuagint (LXX) translation of the Old Testament was begun (about 285 B.C.).

In 198 B.C. Judea was conquered by Antiochus III the Great, and annexed to Syria. At this time the land was divided into the five provinces familiar to readers of the Gospels—Galilee, Samaria, Judea (these three being often collectively called Judea), Trachonitis, and Perea. The Jews were at first permitted to regulate their own lives by their own laws under a high priest and a council. In 171 B.C. Antiochus IV Epiphanes (the “small” horn of Daniel 8:9), after repeated interferences with the Temple and priesthood, plundered Jerusalem, profaned the Temple, and slew many of the inhabitants. In 168 B.C. Antiochus offered a sow upon the great altar and erected an altar to Jupiter. This is the “horror” of Daniel 8:13. Temple worship was forbidden; the people were condemned to eat swine’s flesh.

The excesses of Antiochus provoked the revolt of the Maccabees, one of the most heroic pages of history. Mattathias, the first of the Maccabees, a priest of great sanctity and energy of character, began the revolt with a band of godly and determined Jews pledged to free their nation and restore its ancient worship. He was succeeded by his son Judas, known in history as Maccabeus, from the Hebrew word for “hammer.” He was assisted by four brothers, of whom Simon is best known.

In 165 B.C. Judas regained possession of Jerusalem and purified and rededicated the Temple, an event celebrated in the Jewish Feast of the Dedication. Judas, who was slain in battle, was succeeded by his brother, Jonathan. In him the civil and priestly authority were united (143 B.C.). Under Jonathan, his brother Simon, and his nephew John Hyrcanus I, the Hasmonean line of priest-rulers was established by treaty with Rome. An account of the history of Antiochus Epiphanes and the Maccabees is found in the apocryphal book, I Maccabees.

3. After some years, there was a civil war in Judea, which was ended in 63 B.C. by the Roman conquest of Judea and Jerusalem by Pompey. Pompey left Hyrcanus II, the last of the Hasmoneans, a nominal sovereignty, but with Antipater, an Idumean, wielding the actual power. In 47 B.C. Antipater was made procurator of Judea by Julius Caesar. Antipater appointed his son, Herod, governor of Galilee. Following Caesar's assassination, disorder broke out in Judea, and Herod fled to Rome. There, in 40 B.C., he was appointed king of the Jews; on his return he conciliated the people by his marriage with Mariamne (38 B.C.), the granddaughter of Hyrcanus II, and appointed her brother, the Maccabean Aristobulus III, as high priest. When Jesus Christ was born, Herod was king.

Religious History

The religious history of the Jews during the long period from Malachi (about 400 B.C.) to Christ follows the course of the troublous political history as to outer ceremonies, the high priestly office, and Temple worship. But of greater importance than these are the efforts and means by which the faith of Israel was nurtured and kept alive.

1. The experience of the captivity seems to have destroyed the Jews' tendency to idolatry. Their problem during the captivity, when they were deprived of Temple and priest, was how to maintain the exalted spiritual and moral ideals given them by the older prophets. Afterward, during the intertestamental period, the problem continued. Despite the revival of Temple and priesthood, the struggle became one of preserving the prophetic faith of the Jews in the midst of outward persecution and sordid divisions within.

2. The external means to this end was the synagogue, an institution which formed no part of the Biblical order of national life and which did not develop as a separate entity until after the time of Malachi. Its origin is obscure, but its roots may go back to the captivity when the Jews, who were without the Temple and its rites, met on the Sabbath for prayer. Such meetings, which would give opportunity for the reading of Scripture, would require some order of procedure as well as some authority for the restraint of disorder. Whatever its precise beginnings were, the synagogue doubtless grew out of the necessities of the situation in which the Jews were placed during the closing centuries of the pre-Christian era. It served the vital purpose of maintaining familiarity with the inspired writings, upon which the spiritual life of the true Israel (Romans 9:6, note) was nourished.

3. Also during this period there was created that mass of tradition, comment, and interpretation, known as Mishna, Gemara (forming the Talmud), Midrashim, and Kabbala, that was so superimposed upon the law that obedience was transferred from the law itself to the traditional interpretations.

4. During this same period there arose the two great sects known in the Gospel narratives as Pharisees and Sadducees. (See Matthew 3:7, with notes.) The Herodians were a political party rather than a sect.

Among these people, the Jews—governed under Rome by an Idumean usurper, torn by bitter religious controversies, and maintaining an elaborate religious ritual—appeared Jesus, the Son of God, the Christ, and the Savior of the world.

THE FOUR GOSPELS

Background

The four Gospels record the eternal being, human ancestry, birth, life and ministry, death, resurrection, and ascension of Jesus the Christ, Son of God and Son of man. Taken together, they set forth not a biography but a Person.

The fact that the four Gospels present a Person rather than a complete biography indicates the spirit in which they should be approached. What is most important is to see and know through these narratives Him whom they reveal. It is of less importance to endeavor to piece together a full account of His life from these inspired records (John 21:25). For some adequate reason it did not please God to lead men to write a full biography of His Son. The years up to the beginning of His ministry are passed over in a silence that is broken but once, and that in a few verses in Luke's Gospel (Luke 2:40–52). It is wise to respect the divine reticence.

Incomplete Story, Complete Revelation

But the four Gospels, though designedly incomplete as a story, are complete as a revelation. We may not know everything that Jesus did, but we may know Him. In four great narratives, each of which in some respects supplements the other three, we have Jesus Christ Himself.

This is the essential respect in which these narratives differ from biography or portraiture. "The words that I speak to you are spirit, and they are life" (John 6:63). The believing student finds here the living Christ.

The distinctive part that each evangelist has in this presentation of the living Christ is briefly noted in the separate introductions to the Gospels, but it may be profitable to make some general suggestions for study and interpretation.

I. The Old Testament is the inspired introduction to the New Testament, and whoever comes to the study of the four Gospels with a mind saturated with the Old Testament foreview of Christ—His Person, work, and kingdom—will be greatly helped in understanding them. Into the Gospels are woven Old Testament quotation, allusion, and type. The very first verse of the New Testament drives the reader back to the Old Testament; and the risen Christ took His disciples back to the Hebrew Scriptures for an explanation of His sufferings and glory (Luke 24:27,44). One of His last acts was the opening of their understanding that they might comprehend the Old Testament in relation to Himself (Luke 24:45).

Therefore, in approaching the study of the Gospels, the mind should be freed, as far as possible, from such presuppositions as that the Church is to be equated with the true Israel, and that the Old Testament promises to Israel and the foreview of the kingdom relate only to the Church. Interpretations are not true simply because they are familiar. It should not, therefore, be assumed that "the throne of His father David" (Luke 1:32) is synonymous with the Father's throne (Revelation 3:21), or that "the house of Jacob" (Luke 1:33) is the Church composed of both Jew and Gentile.

II. The mission of Jesus was initially to the Jews (Matthew 10:5–6; 15:23–25; John 1:11). He was "born under the law" (Galatians 4:4), and was "a servant to the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made to the fathers" (Romans 15:8) and to fulfill the law that grace might abound. Therefore, a strong legal and Jewish coloring is to be expected up to the cross (Matthew 5:17–19; compare Matthew 10:5–6; 15:22–28; 23:2; Mark 1:44; etc.). The Sermon on the Mount is closely related to law in the highest spiritual sense, for it demands as the condition of blessing (Matthew 5:3–9) that perfect character which only grace through divine power creates (Galatians 5:22–23).

III. The doctrines of grace are developed in the Epistles, not in the Gospels; but they are implicit in the Gospels, because they rest upon the death and resurrection of Christ and upon the great germinal truths He taught, truths of which the Epistles are the unfolding. The Christ of the Gospels is the perfect manifestation of grace.

IV. The Gospels do not develop the doctrine of the Church. The word "church" occurs in Matthew only. After His rejection as King and Savior by the Jews, our Lord, announcing a mystery until that moment "hidden in God" (Ephesians 3:3–10), said, "I will build My church" (Matthew 16:18). It was, therefore, yet future; but His personal ministry had gathered out the believers who were, on the Day of Pentecost, made by the baptism with the Spirit the first members of "the church, which is His body" (Ephesians 1:23; compare 1 Corinthians 12:12–13).

The Gospels present a group of Jewish disciples, associated on earth with a Messiah in humiliation. The Epistles present a Church which is the body of Christ, made up of the regenerate who are associated with Him "in the heavens," co-heirs with Him of the Father, co-rulers with Him of the coming kingdom; and, as to the earth, although strangers and pilgrims, yet acting as His witnesses and the instruments for doing His will among men (Acts 1:8; 1 Corinthians 12:12–13; 2 Corinthians 5:14–21; Ephesians 1:3–14,20–23; 2:4–6; 1 Peter 2:11).

V. The Gospels present Christ in His three offices of Prophet, Priest, and King.

As Prophet His ministry resembles that of the Old Testament prophets. But it is the nature and dignity of His Person that makes Him the unique Prophet. In former times God spoke through the prophets; now He speaks in the Son (Hebrews 1:1–2). The Old Testament prophet was a voice from God; the Son is God Himself (Deuteronomy 18:18–19).

The prophet in any dispensation is God's messenger to His people, first, to establish truth; and, second, when His people are in declension and apostasy, to call them back to truth. The prophet's message, therefore, is usually one of rebuke and appeal. At times, however, as when his message of rebuke and appeal is not heeded, he becomes a fore-teller of things to come. In this, too, Christ is like the other prophets; most of His predictive ministry occurs after His rejection as King.

The sphere and character of Christ's kingly office are defined in the Davidic Covenant (2 Samuel 7:16, note), as interpreted by the prophets and confirmed by the New Testament. Whereas the New Testament in no way abrogates or changes the Davidic Covenant or its interpretation, it adds details which were not in the original covenant. The Sermon on the Mount is an elaboration of the idea of righteousness as the predominant characteristic of the kingdom (Isaiah 11:2–5; Jeremiah 23:5–6; 33:14–16). The Old Testament prophet saw in one horizon, so to speak, the suffering and glory of Messiah (1 Peter 1:10–11). The New Testament shows that His suffering and glory are separated by the present Church Age, and points forward to the Lord's return as the time when the Davidic Covenant of blessing through power will be fulfilled (Luke 1:30–33; Acts 2:29–36; 15:14–17), just as the Abrahamic Covenant of blessing through suffering was fulfilled at His first coming (Acts 3:24–25; Galatians 3:6–14).

Christ is never called King of the Church. "The King" is indeed one of His divine titles, and the Church joins Israel in exalting "the King eternal, immortal, invisible" (Psalm 10:16; 1 Timothy 1:17). The Church is to reign under Him. The Holy Spirit is now calling out, not the subjects but the co-heirs and co-rulers of the kingdom (Romans 8:15–18; 1 Corinthians 6:2–3; 2 Timothy 2:11–12; Revelation 1:6; 3:21; 5:10).

Christ's priestly office is the complement of His prophetic office. The prophet represents God to the people; the priest represents the people to God. Because the people are sinful he, the priest, must be a sacrificer; because they are needy, he must be a compassionate intercessor (Hebrews 5:1–2; 8:1–3). So Christ on the cross entered upon His high priestly work, offering Himself without spot unto God (Hebrews 9:14), as now He exercises an ever-living intercession for His people (Hebrews 7:25). John 17 provides the pattern of that continuing intercession.

VI. In the Gospels, primary interpretation should be distinguished from moral application. Much in the Gospels that belongs in strict interpretation to the Jews or the kingdom is yet such a revelation of the mind of God and is so based on eternal principles as to have a moral application to the people of God, whatever their dispensational position. It is always true that "the pure in heart" are blessed because they "see God" and that "woe" is the portion of religious formalists whether under law or grace.

VII. Special emphasis rests upon that to which all four Gospels bear united testimony.

1. In all of them there is revealed the one unique Person. The pen is a different pen, the incidents in which He is seen are sometimes different incidents, but He is always the same Christ.
2. All the evangelists record the ministry of John the Baptist.
3. All record the feeding of the five thousand.
4. All record Christ's offer of Himself as King, according to Zechariah 9:9.
5. All record the betrayal by Judas; the denial by Peter.
6. All record the trial and crucifixion of Christ.
7. All record the bodily resurrection of Christ.
8. All record events occurring during the forty days of the post-resurrection ministry of Christ—a ministry keyed to a new note of universality and of power.
9. All point forward to His second coming.

And this record is so presented as to testify that the supreme business that brought Him into the world was His death and resurrection; that all that precedes these was preparation, and that from them flow all the blessings God ever has bestowed or ever will bestow upon humanity.

VIII. Since the first three Gospels contain so much material in common that they may be arranged as a synopsis, they are called the Synoptic Gospels. Careful readers of the New Testament will observe the similarities among and also the differences peculiar to these Gospels. That they contain dissimilarities is not surprising in view of the fact that each of these three Gospels is written for a particular purpose—Matthew to present Jesus as King, Mark to present Him as Servant, and Luke to present Him as Son of Man.

Matthew may have been the first Gospel written. It is thought that Mark's account reflects, in its subject matter, Peter's view of our Lord. That there were in existence many early accounts of the life and work of Christ is plain from Luke's prologue to his Gospel (Luke 1:1–4).

As for John, this Gospel is in a class by itself. Probably written later than the Synoptics, it does not outline the life of our Lord but selects its material (including much that is not in the first three Gospels) in keeping with the writer's declared aim of presenting Jesus as the Son of God (John 20:30–31).

An effort has been made by certain scholars to trace the forms or patterns into which the earliest traditions about Christ were put for oral repetition. These forms are supposed to have provided material for the Gospels and are also thought to have been so thoroughly shaped by the needs of the early Church as to preclude a full historical basis for all the events recorded in the Gospels. In its effort to explain the differences in the Gospels, this critical view raises a question concerning the historical accuracy of the whole record. However, it fails to recognize evidence which supports the historicity of the Gospels. It may also be observed that selectivity of material does not necessarily mean distortion of fact, nor is the use of reliable tradition incompatible with the inspiration of the Gospel records.

The important thing to keep in mind is the established fact that these Gospels are inspired historical documents of genuine authenticity and full integrity. Moreover, the believer in Christ knows in his own life the reality of the living Lord, who is so faithfully and yet so variously presented in the Synoptics and in John's Gospel.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

Author:
Matthew

Theme:
Christ, the King

Date of writing:
c. A.D. 50

Background

Matthew, also called Levi, was the writer of the First Gospel. His name appears seventh or eighth in the New Testament lists of the apostles (Matthew 10:3; Mark 3:18; Luke 6:15). Matthew was a Jew who collected taxes for the Roman government. He was thus despised by loyal Jews.

God's Relationship with Man

Written originally for the Jews, the Gospel of Matthew presents Christ as the Son of David and the Son of Abraham. Because He is portrayed as King, His genealogy is traced to King David; and the place of His birth, Bethlehem, the home of David, is emphasized. Seven times in this Gospel Christ is spoken of as "the Son of David" (1:1; 9:27; 12:23; 15:22; 20:30; 21:9; 22:42). Only in Matthew does Christ speak of "the throne of His glory" (19:28; compare 25:31). Moreover, only here in the Gospels is Jerusalem referred to as "the holy city" (4:5) and "the city of the great King" (5:35). Since it is the Gospel of the King, Matthew is also the Gospel of the kingdom; in it the word "kingdom" appears more than fifty times and the expression "the kingdom of heaven," which is found nowhere else in the New Testament, appears about thirty times.

The Old Testament in the New

Matthew, more than any of the Gospels writers, connects events and utterances in the life of our Lord with Old Testament predictions, for example 1:22; 2:15,17,23; 4:14; 12:17; 13:14; 21:4; 26:54,56; 27:9,35.

¹⁵Eliud begot Eleazar, Eleazar begot Matthan, and Matthan begot Jacob.

¹⁶And Jacob begot Joseph the husband of ^sMary, of whom was born Jesus who is called Christ.

1:1 genealogy. There are two genealogies of our Lord—here and at Luke 3:23–38 (where see note at v. 23). The genealogy in Matthew begins with Abraham, founder of the Hebrew nation, and concludes with Joseph, the husband of Mary. Luke’s genealogy begins with Joseph and carries the Messianic line back as far as Adam. Matthew inserts historical data, Luke does not. The list in Matthew is divided into three sections.

The last individual in these genealogies in the OT records is Zerubbabel (Matt. 1:13; Luke 3:27). There are some omissions, as between Joram and Uzziah (Matt. 1:8), for which see 2 Kin. 8:24 and 1 Chr. 3:11. Women are mentioned in the Matthew genealogy, contrary to usual custom (compare 1 Chr. 1—8).

1:8 Uzziah (called Azariah, 2 Kin. 14:21) was not the son, but the great-great-grandson of Joram. Compare 2 Kin. 8:25; 13:1—15:38; 2 Chr. 22—25. The wording of each succession may sometimes indicate that a man is a more remote ancestor than an immediate father.

1:11 Jeconiah. In Jer. 22:24–30 a curse is pronounced upon this former king of Judah. There it is predicted that none of his descendants should prosper sitting on David’s throne. Had our Lord been the natural son of Joseph, who was descended from Jeconiah, He could never reign in power and righteousness because of the curse. But Christ came through Mary’s line, not Joseph’s. As the adopted son of Joseph, the curse upon Jeconiah’s seed did not affect Him.

1:16 of whom was born. The changed expression here is important. It is no longer “begot,” but “the husband of Mary, by whom [fem. sing.] was born Jesus.” Jesus was not begotten of natural generation. Christ (Christos means anointed), the Greek form of the Hebrew Messiah (Dan. 9:25–26), is the official name of our Lord, as “Jesus” is His human name (Luke 1:31; 2:21). The name, or title, “Christ,” connects Him with the entire OT foreview (see Zech. 12:8, note) of a coming Prophet (Deut. 18:15–19), Priest (Ps. 110:4), and King (2 Sam. 7:12–13). As these were typically anointed with oil (1 Kin. 19:16; compare Ex. 29:7; 1 Sam. 16:13 respectively), so Jesus was anointed with the Holy Spirit (Matt. 3:16; Mark 1:10–11; Luke 3:21–22; John 1:32–33), thus becoming officially identified as the Christ.

1:17 fourteen generations. As in the genealogies of the OT (Gen. 5; 1 Chr. 1—9), certain generations are omitted here in order to make the arrangement uniform. Compare 1 Chr. 3:11–12; Ezra 7:1–5. The list may have been put in this form for purposes of memorization. Memorization is aided by the fact that each of the triads of names concludes with an important era in Israel’s history, that is, David’s reign, the Babylonian captivity, and the advent of the promised Messiah.

19Then Joseph her husband, being a ^cjust man, and not wanting to make her a public example, was minded to put her away ^dsecretly.

1:21,25 Jesus. Greek form of Hebrew Jehoshua, meaning Jehovah is salvation.

1:23 Immanuel. Why was Jesus not actually called “Immanuel”? According to Hebrew usage the name does not represent a title but a characterization, as in Is. 1:26 and 9:6. The name “Immanuel” shows that He really was “God with us.” Thus the Deity of Christ is stressed at the very beginning of Matthew.

2:1 born. Approximately 5 B.C. Jesus was born. In the 708th year from the foundation of Rome (46 B.C. by Christian reckoning) Julius Caesar established the Julian calendar, beginning the year with January 1st. But it was not until the sixth century A.D. that Dionysius Exiguus, a Scythian monk living in Rome, who was confirming the Easter cycle, originated the system of reckoning time from the birth of Christ. Gradually this usage spread, being adopted in England by the Synod of Whitby in 664, until it gained universal acceptance. In 1582 Pope Gregory XIII reformed the Julian calendar. However, more accurate knowledge shows that the earlier reckonings of the time of Christ’s birth were in error by several years. Thus it is now agreed that the birth of Christ should be placed c. 6–4 B.C. Herod. The Herod mentioned here (vv. 1,3,7,12,13,16,19,22) and in Luke 1:5 is known to history as Herod the Great. His family was nominally Jewish but actually Idumaeans (Edomite, see Gen. 36:1, note). The Romans had appointed his grandfather, Antipas (died 78 B.C.) governor of Idumaea, and Julius Caesar had made his father, Antipater, procurator of Judea (47–43 B.C.). The Roman triumvir, Mark Antony, appointed Herod the Great tetrarch of Galilee in 37 B.C. He greatly increased the splendor of Jerusalem, erecting the temple, which was the center of Jewish worship in the time of our Lord. Herod’s slaughter of the infants at Bethlehem (v. 16) was in keeping with his cruel character. Herod died in March, 4 B.C., and was succeeded by a son, Archelaus (Matt. 2:22). For other members of the Herodian family, see Mark 6:14, note. wise men (or

2:4 THE ROLE OF THE SCRIBES

Scribes were so called because it was their office to make copies of the Scriptures, to classify and teach the precepts of the oral law (see Pharisees, Matt. 3:7, note), and to keep careful count of every letter in the OT writings. Such an office was necessary in a religion of law and precept, and was an OT function (2 Sam. 8:17; 20:25; 1 Kin. 4:3; Jer. 8:8; 36:10,12,26). To this legitimate work the teachers added a record of rabbinical decisions on questions of ritual (Halachoth); the new code resulting from those decisions (Mishna); the Hebrew sacred legends (Gemara, forming with the Mishna, the Talmud); commentaries on the OT (Midrashim); reasonings upon these (Hagada); and, finally, mystical interpretations which found in Scripture meanings other than the grammatical, lexical, and obvious ones (the Kabbala), not unlike the allegorical method of Origen. In our Lord’s time, the Pharisees considered it orthodox to receive this mass of writing which had been superimposed upon and had obscured the Scripture.

⁸And he sent them to Bethlehem and said, “Go and search carefully for the young Child, and when you have found Him, bring back word to me, that I may come and worship Him also.”

⁹When they heard the king, they departed; and behold, the star which they had seen in the East went before them, till it came and stood over where the young Child was.

¹⁰When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy.

¹¹And when they had come into the house, they saw the young Child with Mary His mother, and fell down and worshiped Him. And when they had opened their treasures, they presented ^egifts to Him: gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

“magi”). From the Greek magoi, a Persian word for men expert in the study of the stars. There is no evidence that these magi were only three in number or that they were kings. Their interest aroused by the star that signaled Christ’s birth, they journeyed to Judea to seek the newborn King of the Jews. They arrived some months after His birth. When Herod sent them to Bethlehem, the star reappeared and led them to the Christ child.

2:15 Out of Egypt . . . Son. The words quoted are from Hos. 11:1, and the passage illustrates the principle that prophetic utterances often have a latent and deeper meaning than at first appears. Israel, nationally, was a son (Ex. 4:22), but Christ was the greater Son. Compare Is. 41:8 with Is. 42:1-4 and 52:13-14, where the servant-nation and the Servant-Son are both in view; also Rom. 9:4-5.

⁵Then Jerusalem, all Judea, and all the region around the Jordan went out to him ⁶and were baptized by him in the Jordan, confessing their ^qsins.

⁷But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them,

3:2 THE MEANING OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN

The expression “kingdom of heaven” (literally “of the heavens”), one that is peculiar to Matthew, refers to the rule of the heavens, i.e. the rule of the God of heaven over the earth (compare Dan. 2:44; 4:25, 32). The kingdom of heaven is similar in many respects to the kingdom of God and is often used synonymously with it, though emphasizing certain features of divine government. When contrasted with the universal kingdom of God, the kingdom of heaven includes only men on earth, excluding angels and other creatures. The kingdom of heaven is the earthly sphere of profession as shown by the inclusion of those designated as wheat and tares, the latter of which are cast out of the kingdom (Matt. 13:41), and is compared to a net containing both the good and bad fish which are later separated (Matt. 13:47).

The kingdom of heaven is revealed in three aspects in Matthew:

(1) As “at hand” (see 4:17, note), the kingdom is offered in the Person of the King, of whom John the Baptist is the forerunner (Matt. 3:1).

(2) As fulfilled in the present age, the kingdom of heaven is presented in seven “mysteries” (Matt. 13), revealing the character of the rule of heaven over the earth between the first and second comings of the Lord. And

(3) as fulfilled after the second coming of Christ, the kingdom of heaven will be realized in the future millennial kingdom as predicted by Daniel (Dan. 2:34–36, 44–45) and covenanted to David (2 Sam. 7:12–16; see Zech. 12:8, note). This millennial form of the kingdom of heaven is wholly future and will be set up after the return of the King in glory (Matt. 24:29–25:46; Acts 15:14–17; see Matt. 6:33, note).

descendants of the Jews who returned from the Babylonian captivity. This movement degenerated into the Pharisaism of our Lord's day—a letter-strictness which overlaid the law with traditional interpretations held to have been communicated by the LORD to Moses as oral explanations of equal authority with the law itself (compare Matt. 15:2–3; Mark 7:8–13; Gal. 1:14).

The Pharisees were strictly a sect. A member was a chaber (that is, “united,” Judg. 20:11) and was obligated to remain true to the principles of Pharisaism. They were moral, zealous, and self-denying, but self-righteous (Luke 18:9) and destitute of the sense of sin and need (Luke 7:39). They were the foremost persecutors of Jesus Christ and the objects of His unsparing denunciation, e.g. Matt. 23:1–36; Luke 11:42–44.

3:7 Sadducees. The Sadducees were a Jewish sect that denied the existence of angels or other spirits, and all miracles, especially the resurrection of the body. They were the religious rationalists of the time (Mark 12:18–23; Acts 23:8), and were strongly entrenched in the Sanhedrin and priesthood (Acts 4:1–2; 5:17). The Sadducees are identified with no affirmative doctrine, but were mere deniers of the supernatural. Brood. Literally Offspring.

3:13 Then Jesus came. Approximately A.D. 26.

3:15 Permit it. Why the Lord, who needed no repentance, should insist upon receiving a rite which signified confession (v. 6) and repentance (v. 11) is nowhere directly explained. It may be suggested that:

(1) Jesus was now to enter into His mediatorial office as Prophet, Priest, and King and, as the Aaronic high priest publicly entered his office in a special ceremony (Ex. 29:4–7), so our Lord's baptism signifies His entering His ministry;

(2) our Lord's baptism was the means for His introduction as Messiah to His people (John 1:31–34);

(3) by thus taking His place with sinners, He was illustrating the doctrine of identification (compare Is. 53:12; 2 Cor. 5:21); and

(4) He was prophetically looking forward to His own death and resurrection, which alone could “fulfill all righteousness.” See Matt. 20:22, where Christ speaks of His death as His baptism.

3:16 When He had been baptized . . . For the first time the Trinity, foreshadowed in many ways in the OT, is clearly manifested. The Spirit descends upon the Son and, at the same moment, the Father's voice is heard from heaven.

3:17 This is My beloved Son. Literally This is My Son, the Beloved. Matt. 17:5; Mark 9:7; Luke 9:35; compare Is. 42:1; Eph. 1:3–6.

The word for chaotic, unorganized humanity—the mere mass of men—is thalassa, the "sea" of men (e.g. Rev. 13:1). For "world" (kosmos) in the bad ethical sense, see Rev. 13:8, note.

4:1 THE FIRST AND LAST ADAM

The temptation of Christ, the "last Adam" (1 Cor. 15:45), is best understood when contrasted with that of "the first man Adam." Adam was tempted in his place of lord of creation, a lordship with but one reservation, the knowledge of good and evil (Gen. 1:26; 2:16-17). Through the woman he was tempted to add that also to his dominion. Falling, he lost all. But Christ took the place of a lowly Servant, acting only from and in obedience to the Father (Phil. 2:5-8; compare John 5:19; 8:28,54; see Is. 41:8, note), that He might redeem a fallen race and a creation under the divine curse (Gen. 3:17-19; compare Rom. 8:19-23).

Satan's one object in the threefold temptation was to induce Christ to act from Himself, independent of His Father. The first two temptations were a challenge to Christ from the god of this world to prove Himself indeed the Son of God (vv. 3,6). The third was the offer of the usurping prince of this world to divest himself of that which rightfully belonged to Christ as Son of Man and Son of David, on the condition that He accept the scepter on Satan's world principles (compare John 18:36; see Rev. 13:8, note). Christ defeated Satan by a means open to His humblest follower, the intelligent use of the Word of God (vv. 4,7,10). In his second temptation Satan also used Scripture, but he cited a promise available only to one in the path of obedience.

behold, ^aangels came and ministered to Him.

¹²Now when Jesus heard that John had been put in prison, He departed to Galilee.

¹³And leaving Nazareth, He came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the regions of Zebulun and Naphtali, ¹⁴that it might be fulfilled which was ^bspoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying:

¹⁵ “The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, By the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles:

¹⁶ The people who sat in darkness have seen a great ^clight, And upon those who sat in the region and shadow of death ^dLight has dawned.”^a

¹⁸And Jesus, walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brothers, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishermen.

¹⁹Then He said to them, “Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men.”

²⁰They immediately ⁱleft their nets and followed Him.

²¹Going on from there, He saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets. He called them, ²²and immediately they left the boat and their father, and followed Him.

²³And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the ⁱgospel of the ^kkingdom, and healing all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease among the people.

²⁴Then His fame went throughout all Syria; and they ^lbrought to Him all sick people who were afflicted with various diseases and torments, and those who were ^mdemon-possessed, ⁿepileptics, and paralytics; and He healed them.

²⁵Great ^omultitudes followed Him—from Galilee, and from Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judea, and beyond the Jordan.

Capernaum: A city on the northwest coast of the Sea of Galilee. It was the center of Christ’s ministry after he left Nazareth.

4:17 From that time. The phrase “from that time” is used by Matthew to indicate two sharply contrasted phases of our Lord’s teaching ministry. The first begins here with His proclamation of the kingdom as “at hand.” The second comes at 16:21 when, following Israel’s rejection of the King and His kingdom, Christ begins to declare openly the necessity of His death and resurrection. at hand. The biblical term “at hand” or “near” is never a positive affirmation that the person or thing said to be at hand will immediately appear, but only that that person or thing has the quality of imminency. When Christ appeared to the Jewish people, the next thing, in the order of revelation as they understood it, should have been the setting up of the Davidic kingdom. Yet God had predicted the rejection and crucifixion of the King (Ps. 22; Is. 53). The long period of the secret form of the kingdom (Matt. 13:11), the worldwide preaching of the cross, and the out-calling of the Church was as yet locked up in the secret counsels of God (Matt. 13:11,17; Eph. 3:3–12).

4:18 two brothers. Peter and Andrew were already disciples (John 1:35–42). This is a call to service.

4:21 James. Four persons are called by this name in the NT:

(1) James, the son of Zebedee, an apostle (Matt. 10:2) and the brother of the Apostle John, apart from whom he is never mentioned and with whom, together with Peter, he was admitted to the special intimacy of our Lord (Matt. 17:1; Mark 5:37; 9:2; 14:33). He was martyred by Herod (Acts 12:2).

(2) James, the son of Alphaeus, who was one of the twelve apostles (Matt. 10:3). He is called James “the Less” (Mark 15:40).

(3) James, the Lord’s half brother (Matt. 13:55; Mark 6:3; Gal. 1:19). The younger children of Mary did not believe in Jesus during His earthly life (John 7:5) but joined His followers after His resurrection (Acts 1:14). James became the leader of the Jerusalem church (Acts 12:17; 15:13; 21:18; Gal. 1:19; 2:9,12) and wrote the Epistle of James. And

(4) James, the father of the Apostle Judas (Luke 6:16; Acts 1:13).

5:2 saying. The beatific character and attitude described by our Lord in vv. 3-12 are unattainable by self-effort, but are wrought in the Christian by the work of the indwelling Holy Spirit. Compare 1 Cor. 3:16; Gal. 5:22-23.

5:11 you. The change from the third person “those” (vv. 3-10) to the second person “you,” etc. (vv. 11-16) is significant. Most of the Sermon on the Mount is addressed directly to the disciples as subjects of the kingdom of heaven.

5:3 THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT

Having announced the kingdom of heaven as “at hand,” the King now, in the Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5—7), declares to His disciples (5:1) the principles of that kingdom.

1. In this sermon our Lord reaffirms the Mosaic law of the OT theocratic kingdom as the governing code in His coming kingdom on earth (5:17), and declares that the attitude of men toward this law will determine their place in the kingdom (5:19).

2. Christ here also declares that He has come to fulfill the Law (5:17), which He now proceeds to do in part in the Sermon on the Mount: (a) by showing that the divine law deals with thoughts and motives as well as overt acts (5:27-28; 6:1-6); and, (b) by abrogating certain concessions made formerly because of the hardness of men’s hearts (5:31-32; compare 19:8).

3. In the Sermon on the Mount, Christ sets forth the perfect standard of righteousness demanded by the law (5:48), thus demonstrating that all men are sinners, habitually falling short of the divine standard, and that, therefore, salvation by works of law is an impossibility.

4. Although the law, as expressed in the Sermon on the Mount, cannot save sinners (Rom. 3:20), and the redeemed of the present age are not under law (Rom. 6:14), nevertheless both the Mosaic law and the Sermon on the Mount are a part of Holy Scripture which is inspired by God and therefore “profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness” (2 Tim. 3:16) for the redeemed of all ages.

5:17 CHRIST’S RELATIONSHIP TO THE LAW

Christ’s relation to the Law of Moses may be thus summarized:

(1) Christ was made under the law (Gal. 4:4).

(2) He lived in perfect obedience to the law (Matt. 17:5; John 8:46; 1 Pet. 2:21–23).

(3) He was a minister of the law to the Jews, clearing it from rabbinical sophistries, enforcing it upon those who professed to obey it (e.g. Luke 10:25–37), but confirming the promises made to the fathers under the Mosaic Covenant (Rom. 15:8; see Ex. 19:5, note).

(4) He fulfilled the types of the law by His holy life and sacrificial death (Heb. 9:11–28).

(5) He bore, vicariously, the curse of the law, so that the Abrahamian Covenant (see Gen. 12:2, note) might avail all who believe (Gal. 3:13–14).

(6) He brought out, by His redemptive work, all who believe—from the place of servants under the law to the place of sons (Gal. 4:1–7). And

(7) He mediated by His blood the New Covenant (see Heb. 8:8, note) of assurance and grace in which all believers stand (Rom. 5:2), so establishing the “law of Christ” (Gal. 6:2, refs.) with its precepts of righteous living made possible by the indwelling Spirit.

5:18 jot. Smallest Hebrew letter. tittle. Minute ornament over Hebrew letter.

5:22 Raca. The word occurs in Matt. 5:22,29,30; 10:28; 18:9; 23:15,33; Mark 9:43,45,47; Luke 12:5; James 3:6. In every instance except the last, the word was spoken by Jesus Christ in most solemn warning of the consequences of sin. He described it as the place where “their worm does not die and the fire is not quenched” (Mark 9:48). It is called “lake of fire” etc. in Rev. 19:20; 20:10,14,15. See Death, the second (John 8:24; Rev. 21:8); also Luke 16:23, note.

COINAGE IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

In NT times, not only Roman but Greek, Syrian, and Egyptian coins were in common circulation, some of them with local imitations of varying value. Estimates differ widely as to the proper value of these coins in terms of late twentieth-century American dollars, the variation depending on whether the value of gold, silver, or purchasing power is made the basis. Moreover, the U.S. dollar value of precious metals varies from day to day.

The most common coin was

(1) the Roman denarius, a silver coin about two-thirds the size of an American quarter, worth about 16 cents and representing an ordinary day's wages for a laborer (Matt. 18:28; 20:2,9,10,13; 22:19; Mark 6:37; 12:15; 14:5; Luke 7:41; 10:35; 20:24; John 6:7; 12:5; Rev. 6:6).

(2) The Greek equivalent was the drachma, mentioned only in Luke 15:8. Some locally coined drachmas were worth less.

(3) The "didrachma," i.e. a double drachma, cited in Matt. 17:24, was probably coined locally and used for payment of the temple tax.

(4) The "pieces of silver" (Matt. 26:15; 27:3,5,6,9) were probably tetradrachmas, i.e. a coin worth four drachmas, corresponding to the OT shekel (compare Zech. 11:12,13).

(5) But the coins in Acts 19:19, described as "pieces of silver," were probably Greek drachmas.

(6) The stater, a silver coin equivalent to four Greek drachmas or one shekel, and worth about 64 cents, is referred to in Matt. 17:27. It was the exact amount of the tax for two people, i.e. Christ and Peter. Gold staters, not mentioned in the Bible, were half the weight of the silver stater. The Roman aureus, a gold coin, is not mentioned in the NT except indirectly as "gold" in Matt. 10:9. Many coins were issued of copper or bronze.

(7) A coin referred to as "copper" (Greek chalkos) in Matt. 10:9 and Mark 6:8, and as "money" in Mark 12:41 was probably a small Greek or Roman coin worth about one-half cent.

(8) The "penny" (Greek kodrantēs) of Matt. 5:26, transliterated as quadrans in Mark 12:42, was worth about one-fourth cent.

(9) Four pennies made one "copper coin" (Greek assarion, Matt. 10:29; Lk 12:6), worth about one cent. And

(10) the "mite" (Greek lepton), the smallest coin (Mark 12:42; Luke 12:59; 21:2), was one-half a penny and worth about one-eighth cent.

Sums of money were indicated by "mina" (Greek mina), worth 100 denarii, and by "talents" worth 6,000 denarii. For coinage (OT), see Ex. 30:13, note.

⁴⁷“And if you greet your brethren* only, what do you do more than others? Do not even the tax collectors* do so?

⁴⁸“Therefore you shall be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect.

Religious ostentation rebuked

6 “TAKE heed that you do not do your charitable deeds before men, to be seen by them. Otherwise you have no ^creward from your Father in heaven.

²“Therefore, when you do a charitable deed, do not sound a trumpet before you as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory from men. Assuredly, I say to you, they have their reward.

³“But when you ^ddo a charitable deed, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, ⁴“that your charitable deed may be in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will Himself ^ereward you openly.*

⁵“And when you pray, you shall not be like the hypocrites. For they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men. Assuredly, I say to you, they have their reward.

⁶“But you, when you pray, go into your room, and when you have shut your door, pray to your Father who is in the secret place; and your Father who sees in secret will *f*reward you openly.*

⁷“And when you pray, do not use vain repetitions as the heathen do. For they think that they will be heard for their many words.

⁸“Therefore do not be like them. For your Father *h*knows the things you have need of before you ask Him.

6:1 charitable deeds. The expression refers to religious externalities. Although others may observe these acts, this fact must not be the motive behind the deeds.

6:9 Verses 9–13 contain what is familiarly known as The Lord’s Prayer. It is His prayer in that He is its author. It was intended to be a model prayer for the disciples: “In this manner, therefore, pray.” See Luke 11:2, note.

6:12 debts. That is, sin. See Rom. 3:23, note. As we forgive. The problem raised by the conditional nature of this petition for forgiveness may be explained as follows: In the fully developed doctrine of Christian salvation there are two areas of divine forgiveness. The first area is that of the forgiveness that comes to the sinner at the time of justification, and deals with the guilt of his sins in a total sense (Eph. 1:7). To this forgiveness there is attached but one condition, that is, to receive it once for all by faith in Christ (Rom. 4:5–8). The second area of forgiveness covers the relation of the divine Father to those who have become His children and deals specifically with the matter of fellowship whenever it is broken by sin. To obtain such forgiveness we must confess and forsake the sin (1 John 1:9; compare Ps. 66:18 and Prov. 28:13). The forgiveness mentioned here in v. 12 belongs in this second area, because it occurs in a prayer given to disciples of Christ (5:2) who could call upon God as their Father (6:9,26). The ultimate motive for forgiving our debtors is based upon the grace of God, and appears later in the progress of revelation (Eph. 4:32; Col. 3:13).

For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.*

14“For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also ^aforgive you.

15“But if you do not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16“Moreover, when you ^bfast, do not be like the hypocrites, with a sad countenance. For they disfigure their faces that they may appear to men to be fasting. Assuredly, I say to you, they have their reward.

17“But you, when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, 18“so that you do not appear to men to be fasting, but to your Father who is in the secret place; and your Father who sees in secret will ^creward you openly.*

Treasure in heaven

19“Do not lay up for yourselves ^dtreasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal;

20“but lay up for yourselves treasures in ^eheaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

21“For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

22“The lamp of the body is the eye. If therefore your eye is good, your whole body will be full of light.

23“But if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in you is darkness, how great is that darkness!

24“No one can serve ^ftwo masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.

The cure for care

25“Therefore I say to you, ^gdo not worry about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink; nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food and the body more than clothing?

26“Look at the birds of the air, for they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?

27“Which of you by worrying can add one cubit to his stature?

28“So why do you worry about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin;

29“and yet I say to you that even ^hSolomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30“Now if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will He not much more clothe you, O you of little faith?

31“Therefore do not worry, saying, ‘What shall we eat?’ or ‘What shall we drink?’ or ‘What shall we wear?’

32“For after all these things the Gentiles seek. For your heavenly Father ⁱknows that you need all these things.

33“But seek first the kingdom of God and His ^jrighteousness, and all these things shall be added to you.

34^k“*Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble.*

6:13 For Yours . . . Amen. This doxology does not appear in the oldest Greek manuscripts, and, in those which do include it, there are variations. The account by Luke omits it altogether (Luke 11:2–4). Many eminent textual authorities believe that it was added by later hands, perhaps to make the prayer more suitable for public worship. The doxology, however, is biblical, for its main ideas seem clearly to parallel a prayer of David recorded in 1 Chr. 29:11—“Yours, O LORD, is . . . the power and the glory . . .

[and] the kingdom.” Moreover, the majority of Greek manuscripts do contain the doxology.

THE MEANING OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD

The expression, "the kingdom of God" (Matt. 12:28), although used in many cases as synonymous with the kingdom of heaven, is to be distinguished from it in some instances (see Matt. 3:2, note): (1) The kingdom of God is at times viewed as everlasting and universal, that is, the rule of the sovereign God over all creatures and things (Ps. 103:19; Dan. 4:3). In this sense the kingdom of God includes the kingdom of heaven. (2) The kingdom of God is also used to designate the sphere of salvation entered only by the new birth (John 3:5-7) in contrast with the kingdom of heaven as the sphere of profession which may be real or false (see Matt. 13:3, note; 25:1,11-12). And (3) since the kingdom of heaven is in the earthly sphere of the universal kingdom of God, the two have many things in common and in some contexts the terms are interchangeable.

Like the kingdom of heaven, the kingdom of God is realized in the rule of God in the present age and will also be fulfilled in the future millennial kingdom. It continues forever in the eternal state (compare Dan. 4:3).

This is the first occurrence of the word, as applied to Jesus, with His evident sanction. In itself the word means master, and is so used of human relationships in, e.g. Matt. 6:24; 15:27; Mark 13:35; Eph. 6:9. But the general use of the word in the NT is as a divine title (over 650 times), translated either “Lord” or “Master.” Both uses, divine and human, are brought together in Eph. 6:9 and Col. 4:1. It is the Greek equivalent of the Hebrew Adonai (see Gen.

7:22

THE REALITY OF DEMONS

The Greek daimonia means “demons,” never “devils.” There is only one devil (Greek diabolos), that is, Satan.

To the reality and personality of demons the NT Scriptures bear abundant testimony. As to their origin, nothing is clearly revealed, but they are not to be confused with the angels mentioned in 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6. Summary:

(1) Demons are spirits (Matt. 12:43,45), Satan’s emissaries (Matt. 12:26–27), and so numerous as to make Satan’s power practically ubiquitous (Mark 5:9).

(2) They are capable of entering and controlling both men and animals (Mark 5:2–5, 11–13), and earnestly seek embodiment, without which, apparently, they are powerless for evil (Matt. 12:43–44; Mark 5:10–12).

(3) Demon influence and demon possession are discriminated in the NT. Instances of the latter are Matt. 4:24; 8:16, 28, 33; 9:32; 12:22; Mark 1:32; 5:15–16, 18; Luke 8:36; Acts 8:7; 16:16.

(4) Demons are unclean, sullen, violent and malicious (Matt. 8:28; 9:33; 10:1; 12:43; Mark 1:23; 5:3–5; 9:17, 20; Luke 6:18; 9:39).

(5) They know Jesus Christ as Most High God and recognize His supreme authority (Matt. 8:31–32; Mark 1:23–24; Acts 19:15; James 2:19).

(6) They know their eternal fate to be one of torment (Matt. 8:29; Luke 8:31).

(7) They inflict physical maladies (Matt. 12:22; 17:15–18; Luke 13:16). However, mental disease is to be distinguished from the disorder of mind due to demonic control.

(8) Demon influence may manifest itself in religious asceticism (1 Tim. 4:1–3), degenerating into uncleanness.

(9) The sign of demon influence in religion is departure from the faith, that is, the body of revealed truth in the Scriptures (1 Tim. 4:1).

(10) The demons maintain a conflict with Christians who would be spiritual (Eph. 6:12; 1 Tim. 4:1–3). The Christian’s resources are prayer and bodily control (Matt. 17:21), “the whole armor of God” (Eph. 6:13–18).

(11) All unbelievers are open to demon possession (Eph. 2:2).

(12) Exorcism in the name of Jesus Christ (Acts 16:18) was practiced for demon possession. And

(13) one of the awful features of the apocalyptic judgments in which this age will end is an emergence of demons out of the bottomless pit (Rev. 9:1–11, 20).

15:2, note), but it is also used in the NT to translate the Hebrew Jehovah (LORD; see Ex. 34:6, note), e.g. Matt. 1:20,22; 2:15; 3:3; 4:7,10; 11:25; 21:9; Mark 12:29–30; Luke 1:68; 2:9. Both of these OT titles of Deity are rendered by Kurios in one sentence (Matt. 22:44). Our Lord used it of His Father (Matt. 4:7,10; etc.). But the most frequent use of Kurios is as a divine title of Jesus. That the intent is to identify Jesus Christ with the OT Deity is evident from Matt. 3:3; 12:8; 21:9 (Ps. 118:26); 22:43–45 (Ps.

110); Luke 1:43; John 14:8–10; 20:28; Acts 9:5 (Ps. 2). See John 20:28, note.

Jesus casts out demons at Gergesa (Mark 5:1-21; Luke 8:26-40)

28 When He had come to the other side, to the country of the Gergesenes,* there met Him two demon-possessed men, coming out of the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that no one could pass that way.

29 And suddenly they cried out, saying, "What have we to do with You, Jesus, You Son of God? Have You come here to torment us before the time?"

30 Now a good way off from them there was a herd of many swine feeding.

31 So the demons begged Him, saying, "If You cast us out, permit us to go away* into the herd of swine."

32 And He said to them, "Go." So when they had come out, they went into the herd of swine. And suddenly the whole herd of swine ran violently down the steep place into the sea, and perished in the water.

33 Then those who kept them fled; and they went away into the city and told everything, including what had happened to the demon-possessed men.

34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus. And when they saw Him, they begged Him to depart from their region.

2 Then behold, they brought to Him a paralytic lying on a bed. When Jesus saw their faith, He said to the paralytic, "Son, be of good cheer; your sins are forgiven you."

3 And at once some of the scribes said within themselves, "This Man blasphemes!"

4 But Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts?"

5 "For which is easier, to say, 'Your sins are forgiven you,' or to say, 'Arise and walk'?"

6 "But that you may know that the Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins"—then He said to the paralytic, "Arise, take up your bed, and go to your house."

8:20 THE MEANING OF THE SON OF MAN

The name "Son of Man" is based on the great Messianic passage in Dan. 7:13. Compare Matt. 16:28; 19:28; 25:31; 26:64; Mark 14:62; Luke 22:69. Our Lord uses this term about eighty times to refer to Himself. It is His name as the representative Man, in the sense of 1 Cor. 15:45-47, as Son of David is distinctively His Jewish name, and Son of God His divine name. Our Lord constantly uses this term as implying that His mission (e.g. Matt. 11:19; Luke 19:10), His death and resurrection (e.g. Matt. 12:40; 20:18; 26:2), and His second coming (e.g. Matt. 24:37-44; Luke 12:40) transcend in scope and result all merely Jewish limitations.

When Nathanael confesses Him as "King of Israel," our Lord's answer is, "You will see greater things . . . the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man" (John 1:50-51). When His messengers are cast out by the Jews, His thought leaps forward to the time when the Son of Man comes again to the human race (compare Matt. 10:5-6 with v. 23). It is in this name also that universal judgment is committed to Him (John 5:22,27). It is also a name indicating that in Him is fulfilled the OT foreview of blessing through a coming Man (see Gen. 1:26, note; 3:15; 12:3; Ps. 8:4; 80:17; Is. 7:14; 9:6-7; 32:2).

THE MEANING OF APOSTLE

The word "apostle" (Greek apostolos) means a messenger, one sent forth with orders. It is used concerning our Lord Himself (Heb. 3:1). Elsewhere it is used of the twelve, who were called to that office by our Lord during His earthly ministry; of Paul, called to the apostleship by the risen and ascended Lord; of Barnabas (Acts 14:14), specially designated by the Holy Spirit (Acts 13:2); and of Matthias, chosen by lot to take the place of Judas Iscariot (Acts 1:15-26). Although Matthias is never actually referred to as an apostle, it is said of him: "And he was numbered with the eleven apostles."

The "signs of an apostle" were:

(1) They were chosen directly by the Lord Himself or, as in the case of Barnabas, by the Holy Spirit (Matt. 10:1-2; Mark 3:13-14; Luke 6:13; Acts 9:6,15; 13:2; 22:10,14-15; Rom. 1:1).

(2) They were endowed with sign-gifts, miraculous powers which were the divine credentials of their office (Matt. 10:1; Acts 5:15-16; 16:16-18; 28:8-9).

(3) Their relation to the kingdom was that of heralds, announcing, to Israel only (Matt. 10:5-6), the kingdom as at hand (see Matt. 4:17, note), and manifesting kingdom powers (Matt. 10:7-8).

(4) Our Lord delegated, first to Peter (Matt. 16:19) and then to the remainder of the apostolate (Matt. 18:18; John 20:21-23) on behalf of all Christians, the authority to deal with men's sins through the Gospel, under the figure of "the keys of the kingdom."

(5) The apostles' future relation to the kingdom will be that of judges over the twelve tribes (Matt. 19:28).

(6) Consequent upon the rejection of the kingdom and the revelation of the mystery hidden in God (Matt. 16:18; Eph. 3:1-12), the Church, the apostolic office was invested with a new endowment, the baptism with the Holy Spirit (Acts 2:1-4); a new power, that of imparting the Spirit to Jewish believers in Christ; a new relation, that of foundation stones of the new temple (Eph. 2:20-22); and a new function, that of preaching the glad tidings of salvation, through the crucified and risen Lord, to Jew and Gentile alike. And

(7) it is implied that an apostle was one who was an eyewitness of the resurrection of Christ (Acts 1:22; 1 Cor. 9:1), that is, he must have seen the risen Lord. There is no NT record that Barnabas, called an apostle in Acts 14:14, saw Christ after His resurrection, but if such a qualification was implicit in apostleship, he must have been such an eyewitness.

10:5–15 The instructions for this mission differ from the Great Commission given just before our Lord’s ascension. (1) Here the mission is to Israel only, avoiding Gentiles and Samaritans, whereas the Great Commission sends the disciples “into all the world” (Matt. 28:16–20; Mark 16:15–18; Luke 24:46–48; Acts 1:8). And (2) here the twelve, being heralds of Israel’s King, are to depend upon the hospitality of each village that they enter (vv. 9–14), whereas at the end of His ministry Christ commands those who are to preach the Gospel in His absence to do the opposite (Luke 22:35–36). See also the practice implied in 3 John 7.

10:6 lost. Greek apollumi. Jer. 50:6; see John 3:16, note.

10:16 The scope of vv. 16–23 reaches beyond the personal ministry of the twelve. They cover not only the sphere of service in a general sense during this age, but the words of v. 23 make it apparent that they have in view particularly the preaching of the remnant (Is. 1:9; see Rom. 11:5, note) in the tribulation (Ps. 2:5; see Rev. 7:14, note), and immediately preceding the return of Christ in glory (see Deut. 30:3, note; Acts 1:11, note). The remnant then will not have gone over the cities of Israel until the Lord comes.

10:22 saved. The word “saved” is used here, not in the sense of the salvation of the soul but of deliverance out of persecution.

Jesus eulogizes John the Baptist (Luke 7:18–35)

(2) “Peace from God” (Rom. 1:7; 1 Cor. 1:3, etc.), which is to be found in the salutation of all the epistles bearing Paul’s name, and which emphasizes the source of all true peace.

(3) “Peace of God” (Phil. 4:7), inward peace, the state of the soul of the Christian who, having entered into peace with God, has committed all his anxieties to God through prayer and supplication with thanksgiving (Luke 7:50; Phil. 4:6–7); this phrase emphasizes the quality or the nature of the peace granted. And 11:11 greater than he. Positionally greater, not morally. John the Baptist was as great, in strength of character, as any man "born of women" but, as to the kingdom, his ministry was to announce that it was at hand. The kingdom did not then come but was rejected, and John was martyred and the King subsequently crucified. The least in the kingdom, when it is set up in glory (see Kingdom [NT]), Luke 1:31-33; 1 Cor. 15:24, note) will be greater than John in the fullness of the Lord's power and glory. It is not heaven which is in question, but Messiah's earthly kingdom. See Matt. 3:2, note; 6:33, note.

11:12 violence. It has been much disputed whether the violence (force) here is external, as against the kingdom in the persons of John the Baptist and Jesus; or that, considering the opposition of the scribes and Pharisees, only the violently resolute would press into it. Both things are true. The King and His herald suffered violence, and this is the primary and greater meaning; but also, some were resolutely becoming disciples. Compare Luke 16:16.

12:1

THE MEANING OF SABBATH

“Sabbath,” from Hebrew shabbath (Greek sabbaton), means cessation from labor, rest.

(1) The Sabbath appears in Scripture as the day of God’s rest in the finished work of creation (Gen. 2:2–3). During the long period from Eden to Sinai, no mention is made of it. Then the Sabbath was revealed to Israel (Ex. 16:23; Neh. 9:13–14), made a part of the law (Ex. 20:8–11), and invested with the character of a “sign” between the LORD and Israel, and a perpetual reminder to Israel of their separation to God (Ex. 31:13–17). It was observed by complete rest (Ex. 35:2–3); and by the LORD’s express order a man was put to death for gathering sticks on the Sabbath day (Num. 15:32–36). Apart from maintaining the continued burnt offering (Num. 28:9), and its connection with the annual feasts (Ex. 12:16; Lev. 23:3,8; Num. 28:25), the seventh-day Sabbath was never made a day of sacrifice, worship, or any manner of religious service. It was simply and only a day of complete rest for man and beast, a humane provision for man’s needs. In Christ’s words, “The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath” (Mark 2:27).

(2) Our Lord found the observance of the day encrusted with rabbinical evasions and restrictions (Matt. 12:2), wholly unknown to the law, so that He was Himself held to be a Sabbath-breaker by the religious authorities of the time. The Sabbath will be again observed during the tribulation period (Matt. 24:20–21) and the Kingdom Age (Is. 66:23).

(3) The Christian first-day-rest perpetuates in the dispensation of the Church the principle that one-seventh of the time is especially sacred, but in all other respects is in contrast with the Sabbath. One is the seventh day; the other the first. The Sabbath commemorates God’s creation-rest; the first day, Christ’s resurrection. On the seventh day God rested; on the first day Christ was ceaselessly active. The Sabbath commemorates a finished creation; the first day, a finished redemption. The Sabbath was a day of legal obligation; the first day, one of voluntary worship and service. The Sabbath is mentioned in Acts only in connection with the Jews, and in the balance of the NT but twice (Col. 2:16; Heb. 4:4). In these passages the seventh-day Sabbath is explained to be, not a day to be observed by the Christians, but a type of the present rest into which the believer will enter when he “has himself also ceased from his works” and trusts Christ.

Jesus heals on the Sabbath
(Mark 3:1–5; Luke 6:6–11)

⁹Now when He had departed from there, He went into their synagogue.

¹⁰And behold, there was a man who had a withered hand. And they asked Him, saying, “Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?”—that they might accuse Him.

¹¹Then He said to them, “What man is there among you who has one sheep, and if it falls into a pit on the Sabbath, will not lay hold of it and lift it out?

¹²“Of how much more value then is a man than a sheep? Therefore it is lawful to do a good on the Sabbath.”

¹³Then He said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” And he stretched it out, and it was restored as whole as the other.

Many others healed (Mark 3:6–12)

¹⁴Then the Pharisees went out and plotted against Him, how they might destroy Him.

¹⁵But when Jesus knew it, He withdrew from there. And great multitudes* followed Him, and He healed them all.

¹⁶Yet He warned them not to make Him known,

¹⁷that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying:

¹⁸“*Behold! My f Servant whom I have chosen,
My g Beloved in whom My soul is well pleased!
I will put My h Spirit upon Him,
And He will declare justice to the Gentiles.*

¹⁹*He will not quarrel nor cry out,
Nor will anyone hear His voice in the streets.*

²⁰*A bruised reed He will not break,
And smoking flax He will not quench,
Till He sends forth justice to victory;*

²¹ And in His name Gentiles will trust.”

²²Then one was brought to Him who was ⁱdemon-possessed, blind and mute; and He ^jhealed him, so that the blind and* mute man both spoke and saw.

²³And all the multitudes were amazed and said, “Could this be the ^kSon of David?”

The Pharisees blaspheme the Holy Spirit

²⁴Now when the ^lPharisees heard it they said, “This ^mfellow does not cast out demons ⁿexcept by Beelzebub,* the ruler of the ^odemons.”

²⁵But Jesus knew their thoughts, and said to them: “Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand.

²⁶“If ^pSatan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand?

²⁷“And if I cast out ^qdemons by Beelzebub, by whom do your ^rsons cast them out? Therefore they shall be your judges.

²⁸“But if I ^scast out ^tdemons by the ^uSpirit of God, surely the kingdom of God has come upon you.

²⁹“Or how can one enter a strong man’s house and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man? And then he will plunder his house.

³⁰“He who is not with Me is against Me, and he who does not gather with Me scatters abroad.

*The unpardonable sin:
ascribing to Satan the works of the Holy Spirit (Mark 3:28–30)*

³¹“Therefore I say to you, every ^vsin and blasphemy will be ^wforgiven men, but the blasphemy against the ^xSpirit will not be forgiven men.

³²“Anyone who speaks a word

(compare v. 24). Such a sin was unpardonable because of the unusual circumstances of their rejection of Christ. This most serious sin of the Pharisees was the climax of their continual denial of the obvious truth that the miracles of Jesus represented the power of God (e.g. 9:33–34), so that Jesus’ message was heaven-authenticated. Their folly in deliberately apostatizing by ascribing to the devil the mighty works of Christ by the Holy Spirit is summarized by our Lord in Matt. 23:13–36 and Luke 11:52. Anyone who is concerned about his rejection of Christ has obviously not committed this “unpardonable sin,” and can still come to Christ.

the other four references—that is, to the men of Nineveh, the queen of Sheba, Solomon, and Christ Himself (“a greater than Solomon”)—are plainly historical, confirms the historicity of Jonah. For the Lord would hardly include a mythical figure, as some call Jonah, in the identical context with these four historical references.

He would come back and find an empty house, etc. The application is to those who are depending upon self-reformation.

13:3 spoke . . . in parables. The seven parables of ch. 13, called by our Lord "mysteries of the kingdom of heaven" (v. 11), taken together describe the result of the presence of the Gospel in the world during the present age, that is, the time of seed-sowing which began with our Lord's personal ministry and will end with the "harvest" (vv. 40–43). The result is the mingled tares and wheat, good fish and bad, in the sphere of Christian profession. It is Christendom. sower. The figure marks a new beginning. To labor in God's vineyard (Israel, Is. 5:1–7) is one thing; to go forth sowing the seed of the Word in a field which is the world, quite another (compare Matt. 10:5). One-fourth of the seed takes permanent root, and the result is "wheat" (v. 25; 1 Pet. 1:23), or "sons of the kingdom" (v. 38). This parable (vv. 3–9) is treated throughout as foundational to the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven. It is interpreted by our Lord Himself (vv. 18–23).

13:11 MYSTERIES IN SCRIPTURE

A "mystery" in Scripture is a previously hidden truth now divinely revealed. This chapter shows clearly for the first time that there will be an interval between Christ's first and second advents (vv. 17,35; compare 1 Pet. 1:10–12).

The greater mysteries are:

(1) the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven (Matt. 13:3–50);

(2) the mystery of Israel's blindness during this age (Rom. 11:25, with context);

(3) the mystery of the translation of living saints at the end of this age (1 Cor. 15:51–52; 1 Thess. 4:13–17);

(4) the mystery of the NT Church as one body composed of Jews and Gentiles (Eph. 3:1–12; Rom. 16:25; Eph. 6:19; Col. 4:3);

(5) the mystery of the Church as the bride of Christ (Eph. 5:23–32);

(6) the mystery of the in-living Christ (Gal. 2:20; Col. 1:26–27);

(7) the "mystery of God, . . . and of Christ," that is, Christ as the incarnate fullness of the Godhead embodied, in whom all the divine wisdom for man subsists (1 Cor. 2:7; Col. 2:2,9);

(8) the mystery of the processes by which godlikeness is restored to man (1 Tim. 3:16);

(9) the mystery of lawlessness (2 Thess. 2:7; compare Matt. 13:33);

(10) the mystery of the seven stars (Rev. 1:20); and

(11) the mystery of Babylon (Rev. 17:5,7).

13:24 THE PARABLE OF THE SEED

This parable (vv. 24–30) is also interpreted by our Lord (vv. 36–43). Here the “good seed” is not the “word,” as in the first parable (vv. 19,23), but rather that which the Word has produced (1 Pet. 1:23), that is, the children of the kingdom. These are providentially “sown” (v. 37), that is, scattered here and there in the “field” of the “world” (v. 38). The “world” here is both geographic and ethnic—the earth-world, and also the world of men. The wheat of God at once becomes the scene of Satan’s activity. Where children of the kingdom are gathered, there, “among the wheat” (vv. 25,38,39), Satan sows “sons of the wicked one,” who profess to be children of the kingdom and, in outward ways, are so like the true children that only the angels may, in the end, be trusted to separate them (vv. 40–43). So great is Satan’s power of deception that the tares often really suppose themselves to be children of the kingdom (7:21–23).

Many other parables and exhortations have this mingled condition in view (e.g. 22:11–14; 25:1–13,14–30; Luke 18:10–14; Heb. 6:4–9). Indeed, it characterizes Matthew from ch. 13 to the end. The parable of the wheat and the tares is not a description of the world, but of that which professes to be the kingdom. Not all unbelievers are called children of the devil; only those who have willfully rejected the light are so designated (compare v. 38; John 8:38–44).

13:17 prophets. The OT prophets saw in one blended vision the rejection and crucifixion of the King (see Heb. 10:18, note), and also His glory as David’s Son (see Zech. 12:8, note), but “what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ who was in them was indicating when He testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ and the glories that would follow,” was not revealed to them—only that the vision was not for themselves (1 Pet. 1:10–12). That revelation Christ makes in these parables. A period of time is to intervene between His sufferings and His glory. That interval is occupied with the “mysteries of the kingdom of heaven” described here.

13:22 world. Greek aiōn. See Mark 10:30, note.

25 “but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed ^atares among the wheat and went his way.

26 “But when the grain had sprouted and produced a crop, then the tares also appeared.

27 “So the servants of the owner came and said to him, ‘Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have tares?’

28 “He said to them, ‘An enemy has done this.’ The servants said to him, ‘Do you want us then to go and gather them up?’

29 “But he said, ‘No, lest while you gather up the tares you also uproot the ^bwheat with them.

30 “Let ^cboth grow together until the harvest, and at the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, “First gather together the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn.” ’ ’ ”

(3) The mustard seed (Mark 4:30–32)

33 Another parable He spoke to them: “The ^gkingdom of heaven is like ^hleaven, which a woman took and hid in three ⁱmeasures* of meal till it was ^jall leavened.”

13:30 to burn them. This will have its fulfillment at the end of the age (v. 40), when Christ returns to reign. The wicked will be destroyed. The Church, translated before the tribulation, will be gathered into the millennial kingdom, together with those living believers who have survived the tribulation period (v. 43; 24:13; 25:31,34) and the resurrected righteous men and women of all the previous ages.

13:31 Another parable. The parable of the mustard seed suggests the rapid but unsubstantial growth of the mystery aspect of the kingdom (see 13:3, note) from a small beginning (Acts 1:15; 2:41; 1 Cor. 1:26) to a great place on the earth.

THE MEANING OF LEAVEN IN SCRIPTURE

It was common practice to retain a lump of leavened or fermented dough from a former baking and use it to leaven new dough. Under the Mosaic law, however, leaven was forbidden in bread used in the Feast of Unleavened Bread and the Passover (Ex. 12:8,15–20; Lev. 23:6–8), and similar exclusion of leaven applied to offerings placed on the altar (Ex. 23:18; 34:25; Lev. 2:11; 6:17). The only exceptions were the use of leaven in the two wave loaves offered as firstfruits (Lev. 23:17) and some of the cakes of bread offered with the thank offerings (Lev. 7:13, note).

Leaven, which brings about fermentation, is uniformly regarded in Scripture as typifying the presence of impurity or evil (Ex. 12:15,19; 13:7; Lev. 2:11; Deut. 16:4; Matt. 16:6,12; Mark 8:15; Luke 12:1; 1 Cor. 5:6–9; Gal. 5:9). The two wave loaves, representing Israel and the Gentiles as forming the Church, contained leaven in recognition of imperfections in the believers (see Lev. 23:17, note). The use of leaven in the flour seems intended likewise to represent evil within the kingdom of heaven. The teaching that leaven in this parable represents the beneficent influence of the Gospel pervading the world has no Scriptural justification. Nowhere in Scripture does leaven represent good; the idea of a converted world at the end of the age is contradicted by the presence of tares among the wheat and bad fish among the good in the kingdom itself. Although biblical truth has a beneficial moral influence on the world, the mingling of leaven is not the method of divine salvation or enlargement of the kingdom. Tares never become wheat. The parable is, therefore, a warning that true doctrine, represented by the flour, would be corrupted by false doctrine (compare 1 Tim. 4:1–3; 2 Tim. 2:17–18; 4:3–4; 2 Pet. 2:1–3).

Summary:

(1) Leaven, as a symbolic or typical substance, is always mentioned in the OT in an evil sense (Gen. 19:3, margin).

(2) The use of the word in the NT explains its symbolic meaning. It is “malice and wickedness” as contrasted with “sincerity and truth” (1 Cor. 5:6–8). It is evil doctrine (Matt. 16:12) in its threefold form of Pharisaism, Sadduceism, and Herodianism (Matt. 16:6; Mark 8:15). The leaven of the Pharisees was externalism in religion (Matt. 23:14–16,23–28); of the Sadducees, skepticism as to the supernatural and as to the Scriptures (Matt. 22:23,29); of the Herodians, worldliness—a Herod party among the Jews (Matt. 22:16–21; Mark 3:6). And

(3) the use of the word in Matt. 13:33 is congruous with its meaning elsewhere in the Scriptures, as denoted in the paragraphs above.

THE PARABLE OF THE TREASURE

The interpretation of the parable of the treasure which makes the buyer of the field to be a sinner who is seeking Christ, has no warrant in the parable itself. The field is declared to be the world (v. 38). The seeking sinner does not buy, but forsakes the world to gain Christ. Furthermore, the sinner has nothing to sell; neither is Christ for sale or hidden in a field; nor, having found Christ, does the sinner hide Him again (compare Mark 7:24; Acts 4:20). At every point the interpretation breaks down.

The field is the world (v. 38), which was purchased by our Lord at the priceless cost of His own blood in order that He might have the treasure (1 Pet. 1:18). As Israel was God's treasure in OT times (Ex. 19:5; Ps. 135:4), so there is at the present time "a remnant [of Israel] according to the election of grace" (Rom. 11:5). Those who compose the remnant are no longer reckoned as Jews (Gal. 3:28) but as members of the "one body" together with saved Gentiles (Eph. 2:14-18; 4:4) and thus Christ's inheritance (Eph. 1:18) and His joy (Heb. 12:2).

13:43 Then the righteous. The kingdom does not become the kingdom of the Father until Christ, having "put all enemies under His feet," including the last enemy, death, "delivers the kingdom to God and Father" (1 Cor. 15:24-28). There is triumph over death at the first resurrection (1 Cor. 15:54-55), but death, "the last enemy," is not destroyed until the end of the millennium (Rev. 20:14).
13:45 pearls. The true Church is the pearl of great price. Its formation covers a large part of the period of the mysteries of the kingdom, and is itself called a mystery (Rom. 16:25-26; Eph. 3:3-12; 5:32; Col. 1:24-27). A pearl is an illustration of the Church: (1) A pearl is formed by accretion, and that not mechanically but vitally, as Christ adds to the Church (Acts 2:41,47; 5:14; 11:24; Eph. 2:21; Col. 2:19). And (2) Christ, having given Himself for the pearl, is now preparing it for presentation to Himself (Eph. 5:25-27). The kingdom is not the Church, but the true children of the kingdom during the fulfillment of these mysteries, baptized by one Spirit into one body (1 Cor. 12:12-13), compose the Church, the pearl.

⁵⁴When He had come to His own country, He taught them in their synagogue, so that they were ^eastonished and said, “Where did this Man get this wisdom and these mighty works?

⁵⁵“Is this not the ^fcarpenter’s son? Is not His mother called Mary? And His brothers ^gJames, ^hJoseph, ⁱSimon, and ^jJudas?”

⁵⁶“And His sisters, are they not all with us? Where then did this Man get all these things?”

⁵⁷So they were ^koffended at Him. But Jesus said to them, “A ^lprophet is not without ^mhonor except in his own ⁿcountry and in his own house.”

⁵⁸Now He did not do many mighty works there ^obecause of their unbelief.

Murder of John the Baptist

(Mark 6:14–29; Luke 9:7–9)

14 AT that time Herod the tetrarch heard the report about Jesus

²and said to his servants, “This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead, and therefore these powers are at work in him.”

³For Herod had laid hold of John and bound him, and put him in ^mprison for the sake of ⁿHerodias, his brother Philip’s wife.

⁴Because John had said to him, “It is not lawful for you to have her.”

⁵And although he wanted to put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.

⁶But when Herod’s birthday was celebrated, the daughter of Herodias danced before them and pleased Herod.

⁷Therefore he promised with an oath to give her whatever she might ask.

THE PARABLE OF THE DRAGNET

The parable of the dragnet presents, as does that of the wheat and the tares, the mystery of the kingdom as the sphere of profession, but with this difference: there Satan was the active agent; here the admixture is more the result of the tendency of a movement to gather to itself that which is not really of it. The kingdom of heaven is like a net which, cast into the sea of humanity, gathers of every kind, good and bad. These remain together in the net (v. 49) and not merely in the sea until the end of the age. It is not even a converted net, much less a converted sea. Much violence has been done to sound exegesis by the notion that the world is to be converted in this age. Against that notion stands our Lord’s own interpretation of the parables of the sower, the wheat and the tares, and the net.

Such, then, is the mystery form of the kingdom (see Matt. 3:2, note; 6:33, note). It is the sphere of Christian profession during this age. It is a mingled body of true and false, wheat and tares, good and bad. It is defiled by formalism, doubt, and worldliness. But within it Christ sees the true children of the true kingdom who, at the end, are to “shine forth like the sun.” In the great field, the world, He sees His treasure that He redeems for His own through His cross. Thus, in this aspect of the kingdom, He sees the Church, His body and bride composed of believing Israelites and Gentiles and for joy sells all that He has (2 Cor. 8:9) and buys the field, the treasure, and the pearl.

⁸So she, having been prompted by her mother, said, "Give me ^aJohn the Baptist's head here on a platter."

⁹And the king was ^bsorry; nevertheless, because of the oaths and because of those who sat with him, he commanded it to be given to her.

¹⁰So he sent and had John beheaded in prison.

¹¹And his head was brought on a platter and given to the girl, and she brought it to her mother.

¹²Then his disciples came and took away the body and buried it, and went and told Jesus.

¹³When Jesus heard it, He ^cdeparted from there by boat to a deserted place by Himself. But when the multitudes heard it, they followed Him on foot from the cities.

¹⁴And when Jesus went out He saw a great multitude; and He was moved with ^dcompassion for them, and healed their sick.

Five thousand fed (Mark 6:30-44; Luke 9:10-17; John 6:1-14)

¹⁵When it was evening, His disciples came to Him, saying, "This is a deserted place, and the hour is already late. Send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages and buy themselves food."

¹⁶But Jesus said to them, "They do not need to go away. You ^egive them something to eat."

¹⁷And they said to Him, "We have here only five loaves and two fish."

¹⁸He said, "Bring them here to Me."

¹⁹Then He ^fcommanded the multitudes to sit down on the grass. And He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, He ^gblessed and broke and gave the loaves to the disciples; and the disciples gave to the multitudes.

²⁰^hSo they all ate and were filled, and they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments that ⁱremained.

²¹Now those who had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

Jesus walks on the water

(Mark 6:45-52; John 6:15-21)

²²Immediately Jesus made His disciples get into the boat and go before Him to the other side, while He ^jsent the multitudes away.

²³And when He had sent the multitudes away, He went up on the ^kmountain by Himself to pray. Now when evening came, He was alone there.

²⁴But the boat was now in the middle of the sea,* tossed by the waves, for the wind was contrary.

²⁵Now in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went to them, ^lwalking on the sea.

²⁶And when the disciples saw Him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, ^m"It is a ghost!" And they cried out for fear.

²⁷But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, "Be of good ⁿcheer! It is I; do not be afraid."

²⁸And Peter answered Him and said, "Lord, if it is You, command me to come to You on the water."

²⁹So He said, "Come." And when Peter had come down out of the boat, he ^owalked on the water to go to Jesus.

³⁰But when he saw that the ^pwind was boisterous,* he was afraid; and beginning to sink he cried out, saying, ^q"Lord, save me!"

³¹And immediately Jesus stretched out His hand and caught him, and said to him, "O you of ^rlittle faith, why did you ^sdoubt?"

³²And when they got into the boat, the wind ^tceased.

³³Then those who were in the boat came and* worshiped Him, saying, "Truly You are the ^uSon of God."

God's commandments versus man's tradition (Mark 7:1-13)

15 THEN the scribes and Pharisees who were from Jerusalem came to Jesus, saying, ²“Why do Your disciples transgress the ^dtradition of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread.”

³He answered and said to them, “Why do you also transgress the ^ecommandment of God because of your tradition?”

⁴“For God ^fcommanded, saying, ‘Honor your father and your mother’; and, ‘He who curses father or mother, let him ^gbe put to death.’

⁵“But you say, ‘Whoever says to his father or mother, “Whatever profit you might have received from me is a ^hgift to God”—

⁶“then he need not honor his father or mother.”* Thus you have made the ⁱcommandment* of God of ^jno effect by your tradition.

⁷“Hypocrites! Well did Isaiah prophesy about you, ^ksaying:

⁸ ‘These people draw near to Me with their mouth,

And honor Me with their lips, But their heart is far from Me.*

⁹ And in vain they worship Me, Teaching as doctrines the commandments of men.’”

Diagnosis of the heart of man (Mark 7:14-23)

¹⁰When He had called the multitude to Himself, He said to them, “Hear and understand:

¹¹n “Not what goes into the mouth defiles a man; but what comes out of the mouth, this defiles a man.”

¹²Then His disciples came and said to Him, “Do You know that the ^oPharisees were offended when they heard this saying?”

¹³But He answered and said, “Every plant which My heavenly Father has not planted will be uprooted.

¹⁴“Let them alone. They are ^pblind leaders of the blind. And if the blind leads the blind, both will fall into a ditch.”

¹⁵Then Peter answered and said to Him, “Explain this parable to us.”

¹⁶So Jesus said, “Are you also still without understanding?”

¹⁷“Do you not yet understand that whatever enters the mouth goes into the stomach and is eliminated?”

¹⁸“But those things which proceed out of the mouth come from the ^qheart, and they defile a man.

¹⁹“For out of the heart proceed ^revil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies.

²⁰“These are ^sthe things which defile a man, but to eat with unwashed hands does not defile a man.”

Jesus and the Syro-Phoenician woman (Mark 7:24-30)

²¹Then Jesus went out from there and departed to the region of Tyre and Sidon.

²²And behold, a woman of Canaan came from that region and ^tcried out to Him, saying, “Have mercy on me, O Lord, ^uSon of David! My daughter is severely ^vdemon-possessed.”

²³But He answered her not a word. And His disciples came and urged Him, saying, “Send her away, for she cries out after us.”

²⁴But He answered and said, “I was not sent except to the lost sheep of the ^whouse of Israel.”

²⁵Then she came and worshiped Him, ^xsaying, “Lord, ^yhelp me!”

²⁶But He answered and said, “It is not good to take the children’s bread and throw it to the little ^zdogs.”

²⁸Then Jesus answered and said to her, “O woman, ^bgreat is your ^cfaith! Let it be to you ^das you desire.” And her daughter was ^ehealed from that very hour.

Further healing (cp. Mark 7:31–37)

²⁹Jesus departed from there, skirted the Sea of Galilee, and went up on the mountain and sat down there.

³⁰Then great multitudes came to Him, having with them the lame, blind, mute, maimed, and many others; and they laid them down at Jesus’ *f*feet, and He healed them.

³¹So the multitude marveled when they saw the mute speaking, the maimed made whole, the lame walking, and the blind seeing; and they ^gglorified the God of Israel.

Four thousand fed (Mark 8:1–9)

³²Now Jesus called His disciples to Himself and said, “I have ^hcompassion on the multitude, because they have now continued with Me three days and have nothing to eat. And I do not want to send them away hungry, lest they faint on the way.”

³³Then His disciples said to Him, “Where could we get enough bread in the wilderness to fill such a great ⁱmultitude?”

³⁴Jesus said to them, “How many loaves do you have?” And they said, “Seven, and a few little fish.”

³⁵So He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

³⁶And He took the seven loaves and the fish and gave thanks, broke them and gave them to His disciples; and the disciples gave to the multitude.

³⁷So they all ate and were filled, and they took up seven large baskets full of the fragments that were left.

³⁸Now those who ate were four thousand men, besides women and children.

³⁹And He sent away the multitude, got into the boat, and came to the region of Magdala.*

The blind Pharisees rebuked (Mark 8:10–14)

16 THEN the ^kPharisees and ^kSadducees came, and ^ltesting Him asked that He would show them a sign from heaven.

²He answered and said to them, “When it is evening you say, *‘It will be fair weather, for the sky is red’;

³“and in the morning, ‘It will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and threatening.’ Hypocrites! You know how to discern the face of the sky, but you cannot discern the signs of the ^mtimes.

⁴“A wicked and adulterous ⁿgeneration seeks after a sign, and no sign shall be given to it except the ^osign of the prophet* Jonah.” And He left them and departed.

⁵Now when His disciples had come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

Symbol of leaven explained (Mark 8:15–21)

⁶Then Jesus said to them, “Take heed and beware of the ^pleaven of the Pharisees and the Sadducees.”

⁷And they reasoned among themselves, saying, “‘It is because we have taken no bread.’”

⁸But Jesus, being aware of it, said to them, “O you of little faith, why do you reason among yourselves because you have brought no bread?”

⁹“Do you not yet understand, or ^qremember the five loaves of the five thousand and how many baskets you took up?

¹⁰“Nor the seven loaves of the four thousand and ^show many large baskets you took up?

¹¹“How is it you do not understand that I did not speak to you concerning bread?—but to beware of the ^tleaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

¹²Then they understood that He did not tell them to beware of the ^uleaven of bread, but of the ^vdoctrine of the ^wPharisees and ^wSadducees.

¹³When Jesus came into the region of Caesarea Philippi, He asked His disciples, saying, ^a“Who do ^bmen say that I, the ^cSon of Man, am?”

¹⁴So they said, “Some say ^dJohn the Baptist, some Elijah, and others Jeremiah or ^eone of the prophets.”

¹⁵He said to them, “But who do ^fyou say that I am?”

¹⁶Simon Peter answered and said, “You are the ^gChrist, the Son of the living God.”

First mention of the Church

¹⁷Jesus answered and said to him, “Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah, for ^hflesh and blood has not revealed ⁱthis to you, but My ^jFather who is in heaven.

¹⁸“And I also say to you that you are Peter, and on this ^krock I will build My ^kchurch, and the gates of ^lHades shall not prevail against it.

¹⁹“And I will give you the ^mkeys of the ⁿkingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed* in heaven.”

²⁰Then He commanded His disciples that they should tell no one that He was Jesus the Christ.

Christ foretells His death and resurrection
(Mark 8:31–33; Luke 9:22)

²¹From that time Jesus began to show to His disciples that He must go to Jerusalem, and ^osuffer many things from the elders and chief priests and ^pscribes, and be killed, and be raised the third day.

²²Then Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him, saying, “Far be it from You, Lord; this shall not happen to You!”

²³But He turned and said to Peter, “Get behind Me, ^qSatan! You are an offense to Me, for you are not mindful of the things of God, but the things of men.”

Cost of discipleship

(Mark 8:34–38; Luke 9:23–26)

²⁴Then Jesus said to His disciples, “If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and ^rtake up his cross, and ^sfollow Me.

²⁵“For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake will find it.

16:19 THE KEYS OF THE KINGDOM

These are not the keys of the Church but of the kingdom of heaven in the sense of ch. 13, that is, the sphere of Christian profession. A key is a badge of power or authority (compare Is. 22:22; Rev. 3:7). The apostolic history explains and limits this trust, for it was Peter who opened the door of Christian opportunity to Israel on the Day of Pentecost (Acts 2:38–42) and to Gentiles in the house of Cornelius (Acts 10:34–48). There was no assumption by Peter of any other authority (Acts 15:7–11). In the council James, not Peter, seems to have presided (Acts 15:19; compare Gal. 2:11–14). Peter claimed no more for himself than to be an apostle by gift (1 Pet. 1:1) and an elder by office (1 Pet. 5:1).

The power of binding and loosing was shared (Matt. 18:18) by the apostles and other believers (John 20:22–23, where see note; compare Luke 24:33). An illustration of Peter's use of this authority as related to forgiveness (John 20:23) is given in Acts 10:43. See also Paul's use of it in Acts 13:38–39. The keys of death and the place of departed spirits are held by the Lord Jesus Christ alone (Rev. 1:18).

16:17 Bar-Jonah. Meaning son of Jonah.

16:18 Peter. In the Greek there is a play upon words in this statement: “You are Peter [petros, a stone], and upon this rock [petra, a massive rock] I will build My church.” It is upon Christ Himself that the Church is built. See what the Apostle Peter writes (1 Pet. 2:4–8); compare also Paul's statement (1 Cor. 3:11). church. The word “church” (Greek ekklesia, from a verb meaning to call out) is used of any assembly and in itself implies no more than a gathering of people who have been called forth, e.g. the town meeting at Ephesus (Acts 19:41), and Israel, called out of Egypt and assembled in the wilderness (Acts 7:38). Israel was a “church,” but not in any sense the NT church—the primary point of similarity being that both were “called out” and by the same God. See Acts 7:38 and Heb. 12:23, notes.

16:20 commanded. The disciples had been proclaiming Jesus as the Christ, that is, the covenanted King of a kingdom promised to the Jews and at hand. The Church, on the contrary, must be built upon testimony to Him as crucified, risen from the dead, ascended, and made “head over all things to the church” (Eph. 1:20–23). The former testimony was ended; the new testimony was not yet ready because the blood of the new covenant had not yet been shed, but our Lord began to speak of His death and resurrection (v. 21). It is a turning point of immense significance. Jesus. Many manuscripts omit the word Jesus.

*The transfiguration:
a foreview of the future kingdom
(Mark 9:2-13; Luke 9:28-36)*

17NOW after six days Jesus took Peter, James, and John his brother, led them up on a high mountain by themselves;

2and He was transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and His clothes became as white as the light.

3And behold, Moses and Elijah appeared to them, talking with Him.

4Then Peter answered and said to Jesus, “Lord, it is good for us to be here; if You wish, let us make here three tabernacles: one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”

5While he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them; and suddenly a voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Hear Him!”

6And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces and were greatly afraid.

7But Jesus came and touched them and said, “Arise, and do not be afraid.”

8When they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no one but Jesus only.

9Now as they came down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, “Tell the vision to no one until the Son of Man is risen from the dead.”

10And His disciples asked Him, saying, “Why then do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?”

11Jesus answered and said to them, “Indeed, Elijah is coming first and will restore all things.

12“But I say to you that Elijah has come already, and they did not know him but did to him whatever they wished. Likewise the Son of Man is also about to suffer at their hands.”

13Then the disciples understood that He spoke to them of John the Baptist.

*The powerless disciples:
the mighty Christ
(Mark 9:14-29; Luke 9:37-43)*

14And when they had come to the multitude, a man came to Him, kneeling down to Him and saying,

15“Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is an epileptic and suffers severely; for he often falls into the fire and often into the water.

Moses: saved from the water. The great leader of the Israelites who led them out of slavery in Egypt to the Promised Land.

17:10 Compare Mal. 3:1; 4:5-6; Matt. 11:14; Mark 9:11-13; Luke 1:17. All the passages must be taken together. (1) Christ confirms the specific and still unfulfilled prophecy of Mal. 4:5-6: “Elijah is coming first and will restore all things.” Here, as in Malachi, the prediction fulfilled in John the Baptist, and that yet to be fulfilled in Elijah, are kept distinct. (2) But John the Baptist had come already, and with a ministry so completely in the spirit and power of Elijah’s future ministry (Luke 1:17) that in a typical sense, it could be said: “Elijah has come already.” Compare Matt. 10:40; Phile. 12,17, where the same thought of identification, although still preserving personal distinction, occurs (compare John 1:21).

17:2 CHRIST’S TRANSFIGURATION

The transfiguration scene contains, in miniature, all the elements of the future kingdom in manifestation (2 Pet. 1:15-21):

- (1) the Lord Jesus, not in humiliation but in glory (v. 2);
- (2) Moses, in glory, representative of the redeemed who have passed through death into the kingdom (Matt. 13:43; compare Luke 9:30-31);
- (3) Elijah, in glory, representative of the redeemed who have entered the kingdom by translation (1 Cor. 15:50-53; 1 Thess. 4:13-17);
- (4) Peter, James, and John, not glorified, representatives, for the moment, of Israel in the flesh in the future kingdom (Ezek. 37:21-27); and
- (5) the crowd at the foot of the mountain (v. 14), representative of those who are to be brought into the kingdom after it is established over Israel (Is. 11:10-12; etc.).

¹⁶“So I brought him to Your disciples, but they could not cure him.”

¹⁷Then Jesus answered and said, “O ^afaithless and ^bperverse generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you? Bring him here to Me.”

¹⁸And Jesus ^crebuked the ^ddemon, and it came out of him; and the child was ^ecured from that very hour.

¹⁹Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, ^f“Why could we not cast it out?”

²⁰So Jesus said to them, “Because of your ^gunbelief;” for assuredly, I say to you, if you have ^hfaith as a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, ‘Move from here to there,’ and it will move; and nothing will be impossible for you.

²¹“However, this kind does not go out except by prayer and ⁱfasting.”*

Jesus again foretells

His death and resurrection

(Mark 9:30–32; Luke 9:43–45)

²²Now while they were staying* in Galilee, Jesus said to them, “The ^jSon of Man is about to be ^kbetrayed into the hands of men, ²³“and they will kill Him, and the third day He will be raised up.” And they were exceedingly ^lsorrowful.

The miracle of the temple tax from the mouth of a fish (cp. Mark 12:13–17)

²⁴When they had come to Capernaum,* those who received the ^mtemple tax came to Peter and said, “Does your Teacher not pay the ⁿtemple tax?”

²⁵He said, “Yes.” And when he had come into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, “What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings of the earth take customs or taxes, from their sons or from ^ostrangers?”

²⁶Peter said to Him, “From strangers.” Jesus said to him, “Then the sons are free.

²⁷“Nevertheless, lest we offend them, go to the sea, cast in a hook, and take the fish that comes up first. And when you have opened its mouth, you will ^pfind a ^qpiece of money;* take that and give it to them for Me and you.”

Childlike faith necessary for entrance into the kingdom of heaven (Mark 9:33–50; Luke 9:46–50)

18AT that time the disciples came to Jesus, saying, “Who then is ^rgreatest in the ^skingdom of heaven?”

²Then Jesus called a little ^tchild to Him, set him in the midst of them, ³and said, “Assuredly, I say to you, unless you are converted and become as little children, you will by no means enter the ^ukingdom of heaven.

⁴“Therefore whoever humbles himself as this little child is the greatest in the ^vkingdom of heaven.

⁵“Whoever receives one little child like this in My name receives Me.

⁶“But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to sin, it would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck, and he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

⁸v “If your hand or foot causes you to sin, cut it off and cast ^wit from you. It is better for you to enter into ^xlife lame or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet, to be cast into the everlasting fire.

10 "Take heed that you do not despise one of these little ones, for I say to you that in heaven their angels always see the face of My Father who is in heaven.

11 "For the Son of Man has come to save that which was lost."

12 "What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep, and one of them goes astray, does he not leave the ninety-nine and go to the mountains to seek the one that is straying?

13 "And if he should find it, assuredly, I say to you, he rejoices more over that sheep than over the ninety-nine that did not go astray.

14 "Even so it is not the will of your Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

Discipline and forgiveness in the church; agreement in prayer (Luke 17:3-4) 15 "Moreover if your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault between you and him alone. If he hears you, you have gained your brother.

16 "But if he will not hear, take with you one or two more, that by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established."

17 "And if he refuses to hear them, tell it to the church. But if he refuses even to hear the church, let him be to you like a heathen and a tax collector.

18 "Assuredly, I say to you, whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven.

19 "Again I say to you that if two of you agree on earth concerning anything that they ask, it will be done for them by My Father in heaven.

20 "For where two or three are gathered together in My name, I am there in the midst of them."

21 Then Peter came to Him and said, "Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? Up to seven times?"

22 Jesus said to him, "I do not say to you, up to seven times, but up to seventy times seven.

23 "Therefore the kingdom of heaven is like a certain king who wanted to settle accounts with his servants.

24 "And when he had begun to settle accounts, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents.

25 "But as he was not able to pay, his master commanded that he be sold, with his wife and children and all that he had, and that payment be made.

26 "The servant therefore fell down before him, saying, 'Master, have patience with me, and I will pay you all.'

27 "Then the master of that servant was moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

28 "But that servant went out and found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii; and he laid hands on him and took him by the throat, saying, 'Pay me what you owe!'

29 "So his fellow servant fell down at his feet and begged him, saying, 'Have patience with me, and I will pay you all.'"

30 "And he would not, but went and threw him into prison till he should pay the debt.

31 "So when his fellow servants saw what had been done, they were very grieved, and came and told their master all that had been done.

32 "Then his master, after he had called him, said to him, 'You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt because you begged me.

33 "Should you not also have had compassion on your fellow servant, just as I had pity on you?"

Jesus teaches concerning divorce

1 Cor. 7:10-16)

19 NOW it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these sayings, that He ^bdeparted from Galilee and came to the region of Judea beyond the Jordan.

²And great multitudes followed Him, and He ^chealed them there.

³The Pharisees also came to Him, ^dtesting Him, and saying to Him, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for just any reason?”

⁴And He answered and said to them, “Have you not ^eread ^fthat He who made* them at the beginning *‘made them male and female,’

⁵“and said, ‘For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh’?”

⁶“So then, they are no longer two but one flesh. Therefore what God has joined together, let not man separate.”

⁷They said to Him, “Why then did Moses ^hcommand to give a certificate of divorce, and to put her away?”

⁸He said to them, “Moses, because of the ⁱhardness of your hearts, permitted you to divorce your ^jwives, but from the beginning it was not so.

⁹“And I say to you, whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality,* and marries another, commits adultery; and whoever marries her who is divorced commits adultery.”

¹⁰His disciples said to Him, “If such is the case of the man with his wife, it is better not to marry.”

¹¹But He said to them, ^k“All cannot accept this saying, but only those to whom it has been given:

¹²“For there are eunuchs who were born thus from their mother’s womb, and there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs who have ^mmade themselves eunuchs for the ⁿkingdom of heaven’s ^osake. He who is able to accept it, let him accept it.”

¹⁴But Jesus said, “Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of ^qsuch is the ^rkingdom of heaven.”

²²But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions.

²³Then Jesus said to His disciples, “Assuredly, I say to you that it is hard for a ^brich man to ^center the ^akingdom of heaven.

²⁴“And again I say to you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle ^ethan for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.”

²⁵When His disciples heard it, they were greatly astonished, saying, “Who then can be ^fsaved?”

²⁶But Jesus looked at them and said to them, “With men this is impossible, but with God all things are ^gpossible.”

²⁷Then Peter answered and said to Him, “See, we have left all and followed You. Therefore what shall we have?”

²⁸So Jesus said to them, “Assuredly I say to you, that in the regeneration, ^hwhen the Son of Man sits on the ⁱthrone of His glory, you who have followed Me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

²⁹“And everyone who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or wife* or children or lands, for My name’s sake, shall receive a hundredfold, and inherit eternal ^jlife.

19:16 MISTAKES OF THE RICH YOUNG MAN

The rich young man made four mistakes, each of which was met by the Lord with unerring wisdom:

(1) His mistake about the Person of Christ, thinking Him only a good teacher, was answered by the inescapable dilemma—either He is God or He is not a good man (v. 17).

(2) His mistake about the way of eternal life, supposing it could be earned by works, was met by confronting him with the high demands of divine law (v. 17).

(3) His mistake about himself, thinking he had kept the law (v. 20), was answered by testing him as to works of righteousness (v. 21) and opening his eyes to his failure (v. 22). And

(4) his most tragic mistake was in not heeding the final words of Christ, “Come, follow Me” (v. 21); for therein was offered gracious hope for a sinner.

In the Lord’s explanation to the disciples, after the incident, He made it clear that salvation is never won by human attainment, but that “with God all things are possible” (vv. 24–26)—even the salvation of those who love riches. Salvation has always been by God’s grace to the sinner, through his faith in Christ’s atoning sacrifice. See John 1:17, note.

19:24 needle. Greek raphis, a sewing needle.

19:28 regeneration. The word “regeneration,” (Greek palingenesia meaning new birth, renewal, re-creation) occurs only one other time in the NT, in Titus 3:5. There it refers to the Christian’s new birth; here, to the re-creation of the social order and renewal of the earth (Is. 11:6–9; Rom. 8:19–23) when the kingdom comes. See Restoration (Acts 3:21, note); Kingdom, OT (Zech. 12:8, note); Kingdom, NT (1 Cor. 15:24, note). judging the twelve tribes. Our Lord’s prediction discloses how the promise of Is. 1:26 will be fulfilled when the kingdom is set up. The kingdom will be administered over Israel through the apostles, according to the ancient theocratic judgeship (Judg. 2:18).

20:1 laborers. The complaint of these laborers (vv. 11–12) reveals their character. They had been dealt with fairly; they protested because others had been dealt with generously.

20:3 third hour. 9 A.M. See John 19:14, note.

20:5 sixth. Noon. ninth hour. 3 P.M.

20:6 eleventh hour. 5 P.M.

⁷“They said to him, ‘Because no one hired us.’ He said to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard, and whatever is right you will receive.’”

⁸“So when ^aevening had come, the owner of the vineyard said to his steward, ‘Call the laborers and give them their wages, beginning with the last to the first.’”

⁹“And when those came who were hired about the eleventh hour, they each ^breceived a denarius.

¹⁰“But when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise ^creceived each a denarius.

¹¹“And when they had received it, they ^dcomplained against the landowner,

¹²“saying, ‘These last men have worked only one hour, and you made them ^eequal to us who have borne the burden and the heat of the day.’”

¹³“But he answered one of them and said, ‘Friend, I am doing you no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?’

¹⁴“Take what is yours and go your way. I wish to give to this last man the same as to you.

¹⁵“Is it not lawful for me to do ^fwhat I wish with my own things? Or is your eye evil because I am good?”

¹⁶“So the ^glast will be first, and the first last. For many are called, but few chosen.”*

Jesus again predicts His death and resurrection (Mark 10:32-34; Luke 18:31-34; cp. also Matt. 12:28-42; 16:21-28; 17:22-23)

¹⁷Now Jesus, going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples aside on the road and said to them,

¹⁸“Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the ^hSon of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and to the scribes; and they will condemn Him to death,

¹⁹“and deliver Him to the ⁱGentiles to ^jmock and to ^kscourge and to ^lcrucify. And the third day He will ^mrise again.”

Christ’s response to request of the mother of James and John (Mark 10:35-45)

²⁰Then the mother of Zebedee’s sons came to Him with her sons, kneeling down and asking something from Him.

²¹And He said to her, “What do you wish?” She said to Him, “Grant that these two sons of mine may ⁿsit, one on Your right hand and the other on the left, in Your ^okingdom.”

²²But Jesus answered and said, “You do not know what you ask. Are you able to drink the ^pcup that I am about to drink, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?” They said to Him, “We are able.”

²³So He said to them, “You will indeed drink My cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized ^qwith;” but to ^rsit on My right hand and on My left is not Mine to give, but it is for those for whom it is prepared by My Father.”

²⁴And when the ten heard it, they were greatly ^sdispleased with the two brothers.

²⁵But Jesus called them to Himself and said, “You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and those who are great exercise authority over them.

²⁶“Yet it shall ^tnot be so among you; but whoever desires to become great among you, let him be your ^uservant.

²⁷“And whoever desires to be first among you, let him be your slave—

²⁸“just as the ^vSon of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life a ^wransom for many.”

³“And if anyone says anything to you, you shall say, ‘The Lord has ^eneed of them,’ and immediately he will send them.”

20:30 THE MIRACLE OF THE BLIND MEN

A twofold discrepancy is alleged to exist between the account of this miracle in Matt. 20:29–34 and those in Mark 10:46–52 and Luke 18:35–43: the subjects, and time of the healing. Two blind men were involved; Bartimaeus, the more active, is mentioned by name in Mark. Nothing is known of the other. Luke states that the time of the healing was before Christ entered Jericho; Matthew and Mark place it at His departure from the city. An explanation is possible on one of two grounds: (1) the healing could have taken place after our Lord left the old Jericho, and was drawing near the new Jericho, which Herod the Great had built some distance away; and (2) the blind men could have entreated the Lord for healing when He approached the city, but were healed as He departed from it.

21:1–9. Compare Zech. 14:4–9. The two adverts are in striking contrast.

21:4 fulfilled. Here was the King’s final and official offer of Himself, in accord with the prophecy of Zech. 9:9. Acclaimed by an unthinking multitude whose real belief is expressed in v. 11, but with no welcome from the official representatives of the nation, He was soon to hear the multitude shout: “Crucify Him!” (27:22,23; compare Mark 15:13,14; Luke 23:21).

¹⁴Then the ^ablind and the lame came to Him in the temple, and He healed them.

¹⁵But when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that He did, and the children crying out in the temple and saying, “Hosanna to the ^bSon of David!” they were indignant ¹⁶and said to Him, “Do You hear what these are saying?” And Jesus said to them, “Yes. Have you never ^cread,

‘Out^d of the mouth of babes and nursing infants You have perfected praise’?”

¹⁷Then He left them and ^ewent out of the city to Bethany, and He lodged there.

*The barren fig tree
(Mark 11:12–14, 20–26)*

¹⁸Now in the morning, as He returned to the city, He was ^fhungry.

¹⁹And seeing a fig tree by the road, He came to it and found nothing on it but leaves, and said to it, “Let no fruit grow on you ever again.” Immediately the fig tree ^gwithered away.

²⁰And when the disciples saw it, they marveled, saying, “How did the fig tree wither away so soon?”

²¹So Jesus answered and said to them, “Assuredly, I say to you, if you have ^hfaith and do not doubt, you will not only do what was done to the fig tree, but also if you say to this mountain, ‘Be removed and be cast into the sea,’ it will be done.

²²“And ⁱwhatever things you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive.”

*Jesus’ authority challenged
(Mark 11:27–33; Luke 20:1–8)*

²³Now when He came into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people confronted Him as He was teaching, and said, “By what authority are You doing these things? And who gave You this authority?”

²⁴But Jesus answered and said to them, “I also will ask you one thing, which if you tell Me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things:

²⁵“The ^kbaptism of ^lJohn—where was it from? From heaven or from men?” And they ^mreasoned among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say to us, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’

²⁶“But if we say, ‘From men,’ we ⁿfear the multitude, for all count John as a ^oprophet.”

²⁷So they answered Jesus and said, “We do not know.” And He said to them, ^p“Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things.

Parable of the two sons

²⁸“But what do you think? ^qA man had two sons, and he came to the first and said, ‘Son, go, work today in my ^rvineyard.’

²⁹“He answered and said, ‘I will not,’ but afterward he ^sregretted it and went.

³⁰“Then he came to the second and said likewise. And he answered and said, ‘I go, sir,’ but he did not go.

³¹“Which of the two did the will of ^this father?” They said to Him, “The first.” Jesus said to them, “Assuredly, I say to you that tax collectors and harlots enter the ^ukingdom of God before you.

³²“For John came to you in the way of ^vrighteousness, and you did not believe him; but tax collectors and harlots ^wbelieved him; and when you saw it, you did not afterward relent and believe him.

³⁹“So they took him and cast him out of the vineyard and killed him.

⁴⁰“Therefore, when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those vinedressers?”

21:43 you. That is, national Israel, the barren vine (vv. 33–41). Compare Is. 5:1–7. kingdom of God. Our Lord here uses the expression “kingdom of God,” referring to a sphere of genuine faith in God, in contrast with His usual expression “kingdom of heaven.” The kingdom of God is declared to be “taken from you,” that is, taken from the scribes and Pharisees represented in the parable as the wicked vinedressers, and given to a people who will bring forth the fruits of salvation. This passage teaches that unbelieving scribes and Pharisees would not be saved, because of their rejection of the Son. Others who will manifest the fruits of salvation take their place. Neither in the present age nor in the future millennium is the kingdom of God the exclusive possession of either Israel or the Gentiles.

21:44 CHRIST AS THE STONE

Christ as the Stone is revealed in a threefold way:

(1) To Israel, Christ, coming not in Messianic glory but in the form of a Servant, is a Stumbling Stone and Rock of offense (Is. 8:14–15; Rom. 9:32–33; 1 Cor. 1:23; 1 Pet. 2:8).

(2) To the Church, Christ is the Foundation Stone and the Chief Cornerstone (1 Cor. 3:11; Eph. 2:20–22; 1 Pet 2:4–5). And

(3) to the Gentile world powers (see Times of the Gentiles, Luke 21:24, note; Rev. 16:19, note), Christ is to be the Striking Stone of destruction (Dan. 2:34). Israel stumbled over Christ; the Church is built upon Christ; Gentile world dominion will be crushed by Christ. See Armageddon, Rev. 16:13–16; 19:17, note.

it, he was furious. And he sent out his armies, destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

⁸“Then he said to his servants, ‘The wedding is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy.

⁹‘Therefore go into the highways, and as many as you find, invite to the wedding.’

¹⁰“So those servants went out into the ^ahighways and gathered together all whom they found, both bad and good. And the wedding hall was filled with guests.

¹¹“But when the king came in to see the guests, he saw a man there who did not have on a wedding garment.

¹²“So he said to him, ^b‘Friend, how did you come in here without a ^cwedding garment?’ And he was ^dspeechless.

¹³“Then the king said to the servants, ‘Bind him hand and foot, take him away, and ^ecast him into ^eouter darkness; there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.’

¹⁴“For ^fmany are called, but few are chosen.”

*Jesus answers the Herodians
(Mark 12:13–17; Luke 20:20–26)*

¹⁵Then the Pharisees went and plotted how they might entangle Him in His talk.

¹⁶And they sent to Him their disciples with the ^gHerodians, saying, “Teacher, we know that You are true, and teach the way of God in truth; nor do You care about anyone, for You do not regard the person of men.

¹⁷“Tell us, therefore, what do You think? Is it lawful to pay ^htaxes to Caesar, or not?”

¹⁸But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, “Why do you ⁱtest Me, you hypocrites?

¹⁹“Show Me the tax money.” So they brought Him a ^jdenarius.

²⁰And He said to them, “Whose image and inscription is this?”

²¹They said to Him, “Caesar’s.” And He said to them, “Render therefore to Caesar the things that are ^kCaesar’s, and to God the things that are ^lGod’s.”

²²When they had heard these words, they marveled, and left Him and went their way.

*Jesus answers the Sadducees
(Mark 12:18–27; Luke 20:27–38)*

²³The same day the Sadducees, who say there is no ^mresurrection, came to Him and asked Him, ²⁴saying: “Teacher, Moses ⁿsaid that if a man dies, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife and raise up offspring for his brother.

²⁵“Now there were with us seven brothers. The first died after he had married, and having no offspring, left his wife to his brother.

²⁶“Likewise the second also, and the third, even to the seventh.

²⁷“Last of all the woman died also.

²⁸“Therefore, in the resurrection, ^owhose wife of the seven will she be? For they all had her.”

²⁹Jesus answered and said to them, “You are mistaken, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God.

³⁰“For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are ^plike angels of God[†] in heaven.

³¹“But concerning the resurrection of the dead, have you not ^qread what was spoken to you by God, saying,

22:9 The worldwide call. Matt. 28:16–20; Rev. 22:17.

22:15 Verses 15–46 record our Lord’s meetings with the representatives of Israel—the Herodians, the Sadducees, and the Pharisees (see 3:7, note). Although He answered their questions and put them to silence (v. 46), they did not repent and turn to Him in faith. The only message left for them was the woes of ch. 23.

22:16 Herodians. Not a sect but a political party that supported the Herod dynasty.

22:29 You are mistaken (from the Greek verb planaō) carries the idea of being deceived. Thus Jesus’ answer to the Sadducees’ question gives the three incapacities of the rationalist: (1) self-deception (Rom. 1:21–22); (2) ignorance of the spiritual content of Scripture (Acts 13:27); and (3) disbelief in the intervention of divine power (2 Pet. 3:4–9).

^{32a} ‘I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?’ God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.”

³³ And when the multitudes heard this, they were astonished at His teaching.

Jesus answers the Pharisees (Mark 12:28–34; cp. Luke 10:25–28)

³⁴ But when the ^bPharisees heard that He had silenced the ^bSadducees, they gathered together.

³⁵ Then one of them, a lawyer, asked Him a question, ^ctesting Him, and saying,

³⁶ “Teacher, which is the ^dgreat commandment in the ^elaw?”

³⁷ Jesus said to him, “You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.”

³⁸ “This is the first and great commandment.

³⁹ “And the second is like it: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’”

⁴⁰ “On these two commandments hang ^hall the Law and the Prophets.”

Jesus questions the Pharisees concerning the Messiah (Mark 12:35–37; Luke 20:41–44)

⁴¹ While the ⁱPharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them,

⁴² saying, “What do you think about the Christ? Whose Son is He?” They said to Him, “The ^jSon of David.”

⁴³ He said to them, “How then does David in the ^kSpirit call Him ‘Lord,’ saying:

⁴⁴ “The^l LORD said to my Lord, ‘Sit at My right hand, Till I make Your enemies Your footstool’” ?

⁴⁵ “If David then calls Him ‘Lord,’ how is He his Son?”

⁴⁶ And no one was able to answer Him a word, nor from that day on did anyone dare question Him anymore.

The marks of a Pharisee (Mark 12:38–40; Luke 20:45–47)

23 THEN Jesus spoke to the multitudes and to His disciples,

² saying: “The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses’ seat.

³ “Therefore whatever they tell you to observe,^{*} that observe and do, but do not do according to their works; for they say, and do not do.

⁴ “For they ^mbind heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on men’s shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

⁵ “But all their works they do to ⁿbe seen by men. They make their phylacteries broad and enlarge the borders of their garments.

⁶ “They love the best places at feasts, the best seats in the synagogues, ⁷ “greetings in the marketplaces, and to be called by men, ‘Rabbi, Rabbi.’

⁸ “But you, do not be called ‘Rabbi’; for One is your Teacher, the Christ,^{*} and you are all brethren.

⁹ “Do not call anyone on earth your father; for One is your Father, He ^owho is in heaven.

22:35 lawyer. The Greek word nomikos is translated “lawyer” here and in Luke 7:30; 10:25; 11:45,46,52; 14:3; Titus 3:13. In the Matthean and Lucan references it describes men expert in the Jewish law, normally called “scribes” (compare Ezra 7:6,10). In Titus it probably refers to one who was expert in Roman law.

22:41 asked. Jesus’ question was not personal but doctrinal; “Whose Son is the Messiah?” Compare John 19:7; Acts 2:25–36; Rom. 1:3–4.

23:1 Verses 1–12 introduce the woes that Christ pronounced upon the scribes and Pharisees, and particularly emphasize the pride and self-exaltation of these interpreters of the law. The woes are expressed in the most severe language Christ ever used.

23:2 Moses’ seat has reference to the position of a teacher of the law of Moses. Compare Ezra 7:6,25–26. The law is to be honored, but not the hypocritical teachers of it.

23:5 phylacteries. Compare Deut. 6:8, which describes the proper and spiritual use of God’s commandments.

will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.

Jesus announces seven woes on the Pharisees (Mark 12:38–40; Luke 20:47)

13 “But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut up the ^akingdom of heaven against men; for you neither go in yourselves, nor do you allow those who are entering to go in.

14 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you devour widows’ houses, and for a pretense make long prayers. Therefore you will receive greater condemnation.*

15 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel land and sea to win one proselyte, and when he is won, you make him twice as much a son of hell as yourselves.

16 “Woe to you, ^bblind guides, who say, ‘Whoever swears by the temple, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gold of the temple, he is obliged to perform it.’

17 ^c“Fools and blind! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that ^dsanctifies* the gold?

18 “And, ‘Whoever swears by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gift that is on it, he is obliged to perform it.’

19 “Fools and blind! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that ^esanctifies the gift?

20 “Therefore he who swears by the altar, swears by it and by all things on it.

21 “He who swears by the temple, swears by it and by Him who dwells* in it.

22 “And he who swears by heaven, swears by the throne of God and by Him who sits on it.

23 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you pay ^ftithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have ^gneglected the weightier mat- ters of the ^hlaw: justice and mercy and faith. These you ought to have done, without leaving the others undone.

24 “Blind guides, who strain out a gnat and swallow a camel!

25 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you cleanse the outside of the cup and dish, but inside they are full of extortion and self-indulgence.*

26 “Blind Pharisee, first cleanse the inside of the cup and dish, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like ⁱwhitewashed tombs which indeed appear beautiful outwardly, but inside are full of dead men’s bones and all uncleanness.

28 “Even so you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and ^jlawlessness.

29 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! Because you ^kbuild the tombs of the prophets and adorn the monuments of the righteous, 30 “and say, ‘If we had lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.’

31 “Therefore you are witnesses against yourselves that you are ^lsons of those who murdered the prophets.

32 “Fill up, then, the measure of your ^mfathers’ guilt.

33 “Serpents, brood of vipers! How can you escape ⁿthe condemnation of hell?

34 “Therefore, indeed, I send you prophets, wise men, and scribes: some of them you will ^okill and crucify, and some of them you will ^pscourge in your synagogues and persecute from city to city, 23:35 Abel. Our Lord here confirms the record of Gen. 4:8-10. Compare Heb. 12:24.

23:35 Berechiah. This was probably the actual father of this martyr, Zechariah, who is designated in 2 Chronicles as son of his famous grandfather, Jehoiada, who had died at the advanced age of 130 before Zechariah began his ministry. Compare 2 Chr. 24:15,20-22; 36:16; Luke 11:51.

23:36 come upon this generation. Compare Rev. 18:21-24. Thus history runs. Judgment falls upon one generation for the sins of centuries. The prediction of v. 36 was fulfilled in the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

23:39 till. Observe the “tills” or “untills” of Israel’s blessing: (1) Israel must say, “Blessed is He” (v. 39; compare Rom. 10:3-4). (2) Gentile world power must run its course (Luke 21:24; compare Dan. 2:34-35). And (3) the elect number of the Gentiles and Jews must be brought into the Church (Acts 15:13-18). Then “the Deliverer will come out of Zion,” etc. (Rom. 11:25-27).

24:1 departed. The Lord Jesus leaves that which He abandons to judgment. See Mark 8:21-23 (with note at v. 23) in the light of Matt. 11:21-22. Compare Rev. 18:4.

24:3 age. Greek aiōn. See Mark 10:30, note.

refers in express terms to a destruction of Jerusalem which was fulfilled by Titus in A.D. 70; the passage in Matthew alludes to a future crisis in Jerusalem after the manifestation of the “abomination.” See Beast (Dan. 7:8; Rev. 19:20, note); and Armageddon (Rev. 16:13–16; 19:17, note). 24:3

THE TWOFOLD QUESTION

Chapter 24, with Luke 21:20–24, answers the twofold question. The order is as follows: “When will these things be?”—that is, destruction of the temple and city. The answer is in Luke 21:20, 24. The remainder of Matt. 24:3 really constitutes a single question: “And what will be the sign of Your coming, and of the end of the age?” The answer is in vv. 4–33. Verses 4–14 have a double interpretation: They give (1) the character of the age—wars, international unrest, famines, pestilences, persecutions, and false Christs (compare Dan. 9:26). This is not the description of a converted world. But (2) the same answer applies in a specific way to the end of the age, that is, Daniel’s seventieth week (see Dan. 9:24, note). All that has characterized the age gathers into awful intensity at the end. Verse 14 has specific reference to the proclamation of the good news that the kingdom is again “at hand” (Rev. 14:6–7; see Rom. 11:5, note). Verse 15 gives the sign of the abomination (see Dan. 9:24, note)—the man of sin, or beast (2 Thess. 2:3–8; compare Dan. 9:27; 12:11; Rev. 13:4–7).

This introduces the great tribulation (Ps. 2:5; see Rev. 7:14, note), which runs its awful course of three and a half years, culminating in the battle of Rev. 19:19–21 (see Rev. 19:19, note), at which time Christ becomes the Striking Stone of Dan. 2:34. The detail of this period (vv. 15–28) is:

- (1) the abomination in the holy place (v. 15), causing sacrifice to cease;
- (2) the warning (vv. 16–20) to believing Jews who will then be in Judea;
- (3) the great tribulation, with renewed warning about false Christs (vv. 21–26);
- (4) the sudden striking of the Gentile world power (vv. 27–28);
- (5) the glorious appearing of the Lord, visible to all nations, and the regathering of Israel (vv. 29–31);
- (6) the sign of the fig tree (vv. 32–33); and
- (7) warnings, applicable to this present age over which these events are ever impending (vv. 34–51; compare Phil. 4:5). Careful study of Dan. 2; 7; 9; and Rev. 13 will make the interpretation clear. See, also, Remnant (Is. 1:9; Rom. 11:5, note).

 38 “For as in the days before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the ark, 39 “and did not know until the flood came and took them all away, so also will the coming of the Son of Man be.

40 “Then two men will be in the field: one will be taken and the other left.
 41 “Two women will be grinding at the mill: one will be taken and the other left.
 42 “Watch therefore, for you do not know what hour your Lord is coming.

43 “But know this, that if the master of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched and not allowed his house to be broken into.
 44 “Therefore you also be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

24:28 The meaning of this somewhat puzzling verse is illuminated in the final dialogue between God and Job (Job 39:27–30). The spiritual application here is that, where moral corruption exists, divine judgment falls.

24:33 it. Or He. Compare 1 Thess. 5:1–5.

24:34 generation. The word “generation” (Greek genea), though commonly used in Scripture of those living at one time, could not here mean those alive at the time of Christ, as none of “these things”—that is, the worldwide preaching of the kingdom, the tribulation, the return of the Lord in visible glory, and the regathering of the elect—occurred then. The expression “this generation” here (1) may mean that the future generation which will endure the tribulation and see the signs, will also see the consummation, the return of the Lord; or (2) it may be used in the sense of race or family, meaning that the nation or family of Israel will be preserved “till all these things take place,” a promise wonderfully fulfilled to this day.

24:45 faithful. Compare Luke 12:42–48; 1 Cor. 4:2. The Lord commends faithfulness rather than ability.

THE JUDGMENT OF INDIVIDUAL GENTILES

This judgment of individual Gentiles is to be distinguished from other judgments in Scripture, such as the judgment of the Church (2 Cor. 5:10-11), the judgment of Israel (Ezek. 20:33-38), and the judgment of the wicked after the millennium (Rev. 20:11-15).

The time of this judgment is "when the Son of Man comes in His glory," that is, at the second coming of Christ after the tribulation. The subjects of this judgment are "all the nations," that is, all Gentiles (Greek ethnē) then living on earth. Three classes of individuals are mentioned:

- (1) sheep, saved Gentiles;
- (2) goats, unsaved Gentiles; and
- (3) brethren, the people of Israel.

The scene is on earth; no books are opened; it deals with the living rather than with those translated or raised from the dead. The test of this judgment is the treatment by individual Gentiles of those whom Christ calls "My brethren" living in the preceding tribulation period when Israel is fearfully persecuted (compare Gen. 12:3).

The good works mentioned are the proof but not the ground of faith and salvation. The fact that the righteous and the unrighteous are still mingled and require separation after the establishment of Christ's throne on earth makes evident that no rapture, that is, translation of the saints, could have taken place at the time of Christ's coming to the earth after the tribulation. In such a case the separation here described would have already occurred before the establishment of the throne. The sheep are Gentiles saved on earth during the period between the rapture and Christ's second coming to the earth. For the other six important judgments see John 12:31, note; 1 Cor. 11:31, note; 2 Cor. 5:10, note; Ezek. 20:37, note; Jude 6, note; and Rev. 20:12, note.

we see You hungry and feed You, or thirsty and give You drink?

³⁸“When did we see You a stranger and take You in, or naked and clothe You?”

³⁹“Or when did we see You sick, or in prison, and come to You?”

⁴⁰“And the King will answer and say to them, ‘Assuredly, I say to you, inasmuch as you did it to one of the least of these My brethren, you did it to Me.’”

⁴¹“Then He will also say to those on the left hand, Depart from Me, you cursed, into the everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels:

⁴²“for I was hungry and you gave Me no food; I was thirsty and you gave Me no drink;

⁴³“I was a stranger and you did not take Me in, naked and you did not clothe Me, sick and in prison and you did not visit Me.’”

⁴⁴“Then they also will answer Him,* saying, ‘Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to You?’”

⁴⁵“Then He will answer them, saying, ‘Assuredly, I say to you, inasmuch as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to Me.’”

⁴⁶“And these will go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.”

VII. The Death and Resurrection of the King, 26—28

Jewish authorities plot death of Jesus (Mark 14:1–2; Luke 22:1–2)

26 NOW it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, that He said to His disciples,

²“You know that after two days is the Passover, and the Son of Man will be delivered up to be crucified.”

³Then the chief priests, the scribes,* and the elders of the people assembled at the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas, ⁴and plotted to take Jesus by trickery and kill Him.

⁵But they said, “Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar among the people.”

Jesus anointed for His burial by Mary of Bethany (Mark 14:3–9; John 12:1–8)

⁶And when Jesus was in Bethany at the house of Simon the leper, ⁷a woman came to Him having an alabaster flask of very costly fragrant oil, and she poured it on His head as He sat at the table.

⁸But when His disciples saw it, they were indignant, saying, “Why this waste?”

⁹“For this fragrant oil might have been sold for much and given to the poor.”

¹⁰But when Jesus was aware of it, He said to them, “Why do you trouble the woman? For she has done a good work for Me.

¹¹“For you have the poor with you always, but Me you do not have always.

¹²“For in pouring this fragrant oil on My body, she did it for My burial.

¹³“Assuredly, I say to you, wherever this gospel is preached in the whole world, what this woman has done will also be told as a memorial to her.”

Judas Iscariot: One of the twelve disciples of Jesus who betrayed Him.

26:20 ORDER OF EVENTS: THE EVENING OF THE PASSOVER

The order of events on this solemn evening appears to have been:

- (1) Jesus partakes of the Passover with the apostles, and rebukes their contention (Matt. 26:20; Mark 14:17; Luke 22:14–16, 24–30);
- (2) washes their feet (John 13:1–20);
- (3) identifies Judas as the traitor (Matt. 26:21–25; Mark 14:18–21; Luke 22:21–23; John 13:21–29);
- (4) Judas withdraws, the others profess loyalty (John 13:30–38; compare Matt. 26:31–35; Mark 14:27–31; Luke 22:31–38);
- (5) Jesus institutes the Lord’s Supper (Matt. 26:26–29; Mark 14:22–25; Luke 22:17–20);
- (6) addresses the eleven in the upper room (John 14);
- (7) again on the way to Gethsemane (John 15–16);
- (8) intercedes with the Father for His own (John 17); and
- (9) agonizes in the garden, is betrayed and arrested (Matt. 26:30, 36–50; Mark 14:26, 32–52; Luke 22:39–53; John 18:1–12).

26:28 FORGIVENESS, SUMMARY

The Greek word here (also in Acts 10:43; Heb. 9:22) means to send off or away. And this, throughout Scripture, is the one fundamental meaning of forgiveness—to separate the sin from the sinner.

Distinction must be made between divine and human forgiveness:

- (1) Human forgiveness means the remission of a penalty deserved, whereas the divine forgiveness, in type and fulfillment in both OT and NT, always follows the execution of the penalty. “The priest shall make atonement for his sin that he has committed, and it shall be forgiven him” (Lev. 4:35). “This is My blood of the new covenant, which is shed for many for the remission [sending away] of sins” (Matt. 26:28). “Without shedding of blood there is no remission” (Heb. 9:22). See Sacrifice (Gen. 4:4 and Heb. 10:18, notes). The sin of the justified believer interrupts his fellowship; it is forgiven upon confession, but always on the ground of Christ’s propitiating sacrifice (1 John 1:6–9; 2:2). And
- (2) human forgiveness rests upon and results from the divine forgiveness. In many passages this is assumed rather than stated, but the principle is declared in Matt. 18:32–33; Eph. 4:32.

it new with you in My Father's a kingdom.”

(Here read John 14)

Jesus foretells Peter's denial
(Mark 14:26–31; Luke 22:31–34;
John 13:31–38)

30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

31 Then Jesus said to them, “All of you will be made to stumble because of Me this night, for it is b written:

*‘I will strike the c Shepherd,
And the sheep of the flock will be scattered.’*

32 “But after I have been d raised, I will go before you to Galilee.”

33 Peter answered and said to Him, “Even if all are made to stumble because of You, I will never be made to stumble.”

34 Jesus said to him, “Assuredly, I say to you that this night, before the e rooster crows, you will deny Me three times.”

(Here read John 15–17)

35 Peter said to Him, “Even if I have to die with You, I will not deny
You!” And so said all the disciples.

Jesus' agony in the garden
(Mark 14:32–42; Luke 22:39–46;
John 18:1)

36 Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane, and said to the disciples, “Sit here while I go and pray over there.”

37 And He took with Him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and He began to be sorrowful and deeply f distressed.

38 Then He said to them, “My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here and watch with Me.”

The first prayer
(Mark 14:35; Luke 22:41–42)

39 He went a little farther and fell on His face, and g prayed, saying, “O My Father, if it is possible, let this h cup pass from Me; nevertheless, not as I will, i but as You will.”

The sleeping disciples
(Mark 14:37–40; Luke 22:45–46)

40 Then He came to the disciples and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “What? Could you not watch with Me one hour?

41 “Watch and pray, lest you enter into j temptation. k The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”

The second prayer
(Mark 14:39; Luke 22:44)

42 Again, a second time, He went away and l prayed, saying, “O My Father, if this cup cannot pass away from Me unless* I drink it, Your will be done.”

43 And He came and found them asleep again, for their eyes were heavy.

The third prayer (Mark 14:41)

44 So He left them, went away again, and m prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then He came to His disciples and said to them, “Are you still sleeping and resting? Behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of Man is being n betrayed into the hands of o sinners.

46 “Rise, let us be going. See, My betrayal is at hand.”

Jesus' betrayal and arrest
(Mark 14:43–50; Luke 22:47–53;
John 18:3–11)

47 And while He was still speaking, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, with a great multitude with swords and clubs, p came from the chief priests and elders of the people.

26:39 cup. The “cup” must be interpreted by our Lord’s own use of that symbol in speaking of His approaching sacrificial death (20:22; John 18:11). In view of John 10:17–18, He could have been in no fear of an unwilling death. The value of the account of the agony in the garden is in the evidence that it affords that He knew fully what the agony of the cross would mean when His soul would be made an offering for sin (Is. 53:10)—the hiding of the Father’s face. Knowing completely what the cost would be, He voluntarily paid it.

26:57 ORDER OF EVENTS: AFTER CHRIST'S ARREST

The order of events following the arrest of the Lord Jesus appears to have been:

- (1) The Jewish trial of Jesus, composed of three stages:
 - (a) the preliminary hearing before Annas (John 18:12-14,19-24);
 - (b) the informal trial before Caiaphas and the Sanhedrin, presumably before dawn (Matt. 26:57-68; Mark 14:53-65; Luke 22:54,63-65; John 18:24); and
 - (c) the formal trial by the Sanhedrin (Matt. 27:1; Mark 15:1; Luke 22:66-71).
- (2) Associated with (1) but before (3) were Peter's denials (Matt. 26:58,69-75; Mark 14:54,66-72; Luke 22:54-62; John 18:15-18,25-27) and Judas' suicide (Matt. 27:3-10; Acts 1:18-19).
- (3) The Gentile trial of Jesus, composed of three stages:
 - (a) Jesus was questioned by Pilate the first time (Matt. 27:2,11-14; Mark 15:1-5; Luke 23:1-5; John 18:28-38);
 - (b) Pilate sent Jesus to Herod (Luke 23:6-12); and
 - (c) Herod sent Jesus back to Pilate, who released Barabbas (Matt. 27:15-26; Mark 15:6-15; Luke 23:13-25; John 18:39-40). Then
- (4) Jesus was crowned with thorns and brutally beaten by the Roman soldiers (Matt. 27:27-30; Mark 15:16-19; John 19:1-3).
- (5) As Christ was led forth to be crucified, the cross was laid on Simon (Matt. 27:31-32; Mark 15:20-21; Luke 23:26). And
- (6) on the way to Golgotha, Jesus warned the weeping women of judgment yet to fall on Jerusalem (Luke 23:27-31). For the order of events at the crucifixion, see Matt. 27:33, note.

26:50 Friend. Here is one of the most touching things in the Bible. The Lord still reaches out to Judas in friendship while he is about to betray Him.

26:53 legions. At that time a Roman legion comprised between 3,000 and 6,000 men.

Man ^asitting at the right hand of the Power, and ^bcoming on the clouds of heaven."

⁶⁵Then the high priest ^ctore his clothes, saying, "He has spoken blasphemy! What further need do we have of witnesses? Look, now you have heard His ^dblasphemy!

⁶⁶"What do you think?" They answered and said, "He is deserving of death."

⁶⁷Then they ^espat in His face and beat Him; and others ^fstruck Him with the palms of their hands, ⁶⁸saying, "Prophecy to us, Christ! Who is the one who struck You?"

Peter's three denials

(Mark 14:66–72; Luke 22:55–62; John 18:15–18,25–27)

⁶⁹Now Peter sat outside in the courtyard. And a servant girl came to him, saying, "You also were with Jesus of Galilee."

⁷⁰But he denied it before them all, saying, "I do not know what you are saying."

⁷¹And when he had gone out to the gateway, another girl saw him and said to those who were there, "This fellow also was with Jesus of Nazareth."

⁷²But again he denied with an oath, "I do not know the Man!"

⁷³And a little later those who stood by came up and said to Peter, "Surely you also are one of them, for your ^gspeech betrays you."

⁷⁴Then he began to ^hcurse and swear, saying, "I do not know the Man!" Immediately a rooster ⁱcrowed.

⁷⁵And Peter remembered the word of Jesus who had said to him, "Before the rooster crows, you will deny Me three times." So he went out and wept bitterly.

Jesus delivered to Pilate

(Mark 15:1; Luke 23:1; John 18:28)

27 WHEN morning came, all the chief priests and elders of the people plotted against Jesus to put Him to death.

²And when they had bound Him, they led Him away and delivered Him to Pontius* Pilate the governor.

Judas' unavailing remorse

(cp. Acts 1:16–19)

³Then Judas, His betrayer, seeing that He had been condemned, was remorseful and brought back the thirty ^jpieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

⁴saying, "I have ^ksinned by betraying ^linnocent blood." And they said, "What is that to us? You see to it!"

⁵Then he threw down the ^mpieces of silver in the temple and departed, and went and ⁿhanged himself.

⁶But the chief priests took the silver ^opieces and said, "It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, because they are the price of blood."

⁷And they consulted together and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in.

⁸Therefore that field has been ^pcalled the Field of Blood to this day.

⁹Then was fulfilled what was ^qspoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, "And they took the thirty ^rpieces of silver, the value of ^sHim who was priced, whom they of the children of Israel priced,

¹⁰*and gave them for the potter's field, as the LORD ^tdirected me."

Regarding the alleged discrepancies in these accounts, it should be said that an excited crowd had gathered, and Peter was interrogated in two places: with the guards (v. 58), where the first charge was made (v. 69); and in the gateway (v. 71), where a great number of people would be gathered. Here the second and third interrogations were made by another girl and by the crowd (vv. 71,73; John 18:25).

27:9 Jeremiah. There may be an allusion to Jer. 18:1–4 and 19:1–3, but the reference is distinctly to Zech. 11:12–13. A Talmudic tradition states that the prophetic writings were placed in the canon in this order: Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Isaiah, etc. Many Hebrew manuscripts follow this order. Thus Matthew cited the passage as from the roll of the prophets and by the name of the first book.

¹⁵Now at the feast the governor was accustomed to releasing to the multitude one prisoner whom they wished.

¹⁶And at that time they had a notorious prisoner called Barabbas.*

¹⁷Therefore, when they had gathered together, Pilate said to them, "Whom do you want me to release to you? Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ?"

¹⁸For he knew that they had handed Him over because of ^cenvy.

¹⁹While he was ^dsitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, "Have nothing to do with that ^ejust Man, for I have suffered many things today in a dream because of Him."

²⁰But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask for Barabbas and destroy Jesus.

²¹The governor answered and said to them, ^f"Which of the two do you want me to release to you?" They said, ^g"Barabbas!"

²²Pilate said to them, "What then shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?" They all said to him, "Let Him be crucified!"

²³Then the governor said, ^h"Why, what evil has He ⁱdone?" But they cried out all the more, saying, "Let Him be crucified!"

²⁴When Pilate saw that he could ^jnot prevail at all, but rather that a tumult was rising, he took water and ^kwashed his hands before the multitude, saying, "I am innocent of the blood of this ^ljust Person.* You see to it."

²⁵And all the people answered and said, "His ^mblood be on us and on our children."

²⁶Then he released Barabbas to them; and when he had ⁿscourged Jesus, he delivered Him to be crucified.

27:17 THE LEGAL SYSTEM THAT CONDEMNED JESUS

There were two legal systems that condemned Christ: the Jewish and the Roman, the very two which underlie modern jurisprudence. The arrest and proceedings under Annas, Caiaphas, and the Sanhedrin were under Jewish law; those under Pilate and Herod were under Roman law.

The Jewish trial was illegal in several particulars:

(1) The judge was not impartial and did not protect the accused. There is no evidence that the quorum of twenty-three judges was present; the judges took part in the arrest; and they were hostile (Matt. 26:62-63).

(2) The arrest was unlawful because it was carried out under no formal accusation.

(3) In criminal trials all sessions had to be started and carried on only during the day. Night sessions were illegal.

(4) A verdict of guilty could not be rendered on the same day as the conclusion of the trial. It had to be given on the next day.

(5) The search for hostile testimony was illegal (Matt. 26:59; Mark 14:56; John 11:53).

(6) No accused could be convicted on his own evidence, yet they sought replies and admissions from Christ to condemn Him (Matt. 26:63-66; John 18:19). And

(7) no valid legal evidence was presented against Him.

After Pilate declared Christ innocent (Matt. 27:24), his subsequent acts were all contrary to the letter and spirit of Roman law.

and a reed in His right hand. And they bowed the knee before Him and mocked Him, saying, "Hail, King of the Jews!"

³⁰Then they ^aspat on Him, and took the reed and struck Him on the head.

³¹And when they had mocked Him, they took the robe off Him, put His own clothes on Him, and led Him away to be crucified.

³²Now as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name. Him they compelled to ^bbear His cross.

Jesus crucified (Mark 15:22-32; Luke 23:33-43; John 19:17-24)

³³And when they had come to a place called ^cGolgotha, that is to say, Place of a Skull, ³⁴they gave Him ^dsour* wine mingled with gall to drink. But when He had tasted it, He would not drink.

³⁵Then they ^ecrucified Him, and divided His garments, casting lots,* that it might be fulfilled which was ^fspoken by the prophet:

*"They divided My ^ggarments among them,
And for My clothing they cast lots."*

³⁶Sitting down, they kept watch over Him there.

³⁷And they put up over His head the accusation written against Him:

THIS IS JESUS THE ^hKING OF THE JEWS.

³⁸Then two robbers were ⁱcrucified with Him, one on the right and another on the left.

³⁹And those who passed by blasphemed Him, wagging their heads

⁴⁰and saying, "You who destroy the temple and build it in three days, save Yourself! If You are the Son of God, come down from the cross."

⁴¹Likewise the chief priests also, mocking with the scribes and elders,* said, ⁴²"He ^jsaved others; Himself He cannot save. If He is the ^kKing of Israel,* let Him now come down from the cross, and we will believe Him.*

⁴³"He ^ltrusted in God; let Him deliver Him now if He will have Him; for He said, 'I am the Son of God.' "

⁴⁴Even the robbers who were crucified with Him reviled Him with the same thing.

Matthew and Luke add to this the further words, "This is"; Matthew quotes the name "Jesus"; while John gives the additional words, "of Nazareth." The narratives combined give the entire inscription: "This is [Matthew, Luke] Jesus [Matthew, John] of Nazareth [John] the King of the Jews" [all].

27:33 ORDER OF EVENTS: THE CRUCIFIXION

The order of events at the crucifixion:

(1) The arrival at Golgotha (v. 33; Mark 15:22; Luke 23:33; John 19:17).

(2) The offer of the stupefying drink is refused (v. 34; Mark 15:23).

(3) Jesus is crucified between two robbers (vv. 35-38; Mark 15:24-28; Luke 23:33-38; John 19:18).

(4) He utters the first cry from the cross, "Father, forgive," etc. (Luke 23:34).

(5) The soldiers divide His garments (v. 35; Mark 15:24; Luke 23:34; John 19:23).

(6) The Jews mock Jesus (vv. 39-43; Mark 15:29-32; Luke 23:35).

(7) The robbers revile Him, but one repents and believes (v. 44; Mark 15:32; Luke 23:39-43).

(8) The second cry from the cross, "Today you will be with Me," etc. (Luke 23:43).

(9) The third cry, "Woman, behold your son," etc. (John 19:26-27).

(10) The darkness (v. 45; Mark 15:33; Luke 23:44).

(11) The fourth cry, "My God," etc. (vv. 46-47; Mark 15:34-36).

(12) The fifth cry, "I thirst!" (John 19:28).

(13) The sixth cry, "It is finished!" (John 19:30).

(14) The seventh cry, "Father, into Your hands," etc. (Luke 23:46). And

(15) our Lord dismisses His spirit (v. 50; Mark 15:37; Luke 23:46; John 19:30).

⁴⁵Now from the sixth hour until the ninth hour there was darkness over all the land.

⁴⁶And about the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, ^asaying, ^b“Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?” that is, ^c“My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?”^{*}

⁴⁷Some of those who stood there, when they heard that, said, “This Man is calling for Elijah!”

⁴⁸Immediately one of them ran and took a sponge, filled it with ^dsour wine and put it on a reed, and offered it to Him to drink.

⁴⁹The rest said, “Let Him alone; let us see if Elijah will come to save Him.”

⁵⁰And Jesus cried out again with a loud voice, and ^eyielded up His ^fspirit.

⁵¹Then, ^gbehold, the veil of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom; and the earth quaked, and the rocks were split, ⁵²and the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep ^hwere raised;

⁵³and coming out of the graves after His resurrection, they went into the ⁱholy city and appeared to many.

⁵⁴So when the centurion and those with him, who were guarding Jesus, saw the earthquake and the things that had happened, they feared greatly, saying, ^j“Truly this was the Son of God!”

⁵⁵And many women who followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering to Him, were there looking on from afar, ⁵⁶among whom were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James and Joses,^{*} and the mother of Zebedee’s sons.

⁶⁰and laid it in ^khis new tomb which he had hewn out of the rock; and he rolled a large stone against the door of the tomb, and departed.

27:50 yielded up His spirit. The Greek phrases used here and in John 19:30 are unique in the NT. In fifteen other Bible verses, “breathed one’s last,” or “yielded up the spirit,” is used to translate a single Hebrew or Greek word meaning breathe out or expire. This is true of the description of the death of Jesus in Mark 15:37,39 and Luke 23:46. But in Matt. 27:50 and John 19:30 alone these expressions translate Greek phrases of three words, meaning give over the spirit or deliver up the spirit. The death of Jesus was different from that of any other man. No one could take His life from Him except as He was willing to permit it (John 10:18). Christ chose to die so that we might live.

27:51 veil. The veil that was torn divided the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place, into which only the high priest might enter on the Day of Atonement (see Ex. 26:31, note; Lev. 16:1-30). The tearing of that veil, which was a type of the human body of Christ (Heb. 10:20), signified that a “new and living way” was opened for all believers into the very presence of God, with no other sacrifice or priesthood except Christ’s (compare Heb. 9:1-8; 10:19-22).

27:52 graves. Although the graves were opened at the time of Christ’s death (vv. 50-51), the bodies did not arise until “after His resurrection” (v. 53). Christ is the firstborn from among the dead (Col. 1:18; Rev. 1:5) and “the first-fruits of those who have fallen asleep” (1 Cor. 15:20). It is not said that these bodies returned to their graves. The wave sheaf (Lev. 23:10-12) typifies the resurrection of Christ, but it would appear from the symbol used that plurality is implied. It was a single “grain of wheat” that fell into the ground in the crucifixion and entombment of Christ (John 12:24); it was a sheaf which came forth in resurrection. The inference is that these saints went with the risen Christ into heaven.

27:56 James. Son of Alphaeus. See Matt. 4:21, note.

Mary Magdalene: A woman from the town of Magdala who became a follower of Jesus after He released her of the demons that possessed her. Jesus appeared to her first after His resurrection.

The tomb sealed and guarded

⁶²On the next day, which followed the Day of Preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees gathered together to Pilate, ⁶³saying, “Sir, we remember, while He was still alive, how that ^adeceiver said, ^b‘After three days I will rise.’”

⁶⁴“Therefore command that the tomb be made secure until the third day, lest His disciples come by night* and steal Him away, and say to the people, ‘He has risen from the dead.’ So the last deception will be worse than the first.”

⁶⁵Pilate said to them, “You have a guard; go your way, make it as secure as you know how.”

⁶⁶So they went and made the tomb secure, sealing the stone and setting the guard.

28 NOW after the ^cSabbath, as the first day of the week began to dawn, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to see the tomb.

²And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an ^dangel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door,* and sat on it.

^{3e}His countenance was like lightning, and his clothing as white as snow.

⁴And the guards shook for fear of him, and became like ^fdead men.

⁵But the ^gangel answered and said to the women, ^h“Do not be afraid, for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified.

⁶“He is not here; for ⁱHe is ^jrisen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

⁷“And go quickly and tell His disciples that He is ^krisen from the dead, and indeed He is going before you into ^lGalilee; there you will see Him. Behold, I have told you.”

⁸So they went out quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring His disciples word.

28:1 ORDER OF EVENTS: RESURRECTION MORNING

Combining the four narratives, the order of events on the resurrection morning would seem to be as follows:

(1) In the early morning, the women went to the tomb of Jesus to anoint His body, even though they did not know how they could get into the tomb (Mark 16:2–3). There were the three, Mary Magdalene, Mary (the mother of James, Mark 16:1; Luke 24:10), and Salome, followed by other women who had accompanied Jesus from Galilee (Luke 23:55—24:1).

(2) The three women found the stone had been removed by an angel (Matt. 28:2).

(3) Mary Magdalene hurried to tell Peter and John, who ran toward the tomb (John 20:2–4).

(4) Meanwhile, Mary the mother of James, Salome, and then the other women arrived at the tomb, entered it and saw angels who assured them Jesus had risen. They ran from the tomb in fear and joy to inform His disciples (Matt. 28:8).

(5) Peter and John arrived at the tomb, entered, observed, and left (John 20:4–10).

(6) Mary Magdalene returned to the tomb, stood weeping, and Jesus revealed Himself to her (John 20:11–18).

(7) As the other women were on their way to tell His disciples, Jesus appeared to them (Matt. 28:9–10).

THE TRINITY

In the progress of revelation the one true God appears clearly in the NT as existing in three divine Persons: named here “the Father,” and “the Son,” and “the Holy Spirit.” Compare also Matt. 3:16–17; 1 Cor. 12:4–6; 2 Cor. 13:14; Eph. 2:18; 4:4–6; 5:18–20; 1 Pet. 1:2; Jude 20–21.

1. Each of these divine Persons possesses His own personal characteristics and is clearly distinguished from the other Persons (compare John 14:16–17,26; 15:26; 16:7–15). Yet the three Persons are equal in being, power, and glory: each being called “God” (John 6:27; Heb. 1:8; Acts 5:3–4); each possessing all the divine attributes (James 1:17; Heb. 13:8; 9:14); each performing divine works (John 5:21; Rom. 8:11); and each receiving divine honors (John 5:23; 2 Cor. 13:14).

2. With reference to the order of their activities, the Father is first, the Son is second, and the Holy Spirit is third; the general formula being as follows: from the Father (1 Cor. 8:6), through the Son (John 3:17), by the Holy Spirit (Eph. 3:5), and to the Father (Eph. 2:18). Even so, however, no one of the Persons acts independently of the other Persons; there is always mutual concurrence, as our Lord said, “My Father has been working until now, and I have been working” (John 5:17); and, “The Son can do nothing of Himself” (John 5:19); and again, “I and My Father are one” (John 10:28–30).

3. In the NT revelation of God as a tri-personal Being, there is no retreat from the stern monotheism of the OT (compare Deut. 6:4–5 with Mark 12:29–30 and Rom. 3:30). The three divine Persons are one God, not three gods. It was necessary in the OT to emphasize first the divine unity in order to guard against polytheistic tendencies. But even in the OT, read in the light of the NT, a plurality of Persons appears within the one true God (compare Gen. 1:26; Is. 6:8; 48:12 with 48:16).

4. The Trinity of God is confessedly a great mystery, something wholly beyond the possibility of complete explanation. But we can guard against error by holding fast to the facts of divine revelation: that (1) with respect to His Being or essence, God is one; (2) with respect to His Personality, God is three; and (3) we must neither divide the essence, nor confuse the Persons. Yet, in spite of its mystery, the doctrine of the divine Trinity has always proved to be rich in spiritual and practical values.

5. The importance attached to the divine Trinity, in NT revelation, appears in the fact that the doctrine is firmly embedded in two formulas which are constantly repeated in the hearing of the church: (1) the formula of baptism (Matt. 28:19); and (2) the formula of benediction (2 Cor. 13:14).

For names of Deity, see notes at Gen. 1:1; 14:18; 15:2; 17:1; 21:33; Ex. 34:6; 1 Sam. 1:3; Mal. 3:18. Also see notes at Lord, Matt. 8:2; Word (Logos), John 1:1; Lord (Deity of Christ), John 20:28; Holy Spirit, Acts 2:4.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

MARK

Author:
Mark

Theme:
Christ, the Servant

Date of writing:
c. A.D. 68

Background

Mark, the author of the Second Gospel, was a native of Jerusalem. His mother's name was Mary (Acts 12:12); his father is not known to us. John Mark is not named in the Gospels but appears in The Acts when, with his uncle, Barnabas, he accompanied Paul on the first missionary journey as far as Perga, where he turned back for reasons that are not given (Acts 13:13). Rejected by Paul, he went with Barnabas to Cyprus (Acts 15:38–40). During Paul's later years, however, Mark was at his side (Colossians 4:10; Philemon 24) and was sent for by Paul shortly before the apostle's execution (2 Timothy 4:11). Peter referred to Mark as "my son" (1 Peter 5:13). From the early days of the church, Mark's Gospel has been thought to reflect Peter's view of Christ.

God's Relationship with Man

Although it is the briefest of the Gospels, Mark's narrative is often more vivid and detailed than the parallel accounts in Matthew and Luke—for example the story of the demoniac of Gerasa (5:1–20). Written principally for the Roman world, this Gospel presents Christ as the Servant of the Lord, sent to accomplish a specific work for God. Therefore, it is a book of deeds more than words, and contains no long discourses and few parables. In Mark the word "immediately" translates the Greek euthus on forty occasions, showing the continuous activities of the Servant. As the Servant of the Lord, Christ fulfills such Messianic prophecies as Isaiah 42:1–21; 49:1–7; 50:4–11; 52:13–53:12; Zechariah 3:8. Because He is presented as a servant, a genealogy is not needed. An unusual number of passages give insight into the feelings of our Lord (compare 3:5; 7:34; 10:21). Although Christ is set forth in Mark in His servant character, the strong emphasis upon His miracles points to His power as the Son of God.

I. The Introduction of the Servant to His Public Ministry, 1:1-13

*Ministry of John the Baptist (Matt. 3:1-12; Luke 3:1-20;
John 1:6-8, 15-37)*

1 THE ^abeginning of the ^bgospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

²As it is ^cwritten in the Prophets:

*“Behold,^d I send My messenger before Your face,
Who will prepare Your way before You.”*

³*“The voice of one crying in the wilderness:*

*‘Prepare the way of the LORD;
Make His paths straight.’ ”*

⁴John came baptizing in the wilderness and preaching a ^ebaptism of ^frepentance for the remission of ^gsins.

⁵Then all the land of Judea, and those from Jerusalem, went out to him and were all baptized by him in the Jordan River, confessing their ^hsins.

⁶Now John was clothed with camel’s hair and with a leather belt around his waist, and he ate locusts and wild honey.

⁷And he preached, saying, “There ⁱcomes One after me who is mightier than I, whose sandal strap I am not worthy to stoop down and loose.

⁸“I indeed baptized you with water, but He will baptize you with the Holy ^jSpirit.”

*Baptism of Jesus
(Matt. 3:13-17; Luke 3:21-22)*

⁹It came to pass in those days that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized by John in the Jordan.

¹⁰And immediately, coming up from* the water, He saw the ^kheavens parting and the Spirit ^ldescending upon Him like a dove.

¹¹Then a voice came from heaven, “You are My ^mbeloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.”

Temptation of Jesus

(Matt. 4:1-11; Luke 4:1-13)

¹²Immediately the Spirit drove Him into the wilderness.

¹³And He was there in the wilderness forty days, ⁿtempted by ^oSatan, and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered to Him.

II. The Work Accomplished by the Servant, 1:14-13:37

*First tour of Galilee
(Matt. 4:12-17; Luke 4:14)*

¹⁴Now after John was put in prison, Jesus came to Galilee, preaching the ^pgospel of the ^qkingdom* of God, ¹⁵and saying, “The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is ^rat hand. Repent, and believe in the gospel.”

*Jesus’ first disciples
(Matt. 4:18-22; Luke 5:1-11;
cp. John 1:35-49)*

¹⁶And as He walked by the Sea of Galilee, He saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea; for they were fishermen.

¹⁷Then Jesus said to them, “Follow Me, and I will make you become ^sfishers of men.”

¹⁸They immediately ^tleft their nets and followed Him.

¹⁹When He had gone a little farther from there, He saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending their nets.

²⁰And immediately He called them, and they ^uleft their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after Him.

Jesus casts out demons at Capernaum (Luke 4:31-37)

²¹Then they went into Capernaum, and immediately on the Sabbath He entered the ^vsynagogue and taught.

²²And they were ^wastonished at His teaching, for He taught them as one having authority, and not as the ^ascribes.

²³Now there was a man in their synagogue with an ^bunclean spirit. And he cried out, ²⁴saying, "Let us alone! ^cWhat have we to do with You, Jesus of Nazareth? Did You come to destroy us? I ^dknow who You are—the ^eHoly One of God!"

²⁵But Jesus rebuked him, saying, "Be quiet, and come out of him!"

²⁶And when the unclean spirit had convulsed him and cried out with a loud voice, he ^fcame out of him.

²⁷Then they were all amazed, so that they questioned among themselves, saying, "What is this? What new doctrine is this? For with authority* He commands even the unclean spirits, and they obey Him."

²⁸And immediately His ^gfame spread throughout all the region around Galilee.

Peter's mother-in-law healed
(Matt. 8:14-15; Luke 4:38-39)

²⁹Now as soon as they had come out of the synagogue, they entered the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

³⁰But Simon's wife's mother lay sick with a fever, and they told Him about her at once.

³¹So He came and took her by the hand and lifted her up, and immediately the fever left her. And she served them.

Further healing and preaching
(Matt. 8:16-17; Luke 4:40-44)

³²At evening, when the sun had set, they brought to Him ^hall who were sick and those who were ⁱdemon-possessed.

³³And the whole city was gathered together at the door.

³⁴Then He healed many who were sick with various diseases, and ^kcast out many ^ldemons; and He ^mdid not allow the demons to speak, because they knew Him.

³⁵Now in the morning, having risen a long while before daylight, He went out and departed to a solitary place; and there He ⁿprayed.

³⁶And Simon and those who were with Him searched for Him.

³⁷When they found Him, they said to Him, ^o"Everyone is ^plooking for You."

³⁸But He said to them, "Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also, because ^qfor this purpose I have come forth."

³⁹And He was ^rpreaching in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and ^scasting out ^tdemons.

A leper healed

(Matt. 8:2-4; Luke 5:12-14)

⁴⁰Now a ^aleper came to Him, imploring Him, kneeling down to Him and saying to Him, “If You are willing, You ^bcan make me clean.”

⁴¹Then Jesus, moved with ^ccom-passion, stretched out His hand and touched him, and said to him, “I am willing; be cleansed.”

⁴²As soon as He had spoken, ^dim-mediately the leprosy ^eleft him, and he was cleansed.

⁴³And He strictly warned him and sent him away at once,

⁴⁴and said to him, “See that you say nothing to anyone; but go your way, show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing ^fthose things which ^gMoses ^hcommanded, as a testimony to them.”

⁴⁵However, he went out and began to proclaim it freely, and to spread the matter, so that Jesus could no longer openly enter the city, but was outside in deserted places; and they came to Him from every direction.

A paralytic man healed

(Matt. 9:1-8; Luke 5:17-26)

2 AND again He entered Capernaum after some days, and it was heard that He was in the house.

²Immediately* many gathered together, so that there was no longer room to receive them, not even near the door. And He ⁱpreached the word to them.

³Then they came to Him, bringing a ^jparalytic who was carried by four men.

⁴And when they could not come near Him because of the crowd, they uncovered the roof where He was. So when they had broken through, they let down the bed on which the paralytic was lying.

⁵When Jesus saw their ^kfaith, He said to the paralytic, “Son, your ^lsins are ^mforgiven you.”

⁶And some of the ⁿscribes were sitting there and reasoning in their hearts,

⁷“Why does this Man speak blas-phemies like this? Who can ^oforgive sins but God alone?”

⁸But immediately, when Jesus perceived in His spirit that they reasoned thus within themselves, He said to them, “Why do you reason about these things in your hearts?”

⁹“Which is easier, to say to the paralytic, ‘Your sins are forgiven you,’ or to say, ‘Arise, take up your bed and walk’?”

¹⁰“But that you may know that the ^pSon of Man has power on earth to forgive sins”—He said to the paralytic,

¹¹“I say to you, arise, take up your bed, and go to your house.”

¹²Immediately he ^qarose, took up the bed, and went out in the presence of them all, so that all were amazed and ^rglorified God, saying, “We never saw anything like this!”

Call of Levi (Matthew)

(Matt. 9:9-15; Luke 5:27-35)

¹³Then He went out again by the sea; and all the multitude came to Him, and He taught them.

¹⁴As He passed by, He saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax office. And He said to him, ^s“Follow Me.” So he arose and ^tfollowed Him.

¹⁵Now it happened, as He was dining in Levi’s house, that many tax collectors and ^usinners also sat together with Jesus and His disciples; for there were many, and they followed Him.

¹⁶And when the ^vscribes and* Pharisees saw Him eating with the tax collectors and sinners, they said to His disciples, “How is it that He eats and drinks with tax collectors and sinners?”

¹⁷When Jesus heard it, He said to them, “Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. I did not come to call the ^wrighteous, but sinners, to ^xrepentance.”*

¹⁸The disciples of John and of the ^yPharisees were fasting. Then they came and said to Him, “Why do the ²³Now it happened that He went through the grainfields on the ^dSabbath; and as they went His disciples began to ^epluck the heads of grain.

²⁴And the ^fPharisees said to Him, "Look, why do they do what is ^gnot lawful on the Sabbath?"

²⁵But He said to them, "Have you never read ^hwhat David did when he was in need and hungry, he and those with him:

²⁶"how he went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and ⁱate the ^jshowbread, which is not lawful to eat except for the priests, and also gave some to those who were with him?"

²So they ^mwatched Him closely, whether He would ⁿheal him on the ^oSabbath, so that they might accuse Him.

³And He said to the man who had the withered hand, "Step forward."

⁴Then He said to them, "Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do evil, to save life or to kill?" But they kept silent.

⁵And when He had looked around at them with anger, being grieved by the ^phardness of their hearts, He said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." And he stretched it out, and his hand was ^qrestored as whole as the other.*

Many others healed
(Matt. 12:15-16; Luke 6:17-19)

⁶Then the ^rPharisees went out and immediately plotted with the ^sHerodians against Him, how they might destroy Him.

⁷But Jesus withdrew with His disciples to the sea. And a great multitude from Galilee followed Him, and from Judea ⁸and Jerusalem and Idumea and beyond the Jordan; and those from Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they heard how many things He was doing, came to Him.

⁹So He told His disciples that a small boat should be kept ready for Him because of the multitude, lest they should crush Him.

¹⁰For He healed ^tmany, so that as many as had afflictions pressed about Him to ^utouch Him.

¹¹And the unclean spirits, whenever they saw Him, fell down before Him and cried out, ^vsaying, "You are the ^wSon of God."

¹²But He sternly ^xwarned them that they should not make Him known.

RELIGIOUS SECTS IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

The Pharisees

This pious religious group consisted of about 6,000 members during the time of Christ. They had two practical obligations: 1) to observe with great strictness all the ordinances concerning ceremonial purity; 2) to be most scrupulous in the payment of tithes and other religious dues. They carefully relied on the oral traditions of the rabbis as well as the Scripture itself to help them interpret their responsibilities. Sometimes they even held tradition above the actual Law. Their insincerity regarding both purity and tithing was rebuked by Christ.

In doctrinal beliefs, the Pharisees strongly opposed the Sadducees. They believed in the existence of angels and spirits; expected the resurrection of the dead and a future of reward or penalty; and emphasized God’s sovereign will to the point of fatalism. They cherished the old theocratic idea, and were naturally opposed to the Herodian and Roman powers. But they were primarily a religious organization, not a political one.

The bad side of the later Pharisees is prominent in the gospel history, but its good side should not be overlooked. The names of Hillel, his grandson Gamaliel (Acts 5:34) and Paul (Acts 22:3; 23:6; 26:5; Phil.3:5) all of whom were Pharisees, attests to the fact that this group wanted what was best for the nation, although it sheltered too much of what was false and bad.

The Sadducees

This religious group was strongly opposed to the Pharisees. The Sadducees adhered to a strict literalism of interpretation and application of the Law. They set aside the authority of tradition in favor of the letter of the Law and went on to deny all that Scripture does not plainly and literally teach. They did not believe in rewards and punishments, the resurrection of the dead or in any angels or spirits. They firmly believed in the free will of man. These doctrinal differences led to many disagreements with the Pharisees.

Although this group was small in number they were highly influential; their members were wealthy and held high positions in society. In the days of the apostles the high priest and his party were of this sect (Acts 4:1; 5:17). They were less prominent than the Pharisees in their opposition to Christ, though the two sects are both named as trying to entrap Jesus with questions (Matthew 16:1; 22:34). Christ also warned His disciples of them (Matthew 16:6). After Christ’s death and resurrection, when it became clear that the doctrine of the new church was Christ being raised from the dead, the opposition of the Sadducees became more pronounced (Acts 4:1,2; 5:17; 23:6–10).

The Essenes

This religious group believed in striving after purity and sharing all possessions. In their rigorous observance of the Sabbath and reverence for the Law they were similar to the Pharisees; in fact, some have described them as exaggerated Pharisees. But the Essenes sought an absolute purity—a freedom from the pollution that comes from being in contact with material things, in order that the spirit might find a freer and larger fellowship with the Divine. Thus they lived a life separate from the world: their settlements were in the country districts, they lived extremely simply, sharing all that they had. They lived highly disciplined lives governed by rigid rules and regulations; they were prone to secrecy and seclusion. Much of their distinctive doctrine reappears in the later Gnostic heresies.

down from Jerusalem said, “He has Beelzebul,” and, “By the ^aruler of the ^bdemons He casts out demons.”

²³So He called them to Himself and said to them in ^cparables: “How can ^dSatan cast out Satan?

²⁴“If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

²⁵“And if a house is divided against itself, that house ^ecannot stand.

²⁶“And if ^fSatan has risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but has an end.

²⁷“No one can ^genter a strong man’s house and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man. And then he will plunder his house.

²⁸“Assuredly, I say to you, all ^hsins will be ⁱforgiven the sons of men, and whatever blasphemies they may utter;

²⁹“but he who blasphemes against the Holy ^jSpirit never has forgiveness, but is subject to eternal condemnation”—

³⁰because they ^ksaid, “He has an unclean spirit.”

*The new relationships
(Matt. 12:46–50; Luke 8:19–21)*

³¹Then His brothers and His mother came, and standing outside they sent to Him, calling Him.

³²And a multitude was sitting around Him; and they said to Him, “Look, Your mother and Your brothers* are outside seeking You.”

³³But He answered them, saying, “Who is My mother, or My brothers?”

³⁴And He looked around in a circle at those who sat about Him, and said, “Here are My mother and My ^lbrothers!

³⁵“For whoever does the ^mwill of God is My brother and My sister and mother.”

The parable of the sower and the soils (Matt. 13:1–17; Luke 8:4–10)

4 AND again He began to teach by the sea. And a great multitude was gathered to Him, so that He got into a boat and sat in it on the sea; and the whole multitude was on the land facing the sea.

²Then He taught them many things by ⁿparables, and said to them in His teaching:

³“Listen! Behold, a sower went out to sow.

⁴“And it happened, as he sowed, that some seed fell by the ^owayside; and the birds of the air came and devoured it.*

⁵“Some fell on ^pstony ground, where it did not have much earth; and immediately it sprang up because it had no depth of earth.

⁶“But when the sun was up it was scorched, and because it had ^qno root it withered away.

⁷“And some seed fell among thorns; and the ^rthorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no crop.

⁸“But other seed fell on ^sgood ground and yielded a crop that sprang up, increased and produced: some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some a hundred.”

⁹And He said to them, * “He who has ears to hear, let him hear!”

¹⁰But when He was alone, those around Him with the twelve asked Him about the parable.

¹¹And He said to them, “To you it has been given to ^tknow the mystery of the ^ukingdom of God; but to those who are outside, all things come in parables, ¹²“so that

*‘Seeing they may see and not perceive,
And hearing they may hear and

Lest they should ^vturn,
And their sins be ^wforgiven
them.’

 22 "For there is nothing hidden which will not be ^lrevealed, nor has anything been kept secret but that it should come to light.

 25 "For whoever ^ohas, to him more will be given; but whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him."
4:26

 26 And He said, ^p"The ^okingdom of God is as if a man should scatter ^qseed on the ground, 27 "and should sleep by night and

 31 "It is like a mustard seed which, when it is sown on the ground, is smaller than all the seeds on earth;
 32 "but when it is sown, it grows up and ^vbecomes greater than all herbs, and shoots out large branches, so that the ^wbirds of the air may nest under its shade."
 33 And with many such ^xparables He spoke the word to them as they were ^yable to hear it.
 34 But without a parable He did not speak to them. And when they were alone, He ^zexplained all things to His disciples.

 36 Now when they had left the multitude, they took Him along in the boat as He was. And other little boats were also with Him.
 37 And a ^{ab}great windstorm arose, and the waves beat into the boat, so that it was already filling.
 38 But He was in the stern, asleep on a pillow. And they awoke Him and said to Him, ^{bb}"Teacher, ^{cc}do You not care that we are perishing?"
 39 Then He arose and ^{dd}rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, ^{ee}"Peace, be still!" And the wind ^{ff}ceased and there was a great calm.

Jesus casts out demons at Gadara (Matt. 8:28–34; Luke 8:26–39)

5 THEN they came to the other side of the sea, to the country of the Gadarenes.*

²And when He had come out of the boat, immediately there met Him out of the tombs a man with an ^bunclean spirit,

³who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no one could bind him,^c not even with chains, ⁴because he had often been bound with shackles and chains. And the chains had been pulled apart by him, and the shackles broken in pieces; neither could anyone tame him.

⁵And always, night and day, he was in the mountains and in the tombs, crying out and cutting himself with stones.

⁶When he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and worshiped Him.

⁷And he cried out with a loud voice and said, “What have I to do with You, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I ^cimplore You by God that You do not torment me.”

⁸For He said to him, a*“Come out of the man, unclean spirit!”

⁹Then He asked him, b*“What is your name?” And he answered, saying, “My name is ^eLegion; for we are many.”

¹⁰Also he begged Him earnestly that He would not send them out of the country.

¹¹Now a large herd of ^fswine was feeding there near the mountains.

¹²So all the ^gdemons begged Him, saying, “Send us to the swine, that we may enter them.”

¹³And at once Jesus* ^hgave them permission. Then the unclean spirits ⁱwent out and entered the swine (there were about two thousand); and the herd ran violently down the steep place into the sea, and drowned in the sea.

¹⁴So those who fed the swine ^jfled, and they told it in the city and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that had happened.

¹⁵Then they came to Jesus, and saw the one who had been ^kdemon-possessed and had the legion, ^lsitting and ^mclothed and in his right mind. And they were afraid.

¹⁶And those who saw it told them how it happened to him who had been demon-possessed, and about the swine.

¹⁷Then they began to plead with Him to ⁿdepart from their region.

¹⁸And when He got into the boat, he who had been demon-possessed begged Him that he might be with Him.

¹⁹However, Jesus did not permit him, but said to him, o*“Go home to your friends, and tell them what great things the Lord has done for you, and how He has had compassion on you.”

²⁰And he departed and began to ^oproclaim in Decapolis all that Jesus had done for him; and all ^pmarveled.

Two miracles of healing (Matt. 9:18–26; Luke 8:40–56)

²¹Now when Jesus had crossed over again by boat to the other side, a great multitude gathered to Him; and He was by the sea.

²²And behold, one of the ^qrulers of the synagogue came, Jairus by name. And when he saw Him, he fell at His feet

²³and ^rbegged Him earnestly, saying, “My little daughter lies at the point of death. Come and ^slay Your hands on her, that she may be healed, and she will live.”

²⁴So Jesus went with him, and a great multitude followed Him and threatened Him.

²⁵Now a certain woman had a ^tflow of blood for ^utwelve years, ²⁶and had suffered many things from many physicians. She had spent all that she had and was no better, but rather grew worse.

²⁷When she heard about Jesus, she came behind Him in the crowd and ^vtouch His garment.

³¹But His disciples said to Him, "You see the multitude thronging You, and You say, 'Who touched Me?'"

³²And He looked around to see her who had done this thing.

³³But the woman, ^cfearing and trembling, knowing what had happened to her, came and fell down before Him and told Him the whole truth.

³⁴And He said to her, "Daughter, your ^dfaith has made you well. ^eGo in peace, and be healed of your affliction."

³⁵While He was still speaking, some came from the ruler of the synagogue's house who said, "Your daughter is dead. Why trouble the Teacher any further?"

³⁶As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, He said to the ruler of the synagogue, "Do not be afraid; only /believe."

³⁷And He permitted no one to follow Him except Peter, James, and John the brother of James.

³⁸Then He came to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and saw a tumult and those who ^gwept and ^hwailed loudly.

³⁹When He came in, He said to them, "Why make this commotion and weep? The child is ⁱnot dead, but ^jsleeping." ⁴⁰And they ridiculed Him. But when He had put them all outside, He took the father and the mother of the child, and those who were with Him, and entered where the child was lying.

⁴¹Then He took the child by the hand, and said to her, "Talitha, cumi," which is translated, "Little girl, I say to you, arise."

⁴²Immediately the girl ^karose and walked, for she was twelve years of age. And they were ^lovercome with great amazement.

⁴³But He commanded them strictly that ^mno one should know it, and said that something should be given her to eat.

6 THEN He went out from there and came to His own country, and His disciples followed Him.

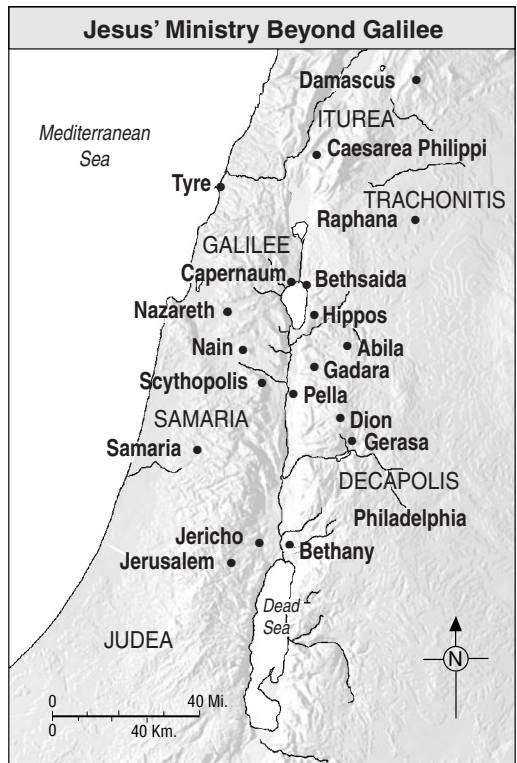

²And when the ⁿSabbath had come, He began to teach in the synagogue. And many hearing Him were ^oastonished, saying, "Where did this Man get these things? And what wisdom is this which is given to Him, that such mighty works are performed by His hands!"

³"Is this not the carpenter, the Son of Mary, and brother of James, Joses, Judas, and Simon? And are not His sisters here with us?" So they were ^poffended at Him.

⁵Now He could do no mighty work there, except that He laid His hands on a few sick people and ^ahealed them.

⁶And He marveled because of their ^bunbelief. Then He went about the villages in a circuit, ^cteaching.

The twelve sent forth to preach and heal (Matt. 10:1–42; Luke 9:1–6)

⁷And He called the twelve to Himself, and began to ^dsend them out ^etwo by two, and gave them power over unclean spirits.

⁸He commanded them to take nothing for the journey except a staff—^fno ^gbag, no bread, no ^hcopper in their money belts—

⁹but to ⁱwear sandals, and not to put on two tunics.

¹⁰Also He said to them, “In whatever place you enter a house, stay there till you depart from that place.

¹¹“And whoever* will not receive you nor hear you, when you depart

Murder of John the Baptist (Matt. 14:1–14; Luke 9:7–9)

¹⁴Now King Herod heard of Him, for His name had become well known. And he said, “John the Baptist is risen from the dead, and therefore these powers are at work in him.”

¹⁵Others ^osaid, “It is Elijah.” And others said, “It is the ^pProphet, or* like one of the prophets.”

¹⁶But when Herod heard, he said, “This is John, whom I beheaded; he has been raised from the dead!”

¹⁷For Herod himself had sent and laid hold of John, and bound him in prison for the sake of ^qHerodias, his brother ^rPhilip’s wife; for he had married her.

¹⁸Because John had ^ssaid to Herod, “It is not ^tlawful for you to have your brother’s wife.”

¹⁹Therefore Herodias held it against him and wanted to kill him, but she could not;

²⁰for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a ^ujust and ^vholy man, and he protected him. And when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

²¹Then an opportune day came when Herod on his birthday gave a feast for his nobles, the high officers, and the chief men of Galilee.

²²And when Herodias’ daughter herself came in and danced, and pleased Herod and those who sat with him, the king said to the girl,

6:14 THE HERODIAN FAMILY

The Herodian family is important in NT history. In addition to the father, Herod the Great, and his son and successor, Archelaus (see Matt. 2:1, note), three other sons are named in the NT: (1) Herod Antipas (mentioned here, v. 14ff.; Matt. 14:1; Luke 3:1), tetrarch of Galilee and Perea (4 B.C. until banished, A.D. 39). (2) Herod Philip (Boëthos), mentioned here as Philip (v. 17; Matt. 14:3; Luke 3:19). (3) Another Herod Philip (Luke 3:1), tetrarch of territory east of Jordan (4 B.C.—A.D. 33).

Two children of another son of Herod the Great, Aristobulus (a son not included in the NT), are also named: Herodias (mentioned here, v. 17ff.; Matt. 14:3) and Herod Agrippa I (Acts 12:1,6,18–24).

It was Herodias, who had been married to her uncle, Herod Philip (Boëthos) but left him to live with another uncle, Herod Antipas, whom John the Baptist rebuked (vv. 14–29; Matt. 14:1–14). Herodias’ daughter is not named in the NT. She is mentioned only as “Herodias’ daughter” (v. 22ff.; Matt. 14:6–11), but from other sources it is known that her name was Salome, whose first husband was her great uncle (the Philip of Luke 3:1).

Others of the Herodian family named in the NT are three children of Herod Agrippa I: (1) Herod Agrippa II (Acts 25:13ff.; 26:1,2,27–32); (2) Drusilla (Acts 24:24); and (3) Bernice (Acts 25:13; 26:30).

Thus it will be observed that two or more names of each of three successive generations after Herod the Great are mentioned in the NT.

“Ask me whatever you want, and I will give it to you.”

²³He also swore to her, “Whatever you ask me, I will give you, ^aup to half my kingdom.”

²⁴So she went out and said to her mother, “What shall I ask?” And she said, “The head of John the Baptist!”

²⁵Immediately she came in with haste to the king and asked, saying, “I want you to give me at once the head of John the Baptist on a platter.”

²⁶And the king was exceedingly sorry; yet, because of the oaths and because of those who sat with him, he did not want to refuse her.

²⁷Immediately the king sent an executioner and commanded his head to be brought. And he went and beheaded him in prison, ²⁸brought his head on a platter, and gave it to the girl; and the girl gave it to her mother.

²⁹When his disciples heard of it, they came and ^btook away his corpse and laid it in a tomb.

³³But the multitudes* saw them departing, and many ^bknew Him and ran there on foot from all the cities. They arrived before them and came together to Him.

³⁴And Jesus, when He came out, saw a great multitude and was moved with ^ccompassion for them, because they were like ^dsheep not having a shepherd. So He began to ^eteach them many things.

³⁵When the day was now far spent, His disciples came to Him and said, “This is a deserted place, and already the hour is late.

³⁶“Send them away, that they may go into the surrounding country and villages and buy themselves bread;* for they have nothing to eat.”

³⁷But He answered and said to them, “You give them something to eat.” And they said to Him, ^f“Shall we go and buy two hundred ^gdenarii worth of bread and give them something to eat?”

³⁸But He said to them, h“How many loaves do you have? Go and see.” And when they found out they said, ⁱ“Five, and two fish.”

God's commandments versus man's traditions (Matt. 15:1-9)

7 THEN the ^ePharisees and some of the scribes came together to Him, having come from Jerusalem.

²Now when* they saw some of His disciples eat bread with defiled, that is, with ^funwashed hands, they ^gfound fault.

³For the Pharisees and all the Jews do not eat unless they wash ^htheir hands in a special way, holding the ⁱtradition of the elders.

⁴When they come from the marketplace, they do not eat unless they wash. And there are many other things which they have received and hold, ^{like} the washing of cups, pitchers, copper vessels, and couches.

⁵Then the Pharisees and scribes asked Him, "Why do Your disciples not walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashed hands?"

⁶He answered and said to them, "Well did Isaiah prophesy of you ^{hypocrites}, as it is ^jwritten:

'This people honors Me with their lips, But their heart is far from Me. And in vain they worship Me, Teaching ^kas doctrines the commandments of men.'

⁸"For laying aside the ^lcommandment of God, you hold the tradition of men^m—the washing of pitchers and cups, and many other such things you do."

⁹He said to them, "All too well you ^mreject the commandment of God, that you may keep your tradition.

¹⁰"For Moses ⁿsaid, 'Honor your father and your mother'; and, 'He who curses father or mother, let him ^obe put to death.'

¹¹"But you say, 'If a man says to his father or mother, "Whatever profit you might have received from me ^{is} Corban"—' (that is, a gift to God), ¹²"then you no longer let him do anything ^pfor his father or his mother,

¹³"making the word of God of no effect through your tradition which you have handed down. And many such things you do."

Diagnosis of the heart of man (Matt. 15:10-20)

¹⁴When He had called all the multitude to ^{Himself}, He said to them, "Hear Me, everyone, and ^qunderstand:

¹⁵"There is nothing that ^renters a man from outside which can defile him; but the things which ^scome out of him, those are the things that ^tdefile a man.

¹⁶"If anyone has ears to ^uhear, let him hear!"

¹⁷When He had entered a house away from the crowd, His disciples asked Him concerning the parable.

¹⁸So He said to them, ^v"Are you thus without understanding also? Do you not perceive that whatever enters a man from outside cannot defile him,

¹⁹"because it does not enter his heart but his ^wstomach, and is eliminated, ^{thus} purifying all foods?"

²⁰And He said, ^x"What comes out of a man, that defiles a man.

Jesus and the Syro-Phoenician woman
(Matt. 15:21-28)

²⁴From there He arose and went to the region of Tyre and Sidon.* And He entered a house and wanted no one to know it, but He could not be ^khidden.

²⁵For a woman whose young daughter had an unclean spirit heard about Him, and she came and ^lfell at His feet.

²⁶The woman was a Greek, a Syro-Phoenician by birth, and she kept ^masking Him to cast the ⁿdemon out of her daughter.

²⁷But Jesus said to her, “Let the children be filled first, for it is not good to take the children’s bread and throw it to the little dogs.”

²⁸And she answered and said to Him, “Yes, Lord, yet even the little dogs under the table eat from the children’s crumbs.”

²⁹Then He said to her, ^o“For this saying go your way; the ^pdemon has gone out of your daughter.”

³⁰And when she had come to her house, she found the demon ^qgone out, and her daughter lying on the bed.

Further healing
(Matt. 15:29-31)

³¹Again, departing from the region of Tyre and Sidon, He came through the midst of the region of Decapolis to the Sea of Galilee.

³²Then they brought to Him one who was deaf and had an impediment in his speech, and they begged Him to put His hand on him.

³³And He took him ^raside from the multitude, and put His fingers in his ears, and He ^sspat and touched his tongue.

³⁴Then, ^tlooking up to heaven, He ^usighed, and said to him, “Ephphatha,” that is, ^v“Be opened.”

³⁵^wImmediately his ears were opened, and the impediment of his tongue was loosed, and he spoke plainly.

³⁶Then He commanded them that they should tell no one; but the more He commanded them, the more widely they proclaimed it.

³⁷And they were ^xastonished beyond measure, saying, “He has done all things well. He ^ymakes both the deaf to hear and the mute to speak.”

Four thousand fed (Matt. 15:32-39)

8IN those days, the multitude being very great and having ^znothing to eat, Jesus called His disciples ^zto Him and said to them,

²“I have ^{aa}compassion on the multitude, because they have now continued with Me three days and have nothing to eat.

³“And if I send them away hungry to their own houses, they will faint on the way; for some of them have come from afar.”

⁴Then His disciples answered Him, ^{bb}“How can one satisfy these people with bread here in the wilderness?”

⁵He asked them, “How many ^{cc}loaves do you have?” And they said, “Seven.”

⁶So He commanded the multitude to ^{dd}sit down on the ground. And He took the seven loaves and gave thanks, broke them and gave them to His disciples to set before them; and they set them before the multitude.

⁷They also had a ^{ee}few small fish; and having blessed them, He said to set them also before them.

⁸So they ate and ^{ff}were ^{gg}filled, and they took up seven large baskets of ^{hh}leftover fragments.

⁹Now those who had eaten were about four thousand. And He sent them away,

7:21 Here in vv. 21-23 the Lord Jesus presents, in their logical order, the three forms in which sin appears: (1) in human nature—“out of the heart of men”; (2) in the human mind—“evil thoughts”; and (3) in human action—“adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts,” etc.

Symbol of leaven explained
(Matt. 16:1-12)

¹⁰immediately got into the boat with His disciples, and came to the region of Dalmanutha.

¹¹Then the ^aPharisees came out and began to ^bdispute with Him, seeking from Him a ^csign from heaven, ^dtesting Him.

¹²But He ^esighed deeply in His spirit, and said, “Why does this generation seek a sign? Assuredly, I say to you, ^fno sign shall be given to this generation.”

¹³And He left them, and getting into the boat again, departed to the other side.

¹⁴Now the disciples* had forgotten to take bread, and they did not have more than one loaf with them in the boat.

¹⁵Then He charged them, saying, “Take heed, ^gbeware of the ^hleaven of the ⁱPharisees and the leaven of Herod.”

¹⁶And they reasoned among themselves, saying, “It is because we have no bread.”

¹⁷But Jesus, being aware of it, said to them, “Why do you reason because you have no bread? ^jDo you not yet perceive nor understand? Is your heart still* hardened?

¹⁸“Having eyes, do you not see? And having ears, do you not hear? And do you not ^kremember?

¹⁹“When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments did you take up?” They said to Him, ^l“Twelve.”

²⁰“Also, when I broke the seven for the four thousand, how many large baskets full of fragments did you take up?” And they said, ^m“Seven.”

²¹So He said to them, “How is ⁿit you do not ⁿunderstand?”

Blind man healed

²²Then He came to Bethsaida; and they brought a ^oblind man to Him, and begged Him to ^ptouch him.

²³So He took the blind man by the hand and led him out of the town. And when He had ^qspit on his eyes and put His hands on him, He asked him if he saw anything.

²⁴And he looked up and said, “I ^rsee men like trees, walking.”

²⁵Then He put His hands on his eyes ^sagain and made him look up. And he was ^trestored and saw everyone ^uclearly.

²⁶Then He sent him away to his house, saying, “Neither go into the town, ^vnor tell anyone in the town.”*

³²He spoke this word openly. Then Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him.

³³But when He had turned around and looked at His disciples, He ^arebuked Peter, saying, “Get behind Me, ^bSatan! For you are not ^cmindful of the things of God, but the ^d“things of men.”

Cost of discipleship

(Matt. 16:24–27; Luke 9:23–26)

³⁴When He had called the people to Himself, with His disciples also, He said to them, ^e“Whoever desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me.

³⁵f“For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake and the ^ggospel’s will save it.

³⁶h“For what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world, and loses his own soul?

³⁷i“Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul?

³⁸j“For whoever is ^kashamed of Me and My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him the Son of Man also will be ^lashamed when He ^mcomes in the glory of His Father with the ⁿholy ^oangels.”

The transfiguration

(Matt. 17:1–8; Luke 9:28–36)

9AND He said to them, “Assuredly, I say to you that there are some standing here who will not taste death till they ^psee the ^qkingdom of God present with power.”

²Now after six days Jesus took Peter, James, and John, and led them up on a high mountain apart by themselves; and He was ^rtransfigured before them.

³His clothes became shining, exceedingly ^swhite, like snow, such as no launderer on earth can whiten them.

⁴And Elijah ^tappeared to them with Moses, and ^uthey were talking with Jesus.

⁵Then Peter answered and said to Jesus, “Rabbi, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles: one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah” —

⁶because he did not know what to say, for they were greatly afraid.

⁷And a ^vcloud came and overshadowed them; and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is ^wMy beloved Son. ^x“Hear Him!”

⁸Suddenly, when they had looked around, they saw no one anymore, but ^yonly Jesus with themselves.

⁹Now as they came down from the mountain, He commanded them that they should tell no one the things they had seen, till the ^zSon of Man had risen from the dead.

¹⁰So they kept this word to themselves, questioning ^{aa}what the rising from the dead meant.

¹¹And they asked Him, saying, “Why do the ^{ab}scribes say that ^{ac}Elijah must come first?”

¹²Then He answered and told them, “Indeed, Elijah is coming first and restores all things. And how is it ^{ad}written concerning the Son of Man, that He must suffer many things and be ^{ae}treated with contempt?

¹³“But I say to you that Elijah has also come, and they did to him whatever they wished, as it is written of him.”

The powerless disciples: the mighty Christ

(Matt. 17:14–21; Luke 9:37–42)

¹⁴And when He came to the disciples, He saw a great multitude around them, and scribes disputing with them.

¹⁵Immediately, when they saw Him, all the people were greatly amazed, and running to ^{af}Him, greeted Him.

¹⁶And He asked the scribes, “What are you discussing with them?”

¹⁸"And wherever it seizes him, it throws him down; he foams at the mouth, gnashes his teeth, and becomes rigid. So I spoke to Your disciples, that they should cast it out, but they could ^anot."

¹⁹He answered him and said, "O ^bfaithless generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you? Bring him to Me."

²⁰Then they brought him to Him. And when he saw Him, immediately the ^cspirit convulsed him, and he fell on the ground and wallowed, foaming at the mouth.

²¹So He asked his father, "How long has this been happening to him?" And he said, "From childhood.

²²"And often he has thrown him both into the fire and into the water to destroy him. But if You can do anything, have compassion on us and help us."

²³Jesus said to him, "^dIf you can believe,* all things are possible to him who believes."

²⁴Immediately the father of the child cried out and said with tears, "^eLord, I believe; ^ghelp my unbelief!"

²⁵When Jesus saw that the people came running together, He ^hrebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it: "ⁱDeaf and dumb spirit, I command you, come out of him and enter him no more!"

²⁶Then the spirit cried out, convulsed him greatly, and came out of him. And he became as one dead, so that many said, "He is dead."

²⁷But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up, and he ⁱarose.

²⁸And when He had come into the house, His disciples asked Him privately, "Why could we not cast it out?"

²⁹So He said to them, "This kind can come out by nothing but ^jprayer and fasting."*

Jesus foretells His death and resurrection

(Matt. 17:22-23; Luke 9:43-45)

³⁰Then they departed from there and passed through Galilee, and He did not want anyone to know it.

³¹For He taught His disciples and said to them, "The ^kSon of Man is being ^lbetrayed into the hands of men, and they will ^mkill Him. And after He is killed, He will ⁿrise the third day."

³²But they did ^onot understand this saying, and were afraid to ask Him.

Humility, the secret of greatness
(Matt. 18:1-6; Luke 9:46-48)

³³Then He came to Capernaum. And when He was in the house He asked them, "What was it you ^pdisputed among yourselves on the road?"

³⁴But they kept silent, for on the road they had ^qdisputed among themselves who would be the ^rgreatest.

³⁵And He sat down, called the twelve, and said to them, "If anyone ^sdesires to be ^tfirst, he shall be last of all and ^uservant of all."

³⁶Then He took a little ^vchild and set him in the midst of them. And when He had taken him in His arms, He said to them,

³⁷"Whoever receives one of these little children in My name ^wreceives Me; and whoever receives Me, receives not Me but Him who sent Me."

Sectarianism rebuked (Luke 9:49-50)

³⁸Now John answered Him, saying, "Teacher, we saw someone who does not follow us casting out ^xdemons in Your name, and we forbade him because he does not follow us."

³⁹But Jesus said, "Do not forbid him, for no one who works a miracle in My name can ^ysoon afterward speak evil of Me."

⁴⁰"For he who is not against us ^zis ^{aa}on our ^{ab}side.

⁴¹"For whoever gives you a ^{ac}cup of water to drink in My name, because you belong to Christ, assuredly, I say to you, he will by no means lose his ^{ad}reward.

Jesus' solemn warning of hell

42 “But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to stumble, it would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck, and he were thrown into the sea.

43 “If your ^ahand causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter into life maimed, rather than having two hands, to go to hell, into the fire that shall never be quenched—

44 “where

*‘Their worm does not die,

45 “And if your foot causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life lame, rather than having two feet, to be cast into hell, into the fire that shall never be quenched—

46 “where

*‘Their worm does not die,
And the fire is not quenched.’*”

47 “And if your eye causes you to sin, ^bpluck it out. It is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes, to be cast into hell fire—

48 “where

*‘Their ^cworm does not die,
And the ^dfire is not quenched.’*”

49 “For everyone will be seasoned with ^efire,^{*} and every sacrifice will be ^fseasoned with salt.

50 “Salt is good, but if the salt ^gloses its flavor, how will you season it? Have ^hsalt in yourselves, and have ⁱpeace with one another.”

(Matt. 5:31–32; 19:1–9; Luke 16:18; cp. Rom. 7:1–3; 1 Cor. 7:10–16)*

10 THEN He arose from there and came to the region of Judea by the other side of the Jordan. And multitudes gathered to Him again, and as He was accustomed, He taught them again.

²The ^jPharisees came and asked

Him, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce ^khis wife?” ^ktesting Him.

³And He answered and said to them, “What did Moses ^lcommand you?”

⁴They said, “Moses permitted a man to ^mwrite a certificate of divorce, and to dismiss ⁿher.”

⁵And Jesus answered and said to them, “Because of the hardness of your heart he ^owrote you this precept.

⁶“But from the beginning of the creation, ^oGod ‘made them male and female.’

⁷‘For this reason a man shall ^pleave his father and mother and be joined to his wife,

⁸‘and the two shall become one flesh’; so then they are no longer two, but one flesh.

⁹“Therefore what God has joined together, let not man separate.”

¹⁰In the house His disciples also asked Him again about the same matter.

¹¹So He said to them, “Whoever divorces his wife and marries another commits ^qadultery against her.

¹²“And if a woman divorces her husband and marries another, she commits adultery.”

*Jesus blesses little children
(Matt. 19:13–15; Luke 18:15–17)*

¹³Then they brought little children to Him, that He might touch them; but the disciples rebuked those who brought them.

¹⁴But when Jesus saw it, He was greatly displeased and said to them, “Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the ^rkingdom of God.

¹⁵“Assuredly, I say to you, ^swhoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child will ^tby no means enter it.”

¹⁶And He took them up in His arms, laid His hands on them, and blessed them.

The rich young ruler
 (Matt. 19:16–30; Luke 18:18–30;
 cp. Luke 10:25)

17 Now as He was going out on the road, one came running, knelt before Him, and asked Him, “Good Teacher, what shall I ^ado that I may inherit ^beternal life?”

18 So Jesus said to him, “Why do you call Me good? No one is good but One, that is, ^cGod.

19 “You know the ^dcommandments: ^e ‘Do not commit adultery,’ ‘Do not murder,’ ‘Do not steal,’ ‘Do not bear false witness,’ ^g ‘Do not defraud,’ ‘Honor your father and your mother.’”

20 And he answered and said to Him, “Teacher, all these things I have ^hkept from my youth.”

21 Then Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, “One thing you lack: Go your way, ⁱsell whatever you have and give to the poor, and you will have ^jtreasure in heaven; and come, ^ktake up the cross, and follow Me.”

22 But he was sad at this word, and ^lwent away sorrowful, for he had great possessions.

“With God all things are possible”

23 Then Jesus looked around and said to His disciples, ^m“How hard it is for those who have ⁿriches to enter the ^okingdom of God!”

24 And the disciples were astonished at His words. But Jesus answered again and said to them, “Children, how hard it is for those who ^ptrust in riches* to enter the kingdom of God!

25 “It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a ^qneedle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.”

26 And they were ^rgreatly astonished, saying among themselves, “Who then can be ^ssaved?”

27 But Jesus looked at them and said, “With men it is impossible, but not with God; for with God all things are ^tpossible.”

Faithfulness to the Lord will be rewarded

28 Then Peter began to say to Him, “See, we have ^uleft all and followed You.”

29 So Jesus answered and said, “Assuredly, I say to you, there is no one who has left house or brothers or sisters or father or mother or wife* or children or lands, for My sake and the ^vgospel’s, 30 “who shall not ^wreceive a hundredfold now in this time—houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and lands, with ^xpersecutions—and in the age to come, ^yeternal life.

31 “But many who are ^zfirst will be last, and the last first.”

Jesus again foretells His death and resurrection

(Matt. 20:17–19; Luke 18:31–33)

32 Now they were on the road, going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was going before them; and they were amazed. And as they followed they were afraid. Then He took the twelve aside again and began to ^{aa}tell them the things that would happen to Him:

33 “Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the ^{bb}Son of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and to the ^{cc}scribes; and they will condemn Him to death and deliver Him to the Gentiles;

34 “and they will mock Him, and scourge Him, and spit on Him, and kill Him. And the third day He will rise again.”

10:30 age. The Greek noun aion, here translated “age” (v. 30), has various connotations: a period of time (e.g. the Mosaic age; the Church age) and, in certain contexts eternity or forever. It is also translated “world” (Luke 16:8; Rom. 12:2). However, “world” is normally the translation of the Greek kosmos (see Matt. 4:8 and Rev. 13:8, notes) or of the Greek oikoumenē (see Luke 2:1, note).

Christ's response to request of James and John (Matt. 20:20–28)

³⁵Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came to Him, saying, “Teacher, we want You to do for us whatever we ^aask.”

³⁶And He said to them, “What do you want Me to do for you?”

³⁷They said to Him, “Grant us that we may sit, one on Your right hand and the other on Your left, in Your ^bglory.”

³⁸But Jesus said to them, “You do not know what you ask. Are you able to drink the ^ccup that I drink, and be baptized with the ^dbaptism that I am baptized with?”

³⁹They said to Him, “We are able.” So Jesus said to them, ^e“You will indeed drink the cup that I drink, and with the baptism I am baptized with you will be baptized;

⁴⁰“but to sit on My right hand and on My left is not Mine to give, but it is for those ^ffor whom it is prepared.”

⁴¹And when the ten heard it, they began to be greatly displeased with James and John.

⁴²But Jesus called them to Himself and said to them, “You know that those who are considered rulers over the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.

⁴³“Yet it shall not be so among you; but whoever desires to become great among you shall be your ^gservant.

⁴⁴“And whoever of you desires to be first shall be slave of all.

⁴⁵“For even the ^hSon of Man did not come to be served, but to ⁱserve, and to give His life a ^jransom for many.”

Bartimaeus receives his sight (Matt. 20:29–34; cp. Luke 18:35–43)

⁴⁶Now they came to Jericho. As He went out of Jericho with His disciples and a great multitude, ^kblind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the road begging.

⁴⁷And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out and ‘say, “Jesus, ^mSon of David, ⁿhave mercy on me!”

⁴⁸Then many warned him to be quiet; but he cried out all the more, “Son of David, have mercy on me!”

⁴⁹So Jesus stood still and ^ocommanded him to be called. Then they called the blind man, saying to him, “Be of good cheer. Rise, He is calling you.”

⁵⁰And throwing aside his garment, he rose and came to Jesus.

⁵¹So Jesus answered and said to him, “What do you want Me to do for you?” The blind man said to Him, “Rabboni, that I may ^preceive my sight.”

⁵²Then Jesus said to him, “Go your way; your ^qfaith has made you well.” And immediately he ^rreceived his sight and followed Jesus on the road.

The triumphal entry of Jesus (Matt. 21:1–9; Luke 19:28–38; John 12:12–18; cp. Zech. 9:9)

11 NOW when they drew near Jerusalem, to Bethphage* and ^sBethany, at the ^tMount of Olives, He sent two of His disciples;

²and He said to them, “Go into the village opposite you; and as soon as you have entered it you will find a colt tied, on which no one has sat. Loose it and bring it.

³“And if anyone says to you, ‘Why are you doing this?’ say, ‘The ^uLord has need of it,’ and immediately he will send it here.”

⁴So they went their way, and found the ^vcolt tied by the door outside on the street, and they loosed it.

⁵But some of those who stood there said to them, “What are you doing, loosing the colt?”

12:1 This parable (vv. 1–9), addressed to the religious leaders of Israel—the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders” (11:27)—illustrates God’s dealings with the nation and their rejection of His proffered love and of their responsibilities to Him. The “man” (v. 1) is God Himself; the vineyard is Israel (v. 1; compare Is. 5:1–7); the servants (vv. 2–5) are the OT prophets and John the Baptist; the “son, his beloved” whom they killed (vv. 6–8), is Jesus Himself (compare Heb.

1:1–3); and the destruction of the vinedressers (v. 9) is a prediction regarding Jerusalem’s fall in A.D. 70 (compare Luke 21:20–24). That the chief priests, the scribes, and elders recognized that it was they of whom Christ spoke is recorded in v. 12. The words of the Lord discovered and laid bare the thoughts and intents of their hearts (compare Heb. 4:12).

²²“So the seven had her and left no offspring. Last of all the woman died also.

²³“Therefore, in the resurrection, when they rise, whose wife will she be? For all seven had her as wife.”

²⁴Jesus answered and said to them, “Are you not therefore mistaken, because you do not know the Scriptures nor the power of God?”

POLITICAL PARTIES IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

The Herodians

A political party of Jews who supported the dynasty of Herod and the rule of Rome. They are only mentioned three times in Scripture (Matt. 22:16; Mark 3:6; 12:13). They were lax in morals and in religious observance and thus were detested by the Pharisees. However, the two opposing groups joined together to destroy Jesus and to try to trick Him, once they realized that Jesus was their common foe.

The Zealots

A Jewish political party formed to resist Roman rule and aggression. The Zealots resorted to violence and assassination in attacking the Romans they so hated. They were fanatics in their fight against Roman authority; it is from this zeal their name is derived. One of the apostles, Simon, is surnamed the Zealot in Luke 6:15; Acts 1:13.

The Galileans

These people were natives of Galilee and were looked down upon by the southern Jews as an ignorant and rustic group of folks. They were a people of passionate and excitable temperament, a spirit which united them with the Zealots. Their lawless spirit and extreme resistance to being taxed by the Romans was a source of constant anxiety to the Roman authorities. Eventually the name Galilean became synonymous with lawlessness and violence and it was intentionally brought up at Jesus’ trial to arouse prejudice against Christ, when it was pointed out that He was from Galilee.

The Assassins

This group was a secret society well known in Rome during the last troubled years of the Republic. With dagger concealed beneath the cloak they secretly murdered their own or their patrons’ enemies, generally escaping detection by the swiftness of the attack and their quick mingling with the horror-stricken crowd. They are mentioned in Acts 21:38.

together, perceiving* that He had answered them well, asked Him, “Which is the first commandment of all?”

²⁹Jesus answered him, “The first of all the commandments is: a ‘Hear, O Israel, the LORD our God, the LORD is b one.

³⁰‘And you shall *c*love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind, and with all your strength.’ This is the first commandment.*

³¹“And the second, like it, is this: d ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’ There is no other commandment greater than e these.”

³²So the *f*scribe said to Him, “Well said, Teacher. You have spoken the g truth, for there is one God, and there is no other but He.

³³“And to love Him with all the heart, with all the understanding, with all the soul,* and with all the strength, and to love one’s neighbor as oneself, h is more than all the whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.”

³⁴Now when Jesus saw that he answered i wisely, He said to him, “You are not far from the j kingdom of God.” But after that no one dared question Him.

Jesus questions the Pharisees concerning Messiah (Matt. 22:41–46; Luke 20:41–44)

³⁵Then Jesus answered and said, while He taught in the temple, “How is it that the k scribes say that the Christ is the l Son of David?

³⁶“For David himself m said by the Holy n Spirit:

‘The LORD said to my Lord, “Sit at My right hand, Till I make Your enemies Your footstool.”’ * *

³⁷“Therefore David himself calls Him l Lord; how is He then his o Son?” And the common people heard Him gladly.

³⁸Then He said to them in His teaching, “Beware of the p scribes, who desire to go around in long robes, love greetings in the market-places, ³⁹“the q best seats in the synagogues, and the best places at feasts,

⁴⁰“who devour widows’ houses, and for a r pretense make long prayers. These will receive greater condemnation.”

The widow’s mites (Luke 21:1–4)

⁴¹Now Jesus sat opposite the treasury and saw how the people put money into the s treasury. And many who were rich put in much.

⁴²Then one poor widow came and threw in two mites,* which make a t quadrans.

⁴³So He called His disciples to Himself and said to them, “Assuredly, I say to you that this poor widow has put in more than all those who have given to the treasury;

⁴⁴“for they all put in out of their abundance, but she out of her u poverty put in all that she had, her whole livelihood.”

The Olivet Discourse (Matt. 24–25): the disciples’ two questions (Matt. 24:3; Luke 21:7)

13 THEN as He went out of the temple, one of His disciples said to Him, “Teacher, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here!”

²And Jesus answered and said to him, “Do you see these great v buildings? Not one stone shall be w left upon another, that shall not be thrown down.”

³Now as He sat on the Mount of ⁵And Jesus, answering them, began to say: “Take heed that no one ^edeceives you.

⁶“For many will ^fcome in My name, saying, ‘I am He,’ and will deceive many.

⁷“But when you hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not be troubled; for such things must happen, but the ^gend is not yet.

⁸“For nation will rise against nation, and ^hkingdom against kingdom. And there will be ⁱearthquakes in various places, and there will be ^jfamines and troubles.* These are the beginnings of sorrows.

⁹“But watch out for yourselves, for they will ^kdeliver you up to councils, and you will be beaten in the synagogues. You will be brought* before rulers and kings for My sake, for a testimony to them.

¹⁰“And the ^lgospel must first be preached to all the nations.

¹¹“But when they arrest you and deliver you up, do not worry beforehand, or premeditate* what you will speak. But whatever is given you in that hour, speak that; for it is not you who speak, but the Holy ^mSpirit.

¹²“Now brother will betray brother to death, and a father ⁿhis child; and children will rise up against parents and cause them to be put to death.

¹³“And you will be ^ohated by all for My name’s sake. But he who endures to the end shall be ^psaved.

¹⁵“Let him who is on the housetop not go down into the house, nor enter to take anything out of his house.

¹⁶“And let him who is in the field not go back to get his clothes.

¹⁷“But woe to those who are pregnant and to those who are nursing babies in those days!

¹⁸“And pray that your flight may not be in winter.

The great tribulation
(latter half of week) (Matt. 24:21-28; cp. Ps. 2:5; see Rev. 7:14, note)

¹⁹“For in those days there will be ^stribulation, such as has not been since the beginning of the creation which God created until this time, nor ever shall be.

²⁰“And unless the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh would be saved; but for the ^telect’s sake, whom He chose, He shortened the days.

²¹“Then if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Christ!’ or, ‘Look, He is there!’ do not believe it.

²²“For false christs and false prophets will rise and show signs and ^uwonders to deceive, if possible, even the ^velect.

²³“But take heed; see, I have ^wtold you all things beforehand.

Jewish authorities plot death of Jesus (Matt. 26:2–5; Luke 22:1–2)

14 AFTER two days it was the ^gPassover and the *Feast of h*Unleavened Bread. And the chief priests and the ⁱscribes ^jsought how they might take Him by trickery and put Him to death.

²But they said, “Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar of the ^kpeople.”

Jesus anointed by Mary of Bethany

(Matt. 26:6–13; John 12:1–8)

³And being in Bethany at the house of Simon the leper, as He ^lsat at the table, a woman came having an alabaster flask of very costly oil of spikenard. Then she broke the flask and poured it on His ^mhead.

⁴But there were some who were indignant among themselves, and said, “Why was this fragrant oil wasted?

⁵“For it might have been sold for more than three hundred ⁿdenarii and given to the poor.” And they ^ocriticized her sharply.

⁶But Jesus said, “Let her alone. Why do you trouble her? She has done a good work for Me.

⁷^p“For you have the poor with you always, and whenever you wish you may do them good; ^qbut Me you do not have always.

⁸“She has done what she could. She has come beforehand to ^ranoint My body for burial.

⁹“Assuredly, I say to you, wherever this ^sgospel is ^tpreached in the whole world, what this woman has done will also be told as a memorial to her.”

Judas agrees to betray Jesus

(Matt. 26:14–16; Luke 22:3–6)

¹⁰Then ^uJudas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went to the chief priests to betray Him to them.

¹¹And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to ^vgive him money. So he sought how he might conveniently betray Him.

Preparation for the Passover

(Matt. 26:17–19; Luke 22:7–13)

¹²Now on the ^wfirst day of Unleavened Bread, when they killed the ^xPassover lamb, His disciples said to Him, “Where do You want us to go and prepare, that You may eat the Passover?”

¹³And He sent out two of His disciples and said to them, “Go into the city, and a man will meet you carrying a pitcher of water; follow him.

¹⁴“Wherever he goes in, say to the master of the house, ‘The Teacher says, “Where is the guest room in which I may eat the Passover with My disciples?”’

¹⁵“Then he will show you a large upper room, furnished and prepared; there make ready for us.”

¹⁶So His disciples went out, and came into the city, and found it just as He had said to them; and they prepared the Passover.

The last Passover (Matt. 26:20–24; Luke 22:14,21–23; John 13:18–19)

¹⁷In the evening He came with the twelve.

¹⁸Now as they sat and ate, Jesus said, “Assuredly, I say to you, ^yone of you who eats with Me will betray Me.”

¹⁹And they began to be ^zsorrowful, and to say to Him one by one,

²⁰He answered and said to them, “It is one of the twelve, who dips with Me in the dish.

²¹“The Son of Man indeed goes just ^aas it is ^bwritten of Him, but ^cwoe to that man by whom the ^dSon of Man is betrayed! ^eIt would have been good for that man if he had never been born.”

The Lord’s Supper instituted
(Matt. 26:26-29; Luke 22:17-20; cp. 1 Cor. 11:23-26; John 13:12-30)

²²And as they were eating, Jesus took ^fbread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to them and said, “Take, eat; ^gthis is My ^hbody.”

²³Then He took the cup, and when He had given thanks He gave it to them, and they all ⁱdrank from it.

²⁴And He said to them, “This is My ^j‘blood of the ^knew’ ^lcovenant, which is shed for many.

²⁵“Assuredly, I say to you, I will no longer drink of the fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new in the ^mkingdom of God.”

Jesus foretells Peter’s denial
(Matt. 26:30-35; Luke 22:31-34; John 13:36-38)

²⁶And when they had ⁿsung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

²⁷Then Jesus said to them, ^o“All of you will be ^pmade to stumble because of Me this night,* for it is ^qwritten:

‘I will ^rstrike the ^sShepherd, And the sheep will be scattered.’

²⁸“But after I have been raised, I will ^tgo before you to Galilee.”

²⁹Peter said to Him, “Even if all are made to stumble, yet I will not be.”

³⁰Jesus said to him, “Assuredly, I say to you that today, ^ueven this night, before the rooster crows twice, you will deny Me three times.”

³¹But he spoke more vehemently, “If I have to die with You, I will not deny You!” ^vAnd they all said likewise.

Jesus’ agony in the garden
(Matt. 26:36-46; Luke 22:39-46; John 18:1)

³²Then they came to a place which was named Gethsemane; and He said to His disciples, “Sit here while I pray.”

³³And He ^wtook Peter, James, and John with Him, and He began to be troubled and deeply distressed.

³⁴Then He said to them, “My soul is exceedingly ^xsorrowful, ^yeven to death. Stay here and watch.”

The first prayer
(Matt. 26:39; Luke 22:41-42)

³⁵He went a little farther, and fell on the ground, and ^zprayed that if it were possible, the hour might pass from Him.

³⁶And He said, “Abba, Father, all things are possible for You. Take this ^{aa}cup away from Me; ^{bb}nevertheless, not what I will, but ^{cc}what You will.”

³⁷Then He came and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “Simon, are you sleeping? Could you not watch one hour?”

^{38aa}“Watch and pray, lest you enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the ^{bb}flesh is weak.”

The second prayer
(Matt. 26:42; Luke 22:44)

³⁹Again He went away and prayed, and spoke the same words.

⁴⁰And when He returned, He found them asleep again, for their eyes were heavy; and they did not know what to answer Him.

The third prayer (Matt. 26:44)

⁴¹Then He came the third time and said to them, “Are you still sleeping and resting? It is enough! The ^{cc}hour has come; behold, the Gethsemane: A garden at the foot of the Mount of Olives, across the Brook Kidron in the Kidron Valley where Christ was betrayed on the night before His crucifixion.

14:36 Abba. Aramaic Father. Compare Rom. 8:15; Gal. 4:6.

^aSon of Man is being betrayed into the hands of ^bsinners.

⁴²“Rise, let us be going. See, My betrayer is at hand.”

Jesus' betrayal and arrest
(Matt. 26:47-56; Luke 22:47-53;
John 18:3-11)

⁴³And immediately, while He was still speaking, ^cJudas, one of the twelve, with a great ^dmultitude with swords and clubs, came from the chief priests and the ^escribes and the elders.

⁴⁴Now His betrayer had given them a signal, saying, “Whomever I /kiss, He is the One; seize Him and lead Him away safely.”

⁴⁵As soon as He had come, immediately he went up to Him and said to Him, “Rabbi, Rabbi!” and kissed Him.

⁴⁶Then they laid their hands on Him and took Him.

⁴⁷And one of those who stood by drew his sword and struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

⁴⁸Then Jesus answered and said to them, “Have you come out, as against a robber, with swords and clubs to take Me?”

⁴⁹“I was daily with you in the temple ^steaching, and you did not seize Me. But the Scriptures must be ^hfulfilled.”

⁵⁰Then they all ⁱforsook Him and fled.

⁵¹Now a certain young man followed Him, having a linen cloth thrown around his naked body. And the young men laid hold of him, ⁵²and he left the linen cloth and fled from them naked.

Jesus is brought before the high priest and Sanhedrin
(Matt. 26:57-68;
John 18:12-14, 19-24)

⁵³And they led Jesus away to the /high priest; and with him were ^kassembled all the /chief priests, the elders, and the ^mscribes.

⁵⁴But ⁿPeter followed Him at a distance, right into the courtyard of the high priest. And he sat with the servants and warmed himself at the fire.

⁵⁵Now the chief priests and all the council ^osought testimony against Jesus to put Him to death, but ^pfound none.

⁵⁶For many bore ^qfalse witness against Him, but their testimonies did not agree.

⁵⁷Then some rose up and bore false witness against Him, saying,

⁵⁸“We heard Him say, ‘I will ^rdestroy this temple made with hands, and within three days I will build another made ^swithout hands.’ ”

⁵⁹But not even then did their testimony agree.

⁶⁰And the high priest stood up in the midst and asked Jesus, saying, ^t“Do You answer nothing? What is it these men testify against You?”

⁶¹But He ^ukept silent and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked Him, saying to Him, ^v“Are You the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?”

⁶²Jesus said, “I am. And you will see the ^wSon of Man ^xsitting at the right hand of the Power, and ^ycoming with the clouds of heaven.”

⁶³Then the high priest ^ztore his clothes and said, “What further need do we have of witnesses?”

⁶⁴“You have heard the ^{aa}blasphemy! What do you think?” And they all condemned Him to be deserving of ^{bb}death.

⁶⁵Then some began to ^{cc}spit on Him, and to blindfold Him, and to beat Him, and to say to Him, “Prophesy!” And the officers ^{dd}struck Him with the palms of their hands.*

Peter's three denials
(Matt. 26:69-75; Luke 22:56-62;

⁶⁶Now ^{ee}as Peter was below in the courtyard, one of the servant girls of the high priest came.

⁶⁷And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked at him and said, “You also were with ^{ff}Jesus of Nazareth.”

⁶⁸But he denied it, saying, “I neither know nor understand what you

The Sanhedrin delivers Jesus to Pilate (Matt. 27:1–2, 11–15; Luke 23:1–7, 13–18; John 18:28–40; 19:1–16)

15 IMMEDIATELY, in the morning, the chief priests held a ^dconsultation with the elders and ^escribes and the whole council; and they bound Jesus, led Him away, and ^fdelivered Him to Pilate.

²Then Pilate asked Him, “Are You the ^gKing of the Jews?” He answered and said to him, “It is as you say.”

³And the chief priests accused Him of many things, but He ^hanswered nothing.

⁴Then Pilate asked Him again, saying, “Do You answer ⁱnothing? See how many things they testify against You!”*

⁵But Jesus still answered nothing, so that Pilate marveled.

Jesus or Barabbas? (Matt. 27:16–26; Luke 23:16–25; John 18:40)

⁶Now at the feast he was accustomed to releasing one prisoner to them, whomever they requested.

⁷And there was one named Barabbas, who was chained with his fellow rebels; they had committed murder in the rebellion.

⁸Then the multitude, crying aloud,^{*} began to ask him to do just as he had always done for them.

⁹But Pilate answered them, saying, ^j“Do you want me to release to you the King of the Jews?”

¹⁰For he knew that the chief priests had handed Him over because of ^kenvy.

¹¹But the chief priests stirred up the crowd, so that he should ^lrather release Barabbas to them.

¹²Pilate answered and said to them again, “What then do you want me to do with Him whom you call the ^mKing of the Jews?”

¹³So they cried out again, “Crucify Him!”

¹⁴Then Pilate said to them, “Why, ⁿwhat evil has He done?” But they cried out all the more, “Crucify Him!”

¹⁵So Pilate, wanting to gratify the ^ocrowd, released Barabbas to them; and he delivered Jesus, after he had scourged Him, to be ^pcrucified.

Jesus is crowned with thorns (Matt. 27:27–31)

¹⁶Then the soldiers led Him away into the hall called Praetorium, and they called together the whole garrison.

¹⁷And they clothed Him with purple; and they twisted a crown of ^qthorns, put it on His head,

¹⁸and began to salute Him, “Hail, King of the Jews!”

¹⁹Then they ^rstruck Him on the head with a reed and spat on Him; and bowing the knee, they worshiped Him.

²⁰And when they had ^smocked Him, they took the purple off Him, put His own clothes on Him, and led Him out to crucify Him.

²¹Then they compelled a certain man, Simon a Cyrenian, the father of Alexander and Rufus, as he was coming out of the country and passing by, to bear His cross.

Christ's resurrection and events of that day (cp. Matt. 28:1–15; Luke 24:1–49; John 20:1–23)

16 NOW when the ^cSabbath was past, ^dMary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought spices, that they might come and ^eanoint Him.

²Very early in the morning, on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun had risen.

³And they said among themselves, ^g“Who will roll away the stone from the door of the tomb for us?”

⁴But when they looked up, they saw that the stone had been rolled away—for it was very large.

⁵And entering the tomb, they saw a young man clothed in a long white robe sitting on the right side; and they were alarmed.

⁶But he said to them, “Do not be alarmed. You seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified. ^hHe is ⁱrisen! He is not here. See the place where they laid Him.

⁷“But go, tell His disciples—and Peter—that He is going before you into Galilee; there you will see Him, ^jas He said to you.”

⁸So they went out quickly* and fled from the tomb, for they trembled and were amazed. And they said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid.

⁹Now when He rose early on the first day of the week, He ^kappeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom He had cast seven ^ldemons.

¹⁰She went and told those who had been with Him, as they mourned and wept.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE

Author:
Luke

Theme:
Christ, the Man

Date of writing:
c. A.D. 60

Background

Luke, who wrote the Third Gospel and Acts, was known as “the beloved physician” (Colossians 4:14). He was a companion and fellow worker with Paul (Philemon 24). Compare the Introduction to Acts.

This book, the longest of the Gospels, was written principally for the Greeks. Its emphasis is upon the perfect humanity of Christ, whom it presents as the Son of Man, the human-divine Person, and whose genealogy it traces to Adam. Luke’s narrative of the birth and infancy of the Lord is from the point of view of the virgin mother. He alone tells of Christ’s boyhood and reveals more of His prayer life than the other Synoptics. The parables found in this Gospel show Christ’s concern for lost humanity. In the accounts of certain miracles, the trained observation of a physician is evident.

God’s Relationship with Man

Luke is in many ways the Gospel of compassion, stressing, as it does, the Lord’s sympathy for the brokenhearted, the sick, the mistreated, and the bereaved. It also shows the ministry of women to Christ. Along with its presentation of the Son of Man, the book emphasizes the worldwide scope of salvation. Luke alone records the parables of the lost sheep, the lost coin, and the lost son (15:3–32) and the mission of the Seventy (10:1–24).

Outline

The Gospel of Luke may be divided as follows:

I. The Introduction, 1:1–4

1 INASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set in order a narrative of those ^athings which have been fulfilled* among us,

^bjust as those who from the ^bbeginning were ^ceyewitnesses and ^dministers of the word ^edelivered them to us,

³it seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to ^fwrite to you an orderly account, most excellent ^gTheophilus, ⁴that you may know the certainty of those ^hthings in which you were instructed.

II. The Birth, Baptism, Genealogy, and Temptation of Christ, 1:5–4:13

John the Baptist's birth foretold

⁵There was in the days of Herod, the king of ⁱJudea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the ^jdivision of ^kAbijah. His ^lwife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

⁶And they were both ^mrighteous before God, walking in all the ⁿcommandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

⁷But they had no child, ^obecause Elizabeth was barren, and they were both well advanced in years.

⁸So it was, that while he was serving as priest before God in the order of his division, ⁹according to the custom of the priesthood, his lot fell to ^pburn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

¹⁰And the whole multitude of the people was praying outside at the hour of incense.

¹¹Then an ^qangel of the Lord appeared to him, standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

¹²And when Zacharias saw ^rhim, he was ^stroubled, and fear fell upon him.

¹³But the ^tangel said to him, "Do not be afraid, Zacharias, for your ^uprayer is heard; and your wife ^vElizabeth will ^wbear you a son, and you shall call his name ^xJohn.

¹⁴"And you will have joy and gladness, and many will ^yrejoice at his birth.

¹⁵"For he will be ^zgreat in the sight of the Lord, and shall ^{aa}drink neither wine nor strong drink. He will also be filled with the Holy ^{ab}Spirit, even from his mother's womb.

¹⁶"And he will ^{ac}turn many of the children of Israel to the Lord their God.

¹⁷^{cc}"He will also go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah, ^{td}to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children,^{te} and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord."

¹⁸And Zacharias said to the angel, "How shall I know this? ^{uf}For I am an old man, and my wife is well advanced in years."

¹⁹And the angel answered and said to him, "I am Gabriel, who stands in the presence of God, and was sent to speak to you and bring you these glad ^{ug}tidings.

²⁰"But behold, you will be ^{uh}mute and not able to speak until the day these things take place, because you did not believe my words which will be fulfilled in their own time."

1:3 From the very first is from the Greek anōthen (adv., from anō, which can mean "up," "upward," or "above"), which is translated elsewhere by "from above" (John 3:31; 19:11; James 1:17; 3:15,17; but compare Acts 26:5, where it is translated "from the first"). Luke's use of anōthen is an affirmation that his knowledge of these things, derived from those who had been eyewitnesses from the beginning (v. 2), was confirmed by revelation. In like manner Paul had doubtless heard from the eleven the story of the institution of the Lord's Supper; but he also had it by revelation from the Lord (1 Cor. 11:23) and his writing, like Luke's knowledge, thus became firsthand and not simply traditional. Observe, too, Luke's expression "in order," an emphatic term to indicate his purpose of presenting the Gospel record in an orderly fashion.

Zacharias, and marveled that he lingered so long in the temple.

22But when he came out, he could not speak to them; and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple, for he beckoned to them and remained speechless.

23So it was, as soon as the days of his service were completed, that he departed to his own house.

24Now after those days his wife Elizabeth conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying,

25“Thus the Lord has dealt with me, in the days when He looked on me, to take away my reproach among people.”

The annunciation of Jesus' birth

26Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a city of Galilee named Nazareth, 27to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David. The virgin's name was Mary.

28And having come in, the angel said to her, “Rejoice, highly favored one, the Lord is with you; blessed are you among women!”

29But when she saw him,* she was troubled at his saying, and considered what manner of greeting this was.

30Then the angel said to her, “Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God.

31“And behold, you will conceive in your womb and bring forth a Son, and shall call His name JESUS.

32“He will be great, and will be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God will give Him the throne of His father David.

33“And He will reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of His kingdom there will be no end.”

Jesus' miraculous conception

34Then Mary said to the angel, “How can this be, since I do not know a man?”

35And the angel answered and said to her, “The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Highest will overshadow you; therefore, also, that Holy One who is to be born will be called the Son of God.

36“Now indeed, Elizabeth your relative has also conceived a son in her old age; and this is now the sixth month for her who was called barren.

37“For with God nothing will be impossible.”

38Then Mary said, “Behold the maidservant of the Lord! Let it be to me according to your word.” And the angel departed from her.

1:27 THE MARYS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

Six Marys are to be distinguished in the NT:

(1) Mary, the mother of Jesus, always clearly identified by the context.

(2) Mary, the mother of the Apostle James (called “the Less,” Mark 15:40) and wife of Clopas (John 19:25), who may be identified with Alphaeus (Matt. 10:3; Mark 3:18; Luke 6:15). She was evidently the cousin of Mary, the mother of Jesus. This Mary watched the crucifixion (Matt. 27:56; Mark 15:40; John 19:25), visited the garden tomb (Mark 15:47; 16:1; Luke 24:10), and was presumably among the women who saw the risen Lord on the resurrection day (Matt. 28:7-9; Luke 24:9,22-24). She is normally mentioned only in connection with one or both of her sons. Some have conjectured that this Mary was the sister of Mary, the mother of Jesus, but it is highly improbable that two sisters would have the same name.

(3) Mary of Bethany, sister of Martha and Lazarus, mentioned by name only in Luke 10:39,42; John 11:1,2,19,20,28,31,32,45; 12:3, but referred to in Matt. 26:7; Mark 14:3-9.

(4) Mary Magdalene, a woman of Magdala, “out of whom [Jesus] had cast seven demons” (Mark 16:9). She is never mentioned apart from the identifying word “Magdalene” and is not to be confused with the sinful woman who anointed the Savior's feet in a city of Galilee (Luke 7:36-50).

(5) Mary, the mother of John Mark, and sister of Barnabas (Acts 12:12). And

(6) Mary, a Christian woman of Rome, to whom Paul sent his salutation (Rom. 16:6).

1:26 sixth month. See Lev. 23:2, note. Gabriel. Meaning man of God. Dan. 8:16; 9:21.

and went into the hill country with haste, to a city of Judah, ⁴⁰and entered the house of Zacharias and greeted Elizabeth.

⁴¹And it happened, when Elizabeth heard the greeting of Mary, that the babe leaped in her womb; and Elizabeth was ^afilled with the Holy ^bSpirit.

⁴²Then she spoke out with a loud voice and said, ^c“Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb!

⁴³“But why is this granted to me, that the mother of my Lord should ^dcome to me?

⁴⁴“For indeed, as soon as the voice of your greeting sounded in my ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

^{45e}“Blessed is she who ^fbelieved, for there will be a fulfillment of those things which were told her from the Lord.”

“My soul magnifies the Lord,

⁴⁷ And my spirit has ^grejoiced in ^hGod my ⁱSavior.

⁴⁸ For He has ^jregarded the lowly state of His maidservant; For behold, henceforth all generations will call me blessed.

⁴⁹ For He who is mighty has done ^kgreat things for me,

And ^lholy is His name.

⁵⁰ And His ^mmercy is on those who ⁿfear Him

⁵¹ He has shown strength with His ^oarm;

He has scattered ^pthe ^qproud in the imagination of their hearts.

⁵² ^rHe has put down the mighty from ^stheir thrones,

And exalted ^tthe lowly.

⁵³ He has ^ufilled ^vthe hungry with good things,
 And ^wthe rich He has sent away empty.

⁵⁴ He has helped His ^xservant Israel,
 In remembrance of ^yHis mercy,

⁵⁵ ^zAs He ^{aa}spoke to our ^{bb}fathers,
 To Abraham and to his ^{cc}seed forever.”

⁵⁶And Mary remained with her about three months, and returned to her house.

John is born and named

⁵⁷Now Elizabeth's full time came for her to be delivered, and she brought forth a son.

⁵⁸When her neighbors and relatives heard how the Lord had shown great mercy to her, they ^{xx}rejoiced with her.

⁵⁹So it was, on the ^{yy}eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him by the name of his father, Zacharias.

⁶⁰His mother answered and said, “No; he shall be called ^{zz}John.”

⁶¹But they said to her, “There is no one among your relatives who is called by this name.”

⁶²So they made signs to his father—what he would have him called.

⁶³And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, “His name is John.” So they all marveled.

⁶⁴Immediately his mouth was ^{aaa}opened and his tongue ^{loosed}, and he spoke, praising God.

⁶⁵Then fear came on all who dwelt around them; and all these sayings were discussed throughout all the hill country of Judea.

⁶⁶And all those who heard ^{them} kept ^{them} in their ^{bbb}hearts, saying, “What kind of child will this be?” And the hand of the Lord was with him.

²This census first took place while Quirinius was governing Syria.

³ So all went to be registered, everyone to his own city.
⁴ Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to the city of David, which is called ^sBethlehem, because he was of the ^thouse and lineage of David,
⁵ to be registered with Mary, his betrothed wife,* who was with child.
⁶ So it was, that while they were there, the days were completed for her to be delivered.
⁷ And she brought forth her first-born Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling cloths, and laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

Angelic announcement of Jesus' birth

⁸ Now there were in the same country shepherds living out in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night.
⁹ And behold,* an ^vangel of the Lord stood before them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were greatly afraid.
¹⁰ Then the angel said to them,
^w “Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good ^xtidings of great joy which will be to ^yall people.
¹¹ “For there is born to you this day in the city of David a ^zSavior, who is Christ the Lord.

¹² “And this will be the sign to you: You will find a Babe wrapped in swaddling cloths, lying in a manger.”

¹³ And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying:

¹⁴ “Glory to God in the highest,
 And on earth ^{aa}peace, goodwill toward men!”*

²⁶And it had been revealed to him by the Holy ⁿ Spirit that he would not see death before he had seen the Lord's ^o Christ.

²⁷So he came by the Spirit into the temple. And when the parents brought in the Child Jesus, to do for Him according to the custom of the law, ²⁸he took Him up in his arms and blessed God and ^psaid:

RIGHTEOUSNESS
OLD TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

The words "righteous" and "just" are used to translate the Hebrew yashar, "upright"; tsaddiq, "just." In these words but one idea inheres: the righteous or just man is so called because he is right with God; and he is right with God because he has observed "all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord" (Luke 1:6; compare Rom. 10:5; Phil. 3:6). The OT righteous man was not sinless (Eccl. 7:20) but one who, for his sins, trusted the coming Messiah and offered in faith the required sacrifice (e.g. Lev. 4:27-35). Compare Righteousness (NT), Rom. 10:10, note, and Paul's contrast, Phil. 3:4-9.

31 Which You have prepared before the face of all peoples, 32 A ^alight to bring revelation to the Gentiles, And the glory of Your people Israel.”

33 And Joseph and His mother* marveled at those things which were spoken of Him.

34 Then Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary His mother, “Behold, this Child is destined for the fall and ^brising of many in Israel, and for a sign which will be ^cspoken against 35 “(yes, a sword will ^apierce through your own soul also), that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.”

Anna’s testimony to Christ

36 Now there was one, Anna, a ^eprophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of ^fAsher. She was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity;

37 and this woman ^gwas a ^hwidow of about eighty-four years,* who did not depart from the temple, but served ⁱGod with fastings and ^jprayers night and day.

38 And coming in that instant she gave thanks to the Lord,* and spoke of Him to all those who ^klooked for ^lredemption in Jerusalem.

Return to Nazareth: the silent years (after events of Matt. 2)

39 So when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned to Galilee, to their ^mown city, Nazareth.

40 ⁿAnd the Child grew and became strong in spirit,* filled with ^owisdom; and the ^pgrace of God was upon Him.

Jesus’ visit to His “Father’s house” in Jerusalem

41 His parents went to ^qJerusalem every year at the Feast of the ^rPassover.

42 And when He was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem according to the ^scustom of the feast.

43 When they had finished the ^tdays, as they returned, the Boy Jesus lingered behind in Jerusalem. And Joseph and His mother* did not know ^uit;

44 but supposing Him to have been in the company, they went a day’s journey, and sought Him among ^vtheir relatives and acquaintances.

45 So when they ^wdid not find Him, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking Him.

46 Now so it was ^xthat after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the ^yteachers, both listening to them and asking them questions.

47 And all who heard Him were ^zastonished at His understanding and answers.

48 So when they saw Him, they were ^{aa}amazed; and His mother said to Him, “Son, why have You done this to us? Look, Your father and I have sought You anxiously.”

49 And He said to them, “Why did you seek Me? Did you not know that I must be ^{ab}about ^{ac}My Father’s business?”

50 But they did ^{ad}not understand the statement which He spoke to them.

Jesus grows in wisdom, stature, and favor

51 Then He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and was subject to them, but His mother ^{ae}kept all these things in her heart.

52 And Jesus ^{af}increased in ^{ag}wisdom and stature, ^{ah}and in favor with God and men.

brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, ²while Annas and ^aCaiaphas were high priests,* the word of God came to ^bJohn the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

³And he went into all the region around the Jordan, preaching a baptism of ^crepentance for the remission of ^dsins, ⁴as it is ^ewritten in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, ^fsaying:

“The voice of one crying in the wilderness:

‘Prepare the way of the LORD; Make His paths straight.

⁵*Every valley shall be filled And every mountain and hill brought low;*

The crooked places shall be made straight

And the rough ways smooth;

⁶*And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.’ ”*

⁷Then he said to the multitudes that came out to be baptized by him, ^h“Brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the wrath to come?”

⁸“Therefore bear fruits ⁱworthy of repentance, and do not begin to say to yourselves, ^j‘We have Abraham as our father.’ For I say to you that God is able to raise up children to Abraham from these stones.

⁹“And even now the ax is laid to the root of the trees. ^kTherefore every tree which does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.”

¹⁰So the people asked him, saying, ^l“What shall we do then?”

¹¹He answered and said to them, “He who has two tunics, let him ^mgive to him who has none; and he who has food, let him do ⁿlikewise.”

¹²Then tax collectors also came to be baptized, and said to him, “Teacher, ^owhat shall we do?”

¹³And he said to them, “Collect no more than what is appointed for you.”

¹⁴Likewise the soldiers asked him, saying, “And ^pwhat shall we do?” So he said to them, “Do not intimidate anyone or accuse ^qfalsely, and be content with your ^rwages.”

¹⁵Now as the people were in expectation, and all reasoned in their hearts about John, whether he was the Christ or not,

¹⁶John answered, saying to all, “I indeed ^sbaptize you with water; but One mightier than I is coming, whose sandal strap I am not worthy to loose. He will ^tbaptize you with the Holy ^uSpirit and fire.

¹⁷“His winnowing fan is in His hand, and He will thoroughly clean out His threshing floor, ^vand gather the wheat into His barn; but the chaff He will burn with unquenchable fire.”

¹⁸And with many other exhortations he preached to the people.

¹⁹But Herod the tetrarch, being rebuked by him concerning ^wHerodias, his brother Philip’s wife,* and for all the evils which Herod had done, ²⁰also added this, above all, that he shut John up in prison.

Baptism of Jesus (Matt. 3:13-17; Mark 1:9-11; cp. John 1:31-34)

²¹When all the people were ^xbaptized, it came to pass that Jesus also was baptized; and while He ^yprayed, the heaven was ^zopened.

²²And the Holy ^{aa}Spirit descended in bodily form like a dove upon Him, and a voice came from heaven which said, “You are My beloved Son; in You I am well ^{bb}pleased.”

THE GENEALOGIES OF JESUS

The genealogies of our Lord recorded in Matt. 1:1–17 and Luke 3:23–38 have their similarities and their differences. Though the Lucan genealogy goes back to Adam and that of Matthew goes only to Abraham, they are both in absolute agreement in the generations between Abraham and David. It is with the Son of David that the great difference begins, for Luke traces our Lord’s ancestry from David through Nathan, whereas Matthew uses the royal line through Solomon. It is true that the names Shealtiel, Zerubbabel, and possibly Matthat (Matthan in Matthew) appear subsequently in both, but otherwise the lists are entirely different. Indeed in one, Jacob is spoken of as Joseph’s father; whereas in the other, Heli is presumably so presented.

Two views have been maintained by equally godly and learned scholars. Some believe both genealogies are of Joseph, but that the one in Matthew gives the legal descendants of David to establish our Lord’s claim to the Davidic throne, while Luke gives the particular line to which Joseph actually belonged. The second list, then, is spoken of as the collateral line and is eligible for royal duty when the legal line is incapacitated or becomes extinct.

A far simpler solution, and in all probability the true one, is that since every man has two genealogies—one through his father and another through his mother—so Matthew presents Joseph’s genealogy (the Lord’s foster or legal father, not his actual father), whereas Luke presents Mary’s genealogy. This view is supported by linguistic and historical evidence and is held by many students of the Bible. In addition, appeal may be made to Num. 27:1–11 and 36:1–12 to give Scriptural precedent for the substitution of Joseph’s name in Luke 3:23. At the same time it avoids the judgment spoken of in Jer. 22:28–30 (see Matt. 1:11, note).

- First tour of Galilee (Matt. 4:12–17; Mark 1:14–15)*
- 14Then Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit to Galilee, and ^tnews of Him went out through all the surrounding region.

²³He said to them, “You will surely say this proverb to Me, ‘Physician, ^aheal yourself! Whatever we have heard ^bdone in ^cCapernaum,* do also here in Your country.’”

²⁴Then He said, “Assuredly, I say to you, no ^dprophet is accepted in his own country.

²⁵“But I tell you truly, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elijah, ^ewhen the heaven was shut up three years and six months, and there was a great famine throughout all the land;

²⁶“but to none of them was Elijah sent ^fexcept to Zarephath,* in the region of ^gSidon, to a woman who was a widow.

²⁷“And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet, and none of them was cleansed ^hexcept Naaman the Syrian.”

²⁸So all those in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were ⁱfilled with wrath, ²⁹and rose up and thrust Him out of the city; and they led Him to the brow of the hill on which their city was built, that they might throw Him down over the cliff.

³⁰Then ^kpassing through the midst of them, He went His way.

Jesus casts out demons at Capernaum (Mark 1:21–28)

³¹Then He went down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and was ^lteaching them on the Sabbaths.

³²And they were ^mastonished at His teaching, ⁿfor His word was with authority.

³³Now in the synagogue there was a man who had a spirit of an unclean ^odemon. And he cried out with a loud voice, ³⁴saying, “Let us alone! What have we to do with You, Jesus of Nazareth? Did You come to destroy us? I know who You are—the ^pHoly One of God!”

³⁵But Jesus rebuked him, saying,

“Be quiet, and come out of him!” And when the ^qdemon had thrown him in their midst, it came out of him and did not hurt him.

³⁶Then they were all amazed and spoke among themselves, saying, “What a word this is! ^rFor with authority and power He commands the unclean spirits, and they come out.”

³⁷And the ^sreport about Him went out into every place in the surrounding region.

Peter’s mother-in-law and others healed (Matt. 8:14–17; Mark 1:29–34)

³⁸Now He arose from the synagogue and entered Simon’s house. But Simon’s wife’s mother was sick with a high fever, and they ^tmade request of Him concerning her.

³⁹So He stood over her and ^urebuked the fever, and it ^vleft her. And immediately she arose and ^wserved them.

⁴⁰When the sun was setting, ^xall those who had any that were sick with various diseases brought them to Him; and He laid His hands on every one of them and healed them.

⁴¹And ^ydemons also came out of many, ^zcrying out and saying, ^{aa}“You are the Christ,* the Son of God!” And He, ^{bb}rebuking them, did not allow them to speak, for they ^{cc}knew that He was the Christ.

5:12 if You are willing. The leper honored Christ by recognizing His power to heal, and begged Him, "if You are willing," to heal his leprosy. Similarly the Christian should recognize Christ's power to heal, but should always pray, "if You are willing" (1 John 5:14). Even the Lord Jesus prayed, "Not My will, but Yours, be done" (Luke 22:42). Paul prayed three times that his "thorn in the flesh" might be removed, but when God willed not to do so, Paul realized that God had a wise and good purpose in asking him to continue to bear it (2 Cor. 12:7-9; Rom. 8:28).

HOW TO TREAT OTHERS

Tell the truth when testifying about your neighbor.
 Do not covet anything that belongs to your neighbor.
 Love your neighbor as yourself.
 Don't move your neighbor's boundary marker.
 Don't take your neighbor to court.
 Don't visit your neighbor too often.
 If someone forces you to go one mile, go two.
 Pray for those who persecute you.
 Do good to those who hate you.
 Love your enemies.
 Bless those who curse you.
 If someone takes your cloak, give your tunic too.
 Give to everyone who asks of you.
 Lend to others and don't expect anything back.
 Don't judge.
 Don't be a stumbling block to others.

*Jesus heals a centurion's servant
(Matt. 8:5-13)*

7NOW when He concluded all His sayings in the hearing of the people, He entered Capernaum.

²And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear to him, was sick and ready to die.

³So when he heard about Jesus, he sent elders of the Jews to Him, pleading with Him to come and heal his servant.

⁴And when they came to Jesus, they begged Him earnestly, saying that the one for whom He should do this was ^hdeserving,

⁵“for he loves our nation, and has built us a synagogue.”

⁶Then Jesus went with them. And when He was already not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to Him, saying to Him, “Lord, do not trouble Yourself, for I am not worthy that You should enter under my roof.

⁷“Therefore I did not even think myself worthy to come to You. But ⁱsay the word, and my servant will be healed.

⁸“For I also am a man placed under ^jauthority, having soldiers under me. And I say to one, ‘Go,’ and he goes; and to another, ‘Come,’ and he comes; and to my servant, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.”

⁹When Jesus heard these things, He ^kmarveled at him, and turned around and said to the crowd that followed Him, “I say to you, I have not found such great ^lfaith, not even in ^mIsrael!”

¹⁰And those who were sent, returning to the house, found the servant ⁿwell who had been sick.*

A widow's son raised from the dead

¹¹Now it happened, the day after, that He went into a city called Nain; and many of His disciples went with Him, and a large crowd.

¹²And when He came near the gate of the city, behold, a dead man was being carried out, the only son of his mother; and she was a widow. And a large crowd from the city was with her.

¹³When the Lord saw her, He had ^ocompassion on her and said to her, “Do not weep.”

¹⁴Then He came and touched the open coffin, and those who carried him stood still. And He said, “Young man, I say to you, ^qarise.”

¹⁵So he who was dead ^rsat ^sup and began to speak. And He ^tpresented him to his mother.

¹⁶Then ^ufear came upon all, and they ^vglorified God, saying, “A great ^wprophet has risen up among us”; and, “God has ^xvisited His people.”

¹⁷And this report about Him went throughout all Judea and all the surrounding region.

¹⁸Then the disciples of John ^yreported to him concerning all these things.

*Jesus eulogizes John the Baptist
(Matt. 11:2-19)*

¹⁹And John, calling two of his disciples to him, sent them to Jesus,* saying, “Are You the ^zComing One, or do we look for another?”

²⁰When the men had come to Him, they said, “John the Baptist has sent us to You, saying, ‘Are You the Coming One, or do we look for another?’”

²¹And that very hour He cured many of infirmities, afflictions, and evil spirits; and to many blind He gave sight.

²²Jesus answered and said to

²³"And blessed is he who is not ^koffended because of Me."

²⁴When the messengers of John had departed, He began to speak to the multitudes concerning John: "What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind?"

²⁵"But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in ^lsoft garments? Indeed those who are gorgeously appareled and ^mlive in luxury are in kings' courts.

²⁶"But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I say to you, and more than a prophet.

²⁷"This is he of whom it is ⁿwritten:

²⁸"For I say to you, among those born of women there is not a ^pgreater prophet than John the Baptist;* but he who is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he."

²⁹And when all the people heard Him, even the tax collectors justified God, having been ^qbaptized with the baptism of John.

³⁰But the ^rPharisees and ^slawyers rejected the will of God for themselves, not having been baptized by him.

³¹And the Lord said, * "To what then shall I liken the men of this generation, and what are they like?"

³²"They are like children sitting in the marketplace and calling to one another, saying:

'We played the flute for you, And you did not dance; We mourned to you, And you did not weep.'

³³"For ^tJohn the Baptist came

³⁴"The ^wSon of Man has come ^xeating and drinking, and you say, 'Look, a glutton and a winebibber, a friend of tax collectors and ^ysinners!'

³⁵"But ^zwisdom is justified by all her children."

Jesus anointed in Pharisee's house

³⁶Then one of the ^{aa}Pharisees asked Him to eat with him. And He went to the Pharisee's house, and sat down to eat.

³⁷And behold, a woman in the city who was a ^{bb}sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at the table in the Pharisee's house, brought an ^{cc}alabaster flask of fragrant oil, ³⁸and stood at His feet behind Him ^{dd}weeping; and she began to wash His ^{ee}feet with her tears, and wiped them with the ^{ff}hair of her head; and she kissed His feet and anointed them with the fragrant oil.

³⁹Now when the Pharisee who had invited Him saw this, he spoke to himself, saying, "This Man, if He were a ^{gg}prophet, would know who and what manner of woman this is who is touching Him, for she is a ^{hh}sinner."

Parable of two debtors

⁴⁰And Jesus answered and said to him, "Simon, I have something to say to you." So he said, "Teacher, say it."

⁴¹*ii* "There was a certain creditor who had two debtors. One owed five hundred ^{jj}denarii, and the other fifty.

⁴²"And when they had nothing with which to repay, he freely ^{kk}forgave them both. Tell Me, therefore, which of them will love him more?"

⁴³Simon answered and said, "I suppose the one whom he forgave more." And He said to him, "You have rightly judged."

Women who ministered to Jesus on preaching tours

8 NOW it came to pass, afterward, that He went through every city and village, preaching and bringing the ^jglad tidings of the ^kkingdom of God. And the twelve were with Him, ^{2l}and certain ^mwomen who had been ⁿhealed of evil spirits and infirmities—Mary called ^oMagdalene, out of whom had come seven ^pdemons,

Parable of the sower and the soils (Matt. 13:1–23; Mark 4:1–20)

⁴And when a great multitude had gathered, and they had come to Him from every city, He spoke by a ^qparable:

⁵“A sower went out to sow his seed. And as he sowed, some fell by the wayside; and it was trampled down, and the birds of the air devoured it.

⁶“Some fell on rock; and as soon as it sprang up, it withered away because it lacked moisture.

⁷“And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up with it and choked it.

⁸“But others fell on good ground, sprang up, and yielded a crop a hundredfold.” When He had said these things He cried, ^r“He who has ears to hear, let him hear!”

⁹Then His disciples asked Him, saying, “What does this parable mean?”

¹⁰And He said, “To you it has been given to know the ^smysteries of the ‘kingdom of God, but to the rest it is given in parables, “that

‘Seeing they may not see, And hearing they may not understand.’

¹¹“Now the parable is this: The ^vseed is the ^wword of God.

¹²“Those by the wayside are the ones who hear; then the ^xdevil comes and ^ytakes away the word out of their ^zhearts, lest they should believe and be ^{aa}saved.

¹⁴“Now the ones that fell among ^{ee}thorns are those who, when they have heard, go out and are choked with cares, ^{ff}riches, and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to maturity.

¹⁵“But the ones that fell on the ^{gg}good ground are those who, having heard the word with a noble and good heart, ^{hh}keep it and bear fruit with ⁱⁱpatience.

New relationships

(Matt. 12:46-50; Mark 3:31-35)

19 Then His mother and brothers came to Him, and could not approach Him because of the crowd.

20 And it was told Him by some, who said, “Your mother and Your brothers are standing outside, desiring to see You.”

21 But He answered and said to them, “My mother and My brothers are these who hear the word of God and do it.”

Jesus stills the wind and the sea
(Matt. 8:23-27; Mark 4:35-41)

22 Now it happened, on a certain day, that He got into a boat with His disciples. And He said to them, “Let us cross over to the other side of the lake.” And they launched out.

23 But as they sailed He fell asleep. And a windstorm came down on the lake, and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to Him and awoke Him, saying, “Master, Master, we are perishing!” Then He arose and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water. And they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 But He said to them, “Where is your faith?” And they were afraid, and marveled, saying to one another, “Who can this be? For He commands even the winds and water, and they obey Him!”

26 Then they sailed to the country of the Gadarenes,* which is opposite Galilee.

27 And when He stepped out on the land, there met Him a certain man from the city who had demons for a long time. And he wore no clothes,* nor did he live in a house but in the tombs.

28 When he saw Jesus, he cried out, fell down before Him, and with a loud voice said, “What have I to do with You, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg You, do not torment me!”

29 For He had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For it had often seized him, and he was kept under guard, bound with chains and shackles; and he broke the bonds and was driven by the demon into the wilderness.

30 Jesus asked him, saying, “What is your name?” And he said, “Legion,” because many demons had entered him.

31 And they begged Him that He would not command them to go out into the abyss.

32 Now a herd of many swine was feeding there on the mountain. So they begged Him that He would permit them to enter them. And He permitted them.

33 Then the demons went out of the man and entered the swine, and the herd ran violently down the steep place into the lake and drowned.

what had happened, they fled and told it in the city and in the country.

³⁵Then they went out to see what had happened, and came to Jesus, and found the man from whom the ^ademons had departed, ^bsitting at the ^cfeet of Jesus, ^dclothed and in his ^eright mind. And they were afraid.

³⁶They also who had seen it told them by what means he who had been ^fdemon-possessed was healed.

³⁷Then the whole multitude of the surrounding region of the Gadarenes* ^gasked Him to ^hdepart from them, for they were seized with great ⁱfear. And He got into the boat and returned.

³⁸Now the man from whom the ^jdemons had departed ^kbegged Him that he might be with Him. But Jesus sent him away, saying, ³⁹“Return to your own house, and ^ltell what great things God has done for you.” And he went his way and ^mproclaimed throughout the whole city what great things Jesus had done for him.

⁴⁰So it was, when Jesus returned, that the multitude welcomed Him, for they were all ⁿwaiting for Him.

Two miracles of healing
(Matt. 9:18–26; Mark 5:21–43)

⁴¹And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ^oruler of the synagogue. And he fell down at Jesus’ ^pfeet and begged Him to come to his house, ⁴²for he had an ^qonly daughter about twelve years of age, and she was ^rdying. But as He went, the multitudes thronged Him.

⁴³Now a woman, having a ^sflow of blood for twelve years, who had spent all her livelihood on physicians and could not be healed by any,

⁴⁴came from behind and ^touched the border of His garment. And immediately her flow of blood stopped.

⁴⁵And Jesus said, “Who touched Me?” When all denied it, Peter and those with him* said, “Master, the multitudes throng and press You, and You say, “Who touched Me?””*

⁴⁶But Jesus said, “Somebody touched Me, for I perceived ^upower going out from Me.”

⁴⁷Now when the woman saw that she was not hidden, she came trembling; and falling down before Him, she ^vdeclared to Him in the presence of all the people the reason she had touched Him and how she was healed immediately.

⁴⁸And He said to her, “Daughter, be of good cheer; ^wyour ^xfaith has made you well. ^yGo in peace.”

⁴⁹While He was still speaking, someone came from the ruler of the synagogue’s ^zhouse, saying to him, “Your daughter is dead. Do not trouble the Teacher.”*

⁵⁰But when Jesus heard it, He answered him, saying, “Do not be afraid; only ^{aa}believe, and she will be made well.”

⁵¹When He came into the house, He permitted no one to go in* ^{ab}except Peter, James, and John,* and the father and mother of the girl.

⁵²Now all wept and mourned for her; but He said, ^{bb}“Do not weep; she is not dead, but ^{cc}sleeping.”

⁵³And they ridiculed Him, knowing that she was dead.

⁵⁴But He put them all outside,* took her by the hand and called, saying, “Little girl, ^{dd}arise.”

⁵⁵Then her spirit ^{ee}returned, and she ^{ff}arose immediately. And He commanded that she be given ^{gg}something to eat.

⁵⁶And her parents were astonished, but He ^{gg}charged them to tell no one what had happened.

The twelve sent forth
(Matt. 10:1–15; cp. Mark 6:7–13)

^{9^{hh}}THEN He called His ⁱⁱtwelve disciples together and ^{jj}gave them power and authority over all ^{kk}demons, and to ^{ll}cure diseases.

8:37 asked Him to depart. Unconscious of their own need, the Gadarenes asked the Lord to depart; for His power terrified and condemned them. At the same time the man who had been healed begged the Lord that he might follow Him.

²He sent them to preach the ^akingdom of God and to heal the sick.

³And He said to them, “Take ^bnothing for the journey, neither staffs nor bag nor bread nor money; and do not have two tunics apiece.

^{4c}“Whatever house you enter, stay there, and from there depart.

⁵“And whoever will not receive you, when you go out of that city, ^dshake off the very dust from your feet as a testimony against them.”

⁶So they departed and went through the towns, preaching the ^egospel and healing everywhere.

⁷Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by Him; and he was perplexed, because it was said by some that ^fJohn had risen from the dead, ⁸and by some that ^gElijah had appeared, and by others that one of the old prophets had risen again.

⁹Herod said, “John I have beheaded, but who is this of whom I hear such things?” So he sought to ^hsee Him.

¹⁰And the apostles, when they had ⁱreturned, told Him all that they had done. Then He took them and went aside privately into a ^jdeserted place belonging to the city called Bethsaida.

¹¹But when the multitudes knew ^{it}, they followed Him; and He received them and spoke to them about the ^kkingdom of God, and healed those who had need of healing.

Five thousand fed (Matt. 14:15-21; Mark 6:32-44; John 6:5-13)

¹²When the day began to wear away, the twelve came and said to Him, “Send the multitude away, that they may go into the surrounding towns and country, and lodge and get provisions; for we are in a deserted place here.”

¹³But He said to them, “You give them something to eat.” And they said, “We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless we go and buy food for all these people.”

¹⁴For there were about five thousand men. Then He said to His disciples, “Make them sit down in groups of fifty.”

¹⁵And they did so, and made them all sit down.

¹⁶Then He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, He ^lblessed and broke them, and gave ^{them} to the disciples to set before the multitude.

¹⁷So they all ate and were ^mfilled, and twelve baskets of the ⁿleftover fragments were taken up by them.

Peter’s confession of Christ (Matt. 16:13-20; Mark 8:27-30)

¹⁸And it happened, as He was alone praying, ^{that} His disciples joined Him, and He asked them, saying, “Who do the crowds say that I am?”

¹⁹So they answered and said, ^o“John the Baptist, but some say ^pElijah; and others say that one of the old prophets has risen again.”

²⁰He said to them, “But who do you say that I am?” ^qPeter answered and said, “The Christ of God.”

²¹And He strictly warned and commanded them to tell this to no one,

Jesus foretells His death and resurrection

(Matt. 16:21-27; Mark 8:31-33)

²²saying, “The ^rSon of Man ^smust suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and chief priests and ^tscribes, and be killed, and be raised the third day.”

Cost of discipleship

(Matt. 16:24-27; Mark 8:34-38)

²³Then He said to ^{them} all, ^u“If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily,* and follow Me.

John: One of Jesus’ disciples. He was called “the disciple whom Jesus loved.”

9:11 need of healing. Compare Luke 4:40; Rom. 5:20.

Wherever need is acknowledged, the Lord is ready to meet it. Since the need of bodily healing is keenly felt, sometimes men are inclined to put it first. However, spiritual need is greater and, in fact, is often the greatest where there is the least consciousness of it, e.g. Rev. 3:17.

The transfiguration
(Matt. 17:1-8; Mark 9:2-8)

²⁷“But I tell you truly, there are some standing here who shall not taste death till they ⁱsee the kingdom of God.”

^{28k}Now it came to pass, about eight days after these sayings, that He took Peter, John, and James and went up on the mountain to pray.

²⁹As He prayed, the appearance of His face was altered, and His robe became white and ^glistering.

³⁰And behold, ^mtwo men talked with Him, who were ⁿMoses and ^oElijah, ³¹who ^pappeared ^qin glory and spoke of His decease which He was about to accomplish at Jerusalem.

³²But Peter and those with him were heavy with ^rsleep; and when they were fully awake, they saw His glory and the two men who stood with Him.

³³Then it happened, as they were parting from Him, ^{that} Peter said to Jesus, “Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make ^sthree tabernacles: one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah”—not knowing what he said.

³⁴While he was saying this, a cloud came and overshadowed them; and they were fearful as they entered the ^ccloud.

³⁵And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, ^u“This is My beloved Son.* Hear Him!”

³⁶When the voice had ceased, Jesus was found alone. But they kept quiet, and told no one in those days any of the things they had seen.

Powerless disciples: the mighty Christ
(Matt. 17:14-21; Mark 9:14-29)

³⁷Now it happened on the next day, when they had come down from the mountain, that a great multitude met Him.

³⁸Suddenly a man from the multitude cried out, ^vsaying, “Teacher, I implore You, look on my son, for he is my only child.

³⁹“And behold, a spirit seizes him, and he suddenly cries out; it convulses him so that he foams ^{at the mouth}; and it departs from him with great difficulty, bruising him.

⁴⁰“So I implored Your disciples to cast it out, but they could not.”

⁴¹Then Jesus answered and said, ^{“O ^wfaithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you and bear with you? Bring your son here.”}

⁴²And as he was still coming, the ^xdemon threw him down and convulsed ^{him}. Then Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, ^yhealed the child, and gave him back to his father.

⁴³And they were all amazed at ^zthe majesty of God. But while everyone marveled at all the things which Jesus did, He said to His disciples,

Jesus again foretells His death
(Matt. 17:22-23; Mark 9:30-32)

⁴⁴“Let these words ^{aa}sink down into your ears, for the ^{bb}Son of Man is about to be ^{cc}betrayed into the hands of men.”

⁴⁵^{dd}But they did not understand this saying, and it was hidden from them so that they did not perceive it; and they were afraid to ask Him about this saying.

Humility, the secret of greatness
(Matt. 18:1-6; Mark 9:33-37)

⁴⁶Then a ^{ee}dispute arose among them as to which of them would be greatest.

⁴⁷And Jesus, ^{ff}perceiving the thought of their heart, took a little ^{gg}child and set him by Him,

Sectarianism rebuked (Matt. 9:38-40)

⁴⁹Now John answered and said, “Master, we saw someone casting out ^edemons in Your name, and we forbade him because he does not follow with ^fus.”

⁵⁰But Jesus said to him, ^g“Do not forbid ^hhim, for he who is not against usⁱ is ^hon our^j side.”

Jesus again passes through Samaria

⁵¹Now it came to pass, when the time had come for Him to be received up, that He ⁱsteadfastly set His face to go to Jerusalem, ⁵²and sent messengers before His face. And as they went, they entered a village of the Samaritans, to prepare for Him.

⁵³But they did not receive Him, because His face was ^{set} for the journey to Jerusalem.

⁵⁴And when His disciples ^jJames and John saw ^{this}, they said, “Lord, do You want us to command fire to come down from heaven and consume them, just as ^kElijah did?”

⁵⁵But He turned and rebuked them,^{*} and said, “You do not know what manner of ^lspirit you are of.

⁵⁶“For the ^mSon of Man did not ⁿcome to destroy men’s lives but to ^osave them.”^{*} And they went to another village.

Discipleship tested (Matt. 8:19-22)

⁵⁷Now it happened as they journeyed on the road, ^{that} someone said to Him, “Lord, I will follow You wherever You go.”

⁵⁸And Jesus said to him, “Foxes have holes and birds of the air ^{have} nests, but the ^pSon of Man ^qhas nowhere to lay ^{His} head.”

⁵⁹Then He said to another, “Follow Me.” But he said, “Lord, let me first go and ^rbury my father.”

⁶⁰Jesus said to him, “Let the ^sdead bury their own ^tdead, but you go and preach the ^ukingdom of God.”

⁶¹And another also said, “Lord, I will follow You, but let me first go ^{and} bid them farewell who are at my house.”

⁶²But Jesus said to him, “No one, having put his hand to the plow, and looking ^vback, is ^wfit for the ^xkingdom of God.”

 (Matt. 11:20–24)

13 ^c“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have ^drepented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 “But it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you.

15 “And you, Capernaum, who are ^eexalted to heaven, will be brought down to ^fHades.*

16 “He who ^ghears you hears Me, he who ^hrejects you rejects Me, and he who rejects Me rejects Him who sent Me.”

17 Then the seventy* returned with joy, saying, “Lord, even the ⁱdemons are subject to us in Your name.”

18 And He said to them, “I saw ^jSatan ^kfall like lightning from heaven.

19 “Behold, I give you the authority to ^ltrample on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

20 “Nevertheless do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you, but rather* rejoice because your names are ^mwritten in heaven.”

21 In that hour Jesus rejoiced in the Spirit and ⁿsaid, “I thank You, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You have hidden these things from ^othe wise and prudent and revealed them to babes. Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in Your sight.

22 “All* things have been ^odelivered to Me by My Father, and no one knows who the Son is except the Father, ^pand who the Father is except the Son, and ^qthe one to whom the Son wills to reveal ^rHim.”

23 Then He turned to ^sHis disciples and said privately, ^q“Blessed are the eyes which see the things you see; ^r“for I tell you that many ^rprophets and kings have desired to see what you see, and have not seen it, and to hear what you hear, and have not heard it.”

A lawyer questions Jesus
 (cp. Matt. 22:34–40; Mark 12:28–34)

25 And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and ^stested Him, saying, “Teacher, what shall I do to inherit ^teternal life?”

26 He said to him, “What is written in the ^ulaw? What is your reading of it?”

27 So he answered and said, ^v“You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your strength, and with all your mind,” and ^w“your neighbor as yourself.”

28 And He said to him, “You have answered rightly; do this and you will live.”

29 But he, wanting to ^xjustify himself, said to Jesus, “And who is my neighbor?”

Parable of the good Samaritan

30 Then Jesus answered and ^ysaid: “A certain ^zman went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, who stripped him of his clothing, wounded ^{aa}him, and departed, leaving ^{ab}him half dead.

31 “Now by chance a certain priest came down that road. And when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 “Likewise a Levite, when he arrived at the place, came and looked, and passed by on the other side.

33 “But a certain ^{ac}Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was. And when he saw him, he had ^{ad}compassion.

BIBLE PRAYERS IN THE NEW TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

This well-loved prayer which our Lord taught His disciples, known as The Lord’s Prayer, was evidently given upon two separate occasions and under different circumstances, and with some variations: first, in the Sermon on the Mount, while Christ was warning His disciples against ostentatious formality in prayer (compare Matt. 5:1 with 6:5–13, where see notes); and second, at an unnamed “certain place” in response to the request of one of the disciples, “Lord, teach us to pray” (Luke 11:1–4). Although the Lord’s Prayer was obviously not given to be used only as a form, the two accounts teach us many precious lessons about the nature of prayer.

(1) Such prayer is based upon the relationship of God as the Father of all who truly believe in His Son (John 1:13), for only these can truly say, “Our Father” (Matt. 6:9).

(2) It must begin with the attitude of worship: “Hallowed be Your name”—an acknowledgement of the absolute holiness of all that God is and does.

(3) In the sense of petition, prayer must put first the kingdom and its coming down from heaven.

(4) True prayer accepts in advance the will of God, whether known or unknown, whether to grant or to withhold.

(5) Prayer should always envision the divine will and kingdom as objectives which will certainly be realized on earth.

(6) In the meantime the children of God may be properly concerned in prayer with present physical needs.

(7) Prayer may be hindered when the fellowship of the children with their Father is broken because of sin (Matt. 6:12, 15). And

(8) the children of God must be divinely taught “to pray,” not merely how to pray (Luke 11:1). This prayer, as originally given, does not specify in detail the complete doctrine of prayer for the Church, although it contains it in germ. The element of thanksgiving is not specifically mentioned (compare Phil. 4:6–7), yet surely thanksgiving is implicit in “Hallowed be Your name”; for who can hallow God, that is, hold Him sacred and offer worship to Him, without thanksgiving? Later, in the progress of divine revelation, our Lord gave the definite command to believers to pray in His name (John 16:23–24).

And do not ^alead us into ^btemptation,
But deliver us from the evil
one.”*

Parable of the persistent friend

⁵And He said to them, ^c“Which of you shall have a friend, and go to him at midnight and say to him, ‘Friend, lend me three loaves;

⁶‘for a friend of mine has come to me on his journey, and I have nothing to set before him’;

⁷“and he will answer from within and say, ‘Do not trouble me; the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give to you’?

⁸“I say to you, though he will not rise and give to him because he is his friend, yet because of his ^d persistence he will rise and give him as many as he needs.

⁹“So I say to you, ^eask, and it will be given to you; ^fseek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you.

¹⁰“For everyone who asks receives, and he who seeks finds, and to him who knocks it will be opened.

Parable of fatherhood

^{11g}“If a son asks for bread* from any father among you, will he give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will he give him a serpent instead of a fish?

¹²“Or if he asks for an egg, will he offer him a scorpion?

¹³“If you then, being evil, know how to give ^hgood gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the ⁱHoly Spirit to those who ask Him!”

A demoniac boy healed

¹⁴And He was casting out a ^jdemon, and it was mute. So it was, when the demon had ^kgone out, that the mute spoke; and the multitudes marveled.

Pharisees blaspheme the Holy Spirit
(Matt. 12:24–30; Mark 3:22–30)

¹⁵But some of them said, “He casts out ^ldemons by ^mBeelzebul,* the ruler of the demons.”

¹⁶Others, ⁿtesting Him, sought from Him a sign from heaven.

¹⁷But He, ^oknowing their thoughts, said to them: “Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and a house divided against a house falls.

¹⁸“If ^pSatan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand? Because you say I cast out ^qdemons by Beelzebul.

¹⁹“And if I ^rcast out ^sdemons ^tby Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges.

²⁰“But if I cast out ^udemons with the ^vfinger of God, surely the kingdom of God has come upon you.

²¹“When a strong man, fully armed, guards his own palace, his goods are in peace.

²²“But when a ^wstronger than he comes upon him and overcomes him, he ^xtakes from him all his armor in which he trusted, and divides his spoils.

²³“He who is not with Me is ^yagainst Me, and he who does not gather with Me scatters.

Worthlessness of self-reformation
(Matt. 12:43–45)

²⁴“When an ^zunclean spirit goes out of a man, he goes through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he says, ‘I will return to my house from which I came.’

²⁵“And when he comes, he finds it ^{aa}swept and put in order.

²⁶“Then he goes and takes with him seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter and dwell there; and the last

11:13 give the Holy Spirit. To the Jew this promise was undoubtedly new and staggering, for it indicates that in advance of the fulfillment of Joel 2:28–29, all might receive the Holy Spirit. It should be kept in mind, however, that in accordance with the promise, as recorded in Luke 24:49;

John 7:38–39; 14:16–17; Acts 1:4–5, and with the historic fact stated in Rom. 8:9,15; 1 Cor. 6:19; 2 Cor. 1:22; Gal. 4:6; 1 John 2:20,27, for the Christian to go back to Luke 11:13 is to forget Pentecost and to ignore the truth that now every believer has the indwelling Spirit. See Acts 2:4, note.

state of that man is worse than the first."

²⁷And it happened, as He spoke these things, that a certain woman from the crowd raised her voice and said to Him, ^b"Blessed is the womb that bore You, and the breasts which nursed You!"

²⁸But He said, "More than that, *bles*sed are those who hear the word of God and keep it!"

The sign of Jonah (Matt. 12:38-41)

²⁹And while the crowds were thickly gathered together, He began to say, "This is an evil generation. It seeks a ^dsign, and no sign will be given to it except the ^esign of Jonah the prophet.*

³⁰"For /as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so also the ^gSon of Man will be to this generation.

³²"The men of Nineveh will rise up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they ^krepented at the preaching of Jonah; and indeed a ^lgreater than Jonah is here.

Parable of lighted lamp (Matt. 5:14-16; Mark 4:21-22; cp. Luke 8:16)

³³*m*"No one, when he has lit a lamp, puts it in a secret place or under a basket, but on a lampstand, that those who come in may see the light.

³⁵"Therefore take heed that the light which is in you is not darkened.

³⁶"If then your whole body is ^ofull of light, having no part dark, the whole body will be full of light, as when the bright shining of a lamp gives you light."

³⁷And as He spoke, a certain ^pPharisee asked Him to dine with him. So He went in and sat down to eat.

³⁸When the Pharisee saw it, he marveled that He had not first ^qwashed before dinner.

Woes to the Pharisees (cp. Matt. 23:13-35)

³⁹Then the Lord said to him, "Now you Pharisees make the outside of the cup and dish clean, but your ^rinward part is full of greed and wickedness.

⁴⁰"Foolish ones! Did not ^sHe who made the outside make the inside also?

⁴¹"But rather ^tgive alms of such things as you have; then indeed all things are clean to you.

⁴²"But woe to you Pharisees! For you tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and ^upass by justice and the ^vlove of God. These you ought to have done, without leaving the others undone.

⁴³"Woe to you Pharisees! For you ^wlove the best seats in the synagogues and greetings in the market-places.

⁴⁴"Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites!" ^xFor you are like ^ygraves which are not seen, and the men who walk over them are not aware of them."

⁴⁵Then one of the ^zlawyers answered and said to Him, "Teacher, by saying these things You reproach us also."

⁴⁶And He said, "Woe to you also, ^{aa}lawyers! For you ^{bb}load men with burdens hard to bear, and ^{cc}you yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers.

⁴⁷"Woe to you! For you build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers ^{dd}killed them.

⁴⁸"In fact, you bear witness that you approve the deeds of your fathers; for they indeed killed them, and you build their tombs.

⁴⁹"Therefore the ^{ee}wisdom of God also said, 'I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will kill and persecute,' ⁵⁰“that the blood of all the prophets which was shed from the foundation of the ^aworld may be required of this generation, ⁵¹^b“from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah who perished between the altar and the temple. Yes, I say to you, it shall be required of this generation.

⁵²“Woe to you ^clawyers! For you have taken away the ^dkey of knowledge. You did not enter in yourselves, and those who were entering in you ^ehindered.”

⁵³And as He said these things to them,^{} the ^fscribes and the Pharisees began to assail Him vehemently, and to cross-examine Him about many things, ⁵⁴lying in wait for Him, and ^gseeking to catch Him in something He might say, that they might accuse Him.

Jesus warns of false doctrine (leaven) of Pharisees

(cp. Matt. 16:6–12; Mark 8:14–21)

12 IN the meantime, when an innumerable multitude of people had gathered together, so that they trampled one another, He began to say to His disciples first of all, “Beware of the ^hleaven of the ⁱPharisees, which is ^jhypocrisy.

²^k“For there is nothing covered that will not be ^lrevealed, nor hidden that will not be known.

³“Therefore whatever you have spoken in the dark will be heard in the light, and what you have spoken in the ear in ^minner rooms will be proclaimed on the housetops.

⁴“And I say to you, My ⁿfriends, do not be afraid of those who kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

⁵“But I will show you whom you should fear: Fear Him who, after He has killed, has power to cast into hell; yes, I say to you, ^ofear Him!

⁶“Are not five sparrows sold for two ^pcopper coins? And ^qnot one of them is forgotten before God.

⁷“But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Do not fear therefore; you are of more value than many sparrows.

⁸“Also I say to you, ^rwhoever confesses Me ^sbefore men, him the ^tSon of Man also will confess before the ^uangels of God.

⁹“But he who ^vdenies Me before men will be denied before the ^wangels of God.

¹⁰“And anyone who speaks a word against the ^xSon of Man, it will be ^yforgiven him; but to him who blasphemes against the Holy ^zSpirit, it will not be forgiven.

¹¹“Now when they bring you to the synagogues and magistrates and authorities, ^{aa}do not worry about how or what you should answer, or what you should say.

¹²“For the Holy ^{bb}Spirit will ^{cc}teach you in that very hour what you ought to say.”

¹³Then one from the crowd said to Him, “Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me.”

¹⁴But He said to him, “Man, who made Me a ^{dd}judge or an arbitrator over you?”

¹⁵And He said to them, “Take heed and beware of covetousness,* for one’s ^{ee}life does not consist in the abundance of the things he possesses.”

Parable of the rich fool

¹⁶Then He spoke a ^{ff}parable to them, saying: “The ground of a certain rich man yielded plentifully.

¹⁷“And he thought within himself, saying, ‘What shall I do, since I have no room to store my crops?’

¹⁸“So he said, ^{gg}‘I will do this: I will pull down my barns and build greater, and there I will store all my crops and my goods.

⁵³“Father will be divided against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.”

⁵⁴Then He also said to the multitudes, ^k“Whenever you see a cloud rising out of the west, immediately you say, ‘A shower is coming’; and so it is.

⁵⁵“And when you see the ^lsouth wind blow, you say, ‘There will be hot weather’; and there is.

Men must not judge but repent

13 THERE were present at that season some who told Him about the ^pGalileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

²And Jesus answered and said to them, “Do you suppose that these Galileans were worse ^qsinners than all other Galileans, because they suffered such things?

³“I tell you, no; but unless you ^rrepent you will all likewise perish.

*Parable of fig tree: judgment

⁶He also spoke this ^vparable: “A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none.

⁷“Then he said to the keeper of his vineyard, ‘Look, for ^wthree years I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree and find none. ^xCut it down; why does it use up the ground?’

(cp. Matt. 12:9-13)

14 NOW it happened, as He went into the house of one of the rulers of the ⁿPharisees to eat bread on the ^oSabbath, that they watched Him closely.

²And behold, there was a certain man before Him who had dropsy.

³And Jesus, answering, spoke to the ^plawyers and Pharisees, saying, “Is it lawful to ^qheal on the Sabbath?”*

⁶And they could not answer Him regarding these things.

Parable of the ambitious guest

⁷So He told a ^sparable to those who were invited, when He noted how they chose the best places, saying to them:

⁸“When you are invited by anyone to a wedding feast, do not sit down in the best place, lest one more honorable than you be invited by him;

⁹“and he who invited you and him come and say to you, ‘Give place to this man,’ and then you begin with shame to take the lowest place.

¹⁰“But when you are invited, go and sit down in the ^tlowest place, so that when he who invited you comes he may say to you, ‘Friend, go up ^uhigher.’ Then you will have glory in the presence of those who sit at the table with you.

¹¹“For ^vwhoever exalts himself will be humbled, ^wand he who humbles himself will be exalted.”

¹²Then He also said to him who invited Him, “When you give a dinner or a supper, do not ask your friends, your brothers, your relatives, nor rich neighbors, lest they also invite you back, and you be repaid.

¹³“But when you give a feast, invite ^xthe poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind.

¹⁶Then He said to him, ^a“A certain man gave a great supper and invited many,

¹⁷“and sent his servant at supper time to say to those who were invited, ‘Come, for all things are now ready.’

¹⁸“But they all with one accord began to make ^bexcuses. The first said to him, ^c‘I have bought a piece of ground, and I must go and see it. I ask you to have me excused.’

¹⁹“And another said, ‘I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I am going to test them. I ask you to have me excused.’

²⁰“Still another said, ‘I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.’

²¹“So that servant came and reported these things to his master. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to his servant, ^d“Go out quickly into the ^estreets and lanes of the city, and bring in here the poor and the maimed and the lame and the blind.’

²²“And the servant said, ‘Master, it is done as you commanded, and still there is ^groom.’

²³“Then the master said to the servant, ‘Go out into the highways and hedges, and ^hcompel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

²⁴“For I say to you that ⁱnone of those men who were invited shall taste my supper.’ ”

Discipleship tested
(cp. Matt. 10:37–39)

²⁵Now great multitudes went with Him. And He turned and said to them, ²⁶^k“If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters, yes, and his ^lown life also, he cannot be My disciple.

²⁷“And ^mwhoever does not bear his cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

Three parables about counting the cost of discipleship
(vv. 28–35). (1) The tower

²⁸ⁿ“For which of you, intending to build a tower, does not sit down first and count the cost, whether he has enough to finish it—

²⁹“lest, after he has laid the foundation, and is not able to finish, all who see it begin to mock him, ³⁰“saying, ‘This man began to build and was not able to ^ofinish.’

(2) The king contemplating war

³¹^p“Or what king, going to make war against another king, does not sit down first and ^qconsider whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him who comes against him with twenty thousand?

³²“Or else, while the other is still a great way off, he sends a ^rdelegation and asks ^sconditions of peace.

³³“So likewise, whoever of you does not ^tforsake ^uall that he has cannot be My disciple.

(3) The flavorless salt
(cp. Matt. 5:13; Mark 9:50)

³⁴^v“Salt is good; but if the salt has lost its flavor, how shall it be seasoned?

³⁵“It is neither fit for the land nor for the dunghill, but men throw it out. He who has ears to hear, let him hear!”

where Christ illustrates this principle in His own Person. But in the Lord the natural affections are sanctified and lifted to the level of the divine love (compare John 19:26–27; Eph. 5:25–28).

them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness, and go after the one which is lost until he ^afinds it?

⁶“And when he comes home, he calls together his friends and neighbors, saying to them, ^b“Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was ^clost!”

¹⁰“Likewise, I say to you, there is ⁱjoy in the presence of the ^jangels of God over one ^ksinner who ^lrepents.”

(3) The lost son (vv. 11-32)

¹¹Then He said: “A certain man had two sons.

¹²“And the younger of them said to his father, ‘Father, give me the portion of goods that falls to me.’ So he divided to them his ^mlivelihood.

¹³“And not many days after, the younger son gathered all together, journeyed to a far country, and there wasted his possessions with ⁿprodigal living.

¹⁴“But when he had spent all, there arose a severe famine in that land, and he began to be in want.

¹⁵“Then he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed ^oswine.

¹⁶“And he would gladly have filled his stomach with the pods that the swine ate, and no one gave him anything.

¹⁷“But when he came to himself, he said, ‘How many of my father’s hired servants have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

¹⁸‘I will arise and go to my father, and will ^psay to him, “Father, ^qI have ^rsinned against heaven and before you,

¹⁹“and I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Make me like one of your hired servants.”’

²⁰“And he arose and came to his father. But when he was still a ^sgreat way off, his father saw him and had ^tcompassion, and ran and fell on his neck and kissed him.

²¹“And the son ^usaid to him, ‘Father, I have ^vsinned against heaven and in your sight, and am no longer worthy to be called your son.’

²²“But the father said to his servants, ^w“Bring^x out the ^ybest robe and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand and sandals on his feet.

²³“And bring the fatted calf here and kill it, and let us eat and be merry;

²⁴“for this my son was ^zdead and is ^{aa}alive again; he was lost and is found.’ And they began to be ^{aa}merry.

²⁵“Now his older son was in the field. And as he came and drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing.

²⁶“So he called one of the servants and asked what these things meant.

²⁷“And he said to him, ‘Your brother has come, and because he has received him safe and sound, your father has killed the fatted calf.’

²⁸“But he was angry and would not go in. Therefore his father came out and pleaded with him.

²⁹“So he answered and said to his father, ‘Lo, these many years I have been serving you; I never transgressed your commandment at any time; and ^{bb}yet you never gave me a young goat, that I might make merriment with my friends.

*Parable of the unjust steward:
the proper use of money*

16 HE also said to His disciples: ^c"There was a certain rich man who had a ^dsteward, and an accusation was brought to him that this man was wasting his goods.

²"So he called him and said to him, 'What is this I hear about you? Give an ^eaccount of your stewardship, for you can no longer be steward.'

³"Then the steward said within himself, 'What shall I do? For my master is taking the stewardship away from me. I cannot dig; I am ashamed to beg.

⁴'I have resolved what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.'

⁵"So he called every one of his master's debtors to him, and said to the first, 'How much do you owe my master?'

⁶"And he said, 'A hundred ^fmeasures* of oil.' So he said to him, 'Take your bill, and sit down quickly and write fifty.'

⁷"Then he said to another, 'And how much do you owe?' So he said, 'A hundred ^gmeasures* of wheat.' And he said to him, 'Take your bill, and write eighty.'

⁹"And I say to you, make friends for yourselves by ⁱunrighteous mammon, that when you fail, they may receive you into an everlasting home.*

10 "He who is faithful in what is least is faithful also in much; and he who is unjust in what is least is unjust also in much.

11 "Therefore if you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the ^ktrue riches?

12 "And if you have not been faithful in what is 'another man's, who will give you what is your ^mown?

13 ⁿ"No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. ^oYou cannot serve God and mammon."

HADES AND SHEOL

The Greek word Hadēs, like its Hebrew equivalent, Sheol, is used in two ways:

(1) To indicate the condition of the unsaved between death and the great white throne judgment (Rev. 20:11-15). Luke 16:23-24 shows that the lost in Hadēs are conscious, possess full use of their faculties, memory, etc., and are in torment. This continues until the final judgment of the lost (2 Pet. 2:9), when all the unsaved, and Hadēs itself, will be cast into the lake of fire (Rev. 20:13-15).

(2) To indicate, in general, the condition of all departed human spirits between death and the resurrection. This usage is found occasionally in the OT but rarely, if ever, in the NT (compare Gen. 37:35; 42:38; 44:29,31). It should not lead anyone to think that there is a possibility of change from one state to the other after death, for v. 23 shows that when the unsaved man who was in Hadēs saw Abraham and Lazarus, they were "afar off," and v. 26 states that between the two places there is a great gulf fixed, so that no one can cross from one to the other.

Some interpreters think that Eph. 4:8-10 indicates that a change in the place of the departed believers occurred at the resurrection of Christ. It is certain that now all who are saved go at once into the presence of Christ (2 Cor. 5:8; Phil. 1:23). Jesus told the penitent thief: "today you will be with Me in Paradise" (Luke 23:43). Paul was "caught up to the third heaven . . . into Paradise (2 Cor. 12:1-4). Paradise is a place of great joy and bliss, but this bliss is not complete until the spirit is reunited with a glorified body at the resurrection of the just (1 Cor. 15:51-54; 1 Thess. 4:16-17). Though both Sheol and Hadēs are sometimes translated "grave" (compare Gen. 37:35), they never indicate a burial place but, rather, the state of the spirit after death. See also Hab. 2:5, note.

16:19 Verses 19-31 are not said to be a parable. Rich men and beggars were common. There is no reason why Jesus may not have had in mind a particular case. In no parable is an individual named, as here (v. 20).

⁶So the Lord said, ^c"If you have faith as a mustard seed, you can say to this mulberry tree, 'Be pulled up by the roots and be planted in the sea,' and it would obey you.

Earnest service is our duty

⁷"And ^dwhich of you, having a servant plowing or tending sheep, will say to him when he has come in from the field, 'Come at once and sit down to eat'?"

⁸"But will he not rather say to him, 'Prepare something for my supper, and gird yourself and serve me till I have eaten and drunk, and afterward you will eat and drink'?"

⁹"Does he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I think not."

¹⁰"So likewise you, when you have done all those things which you are commanded, say, ^e'We are unprofitable servants. We have done what was our duty to do.' "

Ten lepers cleansed

¹¹Now it happened as He went to Jerusalem that He passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

¹²Then as He entered a certain village, there met Him ten men who were ^glepers, who stood afar off.

¹³And they lifted up ^htheir voices and ^hsaid, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!"

¹⁴So when He saw ^hthem, He said to them, "Go, show yourselves to the ⁱpriests." And so it was that as they went, they were ^jcleansed.

¹⁵And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, returned, and with a loud ^kvoice glorified God, ¹⁶and fell down on ^hhis face at His feet, giving Him thanks. And he was a ^mSamaritan.

¹⁷So Jesus answered and said, "Were there not ten cleansed? But where ^{are} the nine?"

¹⁸"Were there not any found who returned to give glory to God except this foreigner?"

¹⁹And He said to him, "Arise, go your way. ⁿYour ^ofaith has ^pmade you well."

The kingdom in its present aspect
(see Luke 17:21, note; cp. Luke 19:11-27)

²⁰Now when He was asked by the Pharisees when the ^qkingdom of God would come, He answered them and said, "The kingdom of God does not come with observation;

²¹"nor will they say, 'See here!' or 'See there!'" For indeed, the ^rkingdom of God is ^s'within you.' "

Jesus foretells His second coming
(see Deut. 30:3, note, and Acts 1:9-11, note)

²²Then He said to the disciples, "The ^tdays will come when you will desire to see one of the days of the ^uSon of Man, and you will not see ^{it}.

²³"And they will say to you, ^v'Look here!' or 'Look there!'" ^wDo not go after ^{them} or follow ^{them}.

²⁴"For as the lightning that flashes out of one ^xpart under heaven shines to the other ^ypart under heaven, so also the ^zSon of Man will be in His day.

²⁵"But first He must suffer many things and be ^{aa}rejected by this generation.

²⁶^z"And as it ^{aa}was in the ^{bb}days of ^{cc}Noah, so it will be also in the days of the ^{dd}Son of Man:

²⁷"They ate, they drank, they

17:21 within you. The Greek word entos carries the force of in the midst. It could not be said of a self-righteous, Christ-rejecting Pharisee that the kingdom of God, as to its spiritual content, was "within" his heart. Our Lord's whole answer, designedly enigmatic to the Pharisees (compare Matt. 13:10-13), has a dispensational meaning. The kingdom in its outward form, as covenanted to David

(2 Sam. 7:16, note) and described by the prophets (Zech. 12:8, note) had been rejected by the Jews, so that, during this present age, it would "not come with observation" (literally "outward show") but in the hearts of men (see Luke 19:11-12; Acts 1:6-8, note; Rom. 14:17). Meantime, the kingdom was actually "in the midst" of the Pharisees in the persons of the King and His disciples. Ultimately the kingdom of heaven will come visibly to earth at our Lord's second coming. See v. 24.

married wives, they were given in marriage, until the ^aday that Noah entered the ark, and the flood came and ^bdestroyed them all.

²⁸“Likewise as it was also in the days of Lot: They ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built;

²⁹“but on the ^cday that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven and destroyed them all.

³⁰“Even so will it be in the ^dday when the ^eSon of Man is ^frevealed.

³¹“In that day, he who is on the housetop, and his goods are in the house, let him not come down to take them away. And likewise the one who is in the field, let him not turn back.

³²“Remember Lot’s ^gwife.

³³^h“Whoever seeks to save his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life will preserve it.

³⁴“I tell you, in that night there will be two men in one bed: the one will be taken and the other will be left.

³⁵ⁱ“Two women will be grinding together: the one will be taken and the other left.

³⁶“Two men will be in the field: the one will be taken and the other left.”^{*}

³⁷And they answered and said to Him, “Where, Lord?” So He said to them, ^j“Wherever the body is, there the eagles will be gathered together.”

Two parables on prayer (vv. 1–14)

(1) Persistence rewarded

18 THEN He spoke a ^kparable to them, that men ^lalways ought to pray and not lose heart, ²saying: “There was in a certain city a judge who did not fear God nor regard man.

³“Now there was a widow in that city; and she came to him, saying,

‘Get justice for me from my adversary.’

⁴“And he would not for a while; but afterward he said within himself, ‘Though I do not fear God nor regard man,

⁵‘yet because this widow troubles me I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.’” ⁶Then the Lord said, “Hear what the unjust judge said.

⁷“And shall God not avenge His own ^melect who cry out day and night to Him, though He bears ⁿlong with them?

⁸“I tell you that He will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the ^oSon of Man ^pcomes, will He really find ^qfaith on the earth?”

(2) The Pharisee and tax collector: proper and improper attitudes

⁹Also He spoke this ^rparable to some who ^strusted in themselves that they were ^trighteous, and despised others:

¹⁰“Two men went up to the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector.

¹¹“The ^uPharisee stood and ^vprayed thus with himself, ‘God, I thank You that I am not like other men—extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this tax collector.

¹²‘I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I possess.’

¹³“And the tax collector, standing afar off, would not so much as raise ^whis eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, ‘God, be merciful to me a ^xwinner!’”

¹⁴“I tell you, this man went down to his house ^yjustified rather than the other; for everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and ^zhe who humbles himself will be exalted.”

cy seat (Ex. 25:17, 18, 21; Heb. 9:5). An instructed Jew, the tax collector was thinking, not of mercy alone, but of the blood-sprinkled mercy seat (Lev. 16:5, note; see also Propitiation, Rom. 3:25, note). His prayer might be paraphrased, “Be toward me as You are when You look on the atoning blood.” The Bible knows nothing of divine forgiveness apart from sacrifice (see Matt. 26:28, note).

The rich young ruler

(Matt. 19:16-30; Mark 10:17-31; cp. Luke 10:25-37)

18 Now a certain ruler asked Him, saying, "Good Teacher, what shall I do to inherit ^deternal life?"

19 So Jesus said to him, "Why do you call Me good? No one is good but ^eOne, that is, God.

20 "You ^fknow the ^gcommandments: 'Do not commit adultery, 'Do not ^hmurder, 'Do not steal, 'Do not bear false witness, 'Honor your father and your mother.' "

21 And he said, "All ⁱthese things I have kept from my youth."

22 So when Jesus heard these things, He said to him, "You still ^jlack one thing. Sell all that you have and distribute to the poor, and you will have ^ktreasure in heaven; and come, follow Me."

23 But when he ^lheard this, he became very ^msorrowful, for he was very rich.

24 And when Jesus saw that he became very sorrowful, He said, ⁿ"How hard it is for those who have riches to enter the kingdom of God!

25 "For it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the ^okingdom of God."

26 And those who heard it said, "Who then can be ^psaved?"

27 But He said, "The things which are impossible with men are ^qpossible with God."

Reward for sacrifice

28 Then Peter said, "See, we have ^rleft all* and followed You."

29 So He said to them, "Assuredly, I say to you, there is no one who has left house or parents or brothers or wife or children, for the sake of the ^skingdom of God,

Conversion of Zacchaeus

19 THEN Jesus entered and passed through ^eJericho.

²Now behold, there was a man named Zacchaeus who was a chief tax collector, and he was rich.

³And he sought to ^fsee who Jesus was, but could not because of the crowd, for he was of short stature.

⁴So he ran ahead and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see Him, for
 He was going to pass that way.

⁵And when Jesus came to the place, He looked up and saw him,^g and said to him, "Zacchaeus, make haste and come down, for today I must ^gstay at your house."

⁶So he made haste and came down, and received Him joyfully.

⁷But when they saw it, they all complained, saying, "He has gone to be a guest with a man who is a ^hsinner."

⁸Then Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, "Look, Lord, I give half of my goods to the ⁱpoor; and if I have taken anything from anyone by false accusation, I ^jrestore four-fold."

⁹And Jesus said to him, "Today ^ksalvation has come to this house, because he also is a son of ^lAbrah-am;

¹⁰"for the ^mSon of Man has come to ⁿseek and to ^osave that which was lost."

The ten minas: parable of long journey (see Luke 17:21, note, and Acts 1:6-8, note)

¹¹Now as they heard these things,
 He spoke another ^pparable, because He was near Jerusalem and because they thought the ^qkingdom of God would appear ^rimmediately.

¹²Therefore He said: "A certain nobleman went into a ^sfar country to receive for himself a kingdom and to return.

¹³"So he called ten of his ^tser-vants, delivered to them ten ^uminas,* and said to them, ^v"Do business till I come."

¹⁴"But his citizens hated him, and sent a delegation after him, saying,
 'We will ^wnot have this man to ^xreign over us.'

¹⁵"And so it was that when he returned, having received the ^yking-dom, he then commanded these servants, to whom he had given the ^zmoney, to be called to him, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

¹⁶"Then came the first, saying,
 'Master, your ^{aa}mina has earned ten minas.'

¹⁷"And he said to him, ^{bb}'Well done, good servant; because you were ^{cc}faithful in a very little,
^{dd}have authority over ten cities.'

¹⁸"And the second came, saying,
 'Master, your mina has earned five ^{ee}minas.'

¹⁹"Likewise he said to him, 'You also be over five cities.'

²⁰"Then another came, saying,
 'Master, here is your mina, which I have kept put away in a handkerchief.

²¹'For I ^{ff}feared you, because you are an austere man. You collect what you did not deposit, and reap what you did not sow.'

²²"And he said to him, 'Out of was an austere man, collecting what

IV. The Rejection of Christ, and His Death, 19:28—23:56

Triumphal entry of Jesus (Matt. 21:1-9; Mark 11:1-10; John 12:12-19; cp. Zech. 9:9)

28 When He had said this, He went on ^lahead, going up to Jerusalem.
 29 And it came to pass, when He drew near to Bethphage* and ^mBethany, ⁿat the mountain called ^oOlivet, that He sent two of His disciples, 30 saying, ^p“Go into the village opposite you, where as you enter you will find a colt tied, on which ^qno one has ever sat. Loose it and bring it here.
 31 ^r“And if anyone asks you, ‘Why are you loosing it?’ thus you shall say to him, ^s“Because the Lord has need of it.”
 32 So those who were sent went their way and found it just ^tas He had said to them.
 33 But as they were loosing the colt, the owners of it said to them, ^u“Why are you loosing the colt?”
 34 And they said, ^v“The Lord has need of him.”
 35 Then they brought him to Jesus. And they threw their own clothes on the colt, and they set Jesus on him.

36 And as He went, ^wmany spread their clothes on the road.
 37 Then, as He was now drawing near the descent of the ^xMount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to ^yrejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works they had seen,
 38 saying:
 “^zBlessed is the ^{aa}King who ^{ab}comes in the ^{ac}name of the ^{ad}LORD!
^{ae}Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!”

39 And some of the ^{af}Pharisees called to Him from the crowd, ^{ag}“Teacher, ^{ah}rebuke Your disciples.”
 40 But He answered and said to them, ^{ai}“I tell you that if these should keep silent, the ^{aj}stones would immediately cry out.”

Jesus again laments over Jerusalem (cp. Matt. 23:37-39; Luke 13:34-35)

41 Now as He drew near, He saw the city and ^{ak}wept over it, 42 saying, ^{al}“If you had known, even you, especially in this ^{am}your day, the things ^{an}that ^{ao}make for your ^{ap}peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes.
 43 ^{aq}“For days will come upon you when your enemies will build an embankment around you, surround you and close you in on every side, 44 ^{ar}and level you, and your children within you, to the ground; and they will not leave in you one stone upon another, because you did not know the time of your ^{as}visitation.”

Jesus drives traders from temple (Matt. 21:12-13; Mark 11:15-18; cp. John 2:13-16)

45 Then He went into the temple and began to drive out those who bought and sold in it,
 46 saying to them, ^{at}“It is ^{au}written, ^{av}‘My house is ^{aw}a house of prayer,’ but you have made it a ^{ax}den of thieves.”
 47 And He was ^{ay}teaching daily in the temple. But the chief priests, the ^ascribes, and the leaders of the people sought to ^bdestroy Him, ⁴⁸and were unable to do anything; for all the people were very attentive to ^chear Him.

Jesus' authority challenged

(Matt. 21:23–27; Mark 11:27–33)

20 NOW it happened on one of those days, as He ^dtaught the people in the temple and preached the ^egospel, that the chief priests and the ^fscribes, together with the elders, confronted Him

²and spoke to Him, saying, “Tell us, ^gby what authority are You doing these things? Or who is he who gave You this authority?”

³But He answered and said to them, “I also will ask you one thing, and answer Me:

⁴“The ^hbaptism of John—was it from heaven or from men?”

⁵And they reasoned among themselves, saying, ⁱ“If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say, ‘Why then’ did you not believe him?”

⁶“But if we say, ‘From men,’ all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John was a ^jprophet.”

⁷So they answered ^kthat they did not know where it was from.

⁸And Jesus said to them, “Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things.”

Parable of the vineyard owner

(Matt. 21:33–46; Mark 12:1–9;

cp. Is. 5:1–7)

⁹Then He began to tell the people this ^lparable: “A certain man planted a ^mvineyard, leased it to vine-dressers, and went into a far country for a long time.

¹⁰“Now at vintage-time he ⁿsent a servant to the vine-dressers, that they might give him some of the fruit of the vineyard. But the vine-dressers beat him and sent him away empty-handed.

¹¹“Again he sent another servant; and they beat him also, treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty-handed.

¹²“And again he sent a third; and they wounded him also and cast him out.

¹³“Then the owner of the vineyard said, ‘What shall I do? I will ^osend my beloved son. Probably they will respect him when they see him.’

¹⁴“But when the vine-dressers saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, ‘This is the ^pheir. Come, ^qlet us kill him, that the inheritance may be ^rours.’

¹⁵“So they cast him out of the vineyard and ^skilled him. Therefore what will the owner of the vineyard do to them?”

¹⁶“He will come and ^tdestroy those vine-dressers and give the vineyard to ^uothers.” And when they heard it they said, “Certainly not!”

¹⁷Then He looked at them and said, “What then is this that is ^vwritten:

*‘The ^wstone which the builders rejected
Has become the chief cornerstone’?*

¹⁸“Whoever falls on that stone will be ^ybroken; ^zbut on whomever it falls, it will grind him to powder.”

Jesus answers the Herodians

(Matt. 22:15–22; Mark 12:13–17)

¹⁹And the chief priests and the ^{aa}scribes that very hour sought to lay hands on Him, but they feared the people^{*}—for they knew He had spoken this parable against them.

²⁰So they watched Him, and sent spies who pretended to be righteous, that they might seize on His words, in order to deliver Him to the power and the authority of the governor.

²¹Then they asked Him, saying, “Teacher, we know that You say and teach rightly, and You do not show personal favoritism, but teach the way of God in truth:

²²“Is it lawful for us to pay taxes to Caesar or not?”

²³But He perceived their craftiness, and said to them, “Why do you ^{bb}test Me?”

Jesus questions and denounces the scribes (cp. Matt. 22:41—23:36; Mark 12:35—40)

³⁹Then some of the ^dscribes answered and said, “Teacher, You have spoken well.”

⁴⁰But after that they dared not question Him anymore.

⁴¹And He said to them, “How can they say that the Christ is the ^eSon of David?

⁴²“Now David himself ^fsaid in the Book of Psalms:

‘The LORD said to my Lord, “Sit at My right hand,

⁴³ Till I make Your enemies Your footstool.’”

⁴⁴“Therefore David calls Him ‘Lord’; ^hhow is He then his Son?”

⁴⁵Then, in the hearing of all the people, He said to His disciples, ⁴⁶“Beware of the ⁱscribes, who desire to go around in long robes, love ^kgreetings in the marketplaces, the ^lbest seats in the synagogues, and the best places at feasts, ⁴⁷“who ^mdevour widows’ houses, and for a ⁿpretense make long prayers. These will receive ^ogreater condemnation.”

The widow’s mites (Mark 12:41–44)

21 AND He looked up and saw the rich putting their gifts into the treasury, ²and He saw also a certain ^ppoor widow putting in two mites.

³So He said, “Truly I say to you that this poor widow has put in more than all;

⁴“for all these out of their abundance have put in offerings for God,* but she out of her poverty put in ^qall the livelihood that she had.”

21:20 when you see Jerusalem. Two sieges of Jerusalem are in view in the Olivet Discourse, the one fulfilled in A.D. 70, and the other yet to be fulfilled at the end of the age. Here the reference is to the siege by Titus, A.D. 70, when the city was taken and vv. 20–24 literally fulfilled. These horrors illustrate the conditions in Palestine at the time of the end, but neither v. 20 nor v. 24 is included in the accounts of the Olivet Discourse given by Matthew and Mark. The references in Matt. 24:15–28 and Mark 13:14–26 are to the final siege, when the city will be taken by enemies but delivered by the return of the Lord to the earth (Rev. 19:11–21; Zech. 14:2–4). In Luke the sign is Jerusalem being surrounded by armies (21:20); in Matt. 24:15 and Mark 13:14 the sign is the abomination of desolation in the Holy Place (2 Thess. 2:4; Rev. 13:12–15).

21:24 trampled. The “times of the Gentiles” began with the captivity of Judah under Nebuchadnezzar (2 Chr. 36:1–21). Since that time Jerusalem has been, as Christ said, “trampled by Gentiles.” See margin, also.

21:27 coming in a cloud. This is clearly the return of Christ in which He comes to the earth, not His return to translate the Church. Signs in the sun, moon, and stars, and the shaking of the heavens do not accompany the rapture but are phenomena that will take place after the Church is gone (compare 2 Pet. 3:10–13; Rev. 6:12–17).

21:29 PARABLES IN THE NEW TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

In the NT, as in the OT, a parable is a similitude used to teach or enforce a truth (see Zech. 11:7, note). No one in Scripture record is as generous in the use of the parabolic method of teaching as Christ, who employs it liberally to illustrate important spiritual truths, with stories of things familiar in the natural realm.

Asked by His disciples why He spoke in parables, our Lord admitted two purposes: that (a) His followers might know the mysteries of the kingdom; and (b) those whose hearts were hardened might neither hear nor understand the same doctrine (Matt. 13:10–17).

Parables in the NT fall into three classifications: (1) general, e.g. Mark 9:50; Luke 10:30–37; 18:9–14; Rom. 7:1–6; (2) pertaining to the Church Age, e.g. Matt. 13:3–9, 18–23; and (3) relating to the Messianic kingdom, e.g. Matt. 24:45–51; Luke 14:16–24.

³³^d“Heaven and earth will pass away, but My ^ewords will by no means pass away.

Watchfulness enjoined

(Matt. 24:36-51; Mark 13:32-37)

³⁴“But take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts be weighed down with carousing, ^fdrunkenness, and ^gcares of this life, and that ^hDay come on you unexpectedly.

³⁵ⁱ“For ^jit will come as a snare on all those who dwell on the face of the whole earth.

³⁶^k“Watch therefore, and ^lpray always that you may be counted ^mworthy* to escape all these things that will come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man.”

³⁷And in the daytime He was teaching in the temple, but at night He went out and stayed on the mountain called Olivet.

³⁸Then early in the morning all the people came to Him in the temple to hear Him.

Judas agrees to betray Jesus

(Matt. 26:14-16; Mark 14:1-2,10-11)

22 NOW the Feast of Unleavened Bread drew near, which is called ⁿPassover.

²And the chief priests and the ^oscribes sought how they might kill Him, for they feared the people.

³Then ^pSatan entered Judas, surnamed Iscariot, who was numbered among the ^qtwelve.

⁴So he went his way and conferred with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray Him to them.

⁵And they were glad, and ^ragreed to give him money.

⁶So he promised and sought opportunity to ^sbetray Him to them in the absence of the multitude.

Preparation for the Passover

(Matt. 26:17-19; Mark 14:12-16)

⁷Then came the Day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover must be killed.

⁸And He sent Peter and John, saying, “Go and prepare the Passover for us, that we may eat.”

⁹So they said to Him, “Where do you want us to prepare?”

¹⁰And He said to them, “Behold, when you have entered the city, a man will meet you carrying a pitcher of water; follow him into the house which he enters.

¹¹“Then you shall say to the master of the house, ‘The Teacher says to you, ^t“Where is the guest room where I may eat the ^uPassover with My disciples?’”

¹²“Then he will show you a large, furnished upper room; there make ready.”

¹³So they went and ^vfound it just as He had said to them, and they prepared the Passover.

The last Passover (Matt. 26:20;

Mark 14:17; John 13:1-17)

¹⁴When the hour had come, He sat down, and the ^wtwelve* apostles with Him.

¹⁵Then He said to them, “With ^xfer-vent desire I have desired to ^yeat ^vthis Passover with you before I suffer;

¹⁶“for I say to you, I will no longer eat of it ^zuntil it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God.”

¹⁷Then He took the ^{aa}cup, and gave thanks, and said, “Take this and divide it among yourselves;

¹⁸“for I say to you,* I will not drink of the fruit of the vine until the ^{bb}kingdom of God comes.”

The Lord's Supper instituted

(Matt. 26:26-29; Mark 14:22-25; cp. John 13:12-30; 1 Cor. 11:23-26)

¹⁹And He took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, “This is My ^{cc}body which is given for you; ^{dd}do this in remembrance of Me.”

²⁰Likewise He also ^{took} the cup after supper, saying, “This cup is the ^{ee}new covenant in My ^{ff}blood, which is ^{gg}shed for you.

Jesus predicts His betrayal

(Matt. 26:21-25; Mark 14:18-21; John 13:18-30)

21 “But behold, the hand of My betrayer is with Me on the table.

22 “And truly the Son of Man goes as it has been determined, but woe to that man by whom He is betrayed!”

23 Then they began to question among themselves, which of them it was who would do this thing.

Renewed strife over who should be the greatest (Matt. 20:20-28; Mark 9:33-37; 10:35-45; John 13:1-17)

24 Now there was also a dispute among them, as to which of them should be considered the greatest.

25 And He said to them, “The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and those who exercise authority over them are called ‘benefactors.’

26 “But not so among you; on the contrary, he who is greatest among you, let him be as the younger, and he who governs as he who serves.

27 “For who is greater, he who sits at the table, or he who serves? Is it not he who sits at the table? Yet I am among you as the One who serves.

The apostles’ reward in future kingdom (Matt. 19:27-30; Mark 10:28-31; cp. Rev. 3:31)

28 “But you are those who have continued with Me in My trials.

29 “And I bestow upon you a kingdom, just as My Father bestowed one upon Me,

30 “that you may eat and drink at My table in My kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.”

Jesus foretells Peter’s denial

(Matt. 26:30-35; Mark 14:26-31; John 13:36-38)

31 And the Lord said, “Simon, Simon! Indeed, Satan has asked for you, that he may sift you as wheat.

32 “But I have prayed for you, that your faith should not fail; and when you have returned to Me, strengthen your brethren.”

33 But he said to Him, “Lord, I am ready to go with You, both to prison and to death.”

34 Then He said, “I tell you, Peter, the rooster shall not crow this day before you will deny three times that you know Me.”

Disciples warned of coming conflict (cp. John 14-16; contra. Matt. 10:9-13)

35 And He said to them, “When I sent you without money bag, knapsack, and sandals, did you lack anything?” So they said, “Nothing.”

36 Then He said to them, “But now, he who has a money bag, let him take it, and likewise a knapsack; and he who has no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one.

37 “For I say to you that this which is written must still be accomplished in Me: ‘And He was numbered with the transgressors.’ For the things concerning Me have an end.”

38 So they said, “Lord, look, here are two swords.” And He said to them, “It is enough.”

Jesus betrayed by Judas

(Matt. 26:47-54; Mark 14:43-47;

John 18:2-11)

⁴⁷And while He was still speaking, behold, a ⁱmultitude; and he who was called ^jJudas, one of the twelve, went before them and drew near to Jesus to kiss Him.

⁴⁸But Jesus said to him, "Judas, are you betraying the ^kSon of Man with a ^lkiss?"

⁴⁹When those around Him saw what was going to happen, they said to Him, "Lord, shall we strike with the sword?"

⁵⁰And one of them struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his right ear.

⁵¹But Jesus answered and said, "Permit even this." And He touched his ear and ^mhealed him.

⁵²Then Jesus said to the chief priests, captains of the temple, and the elders who had come to Him, "Have you come out, as against a ⁿrobber, with swords and clubs?

⁵⁴Having arrested Him, they ^qled Him and brought Him into the high priest's house. But Peter followed ^rat a distance.

⁵⁵Now when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the courtyard and sat down together, Peter sat ^samong them.

⁵⁶And a certain servant girl, seeing him as he sat by the fire, looked intently at him and said, "This man was also with Him."

⁵⁷But he ^tdenied Him,* saying, "Woman, I do not know Him."

⁵⁸And after a little while another saw him and said, "You also are of them." But Peter said, "Man, I am not!"

⁵⁹Then after about an hour had passed, another confidently affirmed, saying, "Surely this fellow also was with Him, for he is a ^uGalilean."

⁶⁰But Peter said, "Man, I do not know what you are saying!" Immediately, while he was still speaking, the rooster ^vcrowed.

⁶When Pilate heard of ^tGalilee,* he asked if the Man were a Galilean.

⁷And as soon as he knew that He belonged to Herod’s jurisdiction, he ⁸Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedingly glad; for he had ^vdesired for a long time to see Him, because he had ^wheard many things about Him, and he hoped to see some miracle done by Him.

⁹Then he questioned Him with many words, but He answered him ^xnothing.

¹⁰And the chief priests and ^yscribes stood and vehemently accused Him.

¹¹Then Herod, with his men of war, treated Him with contempt and ^zmocked Him, arrayed Him in a gorgeous robe, and sent Him back to Pilate.

23:31 The saying is probably a proverb in the form of an a fortiori argument. If the Romans condemned to death the one they admitted to be innocent, how would they deal in the future with those whom they found guilty?

23:33 For the order of events at the crucifixion of Christ, see Matt. 27:33, note. when they had come. Approximately A.D. 29. Calvary. Or the skull. See Mark 15:22, note.

23:35 people stood looking on. Jesus crucified is the touchstone revealing what the world is: “The people stood looking on” in stolid indifference; the rulers, who wanted religion but without a divine Christ crucified for their sins, mocked (Matt. 27:41); the brutal “blasphemed Him” (v. 39); the conscious sinner prayed (v. 42); and the covetous sat down before the cross and played their sordid game (Matt. 27:35-36). The cross is the judgment of this world (John 12:31).

23:39 one of the criminals. When the two criminals were hanged beside the Lord, the one was no better than the other. Mark says, “Even those who were crucified with Him reviled Him” (Mark 15:32). It is only the grace of God

54 That day was the ^uPreparation, and the ^vSabbath drew near.

55 And the ^wwomen who had come with Him from Galilee followed after, and they observed the tomb and how His body was laid.

56 Then they returned and ^xprepared spices and fragrant oils. And they rested on the Sabbath ^yaccording to the commandment.

24:19 Prophet. Christ possessed in perfection the credentials of a true prophet (see Deut. 13:4 and 1 Cor. 12:10, notes). Not only was He able, by His own power, to perform miracles, but also His message was completely harmonious with the Word of God, He Himself being the living Word. He told forth divine truth and foretold the divine prophetic program. Christ was Prophet, Priest (Zech. 6:9-13), and King (Matt. 2:2; Rev. 19:11-16).

24:27 the things concerning Himself. Cleopas and his companion on the Emmaus Road had the inestimable privilege of hearing the incarnate Word, Christ the risen Lord, explain the written Word, the Holy Scriptures. THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO JOHN

Author:
John

Theme:
Christ in His Deity

Date of writing:
c. A.D. 85–90

Background

John, the writer of this Gospel, was the son of Zebedee and one of the Twelve. Along with his brother, James, and with Peter, he belonged to the inner circle of disciples, a group that was near Christ on such occasions as the transfiguration and the agony in Gethsemane. It was to John that our Lord on the cross commended His mother. John appears with Peter in the first part of Acts and is referred to by Paul as one of the three “pillars” of the Church (Galatians 2:9). His other writings are the Epistles bearing his name, and Revelation.

God’s Relationship with Man

John’s purpose in the Fourth Gospel was, as he plainly declares, “that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in His name” (20:31). Therefore, he presents Christ as the Son of God (1:34,49; etc.), who was sent from God (3:2; 6:46; etc.) and always spoke the message God gave Him (3:34; 7:16–17; etc.). In accordance with the purpose of this Gospel, the words “believe” and “life,” and the titles “Son” and “Son of God,” are used many more times than in the Synoptic Gospels. Other characteristic words of John are “true,” “truth,” “love,” “witness,” and “world” (Greek kosmos). John alone records the great “I am” declarations of Christ (6:35; 8:12; 10:7,11; 11:25; 14:6) and gives the sayings of Christ introduced by the solemn “Most assuredly,” literally, “Amen, amen” (1:51; 5:19,24,25, etc.). Moreover, he alone reports the great controversy between Christ and His enemies (chapters 7–12).

1:1 Word. Greek Logos (Aramaic Memra, used as a designation of God in the Targums, that is, Aramaic translations of the OT). The Greek word means, (1) a thought or concept; and (2) the expression or utterance of that thought. As a designation of Christ, therefore, Logos is peculiarly suitable because (1) in Him are embodied all the treasures of the divine wisdom, the collective thought of God (1 Cor. 1:24; Eph. 3:10-11; Col. 2:2-3); and (2) He is, from eternity, but especially in His incarnation, the utterance or expression of the Person and thought of Deity (John 1:3-5, 9, 14-18; 14:9-11; Col. 2:9). In the Being, Person, and work of Christ, Deity is expressed.

GRACE, SUMMARY

(1) Grace is "the kindness and the love of God our Savior . . . not by works of righteousness which we have done . . . having been justified by His grace" (Titus 3:4,5,7). As a principle, therefore, grace is set in contrast with law (Rom. 11:6), under which God demands righteousness from men, as, under grace, He gives righteousness to men (Rom. 3:21-24; 8:3-4; Gal. 2:16; Phil. 3:9). Law is connected with Moses and works; grace, with Christ and faith (John 1:17; Rom. 10:4-10). Under law, blessings accompany obedience (Deut. 28:1-6); grace bestows blessings as a free gift (Rom. 4:3-5; Eph. 2:8).

(2) In its fullness, grace began with the ministry of Christ involving His death and resurrection, for He came to die for sinners (John 1:17; Matt. 11:28-30; 16:21; 20:28; Rom. 3:24-26; 4:24-25). Under the former dispensation, law was shown to be powerless to secure righteousness and life for a sinful race (Gal. 3:21-22). Prior to the cross man's salvation was through faith (Gen. 15:6; Rom. 4:3), being grounded on Christ's atoning sacrifice, anticipated by God (Rom. 3:25; see Gen. 1:28, note, on page 4, par. 4); now it is clearly revealed that salvation and righteousness are received by faith in the crucified and resurrected Savior (John 1:12-13; 5:24; 1 John 5:11-13), with holiness of life and good works following as the fruit of salvation (John 15:16; Rom. 8:2-4; Eph. 2:8-10; Titus 2:11-14).

(3) There was grace before Christ came, as witnessed by the provision of sacrifice for sinners (Ex. 20:24-26; Lev. 5:17-18; 17:11). The difference between the former age and the present age, therefore, is not a matter of no grace and some grace, but rather that today grace reigns (Rom. 5:21), in the sense that the only Being who has a right to judge sinners (John 5:22) is now seated on a throne of grace (Heb. 4:14-16), not imputing to the world their trespasses (2 Cor. 5:19).

³⁵Again, the next day, John stood with two of his disciples.

³⁶And looking at Jesus as He walked, he said, "Behold the ^aLamb of God!"

³⁷The two disciples heard him speak, and they ^bfollowed Jesus.

³⁸Then Jesus turned, and seeing them following, said to them, "What do you ^cseek?" They said to Him, "Rabbi" (which is to say, when translated, Teacher), "where are You staying?"

³⁹He said to them, "Come and see." They came and saw where He was ^dstaying, and ^eremained with Him that day (now it was about the tenth hour).

⁴⁰One of the two who heard John speak, and followed Him, was ^fAndrew, Simon Peter's brother.

⁴¹He first found his own brother Simon, and said to him, "We have found the Messiah" (which is translated, the Christ).

⁴²And he brought him to Jesus. Now when Jesus looked at him, He said, "You are Simon the son of Jonah.* You shall be called Cephas" (which is translated, A Stone).

⁴³The following day Jesus wanted to go to Galilee, and He ^gfound ^hPhilip and said to him, "Follow Me."

⁴⁴Now Philip was from Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

⁴⁵Philip found Nathanael and said to him, "We have found Him of whom Moses in the ⁱlaw, and also the prophets, ^jwrote—Jesus of Nazareth, the ^kson of Joseph."

⁴⁶And Nathanael said to him, "Can anything good come out of ^lNazareth?" Philip said to him, "Come and see."

⁴⁷Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward Him, and said of him, "Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no ^mdeceit!"

⁴⁸Nathanael said to Him, "How do You know me?" Jesus answered and said to him, "Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you."

⁴⁹Nathanael answered and said to Him, "Rabbi, ⁿYou are the ^oSon of God! You are the ^pKing of Israel!"

⁵⁰Jesus answered and said to him, "Because I said to you, 'I saw you under the fig tree,' do you ^qbelieve? You will see greater things than these."

⁵¹And He said to him, "^rMost assuredly, I say to you, hereafter* you shall see heaven open, and the ^sangels of God ascending and descending upon the ^tSon of Man."

The first miracle: at Cana

2 ON the third day there was a ^uwedding in Cana of Galilee, and the ^vmother of Jesus was there.

²Now both Jesus and His disciples were invited to the wedding.

³And when they ran out of wine, the mother of Jesus said to Him, "They have no wine."

⁴Jesus said to her, "Woman, what does your concern have to do with Me? My hour has not yet come."

⁵His mother said to the servants, "Whatever He says to you, do it."

⁶Now there were set there six waterpots of stone, according to the manner of ^wpurification of the Jews, containing twenty or thirty ^xgallons apiece.

⁷Jesus said to them, "Fill the waterpots with water." And they filled them up to the brim.

⁸And He said to them, "Draw some out now, and take it to the master of the feast." And they took it.

⁹When the master of the feast had tasted the water that was ¹³Now the Passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

¹⁴And He ⁱfound in the temple those who sold ^koxen and sheep and doves, and the money changers doing business.

¹⁵When He had made a whip of cords, He ^ldrove them all ^mout of the temple, with the sheep and the oxen, and poured out the changers’ money and overturned the tables.

¹⁶And He said to those who sold doves, “Take these things away! Do not make My Father’s house a house of merchandise!”

¹⁷Then His disciples remembered that it was ⁿwritten, ^o“Zeal for Your house has eaten Me up.*”

¹⁸So the Jews answered and said to Him, “What ^psign do You show to us, since You do these things?”

¹⁹Jesus answered and said to them, ^q“Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.”

²⁰Then the Jews said, “It has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and will You raise it up in three days?”

²¹But He was speaking of the ^rtemple of His body.

²²Therefore, when He had ^srisen from the dead, His disciples ^tremembered that He had said this to them;* and they believed the Scripture and the word which Jesus had said.

²³Now when He was in Jerusalem at the Passover, during the feast, many ^ubelieved in His name when they saw the ^vsigns which He ^wdid.

²⁴But Jesus did not commit Himself to them, because He ^xknew all ^ymen, ²⁵and had no need that anyone should testify of man, for He knew what was in man.

3:3 REGENERATION

(1) The necessity of the new birth grows out of the incapacity of the natural man to “see” or “enter” the kingdom of God. However gifted, moral, or refined he may be, the natural man is absolutely blind to spiritual truth and impotent to enter the kingdom; for he can neither obey, understand, nor please God (vv. 3,5-6; compare Ps. 51:5; Jer. 17:9; Mark 7:21-23; 1 Cor. 2:14; Rom. 8:7-8; Eph. 2:3. See Matt. 6:33, note).

(2) The new birth is not a reformation of the old nature (Rom. 6:6, note), but a creative act of the Holy Spirit (John 3:5; compare 1:12-13; 2 Cor. 5:17; Eph. 2:10; 4:24).

(3) The condition of the new birth is faith in Christ crucified (John 3:14,15; compare 1:12-13; Gal. 3:24).

(4) Through the new birth the believer becomes a member of the family of God (Gal. 3:26; 1 Pet. 1:23) and a partaker of the divine nature, the life of Christ Himself (Gal. 2:20; Eph. 2:10; 4:24; Col. 1:27; 2 Pet. 1:4; 1 John 5:10-12). And

(5) in view of Ezek. 36:24-26, Nicodemus should have known about the new birth. Observe the correspondence between the “clean water,” the “new spirit,” and the “new heart” of the Ezekiel passage and the “water,” “Spirit,” and new birth (“born again”) of John 3:3,7.

⁴Nicodemus said to Him, “How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother’s womb and be born?”

Last testimony of John the Baptist

²²After these things Jesus and His disciples came into the land of Judea, and there He remained with them and ^ybaptized.

²³Now John also was baptizing in Aenon near Salim, because there was much water there. And they ^zcame and were ^ybaptized.

²⁴For John had not yet been thrown into ^{aa}prison.

²⁵Then there arose a dispute between some of John’s disciples and the Jews about purification.

²⁶And they came to John and said to him, “Rabbi, He who was with you beyond the Jordan, to whom ⁶Now ^yJacob’s ^zwell was there. Jesus therefore, being ^{aa}wearied from His journey, sat thus by the well. It was about the sixth hour.

⁷A woman of Samaria came to draw water. Jesus said to her, “Give Me a drink.”

⁸For His disciples had gone away into the city to buy food.

⁹Then the woman of Samaria said to Him, “How is it that You, being a Jew, ask a drink from me, a Samaritan woman?” For Jews have no ^{bb}dealings with ^{cc}Samaritans.

¹⁰Jesus answered and said to her, “If you knew the ^{dd}gift of God, and who it is who says to you, ‘Give Me a drink,’ you would have asked Him, and He would have given you ^{ee}living water.”

¹¹The woman said to Him, “Sir, You have nothing to draw with, and the well is deep. Where then do You get that ^{ff}living water?”

¹²“Are You ^{gg}greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank from it himself, as well as his sons and his livestock?”

Jesus and the Samaritans

³⁹And many of the ^bSamaritans of that city ^cbelieved in Him because of the word of the woman who testified, “He told me all that I ever did.”

⁴⁰So when the ^dSamaritans had come to Him, they urged Him to stay with them; and He stayed there two days.

⁴¹And many more ^ebelieved because of His own ^fword.

⁴²Then they said to the woman, “Now we ^gbelieve, not because of what you said, for we ourselves have heard Him and we know that this is indeed the Christ,^{*} the ^hSavior of the world.”

⁴³Now after the two days He departed from there and went to Galilee.

⁴⁴For Jesus Himself testified ⁱthat a ^jprophet has no honor in his own country.

⁴⁵So when He came to Galilee, the Galileans received Him, having ^kseen all the things He did in Jerusalem at the feast; for they also had gone to the feast.

Jesus heals a nobleman's son

⁴⁶So Jesus came again to Cana of Galilee where He had ^lmade the water wine. ^mAnd there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum.

⁴⁷When he heard that Jesus had come out of Judea into Galilee, he went to Him and implored Him to come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death.

⁴⁸Then Jesus said to him, “Unless you people see ⁿsigns and wonders, you will by no means believe.”

⁴⁹The nobleman ^osaid to Him, “Sir, come down before my child dies!”

⁵⁰Jesus said to him, “Go your way; your son lives.” So the man ^qbelieved the ^rword that Jesus spoke to him, and he went his way.

⁵¹And as he was now going down, his servants met him and told him, saying, ^s“Your son lives!”

⁵²Then he inquired of them the hour when he got better. And they said to him, “Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever ^tleft him.”

⁵³So the father knew that it was at the same hour in which Jesus said to him, “Your son lives.” And he himself ^vbelieved, and his whole household.

⁵⁴This again is the ^wsecond sign Jesus did when He had come out of Judea into Galilee.

Another feast of the Jews: healing of the crippled man at pool of Bethesda

5 AFTER this there was a ^xfeast of the Jews, and Jesus ^ywent up to Jerusalem.

²Now there is in Jerusalem by the Sheep ^zGate a pool, which is called in Hebrew, Bethesda,^{*} having five porches.

³In these lay a great multitude of sick people, blind, lame, paralyzed, waiting for the moving of the water.

⁴For an ^{aa}angel went down at a certain time into the pool and stirred up the water; then whoever stepped in first, after the stirring of the water, was made well of whatever disease he had.^{*}

⁵Now a certain man was there who had an ^{bb}infirmity thirty-eight years.

⁶When Jesus saw him lying there, and knew that he already had been in that condition a long time, He said to him, “Do you want to be made well?”

⁷The ^{dd}sick man answered Him, “Sir, ^{ee}I have no man to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up; but while I am coming, another steps down before me.”

⁸Jesus said to him, ^a“Rise, take up your bed and walk.”

⁹And immediately the man was ^bmade well, took up his bed, and walked. And that day was the ^cSabbath.

¹⁰The Jews therefore said to him who was cured, “It is the ^cSabbath; it is not ^dlawful for you to carry your bed.”

¹¹He answered them, “He who made me well said to me, ^e“Take up your bed and walk.”

¹²Then they asked him, “Who is the Man who said to you, ‘Take up your bed and walk?’”

¹³But the one who was ^fhealed did not know who it was, for Jesus had ^gwithdrawn, a multitude being in that place.

¹⁴Afterward Jesus found him in the temple, and said to him, “See, you have been made well. ^hSin no more, lest a worse thing come upon you.”

¹⁵The man departed and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

¹⁶For this reason the Jews ⁱpersecuted Jesus, and sought to kill Him,* because He had done these things on the ^cSabbath.

*Jesus claims equality

¹⁷But Jesus answered them, “My Father has been working until now, and I have been ^jworking.”

¹⁸Therefore the Jews sought all the more to ^kkill Him, because He not only broke the ^cSabbath, but also said that ^lGod was His Father, ^mmaking Himself equal with God.

¹⁹Then Jesus answered and said to them, ⁿ“Most assuredly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of Himself, but what He sees the Father do; for whatever He does, the Son also does in like manner.

²⁰“For the Father ^oloves the Son, and ^pshows Him all things that He Himself does; and He will show Him greater works than these, that you may marvel.

²¹“For as the Father ^qraises the dead and gives life to them, even so the Son ^rgives life to whom He will.

²²“For the Father judges no one, but has committed ^sall ‘judgment to the Son, ²⁷“and has given Him authority to execute [‘]judgment also, because He is the Son of Man.

²⁸“Do not marvel at this; for the hour is coming in which all who are in the graves will ^{aa}hear His voice ²⁹^{bb}“and [‘]come forth—those who have done good, ^wto the resurrection of ^vlife, and those who have done evil, to the [‘]resurrection ^sof ^{cc}condemnation.

*5:16 NU-Text omits and sought to kill Him.

5:18 His Father. Literally, “His own Father” (Greek patera idion). It is clear that the Jews understood that Jesus was claiming to be God. Compare 10:33.

5:19 nothing of Himself. Some have mistakenly said that Jesus was here disclaiming equality with the Father. On the contrary, the whole context argues the opposite (vv. 18 where see note, 23,26). Our Lord is simply saying that He and the Father work together (compare v. 17). do. Literally doing.

5:25,28 hour. Since this “hour” of spiritual regeneration has already lasted for over nineteen centuries, it is also possible for the future “hour” of physical resurrection (vv. 28-29) to extend over a thousand years—the righteous to be raised at the beginning; the wicked, at the end. See Rev. 20.

31 “If I bear witness of Myself, My witness is not true.

32 “There is ^aanother who bears witness of Me, and I know that the witness which He witnesses of Me is true.

(1) Witness of John the Baptist

33 “You have sent to John, and he has borne witness to the truth.

34 “Yet I do not receive testimony from man, but I say these things that you may be ^bsaved.

35 “He was the burning and shining lamp, and you were willing for a time to rejoice in his light.

(2) Witness of Jesus’ works

36 “But I have a greater witness than John’s; for the works which the Father has given Me to ^cfinish—the very ^dworks that I do—bear witness of Me, that the Father has sent Me.

(3) Witness of the Father
(cp. Matt. 3:17)

37 “And the Father Himself, who sent Me, has testified of Me. You have neither heard His voice at any time, nor ^eseen His form.

38 “But you do not have His word abiding in you, because whom He sent, Him you do not believe.

(4) Witness of Scripture
(cp. Luke 24:27,44)

39 “You ^fsearch the Scriptures, for in them you think you have eternal ^glife; and these are they which testify of Me.

40 “But you are not willing to come to Me that you may have ^hlife.

41 “I do not receive honor from men.

42 “But I know you, that you do not have the love of God in you.

43 “I have ⁱcome in My Father’s name, and you do not receive Me; if ^janother comes in his own ^kname, him you will receive.

44 “How can you believe, who receive honor from one another, and do not seek the honor that comes from the only God?

45 “Do not think that I shall accuse you to the Father; there is one who accuses you—Moses, in whom you ^ltrust.

46 “For if you believed Moses, you would ^mbelieve Me; for he ⁿwrote about Me.

47 “But if you do ^onot believe his ^pwritings, how will you believe My words?”

Another Passover: five thousand fed
(Matt. 14:15–21; Mark 6:32–44;
Luke 9:12–17)

6 AFTER these things Jesus went over the Sea of Galilee, which is the Sea of ^qTiberias.

²Then a great multitude followed Him, because they saw His signs which He performed on those who were ^rdiseased.

³And Jesus went up on the mountain, and there He sat with His disciples.

⁴Now the Passover, a feast of the Jews, was near.

⁵Then Jesus lifted up His eyes, and seeing a great multitude coming toward Him, He said to ^sPhilip, “Where shall we buy bread, that these may eat?”

⁶But this He said to ^ttest him, for He Himself knew what He would do.

⁷Philip answered Him, ^u“Two hundred ^vdenarii worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may have a little.”

i Christ (first advent): v. 43; John 6:33. (Gen. 3:15; Acts 1:11, note)

5:31 Compare John 8:14. The statement here (5:31) might be paraphrased as follows: “If I testify about Myself, you will say My testimony is not valid.” Against this charge our Lord, in defending His Messianic claims, urges the biblical rule of evidence which requires two or three witnesses (Num. 35:30; Deut. 17:6; John 8:17–18). The additional witnesses are cited in vv. 32–47.

6:1 After these things. There are many events in our Lord’s ministry which took place between ch. 5:47 and 6:1, that is, the period between Matt. 4:12 and 14:12.

Galilee. Or Chinnereth, Num. 34:11; or Chinneroth, Josh. 12:3.

Sea of Galilee: A large, fresh-water lake in Galilee, known for its sudden and fierce storms.

6:4 Passover . . . was near. Approximately A.D. 27. Compare John 2:13; 11:55; 18:28; see Ex. 12:11, note.

Philip: lover of horses. One of the twelve disciples of Jesus.

⁸One of His disciples, ^aAndrew, Simon Peter's brother, said to Him,

⁹"There is a lad here who has five barley loaves and two small fish, but what are they among so ^bmany?"

¹⁰Then Jesus said, "Make the people sit down." Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

¹¹And Jesus took the loaves, and when He had ^cgiven thanks He distributed them to the disciples, and the disciples* to those sitting down; and likewise of the fish, as much as they wanted.

¹²So when they were filled, He said to His disciples, "Gather up the fragments that remain, so ^dthat nothing is lost."

¹³Therefore they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves which were left over by those who had eaten.

¹⁴Then those men, when they had seen the ^esign that Jesus did, said, "This is truly ^fthe Prophet who is to come into the world."

Jesus walks on the water
(Matt. 14:22–32; Mark 6:45–52)

¹⁵Therefore when Jesus perceived that they were about to come and take Him by force to make Him ^gking, He departed again to the mountain by Himself alone.

¹⁶Now when evening came, His disciples went down to the sea, ¹⁷got into the boat, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was already dark, and Jesus had not come to them.

¹⁸Then the sea arose because a ⁱgreat wind was blowing.

¹⁹So when they had rowed about three or four miles,* they saw Jesus ^jwalking on the ^ksea and drawing near the boat; and they were ^lafraid.

²⁰But He said to them, ^m"It is I; do not be afraid."

²¹Then they willingly received Him into the boat, and immediately the boat was at the land where they were going.

Jesus, the bread of life

²²On the following day, when the people who were standing on the other side of the sea saw that there was no other boat there, except that one which His disciples had entered,* and that Jesus had not entered the boat with His disciples, but His disciples had gone away alone—

²³however, other boats came from Tiberias, near the ⁿplace where they ate bread after the Lord had given thanks—

²⁴when the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, nor His disciples, they also got into boats and came to Capernaum, ^oseeking Jesus.

²⁶Jesus answered them and said, ^a“Most assuredly, I say to you, you seek Me, not because you saw the signs, but because you ^bate of the loaves and were filled.

²⁷^c“Do not labor for the food which perishes, but for the food which ^dendures to everlasting ^elife, which the ^fSon of Man will ^ggive you, because God the Father has ^hset His seal on Him.”

²⁸Then they said to Him, “What shall we do, that we may work the works of God?”

²⁹Jesus answered and said to them, “This is the work of God, that you ^believe in Him whom He sent.”

Jesus, sent from heaven

³⁰Therefore they said to Him, “What ⁱsign will You perform then, that we may see it and believe You? What work will You do?

³¹“Our fathers ate the ^kmanna in the desert; as it is ^lwritten, ‘He gave them bread from heaven to eat.’”^{*}

³²Then Jesus said to them, ^a“Most assuredly, I say to you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven, but ^mMy Father gives you the true bread from heaven.

³³“For the bread of God ⁿis He who ^ocomes down from heaven and ^pgives ^elife to the world.”

³⁴Then they said to Him, “Lord, give us this bread always.”

³⁵And Jesus said to them, ^q“I am the bread of ^elife. He who comes to Me shall never ^rhunger, and he who ^sbelieves in Me shall never ^tthirst.

³⁶“But I said to you that you have ^useen Me and yet do ^vnot believe.

³⁷“All that the Father ^wgives Me will come to Me, and ^xthe one who comes to Me I will by no means cast out.

³⁸“For I have ^ocome down from heaven, not to do My own will, ^ybut the ^pwill of Him who sent Me.

³⁹“This is the will of the Father who sent Me, that of all He has given Me I should lose ^znothing, but should raise it up at the last ^{aa}day.

⁴⁰“And this is the will of Him who sent Me, that everyone who sees the Son and believes in Him may have everlasting ^elife; and I will ^{bb}raise him up at the last ^{aa}day.”

⁴¹The Jews then complained about Him, because He said, ^q“I am the bread which ^ocame down from heaven.”

⁴²And they said, ^{cc}“Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How is it then that He says, ‘I have ^ocome down from heaven?’”

⁴³Jesus therefore answered and said to them, “Do not murmur among yourselves.

⁴⁴“No one can ^{dd}come to Me unless the Father who sent Me ^{ee}draws him; and I will raise him up at the last ^{aa}day.

⁴⁵“It is ^lwritten in the prophets, ‘And they shall all be taught by God.’ Therefore everyone who has heard and learned* from the Father comes to Me.

⁴⁶“Not that anyone has seen the Father, except He who is from God; He has seen the Father.

⁴⁷^a“Most assuredly, I say to you, he who believes in Me* has everlasting ^elife.

⁴⁸^q“I ^{ff}am the bread of life.

⁴⁹“Your fathers ate the ^kmanna in the wilderness, and are ^{gg}dead.

⁵⁰“This is the bread which ^ocomes down from heaven, that one may eat of it and not die.

⁵¹^q“I ^{ff}am the living bread which ^ocame down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will ^elive ^zforever; and the bread that I shall give is My flesh, which I shall ^pgive for the life of the world.”

⁵²The Jews therefore quarreled among themselves, saying, “How can this Man give us His flesh to eat?”

⁵³Then Jesus said to them, ^a“Most assuredly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life in you.

- 10But when His ^abrothers had gone up, then He also went up to the ^bfeast, not openly, but as it were in ^csecret.
- 11Then the Jews sought Him at the feast, and said, "Where is He?"
- 12^dAnd there was much complaining among the people concerning Him. Some said, "He is good"; others said, "No, on the contrary, He deceives the people."
- 13However, no one spoke openly of Him for ^efear of the Jews.
- 14Now about the middle of the ^ffeast Jesus went up into the temple and ^gtaught.
- 15And the Jews ^hmarveled, saying, "How does this Man know letters, having never studied?"
- 16Jesus* answered them and said, "My doctrine is not Mine, but ⁱHis who sent Me.
- 17"If anyone wills to do His will, he shall know concerning the doctrine, ^jwhether it is from God or ^{whether I speak on My own authority.}
- 18"He who speaks from himself seeks his own glory; but He who ^kseeks the glory of the One who sent Him is true, and ^lno unrighteousness is in Him.
- 19"Did not Moses give you the ^mlaw, yet none of you keeps the law? Why do you seek to kill Me?"
- 20The people answered and said, "You have a ⁿdemon. Who is seeking to kill You?"
- 21Jesus answered and said to them, "I did one work, and you all ^omarvel.
- 22"Moses therefore gave you ^ocircumcision (not that it is from Moses, but ^pfrom the fathers), and you circumcise a man on the ^qSabbath.

23"If a man receives circumcision on the Sabbath, so that the ^rlaw of Moses should not be broken, are you angry with Me because I made a man ^scompletely well on the ^tSabbath?"

24"Do not judge according to appearance, but judge with ^urighteous judgment."

25Now some of them from Jerusalem said, "Is this not He whom they seek to ^vkill?"

26"But look! He speaks boldly, and they say nothing to Him. ^wDo the rulers know indeed that this is truly* the Christ?"

27^x"However, we know where this Man is from; but when the Christ comes, no one knows where He is from."

28Then Jesus cried out, as He taught in the temple, saying, "You both know Me, and you know where I am from; and I have not come of Myself, but He who sent Me is true, whom you do not know.

29"But* I know Him, for I am ^yfrom Him, and He sent Me."

30Therefore they sought to take Him; but no one laid a hand on Him, because His ^zhour had not yet come.

31And many of the people ^{aa}believed in Him, and said, "When the Christ ^{bb}comes, will He do more signs than these which this Man has done?"

32The ^{cc}Pharisees heard the crowd murmuring these things concerning Him, and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take Him.

³³Then Jesus said to them, ^a“I shall be with you a little while longer, and then I ^bgo to Him who sent Me.

³⁴“You will seek Me and not find Me, and where I am you ^ccannot come.”

³⁵Then the Jews said among themselves, “Where does He intend to go that we shall not find Him? Does He intend to go to the ^dDispersion among the ^eGreeks and teach the Greeks?

³⁶“What is this thing that He said, ‘You will seek Me and not find Me, and where I am you cannot come’?”

The great prophecy concerning the Holy Spirit for power (Acts 2:2-4; cp. John 4:14)

³⁷On the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried out, saying, “If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink.

³⁸“He who believes in Me, as the Scripture has said, out of his heart will ^gflow rivers of living ^hwater.”

³⁹But this He spoke concerning the Spirit, whom those believing^{} in Him would receive; for the Holy^{} ⁱSpirit was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet ^jglorified.

⁴⁰Therefore many^{*} from the crowd, when they heard this saying, ^ksaid, “Truly this ^lis the Prophet.”

⁴¹Others ^ksaid, “This is ^mthe Christ.” But some said, “Will the Christ come out of Galilee?”

⁴²“Has not the Scripture ⁿsaid that the Christ ^ocomes from the seed of David and from the town of Bethlehem, where David was?”

⁴³So there was a division among the people because of Him.

⁴⁴Now some of them wanted to take Him, but no one laid hands on Him.

⁴⁵Then the officers came to the chief priests and ^pPharisees, who said to them, “Why have you not brought Him?”

⁴⁶The officers answered, ^q“No man ever spoke like this Man!”

⁴⁷Then the ^rPharisees answered them, “Are you also deceived?

^{48r}“Have any of the rulers or the ^pPharisees believed in Him?

⁴⁹“But this crowd that does not know the ^slaw is accursed.”

⁵⁰Nicodemus ^t(he who came to Jesus by night,^{*} being one of them) said to them,

⁵¹“Does our ^slaw judge a man before it ^uhears him and knows what he is doing?”

⁵²They answered and said to him, “Are you also from Galilee? Search and look, ^vfor no prophet has arisen^{*} out of Galilee.”

⁵³And everyone went to his own house.^{*}

7:53 Although John 7:53—8:11 is not found in some ancient manuscripts, the immediate context, beginning with Christ’s declaration, “I am the light of the world” (8:12) seems clearly to have its occasion in the conviction wrought in the hearts of the Pharisees as recorded in 8:9, and also helps to explain the Pharisees’ words in 8:41. It is therefore to be considered a genuine part of the Gospel.

⁷So when they continued asking Him, He raised Himself up* and said to them, “He who is without ^bsin among you, ^clet him throw a stone at her first.”

⁸And again He stooped down and wrote on the ground.

⁹Then those who heard it, being convicted by their conscience,* went out one by one, beginning with the oldest even to the last. And Jesus was left ^dalone, and the woman standing in the midst.

¹⁰When Jesus had raised Himself up and saw no one but the woman, He said to her,* “Woman, where are those ^eaccusers of yours? Has no one condemned you?”

¹¹She said, “No one, Lord.” And Jesus said to her, “Neither do I ^fcondemn you; go and* ^gsin no more.”

The central conflict between Jesus and the Pharisees: the origin of Christ. He is the light of the world (cp. John 1:9)

¹²Then Jesus spoke to them again, saying, ^h“I am the ⁱlight of the world. He who ^jfollows Me shall not walk in darkness, but have the light of ^klife.”

¹³The ^lPharisees therefore said to Him, “You bear witness of Yourself; Your witness is not true.”

¹⁴Jesus answered and said to them, “Even if I bear witness of Myself, My witness is true, for I know where I came from and where I am going; but you do not know where I come from and where I am going.

¹⁵“You judge according to the ^mflesh; I judge no one.

¹⁶“And yet if I do judge, My judgment is true; for I am not alone, but I am with the Father who sent Me.

¹⁷“It is also ⁿwritten in your ^plaw that the testimony of two men is true.

¹⁸“I am One who bears witness of Myself, and the ^qFather who sent Me bears witness of Me.”

¹⁹Then they said to Him, “Where is Your Father?” Jesus answered, “You know neither Me nor My Father. ^rIf you had known Me, you would have known My Father also.”

²⁰These words Jesus spoke in the treasury, as He taught in the temple; and no one laid hands on Him, for His ^shour had not yet come.

²¹Then Jesus said to them again, “I am going away, and you will seek Me, and will ^tdie in your ^usin. Where I go you ^vcannot come.”

²²So the Jews said, “Will He ^wkill Himself, because He says, ‘Where I go you cannot come?’”

²³And He said to them, “You are from beneath; ^xI am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world.

²⁴“Therefore I said to you that you will ^ydie in your ^zsins; for if you do not believe that I am He, you will ^{aa}die in your ^{ab}sins.”

²⁵Then they said to Him, “Who are You?” And Jesus said to them, “Just what I have been ^{ac}saying to you from the beginning.

²⁶“I have many things to say and to judge concerning you, but He who sent Me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I heard from Him.”

²⁷They did not understand that He spoke to them of the Father.

²⁸Then Jesus said to them, “When you ^{bb}lift up the ^{cc}Son of Man, then you will know that I am He, and that I do nothing of Myself; but as My Father taught Me, I ^{dd}do speak these things.

²⁹“And He who sent Me is with Me. The Father has not left Me alone, for I always do those things that please Him.”

³⁰As He spoke these words, many ^{ee}believed in Him.

“You are not yet fifty years old, and have you seen Abraham?”

⁵⁸Jesus said to them, ^a“Most assuredly, I say to you, ^bbefore Abraham was, ^cI AM.”

⁵⁹Then they ^dtook up stones to throw at Him; but Jesus hid Himself and went out of the temple, ^egoing through the midst of them, and so passed by.

Jesus heals man born blind

NOW as Jesus passed by, He saw a man who was blind from birth.

²And His disciples asked Him, saying, “Rabbi, who ^fsinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?”

³Jesus answered, “Neither this man nor his parents ^gsinned, but ^hthat the works of God should be revealed in him.

⁴“I ⁱ must ^jwork the works of Him who sent Me while it is ^kday; ^lthe night is coming when no one can work.

⁵“As long as I am in the world, ^kI am the ^l‘light of the world.’”

⁶When He had said these things, He spat on the ground and made ^mclay with the saliva; and He anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay.

⁷And He said to him, “Go, wash in the pool of Siloam” (which is translated, Sent). So he ⁿwent and ^owashed, and came back ^pseeing.

⁸Therefore the neighbors and those who previously had seen that he was blind* said, “Is not this he who sat and begged?”

⁹Some said, “This is he.” Others said, “He is like him.”* He said, “I am he.”

¹⁰Therefore they said to him, “How were your eyes opened?”

¹¹He answered and said, “A Man called Jesus made clay and anointed my eyes and said to me, ‘Go to the pool of* Siloam and wash.’ So I went and washed, and I received sight.”

¹²Then they said to him, “Where is He?” He said, “I do not know.”

¹³They brought him who formerly was blind to the ^qPharisees.

¹⁴Now it was a ^rSabbath when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes.

¹⁵Then the ^sPharisees also asked him again how he had received his sight. He said to them, “He put clay on my eyes, and I washed, and I see.”

¹⁶Therefore some of the ^tPharisees said, “This Man is ^unot from God, because He does not ^vkeep the ^wSabbath.” Others said, “How can a man who is a sinner do such signs?” And there was a ^xdivision among them.

¹⁷They said to the blind man again, “What do you say about Him because He opened your eyes?” He said, “He is a ^yprophet.”

¹⁸But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind and received his sight, until they called the parents of him who had received his sight.

¹⁹And they asked them, saying, “Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How then does he now see?”

²⁰His ^zparents answered them and said, “We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind;

²¹“but by what means he now sees we do not know, or who opened his eyes we do not know. He is of age; ask him. He will speak for himself.”

²²His parents said these things because they ^{aa}feared the Jews, for the Jews had agreed already that if anyone confessed that He was Christ, he would be ^{bb}put out of the synagogue.

²³Therefore his parents said, “He is of age; ask him.”

²⁴So they again called the man who was blind, and said to him,

“Give God the glory! We ^aknow that this Man is a sinner.”
²⁵He answered and said, “Whether He is a sinner or not I do not know. One thing I know: that though I was blind, now I see.”
²⁶Then they said to him again, “What did He do to you? How did He open your eyes?”
²⁷He answered them, “I told you already, and you did not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you also want to become His disciples?”
²⁸Then they reviled him and said, “You are His disciple, but we are Moses’ disciples.”
²⁹“We know that God ^bspoke to ^cMoses; as for this fellow, we do not know ^dwhere He is from.”
³⁰The man answered and said to them, “Why, this is a marvelous thing, that you do not know where He is from; yet He has opened my eyes!”

³⁶He answered and said, ^m“Who is He, Lord, that I may believe in Him?”
³⁷And Jesus said to him, “You have both seen Him and it is ⁿHe who is talking with you.”

³⁸Then he said, “Lord, I ^obelieve!” And he ^pworshiped Him.

³⁹And Jesus said, “For ^qjudgment I have ^rcome into this world, that those who do not see may see, and that those who see may be made ^sblind.”

⁴⁰Then some of the Pharisees who were with Him heard these words, and said to Him, ^t“Are we blind also?”

10^x“MOST assuredly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door, but climbs up some other ^yway, the same is a thief and a robber.

²“But he who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

³“To him the doorkeeper opens, and the sheep ^zhear his voice; and he calls his own sheep by ^{aa}name and ^{bb}leads them out.

⁴“And when he brings out his own sheep, he goes before them; and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice.

⁵“Yet they will by no means follow a ^{cc}stranger, but will flee from him, for they do not know the voice of strangers.”

⁶Jesus used this illustration, but they did not understand the things which He spoke to them.

⁷Then Jesus said to them again, ^x“Most assuredly, I say to you, ^{dd}I am the door of the sheep.

⁸“All who ever came before Me^e are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not hear them.

“the door” by which “if anyone enters by Me, he will be saved” (v. 9). This answers to Ps. 22. (2) He is the “great Shepherd,” who was “brought up . . . from the dead” (Heb. 13:20) to care for and make perfect the sheep. This answers to Ps. 23. And (3) He is the “Chief Shepherd” who is coming in glory to give crowns of reward to the faithful shepherds (1 Pet. 5:4). This answers to Ps. 24.

¹⁸“No one takes it from Me, but I ^glay it down of Myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it ⁿagain. This ^ocommand I have received from My Father.”

Jesus asserts His Deity

(John 5:26-27; 14:9; 20:28-29)

²²Now it was the Feast of Dedication in Jerusalem, and it was winter.

²³And Jesus walked in the temple, in Solomon’s porch.

²⁴Then the Jews surrounded Him and said to Him, “How long do You keep us in doubt? If You are the Christ, tell us plainly.”

²⁵Jesus answered them, “I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in My Father’s name, they ^rbear witness of Me.

²⁶“But you do not believe, ^sbecause you are not of My sheep, as I said to you.”

²⁷“My sheep hear My voice, and I ⁱknow them, and they follow Me.

²⁹“My Father, who has given ^{them} to Me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch ^{them} out of My Father’s hand.

³⁰“I and My Father ^vare one.”

³¹Then the Jews ^wtook up stones again to stone Him.

³²Jesus answered them, “Many good works I have shown you from My Father. For which of those works do you stone Me?”

³³The Jews answered Him, saying, “For a good work we do not stone You, but for ^xblasphemy, and because You, being a Man, make Yourself God.”

³⁴Jesus answered them, “Is it not ^ywritten in your law, ‘I said, ^z“You are gods” ’?”

³⁵“If He called them gods, to whom the word of God ^ycame (and the Scripture ^{aa}cannot be broken),

Jesus withdraws from Jerusalem

⁴⁰And He went away again beyond the Jordan to the place where John was ^dbaptizing at first, and there He stayed.

⁴¹Then many came to Him and said, “John performed no sign, but all the things that John ^espoke about this Man were true.”

⁴²And many ^fbelieved in Him there.

Jesus raises Lazarus of Bethany from the dead

11 NOW a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, the town of ^gMary and her sister ^hMartha.

²It was that Mary who anointed the Lord with fragrant oil and wiped His feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.

³Therefore the sisters sent to Him, saying, “Lord, behold, he whom You love is sick.”

⁴When Jesus heard that, He said, “This sickness is ⁱnot unto death, but ^jfor the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified through it.”

⁵Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus.

⁶So, when He heard that he was sick, He stayed two more days in the place where He was.

⁷Then after this He said to the disciples, “Let us go to Judea again.”

⁸The disciples said to Him, “Rabbi, lately the Jews sought to ^kstone You, and are You going there again?”

⁹Jesus answered, “Are there not twelve hours in the day? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the ^llight of this world.

¹⁰“But if one walks in the ^mnight, he stumbles, because the ⁿlight is not in him.”

¹¹These things He said, and after that He said to them, “Our friend Lazarus ^osleeps, but I go that I may ^pwake him up.”

¹²Then His disciples said, “Lord, if he sleeps he will get well.”

¹³However, Jesus spoke of his death, but they thought that He was speaking about taking rest in sleep.

¹⁴Then Jesus said to them ^qplainly, “Lazarus is dead.

¹⁵“And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, that you may believe. Nevertheless let us go to him.”

¹⁶Then ^rThomas, who is called the Twin, said to his fellow disciples, “Let us also go, that we may die with Him.”

¹⁸Now Bethany was near Jerusalem, about two ^smiles* away.

¹⁹And many of the ^tJews had joined the women around Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.

²⁰Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met Him, but Mary was ^usitting in the house.

²¹Now Martha said to Jesus, “Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died.

⁵³Then, from that day on, they plotted ^ato put Him to death.

⁵⁴Therefore Jesus no longer ^bwalked openly among the Jews, but went from there into the country near the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim, and there remained with His disciples.

⁵⁵And the Passover of the Jews was near, and many went from the country up to Jerusalem before the Passover, to ^cpurify themselves.

⁵⁶Then they ^dsought Jesus, and spoke among themselves as they stood in the temple, "What do you think—that He will not come to the feast?"

⁵⁷Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a command, that if anyone knew where He was, he should report it, that they might ^eseize Him.

62:1-4) had to be deferred until the King's return in glory (Acts 15:16-17). But now a greater hour has arrived—the hour of the King's glorification through death and resurrection (John 12:23-24,28); this hour, set by the determined purpose and foreknowledge of God, will bring eternal life to all who believe, whether Jews or Gentiles (8:24,32).

12:24 Chapters 12-17 are a progression according to the order of approach to God in the tabernacle types. Chapter 12, in which Christ speaks of His death, answers to the bronze altar of burnt offering, a figure of the cross. The next step between the altar and the Most Holy Place is the laver (Ex. 30:17-21), answering to ch. 13, where Christ washes the disciples' feet. In chs. 14-16, with His now purified believer-priests (1 Pet. 2:5), the High Priest enters into and shares the blessed fellowship of the Holy Place. In ch. 17, the High Priest enters alone into the Most Holy Place to intercede for His own blood-purchased people (Heb. 7:24-28). That intercession is not for the salvation but the keeping and blessing of those for whom He prays. His death (assumed as accomplished, 17:4) has saved them.

12:31 judgment. This judgment refers to Jesus Christ as bearing the believer's sins, which have been judged in the Person of Jesus Christ “lifted up” on the cross. The result was death for Christ and justification for the believer, who can never again be put in jeopardy (5:24; Rom. 5:9; 8:1; 2 Cor. 5:21; Gal. 3:13; Heb. 9:26-28; 10:10,14-17; 1 Pet. 2:24; 3:18). IV. The Private Ministry of the Son of God, 13—17

John 13—14 were spoken in the upper room (cp. Mark 14:14–16)

13 NOW before the feast of the Passover, when Jesus knew that His ⁱhour had come that He should depart from this world to the Father, having loved His own who were in the world, He ^jloved them to the end.

The last Passover: Jesus washes disciples' feet (Matt. 26:20–24; Mark 14:17; Luke 22:14,21–23)

²And supper being ended, ^{*}the ^kdevil having already put it into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray Him,

³Jesus, knowing that the Father had ^lgiven all things into His hands, and that He had ^mcome from God and was ⁿgoing to God, ⁴rose from supper and ^olaid aside His garments, took a towel and girded Himself.

⁵After that, He poured ^pwater into a basin and ^qbegan to ^rwash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel with which He was girded.

⁶Then He came to Simon Peter. And Peter said to Him, "Lord, ^sare You washing my feet?"

⁷Jesus answered and said to him, "What I am doing you do not ^tunderstand now, but you will know after this."

⁸Peter said to Him, "You shall never wash my feet!" Jesus answered him, "If I do not wash you, you have ^uno part with Me."

⁹Simon Peter said to Him, "Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head!"

¹⁰Jesus said to him, "He who is bathed needs only to wash his feet, but is ^vcompletely clean; and you are clean, but not all of you."

¹¹For He ^wknew who would betray Him; therefore He said, "You are not all clean."

¹²So when He had ^xwashed their feet, taken His garments, and sat down again, He said to them, "Do you know what I have done to you?"

¹³"You call Me ^yTeacher and Lord, and you say well, for so I am.

¹⁴"If I then, your Lord and

13:10 THE IMAGERY OF BATHED AND WASH

The words "bathed" and "wash" in this verse are translated from two different Greek words. The first is from the Greek louō and denotes complete ablution. "Wash" is from the Greek niptō, which is the usual NT word for washing the hands or feet (e.g. Matt. 15:2; John 9:15; 1 Tim. 5:10).

The underlying imagery is of an oriental returning from the public baths to his house. His feet would acquire defilement and require cleansing, but not his body. So the believer is cleansed as before the law from all sin "once for all" (Heb. 10:1–12), but needs throughout his earthly life to bring his daily sins to the Father in confession, so that he may abide in unbroken fellowship with the Father and with the Son (1 John 1:1–10). The blood of Christ answers forever to all the law could say as to the believer's guilt, but he needs constant cleansing from the defilement of sin. See Eph. 5:25–27; 1 John 5:6. Typically, the order of approach to the presence of God was, first, the bronze altar of sacrifice; then, the laver of cleansing (Ex. 40:6–7). See, also, the order in Ex. 30:17–21. Christ will not have communion with a defiled saint, but He can and will cleanse him.

*Jesus predicts His betrayal
(Matt. 26:21–25; Mark 14:18–21;
Luke 22:21–23)*

²¹When Jesus had said these things, He was troubled in spirit, and testified and said, ⁱ“Most assuredly, I say to you, one of you will ^jbetray Me.”

²²Then the disciples looked at one another, perplexed about whom He spoke.

²³Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of His disciples, ^mwhom Jesus loved.

²⁴Simon Peter therefore motioned to him to ask who it was of whom He spoke.

²⁵Then, leaning back* on Jesus' breast, he said to Him, “Lord, who is it?”

²⁶Jesus answered, “It is he to whom I shall give a piece of bread when I have dipped it.” And having dipped the bread, He gave it to ⁿJudas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

²⁷Now after the piece of bread, ^oSatan ^pentered him. Then Jesus said to him, “What you do, do quickly.”

²⁸But no one at the table knew for what reason He said this to him.

²⁹For some thought, because Judas had the ^qmoney box, that Jesus had said to him, “Buy those things we need for the feast,” or that he should give something to the poor.

³⁰Having received the piece of bread, he then went out immediately. And it was ^rnight.

³¹So, when he had gone out, Jesus said, “Now the ^sSon of Man is glorified, and God is ^tglorified in Him.

³²“If God is ^uglorified in Him, God will also glorify Him in Himself, and glorify Him immediately.

³³“Little children, I shall be with you a ^vlittle while longer. You will seek Me; and ^was I said to the Jews, ‘Where I am going, you cannot come,’ so now I say to you.

³⁴“A new commandment I give to you, that you ^xlove ^yone another; as I have loved you, that you also love one another.

³⁵“By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have ^zlove for ^{aa}one another.”

*Jesus foretells Peter's denial
(Matt. 26:30–35; Mark 14:26–31;

³⁶Simon Peter said to Him, “Lord, where are You going?” Jesus answered him, “Where I am ^{bb}going you cannot follow Me now, ^{cc}but you shall follow Me afterward.”

³⁷Peter said to Him, “Lord, why can I not follow You now? I will ^{dd}lay down my life for Your sake.”

³⁸Jesus answered him, “Will you lay down your life for My sake? ^{ee}Most assuredly, I say to you, the rooster shall not ^{ee}crow till you have denied Me three times.

14:3 receive you. As a part of this discourse, which has been of comfort to the Church throughout the centuries, the Lord gives a promise of His personal return for His own people, a doctrine that is expanded by the Apostle Paul in 1 Thess. 4:13–18. This aspect of Christ’s return is to be distinguished from His coming to the earth to establish His kingdom (Rev. 19:11–16).

14:16 Helper. Greek paraklētos meaning one called alongside to help; thus, a helper, a comforter; in 1 John 2:1, “an Advocate with the Father.” Christ is the Christian’s Paraclete with the Father when the Christian sins; the Holy Spirit is the Christian’s indwelling Paraclete to help his ignorance and infirmity, and to make intercession (Rom. 8:26–27). See Holy Spirit, Acts 2:4, note. Furthermore, Christ also intercedes as well as advocates (Rom. 8:34; Heb. 7:25).

14:17,19 world. Greek kosmos. See Rev. 13:8, note.

14:20 you in Me. The new relationship described in the words “you in Me, and I in you” introduces the NT mystery of the body of Christ. The position of the Church in Christ, as composed of members of His body (compare Eph. 3:1–7), and the truth of Christ as indwelling the believer (compare Col. 1:24–27) are central features in the Pauline doctrine of the Church, and are here revealed to the disciples for the first time by Christ. The living union of the members of the body is explained by Christ in the figure of the vine and the branches (John 15:1–11).

14:21 keeps them. Observe that the Lord correlates love for Him with obedience to Him. To love Christ means to care enough about Him to keep His commandments (vv. 23–24). But we cannot keep His commandments unless we search the Scriptures to find out what they are.

5 ^r"I am the vine, you ^{are} the branches. He who abides in Me, and I in him, bears much ^xfruit; for without Me you can do ^ynothing.

6 "If anyone does not abide in Me, he is cast out as a branch and is withered; and they gather them and throw ^{them} into the fire, and they are burned.

7 "If you abide in Me, and My words ^zabide in you, you will ^{aa}ask what you desire, and it shall be ^{aa}done for you.

8 "By this My Father is ^{bb}glorified, that you bear much fruit; so you will be My disciples.

9 "As the Father ^{cc}loved Me, I also have loved you; abide in My love.

10 "If you keep My commandments, you will abide in My love, just as I have kept My Father's commandments and abide in His love.

15:1 true vine. Christ is the "true vine"—"true" in contrast with Israel. See Is. 5:1-7.

15:2 prunes. Three conditions of a fruitful life are shown here: (1) cleansing, vv. 2-3; compare John 13:10, note; (2) abiding, v. 4, note; and (3) obedience, vv. 10, 12. (See Law of Christ, Gal. 6:2; 2 John 5, note).

15:4 abides. To abide in Christ is, on the one hand, to have no known sin unjudged and unconfessed, no interest into which He is not brought, no life which He cannot share. On the other hand, the "abiding" one takes all burdens to Him, and draws all wisdom, life, and strength from

Him. It is not unceasing consciousness of these things, and of Him, but that nothing is allowed in the life which separates from Him. See Fellowship, 1 John 1:3-7; Communion, 1 Cor. 10:16.

15:8 much fruit. There are four degrees in fruit-bearing: (1) no fruit ("does not bear fruit," v. 2); (2) "fruit" (v. 2); (3) "more fruit" (v. 2); and (4) "much fruit" (vv. 5,8). As we bear "much fruit," the Father is glorified in us. The fruit may be converts (Rom. 1:13); Christian character—the fruit of the Spirit (Gal. 5:22-23); and conduct—the fruits of righteousness (Rom. 6:21-22; Phil. 1:11). The moralities and graces of Christianity, which are the fruit of the Spirit, are often imitated but never duplicated.

¹⁶“A ⁱlittle while, and you will not see Me; and again a little while, and you will ^jsee Me, because I ^kgo to the Father.”

¹⁷Then some of His disciples said among themselves, “What is this that He says to us, ‘A little while, and you will not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me’; and, ‘because I ^lgo to the Father?’”

¹⁸They said therefore, “What is this that He says, ‘A little while’? We do not know what He is saying.”

¹⁹Now Jesus ^mknew that they desired to ask Him, and He said to them, “Are you inquiring among yourselves about what I said, ‘A little while, and you will not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me’?”

²⁰ⁿ“Most assuredly, I say to you that you will weep and ^olament, but the world will ^prejoice; and you will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will be turned into ^qjoy.

²¹“A woman, when she is in ^rlabor, has sorrow because her hour has come; but as soon as she has given birth to the child, she no longer remembers the anguish, for joy that a human being has been born into the world.

²²“Therefore you now have sorrow; but I will see you again and your heart will rejoice, and your ^sjoy no one will take from you.

²³“And in that day you will ask Me nothing. ^tMost assuredly, I say to you, whatever you ^uask the Father ^vin My name He will give you.

²⁴“Until now you have asked nothing in My name. ^wAsk, and you will receive, that your ^xjoy may be full.

CHRIST'S PREAUTHENTICATION OF THE NEW TESTAMENT SCRIPTURES

(1) He expressly declared that He was leaving “many things” unrevealed (v. 12).

(2) He promised that this revelation would be completed after the Spirit came (v. 13, “guide you into all truth”).

(3) He outlined in advance exactly the elements of NT revelation: (a) historical—“bring to your remembrance all things that I said to you” (14:26); (b) doctrinal—interpretation of the historical facts, “teach you all things” (14:26; 16:14); and (c) prophetic—“tell you things to come” (16:13).

(4) He chose certain persons to receive and witness to the revelations (Matt. 28:19; John 15:27; 16:13; Acts 1:8; 9:15–17).

(5) He gave to their words, when speaking for Him in the Spirit, precisely the same authority as His own words (Matt. 10:14–15; Luke 10:16; John 13:20; 15:20; 17:20; see e.g. 1 Cor. 14:37 for Paul’s consciousness of this authority).

(6) That Christ expected this new revelation would be recorded is evident from such passages as John 17:20 and Acts 1:8, for only thus could the accurate witness of the chosen writers reach all nations after they had passed away. And

(7) that some of the new revelation was recorded by men outside the original apostolic group (e.g. Mark and Luke) is explained by the fact that there were “prophets” in the early Church who, like Paul, were chosen by the ascended Christ (Eph. 4:11), and who not only received new revelation (Eph. 3:4–5) but also recorded it in “Scriptures” (Rom. 16:25–26). See 2 Tim. 3:16, note.

30 “Now we are sure that You ^hknow all things, and have no need that anyone should question You. By this we believe that You ⁱcame forth from God.”

17:1 This chapter constitutes the Lord's own prayer to His Father. Compare the prayer that He taught to His disciples, known as The Lord's Prayer (Matt. 6:9-13; Luke 11:2-4. See also notes). Here in ch. 17 the reader may look deeply into the heart of the Son of God. The petitions are personal and intercessory, Christ's high priestly prayer. See also next note and John 17:2, notes.

Observe the seven petitions in this prayer:

(1) that Jesus may be glorified as the Son who has glorified the Father (v. 1; compare Phil. 2:9-11);

(2) for restoration to the eternal glory (v. 5);

(3) for the safety of believers from (a) the world (v. 11) and (b) the evil one (v. 15);

(4) for the sanctification of believers (v. 17);

(5) for the spiritual unity of believers (vv. 21-23);

(6) that the world may believe (v. 21); and

(7) that believers may be with Him in heaven to behold and share His glory (v. 24).

In vv. 1-5 the Lord prays for Himself; in vv. 6-19 He prays for His disciples; and in vv. 20-26 He prays for all Christians throughout the whole age.

17:2 give eternal life. Christ's gifts to those whom the Father gave Him are: eternal life (v. 2); the Father's name (vv. 6,26; compare 20:17); the Father's words (vv. 8,14); His own joy (v. 13); and His own glory (v. 22). given Him. Seven times Jesus speaks of Christians as given to Him by the Father (vv. 2,6 [twice], 9,11,12,24). Jesus Christ is God's love gift to the world (3:16), and believers are the Father's love gift to Jesus Christ. It is Christ who commits the Christian to the Father for safekeeping, so that the believer's security rests upon the Father's faithfulness to His Son Jesus Christ.

Jesus in Gethsemane

(Matt. 26:36–46; Mark 14:32–42; Luke 22:39–46)

18WHEN Jesus had spoken these words, He went out with His disciples over the Brook ^yKidron, where there was a garden, which He and His disciples entered.

Jesus' betrayal and arrest

(Matt. 26:47–56; Mark 14:43–50; Luke 22:47–54)

²And Judas, who betrayed Him, also knew the place; for Jesus often ^zmet there with His disciples.

³Then Judas, having received a detachment ^{of} troops, and officers from the chief priests and ^{aa}Pharisees, came there with lanterns, torches, and weapons.

⁴Jesus therefore, ^{bb}knowing all things that would come upon Him, ^{cc}went forward and said to them, “Whom are you seeking?”

⁵They answered Him, ^{dd}“Jesus of Nazareth.” Jesus said to them, “I am ^{He}.” And Judas, who ^{ee}betrayed Him, also ^{ff}stood with them.

⁶Now when He said to them, “I

⁷Then He asked them again, “Whom are you seeking?” And they said, “Jesus of Nazareth.”

Peter strikes Malchus

¹⁰Then Simon Peter, having a sword, drew it and struck the high priest’s servant, and ^ccut off his right ear. The servant’s name was Malchus.

¹¹So Jesus said to Peter, “Put your sword into the sheath. ^eShall I not drink the ^fcup which My Father has given Me?”

Jesus brought before high priest (through v. 27; Matt. 26:57-68; Mark 14:53-65; Luke 22:63-71)

¹²Then the detachment of troops and the captain and the officers of the Jews arrested Jesus and bound Him.

¹³And they led Him away to ^gAnnas first, for he was the father-in-law of ^hCaiaphas who was high priest that year.

¹⁴Now it was Caiaphas who advised the Jews ⁱthat it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

(Interlude: Peter’s three denials; see also vv. 25-27; Matt. 26:69-75; Mark 14:66-72; Luke 22:54-62)

¹⁵And Simon Peter ^jfollowed Jesus, and so ^kdid ^kanother* disciple. Now that disciple was known to the high priest, and went with Jesus into the courtyard of the high priest.

¹⁶But Peter stood at the door outside. Then the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to her who kept the door, and brought Peter in.

¹⁷Then the servant girl who kept the door said to Peter, “You are not also one of this Man’s disciples, are you?” He said, “I am ^lnot.”

¹⁸Now the servants and officers who had made a ^mfire of coals stood there, for it was cold, and they warmed themselves. And Peter stood with them and warmed himself.

¹⁹The high priest then asked Jesus about His disciples and His doctrine.

²⁰Jesus answered him, “I spoke ⁿopenly to the world. I always taught ^oin synagogues and ^pin the temple, where the Jews always meet,* and in secret I have said nothing.

²¹“Why do you ask Me? Ask ^qthose who have heard Me what I said to them. Indeed they know what I said.”

²²And when He had said these things, one of the officers who stood by ^rstruck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, “Do You answer the high priest like that?”

²³Jesus answered him, “If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil; but if ^swell, why do you strike Me?”

²⁴Then ^tAnnas sent Him bound to ^uCaiaphas the high priest.

²⁵Now Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. Therefore they said to him, “You are not also one of His disciples, are you?” He denied it and said, “I am ^vnot!”

²⁶One of the servants of the high priest, a relative of ^whim whose ear Peter cut off, said, “Did I not see you in the garden with Him?”

²⁷Peter then ^xdenied again; and immediately a ^xrooster crowed.

^{29b}Pilate then went out to them and said, "What accusation do you bring against this Man?"

³⁰They answered and said to him, "If He were not an evildoer, we would not have delivered Him up to you."

³¹Then Pilate said to them, "You take Him and judge Him according to your ^claw." Therefore the Jews said to him, "It is not lawful for us to put anyone to death," ³²that the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled which He ^dspoke, ^esignifying by what death He would die.

³³Then Pilate entered the Praetorium again, called Jesus, and said to Him, "Are You the ^fKing of the Jews?"

³⁴Jesus answered him, "Are you speaking for yourself about this, or did others tell you this concerning Me?"

³⁵Pilate answered, "Am I a Jew? Your own nation and the chief priests have delivered You to me. What have You done?"

³⁶Jesus ^ganswered, "My ^hkingdom is not of this world. If My ⁱkingdom were of this world, My servants would ^jfight, so that I should not be delivered to the Jews; but now My kingdom is not from ^khere."

³⁷Pilate therefore said to Him, "Are You a king then?" Jesus answered, "You say ^lrightly that I am a king. For this cause I was born, and for this cause I have come into the world, ^mthat I should bear ⁿwitness to the ^otruth. Everyone who is of the truth ^phears My voice."

³⁸Pilate said to Him, "What is truth?" And when he had said this, he went out again to the Jews, and said to them, "I find ^pno fault in Him at all."

^alaw He ought to die, because He made Himself the Son of God.”

⁸Therefore, when Pilate heard that saying, ^bhe was the more afraid, ⁹and went again into the Praetorium, and said to Jesus, “Where are You from?” But Jesus gave him ^cno answer.

¹⁰Then Pilate said to Him, “Are You not speaking to me? Do You not know that I have power to crucify You, and power to release You?”

¹¹Jesus answered, ^d“You could have no power at all against Me unless it had been ^egiven you from above. Therefore ^fthe one who delivered Me to you has the greater ^gsin.”

¹²From then on Pilate sought to release Him, but the Jews cried out, saying, “If you let this Man go, you are not Caesar’s friend. Whoever makes himself a king speaks against ^hCaesar.”

¹³When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus out and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called The Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha.

¹⁴Now it was the Preparation Day of the Passover, and about the sixth hour. And he said to the Jews, “Behold your ⁱKing!”

¹⁵But they cried out, “Away with Him, away with Him! Crucify Him!” Pilate said to them, “Shall I crucify your ^kKing?” The chief priests answered, “We have no ^lking but Caesar!”

Jesus is crucified (Matt. 27:31–50; Mark 15:19–37; Luke 23:26–46)

¹⁶Then he delivered Him to them to be ^mcrucified. So they took Jesus and led Him away.*

¹⁷And He, bearing His cross, ⁿwent out to a place called the Place of a Skull, which is called in Hebrew, ^oGolgotha,

¹⁸where they ^pcrucified Him, and ^qtwo others with Him, one on either side, and Jesus in the center.

¹⁹Now Pilate wrote a title and put it on the cross. And the writing was:

JESUS OF NAZARETH,
THE ^rKING OF THE JEWS.

²⁰Then many of the Jews read this title, for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city; and it was written in ^sHebrew, ^tGreek, and Latin.

²¹Therefore the chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate, “Do not write, ‘The King of the Jews,’ but, ‘He said, “I am the King of the Jews.” ’ ”

²²Pilate answered, “What I have written, I have written.”

²³Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took His garments and made four parts, to each soldier a part, and also the tunic. Now the tunic was without seam, woven from the top in one piece.

²⁴They said therefore among themselves, “Let us not tear it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be,” that the ^uScripture might be fulfilled which ^vsays:

“*They divided My garments among them,
And for My clothing they cast lots.*”

Therefore the soldiers did these things.

²⁵Now there ^wstood by the cross of Jesus His ^xmother, and His mother’s sister, ^yMary the wife of Clopas, and ^zMary Magdalene.

19:10,11 power. Or authority. John 10:18.

19:14 sixth hour. 6 A.M. John uses Roman time with the hours starting at 12 midnight and 12 noon, as is done today. However, the Synoptics use Hebrew reckoning, beginning with sunrise (that is, 6 A.M.; 7 A.M. being the first hour, etc.). This is apparent from the care with which the Gospels specify particular hours in relation to the crucifixion. Our Lord was put on the cross at 9 A.M. (“third hour” Mark 15:25); darkness was over the land from noon until 3 P.M. (“sixth” till “ninth hour,” Matt. 27:45–46; Mark 15:33–34; Luke 23:44). Thus here the “sixth hour” could not be Hebrew time (noon), but rather 6 A.M., “when morning came” (Matt. 27:1–2). Acts uses Hebrew time.

19:16 Then he delivered Him. For the order of events at the crucifixion, see Matt. 27:33, note.

³¹Therefore, because it was the ⁱPreparation Day, that the bodies should ^jnot remain on the cross on the ^kSabbath (for that Sabbath was a ^lhigh day), the Jews asked Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.
³²Then the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first and of the other who was crucified ^mwith Him.

 (Matt. 27:57–66; Mark 15:42–47; Luke 23:50–56)

³⁸After this, Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly, for ^wfear of the Jews, asked Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus; and Pilate gave him permission. So he came and took the body of Jesus.

³⁹And ^xNicodemus, who at first came to Jesus by night, also came, bringing a mixture of ^ymyrrh and aloes, about a hundred ^zpounds.

⁴⁰Then they took the body of Jesus, and bound it in ^{aa}strips of linen with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury.

⁴¹Now in the place where He was ^{bb}crucified there was a garden, and in the garden a new tomb in which ^{cc}no one had yet been laid.

⁴²So there they ^{dd}laid Jesus, because of the Jews' ^{ee}Preparation Day, for the tomb was nearby.

VI. The Manifestation of the Son of God in Resurrection, 20

20 NOW on the ^{ff}first day of the week ^{gg}Mary Magdalene ^{hh}went to the tomb early, while it was still dark, and saw that the ⁱⁱstone had been taken away from the tomb.

²Then she ran and came to Simon Peter, and to the ^{jj}other disciple, ^{kk}whom Jesus loved, and said to them, “They have ^{ll}taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we do not know where they have laid Him.”

³Peter therefore went out, and the ^{mm}other disciple, and were going to the tomb.

Joseph of Arimathea: A devote Jew and a member of the council who went to Pilate and asked for Jesus' body. He then prepared the body and laid it in a tomb.

19:30 “It is finished!” was the shout of victory. See John 4:34; 17:4; Rom. 10:4; Gal. 3:13; Heb. 10:5–10.

Nicodemus: A Pharisee and member of the Sanhedrin who spoke to Jesus in secret. He helped prepare Jesus' body for burial.

⁵And he, stooping down and looking in, saw the ^alinen cloths lying there; yet he did not go in.

⁶Then Simon Peter came, following him, and ^bwent into the tomb; and he saw the ^clinen cloths lying there, ⁷and the handkerchief that had been around His head, not lying with the linen cloths, but folded together in a place by itself.

⁸Then the ^dother disciple, who came to the tomb first, went in also; and he saw and ^ebelieved.

⁹For as yet they did not know the ^fScripture, that He must ^hrise again from the dead.

¹⁰Then the disciples ⁱwent away again to their own homes.

Jesus appears to Mary Magdalene

¹¹But Mary stood outside by the tomb weeping, and as she wept she stooped down and looked into the tomb.

¹²And she saw two ^jangels in white sitting, one at the head and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

¹³Then they said to her, "Woman, why are you weeping?" She said to them, "Because they have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have laid Him."

¹⁴Now when she had said this, she turned around and saw ^kJesus standing there, and did not ^kknow that it was Jesus.

¹⁵Jesus said to her, "Woman, why are you weeping? ^mWhom are you seeking?" She, supposing Him to be the gardener, said to Him, "Sir, if You have carried Him away, tell me where You have laid Him, and I will take Him away."

¹⁶Jesus said to her, ⁿ"Mary!" She turned and said to Him, ^{*}"Rabboni!" (which is to say, Teacher).

¹⁷Jesus said to her, "Do not cling to Me, for I have not yet ^oascended to My Father; but go to My ^pbrethren and say to them, 'I am ascending to ^qMy Father and your Father, and to My God and your God.'"

20:17 Do not cling to Me. Compare Matt. 28:9: "They came and held Him by the feet." A contradiction has been supposed. Three views are held: (1) That Jesus spoke to Mary, acting, as it were, as the High Priest fulfilling the Day of Atonement (Lev. 16). Having accomplished the sacrifice, He was on His way to present the sacred blood in heaven; and, between the meeting with Mary in the garden and the meeting of Matt. 28:9, He had so ascended and returned—a view in harmony with types. (2) That Mary was gently rebuked by Christ in the command, "Do not cling to Me" (literally, "Stop clinging to Me"). The Lord taught Mary that now she must not seek to hold Him to the earth but, rather, become His messenger of new joy. And (3) that He merely meant: "Do not detain Me now; I have not yet ascended; you will see Me again; run rather to My brothers," etc.

20:16

CHRIST'S APPEARANCES AFTER THE RESURRECTION

During the forty days between His resurrection and ascension, the Lord Jesus is recorded to have appeared to His own followers on ten occasions, the first five of these being on the day of resurrection.

The order of the appearances seems to be:

- (1) to Mary Magdalene (Mark 16:9-11; John 20:11-18);
- (2) to the women returning from the tomb with the angelic message (Matt. 28:8-10);
- (3) to Peter, probably in the afternoon (Luke 24:34; 1 Cor. 15:5);
- (4) to the Emmaus disciples toward evening (Mark 16:12; Luke 24:13-32);
- (5) to the disciples, Thomas being absent (Mark 16:14; Luke 24:36-43; John 20:19-25);
- (6) on the next Sunday night, the appearance to the disciples, Thomas being present (John 20:26-31; 1 Cor. 15:5);
- (7) to the seven beside the Sea of Galilee (John 21);
- (8) to the apostles and "over five hundred brethren" (Matt. 28:16-20; Mark 16:15-18; 1 Cor. 15:6);
- (9) to James, the Lord's half brother (1 Cor. 15:7); and
- (10) His last recorded appearance and His ascension from Olivet (Mark 16:19-20; Luke 24:44-53; Acts 1:3-12).

It is also recorded that, after His ascension, Christ appeared one or more times to three men:

- (1) to Stephen, at his stoning (Acts 7:55-60);
- (2) to Paul: (a) at his conversion (Acts 9:3-8,17; 22:6-11,14-15; 26:12-19; 1 Cor. 9:1; 15:8); (b) at Corinth (Acts 18:9-10); (c) in the temple at Jerusalem (Acts 22:17-21); (d) later at Jerusalem (Acts 23:11); and (e) in another vision (2 Cor. 12:1-4); and
- (3) to John, the apostle, on Patmos (Rev. 1:10-19, and other visions in Revelation).

¹⁹Then, the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled,* for ^bfear of the Jews, Jesus ^ccame and stood in the midst, and said to them, ^d*“Peace be with you.”*

²⁰When He had said this, He ^eshowed them His hands and His side. ^fThen the disciples were glad when they saw the Lord.

²¹So Jesus said to them again, ^g*“Peace to you! As the Father has sent Me, I also ^hsend you.”*

²²And when He had said this, He ⁱbreathed on them, and said to them, “Receive the Holy ^jSpirit.

^{23k}“If you forgive the ^lsins of any, they are forgiven them; if you retain the ^msins of any, they are retained.”

Jesus appears to the disciples, Thomas being present

²⁴Now Thomas, called the ⁿTwin, one of the twelve, was not with them when Jesus came.

²⁵The other disciples therefore said to him, “We have seen the Lord.” So he said to them, “Unless I ^osee in His hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into His side, I will not believe.”

²⁶And after eight days His disciples were again inside, and ^pThomas was with them. Jesus came, the doors being shut, and ^qstood in the midst, and said, ^r*“Peace to you!”*

²⁷Then He said to Thomas, “Reach your finger here, and look at My hands; and reach your hand here, and put it into My side. Do not be ^sunbelieving, but believing.”

²⁸And Thomas answered and said to Him, ^s“My Lord and my God!”

²⁹Jesus said to him, “Thomas, because you have seen Me, you have ^tbelieved. ^uBlessed are those who have not seen and yet have ^vbelieved.”*

Purpose of John’s Gospel

³⁰And truly Jesus did ^wmany other signs in the presence of His disciples, which are not written in this book;

³¹but these are ^xwritten that ^yyou may believe that Jesus ^zis the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have ^{aa}life in His name.

³Simon Peter said to them, “I am going fishing.” They said to him, “We are going with you also.” They went out and immediately* got into the boat, and that night they caught nothing.

⁴But when the morning had now come, Jesus stood on the shore; yet the disciples did not ^{gg}know that it was Jesus.

20:22 Verses 22 and 23 do not refer only to the original disciples because, according to Luke 24:33, there were others with them on this occasion. The risen Lord’s unique action in breathing on those present and imparting to them the Holy Spirit was probably for their spiritual quickening in preparation for their full endowment with the Spirit in power at Pentecost (Acts 2:1-4).

The commission of v. 23 was not exclusively to the apostles and those who were with them; it applies, therefore, to the Church as a whole and not to any special class of individuals within the Church. Compare Matt. 16:19, note.

⁸But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from land, but about two hundred cubits), dragging the net with fish.

⁹Then, as soon as they had come to land, they saw a ^ffire of coals there, ^gand ^hfish laid on it, and bread.

¹⁰Jesus said to them, “Bring some of the fish which you have just caught.”

20:28

THE DEITY OF JESUS CHRIST

The Deity of Jesus Christ is declared in Scripture:

(1) The OT both intimates and explicitly predicts His Deity.

(a) The theophanies intimate the appearance of God in human form, and His ministry thus to man (Gen. 16:7-14; 18:2-23, especially v. 17; compare 32:28 with Hos. 12:3-5; Ex. 3:2-14).

(b) The Messiah is expressly declared to be the Son of God (Ps. 2:2-9), and God (compare Ps. 45:6-7 with Heb. 1:8-9; Ps. 110:1 with Matt. 22:44; Acts 2:34 and Heb. 1:13; Ps. 110:4 with Heb. 5:6; 6:20; 7:17-21; Zech. 6:13).

(c) His virgin birth was foretold as the means through which God could be Immanuel, God with us (compare Is. 7:13-14 with Matt. 1:22-23).

(d) The Messiah is expressly invested with the divine names (Is. 9:6-7).

(e) In a prophecy of His death He is called “the Man who is . . . Companion” to the Lord (compare Zech. 13:7 with Matt. 26:31). And

(f) His eternal Being is declared (compare Mic. 5:2 with Matt. 2:6; John 7:42).

(2) Christ Himself affirmed His Deity.

(a) He applied to Himself the Jehovistic I AM. (John 4:26; 6:20; 8:24,28,58; 18:5,6). The pronoun “He” appears in translation (4:26 and 18:5,6), but not in the Greek. In 8:56-59 the Jews correctly understood this as the Lord’s claim to full Deity (compare John 10:33).

(b) He claimed to be the Adonai of the OT (Matt. 22:42-45. See Gen. 15:2, note).

(c) He asserted His identity with the Father (Matt. 28:19; Mark 14:62; John 10:30. That the Jews so understood is shown by John 10:31-33; 14:8-9; 17:5).

(d) He exercised the chief prerogative of God—the forgiveness of sins (Mark 2:5-7); Luke 7:48-50).

(e) He asserted omnipresence (Matt. 18:20; John 3:13); omniscience (John 11:11-14, when Jesus was fifty miles away; Mark 11:6-8); omnipotence (Matt. 28:18; Luke 7:14; John 5:21-23; 6:19); mastery over nature, and creative power (Luke 9:16-17; John 2:9; 10:28). And

(f) He received and approved human worship of Himself (Matt. 14:33; 28:9; John 20:28-29).

(3) The NT writers ascribe divine titles to Christ (John 1:1; 20:28; Acts 20:28; Rom. 1:4; 9:5; 2 Thess. 1:12; 1 Tim. 3:16; Titus 2:13; Heb. 1:8; 1 John 5:20).

(4) The NT writers ascribe divine perfections and attributes to Christ (Matt. 11:28; 18:20; 28:20; John 1:2; 2:23-25; 3:13; 5:17; 21:17; Heb. 1:3,11-12 with Heb. 13:8; Rev. 1:8,17-18; 11:17; 22:13).

(5) The NT writers ascribe divine works to Christ (John 1:3,10; Col. 1:16-17; Heb. 1:3).

(6) The NT writers teach that supreme worship should be paid to Christ (Acts 7:59-60; 1 Cor. 1:2; 2 Cor. 13:14; Phil. 2:9-11; Heb. 1:6; Rev. 1:5-6; 5:12-13).

(7) The holiness and resurrection of Christ confirm His Deity (John 8:46; Rom. 1:4).

¹³Jesus then came and ^atook the bread and gave it to them, and likewise the fish.

(5) Love, the only proper motive in service (1 Cor. 13; 2 Cor. 5:14; Rev. 2:4–5)

¹⁵So when they had eaten breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, “Simon, son of Jonah,* do you love Me more than these?” He said to Him, “Yes, Lord; You know that I love You.” He said to him, ^a“Feed My lambs.”

¹⁶He said to him again a second time, “Simon, son of Jonah,* do you love Me?” He said to Him, “Yes, Lord; You know that I love You.” He said to him, ^a“Tend My sheep.”

¹⁷He said to him the ^fthird time, “Simon, son of Jonah,* do you love Me?” Peter was grieved because He said to him the third time, “Do you love Me?” And he said to Him, “Lord, You know all things; You know that I love You.” Jesus said to him, ^a“Feed My sheep.”

(6) The Master reveals to Peter that He determines the time and manner of His servants' death

^{18h}“Most assuredly, I say to you, when you were younger, you girded yourself and walked where you wished; but when you are old, you will stretch out your hands, and an- other will gird you and carry you where you do not wish.”

¹⁹This He spoke, ^ksignifying ^bby what death he would glorify God. And when He had spoken this, He said to him, ^m“Follow Me.”

(7) All His servants will not die (cp. 1 Cor. 15:51–52; 1 Thess. 4:14–18)

²⁰Then Peter, turning around, saw the disciple ⁿwhom Jesus loved following, ^owho also had leaned on His breast at the supper, and said, “Lord, who is the one who betrays You?”

²¹Peter, seeing him, said to Jesus, “But Lord, what about this man?”

²²Jesus said to him, “If I will that he remain ^ptill I ^qcome, what is that to you? ^rYou follow Me.”

²³Then this saying went out among the brethren that this disciple would not die. Yet Jesus did not say to him that he would not die, but, “If I will that he remain ^still I ^tcome, what is that to you?”

²⁴This is the ^udisciple who ^vtestifies of these things, and ^wwrote these things; and we know that his testimony is true.

²⁵And there are also ^xmany other things that Jesus did, which if they were written one by one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that would be written. Amen.

21:15 In vv. 15–17 two different Greek verbs are used for “love”: agapaō, to love deeply, used of divine love in 14:21, and of the love which the law demands (Luke 10:27); and phileō, to be fond of, a love of lesser degree than agapaō, as between friends. In the first two instances, where the Lord asks Peter, “Do you love Me?” He uses agapaō; but Peter, remembering his three denials of the Lord and aware now of his own weakness, does not dare to reply with as strong a word as agapaō. Instead, he employs phileō in his reply, “Yes, Lord; You know that I love You.” When the Lord inquires the third time, “Do you love Me,” He uses the lesser word, phileō. And again the humbled disciple replies: “Lord, You know all things; You know that I love [phileō] You.” love Me more than these. That is, than the other disciples do.

21:15 My lambs. Christ’s threefold repetition of the pronoun “My”—“My lambs . . . My sheep . . . My sheep” (vv.

15,16,17)—reminds all Christians who hold responsibility over others that the persons under them belong, first of all, to Christ. Pastors, missionaries, teachers, and parents are but undershepherds to whose care Christ’s sheep are committed. Compare Heb. 13:20; 1 Pet. 5:3.

21:16 Tend. Or Nurture. 1 Pet. 5:2.

21:17 love Me. With his confidence in himself greatly shaken through having so recently denied his Lord, Peter feels unworthy to express his love to Christ by the strong word agapaō, and therefore uses the weaker word phileō. See 21:15, note. Jesus now condescends to Peter’s self-evaluation, saying, in effect: “Even if you do not trust your own emotions far enough to apply the word agapaō to them, you still should feed my sheep.” Our duty to Christ should depend, not upon the strength of our subjective feelings, but upon our realization of what He has done for us.

Background

The book of Acts, written by Luke, the author of the Third Gospel, is a continuation of that narrative. Luke wrote more of the New Testament than any other individual. The physician and companion of Paul (see Acts 16:10, note), he was the first historian of the early years of the Church.

God's Relationship with Man

The book has often been called "The Acts of the Holy Spirit." The Holy Spirit is referred to more than fifty times in this one book, particularly in relation to baptism with the Holy Spirit, being filled with the Holy Spirit, and being led by the Holy Spirit. Acts begins with Luke's second account of the ascension of the Lord and terminates with Paul's residence in Rome as a prisoner, covering a period of more than thirty years.

This book is of highest importance because it is the only inspired account of the beginning and early work of the Church. It clarifies some of the historical references in the Pauline Epistles. Its place in the New Testament canon identifies it as the bridge from the Gospels to the Epistles. It is the primary textbook for the study of missionary principles, the defense of the faith, the Person and work of the Holy Spirit, and the methods and themes of Christian preaching.

Introduction: Christ's 40-day ministry

1 THE ^aformer account I made, O ^bTheophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, ²until the day in which He was taken up, after He through the Holy ^cSpirit had given commandments to the apostles whom He had ^dchosen, ³to whom He also presented Himself ^ealive after His suffering by many infallible proofs, being seen by them during forty days and speaking of the things pertaining to the ^fkingdom of God.

⁴And being assembled together with them, He commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the Promise of the Father, “which,” He said, “you have ^gheard from Me;

⁵“for John truly ^hbaptized with water, but you shall be ⁱbaptized with the Holy ^cSpirit not many days from now.”

⁶Therefore, when they had come together, they asked Him, saying, “Lord, will You at this time restore the ^jkingdom to Israel?”

⁷And He said to them, “It is not for you to ^kknow times or seasons which the Father has put in His own authority.

The commission to evangelize the world (cp. Matt. 28:18–20; Mark 16:15–18; Luke 24:47–48; John 20:21–22)

⁸“But you shall receive power ^lwhen the Holy ^cSpirit has come upon you; and you shall be witnesses to Me” in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and ^mSamaria, and to the ⁿend of the earth.”

⁹Now when He had spoken these things, while they watched, ^oHe was ^ptaken ^qup, and a ^rcloud received Him out of their sight.

The promise of Christ's return to the earth

¹⁰And while they looked steadfastly toward ^sheaven as ^oHe ^pwent ^qup, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel,

¹¹who also said, “Men of Galilee, why do you stand gazing up into heaven? ^oThis same Jesus, who was ^ptaken ^qup from you into heaven, will so ^tcome in like manner as you saw Him go into heaven.”

Waiting for the Spirit (cp. v. 5)

¹²Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a Sabbath day's journey.

¹³And when they had entered, they went up into ^uthe upper room where they were staying: ^vPeter, James, John, and Andrew; Philip and Thomas; Bartholomew and Matthew; James the son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot; and Judas *the son of w*James.

¹⁴These all ^xcontinued with one accord in prayer and supplication, ^{*}with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with His ^ybrothers.

Matthias chosen to take Judas' place

¹⁵And in those days ^zPeter stood up in the midst of the disciples^{*} (altogether the number of names was about a hundred and twenty), and said,

¹⁶“Men and brethren, this Scripture had to be fulfilled, which the Holy ^cSpirit ^aspoke before by the mouth of David concerning ^{aa}Judas,

1:6 the kingdom. For forty days the risen Lord had been instructing the apostles about the kingdom of God, teaching them out of the Scriptures (Luke 24:27,32,44–45). One point was left untouched, that is, the time when He would restore the kingdom to Israel; hence the apostles' question. Observe that the Lord did not rebuke them for their inquiry about the restoration of the kingdom. Their question was a valid one. But His answer was in accord with His repeated teaching: the time is God's secret (Matt. 24:36,42,44; 25:13; compare 1 Thess. 5:1).

¹⁹And it became known to all those dwelling in Jerusalem; so that field is called in their own language, Akel Dama, that is, Field of Blood.)

²⁰“For it is ^bwritten in the book of Psalms:

²²“beginning from the ^ebaptism of John to that day when He was ^ftaken up from us, one of these must become a witness with us of His ^gresurrection.”

²³And they proposed two: Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

²⁴And they ^hprayed and said, “You, O Lord, who know the ⁱhearts of all, show which of these two You have chosen

²⁵“to take part in this ministry and apostleship from which Judas by ^jtransgression fell, that he might go to his own place.”

²⁶And they cast their lots, and the lot fell on Matthias. And he was ^knumbered with the eleven apostles.

CHRIST'S TWO ADVENTS, SUMMARY

The OT foreview of the coming Messiah is presented in two aspects—that of rejection and suffering (e.g. in Is. 53); and that of earthly glory and power (e.g. in Is. 11; Jer. 23; Ezek. 37).

Often these two aspects blend in one passage (e.g. Ps. 22). The prophets themselves were perplexed by this seeming contradiction (1 Pet. 1:10–11). It was solved by partial fulfillment. In due time the Messiah, born of a virgin according to Isaiah's prophecy (7:14), appeared among men and began His ministry by announcing the predicted kingdom as “at hand” (Matt. 4:17, note). The rejection of King and kingdom followed.

Thereupon the rejected King announced His approaching crucifixion, resurrection, departure, and return (Matt. 12:38–40; 16:1–4, 21, 27; 24; 25; Luke 12:35–46; 17:20–36; 18:31–34; 19:12–27). He uttered predictions concerning the course of events between His departure and return (Matt. 13:1–50; 16:18; 24:4–26). And this promised return of Christ is a prominent theme in Acts, the Epistles, and Revelation.

Taken together the NT teachings concerning the return of Jesus Christ may be summarized as follows:

(1) The return of Christ will be personal and corporeal, in two stages: to the air before the Tribulation—usually called the Rapture (1 Thess. 4:14–17; Phil. 3:20–21; Rev. 3:10); then He will return to the earth after the Tribulation (Acts 1:11; Matt. 23:39; 24:30; 25:31; Rev. 19:11–16).

(2) His coming has a threefold relation: to the Church, to Israel, and to the nations:

(a) To the Church, the descent of the Lord into the air, to raise believers who have died and to change the living Christians, is a constant expectation and hope (1 Cor. 15:51–52; Phil. 3:20; 1 Thess. 1:10; 4:13–17; 1 Tim. 6:14; Titus 2:13; Rev. 22:20).

(b) To Israel, the return of the Lord to the earth is to accomplish the yet unfulfilled prophecies of Israel's national regathering, conversion, and establishment in peace and power under the Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7:16, note; compare Acts 15:14–17 with Zech. 14:1–9). See Kingdom (OT), 2 Sam. 7:8–17; Zech. 12:8, note; (NT), Luke 1:31–33; 1 Cor. 15:24, note.

(c) To the Gentile nations, the return of Christ is to bring the destruction of the present political world system (Dan. 2:34–35; Rev. 19:11, note), and the judgment of Matt. 25:31–46, followed by world-wide Gentile conversion and participation in the blessings of the kingdom (Is. 2:2–4; 11:10; 60:3; Zech. 8:3, 20–23; 14:16–21).

- ²And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a rushing mighty ^awind, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting.
- ³Then there appeared to them divided tongues, as of fire, and one sat upon each of them.
- ⁴And they were all filled with the Holy ^bSpirit and began to speak with ^cother tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.
- ⁵And there were ^ddwelling in Jerusalem Jews, ^edevout men, from ^fevery nation under heaven.
- ⁶And when this sound occurred, the ^gmultitude came together, and were confused, because everyone heard them speak in his own language.
- ⁷Then they were all ^hamazed and marveled, saying to one another, “Look, are not all these who speak ⁱGalileans?”
- ⁸“And how is it that we hear, each in our own language in which we were born?”
- ⁹“Parthians and Medes and Elamites, those dwelling in Mesopotamia, Judea and ^jCappadocia, ^kPontus and ^lAsia, ^mPhrygia and ⁿPamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya adjoining ^oCyrene, visitors from Rome, both Jews and ^pproselytes, ^q“Cretans and Arabs—we hear them speaking in our own tongues the wonderful works of God.”
- ¹²So they were all amazed and perplexed, saying to one another, “Whatever could this mean?”
- ¹³Others mocking said, “They are full of new wine.”

2:1

THE SIXTH DISPENSATION: THE CHURCH

A new age was announced by our Lord Jesus Christ in Matt. 12:47–13:52. The Church was clearly prophesied by Him in Matt. 16:18 (compare Matt. 18:15–19), purchased by the shedding of His blood on Calvary (Rom. 3:24–25; 1 Cor. 6:20; 1 Pet. 1:18–19), and constituted as the Church after His resurrection and ascension at Pentecost when, in accordance with His promise (Acts 1:5), individual believers were for the first time baptized with the Holy Spirit into a unified spiritual organism, likened to a body of which Christ is the Head (1 Cor. 12:12–13; Col. 2:19). Because of the emphasis upon the Holy Spirit, this age has also been called “the dispensation of the Spirit.”

The point of testing in this dispensation is the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, the message of good news about His death and resurrection (John 19:30; Acts 4:12; 1 Cor. 15:3–5; 2 Cor. 5:21; etc.). The continuing, cumulative revelation of the previous dispensations combines with this fuller revelation to emphasize the utter sinfulness and lostness of man and the adequacy of the historically completed work of Christ to save by grace through faith all who come to God by Him (John 14:6; Acts 10:43; 13:38–39; Rom. 3:21–26; Eph. 2:8–9; 1 Tim. 4:10; Heb. 10:12–14; 11:6). As those saved individuals who compose Christ’s true Church fulfill the Lord’s command to preach the Gospel to the ends of the earth (Mark 16:15; Luke 24:46–48; Acts 1:8), God, during this age, is taking out from Jews and Gentiles “a people for His name” (Acts 15:14), called “the Church” and henceforth carefully distinguished from both Jews and Gentiles as such (1 Cor. 10:32; Gal. 3:27–28; Eph. 2:11–18; 3:5–6).

The Lord Jesus warned that during the whole period, while the Church is being formed by the Holy Spirit, many will reject His Gospel, and many others will pretend to believe in Him and will become a source of spiritual corruption and hindrance to His purpose in this age, in the professing church. These will bring apostasy, particularly in the last days (Matt. 13:24–30, 36–40, 47–49; 2 Thess. 2:5–8; 1 Tim. 4:1–2; 2 Tim. 3:1; 4:3–4; 2 Pet. 2:1–2; 1 John 2:18–20).

The Church Age will be brought to a close by a series of prophesied events, the chief of which are:

(1) The translation of the true Church from the earth to meet her Lord in the air at a point of time known to God but unrevealed to men, and ever held before believers as an imminent and happy hope, encouraging them in loving service and holiness of life. This event is usually called “the rapture” (see 1 Thess. 4:17, note).

(2) The judgments of the seventieth week of Daniel, called “the tribulation” (see Rev. 7:14, note), which will fall upon mankind in general but will include the unsaved portion of the professing church, which will have gone into apostasy and thus be left behind on earth when the true Church is translated to heaven. This final form of the apostate church is described in Rev. 17 as “the harlot” which will first “ride” the political power (“beast”), only to be overthrown and absorbed by that power (compare Rev. 18:2, note). And

(3) the return from heaven to earth of our Lord Jesus Christ in power and glory, bringing with Him His Church, to set up His millennial kingdom of righteousness and peace (see Rev. 19:11 and 17, notes). For notes on other dispensations, see Innocence (Gen. 1:28); Conscience (Moral Responsibility) (Gen. 3:7); Human Government (Gen. 8:15); Promise (Gen. 12:1); Law (Ex. 19:1); Kingdom (Rev. 20:4).

THE HOLY SPIRIT IN THE NEW TESTAMENT, SUMMARY

(1) The Holy Spirit is revealed as a divine Person. This is expressly declared (e.g. John 14:16–17,26; 15:26; 16:7–15; compare Matt. 28:19), and everywhere implied.

(2) The revelation concerning Him is progressive:

- (a) In the OT (see Zech. 12:10, note) He comes upon whom He will, apparently without reference to conditions in them.
- (b) During His earth-life Christ taught His disciples (Luke 11:13) that they might receive the Spirit through prayer to the Father.
- (c) At the close of His ministry He promised that He would Himself pray to the Father, and that in answer to His prayer the Helper would come to abide (John 14:16–17).
- (d) On the evening of His resurrection He came to the disciples in the upper room and breathed on them saying, "Receive the Holy Spirit" (John 20:22), but He instructed them to wait before beginning their ministry until the Spirit should come upon them (Luke 24:49; Acts 1:8).
- (e) On the day of Pentecost the Spirit came upon the whole body of believers (Acts 2:1–4).
- (f) After Pentecost the Spirit was imparted to such as believed, in some cases by the laying on of hands (Acts 8:17; 9:17). And
- (g) with Peter's experience in the conversion of Cornelius (Acts 10) it became clear that the norm for this age was that Jew and Gentile were to be saved on precisely the same conditions, and the Holy Spirit was to be given without delay to those who met the one essential condition of trust in Christ (Acts 10:44; 11:15–18). This is the permanent fact for the entire Church Age. Every believer is born of the Spirit (John 3:3–6; 1 John 5:1); indwelt by the Spirit, whose presence makes the believer's body a temple (1 Cor. 6:19; compare Rom. 8:9–15; Gal. 4:6; 1 John 2:27); and baptized with the Spirit (1 Cor. 12:12–13; 1 John 2:20,27), thus sealing him for God (Eph. 1:13; 4:30).

(3) The NT distinguishes between having the Spirit, which is true of all believers, and being filled with the Spirit, which is the Christian's privilege and duty (compare Acts 2:4 with 4:29–31; Eph. 1:13–14 with 5:18). There is one baptism with the Spirit, but many fillings with the Spirit.

(4) The Holy Spirit is related to Christ in His conception (Matt. 1:18–20; Luke 1:35), baptism (Matt. 3:16; Mark 1:10; Luke 3:22; John 1:32–33), walk and service (Luke 4:1,14), resurrection (Rom. 8:11), and as His witness throughout this age (John 15:26; 16:8–11,13–14).

(5) The Spirit forms the Church (Matt. 16:18; Heb. 12:23, note) by baptizing all believers into the body of Christ (1 Cor. 12:12–13; compare the universal address, 1 Cor. 1:1–2); imparts gifts for service to every member of that body (1 Cor. 12:7–11,27–30); guides the members in their service (Acts 16:6–7); and is Himself the power of that service (Acts 1:8; 2:4; 1 Cor. 2:4).

(6) The Spirit abides in a company of believers, making of them, corporately, a temple (1 Cor. 3:16–17).

(7) The NT indicates a threefold personal relationship of the Spirit to the believer: "with," "in," and "upon" (John 14:16–17; 1 Cor. 6:19; Acts 1:8). "With" indicates the approach of God to the soul, convicting of sin (John 16:9), presenting Christ as the object of faith (John 16:14), imparting faith (Eph. 2:8), and regenerating (Mark 1:8; John 1:33). "In" describes the abiding presence of the Spirit in the Christian's body (1 Cor. 6:19) to give victory over the flesh (Rom. 8:2–4; Gal. 5:16–17), create the Christian character (Gal. 5:22–23), help weaknesses (Rom. 8:26), inspire prayer (Eph. 6:18), give conscious access to God (Eph. 2:18), actualize to the Christian his sonship (Gal. 4:6), apply the Scriptures in cleansing and sanctification (Eph. 5:26; 2 Thess. 2:13; 1 Pet. 1:2), comfort and intercede (Acts 9:31; Rom. 8:26), and reveal Christ (John 16:14). "Upon" is used of the relationship of the Holy Spirit to the Lord Jesus Christ (Matt. 3:16; Mark 1:10; Luke 4:18; John 1:32–33), to the Virgin Mary in connection with the incarnation and birth of our Lord (Luke 1:35), to certain designated disciples (Luke 2:25 [Simeon]; Acts 10:44–45; 11:15 [household of Cornelius]; Acts 19:6 [disciples at Ephesus]), and to believers generally (Luke 24:49; Acts 1:8; 2:17; 1 Pet. 4:14). Based on Luke 4:18, some understand that the expression has to do with anointing for special service for God, as well as with the original coming and indwelling of the Holy Spirit to and in the individual Christian.

(8) Sins against the Spirit, committed by unbelievers, are: to blaspheme (Matt. 12:31), resist (Acts 7:51), and insult (Heb. 10:29). Christians' sins against the Spirit are: to grieve Him by allowing evil in heart or life (Eph. 4:30–31), and to quench Him by disobedience (1 Thess. 5:19). The right attitude toward the Spirit is yieldedness to His sway in life and service, and constant willingness for Him to "put away" whatever grieves Him or hinders His power (Eph. 4:31).

(9) The symbols of the Spirit are:

- (a) oil (John 3:34; Heb. 1:9);
- (b) water (John 7:38–39);
- (c) wind (John 3:8; Acts 2:2);
- (d) fire (Acts 2:3);
- (e) a dove (Matt. 3:16);
- (f) a seal (Eph. 1:13; 4:30); and
- (g) "the guarantee of our inheritance" (Eph. 1:14).

16"But this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel:

17 'And it shall come to pass in the last days, says God, That I will pour out of My Spirit on all flesh; Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, Your young men shall see visions, Your old men shall dream dreams.

18 And on My menservants and on My maidservants I will pour out My Spirit in those days; And they shall prophesy.

2:14 said to them. The theme of Peter's sermon at Pentecost is stated in v. 36. It was that Jesus was the Messiah. No message could have been more unwelcome to the Jews who had rejected His Messianic claims and had crucified Him. Peter, therefore, did not announce his theme until he had covered every possible Jewish objection. The point of difficulty with the Jews was the apparent failure of the clear and repeated prophetic promise of a regathered Israel established in their own land under their covenanted King (e.g. Is. 11:10-12; Jer. 23:5-8; Ezek. 37:21-28). Peter did not teach that the covenant and promises were to be fulfilled in the Church in a so-called "spiritual" sense, but showed from Ps. 16 that David himself understood that the dead and risen Christ would fulfill the covenant and sit on his (David's) throne (vv. 25-32). In precisely the same way James (Acts 15:13-17) met the difficulty. See Kingdom (OT), Gen. 1:26-28; Zech. 12:8, note; (NT), Luke 1:31-33; 1 Cor. 15:24, note.

prediction relates to the Church (2 Tim. 3:1–8; Heb. 1:1–2; James 5:3; 2 Pet. 3:1–9; see also such passages as 1 Tim. 4:1; 1 Pet. 1:5,20; 1 John 2:18; Jude 18).

While Acts 2:17 is part of this context and therefore relates to the Church, it should be remembered that it has reference to Israel as well and, therefore, points to a future day (see Joel 2:28, note). When “last days” is used of the Church, the plural form (“days”) should be distinguished from the singular (“day”). The “last day” (John 6:39,40,44,54; 11:24) in this usage refers to the resurrection. (In John 12:48 it is used of the time when unbelievers will be judged.) The “last days,” as related to the Church, began with the advent of Christ (Heb. 1:2), but the expression has special reference to the time of declension and apostasy at the end of the age (2 Tim. 3:1). The “last days,” as related to Israel, are the days which, though begun in sorrow, issue in Israel’s exaltation and blessing (compare Jer. 30:4–10), that is, the Kingdom Age (Is. 2:2–4; Mic. 4:1–7). They are “last days,” not with reference to this dispensation but in respect to the whole of Israel’s history. Compare Gen. 49:1, note.

Exhortation: Repent and be baptized

³⁷Now when they heard this, they were cut to the heart, and said to Peter and the rest of the apostles, “Men and brethren, what shall we do?”

³⁸Then Peter said to them, ^a“Repent, and let every one of you be ^bbaptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the ^cremission of ^dsins; and you shall receive the gift of the Holy ^eSpirit.

³⁹“For the ^fpromise is to you and to your children, and to all who are afar off, as many as the Lord our God will call.”

⁴⁰And with many other words he testified and exhorted them, saying, “Be saved from this perverse ^ggeneration.”

Extension: three thousand saved and baptized; the first church

⁴¹Then those who gladly* received his word were baptized; and that day about three thousand souls were added to them.

⁴²And they continued steadfastly in the apostles’ doctrine and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and in prayers.

⁴³Then ^hfear came upon every soul, and ⁱmany wonders and signs were done through the apostles.

⁴⁴Now all who ^jbelieved were together, and had all things in ^kcommon, ⁴⁵and sold their possessions and goods, and divided them among all, as anyone had need.

⁴⁶So continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, they ate their food with gladness and simplicity of heart, ⁴⁷praising God and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the ^lchurch* daily those who were being ^msaved.

The first apostolic miracle: the lame man healed

3 NOW Peter and John went up together to the temple at the hour of prayer, the ninth hour.

²And a certain man lame from his mother’s womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms from those who entered the temple;

³who, seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked for alms.

⁴And fixing his eyes on him, with John, Peter said, “Look at us.”

⁵So he gave them his attention, expecting to receive something from them.

⁶Then Peter said, “Silver and gold I do not have, but what I do have I give you: ⁿIn the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk.”

⁷And he took him by the right hand and lifted him up, and immediately his feet and ankle bones ^oreceived strength.

⁸So he, leaping up, stood and walked and entered the temple with them—walking, leaping, and praising God.

⁹And ^pall the people saw him walking and praising God.

¹⁰Then they knew that it was he who sat begging alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple; and they were filled with wonder and amazement at what had happened to him.

¹¹Now as the lame man who was healed held on to Peter and John, all the people ran together to them in the ^qporch which is called Solomon’s, greatly amazed.

Peter’s second sermon. Theme: The covenants will be fulfilled ¹²So when Peter saw it, he responded to the people: “Men of Israel, why do you marvel at this? Or why look so intently at us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made this man walk?

¹³“The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our fathers, glorified His Servant ^rJesus, whom you delivered up and denied in the 4 NOW as they spoke to the people, the priests, the captain of the temple, and the ^vSadducees came upon them, ³And they laid hands on them, and put them in custody until the next day, for it was already evening.

3:19 The appeal to repent and the promise of “times of refreshing” refer to the OT prophecy that prior to the second advent of the Messiah the godly remnant of the nation Israel will repent and turn to God in preparation for the millennial blessing to follow the second advent (compare Deut. 30:1-3; Zech. 12:10-14). The nation as a whole rejected Peter’s entreaty and, though individuals believed in Christ and were saved, there was no fulfillment of the requirements of national repentance. converted. Literally turned again.

3:21 restoration. The word “restoration” is rendered from the Greek noun apokatastasis meaning restoration to a former state (compare Acts 1:6). The meaning is limited by the words: “which God has spoken by the mouth of all

His holy prophets since the world began.” The prophets speak of the restoration of Israel to the land (see Israel, Gen. 12:2-3; Rom. 11:26; also Palestinian Covenant, Deut. 30:3, note); and of the restoration of the theocracy under David’s Son (see Davidic Covenant, 2 Sam. 7:16, note; Kingdom [OT], Gen. 1:26-28; Zech. 12:8, note). No prediction of the conversion and restoration of the wicked dead is found in the prophets or elsewhere. Compare Rev. 20:11-15. world. Greek aiōn. See Mark 10:30, note.

⁷And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, “By ^dwhat power or by what name have you done this?”

⁸Then ^ePeter, filled with the Holy ^fSpirit, said to them, “Rulers of the people and elders of Israel:

⁹“If we this day are judged for a good deed done to a helpless man, by what means he has been made well,

Sanhedrin forbids further preaching in the name of Jesus

¹³Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were ⁿuneducated and untrained men, they marveled. And they realized that they had been ^owith Jesus.

¹⁴And seeing the man who had been healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

¹⁵But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, ¹⁶saying, ^q“What shall we do to these men? For, indeed, that a notable miracle has been done through them is evident to all who dwell in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it.

¹⁷“But so that it spreads no further among the people, let us severely threaten them, that from now on they speak to no man in this ^rname.”

¹⁸So they called them and commanded them ^snot to speak at all nor teach in the ^tname of Jesus.

¹⁹But Peter and John ^uanswered and said to them, “Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you more than to God, you judge.

²⁰^v“For we cannot but speak the things which we ^whave seen and heard.”

²¹So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding no way of punishing them, ^xbecause of the people, since they all ^yglorified God for what had been ^zdone.

4:10 let it be known. There is no record that here or at any later time the Sanhedrin ever attempted to deny the fact of Christ’s resurrection.

4:16 cannot deny it. The Sanhedrin could not deny that a miracle had been done, but they would not admit it either.

 28“to do whatever Your hand and Your purpose ^ddetermined before to be done.

 30“by stretching out Your hand to heal, and that signs and wonders may be done through the name of Your ^fholy ^gServant Jesus.”
 31And when they had prayed, the place where they were assembled together was shaken; and they were all filled with the Holy ^hSpirit, and they spoke the word of God with boldness.

Voluntary sharing among believers at Jerusalem (cp. Acts 2:42–47)

32Now the multitude of ⁱthose who ^jbelieved were of ^kone heart and one soul; neither did anyone say that any of the things he possessed was his own, but they had all things in common.
 33And with great power the apostles gave ^lwitness to the ^mresurrection of the Lord Jesus. And great ⁿgrace was upon them all.
 34Nor was there anyone among ^othem who lacked; for all who were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the proceeds of the things that were sold, 35and laid ^pthem at the apostles’

feet; and they distributed to each as anyone had need.

36And ^qJoses,* who was also named Barnabas by the apostles (which is translated Son of Encouragement), a Levite of the country of Cyprus, 37having land, sold ^rit, and brought the money and laid ^sit at the apostles’ feet.

5 BUT a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession.

2And he ^tkept back ^upart of the proceeds, his wife also being aware ^vof it, and brought a certain ^wpart and laid ^xit at the apostles’ feet.

3But Peter said, “Ananias, ^ywhy has ^zSatan filled your heart to lie to the Holy ^{aa}Spirit and keep back ^{ab}part of the price of the land for yourself?

4“While it remained, was it not your own? And after it was sold, was it not in your own control? Why have you conceived this thing in your heart? You have not lied to men ^{ac}but to God.”

5Then Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and breathed his last. So great fear came upon all those who heard these things.

6And the young men arose and wrapped him up, ^{ad}carried ^{ae}him out, and buried ^{af}him.

7Now it was about three hours later when his wife came in, not knowing what had happened.

4:32 all things in common. The experience of the Christians of the Jerusalem church in sharing their possessions is not to be taken as normative for all Christian churches or communities. This voluntary sharing of possessions in the time of persecution is a beautiful evidence of the oneness of the believers. However, it should be observed that this communal sharing was (1) voluntary (v. 32; compare 5:4); (2) in a time of persecution (v. 29); and (3) evidently restricted to the Jerusalem church.

⁹Then Peter said to her, "How is it that you have agreed together to ^atest the ^bSpirit of the Lord? Look, the feet of those who have buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out."

¹⁰Then immediately she fell down at his feet and breathed her last. And the ^cyoung men came in and found her dead, and carrying her out, buried her by her husband.

¹¹So great fear came upon all the ^dchurch and upon all who heard these things.

Mighty miracles at Jerusalem

¹²And through the hands of the apostles many ^esigns and wonders were ^fdone among the people. And they were all with one accord in Solomon's ^gPorch.

¹³Yet none of the rest dared join them, but the people esteemed them highly.

¹⁴And ^hbelievers were increasingly ⁱadded to the Lord, multitudes of both men and women, ¹⁵so that they brought the sick out into the streets and laid them on beds and couches, that at least the ^jshadow of Peter passing by might fall on some of them.

¹⁶Also a multitude gathered from the surrounding cities to Jerusalem, ^kbringing sick people and those who were tormented by unclean spirits, and they were all ^lhealed.

Second persecution

¹⁷Then the high priest rose up, and all those who ^mwere with him (which is the sect of the ⁿSadducees), and they were filled with indignation, ¹⁸and ^olaid their ^phands on the apostles and put them in the common ^qprison.

¹⁹^rBut at night an ^sangel of the Lord ^topened the prison doors and ^ubrought them out, and said,

²⁰"Go, stand in the temple and

"speak to the people all the words of this ^vlife."

²¹And when they heard that, they entered the temple early in the morning and taught. But the high priest and those with him came and called the ^wcouncil together, with all the elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

²²But when the officers came and did not find them in the prison, they returned and reported,

²³saying, "Indeed we found the prison shut securely, and the guards standing outside* before the doors; but when we opened them, we ^xfound no one inside!"

²⁴Now when the high priest,* the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these things, they wondered what the outcome would be.

²⁵So one came and told them, saying,* "Look, the men whom you put in prison are standing in the temple and teaching the people!"

²⁶Then the captain went with the officers and brought them without violence, for they ^yfeared the people, lest they should be stoned.

²⁷And when they had brought them, they set them before the ^zcouncil. And the high priest asked them, ²⁸saying, "Did we not strictly ^{aa}command you not to teach in this name? And look, you have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this Man's ^{bb}blood on us!"

The answer of the apostles

²⁹But Peter and the ^{cc}other apostles answered and said: "We ^{cc}ought to obey God rather than men.

³⁰"The God of our fathers ^{dd}raised up Jesus whom you murdered by hanging on a tree.

Internal dissension overcome by love

6NOW in those days, when the ⁿnumber of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a complaint against the Hebrews by the Hellenists,^a because their widows were neglected in the daily distribution.

²Then the twelve summoned the multitude of the disciples and said, “It is not desirable that we should leave the ^oword of God and serve tables.

³“Therefore, brethren, seek out from among you seven men of good ^preputation, full of the Holy ^qSpirit and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this ^rbusiness;

7:16 A SEEMING CONTRADICTION EXPLAINED

A contradiction between vv. 15–16 and Gen. 23:17; 33:19 is frequently asserted. A solution of the problem has been suggested in several ways:

(1) a scribal error in naming Abraham in Acts 7:16 (but only one manuscript omits the name);

(2) a telescoping of the accounts in Gen. 23 and 33 (understandable in view of Stephen’s situation and the need for brevity); and

(3) Abraham actually did buy two burial places (Gen. 23:17; Acts 7:15–16). The first, near Hebron, he bought from Ephron, the Hittite, in the presence of the children of Heth. The second, near Shechem, he bought from the sons of Hamor. Later Jacob must have repurchased the second in “the parcel of land . . . from the children of Hamor, Shechem’s father” (Gen. 33:18–19). Since Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob were buried at Hebron (Gen. 49:31; 50:13), Stephen’s reference to “our fathers” buried in Shechem (v. 16) must be restricted to Joseph and other members of the family (Josh. 24:32; Acts 7:15–16).

7:27 Who made you a ruler But he became their ruler and judge. Compare Luke 19:14.

7:54 When they heard these things. False witnesses had been brought to testify before the council against Stephen (6:9-14). Stephen bore true witness against them, quoting the testimony of writings which they acknowledged to be inspired. He spoke of the persistent rejection of God and His servants by the nation, until at length the truth was brought home to them and aroused the mad-dened enmity in their hearts.

And when he had said this, he fell ^aasleep.

8 NOW Saul was consenting to his death. At that time a great persecution arose against the ^bchurch which was at Jerusalem; and they were all ^cscattered throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

²And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

³As for Saul, he made havoc of the ^dchurch, entering every house, and dragging off men and women, committing them to prison.

⁶And the multitudes with one accord heeded the things spoken by Philip, hearing and seeing the ⁱmiracles which he did.

⁷For ^junclean spirits, crying with a loud voice, came out of many who were possessed; and many who were paralyzed and lame were healed.

⁸And there was great joy in that city.

⁹But there was a certain man called Simon, who previously practiced ^ksorcery in the city and astonished the people of Samaria, claiming that he was someone great,

¹⁰to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, “This man is the great power of God.”

¹¹And they heeded him because he had astonished them with his ^ksorceries for a long time.

¹²But when they ^lbelieved ^mPhilip as he ^fpreached the things concerning the ⁿkingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, both men and women were baptized.

¹³Then Simon himself also ^lbelieved; and when he was baptized he continued with Philip, and was amazed, seeing the ^omiracles and signs which were done.

¹⁴Now when the ^papostles who were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had ^lreceived the ^fword of God, they sent ^pPeter and John to them, ¹⁵who, when they had come down, prayed for them that they might receive the Holy ^qSpirit.

¹⁶For as yet He had ^rfallen upon none of them. They had only been ^sbaptized in the ^tname of the Lord Jesus.

BAPTISM

The practice of baptizing with water is introduced into the NT during the ministry of John the Baptist, whose baptism is referred to as “for the remission of sins,” or, “baptism of repentance” (Mark 1:4; Luke 3:3; etc.). Christ Himself was baptized by John (Matt. 3:13–17; etc.). In His case it was certainly not for the reasons mentioned but as a symbol of His identification with mankind.

Before His ascension, the Lord Jesus commanded His disciples to preach the Gospel to all the world, baptizing all who believed this saving message in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit (Matt. 28:19; Mark 16:15–16). This command was faithfully obeyed by the early Church beginning with the day of Pentecost (Acts 2:38,41; 8:12–13,36–38; 9:18; 10:48; 16:14–15,32–33; 18:8; 19:5; 22:13–16).

Baptism has, since the apostolic age, been practiced by every major group in the Christian church and, in Protestant communions, is recognized as one of two sacraments—the other being the Lord's Supper. Since early in the Church's history three different modes of baptism have been used: aspersion (sprinkling); affusion (pouring); and immersion (dipping).

John the Baptist, and our Lord also, prophesied a baptism with the Holy Spirit (Matt. 3:11; John 1:33; Acts 1:5; 11:16). See 1 Cor. 12:12–13; Acts 2:4, note on Holy Spirit, paragraph (5).

²⁰But Peter said to him, “Your ^bmoney ^cperish with you, because you thought that the ^dgift of God could be purchased with money!

²¹“You have neither part nor portion in this matter, for your ^eheart is not right in the sight of God.

²²“Repent therefore of this your wickedness, and pray God if perhaps the thought of your ^sheart may be ^hforgiven you.

²³“For I see that you are poisoned by ⁱbitterness and bound by ^jiniquity.”

²⁴Then Simon answered and said, ^k“Pray to the Lord for me, that none of the things which you have spoken may come upon me.”

²⁵So when they had ^ltestified and preached the word of the Lord, they returned to Jerusalem, preaching the ^mgospel ⁿin many villages of the Samaritans.

Philip and the Ethiopian treasurer

²⁶Now ^oan ^pangel of the Lord spoke to ^qPhilip, saying, “Arise and ^rgo toward the south along the road which goes down from Jerusalem to Gaza.” This is desert.

²⁷So he arose and went. And behold, a man of ^sEthiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace the queen of the Ethiopians, who had charge of all her treasury, and had ^tcome to Jerusalem to worship, ²⁸was returning. And sitting in his chariot, he was reading Isaiah the ^uprophet.

²⁹Then the ^aSpirit said to Philip, “Go near and overtake this chariot.”

³⁰So Philip ran to him, and heard him reading the ^uprophet Isaiah, and said, ^v“Do you understand what you are reading?”

³¹And he said, ^w“How can I, unless someone ^xguides me?” And he asked Philip to come up and sit with him.

³²The place in the ^uScripture which he read was this:

“He^y was led as a sheep to the slaughter;

And as a lamb before its shearer is silent,

^zSo He opened not His mouth.

³³ In His humiliation His ^{aa}justice was taken away, And who will declare His generation?

For His life is ^{bb}taken from the earth.”

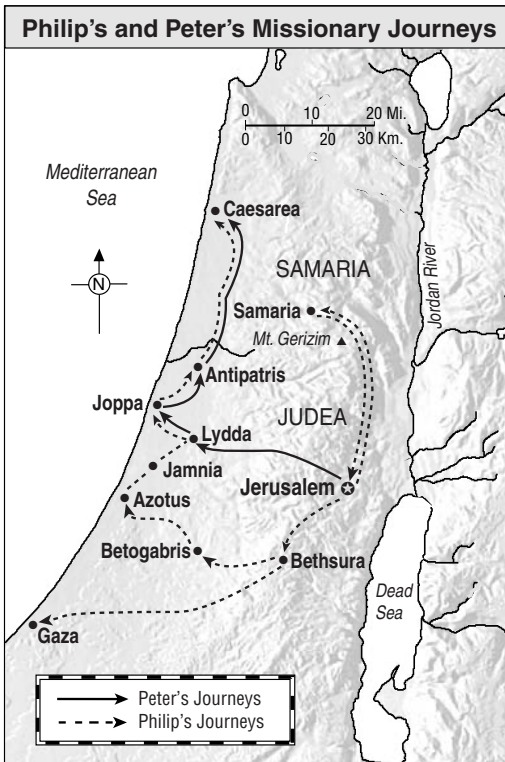

³⁴So the eunuch answered Philip and said, “I ask you, of whom does the prophet say this, of himself or ^{cc}of some other man?”

³⁵Then Philip opened his mouth, and ^{dd}beginning at this Scripture, ^mpreached Jesus to him.

³⁶Now as they went down the road, they came to some water. And the eunuch said, “See, here is water. What hinders me from being ^{ee}baptized?”

³⁷Then Philip said, ^{ff}“If you believe with all your heart, you may.” And he answered and said, “I

III. From the Conversion of Saul to the First Missionary Journey, 9—12

*Saul's conversion
(Acts 22:1-16; 26:9-18)*

9 THEN ^gSaul, still breathing threats and murder against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest

²and asked ^hletters from him to the synagogues of Damascus, so that if he found any who were ⁱof the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.

³As he journeyed he came near Damascus, and suddenly a ^jlight shone around him from heaven.

⁴Then he fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to him, “Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?”

⁵And he said, “Who are You, Lord?” Then the Lord said, “I am ^kJesus, whom you are persecuting.* It is hard for you to kick against the ^lgoads.”

⁶So he, trembling and astonished, ^msaid, “Lord, what do You want me to do?” Then the Lord ⁿsaid to him, “Arise and go into the city, and you will be told what you must do.”

⁷And the men who journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice ^obut seeing no one.

⁸Then Saul arose from the ground, and when his eyes were opened he saw no one. But they led him by the hand and brought him into Damascus.

⁹And he was three days without sight, and neither ate nor drank.

¹⁰Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus named Ananias; and to him the Lord said in a vision, “Ananias.” And he said, “Here I am, Lord.”

¹¹So the Lord ^osaid to him, “Arise and go to the street called Straight, and inquire at the house of Judas for ^pone called Saul of Tarsus, for behold, he is praying.

¹²“And in a vision he has seen a man named Ananias coming in and putting ^qhis hand on him, so that he might receive his sight.”

¹³Then Ananias answered, “Lord, I have ^rheard from many about this man, how much harm he has done to Your saints in Jerusalem.

¹⁴“And here he has authority from the chief priests to bind all who call on Your name.”

¹⁵But the Lord said to him, “Go, for he is a ^schosen vessel of Mine to bear My name before ^tGentiles, ^ukings, and the ^vchildren of Israel.

¹⁶“For I will show him how many things he must ^wsuffer for My ^xname's sake.”

Saul filled with the Spirit

¹⁷And Ananias went his way and entered the house; and ^ylaying his hands on him he said, ^z“Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus,* who appeared to you on the road as you came, has sent me that you may ^{aa}receive your sight and be ^{ab}filled with the Holy ^{ac}Spirit.”

Saul baptized

¹⁸Immediately there fell from his eyes ^{ad}something like scales, and he ^{ae}received his sight at once; and he arose and was baptized.

¹⁹So when he had received food, he was strengthened. Then Saul spent some days with the disciples at Damascus.

Saul preaches at Damascus

²⁰Immediately he ^apreached the Christ* in the synagogues, that He is the Son of God.

²¹Then all who heard were amazed, and said, "Is this not he who destroyed those who called on this name in Jerusalem, and has come here for that purpose, so that he might bring them ^bbound to the chief priests?"

²²But Saul increased all the more in strength, and confounded the Jews who dwelt in Damascus, proving that this Jesus is the Christ.

Saul escapes to Jerusalem

²³Now after many days were past, the Jews ^cplotted to kill him.

²⁴But their plot became ^dknown to Saul. And they watched the gates day and night, to kill him.

²⁵Then the disciples took him by night and ^elet him down through the wall in a large basket.

²⁶And when Saul had come to Jerusalem, he tried to join the disciples; but they were all ^fafraid of him, and did not believe that he was a disciple.

²⁷But ^gBarnabas took him and brought him to the apostles. And he declared to them how he had seen the Lord on the road, and that He had spoken to him, and how he had ^hpreached ⁱboldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

²⁸So he was with them at Jerusalem, coming in and going out.

²⁹And he spoke ^jboldly in the name of the Lord Jesus and disputed against the Hellenists, but they attempted to kill him.

Saul returns to Tarsus

³⁰When the brethren found out, they brought him down to Caesarea and sent him out to Tarsus.

³¹Then the ^kchurches* throughout all Judea, Galilee, and Samaria had peace and were ^ledified. And walking in the ^mfear of the Lord and in the ⁿcomfort of the Holy ^oSpirit, they were ^pmultiplied.

Peter's ministry resumed:

³²Now it came to pass, as Peter went through ^qall parts of the country, that he also came down to the saints who dwelt in Lydda.

³³There he found a certain man named Aeneas, who had been bedridden eight years and was ^rparalyzed.

³⁴And Peter said to him, "Aeneas, ^sJesus the Christ heals you. Arise and make your bed." Then he ^tarose immediately.

³⁵So all who dwelt at Lydda and Sharon saw him and ^uturned to the Lord.

9:20 He is the Son of God. Compare 2:36. Peter, while maintaining the Deity of Jesus ("God has made this Jesus, whom you crucified "both Lord and Christ"), gives special prominence to His Messiahship. Paul, fresh from the vision of the glory, puts the emphasis on His Deity. Peter's charge was that the Jews had crucified the Son of David (Acts 2:25-30); Paul's, that they had crucified the Lord of glory (1 Cor. 2:8). The point was, not that the Christ was God, a truth plainly taught by Isaiah (Is. 7:14; 9:6-7), but that Jesus, the crucified Nazarene, was the Christ and therefore God the Son.

9:22 It seems probable that vv. 22-25 refer to Paul's labors in Damascus after his return from Arabia (Gal. 1:17). The "many days" (v. 23) may represent the "three years" of Gal. 1:18, which intervened between Paul's return to Damascus and his visit to Peter.

9:26 come to Jerusalem. Acts records four visits of Paul to Jerusalem after his conversion: (1) 9:23-30. This seems identical with the visit of Gal. 1:18-19. The apostles of Acts 9:27 were Peter and James, the Lord's half brother. (2) 11:30. Paul may have been in Jerusalem during the events of 12:1-24. See v. 25. (3) 15:1-30; Gal. 2:2-10. And (4) 21:17-23:35.

³About the ninth hour of the day he saw clearly in a ^kvision an ^langel of God coming in and saying to him, “Cornelius!”

⁴And when he observed him, he was ^mafraid, and said, “What is it, lord?” So he said to him, ⁿ“Your prayers and your alms have come up for a ^omemorial before God.

⁵“Now ^psend men to Joppa, and send for Simon whose surname is Peter.

PETER'S VISION

Although this vision is admittedly symbolic, Peter's experience recorded here was a definite revelation to him that God had made a major change in His dealings with mankind (v. 28). Peter demurred at God's command (v. 14), but the Spirit of God was insistent that he should adjust his thinking and action to this change (vv. 13,15-16,19-20,28,34-35,45,47; 11:12,17-18).

The animals and birds represented both Gentiles ("unclean" according to the law) and Jews (ceremonially "clean"). They were present together in this sheet let down from heaven (compare John 17:18), declared cleansed by God (vv. 15,34-35), and then caught up to heaven (v. 16).

The revelation of the Church was not given alone to Paul. Paul himself says that it was revealed "by the Spirit to His holy apostles and [NT] prophets [both words plural]" (Eph. 3:5). This revelation to Peter, reported to Gentiles at Caesarea (Acts 10:24-29) and Jews at Jerusalem (Acts 11:1-11), plainly teaches that God is calling out both Gentiles and Jews to Himself in this age (Eph. 2:11-22). This was Peter's own evaluation of what God did through him at Caesarea (Acts 15:7-11, 14; see John 14:20, note).

¹⁶This was done ^athree times. And the object was taken up into heaven again.

¹⁷Now while Peter wondered within himself what this ^bvision which he had seen meant, behold, the men who had been sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon’s house, and stood before the gate.

¹⁸And they called and asked whether ^cSimon, whose surname was Peter, was lodging there.

¹⁹While Peter thought about the ^dvision, the ^eSpirit said to him, “Behold, three men are seeking you.

²⁰“Arise therefore, go down and ^fgo with them, doubting nothing; for I have sent them.”

²¹Then Peter went down to the men who had been sent to him from Cornelius,* and said, “Yes, I am he whom you seek. ^gFor what reason have you come?”

²²And they said, ^h“Cornelius the centurion, a ⁱjust man, one who fears God and has a ^jgood reputation among all the nation of the Jews, was divinely instructed by a holy ^kangel to summon you to his house, and to hear words from you.”

Peter goes to Caesarea

²³Then he invited them in and lodged them. On the next day Peter went away with them, and ^lsome brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

²⁴And the following day they entered Caesarea. Now Cornelius was waiting for them, and had called together his relatives and close friends.

²⁵As Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him and ^mfell down at his feet and worshiped him.

²⁶But Peter lifted him up, saying, “Stand up; I myself am also a ⁿman.”

²⁷And as he talked with him, he went in and found ^omany who had come together.

²⁸Then he said to them, “You know how ^punlawful it is for a Jewish man to keep company with or go to one of another nation. But ^qGod has shown me that I should not call any man common or unclean.

²⁹“Therefore I came without objection as soon as I was sent for. I ask, then, for ^rwhat reason have you sent for me?”

³⁰So Cornelius said, “Four days ago I was ^sfasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour* I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, ³¹“and said, ‘Cornelius, your prayer has been heard, and your alms are remembered in the sight of God.

³²‘Send therefore to Joppa and call Simon here, whose surname is Peter. He is lodging in the house of Simon, a tanner, by the sea.* When he comes, he will speak to you.’

³³“So I sent to you immediately, and you have done well to come. Now therefore, we are all present before God, to hear all the things commanded you by God.”

10:44 Up to this point the Gospel had been offered principally to the Jews, though some Gentile proselytes may have been included in the conversions on the Day of Pentecost, and Philip had previously preached in Samaria (Acts 8). Through Peter’s experience with Cornelius it is made plain that the norm for this age, for both Jews and Gentiles, is for the Holy Spirit to be given without delay, human mediation, or conditions other than simple faith in Jesus Christ for both Jew and Gentile.

¹⁹Now those who were scattered after the ^kpersecution that arose over Stephen traveled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, ^lpreaching the word to no one but the Jews only.

²⁰But some of them were men from Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they had come to Antioch, spoke to the ^mHellenists, ⁿpreaching the Lord Jesus.

²¹And the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number ^obelieved and ^pturned to the Lord.

²²Then news of these things came to the ears of the ^qchurch in Jerusalem, and they sent out ^rBarnabas to go as far as Antioch.

²³When he came and had seen the ^sgrace of God, he was glad, and encouraged them all that with purpose of heart they should continue with the Lord.

²⁴For he was a ^tgood man, full of the ^uHoly Spirit and of ^vfaith. And a great many people were ^wadded to the Lord.

²⁵Then Barnabas departed for ^xTarsus to seek Saul.

²⁷And in these days ^{aa}prophets came from Jerusalem to Antioch.

²⁸Then one of them, named ^{ab}Agabus, stood up and showed by the ^{ac}Spirit that there was going to be a great famine throughout all the world, which also happened in the days of ^{ad}Claudius Caesar.

²⁹Then the disciples, each according to his ability, determined to send relief to the brethren dwelling in Judea.

³⁰This they also did, and sent it to the ^{ae}elders ^{af}by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

Fifth persecution: Peter arrested

12 NOW about that time Herod the king stretched out ^{ag}his hand to harass some from the ^{ah}church.

²Then he ^{ai}killed ^{aj}James the brother of John with the sword.

³And because he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to seize Peter also. Now it was ^{ak}during the Days of Unleavened Bread.

⁴So when he had ^{al}arrested him, he put ^{am}him in prison, and delivered ^{an}him to four squads of soldiers to keep him, intending to bring him before the people after Passover.

Peter miraculously released from prison

⁵Peter was therefore kept in prison, but ^{ao}constant ^{ap}prayer was offered to God for him by the ^{aq}church.

⁶And when Herod was about to bring him out, that night Peter was sleeping, bound with two chains between two soldiers; and the guards before the door were keeping the prison.

⁷Now behold, an ^{ar}angel of the Lord stood ^{as}by him, and a light shone in the prison; and he struck Peter on the side and raised him up, saying, “Arise quickly!” And his chains ^afell off his hands.

⁸Then the ^bangel said to him, “Gird yourself and tie on your sandals”; and so he did. And he said to him, “Put on your garment and follow me.”

⁹So he went out and followed him, and did not know that what was done by the ^cangel was real, but thought he was seeing a vision.

¹⁰When they were past the first and the second guard posts, they came to the iron gate that leads to the city, which ^dopened to them ^eof its own accord; and they went out and went down one street, and immediately the ^fangel departed from him.

¹¹And when Peter had come to himself, he said, “Now I know for certain that the Lord has ^gsent His ^hangel, and has ⁱdelivered me from the hand of Herod and from all the expectation of the Jewish people.”

¹²So, when he had considered this, he ^jcame to the house of ^kMary, the mother of ^lJohn whose surname was Mark, ^mwhere many were gathered together praying.

¹³And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a girl named Rhoda came to answer.

¹⁴When she recognized Peter’s voice, because of her gladness she did not open the gate, but ran in and announced that Peter stood before the gate.

¹⁵But they said to her, “You are beside yourself!” Yet she kept insisting that it was so. So they said, “It is his angel.”

¹⁶Now Peter continued knocking; and when they opened the door and saw him, they were astonished.

¹⁷But motioning to them with his hand to keep silent, he ⁿdeclared to them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, “Go, tell these things to ^oJames and to the brethren.” And he departed and went to another place.

¹⁸Then, as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers about what had become of Peter.

¹⁹But when Herod had searched for him and not found him, he examined the guards and commanded that they should be ^pput to death. And he went down from Judea to Caesarea, and stayed there.

Herod blasphemes and dies

²⁰Now Herod had been very angry with the people of ^qTyre and Sidon; but they came to him with one accord, and having made Blastus the king’s personal aide their friend, they asked for peace, because their country was supplied with food by the king’s country.

²¹So on a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat on his throne and gave an oration to them.

²²And the people kept shouting, “The voice of a ^rgod and not of a man!”

²³Then immediately an ^sangel of the Lord ^tstruck him, because he did not ^ugive glory to God. And he was eaten by worms and ^vdied.

²⁴But the ^wword of God grew and ^xmultiplied.

²⁵And ^yBarnabas and Saul returned from ^{*}Jerusalem when they had ^zfulfilled their ministry, and they also took with them ^zJohn whose surname was Mark.

13 NOW in the ^{aa}church that was at Antioch there were certain prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon who was called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen who had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

²As they ministered to the Lord and fasted, the Holy ^{bb}Spirit said, “Now separate to Me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them.”

⁴So, being sent out by the Holy ^bSpirit, they went down to Seleucia, and from there they sailed to Cyprus.

⁵And when they arrived in Salamis, they ^cpreached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. They also had John as their assistant.

Opposition from Satan

⁶Now when they had gone through the island* to Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew whose name was Bar-Jesus, ⁷who was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man. This man called for Barnabas and Saul and sought to hear the ^cword of God.

⁸But Elymas the sorcerer (for so his name is translated) withstood them, seeking to turn the proconsul away from the faith.

⁹Then Saul, who also is called Paul, filled with the Holy ^bSpirit, looked intently at him

¹⁰and said, "O full of all deceit and all fraud, you son of the ^ddevil, you enemy of all ^erighteousness, will you not cease perverting the straight ways of the Lord?"

¹¹And now, indeed, the hand of the Lord is upon you, and you shall be blind, not seeing the sun for a time." And immediately a dark mist fell on him, and he went around seeking someone to lead him by the hand.

¹²Then the proconsul ^gbelieved, when he saw what had been done, being astonished at the ^cteaching of the Lord.

¹³Now when Paul and his party set sail from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia; and John, ^hdeparting from them, returned to Jerusalem.

Justification by faith preached by Paul at Antioch in Pisidia (vv. 38-39)

¹⁴But when they departed from

Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the ⁱSabbath day and sat down.

¹⁵And after ^jthe reading of the ^kLaw and the Prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, "Men and brethren, if you have any word of exhortation for the people, say on."

¹⁶Then Paul stood up, and motioning with his hand said, "Men of Israel, and you who ^lfear God, listen:

²⁰"After that He gave them ^sjudges for about four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet.

²¹"And afterward they asked for a king; so God gave them ^tSaul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years.

²²"And when He had removed him, He raised up for them ^uDavid as king, to whom also He gave testimony and ^vsaid, v 'I have found David' the son of Jesse, a man after My own heart, who will do all My will.

⁴¹ ‘Behold, you despisers, Marvel and perish! For If work a work in your days, A work which you will by no means believe, Though one were to declare it to you.’ ”

⁴²So when the Jews went out of the synagogue,* the Gentiles begged that these ^gwords might be preached to them the next ^hSabbath.

⁴³Now when the congregation had broken up, many of the Jews and devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas, who, speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the ⁱgrace of God.

The Jews oppose Paul (cp. vv. 6,50), who turns to the Gentiles (cp. Acts 18:6; 28:25)

⁴⁴On the next ^hSabbath almost the whole city came together to hear the ^jword of God.

⁴⁵But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy; and contradicting and blaspheming, they opposed the things spoken by Paul.

⁴⁶Then Paul and Barnabas grew bold and said, “It was necessary that the ^jword of God should be spoken to you ^kfirst; but since you reject it, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting ^llife, behold, we turn to the Gentiles.

Lycaonia, and to the surrounding region.

⁷And they were preaching the ^agospel there.

⁸And in Lystra a ^bcertain man without strength in his feet was sitting, a cripple from his mother's womb, who had never walked.

⁹This man heard Paul speaking. Paul, observing him intently and seeing that he had ^cfaith to be healed, ¹⁰said with a loud voice, "Stand up straight on your feet!" And he ^dleaped and walked.

¹¹Now when the people saw what Paul had done, they raised their voices, saying in the Lycaonian language, "The ^egods have come down to us in the likeness of men!"

¹²And Barnabas they called Zeus, and Paul, Hermes, because he was the chief speaker.

¹³Then the priest of Zeus, whose temple was in front of their city, brought oxen and garlands to the gates, intending to ^fsacrifice with the multitudes.

¹⁴But when the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard this, they tore their clothes and ran in among the multitude, crying out ¹⁵and saying, "Men, why are you doing these things? ^gWe also are men with the same nature as you, and preach to you that you should turn from these ^huseless things to the living God, who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and all things that are in them, ¹⁶"who in bygone generations ⁱallowed all nations to walk in their own ways.

¹⁷"Nevertheless He did not leave Himself without ^jwitness, in that He did good, gave us ^krain from heaven and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with ^lfood and gladness."

¹⁸And with these sayings they could scarcely restrain the multitudes from ^msacrificing to them.

Paul stoned at Lystra

¹⁹Then Jews from Antioch and Iconium came there; and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Paul and dragged him out of the city, supposing him to be ⁿdead.

²⁰However, when the disciples gathered around him, he rose up and went into the city. And the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

Elders appointed in every church

²¹And when they had preached the ^ogospel to that city and made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch,

²²strengthening the souls of the disciples, ^pexhorting them to continue in the faith, and saying, "We must through many ^qtribulations enter the ^rkingdom of God."

²³So when they ^shad appointed ^telders in every ^uchurch, and prayed with fasting, they ^vcommended them to the Lord in whom they had ^wbelieved.

²⁴And after they had passed through Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

²⁵Now when they had ^xpreached the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia.

Return to Antioch; report to church

²⁶From there they sailed to Antioch, where they had been ^ycommended to the ^zgrace of God for the work which they had completed.

²⁷Now when they had come and gathered the ^{aa}church together, they reported all that God had done with them, and that He had opened the door of ^{bb}faith to the ^{cc}Gentiles.

²⁸So they stayed there a long time with the disciples.

V. The Council at Jerusalem, 15:1-35

Circumcision question settled; the legalizers from Judea

15 AND ^acertain men came down from Judea and ^btaught the brethren, ^c“Unless you are circumcised according to the ^dcustom of Moses, you cannot be ^esaved.”

Paul and Barnabas go to Jerusalem

²Therefore, when Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and dispute with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas and certain others of them should ^fgo up to Jerusalem, to the apostles and ^gelders, about this question.

³So, being sent on their way by the ^hchurch, they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria, describing the ⁱconversion of the ⁱGentiles; and they caused great joy to all the brethren.

⁴And when they had come to Jerusalem, they were received by the ^hchurch and the apostles and the ^gelders; and they reported all things that God had done with them.

⁵But some of the sect of the ^jPharisees who ^kbelieved rose up, saying, “It is necessary to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the ^llaw of Moses.”

Peter's rebuttal: Why place Gentile believers under yoke of law?

⁶Now the apostles and ^gelders came together to consider this matter.

⁷And when there had been much dispute, Peter rose up and said to them: “Men and brethren, you know that a good while ago God ^mchose among us, that ⁿby my mouth the ^oGentiles should hear the word of the ^pgospel and believe.

⁸“So God, who ^qknows the heart, acknowledged them by giving them the Holy ^rSpirit, just as He did to us, ⁹“and made no distinction between us and them, ^spurifying their hearts by ^kfaith.

¹⁰“Now therefore, why do you ^ttest God by putting a ^uyoke on the neck of the disciples which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

¹¹“But we believe that through the ^vgrace of the Lord Jesus Christ* we shall be ^wsaved in the same manner as ^xthey.”

Paul and Barnabas testify

¹²Then all the multitude kept silent and listened to Barnabas and Paul declaring how many miracles and wonders God had worked through them among the ^yGentiles.

James announces decision of council: (1) the outcalling of Gentiles agrees with promises to Israel ¹³And after they had become silent, ^zJames answered, saying, “Men and brethren, listen to me:

¹⁴“Simon has declared how God at the first visited the Gentiles to take out of them a people for His name.

¹⁵“And with this the words of the prophets agree, just as it is ^{aa}written:

¹⁶ ‘After^{bb} this I will return
And will rebuild the tabernacle of ^{cc}David, which has fallen down;

*I will rebuild its ruins,
And I will set it up;*

¹⁷ So that the rest of mankind may seek the LORD, to show what day Amos was talking about, namely, the time after the present world-wide witness (Acts 1:8), when Christ will return. James showed that there will be Gentile believers at that time as well as Jewish believers; hence he concluded that Gentiles are not required to become Jewish proselytes by circumcision.

15:25 ²³They wrote this letter by them:

To the apostles, the ^gelders, and the brethren,
To the brethren who are of the ^hGentiles in Antioch, Syria, and Cilicia:

Greetings.

²⁴ Since we have heard that some who went out from us have troubled you with words, ⁱunsettling your souls, saying, “You must be circumcised and keep the law”*—to whom we gave no such commandment—

²⁵ it seemed good to us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men to you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul,

15:18 eternity. Greek aion. See Mark 10:30, note.

15:19 The scope of the decision goes far beyond the mere question of circumcision. The whole question of the relation of the law to Gentile believers had been put in issue (v. 5), and their exemption is declared in the decision

(vv. 19,24). The decision might be otherwise stated in the terms of Rom. 6:14: “You are not under law but under grace.” Gentile believers were to show grace by abstaining from the practices offensive to godly Jews (vv. 20–21, 28–29; compare Rom. 14:12–17; 1 Cor. 8:1–13).

15:13–18

GOD’S DIVINE PLAN

This important passage shows God’s program for this age. It is necessary to observe the purpose of James in his decision. He is not simply arguing that Gentiles can be saved. This is clearly taught in many passages in the OT and was recognized by the apostles at their conference described in Acts 11 (note especially v. 18).

The problem is circumcision. Must Gentiles become Jews before they become Christians? James declares that Amos 9:12 shows that, at the return of Christ, there will not only be believing Jews (here called “the rest of mankind”) but also (translating NKJV “even” by “and”) believing Gentiles “who are called by My name” (v. 17). Thus the passage, as explained by James, shows the following elements in the divine plan:

(1) The taking out from among the Gentiles of a people for His name, the distinctive work of the present or Church Age. The Church is the ekklesia—the “called-out assembly.” The Gospel has never anywhere converted all but everywhere has called out some. No mention is made in this passage of gathering out the remnant from Israel in this age (compare Rom. 11:5), because this was not the issue in dispute at the Jerusalem Council.

(2) “After this [that is, the out-calling] I will return.” James quotes from Amos 9:11–12. The verses which follow in Amos describe the final regathering of Israel, which the other prophets invariably connect with the fulfillment of the Davidic Covenant (e.g. Is. 11:1,10–12; Jer. 23:5–8).

(3) “And will rebuild the tabernacle of David, which has fallen down.” Christ took the title to David’s throne back to heaven with Him, assuring that David will never lack a man to sit on his throne, and looking forward to the re-establishment of Davidic rule over Israel (2 Sam. 7:8–17; Luke 1:31–33).

(4) “That the rest of mankind [Israelites] may seek the LORD” (compare Zech. 12:7–8; 13:1–2). And

(5) “And (Greek kai) all the Gentiles,” etc. (compare Mic. 4:2; Zech. 8:21–22). This is also the order of Rom. 11:24–27.

Judas and Silas go to Antioch

³⁰So when they were sent off, they came to Antioch; and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the ^eletter.

³¹When they had read it, they rejoiced over its encouragement.

³²Now Judas and Silas, themselves being ^fprophets also, exhorted and strengthened the brethren with many words.

³³And after they had stayed there for a time, they were sent back with greetings from the brethren to the apostles.*

³⁴However, it seemed good to Silas to remain there.*

³⁵Paul and Barnabas also remained in ^gAntioch, teaching and ^hpreaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

VI. The Second Missionary Journey, 15:36—18:22Paul and Silas depart; Barnabas and Mark go to Cyprus

³⁶Then after some days ⁱPaul said to Barnabas, "Let us now go back and visit our brethren in every city where we have ^jpreached the word of the Lord, and see how they are doing."

³⁷Now Barnabas was determined to take with them ^kJohn called Mark.

³⁸But Paul insisted that they should not take with them the one who had ^ldeparted from them in Pamphylia, and had not gone with them to the work.

³⁹Then the contention became so sharp that they parted from one another.

And so Barnabas took Mark and sailed to ^mCyprus;

⁴⁰but Paul chose ⁿSilas and departed, ^obeing commended by the brethren to the ^pgrace of God.

⁴¹And he went through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the ^qchurches.

Timothy circumcised and added to missionary party

16 THEN he came to ^rDerbe and Lystra. And behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a certain Jewish woman who ^sbelieved, but his father was Greek.

²He was ^twell spoken of by the brethren who were at Lystra and Iconium.

³Paul wanted to have him go on with him. And he took him and ^ucircumcised him because of the Jews who were in that region, for they all knew that his father was Greek.

⁴And as they went through the cities, they delivered to them the ^vdecrees to keep, which were determined by the apostles and ^welders at Jerusalem.

⁵So the ^xchurches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number ^ydaily.

¹⁸And this she did for many days. But Paul, greatly annoyed, turned and said to the spirit, "I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to ^ccome out of her." And he ^dcame out that very hour.

¹⁹But when her masters ^esaw that their hope of profit was gone, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them into the marketplace to the authorities.

²⁰And they brought them to the magistrates, and said, "These men, being Jews, exceedingly ^ftrouble our city;

²¹"and they teach customs ^gwhich are not lawful for us, being ^hRomans, to receive or observe."

²²Then the multitude rose up together against them; and the magistrates tore off their clothes and commanded them to be beaten with rods.

²³And when they had ⁱlaid many ^jstripes on them, they threw them into ^kprison, commanding the jailer to keep them securely.

²⁴Having received such a charge, he put them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the ^lstocks.

²⁶Suddenly there was a great ^oearthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken;

and immediately all the ^pdoors were opened and everyone's chains were loosed.

²⁷And the keeper of the prison, awaking from sleep and seeing the prison doors open, supposing the prisoners had fled, drew his sword and was about to ^qkill himself.

²⁸But Paul called with a loud voice, saying, "Do yourself no harm, for we are all here."

²⁹Then he called for a light, ran in, and fell down trembling before Paul and Silas.

³²Then they spoke the ^xword of the Lord to him and to all who were in his ^yhouse.

³⁵And when it was day, the magistrates sent the officers, saying, "Let those men go."

³⁶So the keeper of the prison reported these words to Paul, saying, "The magistrates have sent to let you go. Now therefore depart, and go in peace."

³⁷But Paul said to them, "They have ^{ee}beaten us openly, uncondemned ^{ff}Romans, and have thrown us into prison. And now do they put us out secretly? No indeed! Let them come themselves and get us out."

17 NOW when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to ^bThessalonica, where there was a synagogue of the Jews.

²Then Paul, ^cas his custom was, went in to them, and for three ^dSabbaths ^ereasoned with them from the ^fScriptures, ³explaining and demonstrating that the Christ had to ^gsuffer and ^hrise again from the dead, and saying, “This ⁱJesus whom I preach to you is the Christ.”

^{4j}And some of them were ^kpersuaded; and a great multitude of the devout Greeks, and not a few of the ^lleading women, joined Paul and Silas.

Jews riot at Thessalonica

⁵But the Jews who were not persuaded, becoming ^menvious,^{*} took some of the evil men from the marketplace, and gathering a mob, set all the city in an uproar and attacked the house of ⁿJason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

⁶But when they did not find them, they ^odragged Jason and some brethren to the rulers of the city, crying out, “These who have turned the world upside down have come here too.

⁷“Jason has harbored them, and these are all acting contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying there is another ^pking—Jesus.”

⁸And they troubled the crowd and the rulers of the city when they heard these things.

⁹So when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

Paul and Silas at Berea

¹⁰Then the brethren immediately sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea. When they arrived, they went into the synagogue of the Jews.

¹¹These were more fair-minded than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the ^qword with all ^rreadiness, and ^ssearched the ^tScriptures daily to find out whether these things were so.

¹²Therefore many of them ^ubelieved, and also not a few of the ^vGreeks, prominent women as well as men.

¹³But when the ^wJews from Thessalonica learned that the word of God was ^xpreached by Paul at Berea, ^ythey came there also and ^zstirred up the crowds.

¹⁴Then immediately the brethren ^{aa}sent Paul away, to go to the sea; but both Silas and Timothy remained there.

¹⁵So those who conducted Paul brought him to Athens; and ^{bb}receiving a command for Silas and ^{cc}Timothy to come to him with all speed, they departed.

17:18 Epicurean. The Epicureans were disciples of Epicurus, 341–270 B.C., who abandoned as hopeless the search by reason for pure truth (compare John 18:38), seeking instead true pleasure through experience. The Stoics were disciples of Zeno, 336–264 B.C. This philosophy was founded on human self-sufficiency, inculcated stern self-repression and solidarity of the race. Paul’s sermon (vv. 22–32) contains a most remarkable refutation of the specific views of both of these schools, which were extremely widespread in the apostolic world. As a result of the sermon “some men joined him and believed” (v. 34). gods. The term here rendered “gods” is commonly used in Greek writings for pagan gods. It is used nowhere else in the NT in this sense, but occurs fifty times for evil spirits and is, therefore, usually translated “demons.”

17:28 This verse comprises quotations from two poets—Epimenides and Aratus.

17:29 Offspring is from the Greek genos meaning race. The reference is to the creation-work of God, in which He made man (that is, mankind, the race in Adam) in His own likeness, Gen. 1:26–27, thus rebuking the thought that “the Divine Nature is like gold,” etc. The word “Father” is not used, nor does the passage affirm anything concerning fatherhood or sonship, which are relationships based upon faith and the new birth. Compare John 1:12–13; Gal. 3:26; 4:1–7; 1 John 5:1.

17:30 REPENTANCE, SUMMARY

Repent is the translation of a Greek verb metanoēō, meaning to have another mind, to change the mind, and is used in the NT to indicate a change of mind in respect to sin, God, and self. This change of mind may, especially in the case of Christians who have fallen into sin, be preceded by sorrow (2 Cor. 7:8–11); but sorrow for sin, though it may cause repentance, is not repentance. The son in Matt. 21:28–29 illustrates true repentance.

Repentance is not an act separate from faith, but saving faith includes and implies that change of mind which is called repentance (see Heb. 11:39, note. Compare Zech. 8:14, note).

mands all men everywhere to *a*repent,

³¹“because He has appointed a *b*day on which He will *c*judge the world in righteousness by the *d*eMan whom He has ordained. He has given assurance of this to all by *f*raising Him from the dead.”

³²And when they heard of the *f*resurrection of the dead, some *i*mocked, while others said, “We will hear you *j*again on this matter.”

³³So Paul departed from among them.

³⁴However, some men joined him and *k*believed, among them Dionysius the Areopagite, a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

Founding of the church at Corinth

18 AFTER these things Paul departed from Athens and went to Corinth.

²And he found a certain Jew named *l*Aquila, born in Pontus, who had recently come from Italy with his wife Priscilla (because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome); and he came to them.

³So, because he was of the same trade, he stayed with them and worked; for by occupation they were *m*tentmakers.

⁴And he reasoned in the synagogue every *n*Sabbath, and persuaded both Jews and *o*Greeks.

⁵When Silas and Timothy had come from Macedonia, Paul was *p*compelled by the Spirit, and testified to the Jews *q*that *q*Jesus is the Christ.

⁶But *r*when they opposed him and blasphemed, he shook his garments and said to them, “Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean. From now on I will go to the *s*Gentiles.”

⁷And he departed from there and entered the house of a certain man named Justus,* one who worshiped God, whose house was next door to the synagogue.

⁸Then *t*Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, *u*believed on the Lord with all his household. And many of the Corinthians, hearing, *u*believed and were baptized.

⁹Now the Lord spoke to Paul in the night by a vision, “Do not be afraid, but speak, and do not keep silent;

¹⁰“for I am with you, and no one will attack you to hurt you; for I have many people in this city.”

¹¹And he continued there a year and six months, *v*teaching the word of God among them.

Gallio's indifference

¹²When Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul and brought him to the judgment seat,

¹³saying, “This fellow persuades men to worship God contrary to the *w*law.”

¹⁴And when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, “If it were a matter of wrongdoing or wicked crimes, O Jews, there would be reason why I should bear with you.

¹⁵“But if it is a *x*question of words and names and your own *v*law, look to it yourselves; for I do not want to be a judge of such matters.”

¹⁶And he drove them from the judgment seat.

¹⁷Then all the Greeks* took *z*Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. But Gallio took no notice of these things.

Paul takes a Jewish vow
(cp. Rom. 6:14; 2 Cor. 3:7–14; Gal. 3:23–28)

¹⁸So Paul still remained a good while. Then he took leave of the brethren and sailed for Syria, and *aa*Priscilla and Aquila were with him. He had his hair *bb*cut off at Cencrea, for he had taken a vow.

¹⁹And he came to Ephesus, and left them there; but he himself entered the synagogue and *cc*reasoned with the Jews.

²⁴Now a certain Jew named *f*Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man and mighty in the Scriptures, came to Ephesus.

²⁵This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord; and being *g*fervent in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things of the Lord, though he knew only the ^hbaptism of John.

²⁶So he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. When Aquila and Priscilla heard him, they took him aside and explained to him the way of God more accurately.

²⁷And when he desired to cross to Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him; and when he arrived, he greatly helped those who had ⁱbelieved through *j*grace;

²⁸for he vigorously refuted the Jews publicly, showing from the Scriptures that Jesus is the Christ.

Paul at Ephesus: disciples of John the Baptist become Christians

19AND it happened, while Apollos was at Corinth, that Paul, having passed through the ^kupper regions, came to Ephesus. And finding some disciples

²he said to them, “Did you receive the Holy ^lSpirit when you believed?” So they said to him, “We have not so much as heard whether there is a Holy ^lSpirit.”

³And he said to them, ^m“Into what then were you baptized?” So they said, “Into John’s baptism.”

⁴Then Paul said, “John indeed baptized with a ⁿbaptism of ^orepentance, saying to the people that they should believe on Him who would ^pcome after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.”

⁵When they heard this, they were ^qbaptized in the ^rname of the Lord Jesus.

⁶And when Paul had laid hands on them, the Holy ^sSpirit came upon them, and they spoke with ^ttongues and prophesied.

⁷Now the men were about twelve in all.

Paul teaches in Ephesus for nearly three years (vv. 9–10; 20:31)

⁸And he ^uwent into the synagogue and spoke ^vboldly for three months, reasoning and persuading concerning the things of the ^wkingdom of God.

18:26 accurately. Literally precisely.

18:28 that Jesus is the Christ. This seems to be as far as Apollos’ ministry went—that Jesus was the long expected Messiah (Acts 19:3). Apollos appears to have known nothing yet of the doctrines of justification through the blood of Christ and sanctification through the Holy Spirit.

19:2 In both this passage and 1:8 the Greek participles have been translated sometimes in such a way that some have concluded that the gift of the Holy Spirit was granted to believers some time after the exercise of faith on their part. The original language allows no such interpretation. The literal translation of 1:8 is: “But you shall receive power, the Holy Spirit coming upon you . . .” The literal rendering of 19:2 is: “[He] asked them, ‘Did you receive the Holy Spirit, having believed?’” Both passages could not be stronger in indicating that the Spirit was given at the time of believing.

Paul was evidently impressed by some lack in the disciples at Ephesus. Their answer showed that they were Jewish proselytes, disciples of John the Baptist, looking forward to a coming king, but not Christians resting on a finished redemption. Compare Rom. 8:9; 1 Cor. 6:19; Eph. 1:13, reading “Having believed, you were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise.”

⁹But when some were ^ahardened and did not believe, but spoke evil of ^bthe Way before the multitude, he departed from them and ^cwithdrew the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus.
¹⁰And this continued for two years, so that all who dwelt in ^dAsia ^eheard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

Miracles performed at Ephesus

¹¹Now God worked unusual ^fmiracles by the hands of Paul,
¹²so that even handkerchiefs or aprons were brought from his ^gbody to the sick, ^hand the diseases left them and the ⁱevil spirits went out of them.
¹³Then some of the itinerant Jewish exorcists took it upon themselves to call the name of the Lord Jesus over those who had evil spirits, saying, "We" exorcise you by the Jesus whom Paul ^jpreaches."
¹⁴Also there were seven sons of Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, who did so.

¹⁵And the ^kevil spirit answered and said, ^l"Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are you?"
¹⁶Then the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, overpowered* them, and prevailed against them,* so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.
¹⁷This became known both to all Jews and Greeks dwelling in Ephesus; and ^mfear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

¹⁸And many who had ⁿbelieved came ^oconfessing and telling their deeds.
¹⁹Also, many of those who had practiced ^pmagic brought their books together and burned ^{them} in the sight of all. And they counted up the value of them, and ^{it} totaled fifty thousand ^qpieces of silver.

²⁰So the word of the Lord ^rgrew ^smightily and prevailed.
²¹When these things were accomplished, Paul ^tpurposed in the Spirit, when he had passed through ^uMacedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, "After I have been there, I must also see ^vRome."
²²So he sent into Macedonia two of those who ministered to him, ^wTimothy and ^xErastus, but he himself stayed in Asia for a time.

Uproar at Ephesus

²³And about that time there arose a great commotion about the Way.
²⁴For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Diana, brought no small profit to the craftsmen.
²⁵He called them together with the workers of similar occupation, and said: "Men, you know that we have our prosperity by this ^ytrade.

²⁶"Moreover you see and hear that not only at Ephesus, but throughout almost all Asia, this Paul has persuaded and turned away many people, saying that they are ^znot gods which are made with hands.

²⁷"So not only is this ^{aa}trade of ours in danger of falling into disrepute, but also the temple of the great goddess Diana may be despised and her magnificence destroyed,* whom all Asia and the world worship."

²⁸Now when they heard ^{this}, they were full of wrath and cried out, saying, "Great ^{is} Diana of the Ephesians!"

²⁹So the whole city was filled with confusion, and rushed into the theater with one accord, having seized ^{bb}Gaius and ^{cc}Aristarchus, Macedonians, Paul's travel companions.

³⁰And when Paul wanted to go in to the people, the disciples would not allow him.

³¹Then some of the officials of Asia, who were his friends, sent to him pleading that he would not venture into the theater.

³²^aSome therefore cried one thing and some another, for the assembly was ^bconfused, and most of them did not know why they had come together.

³³And they drew ^cAlexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander ^dmotioned with his hand, and wanted to make his defense to the people.

³⁴But when they found out that he was a Jew, all with one voice cried out for about two hours, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians!"

³⁵And when the city clerk had quieted the crowd, he said: "Men of Ephesus, what man is there who does not know that the city of the

20:7 OBSERVANCE OF THE SABBATH

Although Paul was in Troas seven days (v. 6), apparently neither he nor the local church met for the breaking of bread until the first day of the week (v. 7).

The fact that Paul and others sometimes attended Sabbath services in Jewish synagogues (17:1-3) does not prove that the apostolic Church kept the seventh day as a special day of worship. It only shows that the early missionaries took the Gospel message wherever and whenever they found people gathered together (5:19-20; 13:5; 16:13,25-33; 17:17,19,22; 18:7; 19:9; 25:6,23). This witness was carried on daily (2:47; 17:17; 19:9) in every possible way (1 Cor. 9:19-22).

The early churches were specifically warned against submitting themselves to the bondage of any legalistic observance of Sabbath days (Col. 2:16, compare Gal. 4:9-11). On the other hand, in the exercise of their Christian liberty (Rom. 14:5-6), these same churches voluntarily chose the first day of the week as an appropriate time for fellowship and worship (Acts 20:7; 1 Cor. 16:2), the day on which the Lord arose and repeatedly appeared to His disciples (John 20:19-24, 25-29). It was a new day for a new people belonging to a new creation (2 Cor. 5:17), a day of commemoration and joy, service (Matt. 28:10), and spiritual rest (Heb. 4:9-10). Contrast Sabbath, Matt. 12:1, note.

This observance of the first day of the week is corroborated by the early fathers: in the writings of Barnabas (c. A.D. 100), Ignatius (A.D. 107), Justin Martyr (A.D. 145-150), and Irenaeus (A.D. 155-202). The edict of Laodicea (4th Century A.D.) did not change the day of worship from the seventh to the first day of the week, as sometimes alleged, but rather put the stamp of official approval upon an observance already long established in the early churches.

- 16 For Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, so that he would not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hurrying to be at Jerusalem, if possible, on the Day of Pentecost.
- Paul's farewell to the Ephesian elders*
- 17 From Miletus he sent to Ephesus and called for the elders of the church.
- 18 And when they had come to him, he said to them: "You know, from the first day that I came to Asia, in what manner I always lived among you,
- 19 "serving the Lord with all humility, with many tears and trials which happened to me by the plotting of the Jews;
- 20 "how I kept back nothing that was helpful, but proclaimed it to you, and taught you publicly and from house to house,
- 21 "testifying to Jews, and also to Greeks, repentance toward God and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.
- 22 "And see, now I go bound in the spirit to Jerusalem, not knowing the things that will happen to me there,
- 23 "except that the Holy Spirit testifies in every city, saying that chains and tribulations await me.
- 24 "But none of these things move me; nor do I count my life dear to myself,* so that I may finish my race with joy, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God.
- 25 "And indeed, now I know that you all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, will see my face no more.
- 26 "Therefore I testify to you this day that I am innocent of the blood of all men.
- 27 "For I have not shunned to de-
- clare to you the whole counsel of God.
- 28 "Therefore take heed to yourselves and to all the flock, among which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to shepherd the church of God* which He purchased with His own blood.
- 29 "For I know this, that after my departure savage wolves will come in among you, not sparing the flock.
- 30 "Also from among yourselves men will rise up, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after themselves.
- 31 "Therefore watch, and remember that for three years I did not cease to warn everyone night and day with tears.
- 32 "So now, brethren, I commend you to God and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and give you an inheritance among all those who are sanctified.
- 33 "I have coveted no one's silver or gold or apparel.
- 34 "Yes,* you yourselves know that these hands have provided for my necessities, and for those who were with me.
- 35 "I have shown you in every way, by laboring like this, that you must support the weak. And remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive."
- 36 And when he had said these things, he knelt down and prayed with them all.
- 37 Then they all wept freely, and fell on Paul's neck and kissed him,
- 38 sorrowing most of all for the words which he spoke, that they would see his face no more. And they accompanied him to the ship.

20:22 spirit to Jerusalem. Paul's motive in going to Jerusalem seems to have been his great affection for the Jews (Rom. 9:1–5) and his hope that the gifts of the Gentile churches, sent by him to poor saints at Jerusalem (Rom. 15:25–28), would open the hearts of the law-bound Jewish believers to the "gospel of the grace of God" (Acts 20:24).

20:29 wolves will come. Two sources of apostasy are: (1) false teachers from outside of the Church (2 Cor. 11:13–15; 2 Pet. 2:1–3); and (2) ambitious leaders within the Church (1 John 2:18–19; 3 John 9–10).

20:35 I have shown you. That is, In every way I have given you an example.

At Tyre seven days; the Holy Spirit forbids Paul to go to Jerusalem ⁴And finding disciples, * we stayed there seven days. They told Paul through the ^aSpirit ^bnot to go up to Jerusalem.

⁵When we had come to the end of those days, we departed and went on our way; and they all accompanied us, with wives and children, till we were out of the city. And we ^cknelt down on the shore and prayed.

⁶When we had taken our leave of one another, we boarded the ship, and they returned home.

On to Ptolemais and Caesarea, where Holy Spirit again warns Paul ⁷And when we had finished our voyage from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, greeted the brethren, and stayed with them one day.

⁸On the next day we who were Paul's companions* departed and came to ^aCaesarea, and entered the house of ^ePhilip the evangelist, who was one of the ^fseven, and stayed with him.

⁹Now this man had four virgin daughters who prophesied.

¹⁰And as we stayed many days, a certain prophet named ^gAgabus came down from Judea.

¹¹When he had come to us, he took Paul's belt, bound his own hands and feet, and said, "Thus says the Holy ^hSpirit, 'So shall the Jews at Jerusalem ⁱbind the man who owns this belt, and deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.' "

¹²Now when we heard these things, both we and those from that place pleaded with him not to go up to Jerusalem.

¹³Then Paul answered, "What do you mean by weeping and breaking my heart? For I am ^kready not only to be 'bound, but also to ^mdie at Jerusalem for the ⁿname of the Lord Jesus."

¹⁴So when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, "The ^owill of the Lord be done."

VIII. From Jerusalem to Rome, 21:15–28:31

Paul goes to Jerusalem

¹⁵And after those days we packed and went up to Jerusalem.

¹⁶Also some of the disciples from ^pCaesarea went with us and brought with them a certain Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we were to lodge.

At Jerusalem, Paul takes a Jewish vow involving blood sacrifice, and enters the temple (cp. Heb. 10:2,4,9–12)

¹⁷And when we had come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

¹⁸On the following day Paul went in with us to ^qJames, and all the ^relders were present.

¹⁹When he had greeted them, he ^stold in detail those things which God had done among the ^tGentiles through his ^uministry.

²⁰And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord. And they said to him, "You see, brother, how many ^vmyriads of Jews there are who have ^wbelieved, and ^xthey are all zealous for the ^ylaw;

²¹"but they have been informed about you that you teach all the Jews who are among the ^zGentiles to forsake ^{aa}Moses, saying that they ought not to ^{bb}circumcise their children nor to walk according to the customs.

²²"What then? The assembly must certainly meet, for they will* hear that you have come.

*21:4 NU-Text reads the disciples. *21:8 NU-Text omits who were Paul's companions. *21:22 NU-Text reads What then is to be done? They will certainly.

²³“Therefore do what we tell you: We have four men who have taken a vow.

²⁴“Take them and be ^apurified with them, and pay their expenses so that they may shave their heads, and that all may know that those things of which they were informed concerning you are nothing, but that you yourself also walk orderly and keep the ^blaw.

²⁵“But concerning the ^cGentiles who ^dbelieve, we have ^ewritten and decided that they should observe no such thing, except^g that they should keep themselves from things offered to idols, from ^fblood, from things strangled, and from ^gsexual immorality.”

²⁶Then ^hPaul took the men, and the next day, having been purified with them, entered the ⁱtemple to announce the expiration of the days of ^jpurification, at which time an ^hoffering should be made for each one of them.

Paul seized in the temple

²⁷Now when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews from Asia, seeing him in the temple, ^kstirred up the whole crowd and laid hands on him,

²⁸crying out, “Men of Israel, help! This is the man who teaches all men everywhere against the people, the ^llaw, and this place; and furthermore he also brought Greeks into the temple and has defiled this ^mholy place.”

²⁹(For they had previously^{*} seen ⁿTrophimus the Ephesian with him in the city, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

³⁰And all the city was ^odisturbed; and the people ran together, seized Paul, and ^pdragged him out of the temple; and immediately the doors were shut.

Paul rescued and bound by Roman soldiers

³¹Now as they were ^qseeking to kill him, news came to the commander of the garrison that all Jerusalem was in an ^ruproar.

³²He immediately took soldiers and ^scenturions, and ran down to them. And when they saw the commander and the soldiers, they stopped beating Paul.

³³Then the ^tcommander came near and took him, and commanded ^uhim to be ^vbound with two chains; and he asked who he was and what he had done.

³⁴And some among the multitude cried one thing and some another. So when he could not ascertain the truth because of the tumult, he commanded him to be taken into the ^vbarracks.

³⁵When he reached the stairs, he had to be carried by the soldiers because of the violence of the mob.

³⁶For the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, ^w“Away with him!”

³⁷Then as Paul was about to be led into the barracks, he said to the commander, “May I speak to you?” He replied, “Can you speak Greek?”

³⁸“Are you not ^xthe Egyptian who some time ago stirred up a rebellion and led the four thousand assassins out into the wilderness?”

³⁹But Paul said, ^y“I am a Jew from Tarsus, in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city; and I implore you, permit me to speak to the people.”

⁴⁰So when he had given him permission, Paul stood on the stairs and motioned with his hand to the people. And when there was a great silence, he spoke to ^zthem in the ^zHebrew language, saying,

*Paul's defense before the mob;

²And when they heard that he spoke to them in the ^aHebrew language, they kept all the more silent. Then he said:

^{3b}“I ^cam indeed a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city at the feet of ^dGamaliel, taught according to the strictness of our fathers’ ^elaw, and was ^fzealous toward God ^gas you all are today.

⁵“as also the high priest bears me witness, and all the council of the ⁱelders, from whom I also received letters to the brethren, and went to Damascus ^jto bring in chains even those who were there to Jerusalem to be punished.

⁶“Now it happened, as I journeyed and came near Damascus at about noon, suddenly a great light from heaven shone around me.

⁷“And I fell to the ground and ^kheard a voice saying to me, ‘Saul, Saul, why are ^lyou persecuting Me?’

⁸“So I answered, ‘Who are You, Lord?’ And He said to me, ‘I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom you are persecuting.’

⁹“And those who were with me indeed saw the light and were afraid,^{*} but they did ^mnot hear the ⁿvoice of Him who spoke to me.

¹⁰“So I ^osaid, ‘What shall I do, Lord?’ And the Lord said to me, ‘Arise and go into Damascus, and there you will be told all things which are appointed for you to ^pdo.’

¹¹“And since I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of those who were with me, I came into Damascus.

¹²“Then a certain Ananias, a devout man according to the ^qlaw, having a ^rgood testimony with all the Jews who dwelt ^sthere, ¹³“came to me; and he stood and said to me, ‘Brother Saul, receive your sight.’ And at that same hour I ^slooked up at him.

¹⁶“And now why are you waiting? Arise and be ^zbaptized, and ^{aa}wash away your ^{bb}sins, calling on the name of the Lord.’

The Lord had warned Paul to leave Jerusalem and go to the Gentiles

¹⁷“Now it happened, when I returned to Jerusalem and was praying in the temple, that I was in a ^{cc}trance

¹⁸“and saw Him saying to me, ‘Make haste and get ^{dd}out of Jerusalem quickly, for they will not receive your testimony concerning Me.’

¹⁹“So I ^{ee}said, ‘Lord, they know that in every synagogue I imprisoned and beat those who ^{ff}believe on You.

scourge a man who is a ^aRoman, and uncondemned?”

²⁶When the ^bcenturion heard that, he went and told the commander, saying, “Take care what you do, for this man is a Roman.”

²⁷Then the commander came and said to him, “Tell me, are you a Roman?” He said, “Yes.”

²⁸The commander answered, “With a large sum I obtained this citizenship.” And Paul said, “But I was born a citizen.”

²⁹Then immediately those who were about to ^cexamine him withdrew from him; and the commander was also afraid after he found out that he was a Roman, and because he had ^dbound him.

Paul brought before the Sanhedrin

³⁰The next day, because he wanted to know for certain why he was accused by the Jews, he released him from his bonds, and commanded the chief priests and all their ^ecouncil to appear, and brought Paul down and set him before them.

23 THEN Paul, looking earnestly at the council, said, “Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.”

²And the high priest ^gAnanias commanded those who stood by him to ^hstrike him on the mouth.

³Then Paul ⁱsaid to him, “God will strike you, you ^jwhitewashed wall! For you sit to judge me according to the ^klaw, and do you command me to be struck contrary to the law?”

⁴And those who stood by said, “Do you revile God’s high priest?”

⁵Then Paul said, “I did not know, brethren, that he was the high priest; for it is ^lwritten, ‘You shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people.’”

Paul appeals to the Pharisees

⁶But when Paul perceived that one part were ^mSadducees and the other ⁿPharisees, he cried out in the council, “Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee; concerning the hope and ^oresurrection of the dead I am being judged!”

⁷And when he had said this, a dissension arose between the Pharisees and the Sadducees; and the assembly was divided.

⁸For Sadducees say that there is no ^presurrection—and no ^qangel or spirit; but the Pharisees confess both.

⁹Then there arose a loud outcry. And the ^rscribes of the Pharisees’ party arose and protested, saying, “We find no evil in this man; but if a spirit or an ^sangel has spoken to him, let us not fight against God.”*

¹⁰Now when there arose a great dissension, the commander, fearing lest Paul might be pulled to pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the barracks.

The Lord’s grace to Paul

¹¹But the following night the ^tLord ^ustood by him and said, u“Be of good cheer, Paul; for as you have testified for Me in ^vJerusalem, so you must also ^wbear witness at ^xRome.”

A conspiracy under oath to kill Paul

¹²And when it was day, ^ysome of the Jews banded together and bound themselves under an oath, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had ^zkilled Paul.

¹³Now there were more than forty who had formed this conspiracy.

¹⁴They came to the chief priests and ^{aa}elders, and said, “We have bound ourselves under a great oath that we will eat nothing until we have killed Paul.

¹⁶So when Paul’s sister’s son heard of their ambush, he went and entered the barracks and told Paul.

¹⁷Then Paul called one of the ^dcenturions to him and said, “Take this young man to the commander, for he has something to tell him.”

¹⁸So he took him and brought him to the commander and said, “Paul the ^eprisoner called me to him and asked me to bring this young man to you. He has something to say to you.”

¹⁹Then the commander took him by the hand, went aside, and asked privately, “What is it that you have to tell me?”

²⁰And he said, “The Jews have agreed to ask that you bring Paul down to the ^fcouncil tomorrow, as though they were going to inquire more fully about him.

²¹“But do not yield to them, for more than forty of them ^glie in wait for him, men who have bound themselves by an ^hoath that they will neither eat nor drink till they have ⁱkilled him; and now they are ready, waiting for the promise from you.”

²²So the commander let the young man depart, and commanded him, “Tell no one that you have revealed these things to me.”

Paul removed by night to Caesarea

²³And he called for two ^jcenturions, saying, “Prepare two hundred soldiers, seventy horsemen, and two hundred spearmen to go to ^kCaesarea at the third hour of the ^lnight;

²⁴and provide mounts to set Paul on, and bring him safely to Felix the governor.”

²⁵He wrote a ^mletter in the following manner:

²⁶ Claudius Lysias,
To the most excellent governor Felix:
Greetings.

²⁷ This man was ⁿseized by the Jews and was about to be killed by them. Coming with the troops I rescued him, having learned that he was a ^oRoman.

²⁸ And when I wanted to know the reason they accused him, I brought him before their ^pcouncil.

²⁹ I found out that he was accused concerning ^qquestions of their ^rlaw, but had ^snothing charged against him deserving of death or chains.

³⁰ And when it was told me that the Jews lay in wait for the man,* I sent him immediately to you, and also commanded his accusers to state before you the charges against him.
Farewell.

³¹ Then the soldiers, as they were commanded, took Paul and brought him by night to Antipatris.

³² The next day they left the horsemen to go on with him, and returned to the barracks.

³³ When they came to ^tCaesarea and had delivered the ^uletter to the governor, they also presented Paul to him.

³⁴ And when the governor had read it, he asked what province he was from. And when he understood that he was from ^vCilicia, ³⁵ he said, “I will hear you when your ^waccusers also have come.” And he commanded him to be kept in Herod’s Praetorium.

Paul before Felix, the governor

24 NOW after five days ^xAnani-as the high priest came down with the elders and a certain orator named Tertullus. These gave evidence to the governor against Paul.

²And when he was called upon, Tertullus began his ^aaccusation, saying: “Seeing that through you we enjoy great peace, and prosperity is being brought to this nation by your foresight, ³“we accept it always and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

⁴“Nevertheless, not to be tedious to you any further, I beg you to hear, by your courtesy, a few words from us.

⁵“For we have found this man a plague, a creator of dissension among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the ^bNazarenes.

⁶“He even tried to ^cprofane the temple, and we seized him,* and wanted to ^djudge him according to our ^elaw.

⁷“But the ^fcommander Lysias came by and with great violence ^gtook him out of our hands, ^{8h}“commanding his ⁱaccusers to come to you. By examining him yourself you may ascertain all these things of which we ^jaccuse him.”

⁹And the Jews also assented,* maintaining that these things were so.

Paul's defense before Felix

¹⁰Then Paul, after the governor had nodded to him to speak, answered: “Inasmuch as I know that you have been for many years a judge of this nation, I do the more cheerfully ^kanswer for myself, ¹¹“because you may ascertain that it is no more than twelve days since I went up ^lto Jerusalem to worship.

¹²“And they neither found me in the temple disputing with anyone nor inciting the crowd, either in the synagogues or in the city.

¹³“Nor can they prove the things of which they now ^maccuse me.

¹⁴“But this I confess to you, that according to the Way which they call a sect, so I worship the God of my ⁿfathers, ^obelieving all things which are ^pwritten in the ^qLaw and in the ^rProphets.

¹⁵“I have ^shope in God, which they themselves also accept, that there ^twill be a ^uresurrection of the dead,* both of the just and the unjust.

¹⁶“This being so, I myself always strive to have a ^vconscience without offense toward God and men.

¹⁷“Now after many years I came to bring ^walms and offerings to my nation, ^{18x}“in the midst of which some Jews from Asia found me ^ypurified in the temple, neither with a mob nor with tumult.

¹⁹“They ought to have been here before you to object if they had anything against me.

²⁰“Or else let those who are here themselves say if they found any wrongdoing* in me while I stood before the ^zcouncil, ²¹“unless it is for this one statement which I cried out, standing among them, ^{aa}“Concerning the ^{bb}resurrection of the dead I am being judged by you this day.’ ”

²²But when Felix heard these things, having more accurate knowledge of the ^{cc}Way, he adjourned the proceedings and said, “When ^{dd}Lysias the ^{ee}commander comes down, I will make a decision on your case.”

²³So he commanded the ^{ff}centurion to keep Paul and to let him have liberty, and ^{gg}told him not to forbid any of his friends to provide for or visit him.

Felix adjourns the case

²⁴And after some days, when Felix came with his wife ^{hh}Drusilla, who was Jewish, he sent for Paul and heard him concerning the ⁱⁱfaith in Christ.

²⁵Now as he ^{jj}reasoned about ^{kk}righteousness, ^{ll}self-control, and the ^ajudgment to come, Felix was afraid and answered, “Go away for now; when I have a convenient time I will call for you.”

²⁶Meanwhile he also hoped that money would be given him by Paul, that he might release him.* Therefore he sent for him more often and conversed with him.

Two years at Caesarea

²⁷But after two years Porcius Festus succeeded Felix; and Felix, wanting to ^bdo the Jews a favor, left Paul ^cbound.

Paul before Festus, the new governor

25 NOW when Festus had come to the province, after three days he went up from ^dCaesarea to Jerusalem.

²Then the ^ehigh priest* and the chief men of the Jews informed him against Paul; and they petitioned him, ³asking a favor against him, that he would summon him to Jerusalem—while they lay in ambush along the road to ^gkill him.

⁴But Festus answered that Paul should be kept at Caesarea, and that he himself was going there shortly.

⁵“Therefore,” he said, “let those who have authority among you go down with me and accuse this man, ^hto see if there is any fault in him.”

⁶And when he had remained among them more than ten days, he went down to Caesarea. And the next day, sitting on the ⁱjudgment seat, he commanded Paul to be brought.

⁷When he had come, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood about and laid many serious ^jcomplaints against Paul, which they could not prove,

⁸while he answered for himself, ^k“Neither against the ^llaw of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor ^magainst Caesar have I ⁿoffended in anything at all.”

⁹But Festus, wanting to do the Jews a favor, answered Paul and said, “Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and there be judged before me concerning these things?”

Paul appeals his case to Caesar

¹⁰So Paul said, “I stand at Caesar’s ^ojudgment seat, where I ^pought to be judged. To the Jews I ^qhave done no wrong, as you very well know.

¹¹“For if I am an offender, or have committed anything deserving of death, I do not object to dying; but if there is nothing in these things of which these men accuse me, no one can deliver me to them. ^rI appeal to Caesar.”

¹²Then Festus, when he had conferred with the ^scouncil, answered, “You have ^tappealed to Caesar? To Caesar you shall go!”

Festus recounts case to King Agrippa

¹³And after some days King Agrippa and ^uBernice came to Caesarea to greet Festus.

¹⁴When they had been there many days, Festus laid Paul’s case before the king, saying: “There is a certain man left ^va prisoner by Felix, ¹⁵“about whom the chief priests and the ^welders of the Jews informed me, when I was in Jerusalem, asking for a judgment against him.

¹⁶“To them I answered, ‘It is not the custom of the ^xRomans to deliver any man to destruction* before the accused meets the ^yaccusers face to face, and has opportunity to answer for himself concerning the charge against him.’

¹⁷“Therefore when they had come together, without any delay, the next day I sat on the ^zjudgment seat and commanded the man to be brought in.

¹⁸“When the ^{aa}accusers stood up, they brought no accusation against him of such things as I supposed, ²⁰“And because I was uncertain of such ^cquestions, I asked whether he was willing to go to Jerusalem and there be judged concerning these matters.

²¹“But when Paul ^dappealed to be reserved for the decision of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I could send him to Caesar.”

²²Then Agrippa said to Festus, “I also would like to ^ehear the man myself.” “Tomorrow,” he said, “you shall hear him.”

Agrippa prepares to hear Paul

²³So the next day, when Agrippa and Bernice had come with great pomp, and had entered the auditorium with the ^fcommanders and the prominent men of the city, at Festus’ command ^gPaul was brought in. ²⁴And Festus said: “King Agrippa and all the men who are here present with us, you see this man about whom the whole assembly of the Jews petitioned me, both at Jerusalem and here, ^hcrying out that he was not fit to live any longer.

²⁵“But when I found that he had committed ⁱnothing deserving of death, and that he himself had appealed to Augustus, I decided to send him.

²⁶“I have nothing certain to write to my lord concerning him. Therefore I have brought him out before you, and especially before ^jyou, King Agrippa, so that after the examination has taken place I may have something to write.

²⁷“For it seems to me unreasonable to send a prisoner and not to specify the charges against him.”

Paul’s defense before Agrippa
(cp. Acts 9:1–18; 22:1–16)

26 THEN Agrippa said to Paul, “You are permitted to speak for yourself.” So Paul stretched out his hand and answered for himself:

²“I think myself ^khappy, King Agrippa, because today I shall answer ^lfor myself before you concerning all the things of which I am ^maccused by the Jews, ³“especially because you are expert in all ⁿcustoms and questions which have to do with the Jews. Therefore I beg you to hear me patiently.

⁴“My manner of life from my youth, which was spent from the beginning among my own nation at Jerusalem, all the Jews know.

⁵“They knew me from the first, if they were willing to testify, that according to the strictest sect of our religion I lived a ^oPharisee.

⁶“And now I stand and am ^pjudged for the ^qhope of the ^rpromise made by God to our fathers.

⁷“To this ^spromise our ^ttwelve ^utribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to attain. For this ^vhope’s sake, King Agrippa, I am ^waccused by the Jews.

⁸“Why should it be thought incredible by you that God ^xraises the ^ydead?

⁹“Indeed, I myself thought I must do many things ^zcontrary to the name of ^{aa}Jesus of Nazareth.

¹⁰“This I also did ^{bb}in Jerusalem, and many of the ^{cc}saints I shut up in prison, having received ^{dd}authority from the chief priests; and when they were ^{ee}put to death, I ^{ff}cast my vote against them.

¹¹“And I punished them often in every synagogue and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly enraged against them, I persecuted them even to foreign cities.

¹²“While thus occupied, as I journeyed to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests, ¹³“at midday, O king, along the road I saw a light from heaven, brighter than the sun, shining around me and those who journeyed with me.

14“And when we all had fallen to the ground, I ^aheard a voice speaking to me and saying in the ^bHebrew language, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me? It is hard for you to kick against the ^cgoads.’

15“So I said, ‘Who are You, Lord?’ And He said, ‘I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.’

16“But ^drise and stand on your feet; for I have appeared to you for this ^epurpose, to ^fmake you a ^gminister and a witness both of the things which you have seen and of the things which I will yet reveal to you.

17“I will deliver you from the ^hJewish people, as well as from the ⁱGentiles, to whom I now^{} send you,*

18“to open their eyes, in order to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of ^jSatan to God, that they may receive ^kforgiveness of ^lsins and an ^minheritance among those who are ⁿsanctified by faith in Me.

19“Therefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision, 20“but ^odeclared first to those in Damascus and in Jerusalem, and throughout all the region of Judea, and then to the ^pGentiles, that they should ^qrepent, turn to God, and do works befitting ^rrepentance.

21“For these reasons the Jews seized me in the temple and tried to ^skill me.

22“Therefore, having obtained help from God, to this day I stand, witnessing both to small and great, saying no other things than those which the prophets and Moses ^tsaid would come—

23“that the ^uChrist would ^vsuffer, that He would be the first to ^wrise from the dead, and would proclaim ^xlight to the ^yJewish people and to the ^zGentiles.”

Personal appeal to Agrippa

24Now as he thus made his defense, Festus said with a loud voice, “Paul, you are ^xbeside yourself! Much learning is driving you mad!”

25But he said, “I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speak the words of truth and reason.

26“For the king, before whom I also speak freely, ^yknows these things; for I am convinced that none of these things escapes his attention, since this thing was not done in a corner.

27“King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know that you do ^zbelieve.”

28Then Agrippa said to Paul, “You almost persuade me to become a Christian.”

29And Paul said, “I would to God that not only you, but also all who hear me today, might become both almost and altogether such as I am, except for these chains.”

30When he had said these things, the king stood up, as well as the governor and Bernice and those who sat with them;

31and when they had gone aside, they talked among themselves, saying, “This man is doing ^{aa}nothing deserving of death or chains.”

32Then Agrippa said to Festus, “This man might have been set ^{bb}free if he had not ^{cc}appealed to Caesar.”

26:23 that the Christ would suffer. Here in substance is the Gospel that Paul preached and that believers ought always to proclaim, “that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures, and that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the Scriptures” (1 Cor. 15:3-4). Of course, the apostle expounded these truths but the kernel of the Gospel is here.

26:28 You almost persuade me . . . Agrippa’s answer to Paul’s question in v. 27 probably did not mean that he was on the brink of becoming a Christian, but that he realized that Paul was trying to use Agrippa’s belief in the prophets (vv. 22-23,27) to lead him to agreement with what Paul had said about Christ.

³And the next day we landed at Sidon. And Julius ^btreated Paul kindly and gave him liberty to go to his friends and receive care.

⁴When we had put to sea from there, we sailed under the shelter of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

⁵And when we had sailed over the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

⁶There the ^ccenturion found an ^dAlexandrian ship sailing to ^eItaly, and he put us on board.

⁷When we had sailed slowly many days, and arrived with difficulty off Cnidus, the wind not permitting us to proceed, we sailed under the shelter of Crete off Salmone.

⁸Passing it with difficulty, we came to a place called Fair Havens, near the city of Lasea.

⁹Now when much time had been spent, and sailing was now ^gdangerous because the Fast was already over, Paul advised them,

¹⁰saying, "Men, I ^hperceive that this voyage will end with disaster and much loss, not only of the cargo and ship, but also our lives."

¹¹Nevertheless the centurion was more persuaded by the helmsman and the owner of the ship than by the things spoken by Paul.

¹²And because the harbor was not suitable to winter in, the majority advised to set sail from there also, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, a harbor of Crete opening toward the southwest and northwest, and winter there.

The storm

14But not long after, a ^atempestuous head wind arose, called Euroclydon.*

15So when the ship was caught, and could not head into the wind, we let her drive.

16And running under the shelter of an island called Clauda,* we secured the skiff with difficulty.

17When they had taken it on board, they used cables to undergird the ship; and fearing lest they should run aground on the Syrtis* Sands, they struck sail and so were driven.

18And because we were exceedingly tempest-tossed, the next day they lightened the ship.

19On the third day we ^bthrew the ship's tackle overboard with our own hands.

20Now when neither sun nor stars appeared for many days, and no small tempest beat on us, all hope that we would be saved was finally given up.

The leadership of Paul

21But after long abstinence from food, then Paul stood in the midst of them and said, "Men, you should have ^clistened to me, and not have sailed from Crete and incurred this disaster and loss.

22"And now ^dI urge you to ^etake heart, for there will be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship.

23"For there ^fstood by me this night an ^gangel of the God to whom I belong and whom I serve,

24"saying, ^h'Do not be afraid, Paul; you must be brought before Caesar; and indeed God has granted you ⁱall those who sail with you.'

25"Therefore ^jtake heart, men, for I ^kbelieve God that it will be just as it was told me.

26"However, we must run aground on a certain 'island.'"

27Now when the fourteenth night had come, as we were driven up and down in the Adriatic Sea, about midnight the sailors sensed that they were drawing near some land.

28And they took soundings and found it to be twenty fathoms; and when they had gone a little farther, they took soundings again and found it to be fifteen ^mfathoms.

29Then, fearing lest we should run aground on the rocks, they dropped four anchors from the stern, and prayed for day to come.

30And as the sailors were seeking to escape from the ship, when they had let down the skiff into the sea, under pretense of putting out anchors from the prow,

31Paul said to the centurion and

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

Weights and measures in the NT are based upon Hebrew, Greek, and Roman usage; e.g. "rod" (Greek kalamos) is a unit of measurement employed by the Israelites in OT times (Ezek. 40:5, Hebrew kaneh); "furlong" (Greek stadion) is distinctly a Greek unit; whereas the NT "pound" (Greek litra, from the Latin libra) is a Roman measure that was considerably lighter than the U.S. pound weight. New Testament standards of measurement can be ascertained with reasonable accuracy. See the following tables.

(1) Linear Measures. The unit of linear measurement in NT times was the cubit, approximately 18 inches in length. The table: 4 cubits = 1 fathom, or about 6 feet; 6 long cubits (Ezek. 40:5) = 1 rod (measuring), or about 10 feet; 400 cubits = 1 furlong (stadion), or about 600 feet; 5 furlongs (stadia) = a Sabbath day's journey, or about three-fifths of a mile.

The Sabbath day's journey is mentioned only once in the Bible (Acts 1:12). It was evidently the distance between Jerusalem and the Mount of Olives. But from what point in Jerusalem to what area of Olivet? According to limits set by the ancient rabbis, a Sabbath day's journey was 2000 cubits, or three-fifths of a mile. This measure may have been determined by the distance that the children of Israel were required to allow between themselves and the ark of the covenant at the passage of the Jordan (Josh. 3:4); for the rabbis may have assumed that the same limit prevailed between the tents of the people and the tabernacle—a distance that the Israelites would need to walk in order to worship.

(2) Dry Measures. Greek choinix (Rev. 6:6) = 1 quart; 1 measure, Greek koros (Luke 16:7) = about 10 bushels.

(3) Liquid Measures. Greek metrētēs (John 2:6) = 10 gallons; Greek batos (Luke 16:6) = about 8 gallons.

(4) Weights. 1 pound, Greek litra (John 12:3) = 1 pint, or (John 19:39) about 3/4 lb.

For Weights and Measures (OT), see 2 Chr. 2:10, note.

the soldiers, ^a“Unless these men stay in the ship, you cannot be saved.”

³²Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the ^bskiff and let it fall off.

³³And as day was about to dawn, Paul implored them all to take food, saying, “Today is the fourteenth day you have waited and continued without food, and eaten nothing.

³⁴“Therefore I urge you to take nourishment, ^cfor this is for your survival, ^dsince not a hair will fall from the head of any of you.”

³⁵And when he had said these things, he took bread and gave ^ethanks to God in the presence of them all; and when he had ^fbroken it he began to eat.

³⁶Then they were all encouraged, and also took food themselves.

³⁷And in all we were two hundred and seventy-six persons on the ship.

³⁸So when they had eaten enough, they ^glightened the ship and threw out the wheat into the sea.

The ship founders, but all escape

³⁹When it was day, they did ^hnot recognize the land; but they observed a bay with a beach, onto which they planned to run the ship if possible.

⁴⁰And they let go the anchors and left them in the sea, meanwhile loosing the rudder ropes; and they hoisted the mainsail to the wind and made for shore.

⁴¹But striking a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the prow stuck fast and remained immovable, but the stern was being broken up by the violence of the waves.

⁴²And the soldiers’ ⁱplan was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim away and escape.

⁴³But the centurion, wanting to ^jsave Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that those who could swim should jump overboard first and get to land,

⁴⁴and the rest, some on boards and some on parts of the ship. And ^kso it was that they ^lall ^mescaped safely to land.

28 NOW when they had ⁿescaped, they then ^ofound out that the island was called Malta.

²And the ^pnatives showed us unusual kindness; for they kindled a fire and ^qmade us all welcome, because of the rain that was falling and because of the cold.

³But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks and laid them on the fire, a viper came out because of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

⁴So when the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said to one another, “No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he has escaped the sea, yet ^rjustice does not allow to live.”

⁵But he shook off the creature into the fire and suffered ^sno harm.

⁶However, they were expecting that he would swell up or suddenly fall down dead. But after they had looked for a long time and saw no harm come to him, they ^tchanged their minds and said that he was a ^ugod.

Father of Publius is healed

⁷In that region there was an estate of the leading citizen of the island, whose name was Publius, who received us and entertained us ^vcourteously for three days.

⁸And it happened that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and dysentery. Paul went in to him and ^wprayed, and he ^xlaid his hands on him and ^yhealed him.

⁹So when this was done, the rest of those on the island who had diseases also came and were ^zhealed.

¹⁰They also honored us in many ways; and when we departed, they provided such things as were ^{aa}necessary.

Paul arrives at Rome

¹¹After three months we sailed in an ^aAlexandrian ship whose figurehead was the Twin Brothers, which had wintered at the island.

¹²And landing at Syracuse, we stayed three days.

¹³From there we circled round and reached Rhegium. And after one day the south wind blew; and the next day we came to Puteoli, ¹⁴where we found ^bbrethren, and were invited to stay with them seven days. And so we went toward Rome.

¹⁵And from there, when the brethren heard about us, they came to meet us as far as Appii Forum and Three Inns. When Paul saw them, he thanked God and took ^ccourage.

¹⁶Now when we came to ^dRome, the ^ecenturion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard; but Paul was permitted to dwell by himself with ^fthe soldier who guarded him.

Paul witnesses to the Jews in Rome

¹⁷And it came to pass after three days that Paul called the leaders of the Jews together. So when they had come together, he said to them: “Men and brethren, though I have done ^gnothing against our people or the customs of our fathers, yet I was ^hdelivered as a prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans, ¹⁸“who, when they had examined me, ⁱwanted to let me go, because there was ^jno cause for putting me to death.

¹⁹“But when the Jews* spoke against ^kit, I was compelled to ^lappeal to Caesar, not that I had anything of which to accuse my nation.

²⁰“For this reason therefore I have called for you, to see ^myou and speak with ⁿyou, because for the ^ohope of Israel I am bound with this ^pchain.”

²¹Then they said to him, “We neither received letters from Judea concerning you, nor have any of the brethren who came reported or spoken any evil of you.

²²“But we desire to hear from you what you think; for concerning this ^qsect, we know that it is ^rspoken against everywhere.”

²³So when they had appointed him a day, many came to him at ^shis lodging, to whom he ^texplained and solemnly testified of the ^ukingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus from both the ^vLaw of Moses and ^wthe Prophets, from morning till evening.

²⁴And some were ^xpersuaded by the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved.

And their eyes they have closed,*

The tradition from Clement to Eusebius favors two imprisonments with a year of liberty between them. It has been pointed out that the leaving of Trophimus sick at Miletus (2 Tim. 4:20) could not have been an occurrence of Paul's last journey to Jerusalem, for then Trophimus was not left (Acts 20:4; 21:29); nor could it have been on his journey to Rome to appear before Caesar, for then he did not touch at Miletus. To make this incident possible, there must have been a release from the first imprisonment and an interval of ministry and travel.

THE EPISTLES OF PAUL

Background

The Epistles of Paul have a distinctive character. The Old Testament contains prophecies of the cross, the resurrection, and the return of Christ. In it Israel has a leading place through history and also through prophecy of the future Messianic kingdom. But “hidden in God” (Ephesians 3:9) was a period not specifically revealed in the Old Testament—the interval after the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ, and before His return in glory. Also not specifically revealed in the Old Testament was God’s purpose in calling out of the world the Church, which is Christ’s body. In Matthew 16:17–19 the Lord announced that purpose but without explaining how, when, or of whom the Church would be built. Elsewhere in the Gospels He instituted the two sacraments or ordinances of the Church—baptism (Matthew 28:18–20) and the Lord’s Supper (Matthew 26:26–29; Mark 14:22–25; Luke 22:19–20); in the discourse on the night before His crucifixion (John 14–17), He set forth the relationship of His body, the Church, to Himself. But it is in the Epistles that the order, position, privileges, and duties of the Church are most fully given.

The Doctrine of the Church

It is these things that constitute the scope of the Epistles of Paul. They develop the doctrine of the Church. In his letters to seven of the churches (in Rome, Corinth, Galatia, Ephesus, Philippi, Colosse, and Thessalonica), the Church as the body of Christ, the “mystery which from the beginning of the ages has been hidden in God” (Ephesians 3:9), is revealed. Moreover, in these Epistles the Church is instructed about her unique place in the counsels and purposes of God.

Although Christ taught that the Church is an organism, through Paul was given the detailed revelation of the body of Christ in its heavenly calling, promise, and destiny. Through him also were unfolded the organization and administration of local churches (1 Timothy and Titus). The fact that Christ is coming for His Church, introduced in John 14:3, was revealed more fully through Paul in 1 Corinthians 15:51–58 and 1 Thessalonians 4:13–18, where he teaches that “we shall not all sleep,” that “the dead in Christ will rise first,” and that believers living at His return will be “changed” and “caught up . . . to meet the Lord in the air.”

The Doctrine of Grace

The doctrine of grace found in the teaching of Christ is also given further revelation through Paul. More fully than any other New Testament writer, Paul expounds the nature and purpose of the law; the ground and means of the believer’s justification, sanctification, and glorification; the interpretation of the death and resurrection of Christ; and the position, conduct, expectation, and service of the believer. Paul, converted by the personal ministry of the risen Lord, is distinctively the witness to the glorified Christ, the Head of the Church which is His body.

The Order of the Epistles

The chronological order of the Pauline Epistles is generally considered to be as follows:

- 1 and 2 Thessalonians
- Galatians
- 1 Corinthians
- Romans
- 2 Corinthians
- Ephesians
- Colossians
- Philemon
- Philippians
- 1 Timothy
- Titus
- 2 Timothy

The Pauline authorship of Hebrews has not been proved.

Paul’s Life

Two significant periods in the life of Paul are passed over in comparative silence—the sojourn in Arabia (Galatians 1:17), from which he returned with the Gospel as set forth in Galatians and Romans, and the two years in prison (Acts 24:27) between his arrest in the Temple at Jerusalem and his journey under guard to Rome.

It was inevitable for a man of Paul’s intellect and training, a devoted Jew who had been such a bitter enemy of Christianity, to seek the underlying principles of the Gospel. Immediately after his conversion he preached Jesus as the Messiah; but the relation of the Gospel to the law and, in lesser degree, to the great Jewish promises, needed clear explanation. In Arabia this explanation was given Paul “through the revelation of Jesus Christ” (Galatians 1:11–12). The result was that he taught salvation by grace through faith wholly apart from the works of the law.

God’s Relationship with Man

Furthermore, the Gospel proclaimed by Paul brings the believer into great relationships—to the Father, to the Son, to the Holy Spirit, and to the future purposes of God. It brings not only salvation from sin and its consequences, but also salvation into a blessed place in the divine counsels. And the Church in its deepest aspect and function requires inspired explanation. Such are the chief themes of the Epistles written by Paul from Rome and commonly called the Prison Epistles (Ephesians, Colossians, Philemon, and Philippians). It is possible that these crowning revelations were received through the apostle’s disciplined meditation and prayerful seeking during the silent years at Caesarea.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS

Author:
Paul

Theme:
Gospel of God

Date of writing:
c. A.D. 57–58

Background

The Epistle to the Romans was written from Corinth during the Apostle Paul's third visit to that city (2 Corinthians 13:1; compare Acts 20:2). It is rightly placed first among the Epistles because it is the most complete exposition in the New Testament of the central truths of Christianity. The Epistle had its occasion in the intention of Paul to visit the Roman Christians and his desire to communicate to them the great doctrines of grace that had been revealed to him.

God's Relationship with Man

The theme of the Epistle is "the gospel of God" (1:1). This is the widest possible designation of the whole body of redemption truth. It relates to the whole world because there is "no partiality" (2:11) with Him who is "the God of the Jews" and "also the God of the Gentiles" (3:29). Accordingly all humanity is found guilty (3:19,23) and a justification is revealed which is sufficient for man's need and received through faith alone (3:28). Romans states the divine provision of God's grace whereby He is able to declare sinners as righteous through the atoning work of His righteous Son. It goes on to set forth the nature of the new life which all justified persons may enjoy through the power of the indwelling Holy Spirit. Following this the Epistle reveals God's sovereign wisdom and grace in working out His purpose through the unfaithfulness of Israel. It closes by laying upon all Christians the obligation of recipients of "the mercies of God" (12:1) to live lives of consecrated service. The key expression of the book is "the righteousness of God" (1:17; 3:21,22).

Introduction and Theme: The Righteousness of God, 1:1–17

1 PAUL, a bondservant of Jesus Christ, called to be an ^aapostle, separated to the ^bgospel of God

²which He ^cpromised before through His prophets in the ^dHoly Scriptures,

³concerning His Son Jesus Christ our Lord, who was ^eborn of the seed of David according to the flesh, ⁴and declared to be the ^fSon of God with power according to the Spirit of ^gholiness, by the ^hresurrection from the dead.

⁵Through Him we have received ^hgrace and ⁱapostleship for obedience to the ^jfaith among all nations for His name,

⁶among whom you also are the called of Jesus Christ;

⁷To all who are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints:

⁸Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁹First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your ^jfaith is spoken of throughout the whole world.

¹⁰For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the ^bgospel of His Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers, ¹¹making request if, by some means, now at last I may find a way in the will of God to come to you.

¹²For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, so that you may be established—

¹³that is, that I may be encouraged together with you by the mutual ^jfaith both of you and me.

¹⁴Now I do not want you to be unaware, brethren, that I often planned to come to you (but was hindered until now), that I might have some fruit among you also, just as among the other ^kGentiles.

¹⁵I am a debtor both to ^lGreeks and to barbarians, both to ^mwise and to unwise.

¹⁶So, as much as is in me, I am ready to preach the ^bgospel to you who are in Rome also.

¹⁷For I am not ashamed of the ^bgospel of Christ,* for it is the ⁿpower of God to salvation for everyone who ^obelieves, for the Jew ^pfirst and also for the ^qGreek.

¹⁸For in it the righteousness of God is revealed from faith to faith; as it is ^cwritten, “The ^qjust shall live by ⁱfaith.”

I. The Whole World Guilty before God, 1:18—3:20(1) The wrath of God revealed

SALVATION

The Hebrew and Greek words for “salvation” imply the ideas of deliverance, safety, preservation, healing, and soundness: “Salvation” is the great inclusive word of the Gospel, gathering into itself all the redemptive acts and processes: as justification, redemption, grace, propitiation, imputation, forgiveness, sanctification, and glorification.

Salvation is in three tenses:

(1) The Christian has been saved from the guilt and penalty of sin (Luke 7:50; 1 Cor. 1:18; 2 Cor. 2:15; Eph. 2:5, 8; 2 Tim. 1:9) and is safe.

(2) The Christian is being saved from the habit and dominion of sin (Rom. 6:14; 8:2; 2 Cor. 3:18; Gal. 2:19–20; Phil. 1:19; 2:12–13; 2 Thess. 2:13). And

(3) the Christian will be saved at the Lord’s return, from all the bodily infirmities that are the result of sin and God’s curse upon the sinful world (Rom. 8:18–23; 1 Cor. 15:42–44), and brought into entire conformity to Christ (Rom. 13:11; Heb. 10:36; 1 Pet. 1:5; 1 John 3:2). Salvation is by grace through faith, is a free gift and wholly without works (Rom. 3:27–28; 4:1–8; 6:23; Eph. 2:8). The divine order is: first salvation, then works (Eph. 2:9–10; Titus 3:5–8).

1:7 saints. In the NT the word “saint” always refers to a sanctified person, one set apart to God inviolably for His possession and service. (Compare the related Greek words hagios and hagiazō rendered “saint” and “sanctify” respectively.) This aspect of Christian sanctification is positional, being based on the atoning blood of Christ (Heb. 13:12; compare 10:10–14). In this sense, all believers are saints regardless of their progress in experience and growth. Thus according to Rom. 1:7, believers are not called to become saints (as the verb “to be,” supplied in the English translation, might seem to suggest). They are saints, and that by divine call, just as Paul was an apostle by divine call (1:1).

¹⁹because what may be known of God is manifest in them, for God has ^bshown it to them.

(3) Stages of Gentile world unbelief

²¹because, although they knew God, they did not glorify Him as God, nor were thankful, but became futile in their thoughts, and their ^ffoolish hearts were darkened.

²²Professing to be ^gwise, they became fools,

²³and ^hchanged the glory of the ⁱincorruptible God into an image made like corruptible man—and birds and four-footed animals and ^jcreeping things.

Epistle emphasizes certain aspects of the divine nature and activity:

- (1) the wrath of God against all forms of human sin and the certainty of its judgment (1:18–3:20);
- (2) the righteousness of God, both as a divine attribute and also a divine provision in saving sinners (3:21–8:39);
- (3) the sovereignty and wisdom of God in dealing with the problem of unbelief in Israel (9:1–11:36); and
- (4) the will of God for Christians in their various relationships (12:1–14:23).

In addition to these emphases, the Epistle speaks generally of the goodness of God, as represented by His forbearance and longsuffering (2:4); His love (5:5,8; 8:39); and His mercy (11:30–32). Above all, from its opening salutation (1:7) to the final benediction (16:24), Romans reveals God as the God of all grace, who offers salvation to a world which deserves nothing but judgment, and saves all who believe in his Son, Jesus Christ. The infinite reach of this grace is set forth in 5:20: “But where sin abounded, grace abounded much more.”

(4) Result of Gentile world unbelief

²⁴Therefore ^aGod also gave them up to uncleanness, in the lusts of their hearts, to dishonor their bodies among themselves,

²⁵who exchanged the truth of God for the lie, and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen.

²⁶For this reason God gave them up to vile passions. For even their women exchanged the natural use for what is against nature.

²⁷Likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust for one another, men with men committing what is shameful, and receiving in themselves the penalty of their error which was due.

²⁸And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a debased mind, to do those things which are not ^bfitting;

²⁹being filled with all unrighteousness, sexual immorality,* wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, evil-mindedness; they are whisperers, ³⁰backbiters, haters of God, violent, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

³¹undiscerning, untrustworthy, unloving, unforgiving,* unmerciful;

³²who, knowing the righteous ^cjudgment of God, that those who practice such things are deserving of death, not only do the same but also approve of those who practice them.

(5) Gentile pagan moralizers no better than other pagans

2 THEREFORE you are ^dinexcusable, O man, whoever you are who judge, ^efor in whatever you judge another you condemn yourself; for you who judge practice the same things.

²But we know that the ^fjudgment of God is according to truth against those who practice such things.

³And do you think this, O man, ^gyou who judge those practicing such things, and doing the same, that you will escape the ^hjudgment of God?

⁴Or do you despise the ⁱriches of His goodness, ^jforbearance, and ^klongsuffering, not knowing that the goodness of God ^lleads you to ^mrepentance?

⁵But in accordance with your hardness and your impenitent heart you are treasuring up for yourself wrath in the ⁿday of wrath and revelation of the righteous ^ojudgment of God,

⁶who “will ^prender to each one according to his deeds”;^{*}

⁷eternal ^qlife to those who by patient continuance in ^rdoing good seek for glory, honor, and immortality;

⁸but to those who are ^sself-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness—indignation and wrath, ⁹tribulation and anguish, on every soul of man who does evil, of the Jew first and also of the Greek;

¹⁰but glory, honor, and peace to everyone who ^tworks what is good, to the Jew first and also to the Greek.

2:1 judge. The judging here is moral in nature, that is, ability to discern between right and wrong. The moralists of v. 1 were not condemned by Paul for their moral judgment but for their sin; they did the very things which they rightly judged to be wrong in other men.

2:2 judgment. The basic principles of divine judgment are set forth in vv. 1-16 as follows: it will be according to (1) truth (v. 2), that is, an objective standard of conduct; (2) deeds (v. 6); (3) the light enjoyed (vv. 11-15); and (4) the Gospel by which the secret thoughts and motives of men are judged (v. 16).

2:7 doing good. In vv. 7 and 13 the cases are hypothetical. Paul is not teaching the possibility of salvation by works but is, rather, showing why all men without exception are lost. As he later states, no man has continued in doing good, nor is he a doer of the law (compare 3:19-20). The means of justification for sinners, entirely by faith in Christ, is set forth in 3:21-8:39. immortality. Or incorruption. 1 Cor. 15:53-54.

law, and as many as have ^asinned in the ^blaw will be ^cjudged by the law ¹³(for not the hearers of the law are just in the sight of God, but the doers of the law will be ^djustified; ¹⁴for when ^eGentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do the things in the law, these, although not having the law, are a law to themselves, ¹⁵who show the ^fwork of the law written in their hearts, their ^gconscience also bearing witness, and between themselves their thoughts accusing or else excusing them) ¹⁶in the ^hday when God will ^cjudge the ⁱsecrets of men ^by Jesus Christ, according to my ^kgospel.

(6) The Jew, knowing the law, is condemned by the law

¹⁷Indeed* you are called a Jew, and ^lrest on the ^blaw, and make your boast in God, ¹⁸and know His will, and approve the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the ^blaw, ¹⁹and are confident that you yourself are a guide to the ^mblind, a light to those who are in darkness, ²⁰an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having the form of knowledge and truth in the law. ²¹You, therefore, who teach another, do you not teach yourself? You who preach that a man should not steal, do you steal? ²²You who say, "Do not commit adultery," do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you ⁿrob temples? ²³You who make your boast in the ^blaw, do you dishonor God through ^obreaking the law? ²⁴For "the name of God is ^pblasphemed among the ^qGentiles because of you," ^ras it is ^swritten. ²⁵For circumcision is indeed profitable if you keep the ^blaw; but if you are a ^tbreaker of the law, your ^ucircumcision has become uncircumcision.

^{26v}TTherefore, if an uncircumcised man keeps the ^wrighteous requirements of the law, will not his uncircumcision be counted as circumcision?
²⁷And will not the physically uncircumcised, if he fulfills the ^blaw, judge you who, even with your written code and circumcision, are a ^xtransgressor of the law?
^{28y}For he is not a Jew who is one outwardly, nor is circumcision that which is outward in the flesh;
^{29z}but he is a Jew who is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the ^{aa}heart, ^{bb}in the Spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not from men but from God.

(7) Advantage of the Jew makes his condemnation greater

3 WHAT ^{cc}advantage then has the Jew, or what is the profit of circumcision?
²Much in every way! Chiefly ^{dd}because to them were committed the ^boracles of God.
³For what if some did not believe? ^{ee}Will their ^{ff}unbelief make the ^{gg}faithfulness of God without effect?
⁴Certainly not! Indeed, let God be true but every man a liar. As it is ^swritten:

"That^{hh} You may be ^djustified in Your words, And may overcome when You are judged."

⁵But if our unrighteousness demonstrates the ⁱⁱrighteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unjust who inflicts wrath? (I ^{jj}speak as a man.)
⁶Certainly not! For then how will God judge the world?

2:29 Spirit. True Judaism was not merely a matter of external observances or precise keeping of ordinances but of a heart attitude toward God. As Paul says in v. 29, it is not in the letter but in the spirit. The Judaism that bases everything on minute and external observances (compare Rom. 2:28-29) is not true Judaism but a perversion, and was condemned by the Lord Jesus Christ (Matt. 15:6).

3:2 oracles of God. In proving the guilt of the world Paul brings the witness of three forms of divine revelation, that is, God's will as it is revealed in the law and the prophets: (1) against the pagan, the witness of creation (1:19-20); (2) against the moralist, the witness of conscience (2:15); and (3) against the Jew, the witness of the Scriptures.

3:19 become guilty. That is, to be under the judicial sentence of God.

3:21 righteousness. The righteousness of God is all that God demands and approves, and is ultimately found in Christ Himself, who fully met in our stead every requirement of the law. Through imputation Christ "became for us. . . righteousness" (1 Cor. 1:30; compare Lev. 25:47–52; Rom. 3:26; 4:6; 10:4; 2 Cor. 5:21; Phil. 3:9; James 2:23).

3:24 freely. That is, as a gift. Redemption means to deliver by paying a price. The work of Christ fulfilling the OT types and prophecies of redemption is set forth in three principal Greek words: (1) Agorazō, to buy in the market (from agora, market). Man is viewed as a slave "sold under sin" (Rom. 7:14) and under sentence of death (Ezek. 18:4; John 3:18–19; Rom. 6:23) but subject to redemption by the purchase price of the blood of the Redeemer (1 Cor. 6:20; 7:23; 2 Pet. 2:1; Rev. 5:9; 14:3–4). (2) Exagorazō, to buy out of the market, that is, to purchase and remove from further sale (Gal. 3:13; 4:5; Eph. 5:16; Col. 4:5), speaking of the finality of the work of redemption. And (3) lutroō, to loose or set free (Luke 24:21; Titus 2:14; 1 Pet. 1:18), noun form, lutrōsis (Luke 2:38; Heb. 9:12). Compare also "redeemed" (literally to make redemption, Greek epoiēsen lutrōsin, Luke 1:68), and "deliverance" (intensive form, apolutrōsis) used commonly to indicate release of a slave (Luke 21:28; Rom. 3:24; 8:23; 1 Cor. 1:30; Eph. 1:7,14; 4:30; Col. 1:14; Heb. 9:15; 11:35). Redemption is by sacrifice and by power (Ex. 14:30, note); Christ paid the price, the Holy Spirit makes deliverance actual in experience (Rom. 8:2). See Ex. 14:30, note; Is. 59:20, note; Rom. 1:16, note.

3:25 Propitiation is translated from the Greek hilastērion, meaning that which expiates or propitiates, or the gift which procures propitiation. The word is also used in the NT for the place of propitiation, the "mercy seat" (Heb. 9:5), that is, the lid of the ark (compare frequent similar use in the OT Septuagint, Ex. 25:18ff.). The cover of the ark (mercy seat) was sprinkled with atoning blood on the Day of Atonement (Lev. 16:14), representing that the righteous sentence of the law had been executed, changing a ³⁰since there is one God who will ^cjustify the ^fcircumcised by faith and the ^guncircumcised through ^dfaith.

(3) Justification by faith honors the law

³¹Do we then make void the law through ^dfaith? Certainly not! On the contrary, we establish the law.

place of judgment into a place of mercy (Heb. 9:11–15; compare “throne of grace,” Heb. 4:14–16; place of communion, Ex. 25:21–22).

Another Greek word, hilasmos, is used for Christ as our “propitiation” (1 John 2:2; 4:10) and for “atonement” in the OT (compare Lev. 25:9, Septuagint). The thought in the OT sacrifices and in the NT fulfillment is that Christ completely satisfied the just demands of a holy God for judgment on sin by His death on the cross. God, foreseeing the cross, is declared righteous in forgiving sins in the OT period as well as in justifying sinners under the new covenant (Rom. 3:25–26; compare Ex. 29:33, note).

Propitiation is not placating a vengeful God but, rather, it is satisfying the righteousness of a holy God, thereby making it possible for Him to show mercy righteously.

3:25 previously. That is, since Adam. Compare Heb. 9:15.

3:31 law. The sinner establishes the law in its right use and honor by confessing his guilt and just condemnation. Christ, on the sinner’s behalf, establishes the law by obediently keeping its precepts (Matt. 5:17–18; Gal. 4:4–5), and by enduring its penalty, death.

3:23 SIN, SUMMARY

The literal meanings of the Hebrew and Greek words variously rendered “sin,” “sinner,” etc. disclose the true nature of sin in its manifold manifestations.

Sin is

- (1) transgression, an overstepping of the law, the divine boundary between good and evil (Ps. 51:1; Rom. 2:23);
- (2) iniquity, an act inherently wrong, whether expressly forbidden or not (Rom. 1:21–23);
- (3) error, a departure from right (Rom. 1:18; 1 John 3:4);
- (4) missing the mark, a failure to meet the divine standard (Rom. 3:23);
- (5) trespass, the intrusion of self-will into the sphere of divine authority (Eph. 2:1);
- (6) lawlessness, or spiritual anarchy (1 Tim. 1:9); and
- (7) unbelief, or an insult to the divine veracity (John 16:9).

Sin

- (1) originated with Satan (Is. 14:12–14);
- (2) entered the world through Adam (Rom. 5:12);
- (3) was, and is, universal, Christ alone excepted (Rom. 3:23; 1 Pet. 2:22);
- (4) incurs the penalties of spiritual and physical death (Gen. 2:17; 3:19; Ezek. 18:4,20; Rom. 6:23); and
- (5) has no remedy but in the sacrificial death of Christ (Acts 4:12; Heb. 9:26) made available by faith (Acts 13:38–39).

Sin may be summarized as threefold: (1) an act, the violation of, or want of obedience to, the revealed will of God; (2) a state, absence of righteousness; and (3) a nature, enmity toward God.

3:28 JUSTIFICATION, SUMMARY

The words “justified” and “righteousness” are translations of similar Greek words (verb, dikaioō, to declare righteous, to justify; noun, dikaïosunē, righteousness; adjective, dikaïos, righteous). The believing sinner is justified, that is, treated as righteous because Christ, “who knew no sin,” bore his sins on the cross, being made “sin for us, that we might become the righteousness of God in Him” (2 Cor. 5:21).

Justification is an act of divine reckoning and does not mean to make a person righteous.

Justification

- (1) originates in grace (Rom. 3:24; Titus 3:4–5);
- (2) is through the redemptive and propitiatory work of Christ who fulfilled the law (Rom. 3:24–25; 5:9);
- (3) is by faith, not works (Rom. 3:28–30; 4:5; 5:1; Gal. 2:16; 3:8,24); and
- (4) may be defined as the judicial act of God whereby He justly declares and treats as righteous the one who believes in Jesus Christ. The justified believer has been declared by the Judge Himself (Rom. 3:31) to have nothing laid to his charge (Rom. 8:1,31–34).

- 2For if Abraham was ^ajustified by ^bworks, he has something to boast about, but not before God.
³For what does the Scripture ^csay? ^d“Abraham ^ebelieved God, and it was ^faccounted to him for ^grighteousness.”^{*} ⁴Now to him who ^hworks, the wages are not ⁱcounted as ⁱgrace but as debt.
⁵But to him who does ^jnot work but ^ebelieves on Him who ^ajustifies the ungodly, his faith is accounted for righteousness,
⁶just as David also ^cdescribes the blessedness of the man to whom God imputes ^krighteousness apart from ^lworks:
⁷“Blessed^m are those whose ⁿlawless deeds are ^oforgiven, And whose ^psins are ^qcovered; Blessed is the man to whom the LORD shall not impute ^rsin.”
 (5) Justification is apart from ordinances
⁹Does this blessedness then come upon the ^scircumcised only, or upon the ^tuncircumcised also? For we say that ^efaith was ^faccounted to Abraham for ^grighteousness.
¹⁰How then was it accounted? While he was ^ucircumcised, or ^vuncircumcised? Not while circumcised, but while uncircumcised.
¹¹And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the ^wrighteousness of the ^efaith which he had while still uncircumcised, that he might be the father of all those who ^ebelieve, though they are uncircumcised, that righteousness might be ^fimputed to them also,
¹²and the father of circumcision to those who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of the ^efaith which our father ^xAbraham had while still uncircumcised.
- (6) Justification is apart from the law
¹³For the ^ypromise that he would be the heir of the world was not to Abraham or to his seed through the ^zlaw, but through the ^{aa}righteousness of ^efaith.
¹⁴For if those who are of the law are heirs, faith is made void and the promise made of no effect, ¹⁵because the law brings about wrath; for where there is no law there is no ^{bb}transgression.
¹⁶Therefore it is of ^efaith that it might be according to ⁱgrace, so that the promise might be sure to all the seed, not only to those who are of the ^zlaw, but also to those who are of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all
¹⁷(as it is ^cwritten, “I have made you a ^{cc}father of many nations”^m) in the presence of Him whom he believed—God, who ^{da}gives life to the dead and calls those things which do not exist as though they did;
¹⁸who, contrary to hope, in ^{ee}hope ^ebelieved, so that he became the ^{ff}father of many nations, according to what was ^cspoken, ^{gg}“So shall your descendants be.”
¹⁹And not being weak in faith, he did not consider his own body, already dead (since he was about a hundred years old), ^{hh}and the deadness of Sarah’s womb.
²⁰He did not waver at the ⁱⁱpromise of God through unbelief, but was strengthened in faith, giving glory to God, ²¹and being fully convinced that what He had ^{jj}promised He was also able to perform.
²²And therefore “it was ^faccounted to him for ^grighteousness.”^m

Abraham: of a great multitude. A man chosen by God to become the father of the great nation Israel. God promised Abraham that he would have descendants as numerous as the stars in the heavens. Abraham was revered throughout generations for his great faith.

23 Now it was not written for his sake alone that it was ^aimputed to him,
 24 but also for us. It shall be ^aimputed to us who ^bbelieve in Him who ^craised up Jesus our Lord from the dead, 25 who was ^ddelivered up because of our offenses, and was raised because of our ^ejustification.

(7) Results of justification

5 THEREFORE, having been ^ejustified by ^bfaith, we have ^fpeace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, ²through whom also we have access by faith into this ^ggrace in which we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

³And not only that, but we also glory in ^htribulations, knowing that tribulation produces perseverance;

⁴and perseverance, character; and character, hope.

⁵Now hope does not disappoint, because the ⁱlove of God has been poured out in our hearts by the Holy ^jSpirit who was given to us.

⁶For when we were still without strength, in due time Christ ^ddied for the ungodly.

⁷For scarcely for a ^krighteous man will one die; yet perhaps for a good man someone would even dare to die.

⁸But God demonstrates ^lHis own love toward us, in that while we were still ^msinners, Christ ^ddied for us.

⁹Much more then, having now been ^ejustified by His ^dblood, we shall be ⁿsaved from wrath through Him.

¹⁰For if when we were enemies we were ^oreconciled to God through the ^ddeath of His Son, much more, having been reconciled, we shall be ⁿsaved by His life.

¹¹And not only that, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received ^othe reconciliation.

(8) Justification compared and contrasted with condemnation

¹²Therefore, just as through one man ^msin entered the world, and ^pdeath through sin, and thus death spread to all men, because all sinned—

¹³(For until the ^qlaw ^msin was in the world, but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

¹⁴Nevertheless ^pdeath reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those who had not ^msinned accord-

5:12 THE MORAL RUIN OF THE HUMAN RACE

The first sin wrought the moral ruin of the race. The demonstration is simple.

(1) Death is universal (vv. 12,14); all die—little children, moral people, and religious people equally with the depraved. For a universal effect there must be a universal cause; that cause is a state of universal sin (v. 12).

(2) But this universal state must have had a cause. It did. The consequence of Adam's sin was that the "many were made sinners" (v. 19): "through one man's offense judgment came to all men" (v. 18).

(3) Personal sins are not meant here. From Adam to Moses death reigned (v. 14) although, there being no law, personal guilt was not imputed (v. 13). Accordingly, from Gen. 4:7 to Ex. 29:14 the sin offering is not once mentioned. Then, since physical death from Adam to Moses was not due to the sinful acts of those who die (v. 13), it follows that it was due to a universal sinful state, or nature, and that state is declared to be our inheritance from Adam. And

(4) the moral state of fallen man is described in Scripture (Gen. 6:5; 1 Kin. 8:46; Ps. 14:1-3; 39:5; Jer. 17:9; Matt. 18:11; Mark 7:20-23; John 3:6; Rom. 1:21; 2:1-29; 3:9-19; 7:24; 8:7; 1 Cor. 2:14; 2 Cor. 3:14; 4:4; Gal. 5:19-21; Eph. 2:1-3,11-12; 4:18-22; Col. 1:21; Heb. 3:13; James 4:4). See 1 Cor. 15:22, note.

4:25 because of our justification. It was "because of our offenses" that Christ died (2 Cor. 5:21; 1 Pet. 2:24). He was raised again and exalted at God's right hand "because of" the fact that we were "justified by his blood" (Rom. 5:9). His resurrection is the proof that our sins are gone.

5:2 have. Literally have obtained.

5:10 by. Literally in. John 14:19; Col. 3:3-4.

5:12 Therefore. The "therefore" relates back to 3:19-23 and may be regarded as a continuation of the discussion of the universality of sin, interrupted by the passage on justification and its results (3:24-5:11).

5:12,13 world. Greek kosmos. See Matt. 4:8, note.

5:14 Adam. In 5:12-21 the contrast is between Adam, sin, death (vv. 12-14) and Christ, righteousness, life (v. 21). There is no contrasting term in vv. 12-14 for the word "grace" in v. 21. It is grace that makes the difference between condemnation in Adam and justification in Christ.

¹⁵But the free gift is not like the offense. For if by the one man's offense many died, much more the ^agrace of God and the gift by the grace of the one Man, Jesus Christ, abounded to many.

¹⁶And the gift is not like that which came through the one who ^bsinned. For the ^cjudgment which came from one ^{offense} resulted in condemnation, but the free gift which came from many offenses ^{resulted} in ^djustification.

¹⁷For if by the one man's ^boffense ^edeath reigned through the one, much more those who receive abundance of ^agrace and of the gift of ^frighteousness will reign in life through the ^gOne, Jesus Christ.)

¹⁸Therefore, as through one man's ^boffense ^{judgment} came to all men, resulting in condemnation, even so through ^gone Man's ^frighteous act the free gift came to all men, resulting in ^djustification of life.

¹⁹For as by one man's disobedience many were made ^bsinners, so also by ^gone Man's ^hobedience many will be made righteous.

²⁰Moreover the ⁱlaw ^{entered} that the offense might abound. But where ^bsin abounded, ^agrace ^kabounded much more, ²¹so that as sin reigned in ^edeath, even so ^agrace might reign through ^frighteousness to eternal ^llife through Jesus Christ our Lord.

III. Sanctification through Union with Christ in His Death and Resurrection, 6—8

Deliverance from the power of indwelling sin

(1) By union with Christ in death and resurrection

6 WHAT shall we say then? Shall we continue in ^msin that ^agrace may abound?

²Certainly not! How shall we who ⁿdied to ^msin live any longer in it?

³Or do you not know that as many of us as were ^obaptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into His death?

⁴Therefore we were buried with Him through ^obaptism into death, that just as Christ was ^praised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

⁵For if we have been united together in the likeness of His death, certainly we also shall be in the likeness of His ^presurrection, ⁶knowing this, that our old man was crucified with Him, that the body of ^msin might be done away with, that we should no longer be slaves of sin.

⁷For he who has died has been freed from ^msin.

⁸Now if we died with Christ, we ^qbelieve that we shall also ^rlive with Him, ⁹knowing that Christ, having been ^praised from the dead, dies no more. ^eDeath no longer has dominion over Him.

5:21 Sin in chs. 6 and 7 is man's nature in distinction from "sins," which are manifestations of that nature. Compare 1 John 1:8 with 1 John 1:10, where this distinction also appears.

6:3 know. In ch. 6 there are four key words which indicate the believer's personal responsibility in relation to God's sanctifying work: (1) to "know" the facts of our union and identification with Christ in His death and resurrection (vv. 3,6,9); (2) to "reckon" these facts to be true concerning ourselves (v. 11); (3) to "present" ourselves once for all as alive from the dead for God's possession and use (vv. 13,16,19); and (4) to "obey" in the realization that sanctification can proceed only as we are obedient to the will of God as revealed in His Word (vv. 16-17).

6:6 old man. The expression "old man" occurs elsewhere (Eph. 4:22; Col. 3:9) and means all that man was in Adam, both morally and judicially, that is, the man of old, the corrupt human nature, the inborn tendency to evil in all men. In Rom. 6:6 it is the natural man himself; in Eph. 4:22 and Col. 3:9 his ways. Positionally, in the reckoning of God, the "old man" has been crucified, and the believer is exhorted to make this good in experience, reckoning it to be so by definitely "putting off" the old man and "putting on" the new. (Col. 3:8-14). See Eph. 4:24, note. done away. That is, rendered inoperative.

died to ^asin ^bonce for all; but the life that He lives, He lives to God.

(2) By counting oneself dead to the old life, and by yielding the new life to God

¹¹Likewise you also, reckon yourselves to be dead indeed to ^asin, but alive to God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

¹²Therefore do not let ^asin reign in your mortal body, that you should obey it in its ^clusts.

¹³And do not present your members as instruments of ^dunrighteousness to ^asin, but present yourselves to God as being alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of ^erighteousness to God.

(3) By deliverance from the principle of works through death, and by the Spirit (i.e., as in 8:2)

¹⁴For ^asin shall not have dominion over you, for you are not under ^flaw but under ^ggrace.

¹⁵What then? Shall we ^asin because we are not under ^flaw but under ^ggrace? Certainly not!

¹⁶Do you not know that to whom you present yourselves slaves to ^hobey, you are that one's slaves whom you obey, whether of ^asin leading to death, or of obedience leading to righteousness?

¹⁷But God be thanked that though you were slaves of ^asin, yet you obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine to which you were delivered.

¹⁸And having been set free from ^asin, you became slaves of ^erighteousness.

¹⁹I speak in human terms because of the weakness of your flesh. For just as you presented your members as slaves of uncleanness, and of ^alawlessness leading to more ^alawlessness, so now present your members as slaves of ^erighteousness for ^jholiness.

²⁰For when you were slaves of ^asin, you were free in regard to ^erighteousness.

²¹What fruit did you have then in the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death.

²²But now having been set free from ^asin, and having become slaves of God, you have your fruit to holiness, and the end, everlasting ^klife.

²³For the wages of ^asin is death, but the gift of God is eternal ^klife in Christ Jesus our Lord.

(4) The believer united to Christ, the new "husband"

7OR do you not know, brethren (for I speak to those who know the law), that the ^flaw has dominion over a man as long as he lives?

²For the woman who has a husband is bound by the law to her husband as long as he ^mlives. But if the husband dies, she is released from the law of her husband.

³So then if, while her husband lives, she marries another man, she will be called an ⁿadulteress; but if her husband dies, she is free from that law, so that she is no adulteress, though she has married another man.

⁴Therefore, my brethren, you also have become dead to the ^flaw through the ^obody of Christ, that you may be ^pmarried to another—to Him who was ^qraised from the dead, that we should bear fruit to God.

⁵For when we were in the ^rflesh, the sinful passions which were

6:15 What then. The old relation to the law and sin, and the new relation to Christ and life are illustrated by the effect of death upon slavery (vv. 16–23), and marriage (7:1–6).

(1) The old slavery was nominally to the law but, since the law had no delivering power, the real master continued to be sin in the nature. The end was death. The law could not give life, and sin (here personified as the old man) results in death. But death in another form, that is, crucifixion with Christ, has intervened (6:6) to free the servant from his double bondage to sin (6:6–7) and to the law (7:4,6). And

(2) this effect of death is further illustrated by widowhood. Death dissolves the marriage relation (7:1–3). As natural death frees a wife from the law of marriage, so crucifixion with Christ sets the believer free from the law (the old husband) and makes him eligible to “be married to another,” that is, the risen Christ (7:4). Compare Gal. 3:24, note.

(5) The believer is not made holy by the law

⁷What shall we say then? Is the law sin? Certainly not! On the contrary, I would not have known ^csin except through the ^dlaw. For I would not have known ^ecovetousness unless the law had said, f“You shall not covet.”^g ⁸But ^csin, taking opportunity by the commandment, produced in me all manner of evil desire. For apart from the law sin was dead.

⁹I was alive once without the law, but when the commandment came, ^csin revived and I ^gdied.

¹⁰And the commandment, which was to bring ^hlife, I found to bring ⁱdeath.

¹¹For ^csin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it killed me.

¹²Therefore the ^dlaw is holy, and the commandment ⁱholy and just and good.

¹³Has then what is good become death to me? Certainly not! But ^csin, that it might appear sin, was producing death in me through what is good, so that sin through the commandment might become exceedingly ^csinful.

¹⁴For we know that the ^dlaw is spiritual, but I ^kam carnal, sold under ^csin.

(6) The strife of the two natures

7:14 carnal. This is Paul's description of the Adamic nature and of the believer who lives under the power of it. In other places (1 Cor. 3:1,3; 2 Cor. 10:4) he calls such behavior “carnal.” “Natural” is the apostle’s characteristic word for the unrenewed man (1 Cor. 15:44,46), as “spiritual” designates the renewed man who lives in the Spirit (1 Cor. 3:1; Gal. 6:1).

PAUL'S RELIGIOUS EXPERIENCE

Verses 7–25 are autobiographical. Paul's religious experience was in three strongly marked phases:

(1) He was a godly Jew under the law. That the passage does not refer to that period is clear from his own explicit statements elsewhere. At that time he held himself to be “blameless” as concerning the law (Phil. 3:6). He had lived “in all good conscience” (Acts 23:1).

(2) With his conversion came new light upon the law itself. He now perceived it to be “spiritual” (v. 14). He now saw that, so far from having kept it, he was condemned by it. He had supposed himself to be “alive,” but now the commandment really “came” (v. 9) and he “died.” Just when the apostle passed through the experience of Rom. 7:7–25 we are not told. Perhaps it was during the days of physical blindness at Damascus (Acts 9:9); perhaps in Arabia (Gal. 1:17). It is the experience of a redeemed man, continuing to act as though he were under the law, and not yet fully aware of the delivering power of the Holy Spirit (compare Rom. 8:2). And

(3) with the great revelations afterward embodied in Galatians and Romans, the apostle's experience entered its third phase. He now knew himself to be “dead to the law through the body of Christ,” and, in the power of the indwelling Spirit, “free from the law of sin and death” (8:2); while “the righteous requirement of the law” was met in him (not by him) as he walked according to the Spirit (8:4).

THE BELIEVER'S TWO NATURES

In this passage (vv. 15–25) of profound spiritual and psychological insight, the apostle personifies the struggle of the two natures within the believer—the old or Adamic nature, and the divine nature received through the new birth (1 Pet. 1:23; 2 Pet. 1:4; compare Gal. 2:20; Col. 1:27).
